WORLD PAYS TRIBUTE TO VICTIMS OF WAR

President Leads Ceremonies at Tomo of Unknown,

Washington .- President Hoover lead the ceremonies in which millions of Americans participated in the observance of the eleventh anniversary of the signing of the armistice after the World war. Exercises were held at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington, a memorial service paid tribute to Woodrow Wilson, war-time President, at the National cathedral and President Hoover delivered an address before the audience of diplomats, government officials and war veterans.

The address of the Chief Executive, as a climax to the capital celebration, was delivered at the Washington auditorium under the auspices of the American Legion.

The President's speech was broadcast over the nation-wide radio hookup and the 12,000 posts of the Legion held formal meetings to listen to the address. In addition, the address reached the ears of 26,000 injured veterans in government hospitals.

Maj. O. L. Bodenhamer, newly elected national commander of the American Legion, lead his delegation along with the representatives of welfare organizations which served in the war in exercises in which the laying of a wreath formed a part, at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. At 11:00 a. m. a one-minute silence in honor of the dead of the war was observed the world over.

The services in honor of Woodrow Wilson were held at the ex-President's tomb in the Bethlehem chapel of the National cathedral.

Vice President Curtis delivered the principal address at the main gathering in Soldier field in Chicago.

Paris.-Led by the erect, soldierly figure of the man who eleven years ago commanded the A. E. F. in a final stupendous military effort before the armistice halted hostilities, Americans in France participated in ceremonies commemorating the close of the World

Throughout the exercises a conspicnous part was played by that man-Gen. John J. Pershing. Besides purely American services, there was a joint ceremony, in which President Doumergue and Gen. Gouraud participated.

Washington.—The America that celebrated Armistice day is in a vastly different mood in 1929 from what was in 1918.

When the truce was signed between the warring powers on November 11, 1918, there were 3,485,454 men in the ranks of the army and 188,434 officers. This year the strength of the army is 124,216 men and 12,175 officers.

London.-For the first time King George was absent from the ceremonies at the cenotaph in observance of Armistice day. The prince of Wales Guernseys went on the auction block officiated in his place and thousands in the Waukesha county sales pavil- assembled there to observe the occa-

PURDUE'S GRID TEAM UNDEFEATED, LEADS

Only Obstacle to Championship Is Iowa Tilt.

Chicago.-Purdue unbeaten stands alone at the head of the western conference football standing with only one difficult hurdle-Iowa-ahead.

Not in thirty years of history of the Big Ten has the Purdue eleven won the championship. To date this year Purdue with a strong wellbalanced team and an all-star backfield, has run away from Wisconsin, Michigan and Chicago, and demonstrated a scoring power of championship calibre. The Boilermakers, however, have not met either of the other outstanding elevens with championship aspirations, but will settle the question of Purdue supremacy against Iowa, the conqueror of Minnesota which until last week seemed a fiftyfifty rival of Purdue. Iowa by missing a goal kick lost to Ohio by a 7 to 6 score in early season and since has held Illinois to a 7 to 7 tie, and on Saturday defeated Minnesota 9 to 7.

Should Purdue lose to Iowa, the championship honors would necessarily be shared, with Iowa, Minnesota, Northwestern, Illinois and Ohio State clamoring fo. recognition. A victory for Iowa, from the percentage standpoint at least, would give it equal rank with the other five elevens which would have only one defeat marked up against them, Iowa and Illinois, would, however, have that tie game on their record.

Northwestern, which Minnesota trounced earlier in the season, ran away from Ohio State, which earlier won from Iowa, 18 to 6. A week before Northwestern defeated Illinois,

Illinois on Saturday rose to its full power to defeat Army, 17 to 7, while Purdue was conquering Mississippi, 27 to 6. Michigan overcame Harvard in the latter's first invasion of the midwest, 14 to 12, and Wisconsin defeated Chicago, 20 to 6. Indiana was the only conference team which had

The National corporation was created under the auspices of the federal farm board to carry on the board's program of financing the farmer-owned co-operatives of the United States and to market grain for them.

The farm board and its chairman. Alexander Legge, also announced approval a short time ago in Chicago of the plan for organization of the northwest corporation under the leadership of the officers and members of the farmers' elevator associations of the four states.

