WHERE WORDS BELONG

Wife (quarrelingly)—"I don't see why you wanted to buy that dictionary! We don't need it!" Hubby—"There, that's enough. Let's have words in the dictionary and not over it, if you please."

Fortunate Bill

"How come Bill Bilkins is always called in to act as best man at the weddings in Blinkville?" asked the former resident, who took the old home town paper.

"Well, you see Bill's the only one in town who owns a dress suit and Bill's the only one in town the darn suit will fit," explained the native.

First Aid Needed

The doctor, himself an ardent golfer, prescribed golf for Mr. Big Business and heard nothing from him for two weeks. Then he came into the office.

"Well, how goes it?"
"I think, doc, you'd better join me on the links and prescribe for my golf. They say I play a pretty sick game."

Adrift With Humor

WORTH SAVING

Amid the cheers of the frightened bystanders the young man leaped into the lake, swam to the drowning girl and brought her to the shore. "Such bravers," remarked an elderly woman effusively. "It was wonderful." The hero blushed. "She swiped my fraternity pin from the Sheba yesterday. I had to get it, didn't I?"

WHY HE KICKED HIM

Old Lady—You little wretch! Why are you kicking that little boy like that?"
Tough Kid—"Cause both of my hands is sore!"

A Full Record

"Though many things she's left undone Since we've been wed, I don't believe," said he, "she's left a thing unsaid."

Originality

Mrs. Forefather—For the last ten generations of my family the eldest son has been named Miles Standish. Mrs. Newcomer—My! But you folks must have poor heads for names. My grandfather left 81 descendants and we ain't repeated a name once, except now and then John.

Fair Enough

"Hey mister, got a match?"
"No!"
"Good. Maybe I can sell you some."
"Don't bother me; I don't smoke."
"Fine. Then you won't mind givin' me those two cigars you got in your pocket!"

Too Torrid for Tiny Fingers

Auntie—What's the matter, dear? Don't you like your asparagus?
Elsie (aged four)—Yes, auntie, but the handles are so hot.

Never Lend

Tom—You have a splendid library. Harry—Let this collection be a lesson to you. They are all borrowed books.

A SUBMARINE KICK

Bluefish—I don't see why our girls prefer those foreigners. There's Miss Ferch out swimming with that disgusting Spanish Mackerel again!

Practiced Pain

A saxophone sounds funny When you begin to play; But after forty lessons It sounds worse every day.

An Iron Whim

Friend (eyeing luxurious car)—But you don't mean to tell me you bought it just to satisfy a whim of your wife's?
The Other (sadly)—Ah, you don't know her. She's got a whim of iron.

Speaking of Debts

"I asked you if you would loan me $50, but you didn't answer."
"No. I thought it would be better for me to owe you the answer rather than have you owe me the fifty."

Makes a Difference

Blinks—I like to do things voluntarily.
Jinks—Yes, I don't mind it if it is to get into a parking place, but it makes me sore when a policeman orders me to pull over to the curb.

Art

Artist (waiting in hall for friend)—You know, Wilkins is a year ahead of us other artists.
Landlady—Maybe so, but he's six months behind with me.

Too Modest to Admit It

The Visitor—Who's the most enterprising man in this village?
The Native—Now lookit here, stranger, you'd better ask that there question of somebody else in these parts—I never was much of a feller for talkin' about myself.

He's Ironic

"You have too many irons in the fire."
"What's the remedy, doctor?"
"Put a few into a golfing."

The Kitchen Cabinet

(© 1924, Western Newspaper Union)

"How much grill do you think you've got? Can you turn from the joys that you like a lot? Have you ever tested yourself to know how far with yourself you will have to go? If you want to know if you have the grill, just pick out a toy that you like, and quit."

THE FAVORITE OYSTER

There is no shell fish so well liked or so generally used as the oyster. During the spawning season which is June, July and August, the months which lack an "L," the flavor is also lacking, which is nature's way of protecting her own.

The oyster is so commonly served, fresh, as cocktail, or cooked as stew, or an escalloped dish that it is well to be reminded of its versatility.

Oyster Toddie.—Dice one-fourth pound of salt pork and cook slowly until all fried out. Add one pint of raw sliced potatoes, cover and cook in the fat until tender. Pour in a pint of hot milk, thicken with a tablespoonful each of butter and flour cooked together. Add a pint of oysters and when the edges curl, season with salt and pepper and serve at once.

Creole Oysters.—Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add a slice of onion minced, and cook until a pale yellow. Add a teaspoonful of flour, a cupful of tomato. When well cooked add a pint of oysters and cook until their edges curl. Add a drop of tabasco sauce, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley and serve on toast.

Oyster Shortcake.—Make a shortcake in thinner layers than the usual cake. Split, spread with butter generously, as soon as baked. Cook the oysters in their own liquor until they curl and arrange them on the cake; cover with a thick white sauce using the liquor and cream with butter and flour added to thicken.

Royal Stew.—Place the oysters in a chafing dish with enough liquor to float them in the pan. Chop a head of celery, add a heaping tablespoonful of chopped red pepper. As the liquid in the pan is heating, add two tablespoonfuls of butter, salt and pepper to season, and when thoroughly hot fill the pan with sweet milk. Add the celery and pepper and when boiling hot, add a spoonful of currant jelly and serve at once.

