Two former teammates met under somewhat different circumstances when Walter Johnson, the grand old iron man, and Bucky Harris greeted each other recently.

This Is Year of Pitcher, States President Heydler

This is going to be a pitcher's year, rather than another big frolic for the batsman, President John Heydler said the other day that his observations of 1934 baseball games showed that while the new baseball when it goes just as far as the old one, batters are finding more difficulty in hitting it.

Seeing Big League Baseball

By BILLY EVANS Sports-writer, Big League Umpire and General Manager of the Cleveland Indians

Altogether I have worked in six world series during my big league career. My next after 1930 was the famous series of 1912 between the New York Giants and the Boston Red Sox.

Babe Ruth.

Philadelphia Nationals; the 1917 games between the Chicago White Sox and the Giants; the famous "scandal series" of 1919, between Cincinnati and the White Sox, and the 1923 meeting of the New York Yankees and Giants.

Motorists Travel Far on Newly Improved Roads

Motorists of today are covering two-thirds more distance in a year than they did a decade ago. The United States Department of Agriculture recently announced that in 1930 the total usage of gasoline increased 3 1/2 per cent over that of 1920, even though there were only a few more cars.

In 1933, the average consumption of gasoline per vehicle was 556 gallons as compared with 538 gallons in 1920. Estimating that the average car travels 15 miles per gallon, motorists in 1930 averaged 8,340 miles of travel. Ten years ago motorists averaged little more than 5,000 miles yearly.

a mile in car operating costs over dirt roads, and at least one cent a mile in car operating costs over roads of intermediate types. The motorists, therefore, who in 1930 drove 8,340 miles over concrete rather than over intermediate type roads saved $83.40, or more than $50 over his motor tax outlay.

Gas tax income is being widely used for road bonding purposes. Bond issues financed by gasoline tax income impose no additional burden on the motorist and at the same time they permit immediate construction of needed highway improvements.

Humane System Helps the Convicts

Prison Life Is Softened Under Scientific Methods, Hoover Is Told.

Washington.—The rigors of prison life of the past are being softened under humane and scientific methods, President Hoover has been informed in a letter from Sanford Bates, director of the bureau of prisons.

The milder uprising in prisons during recent years may be avoided under this gentler system of dealing with people convicted of crime, he indicated. The reform program which Bates outlined proposed:

New buildings, decent living conditions, improved diet, better qualified prison guards, probation and parole, and individual education of prisoners. Because of aroused public sentiment and the co-operation of the administration, the program is already well under way, but there is much yet to be done, he reported to his chief.

"We are not yet out of the woods by a considerable margin," he said. "Our main penitentiaries are still grievously overcrowded. They are too overcrowded to permit of carrying out our program completely."

The argument that prisons might be made such nice places to live in that they would fall to serve as deterrents to crime was also considered by Bates. He took the position that punishment would not lose its sting "simply because it is constructive."

Fair Discipline. "A prison need not have dirt, idleness, graft, and cruelty to deter persons from committing crime," he said. "A strict program of prophylaxis, industry, education, and fair discipline with a medium of constructive recreation will certainly not induce people to commit deprecations on society."

The letter was in the nature of a report. It was requested by the President to ascertain what had been done to alleviate the situation which has aroused the country during the last few years.

Bates found there were only two problems involved: Overcrowding and the tremendous increase in prisoners as well as the reform methods of handling them. Six new federal prisons and four jails are being used, or constructed to meet the over crowding situation, he said.

The disciplinary barracks has been taken from the War department; about $3,100,000 is being spent for Northeast penitentiary in central Pennsylvania; 1,000 acres of land has shrank to 210,736, until now but 0.4 per cent of the population above ten years cannot read and write.

The committee also reported much progress among the Blackfoot Indians in Montana. Within two weeks of instruction, 236 adult Indians between twenty-two and eighty-four years of age acquired some ability in reading and writing.

Mississippi ranked second to Georgia in progress. That state reduced illiteracy by 4.1 per cent of the population.

Scientist Says South

America Once 3 Isles

St. Louis.—South America once consisted of three islands, separated by a sea similar to the Mediterranean, Dr. William M. McGovern, professor of political science of Northwestern university in Chicago, recently returned from an expedition of the Amazon jungle, told the Washington University association here.

