BAZAAR DRAWS LARGE ATTENDANCE

The long talked of bazaar, given by the ladies of the Ev. Peace congregation, held in the school hall of the village on Thursday afternoon and evening, proved to be a grand success. The sky was clear and bright, and the conditions spring-like, the bazaar was in good shape for traveling. A large number from a distance, and a quantity of goods put up for sale, were sold in the manner it was arranged. The ladies worked hard during the day, and the bazaar was a successful conclusion, and to please all who attended. As the day drew to a close, the ladies were complimented upon their success.

The contest is well worth while for any breeder in the county to enter.

Any litter sired by a pure bred sire is eligible for entry. The sow has not to be a pure bred.

- The birth of the litter must be reported to the County Agent within two weeks so that he may mark the litter.
- A prize of $25 will be awarded for the heaviest litter shown at the fair. Prizes of $15 and $10 will be awarded for 2nd and 3rd places respectively.

The general rules of the contest are the same as for the State Ton Litter contest, and will be sent to every interested by County Agent, Milton H. Button.

PRETTY SPRING NUPTIAL EVENTS

MURPHY-HYLAND WEDDING

The St. Kilian church, St. Kilian, was the scene of a very pretty spring wedding on Wednesday, April 11, 1923, at 9:30 a. m., when Miss Rose Anne Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Murphy of Wayne, became the bride of Ray G. Hyland, Rev. J. B. Reichel performed the ceremony. The couple were attended by Miss Alice Hyland of North Milwaukee, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, and Miss Mary Garvey of Hartford, an intimate friend of the bride, as bridesmaid. The groom was attended by Geo. Murphy, brother of the bride, as best man, and Lawrence Hyland, brother of the groom as usher.

The bride was dressed in a midnight blue suit, and tan colored picture hat. She wore a corsage bouquet of rose buds, and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a navy blue canton crepe dress, and carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley and swansonia flowers. The bridesmaid wore a black canton crepe dress and also carried a bouquet of roses, lilies of the valley and swansonia flowers. Both attendants wore picture hats of old rose color.

After the ceremony a six course wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, with 25 invited guests in attendance. The dinner was served by Mrs. William Clark, Mrs. Robert McCullough and Mrs. Jas. Emmer, assisted by the Misses Elizabeth Batzler, Mary Coulter, Marcella McCullough, Marietta Byrne and Anna McCullough. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hyland of Brookfield and for the past two years has been employed as clerk for the Chicago-Buttler North Western Railway Co. at New Butler. The bride is a popular young lady of the town of Wayne, where she is held in high esteem by a large circle of friends.

The young couple left the same day for a short wedding trip to various points in Illinois, after which they will be at home at Brookfield, Wis., June 1st.

HARTER-KRUEGER NUPTIALS

A very quiet wedding was performed at the parsonage of the Holy Trinity congregation, Thursday when two of the town of Auburn's popular and widely known young people were united in marriage, namely Miss Greussner Harter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harter and Elmer Krueger. Rev. Vogt performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by her sister Lucile, as maid of honor. While Jerome Harter, brother of the bride attended the groom. The bride was prettily dressed in a beige pointed tulle suit, with hat to match. She wore a corsage bouquet of Columbia roses. Her attendant wore a tan Russian crepe dress and a corsage bouquet of Ward roses. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride with only immediate relatives of the contracting parties in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Krueger left the same day for a wedding trip keeping their destination a secret. Upon their return they will go to housekeeping on a farm in the town of Auburn, where they will be at home after May 15.

The exact date and time of arrival will be given you later. The object of this letter is merely to let you know that we are coming 100 strong, representing the leading financial, mercantile and manufacturing establishments of Milwaukee.

Our business men will be as much interested in seeing your city and visiting your business establishments and places of interest as they will be to talk about our city, Milwaukee.

May I ask that you acknowledge this letter. If there are any suggestions you wish to make, our Special Committee in charge of the trip will be very glad to receive them and reply promptly.

FREE CHEST CLINIC HERE WEDNESDAY

Do you tire easily? You will make a wise move if you visit one of the three Free Chest Clinics, which are to be held in Washington County next week. The first clinic will be held at Kewaskum on April 18 at the city hall; the second one at Allenton on April 19, at Dinkel's hall; and the third will be held at Richfield on April 20. The place has not as yet been decided.

Miss Cecelia Geising, county nurse, has been busy visiting as many as possible of the families throughout the county, where there has been a case of tuberculosis and urging every member to be examined. It is of course, impossible for her to reach every one, but the clinic is for all who for any reason are concerned about their health. Persons who suffer with pleurisy, bronchitis, and other diseases of the lungs, underweight and anemic children, ex-service men, who were pronounced tubercular, should also take advantage of this opportunity for free examination.

Remember these clinics are entirely free. All the different societies and church organizations of the village are again asked to help make this clinic a success, as a great deal depends upon the co-operation of the people of the community in which the clinic is held.

APPOINT SPEED COP

The Washington Co. Highway Commission, at the regular monthly meeting held at the court house at West Bend last Thursday, took steps whereby to curb all speeding on the public highways in Washington county by appointing a speed cop. The man appointed for the position is Arthur Juech of West Bend. Mr. Juech commences his duties on Sunday, April 16. The commission will also furnish the cop with a high powered motorcycle, which will be fast enough to keep up with any make of car, an order has been placed with the Harley Davidson company of Milwaukee. The step taken by the commission is unquestionably a good move, and will play an important part in the protection of life and serious injury to motorists and other pedestrians who often times fall victim of careless drivers.

LOCALS LOSE TRI-COUNTY DEBATE

In the Tri-County Interscholastic debate held in the assembly room of the local high school on Thursday evening, between Kewaskum high school and Campbellsport high school, the local team lost 2 to 1. Campbellsport scored 169 points and Kewaskum 147. The question debated upon was: "Whether the debt to the United States, created out of the World War should be cancelled." The Kewaskum team which was composed of Bernice Feschbacher and Marcella Haug, had the affirmative side of the question. The Campbellsport team was composed of the Shago Schaefer and Paper, G. Neidolf, science teacher of the West Bend high school was judge. The debate was very interesting. The local negative team composed of Miss Laura Wlleslask and William Klein went to slinger the same evening where they met the affirmative team of that place. The local team was unsuccessful in winning the debate. Up to the time of going to press we were unable to learn of the standings of the team.

