TAX RETURNS FOR '28 SHOW BIG DECREASE

Treasury Collected 43 Million Less Than in 27.

Washington,-The United States treasury collected $43,782,717 less in taxes during the calendar year 1928 than in 1927, it was disclosed in a comparative statement of internal revenue receipts for the two years issued by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

The entire deficit was chargeable to corporations. While individual returns for 1928 soared above collections in 1927, corporations returns dropped sharply, due, in a large measure, to reduction of the corporation income tax rate last year. In the calendar year 1928 individual tax returns totaled $935,050,365, as compared with $$59,238,631 in 1927. Corporation income tax returns last year were $1,234,366,865, while the year before they totaled $1,336,368,-367. Both individual and corporation income taxes last year aggregated $2,169,417,231, while in 1927 the total was $2,195,506,998. Miscellaneous taxes last year were $605,859,724 and in 1927 were $623,552,674.

Analyzed from a comparative standpoint, these totals show the following results: Individual income tax returns in 1928 exceeded 1927 by $75,-811,734; corporation tax returns in were $101,901,501 less than totals for 1927. Losses in the corporation and miscellaneous returns, the latter of which is almost entirely corporation tax, also completely ate up gains established by individual returns and left a net loss as compared

The fact that corporation income tal returns for 1928 is not to be interpreted as an indication that business profits were correspondingly smaller. The corporation income tax was dropped from 121/2 per cent to 11 per cent by congress last winter, its benefits becoming effective immediatelaneous, made at the same time, represent virtually all of the remainder.

States whose taxes in 1928 were larger than in 1927 were: Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Iowa, Massachusetts, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Rhode Island, South Carolina and South Dakota, and the Hawaiian Islands and Philippine Islands.

States registering a loss in tax receints over 1927 were: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado. Florida, Idaho, Indiana, Kansus, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming, and Alaska.

AMERICA'S BUSINESS SET RECORD IN 1928

Longest Period of Commercial Stability.

Washington, - American prosperity reached a new high peak in 1928, according to statements issued by Secretary of Commerce William F. Whiting and the federal reserve board. Secretary Whiting termed 1928 the nation's biggest year and asserted that all previous records for volume of American production and trade had been broken during the twelve months ended December 31. He declared that

The statements of Mr. Whiting and the reserve board disclose that the volume of industrial activity was larger in 1928 than in any previous year, that American foreign trade increased, that savings reached a new maximum and that investors reaped larger dividends than ever before.

Both statements admitted that at nidyear such important industries as extiles and agriculture and coal were lagging somewhat. Mr. Whiting added, however, that conditions in these industries at the close of the year showed a trend for the better.

Both the secretary and the reserve board called particular attention to the record made by the automobile industry, which registered the largest production on record.

"Practically without interruption, industrial activity, if allowance is made for seasonal changes, showed gains month by month during the year, and this without any appreciable increase in commodity stocks," Mr. Whiting said. And how unnecessary it is to have an unharmonious element of construction in a home intended to last for years. In many communities this condition has been eliminated automatically by legislation against inflammable roofs. The familiar wooden shingle departs and in its stead there must be a roofing material that is either abso-

Some of the outstanding advantages are durability. Ashestos has endured the assault of nature for centuries without change, and will endure for centuries more whether in the mine or on a roof.

Economy is another point. It is a well-known principle that economy does not end with the initial cost, and that, in many cases, the initial cost does not determine the degree of economy to be effected. With asbestos sbingles, economy begins with the first cost and never ends. Convenience Is a third point, his well to consider the ease of sured by the self-spacing holes alrea nunched in each shingle. This feature nakes for a neat and trim job. If the lob is one of reroofing, the old ship gles need not be pulled off, but left on to act as a base for the new roof and as insulation against heat escape in winter and against heat entrace in summer. There is no mass, no fuss, and no litter about a re-rooms operation.

