

Classified Ads Bring... Hose... Women... Value!... ties... gifts... bridge... our school...

CHRISTMAS AT THE CHURCHES

Christmas next week Wednesday will be celebrated in all of the churches here. This being one of the greatest church holidays in the year, very interesting programs are being arranged by the children and their teachers appropriate for the occasion.

Peace Evangelical Church Christmas Eve, December 24th, program by Sunday School at 7:15 P. M. Christmas Day, December 25th, Worship (English) 10:00 A. M.

St. Lucas Evangelical Luth. Church Sunday morning German services at 10:00 A. M. Tuesday evening at 7:00 P. M. the children's program will be held.

St. Bridget's Catholic Church On Christmas day, December 25th, High Mass will be celebrated at 8:30 A. M.

St. John's Lutheran Church New Fane Program by the pupils of St. John's School and the choir Christmas Eve at 7:30 P. M.

Services at St. Michaels The holy festival of Christmas will be solemnly observed at St. Michaels next Wednesday. Preceding the first solemn high mass at 5 o'clock A. M.

WEST BEND MAN KILLED Lighting a cigarette while driving a car is believed to have been a factor in the death of William Leffingwell, aged 52, of West Bend, father of three children, who was killed Saturday night when his car went off the highway between Horicon and Beaver Dam and crashed into a tree.

NEW SERIAL STORY FOR STATESMAN A new serial story, "Black Sheep's Gold," will appear in the Statesman, beginning in the issue of Saturday, January 4th. It is a story of the South Seas which equals a trip to those regions.

DR. YOUR STOCK Market Prices of Arrival... BROTHERS STOCK YARD... Kewaskum Statesman the news of...

Christmas Greetings

Another year is drawing to an end, and we feel that 1929 has given us many of the good things of life. It is our most sincere wish that each and every one of you may receive the fullness of God's blessings which the year 1930 may have in store for you.

CRASHED INTO CROSSING GATE

Dist. Atty. J. M. Peters of this city had a scare thrown into him Tuesday evening at about 6:30 o'clock when going north on Main-st. the slippery conditions of the streets caused a car that he was driving to skid with the result that it crashed through lowered crossing guards to come to a stop in front of the eastbound passenger locomotive.

Services at St. Michaels The holy festival of Christmas will be solemnly observed at St. Michaels next Wednesday. Preceding the first solemn high mass at 5 o'clock A. M.

WEST BEND MAN KILLED Lighting a cigarette while driving a car is believed to have been a factor in the death of William Leffingwell, aged 52, of West Bend, father of three children, who was killed Saturday night when his car went off the highway between Horicon and Beaver Dam and crashed into a tree.

NEW SERIAL STORY FOR STATESMAN A new serial story, "Black Sheep's Gold," will appear in the Statesman, beginning in the issue of Saturday, January 4th. It is a story of the South Seas which equals a trip to those regions.

DR. YOUR STOCK Market Prices of Arrival... BROTHERS STOCK YARD... Kewaskum Statesman the news of...

CITY BASKET BALL TEAM VICTORIOUS

The Legion basket ball team made good their intentions when they promised the fans that they were looking for revenge and defeat of the fast Belgium team last week Friday evening, at the local gym, by a score of 25 to 27.

Services at St. Michaels The holy festival of Christmas will be solemnly observed at St. Michaels next Wednesday. Preceding the first solemn high mass at 5 o'clock A. M.

WEST BEND MAN KILLED Lighting a cigarette while driving a car is believed to have been a factor in the death of William Leffingwell, aged 52, of West Bend, father of three children, who was killed Saturday night when his car went off the highway between Horicon and Beaver Dam and crashed into a tree.

NEW SERIAL STORY FOR STATESMAN A new serial story, "Black Sheep's Gold," will appear in the Statesman, beginning in the issue of Saturday, January 4th. It is a story of the South Seas which equals a trip to those regions.

DR. YOUR STOCK Market Prices of Arrival... BROTHERS STOCK YARD... Kewaskum Statesman the news of...

KEWASKUM HAS TWO COMMUNITY TREES

Kewaskum, this year has two community Christmas trees, one is located at the intersection of Main street and Fond du Lac avenue, and is placed there by a number of business men of the village. The other is placed in front of Koch's store and was placed there by the A. G. Koch firm Inc.

Services at St. Michaels The holy festival of Christmas will be solemnly observed at St. Michaels next Wednesday. Preceding the first solemn high mass at 5 o'clock A. M.

WEST BEND MAN KILLED Lighting a cigarette while driving a car is believed to have been a factor in the death of William Leffingwell, aged 52, of West Bend, father of three children, who was killed Saturday night when his car went off the highway between Horicon and Beaver Dam and crashed into a tree.

NEW SERIAL STORY FOR STATESMAN A new serial story, "Black Sheep's Gold," will appear in the Statesman, beginning in the issue of Saturday, January 4th. It is a story of the South Seas which equals a trip to those regions.

DR. YOUR STOCK Market Prices of Arrival... BROTHERS STOCK YARD... Kewaskum Statesman the news of...

VILLAGE BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Kewaskum, Wis., Dec. 2nd, 1929. The village board met in monthly session with the following members present: Haug, Sark, Schmidt and Schaefer. Pres. Rosenheimer presiding.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. It was moved and carried that the 2% Fire Ins. Premiums $252.64 received from the state be turned over to the treasurer of the fire department.

Moved and carried that the janitor of the village hall shall be paid the sum of $40.00 for services rendered during the year.

Upon roll call all members present voting "AYE" the following resolution was declared passed and adopted: RESOLVED by the village board of the village of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, That there be and hereby is levied the following taxes for the year ending December 31st, 1929, upon the assessed valuation of all real estate and personal property according to the assessment roll of the current year:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes State taxes, State Spec. charges, County school tax, Salary and Exp. of Co. Supt. of schools, Soldiers Relief, All other county tax, State Trust Fund Loan (school), Dist. school tax, Village Tax, General fund, Street tax, Library tax, Sewer tax, Waterworks.

Bills were allowed as follows: General Fund Wis. Gas and Electric Co., Val. Peters, Treas. K. F. D., Mrs. Elwyn Romaine, Ins. Premium, Waterworks Fund Arthur Hall, Chemical for Chlorine, Layne Northwest Co., steel wedges, Gehl Bros. Mfg. Co., supplies, West Bend Hdw. Co., Rimmel Mfg. Co., labor and supplies, C. & N. Ry. Co., Frgt. Expr. and Tel., Badger Meter Co., on Acct., J. B. Clow & Sons, pipe fittings, Keimers Electric Service, Bal. due on electric installation at pump station, S. N. Casper, attending to pump motor, labor and expenses, Louis Brandt, labor, Hugo Vorpahl, labor, Falls Excavating Co., extra work at pump station and house connections.

UPON MOTION MADE AND CARRIED THE BOARD ADJOURNED. S. N. CASPER, Village Clerk.

WILL ENFORCE LAW

All repair men of the Wisconsin Telephone company were given notice by the company this week, that the law prohibiting anyone from nailing signs and advertisements, including posters of any kind or description on the company's poles, will be strictly enforced. If any signs appear on the poles, it is up to the repair man to immediately report same to the company together with the identity of the party or parties to whom the sign belongs.

SAVED FROM INJURY

Jacob Meinhardt, who for several years was employed as clerk in the Grand View Lunch Room here and who now holds a similar position at Allenton, came near being trampled upon by western horses, while attending an auction sale of horses at the Allenton stock yards last Monday afternoon. Mr. Meinhardt was assisting in leading the animals around in the yard for show, before they were put under the hammer, when suddenly several of the animals became unruly and in their wild attempt in trying to get away threw Mr. Meinhardt over backwards into a pig trough in the yard. Had it not been for the quick action of our local auctioneer George F. Brandt, who ran to his assistance and helped him on his feet, he would no doubt have been painfully injured.

WILL SERVE CHICKEN LUNCH

A chicken lunch will be served at Frank Turk's place, Beechwood on Saturday, Dec. 21, and on Christmas Eve and Christmas day, and again on New Year's day, a Tom and Jerry performance will be held at his place. All are invited.

CARD OF THANKS

The undersigned desire to thank all those relatives, friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted them during the illness and at the death of their beloved husband and father Henry Gritzmacher. For floral offerings, to pall bearers, those who loaned cars, to Rev. Marti for his words of consolation and to all those who showed their respect by attending the funeral. Mrs. Henry Gritzmacher and children.

Subscribe for the Kewaskum Statesman and get all of the news of your community.

MUCH ACTIVITY AT GAME

Reports of progress from Moon Lake wild life town of Auburn were given day night at the December Milwaukee chapter of the Walston league, sponsor of the meeting was attended by 500 Waltonians who preceded the refuge which has become an adjunct to the work of development in the state to effect that the refuge process of 5,300 Hungarian eggs, of which 1,000 were state conservation commission balance sold to other...

Wisconsin division a guest of honor in a brief building of a station of the Walt conservation program Louis Radke, Horicon of the division of Horicon marsh alive to the receive court Bob Libbert, student of wild- ture-recital, ele- stration of pist...

ON V... But somebod' cr. Instead he did the trimm... enough bran... phone line to... enough to give... and asembl... shapes. Today those... tify that bi... pruning job... well done... ned rather... eurse, is no... job of pruni... than to hin... that hurts... This piec... ought to sta... construction... It demonst... can build... truction in... can be goe... strung acro... along road... Since it... insisted on... us that the... are, in ins... to instruct... trimming;... practical... The tre... trees is n... too many... is eviden... with an... well, and... gress is... Wisconsin... but much... handled... they ha... public us... will beca... if they... and othe... pass un... due into... beauty... And... beauty, whate... may... money... Wisconsin...

Will Enforce Law... Saved from Injury... Will Serve Chicken Lunch... Card of Thanks... Plymouth Bank Closed... Brat Wurst Supper at St. Michaels...

Will Enforce Law... Saved from Injury... Will Serve Chicken Lunch... Card of Thanks... Plymouth Bank Closed... Brat Wurst Supper at St. Michaels...

Will Enforce Law... Saved from Injury... Will Serve Chicken Lunch... Card of Thanks... Plymouth Bank Closed... Brat Wurst Supper at St. Michaels...

Will Enforce Law... Saved from Injury... Will Serve Chicken Lunch... Card of Thanks... Plymouth Bank Closed... Brat Wurst Supper at St. Michaels...

Will Enforce Law... Saved from Injury... Will Serve Chicken Lunch... Card of Thanks... Plymouth Bank Closed... Brat Wurst Supper at St. Michaels...

Will Enforce Law... Saved from Injury... Will Serve Chicken Lunch... Card of Thanks... Plymouth Bank Closed... Brat Wurst Supper at St. Michaels...

Will Enforce Law... Saved from Injury... Will Serve Chicken Lunch... Card of Thanks... Plymouth Bank Closed... Brat Wurst Supper at St. Michaels...

Will Enforce Law... Saved from Injury... Will Serve Chicken Lunch... Card of Thanks... Plymouth Bank Closed... Brat Wurst Supper at St. Michaels...

Will Enforce Law... Saved from Injury... Will Serve Chicken Lunch... Card of Thanks... Plymouth Bank Closed... Brat Wurst Supper at St. Michaels...

Will Enforce Law... Saved from Injury... Will Serve Chicken Lunch... Card of Thanks... Plymouth Bank Closed... Brat Wurst Supper at St. Michaels...

Will Enforce Law... Saved from Injury... Will Serve Chicken Lunch... Card of Thanks... Plymouth Bank Closed... Brat Wurst Supper at St. Michaels...

OUR COMIC SECTION

Events in the Lives of Little Men

RESPONSIBILITY

(Copyright, W. N. U.)

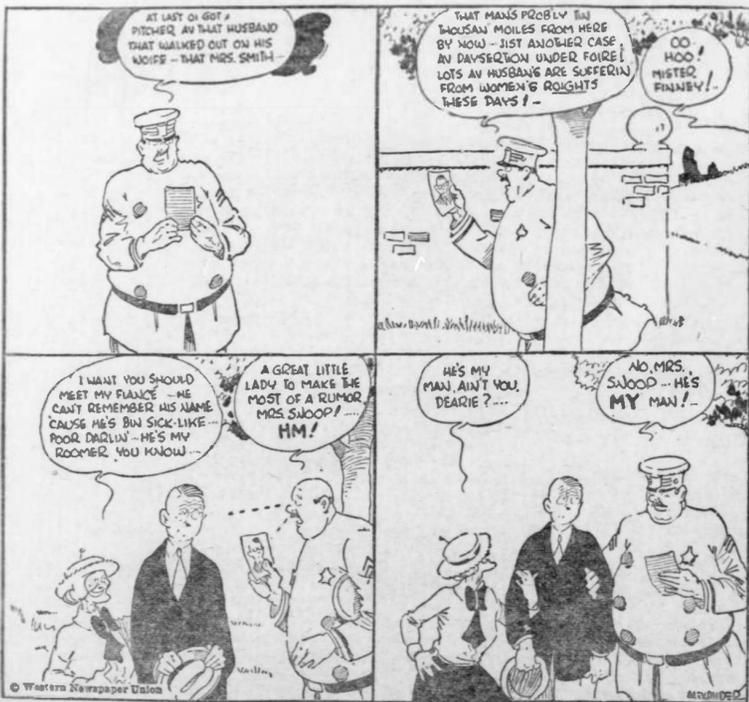

THE FEATHERHEADS

Felix Shoots the Most Valuable Bird

FINNEY OF THE FORCE

Page Fanny Brice

VERY HEALTHFUL

Bug-Nothing like a brisk walk round the block, these cool mornings!

Practically Bumped

"I went out west in '80," said the New Yorker. "How far d'ya git?" queried the miner. "Buffalo," said the New Yorker. "I went east th' same year," said the miner. "Went as fur's Butte, Mont. Nearly ran into each other, didn't we?"-New York Times.

says she didn't realize until after the wedding that she had married the wrong man! "Huh!" snapped his wife, "try and find a wife who doesn't feel the same way."

Trouble Ahead

Mrs. Hiram Browner-Why won't you join the wives' union? Husband object? Mrs. Cuddeleton-Not at all. Only she says he intends to run the house as an open shop.

Common Experiences

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Mr. Grouch, "here's an account of a woman who

WOULD PLAY IOWA 1930 GRID GAMES

Coach Swamped With Invitations for Contests.

Long distance telephone calls, carrying offers for football games with Iowa next fall, kept Burt Ingwersen's mind off Iowa's failure to gain reinstatement in the Big Ten. "Ever since word was sent out that we were out of the Big Ten football program next year," said the Iowa football coach, "my telephone has been busy with long distance calls from schools which want games with us. I cannot announce the offers now, but we have some attractive ones. "Of course, I feel badly about the Big Ten's action, but I have taken 'em on the chin before and I can still stick it out." Knute Rockne said that Notre Dame, as far as he personally was concerned, would be glad to play Iowa as soon as dates could be arranged. Notre Dame is under contract or verbal agreement for nine games next season, so Rockne held out little hope for an Iowa encounter in 1930. He believed, however, that the two eleven colleges could meet in 1931. "I see no objection to playing Iowa," Rockne said. "Our relations always have been pleasant. We would have been glad to hold a date open for them had we any hint that the Big Ten would refuse reinstatement."

Sixteen games have been listed for Army's basketball team this season. Contests will be played against Columbia, Pennsylvania and Princeton of the Eastern Intercollegiate league, and against Harvard, Colgate, Ohio State and Pittsburgh as well. Coach Leo Novak will form his team from a squad that includes Capt. Hutchinson, Malloy, Strother, Messinger, Krueger, Wood, McCoy, Blanning, Mansfield, Hoy, Abell, Besson and Farnsworth.

"A great change has come over football," says an editorial in the Harvard-Yale official program magazine. "The slave driving coach is practically only a memory. The players are actually getting fun out of playing football. We know they are at Harvard, where practice has been shortened, where there is no high pressure driving of boys or no attempt to dodge the fact that a boy is entitled to the same courteous attention from coach that he is from professor or instructor."

One of the most remarkable records in football history came to an end with the Rutgers-N. Y. U. game when Bernie Crowl, captain and center of the Scarlet team, concluded his career. The Rutgers' captain had played forty-two successive football games with only forty seconds of substitution. He had completed thirty-seven without being relieved up to the Catholic university tilt, when Coach Harry Rockafellar removed him in order to give Karljans, a substitute guard, varsity experience for next year. However, the tide turned against the Scarlet in the intervening forty seconds before the first half ended, and Crowl was sent back at the opening of the third period.

Boys who accept financial aid in return for services as college athletes are "false to the ethics of sportsmanship," declared Dr. Howard Savage, co-author of the Carnegie foundation's recent sensational report on recruiting and subsidizing. In an article in Sportsmanship. College coaches and directors who induce them to do so are charged with "teaching young men dishonestly." "For the abuses of recruiting and subsidizing which beset our college and school athletes the code of the sportsmanship brotherhood," Doctor Savage says, "suggests a powerful antidote: 'Keep faith in your comrade.'"

It has been estimated that because of encouragement given football stars to go through college that 10,000 boys avail themselves of the opportunity, where otherwise not one of them might ever get beyond the grade or high schools. Baseball, in the opinion of Jack Coombs, old-time pitcher with the A's, also encourages boys to attend college. He says: "In recent years the major league clubs have come to depend considerably on the baseball stars developed in the colleges. The young fellows know this and feel that college baseball experience is helpful in getting big league jobs. So they're coming to college in increasing numbers, without any great encouragement excepting that they know they have a good opportunity of getting up in professional baseball after their schooling is completed."

Basketball, introduced in Portugal in 1927, has made great strides. Twenty-four teams are playing a regular schedule. Others are being organized. The main matches are played on Sunday before large crowds. Competition in the game is so keen that a team is in training for the European championship contests. The Portuguese are confident of winning since some of their players learned the game in America and figured in important contests in the United States.

