MILK WEEK AROUSES WIDE INTEREST

The campaign which Washington County is inaugurating to advertise milk as a food product has developed an interest outside of Washington County.

The Wisconsin News, one of the State's circulating dailies, used this County's milk campaign as a text for one of its leading editorials on Thursday, April 20.

There's a hint for our dairymen. It won't do merely to advertise milk and butter; they must be exploited as essential health foods, without which the human body cannot exist, and so attractively that the public will inevitably fall in line.

The last seven words of the last paragraph is the meat of this editorial in the Wisconsin News.

CENTENARIAN PASSES AWAY

On April 21, 1922, death called away from the home of her grandson, John Melius, Mrs. Caroline Straub, reported to have been the oldest resident in the town of Scott, to her final reward, at the age of 99 yrs., 9 months and 14 days, after an illness of 14 months, brought about by infirmities of old age.

The cause of the tragedy is being investigated by the coroner's jury. The fire was caused by an overturned lamp.

Seldom Travel; Often Migrate

Mennonites Ever Seeking Haven Where They Can Follow Religious Beliefs in Peace.

MEXICO NOW 'PROMISED LAND'

Interest in the Sect Aroused by Their Exodus From Canada to Mexico, Taking With Them $15,000,000 in Goods and Cash.

Washington.—Invited to Russia and exempted from taxes and military service because they could farm, they banished because some of them established a communistic colony, obeying the laws of many lands, but refusing to take part in making or enforcing them; frowning upon science, buttons, life insurance and tobacco—such are various branches of the Mennonites, whose exodus from Canada to Mexico adds another chapter in the centuries-old analysis of this quaint and goodly people.

"While geographers are studying human migrations on the basis of economic determinism, here is a considerable group who defy any such charting, and move about solely upon the basis of the best opportunity to follow their religious beliefs," says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic society.

"From Holland to Germany, thence to Moravia, Hungary, Rumania and into Russia—so runs the earlier course of Mennonite wanderings. From the steppes of Crimean and the treeless barbs of the Molochala to Bonhomme country in South Dakota was not too long a trail for the most home-staying people in the world—so long as they are not disturbed. They seldom travel individually. Just before the war a trip to Washington was offered as an agricultural prize to 12 young men of Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, one of the oldest American Mennonite holds, and of the 12 winners not one had been outside his own county before!

"Now about 1,500 Mennonites are leaving Manitoba and Saskatchewan, Canada, for Durango, Mexico, and the productive loss their going will mean is only slightly indicated by the estimate that they take along with them some $15,000,000 worth of goods, farm implements and cash.

Schooling Begins at Three Years.

"Compulsory educational requirements, including the teaching of English, which could easily be adjusted by a more compromising people, caused the migration from Canada. In some branches of their church every Mennonite child must begin his schooling when he is three years old. From that time until he is six the Bible and the Mennonite catechism are used for his instruction. After three years he takes up the 'three R's' but in the more orthodox branches of the church all science, as such, is frowned upon. In farming, however, the Mennonites are efficient and practical scientists. European countries have profited by their example, and to them western Pennsylvania owes much of its prosperity.

"There are various gradations of polytheism among the various groups, such as Hutterites, the Amish, the Wislar, the Defenseless and other branches. All hold against taking oaths and to non-resistance, which led to their exemption from the draft without any such stigma as attached to many types of conscientious objectors. Their likeness to the Quakers led William Penn to invite them to his colony where they first established themselves at Germantown, spreading thence to Lancaster, Berks and Bucks counties in Pennsylvania, and later into Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

Have Quaint Dialect.

"In 'The Fish' Mrs. Fiske disclosed some of the peculiarities of the custom and dialect of the Pennsylvania Mennonites. Their adherence to teaching German in schools is not so much that they love that language as because they fear translation would detract from the literal import of their founders' works. Their detachment from the world is shown by their curious use of English. A cutter at a Lancaster home rang the bell many times without answer. Finally a woman appeared at the door to apologize: 'Oh, did you bell? It didn't make.' The women wear pinks bonnets, resembling those of the Bunickers. Men, women and children avoid colors, jewels or any grace of dress that might betoken vanity.

"Most rigid of all the groups, however, is the Bruderhof, or Hutterian Brethren, dating back to Jacob Hutter, a martyr of the Sixteenth century, who insisted upon a complete communal organization of congregations. It was about the time of our Civil war for evolving a communism which anticipated that of the soviet government in many respects. Today they are settled along the James river, in South Dakota, declining to cast a vote or hold office or patronize a store. They forswear dancing, playing-golf and tobacco. They are of German descent, came here directly from southern Russia, and form a law-abiding, prosperous, self-sufficient community.

"There are more than 50,000 Mennonites in the United States. Their communities are to be found in odd corners of the world where they may follow the simple teaching of their founder, Menno Simons, a Dutch reformer, born the year that Columbus discovered America."

