KEWASKUM'S POPULATION INCREASES

According to figures given out by John Reinders, census enumerator for the village and town of Kewaskum, who finished his work Monday, the population of the village of Kewaskum is 799 as compared to 707 in 1920, an increase of 92 people. This increase proves that Kewaskum is steadily growing. This growth is due no coubt to help employed at the alumi num factory and other smaller business places that have started since the census taken in 1920.

Oat Varieties Resist Disease

to Determine Susceptibility to Disorder.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) As the first step in a program to reduce the annual loss suffered by out farmers on account of rusts, the United States Department of Agriculture, in co-operation with 65 experiment stations, has completed tests extending over a period of five years to determine varieties resistant to stem rust. Incidentally, observations also were made on the resistance of these varieties to crown rust and the smuts of oats.

An important fact brought out by the tests is that there seems to be no relation between resistance to stem rust and resistance to crown rust. Some of the varieties most resistant to one rust were least resistant to the other. Observations on the smuts, another important group of oat diseases, indicate that there is also no relation between smut resistance and rust resistance in the varieties tested.

Resistant Varieties.

The varieties which were most resistant to stem rust during the fiveyear period are: logold, Hajira, Richland, Minota X White Tartar (White Russian), White Tartar, Green Mountain, Anthony, and Edkin. Varieties least affected by crown rust were Green Mountain, Red Rustproof, towar, Burt, "Rustless selection," and Ruakura. Hajira was the only variety which appeared to be resistant to the smuts and both of the rusts.

Varieties most resistant to the smuts under the conditions of these experiments were Markton, Red Rustproof, Fulghum and Hajira. Those moderately resistant to the smuts include Burt, Richland, Silvermine, "Rustless selection," and lowar. Varleties extremely susceptible were White Tartar, Green Mountain, and Some of the varieties were highly resistant to one group of diseaseproducing fungi and very susceptible to the other. Markton and Fulghum were very resistant to both smuts, but extremely susceptible to both rusts. Red Rustproof also was highly resistant to both smuts and to crown rust, but was susceptible to stem rust. On the other hand, Green Mountain was susceptible to both smuts but resistant to both rusts.

Smuts Prevented.

The smuts can be prevented by seed treatment, but those in charge of the tests feel that it would be highly desirable to combine rust resistance and smut resistance in one variety, if possible. To do this will persmuts and rusts peculiar to oats.

Sheep Manure for Bean

Growing Thought Best Farmers, where beans are ar important cash crop, consider sheep manure the best fertilizing agent for the growing of beans. Better results are obtained with the use of sheep monure than anything else. Cow manure is also considered as having good bean growing properties, but runs second to sheep manure in this respect. Sheep manure contains more nitrogen than horse or cow manure and about twice as much phosphoric acid, a very important essential for the growth of beans. Phosphorus is needed for the sheen manure is desired.

Bean growing and sheep are very closely related in farming here, says a writer in the Rural New Yorker, The pods make a good forage feed for sheep and are used extensively in the fattening of lambs for which the county is noted in western New York. The manure from the sheep and lambs is then used on the bean ground and this cycle works advantageously both ways. Sheep manure is considered one of the best agents for enriching rupdown land, and thus the big producers of beans here rely on sheep to keep their tand in the best condition for the growth of this crop.

Perennial Vegetables

Are Drought Resistant The perennial vegetables, with the exception of strawberries, are more drought resistant than most of the ordinary sorts. This should be taken into consideration in the arrangement of the garden. The high side of the garden, if it is not level, always dries out first during hot weather. Therefore if these more drought resisting sorts are put on the high side of the garden, it will give better all around results in the long run.

One cannot plan a garden that will apply to all farms. It must be varied according to the tastes of the family that is going to use it. For example, some folks like sauerkraut and others do not. The family that does should go strong on cabbage. It is, therefore, first necessary to study the tastes of the family and then plan the garden according to those tastes.

OUTBREAKS OF ARMY WORMS ARE EXPLAINED IN NEW BULLETIN

Migration Is Result of Flight of Moths.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The frequent outbreaks of the fall army worm have caused this insect to be known and feared by farmers living in the southern half of the United States east of the Rocky mountains. For several years the United States Department of Agriculture has been conducting studies of this insect at Brownsville, Texas. Results of these studies have now been published as Technical Bulletin 138-T, "Studies on the Fall Army Worm in the Gulf Coast District of Texas."

