FRED WILLIAM RAMTHUN

On Monday morning, March 17th, Fred William Ramthun, a resident of the town of Kewaskum for 40 years, and at present suffering from an attack of heart failure, passed away, answering the call of the great beyond. Although Mr. Ramthun was in failing health with rheumatism for the past few years, he never lost his ability to go about his business. The sudden death is a great loss to his family, relatives and friends.

Mr. Ramthun was born in Germany on September 1, 1864, having reached the age of 67 years, 6 months, and 12 days, when he died.

He immigrated to this country with his parents, who had settled in the town of Kewaskum, on April 10, 1890. He was married to Miss Anna Marquette, and soon thereafter, acquired a farm where he died. Their union blessed with seven children, six of whom are living with his wife, still residing in the town of Kewaskum.

Mr. Ramthun was a man of quiet disposition and one who could be depended upon at any and every time. He always was a public spirit and during different intervals of his career was supervisor of the town of Kewaskum, serving in that capacity for the past two years.

He would have been a candidate for election at the coming spring election in April. While a district school trustee in his community, he had a great interest in school affairs and was a member of the school board for many years.

Funeral will be held Saturday afternoon, March 19th, at 2 o'clock, at the home in the town of Kewaskum, with services in the St. Michael's church. Burial will be made in the parish cemetery. Rev. G. Kanies will officiate.

School will close on Thursday and Friday preceding Easter.

The Campbellsport High School fell before an inspired Kewaskum team, last Thursday night. On a previous occasion, Campbellsport had shown us the short end of the score and our boys were out for revenge. The game was a contest between height and speed, our boys controlling the speed and Campbellsport the height. Campbellsport got off to an early start and scored seven points before our boys settled down to play ball. At the half the score stood 14 to 11 in favor of Kewaskum. In the last half the game was evenly contested, the locals scoring points and Campbellsport eleven.

Monday night Kewaskum High defeated the second time by Slinger. In both instances, the defeat was by one basket. The locals got off to a flying start and had an 8 to 3 advantage at the half, only to lose a victory in the final minutes of play. This was the last game of the season, except for those in the tournament. The team has scored nine victories and suffered four defeats for the season. In three of the defeats the scores have been different by only one basket, in the fourth the score was 26 to 11.

KEWASKUM LOSES TO SLINGER

Kewaskum's chances for the county championship were marred last week Friday evening at West Bend, when the strong Slinger basketball team defeated the locals in the third and deciding game by a score of 39 to 27, before a crowd of approximately 500 fans.

It was a typical Slinger-Kewaskum battle. The game was played at breakneck speed by both teams, which caused more than the usual number of fouls to be called. Each team being guilty of 15 offenses.

Both teams had plenty of chances to score from the gift line. Slinger caged seven of their 15 chances, while Kewaskum made a very poor showing, hooping only three of their 15 chances.

In the first period, Elliott, for the locals, after 4 1/2 minutes of play, made a beautiful shot for a field goal. This was followed by Baehring getting a free throw on Heberer's foul. Heberer then caged a free throw, he being fouled by Portz. Cramer for Slinger was given a free throw and shortly thereafter scored a field goal. Bies followed bringing the score 7 to 3 in favor of Slinger. Shortly before the quarter ended, Andrews got a gift. Period ended Slinger 7, Kewaskum 4.

In the second period Bies was quick to score a goal for Slinger; Andrews evened up with a nice ring. This quarter was all Bies for Slinger, who scored two field goals and Andrews for Kewaskum, who caged three field goals. Kohn was credited with one field goal and a free throw. Portz for Slinger scored the other point by way of a free throw; half ended Kewaskum 13, Slinger 12.

In the third quarter Kewaskum made a spurt, scoring three baskets in short order, bringing the total, Kewaskum 19, Slinger 13. At this time the Slinger lads called for time out, and after resuming play, had no trouble in caging basket after basket ending the period, Slinger 23, Kewaskum 21. From this time on the team work of the locals ceased to function, and Slinger had an easy time in scoring a decisive victory. The locals had no alibis after the game, and took their defeat good naturedly. The game ended just the reverse of the game played at Kewaskum two weeks previous, when the team work of Slinger went to pieces.