FORT WORTH IS SWEEPED BY FLOOD

Eleven Die as River Jumps 26 Feet in 12 Hours.

ABOUT 1,500 ARE HOMELESS

Nine-Inch Fall of Rain Inundates Many Other Lone Star State Cities —Trains Are Marooned When Bridges Go Out.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 26.—At least eleven persons have been drowned and $1,000,000 property damage done in the worst flood in the history of Fort Worth.

A seven and one-half inch rain that started at night and continued through the day brought a 26-foot jump in 12 hours in the Trinity river. A stage of 33.5 feet was reached and the waters swept the city.

The seven dead include: Two women swept out of a tree in which they had taken refuge.

Two women drowned when a rescue boat capsized.

A man whose body was seen floating near the Van Zandt viaduct.

Two persons drowned in the Van Zandt school district.

Many Rescues by Boat.

Five others reported drowned along the course of the river through the city. At least 15,000 are homeless.

Large areas of the city are under water. Families have been rescued by boats.

The Cameron Lumber company's plant was destroyed by fire with a loss estimated at over $200,000. Firemen were unable to reach the plant because of the flood.

The water short-circuited telephone cables and wire communication with the outside was cut off.

Interurban traffic with Dallas was cut off and a number of street car lines were discontinued. One of the water works plants was flooded.

Water Breaks Levee.

The levee protecting part of north Fort Worth broke and lowlands in that section were quickly inundated. Several houses were washed away.

Sycamore Heights, on the opposite side of the city, was also flooded and scores of houses were surrounded by water. Thousands of persons residing on Arlington Heights were cut off by the flood and could not reach the business section of the city.

Dallas Also Flooded.

Dallas, Tex., April 26.—Torrential rains, approximating five inches in this city, flooded vast areas in this section. Many railroad and interurban connections are severed.

The water was higher than ever known. Five miles of tracks, between this city and Fort Worth, are under water. More than twenty families are marooned here. Property damage, it is estimated, will run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Flood warnings have been issued to families along the bottom lands of the west fork of the Trinity river between Dallas and Fort Worth.

Rail Bridges Out.

Forney, Tex., April 26.—Forney was marooned as the result of heavy rains with washouts in two places on the Texas & Pacific railroad, and with water covering the Forney-Dallas high-way for more than a mile in the East Fork bottoms. The Texas & Pacific bridge over Brush creek, east of here, has been washed away and the bridge over East Fork has been carried more than 100 feet down stream. Other bridges are out and wire communication broken.

Trains Are Marooned.

Emis, Tex., April 26.—Nearly a dozen washouts on railroad lines leading from Emis to Dallas, Fort Worth and south are reported here. A number of trains have been marooned and thousands of dollars' damage has been done.

Katy Flyer Flooded.

Many of the passengers were removed by the fire department on ladders set on top of the coaches and extending to the interurban viaduct.

Charlestown, W. Va., April 26.—Omission of the word "felicitously" from the indictment charging treason against district leaders and members of the United Mine Workers in the West Virginia armed march of last fall was held insufficient to invalidate the indictment, Judge J. CANADIAN ICE RAILWAY

It is true. On New Year's day, 1880, the Southwestern railway commenced to build a railway across the ice from the north bank of the St. Lawrence river, at a point near Belleville Park and the Longueuil ferry to Longueuil.

The promoters of the plan included Judge Monasut, M. A. B. Foster, Mr. L. A. Senecal and Mr. A. B. Renaud. The contractors were August Laberge & Son, the builders of the Montreal city hall. Loaded cars were drawn across the ice to Montreal on January 29, and on January 30 an engine, weighing 50,000 pounds, crossed the ice from the Montreal side of the river. On March 15 horses were used to draw cars instead of engines. There were 20 cars on the ice railway on March 31, but on April 1, the rails were removed from the ice.

WIFE'S FIGHT IS WON

GARLANDS REUNITED BY ARRIVAL OF BABY BOY.

Millionaire Philosopher Returns to Lawful Spouse After Experience With a "Soul Mate."

Boston, April 26.—Mrs. Mary Wrenn Garland has won her heart-rending battle with Lillian Conrad for the love of her philosopher millionaire husband, Charles Garland.

With the first cry of her tiny newborn son, who came to her side in her sunny room at Phillips house, a new life opens out before the brave little woman who for two years has kept faith in the husband who openly repudiated her for a "soul mate," the beautiful Philadelphia art student.

And the little retreat at North Carver, formerly the "Love Nest" where Lillian Conrad and Charles Garland lived openly as man and wife, is being made over into a new home where the reunited Garlands will live with their children.

Charles Garland, who hovers constantly at the side of his wife, is having removed from his woodland domain every trace of his life with Lillian Conrad. He has hired a caretaker and workers to tear down the battered hotel that he shared with his "soul mate." A new bungalow, reserved and spacious, is being built for Mrs. Garland's occupation as soon as she is able to leave the hospital.

