

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

MR. WIND'S VISIT

"It was late in the afternoon," said Daddy, "when Mr. Wind began to blow so hard."

"In Blew Mr. Wind."

You'd sometimes beg to sit up a little later just so as to show you weren't the kind to always go to bed on time.

"Yes, Sun, I can't help but say it. I'm surprised that anyone as old as you are should be so obedient and so ready to do just as you're supposed to do each night."

"I can't stop to talk it over with you any longer," said Mr. Sun. "I'll be behind time if I do, and I must go to bed on time, Mr. Wind. Yes, in spite of all you say, I really must."

"So the Wind blew and blew and he whistled many a merry tune and he sang this song too:

I'm the wind, the jolly old wind, I love to blow, I love ice and snow, I love summer time, too, Hic-ho, hic-ho!

"Then Mr. Wind seemed to get more excited than ever and a little girl named Mahalia who was listening to him said:

"Dear me, but I wouldn't be surprised if the wind wanted to come right in and pay me a visit. He is certainly acting as though he wanted to come in the way he is whistling about and knocking at the windows and the doors."

"What's that I hear?" asked Mr. Wind. "Does some one say that I want to pay them a visit?"

"And not much later when Mahalia was in bed and her window was open, in blew Mr. Wind, in just as breezy and gay a fashion as ever any one did see."

"Hello, Mahalia," he blew. "I've come to pay you a visit. I think I'll blow the window shade about and have some fun with it. I notice that you have put a heavy book upon your paper dolls so I can't blow them about. Dear me, Mahalia, I do believe you didn't want me to play with your paper dolls. Well, I can hardly blame you. But I shall blow some of the hair about your face, oh, yes, I'll do that. And I'll run across up and down your room and play with anything that I find ready for a scupper."

Wrap-Around Coat-Frocks; Ultra-Chic Knitted Frocks

A STYLE idea which occupies a conspicuous niche in Fashion's hall of fame is the wrap-around coat-dress. Styled of the most elegant materials, with enrichment of embroidery, braiding and color superb, the spirit of luxury fairly radiates from this handsome garment.

Model in Lightweight Duvetyn.

The straight, slim silhouette is its characteristic feature. Add to this that it is a frock ready at the moment to slip on, void of complicated fastenings, just a mere tying or buckling to one side and one readily understands why this garment is so popular.

The model in the picture is lightweight duvetyn, a fabric which has made its reappearance this season. The upper portion is elaborately designed with gray braid. The squirrel collar is detachable.

In many instances the straightline coat-dress is entirely all-over-braided in self-color. This type is built along with a pin or a cord of lace edging.

Another charming idea is rocco ribbon, which is a very narrow sort in rainbow colorings. It is this dainty ribbon which is shirred and twisted into curiousness on the close-fitting bonnet to the left, until the entire shape looks as if it were made of crinkled silk.

Oriental colorings are everywhere present in millinery and especially are they featured in printed silks such as are used to drape across the front of the helmet-shaped hat to the right, which is topped with genuine haircloth.

A tara brim with Egyptian motif is carried out with a fancy silk straw braid in the model to the left.

Interesting Group of Hats.

The material for a pair of spats costs very little and with one ready-made pair for a model it was not difficult to spot the family and the high cost of leather at the same time.

Scrap of the heavy cloth used for men's clothing can sometimes be secured from the tailors and they make excellent gaiters. They are introducing the slash on one or both shoulders, which are tied up with peppy ribbon bows.

This new treatment offers unlimited opportunities for introducing new fashion touches. The change from a tailored ribbon to a dress, ribbon rosette will transform the costume.

Many of the smart dressmakers in Paris are introducing a new variation of the slipover blouse and dress which eliminates the little slash down the back. They are introducing the slash on one or both shoulders, which are tied up with peppy ribbon bows.

The KITCHEN CABINET

(By Mrs. J. J. Burroughs)

Start the flame of life going, and the rest may be explained by chemistry; physiological processes explain its growth; but why it becomes a man and not a monkey—what explains that?—John Burroughs.

EARLY SPRING GREENS

Many people if they had a taste of some of our noxious weeds would consider them very appetizing. They are not gathered and placed in the market as are watercress, spinach, and asparagus.

All we need to do to have a splendid blood purifier this spring, is to go out and gather the greens. Boil them until nearly tender in boiling water—just as little as possible—then add salt and finish cooking. Drain, cut several times with a sharp knife, pour over melted butter, pork fat, ham or bacon fat and serve them very hot.

Wild mustard is a favorite green which may be used until the black mustard which is grown in our vegetable gardens is ready for the table. It may be served like lettuce or in combination with it.

Lamb's-quarters is a good green but needs one which has some snap to it to give flavor. Mustard is especially good with it.

Sour dock comes early; yellow dock and sorrel are both good. Sorrel makes a nice soup, boiled with beef stock and served with buttered toast.

The acid of the sour dock is especially good for the blood. Pigweed, horseradish leaves mixed with other greens make a good flavored dish.

It matters not how deep entrenched the wrong how hard the battle goes, the day how long. Faunt not, fight on! Tomorrow comes the song.

We hear much of the Mexican tamales. The word means dumpling in Spanish or a meat patty. With not a world-wide experience in the professedly made tamales, so far they have been anything but edible.

Take the meat from one-half of a boiled chicken, one clove of garlic, one-half of a medium sized onion, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of cayenne pepper, one teaspoonful of salt, one cupful of corn meal, two or three small red peppers and a few corn husks.

No other food is so thoroughly baked as Grape-Nuts. More than 20 hours are consumed in the baking process which makes Grape-Nuts easy to digest, and also develops a natural sweetness from the grains themselves.

The form and crispness of Grape-Nuts invite thorough mastication—a decided advantage because this not only provides proper exercise for the teeth, but makes for good digestion.

Oyster Fritters.—Strain the liquor from a dozen oysters and carefully remove any bits of shell. Mince fine and prepare the following batter: one and one-half cupfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of pepper, two teaspoonfuls of finely-minced parsley, three quarters of a cupful of oyster liquor mixed with milk, one egg. Mix well, then stir in the finely minced oysters. Drop by spoonfuls into hot fat. Brown quickly, drain and serve on a hot platter garnished with parsley.

A Fresh Start. Miss M. writes that while she was visiting her sister in the country she overslept one morning and was awakened by her little niece, 3½ years old, who exclaimed: "Aunt Annie, get up; the world has begun."—Boston Evening Transcript.

ENGRAVER SETS NEW RECORD

Washington Man Has Carved Picture of the National Capitol on a Pinhead.

The famous pinhead with the Lord's prayer thereon just now has been done by a Washington man, who has inscribed on two ordinary pinheads the United States Capitol and a profile of President Harding, with the name, "Warren G. Harding."

SIMPLE STATEMENT OF FACT

Explanation Showed That Both Manager and His Assistant Had Told the Truth.

With a firm tread and a masterful air the woman stepped into the florist's shop. After gazing about for some moments her choice fell upon a green palm in an ornamental pot.

August C. Habicht is the creator of these two minute pieces of art, and what is more, he has just completed the construction of a machine and die that will transfer the portrait of the President on the heads of an unlimited number of pins.

Mr. Habicht is a former engraver at the bureau of engraving and printing. In March, 1921, while employed at the bureau, he began the work of cutting a picture of the capitol into the pinhead. He worked at nights at his home under a powerful light and a microscope, and used the finest of engraving tools, but those of the delicate type.

"Will it grow well in the sunshine?" she inquired. "Yes, madam." "Don't say it will if it won't," she snapped. "If it does well in the sun, will the shade hurt it?" "Oh, no, madam."

