GRADUATION AND PLAY AT ST. MICHAELS

Members of the St. Michaels Dramatic club will again put forth in their annual play their best efforts in an endeavor to furnish the people of St. Michaels and vicinity with an evening of joyful recreation in the form of a four act drama entitled "Broken Bars." The play will be staged on three evenings, Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday, May 24, 26, 28. Rehearsals are well under way. "Broken Bars" is a heavy play, taken from real life, though serious, interspersed, however, with considerable comedy. Humor, wit, sentiment and pathos are most ingeniously interwoven and will hold the interest of the audience from beginning to the end. Those who have witnessed plays given by the club in the past years will await the coming of this play with keen interest. Special new sceneries have been made for this play. Remember the dates, three nights, and make arrangements accordingly now. Graduation exercises will be held next Sunday, May 10th., at 7:30 p. m. at St. Michaels church, St. Michaels for eight pupils of St. Michaels school. After an address by the Rev. Pastor the graduates who have completed with honor the studies prescribed by the archdiocesan school board, will receive their diplomas. The class consists of the following pupils: Edward Schaeffer, Alice Bremser, Ellenore Delling, Marie Felenz, Leona Gross, Anna Pesch, Marie Theisen and Lilyosa Thull.

CELEBRATE 25th ANNIVERSARY

Sunday, May 3rd., twenty-five years had elapsed since the Rev. C. J. Gutekunst and Miss Otilie Zank were married by the Rev. Otto Bram at Augusta, Wis. For that reason their relatives and friends began arriving Saturday for the usual recognition of the event. Besides the nine sons and daughters of the couple, all of their nearest relatives were present except two brothers of Mrs. Gutekunst who sent congratulations. On Sunday more friends from Milwaukee, Plymouth and Clintonville joined the happy gathering. But the surprise of the day came towards evening. Without arousing any suspicion of his pastor the congregation he is serving made elaborate preparations for special services at St. John's church. Led by the Rev. G. E. Kanies the honored couple and their children responded to the inviting peal of the church bell and under the strains of a processional march played by Mrs. Ed. Kiewald, organist and Mrs. William Kleinke, violinist, took the chairs specially provided for them. After Anthems by the choir and a hymn by the congregation, the Rev. E. Hubner of Random Lake, visitor of the Sheboygan-Manitowish district of the Missouri Synod, gave a very impressive sermon showing forcefully the reasons and proper manner of being thankful on an occasion of this kind. An original poem by the Rev. F. Greve for many years pastor of St. Lucas church, Kewaskum, an intimate friend of the family, was read. Tokens of appreciation were offered to the pastor and wife by August Heberer for St. John's congregation New Fane, Robert Buetner, Immanuel congregation, Campbellsport and Walter Stange, St. John's Young People's Society. A few words by the pastor expressing Mrs. Gutekunst and his own sincere appreciation to all present for all marks of kindness by both congregations ended this services in church. A sumptuous supper was served in the basement of the school to the hundreds of guests by the ladies of the congregation. Among those present from afar were: Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Krubasch of Merrill and Mr. and Mrs. G. Prosch of Hurley, brother-in-law and sister of the groom, E. A. Zank and wife, Augusta, Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Karpinsky of Wausau, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Bethke of Augusta, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Krubasch of Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Grunewald, of Oconomowoc, Gertrude Karpinsky, of Marinette, Hildebrand Karpinsky, Clara and Louise Krubasch of Milwaukee, Chas. Rohde and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rohde, Miss Martha Rohde and Miss Emma Serffing of Plymouth, Miss Laura Schroeder of Clintonville, Miss Ruth Orloff, Oscar Martin, Harold Berger, Adolph Karpinsky of Milwaukee, the Reverends and families: E. Huebner, J. H. Halloth, R. Heschke, C. Witschonke, R. Schroth, G. E. Kanies, H. H. Heidel, H. F. Gruell and Mr. Otto Becke.

WEDDINGS OF THE WEEK

WINDORF-WINDAU NUPTIAL On Saturday, May 2, at the St. Lucas church, a pretty wedding was solemnized when Miss Adela Windorf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Windorf of the town of Kewaskum, became the bride of George Windau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Windau of Milwaukee. Rev. H. Heidel officiated. The bridal couple were attended by Miss Hilda Windorf, as maid of honor and Miss Odelia Guth, as bridesmaid. Fred Windorf, was best man and Lehman Windorf, usher, while Elaine and Eleanor Schleit, dressed in white organdie were flower girls, carrying a basket with mixed spring flowers. The bride was dressed in a white canton crepe dress, and wore a veil in fin effect, caught with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses, baby breath and sweet peas. The maid of honor wore a maise colored Georgette crepe dress, while the bridesmaid wore a salmon Georgette crepe dress. Both attendants carried bouquets of Columbia roses, baby breath and sweet peas. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents with about forty guests in attendance. The home was decorated with green and white crepe paper. Norma Talmadge THE SONG OF LOVE

Norma Talmadge and Joseph Schildkraut—the supreme tragedienne—the most magnetic lover. Here is a new romance which film fans will anticipate with interest. Norma and Schildkraut will make their first appearance together in "The Song of Love", a story of barbaric life and love on the border of the Arabian desert, at the Kewaskum Movies Sunday night. Schildkraut, our new leading man, has had a successful career in drama in Europe and America. In films his performance in "Orphans of the Storm" was a distinct triumph. His career in films since has been watched with keen interest. "The Song of Love", a First National release, Norma and Schildkraut have two unusual roles. Norma, as a primitive, half-barbaric Arabian dancing girl, has a part fraught with the tragic and turbulent passion of a Canaille. It is a part calling for an abandon and dramatic ardor beyond anything she has ever attempted. All the fierce, primitive emotion of the hot Arabian desert, the bizarre color and stirring romance of the Orient are embodied in her role. Schildkraut's part is peculiarly well adapted to his magnetic stage personality. As a French spy, daring, handsome, engaging, he exerts a hypnotic spell over the native girl whose love he finds himself unable to return until death reaches out to separate them. "The Song of Love" was directed by Chester Franklin for release by Producer Joseph M. Schenck. The beautiful photoplay is credited to Gaetano Gaudio, while the picturesque sets were designed by Stephen Goosson.