This information was learned by a reporter who visited the North Carver cabin. The entire clearing hummed with the hammer strokes of busy workmen.

Mrs. J. Leven of Onset, who with her husband has been hired by Charles Garland to oversee the new estate, explained the plans of the enthusiastic young husband.

"Of course Mrs. Garland is coming to live with him," she said. "And the whole place will be made over just for her. Mr. Garland plans to have it one of the loveliest retreats in the world. Nothing is too good for Mary's pleasure, he says."

DRUG TARIFF IS ASSAILED

Senator King of Utah Attacks the Bill in Senate—Ridicules "Infant Industry."

Washington, April 26.—Resuming his attack on the tariff bill, Senator King (Dem.) of Utah told the senate that the rates proposed in the chemical schedule of the measure were to "increase the already swollen fortunes of the drug and chemical manufacturers of the United States" at the expense of the sick.

Mr. King charged that some drug manufacturers, naming Parke, Davis & Company as one, had "grown rich beyond the dreams of avarice by extortionate charges levied on the sick," and inquired whether the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours company, which he said manufactured many drugs and chemicals and had a capital of $253,000,000, was "an infant industry" to be protected not only by high rates, but in some cases by an embargo.

GIRL KILLS SELF IN HOTEL

Young Woman Registering From Detroit, Mich., Shoots Self at Evanston, Ill.

Lawson of Detroit" had registered three days ago, and found the girl—she appeared to be about twenty—on the floor, clutching a pistol from which one shot had been fired.

There was no note to indicate the motive of the apparent suicide.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

A Trying Period Through Which Every Woman Must Pass

Practical Suggestions Given by the Women Whose Letters Follow

Phila., Pa.—"When I was going through the Change of Life I was weak, nervous, dizzy and had headaches. I was troubled in this way for two years and was hardly able to do my work. My friends advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am very sorry that I did not take it sooner. But I have got good results from it and am now able to do my housework most of the time. I recommend your medicine to those who have similar troubles. I do not like publicity, but if it will help other women I will be glad for you to use my letter."—Mrs. FANNIE ROSENSTEIN, 832 N. Holly St., Phila., Pa.

Detroit, Michigan—"During the Change of Life I had a lot of stomach trouble and was bothered a great deal with hot flashes. Sometimes I was not able to do any work at all. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in your little books and took it with very good results. I keep house and am able now to do all my own work. I recommend your medicine and am willing for you to publish my testimonial."—Mrs. J. S. LIVERMORE, 2051 Junction Avenue, Detroit, Mich.

Hail Men With "Pep." "Men with 'pep' rush in where angels fear to tread." Even "in the piping times of peace" the cast "modest stillness and humility" to the fourth remove and "let their action imitate the tigers." They advance upon our civilization like an army with banners. "Brashness" we used to call it, with affectionate contempt and tender pity; "pep" we hail it now, and laud it with loud hosannas.—Henry Ford's Dearborn Independent.

The critical time of a woman's life usually comes between the years of 45 and 50, and is often beset with annoying symptoms such as nervousness, irritability, melancholia, heat flashes or waves of heat appear to pass over the body, cause the face to be very red and often bring on headache, dizziness and a sense of suffocation.

Another annoying symptom which comes at this time is an inability to recall names, dates or other small facts. This is liable to make a woman lose confidence in herself. She becomes nervous, avoids meeting strangers and dreads to go out alone.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted to help women at this time. It exercises a restorative influence, tones and strengthens the system, and assists nature in the long weeks and months covering this period. Let it help carry you through this time of life. It is a splendid medicine for the middle-aged woman. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

Gold and Gems in Gizzard.

Duckabush, Wash.—While cleaning the gizzard of a chicken Mrs. Ray Sledge found not only two small gold nuggets, but two shining, rugged looking stones which she had examined by a local jeweler. He pronounced one a high grade turquoise and the other a garnet. The chicken was hatched and raised on a small farm near Olympic mountains. While the presence of gold was known in these hills, this is the first indication of precious stones.

CHEAP FEED FOR WINTERING COWS

Experts Favor Corn Silage and Wheat Straw With Hay or Cottonseed Meal.

EXPENSE OF RAISING CALVES

Experiments Conducted in Blue-Grass Regions of Appalachian Mountains in West Virginia—Rations Used for Cattle.

(Prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.)

Corn silage and wheat straw with either mixed hay, soybean hay or cottonseed meal is a much cheaper ration for wintering beef-breeding cows than shock corn, mixed hay and wheat straw as tried out in feeding experiments recently carried on by E. W. Shasta and R. H. Tucker of the bureau of animal industry, and described in Department Bulletin 1024, "Feeding Experiments With Grade Beef Cows Raising Calves," which has just been issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. The work described in the bulletin is to do with the advantages of certain practices, the economy of a number of rations and the cost of raising calves to weaning age. It applies to the blue-grass region of the Appalachian mountains, a region that furnishes most of the grass-finished beef for the Eastern markets.