"What!" she exclaimed. "You tell me it will thrive equally well in sunshine or shade? Young man, you don't know your business. Fetch the manager." The manager was summoned. Even he quailed before her; but, all the same, he backed up his assistant's statement.

"Then it is really a remarkable plant," she commented, unconvinced. "My good man, it is both extraordinary and unusual!" "That's just it," said the manager quietly; "it's an artificial plant."

Statistics show that if a woman and a woman are riding together in a train which meets with disaster, the woman has more chances of escaping death than the man.

IMPORTANT: Save this announcement, read it carefully, and keep for reference. It may mean money and knowledge to you. Over $7500.00 for Grape-Nuts Recipes

The Postum Cereal Company will buy not less than 101 Recipes or suggestions for new Uses of Grape-Nuts, paying $50.00 for each one accepted. And in addition—

Good Housekeeping Institute, conducted by Good Housekeeping Magazine, will decide an award of $2500.00 for the best four of the 101 or more Recipes or suggestions for new Uses of Grape-Nuts, so purchased:

- $1000.00 for the 1st selection $750.00 for the 2nd selection $500.00 for the 3rd selection $250.00 for the 4th selection

Read carefully the terms of this offer so that you may have the fullest opportunity to share in its benefits. The conditions are so simple and fair that every housewife in the United States can take part in this National Recipe Festival!

There Is No Other Food Like Grape-Nuts

WHILE practically every man, woman and child in the English-speaking world knows Grape-Nuts as a delicious, nourishing and wholesome cereal, and while it is common knowledge that Grape-Nuts with milk or cream is a complete food, many housewives do not know of the appetizing and economical dishes that can be prepared with Grape-Nuts.

ings for fowls, etc. No doubt there are thousands of women who are finding varied uses for Grape-Nuts in their home cooking, and even more thousands who will be glad to learn of those varied uses; for while we all cling to old favorite dishes, we also welcome and enjoy a change.

So that is the thought back of our offer of more than $7500.00 in cash for new ways of using Grape-Nuts. To those women who are already using Grape-Nuts in various ways, other than as a breakfast cereal or in the recipes given here, and to those women who would like to try their hand at developing some new way to use Grape-Nuts, we offer to buy at $50.00 each not less than 101 new Grape-Nuts Recipes. We plan to include these new Recipes in a beautifully illustrated cook book.

What Is Grape-Nuts? Grape-Nuts is a highly nutritious food in the form of crisp, golden granules. It contains the full nutriment of wheat and barley, including vitamins-B and mineral elements required for building sturdy health. These elements are often lacking in the ordinary diet, chiefly through "over-refinement" in the preparation of food.

Every housewife in the Land should take advantage of this extraordinary opportunity to earn the tidy sum of $50.00 by a little pleasant and educational effort in her own home. Also the fair and equal chance to secure one of the liberal awards to be made by Good Housekeeping Institute.

Moreover, there's the greater knowledge of the value of Grape-Nuts, not only as a delicious breakfast cereal, but in the preparation of a variety of appetizing dishes that add to the health and pleasure of the whole family.

Conditions Governing the Purchase of, and Awards for Grape-Nuts Recipes

The Postum Cereal Company will buy not less than 101 Recipes or suggestions for new Uses of Grape-Nuts, paying $50.00 for each one accepted. This offer is open to every person in the United States.

It is not necessary to purchase Grape-Nuts. A suitable quantity will be sent upon request to those desiring to submit recipes.

Good Housekeeping Institute, conducted by Good Housekeeping Magazine, will decide an award of $2500.00 for the best four of the 101 or more Recipes or suggestions for new Uses of Grape-Nuts, so purchased. $1000.00 for the 1st selection; $750.00 for the 2nd selection; $500.00 for the 3rd selection; and $250.00 for the 4th selection.

Form of Recipe: First, write name of your Recipe at top of sheet; underneath list all ingredients, using full measurements only; then the directions for preparing, worded simply and accurately. Do not send specimens of food.

Recipes must be mailed between May 1st, 1923 and August 31st, 1923. Recipes or suggestions for new uses submitted for purchase must not duplicate any of the Recipes printed in this announcement. No Recipe will be purchased from anyone directly or indirectly connected with the Postum Cereal Company, Inc., or Good Housekeeping Institute.

Announcement of the Recipes purchased, and Awards by Good Housekeeping Institute, will be made in January, Good Housekeeping Magazine, and in the Postum Cereal Company for purchase will not be returned.

All Recipes must be addressed to RECIPE DEPARTMENT Postum Cereal Company, Inc., Battle Creek, Michigan.

INSIDE PAGE OF JOURNALISM

Same Thing Has Been Known to Exist in Other Cities Besides the French Capital.

Some years ago there were in Paris two papers, the Razor and the Scorpion, which were always attacking each other. Every week people bought the Razor to read how it cut at the Scorpion and then purchased the Scorpion to learn how it stung the Razor.

A certain philanthropist, feeling pained to see such animosity displayed, invited the two editors to dine in the hope that over a good fare he could make peace between them. At the appointed time one lean, melancholy man presented himself and was ushered in. After an interval, as no other guest appeared, the host demanded:

"May I ask, are you the editor of the Razor or the Scorpion?"

"Both," said the sad-eyed man.—Sheffield (Eng.) Telegraph.

BACTERIAL SPOT HURTS CUCUMBER

Frequently Made Unsalable or Greatly Reduced in Value as Result of Disease.

CIRCULAR DISCUSSES FORMS

Organisms of Decay Gain Access Through Lesions and Destroy Entire Fruit—Control Measures Comparatively Easy.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Cucumbers frequently are made unsalable or greatly reduced in value as a result of a disease known as bacterial spot, or angular leaf-spot. United States Department of Agriculture Circular 254, Bacterial Spot of Cucumber, by F. C. Meier and George K. Link, discusses the disease, describing briefly its various forms, the ways by which it is transmitted, and the method of control.

Bacterial spot appears on the fruits as round, water-soaked, translucent spots that do not reach far beneath the surface. Organisms of decay, however, may gain access through these lesions and destroy the entire fruit. Usually the disease makes its first appearance in a field on the cotyledons or seed leaves, and the bacteria spread from there to the leaves, where they cause irregularly angular, water-soaked spots. With a few days the spots become ash gray and the centers usually drop out.

Seeds Carry Infection.
The seeds carry the infection, which accounts for the wide distribution, but which also makes control measures comparatively easy. At present the disease occurs in Europe, Canada, and in the following states in this country: Alabama, Georgia, Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, South Carolina, Virginia, and Wisconsin.

To avoid loss, affected fruits should be disposed of quickly, as various organisms of decay are likely to enter through the wounds. If packed dry and kept cool, the development of bacterial spot may be retarded. Good ventilation during transit is important.

Plan to Reduce Loss.
Seed disinfection combined with crop rotation is the most satisfactory method of reducing loss. Spraying alone is not recommended for the control of this disease, but 4-50 Bordeaux thoroughly applied is an effective check. Seed treatment consists of immersing the seed in a 1 to 1,000 mercuric-chloride solution, which may be made from the standard tablets sold by druggists. The solution must be made in a glass, earthenware, or wooden receptacle. Great care should be exercised, as it is very poisonous when taken internally. Plants grown from treated seed on soil new to the crop are likely to be free from the disease unless infection occurs from diseased fields nearby.

Copies of the circular may be obtained free by addressing the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. In case seedsmen or growers' associations wish to treat seed on a large scale, the department will give directions for preparing the solution in quantity.

BUY HIGHEST QUALITY SEED

Mixtures Offered at Bargain Prices Sure Indication of Weeds and Other Trash.

