"I'd rather Mrs. Stokes went up to the second floor." He turned to Bassett. "You have space up there, I suppose?"
"Sure." It came from Miss Pinkney. Bassett had time to answer...

trend of Williams' thoughts was soon revealed—he suspected Flora Stokes. When the matter was thrashed out he came to an open admission with the remark:
"Will you have only one person here who had the provocation necessary to commit murder?"

"Why not?"
"Sounds too genuine, too like real excitement."
"Doesn't it seem odd to you that no one saw Miss Saunders when she came back to the house?"

"No. They were all in their rooms, except Shine, who was down at the Point, and Mrs. Stokes, who was reading on the balcony. I asked her particularly if she noticed Sybil pass and she said no, she'd been interested in her book and wouldn't have noticed anybody."

"You got to remember something about these people, Rawson—and it counts big—they're all actors."
Bassett spoke up quickly:
"No, she wasn't acting. You'd have known that if you'd seen her. What was she doing?"

And the Boat—the Boat With Only Gabriel in It.

she did was natural—a woman suffering from a fearful shock.
"Couldn't an actor put that on?"
"Yes, some could, but I'm certain she wasn't."

"When Stokes came into the room after the shot," said Rawson, "how did he behave?"
"Seemed all right. But I can't honestly say that I noticed him much."

"Yes, some could, but I'm certain she wasn't."
"Men do kill the women they love, especially when they can't get her."
"Men do. I've known of such cases. But that's impulse. This was premeditated." The sheriff pointed at the revolver lying on the desk.

"You can't suspect the man; he was in love with her. He didn't want to kill her, he wanted to keep her alive."
"Men do kill the women they love, especially when they can't get her."

CHAPTER VI

Bassett was prepared for what he had to tell. During the long wait for the officers of the law his mind had been ranging over it, shaking bare from unnecessary detail the chain of events that had ended in murder. It was impossible to conceal the situation between Sybil and the Stokeses; he could not if he had wished it, and he did not wish it. A girl had been brutally shot to death, a girl innocent of any evil intention, and his desire to bring her murderer to justice was as strong as either Williams' or Rawson's. And they could get the facts from him than from the muted stories of the others, their minds clouded by prejudice and hearsay. He could tell what he said would be easily believed, the naked truth as he knew it. That his revelations would involve a woman whom he liked and loved would not induce him to withhold what ought to be known. Chivalry had no place in this great drama. Sitting by the desk in the library he surveyed the situation, what he had heard, seen and knew. The men gave an unwinking attention, now and then winking at a plant a question. The

Trace Link Between Wickedness and Age

Hygiene and eugenics will combine to extend the natural-term of human life in the opinion of Professor Huxley. The birth rate will continue to fall. As a result the not distant future will be confronted with a notable change in the relative number of young and old people. The elders will bulk larger in the statistics than they do today.

However gratifying the prolongation of life may be from the standpoint of the individual, the social effects threaten to be deplorable. Considering to what a pretty pass the world has already been brought by the wicked old men and the old men of the tribe, we can only shrink from a future in which the old men will be more numerous and, by definition, wicked than ever. A world as foreseen by Julian Huxley and behaving as described by his brother, Aldous Huxley, would be a rather terrible world.

In French Africa

So diversified is the native population of French West Africa that official reports classify the inhabitants under more than fifty groups. Some of the more extensive areas of this region are practically deserted, while others have a population as high as fifty per centation of the seeds of Brazil nuts to the square kilometer. The total number of white people is not over 10,000.

Novel Club

The members of the "Asparagus club" call themselves a "bunch," but they are hardly that because they are scattered all over the United States and Canada, with a member in London and another in Odenburgh. The members are connected directly or indirectly with the grocery business and it originated among delegates on a train bound for the national convention of the Association of Retail Grocers in May, 1909. It was decided to call it the "Asparagus club" because asparagus is connected with the grocery business and naturally suggests a closely bound "bunch." Then each member was dubbed a "tip."

Few Patels

Brilliant rather than pastel shades are desirable in millinery this season, though there is a grayish blue felt that is very popular because it blends so well with gray furs.