Art Shires of the Chicago White Sox apparently thinks he is the greatest ball player living and does not hesitate to advertise that fact. It is said he refers to himself as "The Great Shires," and that's the reason the newspaper folk use that phrase when writing about him. In an early game this year, Chicago had men on bases with two out when Shires came to the plate to face a rookie hurler. Turning to the umpire he said: "If this rookie gets me out, he's made." In another game Shires was painfully spiked and while lying on the diamond was told that he must leave the game for a substitute. "I should say not," he declared. "Do you want all the fans to go home?"

Big Three of Harvard's Grid Team

The big three of Harvard's 1930 football team.—Left to right, Benjamin Tichnor, center of this year's eleven who has been elected captain of the 1930 team; Arnold Horween, who will remain as head coach, and Douglas Dillon, of New York city, who will act as manager of next year's team.

Chases Football by Day, Billiard Ball at Night

Besides being captain of the Fordham university football team and the greatest defensive center in eastern football, Tony Siano manages a billiard room in a recreation hall at Fordham to earn money to support himself while in school and his mother and four brothers and sisters at home in Waltham, Mass. And since Tony is one of the most popular students the New York city school has known, his billiard room is a great hangout for the boys.

The reason Siano rates so highly as a defensive player is because of his ability to diagnose plays, according to Maj. Frank Cavanaugh, his coach. Like the boxer who watches his opponent's feet, the Fordham captain watches carefully every back on the opposing team for a give-away movement. Invariably Tony detects the back who moves a foot, turns his head, and for that man alone he plays. Consequently, when the luckless half-back is given the ball he finds Tony Siano in his path and the Fordham captain is one swell tickler.

Major Cavanaugh says he can count on one hand all the times Siano has missed a tackle this season. He's like the Royal Northwest Mounted in that he always gets his man. A career in law is Tony's aim, and after graduation he plans to coach to earn money for a course in law school.

Science Has Developed New Sport for Winter

A new national sport has developed for the sport loving American people. Not exactly a new sport, either, this is ice hockey. In Canada and a few northern sections, it has been popular for years. But unreliable weather restricted its interest and only since 1925 has it assumed epidemic proportions, spreading over the country with a rush that has carried it even into Oklahoma and Texas.

It is science that has made this new winter sport nationally popular by perfecting a method of freezing a perfect, broad sheet of ice indoors in any climate, points out Grover Theis, writing in the Farm Journal. A ten-team league made up of clubs in the larger American and Canadian cities now plays a regular schedule of three games a week before crowds of from 10,000 to 20,000. Great auditoriums have gone up in New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston and Pittsburgh dedicated to the game. A half-dozen minor leagues have been formed, representing the smaller cities. The speed and skill of the professional players, mostly Canadians, makes a thrilling game, and school boys in this country are flocking to this new sport. There are already scores of school and club teams for every professional team. In a few years we will have developed our own professional players.

Mere Mayor Not Pleasing Companion for Quillan

When Eddie Quillan went back to Philadelphia, his own home town, on a visit recently, recounts Motion Picture Magazine, his company's publicity man offered to get the mayor of Philadelphia to have his picture taken with him. "No, thanks," said Eddie firmly. "I'd rather pose with Connie Mack." "Oh, but he's too important," protested the publicity man, horror-stricken. "I couldn't bother him." However, wires were pulled and the picture taken.

Temple Cage Star

Jean Shiley, who holds an American high jump record, now one of the members of the girl's team at Temple college.

Captain Big Help

Capt. Rut Walter is counted on to help built up the Northwestern university basketball team this winter. Losses by graduation pretty near wrecked the cage team.

Sport Notes

After a lapse of 27 years, Virginia and Kentucky will resume football competition in 1930.

Blimp Hadley, Washington pitcher, will work for a bonus salary next year—so many wins, so many dollars.

James J. Jeffries, former champion heavyweight, raises pure bred cattle on his ranch near Burbank, Calif.

Frank and Marshall college will renew baseball next year after an absence from the diamond a single season.

Bill McAfee, hurling ace of the University of Michigan baseball team last spring, has signed with the Chicago Cubs.

The record for the fewest assists in a big league ball game is held by the New York Yankees. In a game in 1921 the Yanks made only five assists.

Stanislaw Pietkiewicz, the Polish runner, who recently beat Paavo Nurmi in a race in Warsaw, will compete in several events in the United States.

Of the sixteen major league managers at present, eleven were infielders, six were catchers, two were pitchers and but one, Burt Shotton, was an outfielder.

Great Britain is the first to file a formal notice of entry for the 1930 Davis Cup international tennis campaign. They will compete in the European zone.

Plans are under way for an international team match between the best tennis players of Cuba and the United States, to be played at Havana during the early spring.

James "Ducky" Smrall, regular punter and safety man for the past two years, has been elected captain of the University of Michigan football team for 1930. His home is in Lexington, Ky.

Although American league batters failed in 1929 to tie the record of eight runs driven in in a single game, Babe Ruth, Lou Fonseca, Charlie Gehringer and Buddy Myer each batted in seven.

Joe Owens, an end on Rice Institute's eleven, has to wear glasses on and off the field. He has devised an elaborate framework of steel and rubber to hold them tight and prevent their being broken.

Retention of William A. (Navy Bill) Ingram to coach the Navy football team next year is announced by Light. Com. Frederick G. Reinicke, graduate manager of athletics at the United States Naval Academy.

Luigi de Castro, aged eighteen, son of one of the wealthiest and most prominent families of Brazil, holds a record of 13 feet 1 inch in pole vaulting. He expects to compete in the next Olympic games.

Bill Brown, Vanderbilt guard and captain, this season led his third football team. He captained the Morgan school eleven of Petersburg, Tenn., in 1924 and before that led the McPerrin prep outfit of Martin, Tenn.

Just a Little Smile

A WHOPPER!

The young farmers were about the size of the potatoes had grown. Finally, one of them turned to Uncle Seth. "What was the biggest crop raised this year, Uncle Seth?" "A squash." "Well, how big was it?" "We never measured it," Uncle Seth, "but we used to use for snowshoes."—Boston Transcript.

Clever Stratagem

"That was a great victory," Kevette remarked. "Didn't hear of it?" "Gave it out that the first of the eleven daughters to be married have his entire fortune?" "What was the result?" "Eleven engagements in one week. They can't decide which girl to marry first, so Kevette gets all the daughters and keeps his fortune!"

CAUSE FOR WRINKLES

She—You go to college, don't you? He—No. This suit looks like it because I skip in it last year.

Agitation

The agitator brings to me. And you're so excited. He should be firing for the war. He makes me fear the war.

A Puzzle

Here was one again being put to other about. Every month at college was reading letters. "I had no idea," father said. "As he realized for his own. Then an explanation of it was given. It was a puzzle. The reply, 'What you just said is those that attend the best.'"

NEVER LOST

He—My college was founded in 1891. She—I never saw him here, I was lost.

Prescriptions

Bill—Prescriptions are done. No more for the world. Financial advice has to be given. And while a doctor's bill is to be paid.

No Reason for It

Author—I see you have my page in you. How do you like it? I suppose you had a copy at it? "Candidly," said the author, "I don't after reading two chapters I don't know why I began!"

Saved!

"Who's that behind us?" Fred at the wheel as a bus stopped. "Only a driver in a white coat," he answered.

Fred hurried his wheel over the road, braked into a town square, and against a fire.

"Thank heaven we escaped," muttered.

Keeps to Itself

Sandy—Sandy sure will. Andy—that it never goes away.

Saves Resistance

Clerk (showing customer goods)—Wonderful. They'll double the money. Ladies, please, color, please, what's your color? a good game.

Customer—Yes, and very nice. —Wall Street Journal.

An Estimate

So, how many you got a new car? What horsepower is your engine? "Historically, it seems to be a one-horsepower, but I had a one-horsepower last year."

Play Today

"Play is more complicated than days." "Heh!" "Look at those little players!" "Heh!" "They have a noble mission!"

Made His Eyes Blue

Banker (thinking into the phone)—Great! I've just made a million dollars. I've just made a million dollars. I've just made a million dollars.

The CHRISTMAS LIST 1929

CHRISTMAS eve and Judith Ross found herself alone at last but still very lonely. Her only relative, her kind brother, Paul, had just gone away, taking a bride with him.

"One of these days, Judith, Paul will go and marry someone and then you'll be left alone," her sweetheart, Ralph Reed, told her two years before on Christmas eve. Just after Judith had refused to go with him into Canada, Ralph's prophecy had come true—Paul had not sacrificed his love affairs to remain at home with her and she hadn't expected it, and yet she was thinking how unfairly life had treated her.

Judith gave a sigh and looked about her, for there were the wedding decorations, including the mistletoe, the flowers, the wreaths, the huge bell and the banked altar in the library.

Just as she donned a great coverlet apron the electric buzzer warned her that some one stood in the cold awaiting admittance to her warm, cozy home.

"Ralph," was all Judith could say. "Yes, it is me, Judith. Two weeks ago tonight I listened in on the radio in my little shack up there in the woods and heard a Pittsburgh radio station dedicate a number to Paul and his bride-to-be, and then it was that I knew you needed me, Judith. I imagined they would be marrying about Christmas, so I started out the very next morning to reach here in time, but old Tim down at the station told me they had gone already." Ralph blurted it all out and then opened his arms and Judith crept into them, knowing her troubles were all at an end, and she was to be repaid for the years she had sacrificed for her kind brother.

"How did you know I would still be waiting for you, Ralph?" she mumbled from the depths of his great coat.

"Love takes a lot for granted you know, dear, and then, too, a few weeks ago, I heard you sing 'Still

Waiting for You, Dear," from the radio station, and didn't I recognize that favorite song of mine ever before I heard them announce the singer? I knew you'd not be singing that if some one else had claimed your heart."

Just then the buzzer brought them back to earth and Judith arranged her tumbled locks as she went to answer the ring. There stood the little old person who had just left the house a few hours before.

"Have you forgotten something?" asked Judith.

"No, I believe not; for my book and the promise of two witnesses who will be along in a minute," Parson Henderson assured her.

"Witnesses?" she asked.

"Yes, dear," Ralph answered, for he had followed her into the hall. "I took a lot for granted, pined for the parson, and now we can be married on Christmas eve, just as we had planned to do, when Paul refused to go back to Canada with us and you got it into your pretty head that it was your duty to remain with him and thereby punish me all these long, long months!" he teased as he slipped his arm about Judith's waist, unashamed before the parson.

True to their word, a few moments later the parson's sister and daughter joined the little group at the Rose home. Underneath the same wedding bell, before the same flower, Judith banked east by the same flickering tapers that had furnished the setting for her brother's wedding. Judith promised to "love and cherish" Ralph.

There had been oceans of food left over from Paul's wedding feast and the little bride, Judith, herself, set out the remaining salad, cold pressed chicken and the other goodies. "Just a pot-luck wedding dinner, folks," she proclaimed.

Her eyes grew starry as Ralph retorted: "It might be a pot-luck dinner but it's not a pot-luck Christmas eve, for it is the happiest Christmas eve in my whole life, folks." As he made the statement he slipped a most generous fee into the parson's hand, making it the happiest Christmas eve for the parson, too. Judith had noticed his movement, so she followed by slipping to the two women folks two tiny jade pins which she had purchased sometime ago to give as presents, but hadn't found a place for them before. "After all," thought Judith, "Christmas is synonymous with love, and love is a synonym for Christmas."

(© 1929, Western Newspaper Union.)

moments to Mr. Munson, Sammy was called over to the clerk's desk. Mr. Munson explained the proposition and all the details. Sammy was in the seventh heaven of delight when Mrs. Bennett consented to become manager and subscribed for fifty shares of stock. Mrs. Bennett said she knew the superintendent of the Mission Sunday school in the trough and she would ask her to take charge of the tree. Sammy told her about his home, his mother and little sisters, and something about the children in the trough.

Two newspaper reporters came in and were told about the corporation and the proposed Christmas for the poor. Cameras clicked, and in the morning papers big headlines told the story. There was a picture of President Sammy. The article played up the story of poverty and made a plea for help. It told what was needed to make the tree a success, and pointed out that the name of Mrs. Bennett guaranteed the integrity of the corporation. Stock subscriptions were to be sent to President Sammy at his employer's office. Other donations were to be sent to an address furnished by Mrs. Bennett.

Sammy's employer called him into the private office and asked about the trough, about his corporation and his own family. He also subscribed for twenty-five shares in the corporation. The mails commenced bringing letters with checks for shares. President Sammy became popular in the office.

A survey of the trough population was made and appeals were made in the big papers. The uptown merchants sent donations of candy and nuts. Great quantities of toys were sent by charitable people and merchants. With the cash contributed the mission worker bought shoes and warm stockings, suits for boys, dresses for girls, and there was food, also orders for coal for the sick and the widows who lived there with families.

A tree was put up in a great vault room and everybody in the trough turned out. The place had never seen such a Christmas before. There was candy and toys, besides clothing, for all the children. Nobody was forgotten. The old people were made happy. Little gifts were sent to the homes of those who were sick and not able to be present.

President Sammy was the happiest of them all. His mother was there in a new wheel chair, his little sisters received new dresses, toys and dolls. Somebody put a suit of clothes and a warm overcoat on the tree for the president of the Sammy Christmas corporation. Addressed to Sammy was a card from his employer wishing him a Merry Christmas and saying that his salary had been raised $5 per week.

(© 1929, Western Newspaper Union.)

Waiting for You, Dear," from the radio station, and didn't I recognize that favorite song of mine ever before I heard them announce the singer? I knew you'd not be singing that if some one else had claimed your heart."

Just then the buzzer brought them back to earth and Judith arranged her tumbled locks as she went to answer the ring. There stood the little old person who had just left the house a few hours before.

"Have you forgotten something?" asked Judith.

"No, I believe not; for my book and the promise of two witnesses who will be along in a minute," Parson Henderson assured her.

"Witnesses?" she asked.

"Yes, dear," Ralph answered, for he had followed her into the hall. "I took a lot for granted, pined for the parson, and now we can be married on Christmas eve, just as we had planned to do, when Paul refused to go back to Canada with us and you got it into your pretty head that it was your duty to remain with him and thereby punish me all these long, long months!" he teased as he slipped his arm about Judith's waist, unashamed before the parson.

True to their word, a few moments later the parson's sister and daughter joined the little group at the Rose home. Underneath the same wedding bell, before the same flower, Judith banked east by the same flickering tapers that had furnished the setting for her brother's wedding. Judith promised to "love and cherish" Ralph.

There had been oceans of food left over from Paul's wedding feast and the little bride, Judith, herself, set out the remaining salad, cold pressed chicken and the other goodies. "Just a pot-luck wedding dinner, folks," she proclaimed.

Her eyes grew starry as Ralph retorted: "It might be a pot-luck dinner but it's not a pot-luck Christmas eve, for it is the happiest Christmas eve in my whole life, folks." As he made the statement he slipped a most generous fee into the parson's hand, making it the happiest Christmas eve for the parson, too. Judith had noticed his movement, so she followed by slipping to the two women folks two tiny jade pins which she had purchased sometime ago to give as presents, but hadn't found a place for them before. "After all," thought Judith, "Christmas is synonymous with love, and love is a synonym for Christmas."

(© 1929, Western Newspaper Union.)

CHRISTMAS eve and Judith Ross found herself alone at last but still very lonely. Her only relative, her kind brother, Paul, had just gone away, taking a bride with him.

"One of these days, Judith, Paul will go and marry someone and then you'll be left alone," her sweetheart, Ralph Reed, told her two years before on Christmas eve. Just after Judith had refused to go with him into Canada, Ralph's prophecy had come true—Paul had not sacrificed his love affairs to remain at home with her and she hadn't expected it, and yet she was thinking how unfairly life had treated her.

Judith gave a sigh and looked about her, for there were the wedding decorations, including the mistletoe, the flowers, the wreaths, the huge bell and the banked altar in the library.

Just as she donned a great coverlet apron the electric buzzer warned her that some one stood in the cold awaiting admittance to her warm, cozy home.

"Ralph," was all Judith could say. "Yes, it is me, Judith. Two weeks ago tonight I listened in on the radio in my little shack up there in the woods and heard a Pittsburgh radio station dedicate a number to Paul and his bride-to-be, and then it was that I knew you needed me, Judith. I imagined they would be marrying about Christmas, so I started out the very next morning to reach here in time, but old Tim down at the station told me they had gone already." Ralph blurted it all out and then opened his arms and Judith crept into them, knowing her troubles were all at an end, and she was to be repaid for the years she had sacrificed for her kind brother.

"How did you know I would still be waiting for you, Ralph?" she mumbled from the depths of his great coat.

"Love takes a lot for granted you know, dear, and then, too, a few weeks ago, I heard you sing 'Still

His Christmas Sled

JUDITH'S SACRIFICE PAID
A CHRISTMAS STORY
by L. B. Lyons

CHRISTMAS eve and Judith Ross found herself alone at last but still very lonely. Her only relative, her kind brother, Paul, had just gone away, taking a bride with him.

"One of these days, Judith, Paul will go and marry someone and then you'll be left alone," her sweetheart, Ralph Reed, told her two years before on Christmas eve. Just after Judith had refused to go with him into Canada, Ralph's prophecy had come true—Paul had not sacrificed his love affairs to remain at home with her and she hadn't expected it, and yet she was thinking how unfairly life had treated her.

Judith gave a sigh and looked about her, for there were the wedding decorations, including the mistletoe, the flowers, the wreaths, the huge bell and the banked altar in the library.

Just as she donned a great coverlet apron the electric buzzer warned her that some one stood in the cold awaiting admittance to her warm, cozy home.

"Ralph," was all Judith could say. "Yes, it is me, Judith. Two weeks ago tonight I listened in on the radio in my little shack up there in the woods and heard a Pittsburgh radio station dedicate a number to Paul and his bride-to-be, and then it was that I knew you needed me, Judith. I imagined they would be marrying about Christmas, so I started out the very next morning to reach here in time, but old Tim down at the station told me they had gone already." Ralph blurted it all out and then opened his arms and Judith crept into them, knowing her troubles were all at an end, and she was to be repaid for the years she had sacrificed for her kind brother.

"How did you know I would still be waiting for you, Ralph?" she mumbled from the depths of his great coat.