The general outbreaks occur in the United States as a result of the northward flight of moths. By going northward, the moths finally reach territory where the species is unable to survive the winter, since the army worm is a tropical species. The northward migration is only a part of the general migration which occurs in all directions, but it is the part which is of most interest to the United States. As a rule corn and forage crops mature ahead of the flight of moths of the fall army worm, but in occasional years crops are late. Moths concentrate on these late crops and the result is an outbreak of the fall army

Health of Plants and

Man Amply Protected The methods of controlling plant diseases are probably as numerous as those used in fighting human ailments and since they are both concerned with the suppression of germs and organisms the means of dealing with them are somewhat similar, according to Dr. R. J. Haskell, who has charge of the plant disease survey work in the United States Department of Agriculture.

Doctor Haskell says there are four main lines of attack in dealing with plant diseases. The first method is to keep them out of the country by means of quarantines and rigid inspection. The second line of attack is by eradication, which may be successful if begun before a disease has spread over a wide area. Another method is prevention of infection by placing a barrier between the "germ" and the host plant. This is done by spraying with fungicides, destruction of insect carriers, and in numerous other ways. The fourth method is selection and breeding for resistant varieties.

The bulletin gives a complete discussion of the life history and hebits of the insect, its seasonal history and natural enemies. It may be obtained from the Office of Information, Department of Agriculture, Washington. D. C., as long as there is a supply available for free distribution.

Poison Bran Mash Best

to Control Cutworms Polson bran mash is the most effective control for an outbreak of cutworms. This mash is made by stirring together three gallons of water, two quarts of blackstrap or other cheap molasses, and one pint of 40 per cent sodium arsenite solution. If the sodium arsenite is not available one pound of the crystal can be used. This should be stirred together thoroughly and then mixed with 25 pounds of bran.

This mixture should be scattered over infested fields at dusk at the rate of about eight to ten pounds an acre. The greasy cutworms which may be found on overflow areas do not respond to the poison bran treatment very successfully. The best control for this pest is late planting of corn or the substitution of other crops such as soy beans, millet or sudan grass, according to W. P. Flint, Illinois state entomologist.

Agricultural Notes

Sanitation makes for farm economy,

Copper carbonate dust controls smut in wheat.

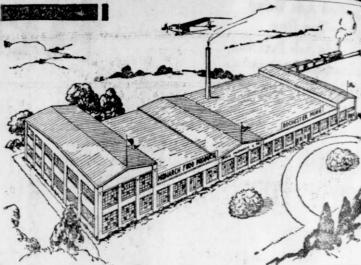

The soil is the farmer's source of income, his investment, his wealth. Clover hay is two-and-a-half and al-in digestible protein as is timothy.

Money spent for fertilizer should be considered business investment. Like other investments it should be made wisely.

A maximum amount of sunshine, good drainage and soil rich in organic matter, are the requirements of the home garden.

Old Dr. Caldwell's prescription cannot form the cathartic habit. It can be given to the child whose tongue is coated, or whose breath is fetid, or has a little fever. Or to older people whose bowels are clogged. Its ingredients stimulate muscular action and thus aid the bowels to more normal functioning. The pure senna and laxative herbs in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are good for the system. So do not hesitate to use it when there's biliousness, headaches, or any sign of constipation. Your druggist has this world-famous prescription in big bottles. Or, write Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, Monticello, Ill., and a free trial bottle will be sent to you, postpaid.

ORDON 8: "MICKEY" COCHRANE is the best catcher of the age Intelligent, fast as a rabbit, heavy-hitting, Cochrane goes long way in giving Connie Mach's A's a big boest, It is only his fifth year in the majors, out his work the last two seasons has made the above statement the truest dope in the world. A man who benches a catcher like Ralph Perkins is a real backstop. Of this there can be no doubt.

more than 20 years.

Cochrane learned plenty at the University 3 of Boston: besides baseball, but evidently the latter la a natural penchant. His smartness behind the Athletic pitchers is undoubtedly responsible for much of their success.