Beauty is another factor. Ashestos shingles vary in cost according to their weight or style, but in all styles beauty is to be found. In the least expensive there are colors and textures that are found in the most erpensive. Soft tones and brilliant bues, atone or in combination, are available in asbestes shingles. In some cases particles of natural-colored slate are imbedded in the shingle's surface g ing a pleasing mottled appearance These colors are permanent! They to not fade or turn color. Pipes That Rust Are Sure to Cause Trouble A matter of first importance in the building of the new home is the water supply system, and upon the pipe depends the supply of pure, clean water so necessary to home convenience and health and comfort of family. If pipe that rusts is used, in a short time it will begin to deteriorate; rust-stained water will flow from faucets into basins, baths, tubs and sinks. Rust will clog the pipe, gradually reducing the flow of water to a trickle, and eventually rust will cause damaging leaks and necessitate expensive repairs. These things will not happen at once; two or three years may pass before the first signs appear; they are inevitable if pipe that rusts is used. When it was the custom to build houses with pipes exposed, it was com-Chicago.—Possibility of a cut in the ing. "Some day-right soon-you'll trade your present holdings for a nice little range in hell," a voice said in Slade's ear and at the same instant two buge paws were thrust from the little win dow of the cook-wagon and clamped on his arms above the crook of his elbows. Slade was a powerful man but head to draw her aside out of he was an infant in the grip of the two great hands that raised him clear of the ground and shook him before he was slammed down on his face ten feet away by a straight-arm thrust. His deadly temper flared and the swift move for his gun was simultane ous with the twist which brought him to his feet, but his hand fell away from the butt of it as he tooked into the twip muzzles of a sawed-off shotgun which menaced him from the window. Billie Warren, laughed suddenly, a gurgle of sheer amusement at the sight of the most dreaded man within a bundred miles standing there under

An hour after Slade's departure the hands were rolling in for a sleep. The girl saw Rile Foster draw apart from the rest and sit with his back against a rock. He was regarding some small object held in his hand. As he turned it around she recognized it as a boot heel and her by speaking the name of Bangs. "I've a pretty elastic conscience myself," the voice went on. "I'm not above lifting a few calves for the brand I'm riding for or any little thing like that, but this deal sort of gorges up in me. They'll never cinch it on to any man-they never do. Old Rile is brooding over it. He'll likely run amuck. One way or another he'll try to break even for Bangs."

Billie recognized the voice as Moore's and knew that one of her men, at least, had not forgotten Bangs. It was the first time an intimation that the affair was other than an accident had reached ber ears.

The calf round-up was nearing the end. Two weeks would see the finish and supply the final tally. Harris sat on a rock and reviewed the plans he had formulated for the salvation of the Three Bar brand, realizing the weak spots and mapping out some special line of defense that might serve to strengthen them. In the seclusion of the wagon Waddles was carefully rereading a much-thumbed document for perhans the hundredth time. She assented and they rode off un the left-hand slope of the valley. A mile or so from the wagon Harris dismounted on a high point.

"Let's have a medicine chat," he offered. "I've got considerable on my mind."

She feaned against a rock and he sat cross-legged on the ground, facing her and twisting a cigarette as an aid to thought. Her head was tilted back against the rock; her eyes halfclosed.

PARTY FROCK OF PRINTED RAYON; TUCK-IN BLOUSE IS APPROVED ************************************

MOST any time a telegram is apt to arrive from daughter away at school, which will perhaps read somewhat as follows: "Please send me right away, special delivery, a new party dress." This picture of a charming dance frock for a young girl is offered as "first aid" to mother in her dllemma when she receives the above 8. O. S. call from the coed whose alightest wish is her command

There is nothing prettier for youth

It has been threatening to come this many a day-the tuck-in blouse True to its promise, it has arrived, Quite a few of the new ensembles and suits announce their advance styling In that they boast the tuck-in rather than the overblouse.