The numerous fouls called on the locals did more harm to them than the fouls called on Slinger affected them, as two of the locals, Dreher and Rosenheimer were automatically removed by way of four personal fouls during the second quarter. In the third period, Bies of Slinger was sent to the showers for the same reason while Portz was chased to the side lines 35 seconds before the final shot was fired.

Although Kewaskum lost the series, the championship for the county remains in doubt, unless a third game between West Bend and Slinger is not played. As results now stand of the county games played: Slinger has won 3 and lost 2. Kewaskum won 3 and lost 2. If West Bend plays the third game with Slinger and wins, it will mean Kewaskum must play another game with West Bend. If the latter wins both of these games, the championship will remain a three team tie. If West Bend loses to Slinger, Slinger will be the undisputed champions. If

DICKMAN IN TROUBLE AGAIN

Edward Dickman, Random Lake, who had a mania recently for passing worthless checks in denominations of $26.00 each, found himself in the clutches of the law for the second time within a period of a few weeks, when he was arrested last week Tuesday at his home by the Sheriff of Sheboygan county by request of officials from Dodgeville, Iowa county, and taken to the latter place on the following day, Wednesday, to answer to the charge of five counts for forgery.

The latest charge accuses Dickman of cashing five bad checks at Dodgeville on January 22. Posing as a new farmer in the neighborhood, and saying he had sold a cow to P. W. Hennessy of Highland, Wis., whose signature was forged to the checks. In each instance small purchases were made for $26.00 each.

About two weeks ago a Dodgeville merchant visited relatives at Prairie du Sac, Wis., and heard of a similar forgery case at Barton where $26.00 checks were passed on merchants February 5th. Sheriff Raisbeck of Iowa county investigated and found Dickman had been arrested and brought to West Bend for a hearing. He was out on bond when re-arrested for Dodgeville officials.

Tragedy Saddens Two Homes

In the worst tragedy that ever occurred in this village, Roman Kohn, 21, Carl Kellar, 15, and John Kellar, 13, were instantly killed at about 6 o'clock Saturday evening, March 12th, when northbound Chicago & Northwestern passenger train No. 209 struck the automobile in which they were riding, at the crossing, better known as the creamery crossing, a few hundred feet north of the depot.

The accident happened within a few hundred feet of the Kellar boys' home. The trio were traveling east and were going to call for a few more companions to attend the movies at West Bend.

Roman Kohn was driving the auto and stopped at the Kellar home only a few minutes before the accident. The approach of the train was obscured from their view by a string of cars on a sidetrack near the crossing. At the instant Monday afternoon it was testified that the train traveled at a speed of from 35 to 50 miles per hour. The engineer was unable to see the oncoming auto, on account of riding in the east side of the engine cab. The fireman testified he saw the approaching auto when about midway between the main street crossing and the fatal spot and yelled to the engineer to stop, and who applied the brakes, but could not bring the train to a stop until about 1550 feet north.

The body of Roman Kohn was found 220 feet north of the crossing on the east side of the track, that of Carl Kellar 25 feet north of where Kohn was found, same side of track, and that of John Kellar, the youngest of the three, badly mangled, 715 feet from the crossing where they were struck. The auto was an old style two-door Ford sedan and it is thought that John Kellar was riding in the rear seat. The car was completely demolished, and the wreckage thrown on both sides of the track to where the train came to a stop. The train was in charge of Engineer Ed. Riley and Conductor Dan Harrigan of Milwaukee.

Coroner Clem Reinders immediately took charge of the accident and the bodies of the Kellar boys were removed to the Miller undertaking establishment and that of Roman Kohn removed to West Bend for a hearing. He was out on bond when re-arrested for Dodgeville officials.

Those from afar who attended the funeral of Carl and John Kellar were: Ed. Goeland and family, William Lindenstruth and family, Robert Krueger and family, Ralph Kanies and family, Pat Sheehan, Miss Marie Kraus, Mrs. G. Anderson, Mrs. B. Brondrau, and the Messrs. and Messdames John Wicoff, John Hahn, Chas. Roman Smith, the local ice man, took advantage of the cold weather last Saturday and resumed his harvest of ice. The work of filling the ice houses was completed Monday noon. It was the biggest tonnage ever harvested in the village. Approximately 40,000 cakes were harvested, each cake averaging 100 pounds or in other words, about 2,000 tons. Although the ice this year wasn't very thick, it was clear, and Mr. Smith is well satisfied that he was able to fill his ice houses.

