For my part, I am not so sure at bottom that man is, as he says, the king of nature, he is far more its desecrating tyrant. I believe he has many things to learn from animal societies, older than his own and of infinite variety.—Roman Rolland.

PIES AND PASTRY

A good pastry is a work of art, and she who makes it, an artist.

Plain Pastry.—Take one and one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-third of a cupful of lard, Mix the lard and flour well, cutting it in with a knife. Moisten with cold water and roll out; this makes two crusts.

Date Pie.—Cook one-third of a pound of dates in a pint of milk 20 minutes, using a double boiler. Strain and rub through a sieve then add two eggs, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt. Bake as a custard pie.

Mock Cherry Pie.—Chop fine one cupful of cranberries, add two-thirds of a cupful of raisins, one cupful of sugar and one cupful of water, a pinch of salt, two tablespoonfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of vanilla. Bake in two crusts.

Pumpkin Pie.—Take one and one-fourth cupfuls of well-cooked pumpkin, one-fourth of a cupful of brown sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one egg, seven-eighths of a cupful of milk, one-fourth teaspoonful each of cinnamon, ginger, and nutmeg.

Apple Custard Pie.—Take three cupfuls of stewed apple, six eggs and one-fourth teaspoonful of nutmeg, fold in the beaten whites and bake slowly. This will make two pies.

Mock Mince Pie.—Take two cupfuls each of bread crumbs, sugar and cold water, one cupful of raisins, one-half cupful of vinegar, one egg, and one teaspoonful each of cinnamon, cloves and allspice. Put all together and cook until it thickens. This amount will make two pies.

Chocolate Pie.—Mix two teaspoonfuls of cornstarch, one-fourth cupful of chocolate with one cupful of sugar and cook in boiling water until thick. Add the beaten yolks of two eggs, one teaspoonful of vanilla and one tablespoonful of butter and cook four minutes. Cover with a meringue, using the egg whites and two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Brown slightly.

Ways With Meats.

A main dish which is different is one which appeals to the appetite.

Hungarian Steak.—Scald large cold beefsteaks. Boil after filling with chopped meat, one egg and one-half cupful of cooked rice, all well seasoned. Fasten with toothpicks, put into a kettle and cover with boiling water, cook one hour. Thicken the gravy and serve poured around the cabbage rolls.

Spiced Steak.—Take one flank steak. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add one large onion finely cut, fry until a rich brown. Remove the onion. Cut the steak into serving sized pieces. dredge with flour, fry in the butter. Remove the meat, add hot water, salt and pepper, thicken the gravy and pour all into a casserole and bake until tender. Add three tablespoonfuls of vinegar and a teaspoonful of mustard while cooking.

Mock Duck.—Sift pork tenderloins and stuff with poultry stuffing, sew up, season well on the outside, dot with bits of butter, add a little hot water and bake one hour.

Grilled Steak.—Chop a medium-sized onion fine, dredge it with two teaspoonfuls of flour and fry in hot fat on fat to a light brown. Add two cupfuls of round steak cut into pieces, season well with salt and paprika. Add one cupful of canned tomatoes, drained; add sufficient water to cover. Cook slowly two hours on the back of the range.

Head Cheese.—Take equal parts of pig's feet and veal and pig's head. Clean thoroughly. Put into a kettle with water to cover, adding salt. SKIM the scum as it rises. When the meat leaves the bones take it from the liquor in a skimmer, place in a chopping bowl, remove all bones and chop fine. Strain the liquor. The next morning remove all fat. Add sage, onion chopped fine, a little vinegar, boll up and pour over the meat. Let stand to chill.

Veal Loaf.—Take three pounds of veal, one-half pound of salt pork (both chopped fine), one cupful of crackers, two eggs, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one-half teaspoonful of pepper, sage and nutmeg, and a teaspoonful of salt. Make into a loaf with the cracker crumbs on the outside. Bake two hours, basting with butter and water while baking. Serve cold.

Date Jelly.—Add a cupful of cold water to an envelope of gelatin, soak for a few minutes then add a pint of boiling water, three-fourths of a cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of lemon juice and a package of pitted dates. Turn into a mold and whed chilled serve with cream.

Potash in Agriculture
 About 90 per cent of the potash produced is used for agriculture. A very small percentage is used for manifications during peace time, but its use increases during war time. The remaining per cent is used in the manufacture of glass, liquid soap, safety matches, etc.

SPARK PLUG'S INSIDE STORY

Sillimanite Used for Cores Found Only After Wearsome Search.

