HONORABLE DEFEAT

BE NOT assumed of defeat that is eined with honor. It is better by far to be true to yourself, loyal to exalted principles, able at all times to look into your mirror without & sense of gullt, than to wear fine raiment and sir among kings.

It is better to sleep sweetly at night with a clear conscience than to toss about in fear of puntshment, which you know you have earned and right-

It is better to be poor all your days than to cheat, He and steat while heaping up wealth in the frantic chase that frequently leads to broken health and groveling age, before the allotted time of three score years and ten.

If you have preserved your honor In the hard struggle for existence, if your heart is full of joyous faith when lot, and you will be joyously happy the sky begins to darken at your coming night, you have within you a sub- honor lime peace which all the wealth of the world cannot buy, and which, if offered you, you would brush aside as worthless drom.

He not dismayed if you cannot spring up in a clap to the heights of power through chicanery; but instead be filled with confidence, because the years in which you have labored without tainting your soul have left you clean, clear-eyed and hopeful.

It is not for every worthy man to win in battle; it is not for every

Your Last Name

15 IT MANN?

THE fact that this name is derived om the word man, as it was used to indicate a servant or retainer, ought not to be objectionable to those who bear the name. Knight also first indicated a servant or retainer and the good old surnames Chambertain and Stewart or Stuart were derived from names indicating positions of service. However, it has been pointed out the Mann was an Anglo-Saxon person name and the surname may have been taken from it. When man is found in compound with other sylinbles it sometimes is used purely by way of description. Thus we have Goodman and Youngman.

Still another explanation is given of the name and undoubtedly this holds true in certain branches of the family. In this case the name has a local origin and is derived from i.e Mans. from William Mann who settled in the capital of Sarthe in France. For Cambridge, Mass. There was also an instance William, who came from Le English Horace Mann-Sir Horace Mans, might have been called William Mann. He was born in 1701, and was Le Mans which eventually would be the second son of Robert Mann, a Lon-

Fertile Soil Is a Real Treasure

English Scientist Emphasizes Importance of Organie Matter.

A fertile soil is to the farmer what a mine rich in ores is to the mine operator, but there the comparison must end, for the good farmer never depletes the fertility of his soil. "But what is a fertile soil?" asks Jersey agricultural experiment station. Soil Fertility Defined.

"Definitions will vary according to the viewpoint of those giving them. A definition given by the noted English scientist, Sir Henry Gilbert, in a lecture on 'Agricultural Investigations, husbandman, at Clemson college. delivered at Rutgers college forty years ago last October, is at least full by allowing the brooder to become too of meaning. He said: 'The history of hot, thus overheating the baby chicks. agriculture throughout the world, so Diarrhea is followed by a pasting up far as we know it, clearly shows that of the vent and the baby chicks becoma fertile soil is one which has accumulated within it the residue of ages of previous vegetation, and that it becomes infertile as this residue is exhausted; and enormous as are the accumulations in the prairie lands of the American continent, it is still desirable to postpone rather than to accelerate the time of their exhaustion."

Statement by English Expert. "Another of England's distinguished scientists, Sir John Russell, while on a visit to the New Jersey experimen: station in October, 1924, made this significant statement; "The English farmer must get 30 bushels of wheat and about 300 bushels of potatoes to the acre or he loses money."

"This definition is given in terms of he soil's crop-producing power, but the two definitions are not far apart in actual meaning, since a soil that is deficient in organic matter—the accumulated residue of ages of vegetation mentioned by Doctor Gilbertwill not produce 30 bushels of wheat or 300 bushels of potatoes to the acre. "In one of his lectures in this coun try, Doctor Russell further emphasized the importance of a supply of organic matter as follows: 'One of the great needs of agriculture in America, as I see it, is a more general practice of saving and applying barn yard manure, the using of time to swecten the soil, so that leguminous crops may be grown, and the following of proper crop rotations. The English farmer was forced to adopt this practice long ago, because of the limited acreage of farm lands."

"The question of maintaining the supply of organic matter in the soil is becoming more Serious every year. There is yet much room for improvement in methods of handling and using farm manure, and in the growing of green manure crops. American farmers must sooner or later adopt the practices which long ago proved so successful in Europe."

Cocklebur Plants Will

Cause Serious Injury A series of experiments conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture has shown that cocklebur plants are poisonous to swine cattle, sheep, and chickens. Some have contended that deaths due to cockleburs were caused by mechanical action of the burs on the tender organs of the animals rather than to poisonous quallties of the plant,

After extended experiments with the animals mentioned above, the department concludes that while the burs may produce some mechanical injury The Mann family was early estable at Florence and a man of much promi- A BARGAIN WAS DRIVEN and while the seeds are very pelson ous, stock poisoning is caused by feedmay easily eat enough to cause serfous results.

Asparagus One of Most

Remember that asparagus is one of the most dependable and nutritious vegetables that we have, and one of addition to legume hay and corn silage, the earliest to be ready for use in the weaned strong lambs and had an abunspring. The Mary Washington variety is considered the best for both home use and commercial purposes. Set the crowns in the garden in rows four feet apart and two feet apart in the row, A good crop will be produced.

Mix the manure well with soil after adding a handful of eat without interference, the grain aiacid phosphate and kainit, but do not plant outdoors until apple blossoms open. A few for very early use may be started in strawberry boxes placed in botheds.

