COUNTY BOARD WINDS UP WORK

The Washington county board of supervisors took up the unfinished business of the 1929 session at the court house in West Bend on Tuesday of last week and after a short session adjourned sine die on Thursday afternoon. Among the principal matters proposed and acted upon by the board are the following:

Adopted the annual report of the highway commissioner, showing costs of construction of each project, and the inventory of equipment used by the highway department.

Authorized the construction of the Thompson-Holy Hill road, known as county trunk "P," in Erin, same to be re-located and built along the section line a distance of 1 1/2 miles.

Appropriated $9,000 for the construction of Co. trunk "E," in the towns of Polk and Hartford, and $4,500 for the construction of Co. trunk "G," in the town of Germantown. All road projects for which appropriations were made will be completed this year.

Joined Waukesha county in the purchase of additional 40 acres of land adjoining the Oak sanitarium at Pewaukee, which is operated jointly by the two counties. The additional acreage was acquired to provide an outlet for a new road and a sewerage disposal plant. Washington county's share of the cost was placed at $4,140, and Waukesha's at $7,862.

Appropriated $700 for an electrical refrigerating system at the county home in this city.

Authorized the trustees of asylum and county home to appoint an assistant supervisor of poor to represent the city of Hartford, and the towns of Hartford and Erin.

Appropriated $3,500 to supplement the amount appropriated at the November session to be used by the health committee in conjunction with the county nurse to finance the immunization program for the protection of children against diphtheria.

Passed resolutions of condolence on the death of George Wells, who for several years represented the Fourth ward of Hartford on the board of supervisors.

Adopted county clerk's report, showing receipts of all sources of $852,260.73, and total disbursement of all purposes of $842,852.71 in 1929.—West Bend Pilot.

COUNTY BOARD MAKES ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATION

An important resolution was passed by the County Board at the session closing last Thursday. Due to the fact that the cost of the treatment to do away with diphtheria was interfering with the success of that project, the board made an appropriation of $3500.00 to pay the doctors of the county for their services. The board realized that there may be some misunderstanding as to the value of this measure, but in as much as the expense of the toxin treatment was costing as high as ten dollars per child when given by private physicians, it felt that it was good economy and a good health measure to make it possible for all the children of the county to be treated at one time, so that diphtheria in a large measure, would be driven from the county.

The treatment is very simple. Doctors of the county have been using it for a number of years. The county Medical Association has approved the project. There are no ill-effects. Dr. Philip Kauth treated 150 children at Slinger, and not one of whom was required to stay out of school.

The county board authorized the Health Committee to administer this fund. A meeting of that committee will be held soon. A survey of the county will be made to determine the number of children who will take it, so that the appropriation will be justly divided among the various towns, cities and villages.

WILL ORGANIZE FRUIT GROWERS ORGANIZATION

The officers of the Orchard Spray Rings operating in Washington county met at the Agricultural Agents office Saturday, January 25 to draw up plans for the organization of a county association of fruit growers. This committee, which had been selected at a previous gathering, approved plans for a county wide organization of fruit growers for the purpose of co-operatively purchasing spray materials, trees and other orchard supplies, to advertise at exhibitions, to conduct demonstrations and other educational activities and to help in the solution of marketing problems. Membership is open to spray ring members and other groups and individuals interested in fruit growing.

FORTY-EIGHT ANIMALS BURNED

Forty-eight head of stock were burned to death in a fire which destroyed a large barn on the farm of Ferdinand Jech, late last Thursday night. Arthur Wilson, a neighbor, noticed the fire at 11 p. m., and a general alarm was spread throughout the countryside. The animals burned to death were 39 head of cattle, six calves and three horses. The loss was estimated at $5,000 to $10,000. The barn was a 34 by 100 foot structure. It was wired for electric lights and defective wiring was given as one of the possible causes of the conflagration, however, there was nothing to indicate what the cause might have been.

DOUBLE-HEADER BASKET BALL SUNDAY

A double-header in basket ball will be played at the High School gymnasium, tomorrow, Sunday afternoon, when the newly organized Kewaskum Merchants basket ball team will play their first game of the season with Sheboygan Falls. Kewaskum has a strong lineup with Ralph Kohn at center, C. Miller, Ray Perschbacher and R. Zeimet, guards and A. Miller and H. Ramthun forwards. The second game will be played between Amity team of West Bend and Watertown Main Cafe Jr's. The Amity team journeyed to Watertown last Tuesday evening and were defeated by that team by a close score, a good game can therefore also be looked forward to by these two teams. The first game starts at 2:15 o'clock and the second game at 3:15.

INSTITUTE OF MUSIC WELL ATTENDED

The Institute of Music held at West Bend last Friday and Saturday, was well attended and proved a success. On Friday over 90 percent of rural elementary teachers of Washington county were present. On Saturday, however, the attendance was not so large, due to bad weather conditions. The institute was conducted by Prof. B. E. Gordon, who is a nationally known man in the field of music teaching. He was assisted by Margaret L. Keller, the new supervising teacher. The purpose of the meeting was to continue the work of training teachers to teach music, and the results obtained thereof if the proper methods are used.

FIRE DESTROYS SCHOOL IN EDEN

The Hayes district school, in the town of Eden was destroyed by fire at 7:30 a. m. last Tuesday, causing a heavy loss to the school district, partially covered by insurance. The fire is reported to have started from the stove as neighbors who arrived at the scene soon after the blaze was discovered found the stove tipped over. Miss Anna Flaherty, teacher, left the building Monday night after banking the fire, as was her custom. None of the contents could be saved. A piano, library and other equipment were consumed. Arrangements are being made to open school in temporary quarters. 14 pupils are enrolled in the school.

SLINGER DEFEATS WEST BEND

In the second game of a series of three games to be played for the Washington county basket ball championship, the Slinger A. C. team easily defeated the West Bend City team by a score of 23 to 49, at Slinger last Sunday afternoon. As predicted in our last week's issue, when we stated that West Bend had to play gilt-edged ball in order to win, came true. Though West Bend did not play with their regular lineup, it is a question whether they would have won had they met that team in full strength, for the Slinger boys surely are well acquainted with their basket ball court and any open chance for the basket meant two points for them. The game was a one-sided affair from start to finish, even though the "Benders" started the scoring by making two field goals in the first few minutes of play, Slinger came back strong, the first half ending 4 to 20 with Slinger in the lead.

Hartford Also In The Running
The Hartford Eagles basket ball team, now also lays claim for supremacy, after having lost and won one game to Slinger. After challenging West Bend, in the Hartford Times that team has agreed to play Hartford, the first game to take place at West Bend next Monday evening.

