

Field Trials and Bench Show The Past Week Big Success and Prove Very Interesting

With weather and road conditions favorable the annual field trials of the Wisconsin Snow Shoe Kennel Club, the first of its kind ever held in Kewaskum, proved to be the most successful one ever held by that organization, so pronounced by the officials of the club. There were close to 100 beagle dogs entered in the field trials during the week and bench show on Sunday afternoon. Dogs from all parts of Wisconsin and neighboring states were here. Some of them being high priced animals, while others cannot be purchased at any price. Among the 100 dogs entered it certainly was a great sight to witness, and one cannot help but understand why owners of these dogs can find recreation, amusement and pleasure in handling and owning such an assortment of almost perfect built animals, which according to the manner they were judged by the judges, compare very favorably to all other beagle kennel clubs in the United States. The 1929 annual field trials officially opened on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, when a caravan of automobiles loaded with dogs and their owners motored into a field nearby the village for the first field trials of the year, and continued this work daily until Thursday which marked the closing day. Every day a different field was picked by the club. While weather conditions were not exactly what they could have been for the trials as damp weather is preferred for that purpose for reason that the dogs can better scent and follow a rabbit's track, the members of the club were well satisfied in the manner their favorite dogs worked and the decisions made by the judges. All spoke in words of high praise of the favorable conditions prevalent here in which to hold field trials plenty of good field, close by, easy to get at, lots of rabbits to give the dogs a fair trial of what they can do and thus prove their worth for what they are intended.

In an interview by one of the Statesman staff with the officials of the club, they wish to state that the members of the club were more than pleased with the reception given them at Kewaskum, and the courteous treatment given them while in Kewaskum, taking everything into consideration, with the result that by a unanimous vote the club has again decided to hold their 1930 annual field trials here. Kewaskum certainly invites the Wisconsin Kennel Club to our city and extends a welcome hand, for it is composed of a jolly group of clean cut fellows, and it is a pleasure to have them within our midst.

PUBLIC SCHOOL HAPPENINGS

The Sophomores gave their annual Freshmen Initiation party on Friday evening. The forepart of the evening was given over to initiation stunts in which the Freshmen proved to be capable performers. This was followed by dancing in the gym.

The school is planning a "home talent" entertainment to be given on Friday and Saturday evenings, Nov. 1 and 2. Mrs. Anne Hocking Smith, who has assisted with two previous school programs will again have charge of the coaching.

The base ball team played a 9-9 tie game with Campbellsport on Thursday.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Lehman Rosenheimer gave a talk before the grammar room on her European trip during the past summer. Her talk included descriptions of interesting places and of national customs of seven countries. The classes who are studying the geography of Europe found this a delightful and helpful way of familiarizing themselves with these countries through first hand experiences.

Mr. Swartout, regional boy scout leader from the Fond du Lac area, spoke on scouting to the high school assembly on Thursday.

The organization of the Kewaskum troop No. 14, local boy scouts has been completed. At present 24 boys are doing active scout work. More than half of these boys are first class scouts and all of them are working on advanced work in scouting enabling them to earn merit badges.

Keep in mind the home talent production given by the high school on Friday and Saturday evenings, Nov. 1 and 2. A three act comedy, "At the End of the Rainbow" has already been selected and parts will be assigned next week. In addition to this two hour play, popular musical numbers will be presented. Plan now to arrange your activities so that you will be free to witness this entertainment.

The local base ball team recently played a 5-5 tie game with Rosendale.

The Ladies' Aid of the Peace Evangelical church, sponsored a farewell reception in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Ernst Irion and family in the school hall of the church on Wednesday evening. A delicious luncheon was served in cafeteria style at which Prin. E. E. Skaliskey acted as toast master. Rev Irion will deliver his farewell sermon tomorrow, Sunday, and on Tuesday he and his family will leave for their new home in Ohio.

"WEST OF THE LAW", AT THE MOVIES SUNDAY EVENING

One of the tensest situations in "West of the Law," to be shown on the screen at the Kewaskum Movies tomorrow, Sunday, shows Neva Gerber in the role of Alice Armstrong, a daughter of the range, clinging for life to the saddle of a runaway stallion as the frenzied beast dashes madly across the prairie. Needless to say, she is saved from harm when the hero—Ben Wilson—gallops up alongside and sweeps her from the saddle to the safety of his strong arms. But until this daring rescue is consummated things look pretty black for Neva.