Cochrane was called in from Portland of: the Pacific Coast league before the start of the 1925 compaign. He has performed like a real pro for Mack, ever since, The year he came up he hit 331, which is about his aver-, 3 age this year. In 1926 he suffered his worst year at the plate when .273 was his best.

Mickey bats from the wrong side and worries the pitchers considerably—about as much as he eases his own twirlers when he catches them. They have no worries about men on the paths with Cochrane receiving them. Cochrane is five feet ten and one-half inches tall and weighs 180 pounds.

String of Experienced Pitchers Big Help to Manager.

An experienced and smart pitching staff, is a great relief to a manager under any circumstances. But there is one particular time that it means the most and that is a time that very few funs think about.

The situation referred to is that in which a manager is breaking in a new catcher.

Donie Bush of our White Sox is facing just that circumstance and he is thanking his stars for pitchers such as Thomas Lyons, Faber, Blankenship and Henry to help pave the way for the development of young Johnnie Riddle.

With Moe Berg, his first string receiver, on the injured list, Donle must use Riddle right from the start. The youngster has everything to make a great star, apparently, except experience: When he goes behind the bat to catch such men as the abovementioned pitchers, he can have experience made to order.

Naming Christy Mathewson of the Glants as pitcher and Johnny Kling of the Cubs, catcher, Honus Wagner, famous in other days as shortstop of either infield or outfield and can catch the Pittsburgh Pirates, picks all alltime all-American baseball team in Collier's. Tex Rickard always wanted to build a Madison Square garden in London, and it would not be surprising if that very thing were done in the comparatively near future. London emissaries have been over here several times to talk over the matter with William F. Carey and his associates, and the idea has received favorable consideration. The London garden might have something in common with the garden in Boston. That is, it might be built in connection with some railroad sta-

Cincinnati Reds, believes in having runners on the bases and ready to run when his pitchers are working in batting practice. "I always have a runner or two on the bases and the pitcher has to watch those runners," says Howley. "I ask my pitchers to throw to the bases and accustom themselves to pitching with runners on the path. That is one of the most important things in the business of pitching. No pitcher ever be came a great pitcher until he realized fully this responsibility.

"Many pitchers fail to make the grade because they cannot pitch with runners on the bases. Some of them change their pitching style as soon as a runner gets on. Sometimes this shift in styles takes away the effectiveness from the pitcher. The change seems to throw him off his stride."

Willie Kamm, the clever third-sacker of the Chicago White Sox, when he played his first game in the Amer-Ican League had a $50 glove on his left hand-so the story is told. Honns Wagner, one of the game's greatest players, when he played his first game in the hig stuff had a glove on his left hand that cost $2. Madison-For the first time in its 40 years of existence the Daily Cardinal, student publication at the University of Wisconsin, will have a woman as its managing editor during 1930-

Washburn-The Enyfield county board has approved a proposed sale of 60,000 acres of land near Drummond to the federal government as an addition to the newly created Moquah National forest nearby.

Stevens Point-More than $50,000 18 being invested in fertilizers by Portage county farmers this year, according to County Agent H. R. Noble, who has directed a successful program of soil improvement for several years.

Superior-John Pellman, .11, was fatally injured by a horse on his father's farm near Maple. The boy, with several companions, threw "ticks and stones at the animal to tease it. The horse charged the group, injuring John. He died in a hospital here.

Wausau-Farmers in every section of Marathon county are co-operating to eliminate "boarder" cattle from their herds, according to W. J. Rogan, county agent, who has been conducting a campaign to cull cows not producing more than 20 pounds of butter fat. Stevens Point-Central Wisconsin expects a shortage of clover hay this summer because of the killing of much old clover and the rather poor stand of new seedings. The unfavorable late fall and shortness of the growth of clover in the fields together with bare fields late in the winter is the cause of short growth, Sturgeon Bay-By unanimous vote the Door county board of supervisors passed a resolution calling for a $100,-000 bond issue, which, with state allotments, will be used in carrying out this year's part of the six-year $2. 1000,000 hard surfaced road program approved by the voters in a referen-

Fond du Lac-Pishop R. H. Weller of the Episcopal Discuse of Fond du Lac and Mrs. Weller will leave June 13 for London, where Bishop Weller will attend the Lambeth conference, which will bring together approximately 270 prelates from all countries in the world. The conference meets every ten years. Dean and Mrs. E. W. Averill will also attend the conference, Chippewa Falls - Although this city voted Apr. 1 to abandon the commission form of government and return to the aldermanic form with an alderman elected from each of the 10 wards, the change cannot be made for a year, according to Judge James Wickham, who ruled in circuit court that the present council lacked authority to call a special election before the regular spring election next April.