Roman Kohn, the oldest of the three killed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Math. Kohn residing in the town of Kewaskum, just west of the railway crossing 1 mile north of the village, was born on April 18, 1911. BIG POWERS CHECK MOVE ON JAPAN

Propose Mild Course by the League of Nations.

Geneva.—The big powers talked prudence to their little brothers in the League of Nations assembly, sitting to consider the Chinese-Japanese war.

It was Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, who undertook to dampen the ardor of the little powers which, armed with normal force alone, sought to bring Japan to time. France, Italy and Germany followed him.

Sir John proposed a pliant resolution, so reasonably worded that Japan could herself sign it, and a postponement of consideration of the Manchurian problem until the investigating commission headed by Lord Lytton reports.

Sir John's position was a minimum program of (1) a resolution to Japan reminding her of the covenant and various treaties and restating Secretary of State Stimson's declaration that advantages gained by force cannot be recognized; (2) to take the stand that Shanghai is to be looked after by the big powers, and (3) that the Manchurian problem is to be shelved.

The maximum program, on which the little powers were not at all prepared to back down, was (1) a stronger declaration to Japan; (2) insistence that the conference at Shanghai, contingent upon a Japanese withdrawal, be run on league principles, and (3) that there be a statement on Manchuria which would be a continuation of the council's declaration of September 30 and December 10.

The little powers were in a high state of excitement. They considered the debates to have shown up the big powers.

Sir John, proposing what the more ardent smaller nations are quite sure is a compromise, said: "It would be far better for the league to proclaim its principles, even though it failed to get them observed, than to forsake those principles by a meaningless compromise."

The league, he assured the assembly, really expressed everybody's aspirations for world peace.

Shanghai.—Serious fighting developed between Chinese and Japanese troops at Lotien, near the Yangtze river about 30 miles northwest of Shanghai, according to reports of foreign military observers who visited the front line. The observers said the fighting followed the landing of Japanese reinforcements.

An official Japanese military report said that the headquarters of the Eleventh division had reported a Chinese attack on outposts of a Japanese infantry company at the village of Seking, north of Lotien. Orders were issued to the Eleventh division to repulse the attack, the report declared, "but not to take a positive offensive."

The Japanese communiqué also claimed that Japanese scouting planes near Taisang had observed heavy detachments of Chinese troops advancing to the east. Some of the units, it was said, were moving from Shachchen to Taisang, one column was moving toward Yovantez and others were marching toward Lotien. The report concluded: "Japanese forces are on the alert to meet the menace."

BRIAND, STATESMAN OF FRANCE, IS DEAD

Veteran Peace Advocate Was Twelve Times Premier.

Paris.—Aristide Briand, France's most prominent statesman in international matters and symbol of her post-war effort for peace, died suddenly of heart trouble in his bachelor flat not far from the Arc de Triomphe, twenty-two days before his seventieth anniversary.

Briand, who twelve times had been premier, was best known as foreign minister, a post he held for many years under a number of premiers, and became known as the "apostle of peace" because of his co-sponsorship with Frank Kellogg, then secretary of state of the United States, of the Briand-Kellogg peace pact. He also was an outstanding figure in negotiating the Locarno pacts.

It was also as foreign minister that he conceived the idea of a "United States of Europe" which never found acceptance but still is discussed.

In spite of his fame and recognized statesmanship, Briand was bitterly disappointed by failure to round out his career by being elected president last year. Last January he asked the then premier, Pierre Laval, to relieve him of the foreign office duties and it then became apparent that his health would not permit him to continue his public burdens.

Briand was born in St. Nazaire, March 28, 1862, the son of a Breton innkeeper. A scholarship enabled him to study at the Nantes Lycee, after which he studied law and became an advocate at the age of twenty.

Briand, who remained a bachelor, became editor of the Socialist newspaper Lanterne and then general secretary of the Socialist party. His election to the chamber of deputies followed in 1902. He became minister of education, his first cabinet post, in 1906, and premier in 1909, when the Clemenceau government resigned. He forced an end of the railway strike in 1910, earning the displeasure of union leaders.