$17,000,000 ESTATE AWAITS FAMILY

There is great rejoicing in the Weber families of Hartford, Menomonee Falls, Random Lake and St. Cloud, Minn., all because of news coming from England to the effect that Mrs. Nicholas Weber of St. Cloud, Minn., who was born in England, has fallen heir to an estate which in the aggregate totals $17,000,000. Mrs. Weber being one of the nearest of kin is to receive as her share of the estate the sum of $1,000,000. This information was brought to Hartford by John Weber of Menomonee Falls, who has been in Hartford the past two Sundays conferring with his two sons, Adolph and George Weber, proprietors of the Midway Sales Stables. John Weber is a brother of Nicholas Weber of St. Cloud. News of the good fortune befalling the Weber family was transmitted through a Bishop of the Roman Catholic church in England, who has been called for the past ten years trying to trace correct heritage to the fortune. While the report sounds very much like a fairy tale Adolph and Geo. Weber of Hartford, who have been interviewed regarding same are very positive and certain that there is truth to the matter. They state that their father had been called to St. Cloud two weeks ago to confer with his brother and his wife regarding the matter and while there was told that if the money could be collected that $1,000,000 would be settled upon his share. Out of gratitude for the work performed by the church in tracing back heirs of the estate, Mrs. Weber has also made promise of a bequest of $1,000,000 to the Roman Catholic church at St. Cloud.—Hartford Times

LOOKING IN ON THE LEGISLATURE

Madison, Wis.—The University of Wisconsin has lost its fight for an annual $500,000 building appropriation to run for a period of six years, as was asked by the regents in appearance on the university budget.

University officials had hoped to have the program settled for the next six years, thus obviating necessity of appealing to the next two legislatures for new building funds.

Instead, the university will receive a building appropriation of approximately $1,500,000 for the biennium. It will be necessary, when this sum is used, for the regents to renew the appeal to the legislature for additional building allotments.

The university appropriation bill which is to be reported to the legislature will contain these items:

For a wing for Bascom hall, $447,000. For the chemistry building, $300,000. For the library building, $300,000.

For an addition to the library building, $550,000.

These buildings are to be erected in the order named, as rapidly as the governor authorizes the expenditures.

The operating fund of the university each year of the biennium is fixed at $3,000,000. This is an increase over expenditures of the last two years and is also an increase over the bill of two years ago, which provided $2,850,000 for each of the two years.

President Lauds Role of Jews in American History

Washington.—A high tribute was paid by President Coolidge to the part played by the Jews in the history of the United States.

The President spoke at the dedication exercises attending the laying of the corner stone of Washington's new Jewish community center. Taking as his text the deeds of the heroes of the Old Testament and reciting the fact that the Hebrew law was one of the principal sources from which the codes of the original colonies were drawn, he traced briefly the contributions which the Jews of America have made in the way of statesmanship, science, literature, art, business, finance, philanthropy, and the spiritual life of the nation.

He dwelt on the great task that confronted the colonial fathers in welding a nation of many nationalities and creeds, and he warned that the work of spiritual unification is not yet completed.

Moroccans Mobilize for Drive Against French

Tetuan, Spanish Morocco.—Information reaching Tetuan from the interior is to the effect that Abd-El-Krim, the Moroccan leader, is preparing a great offensive against the French since the seizure of his Rifian strongholds at Yebel and the greater part of the Ghanaras at Bend Zerual.

These forces comprise all the men under the command of Abd-El-Krim, with the exception of the tribesmen along the Spanish front. The latter forces will, it is asserted, attack the Spanish line in order to keep the Spaniards busy and prevent any movement to get in the rear of the tribesmen and thus put them between the Spanish and French troops.

Abd-El-Krim's objective is Fez, the capital.

St. Joseph, Mo.—W. T. Van Orman, pilot of the Goodyear III, covered the greatest distance in the national elimination balloon race, which ended on Sunday when the last two bags came to earth.

Van Orman landed at Reform, Ala., outstripping the veteran Capt. H. E. Henshaw by about 40 miles. Captain Henshaw brought the St. Joseph down at Aberdeen, Miss.

In a message reporting his landing Van Orman estimated the distance he covered at 590 miles. A rough measurement by map showed the distance to be approximately 600 miles.

The race carried a cash prize of $1,000 for the winner, the Illinois trophy, and the right to represent the United States in the international balloon race. Second place got $500.

Slain Woman Identified as Mrs. Desidera of Gary

Chesterton, Ind.—After more than 1,000 persons seeking missing girls had visited the Chesterton (Ind.) morgue and viewed the partly burned body of a slender young woman found dead Sunday night, Gary police were convinced that the murdered girl was Mrs. Josephine Desidera of Gary.

Correspondent Made Envoy

Washington.—Charles C. Bert, a Washington correspondent and a native of Indiana, has been appointed minister to Albania to fill a long existing vacancy. It was announced here.

39 Killed in Syrian Riot

London.—Thirty-nine persons were killed and 27 were wounded in a fight between villagers and troops at Ailat, near Homs, in French Syria, according to dispatches reaching here.

W. A. Tilden, Banker, Dies

Chicago.—William A. Tilden, for years one of Chicago's leading bankers, is dead. Mr. Tilden was president of the Fort Dearborn National bank from 1908 until 1922, when the institution was consolidated with the Continental and Commercial Bank.

Jardine Names N. A. Olsen

Washington.—Secretary Jardine has appointed Nils A. Olsen of Herscher, Ill., assistant chief of the bureau of agricultural economics.

Kidnaped Girl Declares Convict Was Kind to Her

Middlebury, Vt. Earl Woodward, ex-convict, is in jail here awaiting a hearing as the charge of kidnaping. He had been hunted for a week by more than a thousand armed persons. Rewards were offered for his seizure, dead or alive, and the mountains for miles around had been searched by posses and militiamen ready to fire on sight, for Woodward was supposed to be a desperate fiend.

