

Wisconsin News Briefly Told

Menasha—A freak Guernsey calf, a month old and healthy, is drawing curiosity seekers to the farm of Peter Laux, Route 1. The calf has long front feet and short back legs, giving it the appearance of a giraffe.

Ladysmith—The Chippewa Falls Silver Fox Co. shipped 233 silver fox pelts to New York markets where they will bring about $25,000 on the market. The shipment represents the year's production of the ranch.

Nellville—Clark county wolf hunters have collected several bounties in the last two weeks, the heavy snows having forced the wolves into the open, several of them having braved farmyard dangers in search of food. The bounty is $30 each and the pelts bring from $10 to $20.

Curtiss—Members of the Curtiss Holstein club, in an effort to reduce the surplus of dairy products, have adopted a resolution pledging themselves to consume at least two pounds of cheese per person per month and as much more as we can sensibly dispose of. The pledge was signed by every member.

Westby—Vernon county farmers have been busy the past few days marketing their tobacco crops. About 750,000 pounds have been received. The crop this season was a little below the average yield, being about 1,250 pounds an acre. Figures for the entire state were 45,500,000 pounds against 48,000,000 for 1928.

Milwaukee—Federal prohibition cases in which Agents Ben G. Finke and Henry M. Strawn were to be the practical witnesses probably will not be prosecuted, it was indicated here when two such cases were dismissed by the U. S. district attorney. Finke and Strawn are both awaiting sentences under conviction of accepting bribes for the protection of bootlegging interests.

Etrick—A $14,000,000 business here pays an office rental of $3 a year. The rental was reported at the annual meeting of the Etrick Scandinavian Mutual Fire Insurance Co., a farmers' organization, formed 52 years ago. The rent bill was for the hall in which the meeting was held. More than $5,000,000 worth of insurance was written last year. The losses paid amounted to $18,123.84. All of the officers are farmers.

Appleton—There are not enough dress suits in Appleton to make the affair 100 per cent formal so the scheduled first promenade at Lawrence college has been called off. It would be necessary, it was learned by the committee making the arrangements, to have 700 couples present in order to make the dance a financial success, but there are not that many tuxedos in this entire section of Wisconsin so there will not be any party.

Lancaster—Albert Brinkman, who operates a dairy and poultry farm near here, has a flock of 220 White Leghorn hens that made a record egg production during December. Records kept during the 30-day period show that the 220 hens laid 5,158 eggs—or 172 eggs per day, 78 per cent of the hens laying every day. During this period the 220 hens were fed 1,035 pounds of mash at $65 per ton and 20 pounds of cracked corn per day, at $1 per bushel, making a total feed bill for the 30 days about $45. The eggs sold for $223.

Madison—Wisconsin inheritance taxes during 1929 amounted to slightly over $3,000,000, according to George D. Spohn, in charge of the inheritance tax division of the state tax commission. The calendar year of 1928 saw a collection of slightly over $2,000,000. While these figures are for the calendar year, the state operates on the fiscal year basis. The inheritance taxes during the fiscal year ending in 1929 amounted to $2,796,165.63. Of this amount, $157,526.44 was contributed on the estates of non-residents of Wisconsin. The tax during the last two quarters of 1929 amounted to $1,300,000.

Madison—More than 7,000 of the 49,877 cows on test in Wisconsin during December produced more than 40 pounds of butter fat, says the report of A. J. Cramer and T. T. Harris of the Wisconsin Dairy Herd Improvement association. The average for all cows was 22.1 pounds. Edward Danielson, a member of the Bayfield Peninsula association, had the high herd. His seven Holstein and Guernsey cows averaged 1,387 pounds of milk and 64.6 pounds of fat. Danna County No. 1 association had the most 40-pound cows, reporting 176, and had the highest average production of any association in the state, 31.6 pounds.

Superior—The Rev. J. A. Williams, Glenwood City, was re-elected chairman of the Chippewa valley conference, the north Wisconsin district of the Missouri Synod of Lutheran churches. Chippewa Falls was selected as the 1931 convention city.

