FIREMAN KILLED IN RAIL WRECK NEAR BARTON

In what was the worst trainwreck seen here in years, occurred between Barton and West Bend early Thursday morning, in which Herman Loomans, aged 33, fireman, residing at Fond du Lac, was instantly killed, and engineer Tom Green also of Fond du Lac was slightly injured.

The accident happened at 5:30 o'clock and is reported to have been caused by a spreading rail, caused by sudden change in temperature. The wrecked train No. 120, operating between Chicago and Green Bay, due here at 5:20 a. m. is known as the milk train. It was reported to have been late, and when reaching a pronounced curve just south of Barton the train leaped down a ten foot embankment, four cars going into the ditch with engine and tender. The engine was first to leave the track. On its course down the embankment it rolled up large rocks and when it finally came to a stop, the front part was buried in the ground, only the upper part of it remained above the surface. The tender was lying on its side ahead of the engine, while four other cars were piled on a heap on both sides of the track. Some of them were completely demolished. Most of the coaches that left the track were empty. One car filled with Christmas express and mail was intact when it landed in the ditch. About 500 feet of rails and ties were torn up, twisted and piled along the side of the embankment.

The tender was thrown over the engine, tearing away the cab. The front truck caught fireman Loomans, crushing his head so badly that it was unrecognizable. Loomans was pinned against the boiler head, where a portion of his body was burned and baked to the engine. The body was still in a standing position, pressed against the boiler by the track. The body was moved by about eleven o'clock, shortly after the wrecking crew arrived, and taken to a morgue at Barton.

Mr. Green, the engineer was thrown out of the cab window, on top of another embankment, a distance of about fifty feet. He picked himself up walked to the rear of the train, where he received assistance by conductor Charles Hall in charge of the train. He was later taken to West Bend where he received medical aid, and where it was learned that his injuries were slight. He was later removed to his home at Fond du Lac. All trains on this division were delayed for several hours. Passengers were transferred around the scene of the wreck to trains on the opposite side.

The wreck is reported by trainmen to be the worst that has occurred on the Northwestern road for years. It certainly was a terrible sight to see.

Herman Loomans the dead fireman, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Loomans residing at 336 Eighth street, Fond du Lac. He is an ex-service man having served with Battery A 231st Field Artillery. He was later transferred to the 11th Engineers and then to the 8th Engineers. He was promoted from private to corporal and later to sergeant. He has been in the employ of the North Western line for the past twelve years.

He is survived by his parents, two sisters, Eunice and Viola, also two brothers, Cyrus and Clarence. He was born and raised at Fond du Lac.

LOCALS WIN AT HARTFORD

The Kewaskum Aluminum basket ball team journeyed to Hartford last Saturday evening, where they met the strong Legion team of that place defeating them by a score of 16 to 22. The locals fought an uphill battle from start to finish, being able to score only two points in the first half, against their opponents 9. Throughout this entire half our boys seemed to be dead, apparently taking matters too easy, after having met the fast Plymouth aggregation, a few weeks ago, while their opponents knowing what they had to contend with fought hard to roll up a big score. The second half started off in the same manner. The Legion team rolled up four more points in the first few minutes of play, while our boys were held scoreless. It was at this stage of the contest, however, when the score was two to thirteen, that our boys woke up. Spatz Miller, captain, set his squad going in the old time form, from which time on every member of the team worked like a machine, and before the Hartford team realized what had happened the score was tied. Another few minutes of playing put the locals in the lead, which they kept until the final whistle blew.

Last Saturday's victory for the Aluminum team is a great credit to them, coming out of the contest in the manner they did, with defeat practically an assured thing. It must certainly have been quite a surprise to the Hartford five, who were confident of victory.

Tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon, Dec. 17, the fans of this village and community can look forward to another thriller, undoubtedly a repetition of the Plymouth game, when the Aluminum team clashes with the strong Green Bay Packers, formerly members of the Wisconsin Central League. The visitors are all professionals, with a statewide reputation. Fast and snappy, accurate in passing and basket shooting. The Packers have played and defeated such teams as Oshkosh, P'Gosh, Neenah and Sheboygan. If you are looking for excitement, a game full of sensational plays, go to the Opera House tomorrow afternoon, and you will get your money's worth.