When, prior to the actual camera work, the situation was explained to her, it was suggested that the use of a double was more than advisable in view of the fact that the possibilities for accidents were very great. But Neva laughed the idea to scorn: "I'll make the ride myself," said she. And she did! And what a ride it was!

See it for yourself. It's just one of the thrills with which "West of the Law" is thickly studded.

TWO MEN HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Louis Binder and Fred Ehnert both of this city, very narrowly escaped death last Wednesday evening when Binder's new Whippet Four coupe, in which they were riding, was struck by the southbound 6 o'clock passenger train here at the Division street crossing. The two men, who were returning home from work, attempted to pass over the crossing before the oncoming train when Binder, in some manner killed the engine of his car. Ehnert jumped to safety but Binder remained in the auto trying to start the engine. Flagman John Lenz noticing his predicament, signalled the engineer of the locomotive who immediately applied the brakes but not in time to prevent the train from striking the car, which was dragged along for about 150 feet before the locomotive came to a stop. Miraculously, Binder, who was still in the car, was not hurt. The right side and window and the rear wheels of the auto were smashed.—West Bend News.

Miss Corrine Schaefer, returned home Sunday evening from a two month's trip to the Pacific Coast. Corrine enjoyed the trip very much, having seen many beautiful places which were not only interesting but educational as well. While sojourning in California, she had the opportunity of seeing President Hoover's home—a beautiful mansion. Miss Schaefer who is employed in the H. J. Lay Lumber company's office, resumed her work on Monday.

BARN DESTROYED BY FIRE

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the barn on the C. W. Raasch farm, located on Trunk highway S, about three miles west of Beechwood, last Saturday evening at about eight o'clock. There was no one home at the time of the fire, as Mr. Raasch is employed at Fond du Lac, and had left the place during the day to spend Sunday at Fond du Lac. The fire was noticed by neighbors who called the Beechwood fire department. The fire had gained too much headway by the time the fire company arrived and nothing could be saved. The loss is estimated at several hundred dollars and is partly covered by insurance.

LITTLE GIRL TEARS MOUTH ON CAR DOOR

Mildred, the 9-year-old daughter of Louis Rosche of Slinger, had her face badly mutilated Monday noon when in crossing the street she ran into a car, catching the handle of the door in her mouth so that her cheek was badly torn and the flesh was ripped from the bone. The child was on her way home from the public school of Slinger, where she is a pupil. Having been to the postoffice, she went to cross the street to her home on the opposite side of the street. She lingered in the center of the thoroughfare between two cars; and in looking, failed to note the car into which she walked. Although the accident happened so quickly that no one can explain it exactly from the fact that bits of apple which she was eating were upon the handle of the car door, it is presumed that the mouth of the child was caught upon the handle. The fact that her right cheek is badly lacerated bears out this theory. She was dragged a short distance before she finally was freed from the car. Dr. Kauth of Slinger, was called to attend the injured child and brought her to St. Joseph's hospital of this city, where it was found that her shoulder was dislocated, that she was bruised, and that her face was badly torn. Her physician found it necessary to close the jagged wounds with from thirty to forty stitches.—Hartford Times.

These Facts Mean More Profit on Farmall Farms!

Under average soil conditions the Farmall will plow from 7 to 10 acres a day, which is as much as three men can do with mules or horses. Twenty acres a day can be bedded up with two middle breakers and a Farmall, which is the work of two or three men and six to eight horses. The Farmall with a two-row lister can cover 20 acres a day, doing the work of two to three men and six to eight horses. In planting cotton, the Farmall can easily cover 20 to 30 acres in two or three times as much as can be done with a team. Rows are planted at a time, this acreage is practically doubled. One man with a Farmall can cultivate 15 to 25 acres doing the work of 2 or 3 men and 6 to 8 horses. The Farmall when equipped with mower attachment will cut 20 to 30 acres a day. The Farmall and tractor binder can cut 30 to 40 acres of grain a day. For pulling the corn binder or corn tractor, the Farmall saves both time and labor. Ask us to show you the tractor and the modern tools that work with it. Demonstrations can be arranged on your own farm if desired.

