COURT RULING IS BLOW FOR ROADS

Madison, Wis., May 10.—Expense of eliminating nearly fifty dangerous grade crossings on Wisconsin trunk highways will be borne partly by the railroads as the result of a state supreme court decision Tuesday. The decision dismissed the appeal of the North Western road from the circuit court decision upholding the award of the state railroad commission. This award ordered the railroad to pay for the state highway commission $29,000 as its share of the expense of constructing a "short-cut" eliminating a loop of a trunk highway which crossed its tracks twice in a half-mile near Mt. Pleasant between Racine and Kenosha in Racine county.

MANY DEATHS DURING THE WEEK

Mrs. Albert Kumrow (nee Maria Anna Bartelt) who died at the St. Nicholas hospital, Sheboygan on May 4, following an operation for appendicitis and of whose death we made a brief mention in our last week's issue of the Statesman, was laid at rest in the Emanuel's Lutheran congregation's cemetery in the town of Scott last Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Kumrow was born May 18, 1871, in the town of Scott, Sheboygan county, where she practically resided her entire life. On February 22, 1899, she was married to Albert Kumrow. Coming to their present home in February, 1919. Besides her sorrowing husband she is survived by seven children, namely: Mrs. Walter Heberer of New Fane, Leoda, William, Lorinda, Aleida, Florence and Dorothy, all at home. She also leaves to mourn, one sister, Mrs. Ferdinand Raether of Kewaskum and one brother, Frank Bartelt, for a period of six months. Mr. Kumrow was widely known, as plainly shown by the large number of people who attended the funeral. She was a lady possessed with those qualities that go to make up the true type of womanhood. She was a loving wife and mother, taking interest in looking after the comforts of her family. Ready at all times to assist those in need. She was a true Christian and a kind neighbor. The news of her sudden demise came as a great shock to her large acquaintance, who join in extending heartfelt sympathies to her bereaved family in this their hour of deep affliction.

Another case appealed to the supreme court by the North Western road is proposed re-location of the trunk highway between Ridgeway and Dodgeville, which will eliminate nine crossings. The railroad commission awarded $62,000 of the expense against the railroad. The case is almost parallel in principle to the Mt. Pleasant case and probably will be decided in the same way it is thought. Still another case appealed to the high court by the North Western is the award against the road for its share of the expense of the elimination of a crossing between Heleville and Sullivan in Jefferson county. The circuit court upheld the railroad commission's award.

Other cases appealed and now pending include the relocation of highways and elimination of crossings on the North Western road near Clintonville, between West Bend and Kewaskum in Washington county, near Elroy in Juneau county, and between Bernand and Ridgeway in Iowa county.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION WILL FURNISH HIGHWAY SERVICE MAP FOR 1922

The Wisconsin Highway Commission is prepared to furnish a highway service map somewhat on the same plan as furnished in 1921. The commission will publish a state trunk highway map 40 x 45 inches, showing by different conventions the types of road and also showing in colors the jobs under construction throughout the state. Construction jobs that offer no impediment to travel are shown in green and those closed to traffic are shown in red. The type of road and also showing in colors the jobs under construction throughout the state.

IN MEMORY OF OUR DEAR MOTHER

We miss thee from our home dear mother,
We miss thee from thy place,
A shadow o'er our life is cast,
We miss thy kind and willing hand,
Thy fond and earnest care,
Our home is dark without thee,
We miss thee everywhere.
Farewell mother you have left us
We can see one vacant chair,
You our helper and protector,
No more our happiness can share,
Now your days of joy have come,
Pray that we may meet you mother,
When our days on earth are done,
We all loved our dear kind mother,
And the loss is hard to bear,
But we hope you are in heaven,
Happy with the angels there.

HUMANE THOUGHT

"God created every living creature."
—Genesis. Even fish is the creature of God. And though its nervous system may not be as finely developed as that of higher animals, yet it may suffer pain.
It is according to the rather universal but wrong idea that the fish is insensible to pain when hooked and torn at the mouth and that its prolonged death outside of the water is without suffering, many well-meaning people have unknowingly committed many acts of real cruelty.
Most of us love to fish. Humane work in no wise precludes this sport as inhumane. It, however, suggests the thought that even fishing should be made to conform as nearly as possible to the general humane idea of eliminating as much suffering as possible. Fishing may be carried on in a humane way.

PROTEST MEETING ON FRIDAY

Two representatives of the Chicago & North-Western Railway Co. will be in this city next Friday morning in regard to a protest filed by the West Bend Commercial club pertaining to the change of schedule of train 216, formerly due here at 6:05. The meeting will be held at the club hall at 10 a. m. Invitations have been sent to Campbellport, Kewaskum, Barton, Jackson, and Reelfoot to have representatives at this meeting, as another important matter is to be considered, that of bringing about the return of train 108, which formerly arrived here at 7:47 a. m. Train 216 should be brought back because it was the only train that the locals could bank upon when going to Milwaukee to attend a theatrical performance, but owing to the fact that Milwaukee is being run under the daylight saving plan, 2:16 does not arrive there until after 2:40 daylight saving time, which means a big inconvenience. Last fall, when train 108 was taken off, a meeting was held in this city in regard to the bringing back of the train and only one West Bend citizen attended. Let's make a good showing this time and show that we want good train service, because if the proper action is taken we can get it.—West Bend Pilot.

LEASES SOUTH SIDE PARK

A deal was closed last week, whereby I. S. Aaron, the Chicago tailor and owner and manager of the Kewaskum Movies, has leased the South Side Park and hall from Adolph Backhaus, Kewaskum, Wis., for a period of six months. Mr. Aaron intends to hold dances, picnics and other summer amusements during the summer months, for which he will engage the best traveling orchestras available. It is also his intention for the benefit of the citizens of this community to give various entertainments suitable for outdoor performances, for which first class performers will be booked. The opening dance of the season will be held on Wednesday, May 24th, for which he has engaged Van Lane's traveling orchestra, who presents Banjo Alex of New York and his dance artists, to furnish the music. This orchestra is considered the very best and the management will see to it that all dances and amusements will be run on a strictly clean and respectable basis. Such a blow will cause general to his opening dance with the assurance that a good time is in store for them. We wish Mr. Aaron success in his new undertaking.