In other quarters in jail is eleven-year-old Lucie Chatterton, daughter of Woodward's former employer. She was the supposed victim. But the story she tells has turned the anger of the populace against Woodward to sympathy. She says the ex-convict—the quarry of the hundreds of pursuers—took her from home to protect her from cruelty and guarded her like a brother would be all the long flight. They were brought here from East Brookfield.

Physicians who examined the girl and officials who questioned her say she was unharmed, physically or mentally.

The fugitives were trailed to their hiding place in an abandoned barn in South Brookfield by a police dog.

Solicitor General Beck's Resignation Is Accepted

Washington.—Formal announcement that the resignation of James M. Beck as solicitor general has been accepted by President Coolidge was made at the White House.

In his letter, made public here, Mr. Beck pointed out that through force of circumstances he had often been forced to perform the double duty of acting attorney general and solicitor general. This, he said, had resulted in a very great strain on his eyesight, which has never been of the best.

President Coolidge, in accepting his resignation, highly complimented Mr. Beck.

Two State Laws Found Invalid by High Court

Washington.—The Supreme Court of the United States declared the Massachusetts excise tax law and the North Dakota grain grading act invalid in opinions rendered respectively by Associate Justices McReynolds and Van Devanter.

In the McReynolds opinion, the court reversed the ruling of the Massachusetts Supreme court, which had upheld the excise tax, and found that it imposed a burden on interstate commerce. This decision is of the utmost importance to every foreign corporation doing business in Massachusetts, and likewise of general interest in connection with the subject of corporation taxation by the states.

The North Dakota grain grading act was one of the legislative measures brought by the non-Partisan league. In his opinion, Justice Van Devanter held that the act was invalid because it was "a direct regulation of the buying of grain in interstate commerce."

Publishing of Income Tax Returns Is Upheld

Washington.—The right of newspapers to publish income tax returns under the publicity section of the revenue law was again upheld in a decision rendered by Judge C. S. Hatfield of the United States Court of Appeals.

The court held, in the case of Gotham Hubbard, a Boston merchant, to enjoin the government from publishing his tax returns, that the publicity provision of the tax law is undoubtedly within the legislative power of congress and does not offend against the fourth amendment to the Constitution and that treasury officials, therefore, may not be enjoined from carrying out the terms of the provision.

Bride Who Hurled Acid in Husband's Face Convicted

Los Angeles.—Mrs. Bernice Day charged with throwing acid in the face of her young husband, Darby Day, Jr., son of a Chicago millionaire, was found guilty by a jury. A jury of eight elderly men and four middle-aged matrons needed six hours to reach the verdict.

Miss Carolyn Lundstrom, her sister and the verdict was acquittal.

The verdict carries a sentence of one to fourteen years in San Quentin penitentiary.

Mrs. Day's lawyers served notice of appeal.

CHAPTER I

It had gone to London the moment he was out of uniform, and he had been there for a month. He had seen the most beautiful life; there the women were playing the latest fashions in money-making, or trade, or industry or production efficiency. He had seen the most beautiful life; there the women were playing the latest fashions in money-making, or trade, or industry or production efficiency. He had seen the most beautiful life; there the women were playing the latest fashions in money-making, or trade, or industry or production efficiency.

Such a woman would touch us all—after any of us—me, for instance. We are made ready by a wise nature. Stand by for love, she says, and your stands by, Benjamin. But what's the use, if that's all? Life is a long pull. No duplicit claim should be allowed to turn the tide. No discourse of brilliance chattered off like a disk record in a conservatory. No nose full of the faint odor of violets nor moonlight on a bare shoulder nor a railing of the old man. That's what I mean. That's why most men marry; but I am hardened by too many inspections of duplicit claims.

From a discreet distance? "Exactly." "You want more than that pull of the moment or the month." "To make me give up my own quarters in New York where the sun comes in upon my bare ankles and my coffee, and my Jap brings the newspaper and the cigarettes? I should be glad to say so." "You should try Brena Selcoss."

CHAPTER II

Muriel Benham was savagely a woman. She conceived woman as a species as distinct from males as flora is distinct from fauna. The acquisition by women of the right to vote had been the occasion for mourning, as Peter found out before Mrs. Austin Benham had dreamed through two months, first upon her guest and then upon her lovely daughter.

branches like fans, edged at the tips with the pink blossoms of a new year, symbolic of the eternal round of promise, fruit and decay.

"It goes so soon," said DeWolfe aloud, and this voice which spoke was just as if some old friend had given him counsel as they strolled together in the dusk. He turned.

Only at nine that evening did he hear more. Benham called him by the service wire of the signal corps. "Saying good-by, that's all," said the Englishman, lying glibly. "Good luck. And I forgot to say that your mother was Irish."

He put his cigarette down and allowed it to burn the edge of the table.

He started at the wall with its maps and blue-prints, his eyes full of wonder. This explains, in part, why the reason for his going to London was typical of Peter DeWolfe.

Muriel considered herself as deluged by duty and adaptability to being a woman, and being a woman meant that her brown hair must be made attractive and stable for tennis—a game which she executed with a good deal of dash. In a costume designed to keep freckles off a milk-white skin. Even her forams were covered in the game she took from DeWolfe, who made rather a botch of his unpracticed play, because just as it was a womanly woman's duty to be well exercised and in fine condition for the market, so also was it her duty to be milk-white in an evening dress. The same thought made her appear before Peter in the hedge-walled garden before breakfast in a pair of espy and part furry gown, with a basket of roses hung on one elbow and flower scissors in the other hand.

He started at the wall with its maps and blue-prints, his eyes full of wonder. This explains, in part, why the reason for his going to London was typical of Peter DeWolfe.

When the first player saw the result of his shot he seemed thunderstruck for a moment, and then exclaimed: "Gull heavens! I've scalped the man!"

A Common Sense Planter

ONE of the things you'll like best about the International corn planter is the practical, common sense way it goes about its work.