"Love takes a lot for granted you know, dear, and then, too, a few weeks ago, I heard you sing 'Still

Waiting for You, Dear," from the radio station, and didn't I recognize that favorite song of mine ever before I heard them announce the singer? I knew you'd not be singing that if some one else had claimed your heart."

Just then the buzzer brought them back to earth and Judith arranged her tumbled locks as she went to answer the ring. There stood the little old person who had just left the house a few hours before.

"Have you forgotten something?" asked Judith.

"No, I believe not; for my book and the promise of two witnesses who will be along in a minute," Parson Henderson assured her.

"Witnesses?" she asked.

"Yes, dear," Ralph answered, for he had followed her into the hall. "I took a lot for granted, pined for the parson, and now we can be married on Christmas eve, just as we had planned to do, when Paul refused to go back to Canada with us and you got it into your pretty head that it was your duty to remain with him and thereby punish me all these long, long months!" he teased as he slipped his arm about Judith's waist, unashamed before the parson.

True to their word, a few moments later the parson's sister and daughter joined the little group at the Rose home. Underneath the same wedding bell, before the same flower, Judith banked east by the same flickering tapers that had furnished the setting for her brother's wedding. Judith promised to "love and cherish" Ralph.

There had been oceans of food left over from Paul's wedding feast and the little bride, Judith, herself, set out the remaining salad, cold pressed chicken and the other goodies. "Just a pot-luck wedding dinner, folks," she proclaimed.

Her eyes grew starry as Ralph retorted: "It might be a pot-luck dinner but it's not a pot-luck Christmas eve, for it is the happiest Christmas eve in my whole life, folks." As he made the statement he slipped a most generous fee into the parson's hand, making it the happiest Christmas eve for the parson, too. Judith had noticed his movement, so she followed by slipping to the two women folks two tiny jade pins which she had purchased sometime ago to give as presents, but hadn't found a place for them before. "After all," thought Judith, "Christmas is synonymous with love, and love is a synonym for Christmas."

(© 1929, Western Newspaper Union.)

CHRISTMAS eve and Judith Ross found herself alone at last but still very lonely. Her only relative, her kind brother, Paul, had just gone away, taking a bride with him.

"One of these days, Judith, Paul will go and marry someone and then you'll be left alone," her sweetheart, Ralph Reed, told her two years before on Christmas eve. Just after Judith had refused to go with him into Canada, Ralph's prophecy had come true—Paul had not sacrificed his love affairs to remain at home with her and she hadn't expected it, and yet she was thinking how unfairly life had treated her.

Judith gave a sigh and looked about her, for there were the wedding decorations, including the mistletoe, the flowers, the wreaths, the huge bell and the banked altar in the library.

Just as she donned a great coverlet apron the electric buzzer warned her that some one stood in the cold awaiting admittance to her warm, cozy home.

"Ralph," was all Judith could say. "Yes, it is me, Judith. Two weeks ago tonight I listened in on the radio in my little shack up there in the woods and heard a Pittsburgh radio station dedicate a number to Paul and his bride-to-be, and then it was that I knew you needed me, Judith. I imagined they would be marrying about Christmas, so I started out the very next morning to reach here in time, but old Tim down at the station told me they had gone already." Ralph blurted it all out and then opened his arms and Judith crept into them, knowing her troubles were all at an end, and she was to be repaid for the years she had sacrificed for her kind brother.

"How did you know I would still be waiting for you, Ralph?" she mumbled from the depths of his great coat.

"Love takes a lot for granted you know, dear, and then, too, a few weeks ago, I heard you sing 'Still

Waiting for You, Dear," from the radio station, and didn't I recognize that favorite song of mine ever before I heard them announce the singer? I knew you'd not be singing that if some one else had claimed your heart."

Just then the buzzer brought them back to earth and Judith arranged her tumbled locks as she went to answer the ring. There stood the little old person who had just left the house a few hours before.

"Have you forgotten something?" asked Judith.

"No, I believe not; for my book and the promise of two witnesses who will be along in a minute," Parson Henderson assured her.

"Witnesses?" she asked.

"Yes, dear," Ralph answered, for he had followed her into the hall. "I took a lot for granted, pined for the parson, and now we can be married on Christmas eve, just as we had planned to do, when Paul refused to go back to Canada with us and you got it into your pretty head that it was your duty to remain with him and thereby punish me all these long, long months!" he teased as he slipped his arm about Judith's waist, unashamed before the parson.

True to their word, a few moments later the parson's sister and daughter joined the little group at the Rose home. Underneath the same wedding bell, before the same flower, Judith banked east by the same flickering tapers that had furnished the setting for her brother's wedding. Judith promised to "love and cherish" Ralph.

There had been oceans of food left over from Paul's wedding feast and the little bride, Judith, herself, set out the remaining salad, cold pressed chicken and the other goodies. "Just a pot-luck wedding dinner, folks," she proclaimed.

Her eyes grew starry as Ralph retorted: "It might be a pot-luck dinner but it's not a pot-luck Christmas eve, for it is the happiest Christmas eve in my whole life, folks." As he made the statement he slipped a most generous fee into the parson's hand, making it the happiest Christmas eve for the parson, too. Judith had noticed his movement, so she followed by slipping to the two women folks two tiny jade pins which she had purchased sometime ago to give as presents, but hadn't found a place for them before. "After all," thought Judith, "Christmas is synonymous with love, and love is a synonym for Christmas."

(© 1929, Western Newspaper Union.)

Enjoying Christmas

When one is very young and when one is very old one may enjoy Christmas; things look so different viewed from a perambulator or a bath chair.

—The Tattler.

One of the Least Christmas Stories
Robert Stead

R. SAMPSON had not noticed that silence had fallen in the outer office. The clatter of typewriters was stilled; the hum of activity had ceased.

Definitely his door was opened, and Jones, the head clerk, entered.

"I just thought I'd drop in and say 'Merry Christmas, Mr. Sampson. Tomorrow's Christmas, you know.'"

"So it is, Jones, but I don't see anything to be merry about. People buying things they can't afford, and eating more than they can digest. Isn't it so?"

Jones hesitated. Mr. Sampson was a man of strong opinions.

"Well, speak up! If I'm wrong—show me!"

"I think you are wrong, sir, if I may say so. If you'd a little flock of kiddies you'd see it differently."

"But I haven't, and that doesn't convince me."

"You see," the head clerk went on, emboldened, "to be happy, any day, you have to think about other people, and that just comes natural at Christmas."

Mr. Sampson was silent for some moments, while he gazed through the window at the dusk settling over the city. When he spoke the crispness of his voice was somewhat mellowed.

"To be happy I have to avoid thinking of other people," he said.

Jones felt himself dismissed, and silently withdrew. He knew something of his chief's unhappy love affair, which had left him worse than a widower, and had turned all his great ability toward making money, a pursuit in which he had been particularly successful. But from happiness he seemed to be permanently divorced.

At the door of the office building an hour later Mr. Sampson was confronted by an archaic with the challenge, "Buy a paper, sir!" Ordinarily he would have ignored the child, but Jones' injunction, "You have to think of other people," was insistent in his ears. He bought a paper, and, on an impulse, questioned the lad.

"Had your supper?"

"No, sir. I don't get supper 'til I get my paper; sold."

"How would you like to come and have supper with me?"

The boy looked his surprise. "You mean it?"

"Yes, I mean it. Come along."

But the boy demurred. "Can't go 'til I sell my papers. This is the best hour, and I got to keep busy." He made a deft sale to a passer-by without interrupting the conversation.

"How many papers have you left?"

"Twenty."

Mr. Sampson counted out forty cents. "If I buy them all. Now we can go to supper."

He led the puzzled boy across the street. His first thought was his club, but he changed his mind and turned into a cheap but wholesome restaurant. Here he ordered a meal and ate it together. Once convinced that there was no trick about it the boy attacked his food with gusto, while his host looked on with more enjoyment than he had experienced for many a day. By judicious questioning he learned that the boy's name, like his own, was George; he lived upstairs at 18 Garrett street; he had a father and mother, an older sister, and a younger brother.

He ventured a more delicate question: "Does Santa Claus come to your house, George?"

"He used to, but dad's been out of work for a long while," he boy replied, wistfully.

"And the baby's sick, so mother can't go out to work, and it takes all I can earn just to keep things going."

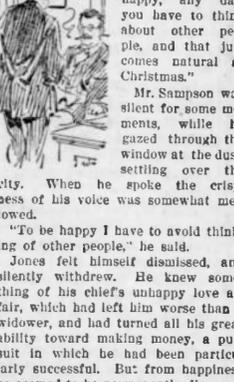

"I'm sure it does," said Mr. Sampson. "Well, I must get along now. You can go home early tonight."

He parted with the boy, but immediately went to a telephone. "Hello, is that Doctor Morgan? Frank, want you to run out at once to 18 Garrett street, upstairs. There's a sick child there. Take him to a hospital, see that he has everything he needs, and send the bill to me I will pay it."

"I'll run right out," said the doctor. "Merry Christmas, George."

"Merry Christmas, Frank!" Mr. Sampson replied. And, as he hung up the receiver, he wondered at the new ring in his voice.

(© 1929, Western Newspaper Union.)

CHRISTMAS eve and Judith Ross found herself alone at last but still very lonely. Her only relative, her kind brother, Paul, had just gone away, taking a bride with him.

"One of these days, Judith, Paul will go and marry someone and then you'll be left alone," her sweetheart, Ralph Reed, told her two years before on Christmas eve. Just after Judith had refused to go with him into Canada, Ralph's prophecy had come true—Paul had not sacrificed his love affairs to remain at home with her and she hadn't expected it, and yet she was thinking how unfairly life had treated her.

Judith gave a sigh and looked about her, for there were the wedding decorations, including the mistletoe, the flowers, the wreaths, the huge bell and the banked altar in the library.

Just as she donned a great coverlet apron the electric buzzer warned her that some one stood in the cold awaiting admittance to her warm, cozy home.

"Ralph," was all Judith could say. "Yes, it is me, Judith. Two weeks ago tonight I listened in on the radio in my little shack up there in the woods and heard a Pittsburgh radio station dedicate a number to Paul and his bride-to-be, and then it was that I knew you needed me, Judith. I imagined they would be marrying about Christmas, so I started out the very next morning to reach here in time, but old Tim down at the station told me they had gone already." Ralph blurted it all out and then opened his arms and Judith crept into them, knowing her troubles were all at an end, and she was to be repaid for the years she had sacrificed for her kind brother.

"How did you know I would still be waiting for you, Ralph?" she mumbled from the depths of his great coat.

"Love takes a lot for granted you know, dear, and then, too, a few weeks ago, I heard you sing 'Still

Waiting for You, Dear," from the radio station, and didn't I recognize that favorite song of mine ever before I heard them announce the singer? I knew you'd not be singing that if some one else had claimed your heart."

Just then the buzzer brought them back to earth and Judith arranged her tumbled locks as she went to answer the ring. There stood the little old person who had just left the house a few hours before.

"Have you forgotten something?" asked Judith.

"No, I believe not; for my book and the promise of two witnesses who will be along in a minute," Parson Henderson assured her.

"Witnesses?" she asked.

"Yes, dear," Ralph answered, for he had followed her into the hall. "I took a lot for granted, pined for the parson, and now we can be married on Christmas eve, just as we had planned to do, when Paul refused to go back to Canada with us and you got it into your pretty head that it was your duty to remain with him and thereby punish me all these long, long months!" he teased as he slipped his arm about Judith's waist, unashamed before the parson.

True to their word, a few moments later the parson's sister and daughter joined the little group at the Rose home. Underneath the same wedding bell, before the same flower, Judith banked east by the same flickering tapers that had furnished the setting for her brother's wedding. Judith promised to "love and cherish" Ralph.

There had been oceans of food left over from Paul's wedding feast and the little bride, Judith, herself, set out the remaining salad, cold pressed chicken and the other goodies. "Just a pot-luck wedding dinner, folks," she proclaimed.

Her eyes grew starry as Ralph retorted: "It might be a pot-luck dinner but it's not a pot-luck Christmas eve, for it is the happiest Christmas eve in my whole life, folks." As he made the statement he slipped a most generous fee into the parson's hand, making it the happiest Christmas eve for the parson, too. Judith had noticed his movement, so she followed by slipping to the two women folks two tiny jade pins which she had purchased sometime ago to give as presents, but hadn't found a place for them before. "After all," thought Judith, "Christmas is synonymous with love, and love is a synonym for Christmas."

(© 1929, Western Newspaper Union.)

CHRISTMAS eve and Judith Ross found herself alone at last but still very lonely. Her only relative, her kind brother, Paul, had just gone away, taking a bride with him.

"One of these days, Judith, Paul will go and marry someone and then you'll be left alone," her sweetheart, Ralph Reed, told her two years before on Christmas eve. Just after Judith had refused to go with him into Canada, Ralph's prophecy had come true—Paul had not sacrificed his love affairs to remain at home with her and she hadn't expected it, and yet she was thinking how unfairly life had treated her.

Judith gave a sigh and looked about her, for there were the wedding decorations, including the mistletoe, the flowers, the wreaths, the huge bell and the banked altar in the library.

Just as she donned a great coverlet apron the electric buzzer warned her that some one stood in the cold awaiting admittance to her warm, cozy home.

"Ralph," was all Judith could say. "Yes, it is me, Judith. Two weeks ago tonight I listened in on the radio in my little shack up there in the woods and heard a Pittsburgh radio station dedicate a number to Paul and his bride-to-be, and then it was that I knew you needed me, Judith. I imagined they would be marrying about Christmas, so I started out the very next morning to reach here in time, but old Tim down at the station told me they had gone already." Ralph blurted it all out and then opened his arms and Judith crept into them, knowing her troubles were all at an end, and she was to be repaid for the years she had sacrificed for her kind brother.

"How did you know I would still be waiting for you, Ralph?" she mumbled from the depths of his great coat.

"Love takes a lot for granted you know, dear, and then, too, a few weeks ago, I heard you sing 'Still

A Pleasing Greeting

HE LOOKED so irresistibly pleasant, in a word, that three or four good-humored fellows said, "Good morning, sir; a merry Christmas to you!" and Scrooge said often afterwards that of all the blithe sounds he had ever heard those were the blithest in his ears.—Dickens.

The KITCHEN CABINET
More living becomes real life when it becomes sacrificial. We begin to operate with vital forces when we cross the border into the land of sacrifice.—Dr. J. H. Jewett.
OLD-FASHIONED RECIPES

There are many dishes which are handed down from one generation to another in families, who enjoy some of the old-fashioned dishes occasionally.

Salt Fish Dinner.—Soak, simmer, and drain the required amount of boneless codfish, until tender. Serve either as whole piece on a platter with plenty of butter poured over it, or flake it and add a rich cream sauce with hard-cooked chopped egg added and a bit of minced parsley. Accompany the fish with crisp brown fried salt pork, diced buttered beets and carrots, small potatoes cooked whole, rolled in butter and parsley and cooked onions, also buttered. Serve a portion of fish, vegetables, pork and sauce to each plate.

Delicious Pudding.—Take one pint of fine bread crumbs, soak in one quart of milk for 15 minutes. Beat together until light the yolks of five eggs, add one cupful of sugar; stir in a tablespoonful of softened butter, add a bit of grated lemon rind, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and a pinch of salt. Mix with the milk and bread and add one cupful of coconut. Bake in a pudding dish until the custard is set in the center. Test with a knife—if the knife comes out clean it is ready to take from the oven. Cover with a meringue, using the egg whites beaten stiff, five tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar; beat until well blended. Heap over the pudding and sprinkle with more coconut and cover with powdered sugar. Brown in a moderate oven. Serve cold.

Chowder.—This is a distinctive new combination. One may use fish, fresh or salt; clams, oysters fresh or canned, or any fish food one desires. The method for preparing is the same. Try out two good slices of salt pork cut into fine cubes into brown; add two good-sized onions thinly sliced, and cook, stirring five minutes. Add six or seven potatoes thinly sliced after quartering, add salt and pepper and cover with boiling water. Simmer until the vegetables are done. Then add if salt fish, the well-soaked and shredded cod, or, if clams, fresh fish, parboiled in boiling water, then add to the hot mixture. Bring to a boil and add a quart or more of rich milk; when simmering hot add six to eight milk crackers which have been softened with a little hot milk. Serve at once. Parsnips, diced tomato or corn may take the place of the fish if desired.

Marlboro Pie.—Take one cupful each of sifted stewed apple, sugar and milk, one-fourth cupful of butter melted, two beaten eggs, a little grated nutmeg and lemon peel; bake in a pastry shell as for custard pie.

Ordinary Foods.

Ordinary foods may be made extraordinary by the addition of seasonings and garnishment in the manner of serving. One of the ordinary dishes which is simple, easy to prepare as well as tasty is:

Apple Tapioca.—Take four tablespoonfuls of minute tapioca, add one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, and one-third cupful of boiling water, cook twenty minutes or until the tapioca is clear. Butter a pudding dish and cover the bottom with apples cut into eighths, sprinkle with sugar and cover with a layer of the tapioca, repeat and place in the oven with a few apple quarters on top. Bake until the fruit is done. Serve with sugar and cream.

Dubarry Macaroni.—Cut four slices of bacon into small pieces and fry. Add one sliced onion and one can of tomatoes which have been allowed to simmer until reduced to half. Season with cayenne, mace, allspice and a bit of bay leaf, salt and pepper. Cook thirty minutes, then add two cupfuls of cooked macaroni and serve.

Halibut on Toast.—Melt one-fourth of a cupful of butter and add two and one-half tablespoonfuls of flour; when well blended add two cupfuls of milk and cook until smooth, then add two cupfuls of flaked halibut; season to taste and add one teaspoonful of anchovy essence. Serve hot on squares of buttered toast.

For a delicious filling for a white layer cake add drained grated pineapple to a boiled frosting. It may be used with powdered sugar if in a hurry.

A most attractive pear salad may be garnished with strips of pimento and dressed with a snappy french dressing. Serve with a dinner menu.

Horseradish Sauce.—Take one-half cupful each of sour cream and grated horseradish, salt, a little sugar and a dash of cayenne. Serve with fish or oysters.

