Forensic Contest Well Received

The local forensic contest held at the school last Friday evening was well attended. All who took part in the program surely did well considering that it was the first time many of them participated in this type of work. The extemporaneous Reading contest was won by Edith Clark, second place was awarded to Jean Schaefer, in the oratorical contest Lehman Rosenheimer was awarded first on the oration "The Unknown Speaker," Henry Lay was awarded second on the oration "Creative Citizenship." The declamatory contest was won by Ruth Heppie speaking the selection "At the Swimming Pool." Charlotte Lay, speaking "Out of the Air" received second. Elizabeth Martin was awarded third honors on the declamation "Daddy Doc." The contest reflected much painstaking work on the part of contestants and coaches and both are to be complimented on the quality of the speaking.

COMMISSION SETS AREAS FOR STATE FOREST PURCHASE

A statewide forestry survey which has been conducted by the conservation commission for several months past has now resulted in the definite establishment of six proposed areas for state forests. The purpose of the survey was to determine the areas in the state best adapted to forestry purposes and which could be acquired by the state without excessive expenditure.

The six proposed forestry areas are: (1) the Brule river forest in eastern Douglas county; (2) the Thunder Mountain district in Marinette and Oconto counties; (3) the Flambeau river district in Sawyer county; (4) the district north of Rhinelander in Vilas and Oneida counties which includes Northern Forest State Park, and the American Legion Memorial State Park and Forest Preserve; (5) the central counties district which embraces parts of Jackson, Clark, Monroe, Wood, and Juneau counties and (6) the Kettle Moraine district in Fond du Lac and Sheboygan counties.

The first four of these areas are located in districts in which the state is already the owner of considerable land. This is particularly true in the Vilas and Oneida counties tract where the state now owns the majority of the land. Although the conservation commission does not have jurisdiction over all of the state-owned land in these districts, putting the land to forestry use will be acceptable to the state land commission, the other owner of the state lands.

All of the areas except the Kettle Moraine district are now within forest fire protective areas where active supervision is already maintained by the conservation commission. Setting aside these proposed state forest areas is in line with the instructions of the people in the state expressed in the forestry referendum of 1924 which admonished the conservation to "acquire, preserve and protect" the forests of the state. It will be made possible by the action of the last legislature in providing funds by the 1-20 mill forestry tax which is to be used for forestry and reforestation purposes.

The conservation commission will not be able to begin actual purchase in these areas until the project has the approval of the Governor and the state budget director. Plans will be presented to them very shortly.

Drunkner Driver Hurt in Crash

Orin Weasler, son of a Port Washington farmer, was fined $75 and costs, after pleading guilty of driving a car while under the influence of liquor on Sunday afternoon, before Judge H. M. Fellner in municipal court at Fond du Lac on Monday morning. His driver's license was also revoked for six months. Mr. Weasler was arrested after an accident on Highway 28 in New Fane on Sunday night, when he hit a car driven by Frank Vetter of New Fane. Both automobiles were badly wrecked. Weasler was badly cut and bruised about the head and was brought to Dr. Driessel's hospital where medical attention was given him, after which he was taken to the county jail at Fond du Lac by Sheriff Alfred Van De Zande. None of the occupants of the Vetter car were injured.

LEGION TO BEAUTIFY SCHOOL GROUNDS

The Kewaskum, American Legion, voted unanimously at their monthly meeting last Monday evening to take charge of all landscaping to be done on the newly graded public school campus. This will involve an expenditure of more than $600 during the next few years, with an initial expenditure this year of more than $225.

The plan of landscaping accepted by the legion was submitted by the Mc Kay Nursery of Madison. Several other plans were also carefully considered.

The plan adopted by the legion was designed on the unit basis and lends itself nicely for additional plantings to be made each year. The size of future plantings can be varied according to the financing available. The planting this year will include the setting out of eight vase elms to the south and west of the school also two or more of each of the following ornamental trees, namely: Boleanna Popular, cut leaf birch, flowering plum, and Colorado blue spruce. The bulk of this year's planting will be confined to vines and shrubbery near the school building. This will consist of more than ten varieties of shrubbery including fifteen Ivy Englemann climbing vines.