Beloit—Southern Wisconsin dairymen have taken up a militant campaign against farmers who use butter substitutes. Use of the substitutes, it is claimed, has lessened the consumption of butter and aided in creating the present surplus.

Sheboygan—Two civic organizations in Sheboygan have voted to oppose the chain store movement. The Sheboygan Business Men's association and the South and West Side Advancement association voted to arouse public interest against chain stores and to foster legislation to curb their growth.

Keweenaw—The Keweenaw county board, in a special session here, voted in favor of snow removal, to start at once throughout the county. At the regular session in November the same board had voted against snow removal.

Beloit—Strict enforcement of the prohibition act, even to the extent of searching automobiles without a warrant, is sought in an ordinance passed by the city manager government here.

Ripon—The First National bank and American National bank of Ripon have been merged. The two institutions, among the oldest in central Wisconsin, have resources of more than $3,000,000.

Kenosha—The last man arrested by a member of the sheriff's department here hanged himself in jail last Dec. 14. Sheriff Stephen Robison said in remarking that no arrests had been made for more than a month.

Madison—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York has been invited by President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin to deliver a series of four lectures on the subject of "Practical Politics" here next spring.

Tomah—The annual report of the Tomah Co-operative Butter association shows that during the year patrons received $585,000. The plant manufactured 578,416 pounds of butter, which brought an average of 43.5 cents on the Chicago market.

Milwaukee—Since the rabies quarantine was established in Milwaukee county last June, 973 persons have been bitten by dogs. It was shown in records kept by the city health department. Of these, 45 were bitten by dogs that could not be found and three were bitten by dogs which were later identified as being rabid.

Madison—In 1929 more than 800 new members joined the Northern Wisconsin Co-operative Tobacco pool, according to the official pool bulletin. Sheboygan—The Rev. Francis C. Pichery, 62, former chaplain at the state prison at Waupun and pastor of St. Peter Claver Roman Catholic church here since 1922, is dead. Rev. Fr. Pichery was born in Beaver Dam in 1867 and was ordained in Milwaukee in 1895. He served as pastor of churches at Milwaukee, Sausville, LeRoy, Waupun, Saukville and Sheboygan.

Kenosha—Because the single standard hasn't reached all crannies of Kenosha's enforcement statutes, Mrs. Angelina Magnoia was freed from a charge that she drove her car over a fire hose near a fire. A statute of 1882 was unenforced by her attorneys and secured her freedom. It reads: "No female shall be arrested in any action for a willful injury to person, character or property."

Madison—Ten light trucks, which will be equipped with pumps and other implements, have been sent to the northern part of the state where they will be put in service against forest fires later, the conservation commission announced. Five of the trucks went to Rhinelander and the others to other stations where, fully equipped, they will be ready to start at a moment's notice to a fire anywhere in the district.

Madison—A new high yielding variety of rye characterized by uniform light colored kernel has been developed by B. D. Leith of the agronomy staff of the University of Wisconsin and has been released to a few co-operating farmers in the important rye producing areas of the state. It is expected that seed from these increase fields will be available for dissemination this year. The new variety goes under the title pedigree 5.

Parrish—Oil well drilling operations in LaGrange county have been started when ground was broken for well No. 1 of the Wisconsin Oil and Development company about three miles north of here. Should oil be discovered here, it will probably be struck at 1,900 feet, but if the drillers are unsuccessful at that depth they will continue operations. Other sites in the neighborhood have been selected for wells should the present position prove a failure.

16 KILLED WHEN BIG AIR LINER CRASHES

Eight Women Among Victims in California Smash.

San Diego, Calif.—Flaming death rode out of the skies and took a toll of sixteen lives in the tragic and spectacular crash and explosion of a trimotored TAT-Maddux passenger plane near here. Eight of the victims were women.

