

Rich Junk Man Hard to Locate

Eli Joseph of New York Has Personal Property Valued at $3,000,000.

New York.—Eli Joseph, the junk dealer, who is listed by the assessors as the man who owns more personal property than anyone else in New York, is the hardest man in the world to trace. Possessed of $3,000,000 of pictures, jewelry and other belongings—two millions more than John D. Rockefeller can boast—Eli Joseph is not to be found through telephone book, city directory or classified business list.

In fact, the New Yorker who has more personal belongings than anyone else of all the city's millions does not even live here. For two years he has been traveling through Europe. At present he is in Paris, where he went to consult medical specialists.

Picked out—his attorney says "picked out"—by the board of assessors as the man who will be taxed highest next year for his personal possessions, Eli Joseph is practically unknown to the rank and file of his fellow citizens. His name appears twice in the telephone book. But the house on Madison avenue has been "temporarily disconnected" and the Plaza hotel informs you that "Mr. Joseph gave up his suite here about two years ago." In the business directory his name does not appear at all. You begin to think him a myth until, by roundabout means, you discover that he has a business address at the Woolworth building. You call up this address. And you don't get an answer.

Appraisal Held Ridiculous.

Determined to run down the mystery of the $3,000,000 invisible, you go out to the Woolworth building and look under "J" on the directory. "Jessup" is the nearest you get to Joseph. You ask the elevator man. "Oh, yes, Mr. Eli Joseph had an office here which he gave up perhaps five or seven years ago."

Well, for mercy sakes, you protest frantically, a man with a million dollars' worth of personal property must live somewhere. He must have business representatives. A lawyer—

So at last your path ends before the door of Norman Kernwood's office in the Woolworth tower. And here you learn that far from being flattered at the thought of his selection as the richest personal property owner in New York City, Eli Joseph does not like the idea at all. His attorney, in fact, says it is both "ridiculous and outrageous" to appraise the Joseph effects at $3,000,000.

This, however, is a matter between the attorney and the assessor. The thing of immediate importance is that not only does Eli Joseph exist, but he has actually been seen by human eye in and around New York.

Business Inherited From Father.

It is dramatic enough to call him a junk dealer. The thought of a junk dealer possessing $3,000,000 worth of personal effects strikes the imagination a two-folded rap. It is true. Mr. Joseph was a junk dealer—inherited the business and some millions of dollars from his father. During the war he sold scrap iron and steel to Italy, reaping millions more. And if a man who buys up all the scrapped rails of a railroad system at one lick is a junk man—then Eli Joseph is it.

For the rest, he is a splendidly-built man of forty-six, with black hair and black eyes and small, dark moustache. His shoulders are broad; his height about five feet eight inches. His manner is affable; his clothes fashionable, but not fussy; and his birthplace was Cincinnati.

How—and it is the natural question—does a man who comes from sorting scrap iron find such an interest in art? The world by now knows that most of the $3,000,000 appraisal by the assessors is on a stupendous collection of paintings by old masters, now stored in the Madison avenue house.

May Use Plane in Mine Rescue Work

Washington.—The adaptability of airplanes as aids to mine rescue work is being tested by the Department of the Interior near Birmingham, Ala., where a landing field has been located, and trial flights of ships are being made carrying trained men of the bureau of mines equipped with oxygen breathing apparatus to help in imaginary mine disasters. Other fields are to be located at mining towns within reasonable flying range of Birmingham, the mine rescue station. The bureau maintains ten railway cars and seven auto trucks equipped for mine rescue purposes, but it often requires considerable time to send these mobile units to remote mining camps where they are needed in emergencies.

These include pictures from the brush of Corregio, Veronese and Cortez.

The exact truth knocks a bit of the drama out of the situation. Mr. Joseph inherited an artistic taste with the million or so which he inherited from his father—and he cultivated that taste at Harvard. He speaks, by the way, five languages.

During the war, Joseph served on the scrap iron and steel committee of the war industry board; he was knighted by the king of Italy for the despatch with which he shipped steel and he equipped, at a cost to himself of $100,000, some 2,000 volunteer firemen to take the place of the regular men who joined the army.

"Gaseous Ores" Taken From Air

Many New Kinds Being Used for Commercial Purposes; $30,000,000 in Plants.

Chicago.—Mining the air is a picturesque term that has been applied to the extraction of "gaseous ores" from the atmosphere. Strictly speaking, the air we breathe is a mechanical mixture of a number of gases, and it is because these gases are mixed mechanically and not combined chemically that it is practicable to separate or extract them commercially in order that they can be utilized for different purposes.

The elementary gases in the atmosphere are eight in number, so far as present knowledge discloses. They are found in the following proportions: Nitrogen, 78 per cent; oxygen, 21 per cent, and the remaining 1 per cent, by volume, consists of argon, neon, krypton, xenon, hydrogen and helium.

Air Products Industry New.

The air-products industry, which is concerned commercially with the extraction of the gaseous ores of the atmosphere, is a relatively new comer in our busy life. Its development followed the perfecting of apparatus for compressing and refrigerating air to a liquid state. After the air is liquefied, the various elements composing it may be separated from one another, because each has its own evaporation point.

Perhaps 99 per cent of the oxygen recovered from the air is now used in welding and in cutting by means of the oxyacetylene torch. Because of the intense heat generated in burning these gases together—that is, a temperature of 6,332 degrees, Fahrenheit, steel and iron can be cut or welded readily and quickly.

Nitrogen and argon have come into

DEMOCRATIC LEADER

George Brennan, leader of the Illinois Democrats and a power in national politics, had a long conference with Woodrow Wilson and the air was soon full of rumors that the former president was ready to take an active part in the coming presidential campaign.

Foreign Signs Forbidden.

Constantinople.—Foreign shops have been ordered to remove their French and English signs, and to replace them with signs in the Turkish language. The report that foreign newspapers will be suspended is not correct.

The Kitchen Cabinet

I find the earth not gray but rosy,
Heaven not grim, but fair of hue,
Do I stoop? I pluck a posy,
Do I stand and stare? All's blue.
—R. Browning.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS

The game season is upon us with all kinds of fish, fowl and toad to add variety to the meat diet.

Pot Roasted Rabbit.

Dress and clean two rabbits and disjoint the pieces ready for serving. Cover with cold water to which a tablespoonful of salt and one of vinegar stand several hours. Drain, wipe dry and roll in seasoned flour. If the rabbits are at all tough parboil before rolling in the flour. Put into a deep iron kettle with an iron cover, add a slice of pork fat and try out the fat, cook slowly, tightly covered. If the rabbit becomes dry add a tablespoonful of water occasionally, just to keep from burning. Chicken, duck, or in fact any fowl or game cooked in this way, is tender, well flavored and delicious.

O'Brien Potatoes.

Fry three cupfuls of cubed potatoes in deep fat, drain and sprinkle with salt. Cook one slice of onion in one-half tablespoonful of butter three minutes, remove the onion, add three canned plantainettes finely minced. When well heated add the potatoes, stir until well mixed, turn into a serving dish and sprinkle with chopped parsley.

Stewed Chicken With Oyster Sauce.

Wash a pint of oysters, using one-fourth of a cupful of cold water. Reserve the liquor; heat, strain, add the oysters and cook until they are plump. Remove the oysters and make a sauce of one-fourth of a cupful of butter, one-fourth cupful of flour, the oyster liquor and one cupful of the chicken stock. Bring to the boiling point, add the oysters, season well and serve hot at once with the stewed chicken.

Clear Mushroom Soup.

Brush one-half pound of mushrooms, finely chop the stems and break the caps into small pieces. Add three pints of consommé; bring gradually to the simmering point and simmer for thirty minutes. Cool and clear with one white and the shells of two eggs. Just before serving add a tablespoonful of pineapple juice or any good flavored fruit juice.

What we do belongs to what we are; and what we are is what becomes of us.—Van Dyke.

EVERYDAY GOOD THINGS

With a little cold leftover chicken, one may have a most tasty dish, try:

Chicken Hollandaise.

Cook two tablespoonfuls of butter and one teaspoonful of finely-chopped onion five minutes. Cool and clear with one white and the shells of two eggs. Just before serving add a tablespoonful of pineapple juice or any good flavored fruit juice.

Neon Rare Gas of the Air.

Recently, it has been suggested that nitrogen be used in the canning industry to displace oxygen from the container at the time of sealing. Nitrogen, because of its inertness, does not injure compounds or combinations, and it is believed by some experimenters the nitrogen would, therefore, keep the foodstuffs fresher than would be the case if oxygen were present.

Neon is one of the rare gases of the air. It requires 35,000 volumes of air to extract one volume of neon. It has recently been extracted industrially as an electric current indicator because of its acute sensibility to electricity. In the presence of an electric current it grows a deep orange color and, inclosed in a small glass tube, it is used to indicate if spark plugs of the cylinders of gasoline engines are functioning properly.

By placing the tube against the spark plug while the engine is running it immediately registers the condition of the plug whose circuit has been interrupted. It also has an application in incandescent lamps used as signs. The filament of the lamp, in this case, is fashioned into a letter or a word and is made of a special composition steel. It gives off a deep orange glow and, of course, any number of words may be arranged.

Helium Not Inflammable.

Helium, another of the rare gases, is recovered more economically from natural gas, as it is found in some parts of the country, particularly near Fort Worth, Tex. The air service of both the army and navy are interested especially in the gas for inflating dirigibles.

Helium has the highly important quality of being noninflammable, and in this respect differs from hydrogen, which is highly inflammable, and burns with explosive intensity, forming water vapor with the oxygen of the air. While helium is four times as heavy as hydrogen, it is only one-fourth as heavy as oxygen, and two-sevenths as heavy as nitrogen, so that a balloon inflated with it ascends readily.

A sum of $30,000,000 is invested, probably in plants in the United States alone which are engaged in the manufacture of air products to be used directly for the industrial purposes. The annual gross sales of these companies amount to approximately $14,000,000.

Waukegan, Ill.—John Smith tipped into the house recently so he would not awaken the family and without turning on the light started to undress but was interrupted. He was fined $5 by Police Magistrate Walter Taylor when it was disclosed he had entered the home of Charles Harris by mistake.

Woman Dons Khaki to Make Fortune in Oil

Tulsa, Okla.—Mrs. Charles Murray of Tulsa is the first member of her sex to be listed at convention headquarters in the column of "producers and distributors," registered at the International Petroleum congress here recently.

The story of her oil operations covers only the period of the past eighteen months, but it is the story of fifteen producing wells in four fields, in all of which Mrs. Murray, the mother of a ten-year-old girl, acted as scout, geologist, financier and drilling superintendent.

Something over a year and a half ago, a group of New York bankers shook their heads over an oil proposition advanced by Mrs. Murray. Undaunted, she moved to Oklahoma, donned khaki, and began her scouting in the Bristow field.

She obtained a lease, supervised the construction of a derrick, began drilling and in less than sixty days brought in her first strike—a 2,000-barrel well in the Bristow pool.

Copper Ore Is Located in Alaska.

Anchorage, Alaska.—Valuable finds of copper ore have been located in the Kaswitna section, 40 miles from the Alaska railroad in the interior. It is reported here. A pack trail to the district has been opened.

Too Much of a Good Thing.

"Most divorces are caused by a very common mistake." "What is it?" "Many a man in love only with a dimple or a curl makes the mistake of marrying the whole girl."—Harper's Magazine.

THE SANDWICH FAMILY

The Sandwich Sisters were talking. "Of course," said Sandwich Sister One, "we come from a good old family."

"Not too old, though," said Sandwich Sister Two.

"No, no," said Sandwich Sister One. "I don't really mean about our age the way you thought I mean it."

"To be sure we're not as fresh as some of our relatives are. I do not mean that in a slangy fashion, either. Some of our relatives are eaten when they're quite warm, but we're always saved a day as we cut better when made into sandwiches then."

"True," agreed Sandwich Sister Two.

"Yes, some slices of bread are eaten when they're fresh indeed, but, as I said before, that isn't the way with us. But when I spoke at first of having come from a good old family I meant that bread has always been thought well of and has had the pleasure of a good reputation for many and many a year."

"Bread has been called the staff of life, and of course that means that we almost support life and lives and so forth and so on. Bread has been considered so necessary, so useful, so important. And while we're the Sandwich Sisters, still we belong to the Bread Family. Sometimes, as is the way with many worthy and noble things we become a little bit dull but then a jar of jam alongside or a dish of jelly puts us back on the same friendly footing with people."

"You speak strangely," said Sandwich Sister Two, "for how can we be on the same footing with people when we have no feet? That is impossible."

"Oh, I just said that as an expression," said Sandwich Sister One. "When one speaks of being on the same friendly footing with people it doesn't mean that everyone is standing about on their feet, you know. It means that everyone is feeling at ease with one another and happy and comfortable and so forth."

"Oh yes, oh yes," said Sandwich Sister Two.

"Well, there are a good many of us," said Sandwich Sister One.

Quite a Plateful.

"We're quite a plate-full as you might say."

"Yes, I might say that," said Sandwich Sister Two, "and it would be quite correct. There are certainly lots of us here, but I don't believe there'll be many of us left."

"I am sure there won't be any of us left," said Sandwich Sister One. "They're expecting that even more than all of us will be eaten. There are ever and ever so many more out in the kitchen waiting to be put on the plate as soon as it is emptied."

"And they're all being taken such care of out there—having cold cloths put on their heads so they won't get too warm with excitement!"

"Of course I suppose one reason is that the people don't want the sandwiches to dry up but I like to think that it is because they want to pay them so much attention."

"But oh my, what a friendly family we are! Here we are, friendly Sandwich Sisters and there are so many more of us, and there is Friend Lettuce here with us—and we're just as cozy, all of us together!"

"Our family has always been famous for being friendly. We have ever so many different friends. There is Peanut Butter, a great friend of the family's, and there have been lots of excellent friendships between the Tomatoes and ourselves for years."

"Then the Jelly and Jam families have been very sweet on us, and there are the Chicken slices we've been so friendly with as a family. Cheese has been a family friend, and so has Turkey—oh, a Turkey Sandwich is something very superior, I can tell you."

"Yes, we've had lots and lots of friends and we've always been companionable. We've never had quarrels. Just suppose sandwiches should start quarreling and you at your side of the sandwich, doing your part as you are now, should suddenly take it upon yourself to lose your temper and fly about in a rage. Well, there'd be no sandwich, that would be the result of that. We know that, so we each do our own part to make this sandwich, together with the work of Friend Lettuce. Yes, the Sandwich family is a friendly family and always has been!"

And the other Sandwich Sister agreed.

Retaliation.

"Mamma," said four-year-old Mabel, "I'm not going to invite you to my wedding when I get married."

"Why not, dear?" asked her mother.

"Because," replied the little miss, "you didn't invite me to yours."

Way to Get Even.

Mollie—If you don't stop teasing me I'll tell mother, and she'll tell father and he'll whip you.

Wally—Then I'll cry and grandmother will give me some candy, and I won't give you any.

126,000 Miles of Cloth for Cement Sacks

To keep cement moving from the mills to the many building jobs always under way, cement manufacturers require an astonishing quantity of sacks.

This year the industry has considerably more than 225,000,000 sacks. These represent enough cotton cloth to make a skirt for every woman and girl in the United States—126,000 miles of 30-inch fabric. Even a moderate sized mill which ships say 1,000,000 barrels a year must have 2,000,000 or so sacks.

When a customer returns a sack he gets credit for it, if it is usable or repairable. The convenient returnable sack means that each plant has to have large departments where men and women sew, sort, clean and count sacks continuously. This work alone costs the industry nearly $1,250,000 a year.

And cement manufacturers keep increasing their sack inventories so that they can ship promptly. Last year they purchased a total of more than 100,000,000 new cotton sacks. For replacements alone over 50,000,000 were needed; for increased supplies over 30,000,000. In addition over 18,000,000 paper bags were used representing 7,000,000 pounds of paper.

This problem of containers causes a large and steadily growing investment by the portland cement industry.

PORTLAND CEMENT ASSOCIATION 111 West Washington Street CHICAGO

A National Organization to Improve and Extend the Uses of Concrete

Albany	Denver	Kansas City	New York	San Francisco
Birmingham	Des Moines	Los Angeles	Parkburg	Seattle
Boston	Detroit	Memphis	Portland, Ore.	Vancouver, B. C.
Chicago	Helena	Minneapolis	Portland, Me.	Washington, D. C.
Dallas	Indianapolis	New Orleans	Salt Lake City

BUILD CAVES UNDER HOMES

Arabs Construct Underground Chambers in the Holy City of Nejeff—Refuge for Criminals.

Out in the Arabian desert, five days by caravan from Bagdad, stands the holy city of Nejeff, and in the whole of the town of almost 100,000 persons there is hardly a house with windows. Also, beneath many homes are immense caves, hewn out of the limestone that underlies the desert round about. Many of these caves are built one room below the other, some of the lower apartments being 100 feet below the street level.

These underground chambers are reached by winding stairways, also hewn from the rock. They were originally built to provide a refuge from the intense heat of midsummer, but in many instances they have now become a refuge for Arab criminals and robbers who dwell at Nejeff and prey on the caravans of Mecca pilgrims.

Nejeff itself is a great pilgrim city, and each year thousands of devotees from Persia and Turkestan make the journey to the holy Nejeff, bringing with them the salted and dried bodies of their dead for burial in sacred soil outside the city walls. Here a vast city of tombs has grown up—Detroit News.

Dodging the Issue. Two negroes, Sam and Rasmus, thought their boss was keeping them past quitting time, so they decided to buy a watch together. Sam was agreed upon to be the timekeeper; neither negro, however, would tell the time, but they were too good to let each other know this fact. The next afternoon Rasmus said to Sam: "Say, nigger, got time on it?"