The meeting was attended by a large and enthusiastic crowd, all of whom were very much interested and anxious in the organization of a ball team. Arthur Birkholz was appointed chairman of the meeting. Officers elected were as follows: Secretary, Albert Koth; Treasurer, Oscar Koth; Manager, Wm. Enright; Captain, Robert Geidel, and Mascott, Harry Koth. CHILDRENS' WELFARE SPECIAL COMING

Washington County is on the 1923 itinerary of the Child Welfare Special which will make stops in the county for child health conferences in scheduled places from April 23rd to April 27th. This is the season of the year activities of this motorized child health center which the state board of health sends to rural sections in the interest of a sturdier generation of citizens. It is obtained for this county through the efforts of local welfare organizations, who have volunteered active cooperation, and of the county nurse, whose means of doing follow-up work are absolutely essential to the plan's success.

The Special will again be in charge of Dr. Blanchie Homer-Rivers, of the staff of the state board of health, and of a trained nurse. The county nurse also will be with the Special at all stops in the county. The nurse will conduct the interview with mothers, do the weighing and measuring of babies, and otherwise assist. Motion pictures on public health themes will be shown evenings at scheduled places.

The big white car is especially made and equipped for child health conferences. It is warmed by a hot-water heating system, lighted by electricity, and supplied with plumbing and running water. Complete privacy in dressing rooms is assured.

Examinations are limited to children of pre-school age. Children showing signs of illness, or even a severe cold, will not be received. In addition to the written report of the child's condition, each mother will be given, practical, helpful literature.

Local physicians are invited to visit the special while it is working in their community.

Mothers throughout the county may arrange with the county nurse for appointments for their children. All services of the Special are without charge and children of pre-school age, rich or poor, are invited to share in the benefits of this modern system of extending health instruction to fields where the need is greatest.

The Special is one of the activities of the Bureau of Child Welfare of the state board of health, Mrs. Mary P. Morgan, Director.

The places to be visited are as follows: Monday, April 23rd, Hartford, Chairman, Mrs. Martha Porta; Tuesday, April 24th, Jackson, Chairman, Mrs. Louis Bitt; Wednesday, April 25th, West Bend, Chairman, Mrs. Edwin C. Pick; Thursday A. M., April 26th, Barton, Chairman, Mrs. Al. Berres; Friday, April 27th, Kewaskum, Chairman, Mrs. E. L. Morgan.

The health conditions and mortality rates for pre-school children and infants have been the subject of recent surveys. They show that while the death rate in the cities has been decreasing and the general health conditions improving, conditions in the rural districts have remained unchanged. In the cities the favorable trend is ascribed to the modern system of health supervision. Mothers have access to health centers and profit by the work of various nursing organizations. It is held that families in the rural sections are as much entitled to skilled advice and help from physicians, nurses and health centers as city people. To bring these facilities to these families is the object of the Child Welfare Special.

In 1922 this vehicle visited thirteen counties, making 103 stops, only three of which were in towns of more than 1,000 population. Nearly 4,500 physical examinations of infants and pre-school children were made and their defects pointed out to parents. It is expected the parents will seek the help of the family physician or institute whatever other corrective measures may be called for. Comparatively few children examined were found with defects. Malnutrition was a large factor. Much of the work done with the Special is of an educational character, that can hardly be listed, but it gives an index to the health conditions in rural Wisconsin.

The Special will go from Washington County to Fond du Lac County and then to Manitowish County.

A LOADED BILL

Hunters are being warned to look out for bill No. 302A, now up at Madison, which is loaded, or we miss our guess. The bill is apparently designed to have the money paid for hunting licenses to the county instead of simple 10 per cent of it as now established. The hunting fee is fixed as usual, but a close reading of the bill shows that the license is good only in the county where issued, so a hunter must confine his hunting to his own county or else take out a license in every county in which he desires to hunt. The tag is provided for at one dollar for the county resident and five dollars for the hunter who is not a resident of that county.—Ex.

PROMINENT WAYNE RESIDENT DIES

After an illness of long duration, the angel of death called to her final reward, one of the town of Wayne's prominent and widely known pioneer citizens, Mrs. John Brandt, nee (Carolina Guenther), who passed away into eternal sleep at 9:30 o'clock at her home on Thursday morning, April 12, 1923. Though her suffering was great she bore her ailments with patience to the end. Miss Guenther was born on February 11, 1861, in the town of Wayne, attaining the age of 62 years, 2 months and 1 day. On December 26th, 1881 she was married to John Brandt, who together with the following children survive: Myrtle and Herbert at home; Lydia (Mrs. Arthur Steffan) of the town of Herman; Ella (Mrs. James T. Hart) of Fond du Lac; Otto of Milwaukee; Erwin of Campbellsport; Benjamin of Rolling Prairie, Wis.; Edward of Beaver Dam; John of West Bend; Oscar of Plymouth; Charles and Byron of Kewaskum, and Noah and Theresa at home. Besides she leaves to mourn, 17 grand children, two sisters: Mrs. Julius Gansauge of Williams, Minn., and Mrs. F. Menger of the town of Wayne; two brothers, Philip Guenther of Campbellsport and John Guenther of Wayne. Mrs. Brandt was a good and true wife, and a devoted mother. A kind neighbor and friend. She was held in high esteem by all who had the good fortune of making her acquaintance. The funeral will be held tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon at one o'clock from the family residence, with services in the Ev. Peace church, Kewaskum. Rev. Barth will perform the last sad rites. Burial will be made in the congregation's cemetery.

May she rest in peace.

SOCIETY BEAUTY MAKES GOOD IN "THE WONDERFUL THING"

That Mrs. Lydig Hoyt was an accomplished actress long before she decided to forsake the place in New York and Newport society which her birth assured her, is apparent in the way she plays the leading feminine role in support of Norma Talma in "The Wonderful Thing", the Association of First National Pictures attraction will be shown at the Kewaskum Opera House, tomorrow (Sunday) evening. The role she has is a difficult one, and no one would suspect that it is the first motion picture production in which the player ever appeared, except for the fact that her intention to enter the films has been so widely heralded by the society newspapers.

Mrs. Hoyt, because of her talent, has always been in great demand for the amateur theatricals which are an intrinsic part of the society life in the east. She loves acting, but it was a long time before she could overcome the objections of her husband and take it up as a career. Her appearance in "The Wonderful Thing" is said to be one of a very few in which she will play a subordinate part before organizing her own company for the production of pictures in which she will play the leading roles.

In "The Wonderful Thing" Mrs. Hoyt portrays a character which she has undoubtedly met many times in real life. As Catherine Mannerby Truesdale, she plays the part of a sister in an aristocratic English family who refuses to accept her brother's wife, whose fortune has saved the family from disgrace, as a person fit to bear the name of Mannerby.

The Cottage Gardener

COLOR SCHEME IS VERY IMPORTANT

Harmony in the Way of Shrubbery and Flowers Should Be Considered.