The challenge as printed in the Hartford Times, in part reads as follows:

"By the looks of things West Bend and Slinger seem to monopolize the county basketball championship, especially the former who have so far been holding out on a game between themselves and the Hartford Eagles for no other reason than that they think the Eagles would not be a strong enough drawing attraction on account of the game the Eagles lost to Slinger on Dec. 22 by a score of 30 to 21. Maybe now that things were evened up in the Eagles-Slinger game of Jan. 18 when these two teams battled to a 52 to 40 score in an overtime game West Bend will come down to earth. The writer of this article is willing to admit that both Slinger and West Bend have good teams and we also admit we also have a good team in the 'Eagles Five.' There is no team so good that it can't be beaten, and why not West Bend?"

CAUGHT UNDER SLIDING COAL

Herman Wolf, Richfield, general merchant and coal dealer, is at St. Joseph's hospital for injuries received last Friday while unloading a carload of coal. The coal became stuck and Mr. Wolf got down under the car, which was of the gondola type, in which the bottom drops, letting the coal down. When he poked the coal with a pick, the contents of the car began to slide down upon him, standing in a doubled up position underneath. His back and chest were injured, and an X-ray revealed the fact that his entire left lung was black with coal dust. He will be obliged to remain at St. Joseph's hospital for several weeks in order that a slight break to the hip bone, one of the injuries suffered, may heal. Mr. Wolf is a young man 25 years of age, who is engaged in business with his father, the leading merchant of Richfield. He is married.—Hartford Times.

RACKOW JURY DISMISSED

The second jury to either convict or acquit, Arthur Rackow, charged with poisoning his wife last May, failed to agree, and consequently was dismissed at Fond du Lac last Saturday evening.

A third trial of the case may be held in the circuit court at Fond du Lac in May. The state cannot take the case out of the county without the consent of the defendant. Rackow may, however secure a change of venue upon the showing of affidavits tending to prove that a third trial in the county would prove prejudicial.

POSTOFFICE DEPT. MAKES A RULING

The United States Postoffice Department has passed a ruling forbidding rural free delivery patrons to erect their mail boxes on other standards than a post, which should be painted white. Within the past few years farmers have often used some figure, as for example a life-sized likeness of Uncle Sam or of some animal. To use such standards is now forbidden.

MANY 4-H CLUBS ALREADY FORMED

A total of 106 boys and girls have already joined the 4-H clubs of Fond du Lac county for the coming year's work. The 4-H club work is carried on by local leaders with the assistance of S. P. Murat, County Agent. Any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 20 years can enroll in some project pertaining to farming and home-making. The two most popular projects last year were sewing for the girls and the calf club work for the boys. Other lines of club work are baking, canning, foods, etc., for girls, and pig, lamb, poultry, garden, corn, potato and forestry for the boys. Girls may also enroll in the regular farm projects if they so desire.

All clubs are organized with local leaders who help the boys and girls with their work. The local leader may be a teacher, or anyone in the community who is willing to help the boys and girls with their work.

The following clubs have already organized for the coming year: Garnet School 4-H club, Malone, 10 members, Loretta Walsh, leader; Edgewood 4-H club, Campbellsport, 6 members, Mrs. John Hodorf, leader; Armstrong 4-H club, St. Cloud, 10 members, Marie Titel, leader; Lamartine 4-H club, Oakfield, 9 members, Helen Dorsch, leader; Prairie Lawn school 4-H club, Ripon, 12 members, Marie Nolan, leader; Mitchell 4-H club, Campbellsport, 9 members, Mary O'Brien, leader; Dundee 4-H club, Campbellsport, 21 members, May Murphy, leader; Rosewood 4-H Sewing club, South Byron, 13 members, Mrs. Leslie Wood and Mrs. Leslie Cowles, leaders; Byron Agric. Builders 4-H club, Hamilton, 10 members, Mrs. James Day, leader, and Marion School club, 4 members, H. Ewald, leader.

Clubs may be organized any time before May 1st, states S. P. Murat, County Agent. All members must send their enrollment to the County Agent's office by May 1st. Lessons and record books are furnished through the County Agent's office. Boys who are planning on joining the calf club should plan to select their calves soon. Anyone desiring information about 4-H clubs should call on S. P. Murat, County Agent, who is also the county leader of 4-H club work in Fond du Lac county.

Last year 336 boys and girls were enrolled in 4-H club work in Fond du Lac county, and a much larger enrollment is expected this year.

COMMISION ACCEPTS 100,000 ACRES F. C. LAND

Approximately 100,000 acres of land were accepted under the forest crop tax law by the conservation commission at its meeting held last Saturday in Milwaukee. This brings the total amount of land under the forest crop law to slightly more than 300,000 acres, by far the largest amount of land entered under this type of law in any state which has similar legislation.

The land accepted is in 19 different counties: Ashland, Bayfield, Burnett, Douglas, Forest, Langlade, Lincoln, Marathon, Marinette, Oneida, Price, Rusk, St. Croix, Sawyer, Taylor, Vilas, Washburn, Waupaca and Wood.

The largest entry by any one company was that of the Tomahawk Kraft Paper company which entered 11,174 acres in Oneida county, and 5,287 acres in Lincoln county. Under the new county forest provisions, four different counties entered land under the provisions of the law. They are Langlade, which entered 10,129 acres, Marinette which entered 14,029 acres; Rusk which entered 7,687 and Washburn which entered 6,200 acres.

Wisconsin people have been extremely interested in this new cooperative law which makes private reforestation possible. Many other states in the union have similar laws but they have not been as generously received by the people as has Wisconsin's. In New York for instance, a similar law has been on the statute books for eight or nine years and there is only about 25,000 acres of land entered under its provisions.

In just three years of its operation, the Wisconsin forest crop tax law has had approximately 300,000 acres entered under it. The entries by counties this year mark the beginning of a new general enterprise in forestry which will do much toward taking delinquent land off the hands of the counties, and will help the tax delinquency situation in northern Wisconsin.

NEW CALENDAR PROPOSED

Calendar simplification is rapidly becoming an issue of more immediate interest and the champions of simplification are working for results by 1933, which will be the easiest year to change the calendar this side of 1939.

In the United States the favorite "new calendar" idea appears to be that of a year divided into 13 months of 28 days each, with one extra day—the 365th—to be known as "Year day" and not by any other name. January first would be Sunday and a given date in any month would always fall on the same day of the week. The new arguments for substituting such a calendar for the one we have now are these:

Business and economic life has to measure its progress in months and weeks. Statistical comparisons are now not so good because there are months of 28, 29, 30 and 31 days and each year a given date falls on a different day of the week. Without the same number of weeks in a month a month can not be divided into equal parts. A week this year can't be compared with a week last year because it isn't the same week. Different days of the week have different values to different businesses, and so with months. A month with five Sundays is different than a month with four Sundays.