Madison-Stock raisers in Wisconsin have about 12 per cent more cattle in the feed lots now than a year ago. The large er p of hay last year and more favorable feed prices are stimulating cattle feeders, according to the crop reporting service of the Wisconsin and federal department of agriculture. More cattle were shipped into Wisconsin in recent months than during the same period of last year.

Madison-A total of $318,000.91 was paid in pensions to the blind in Wisconsin during 1929, an increase of more than $22,000 over the previous year, according to figures released by the state board of control. The total blind population of the state was 2. 784 in 1929 and 1.285 persons received the pensions, the report declared. Of the pensioners, 733 were men and 512 were women. There were 199 new pensions granted for the year.

Oshkosh-Lutheran ministers of the Ohio synod, in session here, spent considerable time in discussion of the merger of the Iowa. Ohio and Buffalo synods of the Lutheran church, which will take place in Toledo, Ohio, in August. Opinions were generally fav-Grable. The proposed name for the amalgamated group will be the American Lutheran Church. Final details of the merger will be discussed at a meeting of representatives of the church at Marshfield the last week in June.

Alma-Two girls and a boy of 22 were held in the county jail here on charges of aiding in the holdup of the First National bank at Nelson, While his three companions, two girls and a boy, waited outside, a fourth youth entered the bank, where directors were preparing to hold a meeting. He escaped with $3.426 after locking the directors and bank employes in a vauit. The youth who actually held up the bank was not the one arrested near Cochrane, but officers said they felt certain that he would be caught.

Platteville-Fifty thousand illustrated booklets depicting the scenic and historical attractions of southwestern Wisconsin will be distributed this year by the Southwest Wisconsin Scenic association which held its fourth meeting here. Representatives of sixteen cities were present at the meeting.

Eau Clairs—This city gained 5,431 in population in the last 10 years, F. N. Herrick, district census supervisor has announced. The 1930 population is 26,307 and at 20,006 in 1920, or a gain of more than 25 per cent.

Kenosha -- Completion of the Boy Scout camp at Dver lake became as sured last week when C. W. Nash. who gave the 70-acre campsite, agreed to underwrite the $16,000 necessary to extend the project according to the plans of the scout council. A total of $55,000 has already been spent on the

Madison-An apropriation of $51,000 for home missionary work was voted by the administrative council of the Wisconsin synod of the Presbyterian

De Pere-Almost 500 samples of soil from 370 farms of Brown county were rested for phosphorus and lime at meetings held in five townships of the county. One-third of the samples showed a deficiency in lime and 315 samples, or about two-thirds, showed a deficiency in phosphorus.

Plymouth-F. G. Swoboda has announced his resignation as field mantivities for the National Cheese Proman and organizer for the federation in 1921 and was appointed manager in 1929. Mr. Swoboda was one of the best known workers in the middle west cheese industry.

Wisconsin Rapids-There is to be no conflict this summer between church and Sunday golfing or fishing in the congregation of the Rev. J. M. Johnson, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church here. The Rev. Mr. Johnson has announced that throughout the summer he will hold individual services as early as 4 a. m. Sundays for those desiring to seek recreation on the links or angling for trout.

Whitewater - James O'Donnell, 80, father of the late famous Jimmy O'-Donnell, nationally known automobile race driver, was burned to death in his home near here today. Mrs. O'Donnell escaped although the house was reduced to ashes. Mr. and Mrs. O'Donnell lived alone in a small cottage about a half mile from here and no one except a few neighbors knew about the fire until the house was destroyed.

Platteville-James Clark, local Milwaukee road station agent, rounded out 50 years of continuous service with the company here last week. Ar. Clark started as a water boy on the old Prairie du Chien division, learned telegraphy and secured a position at Stoughton, from which place he was transferred as station agent at Gratiot. After seven years at Gratiot, he was transferred to Platteville, where he has remained since.