Cheap seed is cheap because it is full of weed seeds and trash and of low germination, says the specialist at the New York agricultural experiment station at Geneva, who advocates the purchase of only the highest quality seed obtainable as the best crop insurance. The supply of clean, vigorous seed is never so large but that it commands a good price, and the very fact that farm crop seeds, vegetable seeds, or lawn grass mixtures are offered at bargain prices is a sure indication that the seed lacks quality, declares this authority.

HUBAM CLOVER GAINS FAVOR

Considerable Interest Being Taken in Crop for Green Manure—Seed Is Available.

Inquiries coming to the farm crops department at Iowa State college indicate considerable interest in Hubam clover as a green manure. The farm crops department advises comparing this variety of sweet clover alongside of other clovers for green manure purposes, broadcasting the Hubam at the rate of 12 to 15 pounds per acre. Those who wish to give Hubam a trial can secure five pounds of seed with inoculation material for $1.65 from the Iowa Agricultural Experiment association at Ames.

SWEET CLOVER IS BIENNIAL

Contains About Same Total Nutrients as Red Variety—Stock Learn to Like It.

Sweet clover is a biennial like common red clover. Sweet clover and red clover contain about the same total nutrients. Sweet clover is a little richer in protein. Stock will prefer red clover at first, but learn to like the sweet clover.

NATURAL PREY OF PARASITES

Sheep Are Easy Victims to Pests Which Flourish During Hot Months of Summer.

Sheep are the natural prey of parasites, which flourish chiefly during the hot, dry months of summer. For this reason sheep should not be allowed to drink water from old stagnant pools, but should at all times be supplied with pure, fresh water.

FARMERS ADVISED TO GRADE CREAM OUTPUT

Numerous Farmers and Dairy-men Are Developing Methods.

Great Need for Improvement in Quality of Product if Demands of Consumer Are to Be Met—Flat Price for All Is Unfair.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Grading of cream, as the first step in the standardization of the dairy industry, is being urged by the United States Department of Agriculture. Numerous farmers and dairymen are already developing grading methods the department reports.

"There is great need for improvement in the quality of cream if consumer demands for a high-grade product are to be met," says Roy C. Potts, in charge of the department's division of dairy and poultry products. "Argument should not be required to convince the farmer that his cream should be marketed on a graded basis. It is wrong to pay the same price for low-quality cream as for high quality. It is unjust to the producer of No. 1 cream to get no more for a good quality, and the production of the better quality is discouraged. This practice of paying a flat price for all qualities offers no inducement for improvement, and places a premium on poor quality or penalizes good quality."

"In every field of marketing, progress is being made through the practice of standardization. Those who are taking the lead in the move to standardize dairy products are to be commended for their good work. The markets for manufactured dairy products, especially butter, have always placed a higher value on the product of high quality. Similar rewards will come from improvement in the quality of cream. The entire dairy industry is urged to get back on the movement."

CUTWORMS RUIN MANY CROPS

Poison Mixture Scattered Along Rows of Plants Attacked Will Prove Efficacious.

Do the cutworms ruin your hopes for good garden crops? You can put a stop to them if you want to. Mix together one quart of bran, one heaping teaspoonful of Paris green, and one-fourth cupful of molasses, with just enough water to make a crumbly, not sticky mass.

Scatter the material thinly along rows of plants attacked by the pests, or place about the base of the individual plant. One thing you must do is to keep chickens, etc., away from the poison, for if it is eaten in any reasonable quantity other things besides the cutworms will be killed. Sometimes Paris green is not available, but lead arsenate or calcium is to be had. These arsenicals will be satisfactory.

WASTEFUL TO BURN RUBBISH

Ashes of Cornstalks, Asparagus Tops, Pea and Bean Tops Good for Fertilizing.

While it is wasteful to burn leaves and vegetable rubbish in the spring or fall when it might be composted, some of it, such as cornstalks, asparagus tops, pea and bean vines are so coarse that their disintegration takes a long time. If these are burned the ashes should be saved and spread over the garden, as they contain valuable fertilizing content in the way of potash. Wood ashes are especially valuable in potash and all available should be spread over the garden.

CLEAN FARM MACHINE PARTS

Strong Lye Solution Works Faster Than Kerosene, Lasts Longer and Doesn't Evaporate.

A 50-gallon barrel of strong cleansing solution for removing oils and greases from disassembled parts costs only one-third as much as a similar quantity of kerosene. A strong lye solution works faster, is more economical, effective longer, does not evaporate and has no fire risk. A barrel of strong lye solution makes an auto cleanser that is hard to beat. Then again, it is just as effective for removing paint or enamel from parts which need repainting.

LOSS AMONG LITTLE CHICKS

Overfeeding Is Worse Than Giving Too Little—Keep in Dry Place and Fight Vermin.

There are losses caused by improper care when the chicks arrive. Do not feed too much at first. Overfeeding in this case is worse than underfeeding. Feed little but often, and be sure you have a warm, dry place for them and keep them clean and free from lice. With these precautions followed you should have very little trouble in raising your chicks.

Dressing for Asparagus.

Give the asparagus beds a nitrate dressing—about a pound and a half to a square rod. Also salt them if you want to keep down the weeds and make the "grass" tender.

Acid Phosphate for Hogs.

The need of mineral matter, in addition to that found in the regular ration for hogs, is generally recognized. Various combinations of minerals both proprietary and home-made are in use.

Sunshine Increases Profits.

Sunshine lowers the cost of hog raising. An abundance of sunlight given the little pigs and their mothers has been found to increase the hog profits 30 per cent.

Millet Hot Weather Crop.

Millet is a hot weather crop and the seed should not be sown until the weather and soil have become warmed sufficiently for the seed to make immediate growth.

WAS FORCED TO CALL ON MOTHER

She Couldn't Even Do Housework, Declares Mrs. Regan.

"If I had only known Tanlac could make me so well and happy I would have taken it long before I did," declared Mrs. Leona Regan, 318 Lyon St., Milwaukee, Wis.

"For months I was so terribly run down that often my mother would have to attend to the housework for me. My nerves were dreadfully excited, splitting headaches and dizzy spells kept my head in a whirl, and I got scarcely any sleep. There was a pain in my back that caused me agony if I tried to stoop over, and I was discouraged at not finding relief.

"When I finally started on Tanlac I soon began to mend. My troubles have all disappeared now. I was amply repaid for buying Tanlac, and it is a pleasure to recommend it. Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.—Advertisement.

Another Whack at Lawyers.

During the course of a trial some years ago, a witness was asked by the prosecuting attorney if he knew what it meant to take an oath.

He replied: "To take an oath means that you swear to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth." "What happens if you do not tell the truth?" asked the judge. "If you do not tell the truth, your honor," replied the witness, "it means that you are dishonored in the sight of God, dishonored in the sight of man—in fact, you are dishonored in the sight of everyone except lawyers."—Everybody's.

Must Be So.

The late William Rockefeller said in an interview given not long before his death: "Rich men have pretty well retained the public's respect, but do you remember how, 20 years ago, every rich man was universally considered to be a villain?" "No word was produced," only Lawson said so, the muckrakers by the thousand said so, and accordingly the public accepted this say-so for the truth.

"It reminds me of the schoolboy who was asked by his teacher to give three proofs that the earth was round. He replied promptly: "You say so, father says so, and mother says so."

Thought for the Day.

"Delightful situation. Go ahead with the tale."

"Well, her father owned two coal mines, and her family were absolutely rolling in wealth. And, with all her riches, she was mean enough to deprive me of my chances of making over a million at one blow."

"Well, what is the best of the story? What were the all-important three words?"

"Why, I was going to marry her, and then all of her riches would have been mine, but—"

"But what?" "But when I asked her to be mine she said: 'No, you fool!'"—Houston Post.