Fourteen passengers, several of them prominent in Los Angeles, the pilot and an assistant, were aboard the huge air liner when it crashed about ten miles from here on its way to Los Angeles. All were dead—crushed and burned—when the first witnesses reached the blazing funeral pyre twenty minutes after the crash. The plane, one of the latest all-metal Ford ships to ply the Transcontinental Air Transport-Maddux airways, had taken off from Agua Caliente (Mexico) race track. It sailed majestically up from the resort with a happy group of passengers and its port and starboard lights gleaming at the wing tips.

An hour later, the great metal ship of the air was a twisted, seething inferno of death in a muddy field on the Santa Margherita ranch, between Oceanstate and San Clemente.

Lieut. Virgil Vestbrook, an army flier at Rockwell field, one of the first to reach the scene, said that three bodies were hurled out of the machine when it struck the ground.

The remaining thirteen bodies were planned in the flaming cabin. A list of passengers given out by the company later, showed the following names:

Edward J. Small, Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Miller, San Francisco. W. W. Paden, Los Angeles. Doris Cantillo, Los Angeles. Ada M. Clover, Los Angeles. Frances Jameson, Pasadena, Calif. Elizabeth Squibb, Pasadena, Calif. Charles Rabold, Fairhope, Ala. Hannah Colleston, Fairhope, Ala. Mr. and Mrs. Cedric Brown, Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bowen, addresses unknown. Basil Russell, pilot. Freddie Russell, pilot's mate.

Crash of the air liner with its sixteen dead was the second major plane disaster of the new year at Los Angeles. On January 3 two planes engaged in making motion pictures crashed together over the ocean off Redondo beach and ten were killed. Bodies of five in this disaster were not recovered from the ocean.

Palm Beach, Fla.—Three men were killed and two probably fatally injured as a cabin monoplane dived into Lake Worth here. The dead:

William Lindley, pilot, Daytona Beach. Arthur Umps, mechanic, Daytona Beach. Ed Lipsky, believed to be a mechanic, Daytona Beach. The injured: Ed S. Butler, Miami. Elber Stossell, West Palm Beach. The cause of the crash was not determined. Witnesses said the plane evidently was trying to land on the lake and fell from a height of about 500 feet.

The plane was owned by the Florida Airways company at Daytona Beach and had been equipped with pontoons for water landings. The party was believed to have been en route from West End in the Bahamas to Daytona Beach.

Michigan "Life-for-Pint" Law Eased by Governor

Lansing, Mich.—The Michigan habitual criminal act known as the "life-for-a-pint" law because of the sentencing of prohibition violators to life terms in prison upon a fourth conviction, became a deadletter when Governor Green commuted the sentence of five prisoners to conform to the new amendment to the state criminal code. The governor's act reduced the terms of Frank Baker, Mrs. Etta Mae Miller, Alonzo Boyes, Fred Palm and Tony Popish, to seven and one-half years. The governor said he did not believe the framers of the habitual act would have intended to provide life sentences for prohibition violators.

NAVAL REDUCTION IS BEING CONSIDERED

Five-Power Conference Opens With Favorable Prospects.

London.—Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state and chairman of the American delegation to the five-power naval limitation conference which is in session here, declared following a conference with Premier Andre Tardieu of France that he had never been and is not worried that France would consider the parity merely as a preliminary to a general disarmament conference under League of Nations auspices.

Mr. Stimson's statement, although made in answer to an inquiry, was so prompt as to indicate that he had received definite reassurance that France would refuse to sign a separate naval treaty if the five nations should come to an agreement.

The American secretary of state announced that he and the Italian delegation, in a candid talk, had found themselves in close harmony as to general objective and procedure and that both had pledged to seek to limit all classes of warships to the end that suspicion, rivalry and irritation might be eliminated.

Mr. Stimson's meetings with the representatives of these two powers was accompanied by one or more of the other American delegates. Including the American-Japanese talks at Washington in December, they completed Mr. Stimson's preconference conversations with the delegates of all other powers.