Harmony is the first law of nature, not only in the color of a house, but in the way shrubbery and flowers are placed about it. More attention should be given, says the United States Department of Agriculture, to improving the home surroundings, including the care of a good lawn and the growing of roses and other flowers that will add beauty to the premises. It has been suggested that it would be appropriate if paint were sold with flower and vegetable seeds, because the aesthetic relation between a properly painted house and outbuildings, a flower garden and a vegetable garden are so close as to warrant their being considered together.

Roses to Screen Porch.

to time bloom about and spill even the most charming home pictures. Home will always be more attractive and pleasant if it is surrounded by the beautiful growing things of nature as well as the necessities. One also owes it to one's pride as a citizen in a community, and to the right of other people to see beauty around them, not to permit the home surroundings to be ugly and unattractive.

HAVE LONG ROWS IN YOUR GARDEN

Plan Will Not Only Save Labor but Will Prevent Injury to Tender Plants.

Arrange the garden in long rows and cultivate the crops with a horse whenever this is possible, suggests the United States Department of Agriculture. Simple buckhorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adlerika, expels poisons and gas from BOTH upper and lower bowel. Removes old matter you never thought was in your system which poisoned stomach and made you tired and nervous. Adlerika is EXCELLENT to guard against appendicitis.—Edw. C. RYE FRIEND OF HOME GARDENER Decreased Number of Work Animals Makes It Difficult to Maintain Soil Fertility.

Years ago, when manure was plentiful around cities and on farms, the question of keeping up the fertility of the back yard or farm garden was very simple, but with the decreased number of work animals now being kept, especially in cities, it is no longer possible to get manure in sufficient quantity to maintain the fertility of our gardens. The farmer has been compelled to plant soil-building crops in order to keep up his fertility and the back-yard gardener must necessarily resort to some similar method. cupping the major portion of the garden, with a narrow strip along one side laid off in small beds or narrow rows in which all the smaller crops can be grown. One farmer near Washington, D. C., who is noted for having a good garden follows the practice of cultivating with a horse every Saturday afternoon, provided the soil is not too wet from a recent rain. It takes only about one hour to go over the garden with a cultivator and then with a little hand hoeing he is able to keep his garden in perfect condition. While it may not always be convenient to cultivate the garden at a specified time as does this farmer, yet there are often short periods in farm work during which the garden can be cultivated.

PLUCKING SPINACH LEAVES

In gathering spinach from the home garden during the early part of the season and before the plants have attained full size, the outer leaves are simply picked off, leaving the heart of the plant to develop more leaves. Later and toward the end of the season the entire plant is removed by cutting off just above the surface of the ground. In cutting spinach for the market the plan of cutting the entire plant is the one followed. A longer producing period, however, can be had from the home garden spinach bed by first cutting the leaves and later the entire plant. One-fourth pound of seed will be sufficient to plant a bed five to seven feet in width and 30 feet in length which provides an abundance for the average family.

SAVE GRASS CLIPPINGS

When you cut the grass on your lawn it is wise to pile it up or save it some kind of a waste box, unless fed to the chickens. Grass clippings and other decayed vegetable matter make good fertilizer for the lawn.

HOW THE SOIL PRODUCES

Plants are the transformers of nature's food supply. It would be impossible for human beings to subsist on the raw food materials of the soil, but such plants as beans, peas, roots, beets, etc., convert this food into a surprisingly short space of time, and supply to human beings fresh, tasty, and every plant has a story.

GOOD QUALITY SIRE OF BIG IMPORTANCE

Influence of Male Is Greater Than That of Female.

Figures Collected by Department of Agriculture Show Economy of Beginning Improvement With Use of Purebred Sires.

Although the sire and the dam contribute equally to the heredity of an animal, the influence of the sire in a herd or flock is much greater than any one of the females because in practically all cases a sire is the parent of a much larger number of offspring than the dam.

Figures kept by the United States Department of Agriculture, representing the proportion of males to females on more than 8,500 farms in 46 states, show that the male has from 13 to 30 times more influence than the female, among all classes of animals, in determining the character of the offspring.

These ratios are based on more than a million head of breeding stock listed with the department in the "Better Sires—Better Stock" campaign. The figures show that on the average farm where purebred sires only are kept, there is one bull to 15 cows; one stallion to nearly 20 mares; one boar to 13 sows; one ram to nearly 30 ewes; one buck to 25 does; and one rooster to 21 hens. These figures show at once the economy of beginning improvement in animal breeding with the use of purebred sires.

Clovers and Other Legumes Are Good, as They Gather Nitrogen From the Air—Lime Will Prevent Any Sourness.

WORK DURING WINTER

One home gardener who always has a good garden follows the practice of buying a small supply of seed rye along in August and keeping a pallful of this seed hanging inside the door of his garage, where his garden tools are kept. Beginning about the middle or 20th of August, this gardener follows the practice of sowing rye on every foot of his garden that becomes vacant. In fact, he goes further than this and sows rye between practically all of his fall crops. The rye makes a good start in the autumn and gets a firm hold on the soil before winter sets in. All during the winter, whenever the ground is not frozen, the roots of the rye are developing and working their way between the soil particles and are plucking up every choice morsel of plant food that nature sets free in the soil.

RYE TURNED UNDER

In the springtime, as soon as the soil is dry enough to be plowed or spaded, and before the rye has made any appreciable growth, the land is completely turned over and the roots of the rye have formed almost a perfect mat or sod in the top three inches of soil. In turning under the rye the important thing is to see that it goes under, because if any of the tops are left sticking out of the soil they will grow and have to be worked out with a hoe later. In ten days to two weeks after the rye is turned under the roots decay and, as there is not enough of the tops of the rye present to give any difficulty, the soil breaks down in a loose mellow loam and every particle of the plant food that the rye has picked up during the winter time becomes available for the summer garden crops.

SEED BED FOR SWEET CLOVER

Seems to Germinate Much Better and Make Quicker Growth on Well Packed Soil.

A deep, well worked seed bed such as other crops demand, is decidedly unfavorable to growing sweet clover, as it seems to germinate much better and make a better growth on well-packed soil, a simple covering of the seed bed with all that is necessary, and many a good stand has been secured by sowing on unbroken land or on that put to small grain the previous year.

REBUILD POOR FENCES

There is no economy in trying to make a poor fence do duty once it has outlived its usefulness, and every man who has had experience in repairing fences containing a lot of decayed posts and rusty wire knows this to be a fact.

ROTATE TO AVOID DISEASES

To avoid diseases that affect tomatoes it is well to rotate crops. There is always danger that there will be some infection in the soil, so it is best to not grow tomatoes on the same ground year after year.

