MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES WELL ATTENDED

Memorial Day was appropriately bserved here last Friday when homage was paid to the dead and living, who served their country in time of need on land or sea. The program was sponsored by the Kewaskum Post of the American Legion with a parede which started at 9:30 a. m., at the high school following a line of march decorated in the national colors. The parade was lead by the color guard, and divided into the following sections: Band, veterans of Civil and Spanish-American war and Villge President L. P. Rosenheimer in car, speaker of the day Judge F. W. Bucklin of West Bend in car, Legion members, boy scouts, rhythm band and school children with flags. After the parade exercises were held at the high school auditorium. The program being of an impressive nature and was as follows:

Introduction-Post Commander Carl F. Schaefer, Song, "Anvil Chorus' High School Glee Club; Recitation, "Wearing of the Poppy;" Viola Backhaus; Song, "Stars and Stripes", 7th and 8th grades, Holy Trinity school; Recitation, "For My Country," Curtis Romaine; Vocal Solo, John Louis Schaefer; Selection, Rhythm band; Song, "Soldier Boy," Boy Scouts; Recitation, "Memorial Day," Marcella r.lockenbush; Song, girl scouts Speaker of the Day, Judge F. W. Bucklin of West Bend. Mr. Bucklin gave a very interesting and heart to heart talk, during his speech he made special mention of Christ Haug, the only Civil War veteran to be present at the exercises. Mr. Haug has passed the 88th mile stone of his life and is still in good health, he conversed freely with all present, relating his experience as a soldier in the army. Mr. Bucklin received great applause at the conclusion of his address. On Sunday, June 1st, the Kewaskum aseball team played St. Michaels a return game. St. Michaels star hurler "Ray Uelmen" could not keep the Kewaskum batsmen in check. After allowing 10 runs in one-third inning, he was sent to the showers and Rodenkirch replaced him. The latter, coupled with good support held Kewaskum down to six runs the remainder of the game. Harbeck, the Kewaskum south raw pitched good ball and was backed by excellent support until the eighth inning when the home team realized seven runs. Kewaskum has been without a city ball team for a rumber of years, and since it now has a good diamond, and a team that, without any doubt will be a credit to the village, judging from the brand of ball the fans have been treated to the past year, will receive the hearty support of the fans. If Kewaskum is ever to be represented by a city basebal or basket ball team, it must originate from the school, for looking into the past, not so far distant, we know that the best teams Kewaskum has ever had originated from the school. there is therefore no reason why it cannot be done again. We hope that the members of the high school team will take this into consideration, and continue to play ball during vacation

FANS HAVE LITTLE USE FOR ARBITERS

President Heydler Says Umpires Have Few Friends.

After his many years in baseball, John A. Heydler, president of the National league, is convinced that players and fans have little use for the umpires. Heydler just about says so in his "special instructions" to the

If there is any doubt about it, read as follows, and find out for yourself: "Study the rules daily. A thorough knowledge of them is your greatest asset. Be courteous and firm and so compel respect from all, and never lose sight of the fact that friendship for the umpire, appreciation of his arduous duties, and practical co-operation in his troubles rarely extend outside of this office."

Another thing, Heydler likes umpires who are able to "stand on their own feet" and are not everlastingly appealing to a fellow mate to make the decision in some intricate play. He wants them to be in the right spot at the right time and get their own

Fisherman and sportsmen generally will be interested in the announcement that the Anglers' club of Sarasota, Fla., will give $5,000 in cash prizes to anglers and guides for the best fish caught during the national tarpon tournament to be held there May 9 to July 15 inclusive. This is said to be the largest sum ever offered in a fishing tournament. These awards are in addition to cups, trophies, fishing tackle, etc., usually given at such an event.

Ed Barrow, business manager of the New York Yankees, has issued a warning to gamblers who make the stadium their headquarters while the Yankees are playing at home. "I am opening heavy fire on those who bet openly at the stadium on Sundays," said Barrow. "I have prepared warnings which will be handed to patrons, and I hope the fans do not take offense and will apprieciate what I am trying to do. I have been fighting camblers at ball parks ever since I came into the game, and I am never going to give it up. The situation at the stadium has become serious, and I am going to stamp out the evil."

Harry J. Rockafeller, graduate manager of athletics at Rutgers university, announces that Dennis Mulligan, captain of the West Point football team in 1923, has been appointed coach of the Rutgers freshman football eleven. This gives the Rutgers' coaching staff two former West Point stars. Mulligan succeeds Don Storck, his teammate for four years on the army squad, who will be chief assistant to Head Coach Rockafeller next fall.

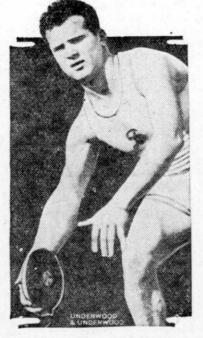

Another boost for the managerial ability of Donie Bush, leader of the White Sox, is the fine play of Bill Cissell, Sox shortstop, who is playing second base under the Bush regime. Cissell gives Bush credit. In 1928 Cissell was a widely heralded star of the Coast league, playing with Portland. Comiskey is said to have paid $123,-000 for his release, $75,000 in cash and $48,000 in players.