Mink for Luxury Wear

Nothing is more exquisitely beautiful and flattering than mink which is almost as deep in tone as sable and has excellent wearing qualities. However, it is very expensive and only

Queen's Blue Crepe With French Gray

Of all the people gathered in the house that evening Anne had been the most silent. Her ravaged face, the contours broken by gray hollows, bearing the stamp of shock and horror, had been unnoticed among the other faces. Now and then a pitying glance had been directed to her, grief as Sybil's friend must have added a last unbearable poignancy to the tragedy.

After her question to Flora her mind had seemed to blur and cease to function. She had run from the house not knowing what she did, gone lither and thither with the others, looking, speaking, listening in a blind daze. It was not till they returned to the living room that her faculties began to clear and co-ordinate.

Her thoughts circled round the image of Joe as she had last seen him—the vision of him as someone strange and sinister. And the boy—the boy with only Gabriel in it—it kept coming up like a picture revolving on a wheel—going and returning, going and returning. Had he stayed, and what for? That question revolved with the picture of the boat.

She thought of telling Bassett and gave that up—with the police expected she could not get him alone, and why add to his burden with her suspicions? Yes, that was what it was—nothing but a suspicion. She had no certainty; Joe might have been in the boat, Joe might have got off the island some other way. Tomorrow something might come to light that would make these hazy fancies seem like the dreams of delirium. That was the state of mind she tried to maintain when she went upstairs and overheard a man was on guard at the causeway.

FLORAL PRINTS FOR HOUSEWEAR; SUPPLE SILHOUETTE IN FAVOR

SOME Mrs. the erstwhile simple housedress is putting on nowadays! Even the materials from which it is made are delightfully camouflaging in appearance, especially the highly mercerized cottons whose colorful floral prints duplicate in patterning and in sheen the more expensive silks. When it comes to laundering, these handsome prints prove themselves printed linens which include both neat conventional motifs or themes as brilliantly colorful as one might make.

Organdie trimmings lend a charming trimmings to materials of beaver weave. Plaque, also organdie in pure white are used for collar, cuffs and pocket on gay gingham.

Pretty Washable House Dress.

selfes not only lovable, but tubable to the point of perfection. The compose mode is given a place of first importance in the styling of the "last word" washable frocks.

To the "always-make-my-own-wash-dresses" enthusiast here is a timely hint—when you buy a dress length of floral print or gay gingham, be sure to purchase a solid colored material for the pockets, necktie, collar, cuffs and other trimming details. Then again choose a rather "fussy" pattern, at least see to it that there be no suggestion of the at-one-time popular bungalow apron style. Rather select a model as here pictured, with circular skirt, fancy tie-collar 'n' everything.

Cotton fabrics were never so alluring as at this very moment. Highly mercerized weaves patterned in alluring suggestions are among most favored.

Especially are new color combinations and effects being whirled into the arena of the mode at a dizzying rate. Fashionists are defying color in the plural. This color composite idea, which is the underlying principle of most of the fashionable color schemes, interprets two methods, that of combining various tones and tints of the same color, or using contrast shades.

It is the modish color plus color idea which so enhances the attractive frock in this picture. For this model the designer employs queen's blue crepe with French gray. The latter is used for the blouse below the bolero outline and for the collar and below-the-elbow sleeve puffs. Another color version which could be successfully worked out in this frock would be cent showings in the wash-goods section. One of these can't-tell-from-silk fabrics which glorifies the colorful cotton print was chosen for the attractive daytime washable frock in the picture. Its monotone color trite expresses an outstanding style note.

Sprightly floral prints prevail in spring cottons. Among charming new washable materials cotton crepes are shown patterned in tiny blossoms in alluring flower designs on a white base, volles belvedere in resplendent coloring and the latest effects are withn reach of a gorgeous purse. Another costly wrap which reflected the mode of geometrics is an evening coat of ermine in which the skins formed an irregular-blocked design of oblongs.