Born Today: One Idea

Implement House Needed on Farms

Store in Some Other Place Than Along Ditch or Under Trees

If farm machinery is to last, is expected to give good service and is to pay a return for its cost, it must be stored in some place other than along the ditch bank or under trees. "There is no known type of farming profitable enough to pay dividends when machinery is allowed to become rusty and worn, is repaired with hay wire or permitted to stand in the weather during winter," says A. T. Holman, agricultural engineer at the North Carolina State college. "Some good farmers use one set of machines for a lifetime, often exceeding 25 to 30 years of service, while other men add to the junk pile each year. The difference is due to management and care. Some men never permit their expensive implements to remain in the open their equipment. The essential care is to keep the machinery clean, house it properly and make repairs when needed."

Implement House Needed.
Mr. Holman says that every farm needs an implement house. Such a house must have a good roof and a dry floor. It is best to build it so that all surface water, including water from the roof will drain away from the building. It is also advisable, he says, to locate the house so that the heavier equipment may be pulled in or out with a team.

Clean Before Storing.
Before storing any machine, however, it should be given a thorough cleaning and oiling. The mud and dirt should be removed to prevent deterioration, says Mr. Holman. If this is not done the agencies of rust and decay will continue even though the machines are stored. Those parts of the tools which work in the

Plant Oats on Top of Silo to Exclude Air

A farmer who has had wide experience finds that spoiling of silage during the winter can be lessened by treating the inner walls of the silo with a solution which keeps out air. The mixture consists of one pound salt, two tablespoonfuls of alum, one teaspoonful of lye and four gallons of water, plus enough cement to make it the consistency of paste. In some cases, the inside of the silo doors are lined with paper or the cracks filled with clay to keep out air.

Another scheme is to sow oats or cane at the top of the silo. These grains sprout quickly in the warm silage and the matted growth serves as an insulator excluding the air.

ground especially need oiling as do the bearings and exposed threads. During idle time in winter repairs might be made so that the machines are ready when the rush of spring work comes.

Short Rotation Proves Valuable in Illinois

The old method of farming land with corn and oats was taken as a "horrible example" of a cropping system and by introducing sweet clover into the short grain rotation the University of Illinois has been able to get an average production of 63 bushels of corn on the Morrow plats on the university campus. These plats are the oldest soil experiments in America. "Short rotations can be arranged so there is a legume appearing on the field a part of every year. This is accomplished by sowing sweet clover in the oats and using it as a pasture and plowing it under in the spring for corn."

Although oats are mentioned in this case, as a matter of fact, by dividing the land devoted to small grain the farmer could grow oats and wheat simultaneously, thus providing a three-crop system in a two-year cycle.

Proper Storage of Feed Quite Often Overlooked

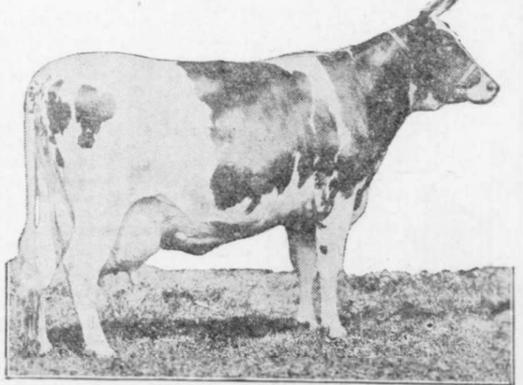

Much trouble with moldy and spoiled feed could be avoided if a little care were given to the way in which it is stored. One thing that will help in this regard is the storing of feed on boards instead of directly on cement floors.

If two by fours are laid on the floor and the bags of feed piled on these in rows, there will be less danger of spoiling, there will be a better circulation of air throughout the feed, and it will be an easier matter to fight rats, for rat bait can be more easily distributed among the feed bags and cats will have better access to all parts of the feed pile in fighting rats.

Spraying With Arsenic Is Dangerous to Stock

On farms where trees are sprayed with arsenicals, the grass under the trees may become saturated with the drip and live stock losses may result from grazing on this dangerous herbage. A more common source of arsenic poisoning, however, is due to carelessness in disposing of the arsenic containers. Cattle seem to enjoy the taste of arsenic and the animals will lick the old cans or drink with relish the water accumulated in them—and usually, with fatal results. Even washing the containers does not always remove the danger. It is best to destroy them.