SOIL FERTILITY

Soil fertility is probably the limiting factor in gardening. Well-rotted barnyard manure cannot be beat. It helps to make the lighter soils heavier and the heavier soils lighter.

ALPEN-GLOW

Figures Collected by Department of Agriculture Show Economy of Beginning Improvement With Use of Purebred Sires.

Although the sire and the dam contribute equally to the heredity of an animal, the influence of the sire in a herd or flock is much greater than any one of the females because in practically all cases a sire is the parent of a much larger number of offspring than the dam.

Figures kept by the United States Department of Agriculture, representing the proportion of males to females on more than 8,500 farms in 46 states, show that the male has from 13 to 30 times more influence than the female, among all classes of animals, in determining the character of the offspring.

These ratios are based on more than a million head of breeding stock listed with the department in the "Better Sires—Better Stock" campaign. The figures show that on the average farm where purebred sires only are kept, there is one bull to 15 cows; one stallion to nearly 20 mares; one boar to 13 sows; one ram to nearly 30 ewes; one buck to 25 does; and one rooster to 21 hens. These figures show at once the economy of beginning improvement in animal breeding with the use of purebred sires.

PURCHASING POWER GOES UP

Agriculture Continues on Mend Financially According to Index Figures Just Released.

Agriculture continues financially on the mend according to Department of Agriculture index figures just released. The index number of the purchasing power of farm products in terms of other commodities that farmers buy is placed at 68 for December, as compared with 66 for November. The average for the year is 69, compared with 67 in 1921, and with 86 in 1920. The improved condition for December is brought about by an increase of 5 points in the index number of the average farm prices of ten leading crops, and a decrease of 1 point in the prices of commodities, excluding farm and food products, that farmers buy.

MAKING HONEY FROM HUBAM

Iowa Specialist Says It Is of Excellent Quality and Has Fine Color and Body.

Hubam, the annual sweet clover developed at the Iowa experiment station, is the best of the sweet clovers for honey production, according to W. A. Jenkins, apiarist, of Shenandoah, Ia. He says that the honey made from Hubam is of excellent quality and has a fine color and body.

TIMOTHY AND SWEET CLOVER

When Grown Together Will Make More Per Acre and Is an Advantage in Curing Later.

Timothy and sweet clover grown together will make still more per acre and is an advantage in curing the sweet clover. To cure sweet clover hay well it should be stirred often and never allowed to sunburn. Sweet clover and alsike make a still richer feed when grown together, but this mixture is harder to cure.

USEFUL GARDEN TOOLS

Sharp, bright garden tools mean less work than dull, rusty neglected tools. A little grease and a good file are important items in the care of hoes, spades, wheel hoes, etc.

RICH FERTILIZER

Poultry manure is very rich in fertilizing elements, especially nitrogen in the form of compound ammonia, due to the fact that the urinary secretions are voided in the solid excrement.

INEXPENSIVE ADVERTISING

About the most inexpensive advertising a farmer can have is printed stationery, or letterheads. It also serves to give him a business standing.

BIRDS DESTROY REDS

Protect the little sparrow hawk and the noisy screech owl. A pair of these kill hundreds of mice every year. It is also best to scare all snakes but the rattlesnake and copperhead.

I was almost a skeleton and got to the point where, when I went to bed nights, I wondered if I would be able to get up in the morning. Rheumatism in my shoulders was so painful, and I was so thin and weak that I did little of anything except try to get well."

"I was in despair when I started taking Tanlac, but now my troubles are all gone and I am as healthy and happy as I could wish to be. Tanlac has earned my undying gratitude."

Frocks Smack of the Orient; Express the Mode Supreme

EVER since the widely heralded discovery of King Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb, fashion's pilgrims have been wending their way to Egypt for ideas, if not literally at least figuratively. As a result we are in the throes of an enthusiasm for modes Egyptian, and enthusiasts are carrying the fad to almost an extreme.

Printed silks especially reflect this vogue in characteristic designs made up of strange hieroglyphics, camels and human figures in weird Egyptian style.

An Out-of-the-Ordinary Gown.

costume. That the artistry of the modern designer is equal to the occasion, is evidenced in the very charming silk frock herewith pictured. This out-of-the-ordinary gown is typical of the new styles which are crowding in multi-colored splendor before us. Note the camel conspicuously printed as the piece de resistance of this Egyptian design.

However, there is no monopoly of take the form of delicate outline in floral patterns and scrolls, or they depict very large roses, fruits and foliage stenciled, as it were, in solid colors and all-over patterns.

What an elusive intangible quality is style, and yet what a price it commands. How we dote on the word and consider the goal of our ambition in matters of dress achieved if our critics pronounce our hat or gown or costume entire as having "lots of style."

There is a certain air of distinction, style if you please, about the three-piece suit with the three-quarter-length coat. These long coats of slender line are of direct appeal to a patrician clientele. The flapper age may choose its short flare jacket of youthful lines, but those of exclusive mode know the aristocratic grace of long slender lines. Three-piece suits of this type, that is with coats reaching below the knees, are fashion's latest contribution to the season's costume successes.

Not only do the "lines" of the suit count but elegance of fabric is also a factor in the formal suit frock, scheduled for future triumph. A silk which will appeal to most discriminating taste is the subject of the accompanying illustration. It is fashioned of a pure silk hemstitch striped ratiene, a material prominent among the handsomest covetly weaves. With the coat removed, one is clad in a charming one-piece straight-lined frock.

There is a perfect mania for topping out the one-piece dress, under the long coat with paisley and tapestry patterned silks. This gives the advantage of a conservative smart suit until the coat is removed, when presto!

The KITCHEN CABINET

On the sun-dial in the garden The great sun keeps the time; A faint, small, moving shadow, And we know the worlds are in rim; And if once that shadow should falter By the space a child's eyelash, The seas would devour the mountains, And the stars together would crash. —Richard Watson Gilder.

DISHES FROM STALE BREAD

Leftover bread is like the poor, always with us. The cut slices of bread need not be considered, as they may be used to make dry toast, milk toast, or French toast and are always an agreeable dish for any breakfast or luncheon.

Small bits of bread rolled or dried and put through the meat grinder may be used in countless ways. As stuffing for green peas, fowls of all kinds, roast pork, veal breast and spareribs, bread crumbs are indispensable.

Bread Fritters.—Cut stale bread into thin slices, spread with a biscuit cutter, spread with jam, dip in the following batter after putting the slices together as sandwiches:

Sift one cupful of bread flour with one tablespoonful of powdered sugar and one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, add two-thirds of a cupful of milk, gradually, and two well-beaten egg yolks. Add one tablespoonful of olive oil and the whites of the eggs beaten stiff. Dip and fry in deep fat.