Platform Wit.

The chairman of a political gathering named Hay was called upon to move a resolution. The gentleman was decidedly persona non grata to many in the audience, and they drowned his voice with their tumult.

The chairman vainly tried to restore order; at last, getting exasperated, he shouted at the top of his voice: "Will you hear Mr. Hay?" "No," yelled the disturbers. "Then all I've got to say is that this is the first instance on record of Jackasses refusing hay."

98 OUT OF EVERY 100

WOMEN BENEFITED

An Absolutely Reliable Statement Important to Every Woman

Remarkable Results Shown by a Nation Wide Canvass of Women Purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. 50,000 Women Answer

For some time a circular has been enclosed with each bottle of our medicine bearing this question: "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

Replies, to date, have been received from over 50,000 women answering that question.

98 per cent of which say YES. That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take the medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it.

This is a most remarkable record of efficiency. We doubt if any other medicine in the world equals it.

Think of it—only two women out of 100 received no benefit—98 successes out of a possible 100.

Did you ever hear anything like it? We must admit that we, ourselves, are astonished.

Such evidence should induce every woman suffering from any ailment peculiar to her sex to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see if she can't be one of the 98. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

An Absolutely Reliable Statement

Important to Every Woman

Remarkable Results Shown by a Nation Wide Canvass of Women Purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. 50,000 Women Answer

Of course we know that our medicine does benefit the large majority of women who take it. But that only two out of 100 received no benefit is most astonishing.

It only goes to prove, however, that a medicine specialized for certain definite ailments—not a cure all—one that is made by the most scientific process; not from drugs, but from a combination of nature's roots and herbs, can and does do more good than hastily prepared prescriptions.

You see, we have been making, improving and refining this medicine for over 50 years until it is so perfect and so well adapted to women's needs that it actually has the virtue to benefit 98 out of every 100 women who take it.

Its reliability and recognized efficiency has gained for it a sale in almost every country in the world—leading all others.

Such evidence should induce every woman suffering from any ailment peculiar to her sex to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see if she can't be one of the 98. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

BRIGHTENS, REFRESHES, ADDS NEW DELIGHT TO OLD DRAPERIES

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES—dyes or tints as you wish

Why, or Course.

An old colored woman in Atlanta, Ga., carried her mistress's clothes home. They were to be returned in a few days. Instead they were kept three weeks and returned by the health department well fumigated.

When Lisa showed up her mistress wanted to know where on earth she had been, and she replied that "her stephusband had done been had the smallpox."

Mistress—What on earth is a stephusband? Lisa—Law, child, when one husband step out, another step in.

Relics of Old Civilization.

Rubbed remains of a very ancient civilization, much older than the Egyptian, have been found on the Kola peninsula, in Lapland, between the Arctic ocean and the White sea. This announcement is made in a dispatch from Petrograd which says a Russian expedition, led by Professor Barsenok, has just returned with news of the discovery. Pyramid-shaped tombs were found, and there were traces of dwellings and temples reared long before the days of Tutankhamen.

Don't abuse the rich; we can't all be poor.

The Limit.

"My ma won't let me go anywhere without washing my hands first." "She won't?" "Naw. Every time we're going out she chases me upstairs to get cleaned up."

Is that all?

"All? Isn't that enough?" "You're lucky. My mother makes me wash before I go to bed, and that's the foolishness notion yet."

Her First Love Affair.

He was sixteen and I was fifteen. He told me to meet him at the show at seven o'clock. I was there on the dot, but there was no sign of him. I thought something had delayed him, so I waited. I waited and waited. Suddenly I remembered that it was April Fools' day. The next day in school he started to tease me about it, and so ended my first love affair.

His Opinion.

"He thinks the town is full of idiots." "Why?" "He ran for office the other day and most of the citizens voted for the other fellow."

It pays to keep straight.

Police Force Given Release

The Hartford police department was given a shakeup this week when the city decided to disperse with the services of the two present members, according to information given us this morning by a member of the city administrative department. George Reid present day member of the force, has been with the Hartford department for nearly fifteen years. His age and poor health has been decidedly against him. He is perhaps one of the best known members of the police department that Hartford has ever had. F. C. Cook, night watchman, has served with the force for the past three years, succeeding Matt Vincent. Before taking the position, Officer Cook was night watchman at the Kiesel shops.

A new police force has not as yet been selected, but the city clerk has a number of candidates in view, and it is probable that two of these will be assigned before June 1.—Hartford Times.

Horse Hitched to Seeder Runs Away

A very serious accident causing painful injuries was inflicted upon Fred Vehring Tuesday at about the noon hour. The farm hand had brought the team with seeder from the field to the barn over on the premises opposite the sugar plant, when about to step from the seeder, the horses started and the proprietor being within a few paces sought to grasp the reins at their heads. He was knocked down in front of the team, by the tongue of the seeder and dragged fully fifty feet under the same until they struck a telephone pole. The seeder teeth had just been sharpened and when he was rescued from beneath it, he was badly bruised and suffered several deep flesh wounds in his thigh and right arm and cuts were spread over his body. It was a miracle that he was not killed. Dr. Geo. H. Ferrin was called immediately and upon close examination found that no bones were broken but that the wounds as inflicted were very serious as well as the bruises to his body. If the team had not run amuck in the telephone pole, he surely would have been dragged to his death.—Menominee Falls News.

PAYMENT OF VICTORY NOTES
All 4% per cent Victory notes bearing the distinguishing letters G, H, I, J, K, or L, prefixed to their serial numbers become payable according to their terms on May 20, 1923, and interest thereon stops on that date. Holders of these notes may present them in advance of May 20, either for immediate redemption at par and accrued interest to the date of optional redemption, or for payment on May 20 at par and accrued interest to that date. Holders of registered notes are urged to present them well in advance in order to avoid delays in the discharge of registration.

All 4% per cent Victory notes bearing the distinguishing letters A, B, C, D, E, or F, prefixed to their serial numbers were called for redemption on December 15, 1922, and ceased to bear interest on that date, pursuant to the terms of the call for redemption.

Banks and trust companies generally are handling the transactions for their customers, or, if desired, presentation may be made direct to the Treasury Department, Division of Loans and Currency, Washington, D. C., or to any Federal Reserve Bank or branch. All holders of Victory notes are urged to look up their holdings and arrange, preferably through their own banks, for prompt presentation of the notes for payment.

TOWN SCOTT
Miss Evelyn Smith, Sheboygan Co., nurse visited our school and examined the pupils, finding nearly all of them in good condition.

We erred in our last week's issue, when we stated that Supt. of Schools Mr. Weekin, visited our school last week. It should have read Mr. Weekin, who takes up the duties as Supt. on July 1st.

International Manure Spreader

Run Your Eyes Over These Best-yet Features:

1. Roller Bearings. Roller bearings at seven points—the only spreader so equipped.
2. Double Ratchet Drive. Walking beam transmission from main axle eccentric and extra large ratchet wheel give easy, strong, steady feed. No jamming or jerking, due to extra-long movement of pawls on ratchet wheel—only two power impulses on ratchet for every revolution of 46-inch drive wheels. Box tapered to eliminate friction on both sides. Six feed speeds.
3. Oscillating Front Axle. Auto-type, permitting adjustment. No pole whipping. No strain on frame.
4. Power Both Wheels. Power is transmitted directly from main axle to beaters, wide-spread spiral and manure conveyor—not through beaters or conveyor or vice versa.
5. Wheels Track. Rear wheels track with the front wheels, lightening draft.
6. Tight Bottom. There is no clogging, jamming apron, because the spreader has a tight bottom. Spreads anything. Retains all liquid manure.
7. Two Beaters. Two all-steel beaters with chisel-pointed square teeth work from both top and bottom of the load. Allow extra-high load.
8. Wide-Spread. The spiral behind the beaters gives the manure a third beating, and spreads it finely and uniformly beyond the wheels.
9. All-Steel Main Frame. Does not check, rot or warp. Wood box sides hold only the load. Frame holds operating mechanism independently of box; keeps alignment perfect.