The Franco-American discussion, in which Dwight W. Morrow, American ambassador to Mexico; Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, and Aime Joseph de Fleury, French ambassador to Great Britain, participated, was briefer than the others, as was the American oral statement about it. A possible explanation of this was seen in the subsequent unofficial French information as to serious differences between the American and French points of view.

It was understood from French sources that the differences include American objection to a plan whereby the minor naval powers, such as France, could transfer to auxiliary categories some of their authorized but unbuilt capital ship tonnage. France and Italy, concentrating on cruisers and submarines, have not built up to their Washington treaty battleship quotas.

France is supposed to have held that such a concession ought to be allowed to those powers wanting only defensive craft, the battleship being rated as an offensive weapon. The American objection is attributed to the view that cruisers and submarines would be used in war to destroy commerce.

The American report of the interview with the French carried no hint of any differences except in its brevity. Mr. Stimson said that the French general attitude was encouraging and that the conferees had found themselves agreed on the general objectives, procedure and some of the more general topics.

2,000,000 China's Famine Toll; 2,000,000 Doomed

SUGAR BOUNTY PLAN DEFEATED IN SENATE

Smoot to Urge Higher Rate on Cuban Product.

Washington.—The senate rejected the sugar bounty of 44-100 of a cent a pound, proposed by Senator Howell (Rep.) Nebraska, to be granted to domestic growers and refiners.

Previously the senate, by a combination of Democrats and insurgent Republicans, not including Howell, voted to maintain the present tariff rate of 1.76 cents a pound on Cuban imported sugar. Howell then offered a proposal for a bounty of about 90 per cent to growers and 10 per cent to refiners, to be paid through the sale of customs warrants, which would be acceptable in payment of customs duties.

Another development of the sugar controversy was the action of Senator Smoot, Republican, chairman of the finance committee, in serving notice on the senate that later he would offer an amendment to the tariff bill to increase the rate on Cuban sugar to 2 cents a pound. This figure would be suggested as a compromise between the existing rate of 1.76 cents a pound and the 2.40 cents a pound in the house bill.

As the situation now is, the house and senate stand divided, apparently as far apart as they were over the export debenture proposal which was killed in conference by house opposition.

The senate showed no particular liking for the Howell bounty proposal, however, although its author asserted it would cost the treasury no more than $10,000,000.

The vote was 53 to 22 against the bounty. Sixteen Republicans, five Democrats and Senator Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota, voted for the proposal.

Senator Smoot in announcing that he later would introduce an amendment to make the sugar rate 2 cents, declared that after the action of the senate, a test to the senate was drunk in the Cuban embassy. Senator Norris (Rep.) Nebraska, answered Smoot by saying that the toast in reality must have been drunk to the consumers, who, by the senate action, were relieved of an additional burden of $5,000,000.

An amendment to raise the duty on backstrap molasses was defeated, 22 to 54. Senator Stack (Dem.), Iowa, offered the amendment to increase the duty on molasses used in distillation from one-sixth of a cent per gallon as in the present law and as retained in the house bill and the finance committee bill to eight cents per gallon.

Dairy Farmers Warned by the Federal Board

Washington.—Warning that an overproduction of dairy products exists, the federal farm board's dairy advisory commodity committee urged farmers to cut down production, slaughter less profitable cows, and to beware of promotional schemes for further construction of physical facilities.

"We recommend the sale for slaughter of all low-producing and unprofitable cows from the herd," the bulletin said. "The price of production and farmers are themselves partly responsible because of their failure to use their own products in their homes."

"The experience of past years discloses that farmers have been victimized by schemes to construct and equip packing plants, creameries and various kinds of factories for processing their products, under conditions that did not reflect sound business judgment."

On the Funny Side

MOTHER OF INVENTION

The great silver cigar of the R-101 was drifting lazily over the interested, upturned faces of a great crowd. Said one spectator:

"Can you tell me what relation a loaf of bread is to that airship?" "What nonsense!" replied another onlooker. "There can be no relationship."

"Oh, yes there is!" said the first speaker. "A loaf of bread is a necessity and the airship an invention. And everybody knows that necessity is the mother of invention."