Manitowoc - Between $50,000 and $100,000 worth of uncut diamonds and other precious stones were stolen near Haven, seven miles north of Sheboygan on Highway 141, when two cars armed men held up August Axt. Milwaukee diamond importer, and Manfred Warshauer, also of Milwaukee, and escaped. More than $200,000 more of the uncut diamonds which Axt is said to have sewn to his garments were not discovered by the Madison-The Wisconsin conservation and highway commission will expend $122,000 in 1930 for improving roads in state parks, according to aunouncement here. The largest appropriation is for Northern Forest state park, Vilas county, where $35,000 will be spent. Other amounts include: American Legion Memorial and Forest preserve, Oneida county, $30,000; Potowatomi, Door county, $20,000; Peninsula, Door county, $15,000; Devils Lake, Sauk county, $10,000; other parks, $12,000.

Madison - Wisconsin cities levied general property taxes of $75.698,000 in 1929, $2,655,000 more than the preceding year, the state tax commission has announced. In 1928 the taxes totaled $73,043,000. All the figures were exclusive of the special assessments for streets and other improvements. Of the 1929 general property tax the school levy was 30 per cent of the total, or $29,502,000. Others were: State, 3.2 per cent, or $2,386,000; county, 20 per cent, or $15,166,000; local, 37.8 per cent, or $28,644,000.

Madison - The state and counties must refund all inheritance taxes collected under the old provision that gifts made within six years of death are taxable, under a ruling here by the Wisconsin supreme court. The decision means that the state and counties must pay back to heirs between $200,-000 and $300,000 collected under the old provision that gifts within six years of death were taxable as having been made in contemplation of death. When the courts held the six-year clause in the inheritance tax law invalid, the legislature passed a law providing for a refund of the illegal taxes

TWO HUNDRED HOMES DESTROYED BY FIRE

Nashua, N. H., Suffers 1 oss Estimated at $5,000,000.

Nashua, N. H .- Two hundred homes, three large industrial plants, and two ager and director of educational ac- churches were destroyed by a fire which swept the southeastern section ducers' federation. He became a field of this city, leaped across the Merrimack river at the southern city limits and, still fanned by a 40 mile northwest wind, raged southward date heavy timber land. The damage will reach at least $5,000,000.

More than 1,000 persons were home less in the city proper. Local National Guard units were mobilized and with every available policeman patrolled the streets to prevent looting and provide aid and shelter for the homelesse Every fireman in the city, with organized firefighters and volunteers from twenty other cities and towns within a radius of thirty miles, battled the flames as they swept toward Hudson, Tyngsboro and the Massachusetts state line.

Father Ulbade Simoneau of the church and convent school of the lufant Jesus (French Roman Catholic) led six hundred children to safety from the parochial hall, where they were watching a play. Ten minutes later the hall was a mass of fire. At the armory, where the homeless gathered, 500 cots were provided. The local chapter of the Red Cross took charge of providing food and bedding. In addition to the church of the Infant Jesus, the Crown Hill Baptist church went up in smoke and several small business establishments scattered through the section.

Terrified residents, warned to leave the threatened area, piled their belongings in the streets, carried off what they could and returned later through the military lines to find houses and property smoldering ruins.

Virtually all the 31,000 inhabitants of the city were either fighting fires or in flight.

New York.-Driven by high winds, fires swept through dry grass, tinderlike undergrowth, or leaped to houses trees on Long Island, in New Jersey, and on Staten island, causing damage tentatively put at more than $2,000,000.

Firebug Is Blamed for 320 Ohio Prison Deaths

Columbus, Ohio.-Negligence was blamed for the Ohio ponitentiary fire which took 320 convict lives April 24 in the report submitted to Gov. Myers Y. Cooper by his inquiry board, while at the same time a report submitted by the state fire marshal, Ray R. Gill, expressed belief the origin of the fire was incendiary.

Negligence consisted in the alleged failure of prison officials to designate some one to take command of the sitration arising from the fire inside the prison walls, the inquiry board's report said. Negligence caused the delay in opening cell doors behind which doomed convicts were locked. while there also was serious delay in sending the fire alarm, the report said. Giving three possible causes for the fire as defective wiring, incendiarism and spontaneous combustion, the report said strong circumstantial evidence indicated the fire was started by temporary wiring.