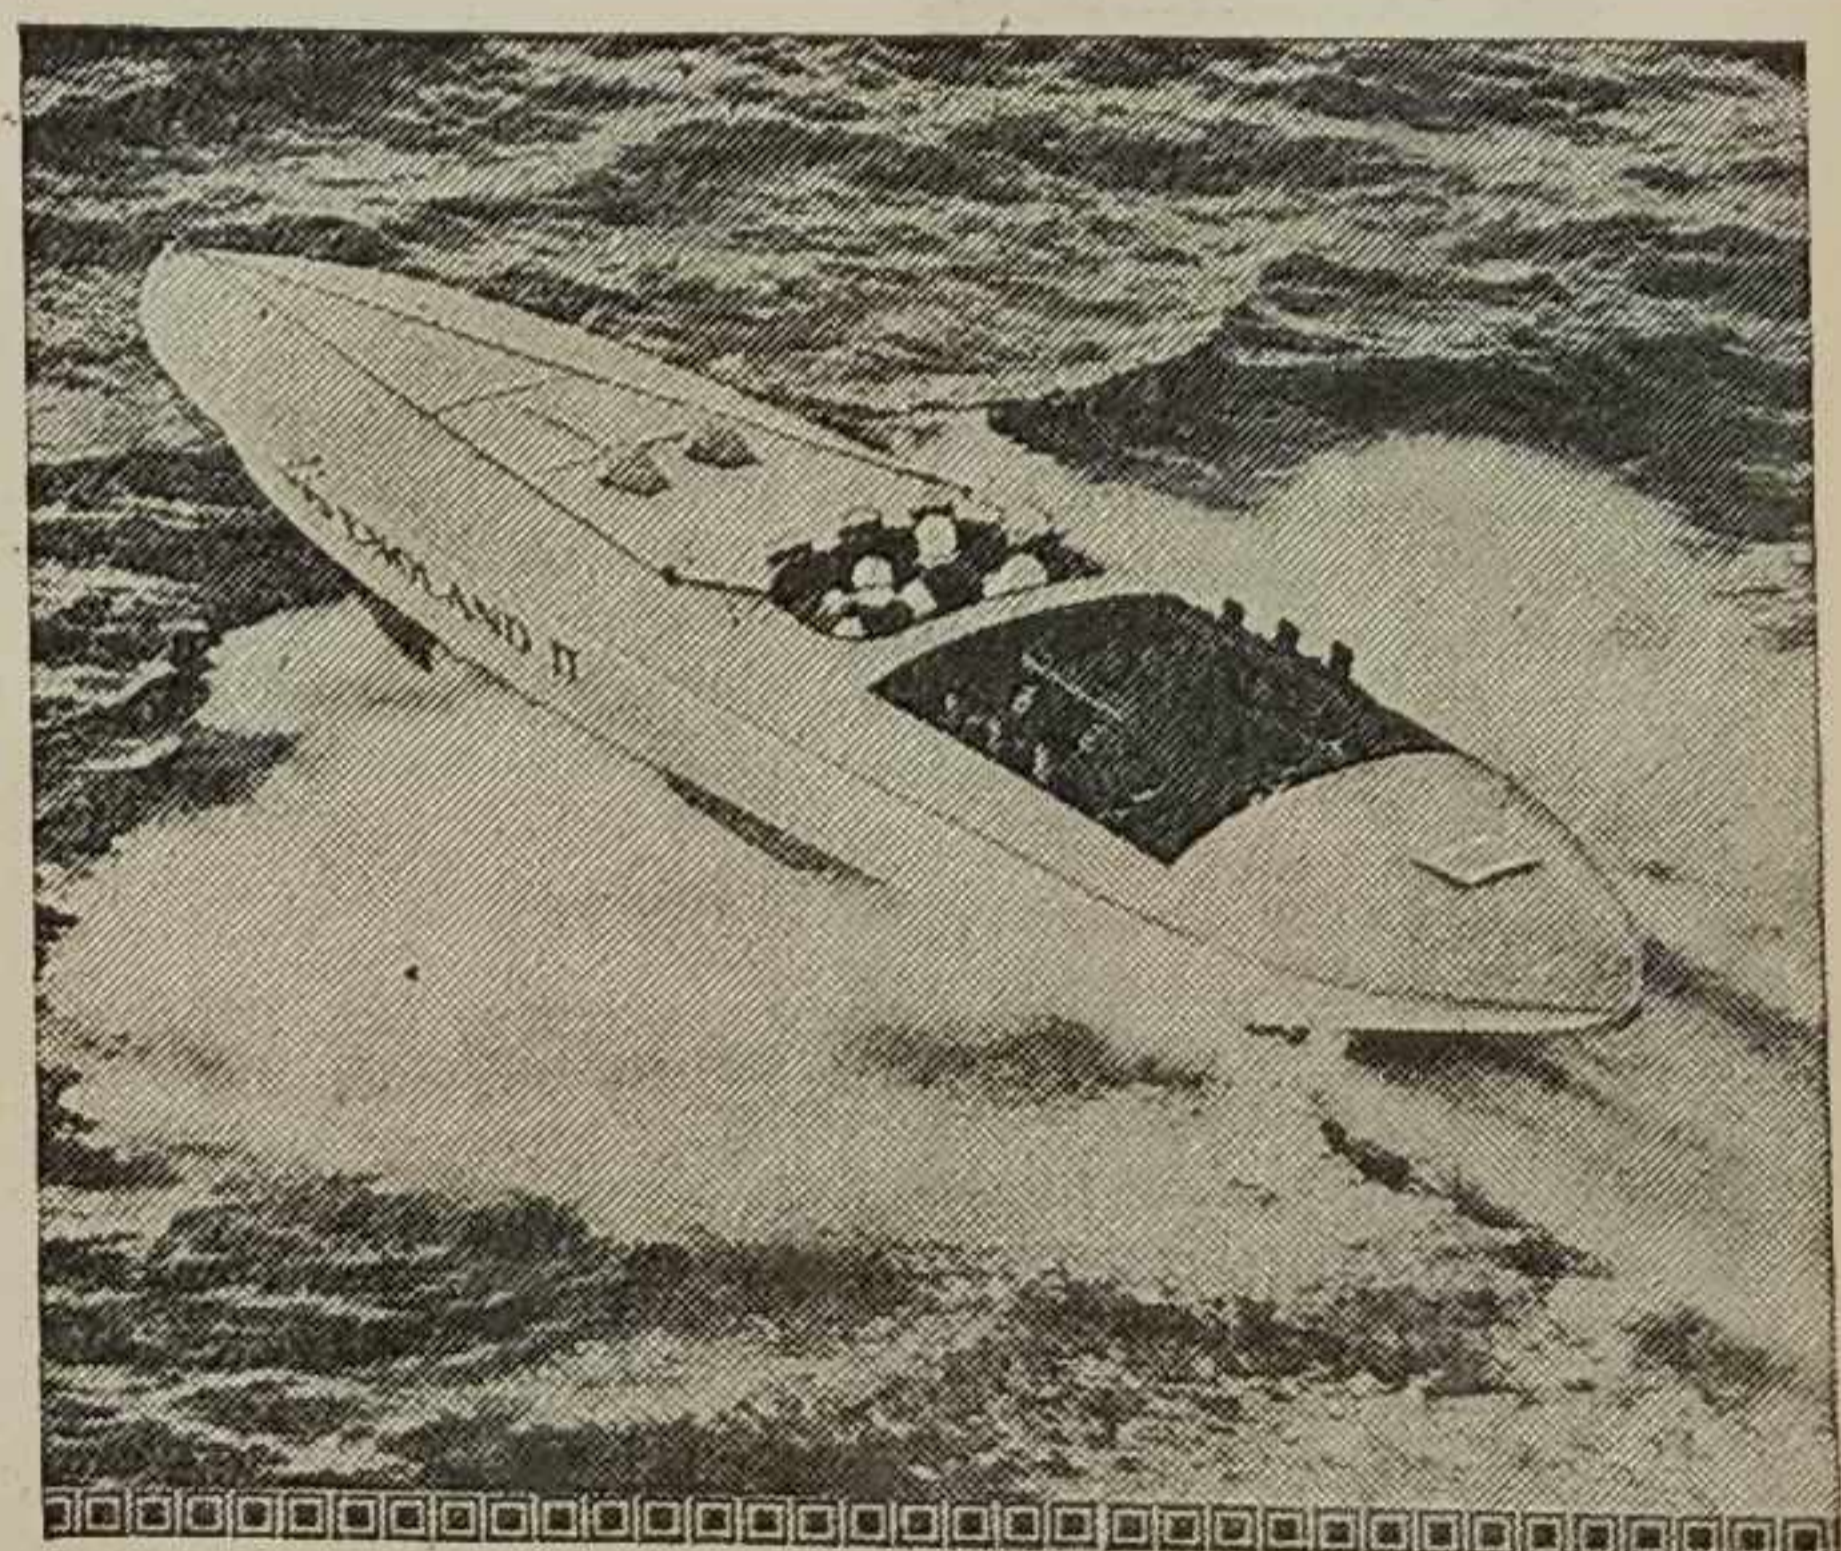

The sea which once divided South America has now become the Amazon river, he said. In relating his experience during his trip, Doctor McGovern said that within ten miles of Manaus, a modern little city at the extreme end of the Amazon river steamer line, virgin jungle was to be found. Forty miles away, he said, Indians, never seen by white man, live.

El Paso, Texas.—Harry Brassens is an honest fellow. The other day he took a box-car ride out of town. Recently the railroad officials of the line on which he copied the free ride received a letter from him. "God bless your railroad," the letter said. "Please accept these stamps (the increased 40 cents' worth) as a token of my repentance for riding your cars."

NILE RIVER DESTROYING PICTURESQUE ISIS RUINS