INSURANCE DRIVE NEARING END

The insurance drive which is being staged amongst the ex-service men and women of the states of Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, to enable them to reinstate and convert their Government Insurance is drawing to a close. The drive has proven very successful as the following figures will show: 102 conversions, 73 reinstatements, $452,500 worth of insurance converted, $454,000 worth of insurance reinstated. An outstanding feature of the drive has been the co-operation secured from various agencies. The Association of Commerce, realizing the benefit of Government Insurance to those entitled thereto, is co-operating with the Veterans' Bureau and has issued a bulletin to the members of the body who employ ex-service men to bring the matter to the attention of every individual, if possible. The Bureau is also in receipt of a letter from the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States offering the assistance of its sales force of some 75 people in the reinstatement of this insurance.

SCHOOL MEETING LARGELY ATTENDED

The adjourned special school meeting at the Opera House Wednesday evening was largely attended. After reading the minutes of the previous meetings, Jas. F. Cavanaugh of Berlin, formerly principal of the local high school, gave a very interesting talk on the value and necessity of a good high school in a community. His talk was followed by an address by Mr. Thomas inspector of the State Department, who explained the conditions of the present school building and the improvements necessary to bring it up to state requirements. Following these talks the proposition of putting up a new building was voted upon. The result of this vote showed that two districts is not in favor of putting up a new school building at the present time. It is thought that at the regular annual school meeting of the district something will be done to remedy the bad conditions of the present school house.

ST. KILIAN SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. J. F. Cavanaugh, a former principal of the school visited the school Thursday. The pupils in the grades observed Friday, May 6th, the day set apart by Gov. Blaine as Arbor Day for this state, by hiking. The Primary and Intermediate Department started at 1:20 and the pupils of the Grammar room, at 2:30. It was the object of their hikes to find and to identify the flowers which are so abundant in this vicinity. Anita Dreher and Ella Klein, pupils in the eighth grade have discontinued their school work. Several of the high school boys have left school to accept other positions. Eldon Ramthun, Robert Backhaus and Nathan Quandt are working in the Aluminum factory, and William Klein has taken a position on a farm for the summer. Just by way of encouragement in developing a taste for fine things it may be said that folks will probably enjoy Dr. Kewaskum's "Abraham Lincoln". This is one of the finest of modern dramas and is to be played at the DeWitt Hotel in Milwaukee, commencing May 8. This is the first time it has been played in Milwaukee.

SON'S ACTING IN "THE KID" SO EFFECTS MRS. COOGAN THAT SHE WON'T SEE THAT

As a general rule mothers are pretty goodjudges as to whether their children are in real trouble, or are shamming tears for the purpose of gaining some object. Once in a while, however, a juvenile actor really happens and such is Jackie Coogan, who plays the title role in "The Kid", the special Associated First National attraction, starring Charlie Chaplin, which will be shown at the Opera House, Friday and Sunday evenings, May 12 and 14. The picture contains one of the most pathetic scenes ever filmed, when the authorities insist on separating Charlie and the Kid, on the grounds that Charlie is not a fit guard for him. The Kid bursts into tears at the idea of the parting.
Mrs. Coogan, mother of the boy, was invited to a special showing of the picture, and left the projection room in the midst of this scene. "You may tell me it is only acting," she said outside with tears streaming down her face, "but I know better than that. Jackie would never cry like that unless his heart was broken. Although I know he is at home this minute and probably up to some mischief, I can't stand to see pictures of him, when his heart is being torn right out of him."
She stuck to it too, and has never seen the last half of the production, which carries her son through to the happy ending in a flood of comedy of the brand which only Charlie Chaplin can produce.

KEWASKUM TO HAVE BALL TEAM

At a meeting of a number of young people of this village interested in the organization of a base ball team, last Saturday evening, a team was organized to represent this village for the coming summer months. Spatz Miller, well known basket ball star, was elected manager and captain of the team. A lot has been leased from L. D. Guth, located just south of the city hall, where the boys are now busily engaged in getting things into shape. They will have a skinned diamond which will be equal to that of any in this community. Kewaskum certainly has good material for the making of a good amateur ball team and with due practice ought to be able to treat the citizens of this village and community to a good brand of amateur baseball. The organization of a ball team in this village is looked upon very favorably and has created considerable interest among local fans. The team need therefore not worry over the kind of support it will receive from the boys of the village. The team is practicing hard every evening and expect to be in condition to meet all amateur ball teams by the latter part of this month. For games write to Edwin Miller, Manager, Kewaskum, Wis.

ANNUAL BEE-KEEPERS' MEETING

The annual spring meeting of the Washington County Bee-Keepers' Association will be held on Wednesday, May 17th at the Frank Schaefer farm five miles west of West Bend on the West Bend-Allenton road. Two sessions will be held, one at 10:00 A. M. and the other at 3:30 P. M. Mr. L. P. Whitehead, Extension Apiculturist from the University of Wisconsin, will be present and give a talk on the care of colonies previous to and during the honey flow, and on the treatment of foul brood. Every bee-keeper, and especially the members are urged to attend the meeting. All of the bee-keepers would be able to produce more honey from the same number of colonies, provided that they were given proper care and attention. Come to the meeting and find out about the best methods in bee-keeping and also to become better acquainted with your neighbor bee-keepers. Bring your lunch and make arrangements to stay all day.

MILK NECESSARY IN BUILDING TEETH

Eating two cups of carrots every day in the year is a task which would undertake, and yet, that is the amount of carrots necessary to provide the calcium for strong, well enameled teeth. But, nature has provided in milk the calcium or lime which growing children need and milk drinking is the best way for boys and girls to get these minerals, for milk is higher in calcium content than other foods. Many good wholesome foods supply calcium but in all except milk, the percentage is so low that it would be quite an undertaking to plan a diet equal in calcium to one pint of milk which would be correct in other respects and would appeal to a child's taste. In cereal there is less than 1% calcium, in milk there is 27%. Foods high in calcium are eggs, carrots, asparagus, spinach, all necessary foods for children preparing for their second teeth—but none of them are as good as milk in providing calcium. The condition of a child's teeth is an almost positive indication as to how good or ill he has been fed on milk and is the most nourishing food for making healthy boys and girls. The problem of defective teeth among the children of the United States is a serious one for fully 90% of them are suffering from teeth troubles.

MAY BAR ALL TRAPPING

That the season on all fur bearing animals except skunk will probably be closed by the state conservation commission as a result of this year's "tragedy" was the statement made Thursday of Chairman W. E. Barber of the state conservation commission. "It is a tragedy," declares Mr. Barber, "the way the trappers have destroyed the beavers this season. Five feet of snow covered the entire beaver territory, making it impossible for the wardens to properly patrol the territory and many of the trappers took advantage of the situation and in order to capture the beaver resorted to all sorts of vandalism. They blew out their dams and houses and destroyed the land beaver in large numbers. It would seem a just and necessary contribution to the heedless trappers that the state have experienced trappers to capture beaver where it is necessary and not permit promiscuous trapping of them."