Those small porcelain plugs on which your motor depends for its efficiency and power are the basis of an industry running into the millions in production and value. Within their insignificant bodies they carry a tale of adventure and research surpassed by those of few other industries. They tell of the long patient search for sillimanite, a mineral highly resistant to electric shock, almost impervious to high temperature and of great mechanical strength. Search by Scientists. They recount the toils of scientists in research laboratories and their dangerous climbs through the immense crevices of the volcanic mountains of California, digging out this mineral, once believed too rare for commercial use and now being sent down mountainsides by the tons. Even after its delivery into the commonplace factories of the industry, the mineral goes through hundreds of delicate operations to come out finally as a mere spark plug!

All this care and research and adventure have built up an industry that produces 80,000,000 spark plugs annually, at a value of some $20,000,000. The sillimanite that goes into their manufacture is the discovery of one producer, bringing out 50 of the 80 millions of spark plugs annually. But the products of the others may be of the synthetic sillimanite, a laboratory product, or of porcelain compounds.

Many Other Uses. Besides being installed in motor cars they're the things that help make all the gasoline-propelled boats, airplanes, tractors and stationary engines go. Of the 80,000,000 output 58,000,000 are used in passenger cars each year, 14,000,000 in trucks and the rest in all other forms of gasoline motors.

A spark plug will last five years and more, but it's the conviction of spark-plug makers that they should be replaced annually if the motorist would economize in gasoline and oil.

Regard Railroad Track as Real Danger Signal

Every motorist on approaching a railroad crossing should look and listen for trains, according to the legal department of the National Automobile Club. The courts have ruled that travelers upon a public highway, in attempting to cross over railroad crossings, must look and listen attentively for the approach of trains. If such a traveler, by the exercise of reasonable care, could have seen the approach of a train by looking in time to have avoided injury, it will be presumed, in case he is injured, that he either did not look or if he did look, that he did not heed.

Shattering Glass Cause of Motor Car Accidents

Sixty-five per cent of the injuries received in automobile accidents are caused by broken and flying glass from windshields and windows, according to the first analysis ever made of the causes of injury to motorists, completed by the Massachusetts Mutual Liability Insurance association. No figures on this subject have ever been collected before, and the insurance body therefore undertook its own investigation of all accidents on which detailed data were available. The results show that in 1,000 accidents, involving 1,300 motorists, 720 people were injured. Of these, 407, or 65 per cent, were cut by glass fragments. The injuries varied from slight cuts to severed jugular veins resulting in death.

Perfects New Headlight

A new automobile headlight has been perfected that gives long range without glare and which, at the same time, illuminates the ditches and potholes at the side of the road. The new headlight carries its 21 candle-power lamp far enough forward so that the focusing lens is able to direct considerable light toward the sides and even slightly back of the lamp so that the bumpers and radiator of the automobile are made easily visible to passing motorists.

Cold Weather Adds to Traffic Hazards

Winter weather brings increased traffic hazards, points out Walter G. King, president of the National Safety Council, who calls attention to the fact that both motorists and pedestrians should be extremely careful when snow, hail and sleet are likely to obscure the vision of people both afoot and at the steering wheel.

Be sure your auto is equipped with a windshield cleaner. Many drivers prefer the automatic device which permits motorists to keep both hands free for driving and stopping purposes. Brakes that function efficiently are absolutely essential at all times and especially during this kind of weather. They should be tested frequently and regularly.

Chains shouldn't be left in the garage these days. When the tires are worn, the car is especially liable to skid if the brakes are applied suddenly. With good tread the danger is somewhat minimized. Have all of your equipment in good condition. Don't ignore the steering gear, headlights and tail-lights, horns, batteries and other apparatus. If you would avoid accidents.

Luggage Stored on Top of a Closed Automobile

As shown, the top of an enclosed auto body can be used as a fine luggage compartment that will hold extra coats, blankets or parcels and preserve them from dirt and rain. It is particularly useful for motor campers and long-distance tourists. The construction is very simple. A row of snap fasteners should be placed at intervals around the edge of the top. A piece of auto top material can be cut to the proper shape and the socket part of the fasteners attached to it. Be sure to have the cover loose enough so that there will be room for as much baggage as you intend to place under it.