Removal to the United States Suggested in Order to Preserve Ancient Structure.

Paris.—The Temple of Isis, on the island of Philae, is in danger of being destroyed by the ravages of the Nile, and art lovers of many nations have demanded that something be done to save it.

Philae is near Assuan, Egypt, and south of Syene. It is a small granite rock fringed with rich greenery, about 1,200 feet long and 450 feet wide, almost covered with ancient buildings of architectural beauty and historic interest.

The great Temple of Isis, to whom the island was sacred, was built chiefly by Ptolemy Epiphanes and continued by his successors, especially Ptolemy III.

The processions of pilgrims approached the island from the south, were received by the priests at a flight of steps at the southwest corner and then passed into a court with a colonnade to the right and left, erected by Tiberius and later Roman emperors.

To the north stands the great pylon, or gateway, 60 feet high and 120 feet wide. This is the oldest part of the temple and bears the name of Nectanebes II, who lived about 361 B. C. Beyond is another court, with several chambers and a small chapel. Another smaller pylon gives entrance to the temple proper, at the northern end of the irregular complex of buildings, converted into a Christian church in 577.

The great dam at Assuan, completed early in this century, did not injure the ruins, but the deepening of the dam by 20 feet, carried out in recent years, has submerged them. This, however, was said to have caused no serious injuries, but rather to have

John Gruber is in his thirty-eighth year as official scorer in Forbes field, the home of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