When you see it in action, you note the accuracy with which the kernels are dropped, how they are all placed in the bottom of the furrow, how easy it is to adjust the tongue for teams of different heights, keeping the boots level and making the hills easy to cross cultivate.

This planter can also be set to drop full hills without the use of a check wire by the addition of a simple power drop attachment. The change from checking to drilling can be made at any time by pressing down a small foot lever. Fertilizer attachments if you want them.

These are features that make a corn planter valuable and desirable. There are other good features too, that we can show you if you will come and see us before you buy your corn planter this year.

YOUR HEALTH

By ANDREW F. CURRIER, M. D.

OCCUPATIONAL DISEASES

IT IS only within a few years that these diseases have been grouped and classified, though many of them were recognized and studied two centuries ago—that is, in 1713, by Ramazzini, who observed the disastrous effects of their occupation upon metal diggers, glaziers, chemists and tin workers.

Farmers suffer from digestive disease, from poorly cooked food and overeating, though their occupation is one of the healthiest.

Fishermen suffer from exposure, and sometimes from too exclusive a diet of fish; sailors suffer from tuberculosis owing to bad quarters, poor food, bad habits, etc.

Lung disease, anemia, tuberculosis and skin disease attack tanners, blacksmiths, miners, bakers, millers and knife-grinders.

Bad air and inhalation of particles of dust injure their lungs, teeth, mucous membrane and skin.

Workers in copper, lead, arsenic, phosphorus, mercury, tin, zinc and brass are frequently seriously poisoned by the metals with which they are occupied, the result being often a fatal one.

Railroad workers have rheumatism, eye-strain, kidney disease (from constant shaking) and they are always exposed to the danger of serious or fatal injury.

Workers in tunnels and caissons under high atmospheric pressure suffer from blood and nerve diseases, while mountaineers, great elevators, and others, have lung diseases on account of diminished air pressure.

Headaches, which are a fact every working man and woman should consider. No constitution is so rugged that it may not break down when the laws of health are persistently disregarded.

THE FOLKS WHO KNOW

The Folks Who Know

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THERE are four kinds of folks who know;

The first know not at all, And very frankly tell you so— Yes, when they can't recall The name of this, the name of that, Own up, and let it go at that.

The second class will wink the eye And try with hems and haws To make you think the right reply They do not give because, Although they know, it might be well, Perhaps be better, not to tell.

The third reply right off the reel, Whatever you inquire, And love their knowledge to reveal To student, sage and scribe— Know ev'rything that comes along, And almost always know it wrong.

The fourth have studied long and hard, Experience and book, Have learned with caution to regard The things at which they look; And men like that will tell to you Not what they know but think they do.

And, of the four, the first and last Will answer you the best; The first will never lead you past The truth; the last will test The truth before your very eyes, For naught is certain to the wise.

SCHOOL DAYS

BILL OR WILLIAM?

Your Last Name

IS IT BLAKE?

YOU might despair of the good sense of anyone who declared that black was white, and yet it seems that sometimes the surname Black with its first cousin, Blake, has such the same meaning as White. These names in some cases may mean black but in others they are more often derived from an old word, black, kindred to bleak and bleach, which mean pale.

John Black or John Blake then simply meant John of a pale complexion, and John White was usually named for the same reason. When these names did come from black, as they sometimes did, they had reference either to a dark complexion, dark hair and eyes, or to black clothes. The Black Prince of English history was known by the color of his coat of mail and so it was that some of the Blacks and Whites and Browns are descended, no doubt, from ancestors who came to be known by the color of their clothes.

The Blakes have always been of a scientific and inquiring turn of mind. They have not been willing to take things for granted. In this country Francis Blake was an inventor and Clarence John Blake was a Boston physician of distinction in the last century. George Smith and Homer Crane Blake were well-known naval officers in this country and Robert Blake in England was a noted admiral and general at sea.

AS TOLD BY Irvin S. Cobb

THE VOICE OF PROTEST

A DISTINGUISHED bishop of the African Methodist Episcopal church in North Carolina was entertaining a number of his preachers at a chicken supper, following the holding of the annual conference.

Except one very small and very black presiding elder, all present were of an impressive size and bearing. So probably it was only natural that in serving the guests the host should entirely overlook the little man.

Presently the time came for replenishing the plates, and now the bishop saw the small figure wedged in behind two wide, broadclothed forms.

"Brother Jones," he inquired in his best pulpit voice, "will you have more chicken?"

"More?" shrieked Brother Jones indignantly. "more? Huh! I ain't never had SOME yit!"

Mother's Cook Book

No splendor of service can compensate for inferior or badly cooked food. A college for women which does not send back to her home the daughter more willing and capable to enter into the home problems and solve them with heartiness and grace, is not an institution of learning. It is an institution of unlearning.—Frank Gausalus.

HINTS AND THINGS

TO KEEP sandwiches fresh for another day, place them on a large plate and cover with another, then wrap in a towel wrung out of cold water. This method keeps them moist without being soaked in any part. When making layer cake, bake three layers. Cut one into half and use with a filling of whipped cream. Put the other together with a boiled frosting, chopped raisins and a few nuts. This will keep fresh for several days and you have two cakes with the work of preparing one.

In most homes there will be an occasional slice of dry bread. This may be soaked, added to sour milk and used for griddle cakes or make:

Queen of Bread Pudding.

Take one pint each of milk and bread crumbs, the yolks of two eggs, one cupful of sugar, a tablespoonful of melted butter, the juice of half a lemon. Beat the whites of the eggs very stiff, add two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, mix the pudding and pour into a baking dish, cover with a layer of powdered sugar, then lemon juice and top with the meringue. Bake until firm. Serve with cream or dot with bits of jelly and serve the pudding hot.

Pineapple Sandwiches.

These are nice to serve with a cup of tea or an iced drink. Take one cupful of shredded pineapple, three-quarters of a cupful of sugar, and the juice of half a lemon. Cook until thick. When cold spread on sponge drops cut into halves, put together sandwich fashion.