"Bush has helped me immensely," says Cissell. "He has shown me several things that have been helpful to me, and I am playing with greater confidence than ever before. Bush is the greatest manager I've played

* "Battle of Battling Orioles"

URING the days when John McGraw, Hughey Jennings, Pat Tebeau, "Scrappy Bill" Joyce and many others of their type were in major league baseball the daily attraction was a double bill-a ball game and a fight. A battle fought August 6, 1897, at Boston, is known as the "Battle of the Battling Orioles." This story should convince the fans of this docile age that baseball games played during the above mentioned period were anything but pink tea affairs. In the eighth inning Umpire Lynch, enraged at the frequent tongue lashing and vile epithets Doyle had inflicted upon him, kept piling up the fines until $300 had been plastered all over the rioting Doyle, but this didn't stop that player, so Lynch, losing his temper entirely, planted a powerful blow on the massive jaw of Mr. Doyle and it started something, for instantly the ground in front of the grandstand became the scene of a fierce battle. Players of both teams swarmed into the thick of it; then the mob from the bleachers stepped in, all eager for a piece of the trouble. Joe Corbett, brother of "Gentleman Jim," staggered out of the crowd and the thick of the battle with his arm hooked around the classic neck of Umpire Lynch, while the Baltimore players were swinging all kinds of uppercuts, haymakers and straight punches at the unfortunate umpire's face. Then the Boston players began punching the Baltimore crowd and it took a small army of cops fifteen minutes to stop the battle. In the ninth inning hostilities were renewed, when John McGraw, now manager and vice president of the New York Giants, knocked Fred Tenney, Boston's first baseman, down with a wicked right hook. Tenney jumped up and started after Mac who started for the clubhouse with all the players of both teams joining in the running battle. The reserve police were called out who came to the park in double quick time and after a severe encounter succeeded in restoring order.

Luke Sewell Tells How

He Broke Into Big Game "I never caught over twenty games in my life before I went to the Cleveland team as a catcher," said Luke Sewell of Akron and famous Indian backstop, in a talk before the Men's club of the Kent (Ohio) Universalist church.

"We were playing in Birmingham and I was catching because the regular catcher had got hurt and they had called me in from shortstop to take his place. Pat Flaherty came to me that night and wanted to sign me as a catcher for the Cleveland club.

"'Why, I'm not a catcher, I'm just filling in. I've only caught two or three games,' I said, but he wouldn't listen to me.

"When we got back they sent me back to short. I got two or three letters from the Cleveland team and signed."

"Who was the hardest pitcher I ever caught?" he said in answer to a question. "Walter Mails was the hardest because he didn't know where they were going when he threw them, Catching Mails was just a diving game for me."

Rifle Champion

Donald Anderson, student at the Missouri Military academy, Mexico, Mo., who won the individual championship in the National R. O. T. C. rifle meet in which 63 schools competed throughout the country. Anderson, who turned in a score of 196 out of a possible 200, will make a trip to Washington, D. C., to receive the championship award.

Baseball Mark Goes in

Cardinal-Robin Battle A modern major league record was broken and a National league record equaled in the second game of a recent bargain bill between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The new mark was set when the Cards and the Robins went to bat officially 103 times, the Dodgers with 52 and the Red Birds with 51. The all-time record was made June 9, 1883, when the Boston and Detroit Nationals batted 110 times, but the more recent record was 99 times between the New York Giants and the Cincinnati Reds on June 9, 1901.

The National record, which was equaled, was by the Red Birds employing 22 players, the same as was used by the Phillies against the Cards on September 16, 1926, and by the same club against the Dodgers, May 17,

Chet Wynne Was Fastest Notre Dame Grid Runner

Chet Wynne, who recently resigned as football coach of Creighton to take the job at Alabama, was one of the fastest halfbacks ever turned out on a Notre Dame team. "Wynne probably is the fastest runner, next to Jack Elder, that ever came out of Notre Dame," writes Bill Hanna in the New York Herald Tribune. "I mean fastest football runner. He could skim an end remarkably fast and flit by like a wraith, just a rush of light-noiseless, then gone. Mahan moved with that same swift, graceful, lightfoot silence. There was more clatter to the running of Eckersall, Thorpe, Weekes, Barrett and Grange. Running in straight lines, Elder was more dangerous, it seemed to this onlooker, than Wynne in his noiseless arcs.

Jimmy McLarnin won his first fight at the age of twelve.

Another Tom Oliver, who is not related to the Tom Oliver patrolling the outfield for the Boston Red Sox, will enter baseball at the close of the current semester of the University of Arkansas. Pitcher Tom Oliver, star of the Arkansas nine, has signed a contract with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Lew Krausse, seventeen-year-old Media, Pa., high school pitcher, may join the Philadelphia Athletics. His father, John Krausse, was once a professional pitcher, and his son's chief claim to fame is that he had hurled one no-hit and two one-hit games. The boy has been working out with the A's at Shibe park.