The fire marshal's report said "we are convinced that this fire was of incendiary origin and deliberately set by some unknown person."

Twenty-Three Dead in

Recent Midwest Storms Chicago.-Red Cross and National Guard units moved from metropolitan centers to relieve the distress caused by the cyclonic disturbance of a few days ago, which, covering nine central states and attended by tornadoes. killed twenty-three persons, injured $5,000,000 damage.

The death toll was as follows: Norborne, Mo., five dead; Tekamah, Neb., four; Lake City, Minn., three; Duluth, two; Antioch, Ill., one; Kickapoo, Kan., two; Cicero, one; Rockford, one; Galesburg, one: Lawton, N. D., one: Westby, Wis., one, and Russell, Iowa, one. Nine of the dead were women and one an infant.

TARIFF BILL NEARS ACTION BY CONGRESS

Measure Whipped Into Shape to Get Hoover's Approval.

Washington,-With all rate controversies disposed of and with house actions pointing to elimination of the senate's export debenture and flexible provisions, the tariff bill now seems destined to reach the White House in a form acceptable to President

As the bill stands administration Republicans believe that it conforms fairly well to the President's original recommendation for generous increases in duties on agricultural products and a "limited" revision of industrial rates.

The bill fails to satisfy completely the Republican senators from eastern states who would like more substantial boosts in duties on products of their industries. It is much less obnoxious to them, however, than the bill as passed by the senate.

The house approval of retention of lumber and shingles on the free list and of the lower senate rate on sugar is believed to have made the bill much more pleasing to Mr. Hoover than it would have been otherwise. Although the President refused steadfastly to mix in rate controversies it is known that he disapproved of some of the high rates of the original house bill and particularly of the placing of variber, on the dutiable list. Duties on cement and brick remain in the bill. Spokesmen for the farm groups express satisfaction with duties on most agricultural products, although they do not like certain features, such as the rates on hides, leather, and shoes,

New Grain Storage Law Wanted by Minnesotans

St. Paul-Minnesota's legislature will be asked at its 1931 session to enact a farm grain storage law similar to those of North Dakota and Montana. P. W. Thatcher, general manager of the Farmers' Union Terminal association of St. Paul, said. Campaigns for similar legislation will be carried on by the Farmers' Union in South Dakota, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Texas. Under the North Dakota and Montana laws, state inspectors issue negotiable grain storage tickets scores, and caused an estimated to farmers on wheat stored on farms under conditions approved by the state inspection department. The bins are sealed by the state. The storage tickets are accepted as collateral for loans by the federal intermediate credit bank of St. Paul and the federal farm board.

PROMOTION FOR PRINCE LEGGE TO CONTINUE FARM BOARD POLICIES

Will Ignore Criticism by Chamber of Commerce.

Wushington.-Chairman Legge of the federal farm board has asserted his Intention to continue present policies regardless of recent declaration by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in opposition to alleged governmental interference with private business.

Washington.-Farm board policies were condemned as imposing "unbearable hardship upon business enterprises unable to maintain their position against discriminatory competition from the government," in a resolution adopted at the closing session of the annual convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United The resolution, which was adopted by an overwhelming viva voce vote, urged repeal of provisions of the agricultural marketing act which authorize the use of public funds "for the purpose of participation in business in competition with established agen-

Design for Poultry House That W Provide Proper Housing for

BY

By W. A. RADFORD

Mr. William A Radford will answer uestions and give advice FREE OF COST on all problems pertaining to the subject of building work on the farm, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as editor, author and manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on the subject. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No 407 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill., and only in-close two-cent stamp for reply.

The accompanying design is for a house for a farm on which poultry is recognized as an important source of the farm income. It is practical and modern in every way.

One of the first principles of successful poultry raising is to have plenty of fresh air for the flock. This of the unventilated poultry house are past for the up-to-date farmer. ### Attractive Nook for Breakfast Described In this age of continual rush, especially at the breakfast hour, a small corner attractively arranged will do more to start the day right for the overworked business man who often ents his first meal of the day in the solltary state. What is more depressing than a big dining room with himself as the sole occupant? In the breakfast nook, built along Spanish lines, there is a small alcove off of the sun porch. It has brown beams-in fact, a continuation of the ones in the dining room and half. The spaces between are a greenish yellow plaster. Across one end there is a built-in seat stained green and upholstered in yellow fabrikoid.