TWO FREAK PIGS BORN THIS WEEK

Two freak pigs were born at the farm of John Doll, living just west of this city on Monday. The little pigs which were of a litter of seven, were perfectly formed, with the exception that each of them had two anuses and two tongues. The heads of the pigs were perfect, but the snouts were divided from the head, each one having one nostril. The lower jaw was also divided and each part had a separate tongue. One of the pigs was found dead but the other lived some time.—Hartford Press.

DAWES' REPORT SHOWS ECONOMY

President Transmits Document to House Body on Appropriations.

HE SAVES $1,615,668,659.03

Grand Total of All Estimated Expenditures for Fiscal Year is $3,922,372,000—Complete System of Co-ordination Inaugurated.

Washington, May 9.—President Harding transmitted a fearful and wonderful document by Gen. Charles G. (Bill) and Maria) Dawes to the house committee on appropriations today.

The report is the report of the director of the bureau of the budget, showing how Uncle Sam is saving money these days and is actually trying to live within his income.

The sub of the report is in this paragraph: "The grand total of all estimated expenditures of government for the fiscal year 1922 is $3,922,372,000 a reduction of $45,520,220 from the budget estimates made last fall and reported to congress in December, and a reduction of $1,615,668,659.03 as compared with the actual expenditures for 1921."

The report sets forth a thousand and one economies—rather a million and one. Some of them are big and important; others are interesting for their conservative indifference.

For example, there was created in 1921 by executive order a federal traffic board. One of the first things it did was to bring about proper commercial classification of government shipments under department nomenclature and thus save $290,000.

Another item: Bureau of fisheries—35 fish mops and 25 son operators; commerce—5,800 gallons of water; veterans' bureau, two telephone head sets; treasury, 25 pounds cranberry of potassium; labor, 2,400 sheets blotting paper; commerce, one salt box.

PEKING CAPTURED BY GEN. WU'S ARMY

Leader of Chihli Forces Wins the Capital of China.

GEN. CHANG IS IN FLIGHT

Victor Sends Emissaries to Government Before Entering City—Manchurian Chief Escapes Toward Mukden—All Foreigners Safe.

Peking, May 6.—Gen. Wu Peifu, leader of the Chihli army, was in control of Peking at noon and Gen. Chang Tsao-hsiang's forces were routed in a fierce battle south of the capital, was reported fleeing to Mukden.

The routed army left behind artillery, munitions, horses and loaded camels, and its wounded and dead. The total casualties in yesterday's fighting are believed to have reached 7,000 to 7,500 dead and wounded.

General Wu sent a number of his officers into Peking to assist with the government authorities. The officers declared the Chihli commander could be expected in the capital soon.

General Wu attributes much of his success to the initiative of Feng Yuh-shiang, "the Christian general," who commanded the operations which resulted in the retreat eastward of Chang's army.

Two thousand of Chang's soldiers permanently kept in Peking were dispersed under orders from Wu. Outside the walls some of Chang's Manchurian soldiers refused to surrender and were fired upon.

The closing of the city's gates resulted in the shutting out of a number of foreigners, including Mrs. Kay Atherton, wife of the second secretary of the American legation.

Many Chinese civilian refugees were permitted to enter the city. The American board of missions rescued 600 of them. They are now quartered in the foreign compounds.

H. P. DAVISON IS DEAD

New York Financier Succumbs After Operation.

Carried $2,000,000 Life Insurance and Left Estate Estimated at $10,000,000.

New York, May 10.—The startling death of Henry P. Davison in his country estate near this city while undergoing an operation for removal of a tumor on the brain, aroused wide and sympathetic concern.

Mr. Davison, fifty-five years old, was a partner in the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co. In the World war he was head of the American Red Cross.

It has become known through one of New York's leading insurance brokers that Mr. Davison carried $2,000,000 in life insurance. The policies are spread over some twenty companies.

Close friends of Davison estimate that the financier left an estate of about $10,000,000.

That the seriousness of his condition was not fully realized became known when it was disclosed that the family only Saturday night bought a small plot in the Locust Valley cemetery.

When his doctors informed Mr. Davison that another operation was necessary, he had said: "If it must be done, we'll have it right here," referring to the Peacock point home.

Mr. Patterson, founder and chairman of the board of directors of the National Cash Register company, Dayton, O., died suddenly on Sunday aboard a train bound for this city.

Mr. Patterson was stricken with a heart attack as the train passed through Kirkwood, Camden county, Mo., beach front hotel, where he was to have remained for two weeks for the benefit of his health.

Patterson, who started life as a farmhand near Dayton and established the biggest business of its kind in the world on the land that he had played as a boy, retired as president of the National Cash Register company last July 16.

CHAPTER X. Ramsey kept very few things from Fred Milholland, and usually his confessions were immediate upon the occasion of them; but allowed several weeks to elapse before sketching for his roommate the outlines of this adventure.

"Why didn't you just say, 'Oh, you Teacher's Pet?'" That would—" "Get out! What I mean is, she called me 'Ramsey' without any bother. It seems funny I got stumped every time I started to say 'Dora.' Some way I couldn't land it, and it certainly would 'a' sounded crazy to call her 'Miss Youcum' after sitta' in the same room with her every day from the baby class clear on up through the end of high school. That would 'a' made me out an idiot?"

"No. I started to, but—Shut up!" and poke along, and let them do what they like to us." "I guess so," said Fred. "Then, afterwards, when they got some free time on their hands, they'll come over and make it really interesting for us, because they know we won't do anything but talk. Yes, I guess the way things are settling down ought to suit Dora. There isn't goin' to be any war."

stayed there quite a while, but before we left she got kind of more like every-day, you know, the way people do. It was half-past seven when we walked back to town, and I was commencing to feel kind of hungry, so I asked her if she wasn't, and she sort of laughed and seemed to be ashamed of it, as if it was a disgrace or something, but she said she guessed she was; so I left her by that hedge of hedges near the observatory and went on over to the Teria and the fruit store, and got some stuffed eggs and olives and half-a-dozen peanut butter sandwiches and a box of strawberries—kind of girl-fool, you know—and went on back there, and we ate the stuff up. So then she said she was afraid she'd taken me away from my dinner and made me a lot of trouble, and so on, and she was sorry, and she told me good-night."