Manager Walter Johnson of Wash ington is elated over the recent showing of Max West and George Loepp, two of the younger outfielders, who have been hitting hard to help the Senators maintain their fine showing.

The New York Yankees have signed Infielder Tommy Byrne, semi-pro player, and have shipped him to their Chambersburg farm in the Blue Ridge

The New York Yankees have optioned Catcher Hank Karlon to Springfield of the Eastern league. He is still considered a good young prospect by Manager Shawkey.

Another Oglethorpe ball player has been attracted by a major league contract. Hot Holcomb, a pitcher, has signed a contract with the Boston Braves.

Pitcher Grunt Lucas, who attempted a comeback with Fort Wayne this year, has been released. While he did well in the first few games in which he played, he couldn't keep up his early showing, so was turned loose.

A party of my more or less remote acquaintance parked his speed buggy at the curb and went into a house. While he was gone it rolled away and collided with a sedan. In the sedan was a lady about thirty years old. She was a good lookin' dame, fair complected, brown hair and a cheery smilin' sort of face that spread sunshine wherever she went. Her sedan got a nasty rap and a piece of jagged glass cut a deep ugly gash on her pretty cheek, disfigurin' her for life. I wonder how does that thoughtless lunatic that left his car parked in an unsafe manner feel about it down in

In his insurance report he wrote, "While I was in the house the brakes on my car let go, which was the cause of the accident." Don't his alibi give you a laugh? As if that tin can of his had some ghostly power enabling it to let go and start up of its own free will and ram another car. Now you know and I know his brakes didn't just let go. The fact is this guy parked on a grade, forgot to cut his wheels to the curb, and left his engine run-The vibration of the engine jarred the brakes loose and that old bus of his rolled down hill. Occasional Change of Oil Saves Efficiency

An engine, to operate efficiently, must have an occasional change of oil. If its lubricating value is diminished there is undue wear of all engine parts, which may lead to serious damage. Oil becomes practically worthless if an excessive amount of gasoline has become mixed with the lubricant, so as to make it very thin. or if water has gotten into it and caused it to emulsify or to contain free acid. Also, if dust, metal particles, pieces of carbon or other hard and abrasive material have polluted the oil in considerable quantities, its further use will cause very rapid wear of engine parts.

(How Many Can You Answer?) *********

Q. Why does an old car use more oil than a new one? Ans. Primarily because different joints in old cars are looser, permitting the oil to leak out. Also pistons and rings which have been worn will pass oil into the combustion chamber 3 where it is burned.

Q. If after parking one finds oil has leaked from the engine of his car, what should he do? $ Ans. The car should be inspected and loose parts tightened in order to conserve oil.

This will make a big difference 🕹 in oil consumption. Q. What is the most important

Ans. The oil filter. It removes the foreign matter from the oil, thus making it possible to use the oil much longer. Every 10,-000 miles the oil filter cartridge should be renewed as it becomes ; filled at this mileage.

Q. If the oil filter is not renewed when it becomes filled with foreign matter, what happens?

Ans. It will be necessary to change oil more frequently as the oil is not filtered.

To protect motorists from buying inferior fuel, all gasoline sold in Tennessee will be tested by officials and made to equal set standards. key Business on Stable Basis Turkey Business Heretofore Industry Has Been Regarded as Side Issue and Gamble.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Turkey raising in the United States has been regarded as a side issue and a gamble, but increasing knowledge of parasitic diseases and their control is putting the industry on a more stable basis, says A. R. Lee, poultry husbandman of the United States Department of Agriculture. "There are now more than three and a half million turkeys on farms in this country, and they constitute 11/2 per cent of all poultry. The 1929 crop of market turkeys indicated a decided advance in the business as compared with 1928. The estimated increase was about 9 per cent."

Information Needed.

In recognition of the increased interest in turkeys and the need for further information concerning parasitic diseases, the United States Department of Agriculture has established a foundation flock of turkeys at the United States range experiment station at Miles City, Mont. This work got under way last spring. Of 600 birds raised last season, 300 were selected for the breeding flocks. Everett E. Wehr, a research worker, is devoting all his time to the investigation of parasitic diseases. The work at this station will also include a study' of the comparative cost of raising turkeys in confinement and on free range. | older turkeys.

The flock was established by purchasing hatching eggs which were incubated artificially. The young birds were brooded in special brooder houses with clean yards until they were about eight weeks old. The investigators took these precautions to prevent infestations of the poults by such parasites as are introduced by adult turkeys. When large enough to range the young poults were provided with large fenced lots and inexpensive shalters for roosting.