Sam pulled out the watch and thrusting it into Rasmus' face, said: "Dere it am."

Rasmus looked at the watch doubtfully, scratched his head and said: "D—n if it ain't!"—Black and Blue Jay (Johns Hopkins).

Feed the Brute. "You can generally reach a man's heart through his stomach."

"Yes, or by feeding his vanity."

A man may not know when he is well off, but his wife can always tell him when he was well off.

"It Keeps Me Awake Nights"—

is the familiar confession of the tea and coffee drinker. The reason is that both tea and coffee contain caffeine—a drug which is the foe of night-time sleep and day-time energy.

Postum, the pure cereal beverage, is delicious and satisfying—and free from all the elements which so many users of coffee and tea find disturbing to nerves and digestion.

Postum contains no stimulant to keep you awake nights.

Sold by grocers everywhere!

Postum for Health

"There's a Reason"

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tin) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer the flavor brought out by boiling fully 20 minutes. The cost of either form is about one-half cent a cup.

Made by Postum Cereal Co., Inc., Bemis Creek, Mich.

Yeast Foam Millions prefer it

Begin today to learn the most useful of home arts—bread-making.

Send for free booklet "The Art of Baking Bread"

Northwestern Yeast Co. 1730 North Ashland Ave. Chicago, Ill.

But it's a fact. The American matting is made from sough grass, growing wild on the plains of Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Important to All Women Readers of This Paper

WHEN GIVE SICK BABY "CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP"

Best Laxative to Clean Liver of Babies or Child.

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

WOMEN CAN DYE ANY GARMENT, DRAPERY Dye or Tint Worn, Faded Things New for 15 Cents.

Don't wonder whether you can dye or tint successfully, because perfect home dyeing is guaranteed with "Diamond Dyes" even if you have never dyed before.

That's Easy. The friend (as hand strikes up a tune)—What's that out of? Dismal Musician—Tune!

Home-grown children do best if not reared under glass.

That's Easy. The friend (as hand strikes up a tune)—What's that out of? Dismal Musician—Tune!

Home-grown children do best if not reared under glass.

Plow in Fall to Reduce Leaf-Spot

Tomato Blight Can Be Controlled Covering Infected Vines With Soil.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture) Recent investigations by the bureau of plant industry, United States Department of Agriculture, indicate that tomato leaf-spot, or blight, which causes an average annual loss of approximately 250,000 tons of tomatoes in the Middle Atlantic and Middle Western states, can be largely controlled by thoroughly plowing under all dead tomato vines in the fall to prevent the overwintering of the fungus.

The tomato leaf-spot fungus, as shown by experiments, grows, fruits, and overwinters on various kinds of dead plant material, such as weeds, grasses, corn stalks, wheat stubble, and remains of other crops. It overwinters in greatest abundance on old tomato vines, however, as it starts on the live plants when there is little competition with other fungi and obtains a monopoly on this material. During the autumn and spring it thoroughly permeates the surface tissues of the old tomato vines lying partly or wholly on the surface of the soil, and in the summer produces innumerable fruiting bodies and spores. This food supply usually carries it well into the fall, by which time it spreads to other dead plant remains and hence lives over another winter. By means of this saprophytic existence on dead plant debris, it is able to live from year to year until it finds a favorable opportunity to attack another tomato crop.

Causes Death of Fungus. Covering the infected tomato vines with soil at the end of the picking season causes the death of the fungus before spring. The vines have to be thoroughly covered, however, to obtain this result, as those left partly or wholly exposed harbor the fungus. If the leaf-spot fungus could be completely prevented from living over even one winter there would be obviously no more leaf-spot. The more nearly this condition is approached, the less likelihood of an epidemic, for this fungus does not produce spores until summer and a small amount of it could hardly multiply enough under natural conditions to do much damage in the short period favorable for its distribution.

Plowing the vines thoroughly under in the fall in the preparation of the land for the succeeding crop will prevent an enormous amount of overwintering. This accompanied by clean culture and crop rotation should practically control this disease if generally practiced. The use of a rolling colter to cut the vines or of a curved rod to turn the ends into the bottom of the furrow as they are covered with soil may aid in the covering. Disking and plowing will not suffice unless all the parts are covered so deep that they will not be exposed.

Use of Early Plants. Owing to temperature limitations leaf-spot or blight does not usually appear in tomato fields in the Middle Atlantic and Middle Western states until June 15 to July 1. The use of very early plants is therefore a means of partially escaping it. This will not apply, however, to the main or late crop. Moreover, it will not aid much if leaf-spot develops in the seed-bed and is carried to the field on the plants, as this produces early epidemic conditions. The necessity of a clean seed bed is therefore apparent.

Food Is Essential in Production of Feathers. Food is just as essential in producing feathers as it is in producing eggs—don't stop feeding your hens when they molt and quit laying. L. E. Payne, Kansas station, says to continue to feed them a laying mash, as they need the nutrients that were formerly required to produce eggs for developing new feathers. After the completion of the molt discontinue the feeding of the dry mash and keep the hens on a dry ration until about January 1, when the mash should be resumed. Corn, wheat, barley, and kafir, either singly or in combination, would make a good fall feed.

Encourage Purchase of Bulls Co-Operatively. More than 900 additional live stock breeders' associations were formed with the assistance of agriculture extension workers in 1922, and 300 communities were encouraged to purchase bulls co-operatively, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture. Co-operatively owned improved breeding stock, co-operative buying and selling of feeds and stocks, and community adoption of sanitary measures in care of live stock are features of these organizations.

Consider Conditions in Selection of Best Breed. In selecting the variety of fowl that you prefer to raise, it is well to consider the conditions it will be subjected to. With the average backlotter, close confinement is necessary and his selection, therefore, if best results are to be secured, should be influenced by the effect such confinement will have upon the various varieties from which he desires to choose his flock.

Concrete Bee Cellar Will Pay for Itself

Illustration Shows Structure Built by Pennsylvanian.

The life of a bee is measured by its activities. In summer it is proverbially busy and its work soon wears it out. In the winter it must live slowly to live long.

The proper temperature for bees during the winter is from 53 to 55 degrees. If the temperature gets higher, the bees become more active from the heat; if the temperature becomes less, the bees must become active in order to generate heat, and hence consume more honey and die sooner.

Charles N. Green, retained as chief apary adviser for the Pennsylvania state board of agriculture, finds that bees wintered under proper conditions consume from three to five pounds of honey per winter as compared with 25 pounds or more for those wintered in summer stands. The attached photo shows a concrete bee cellar built by W. G. Lawer, Middletown, Pa. It is built of concrete and paid for itself in one year.

Concrete Bee Cellar.

In building a bee cellar, ventilation may be entirely omitted, but in case the cellar might ever be used for vegetable storage, ventilation should be provided, but stopped up when the bees are being wintered in it.

Selling Thin Chickens Never Proves Profitable

Since chickens that are to be marketed can be fattened for a fraction of a cent a pound, it does not pay to sell birds in the thin condition they are ordinarily in when they come off the range. Fattening or finishing, as it is sometimes called, not only increases the weight but improves the flavor, makes the meat more tender.

Tender beefsteaks always come from the cuts that are broiled with fat between the layers of lean and the same principle holds good with chicken meat. L. H. Schwartz of the poultry department at Purdue university says that theoretically the fat is distributed between the muscle fibers in a way similar to the marbling in roasts and steaks. In the roasting method of cooking poultry, the fat assists in shortening the time of cooking. He contrasts it with the lean bird which requires longer cooking and from which the water evaporates, leaving the bird in a dry and tough condition.

There is usually a good market for birds pen-fed in the fall for the holiday markets. Birds can stand the confinement in the fall. Pick out the ones that weigh around three or four pounds. They fatten readily.

Heavy Producing Dairy Cows Entitled to Feed. Would you milk a cow twice a day for nine months and feed and care for her a full 12 months for a wage of 4 cents per day? You would not, you say. Yet thousands are doing it because they don't know any better.

Careful bookkeeping has demonstrated that a cow producing 100 pounds of butterfat per annum, and no more, after the cost of her feed has been deducted, pays the owner just $14.97 per year for his labor of milking, cleaning the stable and feeding and watering the animal, allowing nothing for his investment, taxes and upkeep of fences.

A heavy-producing dairy animal will consume more feed than many small producers, and also they are entitled to better care, but the profit is so much greater that the investment pays. A good dairy animal, however, will not pay a profit unless it is properly developed and given the right kind of feed and plenty of it.

Boys' Club Work Is on Purely Business Basis. A third-year member of the boys' club in Arkansas some months ago sold ten of his pigs to younger club boys in his county. This young stockman, Paul Giles of Phillips county, Arkansas started in the live stock business through the winning of a money prize offered to the club boy in the county who grew the most corn on an acre of upland. When he received his money he determined to invest it in something that would give good returns. He decided to buy two pure bred pigs and learn how to feed and care for them as a part of his club work. As he acquired skill in his new work he added to his herd. He sold in 1922 according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture, over $200 worth of pigs, had 40 pigs in his own herd, and has the pleasure of seeing other club boys in his county start in pure bred hog raising by means of his stock.

Select Seed Corn From Strong Stalks in Field. Seed corn should be selected in the field from strong, vigorous stalks which show no sign of disease. The ears should be carefully dried under a shed and then stored in a dry, well ventilated room until next spring. At planting time, each ear should be carefully examined again for any sign of disease.

MARKETS

MILWAUKEE MARKETS.

Butter, Creamery tubs 50c, Extra fats 45@46c, Cheese, Am'can, full cream twins 24 @ 24 1/2c, Young Americas 25 @ 25 1/2c, Daisies 25 @ 25 1/2c, Longhorns 25 @ 25 1/2c, Brick 24 @ 24 1/2c, Limburger 25 @ 26c, Eggs, Fresh, current receipts 45 @ 46c, Seconds 24 @ 26c, Live Poultry, Fowls 13 @ 18c, Springers 15 @ 18c, Roosters 15 @ 18c, Turkeys, plump 34 @ 35c, Ducks 29 @ 32c, Geese 18 @ 19c, Grain, Corn, No. 2 white 51 @ 52, No. 2 yellow 52 @ 54, No. 2 mixed 51 @ 55, Oats, No. 3 white 42 @ 42 1/2, Rye, No. 2 59 @ 70, No. 3 56 @ 69, Barley, Choice to fancy 71 @ 73, Fair to good 59 @ 70, Light weight 54 @ 64, Feed 55 @ 60, Hay, No. 1 timothy 22.50 @ 23.00, No. 2 timothy 20.00 @ 21.00, No. 1 mixed 18.00 @ 20.00, No. 2 clover, mixed 16.00 @ 18.00, Rye straw 9.50 @ 10.00, Oats straw 9.25 @ 9.50, Hogs, Prime, heavy butchers 7.15 @ 7.40, Light butchers 6.75 @ 7.10, Fair to best, light 6.25 @ 6.55, Fair to best, mixed 6.50 @ 6.75, Cattle, Steers 3.50 @ 10.50, Heifers 3.00 @ 7.50, Cows 2.00 @ 6.50, Bulls 3.00 @ 6.00, Calves 8.50 @ 9.50

MINNEAPOLIS MARKETS.

Wheat—No. 1 northern 1.11 1/2 @ 1.17 1/2, Corn—No. 3 yellow .73 @ .80, Oats—No. 3 white .38 @ .38 1/2, Rye—No. 2 .64 @ .64 1/2, FOUR—TUES. NOV. 6, Barley, Flax—No. 1 2.37 1/2 @ 2.40 1/2, CHICAGO MARKETS.

Wheat—No. 2 hard 1.09 1/2 @ 1.11 1/2, Corn—No. 2 yellow .97 @ .98, No. 2 mixed .83 @ .84, Oats—No. 2 white .42 1/2 @ .43 1/2, No. 3 white .42 @ .43 1/2, Barley, Hogs—Heavy weights, $6.90 @ 7.50; medium weights, $7.00 @ 7.50; light weights, $6.50 @ 7.40; light hogs, $6.00 @ 6.70; packing sows, smooth, $6.20 @ 6.70; packing sows, rough, $6.20 @ 6.40; slaughter pigs, $5.25 @ 6.25.

A small amount of cash and merchandise was secured by burglars who entered the Goerlinger garage in Clintonville.

Fire destroyed the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Branson in Fredrick, resulting in a loss of several thousand dollars.

J. A. Peterson of Frederic, Wis., has succeeded E. C. Coombs as manager of the Midland Lumber Co. in Waupaca. Mr. Coombs will become a resident of Columbia.

Robert Harlow, Northwestern railway brakeman, lost a leg in the yards at Elroy when he jumped from an auto, which was crossing the tracks, slipped and fell in front of an engine.

During the four months that the new motor vehicle license law has been in effect, only approximately 3,000 vehicles have been licensed or re-registered, Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmerman announced.

The newly organized Rice Lake Rotary club is making a vigorous campaign to get the Western Union to put in a down town office. At present all of the telegraph business is handled from the Omaha station.

While cleaning a combustion pipe at the Hoskins-Moranville Paper company, burned his legs, arms and face. He poured water on ashes, which resulted in flames bursting forth.

Thirty-nine head of cattle were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the barn on the farm of K. C. Hansen near North Lake. Only three cows were saved. The fire, which was of undetermined origin, also destroyed the stored crops and much farm machinery. The fire had a good start before it was discovered. The loss has not been estimated.

Over nine hundred hunting licenses and eighty trapping licenses have been issued in Iron county up-to-date. With the opening of the deer season Nov. 13, it is expected that the number of hunting licenses will be greatly increased.

Large lumbering companies have connected operations in the forests of Sawyer and Price counties and the timber cut is expected to reach a gigantic total. Hundreds of men are either in the forests or are en route to be employed during the winter months.

Town boards have no authority to provide for paving for streets in unincorporated villages in such towns and then to assess the costs in whole or in part against abutting property, the attorney general's department advised the state highway commission.

Under the 1923 law requiring a statement by common law trustees reports must show income and disbursements and beneficial certificates sold in this state and elsewhere.

Robert M. Reiser, assistant attorney general, held in an opinion to Secretary of State Fred Zimmerman.

FROM GENERATION TO GENERATION

Mothers Advise Their Daughters to Rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Keep Them in Health

A Mother's Advice Prevents Operation

Corona, N. Y.—"I had a terrible pain in my left side and had to go to bed every so often. Doctors had told me I must be operated on, but I do not believe in the knife and would rather suffer than go through it. My mother also did not believe in it and she made me take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because it had helped her. It has also helped me for I am better and able to do all my work. I recommend your medicine and give you permission to use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. BUSCH, Jr., 11 S. Railroad Avenue, Corona, N. Y.

A Sickly Child

Mahoningtown, Pa.—"I would like to say a few words about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. About a year ago I thought it would be necessary for me to take my daughter out of school. She was losing weight, was nervous, and when she would come home from school she would drop into a chair and cry, and say, 'Mamma, I don't believe I can go to school another day!' I gave her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now she is a healthy, happy, hearty, strong girl and weighs 120 pounds. She has no difficulty in doing her 'gym' work, and she works at home every night and morning, too. I am a mother who can certainly praise your medicine, and if it will be of any benefit you may use this letter as a reference."—Mrs. GEORGE E. WHITACRE, 621 W. Madison Ave., Mahoningtown, Pa.

Every girl wants to be healthy and strong, and every mother wants her daughter to do well in school and to enjoy herself at all times.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for young girls just entering womanhood. Mothers may depend upon it. Remember it is prepared from roots and herbs, contains nothing that can injure, and tends to tone up and strengthen the organs concerned, so that they will work in a healthy and normal manner.

For nearly fifty years it has been used by women of all ages, and these women know its great value. Let it help your daughter and yourself.

Another Mrs. Partington. "Jefferson had something the matter with his eyes and he told such a long tale of woe about them that his friend became really alarmed. 'I say, old chap,' he exclaimed, 'You ought to see an optician.'"

Two persons may be able to live as cheaply as one after they are married—but not while engaged.

Children Cry for "Castoria"

A Harmless Substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups—No Narcotics!

Mother! Fletcher's Castoria has been in use for over 30 years to relieve babies and children of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and, by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving natural sleep without opiates. The genuine bears signature of Shackles of Gold. "I do not envy great riches," remarked Senator Sorghum. "Why not?" "In so many cases they give a man the nucleus of a magnificent campaign fund, and yet by their very presence prevent him from taking the benefit of it."—Washington Star.

Shave With Cuticura Soap. And double your razor efficiency as well as promote skin purity, skin comfort and skin health. No mug, no slimy soap, no germs, no waste, no irritation even when shaved twice daily. One soap for all uses—shaving, bathing and shampooing.—Advertisement.

Without Stabilizer. "Then all I have to say is that it was a mighty good shot," was the doctor's response, as he prepared to go to Bill.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A "Biting" Retort. "I like cheerfulness. I admire any one who sings at his work." "How you must love a mosquito." There are more of them.

INSIST ON BAYER ASPIRIN SAY "BAYER" when you buy—Genuine Proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians for Colds Headache Neuritis Lumbago Pain Toothache Neuralgia Rheumatism

Genuine Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions. Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets. Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocetocicacidate of Salicylic Acid

Two pleasant ways to relieve a cough. Take your choice and suit your taste. S-B or Menthol flavor. A sure relief for coughs, colds and hoarseness. Put one in your mouth at bedtime. Always keep a box on hand.