Statistics are so vital in these days that all this means a great deal to business. With the 13-month calendar all months would have the same number of work days, Saturdays and Sundays—and thus be directly comparable, family and business budgeting would be simplified, much clerical work and expenses would be saved and there would be a faster turnover of money with 13 monthly settlements.

The chief arguments in opposition are: Confusion, complications and expense would result from calendar change. The number 13 is not divisible by two, three, four or six, the quarters of 13-month year do not contain a whole number of months, 13 business closings instead of 12 would involve increased bookkeeping. Friday the thirteenth would come 13 times a year in the face of a superstition difficult to overcome, the regular occurrence of the seventh day Sunday would be interrupted once each year and twice in leapyears. Birthdays and anniversaries would have to be changed. Jewish rabbis are among the bitterest foes of this proposed calendar basing their convictions on the Old Testament and the continuity of the sequence of the seventh-day Sabbath. The Seventh Day Adventists and the Seventh Day Baptists support them. Inserting "Year Day" means that the Sabbath must come on an eighth day once each year.

Nevertheless, more than a hundred large American business concerns are now using a system which divides the year into 23 periods for their own businesses and the calendar simplification movement is backed by a host of the largest national trade, financial, scientific, educational and labor organizations and scores of very prominent men and women serving on the national committee on calendar simplification and its special subcommittees.

One of the United States Chamber of Commerce referenda showed a majority of businessmen favoring calendar change by international conference.

The whole movement is now headed toward the League of Nations, which, at the instance of the International Chamber of Commerce, appointed a committee to study simplification. The committee studied 185 proposals. The one most favored next to the 13-month calendar, is a 12-month plan which equalized the four quarters of the year.

In 1927 the league suggested to all nations selection of special committees to sound public sentiment and report. Secretary of State Kellogg sanctioned unofficial representation from several of our government departments on the American committee and the chairman is George Eastman, a vigorous supporter of simplification. Our committee was the first to report to the league, citing preponderant opinion in favor of the 13-month fixed calendar but expressing the belief that the best plan would emerge after discussion in an international conference.

The league is now awaiting reports from committees of other nations. Its assembly has placed the subject of calendar reform on the agenda of the next meeting of the fourth general conference on communications and transit in 1931, a conference of official government delegates. Some definite international program is likely to emerge from that conference, although it does not seem likely that the calendar will be changed by 1933 as many of the simplification enthusiasts hope.

THE STORY On a pleasure trip in eastern waters, Philip Amory, English World War veteran, now a trader on the island of Papua, New Guinea, plunges overboard to save the life of a musical comedy actress, known as "Gin-Sling."

CHAPTER III—Continued I could not tell. Often I did not think of it. I was reasonably busy as a trader, and my beat, up and down the coast in a cutter, was a long one; the crucial peak of solvency had just been reached, and passed, and I was beginning to send money by air to Port Moresby bank. Not much, heaven knows—but still, it was prosperity, or the dawn of that pleasant condition, and it promised, in due time, the fulfillment of my dream of exploration. Nothing in the world to do with Sir Richard Fanshawe, far above me and my little affairs, as Sir Richard was above us both.

Where was the connection? I would have given much to know. But weeks passed, and I was no nearer recalling the vague, three-parts forgotten thing that linked Sir Richard Fanshawe to Daru and its sea-seas and windy dooryards, and my little trading store. And now I have to relate when, and in what manner, enlightenment came.

I had gone up to the Residency, on an afternoon when there was something doing more than usual; the R. M. (resident magistrate) was back from a wild patrol beyond the utmost rim of civilization or knowledge; an A. R. M. (assistant resident magistrate) and a patrol officer happened to be "in" at the same time, and this was an occurrence so unusual as to warrant, fairly, a dinner party. David Bassett, the R. M., a very good friend of mine, had sent a prisoner to my store with a note—

"Dear Amory: "Come round to dinner if you can. Northanger and Purchase are back. No particular food, but a good deal of yarning. Have you an egg? If so, send or bring it, under careful escort. "Yours, "D. Bassett."

I sent him all the eggs I could muster. In Papua, you must know, eggs are the test of popularity, the medium by which friendship, servility, hope, esteem, all find expression. You borrow eggs from prudent people; beg them from anyone you think may be fool enough to give; buy where you can (but that is seldom), present to your sweetheart, your chum, your friend in hospital; bring, with a servile grin, to the man in high position, the man who has lent you money, or can get you promotion. Eggs, in Papua, are the true social barometer. . . . I had eggs, and always gave Bassett some when he asked for them. Bassett was R. M., and could be useful to me; besides which, I liked him; furthermore, on this occasion, I was going to be asked to eat the eggs, or help to do so.

Following my eggs, I went up to the Residency. Several men, like large joints of meat enclosed in a rather small meat safe, were sitting within the transparent hessian walls. I had expected three, but I saw four. Who besides Northanger and Purchase, I wondered, was "in"? "Hello, here's Black Sheep," someone said; and my host began introducing.

"Northanger, Purchase, you know the Black Sheep. Mr. Spicer, Mr. Amory." The newcomer—he was a fatish man with extremely fat feet and a sleeked head of fair hair; young, good looking in a disgusting sort of way, and dowered with an excess of the manner sometimes mislabeled "Oxford,"—fixed me with a cool stare, and demanded of the R. M.—"Why do you call him Black Sheep?"

"Mostly because his eyes are black, and his hair, and partly because he's a decent sort of chap," replied Bassett, staring back at the fatish man. Mr. Spicer immediately dropped me out of notice, took a watch from his pocket, and yawned. Bassett rang the bell for dinner. "Who is he?" I asked, in a whisper, of Northanger, as we went into the dining room, a clean, polished rather dingy apartment that counted in every foot of its barren expanse, its owner's bachelor condition.

"Fellow who's come across to make arrangements for some mineral prospecting crowd," answered Northanger, a little wearily. "We fled in. "Why did you ask him?" I found time to demand of Bassett. And Bassett, looking at me with large sad eyes, answered simply—"I never did; he wished himself into the party," and took his seat.

Through the turtle soup—we are usually sick of turtle soup in Daru—usually the fish (we are almost always tired of fish, because we get it plentifully dug and free) through the roast of pudding and tinned pears, Mr. Spicer talked, with just so many pauses as would allow of his eating an excellent dinner. It seemed that he had acquaintances among most of the titled families of England; that they had been chosen to come ahead and "organize" the expedition, by a mass meeting of marquises, dukes and earls.