KELLOGG VISITS ENGLAND | DIVEST WORLD BANK OF GIGANTIC POWER

Functions Reduced to Mere Clearing House.

Baden-Baden, Germany .- The grandiose scheme embracing the international activities of the international bank for reparations payments, envisaged by J. P. Morgan and Thomas Lamont when the institution was projected as part of the Young plan last summer, is being dwarfed to a modest sphere of organization for the distribution of German indemnity and a sort of clearing house for fiscal operations among the governments, by the committee creating it here. The organizing committee chose Basel, Switzerland, as the location for the bank, thus removing much of the political atmosphere which also threatened to envelop it. Most of the United States government's objections against vast powers for the bank, as originally planned, are expected to be overcome when the modest little institution-a sort of glorified corporate evolution of Seymour Parker Gilbert, agent general for reparations-becomes operative.

The American delegates, Jackson E. Reynolds of New York and Melvin A. Traylor of Chicago, with the collaboration of the chiefs of the central banks of Germany, Great Britain, France, Belgium, Italy and Japan, are framing the reparations bank as if it were an institution to disburse the German annuities among the creditor powers and clear certain international financial operations to obviate costly and difficult gold bullion shipments and eliminate a large part of the heavy purchases of foreign exchange which the nations need to discharge their debt arrears.

The mammoth operations of developing the little peoples and the backward areas, like Asia and Africa, and perhaps eventually financing Russia. dreamed of by those who conceived the superbank, are being left for exploitation to the existing banking groups and consortiums, who may grant loans and credits, although these organizations may see fit to launch operations through the international bank in order to simplify the procedure.

Through the steady and determined opposition of Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Traylor, the efforts of certain European delegations to inject a political aspect into the bank have gradually been abandoned, and, as the statutes of the charter and trust deed stand now, it will be operated solely for banking purposes.

There is still considerable spectuation as to whether the Hoover administration will maintain its hostility toward the bank and refuse to permit the European powers to pay the war debt installments through it.

Hopes are held out that when Wash ington sees how innocuous the bank actually is it will reconsider its veto against the federal reserve bank par ticipating and permit the superbank to pay the allied debt annuities direct instead of forcing it to do a lot of bookkeeping and switching of money among the capitals for the nations to pay direct

The consensus of opinion here is that an American must be president of the superbank, since the Europeans apparently have lost confidence in each other for the post. Both Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Traylor have been sounded out as to whether they would accept the position and it is understood that Mr. Reynolds has given a tentative intimation in the affirmative. It is stated that Mr. Traylor declined to consider the offer because of his imperative Juties at home.

Wheat, Cotton Growers

Urged to Delay Selling Washington,-Farmers who sell their wheat or cotton at the present time, unless forced to do so, "are foolish," Alexander Legge, chairman of the federal farm board, declared in a statement pointing out that his board's relief program is progressing rapidly and soon should show results. "The ups and downs in the wheat market in the last few days are caused largely by fluctuations on the stock market," Mr. Legge said. "There is no fundamental reason why wheat prices should change just now, but whether they change or not the board is going to keep right on loaning its money at the level it has designated." There have been substantial improvements in the terminal shortage situation during the last few days, according to the chairman.

"Oh, father, we aren't. Well, Helen, she is awfully good. And Ginger is good, too, in her funny way. But Martory and I are not much."

There was silence between them, as each smiled tenderly into the darkness, thinking of the thousand sweet, ridiculous, whimsical, pathetic happenings of the shabby old Methodist parsonage. But after a little while, be sent her back to bed, and to sleep. But Wesley Tolliver himself lay awake all night, thinking of many things. When Mirlam entered his room the next morning she found him standing by the window, fully dressed.

"Oh, "other, you're getting too smart for me," she said regretfully. But when he turned to look at her. the expression on his face sent a swift glad brightening over her own.

"Oh, father," she cried again. "You've thought of something! Everything is all right again, isn't it?"

He laughed quite merrily at her young eagerness. "Perfectly all right again," he assured her. "Oh, tell me all about it," she

"You have done so much, Eddy, and you are always so kind that I really phone in for a taxi."

"Of course I, can take you. Why, I haven't a thing to do," fied Eddy Jackson stoutly.