Add a teaspoonful of anise seed to the jars of pickled beets when canning them. The flavor is especially pleasant.

There are many dishes which are handed down from one generation to another in families, who enjoy some of the old-fashioned dishes occasionally.

Salt Fish Dinner.—Soak, simmer, and drain the required amount of boneless codfish, until tender. Serve either as whole piece on a platter with plenty of butter poured over it, or flake it and add a rich cream sauce with hard-cooked chopped egg added and a bit of minced parsley. Accompany the fish with crisp brown fried salt pork, diced buttered beets and carrots, small potatoes cooked whole, rolled in butter and parsley and cooked onions, also buttered. Serve a portion of fish, vegetables, pork and sauce to each plate.

Delicious Pudding.—Take one pint of fine bread crumbs, soak in one quart of milk for 15 minutes. Beat together until light the yolks of five eggs, add one cupful of sugar; stir in a tablespoonful of softened butter, add a bit of grated lemon rind, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and a pinch of salt. Mix with the milk and bread and add one cupful of coconut. Bake in a pudding dish until the custard is set in the center. Test with a knife—if the knife comes out clean it is ready to take from the oven. Cover with a meringue, using the egg whites beaten stiff, five tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar; beat until well blended. Heap over the pudding and sprinkle with more coconut and cover with powdered sugar. Brown in a moderate oven. Serve cold.

Chowder.—This is a distinctive new combination. One may use fish, fresh or salt; clams, oysters fresh or canned, or any fish food one desires. The method for preparing is the same. Try out two good slices of salt pork cut into fine cubes into brown; add two good-sized onions thinly sliced, and cook, stirring five minutes. Add six or seven potatoes thinly sliced after quartering, add salt and pepper and cover with boiling water. Simmer until the vegetables are done. Then add if salt fish, the well-soaked and shredded cod, or, if clams, fresh fish, parboiled in boiling water, then add to the hot mixture. Bring to a boil and add a quart or more of rich milk; when simmering hot add six to eight milk crackers which have been softened with a little hot milk. Serve at once. Parsnips, diced tomato or corn may take the place of the fish if desired.

Marlboro Pie.—Take one cupful each of sifted stewed apple, sugar and milk, one-fourth cupful of butter melted, two beaten eggs, a little grated nutmeg and lemon peel; bake in a pastry shell as for custard pie.

Ordinary Foods.

Ordinary foods may be made extraordinary by the addition of seasonings and garnishment in the manner of serving. One of the ordinary dishes which is simple, easy to prepare as well as tasty is:

Apple Tapioca.—Take four tablespoonfuls of minute tapioca, add one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, and one-third cupful of boiling water, cook twenty minutes or until the tapioca is clear. Butter a pudding dish and cover the bottom with apples cut into eighths, sprinkle with sugar and cover with a layer of the tapioca, repeat and place in the oven with a few apple quarters on top. Bake until the fruit is done. Serve with sugar and cream.

Dubarry Macaroni.—Cut four slices of bacon into small pieces and fry. Add one sliced onion and one can of tomatoes which have been allowed to simmer until reduced to half. Season with cayenne, mace, allspice and a bit of bay leaf, salt and pepper. Cook thirty minutes, then add two cupfuls of cooked macaroni and serve.

Halibut on Toast.—Melt one-fourth of a cupful of butter and add two and one-half tablespoonfuls of flour; when well blended add two cupfuls of milk and cook until smooth, then add two cupfuls of flaked halibut; season to taste and add one teaspoonful of anchovy essence. Serve hot on squares of buttered toast.

For a delicious filling for a white layer cake add drained grated pineapple to a boiled frosting. It may be used with powdered sugar if in a hurry.

A most attractive pear salad may be garnished with strips of pimento and dressed with a snappy french dressing. Serve with a dinner menu.

Horseradish Sauce.—Take one-half cupful each of sour cream and grated horseradish, salt, a little sugar and a dash of cayenne. Serve with fish or oysters.

Add a teaspoonful of anise seed to the jars of pickled beets when canning them. The flavor is especially pleasant.

There are many dishes which are handed down from one generation to another in families, who enjoy some of the old-fashioned dishes occasionally.

Salt Fish Dinner.—Soak, simmer, and drain the required amount of boneless codfish, until tender. Serve either as whole piece on a platter with plenty of butter poured over it, or flake it and add a rich cream sauce with hard-cooked chopped egg added and a bit of minced parsley. Accompany the fish with crisp brown fried salt pork, diced buttered beets and carrots, small potatoes cooked whole, rolled in butter and parsley and cooked onions, also buttered. Serve a portion of fish, vegetables, pork and sauce to each plate.

Delicious Pudding.—Take one pint of fine bread crumbs, soak in one quart of milk for 15 minutes. Beat together until light the yolks of five eggs, add one cupful of sugar; stir in a tablespoonful of softened butter, add a bit of grated lemon rind, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and a pinch of salt. Mix with the milk and bread and add one cupful of coconut. Bake in a pudding dish until the custard is set in the center. Test with a knife—if the knife comes out clean it is ready to take from the oven. Cover with a meringue, using the egg whites beaten stiff, five tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar; beat until well blended. Heap over the pudding and sprinkle with more coconut and cover with powdered sugar. Brown in a moderate oven. Serve cold.

Chowder.—This is a distinctive new combination. One may use fish, fresh or salt; clams, oysters fresh or canned, or any fish food one desires. The method for preparing is the same. Try out two good slices of salt pork cut into fine cubes into brown; add two good-sized onions thinly sliced, and cook, stirring five minutes. Add six or seven potatoes thinly sliced after quartering, add salt and pepper and cover with boiling water. Simmer until the vegetables are done. Then add if salt fish, the well-soaked and shredded cod, or, if clams, fresh fish, parboiled in boiling water, then add to the hot mixture. Bring to a boil and add a quart or more of rich milk; when simmering hot add six to eight milk crackers which have been softened with a little hot milk. Serve at once. Parsnips, diced tomato or corn may take the place of the fish if desired.

Marlboro Pie.—Take one cupful each of sifted stewed apple, sugar and milk, one-fourth cupful of butter melted, two beaten eggs, a little grated nutmeg and lemon peel; bake in a pastry shell as for custard pie.

Ordinary Foods.

Ordinary foods may be made extraordinary by the addition of seasonings and garnishment in the manner of serving. One of the ordinary dishes which is simple, easy to prepare as well as tasty is:

Apple Tapioca.—Take four tablespoonfuls of minute tapioca, add one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, and one-third cupful of boiling water, cook twenty minutes or until the tapioca is clear. Butter a pudding dish and cover the bottom with apples cut into eighths, sprinkle with sugar and cover with a layer of the tapioca, repeat and place in the oven with a few apple quarters on top. Bake until the fruit is done. Serve with sugar and cream.

Dubarry Macaroni.—Cut four slices of bacon into small pieces and fry. Add one sliced onion and one can of tomatoes which have been allowed to simmer until reduced to half. Season with cayenne, mace, allspice and a bit of bay leaf, salt and pepper. Cook thirty minutes, then add two cupfuls of cooked macaroni and serve.

Halibut on Toast.—Melt one-fourth of a cupful of butter and add two and one-half tablespoonfuls of flour; when well blended add two cupfuls of milk and cook until smooth, then add two cupfuls of flaked halibut; season to taste and add one teaspoonful of anchovy essence. Serve hot on squares of buttered toast.

For a delicious filling for a white layer cake add drained grated pineapple to a boiled frosting. It may be used with powdered sugar if in a hurry.

A most attractive pear salad may be garnished with strips of pimento and dressed with a snappy french dressing. Serve with a dinner menu.

Horseradish Sauce.—Take one-half cupful each of sour cream and grated horseradish, salt, a little sugar and a dash of cayenne. Serve with fish or oysters.

Add a teaspoonful of anise seed to the jars of pickled beets when canning them. The flavor is especially pleasant.

There are many dishes which are handed down from one generation to another in families, who enjoy some of the old-fashioned dishes occasionally.

Salt Fish Dinner.—Soak, simmer, and drain the required amount of boneless codfish, until tender. Serve either as whole piece on a platter with plenty of butter poured over it, or flake it and add a rich cream sauce with hard-cooked chopped egg added and a bit of minced parsley. Accompany the fish with crisp brown fried salt pork, diced buttered beets and carrots, small potatoes cooked whole, rolled in butter and parsley and cooked onions, also buttered. Serve a portion of fish, vegetables, pork and sauce to each plate.

Delicious Pudding.—Take one pint of fine bread crumbs, soak in one quart of milk for 15 minutes. Beat together until light the yolks of five eggs, add one cupful of sugar; stir in a tablespoonful of softened butter, add a bit of grated lemon rind, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and a pinch of salt. Mix with the milk and bread and add one cupful of coconut. Bake in a pudding dish until the custard is set in the center. Test with a knife—if the knife comes out clean it is ready to take from the oven. Cover with a meringue, using the egg whites beaten stiff, five tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar; beat until well blended. Heap over the pudding and sprinkle with more coconut and cover with powdered sugar. Brown in a moderate oven. Serve cold.

Chowder.—This is a distinctive new combination. One may use fish, fresh or salt; clams, oysters fresh or canned, or any fish food one desires. The method for preparing is the same. Try out two good slices of salt pork cut into fine cubes into brown; add two good-sized onions thinly sliced, and cook, stirring five minutes. Add six or seven potatoes thinly sliced after quartering, add salt and pepper and cover with boiling water. Simmer until the vegetables are done. Then add if salt fish, the well-soaked and shredded cod, or, if clams, fresh fish, parboiled in boiling water, then add to the hot mixture. Bring to a boil and add a quart or more of rich milk; when simmering hot add six to eight milk crackers which have been softened with a little hot milk. Serve at once. Parsnips, diced tomato or corn may take the place of the fish if desired.

Marlboro Pie.—Take one cupful each of sifted stewed apple, sugar and milk, one-fourth cupful of butter melted, two beaten eggs, a little grated nutmeg and lemon peel; bake in a pastry shell as for custard pie.

Ordinary Foods.

Ordinary foods may be made extraordinary by the addition of seasonings and garnishment in the manner of serving. One of the ordinary dishes which is simple, easy to prepare as well as tasty is:

Apple Tapioca.—Take four tablespoonfuls of minute tapioca, add one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, and one-third cupful of boiling water, cook twenty minutes or until the tapioca is clear. Butter a pudding dish and cover the bottom with apples cut into eighths, sprinkle with sugar and cover with a layer of the tapioca,

ONLY 3 MORE DAYS TO BUY GIFTS

Our large and complete stocks make gift buying a pleasure. All merchandise is new, carefully chosen and at popular prices.

Gift Suggestions for Women

UNDERWEAR. Another shipment just received from the factory. Vests, Bloomers, Princess Slips, Petticoats, Combinations, Dance Sets, Bras-ettes, 50c to $7.50
Sizes for Everybody

WOOL BLANKETS. Finest quality 100% virgin wool. Assorted colors. Single $4.45 Double $8.75
Blankets

GLOVES. Always acceptable. Fabric and 79c to $5.00

HANDKERCHIEFS, for women and children, 5c to 50c

BOX HANDKERCHIEFS. Three in box, 25c to $1.25

SILK DRESSES. A big display of 10.50 Dresses, $6.95

WINTER COATS. New Coats. Fur collars. Values to $27.50, $18.75

EVERWEAR SILK HOSIERY for Ladies. All shades, all sizes, in silk hosiery. Pair $1.00, $1.50, $1.95

Gift Suggestions for Men

SILK SCARFS. New stock, new patterns. 95c to $4.85

GIFT TIES. 1000 new ties to select from, 25c to $3.00

BATH ROBES. Warm blanket robes. Assorted colors. $4.95-$8.95
All sizes

MEN'S GARTERS, single and double grip. A pair 25c to 50c

BELTS, for men and boys in Christmas boxes, 85c to $3.50

MEN'S SOX. Silk and cotton, silk and wool. A pair 25c to $1.50

SUIT CASES. A new shipment. An ideal gift. $1.25 to $5.50

PAJAMAS. Broadcloth, outing flannels, etc. $1.49 to $3.95

HANDKERCHIEFS. Plain and initial, for men 10c to 50c

SHIRTS. Biggest assortment in town. All sizes $1.15 to $4.85

SWEATERS. Slipovers, Shaker knit, Worsteds, $1.95 to $8.50

GOLF SOX. All wool $1-$2.25 for men. A pair

Christmas Gifts for Boys

Sweaters, Caps, Ties, Athletic Shirts and Shorts, Belts, Gloves, Underwear and Overcoats

Practical Gifts, Moderately Priced, in All Departments

NAGEL-BLOEDORN CO.

WHERE QUALITY IS ALWAYS HIGHER THAN PRICE
WEST BEND, WISCONSIN

The Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company

6%

Cumulative Preferred Shares

Price Upon Application

Liberal Partial Payment Plan for Systematic Savers

For Appointment with District Securities Salesman, Call or write

Wisconsin Gas & Electric Company
South, Wisconsin

or Public Service Building - Milwaukee, Wisconsin
Customers Hall

5-22

NEW FANE

William Naumann is spending a few days at West Bend.
Miss Gertrude Albright is spending a few days at Milwaukee.
Mr. and Mrs. Jake Schiltz of Milwaukee visited with Jake Fellenz and family.
Miss Irene Ehnert and Loran Keller of Waukesha spent the week-end at Frank Ehnert's.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moldenhauer and daughter Lillian were callers at Milwaukee Thursday.
Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Loran Keller an eight pound baby girl at the Frank Ehnert home, December 12 h. Con-

Mr. and Mrs. August Wilkens of West Bend, Mr. and Mrs. William Uelmen of here were callers at Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ehnert's Sunday.
The pupils of the New Fane school will give a Christmas program which will be given on Monday, December 23rd at 8:00 o'clock at the school house. Those taking part in the program are: Louise and Marie Kolafa, Lester Ehnert, Pauline, Myrtle, Henry and Bruno Fellenz, Alex and Bernadene Laubach, Carl, Harold and Albert Krief, Bernice and Patricia Dworschak and Golda Haack. Miss Marie E. Adams is the teacher.

Subscribe for the Kewaskum States

The NEW 3 Screen-Grid Super-Power KELLOGG Cathedral Tone RADIO IS NOW HERE!

Come In—Test its power—Listen to its marvelous "Cathedral Tone"

Wm. Foerster
Wayne, Wis.

Costly Tobacco Box

One of the world's most remarkable tobacco boxes is in Canton hall, London. It is more than a foot square and four feet high, and it weighs 100 pounds. The original box of 200 years ago has been included in others added from time to time, all enclosed in silver. It is insured for $25,000.

Victim of Imperial Rome

Zenobia was queen of Palmyra and wife of Odenathus, who had been recognized as king of Palmyra by the Roman emperor, Gallienus, 265 A. D. Upon the death of her husband Zenobia attempted to extend her dominion, but was defeated and brought to Rome a prisoner by Agrippina.

BATAVIA

The Batavia merchants are handing out calendars for 1930.

The Bible Class will meet Thursday evening at Rev. Krueger's.

Miss Emma Held, who spent a few weeks at Milwaukee, returned home Thursday.

Mrs. Ernst Bremer attended the Ladies' Aid at Boltonville Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Lora Ludwig and Mr. Sweete of Fond du Lac called on Mr. and Mrs. Keller Sunday.

A number from here attended the surprise party for Rev. Kuenne at Silver Creek Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cappella and son Carl of Fond du Lac, called on Mrs. G. A. Leifer Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. McNeelley, our shoemaker moved to Adell a week ago. Ed. LeFever called on Mrs. G. A. Leifer Sunday.

The bake sale held in the St. Stephen school Saturday was a success in every way. Thanks to those who helped to make it a success.—The Committee.

There will be English services in the St. Stephen church Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Christmas program in English Wednesday morning at 10:00 o'clock with communion in German language. Thursday morning, second Christmas day at 10:00 o'clock in German. A Merry Christmas to all.

WAYNE CENTER

Albert Abel and Louis Moll of Cascade visited Sunday with relatives here.

Miss Lucy Wietor of Milwaukee visited Sunday and Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wietor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Schroeder and daughter Ruth of Milwaukee were visitors at the Henry Schmidt home Sunday.

Alois Wietor, who learned the barber trade at Milwaukee for the last three months, returned to his home here Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hawig and daughter Rose of Milwaukee attended the funeral of Henry Gritzmacher on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bruhn of Panama Canal and Miss Helen Bruhn of Ohio are spending a few weeks with Herman Bruhn and family.

Mrs. William Foerster and daughter Beulah and son William Jr., visited Monday evening with Grandpa Herbel and son George at Campbellsport.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schmidt and daughters of Milwaukee visited Sunday with relatives here, they also attended the funeral of Henry Gritzmacher.

WEST WAYNE

Mr. and Mrs. Joe P. Schmitt visited Saturday evening at the Dave Coulter home.

Miss Violet Coulter of Mayville spent over the week-end with her parents here.

Mrs. Dave Coulter spent Tuesday evening at the Alvin Schwartz home near Lomira.

Erwin Coulter and brother Milton spent Tuesday evening at the Henry Foerster home.

Miss Elvira Coulter and brother Erwin called at the Alvin Schwartz home near Lomira Wednesday.

Bill Coulter, Victor Kinkel and John Coulter of Lomira visited Sunday evening at the Dave Coulter home.

Dave Coulter of here and Alvin Schwartz of Lomira spent Thursday at the Milwaukee Hospital. They were accompanied home by Dave Coulter, who had spent two weeks there where he underwent an operation.

The following spent Sunday at the Dave Coulter home: Mr. and Mrs. Orvin Zahn of Oakfield, Mr. and Mrs. George Krieser and family of Horicon, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. McCullough and daughter Marcella and Mrs. Henry Foerster and daughter Estella and son Henry Jr., of here, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin C. Schwartz and family and Bill Coulter of Lomira.