"What did you say then?" "Noth— Oh, shut up! So then she skipped out to her dorm, and I came on home." "When did you see her next, Ramsey?" "I haven't seen her next," said Ramsey. "I haven't seen her at all—not to speak of, I saw her at the Metro street twice since then, but both times she was with some other girls, and they were across the street, and I couldn't tell if she was lookin' at me—I kind of thought not. I thought it might look sort of nutty to bow to her if she wasn't, so I didn't."

"And you didn't tell her you wouldn't be one of the ones to help her with her pacifism and anti-war stuff and all that?" "No, I started to, but—Shut up!" Fred sat up, giggling. "So she thinks you will help her. You didn't say anything at all, and she must think that means she converted you. Why didn't you speak up?" "Well, I wouldn't argue with her," said Ramsey. Then, after a silence, he seemed to be in need of sympathetic comprehension. "It was kind of funny though, wasn't it?" he said, appealingly.

"But as near as I can make out," Fred said, "that isn't what happened." "You say 'and both of us talking' and so on. As near as I can make out, you didn't say anything at all." "Well, I didn't," Ramsey admitted, and returned to his point with almost pathetic persistence. "But doesn't it seem kind of funny to you, Fred?" "Well, I don't know." "If it does to me," Ramsey insisted. "It certainly does to me."

DAUGHERTY AFTER WAR PROFITEERS

Declares Government Was De-frauded of Many Millions.

HOT DEBATE IN THE HOUSE

President Harding Transmits Attorney General's Report to Congress—Many Prosecutions to Be Started.

Washington, May 10.—President Harding transmitted to congress a report by Attorney General Daugherty, announcing that wholesale prosecutions are ready to be started against war contractors guilty of defrauding the government out of millions of dollars.

The Daugherty report asserts that evidence of criminality had been disclosed in every one of a "large number" of the "more important cases" in which investigations have been completed or are rapidly being completed.

The "aggregate possible recoveries" in cases in which civil suits will be instituted for recovery of unlawful payments to contractors, the attorney general further declared, "would probably equal $100,000,000."

Democrat Brings Charges. Representative Garrett of Tennessee, acting Democratic leader, sharply charged that the purpose of the attorney general's report was to head off the investigation. He asked Mr. Mondell to inform the house whether "the resolution, which has been favorably reported by the rules committee, is now dead and is not to be further considered."

Plans Are Outlined. In his outline of the department's plans for proceeding against unconscionable contractors who robbed the government in time of war, Mr. Daugherty said two cases "of first magnitude" already are in shape for prompt submission to the grand jury.

60-YEAR LIMIT ON JUDGES. Harding Won't Appoint Men to Bench Who Are Past That Mark in Years.

Washington, May 10.—A general administration policy has been decided upon in the appointment of federal judges, the chief feature of which is that no appointment will be made of men who are past sixty years of age.

Washington, May 10.—The Eighth United States infantry will be kept on the Rhine until the latter part of June, at least, Secretary of War Weeks indicated in a letter to Senator Harris, Democrat, of Georgia.

GOES AFTER MOVIES

WISCONSIN PREACHER ASKS U. S. FILM QUIZ.

Minister Appears Before the Senate Judiciary Committee With Demand for Investigation.

Washington, May 10.—Urging passage of a senate resolution calling for an investigation of the motion picture industry, Rev. S. Paterson Todd of Milwaukee, Wis., declared before a senate judiciary subcommittee that congress should regulate the motion picture industry, which he described the third largest in the country, as it had the railroads and the packers.

The present federal law prohibiting the transportation of prize-fight films in interstate commerce is not effective, the witness said, because in its enforcement the federal courts imposed fines "which became licenses," and did not impose prison sentences.

Doctor Todd's suggestion that the use of the silver screen in the conduct of political campaigns should be regulated, brought from Senator Shortridge, California, chairman of the subcommittee, an inquiry as to how that could be lawfully done, and whether, if it could be enforced, it would not also involve an attempt to restrict the "political activity of newspapers."

Doctor Todd insisted some measure of relief should be provided by congress "to relieve the people from the blackmail of the motion picture industry."

BISHOPS CHEER FOR WILSON

Hailed as Apostle of Modern Democracy and World Peace at Meeting of Churchmen.

Hot Springs, Ark., May 10.—Hailing Woodrow Wilson as "the apostle of modern democracy and world peace" delegates to the nineteenth quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, staged a demonstration here in the former President's honor that officials said was unique in the church's annals.

The scene resembled a political meeting as the delegates, even the more elderly bishops, arose to their feet so they could cheer louder. It was several minutes before the presiding officers could stop the hubbub and bring the convention to order.

Mr. Mondell's reply took the form of a sweeping assault on the Democratic administration's responsibility for the "theft" of the oil fields in the Republic of Texas, tried to pin down the Republican leader with the question:

FEISAL WOULD OUST FRENCH King of Mesopotamia Makes Demand on the Conference at Geneva, Italy.

Geneva, May 10.—Representatives of King Feisal of Mesopotamia, presented to the conference a memorandum claiming the independence of Syria and Lebanon and protesting against French occupation.

The Syrians maintain that France, under the pretext of a mandate, is trying to colonize Syria as she has done with Algeria and Tunisia, and that the same thing is being done by England in Mesopotamia and Palestine.

The memorandum declares that Syrians are capable of governing themselves, while the Arab revolt obliges France to keep an army of occupation 6,000 strong in the territory.

HOW TWO WOMEN ESCAPED OPERATIONS

Doctor Advised Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Happy Results in Both Cases

St. Joseph, Missouri.—"Both of my sides swelled and hurt me so that I could not move or do any of my work. There was heavy pressure and pains through my lower organs and my doctor told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for these troubles. He said I had no other chance, and if the Vegetable Compound did not help me nothing but an operation would. After taking several bottles I felt it was helping me and now I am able to do my own work. If my testimonial will help others I shall be glad for them to read it and hope your Vegetable Compound will do them as much good as it did me." —Mrs. Wm. Lockman, 513 N. 4th St., St. Joseph, Mo.

White Plains, N. Y.—"I had such a pain that I could hardly walk and the doctor said that I needed an operation. I was sick for a year before I started taking your medicine and I could not work. I saw your advertisement in a little book and that is how I came to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after other medicines. I have been taking the Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine, also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and the capsules and prescription recommended. I am doing all my work and have gained twenty pounds. I am taking the medicines still, but I feel fine. You have my permission to use this letter for the good of others." —Mrs. Mary Marks, 57 Hamilton Ave., White Plains, N. Y.