The visitor's lineup is composed of such players as Wheeler, former Lawrence Collier star, E. Kapp, L. Klaus, C. Mathey, E. Armstrong and F. Klaus.

Every loyal fan should make it a point to attend tomorrow's game as the boys are under heavy expense in getting such a high class team to this village, and besides you can rest assured that the contest will be worth going miles to see. Help root for the home team!

The boys and girls basket ball team of the Kewaskum High School journeyed to Campbellport last Friday evening where they played the boys school team of that place. The boys lost by a score of 4 to 16 and the girls by a score of 4 to 8.

Tonight (Saturday) a double header will be played at the Opera House, when the High School boys team will play the Plymouth Juniors and the girls will meet another team from the local high school. Admission 25 and 15.

PLAY SCORES DECIDED HIT

In spite of the extreme cold weather conditions, a large number attended the home talent play "Country Folks" given by the members of the Y. P. A. of the Ev. Peace congregation, at the Opera House on Tuesday evening, helping to bring same to a most successful conclusion. Each member of the cast played their parts well, and were heartily applauded by the audience for the good work done. All present enjoyed the evening's entertainment immensely. The manner in which each part was played, once more brought to the fore undreamed of efforts by the members of the cast.

So well were the different parts rendered that the different members of the cast were obliged to refrain from talking on account of the laughter and applause given them. When one stops to consider that only two out of the eleven people in the play had previous experience upon the stage in taking parts in a play, we must say they did remarkably well, going at the business of acting like a group of veterans. For which efforts they were heartily congratulated in the royal manner they entertained.

Mr. Backhaus, proprietor of the Opera House, saw to it that the hall was warm and comfortable for all who attended.

The story of the play was that in which Nat Dean, a college student, in love with Lorna Lane, a seamstress gets himself into trouble by corresponding with another girl. When the fact became known to Lorna, she gives her engagement ring back to Nat, who in turn enlists to get revenge. Upon Nat's return it becomes known that Pruddy Schuyler, daughter of a postmaster, was responsible for all trouble by opening Nat's letters. Lorna and Nat make up, and get married.

Words of praise could be heard from all sides upon the successful rendition of the play.

The Schellinger orchestra, who were engaged to furnish the music, were unable to come on the day of the play, on account of the cold weather Mr. Gossman of New Fane played a few selections on the piano, which was also greatly appreciated.

The Y. P. A. wish to express their sincere thanks to all who attended, to the members of the cast for the good work done, and especially to those who assisted at the play, to those who loaned furniture and fixtures for the stage setting and otherwise, all of which helped the cast to bring the play to a successful conclusion. Special thanks are offered to Arthur Schaefer for his untiring efforts in his work as coach and directing the cast.

COUNTY AFFAIRS TO BE INVESTIGATED

At the last meeting of the Washington County Board of Supervisors Resolution No. 11, calling for a grand jury investigation of certain departments of the county government, was passed. The county clerk was ordered to submit a copy of this resolution to Judge Davison, with the request that the latter call and empanel a grand jury. The names for said jury were submitted by the jury commissioners, consisting of Jos. Ott of West Bend, Frank Salter of Germantown and C. L. Friday of Hartford, on Dec. 8. Little Marie Kraemer, daughter of the county clerk, did the drawing. The jury will investigate and examine matters called for in the resolution, and for that purpose to examine witnesses, documents and records, and to take such action as it may deem advisable.

The action of the County Board in asking for an investigation was brought about by certain rumors and certain charges impugning the integrity and honesty of the members of the Board of Supervisors of Washington county concerning the administration by them of the duties of their office, and that there be a complete disclosure of the acts and doings of said committee and of the members and employees thereof and of other persons to the end that the members of said committee be publicly exonerated, or that it be ascertained whether such charges can be substantiated by legal advice. The resolution provides for an appropriation of $5,000 to carry on the work connected with the investigation. The grand jury will meet in West Bend on Dec. 27, when the preliminary work of the investigation, it is believed, will be taken up. As the list of the grand jury men is sealed in the office of the clerk of the court, it is not available or publication. Atty. Frank W. Bucklin of West Bend has been appointed to assist District Attorney H. P. Schmidt with the legal work.—West Bend Pilot.