In the early days of the World war, in August, 1914, Briand became minister of justice in M. Viviani's cabinet, and in the period from October, 1915, to March, 1917, during the dark days of the war, he was premier and worked for unification of the allied command. He was an eloquent speaker, suave and humorous, and his shaggy head helped to make him a striking figure.

FOUR ARE KILLED IN JOBLESS RIOT

Ford Detroit Plant Scene of Fatal Demonstration.

Detroit.—Unemployed demonstrators and police fought with pistols, shot-guns, bricks and stones at the gates of the Ford Motor company's Dearborn plant. Hours after the battle ended with four dead and scores injured, police and National Guardsmen were being held in readiness for a possible renewal of hostilities.

State police said the marchers shouted threats to return and "wreck the whole plant" as they fled. They would not say whether they had other information of impending fighting, but a heavy guard was in the vicinity of the plant.

The First Battalion of the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth infantry, Michigan National Guard, was held under arms in the Detroit armory for a time and then was dismissed subject to call. Major Rine said the troops were mobilized on instructions from the adjutant general's office, but that he had no definite word as to whether services of the 200 men would be required. Governor Brucker said he had not called out the guard.

Harry H. Bennett, chief of the Ford company's private police, was most prominent among the injured. He is in Henry Ford hospital with severe head lacerations from the marchers' rain of bricks and stones.

Police and marchers blamed each other for the tragic ending of the demonstration. Police said the first six shots—came from the ranks of the marchers, whose number was estimated from 3,000 to 5,000. The shots, they said, were fired from behind a parked automobile. Witnesses from among the demonstrators denied anyone in their group was armed.

Eleven of the marchers were held in jail and Sheriff Behrend said he would ask that murder charges be filed against John Fauth, Shelley Rogers and Paul James if evidence can be found to corroborate his belief they were the ringleaders.

Three of the dead were identified as Joe York, Joe Debruske and Coleman J. Lenz.

The demonstration had been advertised for weeks as a "hunger march" on the Ford plant. Newspapers said William Z. Foster, Communist leader, had urged all Communists to join it. None saw Foster among the marchers.

William J. Cameron of the Ford organization said the plan originated with Detroit Communists, that Ford police did not take part in the riot and that Bennett, who arrived on the scene late, was there only for investigation. He said the plant was not damaged, except for a few broken windows.

Oil Levy Is Opposed; Beer Tax Advocated

Washington.—Opposition to the proposed tax on imported oil and gasoline and support for the project to transfer $50,000,000 of the burden to a 2.5 per cent tax on 2.75 per cent beer combined in the house to offer complications for the new billion dollar revenue bill approved by the ways and means committee.

Representative Joseph W. Martin, Jr. (Rep., Mass.), denounced the import levy on gasoline and oil, indicating that his opposition was shared by a large group of representatives from states along the Atlantic seaboard.

At the same time, Representative Thomas H. Cullen (Dem., N. Y.), submitted a minority report signed also by two other members of the ways and means committee advocating imposition of the beer tax, which would amount to the legalization of 2.75 beer.

Death Comes Suddenly to John Philip Sousa

Reading, Pa.—John Philip Sousa, famous bandmaster, died suddenly at the Abraham Lincoln hotel, less than two hours after a banquet in his honor given by the Ringgold band this city. He delivered a speech at the dinner, but his voice seemed weak. A heart attack is ascribed as the cause of death.

Sousa's home was in Washington, and he was buried in the Congressional cemetery there after impressive services.

Smartly Tailored Is Spring Edible

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

It is smart to be tailored this spring, but tailored "just so," with regard to all the little elegancies and niceties which go to make up a perfect tailor. There is an air of sophisticated simplicity about the new spring suits which bespeaks the touch of master hands. There is a subtlety in the handling of color, texture and details which satisfies the critical eye at a glance.

True, there is no lack of novelty in the realm of the suit, this season, a great play being made on military types reflecting the spirit of the Washington bi-centennial celebration. This trend involves high-waisted, double-breasted silhouettes and works out patriotic color schemes in navy, with white, with red or buff. However, these novel expressions do not detract from the prestige of the conservative types which though not startlingly new as to "lines," nevertheless carry a this-season conviction in matter of striking woollens and other materials of which may be fashioned with special emphasis being placed on the up-to-dateness of the accessories worn with them.