Feen-a-mint FOR CONSTIPATION

A Sign Judge Thomas F. Graham, San Francisco's "great reconciler"—he has reconciled hundreds of parted couples—said in an argument about marriage:

"The young are too cynical about marriage. A girl of seventeen or so asked a grass widow of twenty-seven: "When a good man makes love to you, is it always a sign that he wants to marry you?"

"Yes, darling," laughed the grass widow, "and when he stops making love to you it is always a sign that the marriage has taken place."

Deserted Leniency In traffic court at Fort Worth, Texas, an elderly woman who had a "ticket" bestowed on her for failing to observe a boulevard stop sign, told the judge that the city street department's activities in the vicinity of her street had made the thoroughfare so bumpy that her glasses were shaken off and she could not see the "Stop" sign.

Plan Now For a New and Bigger Year

THIS WINTER. A new year lies ahead. Snow glistens like the blanket on the fields, and underneath lie the secrets of the most summer's harvests. In the spring, Nature will wake the life in the soil, but man will direct it. Nature's methods will be as they have been for ages, but man will harness them with methods that are ever newer, ever better.

With the wizardry of agriculture he is always improving the things he has done in America. He goes on compounding science and knowledge, motive power and mechanical equipment, managing his farm-factory with greater ease and efficiency. The more he works with his brains, intelligently, the less he toils with his hands. His own muscle power is as good as it was in Adam's time and the hand work of hired hands is very, very costly. He puts the burden onto unfeeling machines—big capacity, fast-working, cost-reducing, profit-making equipment and power. He is abreast with the best of the world and he competes with the world. Vegetables Raised in Family Garden

Each Crop Should Be Planted According to Its Climatic Needs.

Timeliness, or planting the garden according to its season, is one of the very satisfactory ways of having a good garden.

"This means planting each crop according to its climatic requirements," says E. B. Morrow, extension horticulturist at State college. "Such crops as English peas, radishes, spinach, and lettuce require cool weather for their best development. Don't make the mistake of planting head lettuce so late that the plants will go to seed instead of producing heads.

Lettuce Wants Food.
"Lettuce also likes plenty of plant food, and if heads are wanted, the soil must be rich. Side dress the crop with readily available nitrogen, such as nitrate of soda, as soon as the plants have become established. This is also a good practice for early cabbage and most of the other leafy vegetables."

Those who have never grown carrots should make a small planting this year, says Mr. Morrow. The seed are planted at the same time as the beets and the Chantenay variety is well suited to Carolina conditions. The Long Season is probably one of the best varieties of beets. It remains sweet and tender over a long period and is primarily a home garden type.

Ventilation Important.
Ventilating the hot bed on the bright sunny days is important. Mr. Morrow says that where the hot bed has only poor ventilation, the plants will likely damp off at the ground level or tall leggy plants will be produced. Vigorous, stocky plants are best for setting. Where the tomato plants have begun to crowd in the hot bed, transfer them to the cold frame. Set them four inches apart and keep the frame covered at night and on cold days.

Early and thorough preparation of the soil also means much in getting the cantaloupes and watermelons off to a good start. Both of these crops respond to heavy applications of stable manure. Three or four tons of manure per acre and a handful of superphosphate to each hill will give good results, says Mr. Morrow.

Soys Should Fill Mows With Good Protein Hay

Many farmers are turning to the favorite of the Orient—the soy bean crop—to help them in cutting their 1930 feed bill.

"Yields of from one to four tons per acre of soy bean hay, worth 90 per cent as much as alfalfa, save many farmer's pocketbook from expenditures for protein feeds," says George M. Briggs, one of the agronomists at the college of agriculture of the state university.