Oyster Loaf.—Cut a box-shaped crustade from a large loaf, hollow it out to hold the oysters. Brush it well inside and out with butter and brown in the oven. Prepare fried oysters and serve in shell. Creamed oysters also may be served this way.

Foods We Like

While the wild game is plentiful, a word to the new housekeeper who has never dressed it will be helpful. Take off as many of the carcase feathers as possible, picking dry. Then remove the down—save this for pillows. It doesn't take long to have enough for a good sized pillow. Now they are ready for dipping into melted paraffin. See that the paraffin is melted, but not too hot; dip and cover every part of the duck, then drain and hang in a cold place to harden. A quart or more of paraffin will be needed for four to six ducks. When the paraffin has cooled perfectly cold, peel off and every pin-feather will come with it.

Now the duck is ready to dress and cook in any method desired. A very good way is to place a bunch of celery in the cavity, an onion or a bit of both and roast. Cooked in a casserole with carrots, onions and celery with potato balls is another delicious way of serving duck. If the birds are mud hens or likely to be strong in flavor, parboil them in a little vinegar and water with an onion, drain, then cook in the oven or broil. Cooked in a scotch kettle, there is nothing more delicious. All the flavors are conserved. A tablespoonful of water occasionally will be all the moisture needed.

Bran Bread.—Mix two cupfuls of bran with one of whole wheat flour, one teaspoonful of salt, one and one-half cupfuls of sweet milk, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, five tablespoonfuls of sugar, and one-half cupful of raisins. Steam in a covered can three hours, then open and dry off in the oven.

Virginia Sweet Potatoes.—Cook six potatoes until soft, slice lengthwise and arrange in layers in a buttered baking dish. Sprinkle each layer with one-half teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of brown sugar, and one tablespoonful of coarsely chopped boiled chestnuts, then dot with bits of butter. Pour over the whole one-fourth cupful of boiling water in which a tablespoonful of butter has been melted. Bake in a hot oven twenty minutes, or until rich brown.

When serving hamburger steak place a small pat of the hamburger well cooked on a small cake of molded rice, a batter cake or on a potato cake.

Not Derived From Banana
Banana oil is not a product of the banana plant. Banana oil is so named on account of the odor imparted by its amylic acetate constituent. This is a mixture of equal parts of amylic acetate, acetone and benzine, with just enough pyrosulfin dissolved therein to body.

Live Without Slumber
The only fat that never sleeps are the salmon, pike and goldfish.

Dye-Making Industry

Difficult to Master
Adolph Junck, the millionaire former brewer of San Francisco, said on disembarking from the Leviathan in New York:

"The bottom has fallen out of the English home-made dye boom and many large fortunes have been lost. The English thought that with a few stolen German recipes they could rival the German dye industry. Well, it wasn't so easy."
Mr. Junck drew a trade paper from his pocket.

"German dye-making is difficult and complicated," he said. "If you don't believe it, listen to this:
And he read from the trade paper: "Betaamidoalzarin is the reduction of one of the oldest alzarin colors known, namely, alizarin orange, which chemically is nitro-alizarin. When betaamidoanthraquinone is subjected to the identical reaction which produced from anthraquinone sulphonic acid the first synthetic anarzin—that is, melting of the product with caustic alkali at high temperature—a dihydroanthraquinoneazirine is obtained."—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

The new rule for making jelly use PEXEL always this never

PEXEL will surprise you with its speed and making jelly. Does not change the color of your jams or jellies

USE any fruit you wish—the one that failed before. Add Pexel to the juice and bring to boil. Then add sugar. Bring to full boil again. Skim. It's finished. Pour into glasses. You've made the most delicious jelly in all your experience—and it will jell by the time it is cold.

In addition to making jelly jell, Pexel is economical and saves time. Cuts out the long boil. Makes more jelly because fruit juice, sugar and flavor don't go off into steam. Time and fuel are saved. Countless tests show that Pexel repays the 30c it costs from one to three times.

Pexel is different too! Made entirely from pure fruit. Tasteless and odorless—absolutely tender—not a liquid definitely. Equally with bottled fruit sweetened canned. Get Pexel from Only 30c. The in every package follow directions on tables. The Pexel Chicago, Ill.

Coach and Captain of Army

"Bill" Jones, head coach of the Army football squad, and Bud Sprague, captain, as they appeared during a workout of the squad.

SUPERSTITIONS OF COACH McMILLAN

Former Centre College Football Star Played Hunches.

Bo McMILLAN, the famous and colorful Centre college quarterback of a few years ago, who took Charley Bachman's place as head coach of the Kansas Aggies, has a thousand and one football superstitions.

Bo had a blue shirt and a red necktie, for instance, that he never failed to wear whenever Centre went on a trip.

Bo also had an old belt he wore in high school days at Fort Worth. He kept it when he went to college and never went into a game without it.

He insisted further on being the last man to enter the park, the last man to leave the dressing room and the last man to set foot on the field.