Good news, no doubt, to the youthfully slender, but to others not so good, that is, if the blouse be tucked in at the normal waistline. However, certain clever designers are making a

The belt is worn at the hipline, leaving a frill of the skirt above, and thus a low waistline is simulated.

In other instances the skirt is made with a yoke which fits up snugly to he blouse adding to its beauty and imphasizing a very definite and somewhat drawn-in waistline.

Sports frocks of gay print for Southern resort wear are especially featuring the tailored washable tuck-in plouse. The model in the picture declures quite a few outstanding style points. One is that the bendine full ness is achieved by plaits stitched that from the waistline. Another is the buttoning of the skirt down the front The outlook is for a season of many buttons used both in a practical and a rimming way.

As to the short-facket suit, it is presented in every phase this season, expecially in print cottons, linens, rayons and silks for sports and informat wear. COMPANY DISHES

As chicken is such a favorite food it is more often used as a company dish than most meats. Chicken a la King .-

cook until the woisture is somewhat evaporated. In another saucepan melt two tablespoonfuls of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt and one-fourth tenspoonful of paprika; add one cupful of thin cream and one cupful of hot chicken broth, stir until boiling. Cream two tablespoonfuls of butter and cook until smooth; beat two egg yolks, one at a time, into the sauce; when the eggs are cooked add the mushrooms, pepper, the hot breast of a chicken cut into square pieces, a teaspoonful of lemon Juice, and a little onion inice. Now add the creamed butter stirred in at the last. Serve in timbale cases or on browned toast. Timbale Cases .- Beat two eggs slightly, add one cunful of milk alternately with one cupful of flour to which onefourth teaspoonful of salt has been added. Beat until the mixture is smooth throughout. Have ready a kettle of hot fat, set the timbale fron into it to heat. When hot dip the iron into the batter, using a measuring cup half full of batter. Do not dip too deep for the batter to come over the top of the iron. Dip into the hot fut and cook until brown; invert the iron and then drain on paper. Keep them in a dripping pan where they are bot until ready to serve. A little practice will make perfect cases.

Tapicca Delight .- Dissolve threefourths cupful of sugar and one-half teaspoonful of salt in four cupfuls of coffee which has been strained. Add one cupful of minute tapioca and cook over hot water until perfectly transparent. Add one-half cupful of chopped nutmeats and one-half teaspoonful of vanilla. Chill and serve with cream. Chocolate Tart .- Melt two squares of chocolate over boiling water, cool slightly and add three well-beaten eggs, three-fourths of a cupful of sugar and two tablespoonfuls of fine bread crumbs. Line a pie pan with pastry, spread with the mixture and bake twenty minutes in a moderate oven. Sprinkle with blanched shredded almonds and cover with heavy cream whipped, sweetened and that vored. Cook in the same water with two pig's feet, one tablespoonful of salt, one bunch of celery and one onion chopped fine. Simmer a long time until the meat is very tender. Ten hours of cooking is needed to make the soup perfect.

Huispot .- This is another favorite winter dish. Take two pounds of beet from the round, bring slowly to the boiling point in three cupfuls of water, with one tableshoonful of sult Add two pounds of carrots, cut into pieces, three or four chopped onions. and two pounds of potatoes. Cook until tender, adding more water as needed. Pour off enough of the liquor to serve as gravy, mash the vegetables and season with four table spooniuls of butter. Roole Kool,-Cut purple cabbage into halves and slice thin. Buil three hours in two cupfuls of water, with one-fourth cuptul of vinegar. Five sour apples peeled and cut fine, three cloves, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of salt and two tablespoonfuls of butter. Add the butter just before serving. Shake often while cooking.