Gelatin Pudding.

Take a half cupful or more of fruit juice left from canned fruit, measure, and when making prepared Jello add the fruit juice instead of water, dissolving the Jello in boiling water and finish the pint with the fruit juice.

Pineapple, peach or plum juice is especially good with lemon Jello. A little of the juice from pickled peaches or pears adds much to the mince pie which we all enjoy.

Very small baking powder biscuit broken open, buttered and spread with jam and served, make a tasty hot sandwich to serve with a cup of tea or cocoa.

PARTY FROCK THAT IS IN FAVOR; STAMP BLOUSE WITH GAY COLOR

IF THE crystal globe of fashion-designer reveals the future truly to those who peer into its depths to learn "styles to be," then assuredly this summer will see chiffon entrancing frocks. At this very moment dainty and fascinating story of diaphanous georgette crepes and chiffons, always with the shoulder bouquets playing its part of coquetry and loveliness. It is peach-

Perhaps the tulle blouse is indebted to the ensemble suit for the honors showered upon it this season. This much is sure, the blouse and the tulle are topics supreme in the sea-son's modes. Paris is content to keep simple, letting the blouse receive the full force of lavish touches and decorative features. The French couturier has the gift of saying much in little. That is why colored georgette, touched with the magic of the stylist's art which accounts for the charms of the party dress in the picture. Even our tarty dresses flaunt a flowing necktie, for neckties are a very important trimming item this season. Artificial orchids are worn on the shoulder.

Sheer materials reign supreme throughout advance costume collections. Billowy masses of chiffon manifest in tiered circular ruffles on evening frocks, in insets of circular puffs that make the skirt measure yards around the bottom; in voluminous bows of chiffon at the left hip-line and in countless other entrancing ways. Notwithstanding all this superfluity of transparent fabric, the effect is a whole lot of extreme simplicity, for there is little or no trimming save the inevitable never-to-be-omitted shoulder bouquet. Another item, very important is the satin costume slip over which these frocks of transparency are posed. It must be nothing less than perfect, both as to color and fit.

Very many of the new chiffon frocks are trimmed in lace dyed an accurate match. Not only are airy-fairy delicately meshed silk laces used, but the woman of fashion takes joy in owning a blouse "from Paris." It is sure to have a cunning touch here and there which stamps its artistic origin. Even the simplest tailored blouse is not immune from a delightful appeal of subtle detail. For example, note the blouse to the right in this picture. In this model the artist resorts to tiny horizontal platings for molding the blouse to the figure. It is an excellent suggestion to carry out in one's tailored blouse, that is if one is not so favored as to be in a position to indulge in the purchase of the "original model." The thought is particularly valuable as it illustrates the tendency to get away from the short hip-band effect. The high turnover collar, with its platings, likewise the box plait down the front and the cuffs, are tailored-looking without being severe.

The dressmaker blouse to the left shows the inevitable touch of embroidery. It also has a graceful way of avoiding the now passe high hip band, by means of an abbreviated skirt effect buttoned at the side.

Color is a subject of vital importance when it comes to the blouse or tunic. There is no such thing, this those of the heavier sort are employed for yokes, bandings and insets.

So pronounced is the vogue for sheer materials, that even our daytime dresses are being made of georgette crepe. New wood tones are especially emphasized, also beige. In these exquisite frocks, a new note is sounded in the chiffon shawl which accompanies this sleeveless dress of like material. These scarf-like shawls use the full width of the georgette or chiffon. They are fringed on three sides with hand-tied loops, the selfsame color.

Feminine Haircuts

In London the newest mode of feminine haircut is facetiously styled the "deersticker." It provides a sharp bob across the back with banglets of long hair left over each ear, which may be arranged either on top of the head or to conceal the fact that the hair is bobbed at the back.

Neckwear Fashions

Tailored neckwear is very good just now. Striped linen is successfully season, as overindulgence in gay hues. The solid shades may be yellow, scarlet or startling green, or they may be conveyed in prints, which qualify as the mode only when they are bizarre.

The woman who knows how to dress well, without extravagance, will acquire a handsome topcoat and skirt to match, supplementing these with a collection of blouses both tailored and fanciful, selected with a view-point of creating ensemble effects.

used for the development of some of these sets. Tailored vests are being shown again, and there are some high-collared effects that have a strong style appeal. Lace combinations are also holding their own, as are ruffings of all kinds.

Fur and Metal Lace

Narrow bands of brown fur harmonize with the gold tones of new frocks of metal lace. Chinchilla is used to trim dresses fashioned of silver lace.

TASTY FOODS

A nice cake filling which will be cherished is prepared as follows:

Sour Cream Filling.—Take one cupful of sugar and one cupful of sour cream and a dash of nutmeg. Cook the sugar and cream to the soft-ball stage, add the nut meats and beat until creamy; use as filling and top for cake.

Beef a la Mode.—Take four pounds of the rump of beef, brown the meat in a little fat. Add five or six sliced onions and three cupfuls of boiling water. Simmer for an hour, then add three-fourths of a cupful of vinegar, two or three pieces of stick cinnamon, two tablespoonfuls of brown sugar, two teaspoonfuls of granulated sugar caramelized, two teaspoonfuls of whole cloves. Simmer three hours, adding water as needed. Thicken the gravy with two tablespoonfuls of flour, after straining the broth.

Date Bars.—Take one cupful of dates cut into small pieces, one cupful of coarsely chopped walnut meats, two well-beaten egg yolks, three-fourths of a cupful of sugar, one teaspoonful of salt, six tablespoonfuls of flour and one teaspoonful of baking powder. Add the sugar to the egg yolks, then the flour and fold in the stiffly beaten whites at the last. Flavoring may be added if desired. Add the dates to the flour before adding the other ingredients.

Molasses Drop Cookies.—Take one-half cupful each of butter, sugar, molasses and sour milk. Add one beaten egg, one teaspoonful of soda, two cupfuls of flour, one-half cupful of currants or raisins, cinnamon, nutmeg and ginger to taste. Stir up at night and bake in the morning. Drop by spoonfuls on buttered baking sheet.