LAYING OF CORNERSTONE

A spectacle unique in the history of West Bend was enacted last Saturday afternoon. The occasion was the laying of the corner-stone for the new Masonic temple. The ritual was simple, quaint and touching, and the short address were full of human interest. Although everything was gone through with as much expedition as possible, on account of the cold weather, the ceremony lasted for over an hour and a half. The curious crowd which gathered with the Masons may have numbered several hundred people stood protected from the boreal wind by the high walls of the Washington Hotel and flooded by genial sunshine, and took it all in, from the moment the long procession of the local and visiting Masons emanated from the lodge hall with their paraphernalia, their aprons, good bordered and violet, or plain white, donned, some carrying staffs with gold emblems, others the curious insignia of the order, and marched to the building site to the end where the work was pronounced well done.

The ceremony began with a prayer; corn, wine and oil were poured over the corner-stone which was tested and found square and plumb and an oblong copper box was placed in it, which contained the following articles: List of the officers and members of the building committee, of the architect and contractor, list of officers of the Grand Lodge; copy of Grand Lodge proceeding for 1922; Holy Bible, square and compass; a trowel and a sprig of evergreen; list of charter members; officers and members of West Bend Chapter 73 of O. E. S.; a $100 legal tender note, series of 1917; silver Peace dollar of 1922; two 1922 pennies; copies of the Hartford Times, Nov. 17, 1922, West Bend Pilot, Oct. 26, 1922, and Milwaukee Sentinel, Oct. 2, 1922. The stone then was lowered to its place and joined with mortar to the concrete foundation wall. It has the Masonic emblem, the organization year, A. D. 1922, cut in its white limestone face.—West Bend News.

47 CHILDREN EXAMINED

Following is the report of a recent health inspection of the children attending the Holy Trinity school in Kewaskum by Miss Cecelia Giesing, county nurse: Out of forty-seven children examined eight were found with defective tonsils; six with defective vision; two with goitre; one with a curvature of the spine; ten were found to be 10% or more underweight; and six 5% underweight. The scales and measuring rod are very reliable, though at times the tale they tell is rather painful, and so it is here; out of the twenty-four in the upper grades eight were found to be 10% or more underweight, while out of the twenty-three in the lower grades only two were found to be 10% underweight. This is food for thought.

HIGHWAY 55 TO BE FINISHED NEXT YEAR

The work of finishing the paving of Highway 55, including the two mile stretch from Kewaskum and Barton to the junction with the Chas. Gordon highway on the north end of the City of Kewaskum, north to the City of Barton, will be started next year, by the Wisconsin Highway Commission, according to the plans given out by the Wisconsin Highway Commission for 1922 and 1923. It is hoped that the work will be done in the latter part of 1923 and the highway will be ready for the winter of 1924. The highway is now in the hands of the Wisconsin Highway Commission and will be ready for the winter of 1924. "LIGHTNIN' IN MILWAUKEE NEXT WEEK

Many from this section will journey to Milwaukee next week to witness "Lightnin'", the play that has broken all records with its run of three years in New York and nearly two years in Chicago.

With Thomas Jefferson, Bessie Bacon, Ida St. Leon and the most brilliant cast now appearing in "Lightnin'" John Golden will present the famous comedy classic at the Davidson theatre, starting Sunday night, December 17, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. The company has no other engagements in Wisconsin.

Like "Turn to the Right", "3 Wise Fools", "The First Year", and other John Golden plays, "Lightnin'" is a mixture of laughs and heart thrills, with the fun predominating. Lightnin' Bill Jones, the Reno courtroom scene, the hotel aside the California-Nevada state line and other characters and scenes of this play have brought it closer to the hearts of American playgoers than any offering since "The Old Homestead". The recent death of Frankie Bacon has left Thomas Jefferson the most distinguished artist now before the public in the role of Lightnin' Bill Jones. He is a son of the late Joseph Jefferson.