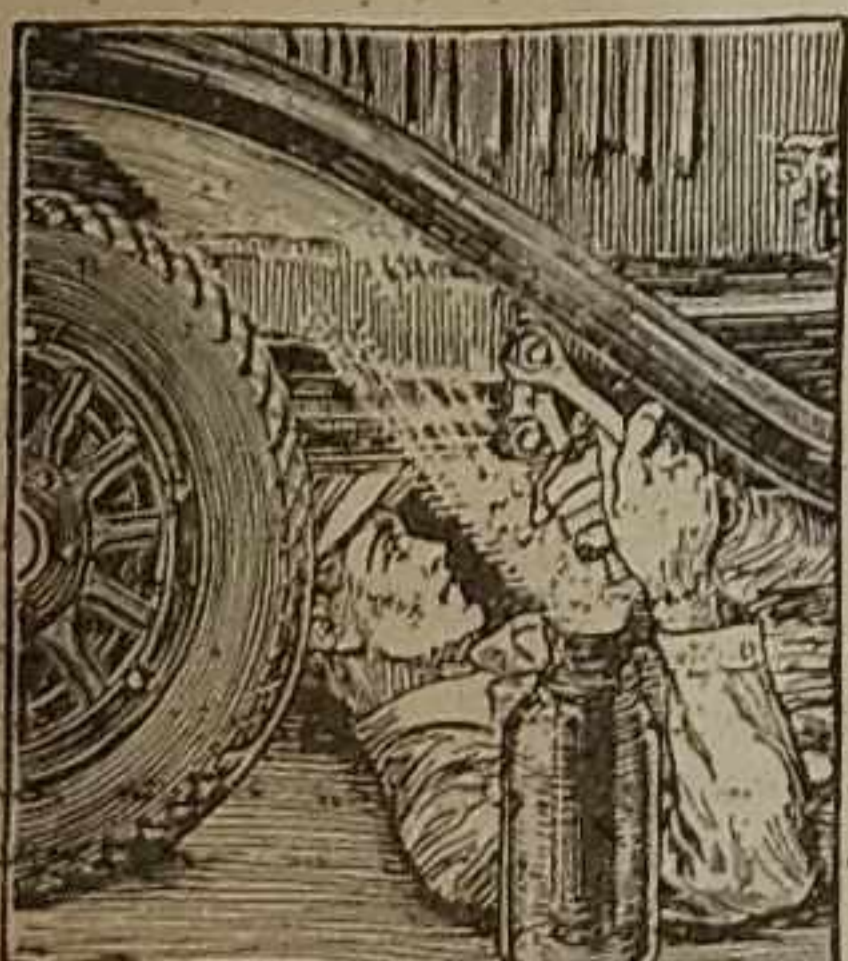

In young Mr. Owen the Tigers seem at last to have found a shortstop who makes his errors at not unhelpful times.

The first pitcher to deliver the spitball was Bobby Mathews, who played for the Boston Nationals in the early eighties.

Southern league baseball writers have picked Atlanta to win the pennant, Memphis to finish second and New Orleans third.

Bob Meusel, former New York and Cincinnati outfielder has been signed by Manager Mike Kelley to play with the Minneapolis American association baseball team.

The really fundamental reason for the scarcity of useful shortstops in this country is the large puddling type of ball used by the lads over the way in the vacant lot.

For historical purposes, it should be re-stated now and then that the old-time dead baseball was in use at the time John Hummel made his immortal "bunt over left field fence."

The Toledo Blade says a man's face can't be copyrighted. When interviewed on this point, Mr. Nick Altrock seemed not to be perturbed.

Rogers Hornsby is the only playing manager in the big leagues. Mack of the A's, McGraw of the Giants and Robinson of the Dodgers no longer wear baseball uniforms.

Stuffy McInnis played 132 games at first base in 1921, missing but one chance out of the 1,052 that came his way, but Chub Collins, a first baseman of the previous century, played an entire season without making an error.

The Ontario (Can.) Baseball Amateur association has decided that the playing of Sunday baseball by teams or players under its jurisdiction must cease.

Popularity of baseball among Missouri colleges is on the wane, a recent survey disclosed. Bad weather and conflicts with track are given as causes.

Jack Johnson, 220-pound tackle who plays for Utah, is a rodeo bulldogging champion. In seven years of high school, freshman and varsity competition, he has never played on a losing team.

Asking an injunction against the misuse of his name, Babe Ruth says it was "printed in blatant vulgar type, repugnant to good taste and apt to bring the name into disrepute." Babe's good knows some 50-cent words.

The hardest thing is to get a club to understand that the game played this afternoon may decide the pennant.

Dave McMillan, Minnesota's basketball coach, instructed the Idaho five that won the Pacific coast championship in 1923.

The Brooklyn club may do all of its training in Havana next spring, scheduling games there with big league teams training in Florida.

Babe Ruth's first year with the Yankees was 1920. There is no player with the club today who was a member of the team when the Babe joined the New York American squad.

When you push an ordinary drinking glass upside down into a pan of water, the water will not enter the glass. This is because the air in the glass can not escape.

McCormick-Deering Cylinder-Rake Hay Loader

THE McCormick-Deering Cylinder-Rake Hay Loader combines the principles of two highly successful loaders—it picks up from either the swath or windrow. One-man loading is possible, thus reducing labor costs. The cylinder has high-grade steel teeth and is adjustable close to the ground for picking up short hay. The teeth of the rake bars are timed so that the delivery of hay from the cylinder exactly meets the movements of the rake bars. This loader is designed so that hay can be delivered three feet closer to the rack when starting the load, a feature appreciated on windy days. The frame is steel and the solid bottom is also steel. Thirteen roller bearings on this loader assure light draft. We would like to have you see this machine on our display floor.