SMITH BROTHERS S.B. COUGH DROPS MENTHOL (average colored box) Famous since 1847

CONSTIPATION Take a good dose of Carter's Little Liver Pills—then take 2 or 3 for a few nights after. They cleanse your system of all waste matter and Regulate Your Bowels. Mild—as easy to take as sugar. Genuine Bear signature—Beverly Food. Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

The finest coffee the world produces is sold under the name of MONARCH. Ask your grocer. COFFEE. REID MURDOCH & CO. WARNING Our Monarch Coffee is NEVER sold in bulk.

SHINOLA AMERICA'S HOME SHOE POLISH. Black - Tan - White - Ox-Blood - Brown. SHINOLA preserves leather as paint preserves buildings. Shines in a hurry. Lamb's Wool Polish just fits the hand. Bring the brilliant Shineola shine with a few strokes.

Seasonable Merchandise

In All Lines at Popular Prices

Brushed Wool Sweater Coats
For Men and Women.
In plain and combination colors..... $4.50 to $7.50

Sport Sweaters
For Men and Boys, in brown, blue and green heather.
For Boys For Men
$1.00 to $5.00 $3.75 to $7.50

Single Trousers
For Men and Boys. Regular $3.00 to $3.50 values, per pair..... $2.69

Overcoat Special
All Wool Overcoats for Men and Young Men. Belt all around, brown mixture, sizes 34 to 44. Special sale price..... $17.85

Congoleum Rugs
The genuine, all firsts, all patterns. Size 9x12..... $14.95

Brushed Wool Scarfs
For Men and Women. Special values. New color combinations at..... $1.25, $1.50 to $3.50

Silk and Wool Crepes
Also Silk and Cotton Crepes, in fancy printed designs, for waists, etc., a yard..... $1.50 to $3.50

Rubber Boots
Goodrich Brand, black or red, guaranteed to give satisfaction, pair..... 4.20

SAVE ON GROCERIES—BUY THEM HERE

Unecda Biscuits, Oysterettes, Zu Zu Animals, a package.....	5c	Salvene Shredded Soap, 2 cans for.....	25c
Blue Rose Rice, 3 pounds for.....	25c	Nigger Hair Tobacco, Special, a pail.....	66c
Old Dutch Cleanser, 3 cans for.....	25c

The Poull Mercantile Co.

Store Open Saturday Evenings WEST BEND, WIS. Store Open Saturday Evenings

New Low Prices on Goodyear Tires

30x3 Fabric Tires, full size Pathfinder.....	$ 6.25
30x3 1/2 Fabric Tires, full size Pathfinder.....	7.15
30x3 A. W. or Ribbed Fabric.....	9.95
30x3 1/2 Wing Foot Fabric.....	8.85
30x3 1/2 A. W. Fabric.....	11.10

CORDS

30x3 1/2 Cord, full size Pathfinder Thread.....	$ 8.60
30x3 1/2 Wing Foot.....	10.65
30x3 1/2 A. W.....	12.05
32x3 1/2 Wing Foot.....	18.35
32x4 Wing Foot.....	20.75
33x4 Wing Foot.....	21.45
34x4 Wing Foot.....	22.00

REX GARAGE

A New General Motors Achievement

The public has long looked forward to the day when a six-cylinder automobile could be had in the low price field. Manufacturers, knowing that the six-cylinder principle is the most popular, have long aspired to produce a car to meet this insistent public demand.

The immense facilities and vast resources necessary for such a big task have made individual makers hesitate to attempt such a gigantic job as would be necessary to properly develop and finally produce, in volume, such an ideal car.

But the great General Motors Corporation, with its almost limitless resources in men and money, its big experimental and development engineering laboratories, its great purchasing power, and its many big manufacturing plants, has at last achieved what has long been recognized as the ideal car—a six at a low price.

The Olds Motor Works, the oldest manufacturer of motor vehicles on a commercial basis in the United States and one of the oldest Divisions of the General Motors group, was selected to produce this wonderful car. With its immense modern plant, and with a factory force long trained in the making of quality automobiles, the Olds Motor Works is the natural and logical choice.

Never before in automobile history in this country has such an important and far reaching announcement been made. Never before has the American public been able to buy, in the low price field, a six-cylinder car, with its smoothness of operation, its flexibility, its economy, its ease of handling and its low up-keep cost. Until now, six cylinders have meant relatively high initial cost. Now, in the Oldsmobile Six, all these things, plus Oldsmobile beauty and Oldsmobile quality, can be had at a price never before possible.

John F. Schaefer

Dealer in Oldsmobile Cars
Kewaskum, Wisconsin

DR. TURBIN

who has visited Fond du Lac for the past 30 years, will be again in Fond du Lac, Wis., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 23d at the PALMER HOTEL, office hours 9 a. m. to 6 p. m., and every 4th Friday thereafter.

I employ the best methods and treat successfully all forms of Chronic Diseases:

Stomach and Heart Troubles, Urinary, Kidney, Bladder and Skin Diseases, Blood Poison, Catarrh, Asthma, Rheumatism, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Gout, Fistula, Piles, Constipation.

LADIES! If you are suffering from per-sistent headache, Painful Menstruation, Uterine Displacements, Pains in the Back, and feel as if it were impossible for you to endure your troubles and still be obliged to attend to your household and social obligations. I will cure you if your case is curable.

If you cannot call, write
DOCTOR TURBIN
Commercial Nat'l Bank Bldg., MADISON, WIS.

BOLTONVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Belger and family spent Sunday at Kewaskum. Clifford Stautz left for Milwaukee Monday where he will be employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Grundeman spent Sunday with the Wm. Donath family.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frauenheip and daughter Elaine spent Sunday at Kewaskum.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Liepert of Milwaukee spent Sunday with the Otto Liepert family.

Mrs. J. Engelman of Beechwood is spending a few days with the Art. Engelman family.

Mrs. Melahn of Kewaskum is visiting some time here with her daughter, Mrs. Fred Belger.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Eisenbraut and children were visitors at the Otto Gessner home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Liepert and children spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Marshman.

Erwin Rhode and Loraine Marshman of Milwaukee called at the O. Marshman home Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Kinzy, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Eisenbraut and Elsie Bruesel were visitors at the Chas. Stautz home Sunday afternoon.

CEDAR LAWN

Ben Rosow spent last Sunday at Campbellton.

Joe Calhoun looked after business at Fond du Lac Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Gudex of Elm more visited here Wednesday.

William Majerus and Emmauel Scheid visited the town board at Ashford last Friday.

John Drahmel, the town highway overseer of Eden made a business trip here Monday.

Albt. and Minnie Kraemer of Fond du Lac visited at the home of P. A. Kraemer here last Sunday.

Mrs. Charles Schlueter, St. of Ashford is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Leo. Gudex this week.

BATAVIA

H. W. Leifer of West Allis spent Sunday with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Haag Jr., motor-ed to Milwaukee Sunday.

Dr. Hess of Adell was a professional caller in our burg Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Leifer called on Mr. and Mrs. George Schultz Sunday.

Mrs. Paulus of Random Lake visited a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Voigt.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lierman of St. Cloud spent Sunday with Mrs. Adolph Vogelsang.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meyer of Plymouth spent a day with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Haag.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Schultz and family will spend the winter months at Milwaukee.

Wm. Haag Jr., left for West Allis Monday where he is employed in one of the factories.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Hintz and Mrs. H. W. Leifer were business callers at Sheboygan Friday.

Misses Eunice and Mabel Laux of Milwaukee spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Laux.

The Ladies' Aid of the St. Stephan's congregation met at the home of Mrs. Herman Theis Thursday.

Rev. and Mrs. Heschke and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Eberhard spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Luis Haseck.

Mrs. Emma Schwenzen had the misfortune of falling down the cellar steps and injuring her leg quite badly.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krueger and daughter Mary and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Heronymus of Sheboygan spent Sunday at Helwig Brieske's.

Helen Baganz, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Kohl and Ben Present were married October 30, 1923 at Sheboygan. The young couple will make their home in Batavia. Congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Olen and song Bayfield and Randall of Valders and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Pautz and children Duward and Delores Dammies of Collins visited with the Rev. and Mrs. Heschke family Thursday.

The Rev. Engel returned Missionary and relief worker of the Lutheran church in Poland and Russia delivered an illustrated lecture Wednesday in the St. Stephan school house. The pictures that were shown showed the plight of the refugees coming back to their homes. The fields were covered with skeletons of dead soldiers. The trenches and barbed wire entanglements are untouched and peasants eat bread made of crushed bones and weeds mixed with blood. A collection was held for the poor. "A Cheerful Giver God Loves."

WEST WAYNE

Walter Entlerle spent the week-end at Milwaukee.

Norbert Dogs spent Friday evening with Wilbert Wiegand.

Miss Wilhelmine Dogs spent Tuesday with Mrs. W. Fritz.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Coulter spent last Tuesday at Fond du Lac.

Mrs. Wm. Dogs was a caller at Hubert Fritz's Thursday evening.

Miss Esther Coulter spent Thursday with the Dave Coulter family.

Mrs. Herman Luft spent Friday afternoon with Mrs. Hube r. f. it.

Wm. Dogs, Geo. Entlerle and John Hurth were West Bend callers Thursday.

Geo. and John Coulter spent Monday evening with the Dave Coulter family.

Wm. Albrecht spent from Friday evening till Sunday with his folks at Algoma.

Ralph Kermit and Lloyd Erdman visited Sunday afternoon with Norbert and Peter Dogs.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Krieser and daughter of Byron called Sunday on the Dave Coulter family.

E. Gritzmacher, W. Wiegand, W. Dogs visited Wednesday evening with Geo. Entlerle and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Schwartz and daughter of Lomira spent last Tuesday with the D. Coulter family.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Krieser and daughter of Byron spent Sunday afternoon with the Henry Foerster family.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mintner, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mintner and Arnold Mintner visited Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Fritz.

David Coulter and sons Dave and Milton and daughter Sylvia visited on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Schwartz and daughter near Lomira.

Mrs. R. McCullough and daughter, Marcella and Mrs. P. Darmody and daughter Agnes spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. J. P. Schmitt and Liz-zie Schmitt.

Mrs. John Coulter and son John visited last Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wellos. John returned the same day, while Mrs. Coulter remained for an indefinite stay.

WAYNE

Miss Nora Petri spent several days with her mother at Milwaukee.

Rudie Hoepner spent Sunday with his mother and sister at Theresa.

Miss Clara Thyrke is spending some time at Fond du Lac with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudie Kullmann were callers at Fond du Lac Saturday afternoon.

Quite a number from here attended the dance at Kohlsville Saturday evening.

Miss Nora Bruhn of Brownsville spent Sunday with Herman Bruhn and children.

Misses Linda Bruhn, Verna Spoel and Margery Struebning spent Sunday with Agnes A. Borchert.

Mrs. Jac Hawig, daughters Nora and Viola spent Sunday afternoon with the Wendel Petri family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Foerster and children and Wm. Foerster Sr., were Cream City callers Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gritzmacher and Mr. and Mrs. John Brown helped in celebrating Mrs. William Brookmann's birthday Sunday afternoon.

Walter Brown entertained a company of friends in honor of his 24th birthday Sunday. The evening was pleasantly spent in singing and dancing. At midnight a delicious lunch was served and the guests departed for their homes, wishing Walter many more such happy birthdays.

Worth Thinking Over.

Half the misery of human life might be extinguished, would men alleviate the general cause, they lie under by mutual offices of compassion, benevolence and humanity.—Addison Indorsed.

Says a writer: "It is hard luck to be too good to be appreciated." We have often felt this.—Boston Transcript

PICK'S

Men's New Overcoats and Suits

Our large selection of new overcoats and suits will please the most particular dresser. The quality you get for your money is the very best. Let us tell you of the advantages you have when you buy here.

Special Sale of Women's Dresses

Watch our windows for the unusual-values we will offer for Friday and Saturday.

Fresh Wholesome Food From Our Clean Grocery Department

Santos Blend Coffee, 2 pounds.....	55c
Premium Bitter Chocolate, 1/2 pound.....	18c
Dr. Price's Baking Powder, 1-pound can.....	19c
Seedless Raisins, 2 packages.....	29c
FOR SATURDAY ONLY
Chocolate Drops, 2 pounds for.....	35c
Nut Chocolate Bars, 3 for.....	10c

CLASSIFIED ADS

Our rates for this class of advertising are 5 cents a line, no charge less than 25c accepted. Count six words to the line. Cash or unexpired stamps must accompany order.

For Sale.

HOUSE FOR RENT—New eight room house on East Water street, Kewaskum, Wis. Inquire of Kilian Hon- eck, R. 2, Kewaskum, Wis.—Adver- tisement. 6 30 tf.

FOR SALE—Two good work horses 4 and 8 years old, also young cow, coming fresh in September. Inquire of Ernst Hoelt, R. 1, Cascade, Wis.— Advertisement. 8 4 20 p.

FOR SALE—Modern 6-room bunga- low, in village of Kewaskum. Hot and cold water and everything up-to-date. Inquire of Fancher Colvin, Kewaskum, Wis.—Advertisement. 11 10 3p.

FOR SALE—Self-feed hard coal stove in good condition. Inquire of Hubert Wittman, Kewaskum, Wis.— Advertisement.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—80 acre farm, located near St. Kilian. Inquire of Jos. Reindl, Campbellsport, Wis., R. D. 3.—Adver- tisement. 8 18 tf.

Lost

STRAYED—A black and white fe- male hound (Beagle) came to my place last Sunday. Owner can have same by calling on H. Domann, and paying for advertisement and care of same.—Advertisement. 10 27 3t.

STRAYED—Three heifers came to my place last week Thursday. Owner should call for them at once at Julius Glander's place, Beechwood, Wis.—Ad- vertisement.

LOST—Small black and brown Bea- gle female hound. Owner, please com- municate with J. W. Lowe, West Bend, Wis.—Advertisement.

Female Help Wanted

HELP WANTED.—Girl for house- work, family of two adults and chil- of four. Will have good home and all conveniences. Address: Kewaskum Statesman.—Advertisement. 11 10 tf.

Special Attention Given to Undertaking and Funerals

Dealer in all Kinds of Furniture

Picture Framing Done Promptly and Neatly

Local and Long Distance Phone

UNDERTAKER and EMBALMER (Lady Assistant)

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Edw. F. Miller

Kewaskum, Wis.

ANDREW J. KAPFER

FURNITURE - AND - UNDERTAKING

BARTON, WISCONSIN

Opp. Heare. Opposite Barton Bank. Lady Ass't

LUDEN'S

MENTHOL COUGH DROPS

for nose and throat

Give Quick Relief

Packing Pictures.

When packing pictures a piece of cork placed at the corners of the frames between each two will prevent them from rubbing and avoid break- age.

Subscribe for the Statesman now.

A Convenient Form of Saving

A CERTIFICATE OF DEPOSIT

Bearing 3% Interest if left three months

Farmers & Merchants State Bank

Kewaskum, Wisconsin

"The Bank of the People and for All the People"

THE NEW Ford SEDAN

THE motoring public has been emphatic in its approval of the new Ford Four Door Sedan. In all parts of the country its stylish appearance and inviting interior have brought the car in- stantly into great demand.

Now, at its reduced price, it presents a more compelling value than ever. Although better looking, roomier, easier riding, it is limited at forty dollars less.

$685.00 f. o. b. Detroit

This good-looking, comfortable, and dependable Ford selling at this low price offers an agreeable solution to your closed car problem.

These cars can be obtained through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan.

Kewaskum Motor Co.

Ford

CARS - TRUCKS - TRACTORS

"For Vision's Sake"

SECRETS OF HEALTH

Headaches are in the majority of cases, caused from Eye Strain. Normal eyes use 15 per cent of the vital energy generated by the human system—Strained eyes must use more. Daily they rob some other vital organ of its share—but not without protest—for head- aches and "symptoms" are but nature's warning of abuse. LOOK WELL TO YOUR EYES.

WM. LEISSING, Optometrist

211 Milwaukee St., Kewaskum, Wis.

HOMEOFFICE: 215 Park Street, Arcadia, Milwaukee

Don't Trifle With Your Eyes

A DOZEN GOOD REASONS WHY YOUR ENGINE Should be an International

- 1 It does all kinds of work cheaper and easier than can be done by hand.
- 2 It is backed by a Company that is in business to stay.
- 3 It is simple in construction and has few wearing parts.
- 4 It is a safe engine—fuel is pumped to mixer, excess is returned to fuel tank.
- 5 FOUR piston rings hold compression perfectly.
- 6 It is reliable—you can depend on it to do your work when you want it done.
- 7 A farmer—his wife or his boy can operate it with ease and safety.
- 8 It is economical—it cuts your fuel bills in half because it operates on KEROSENE.
- 9 The fly wheel keys are so protected that they cannot catch clothing.
- 10 Ignitor points are easy to get at—easy to adjust.
- 11 All working parts are readily accessible and all are thoroughly oiled.
- 12 It can be equipped with speed reducing gear for operating small machines—the small engines can be mounted on hand trucks, the large on horse trucks. Made in three sizes, 1 1/2, 3 and 5 Horse Power.

A. G. KOCH

KEWASKUM,

WISCONSIN

Kewaskum Opera House ALL NEXT WEEK

RETURN OF THE FAVORITES
WILLIAMS BIG COMEDY COMPANY

All New Shows and Vaudeville Acts
Admission Monday Night will be Free to Everyone

Come Early!

Doors Open at 7:30.

Show Starts at 8 P. M.

I've Read All The Morning News Editions Circulated in Wisconsin

Get the latest and best news of the state, national and world for the first edition, most accurate news, financial columns, market news and financial comment give me

The New Morning Edition of The Milwaukee Journal First Edition

F. J. Lambek, M. D.

EYE, EAR, NOSE and THROAT GLASSES FITTED

1000 MARSH WISCONSIN MILWAUKEE, WIS.

BOON MARSH WISCONSIN MILWAUKEE, WIS.