A VARIETY OF PIES

A good pastry is an essential for a good pie, for no matter how appetizing the filling, if the crust is not good, the pie is a failure. A good rule for pastry is to mix the fat and flour until smooth and rich enough to keep the form of the hand when some of the mixture is squeezed in it.

Raisin Pie.—Take a cupful of raisins, cover with three-fourths of a cupful of boiling water and let stand overnight. Add one-fourth cupful of orange juice and rind of a lemon, mix one tablespoonful of flour with one-half cupful of sugar, add a half teaspoonful of salt and the yolks of two eggs. Mix and cook, fill the baked shell and cover with a meringue, using the two egg whites, brown and serve.

Lemon Pie.—Mix one tablespoonful of flour with one cupful of sugar, add one cupful of milk, the yolks of two eggs, the juice and grated rind of one lemon and two tablespoonfuls of butter. When well blended fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs, pour into the pastry-lined plate and bake in a hot oven at first, to bake the crust.

Cream Pie.—Bake the pastry shell for this pie before filling. Beat the yolks of three eggs, add one cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of corn-starch and two cupfuls of milk. Stir and cook until smooth and the starch well cooked, then add one tablespoonful of butter and pour into the pastry shell. Cover with a meringue, using the two egg whites.

Prune Pie.—Wash a half pound of prunes and put to soak in cold water to cover. Cook the prunes until tender in the same water. Remove the stones, cut the prunes into quarters and mix with lemon juice (one tablespoonful) and one-half a cupful of sugar. Reduce the prune liquor to one and one-half tablespoonfuls. Line a pie plate with pastry, sprinkle a bit of salt over the filling and pour into the pastry shell. Dot with bits of butter, dredge with flour and cover with a crust. Bake in a moderate oven.

Tamale Pie.—Add six cupfuls of boiling water to two cupfuls of corn meal, stir and cook five minutes, adding two and one-half teaspoonfuls of salt, then cook over hot water for an hour. Melt one tablespoonful of fat, add one chopped onion, one pound of chopped beef, a tablespoonful and a half of salt, a few dashes of pepper, one green or red pepper cut into strips, two cupfuls of tomato, a few ripe olives and raisins, minced fine. Put a layer of the mush into a baking dish, then a layer of the seasoned meat, cover with small cakes of the mush and bake one-half hour.

Sandwiches
With a cup of tea, cocoa or coffee and with a few well-made sandwiches one may serve a most acceptable luncheon or supper.

Hot Shrimp Sandwiches.—Remove the intestinal veins from the shrimp, trim off their fine chop; there should be one cupful. Melt one tablespoonful of butter in an omelet pan, add the shrimp and stir until hot; add two eggs beaten with two tablespoonfuls of milk, season with salt and a few grains of cayenne, stir and scrape from the bottom of the pan, as for scrambled eggs. Have ready six slices of bread toasted lightly and well buttered, cover half the slice with a layer of the mixture and cover the remaining with slices of hot buttered toast. Pour around a cream sauce, sprinkle with paprika. Serve hot.

Toasted Marmalade Sandwiches.—Cut slices of bread one-fourth-inch in thickness. Spread with creamed butter, cover half the slices with a layer of orange or grapefruit marmalade. Put together in pairs, press lightly, trim off the crusts, cut into triangles, brush both sides lightly with butter and toast delicately and quickly on both sides.