Unmeasured Winds

The strongest winds are those of tornadoes and have never been measured. Plausible estimates based on the effects of these storms run up to 400 or 500 miles an hour in some cases. The strongest winds ever measured instrumentally blew at the summit of Mount Washington, N. H. January 11, 1878. The indicated velocity was 180 miles an hour, but certain necessary corrections reduce this to about 140 miles an hour.

GRAY SUIT AND YELLOW PRINT BLOUSE PICK OF SUMMER BRIDE

IT is primarily around color that the plot of summer fashions revolve. Which is a point to keep uppermost in mind when planning the summer bride's trousseau. There's nothing smarter for the newlywed's going-away costume than gray for the suit with yellow for the blouse and the accessories.

It is this arresting color scheme which gives "class" to the charming suit of soft worsted with print blouse which the youthful bride in the picture has donned while the guests were still making merry at the wedding feast. The big revers of gray and yellow print sound a striking note of chic. Black hat and black shoes, as well as black bag and gray gloves complete this outfit which is in genuinely good taste from start to finish.

Out-of-the-ordinary color effects are giving an entirely new aspect to summer fashions. For instance there is brown which has been more or less considered a fall color as far back as memory carries. According to the new order of affairs brown, especially brown with accents of white, tops the summer color card. Brown with old

Upon the shoulders of the past we stand. And to the future turn our questioning eyes.
What doth she hold in store, what precious prize That we may wrest from out her close shut hands?
—Elizabeth Wade.

DISHES THAT ARE DIFFERENT

A cream puff pastry is very simple to make, but the baking is the test of its perfection.

Never remove the puffs from the oven until they feel light when lifted from the pan.

Bagdad Cream Puffs—Heat together one cupful of boiling water and one-third cupful of corn oil. When boiling add altogether three-fourths of a cupful of flour mixed with one and one-half tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and one-ablespoonful of salt, all well sifted together. Stir and mix vigorously until the mixture leaves the sides of the pan. Cool and add one at a time three eggs, beating well after the addition of each; now add one teaspoonful of baking powder and beat well until smooth. Shape into circular form. Bake from 35 to 45 minutes, depending upon the size of the puff. Cool with a sharp knife near the bottom of the puff, remove any doughy center and fill with the following:

Cut one-half a package of dates and one cupful of marshmallows with the scissors. Dip the scissors into water to keep the marshmallows from sticking. Add one-half cupful of nutmeats, add one cupful of cream beaten until stiff, and a pinch of salt and a flavoring of vanilla. This amount will make one dozen large puffs.

Irish Kisses—To one-half cupful of peanut butter add one-half cupful of dates, three-fourths of a cupful of powdered sugar and two unbeaten egg whites. Mix and beat until they are thoroughly blended. Drop by teaspoonfuls on buttered baking sheet and bake 15 minutes. This makes 18 kisses.

As the apples which have been kept in cold storage have lost some of their freshness and flavor add a half cupful of grapefruit juice to them when putting to stew, instead of water; the result will be a different and tasty applesauce.

"Biting" Remarks Natural in Contest Over Teeth

"Your money or your teeth?" was the demand and it happened, not in Chicago, but in a little Hungarian village. And the dentist was the hold-up man.

It seems that the patient, who had sent his false teeth to the dentist for polishing had not paid a bill which his mother had contracted several years previously. The dentist had bided his time, and now refused to return the man's teeth until he had paid his mother's dental bill.

The toothless man sued on the ground of "infamous abuse of professional ethics." The dentist naively countered with the statement that since he couldn't eat without money, it was only justice that the other man couldn't eat because he had no teeth.

The court made several biting remarks which neither party to the suit relished.—Washington Post.

Pretty Indian Legend

The custom of sacrificing a beautiful maiden by sending her over Niagara falls in a canoe was practiced by the Indian tribes about the falls. The maiden selected paddled a white canoe, filled with fruits and flowers, over the falls. It was counted a great honor to be chosen as the sacrificial victim.