"Father!" ejaculated Miriam. "The way you talk of ordering taxis one would think you were a doctor or a lawyer at the very least."

So Eddy Jackson relinquished his experiments for another day, and after a few brisk instructions to the men, turned his small car toward town again. But he would not accompany the minister and als daughter into the house, said se bad an errand uptown and would be back for them in an hour, realizing that this hour was to be a sacred one, and that even the presence of a friend as faithful as himself would be an jutrusion.

It was Ginger who first caught sight of the touring car unloading its passengers at the end of the flagstone path, and her voice sent its summons ringing over the house.

"Margie, quit primping this minute. Come down. It's father! Father's come! Take off your curlers, Jenky. It's father!"

And their eager feet brought them swiftly, each in something of disnabille, to receive the one who had left them so sadly the night before. He was no longer sad. He greeted them brightly, smiling warm affection upon them.

"What a glum and gloomy old parent I was last night," he began at once. "What a hopeless and our old curmudgeon you had to put up with!" "Father, no!"

Then his voice deepened. "Girls

"Most certainly not, my dear child. I am going to stay at Pay Dirt as long as I can, and get just as strong as I care we can possibly afford. And I to bless the means we use. But the outcome-what difference does that make? None. If I am not to be used in Red Thrush any longer, what difference? Perhaps I shall be of service some place else. If I have completed by labor entirely, that is entirely satisfactory to me. I am perfectly content, I have no fears, not even for my dear daughters, for whom I wished to do so much. Foolish of me! Did I not dedicate my family cares along with the rest of my life?

How foolish it was for me to worry." "Of course it was. For I told you I would take care of you. Don't laugh! I mean it."

"I am not laughing, Ellen, I believe you. When the times comes, I know that you truly will take care of me. And I am glad to bave it to be sure of."

Prices of Wheat and Flour

It takes five bushels of wheat to make one barrel of flour. A barrel of flour makes 300 loaves of bread. For every change in price of flour, of $1 per barrel, the baker's cost is affected to the extent of one-third of one cent for each one-pound loat. In short, wheat would have to either advance or fall 60 cents per bushel, before it could affect the price of bread one cent per loaf.

Determining Turtle's Age

There is no sure way in which to determine the age of a bard-shell turtle. In most instances the plates are examined closely with a microscope and on these plates there can be noticed scale expansion. This scale expands as the turtle grows, leaving a ring of growth. These rings are counted the same as those of a tree.

Low Temperature Is Right for Fruit

Storage of Many Different Products.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) Temperature plays a most important part in the storage of many fruits that are shipped to market from distant areas of production. Most fruits keep well only within a rather limited range of temperature. With meats and dairy products the important thing is to keep them cold enough, but many fruits are injured seriously by a temperature only a few degrees lower than the most favorable temperature for storage.

Life Processes. "The life processes of fruits and vegetables." says Dr. Lon A. Hawkins, of the United States Department of Agriculture, in explaining this fact, "are chemical or physical in nature and are governed by chemical and physical laws. According to Van Hoft's law, the rate of a chemical reaction is doubted or trebled for each 18 degrees F. rise in temperature. The rate at which the life processes of fruits and vegetables proceed in storage increases as temperature rises."

Experience With Pears. Doctor Hawkins illustrates the point by giving experience with Bartlett pears. "As a rule," he says, "this fruit will keep twice as long at 31 degrees as at 36 degrees twice as long ut 36 degrees as at 43 degrees, and twice as long at this temperature as at 53 degrees. In other words, it will keep about eight times as long at 31 degrees as at 53 degrees. At 65 degrees, however, the fruit keeps about as long as at 53 degrees."

Many Dairy Bulls Sold

Before Value Is Known Too many dairy bulls are disposed of before their breeding value is known, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. A study has just been made of the ages at which "proved" bulls were disposed of in one state. No bulls disposed of for breeding purposes, or for injury or other natural causes, were included

Of the 124 bulls studied, 88, or 71 per cent, were disposed of before the age of five years. One hundred and seventeen, or about 94 per cent, were disposed of before the age of eight years. Two bulls were kept until eleven years of age and one bull until

Usually a bull will be five years old or older by the time he is proved. place of the legume hay.