Toasted bread for garnishing, for croutons, for soup and for canapés will be useful ways of using stale bread.

Bread Pudding.—Spread slices of stale bread, or broken bits may be dotted with butter, cover with stewed or fresh rhubarb well-sweetened, and bake until the bread is softened. Serve with cream and sugar. Any stewed or canned fruit may be used for this pudding.

Fried oysters rolled in crumbs seasoned with salt and pepper and fried in butter make a good supper dish. Cracker crumbs or a nice top of buttered crumbs adds to the appearance as well as the palatability.

Large onions may be cooked until partly tender and stuffed with seasoned meat, sausage and bread crumbs for filling. Bake, basting with butter and water until the onions are perfectly tender.

A room without flowers in summer is as devoid of character and charm as a man without a tie.

HOME-MADE CANDIES

The candy made at home is always much cheaper and usually more wholesome than that bought in the shops.

Butter Scotch.—Take two cupfuls of granulated sugar, two tablespoonfuls of water, a tablespoonful of butter and boil without stirring until it hardens in the spoon. Pour out on flat buttered plates and when cool mark in squares.

Candied Popcorn.—Boil one cupful of pulverized sugar, three tablespoonfuls of water, and one tablespoonful of butter until it is just ready to grain; add three quarts of nicely popped corn, stir until the kernels are coated.

Molasses Candy.—To one and one-half pounds of sugar add one cupful of molasses, one cupful of water, and one-fourth cupful of vinegar. Boil until a hard ball may be formed in cold water, add one-half teaspoonful of cream of tartar as soon as the boiling commences. When almost done add one-half cupful of soda and one-fourth teaspoonful of butter. Pour out to cool, then pull.

Sultana Caramels.—Melt one-fourth of a cupful of butter, add two cupfuls of sugar, one-half cupful of milk, one-fourth cupful of molasses, and heat to the boiling point and boil seven minutes. Add two squares of unsweetened chocolate and stir until melted, then boil seven minutes longer, add one cupful of chopped nuts and two tablespoonfuls of chopped raisins. Beat until creamy. Pour out and mark in squares.

Ice Cream Candy.—Mix three cupfuls of granulated sugar with one-half cupful of vinegar and one and one-half cupfuls of cold water and a tablespoonful of butter. Boil to a hard ball, then pull when cool.

Coconut Candy.—Take powdered sugar, using a cupful; add a tablespoonful of softened butter and cream it well into the sugar; add coffee, a few drops at a time, mixing well, until the sugar is creamy; stir in a cupful of coconut and drop by spoonfuls on a buttered paper.

Glaced Brazil Nuts.—Crack the nuts and peel off the brown skin. Take one cupful of sugar, one-quarter of a cupful of water and boil until the syrup becomes a light straw color or will be very crisp when dropped into cold water. Stir in the nuts, drip and lay them on a greased plate to harden.

Of Silver Cloth. A gown of silver cloth is draped to follow closely the lines of the body and has the skirt caught to the side with a huge butterfly bow, the ends of which make a one-sided train.

High Ambition. What's brave, what's noble, let's do it after the high Roman fashion, and make death proud to take us.—Shakespeare.

YEAR OF ADVANCE SPRING CLEANING

Canada Rightly Proud of Its Achievements in 1922.

Has Bravely Met and Overcome Depression Following the War—Financial Standing as Nation High.

The year 1922 in Canada, Western Canada particularly, has been a year of quiet achievement. If there has been nothing in its development of a spectacular nature, there has been a steady growth, a resolute elimination of things immaterial to prosperity.

The year 1923 is entered upon by the people of the West in high hope that it ushers in a period of prosperity based upon the productivity of the country and the vast riches of its natural resources.

Canada, in common with all other nations, has felt keenly the cycle of depression following the spurious activity and inflated business coming immediately after the cessation of the war. It has met and overcome many obstacles in the path of its prosperity.

The year just passed, however, has seen the silver lining peep out from the eddies of the dark cloud and has demonstrated to the world the celebrity which this country can adjust itself to changed conditions. This is evidenced by the fact that Canada has been the first among all countries whose currencies fell below par to bring that currency back to par, and even for a time above par.

It has met and overcome many difficulties, increased its exports, lessened its imports, and generally set its business house in order.

The high standing of Canada as a nation is shown by the ease with which her bonds are absorbed and by the high prices paid for them, and Winnipeg, it may be mentioned, in a recent flotation obtained a higher price than even any provincial government for some time.

Western Canada in 1922 harvested its largest grain crop. Its production of grain, live stock, cereal and dairy products will, when all is marketed, produce in the neighborhood of a billion dollars. There has been, and there still is felt, considerable disappointment that the total value is not larger, but the fact remains that this vast sum of money has come to the West, or is in the process of coming, and it, as is undoubtedly true, much of it is used in the liquidation of obligations incurred in the past. It is but a safer and surer, if longer, road to that prosperity to which all are looking.

In the process of reaching this prosperity it is inevitable that there must be some failures.

As a matter of fact, it is the opinion of many prominent business men that 1922 saw the corner definitely turned and that 1923 will commence the upward swing.—Advertisement.

My Evening Fairy Tale

THE PIG PEN

"Bayer's Aspirin" said Porky Pig, "how it does seem to have a friendly feeling in a pig pen. There is really something like home after all."

"That's just what I mean," said Miss Ham, "you speak like a pig pen. You speak like a pig pen. You speak like a pig pen."

"I don't know," said Porky Pig, "but I think it will make a difference to me. Of course your opinion may disappoint me, but I do believe it will do much else to me."

"I don't know whether it will be of value to me if you like it. I am not sure whether your opinion will really make so great a difference, but I may as well try it on you."

"Oh, Porky," said Miss Ham, "you do not realize that I am a good critic I am and this means that I am one who can help you and who can tell you what is good and what is not."

"Well, you have said, so you have said," said Porky, "Well, grunt, grunt, I will sing my song. I am eager to sing it and hear how it sounds myself."

"I notice you are very quite fond of your own pig pen. I've always noticed. But go on, go on, I will listen."

"Porky," he grunted to himself that he would be lucky if he could get through it all before Miss Ham spoke again. But at least all the other pigs were listening as though interested.

In his squealing voice, he sang this song:

"I may wander, we may roam, But there is no place like home, Your spots have said the same, And saying this have won much fame.

"I care not if I don't win glory And I care not if it's all an old story, For the fact remains, I speak what's true, And that is always right to do.

"In the home pig pen, the home pig pen I like to stay, I again and again, In my joy, the joy of my heart, He said is the choicest in any part.