"This," he did not forget to tell us, "is Emplah stuff. Nothing colonial about it. Development of the Emplah, on which the sun never sets. Our chief, Sir Richard Fanshawe—" "Our chief, Sir Richard attention tightened. "Our what?" I rapped. "Who did you say?" For I thought—"being bored half asleep—that my ears

LONG HEMLINES PLEASE MATRONS; BRIGHT COLOR IN SPRING SUITS

Flatters the Mature Figure.

AS TO lengthened hemlines for sweet sixteen and her debutante sister, we will not at this moment discuss the pros and cons of this most disturbing question, but when it comes to matronly figures there's no denying that the new downward trend of skirts is proving most flattering. Now that trains are in agrarian evening modes for the more mature are assuming a grace, a dignity and a charm which has been sadly lacking in gowns for the "grande dame" who moves in the social realm of the present time.

Then, too, trains call attention to back views, and designers have been quick to accept the challenge to create interesting and elaborated effects, such as marks the styling of the gown in upper picture. This evening dress designed for the mature figure is a "Womet" model. It is developed of chartruese green chiffon crepe. The train sweeps the floor in graceful panels, which fall from a deep cut decollete.

It is undoubtedly so, that the complex styling involved in the creating of the newer modes is redounding to the glory of styles for the matronly. There are, for example, the long-train black velvet gowns whose sweeping lines are accentuated with insets of handsome lace. Madame looks stately in a dress of this description, but madolescence—that is a different story.

And right here let it be said in regard to "real lace," if you are so fortunate to have heirloom laces hidden in the treasure store of the yester-years, now is the time to let it see the light of day or the light at night for that matter, for the handsomest dressy afternoon and formal evening gowns are frequently garnished with collars and cuffs, yokes and other fantasies of rare old lace. Even materials hark back to that which was the beautiful pride of our ancestresses—silks that "stand alone." At recent notable fashion events the tendency to supplant the familiar printed or plain chiffons with stiff rustling silks like flowered taffeta was very obvious, also significant as to future trends.

Sweeping trains, velvet, "old lace," silks that "stand alone," at last after many seasons of flapper modes the matron is surely having her day. Wool Fabrics of Novel Weave. When one compares the daintiness, the sheerness, the colorfulness and the intriguing weaves of modern wool fabrics with the sturdy utilitarian worsted of the yester-years, one is almost inclined to believe that Cinderella's good fairy is working her

Necklaces Now Decorate Milady's Graceful Back Just because the low decollete is cutting out every other evening mode is no reason to assume that our backs are not to be decorated. Necklaces designed expressly to accentuate upon milady's back are filling the void. They are usually of semi-precious brilliants, sometimes combined with pearls and may be described as three-quarter length. They circle the throat in front and fall over the shoulders to the back. A large decorative drop usually attracts attention to the point just above the termination of the decollete. It's a bright idea and very becoming to the wearer.

Patty colored satin, flat crepe, georgette and washable silks fashion some of the newest separate blouses. This color is considered excellent for wear with wine reds, the deep, penetrating greens and the unusual purple shades of the winter season.

Saved White Settlers

From Indian God's Wrath The great Pacific coast would yet be a red man's playground had it not been for the intervention of Jack Woodman, an Athabaskan Indian, now a tottering old man. He recently told the story to a student who is looking up various matters of interest concerning the Indians of the Pacific coast. Jack says that tanbark is sacred, or rather was considered so, in the old times, to the god Negechu, and it was the habit of the early settlers to tear the bark from the trees and ship it away. Jack says that one day he encountered the god with fire in his eye, and he told Jack that the white men had offended him by their wanton ways in the forest, so that he said he was going to cause a great flood and wipe away all the white people on the Pacific coast. Jack says that he begged Negechu to refrain from this and explained that the whites were ignorant and did not understand what they were doing. He finally convinced the angry god of his error and appealed him in behalf of the white people so that the flood never took place.

"Air Rights" free any more. In this era of vertical cities "air rights" command a respectable sum. Only recently the 38-story Harriman building on lower Broadway paid $742,500 for a 33-year lease on the air above an adjoining five-story structure. This is to insure tenants of the Harriman structure air and light for that length of time.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Earth's Interior
It is not generally believed that the interior of the earth will ever be entirely cool. Geologists are to the conclusion that the interior is not so hot. The earth is solid but so hot that it could melt under normal conditions. However, kept from melting by an enormous load of the earth's crust, the interior is one of the most interesting problems of geology awaiting solution.

Sinister Black Cap
The black cap worn by a judge, has an unclear origin. In olden days when a man was tried by an ecclesiastical court the judge, who was usually a bishop, covered his toniture with a black cap when passing sentence of death, to show that he was not acting in his ecclesiastical capacity.

Age Does Not Give Value
The fact that a violin is old does not necessarily mean that from an intrinsic standpoint, it is more valuable than a newer one. Some of the recently made violins have such exquisite tone that they can scarcely be identified when compared with the work of the old violin makers.

DEATH RATE CUT 50 PER CENT

Less than one-half the number of people died from tuberculosis in Wisconsin during 1929 as died during the same period 20 years ago, it is shown by statistics compiled by L. W. Hutchcroft, statistician for the state board of health.

Wisconsin's tuberculosis death rate of 109.3 in 1908 fell to 59 by 1928, in 1927, 30 Wisconsin counties, or nearly one-half of the total, had a rate of less than 40, the health statistician revealed.

The statistics also show that the disease is much more prevalent among females than among males in the age group 10 to 30. 25 per cent of the women patients in 17 Wisconsin sanatoriums being girls between 10 and 19 years.

At present the disease causes more deaths among persons from 20 to 40 years of age in this state than any other disease. Since this is the most productive time of life, the economic loss from these deaths is enormous, the statement said.

Mr. Hutchcroft asserted that in addition to early discovery of cases and sanatorium treatment, the improved living conditions of the people has played a large part in reducing the death rate.

An annual physical examination was declared important for obtaining early discovery of beginning cases. There is everything to be gained, and nothing to be lost, by the largest extension of popular knowledge of the disease and its treatment, it was pointed out.

PHONE MERGER IS COMPLETE

Bernard F. Sampson, Manager, Wisconsin Telephone Company at Cedarburg, announced subscribers formerly connected to the Grafton telephone central office and some Freistadt subscribers are now served from the central office at Cedarburg. The balance of the subscribers previously served from the central office switchboard at Freistadt are now connected to the switchboard at Thiensville. The change after Grafton and Freistadt subscribers' telephones was completed Saturday, January 25. Because of the increased number of telephones served from the Cedarburg and Thiensville exchanges, the consolidation substantially increases the value of each subscriber's telephone as an instrument of communication. Subscribers served from each exchange are now able to call many more local telephones than heretofore. The change will also enable the company to provide faster long distance service.—Cedarburg News.