Some female troubles may through neglect reach a stage when an operation is necessary. But most of the common ailments are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors, or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same. When disturbing ailments first appear, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the pressure. Many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised by attending physicians.

MIRRORS MADE OF PLATE GLASS

Process is a Somewhat Complicated One and Calls for a High Degree of Skill.

Mirrors are made from plate glass. The proper ingredients are mixed together and melted in large pots. The molten mass is then poured out on a great iron table and a heavy roller flattens out the glass to the desired thickness. The sheets are then annealed, which consists of heating them slowly in various chambers kept at different temperatures. This is for the purpose of relieving unnatural strain in the formed glass, which makes it extremely brittle, so that a mere touch is sometimes sufficient to cause the plate to break.

REISSUE GRADES FOR PEACH CROP

Only Minor Changes From Those Recommended Last Year Are Favored for 1922.

MARKET QUALITY COUNTS MOST

Color, Maturity, General Appearance and Freedom From Blemishes Are Big Factors—Minimum Size Not Specified.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.
United States grades for peaches have been reissued by the United States Department of Agriculture. The grades contain only minor changes from those recommended in 1921.

In past years peaches have been graded chiefly with regard to size. The United States grades are based wholly on market quality. Under this new plan, important factors are color, maturity, general appearance and freedom from insect and fungus injuries. Minimum sizes have not been specified for the various grades, but the commercial count and minimum size or style of pack of the peaches must be stamped on each package. This is a well established practice in handling boxed apples and citrus fruits.

Meet Commercial Needs.

The No. 1 grade is designed to meet the normal commercial needs of the trade and consuming public by affording a superior stock which might cause loss in transit. It also provides that the peaches shall be of one variety, firm, mature and well formed, and free from growth cracks, cuts, skin breaks, worm holes, and frost damage caused by dirt, scale, scab, scale, hair, disease, insects or mechanical or other means.

The No. 2 grade includes peaches of one variety which are firm, mature and free from worm holes or serious damage caused by disease, insects or any other means.

A fancy No. 1 grade is also provided for those who desire to pack an especially fine product. In this grade will be packed only peaches which are free from all damage by insects or diseases and which in addition have a specified amount of red color. This amount has been fixed at 20 per cent for such varieties as Carman and Haley and at 25 per cent for Elberta and J. H. Hale and other similar varieties.

The department's action in reissuing the grades is the result of the favorable appearance and use of the grades last year by growers' associations, state marketing officials and the trade generally. During the early investigation by the department there was considerable skepticism as to the practicability of formulating grades which would be uniformly acceptable to both northern and southern districts. But actual use of the grades on a large scale under the supervision of specialists of the bureau of markets and crop estimates has won over many of even the most conservative operators.

Where Grades Are Adopted.

According to recent reports, the United States grades will be adopted this season by the Sand Hill Fruit Growers' association, Aberdeen, N. C., and the Western New York Fruit Growers' association.

Peaches in Baskets and Boxes Ready for Shipment.

ers' Co-operative Packing association, Rochester, N. Y., both of these associations having tried them in 1921. In addition, it is practically assured that the Jersey Fruit Growers' co-operative association of New Jersey, a number of associations in southern Illinois and northern Ohio, including the Danbury Fruit company, Danbury, O., as well as certain prominent growers in Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia will also adopt the United States grades for this season's pack. The grades have been promulgated in substantially the same form as the official Texas grades and marketing officials in North and South Carolina, New Jersey and Colorado are considering them favorably.

Partial or complete crop failures in recent years in peach producing states on the west bank of the Mississippi river have made it impracticable for specialists of the department to demonstrate properly the grades in that territory. It is known, however, that the specifications included in the department's recommendations will meet normal conditions in these sections, and it is believed that they will be received favorably once they are known. Buyers who have had experience with peaches labeled "United States No. 1" have expressed themselves as well satisfied with the product.

In addition to the recommended grades of peaches, the bureau of markets and crop estimates has prepared grades for 13 other important fruit and vegetable crops, asparagus, beeharred apples, strawberries, cabbage, celery, cauliflower, cucumber, lettuce, Bermuda onions, sweet green corn, white potatoes, sweet potatoes and tomatoes. Copies of any of these grades may be secured without charge on application to the bureau of markets and crop estimates, Washington, D. C.

YELLOW-RESISTANT CABBAGE VARIETIES

About 4,000 Pounds of Seed Produced in Washington.

Department of Agriculture and Wisconsin Experiment Station Been Investigating Disease and Assisting Growers.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.
About 4,000 pounds of cabbage seed of the Wisconsin All Seasons variety, which is highly resistant to the disease known as "cabbage yellows," were produced in the Puget Sound section of Washington during the season of 1921. Cabbage yellows is caused by a fungus which is capable of persisting in favorable soils indefinitely and causes serious crop losses in infested regions. Disinfection of the seed reduces the danger of carrying other cabbage diseases to new districts, but the investigations of the University of Wisconsin have shown that the selection of resistant varieties offers the only way of preventing loss from yellows.

The United States Department of Agriculture, in co-operation with the Wisconsin experiment station, has for some time been investigating the disease and assisting growers and packers in the production of cabbage seed of the yellow-resistant strains on a commercial scale and in the field.

inspection of the seed crops. In addition to the All Seasons, several hundred pounds of Wisconsin Brunswick seed, another yellow-resistant variety, have also been produced.

One result of the investigations thus far is the development of a new yellow-resistant variety. Through the commercial cabbage growers and fruit packers a supply of the yellow-resistant cabbage seed is available to the growers in sections where these types of cabbage are needed. Resistant strains of other varieties, including Holland, All Head Early, and Copenhagen Market, are being developed and will be propagated for distribution in the near future.

WHY PUREBRED Sires EXCEL

Ratios Between Males and Females in Different Classes of Stock Kept for Breeding.

If you are ever inclined to doubt the importance of the quality sire, a glance at the figures below will reassure you. They represent the ratios between males and females in different classes of live stock kept for breeding purposes. The figures are based on a survey of more than 200,000 head of live stock of all kinds made by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Cattle—1 bull to 18.0 cows.
Horses—1 stallion to 10.9 mares.
Swine—1 boar to 11.5 sows.
Sheep—1 ram to 37 ewes.
Goats—1 buck to 25.6 does.
Chickens—1 rooster to 23.3 hens.