On account of the massiveness of its courtroom scene, "Lightnin'" can be presented only in the larger cities and it is playing to capacity audiences everywhere. Seats are not on sale at the office but it is advisable for out-of-town parties to purchase by mail. This can be done easily by writing a letter, stating which performance one wishes to attend and enclosing a check draft or money order payable to the Davidson Theatre, Inc., 1212 Dearborn street, Milwaukee, Wis., with a self-addressed stamped envelope to insure safe return of tickets. The price will be: Nights, entire lower floor, $2.50; balcony, first 4 rows, $2.00, next 2 rows, $1.50; balcony, $1.00. Wednesday and Saturday matinees: Lower floor, $2.00; balcony, first 4 rows, $1.50; next 2 rows, $1.00.

Performance will begin at 8:30 and 8:15 p. m.

RE-INVESTMENT FOR W. S. S.

It is widely rumored that many unsuccessful efforts are being made to induce holders of 1918 War Savings Stamps to part with them for unstable investments or for considerably less cash than these stamps are actually worth. Vigorous effort is accordingly necessary to conserve the public interest.

Owners of 1918 War Savings Stamps which mature on January 1st, 1923, should not accept less for them than their face value of $5 per stamp.

Commencing at once holders can exchange their War Savings Stamps for the 1922 issue of 5% Treasury Savings Certificates, also extending for five years longer the investment of their money in another profitable Government security, which likewise cannot possibly deprive in value; or, if preferred, the said 1918 War Savings Stamps can be redeemed for the full face value, payable in cash on Jan. 1, 1923.

These exchanges and redeptions can be readily effected now at any money order post office or by application to the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, either direct or through local banking institutions. The Secretary of the Treasury has written full particulars to all the banks and the Postmaster General has issued detailed instructions to the post offices covering the conditions and necessary procedure.

For this reason the coin statistics of the internal revenue bureau, recording the bare facts of the estates which are transmitted in the United States, are of absorbing interest. No personal details are to be found, because, under the law, no such facts may be divulged.

The figures do not reveal how the fortunes were bequeathed. They tell no stories of newsworthy help and aid across crowded streets and into work up millionaires because the old ladies on their deathbeds remembered the kind deeds.

Billions Go to Heirs. What the figures do show is that in the period from September, 1916, to January, 1922, the latest for which statistics have been compiled, 42,230 estates passed to fortunate heirs. The total sum bequeathed staggers the imagination. It amounted to $8,795,641,889. The average individual would consider himself lucky if his morning mail informed him that some old uncle's will had left him $1,000. But within this brief period enough money was inherited to make $785 millions.

The sum, if averaged among the recipients, would give each a fortune of about $200,000, which is enough for a man to live upon all his days. Forty-two thousand persons, enough to populate a good-sized city, all were made rich through inheritance in this period.

The beneficiary does not get the whole amount of the bequest, for the stern-visaged treasury tax-gatherer steps in and takes a share which, in some cases, is as much as one-fifth. The total tax paid on these bequests of nearly $9,000,000,000 was $351,138,323. The smaller estates bring the average down so that for the whole bulk the rate was only 6.49 per cent on an average, or an average tax of only $9,807.35 per estate. The big estates are those which pay the greatest taxes. For instance, the average tax paid on the estates in the group of $10,000,000 and over, was more than $4,000,000.

It is a curious fact that the beneficiaries of wills greatly dislike to give up to the tax collector any part of the sum inherited, in spite of the fact that it is practically a gift for which no labor has been performed.

The inheritance tax is levied on net estates, that is, what remains after the deductions permissible under the tax laws are made. The estates listed in the period under review were brought down to a net figure of $85,407,673,531 and the tax levied upon that sum.

Many Deductions Allowed. Deductions are of various characters. In the first place there is a specific deduction of $50,000 for all estates and no one who leaves less than that sum has his bequests curtailed by the tax.

the taxable total during the 1916-1922 period. The law provides that property recently inherited by the decedent and which, therefore, has recently paid an inheritance tax may be exempted. The amount coming within this category was $67,582,302.