Witte Kool.-Cut out the middle stalk of a firm head of cabbage, reaving it otherwise whole. Boil in saited water until tender, drain and serve with the following sauce: Two and one-half tablespoonfuls of flour added to one-half cupful of milk, mixing gradually, add one and one-half cup fuls of soup stock or boiling water and one-half cupful of the cabbage water. Cook ten minutes and pour over the Baby has little upsets at times. All your care cannot prevent them. But you can be prepared. Then you can do what any experienced nurse would do-what most physicians would tell you to dogive a few drops of plain Castoria. No sooner done than Baby is soothed: relief is just a matter of moments. Yet you have eased your child without use of a single doubtful drug; Castoria is vegetable. So it's safe to use as often as an infant has any little pain you cannot pat away. And it's always ready for the crueler pangs of colic, or constination or diarrhea: effective, too. for older children. Twenty-five million bottles were bought last year.

When your Children Cry for It

Legume Hays Are Proper for Cows

More Protein Would Materially Reduce Cost of Feed Bills.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) If dairymen would grow and feed more protein in the form of legume hays their feed bills would be reduced materially, says J. R. Dawson, of the bureau of dairy industry, United States Department of Agriculture. An abundance of home-grown legume hay, he says, is the hasis for an economical ration for the dairy cow.

Superior Feeding Quality. "The superior feeding quality of legumes was recognized nearly 2,000 years ago," he says. "As early us the First century Columella, an early Roman agricultural writer, stated that the best forage plants 'are alfalfa, fenugreek, and the vetches. Alfulfa may be placed in the foremost rank of such plants: for when once sown It lasts ten years, fattens lean cattle, and has a salutary action on sick

"In spite of the fact that Columella had the right idea centuries ago and that his recommendations have been uniformly confirmed and reconfirmed by all careful hay investigations since that time, only 41 per cent of the hay grown in the United States at present is legume bay. Furthermore in the north central and north Atlantic states, which contain 66 per cent of all the dairy cows in the country, the farmers grow two tons of nonlegume hay to one of legume hay."

More Milk-Making Nutrients. Legume hays are not only far superior to nonlegumes in palatability, but furnish more milk-making nutrients at cheaper cost. They are also fur superior in the quality of their protein and in the content of lime. two essential nutrients for high-producing dairy cows. When there is a deficiency of protein in the ration, as is the case where farm-grown cereal grains and nonlegume roughages are fed exclusively, additional protein usually must be purchased in the form of high-protein concentrates such as linseed meal and cottonseed meal. In this case the cost of 100 pounds of di- of 1 pint for each 100 pounds.

gestible protein is usually higher than a like amount raised on the farm lu the form of legume hay.

When linseed meal is worth $47.75 a ton, 100 pounds of crude digestible protein will cost $7.85, whereas in the torm of alfalfa hay at $12 a ton the same amount of protein would cost but $5.65. Timothy hay is so low in protein that at $11 a ton, 100 pounds of crude protein would cost $18.85.

Cutting Back Pear and

Apple to Medium Degree The pear and apple should be cut pack to a medium degree. The side branches should be cut back so as to reduce them one-half to three-fourths. The central stem should be shortened but left from 10 to 16 inches higher than any of the surrounding branches. At the end of the first year the permanent framework may be established by removing all but from three to five well-distributed, outward spreading limbs to secure a modified leader tree. If the tree is large so permanent limbs may be chosen at the time of transplanting, this permanent framework may be established then. If the tree is a one-year-old whip having to branches it should be shortened to 9 height of about 21/2 or 3 feet, with the view to securing a good branching sysem below the point of cutting back.

Better Chicks Result

if Vitamines Supplied Better chicks result if the hatching ggs are rich in vitamines A, D, and E. Yellow corn and green alfalfa leaves supply vitamine A. Vitamine D will be supplied if the flock can range in plenty of sunshine. Whole kernels of wheat contain vitamine E. Each poultry raiser producing hatching eggs should see to it that his breeding birds are receiving their share of these vitamine-containing feeds. In case of a long spell of cloudy weather, it would be advisable to feed cod liver oil until sufficient sunshine returns, as such oil contains vitamine D. Cod liver oil can be mixed with the grain feed at the rate hould be started months before the alfalfa seed is put into the ground. Earl Jones, extension specialist in soils and crops for Ohio State university, has prepared a comprehensive set of suggestions for growing alfalfa which makes this clear,