Golf Ball Strikes Tree and Is Holed Out in One

The 150-yard No. 3 hole of the Highland Park course in Birmingham, Ala., is an easy par 3 or a hard 5 and is famous as a place where freak shots are becoming the rule rather than the exception.

Col. Karl Landgrebe's hole in 1 on No. 3, however, still remains the outstanding freak shot of the course.

Timm Is Big Help

"Big" Timm from Idaho is putting up an excellent game in the backfield for Coach Zuppke this fall.

Art Neft, left-handed pitching ace of the Chicago Cubs, is an accomplished pipe organist.

Tex Rickard signed Paolino Czendum for three matches in which he will face such opponents as Knute Hansen, Jack Sharkey, Johnny Risko or William Stribling.

Big Al Weston Is Back Again in Eagle Uniform

Al Weston, ace of the Boston college backfield the last three years, set at rest all rumors that he would not play football this year when he appeared in a uniform the other day.

Another newcomer was Frank Lyons, former New York High star, and a substitute back the last two years.

Own Olympic Games

The British empire is to have its own set of Olympic games, according to M. M. Robinson, manager of the Canadian Olympic track and field team.

Athletes Get Too Much Attention, Says Teacher

Too much time is wasted celebrating athletic victories by students, business men and the public generally, while a "lamentable lack of appreciation is accorded scientific attainments," Prof. Ira B. Cross of the University of California believes.

Addressing the Lions club at Berkeley, Calif., the economic instructor criticized Berkeleyans who greeted members of the university crews, victors in the Olympic shell races at Amsterdam.

Captain of Navy Team

Edward Burke, tackle and captain of the United States Naval academy football team which rapidly assumed good shape with grueling practice sessions under the watchful eye of Coach Navy Bill Ingraham.

Chicago White Sox Were Strong on Pop-Up Flies

Tommy Connolly, the veteran American league umpire, relays this one from Joe Berger, the shortstop of the Chicago White Sox some years back.

Berger was going to his position in the field just after an inning in which three of his mates had popped up to the infield.

Haskell Indians Living Up to Nomadic Instincts

The Haskell Indians will defend their title of the "most traveled" college football team again this fall.

Fifty Indians, representing twenty-four tribes over twenty-two states, comprise the 1928 squad.

Loughran's Big Offer

Tommy Loughran, light heavyweight champion, at his camp at Harvey's Lake, near Wilkesbarre, Pa., has received a cablegram from a Buenos Aires promoter offering him $25,000 for a heavyweight bout there at the end of November.

Sport Notes

Anyway, Connie Mack has one doubt special in Jimmy Foxx.

The Haverhill franchise in the New England league was recently transferred to Worcester.

A former Ursinus football star, Earl Pottenger, will coach the New York Giants pro eleven this year.

Earl Sande was paid $1 for riding his first horse in a race when he started in the Middle West.

Arabella and Tiffin are considered the best two-year-olds of the current racing season in Great Britain.

Hugo Bedzek, Jr., son of the Penn State director of athletics has registered at the college as a freshman.

In picking an all-star team for this year, Manager McGraw chose Catcher Hogan over Gordon Cochrane for that position.

Joe Jeannette hit the floor thirty-two times in his fight with Sam McVea at Paris in 1909, yet managed to win the decision.

Jess Sweetster and Glenna Collett have paired together four times in golf contests and have yet to suffer defeat as a team.

Jack Dunn of the Baltimore Orioles has started building for 1929. He bought Ed Crowley, a third baseman, from Washington.

William V. Dwyer is again president of the New York American Hockey club. He purchased control and announced many changes.

The one-armed golf champion of Ohio is Baldy Webster, caddy master at the Ridgewood Country club. He won a Duxton tournament.

Andy Coakley, Columbia baseball coach and himself an old player, says Joe Dugat of the Yankees is the best third baseman he has ever seen.

Bo McMILLAN's coaching abilities will be given a more severe test this year at Kansas Aggies. He first coached at Centenary and then at Geneva.

The greatest number of home runs ever made in a major league game is ten, made by the Phillies (six) and the Cardinals (four) May 11, 1923.

Two men can put the shot 52 feet 11-16 inches. Beside John Kuck, of Nebraska, the feat was performed by Emil Hirschfeld in the meet in Germany.

Another University of Illinois baseball star has gone up to the majors. Fremont Cann, catcher on the Illinois nine last year, has been signed by the Cleveland Indians.

Bill McKechnie, manager of the Cardinals, has a fine singing voice and only the winter before last he was a pillar in the Methodist church choir at Wilkesbarre, Pa.

Washington baseball fans are writing letters to the papers asking that Walter Johnson come back. But Walter is getting $20,000 a year to manage the Newark Bears and his contract has a year to run.

Bill Jones, the Army football coach, was asked who he considered the greatest ball carrier within his experience as a follower of football.

John H. Uley of the department of romance languages at the University of Illinois, has been named golf coach, succeeding Dave Swank.

Suzanne Lenzen has definitely announced her permanent retirement from tennis, both amateur and professional.

Clint Brown, star right handed pitcher of Harrisburg's New York Pennsylvania League championship team, has been sold to the Cleveland club of the American league.