The New International—made in two sizes—is unquestionably the best spreader value on the market today, and when you consider it in connection with its price, it is so far ahead of all others that there is really no comparison. We have a sample spreader set up for your inspection. Come in and look it over.

BIG CHECK FRAUD ON N. Y. MARKET

Most Colossal Scheme of Kind Ever Attempted on Wall Street.

STARTS A SELLING STAMPEDE

Spurious Buying Orders Involving $10,000,000 in Worthless Paper Starts Tide of Liquidation—Financiers Optimistic.

New York, May 8.—One of the most colossal frauds ever attempted was launched in Wall street Monday and before it was discovered had started a selling wave that ultimately all but demoralized the stock market.

At the close most financial and stock market interests were disposed to take a constructive view. It was asserted that the decline in securities had extended beyond reason, and there was evidence near the close of good support coming into the list as well as a fair amount of "bargain" buying.

Closing prices of twenty high-grade industrial securities Monday night averaged 95.41, as compared with 97.73 on Saturday and 98.38 a week ago.

It is estimated that the fraudulent checks circulated involved nearly $1,000,000, which, although small, was sufficient to unsettle sentiment and start a new tide of liquidation.

Court Holds Legislature Cannot Imprison a Critic

Austin, Tex., May 8.—The Circuit Court of Criminal Appeals, at a special sitting, ordered Hull Youngblood, San Antonio, released from the twenty-day jail sentence ordered by a joint state legislative committee.

FORD TOPS U. S. STEEL

Has More Actual Cash Than Any Other Corporation.

Automobile Manufacturer's Wealth Is Estimated at Six Hundred to Seven Hundred Millions by Wall Street.

New York, May 5.—The Ford Motor company, Inc., has more actual cash in its treasury than any other corporation in the United States, if not in the entire world, according to figures announced in Wall street, which place the total as more than that of the United States Steel corporation.

The figures, taken from a statement filed with the Massachusetts commission at Boston, show that on Feb. 28, 1923, the Ford company had a total of $159,005,087 cash on hand. This compares with total cash holdings of $126,700,139 reported by the United States Steel corporation in its last annual report of Dec. 31, 1922.

The total assets of the company is given at $539,351,939. The excess of assets over liabilities is shown by a profit and loss surplus of $259,777,508 on Feb. 28, 1923, against a profit and loss surplus of $240,478,736 on the same date last year.

Ford, it is said, has a total fortune, including his Ford Motor company holdings, of between $800,000,000 and $700,000,000.

Columbus Klan Parades; Court Bars Use of Park

Columbus, O., May 5.—In full regalia, approximately one thousand members of the Ku Klux Klan paraded here and then boarded street cars and were taken to the outskirts of the city, where, according to Klan officials, 2,000 men were inducted into the organization.

28,000 in England Receive Over $2,000,000 Year Each

London, May 4.—In a statement in the house of commons Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer, said the total number of persons in Great Britain liable to a super-tax in the last financial year was about 80,000, with a total income of $470,000,000 (about $2,180,800,000). The total number of incomes over $500,000 ($2,320,000) yearly was 28,850, with a total income of $367,000,000 ($1,702,880,000).

Wife of Standard Oil Man to Face Greek Army Trial

London, May 5.—Mrs. Virginia Brain, said to be the wife of a Standard Oil official, is to be court-martialed at Saloniki, says an Athens dispatch to the Daily Express. The charge against her is not known, the dispatch adds, but it is the outcome of a street incident concerning Mrs. Brain's son, who was questioned by a gendarme, whose face was slapped for alleged impertinence.

WISCONSIN HAPPENINGS

Important News of the Badger State Arranged in Condensed Form

Madison—Conditions have been favorable for farm work during the last two weeks in Wisconsin, the crop reporting service announces. A serious shortage of farm labor is said to be hindering the farmers. The report says temperatures have been normal with sufficient precipitation to keep soil in good shape.

Madison—Because of the growing importance of chemistry in modern commerce, and the demand for men who are trained both in commercial and chemical subjects, the University of Wisconsin has just established a new four-year chemistry-commerce course to go into effect next September.

Green Bay—Plans for an intensive campaign at Green Bay to raise $250,000 for building a labor temple have been completed and a mass meeting has been called for the night of May 18, when, it is expected, five delegates will be present from each union in the city.

Manitowoc—Charles S. Feether, pioneer book store man, and former president of the Wisconsin Skat league, died at Manitowoc. Mr. Feether is well known throughout the state as a skat player and for his activities as a fair man. He was secretary of the Skat league fifteen years. He was also secretary of Wisconsin Fair association and president of the Manitowoc County Fair association.

Superior—Superior and Duluth grain elevators are filled to capacity with a total of 23,000,000 bushels of grain, mostly wheat, it became known from members of the Wisconsin grain commission. This huge amount of grain is waiting the arrival of lake carriers from lower lake ports to transport it to eastern flour mills.

Ashland—Practically every employee of the Charcoal Iron Co., Ashland, has been granted shorter hours and more pay, effective May 1. All men who are now on 8-hour shifts and an extra crew has been put to work. The 10-hour shift for certain workers was shortened to nine hours.

Madison—Gov. Blaine Friday, May 4, telegraphed congratulations to Mrs. Eleanor Jung and Mrs. Louis Eisner, Sheboygan, the oldest twins in the state, the occasion being the celebration of their ninetieth birthday. It happens that Gov. Blaine celebrates his forty-eighth birthday on the same date.

Fond du Lac—Paul Tarnavsky, formerly assistant mechanical superintendent of the Trans-Siberian railroad, recently arrived in this country from Manchuria, is now a member of the shop staff of the Soo line in Fond du Lac.

Madison—A total of 7,000 invitations are being prepared for seniors of the University of Wisconsin. Steel engravings instead of the customary halftones, are being used. Skins of more than 1,000 sheep will be used for covers.

Rice Lake—Jacob Moore, 65, a retired farmer, was instantly killed while dynamiting stumps on the farm of W. A. Demers, across the lake from Rice Lake. A stump blown into the air struck him on the head as it descended, crushing his skull.

Birchwood—Approximately $100,000 was paid the 1,075 Barron Creamery patrons for the 170,501 pounds of butterfat received in March, according to the announcement which was made public. The creamery paid 57 cents for butterfat.

Birchwood—Frank J. Mathews, buttermaker at Deer Park, formerly of Birchwood, has been awarded a mark of honor from the Wisconsin Dairy school, Madison, for producing high score butter.

Madison—Jacob Schick, Sheboygan, was elected president of the Wisconsin Association of Plumbing Inspectors at the closing session of the state convention at Madison, and Sheboygan was selected for the next convention in June, 1924.

Superior—The sum of $22,500 was paid to those on the lists of the Superior firemen and police pension fund last year, reports show. Assets of the fire pension fund total $84,000 and of the police fund $36,000.

Madison—Ralph M. Imnell, private secretary of Gov. John J. Blaine, has been appointed adjutant general of the Wisconsin national guard. He succeeds the late Adj. Gen. Orlando Holway. It has not yet been determined just when he will take over the office, the governor said. Mr. Imnell is 28 years old and probably the youngest adjutant general of the United States. Mr. Imnell was born at Blair, Trempealeau county. He is a graduate of the La Crosse Normal school and of the law course at the University of Wisconsin. He was admitted to the bar in September, 1922. He was appointed executive clerk to Gov. Blaine on Jan. 31, 1922, and served in that capacity until he was appointed private secretary. He served twenty months overseas with the Twenty-sixth division during the world war.