Modern Improvements. "Modern improvements in mechanical means of hatching and brooding have done much to develop the turkey industry," Mr. Lee says. "Day-old poults are now produced by commercial hatcheries and shipped by parcel post in much the same maner as baby chicks. Artificial brooding has been of particular value in preventing losses from blackhead disease which at one time threatened to destroy the in-

Research workers have determined that this disease is caused by a parasite which cannot live long in soil, but which may be transmitted in the egg of another parasite, the cecum worm. The blackhead parasite survives for long periods in the worm egg. As both turkeys and chickens may have blackhead, usually in a chronic form in mature birds, and as both may also have cecum worms, prevention of the acute, destructive form of blackbead in young turkeys calls for rearing on clean ground away from chickens and for Good Crop.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) Muskmelons produced locally and sold in small towns and on roadside markets could often be grown to advantage to small acreages in many parts of the country, according to Farmers' Bulletin 1468-F entitled "Muskmelons," recently revised by the United States Department of Agriculture and available to anyone requesting it. The country's carlot markets are well supplied from the big producing centers, but local growers in many sections can advantageously produce and sell melons on the smaller markets which are now not fully supplied by the carlot movement, says the author, W. R. Beattie, horticulturist of the

Human Deaths From Rat Poison Are on Decline

At the second annual conference of the Eastern Rodent-Control district. held in Washington, it was reported that clippings from thousands of newspapers throughout America indicated a material decline in the number of accidental human deaths from rat poison during 1929. Since the sales and use of exterminators have not decreased, the conference concluded that the diminishing death rate is due to the increased nation-wide use of powdered red squill, which is unique as an exterminator in that it is deadly to rats live stock, dogs, cats, poultry and mice but harmless to humans, and even baby chicks. It is highly recommended by the United States Deas Succotash Are Good There is a very common notion that oats grown with wheat as a succotash are not good for seed. Just what the foundation of this notion is no one seems to know. There is nothing in the association of the wheat with the oats to in any way disturb its inheritance and it there fore is just as good for seed as oats that have been grown alone. The main difficulty in using such grain for seed lies in thoroughly separating the wheat and oats so that a clean crop can be raised.

Hogging Off Crops

If the soy beans are to mature, and be ready for hogging off at the same time as the corn, then the beans must mature in about the same number of days as the corn that is planted, or else be planted at a time when they will mature with the corn. Thus if the soy beans mature earlier than the corn, they should be planted later, and if the soy beans are of a later variety, then they would have to be planted earlier to get ripe at the same time as the corn.

Horse's Nose Runs

Any nasal discharge in the horse should r ceive prompt attention, especially if it is chronic and persistent. Such discharges may come from a decayed or ulcerated molar tooth, or from glanders infection. If the trouble is caused by a tooth the discharge usually is decidedly offensive in odor. It may vary from a thin watery quality to one that is thick and creamy but it always is offensive to smell and persists. It is well to treat the ailment at the start.

Any Garden Soil Is Suitable oftener than once in five or six years on the same land and with no related vine crops in the rotation if the soil is to be kept uninfested. Seed treatment and dusting or spraying will be necessary for success, the bulletin points out.

The author also comments on varieties and types of melons best suited to the local markets and home gardens, on the preparation of soil, cultivation, harvesting and packing of melons. In established melon growing sections the most urgent need is for mprovement of quality and standardization of packs, says Mr. Beattie. Requests for Farmers' Bulletin 468-F should be addressed to the Ofice of Information United States Department of Agriculture, Washing-selecting a dairy bull on the basis of the records of his ancestors consideration should be given to the conditions under which the records were made, says the United States Department of Agriculture. An investigation by the Bureau of Dairy Industry at Beltsville, Md., showed that when cows were milked and fed three times a day instead of twice, confined in box stalls instead of in stanchions, fed enough to make them fat instead of keeping them in ordinary flesh, and bred to freshen at intervals of 15 months instead of 12 the production was increased 50 per cent.

A herd improvement association record of 400 pounds of butterfat, if made under ordinary farm conditions, the bureau says, is equal to an advanced registry or register of merit record of 600 pounds.

No purchase of vitamin rich feeds is necessary where the proper amounts of good alfalfa are fed, say about one pound to every 100 pounds live weight, in a balanced ration.

Where milk is sold it is usually more convenient to cool it at once after milking. It is true that bacteria do not begin to increase rapidly in milk till from two to four hours after milking.

Efficient separators deliver skim milk that tests below 2 per cent. When the fat content of skim milk reaches 5 per cent there is a preventable loss of three pounds of butterfat in 1,000 pounds of skim milk delivered by the separator.

Dairy farmers may help improve the price of cream by consuming more butter and dairy products. Temporary overproduction may be corrected by selling for slaughter all low producing and unprofitable cows.

Weeding and thinning the woodlot every ten years is the usual practice followed by farmers who want to develop a stand of tall, straight trees free from decay or rot. To divide the work up best it is advisable to go over one-tenth of the farm woods each

Birds That Kill Snakes

In the stomach of one secretary bird were found three snakes, each about a yard long, eleven lizards, and a quantity of crickets and locusts. The bird has no hesitation in attacking a cobra or any poisonous snake. It comes up quietly, then, opening its wings to shield its body, flashes upon the snake and usually kills or disables it before it can strike. If the snake does manage to strike, the blow is caught upon one of the wings, then the bird's beak and feet finish the business. Before eating its prey, the bird plucks out the feather which Platteville-Students and instructors In the agricultural department of the Platteville State Teachers' college have planted 2,500 trees on a part of the college farm which will be devoted to reforestation experiments.