National Butterfat Champion

Queen Bessie Pietertje Ormsby.

By producing enough milk and butterfat to make 5,396 pounds of butter, Queen Bessie Pietertje Ormsby, a mature Holstein-Friesian cow, becomes the national butterfat champion for four lactations and for the third time produces more than 1,000 pounds of butterfat in a year. In the past four lactations, she has produced 4,292.1 pounds of butterfat, equivalent to 5,365.8 pounds of 80 per cent butter. In 1934, she produced 12,658 gallons of milk. Her average for four lactations is 27,118.8 pounds of milk containing 1,073 pounds fat (1,341 butter).

Queen Bessie is also the champion fat producer for three lactations with a total of 3,396.5 pounds and is third on the list for two lactations with a total of 2,301.2 pounds. In making these records, she displaces Adirondac Wietseke Dalrymald with a record of 4,192.6 pounds of fat (5,240.7 butter) in four lactations, and Daisy Aaggie Ormsby III with a record of 3,320.4 pounds of fat (4,150.5 butter) in three lactations.

This wonderful cow, Queen Bessie, is moderately large and weighs only 1,700 pounds yet, in her four lactations, she has produced enough butterfat to more than treble her weight in butter. Her sire is King Pietertje Mercedes Ormsby with 17 A. R. daughters. Her dam is Rockasene Queen Bess with a long-time record of 883.1 pounds of butterfat (1,103.3 butter) in 22,914.6 pounds of milk. Queen Bessie was bred by C. L. Spaulding of Warren, Minn., and is now owned by R. V. Rasmussen of Elmwood Farms, Deerfield, Ill.

WEEVILS IN BIN CAN BE KILLED BY USE OF CARBON BISULPHIDE

Pests Damage Stored Grain Unless Eradicated.

Weevils in stored grain will do much damage if not killed as soon as discovered. Fumigation with carbon bisulfide will dispose of them without damaging the food or germinating qualities of the grain, according to T. H. Parks, extension entomologist of the Ohio State university. Carbon bisulfide is a liquid which can be purchased in tightly sealed cans at any drug store. When released in the air it evaporates rapidly into a gas which is heavier than air. This gas, mixed with air, is inflammable, and all lights should be kept away from a grain bin which is being fumigated with it. And the person doing the fumigating should breathe as little as possible of the gas.

process is keeping the bin sealed as tightly as possible. The work should be done on a calm day when the temperature is above 67 degrees. Eight to 15 pounds of the liquid are necessary for fumigating 1,000 cubic feet of bin space. When figuring the space it is necessary to take into account the entire bin, not just the volume of the grain. The liquid may be placed in large pans on top of the grain, or buried in it, may be buried in the grain. The bin should remain tightly closed for at least 36 hours after the fumigant has been applied.

When Babies CRY

Babies will cry, often for no apparent reason. You may not know what's wrong, but you can always give Castoria. This soon has your little one comforted; if not, you should call a doctor. Don't experiment with medicines intended for the stronger systems of adults! Most of those little upsets are soon soothing away by a little of this pleasant-tasting, gentle-acting children's remedy that children like. It may be the stomach, or may be the little bowels. Or in the case of older children, a sluggish, constipated condition. Castoria is still the thing to give. It is certain to clear up any ailment, and could by its slightest touch, do the thing to think of when a child is coated tongue, won't sleep, is fretful or out of Get the genuine, or ask Chas. H. Fletcher's representative.

Noisy Pig Feeders Bother Man

Noisy mechanical pig feeders as an effect on health were discussed in a recent session of the British Medical association in Manchester, England. Dr. Grace Griffith said the menace should be abolished. A mechanical pig feeder, she said, is fitted with a lid which the pig raises when it wants to eat and allows to bang down when the porker withdraws his nose. The uncertainty of not knowing when the next pig was going to eat so got on the nerves of one man at West Suffolk that he had to quit the neighborhood, the doctor stated.

Schoolgirl learns simple health measure

WITH all the talk there is nowadays about the independence of the sub-deck generation, your reporter got a great kick out of hearing a grandmother describe how her granddaughter was following a good old tried and true method of improving her general health.

"My granddaughter, Margaret," says Mrs. Zell of 6231 Catherine Street, Philadelphia, "read about Nujol, was interested in it, so sent for a sample." It seems she has been taking a tablespoon of Nujol once a day since and expects to continue this treatment. Already she has found an improvement in her general health, her system functioning normally where other remedies had failed.