Of course a luggage compartment of this type is more suitable for such articles as rolled-up blankets, tents or other items that have no hard, sharp corners to scratch the material of the top.—Popular Science Monthly.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES

Some cars seem to be able to get fifty lies to the gallon of gasoline. The colleges are serving another great need by concentrating most of the 1920 drivers in a few places. The automobile is replacing the railroads in Denmark, says a special government commission report. The available tonnage capacity of all motor trucks expressed in ton miles is about 1.9 per cent of the railroad capacity. Boston is rapidly developing an "automobile truck row" that is rivaling the "automobile row" of the passenger car. One of the few champions that came through the summer with the title unscathed was the locomotive at the crossing. The old-fashioned vaudeville artist who used to give a program of animal imitations is now in business. He makes trick horns for collegiate roadsters. Chains for a motorist whose car is lacking 'em constitute a timely holiday gift, feels the National Safety Council. Maybe the government investigators will find that the high price of gasoline is necessary to offset the billing station robbery losses. The bureau of standards in Washington has announced, after comparing various chemical compounds and anti-freezes, that denatured alcohol is in general the most satisfactory.

Japanese Continue to Pay Honor to Perry

A shrine to Commodore Perry stands on the heights overlooking Mississippi bay, near Yokohama, to which thousands of Japanese make pilgrimages every year. They honor Perry among their famous ancestors, as having opened up their country to communication with the world, resulting in the overthrow of the Shogunate and establishment of the golden Meiji reign. Few people know that in 1918 Japanese living in Seattle financed a trip to Japan of the sole survivor of Perry's expedition, a sailor named Hardy, in order that honor might be done him. When he arrived in Tokyo the streets were decorated and huge crowds lined up to see him. He was received by the mikado at his Chrysanthemum party, and then visited, dined and feted by the nobility for months. He was about eighty years old, a typical old tar, and did not seem to know what it was all about, except that he was having the time of his life.—P. S. Carr, in Adventure Magazine.

RADIO

Fixed Condensers Vasily Important

Part Has Vital Function to Perform in Every Modern Radio Set.

Despite the widespread use of fixed condensers in every radio receiver and receiving system, the subject is not thoroughly comprehended by the average radio fan. When considering condensers the fan thinks mainly in terms of capacity. This is particularly true of fixed capacitors of relatively high capacitance value, such as by-pass and filter condensers.

A topic very seldom discussed is the insulation resistance of condensers. This term is the value of resistance offered by the dielectric of the condenser to the flow of direct current. The dielectric medium is the solid insulation material located between the active metal surfaces. In fixed capacitors this is usually mica or a high grade of paraffin or waxed paper.

The average fixed capacity is usually subjected to high values of either D. C. or A. C. voltage. The higher the insulation resistance of the unit the higher can be the applied voltage, without fear of break-down.

Consistent with the improvements in the various phases of radio receivers, improvements have also been effected upon fixed capacitors. Comparative measurements conducted in the laboratory of the Aerovox Wireless Corporation upon capacities to determine the improvements effected upon present-day devices over those manufactured at the advent of regular broadcasting showed the insulation resistance of the present-day products to be many times those of the hectic days after the advent of radio broadcasting.

Another important consideration to fans who utilize filter condensers and by-pass condensers is the distinction between these two values. Fans who ignore the distinction between these two values do so at their own risk. This is equally true with by-pass and filter condensers. The "working voltage" is the voltage at which the condenser unit can be continuously operated with a satisfactory safety factor.

With the relatively high plate voltages being applied to the vacuum tubes in the receiver, detailed thought must be accorded the working voltage values of the by-pass condenser used in the receiver. If the condenser is so wired into the circuit that it is subjected to a continuous load, the working voltage ratings of the by-pass condenser must be high enough to permit the application of the high voltage.

Useful Wiring Set In wiring a receiver, remember that with very few exceptions, all screws and binding posts are threaded with a right-hand thread.

Wonder Case A novel patent, taken out by an Englishman, is a walking stick which contains a complete crystal radio set, with phones and collapsible aerial.

Check Lightning Arrester Every so often, disconnect the lightning arrester and operate the receiver on the aerial without the lightning arrester attached thereto.

Screwdriver Collection Useful No radio fan should be without a collection of small screwdrivers of various sizes up to four or five inches. These tools are very cheap and are invaluable in tightening the many different kinds and sizes of screws found in every radio receiver.

Meaning Changed With Advent of Broadcasting The word "static" was formerly used only by technical men, but now it simply means "noise" to most people.

Cleanser for Dirty Panels Dirty or greasy panels can be cleaned by rubbing lightly over the surface with a soft cloth dampened with alcohol. This will remove the dirt, then dry the panels with another cloth.