Stevens Point-A $5,000 property loss occurred at Amherst village, near here, when the R. L. Peterson potato warehouse and several carloads of potatoes were destroyed by fire. Defective wiring was believed to have started the fire.

Odanah-O-Din-Ans, the last of the line of Odanah Indian chiefs, died here. He was given a full military funeral Memorial day by Indian members of the local American Legion, with burial in the Happy Hunting Grounds cemetery here. The chief, who was 88, was known to the whites and the younger Indians as George Messinger.

Elkhorn-Miss Lulu M. Matheson, about 70, of this place, was left $200,-000 by the will of her late cousin, Dr. William J. Matheson, chemist and scientist of Riverhead, L. I., it was revealed when the will was filed for probate in the east. Miss Matheson has been living with relatives and was said to have been in only moderate circumstance before the bequest.

Juneau-On their pleas of guilty to having committed the crime of larceny, in the stealing of twenty chickens, on the property of Carl Maaske, of the town of Calamus, Dodge county, Carl Kranz and Henry Bartels of the town of Calamus were sentenced to the state reformatory at Green Bay for an indeterminate term of not less than six months nor more than twelve mont's.

Oshkosh-William Harris, 56, volunteer fireman who was burned seriously when fire threatened to destroy the town of Ripon, died of his injuries here. Harris was burned when the last of seven oil and gasoline tanks of the Wadhams Oil company exploded after sparks of a runaway horse had ignited gasoline from an outlet

Wisconsin Rapids - At a special meeting the board of education here adopted a resolution providing for the issue of $550,000 in bonds for the erection and equipment of a new high school building and gymnasium. The secretary of the board was authorized to call a referendum election on the matter. If the referendum carries, work will be started immediately, it was said, and the building would be ready for occupancy early in 1931.

Green Bay-The tastes of Green Bay's automobile thieves are becoming high toned. Until recently they were satisfied with flivvers and other small cars. Now, however, they are ignoring the cheaper cars and stealing the more expensive ones. During the last 10 days, six automobiles in the $3,000 to $5,000 price range have been stolen here. All were recovered within 48 hours by Green Bay police, Sheriff William Nickolai or the owners.

Madison-Russell A. Clark, Richland Center, was chosen secretary of the Wisconsin real estate brokers' board to succeed John Newman, who was requested to resign. Newman resigned after a "good will" tour to Texas, where he purchased 10 acres of citrus fruit lands in direct opposition to the board's established policy. The brokers' board has been fighting the indiscriminate sales of Texas lands to Wisconsin residents by denying certain land firms brokers' licenses to operate in Wisconsin.

Ettrick-Right-of-way of the Ettrick & Northern, Wisconsin's shortest railroad, is being put in shape again with plans completed for re-operating it within two months. The road is ten miles long. Built during the wartime peak by private interests for $300,000, the road failed and was sold for junk. Private citizens then rebought it for $9,200 and now plan to open it again, running a gas engine to move heavy freight from Ettrick to Blair, where a connection is made with the Green Bay & Western. The district has no other railroad connections.

Madison - Although the unemployment situation thus far has decreased the enrollment expected in the University of Wisconsin summer school for workers in industry, an appeal is being made for scholarships to finance numerous appli ants, according to Miss Alice Shoemaker, executive secretary of the school. "Young men and women are afraid to relinquish their jobs for six weeks because they fear they may not get them back," said Mi- Shoemaker. The co rse, which draws students from industrial cities throughout the country, begins June 28 and ends Aug. 8. Applications still are being accepted.

Neenah-Because the town of Menasha failed to make provision to pay the city of Neenah for fire protection, the city fire department refused, under orders, to respond to a call to the farm home of Morgan Jorgensen. The house was destroyed by fire, presumably starting from a defective chimney. The loss is estimated at $15,000.

Oshkosh-The population of Winnebago county is 76,552, an increase of 12,665 since 1920, it was announced by David Pinkerton, census director for the eighth district.

Racine-Arrested here carrying a brief case containing nitroglycerine, a set of burglar tools and a list of Milwankee banks, John McDonald, Toledo. O., was sent to the state prison to serve eight to ten years for attempting burglary with high explosives.

Friendship-Adolph Bartness of Barron county has been selected to sucreed H. A. Murray as Adams county agent. Murray has accepted a similar position recently vacated by R. H. Rasnussen of Washburn county.

AMERICAN INDUSTRY IS MAKING PROGRESS

National Survey Indicates Return to Normal.

Washington.-Julius H. Barnes, as chairman of the national business survev conference, made public the restilts of a business conditions survey recently completed. The reports obtained on important lines of business and industry, Mr. Barnes said, suggest the following "significant" phases:

"First, that large American industry continues to carry out the construction programs forecast last De-

"Second, continued large capital improvements supported by large scale financing evidence a confidence in enlarged future earning power and preparation for it.

"Third, in America and Europe there are evidences of increasing reservoirs of accumulated credit with consequent decreases in interest rates, and resulting benefits for production and distribution."