The campus has been newly resceded this year, and with reasonable care and moisture, it should be well sodded in another year. With proper care and management the school campus can be made into an attractive park for the children as well as the older people of this community. An athletic field to the east of the school can be established and maintained. An outside drinking fountain can be provided. An ample amount of playground equipment can be purchased in this way the school grounds can be made to serve the purpose to this community that they should serve.

The Kewaskum Post of the American Legion is to be congratulated on taking over the project of landscaping the school grounds. It shows the interest of the organization in the welfare of the community. There would be few if any more worthwhile projects where an organization could put its surplus money to better purpose. The Legion is to be complimented on their community spirit.

The members of the post also made arrangements at this meeting to again observe Memorial Day which will be held on Friday, May 30. Appropriate exercises will be held at the school auditorium. A good speaker will be here to deliver the Memorial address. The following committee was appointed by Post Commander Carl F. Schaefer to make all arrangements for the day: Prin. E. E. Skaliske, Theo. Schmidt and Adolph Rosenheimer Jr.

Arrangements for the big Easter dance to be held at the Kewaskum Opera House, sponsored by the post on Saturday evening, April 26, are getting along nicely. It is looked forward to that this dance will be attended by the largest crowd that has been in attendance at the Opera House for a number of years. Most of the proceeds of this dance will go towards the financing of the landscaping of the campus grounds at the high school. Windy Jacobs orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music. So if you are looking for a good time come to this dance and you will not go home disappointed. Tell your relatives and friends and bring them with you.

EASTER SERVICES AT ST. MICHAELS

The following program will be observed for Easter: Solemn Resurrection services on Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament, Procession and Benediction with Te Deum. On Easter Sunday early mass at 8 o'clock with sermon and holy communion of the whole parish. At 10 o'clock solemn high mass with sermon. Confessions will be heard on Saturday afternoon and after the evening services the Rev. Lawrence Merten of St. Lawrence, Mt. Calvary will assist Father Joseph F. Beyer over the Easter holidays.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the undersigned desire to express our sincere thanks to all our neighbors, relatives and friends, for the kind sympathy extended to us in our late bereavement, the illness, death and burial of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs. Frank Bartel. Before Planting Time, Make Sure YOUR Planter Is Right

The McCormick-Deering "100 Series" planters combine old, time-proven principles with a simplified design which insures greater accuracy, a wider range of adaptability, and easier ways of adapting the planters to the different requirements. It has been a number of years to perfect this combination. The result is a series of planters, which have no untried features. Their superiority lies in the manner in which these proved principles are combined and applied. The McCormick-Deering "100 Series" planters are furnished both as check-row planters and drills. The check-row planter can be quickly set for drill-rows, and only a moment is required to change it to power hill-drop for bunch-drop drilling. The pea-and-bean and fertilizer attachments are of an improved design, and can be quickly installed both on planters and drills. If you are looking for a planter that will plant your crops accurately and that will require minimum attention, it will pay you to ask us to demonstrate a McCormick-Deering "100 Series" planter.

CHAPTER IX

Eight days passed, and another two to that, before I stood again upon the ridge that I had topped with so light a heart on the morning that saw the Chinese and British recalled to their own homes.

Then, being free, I hurried to my former turning-back point, and drove the boys and myself for every ounce that was in us, up toward what I still hoped might be eventually called the Pia Laurier ranges.

There was need for haste. I was not in the least surprised, when I reached the beginning of my cut through the forest, to find that others had passed that way since.

I need not say that I looked for traces of Spicer's party, ceaselessly, but so far, I had seen no signs of them in the distance ahead.

It was here, as I had told Jinny, luckless Jinny, that the real work began. Down those appalling ridges, down half a day into a gorge as narrow as a railway cutting, then up again, climbing with feet and hands.

"What has become of Schmidt?" "He went to America and has made a name for himself there."