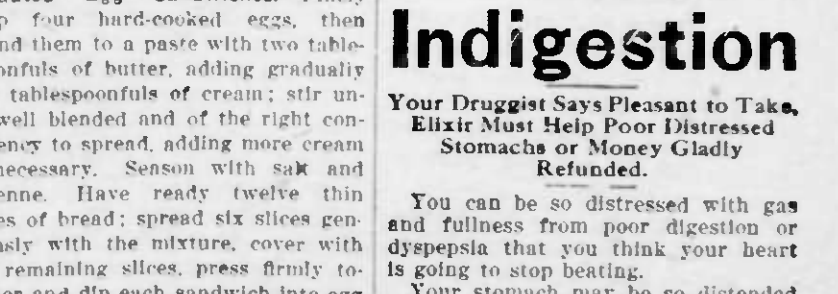

Sauteed Egg Sandwiches.—Finely chop four hard-cooked eggs, then pound them to a paste with two tablespoonfuls of butter, adding gradually two tablespoonfuls of cream; stir until well blended and of the right consistency to spread, adding more cream if necessary. Season with salt and cayenne. Have ready twelve thin slices of bread; spread six slices generously with the mixture, cover with the remaining slices, press firmly together and dip each sandwich into egg beaten with a little milk, allowing two tablespoonfuls for each egg. Saute in an equal measure of butter and lard, brown on both sides. Serve at once.

Bacon Sandwiches.—Spread thin slices of bread with salad dressing to which has been added finely chopped cooked egg, spread with salad dressing, cooked bacon and press together in pairs.

Our Toothpick Business
How many toothpicks do you use in a year? At first thought one might think manufacturing them was a rather insignificant industry. As a matter of fact, six factories are kept busy making 30,000,000,000 toothpicks for American consumption every year.—Grit.

SENSIBLE FARMERS MAKE MONEY HERE

"ANYONE with small capital that will farm right—with rotation of crops, and keep some cows, will do well here!"

That's what C. B. White says of Suffolk in the famous Judith Basin of Montana. And he ought to know, because he came here from Illinois about ten years ago with $2500, and is today farming 500 acres.

Mr. White's crops average per acre, 21 bushels of oats, 35 bushels of barley, 25 bushels of corn, 300 bushels of potatoes, and 2 1/2 tons of alfalfa. Besides this he has a garden where he raises more and better vegetables than he did in the East.

Cattle, hogs, turkeys, chickens are all raised easily and do well. His milk cows average him $200 a year each, and bring him in almost as much as his whole capital when he first started.

"I like it here much better than Illinois," says Mr. White, "and the opportunities are much better."

If you want more information about Montana or North and South Dakota, and its fine opportunities for industrious farmers, write Mr. H. F. Hunter, Agricultural Agent, C. M. & St. P. Rwy., Room 796, Union Station, Chicago, Ill.

BOOKLET FREE

We have just received a supply of helpful Corn Borer control booklets issued by the Harvester Company. They are FREE to all interested. Come in for your copy before our supply is exhausted.

Test Your Seed Corn

Last year the Harvester Company made it possible for us to help to overcome the poor seed corn situation by offering these handy testers at a low price. Many corn growers used them and made sure of their seed ahead of planting time. This year the danger from poor seed is as great as it was last year so we are again striving to supply these testers. When so much depends upon the germinating qualities of the seed and testing is so easy you can't afford to gamble with untested, doubtful seed. It is far better to test it, before planting than to test it later at heavy cost in the field. Every corn grower should have three or four of these testers. Get yours now.

Test Seed Corn to Avoid Loss

Expense Involved is Slight and Will Prevent All Weak Plants.

Poor seed means a poor stand, missing hills and weak stalks, producing little or nothing. It is sound business to know that the seed planted will grow. The only way to find out is to test.

Expensive tests can be made by simple methods. The expense involved is slight. Considering the little time and effort required, testing of seeds has been thoroughly justified.

Easier to Raise Ducks Than Little Chickens

With reasonably good care and feeding, little ducklings are easier to raise than chickens and will seldom be lost. Two important things to remember, however, are these—ducklings must always have plenty of air to breathe and a dry place in which to exercise.

A brooder cannot be tightly closed at night or dead ducks will be found in the morning. Many duck raisers remove the skirts of the brooder entirely after the first of May in order that the air may circulate freely over and around the brood when they are resting or during the night.

While ducks enjoy water after they get a good start, there is nothing harder on little ducklings than damp, rainy conditions. Keep them warm and dry until feathered out.

Nebraska Says There Is No Best Chicken Breed

Another year's summary of the record book project of Nebraska adds further proof to the statement that there is no one best breed of chickens. The records were kept by the practical possummen who are co-operating with the Nebraska agricultural extension service.