Meany!
A fairly good way to tease an estimable neighbor woman, we discovered yesterday, is to remark in an off-hand manner, as she settles down to tell about her hospital experience, that in a number of cases lately surgical operations have been successfully resorted to to cure criminal tendencies.—Ohio State Journal.

Ain't Science Wonderful?
Veterinarians have discovered, according to Farm and Fireside, how to remove the bark from a dog and the beat from a goat. It remains only for them to eliminate the mosquito's bite and the bee's sting to make country life practically 100 per cent perfect.

String on Midshipman
The four-year education of a midshipman at the United States Naval academy represents an investment of approximately $20,000. In order that the government will receive some return for its money, a midshipman is required to serve at least two years on graduation before being eligible for resignation.

Rice and Ceremonial
Rice plays an important part in the life of Japan. It takes pride of place at all great ceremonies, which would be void without the use of sake, a drink brewed from the grain.

No Warships Purchased
No European country has ever built or sold a war vessel to the United States government. The only case where the United States has had vessels built in a foreign country was that of the Chinese river gunboats, which were built in China, under contract to the United States.

Value of Puzzles
Solving puzzles may benefit a person in various ways, particularly in the exercise of mental powers. Many of the puzzles indulged in at the present time are educational and contribute actual knowledge.

Soy Beans Make Popularity Bid

Comparatively New Crop Rapidly Gaining Favor in Many Sections.

Soy beans are making a cross-country race into popularity among the farmers. Last year the northern states increased their soy bean acreage 25 per cent. The total acreage of soy beans in the country was 534,000 acres in 1924 as against 452,000 in 1923. Some states, such as Missouri, showed a 50 per cent increase. Seedsmen are racing in their test laboratories and testing grounds to catch up with the rush of the soy bean. It has been found necessary to test this comparatively new farm crop both for climate and for soil, the varying strains being somewhat national as to their territory if they are to flourish. Although first known in the United States in 1804, so far as records show, the soy bean has not been a commercial product of importance in this country until the last few years, in fact it is chiefly a development since the war.

What They Are Good For. To the layman, the natural question appears to be: "What are soy beans good for that they should be spreading over the country?" One of its chief uses is for forage in this country. It is one of the great oil vegetables and in times of failure of the cotton crop the soy bean is called into service. It makes a very fine oil. It is also an article of food for human beings, although much more highly esteemed in the Orient to date than it is here where its use as a food is practically unknown.

Soy bean meal is an important fertilizer as well as food for stock. A "vegetable milk" is made from the bean as well. The oil is used largely in the manufacture of soap and in paint manufacture. The vines make good hay.

Good Fertilizer. Being a legume and having the trick of secreting its own nitrogen on its roots in small lumps or nodules, it is also valuable to grow and plow under for fertilizer and as a follow crop to keep the land in proper condition. The soy bean has earned the popularity it is achieving.

Essential for Success That Bees Have Honey

Every owner of bees should open the hives early in the spring and assure himself that the necessary stores are available for maintaining the bees until blooming time when they can gather their own food (pollen and nectar) in the field. The bees must have at least two or three frames of good sealed honey in the hive at all times in order to be protected against starvation.

An abundance of good honey enhances the excessive brood rearing in early summer and late spring. This essential cannot be overlooked if the hive is to be strong enough to make large quantities of honey. If the honey stores are rather short in the early spring, the bees will delay brood rearing until they have had time to gather sufficient stores from the blooms. This precaution on the part of the bees will naturally decrease the size of the hive, and colony will be considerably weakened and will not develop to full strength by the time of the main honey flow.

New Vegetable Entered Illinois Family Garden

A new vegetable has entered the family garden at the University of Illinois. It is called Italian broccoli, a plant closely related to cauliflower. The new vegetable has the ability to produce two or three crops a season. It is as easy to raise as cabbage and has a delicate flavor as cauliflower, according to Lee A. Sommers of the university. It is a hardy plant and can endure far greater temperatures than cauliflower. About 60 to 70 days after the plant is set in the field the main stem enlarges and flower buds break forth. The buds form the edible part of the plant. The plant looks somewhat like cauliflower but it is green.

After the first main head is removed smaller heads form and are soon ready to cut.

The common method of serving the vegetable is similar to cauliflower.

Controlling Gophers by Poisoning During Spring

Poisoning one pair of gophers this spring will be equal to killing six or more next fall. It is suggested that alfalfa growers give every infested field a thorough "once over" treating with poisoned wheat as soon as the ground is dry enough to work. One bushel of strychnine poisoned wheat should kill 600 or more pocket gophers.

On a basis of six gophers per acre one bushel of poisoned wheat should clean up 100 or more acres of infestation. Early spring is breeding and littering time for pocket gophers. Poisoning during early April will be most effective in controlling the 1929 gopher crop. Gopher mounds may be dragged down to prevent the killing of alfalfa plants by smothering.

Utilizing Sweet Clover for Different Purposes

Sweet clover may be utilized as hay, pasture, and for soil improvement purposes. As a hay crop, however, it is not equal to alfalfa or red clover. As a pasture, a good stand of sweet clover in its second season will furnish more grazing than any other plant known. It is also an excellent crop for soil improvement, and fortunately it will serve both as a pasture and a soil improving crop at the same time. In some sections it has been found that the increased yields of sugar beets due to sweet clover were practically the same when the crop was turned under after being pastured as when the entire crop was turned under.

HOME-GROWN WOOD EXCELLENT MATERIAL FOR FUEL ON FARM

Makes Cleaner and Quicker Fire Than Coal.

With over 50,000,000 cords of wood available for use this year, R. W. Graeber, extension forester at North Carolina State college, asks the question, "Why not use home-grown fuel in North Carolina homes?"

"Any wood makes a cleaner, quicker fire than coal, is free from gas and odor and compares very favorably with coal in heating value," says Mr. Graeber. "Two pounds of dry wood has the same heating value as one pound of coal and many of the heavy woods, such as hickory, oak, ash, birch, beech, elm and long-leaf pine, weigh 4,000 pounds to the cord, making a cord of this wood equal to a ton of coal. The lighter woods such as poplar, cypress, white pine, basswood and many others weigh only 2,000 pounds to the cord and it would therefore take about two cords of this wood to equal one ton of coal in heating value."