I could, if I would, write the tale of every hour of that journey; relate in their order each blow of Nature and of Fate, and every counter that I made; tell of hunger and of thirst, of weariness macerating mind and body into one insensate pulp.

devils whirling clubs and spears, and pelting the headhunter's horrible dog-show yelp. Of how we fought them, one to five, and I, being low, shot one through the belly, and another through the chest, before they closed; almost ashamed I was, a trained soldier against these creatures with their savage weapons; and yet numbers are numbers, and since they did not fear our strength, they had to learn. Of how they drew off and came again, charging in line, pluckier than you would believe, so that I'd have spared them if I could; but they brained my two best carriers, and the other carriers rushed in behind me, clubbing with rifle butts where they could not fire; and so in five minutes it was over, and the tribe off into the bush again, with a head they'd taken from one of the corpses while the fighting was too hot for me to notice.

Yes, I could tell much, a volume. But I will pass over that journey, in retrospect, more easily than I passed in fact, and come to the crucial day, the morning when I made Tatata.

We were climbing a ridge, just like a hundred ridges that we had climbed since the start. The ground was steep beneath our feet, as it had been for days; the air was thinning; nights had been colder. Yet I did not think that we were very near; did not guess that the line of our long journey was reaching its turn at last.

I Was a Trained Soldier Against These Creatures With Their Savage Weapons.

I looked at the men of Xenophon when they came upon the sea, we topped the ridge, found empty air before us, and saw—The Pit.

By Heaven, it was a wonderful sight. I was to see it often after, but never once did I come upon it, without something of the first thrill that seized me when I broke out of the forest, and viewed, lying far below me, the enormous slopes and scarp of the nameless basin, in the finding of which two white lives, and many dark, had already been lost.

Then, across the visions of gold, gold and more gold, that blazed on my inner sight, came wonderfully slowly, as come lovely things, a picture that outshone all other glories. From the horizon the clouds of early afternoon were shredding away. Slowly, steadily, the veils were withdrawn, making bare to my sight the far, high, ice-blue peaks of the Pia Laurier range.

Child That "Stammers" Victim of Nervousness. The most usual form of speech disorder is "stammering," or "stuttering." From the standpoint of development there are two distinct types, one which commences with the development of speech and the other that begins after the child has learned to speak normally.

thought; and in the same moment "It's herself." The sun was westerly; it was impossible to descend into the pit that day. With pity I remembered how Grace and Jackson, starving, sick, at the end of their resources, had stood where I stood now, looking, like Moses, over a Promised Land on which they never were to set foot. If it was hard for me to wait until next morning only, what must it have been to them to see all this, know what it meant, and leave it behind? Yet they had done right. The descent was all rocky and difficult; the country and the wretched remnant of their boys, even if they had succeeded in getting down to that distant hole, would certainly never have found strength to climb up again. The route through the limestone country had been their destruction. No one, as surely, would ever go that way again—now that I had shown another.

On this, I remembered what, for the moment, had entirely escaped my mind—the Spicer expedition. I had thought much of it in the last few days, and wondered where it was. Traces of a party ahead had vanished some time before; but that was no serious puzzle: a very little deviation from the route I followed might explain it. I had been sure, however, that I should see or hear something of them when I arrived at the Pit.

I could not understand this; it looked like trouble of some kind, I thought—but even so, what business of mine was any trouble of Spicer's? He and his friend had made their own bed; let them lie on it. For me there the signs of gold—wealth, too. Wealth such as no one in Papua had ever dreamed of, maybe; for no one in Papua had ever seen such a formation in gold-bearing country.

I left the carriers there on the rim of the little flat, and plunged downward. We had done a hard day's work, but I took those rocks, those stretches of sloping sand and gravel, as a fairly-tale wearer of seven-league boots might have done; it was diving rather than descending. I took a toss at the very last, and came down with hands and feet outspread like a starfish, on a bed of gravel that cut my palms, and tore the knees of my trousers. I raised myself up; I wasn't hurt, scratched merely, but my hands and my knees were all over blood and gravel.

The thing was done and won, the long fight over. Two handfuls of golden gravel had changed my world. "I am Black Sheep no more," was the first thought I can remember. It was not entirely pleasurable. There are sweet pastures for black, wild sheep, and for them only. . . . This gold discovery—I did not doubt or minimize its value; I knew too much for that—meant no small fortune, no quiet, comfortable sufficiency; it meant perhaps millions, and what millions brought with them. Black Sheep no more. Wanderer no more. The wild places no more. How could a man of millions live in what Gin-Sling had termed "a hole in the bush"?