MILWAUKEE, WIS.

MATH. SCHLAEFER

OPTOMETRIST

Eyes Tested and Glasses Fitted Campbellsport, Wisconsin

KEWASKUM STATESMAN HARBECK & SCHAEFER, PUBLISHERS

Entered as second-class mail matter at the post office, Kewaskum, Wis.

SINGLE COPIES 5 CENTS

TERMS—$2.00 per year; $1.00 for six months. Advertising rates on Application.

TRAIN SCHEDULE GOING SOUTH

No. 108—Daily except Sunday	7:30 a. m.
No. 206—Daily	9:48 a. m.
No. 214—Daily	2:34 p. m.
No. 216—Daily except Sunday	8:22 p. m.
No. 220—Sunday only	7:55 p. m.
No. 244—Sunday only	11:19 p. m.
No. 210—Daily except Sunday	12:30 p. m.

GOING NORTH

No. 183—Daily	9:01 a. m.
No. 118—Daily except Sunday	12:30 p. m.
No. 388—Daily	6:12 p. m.
No. 305—Daily except Sunday	3:38 p. m.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

"Behold My Wife" at the movies Sunday, Nov. 18.

Albert Glander was a Milwaukee visitor Tuesday.

Rev. H. L. Barth was a Milwaukee visitor Thursday.

Harold Petri was a business caller at Milwaukee Tuesday.

Peter J. Haug spent Sunday with the Ed. Guth family at Adel.

Elmo Rosenheimer of Jackson visited Sunday with home folks.

Mrs. Louis Nordhaus and daughter spent Monday at West Bend.

N. W. Rosenheimer was a Milwaukee business caller Thursday.

C. E. Krahn spent several days this week with relatives at Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Koehler and daughter spent Sunday at Milwaukee.

"A Poor Married Man" at the Opera House tomorrow (Sunday) evening.

Miss Elsie Christiansen of Berlin spent Sunday with friends in the village.

John Van Blarcom Sr. of Milwaukee spent Sunday with his family here.

Miss Corena Schaefer spent Monday and Tuesday with relatives at Milwaukee.

Mrs. Edw. Clark visited with Milwaukee relatives from Wednesday until Friday.

Mrs. Joe Gilbert of West Bend spent Tuesday with the Herman Gilbert family.

Philip Brodzeller spent Saturday and Sunday with his brother Leo at Milwaukee.

Herbert Holz and sister Flora of Milwaukee spent Sunday with the L. D. Guth family.

B. H. Rosenheimer left Wednesday for several days' business trip in South Dakota.

Misses Margaret Schlosser and Ella Guth of Milwaukee spent Sunday with home folks.

Wait for the big show "Behold My Wife" at the Opera House Sunday evening, Nov. 18.

Miss Evelyn Haase of Plymouth spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Olive Haase here.

Dist. Atty. Henry P. Schmidt of West Bend was a pleasant village visitor last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gilbert and family were guests of relatives at West Bend Sunday.

Mrs. Jos. Eberle is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Flasch at St. Kilian.

Mrs. Thekla Kress of Milwaukee spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Schmidt and family.

Niel Schmidt of Fond du Lac spent several days of this week with relatives and friends here.

Wm. Knickel and wife of Milwaukee were guests of the A. A. Perschbacher family here Sunday.

Kilian Honeck, the Chevrolet dealer sold a touring car to John Warnick in the town of Barton, this week.

Sylvester Marx of Milwaukee spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Marx.

Mrs. Philip Meinhart of Milwaukee spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Wm. Krahn and son Charles.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Terlinden, a baby girl last Saturday. Congratulations to the happy parents.

Mrs. Wm. Krahn left Thursday for her home in Loyol after visiting two weeks with her daughters here.

Miss Mary Trudel of Milwaukee was the guest of the Misses Ida and Tina Fellenz Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Albert Glander and Miss Edith Clark visited relatives at Milwaukee from Tuesday until Friday.

Mrs. Leo Brauchle arrived here Thursday evening for a week-end visit with her husband, Dr. Leo Brauchle.

Sylvester Fellenz and Bernard Brodzeller were guests of the Bruno Wenzinger family at Allenton last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony P. Schaefer and daughter Pearl spent Sunday with the John Schmidt family at West Bend.

The Misses Florence Rosenheimer and Maude Hausmann of Beaver Dam spent Sunday and Monday with home folks.

Nie. Remmel and family and John Rodenkirch and family of Milwaukee spent Sunday at the Wm. Lawrence home.

Mrs. Sebastian Pfum and daughter Loretta spent several days the past week with relatives and friends at Milwaukee.

Mrs. Chas. Backhaus, son Ron and Misses Lareda Ramthun and Edna Wollensak spent Thursday at Milwaukee.

Mrs. Arnold Hanson of Barton spent Tuesday with her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Koerble and other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John Muehleis spent Saturday and Sunday at Milwaukee with friends who celebrated their golden wedding.

A bright little baby girl arrived to brighten the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kilian Honeck Wednesday, Nov. 7. Congratulations.

County Treasurer Kuhaupt, collected $766.72 interest money for the month of October from the different county depositories.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Diesterhaupt and son Ferdinand of Keosau visited with Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Colvin last Saturday and Sunday.

John Simon and sister Clara left Friday for Wesley, Iowa, where they intend to visit a month with their sister, Mrs. Ig. Eisenbacher.

Lenore Gutekunst of New Fane left for Jefferson, Wis., Wednesday where she is attending a state convention of Lutheran Teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. Math. Beisler of Milwaukee spent Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Math. Beisler Sr. and family here.

Messrs Joe and Henry Rhode and Mrs. Martha Rhode, F. Suckow of Plymouth spent Tuesday with Rev. Gutekunst and family at New Fane.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hofer of Lamont, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Meyer of Milwaukee spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Colvin.

Mrs. Otto Backhaus of Elmore and daughter, Mrs. Christian Backhaus and daughter, Lene spent from Saturday till Monday at Milwaukee.

Mrs. Harold Petri and son Louis left for Campbellsport Monday, where they will visit two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Petri and other relatives.

Main street at West Bend is now an arterial highway, all vehicles approaching the same must come to a full stop before entering the arterial.

Rev. J. C. Voeks and wife and Miss Manila Klessig of Palatine, Ill., and Miss Leona Klessig of Milwaukee spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Klessig.

A marriage license was issued this week to Miss Adela Dahlke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dahlke of here and Herbert Wilke of Milwaukee.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the English Methodist church of West Bend will hold a food sale and bazaar at the church, beginning at 3 o'clock, Thursday, Nov. 15.

The public schools in this village were closed on Thursday and Friday to enable the teachers to attend the teachers' convention held at the Auditorium, Milwaukee.

Rev. and Mrs. H. Heidel of here and Rev. and Mrs. Gutekunst of New Fane motored to Adel Thursday to attend the regular monthly conference of pastors of Sheboygan county.

Mrs. John Marx entertained the Bridge Club at her home Thursday evening. Honors were awarded to Mrs. Theo. Schmidt. Dainty refreshments were served after the playing.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Strube and family of Milwaukee and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Knickel and family of Campbellsport spent Sunday with Mrs. John W. Schaefer and other relatives here.

KILL A COLD QUICK—Take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea, steaming hot, at bedtime. Your cold will be broken up by morning. For sale at Otto B. Graf's Drug Store, Kewaskum—Advertisement.

Mrs. Florence Thoms, secretary of the local Red Cross of West Bend and Miss Eleanor Myers, Red Cross Field Representative of Chicago were in the village Tuesday in the interest of Red Cross work.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Schielus spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lorenz at Graf's. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Lorenz who spent a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Math. Beisler.

A marriage license was issued by County Clerk Kraemer at West Bend this week to Miss Hulda Quandt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Quandt of here and Elmer J. Schowalter of Jackson. The wedding takes place today Saturday.

On the committee for the Homecoming of the University of Wisconsin on October 27 were three students from this county, namely: Milton Kiesel, Hartford, decorations; Evelyn R. Bonniwell, Hartford, traffic; and Ed. C. Morgenroth, Kewaskum, information.

Geo. H. Martin, assistant postmaster of West Bend, was appointed acting postmaster to fulfill the vacancy caused by the death of Jos. Huber. Mr. Martin, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Martin of this village, will act in that capacity until a new postmaster has been appointed.

Stagnant, decaying matter in the stomach and bowels may cause serious trouble. Constipation under mines your health, decreases your resistance, impairs your vitality.—HOLLISTER'S ROCKY MOUNTAIN TEA will rid you of Constipation. As sure as you take it you will get pleasing results. For sale at Graf's Drug Store, Kewaskum.—Advertisement.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Petri had their infant son christened Sunday by Rev. Heidel, at the Feid. Raether home. The young man received the name Ernest Louis. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hart and son, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Guenther of Milwaukee, Mrs. J. C. Hart Sr., of Atlanta, Georgia, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Guenther, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Petri of Campbellsport.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Schladoweller left for Chicago Tuesday to make their future home.

A card party will be held at St. Michael's Tuesday evening, Nov. 13. Everybody is invited.

Mrs. Pat. Hogen of Chicago spent from Saturday till Tuesday here with her parents, Math. Schladoweller and wife.

Mrs. Math. Thullen and daughter Anna left for Chicago Sunday to make their home there with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kuzler home.

A farewell party was given at the home of Math. Schladoweller in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Schladoweller Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Casper Berres and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Schladoweller and sons spent Wednesday evening with Math. Schladoweller and family.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Kappers a baby boy, at Chicago. Congratulations. Mrs. Kappers will be remembered here as Lizzie Thuihn.

Avoid Idea of Fear. There is nothing so ingenious as fear; it is even more ingenious than hatred, especially when its concern is with the preservation of money.—Bayle St. John.

Repairing China. By applying a little carriage varnish carefully with a camel's hair brush to the edges of broken china, the parts being neatly joined together, the fracture will, when thoroughly dry, be hardly perceptible and the china will stand fire and water.

Parted at the Altar. English Paper: "The Duke of Devon was among those present at the marriage of a girl, being a mixed one, lasted only a few minutes."—Boston Evening Transcript.

An Unusual Choice. This week's "Whopper"—Seventeen girls applied for the job and the boss chose the plainest one.—London Answers.

Finger Marks. Finger marks will disappear from polished wood if the soiled spots are rubbed with a weak solution of vinegar and water before being polished with furniture cream.

Both Rich and Poor Have Problems. Life is an eternal mess; The rich man has his twin sisters and the poor man his six twins.—North Carolina Post Weekly.

Some Are Just Spoiled. "Men" missed Mr. Mokins, "men are just like eggs—they're fresh, rotten and hard-boiled."—Richmond Times Dispatch.

Stray Bits of Wisdom. Twice does he live who can enjoy the remembrance of the past.—Ovid.

We Thank You

Our Annual Sale was a grand success and we wish to thank one and all who helped to make it so. It will always be our aim to supply you with reliable merchandise at prices as low or lower than they can be obtained anywhere.

Just a Few Specials

FOR NEXT WEEK

Ladies' Heather Hose, 55c and 60c quality at 39c

Ladies' and Children's Gloves, 75c and $1.00 values 25c

PILLSBURY FLOUR, per 49 pound sack $1.85

L. ROSENHEIMER

Kewaskum, Wisconsin

LOCAL MARKET REPORT

Winter wheat	80 to 90
Wheat	80 to 90
Barley	81 to 90
Rye No. 1	60 to 60
Oats	38 to 38
Eggs fresh	46c
White Clover seed	20c to 35c per lb.
Alysyke	12 to 13c per lb.
Red Clover seed	16 to 21c per lb.
Unwashed wool	35 to 38
Beans, per lb.	6 c
Hides (calf skin)	11c
Cow Hides	6c
Horse Hides	2.50 to 3.00
Honey, lb.	18c
Live Poultry
Old Roosters	12
Hens	12 to 15
Spring Chickens	12 to 15c
Dressed Geese	20c to 25c
Dressed Ducks	25c to 28c

(Subject to change)

EAST VALLEY

Berd. Seil was a New Fane caller Tuesday.

Mrs. B. Seil and C. Hammes were Kewaskum callers Tuesday.

Joe Schladoweller spent Sunday evening at the Nic Hammes home.

Olive and Veronica Rinzel spent Friday evening with Vera Jannasch.

Lester Barcom spent from Sunday until Wednesday at the Nic Hammes home.

Eroy, Cecelia and Celesta Pesch visited at the Berd. Seil home Sunday evening.

Leo Blackmore of Moherly, Mo., is spending a few days at the H. and P. Rinzel home.

Olive, Veronica, Martha and Rosalia Rinzel spent Sunday evening at the Peter Bell home.

Mrs. N. Hammes and Mrs. Ed. Uelmen and children spent Sunday with Mrs. P. Schiltz.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pesch and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Klein visited at the Hubert Rinzel home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Pieper and Mr. and Mrs. P. Seil and friends of Cascade called at the Berd. Seil home Tuesday.

Hubert Rinzel and daughter Veronica, Mr. and Mrs. Nic Hammes and son Joe were business callers at Kewaskum Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Netzing and son of New Fane and Catherine and Theresa Hammes spent Sunday afternoon at the Peter Rinzel home.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Kastel and children and Mrs. Joe Simon of Stanley left Wednesday for their home after having spent the past week at the Nic Hammes home.

The card party given at the St. Mathias Ann church hall Tuesday evening was very largely attended. The following were the prize winners: Skat—1st, Frank Rose; 2nd, J. Bertram; 3rd, Steve Klein. Cinch—1st, Anton Bertram; 2nd, Cecelia Pesch; 3rd, Mrs. J. Reysen, Schafkopf—1st, Mrs. J. Fellenz; 2nd, Mrs. A. Bertram; 3rd, John Fellenz. 500—1st, Mrs. J. Reinders; 2nd, Mary Bell. The congregation wishes to express their thanks to all present.

Both Rich and Poor Have Problems. Life is an eternal mess; The rich man has his twin sisters and the poor man his six twins.—North Carolina Post Weekly.

Some Are Just Spoiled. "Men" missed Mr. Mokins, "men are just like eggs—they're fresh, rotten and hard-boiled."—Richmond Times Dispatch.

Stray Bits of Wisdom. Twice does he live who can enjoy the remembrance of the past.—Ovid.

Safe Practical Convenient

A checking account with the Bank of Kewaskum offers you a safe—practical and convenient way of handling your finances. Checks insure safety—cash means risk. Use our checks

Bank of Kewaskum

Kewaskum, Wisconsin

Washington County's Largest State Bank

143 FARMERS AND BUSINESS MEN STOCKHOLDERS 143

GILLETT'S HIGH GRADE EXTRACT VANILLA
Since 1852
VANILLA
Look for this Sign on your Grocer's Counter!
Sold only by Grocers. Ask yours
SHERER-GILLETT CO., Chicago

Good Music For All Occasions

Leroy Weber's Orchestra

From Two to Five Pieces

INQUIRE OF

Leroy Weber, West Bend

D. J. Harbeck, Kewaskum

KLAN EMPEROR'S LAWYER SLAIN

Slaying at Atlanta, Ga., Comes From Rivalry Over Offices.

COURT FEUD BRINGS TRAGEDY

Atlanta, Ga.—William S. Coburn, attorney for the Simmons faction of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and prominent figure in a series of sensational events involving that organization, was shot four times and almost instantly killed while he sat in his office in the Atlanta Trust company building.

Philip E. Fox, publicity representative for the imperial palace and editor of "The Knight Hawk," official organ of the Evans faction, did the shooting. He is in jail, accused of murder.

Col. William J. Simmons, emperor, and H. W. Evans, imperial wizard, are fighting for control of the Klan. Fox declared he was glad Col. Coburn was dead.

"I may hang for this, but he was planning to ruin me and I had just as soon be hanged as for him to have ruined me."

Mrs. M. L. Holbrook, stenographer for Coburn, and Mrs. Oscar Heyman, a friend, witnessed the shooting.

Fox came to Coburn's office shortly after 4 o'clock, and, finding Coburn engaged in conversation with W. T. Roger, said to be an attaché of the office of Henry J. Norton, head of Atlanta Klan No. 1, stated that he would return in about an hour, "when we can talk business in private," according to Mrs. Holbrook.

"He had just about had time to reach the hall and turn around when he re-entered the office and, without a word, began firing at Mr. Coburn, who sat at his desk," said Mrs. Holbrook.

"There were four or five shots. Mr. Coburn screamed after each one. After the last shot Fox left the office, throwing his gun to the floor as he passed through the door. Mr. Coburn was lying on the floor, screaming, and blood was spurting from a wound in his face. Mrs. Heyman and myself ran down the hall to the office of the Fulton Finance company."

Alberta Votes Wet in Both Country and the Cities

Winnipeg, Man.—Following in the steps of Manitoba on the liquor question, the province of Alberta voted wet—in favor of government control of the sale of liquor, as against the present dry status of the province.

The prohibition vote from the country districts was in favor of liquor control by the government. The cities went largely the same way. Alberta makes the fourth province in Canada to vote wet, Quebec, British Columbia and Manitoba being the other three.

Commission Holds Germany Liable for Lusitania Loss

Washington.—Germany is financially obligated to pay to the United States all losses suffered by American nationals, stated in terms of dollars, which have resulted from death, personal injury or from loss or damage to property sustained in the sinking of the British steamship Lusitania on May 7, 1915. This is the essence of one of the first and perhaps the most important decisions to be rendered by the mixed claims commission settling American claims against Germany as a result of the war.