Dumplings.—Take one cupful of buttermilk, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one cupful of flour, one egg and a little salt. Drop by spoonfuls on the boiling stew and cover quickly; cook eight minutes. Buttermilk dumplings are very tender and of good flavor.

English Hot Pot.—Put a chopped onion in two tablespoonfuls of fat, lay in a pint of beef cut into half-inch pieces and dredge with flour. When well browned, add a pint of hot water or stock and a tablespoonful each of catsup and vinegar. Stew gently for an hour, then add three potatoes, a stalk of celery, a carrot and a turnip all cut into half-inch-sized pieces; season with salt, pepper and paprika. Stew an hour or more, then serve like soup. More liquid may be added as it cooks away.

Good Things for Any Day. As we all have various tastes, it is necessary in almost every family to have variety.

Fruit and Nut Pudding.—Soak one-half pound of prunes in cold water overnight, then cook in the same water until tender. Take one cupful of sugar, one and one-half cupfuls of boiling water, one-half teaspoonful of cinnamon; simmer ten minutes. Combine one-third of a cupful of corn starch with enough cold water to mix, and add to the prunes; cook until the cornstarch is well cooked. Add one-half cupful of nutmeats and a tablespoonful of lemon juice. Mold and chill.

Jam Pudding.—Take one cupful of flour, one-half cupful of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful each of cinnamon and salt, one egg, one-half cupful of thick jam (if thin, use one-fourth cupful more of flour) and three tablespoonfuls of molasses. Bake in a moderate oven and top with the following custard: Cook until smooth and thick three-fourths cupful of sugar, four tablespoonfuls of flour well mixed, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one cupful of water, two egg yolks well beaten, and when cooled add a teaspoonful of vanilla. Top this topping over the pudding while it is hot. Use the two egg whites for a meringue and brown in a moderate oven. Serve slightly cooled.

Date Pie.—Wash, stone and chop one package of dates. Beat two eggs until light, add two-thirds of a cupful of sugar, one cupful of milk, one teaspoonful of cinnamon and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Mix and add the dates, pour into an unbaked pastry shell and bake in a slow oven until firm. Serve cold with whipped cream. A meringue may be used if preferred.

Apple Punch.—Cut six tart apples into quarters without paring, add one cupful of raisins, two bay leaves, a small stick of cinnamon, the grated rind of three lemons and two quarts of cold water; let come to a boil and cook thirty minutes; drain and when cold add the juice of three lemons, two pounds of sugar and serve with ice.

Hook-Up Diagram of Two-Tube Low-Loss Receiver Which Has Selectivity, Volume and Lack of Radiation Advantages.

Selectivity, volume and lack of radiation are the advantages offered by the two-tube, low-loss receiver described here.

Fans needn't expect to reach across the country with it, but with the presence of so many high-powered stations on the air there's no need to go any farther than 500 miles, or so. It's clear that it is wanted today, and that is what this receiver affords.

The parts are:

L1, L2, L3, low-loss inductance, .00025 mfd. capacity.

C2, fixed grid condenser, .00025 mfd. No leak is necessary.

C3, fixed condenser, .002 mfd.

R, rheostat, 20 ohms.

T, low-ratio transformer, about 3 1/2 or 4-to-1.

One pound No. 18 DDC wire, two sockets, one 7 by 14-inch panel, one 7 by 13-inch baseboard, one open-circuit jack, six binding posts, one vernier dial.

Winding the Coils.

The low-loss inductance coils are wound as follows:

Draw a circle on a wood block, 3 1/2 inches in diameter and mark 14 points around the circle, equidistant from one another. Drill 1/4-inch holes half way into the block and set tightly into each hole a 1/4-inch dowel pin, 3 inches long.

The coils are wound on these pins, the wire being drawn first outside one pin, then inside two, outside one, inside two, and so on until the number of windings called for are completed. Coil L1 should have 15 turns. Coil L2, 70 turns. Coil L3, 22 turns.

Before taking a coil off the pegs drop molten sealing wax over the interconnections and let stand until the wax hardens. Or, tie the coils at the intersection with stout thread.

For Selectivity.

Coils L1 and L2 are mounted on the baseboard parallel to each other, and four inches apart. The bottom of each coil is set within two fiber strips, which are held together by a screw. The screw also holds the coil and strips to the baseboard.

Coil L3 is the tickler and is controlled by a shaft arrangement. The shaft and knob should be set very low on the panel, so that the coil L3 may be tied firmly to it so as to give it freedom of vibration with coil L2. It should be about an inch from L3.

To keep the shaft from moving in and out, have a hole bored through it at the inside of the panel and put a pin through it. This and the dial will hold the shaft in place. The bushing for the shaft, in the panel, may be the kind used for jacks, and the shaft of a diameter to fit it closely.

Test Connections.

Both tubes for this set should be of the 201-A type. The B battery should have a voltage of 90 volts and the C battery 4 1/2 volts.

In trying out the set, change the loads on the tickler, L3, to see which side gives best results. Also reverse leads to the C battery for a similar test.

Above all, be sure that you have the shortest possible leads to all connections. Also that the coils L1 and L2 are four inches apart. This makes for very sharp tuning.—Chicago Evening Post.

Rheostat That Permits of Very Neat Mounting

A new rheostat designed to give a smooth vernier filament control has made its appearance on the market. This rheostat requires only one mounting hole, and can be inserted in the hole from which the old rheostat has been removed. It is claimed to be versatile in all the ways, with but one adjustment to make, and can be used for any tube, or combination of tubes. It is very compact. A particularly neat arrangement of the rheostat is shown in the upper drawing. Here the end made that will not only look better, but will be stronger than usually found.

Bend the stranded wire through, or around the insulator, and pull about four inches through. Secure some copper wire, or galvanized iron wire, and

General Hulg has won more than $25,000 in prize money as a race horse, making first in nine important handicaps on the important tracks of the country, from New Orleans to Latonia.