Wentworth. The thorough investigation which followed his unaccountable disappearance showed that he had last been seen on the brow of Capitol Hill, looking over the city spread out before him. All about him were masons and stone cutters, working on an extension to the Capitol. Below him was a labyrinth of partly covered excavations for the subbasement of the new extension.

What could have become of him? Did he meet with foul play, and if so, how was his body concealed? Did he fall a prey to the bullet of some Confederate spy? Was it possible that, while exploring the labyrinthine mazes of the new portion of the Capitol he was overcome by the heat and fell into some dark abyss, where his remains were later walled up and entombed?

Small War Memorial. It is still a moot point as to where in London one encounters the smallest war memorial, writes "Looker On" in the London Daily Chronicle. The smallest I have come across is a glass case on the front of a block of workmen's flats on Albert embankment near Vauxhall.

English Tapestries. Tapestries had been imported into England for generations, but it was not until the middle of the Sixteenth century that looms were set up in Warwickshire by William Sheldon.

HISTORY'S MYSTERIES

Unsolved Mysteries That Still Puzzle Authorities Here and Abroad

What Became of Harvey Wentworth?

THE Civil war brought about many very mysterious disappearances, but one of the most remarkable of them all was that of Harvey B. Wentworth, New Hampshire farmer lad who went away on a furlough one day in July, 1862, and was never heard from thereafter.

Early in July, 1892, a new regiment of volunteers was mustered into service in the vicinity of Suncook, N. H., a regiment known as the Nineteenth New Hampshire volunteers. One of the most enthusiastic members of this regiment was young Wentworth, a private in Company D. He was a farmer boy of exceptionally good habits, intelligent and inquisitive. Therefore, when the regiment encamped on the Virginia side of the Potomac, near Aqueduct bridge, and Wentworth requested a furlough to see the sights of the Capital, it was granted without a moment's hesitation.

When he left camp he was full of youthful enthusiasm over the prospect of seeing the sights of Washington and, apparently, had never left every road that led out of the Capital, as well as along its leading thoroughfares, and no one could get by them without having his pass recorded. The records of these guards showed that the missing youth had presented his pass on entering the western limits of the city, and they indicated his progress along Pennsylvania avenue to the Capitol. But, after that, all trace of him was lost.

The thorough investigation which followed his unaccountable disappearance showed that he had last been seen on the brow of Capitol Hill, looking over the city spread out before him. All about him were masons and stone cutters, working on an extension to the Capitol. Below him was a labyrinth of partly covered excavations for the subbasement of the new extension.

Had he deserted, Wentworth would have eventually returned to New Hampshire, if only for the purpose of keeping in touch with conditions there. But nothing was ever heard of him in any section of the country, and the only mark to his memory is the monument in the little churchyard in Suncook, New Hampshire, which bears the lettering:

"Harry B. Wentworth—Mysteriously disappeared from the knowledge of men—Washington, D. C., July, 1862."

Courtesy of the Senate. Senatorial courtesy is something well understood but difficult to define. One authority defined it as indulgences extended by one senator to another. Another suggests that the term "senatorial courtesy" is one applied to a custom in the United States senate by which the procedure of that body is based, chiefly, on the honor of senators rather than upon strict rules.

No Fear. Bessie had great fun in running up behind the pet pig and pulling its tail. Grandfather felt this wasn't a very safe thing for Bessie to be doing, so he asked her one day whether she wasn't afraid the pig would bite her. "No, Grandpa," said Bessie, "it's head is on the other end."

Wisconsin Cow Breaks World's Milk Production Record

Winconsin Mandy Homestead, a registered purebred Holstein cow owned by Earl Hughes, of Neenah, Wis., recently broke the world's 365-day milk and butter production record for four-year-old cows of all breeds. She produced, in a year's time, more than ten tons of milk (20,114.2 lbs. to be exact) and 553.1 lbs. of butter.