Berlin Mobs Attack Jews and Loot Their Homes

Berlin.—Several hundred Polish Jews were dragged from their homes in Grenadierstrasse and cruelly beaten by a mob of unemployed or poorly paid workers. The crowd, angered by the bread and food prices, went into this quarter, peopled by speculators, small merchants and exchange brokers, to get revenge. While the police looked on the workers systematically plundered the food shops and raided private flats.

U. S. Mail Flyers Are Now Directed by a Tiny Radio

Washington.—Air mail pilots will now be accessible at all times to instructions from the ground, post office experts having worked out a one-man sending and receiving radio set.

Seize British Schooner and $375,000 Worth of Liquor

Jacksonville, Fla.—The British auxiliary schooner Louise E. was captured after a three-hour chase by federal authorities and 3,500 cases of liquor, valued at $375,000, were seized, the officers reported on their return here.

Women Demand More Rights

Washington.—Senator Curtis and Representative Anthony of Kansas have agreed to present an "equal rights" amendment to the constitution at the next session, according to Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont.

St. Paul Bank Robbed

St. Paul, Minn.—The Grand Avenue State bank of this city was entered by two masked men who cooped up two employees and a customer and escaped in an automobile with $5,000 in silver and currency.

Four Die at Rail Crossing

Indianapolis, Ind.—Four unidentified persons, one man and three women, were killed, and another man was seriously injured when their automobile was struck by a Pennsylvania passenger train at Bridgeport.

Soap Bullet Kills Boy

Silver City, N. M.—A bullet molded from laundry soap, fired at close range and with a strong charge of powder, proved fatal to John Cronin, fifteen, son of a rancher residing at Cliff, north of Silver City.

M. BRANLY

M. Branly, celebrated French scientist and inventor, who has been honored by the French government with the French Legion of Honor medal for his invention of the wireless-controlled plane.

FINAL PLEA TO U. S.

Lloyd George Ends Tour; Radical Irish Stage Riot

New York.—David Lloyd George, Great Britain's magnificent little wartime premier, brought his American tour to a magnificent climax in a farewell address at the Metropolitan opera house. Before a selected audience, which gave him rapt attention and frequent applause, he gave this as his parting message to America:

"Civilization is doomed and within the present generation—unless the United States and Great Britain, acting in concert and close co-operation go to the rescue of torn and nerve-racked Europe."

White scenes inside the Metropolitan were orderly and sympathetic in every way, there were serious disturbances outside when 250 Irish of the old De Valera clique attempted to march with banners deriding Lloyd George and the British empire.

Mr. Lloyd George got glimpses of the riot when he arrived and again when he left the opera house, but he remained unruffled and seemed pleased when the plaudits of the crowd drowned out the jeers of the Irish.

Murder Plantation Dead Total More Than 1,000 in Philippines

Manila, P. I.—Further details concerning the atrocities committed on Kusansee plantation, at Davao, were made public here by W. D. Corn, an American special investigator, who arrived from the district. Mr. Corn said that five cemeteries in the plantation were filled with graves of laborers. It is estimated that under the management of Domingo Filardo, a Filipino, 1,000 laborers have died since 1914. Virtually none of these deaths have been reported, Filardo asserting that the laborers had run away.

Harvey Leaves for Home; to Work for U. S.-British Accord

Southampton.—George Harvey, the retiring American ambassador, accompanied by his wife and their granddaughter, Dorothy Thompson, sailed for New York on the Aquitania. Replying to newspaper men's questions as to why he was leaving England, Mr. Harvey said: "The truth is that there is nothing left for me to do here. It is better that I should go home and work for the great cause of British-American friendship."

Raid Chicago Warehouse; Steal $100,000 Liquor

Chicago.—One of the biggest liquor robberies in the history of Chicago was staged Sunday morning by a crew of 10 to 15 men, who held up a watchman, took possession of Waken & McLaughlin's warehouse and for five hours transferred priceless whiskies and brandies to a fleet of trucks. The police say a check showed that 34 barrels and between 200 and 400 cases, valued at more than $100,000, had been stolen.

Chancellor Stresemann Now Dictator of All Germany

Berlin.—Chancellor Stresemann has become overnight an absolute dictator with a free rein to make or break the German republic. The change came quietly and without announcement. The German people believe that the reichstag is only prorogued, but the chancellor has built a ground-work on which he can rule without calling the assembly into session.

German Potato Crop Short

London.—The Ministry of Agriculture has been informed that Germany's potato crop for 1923 is estimated at 31,000,000 tons and the beer sugar crop at 8,400,000 tons, a decrease from last year.

Penalties for Profiteers

Madrid.—The government has published decrees providing severe penalties for persons guilty of profiteering. The move was made in an effort to co-operate in reducing the prices of necessities.

Texas Posse Kills Robber

Marshall, Tex.—One of three men who robbed a filling station and store near Greenwood, La., was killed near Jonesville, 16 miles east of here, by officers after he had resisted arrest.

Wages Boost Butter Consumption

Washington.—The increase of 160,000,000 pounds annually in the consumption of butter in the United States is caused by high wages, according to officials of the National Dairy association here.

TAX LOAD GROWS; EXEMPTIONS UP

Great Army of Pay Rollers Eats Up Uncle Sam's Income.

PER CAPITA LEVY IS $64.63

Washington.—Remarkable growth in the increasing burden of taxation in the United States is revealed in a report just made public by the national industrial conference board, which represents the results of a year's study of the whole problem of the cost of government.

Of almost equal importance, the board cites the constantly rising amount of property which has been rendered by various means exempt from taxation, and the value of which, in round figures, is given as $54,000,000,000 in 1922.

"This stupendous sum," says the report, "represents slightly less than one-fifth of our national wealth, and is equal roughly to one-third of all property assessed under the general property tax which forms the backbone of state and local government finance."

Another aspect of the report is the statement that the board finds the American farmer paying more than his share of the nation's tax bill, as related to his income. The figures, says the report, "demonstrate very clearly that as related to income the farmer's burden of taxation has been before the war and still is heavier than that resting on the remaining economic classes."

Summarizing the growth of the country tax bill, the report shows that the nation paid last year in taxes $7,061,000,000, compared with $8,933,000,000 in 1921; $2,194,000,000 in 1913, and $1,382,000,000 in 1903.

On the other hand, taxes of state and local governments continued to mount, state taxes increased from $207,000,000 in 1913 to $846,000,000 in 1922. Likewise local taxes rose from $1,210,000,000 in 1913 to $3,301,000,000 last year. This rising ratio of taxation to the national income is also shown by the statement that it was 6.4 per cent in 1913, 12.1 per cent in 1919, 16.7 per cent in 1921, and 12.1 per cent in 1922.

Bavaria Takes Monarchy Out of Moth Balls for a Day

Munich.—Pomp of the monarchy returned to Bavaria for two hours when the reichswehr troops, leading a big procession, including 7,500 Hitlerites and an equal number of improvised national defense organizations, passed in review before Crown Prince Rupprecht. The parade was part of an imposing ceremony for 30,000 war dead of Munich, for the memory of whom the corner stone of a monument was laid.

Auto Plunges Into River; Three Dead in Michigan

Lowell, Mich.—Three persons were drowned when an automobile, in which a party of four persons was returning from a holiday to this city, crashed through the railing of a bridge spanning the Flat river near here, and plunged into the stream. The dead are: Miss Winnie McCall, sixteen; Miss Thelma Smith, sixteen, both of Lowell; and Earl Judson, seventeen, of Saranac.

Uncle Sam's Panama Canal Profit Bigger Than Post Office

Washington.—The Panama canal is now making for the United States government a greater net profit than the post office, according to Secretary of War Weeks. The secretary stated that during the period from May to October of this year, inclusive, the canal earned $11,537,923, while the tolls for the month of October just past were $1,988,822.

Uncle Sam's Debt Cut Down Nearly a Billion in Year

Washington.—The public debt of the United States has been reduced nearly a billion dollars during the past year, the Treasury department announced. Since October 31, 1922, the reduction has amounted to $865,575,076, making the total today $22,082,208,916. The reduction during October, 1923, was $43,405,286.

Buys Fifteen Tons German Money for Pulp—Losers

Geneva.—Fifteen tons of German bank notes of small denominations, purchased by a Zurich paper factory for converting into paper pulp, have been refused entrance by the customs office under the Swiss law prohibiting the importation of large sums of foreign currency. The paper factory must stand the loss.

Quakes in California

Calexico, Cal.—The most pronounced earthquake shock felt in recent years in the Imperial valley was recorded Monday. The Virginia hotel here was shifted several inches on its foundations.

Sells Vote Machines as Junk

Denver, Colo.—Denver sold 122 automatic voting machines, which had been lying idle for sixteen years, for $3 price. The city paid $112,500 for them. The machines will be sold as junk.

One Dead in $100,000 Fire

Chillicothe, Mo.—An unidentified man was burned to death when he destroyed the Henryetta hotel and three mercantile buildings. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

Files 265 Miles an Hour

Mitchell Field, N. Y.—The fastest speed ever obtained by man was made here by Lieut. H. J. Brown, navy aviator, who flew over a three-kilometer straightaway course four times at an average speed of 229.15 miles an hour.

Workers Get Medals

Washington.—Two railroad employees of Shreveport, La., have been awarded medals for bravery on recommendation of the interstate commerce commission. Both medals were for life saving.

MRS. ANNE KENNEDY

Mrs. Anne Kennedy of New York is executive secretary of the American Birth Control league which has been conducting a mid-west conference in Chicago.

U. S. MARKET REPORT

Weekly Marketgram by Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Washington.—For the week ending Nov. 2.—GRAIN—Cash prices. No. 1 dark northern spring wheat, $1.15@1.27; Minneapolis, No. 2 red winter wheat, $1.12@1.18; St. Louis, No. 2 hard winter wheat, $1.09; Chicago, No. 2 yellow corn, 94@94 1/2; Chicago, 95@95 1/2; St. Louis, No. 3 white oats, 42@42 1/2; Chicago, 43@43 1/2; St. Louis, 43@43 1/2.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES—Northwestern white potatoes, 90@91 1/2; Chicago, 85@90; f. o. b. Cabbage, Darius type, 42.00@28.00 bulk per ton city markets, $14.00@17.00; f. o. b. Onions, yellow varieties, 24@25; sacked per 100 lbs., mostly $2.75@3.00; f. o. b. midwestern stock, $3.00@3.35; consuming centers, $2.50@2.75; f. o. b. Stagnant wineless apples, 43.75@45.00 per bush; Baldwins, 44.00; York Imperials, $3.00@3.75; Michigan and Illinois Jonathans, $5.50@6.00 in Chicago; northwestern extra fancy Jonathans, $1.60@2.00 leading markets, top of $2.25 in Chicago.

LIVE STOCK—Chicago prices: Hogs, top, $7.70, and $7.00@7.50 for the bulk; medium and good butchers steers, $7.75@11.35; butcher cows and heifers, $4.40@8.25; light and medium weight veal calves, $7.50@10.75; Fat lambs, $11.25@12.25; hams, $11.50@12.45; yearlings, $8.25@11.25; fat ewes, $3.75@6.50.

HAY—No. 1 timothy, $24.50 Cincinnati, $23.50 Chicago, $19.50 Minneapolis, $24.50 St. Louis; No. 1 alfalfa, $30.00; clover, $26.00 Chicago; No. 1 prairie, $19.00 Chicago, $16.50 Minneapolis, $19.25 St. Louis.

DAIRY PRODUCTS—Butter, 32 cwt, 50% Chicago. Cheese prices at Wisconsin primary markets. Platts, 23c; twins, 25c; single daisies, 24c; double daisies, 23c; longhorns, 24c; square prints, 25c.

Radio Signal Races to Warsaw, Poland, and Back 20 Times

New York.—Proving a revolutionary step in the scientific and commercial development of radio telegraphy, a radio signal made 20 round trips from the New York office of the Radio Corporation of America to Warsaw, Poland, traveling at a speed of 4,500,000 miles in 25 seconds, without the assistance of an operator at either end.

King of Greece Held Prisoner; London Royalist Circles Worried

London.—The Daily Mail says that considerable anxiety is being expressed in royalist circles regarding the fate of King George of Greece. It is stated that the king is a prisoner within the borders of his own country, that he is under constant military surveillance and that he is not permitted to leave Greece.

France Avoids U. S. Wheat Until She Can Ship US Wine

Paris.—America cannot expect an outlet for any part of its surplus wheat in France until prohibition is amended so France can export wines to America, Marcel Knecht, associate editor of Matin, told delegates of the American Farm Bureau federation.

Stresemann Says He Will Put Down Royalist Coup

Berlin.—Asserting the German government possesses the power to put down all attempts of monarchists and other elements to overthrow the government, Chancellor Stresemann issued his first proclamation as Germany's untrammelled dictator.

Railroads Reject Rate Cut on Wheat for Export Trade

Washington.—A reduction in freight rates on wheat for export is not advisable at this time, a delegation of railroad presidents, voicing the sentiment of the nation's carriers, informed the interstate commerce commission.

A Rockefeller Gets $20 a Week

Albany, N. Y.—Golfey S. Rockefeller, son of the late William G. Rockefeller and grandnephew of John D. Rockefeller, is getting $20 a week at his first job. He is a clerk in the transit department of a bank here.

U. S. Steel Pays Tax

Minneapolis, Minn.—The United States Steel corporation has paid the state of Minnesota its share of the occupational tax on ore mining, as required by the 1921 law. The payment amounted to $4,340,450.96.

Coal Chief Resigns

Washington.—Francis R. Wadleigh, chief of the coal division of the Department of Commerce, has resigned from the government service and will enter the commercial branch of the coal industry. It is said.

Eau Claire—Eau Claire city will spend $310,070 on schools during 1923-24, according to the budget approved by the board of education. Of this amount, $252,450 must be raised by municipal taxation.

WISCONSIN NEWS

Important Events of the Week Around the Badger State.

Birchwood.—Farmers and potato dealers throughout the western part of the state have been called upon by the state board of control to supply 16,400 bushels of tubers to the Wisconsin institutions under the jurisdiction of the board. This is said to be the first time that the entire potato requirements of the state institutions have been brought to the attention of growers and shippers and all given equal opportunities in supplying the potatoes needed.

Hazel Green.—Alfred G. Lasse, reporter-as field man for October, gives the total number of cows under test at Hazel Green at 301, top herd honors going to Leo Kuhl and son, with ten registered Holsteins, whose average production was 951 pounds milk and 36.9 pounds of butter fat. The top cow, also owned by the Kuhls, made 1,850 pounds of milk and 62.9 pounds of butter fat.

Hayward.—In a fire which destroyed the farm home of Nestor Hosken, fifteen miles from Hayward, Charles Hosken, age 8, was burned to death. The family, pioneer farmers, lived in a small raftered house, which proved ready fuel for the flames that gained headway while the father was en route to town and the mother and other children were doing the daily chores.

Madison.—Wisconsin farmers are receiving nearly twice as much for their potatoes now than they were paid a year ago at this time, according to a statement issued by the state department of markets. Wisconsin's potato raisers are optimistic and are holding up their crop in storage for a later market. There has been little speculative buying on the part of dealers.

North Lake.—Thirty-nine head of cattle were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the barn on the farm of K. C. Hansen near North Lake. Only three cows were saved. The fire, which was of undetermined origin, also destroyed the stored crops and much farm machinery. The fire had a good start before it was discovered. The loss has not been estimated.

Chippewa Falls.—One of the largest mortgages ever recorded in Chippewa county was filed by the Dells Paper and Pulp company of Eau Claire, to secure an issue of $1,500,000 in 6 per cent gold bonds. The mortgage covers 100 acres of land in Chippewa county along the Chippewa river and also property owned by the company in Eau Claire and Iron counties.

Tomah.—An "away from the farm" movement seems to have struck eastern Monroe county, and as a result an unusual number of farmers are selling their possessions at auction and moving their families to Tomah and other towns. Residence property in these cities has taken on new values, due to the unusual demand for the same.

Reedsburg.—August Spohnholz, 50, a farmer, was buried beneath an avalanche of rock and shale when the ledge of a gravel pit caved in on him near Loganville. With eight others he was employed in excavating gravel for road surfacing. His left hip was broken in three places and serious internal injuries are feared.

Chippewa Falls.—Crushed under an automobile which overturned near Barron, Miss Clara Swan of Barron sustained a fractured skull and was taken to a hospital in a serious condition. The driver of the automobile was said to have attempted to bring the car back into the road after it swerved toward the ditch.

Washburn.—Records of County Clerk Judwig Trammal of Bayfield county show that during the last year cupid has been asleep at the switch. During the year only forty-five marriage licenses have been issued, a poor showing compared with 1922, when the county clerk issued seventy-two marriage licenses.

Park Falls.—Preliminary work has been done on a new road from Park Falls to the Iron county line, and the project will be completed next summer. The new road will pass over the trail leading to the famous Newman trout springs, and will open up a large and hitherto almost inaccessible territory.

Madison.—Automobiles now outnumber dogs in the state by a ratio of about two and a half to one, according to figures presented by the state department of agriculture.

Rhinelander.—A large number of men are now working in the Oneida county woods cutting down Christmas trees and evergreens for shipment to the large cities for the holidays. Large shipments are being made to Milwaukee and Chicago.

Sturgeon Bay.—The apple production of Door county for the present season exceeded 250 carloads. Of this amount D. E. Bingham, pioneer apple grower, harvested upward of 65 carloads from his own orchard.

Superior.—Total shipments of iron ore from Superior docks during the 1923 season will total over 17,000,000 tons, the largest amount of ore to leave this harbor since the discovery of the Minnesota iron ore range, railroad officials estimated.

Eau Claire.—Eau Claire city will spend $310,070 on schools during 1923-24, according to the budget approved by the board of education. Of this amount, $252,450 must be raised by municipal taxation.