Conditions Similar in Other States. The farm on which the feeding was done is in the southeastern part of West Virginia, but the conditions there are similar to those in parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Kentucky and Tennessee. The conclusions also apply in part to other nearby regions.

The rations used for the four lots of cows were: Corn silage, mixed hay and wheat straw; corn silage, soybean hay and wheat straw; corn silage, cottonseed meal and wheat straw; and shock corn, mixed hay and wheat straw. As mentioned in the first paragraph, corn silage and wheat straw, with either mixed hay, soybean hay or cottonseed meal, is a cheaper ration than shock corn, mixed hay and wheat straw for wintering beef cows. As the cows fed on the mixed hay and soybean rations produced a larger calf crop than those fed the cottonseed meal, the average cost per head of raising their calves was practically 4 per cent less. As sources of protein, mixed hay and soybean hay, where they are grown successfully, have additional advantages in that they can be raised on the farm, while cottonseed meal must be purchased.

Cost of Raising Calves. Actual costs of raising calves vary with the time and locality, but by a study of the tables in this bulletin any farmer in this blue-grass region may determine with considerable accuracy what it will cost him to grow feeder calves to the weaning age. The bulletin should be studied in connection with Department Bulletin 1042, "Economy of Rations on Pasture Raising Calves." These bulletins may be obtained by addressing the Department of Agriculture at Washington.

CLOVER BEST FOR ROTATION

Good Plan to Keep Soil Supplied With Necessary Humus—Also Furnishes Cash Crop.

A two-year rotation of wheat, clover pasture and buck to wheat keeps the soil supplied with humus and nitrogen. A three-year rotation may be of wheat, clover, pasture, corn. Clover pasture also keeps the land in good condition and returns a cash crop two years out of three. If a seed crop of clover is harvested, then each crop in this rotation becomes a cash money crop. In addition to the regular crop profits, we have the pasture, and the soil improvement as extras.

SELECT VEGETABLE VARIETY

Should Be of Highest Quality, Adapted to Soil and Region and Disease Resistant.

The gardener should choose the vegetable variety of highest quality that will mature within his season, be productive, adapted to his soil, resistant to disease, and have an attractive appearance when ready for the table. The list to choose from is long and the gardener should, if possible, be governed by his own or his neighbors' experiences.

PREPARE SOIL FOR ALFALFA

Land Must Be Well Drained and Sweet—Limestone Will Help in Getting Stand.

Alfalfa, like persons, is particular about its living quarters and in order to thrive must have a dry home or well-drained land. The land must be sweet and limestone will help in preparing the field. Inoculation of the soil gives the roots the right start to prepare nitrogen, and fertility makes the plant strong and vigorous.

SOLVING PROBLEM OF PROFITABLE ALFALFA

Of Advantage to Market Roughage Through Stock.

Suggested to Farmer That He Discard Practice of Marketing His Hay and Feed It to Good Grade of Dairy Cattle.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Farmers on some of the reclamation projects where alfalfa hay is a cash crop will find it to their advantage to change their practice and market this roughage through live stock, says the office of western irrigation agriculture of the United States Department of Agriculture. On the Newlands project in Nevada the recent prices for alfalfa hay have been $2 to $2.50 a ton f. o. b. cars, which nets the farmers about $5 or $6 a ton at the stack. Although these prices are considered fairly good at present, figures collected recently on the cost of production go to show that when the farmer is unable to get more than

Cutting Alfalfa.

$6 a ton at the stack there is a net loss. Indications are that $7 a ton is nearer the cost of production, and this does not include any labor income for the farmer.

In order that the farmer may make a fair income on these alfalfa lands, it is suggested that he discard the practice of shipping off his hay and start feeding it to a good grade of dairy cows or to some other kind of live stock, particularly cattle and sheep.

Many farmers in this section have already demonstrated that live stock will solve the problem of making alfalfa profitable. The use of live stock keeps up the fertility of the soil and provides concentrated products that do not have to bear such heavy freight costs.

BENEFITS IN GROWING SEEDS

One Must Be Plant Expert to Be Successful and Vast Amount of Labor Is Required.

Prof. Paul Work of Cornell, speaking on better seeds and how to obtain them, said there were many advantages in growing seed. One knows the percentage of his own seed, and if he grows his own seed and does it well he can turn a profit from the sale of the surplus; but you have got to be a plant expert and it requires a vast amount of labor and care to grow good seeds. It was his opinion that the bulk of the seeds would come from seedsmen; that men in the seed business are spending thousands of dollars to get good seed, while others were giving the matter of quality little attention, preferring to sell the cheaper seed regardless of quality.

FIRST CULTIVATION OF CORN

As Soon as Plants Are Above Surface Land Should Be Stirred—Deeper Tillage Permitted.