"There is a need and market demand for riding horses in the country," commented Dr. C. W. McCambell, head of the department, in announcing the acquisition of General Hulg. He urged farmers who wish to produce good riding horses to take advantage of the opportunity offered.

Farmers Should Produce Vegetables for Own Use

Modern economic life is built on division of labor. Our standard of living would be impossible without it. But do not some farmers carry it too far when they fail to produce their own vegetables? If they depend on buying them, they are almost certain not to buy enough. The best modern diet standards call for two servings of vegetables for each of us daily, besides potatoes. Few families use vegetables that freely increase they grow their own. Supposing that they did buy in abundance, would it pay? Almost certainly not. The average price received by farmers for food sold is now about 120 per cent of what it was in the years just before the war, but the price the farmer pays for food he buys at retail is about 150 per cent of pre-war prices. High-priced labor gets the difference. The more of his own food the farmer produces, the more of that difference he can save.

Weak Signals and What Is Cause of Trouble

If the signals which are customarily found from a station are suddenly found to be quite weak, the difficulty may be caused by one or more of the following:

The plate battery may be exhausted. The phone jack may not be making good contact.

The hand phones may have become demagnetized.

The filament battery may have become discharged.

The transmitting station may have reduced its power.

The antenna may have become disconnected or the ground connections may have become ineffective, due to existence of insulating paint or gaskets used in making pipe connections.

The crystal detector of the receiving set may have become dirty. In the latter case the metal point which touches the crystal may be filed and the surface of the crystal washed with soap and water.

Stranded Wire: How to Make Good Fastening

There are quite a few listeners-in who use stranded wire for their aerials, or possibly for the guy wires. Those who have tried to fasten this kind of wire to insulators or other supports have found that it is a difficult thing to secure a satisfactory and neat job.

If the following scheme is followed out, a workmanlike fastening can be made that will not only look better, but will be stronger than usually found.

Bend the stranded wire through, or around the insulator, and pull about four inches through. Secure some copper wire, or galvanized iron wire, and

Rectifier Is Explained in Government Pamphlet

In an effort to explain the efficiency and value of rectifiers used to charge radio storage batteries, the bureau of standards has issued technical paper No. 295 entitled "Theory and Performance of Rectifiers." It is available to all fans from the superintendent of documents, Washington, for 20 cents.

The demand for small rectifiers has increased greatly during recent years, owing to the large number of small storage batteries employed in connection with radio sets, and because of the growing practice of charging the batteries at low rates, this practice being known as "trickle charging."

The purpose of the bureau's investigation was to obtain data on the performance of the most common types of rectifiers on the market, and to explain the principles underlying their operation.

Because of the adaptability of the electrolytic rectifier to the study of the underlying principles of rectifica-

Time to Clean Up Home Berry Patch

Good Clean Crop of Fruit Often Results From Early Work in Garden.

The time to clean up the home berry patch and the vineyard is right now, according to R. P. White, assistant professor of botany at Kansas State Agricultural college. "There are several practices which should be carefully carried out if a good clean crop of small fruits is to be obtained next summer," Professor White said.

"Raspberries and blackberries are both attacked by diseases whose control is the same. Anthracnose, a disease of the canes, can be largely eliminated from the patch by cutting out all the diseased canes at this time of the year.

"Apply Bordeaux Mixture. "A Bordeaux mixture, 4-4-50, should be applied three times—first before the leaves appear in the spring, second when the young shoots are six inches high, and third before the blossoms open.

"Crowns are another common disease in a small planting is black rot. These can be removed now.

"Both the blackberry and raspberry are attacked by the orange rust. A film of the surface of the leaves is covered with an orange powder which is easily spread. The only remedy is to dig up the plants and burn them.

"The most troublesome grape disease in a small planting is black rot. It attacks the green berries. Bordeaux mixture, 5-5-50, should be applied as a spray once before the blossoms open, and once or twice after the petals have fallen. The disease may be lessened by proper pruning also. Wet weather is favorable for the spread of the disease.

Mulch Strawberries.

"Strawberries should be well mulched during the winter to prevent frost injury. The patch should be well weeded during the picking season. There is a root rot which has caused a great deal of concern. There is no remedy for it, once it starts. The only recommendation that can be made is to start a new patch some place else.

"If there is abundant rain, considerable loss occurs from root rot. This can be prevented if a heavy straw mulch is applied around the plants and between the rows.

"In the control of any plant disease, sanitation measures are very important, and now is the time to clean up the blackberry and raspberry patch and the vineyard."

Flavors and Odors of Milk From Feed

Precautions Must Be Taken in Feeding Vegetables.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

When cows are fed such succulent feed as cabbage, potatoes, green alfalfa, green corn, turnips and silage, there is liable to be some noticeable flavor in the milk unless precautions are taken, says the United States Department of Agriculture. A great deal of experimental work has been done in the use of these feeds, and certain practices have been found desirable and practicable. The important facts brought out were as follows:

Feeding succulent feed before milking is likely to impart an undesirable flavor and odor to the milk.

The longer the time elapsing between feeding and milking the less pronounced will be the undesirable flavors and odors.

Feeding succulent feeds immediately after milking has little or no detrimental effect.

Prompt and thorough aeration of milk while still warm will remove slight flavors and odors and will lessen the intensity of strong flavors and odors.

The department's market milk specialists say that feeds may be one of the most frequent causes of abnormal flavors and odors in milk, and for that reason the feeding of the succulent feeds listed above should be done very carefully.

Sometimes the appearance of feed flavor or odor in milk alarms the consumer, and it may be to the interest of the producer or distributor to acquaint the public with the cause.

Economical Ration for Feeding Ewes and Lambs

Experiments at the Ohio agricultural experiment station have shown that when the ewes are in good thrifty condition heavy grain feeding prior to lambing is uneconomical and does not increase the efficiency of the ration. A light grain allowance, however, is to be strongly recommended even though legume hay and corn silage make up a large part of the daily feed, for the ewes fed one-third to one-half pound of grain per head daily in addition to legume hay and corn silage weaned strong lambs and had an abundant supply of milk.