That's one of the best things about Nujol. It is just as harmless for young girls, or babies even, as it is for adults. For Nujol contains no medicines or drugs. It can't upset

Coach Roper Favors Fumble Rule

Coach Roper Talking Over Prospects With Captain Whyte.

(By W. W. ROPER, Princeton Football Coach, in the Chicago Daily News) While the changes in the football rules for this year are few in number, I believe the rule making all loose balls dead at the point of recovery will have a big effect on the game.

I favor the rule, though in the past Princeton teams have been very successful in winning games by recovering loose balls. Back in 1895 Hermon Suter ran 95 yards against Harvard after recovering a fumbled ball.

Yet I believe the new rule is good for the game. Football is distinctly a team game, and there are plenty of thrills as it is.

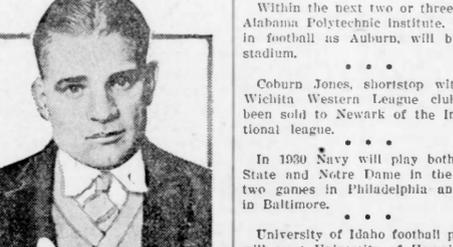

HARRY KIPKE IS YOUNGEST COACH

Michigan Pilot Meets Bob Zupke in One Game.

Harry Kipke, new Michigan coach, and Robert Zupke, Illinois' mentor, will re-open the old argument of youth against age in the University of Illinois homecoming game, October 26.

Kipke, assuming the job at his alma mater just five years after his graduation, is one of the youngest coaches in the conference, while Zupke, starting his seventeenth year at Illinois, is second in length of service only to A. A. Stagg of Chicago.

Kipke takes over the Wolverines with a head start as they are the only Big Ten team which has a margin of victories over Illinois under the Zupke reign. Since 1913, Illinois has won four games from them while losing five.

As an undergraduate Kipke became one of Michigan's leading athletes of all time, winning nine letters, three in basketball, baseball and football.

During his junior year Kipke was an all-American selection for the backfield. His chief value was in his kicking ability.

After graduation Kipke went to Missouri as an assistant and that year the Tigers defeated Chicago 3-0, although the Maroons went on to a Big Ten championship.

VINCENT DUNDEE BEATEN BY FIELDS

Baltimore Boy Gives Welter Champion Furious Battle.

Jackie Fields at the Coliseum in Chicago showed the Dundee family of Baltimore why he is the world's welterweight champion. In his first start as a title holder Fields whipped Vincent Dundee, brother of the man from whom he won the title, in the ten-round windup of the show that marked Jack Dempsey's debut as a promoter.

The windup was a furiously fought battle and many at the ringside thought Dundee was entitled to a draw. Cleaner punching and a knock-down in the sixth round were the factors that counted for Fields.

One by one the old names are being removed from the English track and field records. The most recent to be supplanted is that established by L. A. Dependable
Motor Oils—

POLARINE
and ISO-VIS

You can depend on either of these two motor oils to lubricate your car as it needs to be lubricated. They are both sturdy, rich oils.

Because they are sturdy they will hold up under the trying conditions of country driving.

Because they are rich they will keep a cushioning film over every bearing surface.

Iso-Vis, the most sensational advance in motor oil, maintains a constant body—wears and WEARS; lubricating at highest efficiency all the time. Many motorists run 1000 miles and more without draining the crankcase.

Polarine needs no introduction—for 20 years this dependable motor oil has been giving satisfactory service in millions of cars. If you want dependable lubrication for the least money, buy Polarine and drain the crankcase every 500 miles.

Polarine and Iso-Vis are made in different grades—use the grade made for your car.

Keep Up Milk Flow For More Profit

The latter part of the summer and early fall is usually the most trying time of the year for dairy cows. Often at this season of the year the pastures are short and usually the dairyman permits his cows to decrease their milk flow because of the shortage of feed. Silage furnishes the cheapest and easiest method of keeping up the flow of milk when pastures are poor. While silage is an excellent feed it is not a complete one for dairy stock. To keep cows in full milk requires some concentrated feed in addition to pasture and silage in the fall of the year, otherwise cows cannot keep up a large flow of milk and maintain body weight.