Some of them have now been in the project for five years. Production averages of the most common breeds varied only from 142 to 159 eggs per hen, not enough difference to talk about.

The person who is disgusted with the breed that she or he now has, and intends to change to something else because the neighbor is making more money out of them will probably have an answer "back" with the new breed. The trouble is more likely to be the methods used by the owner in caring for the flock than in the breed of the chickens. If this breed is one of the seven or eight most common ones in the corn-belt states.

Feed Adult Geese for Eggs Along in February

Adult geese should be fed for eggs along in February, or so that the eggs will be hatched by the time there is good grass pasture. In feeding for eggs give a mash of equal parts by weight of corn meal, bran, and middlings or best grade flour with 10 percent of low scrap. In the morning, and a feed of corn at night. A complete supply of drinking water should be provided. If geese need grain when not laying, the best scrap should be left out and the corn meal increased in this ration to three parts.

VALUE OF MANURE OFTEN LOST THROUGH CARELESS HANDLING

Best Plan is to Apply It to Land as Produced.

Fully 50 per cent of the value of farm manure may be lost through careless handling.

One way of handling farm manure is to apply it to the land as it is produced. This may be accomplished to advantage by pasturing of crops, provided animals are not allowed to run on the fields when the soil is wet.

When the manure is handled this way the losses are perhaps not as great as through improper storage. There is, however, a serious disadvantage to the method in that one cannot always apply the manure where it should go, and, in some cases, it may be necessary to store it at least a part of the year.

The liquid portion of manure contains a large percentage of the total nitrogen and potassium. When this is not saved much of the value of the manure is lost. Therefore, when cattle are fed in the feed lot and the manure is stored in the open, the manure pile should be on level ground to prevent the liquid from easily draining away.

If the manure is stored in a loose pile rapid fermentation dries it out and much of the organic matter is lost. Such losses, however, may be reduced.

Ideal Chick Growth

Ideal growth in a chick is an exceedingly rapid process, which is revealed to a comparison with an infant baby. A well-hatched chick will weigh approximately one and a quarter ounces at time of hatching, and in twelve weeks will attain the weight of two pounds, or twenty-five times its original weight. A ten-pound baby at the same rate of growth would weigh 250 pounds at twelve weeks, which would be a real souther.

Three Culling Factors

As a rule three main factors should be taken under consideration in culling the ewe flock, viz: age, wool, and lambs. And, without question, age is the most important factor, and affects very strongly the other two. Ewes in their prime generally from their three to fifth and sixth years. During this time they should produce their best fleeces and raise their best lambs. The older sheep are more susceptible to disease and the wool becomes of poorer quality.

First Record Wreckers of 1927

At the left is shown Bob McAllister, the flying cop, who marked his return to competition on the indoor tracks by setting a record of 10.45 seconds for the 100-meter run at the Brooklyn meet. At the right is shown Eber M. Wells of Dartmouth, who set a new indoor record of 5.45 seconds in the 40-yard high hurdles event at games held in Boston. This is the first pair of indoor track records to be made in 1927.

Jack Fournier Has Joined Fifth Club

When the Braves open their spring training season in the near future, Jacques Fournier, veteran first baseman, who was recently signed by that team, will don the uniform of his fifth major league club. He has already been a member of two American and two National league teams, having worn the uniforms of the White Sox, Yankees, Cardinals and Robins.

Champion Swimmer

Virginia Whitbeck, metropolitan champion free-style swimmer, at the Venetian pools, Coral Gables, Fla., where she, with other swimmers from the New York Women's Swimming Association, made an attempt at records.

Decision of Referee Is Puzzling to Boxing Fans

There is some discussion in English boxing circles over an unprecedented privilege which was granted the Belgian boxer Van Maroye during a recent bout at London.

Nine May Tour Japan

An invitation to the baseball team of the University of California for a tour of Japan is expected shortly by California officials. The invitation is being sent by Keio university, which previously has acted as host to California nines. The proposed trip would take the Golden Bear nine from San Francisco on May 11 and the return is planned for June 27.