REMARKABLE KIDNEY RELIEF

R. M. FLEENOR, Otterbein, Ind., writes: "I suffered from kidney trouble for twenty-five years. Nothing helped me. Kept getting worse. Inflammation of the bladder set in, and I gave up all hope. Was induced to try DODD'S. Took only two boxes, and I am now sound and well. I regard my cure remarkable." Bladder drive away backache, pain, rheumatism with DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS. Prompt relief or money back. Large box 60c at your drug store, or direct by mail, but TRY THE DRUG STORE FIRST.

Dodd's Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Prevents Infection

Use for cuts, burns, sores and wounds. Prevents infection. Cleanses and heals.

Vaseline CARBOLATED PETROLEUM JELLY

CHESEBROUGH MANUFACTURING COMPANY State Street New York

Ladies Keep Your Skin Clear, Sweet, Healthy With Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Talcum

NATIVES ARE TOO POLITE

Papuan Unfit to Carry Friend Across Kills Him Because He Did Not Wish to Be Rude.

Related to the weakness which induces the Papuan native to be so order to humor the Europeans is the courtesy which he often displays on the most unexpected occasions.

You may tell the same story two or three times to a Papuan, but he will laugh just as heartily; he expresses just the same astonishment the last time as the first. No man will escape him that he has heard the story before.

And even in the crimes which he so infrequently commits—mostly crimes of violence—he is not always forgetful of the rules of politeness.

"He wanted me to enter his house across the water," said a prisoner who was charged with murdering another active whom he had met and due to death on the bank of a river, but he looked very heavy. Of course I could not be so rude as to refuse to enter him, so I thought that the best way out of the difficulty was to kill him."

Courteous, too, was the expression given to me by some natives of the mountainous inland of Higo, who were charged with attacking a police patrol.

"We had never seen policemen before," they said, "and we did not know what they were. If we had thought for a moment," they added, "that you attacked my importance to these persons, we certainly would not have thrown spears at them. We did not think that they were any good."

Sir Roger de Coverley. The name is that of a member of an imaginary club, under whose auspices the Spectator was supposed to be edited. Sir Roger is the type of an English gentleman of the time of Queen Anne (1702-1714), and figure in thirty pages of the Spectator. He is noted for his modesty, generosity and hospitality. The name Sir Roger de Coverley was also given to a dance, similar to the Virginia reel, and supposed to have been the original of it. The title is derived from the English satire described in the Spectator.

Rejoice when boys yell. It shows they have pep enough to last through life.

Sure Relief FOR INDIGESTION

6 BELLANS Hot water Sure Relief

BELLANS 25c AND 75c PACKAGES EVERYWHERE

QUICK RELIEF FROM CROUP COUGHS COLDS with FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

ESTABLISHED 1875

Superior.—Out to seek their fortunes in the recently discovered gold fields of northwestern Canada, eight adventurers, none above 16, came to a sudden stop on their journey at Superior, when they were taken in tow by a policeman.

Sullivan.—William Willard, 62 years old, of Sullivan, died of a fractured skull, received when an automobile in which he was riding and said to have been driven by R. L. May of Sullivan, struck at telephone pole.

The Secret Adversary

by Agatha Christie

CHAPTER XIV—Continued.

...and they were very important—
...make all the differ-
...the boys. But if it's all so
...and the war's over, what
...the boys repeats itself. Jane,
...a great line and cry
...then it all died
...the whole caboodle's
...again—for rather dif-
...Then you can hand
...right away?"
...I haven't got them."
...light them?" Julius
...the words with little
...them. I got uneasy. Peo-
...be watching me. It
...she put her hand
...it's almost the last
...before waking up in
...and Sir James, in his quiet
...What do you re-
...of Holyhead. I came that ...don't remember why...
...matter. Go on."
...on the confusion on the quay I
...Nobody saw me. I took
...the man to drive me out
...I saw the man to wait."
...then went on. "The path
...and down to the sea
...yellow gorse bushes—they
...hidden flames. I looked
...There wasn't a soul in sight.
...with my head there was ...the rock. It was quite small ...just get my hand to, but
...a long way back. I took the
...from round my neck and
...right in as far as I could.
...a bit of gorse—My!
...and plugged the hole
...that you'd never guess there
...of any kind there. Then
...the place carefully in my
...so that I'd find it again.
...a queer boulder in the path
...for all the world like a ...begging. Then I went ...to the road. The car was wait-
...I drove back. I just caught
...I was a bit ashamed of my-...fancying things maybe, but ...I saw the man opposite me
...was sitting next
...and I felt scared again, and
...the papers were safe. I went
...the corridor to get a little air.
...I'd slip into another car-
...the woman called me back.
...I'd dropped something, and when
...to look, something seemed ...others." She placed her hand
...of her head. "I don't re-
...anything more until I woke up
...the night."
...a pause.
...you, Miss Finn." It was Sir
...spoke. "I hope we have ...now?"
...all right. My head aches
...rather as I feel fine."
...stepped forward and took her ...woman Jane. I'm going to ...these papers, but I'll
...two snakes of a dog's tail,
...you up to London and
...the time of your young life
...back to the States; I
...hurry up and get well."
...the street they held an informal
...car. Sir James had drawn
...his pocket. "The boat
...head shops at Chester at ...start at once I think
...the connection. I wish
...with you. I am due to
...at two o'clock. It
...the distance in his tone was
...It was clear, on the
...that Julius was easily dis-
...with the loss of the ...papers."
...minutes later the two young
...in a first-class car-
...for Chester.
...time neither of them
...at length Julius broke
...it was with a totally un-
...remark.
...observed thoughtfully,
...you were a darned fool of
...a girl's face?"
...after a moment's astonish-
...wounded his mind. "Can't say
...I'm replied at last. "Not that ...I can remember anyhow. Why?"
...for the last two months
...making a sentimental idiot
...of myself over Jane! First moment
...over on her photograph my
...the usual stunts you read
...in novels. I guess I'm ashamed
...to admit it, but I came over here
...to find her and fix it all ...back as Mrs. Julius
...Hester."
...said Tommy, amazed.
...expressed his legs brusquely
...and
...what an almighty fool
...make of himself! One look
...in the flesh, and I was
...!"
...tongue-tied than ever,
...stammered "oh!" again.
...the other. "Jane, mind
...girl, and some fellow will
...to love with her right away."
...a very good-looking
...said Tommy, finding his tongue.
...is. But she's not like her photo one bit. At least I suppose she is in a way—must be—because I her in a crowd I'd have said 'There's a girl whose face I know' right away without any hesitation. But there Julius shook his head, and heaved a sigh—"I guess romance is a mighty queer thing."

At Holyhead, after consultation with the aid of a road map, they were fairly well agreed as to direction, so were able to hire a taxi without more ado and drive out on the road leading to Trendrill bay. They instructed the man to go slowly, and watched narrowly so as not to miss the path.
They came to it not long after leaving the town, and Tommy stopped the taxi promptly, asked in a casual way whether the path led down to the sea, and hearing it did paid off the man in handsome style.
A moment later the taxi was slowly changing back to Holyhead. Tommy and Julius watched it out of sight, and then turned to the narrow path.
They went down in single file, Julius leading. Twice Tommy turned his head uneasily. Julius looked back.
"What is it?"
"I don't know. I've got the wind up somehow. Keep fancying there's someone following us."
The path was now running along the side of the cliff, parallel to the sea. Suddenly Julius came to such an abrupt halt that Tommy cannoned into him.
"What's up?" he inquired.
"Look here. If that doesn't beat the band!"
Tommy looked. Standing out and half obstructing the path was a large boulder which certainly bore a fanciful resemblance to a "begging" terrier.
"That's it—for sure."
Tommy looked at the rock with a kind of agonized passion.
"I—it is! It is! It's impossible! Five years! Think of it! Bird-nesting boys, picnic parties, thousands of people passing! It can't be there! It's a hundred to one against its being there! It's against all reason!"
Julius looked at him with a widening smile.
"I guess you're rattled," he drawled with some enjoyment. "Well, here goes!" He thrust his hand into the crevice, and made a slight grimace.
"It's a tight fit. Jane's hand must be a few sizes smaller than mine. I don't feel anything—no—say, what's this? Gee whizz!" And with a floun-ish he waved aloft a small discolored packet. "It's the goods all right.
Seven up in o'clock. Hold it while I get my penknife."
The unbelievable had happened.
Tommy held the precious packet tenderly between his hands. They had succeeded!
"It's queer," he murmured idly;
"you'd think the stitches would have rotted. They look just as good as new."
They cut them carefully and ripped away the oiled silk. Inside was a small folded sheet of paper. With trembling fingers they unfolded it. The sheet was blank! They stared at each other, puzzled.
"A dummy?" hazarded Julius. "Was Danvers just a decoy?"
Tommy shook his head. That solution did not satisfy him. Suddenly his face cleared.
"I've got it! Sympathetic ink!"
"Worth trying anyhow. Heat usually does a fire."
"We'll make a fire."
In a few minutes the little fire of twigs and leaves was blazing merrily. Tommy held the sheet of paper near the glow. The paper curled a little with the heat. Nothing more.
Suddenly Julius grasped his arm, and pointed to where characters were appearing in a faint brown color.
"Gee whizz! You've got it! Say, that idea of yours was great. It never occurred to me."
Tommy held the paper in position some minutes longer until he judged the heat had done its work. Then he

...Then he remembered that there was a good supply in Julius' sitting room. The American had announced his immediate departure, there would be no fear of running up against him.
Besides, he wouldn't mind if he did.
He was beginning to be rather ashamed of the things he had said.
But the room was deserted. Tommy walked across to the writing table, and opened the middle drawer. A photograph, carelessly thrust in face upwards, caught his eye. For a moment he stood rooted to the ground. Then he took it out, shut the drawer, walked slowly over to an armchair, and sat down still staring at the photograph in his hand.
What on earth was a photograph of the French girl Annette doing in Julius Hersheimer's writing table?

CHAPTER XIV
In Downing Street.
The prime minister tapped the desk
in front of him with nervous fingers.
His face was worn and harassed. He took up his conversation with Mr. Carter at the point it had broken off.
"I don't understand," he said. "Do
you really mean that things are not
so desperate after all?"
"So this lad seems to think."
"Let's have a look at his letter
again."
Mr. Carter landed it over. It was written in a sprawling boyish hand.
"Dear Mr. Carter:
"I think I know who the real Jane
Finn is, and I've even got an idea
where the papers are. That last's only
a guess, of course, but I've a sort of feeling it'll turn out right. Anyhow, I
enclose it in a sealed envelope for
what it's worth. I'm going to ask you
not to open it until the very last moment, midnight on the 28th, in fact.
You see, I've figured it out that those
things of Tuppence's are a plant too,
and she's no more drowned than I am."
The way I reason is this: as a last
chance they'll let Jane Finn escape in
the hope that she's been shamming this nervous state that one she thinks
she's free she'll go right away to the coast. Of course it's an awful risk
for me to take, because she knows
all about them—but they're pretty desperate to get hold of that treaty. But if they know that the papers have been recovered by us, neither of those two girls' lives will be worth an hour's purchase. I must try and get hold of Tuppence before Jane escapes."
(TO BE CONTINUED.)

HE RID HIMSELF OF THE BORE
Clever Scheme by Which Painter Shut Out Undesirable Visitor From His Studio.
A laughable story is ascribed to the artist and wit, Mr. Oliver Herford, by his associate, Mr. Edward Simmons, the painter. Mr. Simmons says that one day while he was enjoying a very agreeable call at Mr. Herford's studio their conversation was interrupted by a peculiar knocking at the door—three loud peremptory knocks at intervals of a second or two and then two more in quick succession.
Mr. Herford at once put his finger on his lip and motioned to his caller to be perfectly quiet. Neither man spoke or stirred while the curious knocking was repeated. Then they heard the retreating footsteps of the knocker passing down the hall.
Then Mr. Herford relaxed his attitude of silent tension and smiled.
"That was Blank," he said, "a thoroughly good and well-meaning fellow, but a most frightful bore. I've stood all the calls I can from him. So I told him that I had given special knocks to all my most intimate friends in order that I might know when they called and let them in at times when I should be unwilling to be disturbed by less congenial callers. Blank was saying only the other night that I must have been out a good deal lately.

He hasn't got in to see me since I assigned him his knock!"—Youth's Companion.
Swallow's Long Flight.
An English swallow with a ring on its leg, placed there in England, was found dead recently near Johannesburg, South Africa, according to H. F.
Witherby of London, who said this is the seventh swallow known to have flown from England to South Africa.
It is not known how long the birds take to make the trip, but it is supposed they travel leisurely, covering 8,000 to 10,000 miles each lap.
Stray Bits of Wisdom.
Men are April when they woo. December when they wed; mauls are May when they are maids, but the sky changes when they are wives.—Shakespeare.

...ing picture in the right kind of clothes.
Here is a pretty frock for girls from ten to fifteen, that is worth considering, and so are the shoes, stockings and hairdress shown with it. It is made of two kinds of material, which may be a wool or silk crepe bodice, and a skirt of jersey, velveteen or any suitably heavy fabric in plain, plaid or checked pattern. The bodice is straight and full enough to soften any angles, and the skirt is still fuller.
This is gathered to the bodice with an up-standing collar, faced with the material of the bodice, and prettily ed by western designers to the needs of American women, and appear on bats, coats, suits, dresses and even lingerie.

The term embroidery includes the use of braid on the new suits and coats since it is being used in intricate and ornate designs that simulate an embroidered pattern. In the two coats shown in the picture there is an illustration of how effectively a braided design may be combined with a severely simple coat line to achieve a garment that is rich and graceful but not extreme.
On the model at the left braid of

CHAPTER XIII
Tommy Makes a Discovery.
For a moment or two they stood staring at each other stupidly, dazed with shock. Somehow, inexplicably,
Mr. Brown had forestalled them.
Tommy accepted defeat quietly. Nor so Julius.
"How inarnation did he get ahead of us? That's what beats me!" he ended up.
"I don't see that it matters anyway," said Tommy wearily. "He may have found out some months ago, and removed the papers, then—No, by Jove, that won't wash! They'd have been published at once."
"Sure thing they would! No, someone's got ahead of us today by an hour or so. But how they did it gets how it was done. The game's up.
We've failed. There's only one thing for me to do."
"What's that?"
"Get back to London as soon as possible. Mr. Carter must be warned.
It's only a matter of hours now before the blow falls."
Half an hour after arrival, haggard and pale, Tommy stood before his chief.

"I've come to report, sir, I've failed —failed badly."
Mr. Carter eyed him sharply.
"You mean that the treaty—"
"Is in the hands of Mr. Brown, sir."
"Well," said Mr. Carter after a minute or two, "we mustn't sag at the knees, I suppose. I'm glad to know definitely. We must do what we can."
Through Tommy's mind flashed the assurance: "It's hopeless, and he knows it's hopeless."
The other looked up at him.
"I blame myself. I have been blaming myself ever since I heard this other news."
Something in his tone attracted Tommy's attention. A new fear gripped at his heart.
"Is there—something more, sir?"
"The afraid so," said Mr. Carter gravely. He stretched out his hand to a sheet on the table.
"Tuppence—?" faltered Tommy.
"Read for yourself."
The typewritten words danced before his eyes. The description of a green rogue, a coat with a handkerchief in the pocket marked "P. L. C."
He looked an agonized question at Mr.
Carter. The latter replied to it:
"Washed up on the Yorkshire coast —near Ebury. I'm afraid it looks very much like foul play."
"My G—d!" gasped Tommy. "Tup-pence! Those devils—I'll never rest till I've got even with them! I'll hunt them down!"
"I'm taking up your time, sir," he said with an effort. "There's no need for you to blame yourself. I dare say we were a couple of young fools to take on such a job. You warned us all right. But I wish to God I'd been the one to get it in the neck. Goodbye, sir."

CHAPTER XIV
In Downing Street.
The prime minister tapped the desk
in front of him with nervous fingers.
His face was worn and harassed. He
took up his conversation with Mr. Carter at the point it had broken off.
"I don't understand," he said. "Do
you really mean that things are not
so desperate after all?"
"So this lad seems to think."
"Let's have a look at his letter
again."
Mr. Carter landed it over. It was written in a sprawling boyish hand.
"Dear Mr. Carter:
"I think I know who the real Jane
Finn is, and I've even got an idea
where the papers are. That last's only
a guess, of course, but I've a sort of
feeling it'll turn out right. Anyhow, I
enclose it in a sealed envelope for
what it's worth. I'm going to ask you
not to open it until the very last moment, midnight on the 28th, in fact.
You see, I've figured it out that those
things of Tuppence's are a plant too,
and she's no more drowned than I am."
The way I reason is this: as a last
chance they'll let Jane Finn escape in
the hope that she's been shamming this
nervous state that one she thinks
she's free she'll go right away to the coast. Of course it's an awful risk
for me to take, because she knows
all about them—but they're pretty desperate to get hold of that treaty. But
if they know that the papers have been
recovered by us, neither of those two
girls' lives will be worth an hour's
purchase. I must try and get hold of
Tuppence before Jane escapes."
(TO BE CONTINUED.)