Once the only daughter of a Seneca chief was selected by the gathered tribes. Her father loved her dearly, yet he showed no sign of grief. The revels continued during the whole day, and when night came and the moon rose the girl paddled her canoe toward the falls, amidst much tumult and shouting. Suddenly another white canoe darted from the opposite bank. It contained the chief, her father; the canoes met, and together they went to their death over the falls.

Anglicized Term

The word "Dutch" is an English form of "Duetsch" and related words of the Germanic tongues. Formerly it applied to all peoples of Germanic stock or language but recent usage restricts it more or less to Hollanders. The "Pennsylvania Dutch" who play an important part in the life and history of that state, and of the nation, are almost entirely of German and German Swiss descent.

High Maternity Death Rate

The maternity death rate in the United States is higher than in any other civilized country. Per 1,000 live births, 65 mothers are lost. It is believed that with adequate maternity care two-thirds of the lives thus lost might be saved.

Flaming Youth

We've about decided that youth craves excitement and must have outlet for the pent that it accumulates.—Country Home.

Is It Possible?

"And now," said the druggist to his apprentice, "after you have mastered the art of the 75 brands of toothpastes, you can spend the next two weeks" memorizing the list of toothpastes."

Let the World-Mover Do It

A statesman says that the matter of unemployment should be in the hands of women legislators. Any woman, he claims, can always find work for a man to do.—Minneapolis Journal.

The plots of her stories are based on incidents from real life as it is lived every day by the common people.

Such are the stories which are appearing in this newspaper. Be sure to read them and talk to your friends about them for they like interesting stories, too. And Fannie Hurst's stories are interesting stories.

FREE CHEST CLINIC AT WEST BEND

Washington County's regular monthly free chest clinic conducted by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, will be held at the court house at West Bend on Tuesday, June 16 it was announced this week by Miss Ruby McKenzie, County Nurse.

It will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m., during which time free examinations for defects of the lungs, heart, nose, throat and mouth will be made.

Any resident of the county may come in for examination, although children under 16 years of age must be accompanied by an adult, preferably a parent. Children under six years of age will not be examined unless they have had close contact with someone having tuberculosis.

No treatment will be given at the clinic. All persons whose examinations reveal them to be in need of treatment of further medical advice will be referred to their own family doctors.

Among the danger signals which may mean that tuberculosis is attacking you are: Tiring without sufficient cause; loss of weight, accompanied by a loss of "pep"; loss of appetite; a cough that hangs on and blood spitting or blood-streaked sputum," says the W. A. T. A. physicians.

"If you have any of these symptoms it does not necessarily mean that you have tuberculosis, but anyone of them should put you on your guard. Symptoms alone do not give the answer. A thorough physical examination is necessary."

The Washington County clinics are made possible by the annual sale of penny tuberculosis Christmas seals and the co-operation and assistance of the Washington County Board.

CHILD HEALTH CENTER AT HARTFORD

A special child health center for Washington county, by arrangement with the bureau of child welfare, state board of health, has been scheduled for Wednesday, June 17, at Hartford, it is announced by Miss Ruby McKenzie, County Nurse.

Dr. Margaret Nelson, staff physician of the state bureau, will conduct the center, assisted by Miss McKenzie and a physical examination will be accorded to all children of preschool age.

Expectant mothers are also urged to attend the center, for the purpose of consulting Dr. Nelson on important matters of parental care.

Infant deaths in Wisconsin last year numbered 3,149, marking a decrease of 175 from the 1929 toll of children less than one year of age. Through attendance of child health centers, hundreds of boys and girls ranging from infants to those ready to enter school are being given a new lease of life. Minor defects and ailments that have escaped parental notice are frequently revealed at the health center, the staff physician acting in an advisory capacity.

BAN ON SHIPPING CATTLE TO NEW YORK LIFTED

What amounted to a ban on Wisconsin cattle shipments to New York state has just been lifted by the interposition of the department of agriculture and markets according to Commissioner Charles L. Hill.

Previously the New York state department of agriculture had a ruling that no cattle could be shipped into that state except from counties in Wisconsin that had been tested for tuberculosis during the preceding year. The new arrangement allows Wisconsin cattle to enter New York state providing they are tested previous to shipment.

The ruling was due to a misunderstanding of the law according to Mr. Hill, and the new arrangement was readily adopted when the New York department had the matter called to its attention.