Important Factor in Best The disposing of such a large per centage at an earlier age, or before their true value can be ascertained by means of dam and daughter comparisons, is one of the big losses of the dairy industry.

Roofing Cement Used to

Advantage With Silage There are several ways in which roll roofing and roofing cement can be used to advantage in filling the silo. Often the sliage spoils in the pit because of bad leaks where the stave part fits onto the top of the pit and because the pit wall may have so square a shoulder that the silage does not settle into the pit properly.

A liberal use of trowel roofing cement around the bottom of the staves will remedy any leaks. If there is a square shoulder, it may be remedied by sloping up the square shoulder by building in with concrete mortar, or by filling in with stiff clay mortar and then astening a strip of roll roofing around the bottom of the staves so that the lower edge hangs just below the top of the pit wall.

Rigid Culling of Aged

Ewes to Improve Wool Quantity may go hand in hand with quality in wool production. Investigations by the burea of animal industry. United States Department of Agricul ture, show that length of staple and weight of clean wool per fleece are associated with superior quality. The inheritance of the sheep, its feed, management, and seasonal environment are the most important factors that influence quality and quantity of wool. Successful sheep raisers have found that rigid culling of aged ewes and light producers is a good practice for the immediate improvement of their flocks.

Good Winter Management

of Cows Pays Dividends Good winter management of the cowherd will pay big dividends in the spring calf crop. Proper feeding of the cows during the winter is necessary to insure the birth of strong calves. For this purpose, nothing excels good legume hay such as alfalfa and clover. If the cows have all the dry fodder or silage or preferably both that they want with four or five pounds of alfalfa or clover hay per head daily, their needs will be sup plied. If preferred, a pound to a pound and a half of linseed or cottonseed cake or meal may be used in

ORGANIZATION IS GREAT NEED CONFRONTING HONEY INDUSTRY

Co-operative Marketing Is Necessary, Says Expert.

The honey industry needs organizalon, says M. P. Rasmussen of the New York State College of Agriculture. "Further development of co-operative marketing associations among beekeepers is necessary to meet effectively problems confronting the honey industry. Local co-operatives are needed to establish local prices and grades. Regional co-operatives are needed for warehousing, processing and merchandising honey. A natonal co-operative, or possibly a federation of regional cooperatives is needed to advertise honey, establish standards, develop export outlets, and obtain needed legislation. "Tell the man who eats it about the healthfulness and food value of honey. This offers the most promising solution of the honey marketing problem. The unorganized state of the honey industry makes this step extremely difficult, and unless honey is standardized, it will be difficult to increase demand for honey to any appreciable

"Honey is now retailed to the consumer in containers of such capacity and type as to impress the consumer with the fact that honey is a luxury. Honey can and should be sold in cheap tin and large glass containers in quantitles readily recognized by the consumer-not less than one pound or multiples thereof. Corn sirup outsells honey ten to one and is put up in only five sizes, all in tin cans."

Secret of Making Good

Silage Is to Exclude Air The secret of making good silage is to have all the air excluded. For this reason the silage must not be too dry, and one or two men in the silo should be kept busy distributing and tramp-

•------------------------Agricultural Hints

****************** Good seed corn is the kind that will grow vigorously.

The earlier the plowing for wheat, the better the crop. A shelter belt enhances the value of the entire farm property.

Proper cleaning and repairing of harness may double or treble the period of its usefulness. For next year's clover to be seeded in wheat on sour soils, apply lime soon after the land is plowed.

It pays to grade and standardize farm products. They sell for a better price and are more in demand.

Eradication of abortion from a herd presents a difficult problem, but can be accomplished by means of the blood ing. When filling, the material around the wall should be kept higher than the rest and thoroughly tramped. Otherwise molding around the edge is apt to result.

The preservation of silage is due to three factors-pressure, heat and acid. The pressure excludes the air. The heat due to fermentation pasteurizes the silage, killing many of the spoiling molds. The acid is also detrimental to many of the spoiling molds.

Guard Against Termites

in Erecting Buildings White building new buildings they should be termite proofed. Two per cent of the original cost will make the building safe from the inroads of the insect that causes thousands of dollars damage each year, according to Thomas E. Snyder of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The surest way to make the building less liable to be attacked is to use no wood in the foundation or basements. The chief thing to keep in mind is to prevent any wood coming in contact with the ground.