Much will depend upon early cultivation of corn. Here is where "a stitch in time saves nine." As soon as the plants are above the surface the land should be stirred, usually. Unless no rain has fallen do not fall to start the cultivators as soon as you can till the rows by the young plants. If no heavy rains have come since planting it might be well to wait a while for a rain.

The first cultivation of corn will permit deeper tillage than later when the brace roots develop. But care must be taken not to "throw much dirt" as the plants are easily covered and injured by the freshly plowed soil.

SEED GRASS MIXTURES EARLY

Work Should Be Done as Seedbed Can Be Put Into Shape—Fall Plowing Helps.

Grass mixtures for hay or pasture purposes should be seeded as soon as the seedbed can be put in condition. The ground should be fall plowed so that it may be worked down by disking and harrowing as soon as the surface dries off. If the land was plowed last spring in seeding grain and the soil is in good physical condition it would be advisable to disk instead of plow in preparing for the seedbed.

FIRM SEEDBED IS NECESSARY

To Hasten Germination of Grass Seed Field Should Be Rolled After Harrowing.

A firm seedbed is necessary to hasten germination of grass seed. The field should be dragged or rolled after disking and harrowing in order that the subsurface be firm and compact. The surface should be left in a mellow condition but not smooth as it may bake and become crusted before the seed germinates.

Average Yield of Onions.

The average yield of onions per acre in the United States is 231 bushels. The highest average in any state is 570 bushels in Idaho.

Big Help in Poultry Yard.

A wagon load of fine gravel and sharp sand thrown on the ground in the poultry yard makes it more sanitary and helps prevent dirt.

Invite Needlewoman's Art; Trimmings Vary Taffetas

FOR afternoon and evening gowns, the vogue for simple styles, united with that for fine sheer fabrics, in lovely colors, invite the art of the needlewoman; for needle craft is depended on to give distinction to simplicity. Beading, drawn work, embroidery and other kinds of stitching, have important parts to play this season—there is nothing in the way of adornment to equal them. With ingenious draperies they vary the simple styles and redeem them from the commonplace.

The gown shown here might be pretty without its bead embroidery, but it would pass unnoticed. As it is, with embroidery and drapery, it is more than pretty. Imagine it in amber colored georgette crepe, embroidered in amber and rust-colored beads, and you will vision its loveliness, or think of it in light, periwinkle blue, with beads in blue and the orchid. In the cascaded drapery at each side the designer has shown unusual cleverness by attaching it to the skirt, where it falls below the bodice. The flaring sleeves take advantage of the pretty whim of fashion to allow a slit along the top of the arm, and the soft girle is made of the georgette.

Dresses made of fine voles are even simpler than those of georgette, but there is much handwork in them. Drawn work, fine tucks, hemstitching, feather-stitching, and other dainty needlework place these lovely cotton frocks in the class of their fragile, silk sisters. They appeal to the taste of gentlemen everywhere, and are exquisite in light colors and white. There are sheer voles showing fine, colored cross-bars on a white ground, that are made up with white net, or cut from pin-tucked taffeta and edged with a ruffle finishes the round neck. A little sash of pleated-edged ribbon is tied at the side and holds a small cluster of bright cherries that lend the dark dress a gleam of vivid color. This model might be made up in light colors for evening wear, with its finishing touch of fruit or flowers chosen to set off the color in the dress. As pictured, it is made of black taffeta.

Dusty Walls. An excellent way to brush down dusty walls is to take a roll of cotton batting and fasten a thick pad of it on the end of a stick. With this go over all of the wall surface, burning the cotton as the pad becomes soiled, then renewing.

RATHER PUT HIS FOOT IN IT

Caller's Comment on Matter of Time Somewhat Embarrassing to All Parties Concerned.

We had been spending the evening with acquaintances with whom we had but little in common. In consequence, the time seemed to drag interminably, and when my wife asked me the time I glanced thankfully at my watch.

The hands indicated 9:30. I looked again, shook it and held it up to my ear.

"Funny," I muttered, "the darn thing seems to have stopped. According to this it's only 9:30."

The hostess laughed a little as she referred to her watch. "That's exactly the time I have, too, and that's the time the clock over there on the piano says. I guess, maybe," she didn't finish, but merely laughed.

Since then when she asks the time, I tell it without any comment. It's less embarrassing.—Baltimore American.

NOTED PRELATES IN LONDON

Leo XIII and Pius XI Said to Have Been Familiar With the British Metropolis.

The new pope, Pius XI, visited London as well as Oxford in early life. In the latter place especially the great Bodleian library naturally attracted such a great scholar. He was himself librarian of the great Vatican library, and known everywhere as a booklover.

It was said that the late Pope Leo XIII knew his way about London better than a great many natives, as he had spent much time there before being raised to the papacy, exploring the slum- and other problems in the metropolis.

Pope Leo XIII was the only one of that exalted rank who ever sat in the British house of commons and in the distinguished strangers' gallery, at that. He also is said to have enjoyed the hospitality of Lord Palmerston under that distinguished statesman's own roof. That was, of course, before his exaltation to the papacy.