According to Mr. Graeber, the economic value of using wood is twofold in that all the money spent for wood remains in the state and the cutting and hauling would furnish work for many that would otherwise be objects of charity. At an average price of $4 a cord, the wood that is now available, if sold, would add $200,000,000 to the wealth of the state. As it is, two-thirds of the money spent for coal leaves the state to be divided between the railroads, the mine operators and the miners. To use this wood would not deplete the forests of any marketable timber as it could be harvested from the over-mature, crooked, crippled and diseased trees and from forests that are over-crowded. This would aid also in making room for trees of better quality and more desirable species for future timber production, states Mr. Graeber.

Agricultural Hints

Either red or alsike clover is more valuable for hay than timothy.

The large crops of oats and barley harvested will supply most of the grain for the dairy ration.

Asparagus is one cultivated crop that will grow when a comparatively heavy application of salt has been made.

From early spring to the latter part of May is the best time to seed sweet clover. Weeds are less troublesome with the later seeding.

When planting seed in the garden care should be taken not to get the seed too thick since this will increase the amount of thinning necessary.

Experience and laboratory tests both show that fuel wood will not give maximum heat in either stove or fireplace unless it has been properly seasoned before being burned.

Don't be afraid of making your garden too rich, especially for cabbage, lettuce, spinach, cauliflower and beets. For enriching it there is nothing better than fine well-rotted stable manure.

Most of the experimental evidence, as well as practical field experience, in regard to side dressing of corn indicates that nitrate of soda should be applied when the crop is knee high.

Good seed potato storage requires a temperature between 35 to 40 degrees Fahrenheit. Forty-one degrees is the sprouting temperature for potatoes after the dormant period is over.

Feeds rich in protein are necessary, though high priced if purchased, but the farmer who grows legume hays may balance his dairy ration with only a small amount of the more expensive concentrates.

Needless Suffering

The next time a headache makes you stay at home—

Or some other ache or pain prevents your keeping an engagement—

Remember Bayer Aspirin! For there is scarcely any pain it cannot relieve, and relieve promptly.

These tablets give real relief, or millions would not continue to take them. They are quite harmless, and the medical profession would not constantly prescribe them.

Don't be a martyr to unnecessary pain. To colds that might so easily be checked; to neuritis, neuralgia; to those pains peculiar to women; or any suffering for which Bayer Aspirin is such an effective antidote.

For your own protection, buy genuine Bayer Aspirin. It is the same. It never depresses the heart, so use it as often as needed, but the cause of any pain can be treated only by a doctor.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocrotic Acid of Elberfeld.

When Babies CRY

Babies will cry, often for no apparent reason. You may not know what's wrong, but you can always give Castoria. This soon has your little one comforted; if not, you should call a doctor. Don't experiment with medicines intended for the stronger systems of adults! Most of those little upsets are soon soothed away by a little of this pleasant-tasting, gentle-acting children's remedy that children like.

It may be the stomach, or may be the little bowels. Or in the case of older children, a sluggish, constipated condition. Castoria is still the thing to give. It's certain to clear up any ailment, and could be given to the youngest child with the slightest harm. So it's the thing to think of when a child has a coated tongue; won't sleep; is fretful or irritable; or when the mother gets the genuine, it's the sign of the package.

Neat Performer in Right Field

EDMUND J. MILLER, known to the baseball world as "Bing" Miller, is a neat performer in his native territory, right field. Neat outfielders must hit and in this respect Miller is an apt gardener. His average of .340 is ten points lower than that of his rival, Cuyler, but that average is more than fair. Miller covers much ground and throws well enough. In the latter art he is also shaded by the bulletlike neg of Cuyler.

"Bing" Miller.

"Bing" has done most of his big company work with the Athletics. He was with Washington in 1921, but entered the Mack fold the next season, to remain there for four years almost. The latter part of 1926 he skipped down to the Brown camp and finished the season there. He spent the next season with St. Louis, too. In 1928 Mack took him back to Philadelphia, where he has been ever since.

Miller has always been a dangerous man at the plate. His average of .342 with the Mackmen in 1924 was the best he ever turned in. He is right around that mark now and by chance might better it.

Miller is a big, good-natured fellow and laughs when you call him Edmund. It is probable that the work of Cuyler will not overshadow Miller's to any great degree in the 1930 season. The rivalry between these two players is keen.

Navy Will End Season With Ohio State Teams

Naval academy baseball players will close their 1930 season with Ohio State as opponents, Lieut. Com. Frederick G. Reinecke, graduate manager of athletics, said.

The Middles have had four open dates on the baseball card, but the June week date of May 31 has been accepted by Ohio State. Last June Ohio State met the Middles in track, Washington and Lee has been given the April 26 date on the ball card.

The Middles will again end their season with the University of Maryland, while St. Johns of Annapolis will aid Army in closing its season a year hence.

Sporting Squibs

There will be six new managers in the six-club Central league for 1930.

Aviators who fly so close to golfers as to frighten them constitute a brand new hazard on the course.

"Honest Tom" Heeney figures it is time to quit. He has fought four times since losing to Tunney. And Tom lost them all.

Stanford football letter men have elected Ray Tandy of Alta Loma, Calif., captain of the team for 1930. He is a tackle.

A lucky New York World editorial writer has found a topic which should last right through the year, viz., "What is an Amateur?"

The civic golf course in Hamilton, Ont., annually records a balance of between $6,000 and $7,000 after all expenditures are deducted.

The Boston Braves management has sent Bill Clarkison of Richmond, Va., a pitcher, to the Fort Worth club of the Texas league on option.

Fifty-five polo ponies, property of the Argentine experts who will compete in the Pacific Coast championships, have arrived in Los Angeles.

Duke university, formerly Trinity, was the first school to play football in North Carolina, claiming the championship of the South back in 1890.

During the past season 976 pinch hitters were used by the eight teams of the American league and their grand average of hits proved to be .214.

New Tennis Head

Louis B. Dalley of New York, whose formal nomination for the presidency of the United States Lawn Tennis association is considered tantamount to election. The retiring president is Samuel H. Colton of Philadelphia.

The nominating committee's choice to be officially confirmed at the annual meeting in St. Louis, February 15. Dalley, who is at present vice president of the association, has been active in tennis affairs for many years.

Basketball is the youngest sport played by the colleges. Football, baseball, hockey, lacrosse and soccer preceded it. Basketball is now in its thirty-ninth year.

In seven years of pitching, Charley Ruffing of the Boston Red Sox, said to have every quality a winner should possess, has never broken even in games won and lost.

The Maryland Athletic commission suspended its rule against the toe hold when Dick Shikat wrestled Komar. Then Shikat went ahead and won without using the hold.

Billy Evans, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, announces the purchase of Selve Bean, twenty-three-year-old pitcher, from the New Orleans club of the Southern league.

Boxing and wrestling brought the state of Illinois a net profit of $72,488.40 during the fiscal year of the Illinois State Athletic commission, which ended December 1.