Termite control and other methods of prevention are thoroughly described in a leaslet just celeased from the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Origin of Stocks

The question of stocks for apple trees has attracted much more attention abroad than in this country. It has long been the custom in England for growers to distinguish between types of stock of different habit, such as dwarf Paradise stocks, semi-dwarf stocks like Doucin, vigorous Paradise stocks, etc. The result has been that these stocks have been propagated for years, until now pure lines of several types exist.

Kill Mediterranean Fly

by Cooling All Fruit The Department of Agriculture now plans to fight the Mediterranean fruit fly by cooling fruit to a temperature of 28 degrees for five hours followed by holding it for about five days at a temperature of 30 degrees. Another treatment is to hold the fruit at 110 degrees for eight hours. Both the high and low temperatures are fatal to the eggs or larvae of the fly. It is also feasible to attain either the maximum or minimum temperatures in the existing practices of handling citrus fruita.

Prune in Winter

Tree fruit plants and hardy grape vines may be pruned any time during the winter, December 1 to March 1, says R. J. Barnett of the Kansas State Agricultural college. The particular date within these boundaries is not important except that the work may be more accurately and comfortably done during periods of moderate temperatures. Circular No. 102 contains concise directions for the work

Night Life Gets You if I Don't Watch Out!

War Vet almost takes count, but pals help.

HOW would you like it if every two weeks you had to give up your good night's sleep, and work al! night instead? This is what happened to W. H. Huggins of 90 Savannah Street, Rochester, New York. When he came back from the War, he took a night "shift" job.

"It certainly shot me all to pieces," said Mr. Huggins. "I was licked before I started. My pals noticed that the night shift got me, so during a 'lunch' period in the middle of one night one of them said to me, 'Hug, I bet I know what's the matter with you. This irregular life gets us all unless we watch out. Why don't you try Nujol? Most of the boys are onto this little health trick. Try it!"

"Well, that very night on the way home I got a bottle and within a week I felt like a different person. I wouldn't know myself. You can lick any job, even a night one, if you get the poisons out of your system regularly. Nujol sure did it for me!"

Sprint in History Thomas Mosser of Newark, N. J., made the longest football run in the history of the game. Mosser was downed on the twomile line.

He was driving past Ashland stadium, where a game was in progress between two high school teams. One of the strong-kneed scholastic stars punted the ball over the wall and it landed in Mosser's car.

Mosser knew that in a baseball game, whenever a ball goes over the fence or into the stands, it belongs to whoever gets it.

But the high school players came after their ball and saw it disappear down the street in Mosser's car. They called a patrolman, who mounted a collegiate roadster and went in pursuit. Two miles later the policeman caught Mosser.

Waddell Was Greatest

The question recently was put to Albie Booth, sophomore of Yale university, now the outstanding athlete at Yale. Besides being chosen leader of the football team in his freshman year, Booth was also leader of the yearling baseball and basket ball squads. On the football field this year, he is proving himself to be one of the best quarterbacks ever to appear in the blue moleskins.

Who was the greatest southpaw of all time?

Connie Mack, who has handled four of the greatest in Rube Waddell, Eddle Plank, Robert Moses Grove and Rube Walberg. Without taking any positive stand in so personal a debate. Connie nevertheless seems to favor Waddell. "The Rube, when be was right, was a wonder," said Connie, as he recalled some of the actions of the eccentric twirler.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE

Some cows pay their owners a profit, others are kept at a loss. The good dairyman will not keep cows that lose money for him. For example: A cow producing 4000 pounds of milk annually, figuring test on a 3.5% basis, yields 140 pounds of fat, at an average price of 60 cents per pound, equals $84.00. The cow producing 10,000 pounds annually at 3.5% test, yields 350 pounds of fat, at 60 cents per pound, equals $210.00. The milk from the 4000 pound cow would have to bring $5.25 per hundred weight to equal the value produced by the 10,000 pound cow. We all know there is no market that pays $5.25 per hundred weight for milk, but what is there to prevent the nairy mau from getting that much money just the same?

Think it over carefully.