During this 1916-1922 period there were some estates which must have been equal to the treasure of the Count of Monte Cristo. Twenty-three inheritances were in a class described as "$10,000,000 and over." How great are the sums the short word "over" covers is not revealed, but some of these estates must have been vast for a tax of $92,106,148 was paid on them, an average of more than $4,000,000 each. The gross total of the 23 estates was $366,657,935—more than half a billion.

The millionaire class is sufficiently numerous to furnish plots for no end of romantic stories of wills and heirs. In the class listed as bequeathing $750,000 to $1,000,000 were 382 decedents, leaving property worth $395,427,516.—Frederic J. Haskins in the Chicago Daily News.

Lee Highway Is Making Progress

“Main Street of the South” Gets Financial Aid From States and Counties.

Will Afford Coast to Coast Highway Transportation to at Least 15,000,000 People—Every Mile May Now Be Used.

Washington, D. C.—Recent action by a majority in Oklahoma in voting a bond issue of several hundred thousand dollars to construct a link in the Lee highway is concrete evidence of the enterprise which is to give the country another transcontinental road. It is a demonstration of the kind of cooperation on the part of states and counties that inspires success to the project fostered by the organization known as the Lee Highway association.

This great artery of travel by motor has been termed the Southern Main Street of the United States. Its promoters assert that it will be the finest scenic route from coast to coast as well as the shortest. From Washington to San Diego, Cal., it will measure 3,000 miles, which is 300 miles less than any other route. Eventually, it is said, the Lee highway will be extended from Washington to New York city and from San Diego to San Francisco, giving it a total length of 3,700 miles.

It is estimated that the road will afford highway transportation to at least 15,000,000 people, approximately one-seventh of our continental population. This will contribute materially to the development of a zone at least 100 miles wide throughout its entire length. This is regarded as of far more importance than the facility it will offer to the cameras and other tourists to travel from the Atlantic to the Pacific through much of the most beautiful scenery in the country as well as over a comparatively easy roadway.

SHE KEEPS ON WORKING

Although she has just been made heiress to $25,000 on condition that she marry, Miss Ruth Spanier of Corona, L. I., does not intend to give up the selling of bread, rolls and pies in her mother's store just to get the money. A few days ago she received information that she had been named as one of the beneficiaries in the will of her uncle, Miss Spanier, who is twenty-one years old, lives with her mother in Corona, where they have conducted a bakery since the death of Mr. Spanier last spring.

He Whistles Souls Away From Satan

Refast—Whistling in church instead of singing, as a stimulant of the religious spirit, has been introduced at revival meetings here by Rev. W. Nicholson.

He insists on the men in his congregation whistling the well-known hymns, and leads them through all the verses until he is satisfied that they are putting their heart into it.

The effect of several hundred men all whistling at once is rather ear-piercing, but it works them up to a fervor which the revivalist turns to good account. He claims to number his converts by the thousands.

Every Mile May Now Be Used. Every mile of the road is now a completed highway, they announce, and can be traveled any day in the year—in fact, it is all in daily use. It is estimated that approximately 80 per cent of it is graded and that all the necessary bridges and culverts have been constructed. Some of this roadway is of the type known as water-bound macadam, but this will be replaced ultimately by scientifically built pavement.

From almost every county seat along the line there is a stretch of this modern pavement extending in either direction and in some instances this permanent roadway is continuous for 200 miles. There are, of course, breaks in its continuity, but the association is now negotiating a construction program under which the road authorities of the various states and counties will cooperate to close all the gaps. It is hoped that this can be accomplished within the next two years, assuming that conditions continue favorable.

The Lee highway runs southwest from Washington, traversing the valley of Virginia, thence west to cross the Mississippi river at Memphis. From Memphis it runs to Little Rock, Ark., and follows the magnificent Red River valley of southern Oklahoma, then on through western Texas, southern New Mexico, Arizona and California to San Diego.