CHAPTER XIV
In Downing Street.
The prime minister tapped the desk
in front of him with nervous fingers.
His face was worn and harassed. He
took up his conversation with Mr. Carter at the point it had broken off.
"I don't understand," he said. "Do
you really mean that things are not
so desperate after all?"
"So this lad seems to think."
"Let's have a look at his letter
again."
Mr. Carter landed it over. It was written in a sprawling boyish hand.
"Dear Mr. Carter:
"I think I know who the real Jane
Finn is, and I've even got an idea
where the papers are. That last's only
a guess, of course, but I've a sort of
feeling it'll turn out right. Anyhow, I
enclose it in a sealed envelope for
what it's worth. I'm going to ask you
not to open it until the very last moment, midnight on the 28th, in fact.
You see, I've figured it out that those
things of Tuppence's are a plant too,
and she's no more drowned than I am."
The way I reason is this: as a last
chance they'll let Jane Finn escape in
the hope that she's been shamming this
nervous state that one she thinks
she's free she'll go right away to the coast. Of course it's an awful risk
for me to take, because she knows
all about them—but they're pretty desperate to get hold of that treaty. But
if they know that the papers have been
recovered by us, neither of those two
girls' lives will be worth an hour's
purchase. I must try and get hold of
Tuppence before Jane escapes."
(TO BE CONTINUED.)

CHAPTER XIV
In Downing Street.
The prime minister tapped the desk
in front of him with nervous fingers.
His face was worn and harassed. He
took up his conversation with Mr. Carter at the point it had broken off.
"I don't understand," he said. "Do
you really mean that things are not
so desperate after all?"
"So this lad seems to think."
"Let's have a look at his letter
again."
Mr. Carter landed it over. It was written in a sprawling boyish hand.
"Dear Mr. Carter:
"I think I know who the real Jane
Finn is, and I've even got an idea
where the papers are. That last's only
a guess, of course, but I've a sort of
feeling it'll turn out right. Anyhow, I
enclose it in a sealed envelope for
what it's worth. I'm going to ask you
not to open it until the very last moment, midnight on the 28th, in fact.
You see, I've figured it out that those
things of Tuppence's are a plant too,
and she's no more drowned than I am."
The way I reason is this: as a last
chance they'll let Jane Finn escape in
the hope that she's been shamming this
nervous state that one she thinks
she's free she'll go right away to the coast. Of course it's an awful risk
for me to take, because she knows
all about them—but they're pretty desperate to get hold of that treaty. But
if they know that the papers have been
recovered by us, neither of those two
girls' lives will be worth an hour's
purchase. I must try and get hold of
Tuppence before Jane escapes."
(TO BE CONTINUED.)

CHAPTER XIV
In Downing Street.
The prime minister tapped the desk
in front of him with nervous fingers.
His face was worn and harassed. He
took up his conversation with Mr. Carter at the point it had broken off.
"I don't understand," he said. "Do
you really mean that things are not
so desperate after all?"
"So this lad seems to think."
"Let's have a look at his letter
again."
Mr. Carter landed it over. It was written in a sprawling boyish hand.
"Dear Mr. Carter:
"I think I know who the real Jane
Finn is, and I've even got an idea
where the papers are. That last's only
a guess, of course, but I've a sort of
feeling it'll turn out right. Anyhow, I
enclose it in a sealed envelope for
what it's worth. I'm going to ask you
not to open it until the very last moment, midnight on the 28th, in fact.
You see, I've figured it out that those
things of Tuppence's are a plant too,
and she's no more drowned than I am."
The way I reason is this: as a last
chance they'll let Jane Finn escape in
the hope that she's been shamming this
nervous state that one she thinks
she's free she'll go right away to the coast. Of course it's an awful risk
for me to take, because she knows
all about them—but they're pretty desperate to get hold of that treaty. But
if they know that the papers have been
recovered by us, neither of those two
girls' lives will be worth an hour's
purchase. I must try and get hold of
Tuppence before Jane escapes."
(TO BE CONTINUED.)

CHAPTER XIV
In Downing Street.
The prime minister tapped the desk
in front of him with nervous fingers.
His face was worn and harassed. He
took up his conversation with Mr. Carter at the point it had broken off.
"I don't understand," he said. "Do
you really mean that things are not
so desperate after all?"
"So this lad seems to think."
"Let's have a look at his letter
again."
Mr. Carter landed it over. It was written in a sprawling boyish hand.
"Dear Mr. Carter:
"I think I know who the real Jane
Finn is, and I've even got an idea
where the papers are. That last's only
a guess, of course, but I've a sort of
feeling it'll turn out right. Anyhow, I
enclose it in a sealed envelope for
what it's worth. I'm going to ask you
not to open it until the very last moment, midnight on the 28th, in fact.
You see, I've figured it out that those
things of Tuppence's are a plant too,
and she's no more drowned than I am."
The way I reason is this: as a last
chance they'll let Jane Finn escape in
the hope that she's been shamming this
nervous state that one she thinks
she's free she'll go right away to the coast. Of course it's an awful risk
for me to take, because she knows
all about them—but they're pretty desperate to get hold of that treaty. But
if they know that the papers have been
recovered by us, neither of those two
girls' lives will be worth an hour's
purchase. I must try and get hold of
Tuppence before Jane escapes."
(TO BE CONTINUED.)

CHAPTER XIV
In Downing Street.
The prime minister tapped the desk
in front of him with nervous fingers.
His face was worn and harassed. He
took up his conversation with Mr. Carter at the point it had broken off.
"I don't understand," he said. "Do
you really mean that things are not
so desperate after all?"
"So this lad seems to think."
"Let's have a look at his letter
again."
Mr. Carter landed it over. It was written in a sprawling boyish hand.
"Dear Mr. Carter:
"I think I know who the real Jane
Finn is, and I've even got an idea
where the papers are. That last's only
a guess, of course, but I've a sort of
feeling it'll turn out right. Anyhow, I
enclose it in a sealed envelope for
what it's worth. I'm going to ask you
not to open it until the very last moment, midnight on the 28th, in fact.
You see, I've figured it out that those
things of Tuppence's are a plant too,
and she's no more drowned than I am."
The way I reason is this: as a last
chance they'll let Jane Finn escape in
the hope that she's been shamming this
nervous state that one she thinks
she's free she'll go right away to the coast. Of course it's an awful risk
for me to take, because she knows
all about them—but they're pretty desperate to get hold of that treaty. But
if they know that the papers have been
recovered by us, neither of those two
girls' lives will be worth an hour's
purchase. I must try and get hold of
Tuppence before Jane escapes."
(TO BE CONTINUED.)

CHAPTER XIV
In Downing Street.
The prime minister tapped the desk
in front of him with nervous fingers.
His face was worn and harassed. He
took up his conversation with Mr. Carter at the point it had broken off.
"I don't understand," he said. "Do
you really mean that things are not
so desperate after all?"
"So this lad seems to think."
"Let's have a look at his letter
again."
Mr. Carter landed it over. It was written in a sprawling boyish hand.
"Dear Mr. Carter:
"I think I know who the real Jane
Finn is, and I've even got an idea
where the papers are. That last's only
a guess, of course, but I've a sort of
feeling it'll turn out right. Anyhow, I
enclose it in a sealed envelope for
what it's worth. I'm going to ask you
not to open it until the very last moment, midnight on the 28th, in fact.
You see, I've figured it out that those
things of Tuppence's are a plant too,
and she's no more drowned than I am."
The way I reason is this: as a last
chance they'll let Jane Finn escape in
the hope that she's been shamming this
nervous state that one she thinks
she's free she'll go right away to the coast. Of course it's an awful risk
for me to take, because she knows
all about them—but they're pretty desperate to get hold of that treaty. But
if they know that the papers have been
recovered by us, neither of those two
girls' lives will be worth an hour's
purchase. I must try and get hold of
Tuppence before Jane escapes."
(TO BE CONTINUED.)

CHAPTER XIV
In Downing Street.
The prime minister tapped the desk
in front of him with nervous fingers.
His face was worn and harassed. He
took up his conversation with Mr. Carter at the point it had broken off.
"I don't understand," he said. "Do
you really mean that things are not
so desperate after all?"
"So this lad seems to think."
"Let's have a look at his letter
again."
Mr. Carter landed it over. It was written in a sprawling boyish hand.
"Dear Mr. Carter:
"I think I know who the real Jane
Finn is, and I've even got an idea
where the papers are. That last's only
a guess, of course, but I've a sort of
feeling it'll turn out right. Anyhow, I
enclose it in a sealed envelope for
what it's worth. I'm going to ask you
not to open it until the very last moment, midnight on the 28th, in fact.
You see, I've figured it out that those
things of Tuppence's are a plant too,
and she's no more drowned than I am."
The way I reason is this: as a last
chance they'll let Jane Finn escape in
the hope that she's been shamming this
nervous state that one she thinks
she's free she'll go right away to the coast. Of course it's an awful risk
for me to take, because she knows
all about them—but they're pretty desperate to get hold of that treaty. But
if they know that the papers have been
recovered by us, neither of those two
girls' lives will be worth an hour's
purchase. I must try and get hold of
Tuppence before Jane escapes."
(TO BE CONTINUED.)

CHAPTER XIV
In Downing Street.
The prime minister tapped the desk
in front of him with nervous fingers.
His face was worn and harassed. He
took up his conversation with Mr. Carter at the point it had broken off.
"I don't understand," he said. "Do
you really mean that things are not
so desperate after all?"
"So this lad seems to think."
"Let's have a look at his letter
again."
Mr. Carter landed it over. It was written in a sprawling boyish hand.
"Dear Mr. Carter:
"I think I know who the real Jane
Finn is, and I've even got an idea
where the papers are. That last's only
a guess, of course, but I've a sort of
feeling it'll turn out right. Anyhow, I
enclose it in a sealed envelope for
what it's worth. I'm going to ask you
not to open it until the very last moment, midnight on the 28th, in fact.
You see, I've figured it out that those
things of Tuppence's are a plant too,
and she's no more drowned than I am."
The way I reason is this: as a last
chance they'll let Jane Finn escape in
the hope that she's been shamming this
nervous state that one she thinks
she's free she'll go right away to the coast. Of course it's an awful risk
for me to take, because she knows
all about them—but they're pretty desperate to get hold of that treaty. But
if they know that the papers have been
recovered by us, neither of those two
girls' lives will be worth an hour's
purchase. I must try and get hold of
Tuppence before Jane escapes."
(TO BE CONTINUED.)

CHAPTER XIV
In Downing Street.
The prime minister tapped the desk
in front of him with nervous fingers.
His face was worn and harassed. He
took up his conversation with Mr. Carter at the point it had broken off.
"I don't understand," he said. "Do
you really mean that things are not
so desperate after all?"
"So this lad seems to think."
"Let's have a look at his letter
again."
Mr. Carter landed it over. It was written in a sprawling boyish hand.
"Dear Mr. Carter:
"I think I know who the real Jane
Finn is, and I've even got an idea
where the papers are. That last's only
a guess, of course, but I've a sort of
feeling it'll turn out right. Anyhow, I
enclose it in a sealed envelope for
what it's worth. I'm going to ask you
not to open it until the very last moment, midnight on the 28th, in fact.
You see, I've figured it out that those
things of Tuppence's are a plant too,
and she's no more drowned than I am."
The way I reason is this: as a last
chance they'll let Jane Finn escape in
the hope that she's been shamming this
nervous state that one she thinks
she's free she'll go right away to the coast. Of course it's an awful risk
for me to take, because she knows
all about them—but they're pretty desperate to get hold of that treaty. But
if they know that the papers have been
recovered by us, neither of those two
girls' lives will be worth an hour's
purchase. I must try and get hold of
Tuppence before Jane escapes."
(TO BE CONTINUED.)

CHAPTER XIV
In Downing Street.
The prime minister tapped the desk
in front of him with nervous fingers.
His face was worn and harassed. He
took up his conversation with Mr. Carter at the point it had broken off.
"I don't understand," he said. "Do
you really mean that things are not
so desperate after all?"
"So this lad seems to think."
"Let's have a look at his letter
again."
Mr. Carter landed it over. It was written in a sprawling boyish hand.
"Dear Mr. Carter:
"I think I know who the real Jane
Finn is, and I've even got an idea
where the papers are. That last's only
a guess, of course, but I've a sort of
feeling it'll turn out right. Anyhow, I
enclose it in a sealed envelope for
what it's worth. I'm going to ask you
not to open it until the very last moment, midnight on the 28th, in fact.
You see, I've figured it out that those
things of Tuppence's are a plant too,
and she's no more drowned than I am."
The way I reason is this: as a last
chance they'll let Jane Finn escape in
the hope that she's been shamming this
nervous state that one she thinks
she's free she'll go right away to the coast. Of course it's an awful risk
for me to take, because she knows
all about them—but they're pretty desperate to get hold of that treaty. But
if they know that the papers have been
recovered by us, neither of those two
girls' lives will be worth an hour's
purchase. I must try and get hold of
Tuppence before Jane escapes."
(TO BE CONTINUED.)

CHAPTER XIV
In Downing Street.
The prime minister tapped the desk
in front of him with nervous fingers.
His face was worn and harassed. He
took up his conversation with Mr. Carter at the point it had broken off.
"I don't understand," he said. "Do
you really mean that things are not
so desperate after all?"
"So this lad seems to think."
"Let's have a look at his letter
again."
Mr. Carter landed it over. It was written in a sprawling boyish hand.
"Dear Mr. Carter:
"I think I know who the real Jane
Finn is, and I've even got an idea
where the papers are. That last's only
a guess, of course, but I've a sort of
feeling it'll turn out right. Anyhow, I
enclose it in a sealed envelope for
what it's worth. I'm going to ask you
not to open it until the very last moment, midnight on the 28th, in fact.
You see, I've figured it out that those
things of Tuppence's are a plant too,
and she's no more drowned than I am."
The way I reason is this: as a last
chance they'll let Jane Finn escape in
the hope that she's been shamming this
nervous state that one she thinks
she's free she'll go right away to the coast. Of course it's an awful risk
for me to take, because she knows
all about them—but they're pretty desperate to get hold of that treaty. But
if they know that the papers have been
recovered by us, neither of those two
girls' lives will be worth an hour's
purchase. I must try and get hold of
Tuppence before Jane escapes."
(TO BE CONTINUED.)

CHAPTER XIV
In Downing Street.
The prime minister tapped the desk
in front of him with nervous fingers.
His face was worn and harassed. He
took up his conversation with Mr. Carter at the point it had broken off.
"I don't understand," he said. "Do
you really mean that things are not
so desperate after all?"
"So this lad seems to think."
"Let's have a look at his letter
again."
Mr. Carter landed it over. It was written in a sprawling boyish hand.
"Dear Mr. Carter:
"I think I know who the real Jane
Finn is, and I've even got an idea
where the papers are. That last's only
a guess, of course, but I've a sort of
feeling it'll turn out right. Anyhow, I
enclose it in a sealed envelope for
what it's worth. I'm going to ask you
not to open it until the very last moment, midnight on the 28th, in fact.
You see, I've figured it out that those
things of Tuppence's are a plant too,
and she's no more drowned than I am."
The way I reason is this: as a last
chance they'll let Jane Finn escape in
the hope that she's been shamming this
nervous state that one she thinks
she's free she'll go right away to the coast. Of course it's an awful risk
for me to take, because she knows
all about them—but they're pretty desperate to get hold of that treaty. But
if they know that the papers have been
recovered by us, neither of those two
girls' lives will be worth an hour's
purchase. I must try and get hold of
Tuppence before Jane escapes."
(TO BE CONTINUED.)

CHAPTER XIV
In Downing Street.
The prime minister tapped the desk
in front of him with nervous fingers.
His face was worn and harassed. He
took up his conversation with Mr. Carter at the point it had broken off.
"I don't understand," he said. "Do
you really mean that things are not
so desperate after all?"
"So this lad seems to think."
"Let's have a look at his letter
again."
Mr. Carter landed it over. It was written in a sprawling boyish hand.
"Dear Mr. Carter:
"I think I know who the real Jane
Finn is, and I've even got an idea
where the papers are. That last's only
a guess, of course, but I've a sort of
feeling it'll turn out right. Anyhow, I
enclose it in a sealed envelope for
what it's worth. I'm going to ask you
not to open it until the very last moment, midnight on the 28th, in fact.
You see, I've figured it out that those
things of Tuppence's are a plant too,
and she's no more drowned than I am."
The way I reason is this: as a last
chance they'll let Jane Finn escape in
the hope that she's been shamming this
nervous state that one she thinks
she's free she'll go right away to the coast. Of course it's an awful risk
for me to take, because she knows
all about them—but they're pretty desperate to get hold of that treaty. But
if they know that the papers have been
recovered by us, neither of those two
girls' lives will be worth an hour's
purchase. I must try and get hold of
Tuppence before Jane escapes."
(TO BE CONTINUED.)

CHAPTER XIV
In Downing Street.
The prime minister tapped the desk
in front of him with nervous fingers.
His face was worn and harassed. He
took up his conversation with Mr. Carter at the point it had broken off.
"I don't understand," he said. "Do
you really mean that things are not
so desperate after all?"
"So this lad seems to think."
"Let's have a look at his letter
again."
Mr. Carter landed it over. It was written in a sprawling boyish hand.
"Dear Mr. Carter:
"I think I know who the real Jane
Finn is, and I've even got an idea
where the papers are. That last's only
a guess, of course, but I've a sort of
feeling it'll turn out right. Anyhow, I
enclose it in a sealed envelope for
what it's worth. I'm going to ask you
not to open it until the very last moment, midnight on the 28th, in fact.
You see, I've figured it out that those
things of Tuppence's are a plant too,
and she's no more drowned than I am."
The way I reason is this: as a last
chance they'll let Jane Finn escape in
the hope that she's been shamming this
nervous state that one she thinks
she's free she'll go right away to the co

Don't ruin your eyes - Come to us for Glasses NOW

Do your eyes ache? Come in today and let us fit your eyes to the glasses they need. You will be delighted with the eye comfort that our glasses will give you. We have many styles in mountings.