In the field of finance the survey found the short time credit market showing "continued ease," while for the first time capital issues during a month of 1930 exceeded those for the corresponding month of last year, the April, 1930, floatations being 15 per cent greater than those for April, 1929. For the first four months the volume of new capital obtained by domestic producing and distributing corporations totaled $2,100,000,000.

Under the heading "construction industries" the survey summary re ported that "for the period ending May 23 this year nonresidential build ing was nearly up to the last year's volume; public works and public utilbuilding lagged behind."

"On highway construction conracts reports from the governors of 35 states to Secretary of Commerce Lamont covering almost 75 per cent of the country show contracts awarded during the first quarter of a value of $114,000,000, against $51,000,000 for the corresponding period of last year,' according to the survey.

Extracts from the reports on several key industries as summarized by the business survey conference follow: Railroads-Class 1 railroads for the first quarter of 1930 showed capital expenditures of $224,000,000, compared with $127,000,000 in the first quarter of 1929.

Shipping-Employment in shipyards continues to expand. Shipyards are receiving contracts for new ocean construction following recent ocean mail awards.

Electric power and gas-The latest advices indicate that the construction program contemplated last December will probably be exceeded in 1930.

Iron and steel-Pig iron production for the first four months of 1930 was about 14 per cent under 1929, and approximately the same as in 1928.

Automobiles-April motor vehicle production of 467,000 units exceeds all previous Aprils except 1929. Dealers' stocks of both new and used cars are reported below normal for this time of year.

Retail and wholesale trade-Retail condition show substantial improvement. In spite of lower prices, many stores and groups o. stores show gains over the same period last year.

HOUSE PASSES BILL TO LEASE M. SHOALS

Measure Goes to Conference; Final Action in Doubt.

Washington .- The house of representatives reversed its attitude of two years ago when it favored government operation of the Muscle Shoals power and fertilizer production project, by voting 196 to 114 to lease the site under certain conditions to private interests.

The vote in effect placed the house on record as against the bill passed by the senate under the leadership of Senator Norris, insurgent Republican of Nebraska, providing for government operation. It sent the bill back to the senate. It is expected that the senate, which adopted the Norris bill by a vote of 42 to 21, will disapprove of the house plan and send the bill to conference. With two such widely divergent opinions before them, it is believed unlikely that conferees will be able to reach an agreement, killing the bill for another session of congress at least, if not, as charged in the house debate, for "another ten years."

Technically, the action of the house was on an amendment to the Norris bill, the amendment providing that the Norris bill provisions be stricken out and the so-called Reece plan, drawn by a committee of the house military affairs committee headed by Representative Reece, Republican of Tennessee, be substituted.

The final vote taken on the bill as amended included members who would prefer government operation, but above all want something be done with the great project. A previous vote, on this amendment itself, showed 187 in favor of private operation and 135 opposed. Another vote, on a motion to recommit the bill to the military affairs committee for reconsideration, resulted 92 to 210 against, was interpreted as a decisive indication that the house wants no further delay in disposing of the project.

Supreme Court Upholds Labor in Railroad Case

Washington.-Labor won a victory when the United States Supreme court. in a unanimous opinion delivered by Chief Justice Hughes, upheld an injunction restraining the Texas and New Orleans railroad, a Southern Pacific subsidiary, from organizing a socalled "company union" or interfering with the activities of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks among its employees. Under the injunction the road was not only compelled to abolish the 'company union" and recognize the brotherhood, but was also ordered to reinstate employees discharged for refusing to join the company organization. In the opinion the Supreme court established the principle that the right of employees, under the 1926 railway labor act, to select their own representatives to bargain with employers in relation to contracts of service is a property right or interest to be protected by injunction if necessary.

TARIFF BILL THROWN BACK TO CONFERENCE

Flexible Provision Is Cause of Further Delay.

Washington.-Striking another rock in the form of a point of order, the tariff bill was thrown back into conference and final action upon it was still further delayed.

The point of order was raised by Senator Barkley, (Dem., Ky.) and was to the effect that the senate and house conferees had exceeded their power in making the compromise arrangement on the flexible provision. After a debate over the point of order, Vice President Curtis ruled that the conferees had put into their compromise new matter not found in either the house or the senate flexible propositions, and that this was particularly true as to the sixtyday limitation on the time for the President to act on recommendations of the tariff commission. In making this ruling, Vice President Curtis was in full accord with President Hoover, who, it is declared on good authority, did not like the sixty-day limitation.

Effect of the ruling, which had to do with the second part of the conference report, was to throw this section back to the conferees. This means that the bill, as far as that part of it embraced in the second part of the report is concerned, is out of the hands of the senate or house and back in conference. The second part of the report covers the flexible tariff, debenture, the provisions relating to make-up of the tariff commission and several rate items such as lumber, cement and silver.

It is now certain to be about the middle of June and perhaps later before the tariff measure is passed.

In view of the ruling of the Vice President against insertion of new matter by the conferees, it was declared by Senator Watson, Republican leader, that it would be almost impossible to adjust the differences between the two houses on the flexible question except by taking practically the language of the house flexible

This would give the President broader power than provided in the present law or the compromise provision and would enable him, on finding of fact by the tariff commission, to raise or lower rates on the basis of differences in competitive conditions. President Hoover, it is generally understood, is well satisfied with the house flexible provisions.