CHRISTMAS TREE FIRES

Remember that the average Christmas tree is a possible torch. Its branches and needles have plenty of rosin. Often the decorations are festoons of tissue paper, paper Christmas bells, cotton on and under the tree to represent snow. Some of the toys are made of celluloid and others of flimsy, painted wood; other presents are trimmed with lace or embroidery. Wreaths of combustible materials are added. The careless lighting and re-lighting of the many candles completes the picture of the possible torch. It is not necessary to have such a dangerous tree. Mica, asbestos, mineral wool, metal tinsel and other safe materials can be used for decorations, and colored electric lights are safer and more beautiful than candles. Where electricity is not available and candles must be used older people should light them and matches must be kept away from children or they will be tempted to light the candles when mother and father are away. Santa with his flimsy, cotton trimmings and whiskers must keep away from burning candles or open lights. The tree should be on a firm, substantial base to prevent tipping over. While the candles are burning drafts should be avoided. Always have a pail of water handy.

INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION

Where The Big Productions Play

MERMAC

West Bend, Wis.
The Kilgen Wonder Organ
GERMAINE F. REEDER
at the Console
Continuous Shows on Sundays at 1:30 p. m. to 10:30 p. m.

Saturday, Dec. 21
All-Talking Fox Movietone
"MASQUERADE"

With ALAN BIRMINGHAM in a dual role; LEILA HYAMS as the mystery miss; CLYDE COOK as the comic valet; ARNOLD LUCY as a wronged father and FARREL MACDONALD as the detective.

—AND—
Fourth Chapter of Talking Serial
"King of the Kongo"
Talking Comedy and News
Admission 15 and 30c

Sunday and Monday,
Dec 22 and 23
Their First Talking Picture
JANET GAYNOR and CHARLES
FARRELL in
"LUCKY STAR"

He fought for a girl—realizing she was a cheat, after a hard battle. He fought for America in the shell torn trenches of Flanders returning, 'half'-man' and love redeemed him.

All-Talking Comedy
News and Fables
5 Shows Starting 1:30 P. M., 3:15, 5:00, 7:00 and 9:45 Ad. 10-25c., after 9 P. M. 15-c.
No Matinee Monday

No Show Christmas Eve.,
December 24

Wednesday, Dec. 25
"The Cock Eyed World"

The greatest laugh provoking picture of the season; that big, colorful, outspoken pair of "What Price Glory" in more strenuous love making and newer, harder and more daring fighting tricks.

Matinee prices 10-25c
Evening prices 15-30c

Saturday, Dec. 28
"Pleasure Crazed"

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday,
Dec. 29-30-31
WILL ROGERS in
"They Had to See Paris"

COMING
Gloria Swanson in "Trespasser"
"Romance of the Rio Grande"
With Warner Baxter and Mary Duncan.

CLASSIFIED ADS

Our rates for this class of advertising are 1 cent a word per issue, no charge less than 25 cents accepted. Memorial Notices $1.00. Card of Thanks 50 cents. Cash or unused government postage stamps must accompany all orders.

For Sale.

FARM HORSES FOR SALE—At the Wm. Kundo farm, 1 1/2 miles west of Cascade.—J. J. Butler, Owner, Cascade Wis., in care of Arno Bartelt.
12 29 tf.

FARM HORSES FOR SALE—At the Murphy Bros. farm, a mile and a half west of Wayne.—Murphy Bros., Owners.
8 17 tf.

FARM FOR SALE—The old John Steichen homestead in Town of Wayne, 80 acres, good buildings, silo, 2 1/2 miles southwest of Wayne Center. Inquire of Peter Steichen, administrator, 1155-25th St., Milwaukee, Wis. Phone Kilbourn 8078 M.
12 13 tf.

FOR SALE—Two young milk cows to freshen soon. Sale must be made for lack of stable room. Inquire of John M. Flasch, Campbellsport, Wis., R. 3.
12 14 2t. pd

FOR SALE—Duroc-Jerseys—boars, sows and gilts, bred for March farrow. Inquire of J. Matenaer, West Bend, Wis.
12 21 3t. pd.

Miscellaneous

Highest prices will be paid for calves every Wednesday up to 10 o'clock, if you bring them to us at the Equity barn. You can also make arrangements with us to have your livestock taken from your farm and receive Milwaukee prices. Write or phone 663 and 524—Walter C. Schneider and Wallace Geidel, local stock buyers.—Advertisement 3 3 1yr.

Wanted

SPECIAL—FARMS WANTED—I will be in your territory in the near future to look at farms for my Milwaukee clients. If you want to sell or trade write to me at once.—Henry W. Wynhoff, 3517 North Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.
12 7 3t. pd

Lost

STRAYED—A black and white bound, notify Frank Simon, Campbellsport, Wis. R. 3
12 7 3t. p
LOST—Chain of four keys. Honest finder please leave same at the Republican House.

—Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Schmidt and Miss Edna Schmidt were Milwaukee visitors Sunday. While there Mr. Schmidt attended the regular monthly skat tournament given by the Milwaukee Skat club at the Auditorium.

There Are Twenty-Four hours in every day—and we are available every one of those twenty-four hours. Day and night service is something every funeral director should offer, for no one ever knows at what hour the need may arise.

When one calls, he is sure of getting an immediate and efficient response.

MILLER'S FUNERAL SERVICE
KEWASKUM, WIS.
Phone 307

Heartiest Christmas Greetings to All our Friends and Patrons

Farmers & Merchant State Bank

Kewaskum, Wisconsin

"A Community Bank"

The Helping Hand

Whatever it is you may want, our classified columns put forth a helping hand to aid you in attaining your desire.
Whether you want a position or someone to help you; whether you want to buy a home or sell yours; whether you have found something you want returned, or have lost something you want returned, helping hand of our classified columns is always extended to you.
The expense of advertising in our classified columns is very slight; only 1c a word. The results are ways more than satisfactory!

The Kewaskum Statesman

KEWASKUM, WIS.

FACTORY SALE

of Good Line of Seconds
WOOLEN BLANKETS

at Very Low Prices
CHOICE MILL ENDS
30c to 50c a Pound

MEN'S HEAVY
Overcoats $10.00

Good All-Wool Auto Robes $2.95

Open All Week and All Day Sunday
WEST BEND WOOLEN MILL
WEST BEND, WIS.
One Mile East of Main St., on Highway 28

...a Friendly Greeting
...a sign of our appreciation
...of the many favors
...shown us in 1920. We ...wish all our Friends and
...Customers A Very Merry
...Christmas.

A. G. KOCH, Inc.
Kewaskum, Wis.

Black Sheep's Gold

by Beatrice Grimshaw

If you have read any of the South Seas stories by Beatrice Grimshaw you know how wonderfully thrilling and thorough her work is. And you can also appreciate the fact that her novels have practically "cornered" the literature of that fascinating district. You will find "Black Sheep's Gold" quite up to the Grimshaw high standard in romance, color, and adventurous incidents.

This Splendid Tale Will Appear as a Serial in Kewaskum Statesman
—Beginning—
Saturday, January 4
Don't Miss The Opening Installment!

KEWASKUM STATESMAN
HARBECK & SCHAEFER, PUBLISHERS
Entered as second-class mail matter at the post office, Kewaskum, Wis.
SINGLE COPIES 5 CENTS
TERMS—$2.00 per year; $1.00 for six months. Advertising Rates on Application.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Saturday, Dec. 21, 1929

—Dr. N. E. Hausmann was a Milwaukee visitor Monday.
—Mrs. Clemens Reinders was a Milwaukee visitor Monday.
—Only three more days left to do your Christmas shopping.
—Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dreher were Milwaukee visitors Monday.
—Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Schmidt were Milwaukee visitors Tuesday.
—Roman Smith was a business caller at Campbellsport Monday.
—Clemens Reinders was a business caller at Milwaukee Thursday.
—John Muckerheide was a business caller at Fond du Lac Monday.
—Mildred Schladweiler is employed at the home of John Vorpahl.
—Miss Miriam Schaefer spent Sunday and Monday in Milwaukee.
—Berl Canary of Cascade was a pleasant village caller Saturday.
—Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Rosenheimer were Milwaukee visitors Monday.
—Misses Helen Remmel and Helen Harbeck spent Tuesday at Milwaukee.
—Mrs. Henry Koch of West Bend, spent Tuesday at the Harry Schaefer home.
—Mrs. Erwin Koch, daughters Audrey and Janice spent Tuesday at Milwaukee.
—Mrs. Fred Andrae and daughter Mildred were Milwaukee visitors on Tuesday.
—John Van Blarcom Sr., spent Saturday evening with his son John Jr., and wife.
—Mrs. Adolph Rosenheimer Jr., was a business caller at Milwaukee last Thursday.
—Philip Brodzeller is confined to his home here with a severe infection of the throat.
—Dana Sheperd of Milwaukee was a business caller here Tuesday and Wednesday.
—Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Schaefer and family were guests of Milwaukee relatives Sunday.
—John and Harvey Schmidt and Fred Siegel spent Sunday evening at Fond du Lac.
—Mr. and Mrs. Otto E. Lay and daughter Charlotte were Milwaukee visitors Saturday.
—Bernard Seil and Harvey Kippenhan transacted business at Milwaukee Saturday afternoon.
—Miss Irene Bartelt and Anita Backhaus visited Sunday afternoon with Elizabeth Keller.
—Joe Conrad and Ewald Vorpahl of North Milwaukee spent Sunday at the Walter Vorpahl home.
—Rev. and Mrs. Theo. Fronne of Wausatosa, spent Sunday and Monday with Rev. and Mrs. J. Fugate.
—Arnold Lang made a short call on Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ockenfels Tuesday while on his way home to Green Bay.
—Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Koehler and family of Milwaukee, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hafeman and family.
—Mrs. S. N. Casper spent several days this week with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reichman and family at Milwaukee.
—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buddenhagen and family of Milwaukee, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Philip McLaughlin.
—Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Mueller and family of West Bend spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Butzlaff and family.
—Henry Firks of New Fane is confined to the Milwaukee Hospital where he underwent an operation about a week ago.
—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Loran Keller a baby girl last Thursday at the home of Frank Ehnert at New Fane. Congratulations.
—Kilian Honeck left Wednesday for Maryland, where he delivered a carload of cattle to John Rau, stock buyer of that place.
—Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Hausmann Jr., and family of West Bend, spent Saturday evening with Dr. and Mrs. N. E. Hausmann.
—Miss Endlich of Appleton visited over Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto E. Lay.
—Rev. Clarence Bartelt and Miss Crescence Stoffel of Milwaukee spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Stoffel and family.
—Mr. and Mrs. August Hanst and family and Mrs. Edw. Strachota of Milwaukee spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Koch and family.
—Mr. and Mrs. John Vorpahl are the proud parents of a ten pound baby boy, born to them Monday, December 16th. Congratulations to the happy parents.
—The following spent Saturday evening at the Walter Vorpahl home: Mr. and Mrs. Nic Gross and sons John and Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Okrush, Anton Theusch and John Vorpahl.
—Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Backus and family of West Allis and Misses Esther and Isabelle Backus of Milwaukee, spent Sunday with Mrs. Robert Backhaus and family in the town of Auburn.

SAYS:
"See Mrs. K. Endlich's add elsewhere in this paper."

—Miss Lorinda Yoost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yoost of the town of Kewaskum underwent an operation at the Milwaukee Hospital last Saturday evening. The patient is getting along very nicely.
—Since mailing out our sales posters for our special Christmas sale, the price of coffee has declined. In order to pass these savings to the consumer, the following prices will be in effect: "T" brand 41 cents; "G" brand 35 cents; "A" brand 29 cents. A. Peaberry 30 cents, Silver Buckle 42 cents.—John Marx, Kewaskum.
—Washington county will get $33,569.02 in school money in March according to the report from Chas. E. Limp, director of statistics in the department of education at Madison. $6,573,547.66 will be paid out, the bulk of which is payable in March. The total is based on a percentage of 1.1 mills on the state's taxable property, and is divided among the school districts under the equalization law.
—A party in the nature of a shower was given for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Buss of West Bend last Saturday evening, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Buss. The evening was pleasantly spent in playing cards and honors in 500 were awarded as follows: Mrs. Ingram 1st; Mrs. Oscar Koerble 2nd, and Mrs. Fred Buss consolation. In rummy, Mrs. Otto Weber 1st; Mrs. John Kohn 2nd. Lunch was served at 11:30. Relatives from Fond du Lac, West Bend and Kewaskum were in attendance.

GAME LAW VIOLATORS DRAW HEAVY FINES

Hilmer Koester of Milwaukee had a ferret and delivered it to a Washington county man last Friday. Koester admitted having it and paid a fine of $75 and costs for having had a ferret in his possession. The arrest was made by Game Warden Diedrich and he was fined by Justice Hayden.
Koester's ferret brought another Washington county man in trouble—John Klumb of the town of Germantown. Koester made a sworn statement at the time of his arrest on Saturday that he had delivered the ferret to Mr. Klumb. Wardens Diedrich, Schwalbe and Lake had a search warrant and looked over the entire Klumb premises, but no ferret could be found. Klumb was held into court on Koester's statement, and at the trial on Monday, Koester evidently told a lie, or had lied on Saturday when he made the statement but the finding of the court was that he was guilty and he was fined $75 and costs. Mr. Klumb, through his attorney, Thos. O'Meara of this city, appealed his case to the circuit court.
Warden Schwalbe of Fond du Lac reported that four hunters were caught near Campbellsport on December 9 for hunting rabbits with a ferret. All four were fined $50 and costs by Justice E. M. Fairbanks of Fond du Lac. The rabbit hunters were M. Z. Litcher, 44, of Lake Bernice, near Campbellsport, Geo. B. Monday of Auburnus, Harry Froehlich of Milwaukee and Anton Zeller of Halses Corners.—West Bend News.

CHECK ARTIST PUT ON PROBATION

Joseph J. Baum, farm magazine solicitor, who passed checks drawn on the Cedarburg and Thiensville State banks using fictitious names, and who solicited subscriptions for a farm magazine although he had been discharged from the employ of the magazine on October 15th, was placed on probation by County Judge J. E. Uselding for five years and he was also told by the judge that he could not drive an automobile during the probationary period. Baum was arrested when information was sent out in the rural territory asking for his apprehension. He was brought to this city by Henry Weichert, a farmer residing on Route 2, Cedarburg, at whose place Baum tried to solicit a subscription. Baum was given ten days to make restitution. He collected between $250 and $500 in subscriptions from farmers without turning the money in to the magazine publishers.

EXTRA!

CARL DAHLKE DIED YESTERDAY

Just before going to press, this office received a telegram from Globe, Arizona announcing the death of Carl Dahlke, a former well known resident of Kewaskum, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Herbert Wilke there. Further details will be published in next week's issue.

Unique Porters

The porters who carry your baggage from the trains to the taxis in Copenhagen work as a co-operative union with a small flat charge. They are the only porters known to return money when overpaid.

Subscribe for the Kewaskum Statesman and get all of the news of your community.

MOVIES

Opera House, Kewaskum
Sunday, Dec. 22nd

Comedy
"NEVER AGAIN"
Serial
"PHANTOM POLICE"
Admission 10 and 30c

—Dr. Geo. F. Brandt was at Allenton Monday afternoon where he was auctioneer at an auction sale of a carload of horses for J. W. Kippenhan of Montana.

—W. A. Kuert, who for the past ten years has been operating the Forest Lake Resort, has leased the Moose hall at Fond du Lac. Mr. Kuert has obtained the hall for the winter months and will conduct dances three times a week.

—Roman Smith of here and Mr. and Mrs. William Bartelt of New Prospect were at Milwaukee Sunday, while there Messrs. Smith and Bartelt attended the monthly skat tournament held by the Milwaukee Skat League at the Auditorium.

—The following spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. William Schmidt Sr.: Mr. and Mrs. Louis Doms, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Schmidt and daughter Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Art Glaas, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Schmidt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gregor Fellenz and Jerome Schiltz.

—The following spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Koepke and family: Mr. and Mrs. William Schultz, Mrs. William Riemer and daughter Myrtle and friend of Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bartelt and family, Mrs. William Ziegler of Kewaskum and Frank Koepke.

LOCAL MARKET REPORT

Winter wheat	1.00
Wheat	1.00
Barley	51c 68
Rye No. 1	90
Oats	44-45
Eggs strictly fresh	45c
Unwashed wool	32-33c
Beans, per lb.	6-7
Hides (calf skin)	11
Cow Hides	8
Horse Hides	3.00-3.50
Potatoes	1.90-2.05

Live Poultry

Old Roosters	15
Hens heavy	19-21
Light hens	14-15
Broilers heavy	18
Broilers light	16
Ducks young	19
Black chicks	15

To you and yours, our warmest Christmas Greetings. May this indeed be a season of joy and prosperity for all of our loyal friends of the community.

L. ROSENHEIMER

KEWASKUM, WIS.

A Merry
Christmas
to all from Bank of Kewaskum
Kewaskum, Wisconsin
The Old Reliable Bank of Good Service

What Shall I Give For Christmas?

Many precious gifts will be presented between now and Christmas. Such thoughtful gifts cannot be obtained at the bargain counters. Particular buyers who appreciate quality will come again to Endlich's this year. We are showing gifts for—The Home, Relatives and Friends. May we serve you?
SANTA CLAUS says: "Give a real surprise. An RCA Radiola." When buying a Radio, call at our store and let us tell you what RCA has to offer you. Radiola is not unknown radio, but a pioneer in radios. See us when Christmas Shopping.

We Wish All Our Friends and Patrons A Merry Christmas

"Our Prices Will Satisfy"
MRS. K. ENDLICH, KEWASKUM
Jeweler and Optometrist
Established 1906

Roman Smith, local ice dealer, is busily engaged in getting his equipment ready for this year's ice harvest. Roman states that the ice is now eleven inches thick on the mill pond. He will start to cut ice shortly after new years.

—Maude Hausmann and Miss Josephine Comfort of Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., were at Lawrence College at Appleton, Wis., to install a chapter of the International Greek Society, last Friday evening. Miss Hausmann returned to her home here for a day and returned to Evanston Sunday afternoon.

—At the annual meeting of the Washington County Chapter, American Red Cross, held at West Bend on December 7th, the following were elected members of the board of directors: O. C. McCollow of Hartford; Dr. Weber of Newburg, and E. W. Eberhardt of West Bend. Mrs. Herman Kuester of West Bend was elected chairman of the chapter.