Other poultry, geese, ducks, turkeys, etc. (average)—1 male to 3.5 females.

These figures are taken from more than 2,000 farms in various parts of the country, and are believed to be typical of average conditions in the country over. Since the sire is the parent of so many more offspring than the female, the importance of using a purebred sire of individual quality and excellence can hardly be overemphasized. There may be cases where scrub dams are wisely tolerated, but it is almost criminal to propagate undesirable characteristics by using scrub mates.

STOCK PRODUCTION SYSTEMS

Among Controlling Factors Are Selection of Animals and Feed and Management.

Well-established systems of live-stock production consistently followed from year to year are the outstanding needs of the live-stock industry, according to a conference of animal husbandry and marketing extension workers held at Chicago. Economy of production, the conference agreed, is the most important factor over which farmers have control. Producing live stock of the best quality at the lowest possible cost was urged and particular emphasis was placed on economy of production rather than increased production as the key to a prosperous industry.

Among the controlling factors in economical live-stock production, in the judgment of the conference, were selection of animals, choosing of rations and good practices in care and management. Delegates to the conference included United States Department of Agriculture specialists and animal husbandmen and extension workers of agricultural colleges in the Central West.

Build a Silo.

Every farmer who milks cows needs a silo for economical feeding and to provide succulent feed for the winter months. Plant a crop for the silo now and arrange to have the silo ready to be filled this summer.

Crops for Hogging Down.

Upon well-drained land which is quite free from weeds it will ordinarily pay to drill corn and beans for hogging down because of the increased yield from the greater number of plants.

Crepes Play Leading Roles; New Annette Kellermans

IN THE drama of summer fashions for afternoon crepe continue to hold the center of the stage. Its bright ruffles, sprightly taffetas and distinctive foulards, cast in important roles, play their parts equally well, but the exquisite texture of crepe lends itself to drapery and there is a flare for drapery. So long as it lacks the suppleness of crepe will make them pre-eminent in the aristocratic company of silks that forgo their affairs of afternoon or evening.

then, all bearing a family resemblance to the incomparably beautiful crepe de chine that antedates them. This is the crepe chosen for the exquisite gown shown here with draped bodice and sleeves. It is generously beaded with crystal beads set about the neck and down the top of the sleeves and about the bodice where it bousens over a girle similarly adorned. The skirt is almost covered with these twinkling crystals, but they are left off the long, bias sash of the material which falls in two pointed ends at the left side, where a short drape is placed over the hips.

their neck openings and the treatment of the arm's-eye. Color and color combinations also lead their interest. The suit pictured is in dark blue piped with white, and has a V-shaped neck opening. It features with buttons on the left shoulder and has separate trunks. Jersey cloth in a two-color combination makes the suit for a young girl. It has a semi-fitted body and the trunks are joined to the overgarment, which fastens on the left shoulder. The arm's-eye is built out with a fold of the lighter colored jersey. This youthful suit makes possible many pretty color combinations and is very

A simpler and more youthful model appears in company of its brilliant rival, but it has distinguished charm of its own. A full skirt with deep facing is cut in scallops and has a novel adornment of roses that head loops and ends made of crepe fabric. The roses are set about the girle and on the sleeves, which are scalloped and draped.

Swimming suits like those shown here are known as Annette Kellermans models.

Beaded Frock Effects.

Beaded frocks had such an extended vogue that it seemed they must be replaced by something new this year; but not so. The shops are still resplendent with lavishly beaded evening dresses, and afternoon frocks have beaded decorations. The fashionable three-piece street suit has a beaded blouse, and even the sport suit offers a lingerie blouse with the bright touch in beads. Several buyers, just back from Paris, confirm the reports that beads are the leading

HAS FIRST WELL DAY IN 6 YEARS

Huntington Citizen Could Neither Sleep Nor Eat With Any Satisfaction Before He Got Tanlac.

"Before taking Tanlac I had not been a well day in six years," said W. R. Peoples, 328 22nd St., Huntington, W. Va.

"It seemed like I had lost my health for good. I could neither sleep nor eat with satisfaction. I was badly run down, nervous, had no appetite and had to force down every mouthful I ate. Even then my food soured. I would fill up with gas until I had intense pains in my stomach and chest. Headache almost drove me mad, rheumatism in my arms, shoulder and hips kept me in pain all the time, and I had to force myself to work.

"Tanlac went right after my troubles. On four bottles I gained ten pounds and the rheumatism and stomach trouble soon left me. My wife has given a statement about the good Tanlac did her, and I am glad to add my endorsement of this wonderful medicine."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

Stop Hiccoughs.

"There is, I believe, only one specific for hiccoughs," says an eminent physician, "and that is a small dose of vinegar, sweetened with as much sugar as it will absorb. I have used this remedy when the annoyance has passed almost into the dangerous stage, and never knew a case which one dose would not relieve and two cure."

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

HAD SPEECH WITH GOVERNOR NO TIME FOR EXPLANATIONS

Certainly Short, but the Incident Gladdened the Heart of This Indiana Small Boy.

Young Woman Simply Felt Herself Victim of Circumstances, and Went Her Way.

When Governor McCray and others boarded an Interurban to visit the new reformatory site at Pendleton they found the car already well filled. The governor sat down by a small boy from Fortville and a moment later asked him to exchange seats with another member of the party so that they could continue a conversation. Shortly afterward the lad's seatmate disclosed to the boy that it was the governor he had accommodated.

The incident made an impression and when the boy reached home he boasted to his father that he had seen the governor and had spoken to him. "Is that so?" said his dad, skeptically, "and what did the governor say to you?" "Oh," he said, "would you just as soon sit in that seat over there, son?"—Indianapolis News.

The Thrifty Citizen Who Caught the Plugged Nickel

MR. BROWN had swallowed his lunch and had paid his bill. Cautiously he counted his change. "Here!" he said, sharply, "Take back this plugged nickel and give me a good one!"

Mr. Brown walked proudly out. They couldn't fool old Brown.

But old Brown had fooled himself.

Brown's day was heavy and dull. He lacked "pep." There was a mid-afternoon drowsy spell when he needed to be awake—the direct and natural result of heavy, starchy breakfasts and lunches, taken on faith and without question as to value—just because the food looked and tasted like food.

Thousands of shrewd business men who count their change, take their food for granted.