Fond du Lac—Princeton High school won first place in the short-hand contests conducted at Fond du Lac under the direction of the local commercial department. Princeton made 17 points and Sheboygan 16. Sheboygan, Plymouth, Random Lake, West Bend, Princeton, North Fond du Lac and Fond du Lac were represented at the Fond du Lac contests.

Cameron—One of the most beautiful tourist camp sites to be found anywhere in northern Wisconsin, has just been donated to Cameron by M. C. Howard. It is in a cove of virgin pines at the intersection of highways 11 and 14. This is the busiest corner in Barron county during the height of the tourist season.

Marinette—Sisters from St. Clara's college, Sinsinnot Mound, Wis., were in Marinette negotiating for a summer camp for girls. Different sites on the shores of Green Bay were looked over. If a desirable location can be found here a permanent camp will be established, opening this season with 16 girls, it is stated.

Madison—C. P. Nordard, commissioner of agriculture in Wisconsin for the last six years, is seriously considering acceptance of an appointment as assistant commissioner of agriculture of New York at a salary of $7,000 annually, it is learned. He plans to present his resignation to the governor shortly.

Dorchester—Fire swept through Dorchester destroying the business section and burning four residences. The loss is $500,000. Fire departments from Abbotford and Medford added in the futile battle. The flames were discovered at midnight in the Sauter bowling alleys.

Janesville—Florence Argall Yates, 15-year-old daughter of the late Porter B. Yates, president of the Yates Machine Co., Beloit, becomes the richest girl in Rock county through the will of her father, died in Rock county probate court, in which an estate estimated at $1,200,000 is disposed of.

Green Bay—The majority of rural schools in Brown county will remain open until June 1 in order to make up time lost on account of bad weather earlier this year, it was reported by County Superintendent E. A. Seymour. As a rule the rural schools close about May 15.

Chippewa Falls—Fire which started from a chicken brooder destroyed the farm home and all other farm buildings of George Leavens in the town of Vale, eight miles northwest of Chippewa Falls. The brooder was in a woodshed. A strong wind fanning the flames soon swept the other buildings.

Marshfield—Seventy head of Guernsey cattle were sold at Marshfield at an average price of $177 each. The top price bid for a bull was $470. The top price for a cow was $370. Buyers attended the sale from Maryland, Pennsylvania, Nebraska and Minnesota.

New London—Lady Josephine Mercedes Piche, a pure bred Holstein owned by Christenson brothers of New London, has finished a seven day record of 556 pounds of milk and 30.13 pounds of butter. The highest day's milk production was 81.2 pounds.

Neenah—Another epidemic of measles is feared in Neenah unless proper containing regulations for those already ill are practiced, according to Miss Ada Garvey, Neenah public school nurse. A number of cases have already come to Miss Garvey's attention.

Eau Claire—Fire caused damage estimated at $100,000 to the mill and elevator owned by the Wisconsin Grain & Cereal Co., Eau Claire. The origin of the blaze was not known. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Manitowoc—A small cut from a piece of paper caused the death of Henry Bies, an employe of an aluminum manufacturing company at Manitowoc. Blood poisoning developed and in spite of all medical attention the little wound proved fatal.

Sheboygan—After three successive deadlocks on the question, the Sheboygan board of education by a 5 to 3 vote, re-elected J. G. Walvoord, superintendent of schools for his third term.

Fond du Lac—A delegation of bankers, farmers and business men from Lynn, Sullivan, Livingston and Mason counties, Mo., will come to Fond du Lac county the latter part of May to buy several carloads of pure bred dairy cows.

Fond du Lac—All schools at St. Peters, a village near Fond du Lac, have been closed by health authorities in order to prevent a spread of scarlet fever, which has been prevalent for several days.

With the Wisconsin Legislature

Madison, Wis.—The joint committee on finance voted 7 to 6 to recommend for indefinite postponement Gov. Blaine's tax bill, which would repeal five-sixths of the personal property off-allowed under the state income tax law, and materially boost income rates.

Only five days ago, the committee reported the bill for passage, 6 to 3, but Senator Anton Kueck forced a referendum of it because five committeemen were absent. Put to the test with all members present except Assemblyman David Summerville, who is ill, the committee reversed its report on the measure.

The measure will be returned to the senate in the form it was drawn by Gov. Blaine except for one change. The governor advocated reducing the tax commission from three members to one, but the committee favors three men commission.

Two hours' debate preceded the roll call. Assemblyman Ruffin, socialist, submitted an amendment for the payment of income taxes in one sum instead of in three installments as proposed by Gov. Blaine.

Farmer Solons Hear Call of Soil With the advent of spring, legislators' minds are turning to thoughts of other things than their task here, it is developing.

The farmer members of the assembly, fifty-three strong, are asking for leaves of absence in considerable force so that they may get back to the soil while the spring work is being done. Their absence will be more keenly felt as the session nears its end, with the important bills to be disposed of.

A general unrest is beginning to be noticeable among members now that warm weather has appeared, the veteran legislators say. They hope that this will cause a disposition to hurry along the session. Committee hearings are practically at an end, the bulletins for the coming week show. But few of the committees have calendars and those that have are to consider a small number of unimportant bills.

Settler's Relief Measure Signed Tax relief for settlers in northern Wisconsin is contemplated through operation of the Kankakee law which went into effect with the signature of Gov. Blaine. This new statute provides that in assessing agricultural lands the enhanced value due to pulling of stumps and clearing of timber and stones, shall not be considered. The law is in effect until 1928.

The Ridgway bill providing for creation of memorial commissions in cities, entrusted with management of memorials to former service men, was signed by Gov. Blaine. The penalty for mistreatment of children was increased to $500 for each offense by the Barker bill, which became a law with the governor's signature. A bill by Assemblyman Price permitting municipalities to spend $1,000 for Memorial day exercises was signed and added to the statutes.

Governor Will Use Veto Power Governor Blaine will use his veto power to force the legislature to pass an income tax bill at this session, which will shift the general government and educational bill tax burden now borne by general property to incomes. In a letter to Senator H. A. Huber, chairman of the point finance committee, the governor says he will withhold his approval of financial bills which are supported by mill taxes. This means that the appropriations for the university, normal schools, common schools, and general government aggregating about $6,600,000 will be vetoed, unless the legislature provides for the financing of these activities by an income tax.

Application was made to the supreme court by Stafford and Trotman of Milwaukee for permission to bring suit to test the validity of repealing the secrecy clause of the income tax law. Atty. Trotman appeared before Atty. Gen. Ekern asking him to bring suit, which was refused. The suit would make the tax commission defendants. An injunction has been asked to restrain the tax commission from enforcing the law.

The assembly passed, after extended debate, the Sachtjen bill legalizing a 3 1/2 per cent a month interest rate on loans not exceeding $300, and requiring the licensing of small loan companies. The vote was 51 to 35, with the labor delegation voting with the majority.

The Minter bill providing for examination and licensing of chiropractors by a state board was given final passage, 71 to 6, in the assembly and sent to the senate. Assemblyman Prescott, Milwaukee, made an eleven-hour attempt to kill the measure, but his motion for indefinite postponement lost, 8 to 70.

The senate voted to open the Wisconsin Veterans' home at Waupaca to veterans of the Spanish-American war when it engrossed the Price bill, already passed in the assembly.