We wish all our Friends and Patrons Heartiest
Christmas
Greetings

Kruegers Hatchery
West Bend, Wis.

AGENTS WANTED

Good hustling man or woman with car to push widely advertised carded specialty. Returns depend upon energy put into the proposition. Big money. Novelty Sales Service, Lock Box 261, Kewaskum, Wis.

Subscribe for the Statesman and get the news of your home community.

Badger State News - Briefly Told -

Appleton—Eight men seek to take the civil service examinations for candidates for the $3,000 position as postmaster at Appleton.

Sauk City—Despondent because of ill health, Walter Ziesmer, 22, committed suicide on his father's farm near Denzer, 12 miles from here, by blowing himself up with dynamite.

Ashland—The Rev. Harry S. Ruth of Ashland, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal church and state historian of the American Legion, has resigned to accept a call from a New Jersey parish.

Stoughton—Mr. and Mrs. Ole Hillegaard, 81 and 73, respectively, were found dead in bed by their daughter, Mrs. A. S. Mickerson, with whom they were made their home here. Death was caused by coal gas escaping from a stove in an adjoining room.

Hartford—The White Plymouth Rocks of Adams F. Pott, Hartford, made almost a clean sweep of ribbons offered for cock, hen, cockered and pullet at the recent Chicago Coliseum poultry show and also took first on young pen and second on old pen.

Darlington—Receipts approximating $225,000 have been taken in during the first 11 months of this year by members of the Darlington Co-operative Livestock Shipping association, according to W. J. Martin, manager. Eighty-two carloads of livestock were shipped in October and November.

Shawano—Only one party was held in the new "40 and 5" clubhouse here. The big box car-shaped structure, which cost $1,500 to build and furnish, was destroyed by fire, presumably caused by overheating during the festivities. It was completed a week ago. And someone had neglected to insure it.

Green Bay—With 61 inmates of the Green Bay reformatory forced to sleep in corridors on cots because of crowded conditions, Supt. E. H. Eklund reiterated his demand that new buildings be constructed. The number of inmates, according to Mr. Eklund, has doubled in the last five years and indications are that the increase will continue.

Madison—Wisconsin's public schools will divide $6,573,547.06 during 1930, according to an announcement by Charles E. Lind, director of statistics and research for the department of public instruction. Of this sum $5,701,910.45 is being appropriated now and will be paid to the county treasurers Mar. 10. The remainder of the public school fund income will be used to meet the cost of supervising teachers and transportation.

Madison—The occupant or owner of land in Wisconsin has the right to hunt squirrels and rabbits on that property without a hunting license and regardless of an open or closed season, according to an attorney general's opinion to the state conservation commission. This applies only to the occupant or owner and his immediate family, the opinion stated. An employe on the same farm must observe the general hunting laws.

Madison—A referendum on a proposed city prohibition ordinance to replace the state dry law repealed this year will be submitted to Madison voters next April. By a vote of 15 to 5 the city council determined to let citizens of the capital decide whether or not they want prohibition enforcement by municipal authorities in addition to federal forces. Madison voted in favor of repealing the state dry law by a small majority at the state-wide referendum last April.

Green Bay—Officials of the state reformatory here are elated at a recent report from the Holstein-Friesian association of America which places the reformatory 93-head herd as the most outstanding Holstein herd in the United States. For the year ending Oct. 31, the reformatory herd averaged 467.6 pounds of butter fat a year and the next highest record was that of a herd in Grand Rapids, Mich., which averaged 400 pounds. Not another entry came near this figure.

Madison—During 1929 more than 342,700,000 fish were distributed in lakes and streams throughout the state, according to a recent announcement. This exceeds by several millions the largest number which has ever been distributed before. Success in the 1929 program is largely attributed to the almost phenomenal returns Wisconsin experienced from the hatch of walleyed pike last summer. More than 288,000,000 were distributed as fry and of all the pike eggs collected 60 per cent hatched, a figure far above the average.

Neillsville—The cutting of thousands of Christmas trees on land set for reforestation has caused officials of Clark and nearby counties to take steps to prosecute offenders caught trespassing on this land. Each Christmas season fir, pine and spruce trees are raided.

Unity—The Marathon County Bankers' association distributed checks to those who captured William Schindler, bank robber, now doing time at Waupun. The association offered $500 reward for the capture of the bandit.

Neenah—When the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Grundy, county residents, near here, swallowed an open safety pin physicians attempted to remove it by ordinary methods and failed. An operation was performed and the pin was removed from the child's stomach.

Madison—Although many varieties of foreign seeds have been tried in Wisconsin, home grown varieties have practically always proved superior, according to B. D. Leith, agronomist at the Wisconsin college of agriculture.

Madison—An increase of more than $1,500,000 in recreational expenditures by the 41 Wisconsin cities of more than 5,000 population was made in four years, the municipal information bureau of the extension division of the University of Wisconsin announced.

Berlin—So successful was the soil fertility school held at Green Lake last week that farmers attending unanimously requested that it be held annually. Prof. Griffith Richards, extension specialist in soils from the college of agriculture of the University of Wisconsin, conducted the school, sponsored by A. D. Carey, county agent.

Sheboygan—It cost Carl Marquardt a fine of $70 and costs and forfeiture of a boat and five decoys for violating the game laws by shooting ducks off the north breakwater in Sheboygan harbor. Game Warden Henry Graebner confiscated Marquardt's automobile, boat and decoys, but Dist. Atty. Herman C. Runge released the automobile.

Milwaukee—Twenty-seven banks and seven other financial institutions throughout the state started operations Dec. 12 as co-operative units of the new $100,000,000 Wisconsin Bank shares corporation. The Wisconsin Bank and two Michigan institutions, which had previously announced their desire to join the group, were not included.

Dodgeville—Thomas R. Mundy, 74, member of the Iowa county board, died at his home here. Mr. Mundy was a widely known Mason, having been grand high priest of the grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons of Wisconsin, 1920-1927; a member of the Madison consistory and president of the Bascom B. Clark class; a member of Mineral Point commandery; trustee and past master of the Dodgeville blue lodge.

Madison—Gov. Kohler has intimated that he will not call a special session of the legislature. It has been the impression that the session would have to be convened if Wisconsin is to obtain federal road aid of more than $1,000,000 next year. A change in the highway laws has been considered mandatory. The governor, however, is said to have worked out the solution to the problem so that the aid will be forthcoming without the amendment.

Madison—Business conditions in Wisconsin during October were 7.6 per cent better than a year ago, the current issue of the Wisconsin Retail Bulletin, published by the University of Wisconsin school of commerce and extension division, shows. There were applications for 15,335 positions in October at the public employment offices, while employers requested that 12,016 be supplied. This compares with 19,082 applications and 16,401 requests for workers in the corresponding month of 1928.

Superior—Superior is almost bone dry as the result of a raid by 70 federal prohibition officers, the largest number ever assembled in the northwest. Sweeping down on 40 speakeasies simultaneously, the raiders arrested 57 men and seized more than 400 gallons of liquor, breaking bottles and smashing in casks in the streets. The federal men were recruited from Duluth, Madison, LaCrosse, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Superior. The federal office was kept open all night while prisoners were booked.

Madison—Chairman F. Roethe of the legislative interim committee on education suggests to citizens who plan to appear at the high school hearing Dec. 17 and 18 that they be prepared to submit, with any other data, the following information concerning their high school districts: Original valuation of high school district, 1928; valuation of detailed area, 1928; present valuation of the district, 1929; district tax levy, 1928 and 1929; loss of revenue account of detachment; total enrollment, 1929; tuition students, 1929; amount of tuition revenue and number of teachers, 1929. In the case of citizens unable to attend the hearing the committee would welcome information by mail.

Milwaukee—Market quotations: Butter—Creamery, fresh extras, tubs, 21c; standards, 20½c. Cheese—Twins, 21c; daisies, 21½c; longhorns, 21½c; brick, 22½c. Hambrager, 22½c. Eggs—Fresh gathered firsts, 40¢@43½¢. Poultry—Live hens, 21¢@22¢; old roosters, 17¢; springers, 17¢@20¢; ducks, 17¢@20¢; geese, 17¢; turkeys, 25¢@28¢. Potatoes—Wisconsin white, $2.40@2.50 cwt. Barley—Choice to fancy, 69¢@70¢; fair to good, 63¢@68¢. Corn—No. 4 yellow, 81¢@82½¢; No. 2 white, 81¢@82½¢. Oats—No. 3 white, 42¢@44¢. Rye—No. 2, 69¢@1.00. Hogs—Fair to good butchers, $9.00@9.50; fair to good lights, $9.00@9.40; pigs, $7.50@8.50. Cattle—Steers, fair to choice, $10.00@15.50; heifers, $7.00@10.50; cows, $5.75@7.50; calves, $12.50@14.00. Sheep—Lambs, good to choice, $12.50@12.75; fair to good, $11.50@12.25; ewes, $4.00@5.50.

Madison—Upon recommendation of the conservation commission, Gov. Walter J. Kohler approved the purchase of property known as Copper Falls, Ashland county, to be used as a state park. The land consists of 820 acres. Purchase price was $15,000.

Green Bay—More than 1,500,000 pounds of herring have been caught in Green Bay this season to set a new record here, it is estimated. Five of the largest fish houses calculated they had packed 1,400,000 pounds for shipment throughout the United States.

Madison—Memorial services in the state supreme court for its late Chief Justice A. J. Vinje, who died last spring, will be held at 10 a. m. Jan. 6. A memorial by the state bar association, and possibly others will be read before the full sitting of the court.

Galesville—Mr. and Mrs. Sever Sylvestre, residents of Trempealeau county for three-quarters of a century, celebrated their fifty-eighth wedding anniversary last week. Both are 78 and are native of Norway. They have six sons and two daughters.

TAX REDUCTION ACT IS PASSED 63 TO 14

Lower Rates to Be Effective Only One Year.

Washington.—With the $160,000,000 tax reduction bill out of the way it is now believed that the tariff bill will be speeded up and that it, too, may be passed during January.

The tax reduction measure was completed when the senate by a vote of 63 to 14 passed the house joint resolution, thus sending the act to the President for his signature. All proposed amendments to the tax bill were promptly defeated.

Under the terms of the measure the lowest normal rate applicable to individual income taxpayers will be reduced from 1½ to one-half of one per cent, the next normal rate will be cut from 3 to 2 per cent, and the highest normal rate will be cut from 5 to 4 per cent. There will be no reduction in surtaxes. The flat tax on corporation earnings will be reduced from 12 to 11 per cent.

The reductions will remain in effect only for a single year, but it is presumed that congress a year hence will provide for a further cut if tax revenues continue at a high level.

The single individual taxpayer with a net income of $5,000 and no dependents will pay only $13.13 instead of $39.58, while if his income is $10,000, his tax will be $30 instead of $123.75. If his income is $50,000 his tax will be $4,515 instead of $4,835.75. A married man with no dependents will pay a tax of $5.63 instead of $16.88 if he is in the $5,000 class, $32.50 instead of $101.25 if his income is $10,000, and $4,455 instead of $4,875.75 if his income is $50,000.

The 63 who voted for the resolution included 39 Republicans and 24 Democrats. The 14 against the resolution included 11 Republicans and 3 Democrats.

Those voting against the resolution were Senators John J. Blaine and Robert M. La Follette (Wis.), William E. Borah (Idaho), S. W. Brookhart (Iowa), Bronson Cutting (N. H.), L. J. Frazier and G. P. Nye (N. D.), George W. Norris and R. B. Howell (Neb.), Peter Norbeck and W. H. McMaster (S. D.), Republicans, and Cole Blaise (S. C.), Elmer Thomas (Okla.), and B. K. Wheeler (Mont.), Democrats.

Attacks upon the administration program were launched by the radicals whose contention was that the treasury surplus either should be used for the retirement of the public debt or else should be diverted in some way that would help to relieve unemployment or to aid agriculture. That unemployment has greatly increased was charged.

The regulars on both the Republican and Democratic sides made good their promise to President Hoover to support the tax cut as a means of aiding in stimulating business. The radicals insisted that the reduction would do nothing to relieve unemployment, which Senator James Cox (Rep., Mich.) said had increased from 700,000 to 3,100,000 in the last two weeks.

House Ratifies French Debt Settlement Plan

Washington.—By a vote of 299 to 100 the house of representatives approved the Mellon-Berenger agreement for settlement of the French debt. The original house vote for the plan three years ago was 236 to 112. Although the debt resolution has not been voted on previously in the senate, the indications are that it will pass that body by about the same proportionate majority it received in the house, and as the French chamber of deputies ratified the agreement on July 27, approval by the senate will make it effective.

Under the agreement, which was recommended by the World War foreign debt commission, France will pay its $4,076,547,472 debt to the United States in installments extending over a period of 62 years. The total payment, including interest, will amount to slightly less than 50 cents on the dollar.

British Troops Now Out of Germany; French Stay

Weisbaden, Germany.—To the strains of "God Save the King," the Union Jack was slowly hauled down at British headquarters in the Hotel Hobeuzellern, where it had floated since December 31, 1925.

General Thwaites, who was in command, bade the authorities farewell and reviewed a detachment of British Fusiliers.

The troops then marched to the station and departed, thus ending Britain's military occupation of the third zone. The only foreign troops remaining on German soil are French.

The interallied Rhineland high commission decreed that the zone evacuated by the British would be placed under French command.

House, Senate Plan Recess Washington.—Congress took time from its legislative duties to complete plans for its Christmas vacation, the house following the lead of the senate in adopting a resolution providing a holiday recess from December 21 to January 6.

Thirteen Airplanes Burn Tampa, Fla.—Fire destroyed thirteen airplanes in the steel airport at the municipal airport with a loss estimated at $100,000.

Plan April 15-Sept. 28 Season New York.—A plan is being worked out to open the major league baseball season on April 15 and close on September 28, permitting the playing of the world series a week earlier than usual.

Hymn Composer Dead Rockland, Maine.—Rev. Edward S. Clifford, who composed the hymn, "Throw Out the Life Line," is dead at his home in Union at the age of seventy-eight.

EDGE ARRIVES IN PARIS

Walter E. Edge.

Paris.—Ambassador W. E. Edge has arrived here to assume his duties at the American embassy. The new American envoy, accompanied by Mrs. Edge and their three children, was greeted at the French port by Norman Armour, American charge d'affaires, the French maritime prefect and the mayor of Havre. A military band played French and American anthems while a company of infantry stood at salute.

ISOLATES FLU GERM; CURE NOW IN SIGHT

U. of C. Scientist Hero in New Medical Discovery.

Chicago.—The influenza germ has been discovered and isolated by Dr. Isidore S. Falk, thirty-year-old professor of hygiene and bacteriology at the University of Chicago.

The momentous announcement was unobtrusively made by the discoverer before a group of sixty students assembled in tumbledown Ricketts laboratory on the Midway campus.

The announcement was accompanied by Doctor Falk's cautiously worded statement that there is "a hopeful prospect" that an antitoxin for influenza will now be discovered.

"What we are hoping," he said, "is that a vaccine—prepared from dead microbes of the influenza germ—can be absorbed through the mucous membrane of the nose and throat and thus effect cure. The fact which gives us most hope is that in the search for specific cures for many diseases you have won 75 per cent of the battle when you've isolated the germs of those diseases."

The germ has not been named other than by the descriptive term pleomorphic, or many formed, streptococcus, which Doctor Falk applies to it.

As to its appearance, he offered this comparison: "Like a microscopic chain of unattached beads, which a child has stringed together."

Doctor Falk's discovery, which immediately makes him a conspicuous world figure among candidates for the next Nobel prize, is the result of six years of investigation. His researches became intensive at the peak of the influenza epidemic in mid-December, 1928.

On December 12, 1928—a year before the recent announcement was made—he and his colleagues in the bacteriological department of the university insisted that the reduction to "unattached," as he puts it, for their intensive campaign. Part of the mobilization was the assembling of a large number of monkeys to be used for inoculation.

The chief and his investigators had to work 16 hours a day until January 10, 1929. In order to study virulent strains produced by the epidemic at its height, "for we could not know," added the whimsical scientist, "when another epidemic would be vouchsafed us."

The researches were not concluded until September 30 of this year, but with the characteristic caution of his race—he is a Jew—Doctor Falk was unwilling to release his discovery to the world until two and a half more months had passed.

Giants Beat Bears in Final Game of Season

Chicago.—The New York Giants defeated the Chicago Bears, 14 to 9, in the final professional football game of the season at Wrigley field. It was the passing of Benny Friedman in the last quarter that gave the visitors their victory, for in the third quarter, the Bears took the lead with a 9 to 7 score.

Ex-G. A. R. Commander Dies

Springfield, Ill.—Capt. John B. Inman, eighty-one, past grand commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, is dead at his home here. He had been custodian of the State Memorial hall for 25 years.

Grundy Appointed Senator

Harrisburg, Pa.—Joseph R. Grundy was appointed as United States senator for Pennsylvania by Gov. J. S. Fisher to fill the vacancy caused by the senate's rejection of William S. Vare of Philadelphia.

Insured vs. Horse, Bull, Not Cow

Hanford, Calif.—William F. Liggett had insurance against being kicked by a horse or gored by a bull. He died here from injuries received when kicked by a cow.

Von Porat Disqualified

New York.—Otto Von Porat of Norway and Chicago was disqualified for a foul in the second round of a scheduled 12-round bout with Phil Scott, heavyweight champion of England, at Madison Square Garden.

Special Session Cost $910,642

Washington.—A supplemental estimate of $910,642 for the current fiscal year, to cover the cost of the special session of congress, was transmitted to congress by the President.

LEASE ON M. SHOALS O. K'D BY FARM BODY

Federation Also Urges Boost on Tariff Rates.

Chicago.—Development of Muscle Shoals and the related subject of fertilizer costs were two topics which upset the regularity of the proceedings at the closing session of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and which provoked protracted debate.

The convention adopted a resolution which commended the President for his recent advocacy of a private lease for Muscle Shoals, and urged that the Shoals be operated so that its economies will tend to regulate fertilizer prices in this country.