Liquor Buying No Crime, Supreme Court Decides

Washington.-Bootleggers' patrons, the United States Supreme court ruled in an unanimous opinion, are "guilty of no offense"

The court, in an important test case brought by the government, held that congress not only "deliberately and designedly" exempted purchasers in the Volstead act, but for ten years "has significantly left the law in its original form."

The question of the equal liability of a purchaser with a bootlegger was presented to the court in the government's appeal from an order of a Boston (Mass.) Federal District court dismissing an indictment against James E. Farrar, charged with "unlawfully and knowingly having purchased intoxicating liquors in violation of the national prohibition act." The opinion upheld the lower court. which quashed the indictment on the ground that an "ordinary purchaser does not come within the purview of the act."

Some very fine effects are secured in the home building design illustrated by using combinations of different types of building materials. Brick and tile give the appearance of stability; lumber is perhaps the more flexible of the building materials that go into the construction of a house.

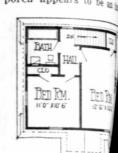

An example of what may be done when a combination of brick and lumber is used is shown in the home building design illustrated here. The walls of the home illustrated up to the second floor are of face brick whether the burning brands borne by the wind are flying toward your roof. The fear of fire is a dreadful thing. Fire, which is a good servant but a hard master, exacts its heavy toll year by year from those who fail to provide against its hazards. The annual loss in the United States is eight times as great as in England per thousand houses, it is said. Americans do not insist on fireproof materials for roofs and walls of homes like the English.

The roof is the most vulnerable point. Wood shingles are responsible for an unbelievable amount of fires. Often they are like tinder. Flying sparks from chimneys, from passing trains or nearby bonfires will often set an old, inflammable roof ablaze, and when such a fire is started it gets under headway quickly and is hard to stop. The wind will lift firebrands of blazing shingles more than half a mile around. If they fall on a burnable roof, another fire is likely to be started.

Large conflagrations, such as the Chicago fire, the San Francisco fire and the Salem (Mass.) fire were spread in this manner. A fire loss amounting to more than a million dollars annually is saved by many of the large cities in the United States that refuse to allow a combustible roof within their corporations. Modern conditions and modern production methods have made it possible to have a permanent fireproof roof over a house of five or six rooms at about $250 more than the cost of perishable roofs. A home owner can, for an investment of an addition 2 or 3 per cent, secure a roof that is not only fire resisting but permanent as well as beautiful.

Floor Is Foundation

of Rooms in the House What color or design to select when purchasing a rug or carpet is a problem that bothers many people. However, if we remember that, just as the floor is the foundation of the room, the floor covering should keep that feeling in relation to the other furnishings, points out Harriet W. Allard in the Household Magazine, the problem will seem much less difficult.

This authority on homemaking advises a darker tone of color for rugs than for walls and ceilings, inasmuch as this carries out the idea of a foundation. However, she says, it is not necessary to confine one's choice to plain colors in somber shades, although carpets and rugs, in one color, or with a center of one color and border of another, have been, and still are, popular. They give an appearance of a firm, sturdy foundation. Life and animation can be added to a room with a plain carpet by using colorful drapes and wall coverings. If the value of the color is comparatively

The darkness and the rain were terrible. The torch was a mockery. "To be drowned in the dark!" thought Pia, sliding over boulders, splashing in and out of pools that deepened with every minute. Then-"Oh, swetheart, will you ever know?" Then, as she struggled through water nearing ber waist, staggered against the clawing current, felt that the end of the fight was very near, came thoughts that she has never told to any; broken and breathless prayers that remain between Pia and her God.

And still, in the rearing darkness, in the rising water, the tiny ray of the torch showed no sign of Sergeant Simoi.

A gust of wind came suddenly, sweeping the canyon; she did not need Jinny's clutching hand, Jinny's halfheard shout, to know that it was the outrider of the flood . . . the end.

They flung themselves again the merciless rock wall. For the last time, Pia's torch swept up the dark. She saw-they both saw-a rope dangling down the wall. Through the shout of the coming tood pierced Sergeant Simoi's bull-voice from up above -"Takem rope!"

He had found some all but impossible place of ascent, torn a liana from one of the trees that clung to the slope above the rocky wall, and was flinging it down to the "two-fellow

The sun was climbing high above the proclaimed goldfield of Tatatata, now changed indeed from the lonely basin that held all its treasures untouched for so long. Light blazed from the intelerable silver of tinned roofs clustered low down in the valley - magistrate's house; licensed "hotel," store; small field hospital. Light danced on running water that was led from springs higher up, and flumed into the various claims, dotting the whole extent of the basinthe basin that was gold bearing almost everywhere, but, nowhere, carried anything to touch the wealth accumulated in one prospecting claim at the very bottom. On new clean tents, on old soiled tents, on "bush" huts made of sago and black palm, the sun struck fiercely, making every place it touched whitehot; for it was growing now towards noon, and in the low latitude of Tatatata, midday found no coolness, almost no shadow, anywhere.