SESSION SIDELIGHTS Rent regulation in Wisconsin is evidently not favored by the senate, for it refused to reconsider its vote by which it killed the Teasdale bill. The measure would have limited landlords to a net profit of 10 per cent on their property. The argument was raised by several conservative members and seconded by a number of Progressives that the bill was loosely drawn in that it failed to guarantee landlords that they would earn 10 per cent on their investments.

The public welfare committee of the house reported without recommendation of a bill by Senator Ridgway for state wide regulation of dances. Without a dissenting vote the same committee recommended for passage the Grimstad bill for the confiscation of automobiles used for immoral purposes.

The senate engrossed the Gettelman bill repealing the $10 fee charged in the case of doctors who prescribe liquor as a medicine.

Senate Kills Beer Referendum

The senate overwhelmingly defeated the Schumann "beer" referendum bill after vets, led by Merritt F. White, had taken the floor against it. There was no roll call on the measure.

The Schumann bill called for a state wide referendum on whether the Volstead act should be amended to permit the manufacture and sale of "real beer". Senator White declared that he ran in his district and was elected as a wet. He asserted that a referendum could not bring the desired result and would not bring the people any nearer to beer.

While the people of Wisconsin want good beer, they would not favor the entire repeal of the Volstead act or the return of the old saloon, Senator Schumann declared. He favored, he said, the sale of good beer direct from the brewery to the home.

An amendment by Senator Gettelman, Milwaukee, for the repeal of the Severson law, was killed. The entire measure was defeated with but scattered opposition.

State Blind Bureau Abolished

The senate, by a vote of 16 to 5, passed the Ruffin bill, abolishing the state bureau for the care of the blind. At the same time, the upper house advanced toward passage the Casperson bill, which as amended would create a field agency to take over the work of blind relief.

Under the Ruffin measure, which already has passed the assembly, supervision of the state's indigent blind and deaf will be placed in the hands of various county boards. County boards had charge of this work before four years ago.

Friends of the blind bureau have been active in the legislature for weeks in an effort to save the agency. The "field agency" which would be formed under the Casperson bill, would work under the direction of the Wisconsin School for the Blind. An appropriation of $15,000 for its activities would be created.

Dance Hall Control Voted

The Ridgway senate bill empowering county boards to regulate dance halls was passed to third reading by the assembly, 72 to 15. Assemblyman Mark, Iron county, voiced the only opposition to the bill. His motion for indefinite postponement was voted down, 26 to 61. The bill is aimed at regulation of roadhouses and other dance halls outside of city jurisdiction.

Blaine Signs Infant Fund Bill

The bill appropriating the funds received by the state from the federal government for maternity and infant health work in Wisconsin, has been signed by Gov. Blaine. These funds are allotted to states accepting the Shepard-Towner act and are assigned to the state board of health for definite purposes, all of which have been approved by the Children's bureau at Washington.

The act of the legislature authorizes the use of the federal funds "heretofore received or hereafter received" by the state. Wisconsin becomes the thirty-sixth state to accept the provisions of the federal act.

All of the work of the state tax commission will continue unhampered as a result of the commission finding that it has sufficient funds to operate all activities in spite of the recent veto of an emergency appropriation of $17,000 by Governor Blaine. The executive was notified that all orders for curtailing the work of the department had been cancelled. Governor Blaine's position in the veto has been sustained through this action by the tax commission.

Creation of a board of examiners to license and regulate the practice of cosmetic therapy is called for in a committee on state affairs bill, introduced into the senate. Persons working in beauty parlors would be affected by the proposed statute, which is backed by the state board of health. The bill calls for licensing of all practitioners, including manicurists, after an examination.

An attempt by Socialists to pass a bill creating one day off in seven for workers in Wisconsin industry met with defeat in the senate. A similar bill was killed three weeks ago in the upper house.

Man or woman committing an immoral act in an automobile would have the car confiscated by the state if convicted under the terms of the Grimstad bill which went to engrossment in the assembly by a vote of 43 to 21.

Submission to the people in next year's election of an amendment to the constitution fixing a salary of $10,000 a year instead of $5,000 for governor was assured with final action taken on the measure by the house.

ent. She wished that he might be so that he would be out of some trouble, and her suppressed wish caused her to dream that he was dead. That's the reason why I believe that she knows more than she will tell."

"What can it be?" I asked.

"I don't know, but it is something that was causing a great deal of trouble to Slyke, perhaps to all of them. It might even be something that will bring dishonor. Anyway, it was so serious that, sleeping or waking, it was on her mind. I wish she would talk; we need all the light we can get."

"But that does not actually prove that she knows anything about his death," I suggested.

Bartley turned quickly and glanced at me to see if I was serious. Seeing that I was, he explained: "I don't say that it does. The outfit board performances and the dreams were before his death, not after it. Of course, the fact that the dog did not bark throws suspicion on everyone that was in the house at the time."

He was silent for a while, gazing thoughtfully out of the window, and then resumed his story.

After I left him, he had locked himself in the tower for over an hour and gone over the two rooms and the balcony almost inch by inch. The only thing that had escaped us in our first search, he said, was a small stopper, the end covered with red wax. He was not sure whether the finding of the stopper meant anything or not. His second examination had made him more positive than ever that Slyke had been murdered, and that the murderer wished his death to appear to be suicide.

It would be almost impossible to make a jury believe that it was murder on the slight evidence that we had, and I said as much to Bartley. He agreed with me, and admitted he would not be surprised if King, as coroner, brought in a verdict of suicide. I pondered on this a while; then a thought struck me.

"Suppose, after all, he did kill himself, Bartley. You base your theory of murder on the position of the bedclothes and the way the gun was held. Suppose he did kill himself, and some other person, not the murderer, came into the room and pulled the bedclothes up around his neck."

He shook his head in denial. "We would still have, Pelt," he said with a rather sarcastic smile, "the other questions to be answered. First, we would ask how the blood-stains got on the balcony of the tower. We would also want to know why the hand did not grasp the gun as rightly as it should. Then we would demand to know why there was no blood on the pillow where his head rested. It won't do. There is no doubt of it. He was killed."

I interrupted to ask if, as Miss Potter admitted, she had closed his eyes, why she might not have been also the one who pulled the bedclothes up around his neck.

Bartley replied, "It is true that she did close his eyes, but she insists she touched nothing else."

"But," I broke in, "what was her real reason for doing it?"

"She said, you remember, that the eyes frightened her. Let a nervous woman come suddenly upon a dead body and it is very possible that the eyes staring at her might so frighten her that she would close them. Her confession cleared up a point that bothered me. The accounting for the eyes being closed does not prove that he committed suicide, however. There is little enough evidence one way or another, but what there is points to murder and to nothing else."

"There is another thing," I said. "Why was the revolver taken from him while we were upstairs? It seems a very foolish thing to have done. Who did it? Was it the butler or Miss Potter?"

Both the butler and Miss Potter had been out of the tower room, Bartley reminded me. For some time before we suspected Slyke's death was murder, and not suicide. As to who took the revolver, it was impossible to say as yet. If we believed that the butler had seen Briffure on the stairs while we were on the balcony, then he might be the one. The finding of the gun in the vault and his appearance almost immediately afterward seemed to point to him. Whoever had done it had been very foolish.

The next matter that he spoke about did not seem to have any relation with what had preceded it. It was the robbery of the year before. He had learned from the step-daughter Ruth that she had not positively identified the men now in jail, but had thought that one of the men was similar in height and build to one of the men she had seen in the room. The room had been too dark for her to see very clearly. Nor was that all that she had told him which had disagreed with the accounts of the burglary that Rogers had given us. He had said that she had aroused Slyke and told him that burglars were downstairs; while in her story to Bartley she stated that, after she heard the noise in the living room, she went to the door of Slyke's room to call him, but found it empty. When she saw him he was standing on the lower scap of the stairs leading to the living room. There had evidently been a struggle, and a gun went off just before she reached him. It was she who had called the police, and Slyke had opposed her doing so "as nothing had been taken."