There is a narrow refectory-type table in brown stained wood and a chair to match. You see, provisions are made for the rest of the family to join father, but the head of the house often prefers solitude.

A casement window about fills the end of the alcove. It has quaint inside shutters, also stained green. Between them there is a box-pleated valance of the yellow fabrikoid. The window panes are leaded triangles. In summer time a vine drapes Itself around them. Several Italian pottery turned off. Brown and White (which of course are not their right names) not only were near neighbors, but they worked in the same office in the Times Square district. One Saturday Brown received notice from his superior that he would have to leave immediately for Chicago to close a deal. "Do me a favor," he said to White. "I generally buy a couple of books for the wife to read over the week-end. but I can't do it now. Will you stop off at the store and get a couple for her? She'll want them particularly this week-end because she will be lonesome."

White promised faithfully, but White was a practical joker, and besides he knew quite a blt about the Brown household, including the fact that Mrs. Brown did not shine particularly at preparing meals. So, in sheer devilment, he bought two cook books, took them to Mrs. Brown and intimated that her husband had purchased them and asked him to make the delivery. ### English King "Held Up"

Lawlessness was rampant in England during much of the Eighteenth century and the streets of London were so unsafe that even royal personages were stopped and robbed. A highwayman once dropped over the wall of Kensington gardens, and with every expression of respect took from George II, who was walking there alone, his purse, watch and shoe buckles. Mail coaches were special objects of attack and they proved vulnerable until in 1792 an armed guard for the mails was provided .-

which with its jacket of self fabric and a frilly blouse completes a most voguish costume. You will discover that it is somewhat unusual. Boxpleated! That's it-later than side pleats so fashionists declare.

Which means that to be up-to-theinstant in modishness you will be losnew-type pleated skirts. Take note, STUDY well the skirt pictured, the skirt, why not have an extra amount pleated for a matching cape? The pleuted skirt plus the pleated cape either of plain or printed fabric makes a charming ensemble to wear with the summer blouse.

Modernistic Touch. When the tailored sult is "in" as it so decidedly is this season, then ing no time in acquiring one of the does the world of fashion become increasingly blouse-conscious If you please, that the box pleats grad- and scarf-minded. So it is, that at uate from parrow at the top to wider I this very moment fancy is turning at the hemline. I'leaters tell us that the way to prepare for these widening pleats is to cut the material somewhat circular, not, however, a complete circle as for the sunburst types. You'll love a skirt like this in the illustration, which, as you see, has a titted yoke buttoning at the side, to which the flaring pleated portion is seamed.

Of course every style-minded woman will be wanting a frilly blouse to wear with this skirt. Make It of crepe, satin or shantung, sheer wool challis, pastel-colored handkerchief or dainty batiste as you will, and, providing it has a finely pleated jabot frill, it will answer to fashion's latest

Speaking of pleated skirts, the derrown is the sunburst pleated skirt made of filmy chiffon. Attached to a bodice top, its enormously full hemline floats and flutters about the ank'es, almost touching the floor so long is the skirt.

Now that so many unusual and fanciful forms of pleating are being exwith enthuslasm to the scarf and the blouse, knowing what an important part they play in ensembling the tailleur and in the field of the sports costume.

Facts which are outstanding in regard to the blouse which is smartest and the scarf which is ultra chic are that the former, because of the vocue for high waistlines, is most aut to be a tuck-in, while big squares of silk. bizarre both in color and design, lead in the sports scarf movement.

Colors for the blouse and the scarf run in two trends-very bright hues versus the new "pretty" pastels. DIET AND FOOD

After all the advice from various diet experts as to reduction of fat, if we simmer It down to the reasonable and normal conclusion, we find that if one is overweight, we need less food and more of exercise.

Less food does not mean that we should change our mode of living, or give up the foods we like, but cut down on the amount, Leave the table with the feeling that you could eat more, and would really enjoy more; but refrain. Such is good discipline for both the body and the mind. The Chinese, healthy, longlived and normal in weight, eat one food mostly. The single diet, that is their secret. In Russia cabbage is the main dish. One of the evils of our nodern civilized life is the complexty and mixtures that we make of food.