ADDS CHARM TO VELVET HAT; GORGEOUS EVENING WRAPS

UNDER the magic touch of scissors, behind the erstwhile "simple little felt" take on the airs of a "dress-up" chapeau. Perhaps the fetching felt models in this picture will best tell the story of what is being accomplished through the cunning of scissor-art as employed by the milliner.

By cutting a felt hood in deep points and bringing it down over a felt foundation of blended coloring the result is a chic and charming hat as shown first in this group.

A featured trimming of the late-winter felt hat is metal brocade. For the attractive chapeau shown in the upper right corner of this "fifty" felt collection a richly "scissored" crown is posed over a colorful metal brocade brim and side crown with charming effect.

The gleam of silver cloth through the artist's cut-out work which distinguishes the hat with the ripple brim in this picture glorifies felt in a most enchanting way.

Then there is that handsome basket-woven hat posed to the right in the illustration. To accomplish this the felt shape is slashed diagonally around the entire side crown.

Strips of felt in contrasting color are then interwoven as you see. Metal ribbon or velvet thus interwoven would be equally as effective.

Not even the humble felt hat has escaped the influence of the vogue of beaded embellishment.

Two Winter Evening Wraps. For beaded embellishment. Very cleverly is a wide grosgrain ribbon "studded" with cut steel nailheads in the model shown last in the group.

It is interesting to note that metallic bandings, almost always woven ribbons, enhance the felt hats which are being accorded a conspicuous place in winter resort millinery.

"W" Neck Is the Latest The "W" neck is the latest example of alphabetical style in English evening frocks. It is an amusing variety of the V-shape and U-shape necks and is being used on a large number of this season's dinner dresses.

Beads Are Popular Beaded frocks for evening show close patterns, and beading and embroidery are often combined.

For Office Wear The considerable adoption of sports dresses for office wear suggests that business women find that the simplicity of the sports frock makes it appropriate for business, while its good style satisfies a desire for smartness.

Jungle Green Popular A dark shade of green known as jungle green is much in evidence in present fashions. It is unusually effective when used for millinery and wraps developed in velvet.

Everyone says—
Buick is Reliable

Buick reliability is one reason why the majority of new Buicks every year are purchased by old Buick owners.

Buick is the car with the Sealed Chassis, which encases every operating part inside an iron or steel housing, to keep out dirt.

Buick is the car with the high-speed starting motor, for reliability in starting—with mechanical 4-wheel-brakes, for certainty in stopping—and with a six-cylinder, valve-in-head engine, for engine performance that is the envy of the motor car industry.

Buy a Buick! It is a more dependable and more enjoyable motor car.

Important to Eradicate Bots

Effective and Economical Treatment Outlined in Recent Bulletin.

Anyone who has had anything to do with horses is more or less familiar with botflies and the annoyance they cause. Until recently, however, when a species known as the nose fly, new to this country, began to spread over the North Central states, but little attention has been given to control of the pests.

McNary-Haugen Measure Passage Is Forecast

Washington.—With the approval by the senate agricultural committee of the new McNary-Haugen bill, there is a growing belief that the modifications made in the measure will overcome the opposition that resulted in its defeat in both houses at the last session and that the bill will be passed before congress adjourns March 4.

Wages Chief Issue as Coal Miners Assemble

Indianapolis, Ind.—Wage demands of the United Mine Workers of America will be formulated at the thirtieth consecutive constitutional convention of the union in session here.

Five States Are Menaced by Ohio River Flood

Cincinnati.—Floods of an unprecedented nature for this time of year and extending more than 500 miles along the Ohio river valley, drove hundreds of people from their homes, according to reports received here.

GRAIN PEST, THE CADELLE, CONTROLLED BY FUMIGATION

One Big Factor Is Cleanliness in Storehouse.

Senate Denies Place on I. C. C. to C. E. Woods

Washington.—By a vote of 49 to 28, the senate in executive session rejected the nomination of Cyrus E. Woods of Pennsylvania as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Chaplin Asks Lift of Liens

Washington.—Offering to give bond for the allegedly unpaid income tax liability of $1,133,000 levied against the Charles Chaplin estate, attorneys for the screen actor petitioned the government to lift liens on bank deposits owned by Chaplin.

Radium for King Ferdinand

Bucharest, Rumania.—Radium worth approximately $400,000 has been borrowed from Belgium and will be used in the treatment of King Ferdinand.