McGRAW TEMPTED FATE TOO OFTEN

Had His Share of Second Base Talent, Now Lacking.

The baseball fates may feel that John McGraw has had his full share of second base talent, and therefore let him continue worrying about the Keystone problem. After the great Larry Doyle, McGraw developed Fordham Frank Frisch as a brilliant keystone man. Then he traded Frisch for Rogers Hornsby, meanwhile discarding one of the best of all young prospects in Fresno Thompson, present captain of the Furious Phillies.

The fates were tempted when the Giants let Hornsby go under circumstances still mysterious to most baseball men. Since then the Giants have gone nowhere. McGraw has tried Cohen, Reese, Farrell, and now Eddie Marshall, while Hornsby has helped substantially to make another championship club.

The Cincinnati Reds will be the big surprise of the National league race this season, opines Babe Ruth in listing the order of finish for teams in the senior loop.

Babe likes the Cubs and Pittsburgh in that order. The Reds will wind up third, says he, with the Giants in fourth position and the Cardinals leading Philadelphia, Brooklyn and Boston in the second division.

Improved punch, plus the managerial ability of Dan Howley, will boost the Reds, he avers, with only some good pitching needed to make the Phillies step a notch or two higher.

Col. Phil T. Chin, noted Kentucky breeder, thinks he will have the satisfaction of seeing a colt that he bred win the Kentucky Derby. The two most prominent Derby candidates bred by Colonel Chin are Desert Light, now owned by the Fair stable, and High Foot, owned by the Valley Lake stable. Colonel Chin is a son of the late Col. Jack Chin, who won the 1883 Derby with Leonatus.

The Kent school, eight-oared crew of Kent, Conn., will try to lift the Thames cup at the Royal English Henley regatta, July 2 to 5. The Browne and Nichols school of Cambridge, Mass., lifted the challenge cup last summer, but because of the graduation will not defend the cup. It will be the second time in three years the Kent school crew has visited the English rowing classic.

Bill Cissell, White Sox infielder, weighed 172 this spring, 22 pounds more than he weighed when he first reported to the club.

Art Jahn is one player that Nick Williams is counting on heavily in his pre-season plans to furnish part of the power that Smead Jolley and Gussie Suhr will carry to other parts.

Jahn was purchased by the Seals last summer from Portland along with Jack Knight and, though he never did reach the form expected of him, he did show encouraging flashes.

Art finished the season hitting .204 and Williams is confident that his Polish outfielder will add materially to these figures.

Charles Murphy, star center on the Loyola basketball team for the last three seasons, is the first Hamlet athlete to secure a berth on an all-American first team picked by Les Gaze in the May issue of College Humor.

Also on the first team are Woodson of Purdue and Johnson of North Carolina State as guards, Frank Ward of Montana State and Hyatt of Pittsburgh as forwards.

The marking of two lines across the court and the adoption of a rule to penalize teams that pass the ball backward across the "action line" is the plan offered to eliminate stalling in basketball by Ray Hanson, director of athletics of the Western Illinois State Teachers' college. Hanson claims that certain teams have won their way into championships by back passing, lateral passing and otherwise keeping possession of the ball without making an effort to advance it.

Howard Ehmke, Ed Rommel and Jack Quinn, veteran pitchers of the Athletics, are known as "spot" pitchers because Connie Mack intends saving them for duty against certain clubs.

Seeing Big League BASEBALL

By BILLY EVANS
Sportswriter, Big League Umpire and General Manager of the Cleveland Indians

During my twenty-two years as an American League umpire I have worked consecutive shut-out performances, hitless games and extra inning contests. I have officiated in games featured by record breaking strikeouts. Yet none of these performances made the impression on me that a world series game pitched by Herb Penneck in 1923 did. It was a pitching classic as relating to courageous hurling.