"I like it here, oh, I like it here, It's my home pig pen which is oh, so dear, Let me grunt, let me grunt, let me grunt my joy, I'm a lucky pig, as some say, 'Oh Boy!'

"You're lucky indeed, squeal, squeal, My heart with happiness I can feel, My heart with pleasure and pounding with delight, For in the pig pen I'm happy by day or by night.

"Grunt, grunt, grunt, the home pig pen, I love it, let me say it again.

"Well," said Miss Ham, as Porky finished, "you won't be known forever and a day as a great poet, nor will people say that you are a coming poet, but it's a poem with good ideas, Porky, good ideas, squeal, squeal."

And all the other pigs agreed with her.

STEEL WORKERS' WAGES RAISED

Big Corporation Increases Day Laborers' Pay Eleven Per Cent.

AFFECTS OTHER EMPLOYEES

Three Independents Follow Lead Swelling Pay of Laborers Throughout the Country—Prosperity Revival is Presaged.

New York, April 10.—The U. S. Steel corporation instructed its subsidiary companies to effect an 11 per cent advance in the wages of their common labor April 16. This was quickly followed by similar action on the part of the Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation, one of the largest independent manufacturers of steel, the Republic Iron and Steel company, and the Bethlehem corporation, and announcements were forthcoming that the managements of the other independent steel mills are considering a like action.

The proportional readjustment of the pay of other classes of labor, also ordered by the steel corporation, means that virtually all its employees will share the increase. They are estimated to number between 235,000 and 250,000. On the basis of the 1922 wage bill, it is estimated that the resulting addition to the payroll may reach $40,000,000 yearly.

The announcement of the change has been expected for some time in financial and trade circles. It was following a special meeting of the finance commission of the corporation held Monday.

From the Cunarder "Mauretania," two days out from Cherbourg, Judge Albert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors, sent the following statement by radio:

"It has been recommended to the presidents of the subsidiary companies of the United States Steel corporation that the wage rates of day labor at their plants be increased about 11 per cent and that other wage rates in the manufacturing plants be equitably adjusted, to become effective April 16, 1923."

Following the established precedent, the independent steel manufacturing companies are expected to advance their wage scales in similar amount. The general advance in steel wages was foreshadowed by increases effected by a few small companies and by recent reports from the Pittsburgh, Monongahela, and Chicago districts setting forth the growing seriousness of the labor situation.

HERRIN MINERS FREE

Held Innocent of Massacre at Second Trial.

Six More Acquitted by Jury of Slaying After Seven Hours' Deliberation.

Marion, Ill., April 7.—For the second time this year a Williamson county jury walked into the courtroom and announced that the defendants in the Herrin massacre trial were not guilty of the murders charged against them.

Shortly before midnight Friday the jury, composed of seven farmers, one student, one union painter, one merchant, and two union miners, after six hours and 55 minutes of deliberation, sent for Circuit Judge D. T. Hartwell.

With their overcoats and wraps on, they filed slowly into the courtroom. The verdicts were handed to the judge by John Caughlin, a peach orchardist of Creal Springs and foreman of the jury.

Judge Hartwell read the first verdict: "We, the jury, find Hugh Willis not guilty."

Willis is a member of the Illinois miners' state executive committee and the most prominent of the defendants. It was alleged by the state that he was the brains behind the conspiracy that brought about the massacre.

Judge Hartwell then read the same verdicts for James Fontanetti, Oscar Howard, James Brown (colored miner), Otis Clark and Bert Grace.

WISCONSIN HAPPENINGS

Important News of the Badger State Arranged in Condensed Form

Madison—In the first three months of 1923, the state hotel inspectors made one hundred seventy-five sanitary inspections of hotels and three hundred seventy-seven restaurant inspections. Their reports for the quarter, made to the state board of health, show forty-four orders were issued against hotels to force sanitary or structural changes to bring about compliance with the state standard for hotels. This ratio, which is 25 per cent of the total inspections, is higher than usual. Orders upon restaurants to the number of thirty-one were 8.2 per cent of the total restaurant inspections. For the industrial commission, the inspectors supervise fire and accident prevention conditions in hotels and restaurants, and issued ten orders for required changes in the interest of safety.

Chippewa Falls—More than 1,000 tons of limestone will be distributed on farms in the western part of the state this spring to cure land of acidity. So enthusiastic have farmers become over this project that many limestone crushers have been ordered and will be put in use in the bluff county where there are outcroppings of limestone. There is great activity among farmers near Mondovi, Durand, Nelson, Alma, Cochrane, Misha, Moka and Urne. In Buffalo county there are many ranges of hills with limestone outcroppings that should prove especially valuable.

Madison—The state supreme court modified and affirmed the judgment of the Racine county circuit court in the slander suit brought against the Rev. John B. Piette, priest of St. Rose's parish church at Racine, by Dennis E. Fitzgerald, trustee and secretary of the church. Justice Eschweiler reduced the $2,200 damages awarded Fitzgerald by the circuit court to $1,000. Fitzgerald, in two causes of action, asked total damages of $25,000. He set out that the priest had called him a "liar, hypocrite, traitor and Judas", reflecting on the plaintiff's moral integrity and official fidelity.

Madison—The executive committee of the Northern Wisconsin Tobacco Pool has ordered a further partial distribution of funds on tobacco delivered by its growers. The amount ranged from 4 cents to 8 cents a pound on southern binder tobacco, according to grades, and 1 cent a pound on the cheaper grade of stemming stock. The committee estimates that the total amount to be distributed to the farmers by this order will be $500,000. This will bring the total payment, members say, to $2,000,000.

Janesville—Locking the doors to his home, Albert J. Miller of Janesville, 26 years old, shot and seriously wounded his wife, Minnie, and then put a bullet through his head. He died a few minutes later. Mrs. Miller, 36 years old, was shot twice, the bullet entering her right side. The shooting, police say, followed a quarrel, in which Miller accused his wife of being too friendly with other men. Enraged at her denial, he forced her into a bedroom and locked the door. The shooting followed.

Elkhorn—More than 30 per cent of the children found to have defective eye sight at the free eye clinic, held in Elkhorn by the state bureau for the care of the blind, have carried out the advice given by the examiners, according to Miss Bertha Becht, Walworth county nurse. Only 37 out of the 166 examined were found to have defects. Glasses were required for most of the 129 children requiring treatment. Near-sightedness was especially prevalent.

Sheboygan—Mrs. Ernestine Erbstoesser, 93, native of Germany and seventy-one years a resident of Sheboygan county, died at Sheboygan. She leaves thirty-one grand children, thirty-six great grandchildren. Mrs. Erbstoesser was noted as a woman who never drank plain water. She was a heavy coffee drinker and used beer and wine.