A report issued by Maj. Gen. John V. Clinch, chairman of the commission, revealed that gross receipts were $141,960.80, with expenses of $69,402.40 for maintaining the offices of the commission and providing inspectors and officials.

Boxing and wrestling brought the state of Illinois a net profit of $72,488.40 during the fiscal year of the Illinois State Athletic commission, which ended December 1.

HOLDOUT SEASON ON IN BASEBALL

Demands for More Dough Given Little Publicity.

The holdout season now is officially on in the baseball world. Of course, Babe Ruth opened his personal season weeks ago and there were a few echoes from Lefty O'Doul, Burleigh Grimes, and Wes Ferrell.

Now, anybody who hasn't signed his contract can hold out for any reason whatsoever. And he can be assured of a degree of privacy, for the usual demands for more dough at this season of the year are given little or no publicity. It's not until the traveling secretaries start buying training camp tickets that the rank and file of hold-out troops begin to get space in the public prints.

Members of the two championship teams usually are the main aggressors in this phase of the holdout era. This year promises to be no exception, especially with the world champion Athletics. Most of Connie Mack's boys are due to sign new documents, and there is no reason to believe that any one of them will hurry much about signing the first contracts offered them.

The Eastern Interclub Basketball league at a meeting held at the Crescent club, New York, named Dr. Charles W. Dayton as president to fill the unexpired term of Horace Fritts of the Montclair club, who has resigned. H. L. Van Richards, also of the Montclair club, will serve as vice president.

The league voted to adopt the intercollegiate rules for the remainder of the schedule.

The Amateur Athletic Union is going to get its shoulder behind hockey in the immediate future, according to President Avery Brundage. E. C. Delaporte of the Chicago A. A. U. has been appointed chairman of the hockey committee and will outline a program within the next few days.

The A. A. U. plans to manage the sport the same as track. Heretofore hockey has been in the hands of an affiliated national organization.

New York will not be without its Rockne influence during the 1930 football season. John Law, Notre Dame's 1929 football captain, has been appointed assistant coach at Manhattan college. Law, leader of one of the greatest teams Rockne ever put on the field, and his teammate, Cannon, were rated as the best pair of guards in the country.

Smead Jolley is the first Coast league player to hit 30 home runs in three successive seasons. He had 30 in 1927, 45 in 1928 and 35 in 1929, total 110 in three years. Other San Francisco players hitting 30 home runs in one season were: Bert Ellison, 33 in 1924; Frank Borwer, 36 in 1925; Frank O'Doul, 33 in 1927; Earl Averill, 36 in 1929, and Gus Suhr, 51 in 1929.

Ike Boone of the Mission Reds of the Pacific Coast league had the highest batting average of any player in organized baseball last season among the players who participated in more than 100 games. Only three players in twenty leagues, whose official averages have been released, compiled batting averages of .400. The three players were: Ike Boone, Mission, Pacific Coast, .407; Cramer, Martinsburg, Blue Ridge, .404; H. Pember, McCook, Nebraska State, .400.

Dr. James Naismith, who invented basketball, watched a game at Kansas recently in which the experiment of eliminating the center jump was tried. Afterward he stated that the elimination of the tip-off made the game monotonous, but also made it a little faster.

Fred Lindstrom, star third baseman of the New York Giants' club, has recovered from sickness that marred his efficiency in last year's play and is fit and ready for the fast approaching season, according to word received by the Giants' club from Lindstrom.

Lindstrom has been recuperating from an operation for tonsils. It is believed that infected tonsils caused the decline in his play in the 1929 season. Last year he played in 139 games and batted .318. His fielding record was only one point below those of Andy Gougeon of St. Louis and Jake Whitmyer of Philadelphia, the leaders. But his 1929 performances were below those of 1928 in which he batted .338 and led the league in third base fielding.

Notre Dame's undefeated football squad elected Tom Conley, left end, captain of next fall's team. The election was held at the annual monogram banquet and Coach Rockne, who has been confined to his home since the middle of the last football season with a leg ailment, made his first public appearance with the aid of a cane.

A beautiful trophy has been donated by George King, well-known Toronto hockey enthusiast, for the most popular player in the National Hockey league.

It seems rather strange to arrange nearly a year in advance for a trainer to try with a horse for a two-minute record, but that is the case with the gray pacer mare, Gilda Gray, 2-01 3/4, which Lon McDonald of Indianapolis recently sold to a California sportsman for $10,000. One of the conditions of the sale was that McDonald is to make the journey to the Arizona State fair meeting at Phoenix next November and endeavor to give the gray mare a record inside the two-minute list. The Phoenix track is one of the fastest in the country; Guy McKenny, 1:58 3/4, and Mr. McElwyn, 1:59 3/4, both took their best records there.

The 1930 woman's national golf championship, to be played on the Country club course, will be decided October 13 to 18 inclusive, the United States Golf association has announced.

Stanford's Big Star

Harlow Rothert of Stanford university, is a three-letter man of that university, and is considered the best all-around athlete of the college. He is captain of the basketball team, he is their star halfback and best kicker, and he holds the national intercollegiate shot-put record made last spring. He plays the field on the baseball team and is on the swimming team.

Game of Ice Hockey Is 50 Years Old in Canada

Ice hockey is half a century old in Canada, where the game originated in 1880. By 1890 the sport was well organized in Toronto and had spread through most of the Dominion by that time.

Yale took up the sport first in the United States in 1897. The game was popular there and soon other Eastern colleges had teams. Those to follow Yale are Harvard, Cornell, Pennsylvania and Princeton.

Until 1912 there were seven men to a team. In that year the team was reduced to six men.

But in the last ten years the sport has had its greatest growth. In the formation of professional leagues it has become known to the sporting world and players are in great demand today. Most of the professional players come from Canada, where the game is popular as an amateur sport.

Professional Football Had Successful Season

The National Football league, which enjoyed one of the most successful seasons in the history of this professional organization, finished the season with all twelve starting clubs intact, an unusual occurrence. The championship went to the Green Bay Packers of Wisconsin, who finished the season with a record of twelve victories, one tie and no defeats.

The Packers, despite their great strength, were pressed from the start by the New York Giants, who finished in second place with only one defeat. But at the hands of the new champions, the New York eleven did exceptionally well in attracting fans, the average attendance being about 25,000. Every scheduled game was played despite very disagreeable weather on several week-ends during the season.

Canada Won From United States in Curling Game

As usual the most important competition in curling during the past year was the event for the Gordon International Medal. This competition was held in Montreal and Canada regained the title from the United States. The Canadians scored a total of 405 points to 372 for the Americans. In the competition for the Gordon Grand National Medal, held at Schenectady, the team of that city carried off the laurels, which had been won by the Utica team last year. In the final round the Schenectady curlers defeated the Pines of Saranac Lake by 16 to 9.