The route from the Mississippi on is practically one of the five transcontinental lines surveyed by order of congress during the period immediately preceding the Civil war when it was realized that the territory gained as a result of the Mexican war and by the acquisition of California could only be consolidated through lines of transportation linking the Pacific coast to the Mississippi valley and thence with the Atlantic seaboard.

The Lee highway follows beautiful rivers and streams for more miles than any other road in the world. It is a channeled, and offers a combination of mountain and valley scenery of unusual beauty and variety.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

DOROTHY'S KITTEN

"I didn't really think I'd have a pet," said Dorothy to her mother and daddy. She had just found the small black kitten which Santa Claus had left to her.

"I did want a pet more than anything, as I told Santa Claus, but I was so late in telling him I was afraid he'd surely have his present all, all ready." "Oh, how good Santa Claus is, and what a darling kitten. At last I have a pet!"

And Dorothy ran around the room, singing and dancing and shouting: "Now I have a pet; oh, goodie, oh, goodie!"

But then she went over to her kitten and held it closely. "What friends will be," she said. Then she noticed some paper dangling from the kitten's ribbon bow.

"For, around the kitten's neck, was a big red bow, and attached to the bow was a note. This was what the note said: "I'm a kitten, Dorothy, as you can see. My name is Merry Christmas. Santa Claus received your note and just a little while after that he saw me. I was without a home and I was being left to starve. He gave me some fine warm milk and kept me nice and warm, and then he put me on the sofa. But I saw a ball of wool behind the sofa, so he said I could stay behind it and play when I wanted to. But he told me to wish you a Merry Christmas. He said I could do it in my usual meowing style. He hopes you'll like me and he says to give me milk for my breakfast and plenty of good things, so I'll grow to be strong. If it hadn't been for you, Santa Claus said he might never have found me, for after he got your note he was looking for kittens everywhere. Merry Christmas from Santa and the Kitten."

"Oh, little Merry Christmas," Dorothy said as she kissed the kitten's soft fur after her father had finished reading the note aloud, "you won't be homeless any more, and I won't be longing for a pet any more, for I have you, my little Merry Christmas!"

Brother and Sister Reunited

After 27 years of separation, since each was taken from an orphan asylum and adopted by a different family, Mrs. Wm. Schlessinger and her brother, Frank Able, were reunited the other day. The brother, a Detroit electrical engineer, did not know of the existence of his sister, who lived in Chicago, and the union was only made possible when the State Bank of Chicago started search for Able, who had been made heir to his foster-father's estate. The brother and sister are now searching for their father who was divorced from their mother prior to their being placed in the orphan asylum.

His Mother Was Just as Excited as He.

Christmas morning dawned brightly in the little French home. Jacques' surprise was complete, for Marthe went into raptures over the tree and her presents.

With his mother's help the door was opened. To their surprise they found that a huge pile of packages had been the cause of their trouble.

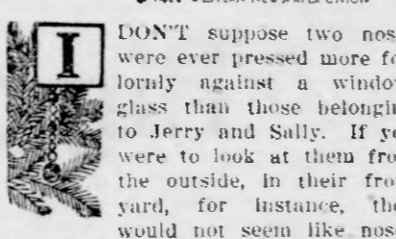

Jacques gave a cry of delight as he pounced upon the bundles. His mother was just as excited as he, as she helped carry in the stuff.

Then followed one of the happiest hours the family had ever known—while two-dozen oranges and all sorts of wondrous food, Jacques' mother fairly went with joy.

The Snow Fairy

I DON'T suppose two noses were ever pressed more forcibly against a window-glass than those belonging to Jerry and Sally.

"I Call it a Shame!" Jerry and Sally looked at each other. "I don't care about the old party," declared Jerry scornfully.

Jerry granted. He didn't care much for this make-believe stuff—too silly. "Let's sit down in front of the open fire," suggested Sally.

"Dear me!" said Sally, rubbing her eyes. "Dear me!" said Jerry, rubbing his mother came in soon after that.

MAKES ANNUAL REPORT

County Agent Milton Button of West Bend has the following annual report to make submitted to the County Board:

Educational Work—1, boys' and girls' club work; 2, cow testing association work; 3, Eradication of tuberculosis; 4, Campaign for better potatoes; 5, The "Milk campaign."