After lambing, the grain allowance should be increased sufficient to maintain the condition of the ewes as far as possible and to insure a good flow of milk. When the lambs have learned to eat grain, and they should always have a creep where they can eat without interference, the grain allowance of the ewes can be somewhat reduced without reducing the efficiency of the ration.

Chance for Farmers to Produce Riding Horses

An opportunity for farmers to start production of useful, salable riding horses is being offered by the animal husbandry department of the Kansas State Agricultural college. The department has secured a thoroughbred riding horse, Osama Hag, as a loan from the government removal service, and will keep him in the local stud this season.

General Hulg has won more than $25,000 in prize money as a race horse, making first in nine important handicaps on the important tracks of the country, from New Orleans to Latonia.

"There is a need and market demand for riding horses in the country," commented Dr. C. W. McCambell, head of the department, in announcing the acquisition of General Hulg. He urged farmers who wish to produce good riding horses to take advantage of the opportunity offered.

Proper Plan to Supply Bee Colony Foundation

The cost of foundation is very small compared to the cost of letting the bees build it. If the bees build comb they have to eat a good deal of honey and stay in the hive to generate the comb. They seldom build comb except when there is a good honey flow on.

By using foundation the beekeeper saves the comb builders much work, and thus provides many more field workers. Two advantages for comb foundation are as follows:

1. Combs built on foundation are straight and easy to handle.
2. Comb foundation is stamped for working bee cells, and the bees draw it out as it is started, and in this way avoid raising excessive numbers of drones.—E. S. Prevost, Extension Bee Specialist, Clemson College.

Sheep Shearing Machine Is Quite Satisfactory

There are many methods of shearing sheep, ranging all the way from a pair of ordinary scissors to the finest machine clipper. Quite a few farmers at the present time are using hand shears. Probably the most satisfactory machine on the market now is the flexible shaft machine, which has an attachment for clipping horses and mules and another attachment, or flexible arm, for sheep shearing. This machine will cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $30. Where several farmers in a community are growing sheep Prof. L. V. Starkey, chief of the animal husbandry division at Clemson college, suggests that they can cooperate by purchasing a machine and use the same machine for all of the small flocks.

Farm Notes

Ten pounds of alfalfa seed per acre is about right.

The good farmer keeps himself and his farm well posted.

Farming anywhere can only be successful when farmers think.

A handsome, durable, convenient farm gate is a three-fold blessing. Count 'em.

Prepare stock solutions now for Bordeaux mixture. It saves time and is the most efficient way.

The crop we used to regard as a weed, farmers now regard as one of their most valuable crops.

The best way to appreciate fully the value of proper farm equipment is to do without it and figure the loss.

The pepper is closely related to the tomato, and like this vegetable, it thrives best on warm, sandy loam.

Spring is the time to locate the wet spots that need draining. Map out the drains now and dig them when opportunity offers.

Sweet clover pastures carried from six to ten times as much stock as would native grass and with greater returns in milk and meat.

Argentina Has Oil Boom

The satisfactory results obtained by the state-owned petroleum wells in 1924 has encouraged the government to give additional impulse to boring this year. In the Comodoro Rivadavia field alone 156 wells will be sunk, while in the Salta and Jajuy oil fields a considerable number of borings will be begun, according to the New York World.

In other respects also great strides will be made, especially in the installation of refineries, the most important of which, at La Plata, is fast approaching completion.

Another Woman's Case

St. Paul, Minnesota.—"I have a little girl three years old and ever since her birth I have suffered with my back as if it were breaking in two, and bearing-down pains all the time. I also had dizzy spells. I had read several letters of women in the newspapers, and the druggist recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to my husband for me. As a result of taking it my back has stopped aching and the awful bearing-down feeling is gone. I feel stronger and do all of my house work and tend to my little girl. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills for constipation. I have recommended these medicines to some of my friends and you may use this letter as a testimonial if you wish. I will be pleased to answer letters of other women if I can help them by telling them that this medicine has done for me."—Mrs. PRICE, 147 West Summit Avenue, St. Paul, Minnesota.

When the embers had blackened, an investigation of what an hour earlier was a five-room bungalow at Bakersfield, Calif., revealed the ice box standing alone in charred dignity amidst the smoking ruins. Even a bottle of milk still retained its frigid temperature.

It would be narrow vision indeed to rejoice in the movement of freight as great trains go back and forth across the country carrying grain, livestock, poultry and farm products to seaboard markets—and in return bringing manufactured goods to inland consumers. Such activity means prosperity to the nation; more business; better markets; peace and plenty. Unless this community takes all necessary steps to be part of that activity, however, the day cannot be evaded when KEWASKUM will be nothing more than a whistling post. Marketing the things you have to sell and buying your necessities, luxuries and pleasures right here in KEWASKUM is the method whereby we can evade a whistling post identity and insure increased values in our farm and town property; more jobs; better pay and a more prosperous people. For every case of freight which comes to KEWASKUM this year; or every car shipment sent out, there should be two next year. If we establish that goal and work toward it then town growth is assured. We have every natural asset needed right here in KEWASKUM. So it is purely a matter of resolve and a pulling together to that end.

DON'T GET UP NIGHTS

John Lumpkins, Dayton, Ohio, says: "Come to 7 Carrie St., and I will show you 25 pieces of gravel that passed after taking Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula). Had to get up 15 times at night for two years, 'Alright Now.' Lithiated Buchu cleanses the bladder like Epsom Salts do the bowels, thereby relieving irritation, driving out foreign matter and neutralizing excessive acids. These are the causes of unnatural action of the bladder at night. Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) is not a cheap medicine. The tablets cost 2 cents each. Sold at leading drug stores or Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Locally by Edw. C. Miller, Druggist.—Advertisement.

—Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Miller and son Milton of Milwaukee, arrived here last Friday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Jake Remmel. Mrs. Miller and son returned to their home on Sunday while Mr. Miller remained here until this week Friday.