Whademean, "Absent-Minded?"

"Flanngers in Flappers" is as neat a heading as we've seen this season. By the way, a correspondent sends us the following, which he found in the writings of Jonathan Swift: "Absent-minded people always keep a flapper in the family as one of the domestics."—Boston Transcript.

Mr. Jenkins Took a Cracked Club To Tame Lions

The exhibition ended rather badly. It very nearly was a big day for the lions and a sad day for Mr. Jenkins—all for want of proper care in getting ready.

Many a man who has business to do and a living to make and a job to fill is as careless how he feeds his body as Mr. Jenkins was in picking out a club.

Some foods are too heavy, some are too starchy, many lack necessary elements and so starve the body—and many load the system down with fermentation and auto-intoxication.

Grape-Nuts helps build health and strength. It contains the full richness of wheat and malted barley, including the vital mineral elements, without which the body cannot be fully sustained. Grape-

Nuts digests quickly and wholesomely. Served with cream or good milk, it is a complete food—crisp and delicious.

Grape-Nuts is just the food for those who care to meet life's situations well prepared in health. Order Grape-Nuts from your grocer today. Try it with cream or milk for breakfast or lunch, or made into a delightful pudding for dinner.

Run Your Eyes Over These Best-yet Features:

1. Roller Bearings. Roller bearings at seven points—the only spreader so equipped.
2. Double Ratchet Drive. Walking beam transmission from main axle eccentric and extra large ratchet wheel gear easy, strong, steady feed. No pounding or jolting, due to extra-long movement of gears on ratchet wheel—only two power impulses on ratchet for every revolution of 46-inch drive wheels. Box tapered to eliminate friction on belt sides. Six feet speed.
3. Oscillating Front Axle. Auto-type, permitting wheel to rise. No noise, no jolting. No strain on axle.
4. Power. Both wheels. Power is transmitted down from main axle to heavy, wide-spaced spiral and rubber conveyor—no rough bearings to convey or vice versa.
5. Wheels Tracked. Rear wheels track with front wheels, lightening draft.
6. Tight Bottom. There is no clapping, tumbling, spreading anything. Retains all heavy manure.
7. Two Beaters. Two all-steel beaters with slanted pointed square teeth work from both top and bottom of hopper. Allow extra-high load.
8. Wide-Spread. The spiral belt and the beater give the manure a high lift and spread it finely and uniformly beyond the wheel.
9. All-Steel Main Frame. Does not check, set or warp. Wood box sides hold only the load. Front axle operation mechanism independent of box; keeps alignment perfect.

The New International—made in two sizes—is unquestionably the best spreader value on the market today, and when you consider it in connection with its price, it is so far ahead of all others that there is really no comparison.

—Owners of fruit trees in several Wisconsin counties have been suffering a distinct loss from the mistaken practice of spraying while the trees are in full bloom, according to a warning issued by Dr. S. E. Frazer, state entomologist. Application of spray material during the bloom period before the blossoms open and again after the petals fall. The first is particularly to control apple scab, a fungus which causes dark spots on the fruit, and the second is to protect against worms in the apple. Ten days or two weeks after the second is needed, but it is not quite as important as the first two.

—"GO GET IT"

There have been so many tricks in motion picture photography that the average layman refuses to believe even what his eyes see on the screen. And no subject has been "faked" more than airplane scenes. Audiences have got their fill of "loop" scenes, crowded with "spice" and "stunt" during aerial stunts only to learn at a later date that this stunt supposed to have transpired thousands of feet above the surface of the earth, had really been "acted" within a few feet of the ground and at so time were the participants of it in any danger of bodily injury. A notable exception of this is O'Malley, Locklear, the noted motion picture aviator, "stunt" man, local Locklear is never happy performing his feats of prowess in the air unless there is a genuine thrill in it for himself.

And up to quite a recent date, Locklear had the field to himself until there entered young Pat O'Malley, O'Malley, one of the most daring youngsters in the motion picture game, quickly surpassed Locklear and all other competitors for aerial honors, performing feats during that season almost incredible. Most of these stunts were done in the training period of his experience. But now in Milwaukee, O'Malley's super picture of newspaper life—"Go Get It"—released through the First National—young O'Malley has blossomed forth in a new and it is safe to bet that it will be a long time before his rivals even catch up to him in his performance in the air.

The aerial stunts he does in this picture are a real test of belief and every moment he is before the camera "one" filled with thrills and suspense for the audience. Rising from the aviation field in an ordinary plane, out a stunt one of O'Malley's thousands of feet above the ground and then proceeds to see how many hairs he can raise on the heads of his auditors. He climbs along the planes of the machine, swinging himself into the air and after several attempts lands on the wings of another airplane. Later, after performing his aerial feat, he again returns to the ground and, as if by magic, he is again in the air, flying from a lone ladder to the top of an express train. But if it was a difficult feat to land on the roof of the train it is even more difficult later on the train is going sixty miles an hour and catch the rope ladder suspended from the fast moving airplane flying above. Yet all this O'Malley does and does it so well and later on during the course of the picture, he duplicates these stunts in a souplane. And these are not a foot of the film "faked"—it is the real thing. Don't fail to see this thriller at the movies at Kewaskum Friday, April 28 and Sunday, April 30.