Good Garden Rotation

It is quite likely that, when once the garden plot has been located, it will not be changed for a number of years. In order to provide for proper rotation, a certain portion should be seeded to clover each year. It is not advisable from the standpoints of maintaining soil fertility, and controlling insects and plant diseases that any one crop be planted twice in succession in the same place. By referring each year to the plan of the preceding year, these changes may be provided stove is allowed to go out and remain out for any length of time, the result | Cornis usually bad cases of diarrhea and henvy lesses.

Overfeeding is the most frequent cause of diarrhea. The baby chicks do not need food until after 56 or 72 hours have passed. The first feed should be soft and easily digested. Feed small amounts but feed often. It is always better to underfeed rather than overfeed.

We can eliminate these troubles which cause a loss of 50 per cent of our baby chicks by adhering to the following rules:

Breed from fowls free from white inrrhea. Keep brooders at right temperature at all times Give plenty of buttermilk each day. Do not overfeed baby chicks.

Profits Are Increased by Using Better Sires

"So much is heard nowadays regardng agricultural depression, that it is interesting to note how profits in dairying can be augmented by using only herd sires of high-producing ancestors," says W. R. Robbers, New Jersey state superintendent of advanced reg-

"The significance of these facts is apparent when it is considered that the number of dairy cows in New Jersey might be cut in half if better of by only a few. The average production of milk in the state is 2,230 quarts per cow. The average of Ne Plus Ultra's 34 daughters is 5 459 quarts each. In other words, many farmers are using twice as much barn space, pasture, and labor, and nearly twice as much feed as they ought to for the amount of milk they have to the germs.

It's easy now to keep your chicks from it. Simply pur a little B-K in the chicks' drinking water for the first ten days. Disinfect the incubator before the hatch to prevent the germs getting into the eggs. Spray the pens with this amazing germ killer to destroy the germs spread in the droppings. That's all there to it. And it works.

B-K is the greatest and safest of all germ killers. Eleven years' proved success. No acid, no poison, no bother.

A Common Sense Planter

NE of the things you'll like best about the Interna Utional corn planter is the practical, common sense way it goes about its work.

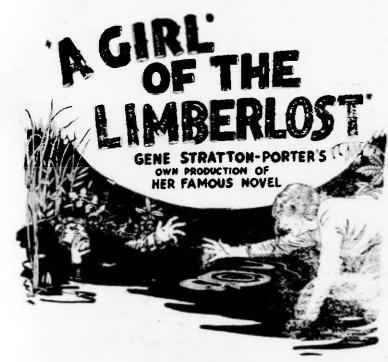

When you see it in action, you note the accuracy with which the kernels are dropped, how they are all placed in the bottom of the furrow, how easy it is to adjust the tongue for teams of different heights, keeping the boots and making the hills easy to cross cultivate.

This planter can also be set to drop full hills without the use of a check wire by the addition of a simple power drop attachment. The change from checking to drilling can be made at any time by pressing down a small foot lever. Fertilizer attachments if you want them.

These are features that make a corn planter valuable and desirable. There are other good features too, that we can show you if you will come in and see us before you buy your corn planter this year.

OUTLINES NEW POSTAL RATES

Increases Cover $68,000,000 Wage Increase-First Class Unchanged.

Washington, - A comprehensive stalement was issued by Postmaster General New on the increases in postal rates, effective April 15, which are required to take care of the advance in postal salaries, amounting to approximately $68,000,000 a year.

"So far as the rates on first-class mail are concerned," Postmaster Gen eral New said, "there are no changes whatever except in the case of private malling cards, including souvenir post cards, on which the rate is increased from 1 to 2 cents each. Pest cards issued by the government, however, will continue to be sent for 1 cent

"The rates on second, third and fourth-class mail have been increased in certain contingencies, but this increase is very siight and will not work any hardenip on the mailing public. The excess revenue will provide increased compensation for the post office's army of faithful employees."

Killed at 104 Years

When old Dr. Yernest, the Swedish doctor, scientist and inventor, was killed at the age of 104 years by falling from his horse, there is no telling how long he might have lived to prove that he had rediscovered the ancient secret of prolonging life.

He proved that the secret of good health-the secret of prolonging lifewas to keep the digestive organs in good condition and that all the ele-ments to sustain life and to repleaish waste tissue could be secured from pure and wholesome food.

His remedy made of Roots and Herbs he called "ESSENCE OF LIFE." for it seemed to restore vitality and strength to all who used it.

It is the runs scored that win the game. Training camp indications, promises, past records, etc., etc., mean but little once the schedule season is under way. Consistently good performance day in and day out, individually and collectively, is what counts, and always, it is the deciding element which brings home "the bacon"-the pennant, or CHAMPIONSHIP.

The advent of the baseball season offers an opportunity to point out to the citizens of Kewaskum how in civic affairs—as well as on the sports fields, performance is what counts. It applies to Kewaskum and to all of us as players, if this town is to be bigger, more prosperous, and a winner.

We say we are going to patronize home industries, and boost our town, but—do we? Performance counts. We buy one pair of shoes, a new bonnet, or a suit of clothes from home merchants-but do we buy all of our merchandise and amusement here? Performance counts. A three-base hit in April may win one game-but what is needed is plenty of three-base hits in April, May, June and every day, every month up to October—to win a baseball pennant. And every member of the team has to come through with his share of hits.

So it is in this Trade-at-Home game. Every citizen has to do his bit. Day in and day out he must be standing up to the plate "batting them out" for KEWASKUM. It we all remember this and start now to playing the game hard for KEWASKUM we will win. We will have a bigger, beiter, and more prosperous KEWASKUM.