Look at the large families of healthy children if there are any large families in your neighborhood; note their diet. One family of nine, with seven healthy, rugged, bright-minded children would have for a noon meal such a one as this: When green peas were plentiful, they made a meal of cooked peas with bread and butter. When strawberries were in season strawberry shortcake would be the whole meal for the nine. All had all they wanted and everybody was satisfied and needed nothing more.

Every one of those children is well and doing his or her part in the world's work. They were poor, but never made any apologies if a friend dropped in at meal time; he was as welcome as if they were serving a feast, which it was, to every guest.

The ordinary meal in the average home is begun with a cocktail, or soup, usually both; then a main dish of meat, fish or fowl with vegetables, often with sauces that fight with every other food. Salad with rich dressings, and desserts also rich and frozen, followed by strong coffee to retard digestion, so that the stomach may get its second breath and try to get some order out of the chaos that it is expected to take care of.

Is it any wonder that our stomachs rebel at the way we force them to take such mixtures of unrelated foods?

How simple we could make our meals if we followed the single diet; comes to the vivid rellows reds cannot eat strawberries and it doesn't run in our family to like cabbage! Well, pick out the food you do like: there should be many, and give a day to the enjoyment of each, or even a meal of one food now and then.

OUTDOOR AND GYPSY DISHES

woods, rest and listen to nature and feed the inner man with just N. Y., and write for free advice. such things as may be cooked out doors. Here are some really good gypsy dishes that every one will enjoy: A heavy iron kettle with an Iron cover is best, place it in the coals and when hot add some chopped suct; when tried out add chopped lamb's heart and liver, simmer for three minntes, add a sprig of fennel and six peeled potatoes. Cover and cook one hour. The fennel is important to give the stew that tantalizing flavor. Steak.-Take willow sticks, green and strong, sharpen and string the steaks on them. Turn the steaks while cooking, then season with salt and pepper and plenty of butter on Gather the flowers of wild mustard, dry them and rub between the hands. It is much more delicate than the ordinary kind, Serve this with all meats.

Baked Potatoes.-Wrap potatoes in vellow dock leaves and skewer with thorns. Roast in the bot ashes covered with coals.

Roasted eggs. Pierce each shell at the ends and wrap in wet leaves. For soft cooked eggs leave in the hot coals for six minutes-if wished hard leave twenty.

Sausages of various kinds are always enjoyed cooked out of doors. String them on willow sticks and hold over the heat. Toasting marshmallows for desert will make a menu, with some satisfying sandwiches, fit for any appetite. The coffee of course is an important item. Mix it with egg and a little cold water, add boiling water, boil up and stir down lightly three times, then add a little cold water to settle and it is ready

UNTIL JUNE 10 ONLY $30.00 Allowance on Your Old Stove to Introduce the New 15 Feature Skelgas Stove No. 570

S YOUR cook stove right up to the minute in performance, design and beauty? Can you light it instantly, turn it off at once, clean every part with a damp cloth and lift a kettle right off the fire without finding a bit of soot on the bottom? Only a gas stove has those (and many other) advantages, and if you do not have a gas stove, we are making it easy for you to install one—the new Skelgas #570.

To introduce this beautiful, efficicient stove, we are offering a trade-in allowance of $30.00 on your old cook stove. Bring it in-no matter how new or how old-and we will buy it for $30.00 and apply the money on this new Skelgas stove, which has advanced features not yet found on stoves that are sold in larger cities. No stove like this ever was sold anywhere before this month, and this special trade-in allowance is made as an introductory offer only, good until June 10.

When the new Skelgas #570 is connected with the gas in your Skelgas cylinder, you have a better stove and better gas than in the largest cities, where practically everyone uses gas. Skelgas is compressed natural gas, and is cleaner than ordinary pipeline gas because the heavy soot-forming elements have been removed. We will be able to get only a limited number of these new stoves during this introduc-tory period, so why not plan to come in right away to look at the stove, and order in your installation? Remember that we will not be able to make this $30.00 offer for your old stove very long. Look over your present stove and decide for yourself if it is worth more than $30.00, now that gas is making