Madison—William Thielke, farmer, living near Madison, filed suit in circuit court against Miss Mabel Natvig, private switchboard operator in a Madison store, alleging breach of promise and asking $10,000.

Horicon—Louis R. Kohlmann, 48, Horicon, believed to have been the largest sheriff that ever held office in the state, died following a paralytic stroke. Mr. Kohlmann, who was sheriff of Dodge county in 1915 and 1916, weighed 385 pounds.

Mineral Point—The road between the cities of Mineral Point and Darlington, a distance of sixteen miles, will be covered the entire distance with a coat of mine tailings as soon as the weather permits.

Marinette—The Morning Star saloon, west of Peshtigo on the Oconto road, recently raided by Marinette officials, was closed for one year by an injunction issued by Judge W. B. Quinlan.

Madison—There has been an increase of $2,243,529.55 in all funds of the state over a year ago, according to an official statement issued by State Treasurer Solomon Levitan. In all funds there were $12,812,470.01, as compared with $10,568,940.46 one year ago. This is a remarkable showing of increase in the state treasury department. In the general fund of the state there were on April 1 of this year $8,554,982.23 as compared with $8,220,571.47 one year ago. Mr. Levitan announces that there is $1,378,949.93 in the working banks of the state, $11,432,555.36 in the special depositories. Mr. Levitan has followed the general policy of placing a good deal of the state's funds in the farmers' banks in the state to relieve the tax situation. The state treasury is one of the most prosperous conditions of its history.

Madison—Before the end of the month, highway construction on a $45,363,000 building and maintenance program for city and rural roads in Wisconsin will be under way in Wisconsin. The state highway department engineer, A. R. Hirst, state highway engineer, reports the present should be an important road building year. There is available for rural highway construction and maintenance, including state and county trunk highways, approximately $34,153,000. Mr. Hirst points out in a table summarizing the prospective expenditures for the year. Cities, in addition, will spend approximately $10,150,000, this table shows.

Madison—The Wisconsin State Mining school at Platteville desires to get into communication with young men of the state who for any reason were obliged to leave school prior to their completion of the high school course and who later on felt the need of additional education. The requirements for admission to the mining school are sufficiently elastic to admit students who have had no more than one year in high school and in cases of mature young men they have sometimes been admitted even though they had no more than grade school training.

Merrill—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Truax, formerly of Merrill, died within 24 hours at Fort Francis, Ont., and their bodies were brought to Merrill for burial. Mr. Truax was formerly a member of the police force in Merrill and Dec. 21, 1889, suffered a bullet wound over his heart, the bullet remaining in his flesh until his death. Death was due in each case to influenza-pneumonia.

Todd on the charge of cruel and inhuman treatment, presented his resignation as rector of Trinity Episcopal church at a special meeting of the vestry. By unanimous vote, Mr. Todd was induced to withdraw his resignation and consent to remain in charge for at least one more year.

Madison—The right of prohibition officers to search homes attached to places licensed to sell non-intoxicating beverages, without a warrant, was upheld by a decision of the Wisconsin supreme court. At the same time the court in another decision held that it was an invasion of constitutional rights for officers to search an automobile for liquor, without having a warrant.

Birchwood—The 1,000 patrons of the Barron Co-operative Creamery received approximately $80,000 for cream delivered to the creamery during February. The creamery received 480,234 pounds of cream and from this amount 135,884.2 pounds of butter fat were obtained. The price paid for butter fat was 58 cents.

With the Wisconsin Legislature

Madison, Wis.—Gov. Blaine has signed the Cashman bill providing for both houses of the legislature prohibiting the use in Wisconsin schools of history text-books which defame the nation's founders or contain propaganda favorable to any foreign government.

Senator Cashman declared that early action would be taken in a number of cities to rid their schools of history books which he asserts come within the prohibition of the statute. Upon complaint of five citizens the superintendent of public instruction is required to hold a public hearing, and upon facts developed to determine whether the history books violate the new law.

Three finance bills also were signed by the governor. One gives the state real estate brokers board $27,500 for each of the two years of the biennium starting next July, the same as the present appropriation. Another grants the trustees of the state library $11,330 a year for the same period, an increase of $350. The bill provides that $5,000 instead of $5,500 shall be spent annually for books. The third finance bill appropriates $6,250 a year for two years, to the Wisconsin Deep Waterways commission, for the execution of its work. The governor must approve these expenditures before the money is paid.

Miller Bill Hits "Stump Farmers" Wisconsin taxpayers, particularly farmers and owners of cut over stumps, stand to lose hundreds of thousands of dollars, if A. M. Miller's bill, passed by the assembly, is concurred in by the senate and signed by Gov. Blaine, according to reports from Washington, D. C.

Enactment of this bill, it is believed in Washington, would hamper, if not stop, the activities of the University of Wisconsin college of agriculture in its land clearing service, and halt the distribution by the federal government, through the Bureau of public roads, in co-operation with the agricultural college, of hundreds of thousands of pounds of picric acid, left over from the war.

At the close of the war the federal government had millions of pounds of surplus war explosives on hand, and congress passed an act that these should be distributed to the farmers and road builders of the country. Picric acid is being distributed to the farmers and road builders without cost except a charge of 7 cents a pound for drying, carting and distribution, plus freight.

In the cut over counties of Wisconsin there are 50,000 "stump farmers," making farms from what were once forests, and adding to the taxable areas of the state, by means of the government's picric acid, used in blowing out the stumps. The college of agriculture began to give land clearing assistance to farmers in 1916.

Law Makers May Adjourn in June If the Wisconsin legislature disposes of the measures before it at the same rate it did during the last six weeks, the session, which started on January 10, can be ended early in June, after a session five months long. A tabulation of the 1,000 measures introduced shows that the assembly disposed of 275 bills out of the 625 introduced and printed, or forty-four per cent; while the upper house has disposed of 152 bills out of 304 introduced or just fifty per cent.

The actual business of "finishing up" the bills, by indefinitely postponing them, passing them, or withdrawing them, has been under way six weeks. The legislature took the first two months in introduction of bills and getting committee assignments arranged.

Actual adjournment of the regular session before July, however, is made improbable by the impending tax, education, and booze fights, which will take up a large part of the session's time when they get on the floors of the two houses.

Assembly of K. K.'s Peaceful Picketing Peaceful picketing in industrial disputes was favored by the assembly with enactment of the Quick Bill, which would specifically declare it to be public policy to permit labor organizations to persuade persons not to work.

The measure, which has already passed the senate, was advanced in the lower house without opposition. An attempt to prohibit public employees from organizing for the purpose of conducting industrial warfare, strikes or any form of economic combination for limiting only their condition of employment as public servants by economic pressure, was blocked by unanimous vote of the lower house. The Perry bill to prohibit unions of public employees was killed without a dissenting vote.