Point After Touchdown

Many close followers of football are complaining about the point-after-touchdown playing a too prominent part in deciding some of the big games and that a team should not get a victory by this point, as it is more of an incidental score than a team score. Having a star kicker may be a fortunate thing for a college team, but why shouldn't a football team with a good drop-kicker be entitled to win by the point-after over a team which is not similarly supplied?

Molla to Retain Amateur Status

Officials of the tennis association expressed the opinion that Mrs. Molla Mallory, national champion, did not jeopardize her amateur standing when she played in a mixed doubles match in Miami against Miss Mary K. Browne, as no admission was charged and no score was kept. It was pointed out that it is a common practice for amateurs to practice against professionals, but the association does not want to encourage it as a public proposition.

TROUT FISHING NOT DYING OUT

Best Sport Found in Rapids of Big Rivers.

Trout fishing (dying out) Not a bit of it, in the opinion of Don Cameron Shafer, writing in Field and Stream.

"There will be trout fishing here long after we are gone, and for our children's children. It won't be the kind of trout fishing our granddaddies enjoyed, with their ironwood poles and red flannel ties. But there are those of us who, while taking off our fly-covered fishing hats to Salvelinus fontinalis, the finest eating fish in the world, would rather hook into a big scarpie, acrobatic rainbow in swift water than any brook of equal size and weight that ever reared to a Parmenacean Bell."

Sport Notes

Cubs' park in Chicago will in the future be called Wrigley park.

Baseball has made Judge Landis famous as the umpire who never sleeps.

The Nashville baseball field is 20 feet under water, which would be a wonderful break for a spit-ball pitcher.

John McGarran set a bowling record by rolling 14 games with an average of 235 at Grand Rapids, Mich., on December 27, 1913.

By virtue of the fact that McGill university of Canada has a royal charter, its hockey team sports a fancy coat of arms on its jerseys.

Thirty-three members of the "zoo" or reserve football squad at the University of California were awarded medals in recognition of their service during the last football season.

Kille F. Hoppe, 182 ballline billiard champion, is nearly forty years of age. He never has tasted tobacco nor used hard liquor. Hoppe has engaged in competitive play for 32 years.

Soccer, which was first organized on a modern basis in 1885, draws huge attendances in England and Scotland, crowds at Wembley park, London, having numbered well over 100,000.

A trophy, similar to the Walker cup, played for by British and American amateurs, will be set up in an effort to bring about permanent international team competition between professionals.

Staging of the British open championship at St. Andrew's next summer means that no gate fee will be charged, for the course is a public one and under the control of the town council.

The East no longer has a corner on championship golf tournaments. Next year Pittsburgh gets the open golf championship, Minneapolis the amateur tourney and Dallas the professional title contest.

Reggie McNamara, recent winner of the six-day bike race in New York, will compete in European meets this winter. He has left for Germany and France accompanied by Otto Petri, noted German rider.

Providence of the Eastern league has purchased pitcher Kenneth Jones from the Pittsfield club of the same league. He is the right-hander who went from Georgetown university to the Detroit Tigers in 1924.

Charles Johns, pro golfer, had been playing the game for 25 years without ever holing out in one. Then just recently, within a period of six weeks, he made three aces on his home course, Phirley Downs.

There being no male teacher in the Hickman (Calif.) school this year, Rita Laird, twenty, five feet 2 and full of pep, coached the football team, which won the five straight games and scored 112 points to 18 by their opponents.

The unusual injury of a broken cheek bone almost prevented John P. Roenke, Penn State star ballback, from continuing his college career. He was laid up with the fracture and infection but recovered and has just been elected captain for 1927.

The Cincinnati Reds have started helping their American association holdings by sending outfielder Hal Sullivan to the Columbus club. Sullivan, it will be recalled, broke his leg 3 years ago and the Reds sent him to Macdon of the South Atlantic league, where he performed in stellar style last season.

The return football game between Notre Dame and the University of Southern California is scheduled for Chicago November 26, 1927.

Cornie Mack has been managing baseball teams 32 years. This is his twenty-seventh season as pilot of the Philadelphia Athletics.