While the list of popular sports silks is long this season, when it comes to outstanding types, the handsome striped shirtings rank among the foremost. One of the chief charms of these striped silks is their incomparable taundering qualities. The new basque stripes are especially attractive. SUGAR FOODS

For those who do not enjoy the nutty, delightful flavor of olive oil, there are the vegetable oils that are perfectly wholesome and much cheaper as to cost. These oils may be used just as the olive oil is used in all dressings. For a good French dressing use one-half cupful of vegetable oil, three tablespoonfuls of vinegar.

one-half teaspoonful of salt and oneeighth teaspoonful of pepper, Beat thoroughly and serve on any fresh crisp vegetable salad.

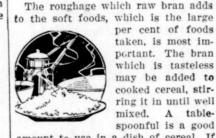

Mayonnaise.-To one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-eighth teaspoonful of white pepper add one egg, beat well, add three tablespoonfuls of vinegar, stir until well mixed then add one teaspoonful of sirup and two cupfuls of good vegetable oil, a teaspoonful at a time until the mixture begins to thicken when the oil is all added; add a teaspoonful of boiling water and set away to chill.

Green Pepper Jam .- Put two cupfuls of green peppers through the food chopper twice and save all the juice. There should be two full cupfuls with juice enough to cover the top of the cup; discard the rest of the juice. Take six and one-half cupfuls of sugar, one and one-half cupfuls of apple vinegar and one bottle of pectin. Bring the sugar, vinegar and peppers to a hard boil, then set aside for fifteen minutes and stir occasionally. Bring again to a boil and boil for two minutes. Remove from the fire and stir in the pectin, skim and stir for five minutes to cool, then pour into jelly glasses and cover with paraffin. Let stand a week to set. This makes a nice sandwich spread on any kind of buttered bread.

Stuffed Cabbage.-Use a large head of lettuce and take about twenty leaves; pour boiling water over them and let stand fifteen mintues. Take a tablespoonful of hamburger to each leaf and wrap up in the leaf. Slice an onion in the bottom of the baking pan, add two tablespoonfuls of oil or any sweet fat, one cupful of hot water and place in the oven to bake one hour. sentiment of the mode when it comes | Mix the juice of one lemon, one-half cupful of sugar, one-half teaspoonful the sands, take a dive or a dip in of cinnamon, one teaspoonful of flour, one-half teaspoonful of mixed spices and one-half teaspoonful of salt. amount to use in a dish of cereal. If one cares to take it in the water when drinking stir in a spoonful and it goes down very easily. For constipation of long standing there is nothing better. Take a glass of water with two tablespoonfuls of bran before retiring. We may add bran to all our food-bread, confections as well as cake-which makes it very agreeable

Bran Bread .- Take two cupfuls of bran, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two cupfuls of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one egg, one and one-half cupfuls of milk, two table- I can do. spoonfuls of molasses, and two table spoonfuls of shortening. Sift dry in gredients, except bran, add bran, milk and beaten egg. Add molasses and the shortening melted. Beat well and bake one hour. This makes one loaf; add three-fourths of a cupful of nuts and you will have a most delicious nut loaf.

Bran Muffins .- Take two cupfuls each of flour and raw bran. Sift three and one-half teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of salt, one egg, one-third of a cupful of sugar and three tablespoonfuls of melted shortening. Sift the flour and baking powder, mix as usual, adding the melted shortening at the last. Bake in heated muffin irons her? thirty minutes.

Bran Date Bars .- Take one cupful each of flour and bran, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, one and one-half cupfuls of chopped dates, threefourths of a cupful chopped walnut meats, four eggs and three tablespoonitem this season, reaching proportions fuls of milk. Sound can do many things which seem mysterious and almost miraculous. For instance, fire can be extinguished by sound. Some little time ago Mr. Charles Kellogg of California gave a demonstration of the power of sound over flame, and by drawing a violin bow across a piece of aluminum extinguished a burning gas jet at 50 feet. Adjustable Racquet Strings Mainsprings of timepieces, violin strings and the strings of tennis racquets have a way of breaking without any explainable reason. To overcome this trick of the atmosphere, for the atmosphere has had to bear the blame, the violinist loosens the strings of the instrument during the interval of disuse. This idea has been recently made use of in the design of the tennis racquets. By means of a threaded contraption extending through the handle, it is possible to loosen the strings when not in use. It is said that the implement is in much better condition for play when tightened after a short repose of this kind.

Paganini as a Father

Paganini's greatest relaxation was spoiling his son. No childish whim was too unreasonable to be gratified and his patience was really maternal. Once, when the child had broken a leg, the doctor ordered absolute repose, but no one could keep the little one still. Paganini sat with the child in his lap for eight days, careessing rub soap on them. Rinse thoroughly. and entertaining him. Finally he became dazed from continual sitting and the doctor insisted on his going out. He had accomplished his purpose, however, for the young bones had knit together properly .- From "Paganini of Genoa," by Lillian Day.