FRANCE IN THREAT AGAINST GERMANY

Poincare Says Berlin Will Be Forced to Make Payments.

PEACE HANGS ON TREATY

Premier Declares Enforcement of Versailles Pact is Necessary to Insure Nation's Future—Non-aggression Treaty Approved.

Paris, April 26.—France will, if necessary, undertake alone to see that the treaty of Versailles is executed if the Germans default in their reparations payments.

May 31, when the Germans must either accept the conditions laid down by the reparations commission or default in their payment, would be an important date for France, said the premier.

All we have ever asked, and all we ask today, is the execution of the treaty," said M. Poincare, "and that we must have and shall have. The peace of Europe depends upon it. Our future and our national prosperity depend upon it.

"It is not by precipitate action or by decisions without reflection that we shall obtain it. It is by persevering and methodical action. But it must be done."

The premier declared he ardently hoped for the cooperation of the allies in the execution of the treaty. "But, according to the terms of the treaty," he added, "each may in case of need take, respectively, such measures as are deemed necessary, and we shall not suffer if that our unfortunate country succumb under the burden of reparations alongside of a Germany that does not consent to make the necessary effort to discharge her debts."

"We shall defend, in full independence, the French cause, and we shall not abandon any arm of the treaty because of it."

Referring to the charges of militarism and imperialism made against France, M. Poincare said: "The imperialism of France is a current theme in some countries, in which we are charged with ulterior motives of conquest. I do not know of a single French public man who has ever dreamed of territorial aggrandizement. But who does not understand today, after the Rapallo accord (the Russo-German treaty), the impudence there would be in our ascribing too rapidly."

"That accord brings out into the full light the sympathies which had developed in the darkness between the Bolsheviks and the Germans."

M. Poincare referred to the discoveries of stocks of arms and munitions in Silesia, the formation of police organizations in Germany composed of former non-commissioned officers, which, he said, were so easily transformed into a framework of military force. He insisted these things, as well as the pan-German agitation, to justify the precautions of France.

"Things are going in Germany," he said, "as if the pan-Germans were waiting for an opportunity to foment trouble sooner or later."

"What is going on at Genoa," continued the premier, "singularly confirms all we knew of the state of mind of too great a portion of the empire. How long back had Germany prepared the treaty with the soviet government and are we sure the treaty has been entirely published? Is it or is it not accompanied by secret clauses? Is it simply a shield for political and military conventions?"

Premier Poincare announced that if the French delegation at Genoa could not go ahead with its work under the agreed conditions France would regretfully have to cease participation in the conference.

REVIEWS PLAN TO MERGE ALL ROADS

Interstate Commerce Body Begins Hearing on 19-System Scheme in Southeast.

FLORIDA TO FILE PROTEST

Counsel for State Rail Commission Opposed to Tentative Plans for Consolidation—Would Retain Principle of Competition.

Washington, April 25.—Consideration of the plan for consolidation of all major railroads of the United States into 19 great systems was inaugurated by the interstate commerce commission, taking up first the proposal as it affects the southeast quarter of the United States.

Commissioner Hall, assisted by examiners, opened the hearings with a request of interested parties present for an exchange of views as to how the general study should proceed.

B. E. Cain, vice president of the American Short Line Railroad association, asked the commission what place these companies were to have in the commission's consideration of consolidation and after discussion, Chairman Hall ruled that evidence concerning the interests of the short line would be sought and taken as such districts were considered. John E. Benton, counsel for the Florida railroad commission, said his state would desire to present a protest against the tentative plans for the consolidation as laid out.

Acting under provisions of the transportation act of 1920, the commission had prepared some months ago by Prof. William Z. Ripley of Harvard university a complete proposal under which the railroads of the United States would be formed into 19 groups.

The plan would retain the principle of competition between the last new systems by giving all of the important areas and centers of the country access as far as possible to two or more of the new railroads. The law does not provide compulsory power for the consolidation, but sets forward the principle that under federal rate regulation weak railroads should be linked with stronger lines in order to maintain transportation efficiency under controlled rates.

The hearings are expected to continue several months.

H. Todd, Republican national committeeman from Porto Rico, who declared that Riley had served efficiently. Todd said that the governor had been successful in having wiped out a plant declaring for Porto Rican independence. THE NEW STONE MASON

BIG HOTEL IN FLAMES

Notables Routed From New Willard at Washington.

Washington, April 25.—Fire which originated in the banquet hall of the New Willard hotel, rendezvous of official and social life in Washington, caused a property loss estimated at $250,000.