Sam H. Thompson of Quincy, Ill., was re-elected president of the federation for the third term. His election was interpreted as an endorsement of the federation's policies in the past year in regard to agricultural relief.

Early completion of inland waterway development as planned through deepening of the Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio and Illinois rivers was demanded to aid agriculture.

The use of waterways by railroads was recommended by Lieut. Col. Edward L. Duley of the staff of chief of engineers of the army, in an address before the convention.

Another resolution adopted the convention urged the senate to continue its work of revising the agricultural tariff rates upward, and insisted that the tariff bill, now in conference between the two houses of congress, must emerge for final approval by the President with farm rates at a height that "will enable the American farmer to maintain an American standard of living on the farm."

The tariff resolution also urged that the same rates be applied to products imported from American colonies, as are in force on similar products from foreign nations, "in the event that complete independence cannot now be granted these American dependencies."

An amendment to the measure urged an effective tariff on grain to remedy the present situation, whereby American wheat farmers can sell their products in Canada at a greater profit despite the tariff, than they can obtain for their grain in the domestic markets.

The convention endorsed the co-operation and support its officers have extended to the federal farm board and pledged a continuation of this support.

Relating to rural credits, the convention suggested that the federal laws which have established the rural credit policies should be amended so that from production to final marketing "the producers of our farm crops, the owners of our farm property and the co-operative groups of our farm producers can have available in all necessary quantities, credits at interest rates as low as are secured by any other group in our nation."

A new creed on taxation was enunciated by the federation. Declaring that the national wealth is rapidly becoming more of the intangible, rather than of the visible form for tax purposes, the federation contended that this condition makes it imperative that the structure of federal income, corporation and estate taxes shall be maintained in such form as will procure the most of the nation's revenues for support of the government from these forms of taxes.

Confidence in the return of land values was expressed by Paul A. Bestor, commissioner of the federal farm loan board, in an address before the convention. Sales by land banks in the last ten weeks show a definite trend in improvement of land values, he declared.

Form $30,000,000 Cotton Co-Op to Help Growers

Memphis, Tenn.—Creation of a centralized co-operative cotton marketing corporation, based on the framework of the American Cotton Growers Exchange, with a capital stock of $30,000,000, was unanimously decided upon by the joint conference of the federal farm board and officers and directors of 15 state co-operative associations here.

The new corporation will be eligible to receive loans from the federal farm board and the laws of the corporation must be drawn to allow the farm board proper safeguards, so long as the corporation shall be indebted to the government.

Shires Wins on Knockout

Chicago.—Art Shires, the pugilistic first baseman of the Chicago White Sox whose fist fighting led to suspension and fine and eventually to embarkation in professional pugilism, made his debut here, and in 21 seconds had knocked out Dan Daly of Cleveland.

Approves U. S. Envoy

Lisbon, Portugal.—The government has given unconditional approval to the appointment of J. G. South as American minister to Lisbon.

Cardinals Trade Alexander

New York.—The St. Louis Cardinals traded Grover Cleveland Alexander and Harry McCurdy, catcher, to the Phillies for Homer Peel, outfielder, and Bob McGraw, pitcher. Alexander entered the major league with the Phillies.

To Play Honolulu Gridmen

Honolulu.—The Honolulu "Town Team" will meet the Washington State college football team here Christmas day. The Washington State team also meets the University of Hawaii here New Year's day.

Plan Honor for Madame Curie

Paris.—It was reported that Madame Curie, discoverer of radium, will be made a commander of the Legion of Honor, the first woman to be given that rank.

English Type Brick Home Attractive and Has Many Superior Advantages

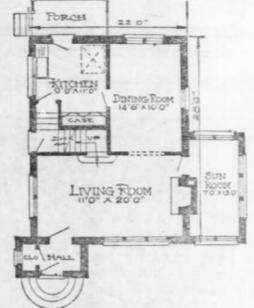

A home of charm and individuality in brick with three main rooms and a Colonial entrance. The floor plans are as well designed as the exterior. The rooms are all large and this home has more than the number of closets.

By W. A. RADFORD

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to practical home building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as editor, author and manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 437 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose two-cent stamp for reply.

While the first brick houses in the United States were built by the Holland Dutch who settled in New York, brick has been the stable building material in England for several centuries. And in the use of brick English architects have developed an individual type of architecture, an example along the English lines being shown in the accompanying illustration.

While this house is not a true type of English architecture, it has the many gables and sloping roof that is popular in the British isles. This

This is a home of charm and individuality. The one touch of American architecture in it is the colonial entrance door. This house is 22 feet by 26 feet, exclusive of the sunroom made possible by the turning of the pitch of the roof from the front gable. It contains six

Buildings of Future May Be Windowless

The skyscraper office building of the future, the school, church, even the private home may be built with few or no windows. The only purpose the window will serve will be to permit those on the inside to enjoy the view, or those outside to look into a store or display room. Problems of light and fresh air can be solved artificially and more satisfactorily than they are by the many-windowed buildings of today.

This is the interesting forecast offered in the American Architect, which points to innovations in several new buildings as indications of such a tendency.

In the new Union Trust building Detroit, for example, 16 stories of windows are so built that they will never be opened. Air conditioning designed to keep the temperature at a uniform 70 degrees throughout the year makes the open window unnecessary. The heating and refrigerating machinery of the building also regulates humidity by mixing ozone with the incoming air and eliminates those listless days so frequently felt by indoor workers when even fresh air feels dead.

In New York the new Waldorf-Astoria hotel will install a system by which each guest can regulate the temperature of his own room summer and winter. The radiator will be in combination with a cooling apparatus attached to the refrigerating plant. Many other modern buildings throughout the country are introducing similar systems elaborated from those already in use in theaters and up-to-date storage warehouses where furniture, art works, furs and other valuable

Divided Sash Makes Interior Much Lighter

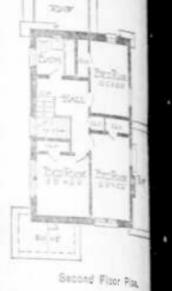

The matter of divided window sash is really important. The large size panes make dark voids in the mass of the wall that are likely to be frankly ugly. Furthermore, they give less privacy than the small panes do, for the cross pieces in the latter serve somewhat to screen the interior from outer view.

Architects say that the matter of "scale" is involved, the single panes being too large for a small house. Divided sash add an air of intimacy and domesticity to the house which it does not possess with the undivided glass. Finally, the undivided glass may cost more.

Oak Flooring Adds to Value of the Old Home

Buying an old house and modernizing it is becoming more and more popular. Frequently such a house can be obtained at a reasonable figure and, through the expenditure of several thousand dollars, made into a residence worth much more than the investment. Sometimes it is advisable to buy a house that is well built, but that has become a little old-fashioned. More often the house touches such as the stoves, the new electric light fixtures, and the new oak floors will give the old house that touch of modernity which will only need redecorating to bring it up to date. In a house of this character the floors will last as long as the structure with proper care. If the floors are of soft wood, it would be inexpensive to have oak floors put over them.

rooms, both and few closets. The entrance door from the small hall which provides the main lines of the house leads into a large living room. On the feet, which extends the width of the house. At one end is a door at the side of the house to the sunroom, which is 11 feet long. A dining room 14 feet long by 12 feet wide is in the kitchen, and on the side is the living room. The large, 9 feet 9 inches in diameter enclosed sunroom on the side of the living room and hall has three bedrooms and a bathroom, and the bathroom. The arrangements of the room are such that the view from the living room is unobstructed. At the same time, the arrangement is such that the sunroom is a sunroom without unnecessary expense.

For the prospective buyer who wants a central hall, solid in appearance, with solid and low wood-paneled walls found in a six-room house, this will appeal.

goods may be protected in the winter.

Unlucky Saturday

Saturday is the most dangerous day for the workman, according to a survey in New York made by the American Architect. The statistician here is found that more than any other kind of day, Saturday accidents are more numerous than any other day of the week. The reason advanced is that the tired and nervous men get more careless when they have a long week-work, and hence their accidents are more frequent. The focus is clearly on their eyes and hands.

When using cement or other materials, work shoes must be worn. Work shoes are not made for the winter, they are made for the summer. This is an easy task, but it has had better results for a long time.

When using cement or other materials, work shoes must be worn. Work shoes are not made for the winter, they are made for the summer. This is an easy task, but it has had better results for a long time.

When using cement or other materials, work shoes must be worn. Work shoes are not made for the winter, they are made for the summer. This is an easy task, but it has had better results for a long time.

Cement and Winter

When using cement or other materials, work shoes must be worn. Work shoes are not made for the winter, they are made for the summer. This is an easy task, but it has had better results for a long time.

Cement and Winter

When using cement or other materials, work shoes must be worn. Work shoes are not made for the winter, they are made for the summer. This is an easy task, but it has had better results for a long time.

GINGER ELLA

by Ethel Hueston

Illustrations by Irwin Myers

CHAPTER XI

car and took them and their new bags to the train, after which with Ginger...

"Why, of course I am. You know I am, Ellen. Have you no letters for me?"

"Suddenly she was aware that the man in the rear carried a large mail pouch. He stepped ahead of the others and entered the room. The postman and his companion followed...

"You keep out of this, young man. Well, miss, then you—" "Why, of course, I claim it," said Giger quickly.

"You are across now, miss. Give us the goods. Where is this here home—parsonage home for the blind, you call it?"

"Well, I know all about it, and a pretty sick game, I call it. But I guess we've got the dope on you, right enough."

"No, oh, no. It is true—it really is true. It is a home for the blind, for one blind—father."

"Bring out your old man—bring out the whole nest," bellowed the officer furiously. "Well, claim house here while we're at it."

"The officer, puffing himself up from Eddy's restraining hand, caught her shoulder with a grasp that flung her half to the floor, and Eddy, driven entirely reckless at the sight, leaped upon him."

"Bring out your old man—bring out the whole nest," bellowed the officer furiously. "Well, claim house here while we're at it."

"The officer, puffing himself up from Eddy's restraining hand, caught her shoulder with a grasp that flung her half to the floor, and Eddy, driven entirely reckless at the sight, leaped upon him."

"Bring out your old man—bring out the whole nest," bellowed the officer furiously. "Well, claim house here while we're at it."

"The officer, puffing himself up from Eddy's restraining hand, caught her shoulder with a grasp that flung her half to the floor, and Eddy, driven entirely reckless at the sight, leaped upon him."

"Bring out your old man—bring out the whole nest," bellowed the officer furiously. "Well, claim house here while we're at it."

"The officer, puffing himself up from Eddy's restraining hand, caught her shoulder with a grasp that flung her half to the floor, and Eddy, driven entirely reckless at the sight, leaped upon him."

"Bring out your old man—bring out the whole nest," bellowed the officer furiously. "Well, claim house here while we're at it."

"The officer, puffing himself up from Eddy's restraining hand, caught her shoulder with a grasp that flung her half to the floor, and Eddy, driven entirely reckless at the sight, leaped upon him."

"Bring out your old man—bring out the whole nest," bellowed the officer furiously. "Well, claim house here while we're at it."

"The officer, puffing himself up from Eddy's restraining hand, caught her shoulder with a grasp that flung her half to the floor, and Eddy, driven entirely reckless at the sight, leaped upon him."

"Bring out your old man—bring out the whole nest," bellowed the officer furiously. "Well, claim house here while we're at it."

"The officer, puffing himself up from Eddy's restraining hand, caught her shoulder with a grasp that flung her half to the floor, and Eddy, driven entirely reckless at the sight, leaped upon him."

"Bring out your old man—bring out the whole nest," bellowed the officer furiously. "Well, claim house here while we're at it."

Soy Beans Now Important Crop

Thrives on Soils Too Acid for Sweet or Red Clover or Alfalfa.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) In the last few years soy beans have become important as a hay and seed crop in the eastern half of the United States.

Harvesting Crop. Soy bean hay should be thoroughly cured before being stacked, housed, or baled, as there is danger of molding when stored or baled too soon after a rain.

Cutting for Hay. The publication discusses the time and methods of cutting for hay and gives the best methods of curing the hay; and as to the seed, it discusses time of harvesting, method of harvesting, threshing, and storage.

Corn Fertilizer. For corn on well drained black prairie loam soils use superphosphate in the hill or drill at rates of from 60 to 100 pounds per acre where till dropped, or up to 200 pounds per acre where drilled.

Improvement Societies Found in Many States. Crop improvement associations now operating in thirty states and a number of Canadian provinces, serving as a connecting link between experiment stations and individual farmers, have done much to help farmers reap the benefits of experiment station work.

Pruning Young Trees. The growth and fruiting habits of the cherry and plum lend themselves readily to the same general principles of pruning as are practiced in the case of apples and pears.

Wet Soil is Ideal for Explosives to Brace On. Now is a good time to blast stumps, according to R. B. Robb of the New York State College of Agriculture.

Dwarf Fruit Trees Will Occupy Very Little Room. On an area 67 by 76 feet, George Hunt, McHenry county, Ill., has 70 fruit trees.

San Jose Scale. Practically all orchard fruits are attacked by the San Jose scale and many of the ornamental trees and shrubs are also attacked.

Time to Open Silo. When silage is allowed to settle and form a crust or decomposed mat on the top, it makes little difference what time it is opened.

As a Last Resort. If a man is unapproachable, and ordinary dattery can't reach him, you can always ask him for advice.—San Francisco Chronicle.

SMART CLOTH ENSEMBLES AND THOSE OF VELVET-PLUS-VELVET

WELL, there's one thing to be said of this present style era, even if it has plunged protesting women into an orgy of ornament, there is a way of escape.

Velvet Plus Velvet Ensembles. If velvet for the costume is a fascinating theme, what can be said of velvet shoes in a one-strap model, her hat is of matching blue felt, while her pocketbook is trimmed with the identical blue kid of which the gloves are fashioned.

The Smart Cloth Ensemble.

A Velvet-Plus-Velvet Ensemble.

For velvet plus velvet? To which the stunning ensemble in picture below answers. This Paris-created black-and-white costume uses two kinds of velvet in its development.

For velvet plus velvet? To which the stunning ensemble in picture below answers. This Paris-created black-and-white costume uses two kinds of velvet in its development.

If the velvets of today were heavy and bulky like velvet of re-older times, these interworking of velvets as accomplished in the model illustrated, would not have been feasible.

If the velvets of today were heavy and bulky like velvet of re-older times, these interworking of velvets as accomplished in the model illustrated, would not have been feasible.

Of course, the picture cannot convey the airy-fairy delicateness of the plaided white velvet which the designer here employs for combination with all black but knowing velvets as far-ricewise women of today know them, the chic and the charm of this costume is sure to win instant recognition.

Of course, the picture cannot convey the airy-fairy delicateness of the plaided white velvet which the designer here employs for combination with all black but knowing velvets as far-ricewise women of today know them, the chic and the charm of this costume is sure to win instant recognition.

The future of the duo-velvet costume is rich in promise. One of the outcomes of interworking velvet plus velvet is noted in afternoon frocks in the creating of which the designer seems velvets of contrasting shades together such as brown and capucine, dark green and light, and so on, to endless color combination.

The future of the duo-velvet costume is rich in promise. One of the outcomes of interworking velvet plus velvet is noted in afternoon frocks in the creating of which the designer seems velvets of contrasting shades together such as brown and capucine, dark green and light, and so on, to endless color combination.

Another outcome of the twofold velvet vogue is the reversible evening coat, one side of either white or black transparent velvet, the other of some hectic hue or in a delicate pastel tint. A by-product of the velvet-and-velvet vogue finds fruition also in the velvet costume of one color topped

Another outcome of the twofold velvet vogue is the reversible evening coat, one side of either white or black transparent velvet, the other of some hectic hue or in a delicate pastel tint. A by-product of the velvet-and-velvet vogue finds fruition also in the velvet costume of one color topped with a hat of velvet in related coloring. The persistency of black-and-white in the mode is emphasized by the costume pictured. In this instance magnificent fur helps to carry the black-and-white policy to a thrilling conclusion.

with a hat of velvet in related coloring. The persistency of black-and-white in the mode is emphasized by the costume pictured. In this instance magnificent fur helps to carry the black-and-white policy to a thrilling conclusion.

Paris considers small patterned broad-based crepe satins among the best possible choices of fabric for the afternoon dress this winter.

Paris considers small patterned broad-based crepe satins among the best possible choices of fabric for the afternoon dress this winter.

The design should be small, repeated at close intervals and preferably worked in satin stitch on crepe ground. The preferred colors are tobacco brown, and black and dark shades of blue other than navy.

The design should be small, repeated at close intervals and preferably worked in satin stitch on crepe ground. The preferred colors are tobacco brown, and black and dark shades of blue other than navy.

Drainage does more than take water off the land; it gives ventilation, helps tilting, and lengthens the season. Drainage makes a transformation where it is needed.

Drainage does more than take water off the land; it gives ventilation, helps tilting, and lengthens the season. Drainage makes a transformation where it is needed.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

BEST TIME TO BLAST OUT OLD TREES WHEN SOIL IS MOIST

Wet Soil is Ideal for Explosives to Brace On.

Now is a good time to blast stumps, according to R. B. Robb of the New York State College of Agriculture.

Handle the blasting caps with care. Professor Robb warns, for a blasting cap explodes with great force and anyone near it is almost sure to be hurt.

Bring out your old man—bring out the whole nest," bellowed the officer furiously. "Well, claim house here while we're at it."

The officer, puffing himself up from Eddy's restraining hand, caught her shoulder with a grasp that flung her half to the floor, and Eddy, driven entirely reckless at the sight, leaped upon him."

"Bring out your old man—bring out the whole nest," bellowed the officer furiously. "Well, claim house here while we're at it."

The officer, puffing himself up from Eddy's restraining hand, caught her shoulder with a grasp that flung her half to the floor, and Eddy, driven entirely reckless at the sight, leaped upon him."

"Bring out your old man—bring out the whole nest," bellowed the officer furiously. "Well, claim house here while we're at it."

The officer, puffing himself up from Eddy's restraining hand, caught her shoulder with a grasp that flung her half to the floor, and Eddy, driven entirely reckless at the sight, leaped upon him."

"Bring out your old man—bring out the whole nest," bellowed the officer furiously. "Well, claim house here while we're at it."