Police Horses Doomed

Chicago.—Chief Collins issued an order under which mounted traffic policemen will be supplied with motorcycles instead of horses. Upkeep of the cycles and their maintenance costs were less, Collins said in explaining the change.

FARM NOTES

Give breeding poultry liberal amounts of green feed.

Ship Brings Fresh Berries

Seattle, Wash.—Fresh strawberries, raspberries and new cherries were served on the Hauraki British motorship, just here from Australia and New Zealand.

Cholera Kills Many Galicians

Warsaw.—An average of more than thirty deaths a day are reported in the cholera epidemic now sweeping East Galicia, it was learned here.

Wheat Pool Parley May 5

Winnipeg.—Preliminary arrangements are being made for the second international wheat pool conference, which has been set for May 5 in Kansas City.

Charge Scandal in U. S. Exam.

Washington.—Following the filing of charges that a department clerk had distributed advance proofs of examination sheets, the State department's foreign service examination was ordered canceled.

Feeding Meat Animals Profitable Side Line

In several countries in New York state, especially those within a 50-mile radius of Buffalo, the feeding of waste-raised lambs and steers during the winter is proving a profitable sideline.

Judge Lindsey Ousted

Denver, Colo.—The State Supreme court ruled to oust Judge Ben R. Lindsey from the Denver juvenile court. The contest proceeding was brought by R. W. Graham, who opposed Lindsey in the 1924 election.

Ten Athletes Killed in Craah

Round Oak, Texas.—Baylor university's athletic talent was wiped out when an International & Great Northern railroad train crashed into a motor bus and killed ten students and injured five.

Russian Population Third

Moscow.—Russia's population is the third largest in the world with 165,000,000 inhabitants at the present time, census officials announced.

Light in Scratching Shed

Different poultrymen are building their scratching shed or house with one or two small windows at the rear of the house so that the chickens have light to work there. This keeps the litter worked out from the walls and increases the visible scratching area.

Tell Sex in Turkeys

It is difficult to distinguish sex in turkeys while young. For a long time the sexes look alike, but gradually the male becomes more circumscribed on the head and neck, the "tassel" on the breast begins to appear on the male, and its wings will occasionally be opened and tipped to the ground, as in "strutting" even when it apparently is but a chick.

Crops in a Pasture

A pasture is expected to produce only such plants as animals like, such as Berni grass, Lespedeza and white clover. When something grows in the pasture which animals won't eat readily it should be eradicated. In this sense, ragweed is a weed. An acre of pasture should have the surface of the ground covered with something useful. Weeds and brush are certainly not useful—not from the standpoint of a pasture. Weeds occupy valuable ground space.

Wabeno—Residents of Wabeno are hopeful that this city will be selected for the new Forest county government Indian school, for which Congressman Sheffer has requested an appropriation.

Sheboygan—Spurred by the exceptional condition that has become a result of competition by foreign cheese manufacturers, 1,130 Sheboygan county farmers have signed a petition circulated by cheese men asking President Coolidge to place an emergency protective tariff on cheese.

Bruce—Petitions are being circulated asking that the question of adopting a commission form of government be submitted to the voters of Rusk county.

She stared, round-eyed. "I reckon you're a gambler!" she accused. "I am seeking health in the West," I said, "where the climate is high and dry." "My Gawd!" she blurted. "High and dry! You're goin' to the right place. For all I hear tell, Benton is high enough and dry enough. But laws sakes, you don't need to go that fur. You can as well stop off at North Platte, or Sidney or Cheyenne. They'll sculp you sure at Benton—unless you watch out mighty sharp." "How so, may I ask?" "You're certainly green," she appraised. "Benton's roar-in"—and I know what that means. Didn't North Platte roar? I seen it at its beginnin'. My old man and me, we were there from the first, when it started in as the railroad terminal. My sakes, but them were times! Gamblin', shootin', drinkin' and high-cockalorum night and day! 'Twasn't no place for innocence! Easy come, easy go, that was that was the word.

QUALITY CREATES DEMAND

There are several different ways of getting the public to use more milk and dairy products. But the surest way of developing consumption of dairy products in any form is through quality. A person may use a certain amount of milk per day and not feel the need of any more, but let that person have real, honest-to-goodness quality, something that appeals strongly to the sense of taste, and creates that feeling of satisfaction which calls for more goods of the same kind, then there is no limit to buying. The farmer has an important part to play here. He must understand that his profits from dairying depend upon how rapidly milk is consumed, and that to hasten matters in this direction he must work up to a high standard of quality and keep it there.
