Appeals to About Thirty Executives to Co-operate With Federal Agents in Prohibition Prosecutions-Daugherty and Haynes Speak.

Washington. - President Coolidge told the governors of thirty-odd states at the White House that it is as much their duty to enforce the prohibition law as it is the federal government's. He told them that the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law confer joint responsibility upon state and

Enforcement of the prohibitory laws, the President declared, "is not a political question, and cannot be made a political question."

Every line of the President's brief speech to the governors whom he had in Washington. Perez, who is fortyinvited to the White House stressed the fact that law enforcement is not the Library of Congress and is said the peculiar function of the federal to be an authority on business and government, but of the states, counties and municipalities-and it is to the communities in the long run, he said, that "a law-abiding people" must look for protection against the lawless elements who smuggle booze, narcotics and aliens who have no right to enter the United States.

RHINE REBELS FIGHT POLICE

Separatists Fall Before Onslaught in Aix-la-Chapelle, Paris Hears.

SEVERAL PERSONS ARE SLAIN

Berlin Masses 60,000 Men to Fight Bavaria-Chancellor Stresemann Acts to Halt Split of Germany by Reds.

Paris.—There were violent incidents in Aix-la-Chapelle Monday night, says a dispatch to Le Matin. The police decided to oppose the separatists and tried to tear down the Rhineland colors from public buildings. A squadron of Belgian cavalry turned out ready to intervene if necessary. Later the police fired on a group of Republicans, who replied. Several persons were killed.

Berlin.-Chancellor Stresemann has made his decision regarding Bavaria. America. Following the administration of the oath of allegiance to Bavarla to the 20,000 reichswehr troops there and the message from Gen. von Lossow to all military radio stations in northern Germany stating that Bavarla is fighting for the German national liberty against the Marxism of the Berlin government, all available reichswehr troops are being rushed into Saxony.

Ostensibly this concentration is against the armed communist bands of Saxony. But it is learned from a source close to Reichswehr Minister Gessler that eighty trains bearing troops and their provisions had been dispatched from Silesia, Wurtemburg, Mecklenburg, and Pomerania during the day and that a total of from 50,-000 to 60,000 reichswehr will be encamped in Saxony soon.

Herr Zeigner, Saxony's prime minister, made it clear to the Socialist leaders in Berlin that the troop concentrations are not against the Saxon government and that his differences with General Mueller, military governor of Saxony, are pushed aside while the whole attention of the reichswehr commander is concentrated on the Bavarian difficulty.

SECRETS OF HEALTH

Headaches are in the majority of cases, caused from Eye Strain. Normal eyes use 15 per cent of the vital energy generated by the human system - Strained eyes must use more. Daily they rob some other vital organ of its share—but not without protest—for head aches and "symptoms" are but nature's warning of abuse. LOOK WELL TO YOUR EYES.

History of the Electric Light

Smithsonian Institution Issues Pamphlet Reviewing the Earliest Experiments.

Washington.-"History of Electric Light" is the title of a pamphlet issued by the Smithsonian Institution dealing with a subject of almost universal interest. Many of the inventions described in it are now exhibited in the United States National museum in the divisions of mineral and mechanical

At the present time there are about 350,000,000 incandescent and about 200,000 magnetic arc lamps in use in the United States alone, and about an equal number of incandescent lamps in use in foreign countries. Volta discovered that electricity could be generated by chemical means and in 1799 made a pile of silver and zinc disks with cloths wet with sult water between them.

The first use of electricity as an Illuminant was made two years later by Sir Humphry Davy, who demonstrated that electric current can heat carbon and strips of metal to incandescence and give light.

Merely touching on the ourstanding features of this peroid, described in detail in the pamphlet, there may be mentioned the discovery of the principle of the dynamo, by Sir Michael Farady; the demonstration of an experimental incandescent lamp, in which a platinum wire was made incandescent, by Sir William Robert Grove; the first patent on an incandescent lamp, in which powdered charcoal operated in an exhausted glass globe, obtained by Frederick de Molyns; the first commercial installation of an electric light made Jablochkoff.

Damage Crops and Trees.

Those who travel through Kunsas on railroad trains or by motor car and are watching during the early morning or just about sundown can see the rabbits playing about in alfalfa fields or pasture lands. The rabbits may be seen literally by the thousands any evening or any morning. They do inestimable damage to young crops and to trees.

It is estimated by officials that the average jack rabbit will do damage exceeding one dollar every year by in an English lighthouse in 1862; the girdling trees, particularly fruit trees invention of the "self-excited" dynamo, and by cutting the roots of alfalfa and by Sir Charles Wheatstone, and the cutting the young corn and sorghum invention of the "electric candle," an plants. Higher Bounty Brings Results.

The state does not pay any bounty for the killing of the jack rabbits, This bounty is paid entirely by the counties and it is a matter of local option whether or not the county pays the bounty. But every county where the rabbits have been particuarly bad pays the bounty and the cople are glad to pay it from the taxes in order to keep down the number of rabbits and the damage they do to growing crops and trees.

In some counties the question has peen submitted to a vote of the people and has always carried. The bounties frequently can up to four and five thousand dollars a year to the counties, and it will likely run considerably higher now with the bounty doubled. The amount was raised from 5 to 10 cents a head last April and all the cour es showed heavy increases in the numbers of rabbits killed every month, Some countles ran 50 per cent a month more bountles since the new law went into eflect than before.