The officer, puffing himself up from Eddy's restraining hand, caught her shoulder with a grasp that flung her half to the floor, and Eddy, driven entirely reckless at the sight, leaped upon him."

"Bring out your old man—bring out the whole nest," bellowed the officer furiously. "Well, claim house here while we're at it."

The officer, puffing himself up from Eddy's restraining hand, caught her shoulder with a grasp that flung her half to the floor, and Eddy, driven entirely reckless at the sight, leaped upon him."

"Bring out your old man—bring out the whole nest," bellowed the officer furiously. "Well, claim house here while we're at it."

The officer, puffing himself up from Eddy's restraining hand, caught her shoulder with a grasp that flung her half to the floor, and Eddy, driven entirely reckless at the sight, leaped upon him."

"Bring out your old man—bring out the whole nest," bellowed the officer furiously. "Well, claim house here while we're at it."

A Velvet-Plus-Velvet Ensemble.

with a hat of velvet in related coloring. The persistency of black-and-white in the mode is emphasized by the costume pictured. In this instance magnificent fur helps to carry the black-and-white policy to a thrilling conclusion.

Paris considers small patterned broad-based crepe satins among the best possible choices of fabric for the afternoon dress this winter.

The design should be small, repeated at close intervals and preferably worked in satin stitch on crepe ground. The preferred colors are tobacco brown, and black and dark shades of blue other than navy.

Drainage does more than take water off the land; it gives ventilation, helps tilting, and lengthens the season. Drainage makes a transformation where it is needed.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

Orderly marketing results from orderly production. Orderly production is secured by studying market needs and production trends, and planning production in accordance with them.

CHAPTER XII

car and took them and their new bags to the train, after which with Ginger...

"Why, of course I am. You know I am, Ellen. Have you no letters for me?"

"Suddenly she was aware that the man in the rear carried a large mail pouch. He stepped ahead of the others and entered the room. The postman and his companion followed...

"You keep out of this, young man. Well, miss, then you—" "Why, of course, I claim it," said Giger quickly.

"You are across now, miss. Give us the goods. Where is this here home—parsonage home for the blind, you call it?"

"Well, I know all about it, and a pretty sick game, I call it. But I guess we've got the dope on you, right enough."

"No, oh, no. It is true—it really is true. It is a home for the blind, for one blind—father."

"Bring out your old man—bring out the whole nest," bellowed the officer furiously. "Well, claim house here while we're at it."

The officer, puffing himself up from Eddy's restraining hand, caught her shoulder with a grasp that flung her half to the floor, and Eddy, driven entirely reckless at the sight, leaped upon him."

"Bring out your old man—bring out the whole nest," bellowed the officer furiously. "Well, claim house here while we're at it."

The officer, puffing himself up from Eddy's restraining hand, caught her shoulder with a grasp that flung her half to the floor, and Eddy, driven entirely reckless at the sight, leaped upon him."

"Bring out your old man—bring out the whole nest," bellowed the officer furiously. "Well, claim house here while we're at it."

The officer, puffing himself up from Eddy's restraining hand, caught her shoulder with a grasp that flung her half to the floor, and Eddy, driven entirely reckless at the sight, leaped upon him."

She Flashed From the Secretion of Her Corner by the Stairway Just in Time to See the Can Grocer Press a Reverent and Unmistakable Kiss Upon the Delicate Lips of Miriam.

All the parsonage home was too broadly disseminated now to be lightly changed, and all of her arguments were based on that great fact.

All the enthusiasm, and the non-chalance, and the farewells, were over. Giger and Eddy sat alone in the living room of the old parsonage, rather still, a little depressed with their loneliness.

"Well, it's all over now," she said dully. "Helen's married, the twins are gone, and father and I are freed."

"Oh, nonsense. Helen is well off and very happy. The twins will be home for Christmas, and your father will get a better church than Red Thrush."

"Eddy—" Her voice sank to a whisper. "Do you think he will ever see again? Do you think even the most expensive doctor in the world can cure him?"

"Why, of course he will see again. Didn't all the doctors say the same thing, that it was just nervous and mental reaction, and in time—"

"It's a long time, though. Very long."

"You're so impatient, Giger. But that's because you're young."

A quick loud knock at the door startled her to her feet with a nervous gasp, but she quickly recomposed herself, and went in answer.

But Mr. Tolliver in the small adjoining room had heard the unusual uproar 'o his quiet home, heard it first with surprise, then with rising indignation.

With one bound he entered the living room, and in a moment, as in a crisis, one who has been accustomed to clear vision for many years is bound to do, he tore the projecting handgates from his eyes and dashed them upon the floor.

"Mail!" she asked. The postman showed embarrassment. "Well, yes," he said awkwardly. "You are E. Tolliver, aren't you?"

When Amateur Sleuth Lost Interest in Case. Most men possess a huge contempt for the detective ability of the police and nurse a confident belief that if it were put up to them they would solve any mystery in jig time.

On Long Island lives a man who not only believes that Sherlock Holmes was a slouch compared to him, but who gets in some active practice. If a crime is committed in his locality he makes a bee-line for the police station and starts in to "help" the department.

Jackals Really Wild Dogs. Jackals are any of several wild dogs in the Old World, especially the Indian and southern African.

Light and Darkness. A man who looks toward the light sees no shadow; a man who walks toward the light leaves darkness behind him.

As a Last Resort. If a man is unapproachable, and ordinary dattery can't reach him, you can always ask him for advice.—San Francisco Chronicle.

How Does Dairying Effect Your Boys and Girls?

The boys and girls of today are the men and women of tomorrow—the way you conduct your farming operations today will have a material bearing on the lives of your children. You may think this a queer statement but nevertheless it is a fact. Dairying is a 365 day business, connected with it you want a good home, financed by your dairy farming business. The farm where dairy operations are continued from year to year becomes richer as years go by. Such farms become more valuable and are prized heritages. Not more cows, but better cows, should be the aim. More milk per cow and better quality. A good dairy farm is valuable and your children will prize it.

Heartiest Christmas Greetings to all Our Friends and Patrons

THE KEWASKUM CREAMERY

Wm. B. Wells, Proprietor

Heartiest Christmas Greetings to all my Friends and Patrons

JOHN MARX

KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN

THE PROOF of the Pudding

is in the eating. The proof that we are the finest printers in this section is in the finished product.

Just give us a chance on your next job of printing and you will be astonished at the fine, artistic results.

Our estimates are extremely low—our deliveries prompt. We are well equipped to print anything from an admission ticket, or handbill, to a book or newspaper.

Let us take care of your printing problems—we can save you time and money.

HARBECK & SCHAEFER

QUALITY PRINTERS
Kewaskum, Wis. Wisconsin

A Very Cheerful and Happy Christmas to All is the Wish of the Kewaskum Hardware & Electric Company

KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN

LAKE FIFTEEN

Walter Nieman of Sheboygan spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wunder.

Miss Mildred Bossma and Miss Emma Lavrenz spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Elizabeth Weasler.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Butzke and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Moritz Weasler and family.

Clarence Butzke was surprised by his friends Sunday evening, it being his 20th birthday. The evening was spent in playing games, and at 11:30 lunch was served, after which the guests departed wishing Clarence many more happy birthdays.

Subscribe for the Kewaskum Statesman and get all of the news of your community.

COUNTY LINE

A Merry Christmas to all. Mr. and Mrs. Steve Klein and daughter Viola spent last Thursday at Fond du Lac.

Mrs. Steve Klein and son Sylvester spent last Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Mertes.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Peters and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Steve Ketter and family.

Harvey and Eleanor Hammen visited Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Klein and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hinn and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Moritz Weasler and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schultz and daughter Edna spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. John Gatzke and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Janz and family of West Bend, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Mertes spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Steve Klein and family.

A few relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schultz, in honor of their daughter's birthday anniversary, Saturday evening.

RIVER VALLEY

John, Joe and Harold Uelman spent Tuesday evening with Herman and Otto Fick.

Peter and Walter Hahn and Russell Calhoun spent Friday evening with Harold Uelman.

Otto Fick spent a few days of last week with his sister, Mrs. Mary Brockhaus at New Fane.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Diekmann visited Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Treiber and family.

Leona Boegel and friend of St. Kilian spent Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ketter and family.

Frank Banholzer of Campbellsport, Joseph and Jerome Hahn and Harold Uelman spent Sunday evening at Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jaeger and family of Ashford, Herman Fick and Anton Bruerger spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Uelman and Joe Uelman.

EAST VALLEY

William Hammes of Milwaukee visited the week-end at his home here.

Elroy Pesch and Joe Hammes were business callers at Milwaukee Tuesday.

William and Joe Hammes and Elroy Pesch were business callers at Kewaskum Friday evening.

Elroy Pesch and William and Joe Hammes spent Saturday evening at the John Roden home at St. Michaels.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Raven and son Leonard of Edgar, Wis., spent a few days with relatives and friends here.

Mrs. William Pesch, son Elroy and daughters Cecelia and Lorraine spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Gulden at Lomira.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Hammes, sons William and Joe and Elroy Pesch were business callers at Kewaskum Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Nic Hammes and Geo. Young of Waleston, Mont., spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Adam Roden at St. Michaels. They remained there for a few days' visit.

Peter Berres, sons Henry and Joe of West Bend and George Young of Waleston, Mont., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Nic Hammes and family. The latter remaining for a few days' visit.

THIEVES LOOT AUTOS PARKED IN FRONT OF CHURCH

While members of the Holy Name Society were listening to an address by Rev. Father Donaghey, editor of the Catholic Herald, at St. Francis Hall Sunday evening, thieves looted their automobiles parked in front of the church, and made a wholesale get-away of auto robes. They stole eight auto robes from as many cars and a man's fur coat. The thefts were committed between eight and nine o'clock and police have no clue to the robbers.—Cedarburg News.

Subscribe for the Statesman and get the news of your home community.

DUNDEE

Mr. and Mrs. John Krueger were Fond du Lac visitors Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gilboy and daughter Romona spent Friday at Kewaskum.

Miss Mabel Dallegue, who is attending high school at Campbellsport spent the week-end at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hintz and son Allen spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. John Furlong near Plymouth.

Dr. O. F. Guenther of Campbellsport was a professional caller in our village several days the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Math. Schuh and family and Paul Martin of Milwaukee spent Saturday and Sunday at Long Lake.

Miss Betty Mulvey of Cascade visited Sunday with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Habeck and family of Fond du Lac spent Sunday with Mrs. Habeck's mother, Mrs. Lydia Hennings.

Charles Corbett and daughters Anna and Frances of Random Lake, visited Sunday with the former's daughter, Mrs. Gertrude White and family.

Messrs William, Robert and Henry Quitzow, Albert Ott, Harold Wood, William Hawk and Edgar Bergman of Wauwatosa spent Sunday with the C. W. Baetz family.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wittkopf of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Engelmann and daughter Carol Jean of West Bend spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Falk.

Mrs. Fred Heider, sons Harry and Herbert, Mrs. Frank Kutz, daughter Amanda and son Wilbur of Round Lake were Wednesday evening visitors at the Herman Molkenhine home at New Prospect.

The pupils of our village school and the teacher Miss May Murphy are busy preparing a Christmas program which will be held at the school Friday evening, December 20th. A cake sale will also be held.

Rev. Gerhard Knies of Kewaskum is here every Tuesday and Saturday, giving Catechism instructions to the children of the Lutheran congregation and is also preparing a Christmas program which will be held Wednesday evening, December 25th.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mulvey of Cascade and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Mulvey of near Beechwood visited Sunday morning with the former's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown, while enroute to Eldorado to visit the former's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mosroe and family.

There were no services at the Lutheran church here Sunday evening as the pastor and congregation were invited to the Lutheran church in Town Scott where the dedication of the new pipe organ took place. The following from here attended: Mr. and Mrs. Marion Tuttle, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dins, Mr. and Mrs. Albt. Koepke and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Falk, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Brawandt, Mrs. Robert Schellhaus, Mrs. Emelia Krueger and son August, Mrs. Charles Schultz and son Elton, Mrs. Oscar Hintz, Mrs. Lester Engelmann, Eva Bartelt, Phyllis Baetz, Lula Koepke, Johanna Schellhaus, Willard and Orlando Bartelt.

ST. KILIAN

Mr. and Mrs. George Peter are the parents of a baby boy. Congratulations.

Mrs. George German and children were called to Oshkosh Monday by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Snyder.

The card party held in the school building Sunday evening was well attended. Honors were awarded to the following: Schafskopf—John Felix Sr., Art. Weiland, Mrs. Joe P. Schmitt, Mrs. Kilian Reindl 500—Joe Kern, Joe J. Schmitt, Mrs. Joe Kern, Mrs. Regina Kleinhaus. The door prize was awarded to Kilian Ruplinger. The doll was won by Arnold Ammerling. The proceeds will go toward the school fund.

Relatives received word of the death of Mrs. Edward German, which occurred at Milwaukee Monday evening. Mrs. German, prior to her marriage was Mary Kahut of Ashford. Her husband died four years ago. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Ray Wagner and one grand child of Milwaukee. Services were held Friday morning from St. Elizabeth's Church at Milwaukee. The body was brought to Ashford for interment.

ST. MICHAELS

A Merry Christmas to all. Schools closed on Friday for a two weeks' Christmas vacation.

John Schultz and Frank Rose autoed to Fond du Lac Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Geier left Tuesday morning for California for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Peters and family spent Sunday with the Steve Ketter family.

William and Joe Hammes, Elroy Pesch and John Schultz spent Saturday evening with John Roden.

Mrs. Peter Schiltz returned to her home Saturday evening after spending the week at the John Roden home.

Peter Berres and son Joe of West Bend spent Sunday afternoon at the A. Roden home, they were accompanied by George Jung, who will spend the week with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Nic Hammes and Geo. Jung of Montana, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hintz and Mrs. William Radner of Milwaukee and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rose spent Saturday evening at the A. Roden home.

FOUR CORNERS

Mrs. August Lade had a goose picking bee Thursday.

Mrs. Mary Furlong had a wood chopping bee Tuesday.

Mrs. Henry Ketter had a goose picking bee Wednesday.

Miss Helen Berres spent Sunday with friends at Campbellsport.

Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Koch were callers at the Roy Ours home Sunday evening.

Miss Ruth Ours spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. William Koch and family last week.

Walter Buettner of Milwaukee visited Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buettner.

Mr. and Mrs. William Klabuhn Jr., spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. John Oppermann and family.

Mr. and Mrs. William Klabuhn Jr., and Elton Schultz were Fond du Lac callers one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Butzke, Louis Butzke and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ketyl were Fond du Lac callers Saturday.

Mrs. M. Weasler and daughter spent Tuesday with Mrs. Weasler's mother, Mrs. Julia Miller, it being her 74th birthday.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Weasler was the scene of a joyous surprise party when friends and relatives gathered there to help in celebrating their daughter Elizabeth's 18th birthday, as well as that of Elton Ketter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ketter, he being seven years old. The afternoon and evening were spent in playing cards and other games. Both Miss Weasler and Elton Ketter received many beautiful and useful gifts. Supper was served at five o'clock by Mrs. Weasler and Mrs. Peter Ketter. Those from away who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. George Schneider and daughters and Anton Schick of Milwaukee.

CHEESE MARKET

Plymouth, Wis., Dec. 13.—On the Farmers' Call Board today, 580 boxes of cheese were offered for sale and all sold as follows: 415 cases longhorns at 20% c, 135 cases of square prints at 21c, and 30 daisies at 20% c.

Subscribe for the Statesman and get the news of your home community.

Waucoasta

Ed. Johnson of Osecola was a caller here Monday.

George Nelson of Milwaukee called on friends here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Burnett were Fond du Lac callers Monday.

John and Arthur Buslaff of Fond du Lac were callers here Sunday.

Clarence Vetch of Campbellsport called on friends here Monday.

G. W. Armstrong of Fond du Lac was a business caller here Tuesday.

Miss Florence Buslaff is spending the week with relatives at Milwaukee.

Henry Haut and son Frank of Milwaukee visited relatives here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jewson of near Campbellsport were callers here Tuesday.

Rolland Romaine and George Rasseke of Fond du Lac were callers here Sunday.

Miss Mamie Ringhand of Beaver Dam is assisting her father in the grocery store during the holidays.

Thermometer and Fan

The bureau of standards says that, as a rule, air from an electric fan blowing on a thermometer will have no essential effect on the mercury if a very sensitive thermometer is placed in front of a fan, it may, however, cause a slight rise in temperature inasmuch as the air which passes by the motor becomes slightly heated.

Winning Success

Success is never born of a day. It is the result of a process so gradual that it comes as a matter of surprise to those who achieve it. Those who reach the goal get there because their immediate concern is the task at hand.—Gret.

We extend our Christmas Greetings both to the friends we have and to the friends we shall yet meet. May all things go well with you this Yuletide, and good cheer to each and every one!

H. J. LAY LUMBER CO.

Kewaskum, Wis

We say "Merry Christmas" to you with a promise to keep up our high standards of service and courtesy, and to strive to please our friends and patrons at all times.

CLEM REINDERS

Kewaskum, Wis.

A Merry Christmas to Everybody

KEWASKUM ROOFING CO.

P. J. HAUG, Manager
Kewaskum, Wisconsin

Get Your Tire From

HONECK BROS.

SERVICE STATION
Kewaskum, Wisconsin

We Meet or Beat all Prices of Mail Order House Fire Stores. Drop in and let us explain the various types or kinds. Price our tires first.

We Handle Goodyear and Hood Makes

MATH. SCHLAEFER
OPTOMETRIST
Eyes Tested and Glasses Fitted
Campbellsport, Wisconsin

PARK AT WIDMEYER PARKING, FILLING AND GREASING STATION
124-125 Spruells St. MILWAUKEE, WIS.

CASH FOR YOUR LIVE STOCK
Highest Market Prices Day of Arrival
Have your truckman bring them to us or come in yourself
BOOTH BROTHERS
MILWAUKEE STOCK YARD

Subscribe for the Kewaskum Statesman and get all of the news of your community.

Subscribe for the Statesman now.