That's what builds up the sanitarium business, and puts the tired "all-done" feeling into the mid-afternoon of a business day.

YOUR WORK

BY LAZINESS, procrastination, or by pretending to be busier than you are, you can get quite a good deal of your work done for you—a white lie.

If the man above you is quick and competent, he will frequently get so disgusted with you that he will snatch a job out of your hands, and do it himself.

No competent executive will do that, but you can count all the competent executives of your acquaintance on the fingers of one hand.

It will save you a good deal of trouble to have the hard job taken away from you. You can devote your time to doing the easy jobs at your leisure, and at your own way.

You will probably congratulate yourself on having a boss that is so skillful—so much abler than you—that he can do all the hard work.

But the congratulation will be short-lived. In about a year's time you will discover that you can't do anything but the easy jobs—which are the poorly paid ones, because you never gave your mind any exercise doing the hard ones.

All the opportunities for growth and for progress were in those jobs that were taken out of your hands. Maybe the boss who took them away from you didn't need the mental exercise, but the point is that he got it, and you didn't. By letting him take it away you got just as much out of the game as a back player would whose captain played his position every time there was a critical stage in the game.

No matter what kind of work you have, a time is coming when it is going to become suddenly difficult. The importance of a certain task will increase tremendously owing to unexpected circumstances.

Not to all is given supreme wisdom in these matters, but such as is bestowed, is generally hidden away in a nook and cranny or forgotten.

Thus, when a young man or woman in a burst of passion unlocks the door to enmity, instead of friendship, to evil, instead of good, it becomes at once apparent that use has been made of the wrong key.

Proper judgment and action, all the exalted things in life, including faithfulness, humor and virtue, decline to show their shining faces to the carriers of the improper key.

What the foolish do with keys entrusted to them to open the world of life, makes wise men and women shudder.

And yet, when all has been said, when the story of life has been revealed from the morn of the tottering infant to the night of tottering age, who shall say that he or she has not at some time or another in his or her folly, used the wrong key?

SCHOOL DAYS

THE WAY OF A MAN WITH A MAID

That is the time that is going to take your measure. If you tackle that harder job and go through with it, the chances are that you will do it well.

If you stand aside and let the man above you step in, you might as well make up your mind that you are going to work for the same or less wages for the best of your days.

For you have repudiated the chance to grow. You have proved yourself a coward.

Some day we may write about the boss who deprives himself of competent help by insisting on doing every body's work for them. But today we are writing about you.

If you are in the habit of standing back and asking for assistance every time an unusually hard job comes along, get out of it. You will become an assistance-asker all your life.

Assistance-askers sometimes get assistance, but they never get responsibility or good pay, or respect, or anything else that makes life worth the while.

KIDDIES SIX

By Will M. Maupin

HIS FATE

LITTLE Willie Wait-a-Bit Intended well to mind, But, somehow, always managed it To be a bit behind.

"In a minute," he would say When time came to cease his play.

Little Willie Wait-a-Bit Grew to be a man; But he loved to sit and sit Scheming out some plan.

"In a minute," he would say "I will get to work straightaway!"

Mr. William Wait-a-Bit Seemed St. Peter's Gate, But, alas, he managed it So that he was late.

"Wait a minute!" shouted he; But St. Peter turned the key.

William Wait-a-Bit was sent To the nether clime, Where without his own intent He arrived on time.

Now he mourns his torrid fate, For his master will not wait.

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union I have a creed—a creed that's good and true That serves me in my head in all I do— Faith in my God and His eternal plan, Faith in the good He's placed in every man, Faith in the land that bore me, and the Light It holds aloft for lovers of the Right.

GOOD THINGS.

For those who enjoy a luscious gingerbread for an occasional tea or luncheon the following will be enjoyed:

Fairy Gingerbread.—Cream one cupful of butter, add two cupfuls of sugar and mix well; add gradually one cupful of milk in which three-fourths of a teaspoonful of soda is added, add four cupfuls of flour and one tablespoonful of ginger. Beat all together and spread very thinly on the bottom of a dropping pan. Bake quickly and, while hot, cut in squares; remove rapidly. It will crisp at once. One may add a sprinkling of nuts to the top before baking and cut in a cornucopia. Fill with cream, food or otherwise and have a home-made cream cake.

Oatmeal Cakes.—Cream one-half cupful of butter or lard mixed with one-half cupful of sugar, add one-half cupful of milk in which one-fourth of a teaspoonful of soda has been dissolved. Brown a light brown one cupful of oatmeal then grind it through the meat grinder, add one cupful of flour, grated orange peel or nutmeg for flavoring. Drop by small spoonfuls on a baking sheet. Nuts and raisins may be added if desired.

Nut Wafers.—Take three tablespoonfuls of butter, five of pulverized sugar and when well creamed add drop by drop three tablespoonfuls of milk, then add nine tablespoonfuls of flour. Brush the pan with butter, drop the mixture by spoonfuls on a baking sheet, sprinkle with nuts, dust with cinnamon and bake in a moderate oven.

Indian Pudding.—Scald two cupfuls of milk, add one cupful of boiling water and stir in two tablespoonfuls of corn meal mixed with a little cold water, add three tablespoonfuls of molasses, a pinch of salt, a half cupful of raisins and one-half cupful of molasses. Bake slowly and serve with a syrup made from prune juice. Prunes may be used instead of raisins in the pudding.

Endive as Greens.—Take a dozen heads of endive, wash and drain and cook until tender. Serve well buttered with a dash of lemon juice, or a little hot bacon fat with pieces of crisp bacon and a little onion juice and vinegar.

"For the housewife who loses to cook, the planning and preparation of meals is as much of a joy and entertainment as a card game or a 'musical.' But don't forget that variety in entertainment is the spice of life."

DAINTY DISHES FOR OCCASIONS The luncheon may be made the most interesting meal of the day and the cook who enjoys manipulating a fork and spoon will find in a few simple dishes a real genius. Chicken With Golden Sauce.—Arrange on a platter the choicest pieces of chicken (most of the white meat) in portions suitable for serving, the chicken having been previously cooked until tender. Place boiled rice around the edge of the platter and pour over all the following sauce: Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter and add the same amount of flour. Stir until smooth then add slowly one pint of chicken broth and cook until smooth and thick. Remove from the stove and add, stirring rapidly, the yolks of two eggs well beaten. Season with salt and pepper and a dash of cayenne. Sprinkle with a little chopped sweet red pepper.