In the first place it was the third meeting between the two New York clubs in a world series. The Giants had won both previous clashes, despite the fact that the Yankees got away to a two-game lead in the first meeting. When the two clubs met for the third time, the Giants went into the series a strong favorite. In the two previous series McGraw's pitchers had stopped Ruth, and the Yankees' much vaunted hurling staff had failed to hold the Giants in check. At this stage of the hostilities Herb Penneck, slim southpaw, looking more like a high school boy than an experienced big leaguer, entered the arena. The first game of the 1923 series was

Adrift With Humor

SWEET MUSIC

The man in the want-ad booth of the newspaper office was puzzled. "See here," he objected, "You don't want to put this ad for a cash register under the head of 'Musical Instruments' do you?" "Sure," said the gentleman on the other side of the counter. "That is what it is to me, boy!"—New York Central Magazine.

BIG BENEFIT

She—What did you ever do to benefit another man?
He—Gosh! Didn't I marry you?

New One on Them

"You tell those tooting fools," growled father, who was sore, "About our doorbell—and Tell 'em what it's for!"

Appeared in a Mystery Play

The Girl—I should just love to go on the stage.
The Man—Yes, it's rather nice. I once appeared at the Alhambra.
The Girl—Oh, how topping! What sort of act was it?
The Man—A little mystery play. I left the audience to help a conjurer with a card trick.

Consistency

"Are you annoyed by the people who want you to assist them in getting salaried positions?"
"No," answered Senator Sorghum. "I mustn't be inconsistent. I have for many years been asking the people to do the same thing for me."—Washington Star.

Trophies of the Chase

Moterson—Was that guy we hit hurt badly?
Speedup—I dunno. I just got out to cut a button off his coat to put in my collection of trophies.

WORM WILL TURN

First Girl—Why do you call him a worm?
Second Girl—When he passes me he always turns.

Convict—I did, ma'am. And I got two months extra for resisting the police.—Stray Stories.

Worth While

Employer—Why are you discharged from your last place?
Applicant—For good behavior.
Employer—What do you mean?
Applicant—they took three months off my sentence.

A Technicality

The Counselor—You've been indicted for attempted manslaughter.
The Prisoner—That oughta be easy to defend, cause it wasn't a man but 'dame that I beat up.

More Appropriate

The Host of the Graball Inn—That's a new pennant I had designed to hoist over the inn. What do you think of it?
The Guest—Very pretty. Captain Kidd flew the skull and crossbones.

Quite the Opposite

Mr. Goodpatter—You are getting on in years. You should turn your thoughts toward heaven.
Mr. Oldsmith—On the contrary, I'm thinking of getting married again.

Restless Children

Children will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always one sure way to comfort a restless, fretful child. Castoria! Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than some powerful medicine that is meant for the stronger systems of adults.

understand. A coated tongue calls for a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed to set everything to rights. Genuine Castoria has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Doctors prescribe it.

Pleasure has its time; so too has wisdom. Make love in thy youth, and in old age attend to thy salvation.—Voltaire.

och, the Genius
The late Marshal Foch of France was widely quoted in Germany as a military authority long before the World war broke out.—American Magazine.

Judge Got Aerial View
A San Diego (Calif.) judge held court in an airplane to get a bird's-eye view of part of the city. Superior Judge Lloyd E. Griffin made the flight with attorneys from both sides in an injunction suit over a proposed causeway over Mission bay and viewed the territory affected.

Relaxations
"Do you think a man of great public responsibility ought to permit himself the diversions of ordinary humanity?"
"Certainly," replied Senator Sorghum. "There is nothing more sensible than a little nonsense at the right time and place."

Nervous, Could Not Sleep—Weak, All Fagged Out
St. Paul, Minn.—"I would say to all women who are nervous, take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, there is nothing that will build up the nerves like this medicine. I was rundown, my nerves were so weak and upset that I could not sleep, felt so weak and all day long I was in a state of nervousness. I took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, I was feeling like a new woman, my nerves were strengthened so I could sleep and get my rest and I was built up generally."—Mrs. Tillie Gibford, 555 Canada St. Dealers. Says Men Want Pals, Not Patients!

SHE was engaged! She was the happiest girl in the world. A round of teas and parties, a whirl of pleasure, and she began to wonder what was the matter. Too tired to go out—and he was becoming tired of her? It was at this point that Miss Margaret Belden of Los Angeles woke up to the fact that something had to be done about it. "Men want pals, not patients," she writes. "I went right to my doctor. Do you know what he said? Rest—and Nujol!"