Reasonable Prices for Reliable Jewelry

MRS. K. ENDLICH
JEWELER Established 1906 OPTOMETRIST

PAINT SALE

- 1 gallon Buckhorn Floor Varnish, $4.00 value at $3.75
- 1/2 gallon Buckhorn Floor Varnish, $2.20 value at 1.89
- 1 quart Buckhorn Floor Varnish, $1.25 value at 98c
- 1 pint Buckhorn Floor Varnish, 65c value at 55c
- Munn's Wall Size, 1 lb. pkg. makes 1 1/2 gals., 65c value at 50c
- Wall Paper Cleaner, 15c can at 12c
- Abolition the wonderful household cleaner, for washing paint and varnish, 16c value at 12c
- Savogram Washing Powder, good for cleaning or washing, 16c value, per pound 14c
- Quick Glass Cleaner and Polish for your automobile and furniture, 85c value at 70c
- Rock Hard Water Putty, fills up the cracks, dries hard as rock, 30c package at 20c
- Ready Mixed Paint $3.60 value at 2.75

WHILE IT LASTS

PETER J. GREITEN, Kewaskum

There's a Reason

why CHIROPRACTIC is growing so rapidly in public favor as the ABSOLUTE HEALTH SCIENCE. SPINAL ADJUSTMENTS are proving their merit daily in conquering CHRONIC and ACUTE DISEASES. MANY in this community can testify to that from their own RESULTS.

BRING ME YOUR HEALTH PROBLEMS

M. M. BACKES, D. C.
PALMER GRADUATE CHIROPRACTOR
(5th Year of Practice)

OFFICE: Above Old Post Office, in Marx Building. HOURS: Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday 9-12 a. m., 2-5 and 7-8:30 p. m.

JOHN MARX

Groceries, Flour and Feed Kewaskum, Wisconsir.

P. L. GEHL & SON
MONUMENTS
SPECIAL DESIGNING TO ORDER
PHONE 128
HARTFORD, WISCONSIN

GOITRE

Completely Relieved for Wisconsin Lady, Caused Choking and Smothering. Health Was Impaired. A Liniment Used.

Mrs. Wm. P. Jones, Hartland, Wis., says she is willing to write any one how she was, in a short time, relieved of her ten year goitre with Sorbol. Quadruple a stainless liniment. Get free information from Sorbol Company, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Sold by all drug stores. Locally at Edward C. Miller, Druggist.

Subscribe for the Statesman now.

AUBURN
Mr. and Mrs. Gust Dickmann spent Friday evening with Peter Treiber.
Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Treiber and son Melvin spent Thursday at Fond du Lac.

Mrs. August Schupinsky Sr., of Milwaukee called on Mrs. Gust Dickmann Saturday afternoon.
Mr. and Mrs. August Schupinsky Sr., of Milwaukee spent the past week with the J. F. Uelmen family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Uelmen and family of here and Mr. and Mrs. August Schupinsky Sr., of Milwaukee visited Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Treiber at Campbellsport.

PLYMOUTH
Plymouth, Wis., Nov. 5.—On the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange today, 5,900 boxes of cheese were offered and all sold as follows: 400 boxes twins at 23c, 150 at 23 1/4c, 50 at 23 1/2c, 400 daisies at 23 1/2c, and 4,900 at 23 1/2c.

ST. KILIAN

Miss Agnes Darmody spent Sunday with friends at Slinger.
Miss Marietta Byrne is visiting relatives at Milwaukee since last week.
A baby boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Zehren last Thursday.

Miss Margaret Hurth is visiting with relatives at Milwaukee since Saturday.
Frank Flisch of Milwaukee spent the week-end with the Jos. Flisch family.

J. Wenninger and family of Lomira spent Sunday with the Adolph Batzler family.
Mr. and Mrs. Tony Wondra have gone to housekeeping on the Jos Wondra farm.

Mr. and Mrs. And. Flisch and daughter Frances spent Monday at Milwaukee.
Mrs. Michael Jaeger of Campbellsport spent Thursday and Friday here with relatives.

Math. Serve and Miss Verona Schill of Ashford spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Tony Wondra.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Krinker, Mrs. Jake Batzler and daughter Anna spent Tuesday at Milwaukee.

Miss Marie Stark of Milwaukee spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Robt. McCullough and family.
Mrs. Jos. Eberle of Kewaskum is spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Flisch.

Mrs. John Coulter is spending several days at Brownsville with her daughter, Mrs. W. Wellso.
Wm. Knarr and Miss Apolonia Flisch of Milwaukee spent Sunday with the And. Flisch family.

Mrs. Kate Emmer of Ashford spent Thursday and Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. German and the And. Flisch family.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schaub spent several days of last week with Mr. and Mrs. W. Spindler and other relatives at Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Boegel and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Boegel of Kewaskum spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Boegel and family.
Miss Marie Stark left for her home at Milwaukee Sunday afternoon. Miss Stark was visiting the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Herman and Mr. and Mrs. John Kuehl attended the funeral of Mrs. Mina Hellmuth at Milwaukee Tuesday afternoon.
Mrs. Ed. Dieringer underwent a serious operation at St. Agnes hospital, last Friday. She, at present is getting along as well as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Kilian Flisch and family attended the christening of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Karl at St. Bridget's Sunday. Mrs. Flisch was sponsor.

Mrs. P. Darmody and daughter Agnes, Mrs. R. McCullough and daughter Mariella and Miss Sarah Coulter spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Mies at Lomira.
A baby boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Batzler last Thursday. He was christened Sunday and received the name Allen Jacob. Grandpa Wenninger of Lomira and Grandpa Batzler of here were the sponsors.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Schmitt was christened Sunday. She received the name Anna Irene. Miss Irene Schmitt of Milwaukee and Tony Schmitt of Marshfield were the sponsors. Mr. and Mrs. And. Strachota acted as substitutes for Mr. and Mrs. Schmitt, who were unable to come for the ceremonies.

WAUCOUSTA

Miss Carrie Buslaff was an Eden caller Tuesday.
John Planagan of Eden was a caller here Saturday.
Mrs. Wm. Thompson was a Campbellsport caller Friday.

A. C. Buslaff made a business trip to Fond du Lac Saturday.
A. C. Buslaff was a business caller at Campbellsport Tuesday.

Mrs. E. E. Ford and daughter Vera and son Ed. spent Friday at Hartford.
Miss Florence Lau of Waukesha visited at the home of L. Buslaff Sunday.

Miss Florence and John Buslaff of Fond du Lac spent Sunday at their home here.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Norges and Mrs. Oscar Bartelt were Fond du Lac callers Saturday.

Harry Sands was a caller here Saturday enroute from Milwaukee to his home at Green Bay.
Roland Buslaff, traveling salesman for the Universal Milking Machine Co., spent Sunday at his home here.

Mrs. Richard Hornburg entertained a number of her friends at her home Thursday evening. The occasion being her birthday anniversary.
Mr. and Mrs. Charley Norges and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hornburg attended the funeral of a relative at Kewaskum Monday afternoon.

LAKE FIFTEEN

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Schmidt and daughter spent Sunday at Kewaskum.
Mrs. Chas. Krueger, Jr. spent Tuesday with Mrs. Will Krueger at New Fane.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wunder spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heberer.
Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krahn and son spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Krueger.

Mrs. Albert Krueger and daughter Ruth of Beechwood spent Saturday with Mrs. Chas. Krueger.
Mr. and Mrs. Herman Krueger and sons from Milwaukee spent Sunday at the Chas. Krueger home.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Butzke and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Butzke and family.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gatzke of Campbellsport spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Gatzke and family.

ELMORE

Mr. Leyman Pitt is working for Oscar Backhaus.
Miss Delia Pitt spent Sunday afternoon with Lizzie Konrad.

Miss Delia Pitt is visiting her sister, Mrs. Oscar Backhaus and family.
Mrs. Oscar Backhaus and Leyman Pitt called on relatives at Waukesha Sunday afternoon.

Willie Buss of Cascade and Delia Pitt attended the show at Franey's hall Sunday evening.
Adolph Pitt, sisters Lorena and Aurilla of Waldo and friend of Beechwood spent Sunday evening with the Oscar Backhaus family.

NEW PROSPECT

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Walsh visited with relatives at Eden Sunday.
Marion Gilboy of Dundee was a business caller here Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Uelmen visited with relatives at Fond du Lac Thursday.
Mr. and Mrs. August Jandre and son Harvey spent Friday at Kewaskum.

Mrs. Wm. Bartelt and daughter Cordell were Kewaskum callers Saturday evening.
E. W. Becker and family spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives at Milwaukee.

Miss Mildred Larson spent from Friday till Monday with her parents at Five Corners.
Gust Flitter of Campbellsport spent over Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Tunn and family.

Ninneinan and Rielly, real estate dealers of Cascade were business callers here Monday.
Oscar Bartelt and family of Waukesha visited Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Aug. C. Bartelt.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Romaine spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Philip Koch at Lake Seven.
Mr. and Mrs. R. Trapp and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Koch were Sheboygan callers one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Detman of Beechwood were callers at the H. W. Koch home Monday afternoon.
W. A. Krueger and Wm. Suemnicht of Cascade called on relatives and friends in the village Friday evening.

Math. Flitter returned to his home at Campbellsport Sunday after spending some time with his uncle J. Tunn and family.
Oscar Bartelt and family of Waukesha and Miss Belle Breier of Fond du Lac were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bartelt Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bartelt and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Uelmen attended the card party at St. Michaels Tuesday evening.
Frank Bowen and family attended the 47th wedding anniversary celebration of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ezekiel Bowen at Dundee Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Rauch, son Wesley and daughter Jeanne of Five Corners, Geo. H. Meyer and family spent Sunday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Uelmen.

DUNDEE

Rev. Carl Aeppeler was a Campbellsport visitor Monday.
Mrs. George Gilboy spent the first part of the week at Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hintz spent Sunday evening with the C. W. Baska family.
Mrs. John E. Krueger spent Thursday with relatives and friends at Campbellsport.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hintz visited Sunday afternoon with the Henry Hefersmann family.
Mrs. Paul Koenigs of Campbellsport spent Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. John E. Krueger.

Mr. and Mrs. Math. Schuh, who have gone to Milwaukee for the winter months, spent Saturday and Sunday at their home at Long Lake.
Rev. Carl Aeppeler and daughter, Mrs. Paul Gleiter visited with the former's daughter, Helena at the county hospital near Fond du Lac last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Mulvey of Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Murray of Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. John Pesch of Campbellsport visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Braun.

Mrs. Paul Gleiter and sons Werner and Theodore, who had been visiting the past two weeks with the former's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Carl Aeppeler returned to their home in Alma, Wis., Saturday.

H. P. Bowen and wife and daughter and Dr. Emmet Bowen of Watertown and Frank Bowen of New Prospect, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. King of Adell, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bowen of here visited Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ezekiel Bowen in the village.

TOWN SCOTT

Paul Geier is spending some time with relatives at Milwaukee.
Miss Anna Skelton of Cascade spent the week-end with John Pesch and family.

Mrs. Robert Zinkgraf of Beltonville spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moldenhauer.
Ben Fellenz and Joe and Joe Schiltz spent Sunday with Nick Uelmen and family at Cecil.

Miss Susie Aeppeler visited with her sister, Mrs. Paul Dognitz and family Sunday.
Misses Marie and Viola Lillege spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moldenhauer.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Klein visited with Mrs. Henry Fellenz and family Monday evening.
Mr. and Mrs. John Mertes of Kewaskum visited with John Pesch and family Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pesch, Mr. and Mrs. John Fellenz attended the card party at St. Mathias Tuesday evening.
Mrs. Henry Fellenz and daughter Elizabeth and son visited with Joe Fellenz and family at Barton last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Hero and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Garmen of Milwaukee spent Saturday evening at the Mrs. Henry Fellenz home.
Misses Pauline and Loraine Theusch attended the farewell party of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Schladweiler Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Schladweiler left for Chicago Tuesday.

The following spent Sunday with John Fellenz and family: Mr. and Mrs. Ben Garmen, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Hero and son of Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. Gerhard Peters and family of West Bend, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fellenz, Mrs. Peter Laubach and Joe and Mike Schladweiler of East Valley.

BEECHWOOD

Armistice Day tomorrow (Sunday).
Verona Guss spent several days with Elda Flunker.

Lina Hammen called at the John Held home Monday.
A large number from here attended the Jubilee services at Kewaskum on Sunday.

Viola Hintz is spending some time with her parents here. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hintz.
Mr. and Mrs. John Held spent Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Krahn.

Several from here attended the funeral of William Lawrence at Kewaskum Monday.
Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schroeter of Silveston, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schroeter spent several days with Rev. and Mrs. Ernst Scherle at Middleton.

Advertisers in The Statesman now get the same cut service as the big city dailies. We have made arrangements with the Bonnet-Brown Company of Chicago, for the furnishing of cuts for advertising purposes absolutely free.

This service is the best in America and has as clients some of the largest newspapers published.

Never before has it been possible for a weekly paper to furnish this service without a considerable added outlay on the part of the advertiser, and even now it is only offered to the paper recognized by advertisers and readers as the leader in its section.

The Statesman buys the cuts; the advertiser pays for the space in the paper at the same rate as for other advertising.

We will be glad to explain the matter more fully.

Some of our patrons have already taken advantage of this offer and others are invited to do so.

The Kewaskum Statesman
HARBECK & SCHAEFER, Publishers

Printers Publishers Designers

Contracted Cold at a Billy Sunday Revival

Developed Into Systemic Catarrh Recommends PE-RU-NA

Mr. A. R. Wilson, LaFollette, Tenn.

The letter written a short time ago by Mr. A. R. Wilson of LaFollette, Tenn., brings some more direct evidence of the value of Pe-ru-na in the treatment of catarrhal diseases.

It reads as follows:—"While attending Billy Sunday's great revival at Knoxville, Tenn., last February I contracted a cold which weakened my entire system. I have taken only three bottles of Pe-ru-na and feel like a new man. It is a great system builder as well as a great catarrh remedy."

To attempt to even estimate the thousands who, in the last half century, have come to know and appreciate the merits of Pe-ru-na would be worse than useless. The number is astonishing and increasing daily.

Your nearest dealer has Pe-ru-na in both tablet and liquid form. Insist upon having Pe-ru-na, the original treatment for catarrh.

ST. MICHAELS

Frank Rose spent Sunday at Campbellsport.
Joe Laubach of New Fane spent a few days at the Adam Roden home.

Gerhard Fellenz and children spent Sunday with the Frank Stalpluff family.
A number from here attended the card party at St. Michaels Tuesday evening.

Miss Jacobine Lorenz spent the week-end with the John Berres family at Barton.
Kilian Strobel and wife of Milwaukee and Leo Fellenz of Shawano were visitors at the Hubert Fellenz home.

The Ladies Society will give a prize card party at the hall here on Tuesday evening, November 13th. Everybody is cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Habeck and son and Miss Viola Grayvski accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bremser and children of West Bend called on the Mike Scheid family at Elmore Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roden entertained the following Sunday evening: Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bremser and children of West Bend, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Habeck and son, Mr. and Mrs. John Roden and the Misses Jacobine Lorenz and Viola Geavski.

Subscribe for the Statesman now.

The Barton Roller Mills

WISH TO ANNOUNCE

THAT the Machinery has been completely overhauled during the Summer Season, having the latest improved SCOURING, GRINDING and BOLTING EQUIPMENT being used in the MILLING INDUSTRY.

THAT by having a special representative in the Minneapolis Market it is possible to always secure the best grades of Milling Wheat, which, through the perfect SCOURING and WASHING PROCESS before grinding, enables the Manufacture of a Flour equal to the BEST.

THAT making a specialty of CUSTOM MILLING it is profitable for the FARMERS to bring their Wheat in, and to EXCHANGE it for the HIGH QUALITY FLOUR with its quantity of FEED, or, if desired, can EXCHANGE RYE for WHEAT FLOUR.

THAT the employment of efficient labor is the result of extending absolute satisfied service to the PATRONS who in turn benefit by this SERVICE of the production of WESTERN WHEAT BEST FLOUR, (SNOW QUEEN), CHOICEST FAMILY RYE FLOUR, GRAHAM or HEALTH FLOUR, BRAN, MIDDINGS, MEAL, ETC. and GRINDING of either GRAIN or COB-CORN.

THAT BARTON is easily reached, being located at intersection of improved and well kept STATE and COUNTY HIGHWAYS of Washington and adjoining Counties and therefore it is possible to accommodate the FARMERS of a BROD AREA when calling at the BARTON MILLS.

The Gadow Milling Company

Funeral Parlor Phone Kibbourn 1318
Frank A. Zwaska
UNDERTAKER
LADY ASSISTANT
Especially Equipped to Ship Bodies From Hospital
2406 Center Street
Corner Twenty-fourth
Milwaukee, Wis.

NO HUNTING ALLOWED

Notice is hereby given that we, the undersigned persons forbid any hunting or trespassing on our property. Anyone caught doing so will be prosecuted according to law:

- Frank Schultz
- Herman Backhaus
- Mrs. F. Brockhaus
- Frank Backhaus
- John Pirks
- John Oppermann
- Wm. Heberer
- F. W. Bartelt
- John Schultz
- Chas. Krueger
- Wm. Schmidt Jr.
- Leo Kaas
- Wm. C. Backhaus
- Frank Kudok
- Fred Zimmerman
- Kilian Reindl
- Walter Heberer
- Aug. C. Bartelt
- Forest Lake Resort
- Oscar Muench

Advertisement—10-6-1f.

Fond du Lac Daily Reporter
Bigger and better than ever
Now being published on our new 24-page Duplex Press
THREE MONTHS $1.00
in Wisconsin

Possible to Be Too Critical. It is a most unhappy and unhealthy thing to have too critical eyes for others.—J. H. Neesima.

Subscribe for the Statesman now.