A ballline billiard treat which may take place this year is the clash of Jake Shafer, Willie Hoppe and Edouard Horemans for the 18.1 ballline crown.

Youth Runs Fast

Chris Fitzgerald, above, twenty-year-old youth of Dorchester, thinks nothing of the Marathon run, claiming to have run the 44½ miles from Boston to Providence in less than 7 hours with one stop, to win a $500 wager.

Trade Cooper for Boucher

The Camdens announce that a trade had been made with the Boston Bruins, whereby William Boucher, right wing player for the Habitants for several years past, goes to Boston in return for Carson Cooper of the Bruins. Cooper played his first year of professional hockey with the Boston team in 1924-25 and finished fourth in the scoring list last year. He has one of the best right-hand shots in the league. Boucher has played with Canadiens since 1921-22.

First Radio Fan—Did you hear Madam Blank sing "In Old Madrid" last night? Second Ditto—No, I can't get Spain with my set.

Drugs Excite the Kidneys, Drink Water. Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot irritate, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

Don't Want to Hear From the member in which some of our public men act, they would seem to keep a deaf ear to the ground—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

"My Troubles are over" Says Hotel Owner

John H. Peltier, proprietor of Arlington Hotel, Marinette, Wis., endured two years of misery. Stomach trouble caused constant pain and nausea. Credits Tanlac with present sturdy health.

"It was an awful experience," said Mr. Peltier, whose present rugged health tells its own convincing story. He lives at 2128 Bell Avenue, Marinette. "For two years I was in a run-down condition due to gas and acid stomach. Food lay like lead in the pit of my stomach and I often fasted a whole day rather than endure the agony that followed even the lightest meal. All I lived on was milk and eggs, and I had neither strength, ambition or energy. In addition to constipation and biliousness, my nerves were so unstrung that sleep was impossible. Many a night I've paced up and down my bedroom, tortured by knife-like stomach pains. I would rise next morning nervous and tired, too played out to take any interest in life. "Urged to try Tanlac, I got some and took it a few days. The results were quite noticeable so I continued till five bottles were used. They put me in A-1 condition and I've remained in fine shape ever since. I never have a pain or ache now and my appetite and digestion are perfect. Tanlac is wonderful. Thanks to it, my troubles are over. "If your health is below par, try Tanlac. It is nature's own body builder, made from herbs, barks and roots. Your druggist has it. Over 52 million bottles sold."

No Use

"Did you see a very pretty girl pass here about a minute ago?" "Yes, but she's high hat, mister. She gave me the glare when I spoke."

A car for every purse and purpose

THIS YEAR the General Motors line is an imposing Automobile Show in itself. Here is every style of body. Every type of design — four cylinder, six cylinder, eight cylinder. Every improvement. Every price, from the Chevrolet touring car at $510 to the Cadillac with special coach work at $9,000. A car for every purse and purpose.

EVERY CLOSED BODY is by Fisher. The quality of all body workmanship is Fisher quality, and because Fisher is owned by General Motors, every resource has been utilized to make body and chassis a perfect quality unit.

EVERY MODEL has shared in the advantages of General Motors research, purchasing standards and Proving Ground tests; and in the economies of volume production. Dollar for dollar you will buy more value in the car you select because of General Motors quality and the public's purchase of more than 1,200,000 General Motors cars last year.

The reason is obvious, for he is reputed to have the most luxuriant and the reddest beard in the nation.

The Best Laxative He Ever Tried

Mr. W. J. Dorion, New York, writes: "Sick headache, indigestion and constipation have troubled me for years. I tried everything but I can truthfully say your CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS is the best laxative I have ever used. I find that they are small, easy to take and their action does not pain me. They keep me regular and I want to tell you how I appreciate this purely vegetable medicine, knowing, due to my experience in laboratory work that laxatives, containing Mercury, Calomel and other poisonous drugs are injurious. CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are sugar coated, small, easy to swallow, and everyone in the family can take them in perfect confidence as they are a doctor's own formula. CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS in red packages 25c. and 75c."