"With a prayer in my heart and Nujol in my medicine cabinet I began to fight back to being the healthy, robust, happy girl I had been before. Two months passed. No more tears—no more worrying, no more bad dreams. Today I beat him on the tennis court, and although he can out-swim me, I make him work doing it. It's good to be happy. It's good to be free, physically, and be able to share, any time, in sports or dancing or anything else with the one you love!" Here's another one who has learned that the simplest and surest way to be well and full of good spirits is to clear the bodily poisons out of your system regularly. Not with powerful drugs, but normally, naturally, easily. Doctors and nurses recommend such a natural treatment as Nujol, because this crystal-clear liquid isn't a medicine at all! It contains absolutely no drugs. It is simply internal lubrication that your body needs like any other machine. Good looks and good spirits—do they spell popularity? You know they do! Get a bottle of Nujol tonight in any drug store. Sold in sealed packages only—trade-marked "Nujol." Insist on Nujol by name. It costs but a few cents—and it will make you feel like a million dollars.

Tulips in Holland
The miles and miles of bulb fields in Holland are a rare sight in spring. But the Dutch grower is no sentimentalist; the bulb fields would soon disappear, an unprofitable industry, if he did not send his workers out day by day to cut off the full blooms and thereby strengthen the bulbs for future flowering. The tourist is welcome to us many flowers as he can carry away from the "refuse pile beside every patch.

None hate, but many fear truth.

Odd Electrical Discharge
St. Elmo's fire is the glow accompanying the brushlike discharges of atmospheric electricity which usually appear as a tip of light on the extremities of pointed objects, such as a church tower or the masts of ships, during stormy weather. It is commonly accompanied by a crackling or fizzing noise. The name, St. Elmo, is an Italian corruption through Sant' Ermo of St. Erasmus, the patron saint of Mediterranean sailors, who regard St. Elmo's fire as the visible sign of his guardianship.

Doctor's PRESCRIPTION when system is sluggish; costs nothing to try

When your bowels need help, the mildest thing that will do the work is always the sensible choice. Take a laxative that a family doctor has used for all sorts of cases of constipation. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is so pleasant to the taste, so gentle in its action, it is given children of tender age and yet it is just as thorough and effective as stronger preparations. Pure senna, and harmless laxative herbs; ingredients that soon start a gentle muscular action. Avoid a coated tongue, bad breath, bilious headaches, etc. Every drug store has Dr. Caldwell's famous prescription in big bottles. Or just write Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, Monticello, Ill., for a free trial bottle.

His Finish
Walter Raleigh, business manager of several cities, is teaching the rudiments of business and finance to his daughter, Barbara. The other day he took her to the store for some beef. To his surprise, she came back with a ham.

"What do you mean by the butcher's ham?" demanded Walter curiously.

"That's all right," said Barbara. "I was just when I went in the store and saw an ex-ham to some man who was the last of the Los Angeles Times."

A DIURETIC FOR THE KIDNEYS

U. S. Milwaukee, No. 16-1930.

Save these 4 chicks, too

There is no need to lose four out of every ten chicks. Good stock can be kept healthy and vigorous — if the dangerous intestinal troubles are avoided. Try these wonderful feeds —

INTERNATIONAL Health Chick Mash

FOR STARTING AND GROWING

They contain 40% of a 2% combination of health ingredients which are contained only in International Health Mash.

Tune in on W. H. B. L. Sheboygan Station every Monday, Wednesday and Friday noon and hear more about these wonderful mashes.