GETTING READY FOR ALFALFA IS LARGE TASK FOR SUCCESSFUL JOB

Good drainage, corrected acidity, productive soil and proper inoculation are fundamental necessities in preparing the soil for the alfalfa, Jones says Since alfalfa "heaves" worse than the clovers and is badly Injured by the heaving a well-drained field is necessary for its growth, and additional tile drainage should be put in if necessary : "Fallure to use enough limestone is responsible for most affalfa failures," Jones says. "At least three tons of gregand limestone per acre is necessary to prepare unlimed light colored soils for alfalfa in the western part of northeastern Ohio and four tons on the unlimed light colored soils in the eastern part of the area. Smaller applications will do on the dark colored or richer soils. Limestone applications made during the last five years may of Utmost Importance Straw on the poultry house floor is one of the most important poultry practices. From the standpoint of cleanliness, it is highly desirable. Not only is the house kept much cleaner. but a liberal supply of straw prevents the packing of manure on the floor, and facilitates cleaning. Again a foot or more of straw in which to scratch the grain stimulates exercise which is highly desirable.

Making the birds work keeps them physically fit to produce eggs. Hens which have nothing to do but stand around are also apt to develop vicious habits such as egg eating, feather pulling, etc. Also a liberal bed of straw protects the feet of the chickens from the cold floor. From the standpoint of sanitation, general health, and production, straw should be liberally used in the poultry house.

Sunlight for Winter

Hens Very Important Recent discoveries have shown that calcium or lime is not utilized by animals unless a substance known as vitamine D is supplied. The ultraviolet rays of sunshine act in some way upon the animal to bring about the effect of this vitamine. The laying hen must assimilate a relatively large amount of calcium in order to make eggshells.

Sunlight that passes through ordinary window glass loses the vitamine value because the ultraviolet rays do not pass through such glass. Hence it is necessary to get the hens out into the sunlight or provide some means of keeping out the cold and at the same time allowing the ultraviolet rays to enter the house.

There is now on the market glass substitute material which does not obstruct the various elements of the sun, neither does it prevent light from entering. This material is now being used successfully for hen houses, and has passed rigid tests of experimental stations.

Soil Productivity Must Be he subtracted from the above

Alfalfa is preferably sown on fields that have had good treatment and Preparation of a field for seeding have been manured regularly in the used when seeding the alfalfa.

Cod Liver Oil Will

Increase Production Probably there will always be more or less disagreement as to the correct way to feed cod liver oil to poultry, but there is little dissension from the opinion that it is a valuable agent whenever sunshine and green feed are limited. In some instances the addition of fresh cod liver oil to a wet mush has improved production and physical appearance; even when there seemed to be plenty of sunshine and fowls were getting green feeds. It is of value in the full to keep pullets in good condition during their early laying period when the body is not fully matured and requires much nutriment to keep up both processes: Cod liver oil is credited with the power, of aiding assimilation, especially of minerals which are nighten tmportant to growth

One per cent is generally regarded as sufficient- to add to a dally wet mash, so the cost is not appreciable, while the effect, where there are no positive hindrances such as parasites or organic troubles, is usually an increase in production, and in size of eggs, that far outbalances the cost,

 Agricultural Squibs *****************

Heat your hens' water and they will lay you more eggs.

If the air from a hot air furnace is dry, hang a small pail of water before each register in the house.

The flock owner who each day during the cold weather devotes a few minutes to making the layers comfortable will be well repaid. Make sure that the pullets are scratching in dry litter, receiving the necessary green feed, and drinking water from a pail free from ice.

During the winter months each 100 birds should be hand fed in litter or troughs approximately three to five pounds grain for the morning feed and six to ten pounds grain in the

If a farmer wishes to reduce the number of pigs raised on his farm, he had better do it by farrowing fewer sows rather than by neglecting the sows and pigs at farrowing time, and thus raising smaller litters.