Chicken Terrapin.—Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter, add two tablespoonfuls of flour, pepper and salt to taste, a few grains of cayenne and one cupful of hot milk. Cook in a double boiler a few minutes until smooth and thick. Add one and a half cupfuls of chicken, turkey or veal, cut in dice, the yolks of two hard-cooked eggs chopped fine, and the whites in larger pieces. Cook three minutes.

Creamed Eggs With Asparagus.—Cook until well done six eggs; cut in halves and place while hot on a hot platter. Prepare a rich white sauce, using four tablespoonfuls of flour and butter and seasoning with one pint of rich milk; cook until smooth and thick. Arrange hot cooked asparagus cut in short stalks around the eggs and pour the white sauce over the asparagus. Garnish with toast points and serve hot.

Celery cooked in three-inch stalks may be served in this dish in place of the asparagus. An escalloped dish, using asparagus macaroni or celery with white sauce baked with a covering of buttered crumbs, makes a most tasty luncheon dish.

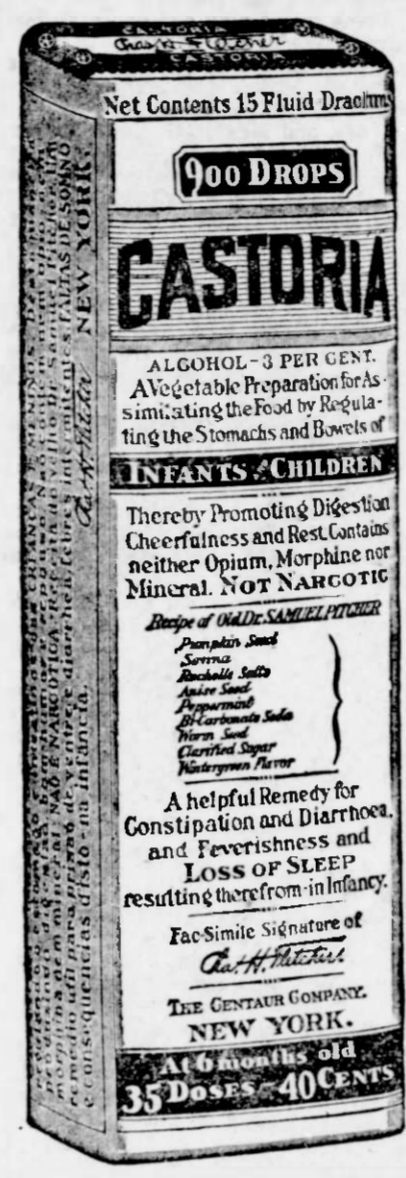

Worthy of All Honor. A tool is but the extension of a man's hand, and a machine is but a complex tool. And he that invents a machine, augments the power and the well-being of mankind.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Why Castoria?

YEARS ago Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups were the remedies in common use for Infants and Children; Castor Oil so nauseating as to be almost impossible and the others all containing Opium in one form or another, but so disguised as to make them pleasant to the taste, yet really to strip the child and give the appearance of relief from pain.

It required years of research to find a purely vegetable combination that would take the place of these disagreeable, unpleasant and vicious remedies that from habit had become almost universal. This was the inception of, and the reason for, the introduction of Fletcher's Castoria, and for over 30 years it has proven its worth, received the praise of Physicians everywhere and become a household word among mothers.

A remedy ESPECIALLY prepared for Infants and Children and no mother would think of giving to her baby a remedy that she would use for herself, without consulting a physician.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Have You Tried It?

Everybody has read the above headline; how many believe it? Have you a little-one in the home, and has that dear little mite when its stomach was not just right felt the comforts that come with the use of Fletcher's Castoria? You have heard the cry of pain. Have you heard them cry for Fletcher's Castoria? Try it.

Just help baby out of its trouble tomorrow with a taste of Castoria. Watch the difference in the tone of the cry, the look in the eye, the wiggle in the tiny fingers. The transformation is complete—from pain to pleasure. Try it.

You'll find a wonderful lot of information about Baby in the booklet that is wrapped around every bottle of Fletcher's Castoria.

GOOD THINGS FOR THE FAMILY

EVERYBODY in the household likes the cinnamon rolls or cinnamon buns. The following is a reliable recipe:

Take one cupful each of milk, water and sugar, two eggs, three-fourths of a cupful of shortening, one yeast cake and a teaspoonful of salt. Scald the milk and while it is still hot pour it over the shortening and add the sugar and hot water; when cool add the yeast cake which has been softened in one-half cupful of water, add the salt which drops from the spoon. Beat place over night. In the morning add the well beaten eggs and flour to make a dough which can be kneaded; knead lightly and well, put back into a well buttered bowl and let rise until double its bulk. Separate into two parts and roll out into a sheet. Spread this with soft butter, brown sugar, cinnamon and well washed and dried currants. Roll in a long roll and cut the buns in thick slices. Place them in a pan and set in a warm place to become light. Bake in a moderate oven with a grate under them if there is danger of burning.

If the family likes sticky buns put one tablespoonful of butter, one-half cupful of brown sugar, one-half cupful of sirup, and one-half cupful of water in a sauce pan and boil until thick. Add currants to it. When the buns are baked turn them upside down and spread this mixture evenly over the sides and bottom of the buns.

Pimento Cheese Rolls. Roll out a raised dough like the above cinnamon bun mixture, spread with a layer of softened butter, then with pimento cheese. Roll up and cut in slices one inch thick, place cut sides up in a greased pan, let rise until light and bake in a moderate oven.

A good finish for a plain raisin cake is to spread it while hot very generously with butter, then sprinkle with a mixture of cinnamon and powdered sugar, using a teaspoonful of cinnamon to one-half cupful of sugar—more if desired.

Why the McClaren "Mileage Strip" means more miles

EVERY motorist realizes that the center of a tire's tread wears down fastest. It comes in full contact with the road—receives all road shocks. In fact, it is the tire's "life."

Experience has taught McClaren engineers that in order to get a tire that will guarantee more miles and longer life there must be a continuous strip of thick, tough rubber running through the center of the tread, and entirely around the tire.

Notice the famous McClaren "Mileage Strip" in the above illustration. This strip of rubber, unbroken by tread design, withstands road shocks and this prolongs the life of the tire. It gives more miles.

We have conducted tests under every conceivable condition, over the hardest kind of roads. We saw McClaren Autocrat Cord prove its quality. It won us completely, as it will win you. We call this McClaren Autocrat Cord Tire our tire. We back it with our name and our money. And one test will make it your tire, too.