International Sugar Feed Co., Minneapolis, Minn.
Gentlemen:
We are feeding your Health chick mash to thousands of chicks in our Storage Brooders, and the results are far beyond anything we have ever experienced. Chicks grow faster and more uniform with hardly any loss, and what I like about your Health chick mash most of all is that it keeps the bowels of the little chicks in good normal condition. All our chick customers are feeding International Health chick mash with splendid success.
Yours truly,
KRUEGER POULTRY FARM & HATCHERY,
West Bend, Wisconsin

April 15, 1930
International Sugar Feed Co., Minneapolis, Minn.
Dear Sir:
Just a few words to let you know, that we purchased 2000 White Leghorn Chicks from Schwartz Poultry Farm, Lomira, Wis., just 5 weeks ago. We have fed them on your International Health Chick Mash, as recommended by your local dealer and salesman. The Lomira Co-op. Co. guaranteed to feed those 2000 chicks up to eight weeks old, on three tons chick mash; which is an all mash ration. Those chicks are now past five weeks old, and consumed only a little over 1 ton of your mash, and have not fed an ounce of other feed in connection. Our chicks are the finest in this community, lost only about 4% and the balance are the most uniform lot of chicks around Tomah. I now admit that 3 lbs. International Chick Mash will grow a Leghorn to eight weeks old with wonderful results.
Sincerely yours,
FRED VOIGT

April 5, 1930
International Sugar Feed Co., Minneapolis, Minn.
Dear Sir:
Just a few words to let you know that feeding of baby chicks on International Health Chick Mash is a pleasure. We have placed 1000 chicks under our brooders now exactly eight weeks ago. We lost just 84 chicks out of the lot and have sold 600 broilers at just eight weeks old that averaged just two lbs. We call this wonderful growth, and our chicks all developed uniform. When a better chick mash is made, the International Sugar Feed Co. will make it. Nearly all the poultrymen in this territory are feeding it with good results.
Sincerely yours,
ALYS LECHER, R. 1, Port Washington, Wis.

POPULAR RADIO STARS ON NEW PROGRAM

Heard Twice Weekly Through More than 30 Stations

THIS charming young lady is one of the featured stars appearing frequently on a new series of radio programs which will be broadcast through more than thirty mid-western radio stations. These new programs are popular in appeal, including new songs, old-time melodies, folk songs, tunes from popular pictures and shows of this season as well as the well-remembered melodies of operettas and musical comedies of several seasons ago.

New Musical Arrangements
Special arrangements are used in many of the orchestral numbers. There are violin solos, banjo solos, xylophone solos and many beautiful ensemble numbers. The orchestra includes Victor recording artists and musicians from many of the radio orchestras.

In addition to the above young lady, a soprano with an unusually pleasing voice, you will hear tenor and baritone solos and several selections by an outstanding male quartette.

Over Thirty Stations
These programs are sponsored by the Skelgas Utility Division of Skelly Oil Company.

The program will be broadcast through the following stations, twice weekly: WCCO, Minneapolis; WHO, Des Moines; KVOO, Tulsa; WFLX, Tallahassee; KBOO, Sioux Falls; KMMJ, Clay Center; WTAQ, East Claire; KMBL, Kansas City; WOW, Omaha; WDAY, Fargo; WBBZ, Bismarck; KFLV, Rapid City; KFJY, Pierre; KMOX, St. Louis; KPH, Wichita; KJIB, Manhattan; WJAG, Norfolk; KFJM, Grand Forks; KFRU, College; KMA, Abraham Lincoln; KPA, Ellendale; WKY, Oklahoma City; WCBZ, Springfield; KBCJ, Sioux City; WIRA, Madison; KTNT, Marquette; WTJM, Jackson; WLS, Chicago; WJWB, Toledo; KPEO, St. Joseph; KGBZ, York; WESC, Duluth; KFKB, Mankato; WOWO, St. Wayne.

A Complete Line of Chicken Feeds JOHN MARX

A Surer Sign Than Robins
Oh! Oh! What's this . . . Poor "Gas" . . . His thoughts are already one jump ahead of spring . . . His fancy has turned . . . But you can't blame him . . . Nothing in the world is more glorious to "Gas" than a tankful of Gasoneil and "Velvet" beside him in his yellow readster . . . That's life . . . top down . . . and a spin along the open road with smooth, softly purring motor . . . free from trouble.

Gasoneil 66 and 62 are modern motor fuels . . . motor fuels that give high compression performance at no extra cost . . . If you prefer the rattle-free performance of Ethyl . . . You will find that, too, at all O'Neil stations in Johnson's Ethyl Gasoline . . . In short, you will find all O'Neil stations completely equipped to take care of all of your motoring needs and your personal whims.