The tenth floor, with its costly fixtures, works of art and draperies, was devastated by the flames, while the eighth and ninth floors, under a deluge of water which was poured into the rear furnace above for four solid hours, were rendered uninhabitable.

There were no casualties and only one person, a fireman, suffered injury. President Harding, Vice President Coolidge, General Pershing, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and a notable company of guests from all parts of the United States had attended the spring banquet of the Gridiron club in the banquet room only a few hours before the fire was discovered.

When the extent of the fire was discovered guests were aroused on the seventh, eighth and ninth floors, and in a few minutes the hotel lobby and Peacock Alley, famous promenade for the great and near-great of the national capital, were crowded with shouting men and women.

The fireman battered down the door of Vice President Coolidge's suite on the third floor, where he and Mrs. Coolidge were asleep, and without ceremony rushed a line of hose through the apartment to the small balcony overlooking F street.

Mrs. Sawyer, wife of General Sawyer, became agitated when the firemen rushed through the sixth floor hall and was hurriedly escorted to the office by her husband. WISCONSIN STATE NEWS

Port Washington—Love that is said to have grown steadily in the face of parental opposition is alleged to have culminated in tragedy at Port Washington, when Peter Gibe of Sheboygan, fiance of Miss Kate Watry of Port Washington, fired a bullet into the girl's head in the Watry home and then ended his own life with a second shot. The couple was found, cold in death, by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Watry, parents of the slain girl, when they returned to their home early in the evening. There were no signs of struggle, although pools of blood surrounded the bodies. Belief that the double tragedy was the culmination of a suicide pact is entertained by the authorities. There had been no lovers' quarrel, according to the parents, but it was learned that Gibe had been impatient to marry and the girl reluctant to do so in the light of her parents' opposition.

Madison—Assurances that the 1922 encampment of the Wisconsin National guard will be held as scheduled, was given by Orlando Holway, adjutant general, after his return from Washington, where request was made for added appropriations. He said that misunderstanding in congress had resulted in a cut in the funds for summer encampments, which made plans for Wisconsin uncertain, but that definite agreement was reached that this deficiency should be made up before the time for troops to take their 15 days' summer field training.

Lancaster—The leaders of the American Farm Bureau in charge of organization are completing arrangements to begin a membership drive in Grant county, which will include every township in the county. They believe in organization and association with some national farm organization and have given proof of their disposition along these lines.

Manitowish—George Reuther, former cashier of the Farmers' State bank, Cadott, pleaded not guilty in municipal court at Manitowish after he had been arrested at Dundas on a warrant charging him with misappropriation of bank funds in the amount of $1,123.72. Reuther resigned his position in the bank several months ago and has been living on a farm near Kaukauna. The warrant contains two counts, one for the misappropriation of $2,728.24, and the other, $1,395.48, between Dec. 31, 1916, and Dec. 31, 1921.

Rice Lake—The Rice Lake Road and Gun club, which has been dormant for the last three years has been reorganized. S. S. Erod has been elected president, and Emmet Quinn, secretary-treasurer. Three hundred members have renewed their affiliation with the club and many more are expected to join. The chief effort of the club will be directed toward restocking nearby streams with fish fry.

Coudersport—About 30 settlers near Coudersport, Sawyer county, have organized and will plant certified rural New York potatoes this summer. R. S. Ishery, cashier of the Coudersport State bank, who was director of agriculture at Posnett, Minn. high school, is now looking up seed for the settlers. Potato raising is a new venture in this vicinity.

Monroe—John Luhsinger, 82 years old, lawyer, banker, former mayor of Monroe, former legislator and member of the old Swiss population of southern Wisconsin, died at his home in Monroe after being ill of pneumonia four days. He was born in Canton Glarus, Switzerland, in 1832, came to this country to Philadelphia in 1846, attended school there and came to New Glarus, Green county, in 1856.

Beaver Dam—William Coxshall, aged 78, veteran of the civil war, and one of Beaver Dam's oldest business men, died at his home in that city following an illness of several months. He was one of the few civil war veterans left in Dodge county. He served two enlistments and was wounded in the battle of Petersburg during Gen. Grant's last campaign against Richmond.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition. Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent, it makes any one so. But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions. Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

First to establish the $10.90 price—"Usco"

THE makers of U. S. Tires made this announcement last November—

"Hereafter the price of the 30x3 1/2 'Usco' is $10.90."

The lowest price ever quoted on a tire of quality reputation and standard performance.

And now, with the opening of Spring, there seem to be quite a number of "New and Special tires" coming into the market in the $10.90 price range.

Perhaps you are wondering just what there can be either "new" or "special" about these tires.

It can't be the $10.90 price—"Usco" established that five months ago.

Nor quality reputation and standard performance—for it takes more than one full season for any new tire to demonstrate where it stands in quality and value.

With so many tires rushing into this $10.90 price