There is a very definite danger if not certainty that stock ranging in a field containing mature Johnson grass seed will spread that seed on other land on which they later range. Only a part of the matured seed will be digested.

Are you planning for good hay pastures next spring, summer, and fall? Alfalfa is conceded to be the best, furnishing a maximum of ideal forage throughout the senson, even in dry weather. Other good pastures are sweet and red clover, rape, and mixtures of rape, oats and sweet clover.

Hungary to Use Films in Educational Work

Pupils of all grades in Hungary wil be compelled to view educational films, according to recent decrees of the ministry of public education. By the terms of its concession the Hun garian Dutch Pedagogical company must arrange for all primary, grain mar, higher grades and agricultural post-graduate schools, excepting the municipal schools of Budapest, one exhibition each month of the school year. The programs are to be supervised by the ministry of public education. The ministry of the interior has directed that in places not having motion pictures, theaters must arrange to show the pictures. The films will be shown during regular school hours. and each child is taxed an annual admission fee of 40 cents, or 5 cents a

If Back Hurts Begin on Salts

take by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity. also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications.

Ethel Lackie Retires

From Swimming World Miss Ethel Lackle, veteran of the nation's ranking girl swimmers, has retired from amateur competition,

Following the example of Johnnie Weissmuller, Miss Lackie has decided to forsake the amateurs for more lucrative occupations. Together with Weissmuller, Miss Lackie, who holds six world's sprint swimming records, made her final amateur appearance at the Cook County Interscholastic Swimming championship meet, Like Weissmuller, Miss Lackie felt that she had been in competition a long time and swimming for "glory only" was beginning to lose some of its thrill.

She began her series of sensational swimming performances five years ago us a member of the Illinois Athletic club. When that organization disbanded its women's teams she continued her record-breaking performances under the colors of the Illinois Women's Athletic club.

She holds the United States indoor championship at 100 yards, and in 1924 won the 100-meter championship at the Olympic games, returning to this country to win the 100-yard out-to Heydler's Ten-Man Plan Ban Johnson, retired president of the American league, is opposed to John Heydler's plan for ten-man baseball teams.

Ban Johnson Is Opposed

"The ten-man team idea does not appeal to me at all," he said. "It destroys the original thought in baseball of a team of nine men, and of each man being an athlete and a ball player who bats and runs and throws.

"I would suggest that instead of a ten-man team a rule be provided limiting the manager in the number of substitutes he may use," he said. Johnson expressed opposition to the "chain store" or "farm" system, whereby major league clubs own and operate minor league teams, declaring that the system "is detrimental to the best interests of the game."

Willie Hoppe, the boy wonder of other days, is ready to forsake his dream of winning a three cushion billiard title and will once again take up balk line-the game at which he won international fame as 15 times national champion in 17 years. Hoppe, whose name is synonymous with billiards, deserted the 18.2 ranks a year ago in quest of a championship at the angle game. His playing was the sensation of the American Three-Cushion Billiard league, but on each of two attempts to acquire a national or world title he found Johnny Layton, the Missouri fisherman and carpenter, barring his path.

Although he has seen his supremacy in the balk-line game pass to another, and failed in his quest of a three-cushion crown, Hoppe declares he is not through,

"I am only forty-one years old and have plenty of good billards left in my system," said Hoppe after Layton crushed all hopes Hoppe had of acquiring the only major billiard title he has never held by defeating blu In the tournament at Chicago,

America's "Red Sea"

Once crystal clear and pure, the water of a small lake 15 miles south of Maricopa, Calif., is now blood red and is so strongly impregnated with minerals as to be unfit for drinking purposes. The phenomenon attracted the attention of chemists at the University of California, and they say the coloring of the water is due to the same vegetation, scientifically known as diatoms, that gave the Red sea of Biblical renown its name.