Men and boys devote a good deal of time to hunting jack rabbits during the fall and winter and the spring

For years Kansas had a fight with the prairie dogs, but they were finally driven away or killed off. The dogs were killed with poisons put in their burrows. But the jack rabbit has no burrow and has never been known to eat poisoned foods. During extreme weather the rabbits will come into feed lots and eat corn or other feeds given to cattle, sheep or hogs, but no one has devised a scheme for poisoning grains to prevent the jack rabbit detecting it and avoiding the poisoned

As the seedhed is often the source of infection, the truck farmer will find it profitable to take the greatest pains to insure healthy plants. Locate the seedbed on new ground if possible, though he was offered 20 cents a pound advises the department. Crop rotation, avoiding crops which belong to the cabbage family, will help and is worth while, regardless of whether or not It is necessary to control plant maladies. A good rotation system will starve out many fungous diseases that may exist and will help control many weeds, particularly wild mustard and its relatives, which harbor cabbage

Good Silage Serves as

Substitute for Pasture Feeding trials at the Kansas agricultural experiment statios at Manhattan indicate that the sile is a moneymaker wherever eight head of cows are milked. Good silast serves as a substitute for pasture during fall, winter and early spring. Silage can be profitably fed to dairy cows in Kansas nine months of the year

There is a prevalent idea among armers that it does no pay to put a good corn crop in the glo. As a mator of fact, the better the corn yield the better will be the silage and the greater the amount of foliage which may be fully utilized.

Two Plants Practically

How a Single Industry Spreads Prosperity

A most significant fact about an industry is the large number of people who benefit from it.

Take the cement industry, as an ex-

The mills used 9,000,000 tons of coal last year. This meant 9,000 coal miners steadily employed—their families, numbering not less than 25,000, maintained -and along with them tradesmen and other people enough to supply the needs of a town of over 50,000.

That is, of course, saying nothing of the business created for coal operators and transportation lines.

Sacks are not so large an item in the cement industry as coal, yet 50,000,000 new sacks, representing 50,000 bales of cotton, had to be bought last year for replacements alone. Back of this were cotton planters, plantation workers, mill owners, mill operatives and so on-thousands al-

And consider these other requirements of the industry last year:

3,700,000 barrels of fuel oil 3,400,000,000 cubic feet of gas 15,000,000 pounds of explosives 32,000,000 pounds of greases and oils 1,700,000 linear feet of belting 4,500,000 firebrick for relining kilns

7,000,000 pounds of paper for bags 600,000 tons of gypsum In addition the industry bought quantities of heavy grinding and burning machinery, locomotives, cars, rails, electrical and other necessary equipment. In this way a single industry spreads prosperity to many others.

Railway Terms Defined

STATEMENTS OF RAILWAY OPERATIONS are often misunderstood and frequently misquoted on the public platform and in published articles. The following information is given to assist in securing a clearer understanding of the terms employed in stating the results of railway operations:

RAILWAY OPERATING REVENUE: This consists of all revenue received by the railway for transportation services, including freight, passenger, mail, express and other allied services. This also includes revenue arising from storage, demurrage and other activities incident to the performance of transportation, in fact, all revenue growing out of the transportation activities of a railway.

RAILWAY OPERATING EXPENSES are those expenses incurred in connection with the performance of transportation services, including maintenance of fixed property, locomotives and cars, together with the expenses of wages, fuel, material and supplies necessary for the movement of traffic, but not including taxes or payments for the use of other companies' equipment and property used jointly.

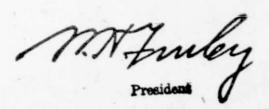

NET REVENUE FROMRAILWAY OPERATION is the railway operating revenue, defined above, less the sailway operating expenses.

NET RAILWAY OPERATING INCOME is the net revenue from railway operation less taxes, uncollectible revenue, payments for use of other companies' equipment and facilities used jointly. This is the amount which the railway company realizes from its transportation activities, and is available for the payment of rentals of leased lines and interest on indebtedness; the remainder, if any, may be carried to surplus or applied to dividends.

REASONABLE RETURNS: The Transportation Act requires the Interstate Commerce Commission to ascertain the value of railway property and name a reasonable rate of return upon the same. This rate they have fixed at 51/4 per cent. A railroad, whose value has been ascertained by the Commission to be 100 million dollars, and whose "net railway operating income" is 534 million dollars annually, is receiving the ressorable return of 514 per cent upon its property, as fixed by the Commission.

The net revenue from railway operation should not be confused with net railway operating income. The necessity of this is apparent when it is realized that the net revenue from the railway operation of all Class I railways in the United States in the year 1922 was $1,144,051,185, while the net railway operating income was but $751.315.517, a difference of $385.105,668.

All the refronds in the United States are required by law to make reports under jouth of their activities to the Interstate Commerce Commission, using the terms above which are prescribed by that Commission. These reports are on file in the Commission's offices at Washington, and are available to the public.

ia Fassbender, the 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Fassben. der, is suffering from a rather peculiar accident. She was returning with her parents from a visit near Beaver Dam late last Thursday night and had ell asleep on the way. As they neared the Schwantes farm west of the city Miss Fassbender seemingly dreamed that the car was on fire, and calling out, "The car is on fire," opened the door of the sedan and jumped out. Her father, who was driving stopped the car as quickly as possible but could find no fire. When his with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. daughter Bernice.