"You see how it looks, Pelt," he said with a grin. "Slyke did not want the police in at all. He did not wish any action taken, either then or later. He was nearer the men than anyone else, yet he swore he could not identify them. That makes me believe that he knew who they were and did not want the matter looked into."

"Did the girl tell you that found that piece of newspaper?" I asked.

"She said it was the chauffeur who had called their attention to it. The police do not seem to have made any search that night, or in fact until noon the next day. Then, with the help of the chauffeur and the butler, they searched the living room, and the chauffeur directed their attention to a piece of paper lying on the floor, half under a rug. Of course, you see what that leads to. For hours that room had been unguarded, and any one who wished could have gone in there. Even the piece of cloth was not found for several days, strangely enough; nor did the police find the footprints under the window until three days later, although they claimed they had searched the spot before."

I broke in with, "That looks, in other words, as if—"

"As if some one wished to send those men to jail," he finished for me. He sighed, gave a little laugh, and remarked: "There are at least three things I would like to know. First, was the robbery a plant?"

"A plant?" I asked, looking at him in wonder.

"Yes! There may have been no robbery at all."

"What do you mean by that?"

He threw up his hands. "I don't quite know myself, but let that pass. There is another thing that puzzles me, and that is the chauffeur. I can tell by the way Miss Potter acted when we mentioned his name that she does not like him. He it was who took from the library the book with the account of the English crime in it. He had words with Slyke the day before the murder, and was missing when we wanted to question him. A few minutes after he was seen near the tower room the revolver was missing. I believe he is well worth watching. And lastly, what was the motive for Slyke's murder?"

A wild thought struck me. I knew at the time how absurd it was, yet a desire to hear what Bartley would reply made me voice it.

"Perhaps the girl killed him."

Bartley gave me a surprised look, started to speak, then decided to wait and hear what I had to say.

U.S. HAS SURPLUS OF 125 MILLIONS

Secretary Mellon Announces the Government's May Financing Program.

TO RETIRE VICTORY NOTES

Will Issue New Treasury Bonds to Run for Four Years and Bear Interest at Rate of 4 1/2 Per Cent.

Washington, May 7.—In announcing the government's May financing program, which will comprise a $400,000,000 issue of 4 1/2 per cent treasury notes maturing on March 15, 1927, with the treasury reserving the right to add additional notes to the extent that 4 1/2 per cent Victory notes are tendered in payment, Secretary Mellon presented a review of the condition of federal finances, in which he predicted that the national budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, would show a surplus of more than $125,000,000 in revenues over expenditures.

This declaration by the head of the Treasury department supplemented a statement made by Director Lord of the budget bureau that there would be a surplus of at least $60,000,000 shown in the budget, as a result of government economies, record custom receipts, and internal revenue receipts on a scale that exceeded expectations. Earlier in the fiscal year officials had expressed concern over the possibility of a heavy budget deficit.

In his review of the federal finances contained in a letter to banking institutions, Secretary Mellon gave an interesting picture of the financing which has been carried on. He stated an encouragingly sound condition, which appeared to indicate that the budget would be balanced from year to year and that economy in expenditures, the process of gradually reducing the public debt, could be maintained steadily from this time.

British Seek Information on U. S. View of Ships' Liquor

London, May 8.—The British are waiting to see what President Harding's policy is to be toward the Supreme court's "dry" ship decision before taking any action, it was stated in official quarters. #### OFFICIAL NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that sealed bids and proposals will be received by the Board of Education of Joint School District No. 5 of the Village and Town of Kewaskum, up to and including the 22nd day of May 1923, at 1:30 P. M., for the furnishing of all materials and doing all work necessary and required in the construction of a High School Building, to be located at Kewaskum, Wis., according to the accompanying plans, elevations and details drawings as furnished by the architects and superintendents, Robert A. Messmer & Brothel, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The following branches of work are to be figured:—

Excavation, Concrete, Cement and Mason Work, Cut Stone Work, Lathing and Plastering Work; Steel and Cast Iron Work; Carpenter and Joiner's Work; Terrazzo, Marble & Slate Work; Galvanized Iron and Tin Work; Painting Work; Electrical Work; Temperature Regulation; and Heating Work.

The successful bidders will be required to furnish a Surety Company bond in a sum not less than the total contract price. The form of bond will be such as the Board of Education may approve and determine.

Separate and General Proposals will be accepted.

No bid or proposal will be considered from any person, concern or otherwise, which is not operating under the so called Compensation Law of the State of Wisconsin.

The successful bidder will be required to carry and pay for all insurance required in this contract, upon the work and building, and likewise carry and pay for such Liability Insurance as is required and approved by the Industrial Commission of Wisconsin, and such additional Liability Insurance as in the opinion of the Board of Education will fully and completely protect it from any and all nature of liability by reason of said work and contract.

Plans and specifications for said work will be on file at the office of Robert A. Messmer & Bro., architects and superintendents 1005-Majestic Bldg., and the Builders and Traders Exchange, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Each bid and proposal must be accompanied by cash or a certified check in the sum of 5 per cent of the total bid, and each bidder in so presenting with his bid and proposal such cash or check, does so upon the express understanding that if his bid and proposal be accepted, he will, upon notice from the said Board of Education, forthwith execute contract and bond thereto attached and in this notice herein before described; and in the event of his failure to do so, that the sum of 5 per cent is then to be forfeited and becomes the property of said Board of Education and by it retained as damages for such break and failure.

Bids and proposals will be sealed and addressed to "Board of Education, City of Kewaskum", and there shall appear upon the envelope of each bid and proposal the name and address of the bidder.

The Board of Education reserves the right to reject any and all bids, or form any combination of bids which they may see fit.

Dated this 23rd day of April, A. D. 1923.

Board of Education,

E. L. Morgenroth, Director,
L. D. Geth, Clerk,
A. W. Koch, Treasurer.

SPRAY THE ORCHARD NOW

According to a telegram from the Horticultural department of the State University, received Monday morning by County Agent, Milton H. Button, the first orchard spray should be applied now. For best results the spray should be made of the following materials: 1 gal. liquid lime sulphur, 1 1/2 pounds arsenate of lead to 50 gallons water. Now is the time to spray just when the blossom buds are coming pink. Great care should be taken never to spray when the orchard is in full bloom as that is destructive to the bees.

Ball League Falls Through

Hartford will be given independent base ball this season. An attempt was made to form a league to play all home players, with Hartford, Horicon, Mayville, Fox Lake, Beaver Dam and Juneau as Theresa as the circuit, but no agreement as to all home players could be made so the matter has fallen through.—Hartford Press.

"They Danced Only One Dance"

It all happened at the country club.

She was simply wonderful and he just had to meet her.

At last he secured the dance upon which the entire evening had been centering itself.

It proved both his first and last dance with her.

Of course, he asked her again, but she pleaded she was very, very tired. Quite naturally he suspected some other reason.

The above paragraphs and heading are quoted from an advertisement running in national periodicals.

The reason the young woman turned the young man down when he asked her to dance again was because the young man suffered from halitosis or rather the young woman suffered because she had to endure the young man's halitosis.

We are not going to say here what halitosis is.

Why not keep the word in your mind and get a little amusement by asking your friends if they know what halitosis means?

You might find the word somewhere in the advertisements appearing in this newspaper today. Look for it.

There is always amusement or profit in reading advertisements.