Yanks Have Scheduled 32 Games in Spring Training

Over a stretch from March 8 to April 13 the New York Yankees will play 32 exhibition games, including a trip through the Southern association territory. The exhibition season will open with the Boston Braves at St. Petersburg and close with Brooklyn at the Yankee stadium. The spring opposition will include a wide variety of baseball teams. In addition to the Braves and Robins contests will be played with the Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds. The minor league opposition runs the scale from class B to AA, and one college team, the University of Texas.

MILLIONS OF POUNDS USED BY OUR GOVERNMENT

Many a man thinks that he is misunderstood because he doesn't know himself.

The average American sheep represents, in wool, one suit of clothes each year.

Producing something for people to eat is a precarious business. There are always so many doing it.

A tactless man says, "All babies look alike to me," at the wrong time and place.

"Always in Good Humor" says Bill "and my Folks, too"

YOUNG BILL FREEMAN, Jr., of 707 South Street, Key West, Florida, has started in early telling the world his secret of health. "I don't know that I would have been the cause of divorce," writes Bill, through his mother, "but certainly the first three months of my life my mother was a nervous wreck, and so was I. I never saw father because he didn't like my disposition—and every day it was a fight at our house—either castor oil or an enema, and I was just about ready to quit home.

William A. Freeman, Jr., who licks the spoon in preparation for licking the world.

"Finally, they started in giving me a half teaspoonful of Nujol night and morning. I am five months old now, and I take Nujol every other night, which keeps me in good humor, and so are my folks."

How simple it is, after all. No drugs, no medicines, no irritating cathartics. Just simple and natural lubrication which our bodies need as much as any machine. Nujol is not absorbed by the body. It is non-fattening; it can form no habit; it cannot hurt the smallest baby. What it does is keep our bodies internally clean of the poisons we all have and which, unless they are swept away as regularly as clock work, give us headaches, make us feel sick, low in our minds, blue, down on the world.

His Turn
Saying grace at the table is still customary in the home of the M—s, as the following story illustrates: At a dinner recently, when the guests were seated, the host turned to the gentleman on his right and said, "Mr. B—, you will return thanks."

Billy, age five, remonstrated emphatically. "Call on me, daddy! Call on me! I haven't prayed for a week."

Send one dollar for a copy of the full formula with license to use on your farm only. Money back if not satisfied.

Thanks to each and every one of you for attending the game, and come again.

Working and Living

Working for a living is a poor way of getting along. We become slaves of our jobs, and there is no joy in accomplishment. Instead of working for a living, try living for a work and see if you are not better satisfied.—Grit.

Mighty St. Lawrence

The widest point in the St. Lawrence river proper is at Gaspe, where it is over 50 miles wide, but there are two expansions of the river which are known as Lake St. Francis and Lake St. Peter above the city of Three Rivers. The Gulf of St. Lawrence at its widest point is 65 miles wide.

Music Without Notes

In playing music by ear the player is guided by sound alone. He keeps the melody of tune in mind and his fingers are guided up or down the scale by a sort of instinctive knowledge which enables him to obtain the tones desired. In such playing no attention is paid to written music and often no thought is given to names of notes struck.—Exchange.

Passing Observation

Monday morning mails would be even heavier if all those who listened in on the sermons broadcast on Sunday—or say they do—sent contributions for the collection.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Rewards Well Earned

Soft jobs come to those who have first done hard jobs well; and easy money is bestowed on tycoons that come to the man who has in the past earned hard money.—Royal Arcanum Bulletin.

Names Given Planets

The planets were named for the ancient deities; Jupiter was the supreme deity; Mars, the god of war; Venus, goddess of beauty and love; Neptune, god of the sea; Saturn, god of agriculture, gardening, etc.; Uranus, regarded as the personification of heaven; Mercury, god of trade (messenger of gods).

Incubation Long Known

Artificial incubation was successfully practiced in very ancient times in Egypt and China, and probably other countries. Reaumur, the eminent French physicist, used successfully a very crude form of incubator. The first application for a patent on an incubator in the United States was in 1847. Practical success with modern incubators may be said to date from the Paris exposition of 1877, at which Rouillier and Arnould exhibited a hydro-incubator.

Famous "Black Shirts"

The black shirt was originally worn by the Italian shock troops during the World war. Later it became part of the uniform of the legionnaires of D'Annunzio at Fiume. The Fascist adopted it as a symbol of the new patriotism. The Fascist organization was founded by Mussolini in March, 1919, at Milan.

NEW CALENDAR

PROPOSED

According to the new calendar, the first day of the month will always be Sunday and the last day will always be Saturday—
There'll always be exactly four pay-days in each month, and holidays like Easter and Thanksgiving will always fall on the same date—
Other holidays that have fixed dates will always fall on the same day of the week—
And there will be one Friday the thirteenth in every month of the year—
These are the outstanding provisions of the new 13-month calendar.
The new calendar would contain 13 months of exactly four weeks each. One day would be left over and would fit in at the end of a holiday.
Most holidays would get new dates under the new arrangements. Washington's birthday would be celebrated on Feb. 25; Lincoln's birthday on Feb. 16; St. Patrick's day on March 20; Decoration day on June 10; Columbus day on Oct. 5. The Fourth of July and Christmas would be unchanged. Easter would always fall on April 8, and Thanksgiving day would always be Nov. 26.

Hebrews in Revolution
The American Hebrew says that the names of 27 Jewish officers who fought on the side of the American forces are known. These included Col. David S. Franks, who was aide to Gen. George Washington; Col. Solomon Beach and others of prominence in their day. At that time the whole Jewish population in the new United States was scarcely 3,000.

Birds on the Wing
Here in America man appears to have reverted to the ancient nomadic strain. We fit from one apartment to another on moving day. We move from city to city as our business beckons. We perambulate between town, seashore and inland. Our savage forebears chased the birds; we chase the sunshine. In us, as in them, is a restless longing for change of scene.—Woman's Home Companion.

Appalling Suicide
The boiling pool at Rotorua, New Zealand, was used to commit suicide by an elderly man. He jumped into it and was boiled alive. Horrified spectators were unable to do anything. They could see the man clearly for a time, standing upright, his head a few feet below the surface and looking up. The body was recovered with grappling irons.

But Try to Buy It
Worn by Napoleon during his retreat from Moscow, a topcoat which is now one of the priceless possessions of the Invalides Military museum, Paris, is regarded by government inventory makers as a mere second-hand garment. As such it is listed in the state assets at an appraised value of 80 francs or $3.20.