Work Bringing Immediate Financial Returns—1, Drainage work; 2, Establishment of cattle market; 3, Advertising campaign.

Club Work—1, Calf club. Fourteen boys are now members of the Calf club. Each boy is the proud possessor of a pure bred Holstein-Friesian heifer, and will always be a pure bred breeder; 2, Pig club. Forty-eight boys and girls are now members of the Pig club. Thirty-four of the 48 pig club members exhibited their pigs at the county fair. Each pig club member owns a pure bred gilt. 3, Corn club. Seventy-five boys and girls from eleven towns of the county raised an acre of cold-resistant Golden Glow corn in the boys' and girls' acre corn contest. Fifty-eight of the 75 club members exhibited a ten-year sample of their corn at the county fair, 4, In the corn and live stock judging contest held at the fair there were 35 entries in the corn judging contest and 26 in the live stock contest.

Cow testing association—There are at the present time 27 cow testing associations in the county, namely: Alton-Kohlsville association, Farmington, Richfield, Rockfield and West Bend. The Alton-Kohlsville association finished last year's testing with an average production per cow of 358 pounds butter fat.

This was the highest average of any association in the state, being 29 pounds higher than the next high association.

Eradication of tuberculosis—By far the most work ever done in eradication of T. B. in Washington county was accomplished this past year. The members of the Alton-Kohlsville association had already had their herds tested when Mr. Button gave his report last year. Since then, the members of the Farmington, West Bend, Rockfield and Richfield associations have had their herds tested. In addition to these groups of dairymen who are fighting T. B. numerous individuals have had their herds tested. There are now 173 herds under federal supervision.

Three years ago there were about 20 herds under supervision. One remarkable feature of T. B. work in Washington county is that in all the testing done only about 1 1/4% of reactors were found. This is about the per cent generally found in northern Wisconsin, and is much lower than that generally found in southern Wisconsin.

Washington county's five cow testing associations are now free from tuberculosis.

Live stock sales—During the past year out of state buyers have purchased 19 carloads of cattle, the total number bought being 408 head. These 408 head brought a total of $30,390, or an average of $99 each for grade cows.

HARDING'S ANNUAL MESSAGE CITES MANY PROBLEMS

President in Message to Congress Takes Dry Stand.

SAYS LAW MUST BE ENFORCED

To Call Conference of Governors in Effort to Plan Means of Enforcement—Agricultural Relief Given Foremost Place—Would Abolish Railroad Labor Board.