When hay crops fail, a full hay mow can be had by using soy beans as an emergency hay crop. The soys can be planted as late as July 1, alone or in combination with corn. The crop

MILK CONSUMPTION INCREASES WITH TUBERCULOSIS DECLINE

Accompanied Campaign to Eradicate Disease.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A gradual increase in milk consumption in the United States in recent years has accompanied the campaign to eradicate bovine tuberculosis. The estimated increase has amounted to more than 50 quarts per capita since 1920, when the campaign was well under way. This interesting sidelight on tuberculosis eradication is seen in a chart prepared by the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture.

In the work of eradicating the disease, approximately 70 per cent of all cattle tuberculin tested have been dairy cows and helpers over two years old. Dr. A. E. Wight, who has charge of tuberculosis eradication in the bureau of animal industry, explains that in the four-year period 1920 to 1924 only 5,000,000 cows and helpers over two years old of about 23,000,000 in the country had been tuberculin tested. By 1928 the number tested had reached 10,000,000, while to date the number has exceeded 16,000,000.

"The increase in the estimated per capita consumption of milk indicates," Dr. Wight believes, "that the public's taste for milk has no wise been diminished by this extensive co-operation to suppress tuberculosis among cattle. Any influence that the tuberculin testing work may have had is favorable rather than repressive, according to the chart. However, a large number of factors other than the health of cattle undoubtedly have been responsible for the increased use of milk."

Agricultural Notes

Feed sugar syrup to bees that are short of food. Help the bees to build up strong colonies before the clover honey flow.

Experience proves that good soil is important in early plant growing. Soil or manure composts provide excellent material for this purpose.

From the standpoint of feed production, the pasture is commonly the most important field on the farm. Don't overlook the permanent pasture when applying this winter's manure.

Efficient Repairs Cut Cost of Farm Machinery

In a recent survey of the life and service of farm machinery the Iowa station found that efficient repairing was a big factor in cost reduction. It allowed to go unattended a minor defect grows until the owner is forced to go to considerable expense to repair it, but with annual overhauling, the implement in question will remain in almost perfect condition for many years.

When tools are stored in the fall, there is seldom time to overhaul them immediately, and farmers generally prefer to put them in shape later in the winter when the pressure of other work is not great.

Time for Cutting Timber

Timber now is in prime condition for cutting. When harvested between now and early spring it keeps in good shape longer than at any other time. Markets for timber also improve in winter. Firewood, mine timber, chemical wood, and saw logs are needed.

is adaptable to many kinds of soil. There are many things to be said in favor of soy beans as a substitute for alfalfa and other legumes. They can be grown after a crop of peas or other hay been taken from a field. No special tools are required to handle the crop.

"Some farmers believe soy bean hay is not very good because it is hard to cure and often looks poor," Briggs stated. "but it is often relished far more than what appears to be a better grade of hay."

A strong point for soy beans is that they contain a high percentage of protein which makes it unnecessary to supplement the hay with a large amount of expensive grain supplements.

Destructive Seed Corn Diseases Are Treated

Chemical dust treatments for seed corn, of which there are a number on the market under trade names, have produced net returns at the rate of about 1,000 per cent on the investment, according to Dr. Benjamin Koehler, crop pathologist, University of Illinois. In co-operative tests made by the university and the United States Department of Agriculture, the better of these seed treatments paid the cost of treatment, labor of applying and labor of husking the extra corn and still gave the net return of the investment, on basis of present corn prices.

There are at least five serious and destructive seed corn diseases, and no seed corn is entirely free from all of them, states Koehler. Without seed treatment the stand of corn or weakened plants that do come up, thereby cutting yields.

All of the chemical dust treatments now on the market are applied to the dry, shelled corn at the rate of about two ounces to the bushel of seed. The chief requirement is that mixing of the dust and seed must be so thorough that it cannot be done with a shovel, but must be performed either with a homemade or commercial mixing machine.