The assembly endorsed the taxation committee bill prohibiting the dissolution of public utility companies except on order of the railroad commission to be issued only after a hearing, notice of which must be given to each municipality in which the utility operates.

The Sachtjen bill empowering district attorneys and other attorneys to serve as public administrators and increasing the maximum fee for such service was endorsed in the assembly.

The senate endorsed the Price bill requiring a jury trial in contempt of court cases if asked by the defendant. This measure has passed the assembly.

Fix $255,000 As Guard Appropriation

The finance committee of the legislature at a special meeting here fixed $255,000 as the annual appropriation for the Wisconsin National Guard.

Under the present law it is possible for the militia to spend $500,000 a year. An appropriation of $300,000 is provided for annually, while under a special statute another $200,000 is made available.

The committee reached its decision after a two hour session. Gov. Blaine appeared before the committee, and advised that an appropriation of between $245,000 and $255,000 be given to the state military force. Later the committee virtually concurred in the governor's advice.

May Abolish Cavalry.

With an appropriation of $255,000, assuming that the committee's recommendation will be approved, Wisconsin could maintain approximately 3,600 troops. At present the guard comprises between 5,000 and 6,000 men. The federal defense act requires the state to maintain at least 1,500 men. It is possible that the cavalry or some other unit of the militia may be abolished under the reduced appropriation.

The reduced appropriation, it is said, meets the objections of guard opponents who a few weeks ago led an unsuccessful fight for a measure to abolish the militia entirely. If the committee's action is concurred in, Wisconsin will spend thousands of dollars less each year for its military force.

Tucker Plan Marked for Death.

At the close of a protracted and heated hearing the senate state affairs committee voted to recommend the killing of the Tucker eight-hour bill. The five members present voted for indefinite postponement. Two members were absent. The bill has already passed the assembly.

Larger industries were represented at the hearing, but the sharp clashes were between farmers on one side and Socialist legislators and their allies on the other. That many employees want the bill killed was made evident. The point on which farmers and many employees balked is the provision that the clock be punched on the dot, and that overtime be treated as a crime.

The hearing brought delegations from many points. More than 100 crowded the senate parlor. In a number of instances, manufacturers and employees were ranged on the same side.

Third Auto Tax Bill Introduced.

The automobile taxation question was further complicated when Senator Polakowski introduced a third bill applying to all features of the automotive taxation problem that have been proposed, so far. The original bills by the committee on taxation would levy a tax of 2 cents a gallon on gasoline and would place a weight and power tax on the cars themselves to raise about $11,000,000. The Polakowski bill would also raise $11,000,000 but is intended mainly to overcome objections of cities to the form of distribution of the money netted by the tax.

Mode of raising the $11,000,000 in taxation differs somewhat from the original plan incorporated in the gasoline tax bill and the weight and power tax measure. Besides the weight and gasoline tax the Polakowski bill provides for a 2 per cent tax on the valuation of the machines. This is intended to graduate the tax on cars according to value, one of the objections that has been brought against the committee on taxation bill.

People taking out automobile licenses between July 1 and Aug. 30 would be given a 25 per cent rebate on their taxes; between Sept. 1 and Dec. 31, 50 per cent of the tax would be deducted.

A sweeping ban would be placed on the teaching of all foreign languages in Wisconsin schools if a bill introduced by title in the legislature by Assemblyman Matt Koenigs, Fond du Lac, should be enacted into law. Foreign languages, both ancient and modern, would be stricken from the curriculums of graded, high and normal schools, under the provisions of the Koenigs bill. The University of Wisconsin is the only institution receiving state aid that is exempt. Privately operated educational institutions do not come under the measure.

A joint legislative committee consisting of one senator and two assemblymen would be appointed to investigate the feasibility of establishing a state-owned plant for the manufacture of cement, to be used in the construction of public highways and bridges, under the Nelson bill, engrossed by the assembly. The bill carries an appropriation of $30,000 to defray expenses of the committee in its investigation.

There will be no divorce tax in Wisconsin so far as the present legislature is concerned. The assembly killed without a record vote the Mark bill, which would have imposed a tax ranging from $5 to $500 on each divorce decree and marriage annulment recorded in court.

Amnesty to political prisoners confined to federal prisons as a result of their war activity was asked by the senate through adoption of a resolution by Senator Huber urging the president to pardon those incarcerated during the war for violation of the espionage act.

The senate engrossed the Price bill requiring a jury trial in contempt of court cases if asked by the defendant. This measure has passed the assembly.

NOCULATE YOUR ALFALFA AND SOYBEANS

Alfalfa, soybeans, clover, etc., in fact all legumes, extract nitrogen from the air and store it in their roots in the form of nodules. To perform this process certain bacteria are required. Unless this legume has been grown on the soil before, this bacteria is not in the soil and the legume cannot thrive as it should. Evidence of lack of proper inoculation of the soil is given by a yellow unhealthy appearance of the plant. The soils may be inoculated in two ways:

1. By taking soil from a field where the crop has been grown and scattering it over the field that we intend to plant. This method is good but is expensive.
2. The bacteria needed to transfer nitrogen from the air to the soil may be grown in laboratories and put on the seed before they are planted. The State University sends out these bacteria in packets, one packet costing 20 cents being enough to inoculate 20 pounds of seed. This inoculation may be procured from County Agent Milton H. Button at the Court House. Because of the fact that the clovers have been grown here until the soil is inoculated, he does not keep clover inoculation on hand but during planting season he will always have inoculation for alfalfa and soy beans on hand.

Man With Strong Breath to Learn to Blow Bass Horn

THE ABOVE advertisement recently appeared in a southern newspaper. It is an example of the ambiguous ads which sometimes appear in newspaper classified sections.

The reader will recall other examples of classified ads which frequently are amusing and always diverting.

The writer of the above ad did not realize its ambiguity. Neither did the men who answered it and none of them cared.

The readers knew what the ad meant and the advertiser knew that the classified section was an excellent spot in the paper from which to get replies.

Nearly everybody recognizes the pulling power of those little reader advertisements which are published in special columns.

If you have a house, a horse, an automobile—ANYTHING—for sale. If you want to buy anything along these lines. If you desire to trade something you don't need for something you do want, use the valuable section of this newspaper devoted to little reader advertisements.

DIES FROM WORRY

Continually worrying over the fact that his home might be set on fire by an electric wire from which the insulation had been ripped off during a recent windstorm caused the death of Louis Kohlman, aged 47 of Horicon, formerly sheriff of Dodge county. His worries resulted in a paralytic stroke from which death resulted.