Washington, Dec. 8.—President Harding appeared before congress with his annual message to the state of the Union. The following is a partial text of what he said: "There never again will be precisely the old order; indeed, I know of no one who thinks it to be desirable. For out of the old order came the war itself, and the new order, established and made secure, never will permit its recurrence. It is to figure of speech to say we have come to the test of our civilization. The world has been passing—its today passing through a great crisis. The making of war itself is not more difficult than the solution of the problems which necessarily follow. Considers Home Problems. "I am not speaking at this moment of the problem in its wider aspects of world rehabilitation or of international relationships. The reference is to our own social, financial and economic problems at home. These things are not to be considered solely as problems apart from all international relations, but every nation must be able to carry on its life, else its international relationship will have scant importance. "Doubtless our own people have emerged from the World War tumult less inspired than most intelligent powers; probably we have made larger progress toward reconstruction. "Had we escaped the coal and railway strikes, which had no excuse for their heaving, and less justification for their delayed settlement, we should have done industry better. But labor was insistent on holding to the war heights, and heedless forces of reaction sought the pre-war levels, and both were wrong. "The railway strike accentuated the difficulty of the American farmer. The first distress of readjustment came to the farmer, and it will not be a readjustment fit to abide until he is relieved. The distress brought to the farmer does not affect him alone. Agricultural fortune is a national ill fortune. "Saved From Disaster. "This congress already has taken provisions for the immediate relief of the agricultural situation. Your measures of relief and the reduction of the federal reserve discount rate undoubtedly saved the country from widespread disaster. The very proof of helpfulness already given is the strongest argument for the permanent establishment of widened credits, heretofore temporarily extended through the war finance corporation. "The farm loan bureau, which already has proved its usefulness through the federal farm banks, may well have its powers enlarged to provide ample farm production credits as well as enlarged land credits. "In the last half of the year now closing the railroads, laden in carrying capacity because of motive power and rolling stock out of order, though insidiously declaring to the contrary, embroiled the farmer's shipments, or denied him cars when fortunate markets were existing. Too frequently transportation failed while perishable products were turning from possible profits to losses counted in tens of millions. "Rail Problem Vitalic. "I know of no problem exceeding in importance this one of transportation. We have built 40 per cent of the world's railroad mileage, and yet find it inadequate to our present requirements. When we contemplate the inadequacy of today, it is easy to believe that the next few decades will witness the paralysis of our transportation-using social scheme or a complete reorganization on some new basis. "Manifestly, we have need to begin plans to coordinate all transportation facilities. We should more effectively connect up our rail lines with our carriers by sea. We ought to reap some benefit from the hundreds of millions expended on inland waterways, providing our capacity to utilize as well as expend. We ought to turn the automobile into a railway feeder and distributor instead of a destroying competitor. "This transportation problem cannot be waved aside. The demand for lowered costs on farm products and basic materials cannot be ignored. Rates horizontally increased to meet increased wage outlays during the war inflation are not easily reduced. When some very moderate wage reductions were effected last summer there was a 3.5 per cent horizontal reduction in rates. I sought at that time to have the railways to go before the interstate commerce commission and agree to a heavier reduction on farm products

GOVERNOR WINS SEDUCTION SUIT

Jury Decides Mississippi Executive Not Guilty of Girl's Charges.

HIS TYPIST ASKED $100,000

Verdict, Climax of One of the Most Sensational Lawuits Ever Filed, Was Returned in Twenty-Eight Minutes.

Oxford, Miss., Dec. 12.—Lee M. Russell, governor of Mississippi, was acquitted by a jury in United States District court here of charges of seduction and other serious allegations by a verdict finding for the defendant in a suit for $100,000 damages instituted by Miss Frances Cleveland Birkhead, stenographer. "The verdict, the climax of one of the most sensational lawsuits ever filed in a Mississippi court, was returned just twenty-eight minutes after the arguments were concluded. Instructions given and the case submitted. Miss Birkhead had asked for $100,000 damages. Fifty thousand dollars was asked on each of the two counts, one charging seduction and the other impairment of health as a result of an alleged operation. The verdict was returned by a jury composed of men ranging in age from forty-six to seventy-six years of age. All are married. It was said but one ballot was taken. In instructing the jury Judge Holmes said: "It is safe to say your judgment will be final, for this case has been remarkably free from exceptions. Be fair. Be absolutely impartial." Throughout six hours of legal thunder the girl had sat gazing steadfastly at the man she accused of betraying her. Her face was chalky white and set like a mask. Mrs. Russell, who had been the inseparable companion of her husband throughout the ordeal, sat at his side, frequently glancing approvingly at him, and occasionally peeping timorously over his shoulders at "that woman."

Johnson was released from the state penitentiary at Waupun after it had been definitely proven that he had not slain the child. His application was denied on the grounds that his own plea of guilty, said to have been given through fear, contributed to his incarceration.

Madison—Student fees during the last year raised $1,202,565 of Wisconsin's $50,000,000 educational bill, according to Secretary E. A. Fitzpatrick of the state board of education. Besides the fees, $558,764 came as the income from the school funds; $37,561 as gifts; $310,920 as federal aid and $1,290,169 from miscellaneous sources. There are now 67,000 fewer horses than in 1915, the peak year in the state for horses. Cattle increased 32,000 during the year, according to the report. This increase was partly in young dairy cattle and partly in beef animals, bringing the total of all cattle to 2,812,821.

Madison—The state fair board has asked the Wisconsin state board of public affairs for $250,000 with which to finance the 1923 state fair. This is an increase of $20,000 over the 1922 fair.