Extremely Sharp Plows Not Materially Faster

Tests conducted at the Iowa State college indicate that extreme sharpness of plowshares has very little effect on plow draft in ordinary plowing. In tough sod, however, dull shares do increase draft very much, where the average draft of a 14-inch plow, working 5 inches deep, was 740 pounds, while with the edge dulled to one-eighth inch, but with other conditions the same, the draft was increased to 881 pounds. This is an increase of 19 per cent, due to an increase of 19 per cent, due to dull shares, in alfalfa sod. It was also found that a sharp share helped the plow greatly to penetrate hard ground. Hence, for ordinary spring plowing, only the point need be kept sharp, while for plowing sod or in hard soil, it is important that both point and share be kept sharp.

How A College Athlete Keeps Himself Well

Bob Deming of Colgate, claims that a sensible method of health has really made life a pleasure for him. Mr. Deming writes that at first he could not believe this simple thing was the cause of his buoyant spirits. Finally, however, he had to admit that it was Nujol which was keeping him well, besides giving him, as he says, "five times the vitality."

"Believe me," he says "having free and regular bodily elimination makes all the difference in the world to a diver as well as to any other athlete. I can't afford to be nervous, sluggish, or depressed while diving. It just isn't done! I would like to urge any athlete, whether they think they are in good health or not, to give Nujol a try-out. It certainly can't do any harm, and I'll bet it would make them feel a hundred per cent better. It's worth trying!"

The upsets of Children

All children are subject to little upsets. They come at unexpected times. They seem twice as serious in the dead of night. But there's one form of comfort on which a mother can always rely; good old Castoria. This pure vegetable preparation can't harm the tiniest infant. Yet mild as it is, it soothes a restless, fretful baby like nothing else. Its quick relief soon sees the youngster comfortable once more, back to sleep. Even an attack of colic, or diarrhea, yields to the soothing influence of Castoria. Keep Castoria in the house—keep a bottle in the car. Give a few drops to any child whose tongue is coated, or whose breath is bad. Centocin Castoria until the child is well. Every drugstore has Castoria. The genuine has Chas. H. Fry's signature on the wrapper.

Price Reduction OF SKEL-GAS FUEL

We wish to announce nearly a 1/2 reduction of Skel-Gas fuel. Think what this will mean in reducing operating cost, placing Skel-gas within the reach of all. Now you can have the convenience of gas for cooking and water heating which was only enjoyed by those in large cities. No wood or coal to carry in, no ashes to carry out, no soot, no odor, no generator trouble or liquid oil to pour. Ranges for Skel-gas are made in models and colors to meet your tastes and requirements. Included in the array of models is the fuel-saving insulated oven type. This insulated oven is a great saver of fuel. Some will say that an insulated oven does not save fuel but if this is so, why are all electric ranges, water heaters for gas, oil and electricity, insulated with air cell, asbestos or rock wool. Touch the top of an insulated oven and one without insulation and note the difference, and your own reason will tell you that an insulated oven saves fuel. But the best part is that we install a complete range and operating outfit in your own home for a week and you use it for baking, cooking, broiling, just as if it were your own, and if you are not satisfied, we take the outfit out without any cost to you. We are not asking you to believe any statements, try the outfit and see for yourself what Skel-gas is and what it will do. Come in and let us talk it over and arrange for a free demonstration. Right here in Kewaskum there is a satisfied user near you. Ask them. Prices of Skel-gas is as follows:

88 pound cylinder $ 9.95
100 pound cylinder 11.60

Mr. C. F. Redlich, the successful expert says:

"The 'Perfect Retention Shields' hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief, contract the opening in a remarkably short time and strengthen the weak tissues (the real cause of rupture) so that they frequently recover their previous natural retaining power, needing no further outside support. Stomach trouble, backache and constipation often caused by Rupture promptly disappear. Truly remarkable and prompt results have been obtained not only with recent and not fully developed ruptures but also with old, long neglected ones.

Ingenious, recently perfected devices are now holding ruptures firmly which heretofore never had been retained.

No elastic belts nor filthy legstraps are used.

I guarantee the durability of my absolutely sweat and moisture proof, sanitary appliances.

75% of ruptured children recover completely through expert mechanical treatment according to statistics.

Do not waste your money on widely advertised mail order contraptions. You cannot fit yourself.