In the matter of details which give "class" to the spring tailored suit we would especially call attention to the blouse worn with the good-looking tailor posed in the foreground of the picture. It is one of the very much talked-of Irish crochet blouses which may be worked either of mercerized cotton thread or of thin woolen yarn. Women who crochet are making their own, although, if one prefers to buy, the shops are displaying very attractive types. These crocheted or mercerized cotton thread beautifully. The new fashion advocates pastel pinks and blues for these in Irish lace or crocheted stitch or in simple square mesh, and it adds greatly to their appeal from a practical standpoint that they are color-perfect when it comes to laundering. The suit itself is of royal blue wool crepe finished with self-colored buttons. The fetching little street hat is also blue trimmed with a chon of milliner's velvet, which is tres chic seeing that many of the smartest chapeaux this season are straw with either a velvet bow or a velvet somewhere in their make-up. Again, in the tweed suit, attention to the right we see the vogue emphasized, and in a very smart way in that the loose-woven and woolen material which fashioning networks black with a brown, adding a scarf of powder blue leather belt completing the ensemble. The hat is a black mouseline with velvet twist and bow on the right eye—thus again is the importance of velvet on spring stressed.

SANDALS FOR ALL OCCASIONS, STYLE

Sandals for all occasions is the decree of shoe designers who have looked over the summer trends. And the more original the material out of which the sandal is made the better. Sports sandals are shown in pastels, suva, linen, shantung and basket weaves, combined with a touch of leather. The linen and shantung are the only fabrics used alone. Buck, calfskin kid are the predominating leathers.

But bright colors combined with white will be in good taste this season—red, green, blue and the pastel shades may be used for striping, piping and heels of the new spectator-sports shoes.

Epaulettes New Effect in Silhouette Gowns

The slim, soldierly silhouette is certainly the darling of the French dressmakers this season. Epaulettes in some form or another and trim, strict lines convey the wooden soldier effect. These are sometimes designed simply on top of the shoulder seam to tip the point, but more frequently lap over into short tabs. Reminiscent of Elizabethan shoulders in one instance, the motif changes to a twisted roll of the material.

A tiny jacket closing sharply at the waist resembles a corset, the brief jacket worn by the French peasant woman. It comes in velveteen and is worn over a fine wool frock. Short cap sleeves over long ones give width at the shoulders.

Brief Fashion Hints for Spring Wear

Tiny black veils flare out from smart turbans. The wearing of the green is on the increase for evening wear. Bloused elbow sleeves are the newest thing for evening wraps. Irish crochet pullovers of either wool or linen thread are worn with suits. A French dressmaker is showing red grosgrain ribbon as a smart trimming on black dresses. Jacket dresses are not new but are the "big news" this spring. In material, cotton has been favored from humble rank to high favor. Redfern of Paris is sponsoring arate fur scarfs of beaver and lamb to wear with collared blouses. Silk scarfs color the scene on one side and give you a charmingly introduce variety and sparkle to your costume.

"SICK HEADACHE?"

It is not necessary to give-in to headaches. It is just a bit old-fashioned! The modern woman who feels a headache coming on at any time, takes some tablets of Bayer Aspirin and heads it off.

Keep Bayer Aspirin handy, and keep your engagements. Headaches, systemic pains, come at inconvenient times. So do colds. You can end them before they're fairly started if you'll only remember this handy, harmless form of relief. Carry it in your purse and insure your comfort while shopping; your evening's pleasure at the theatre. Those little nagging aches that bring a case of "nerves" by day are ended in a jiffy. Pains that once kept people home are forgotten half an hour after taking Bayer Aspirin! You'll find these tablets always help. If you get real aspirin, you'll get relief. In every package of Bayer tablets are proven directions which cover headaches, colds, sore throat, toothache, neuritis, sciatica, rheumatism, etc.

The tablets stamped Bayer will fail you, and can't harm you. They don't depress the heart. They don't upset the stomach. So take them whenever you need them, and you'll find enough to end the pain.

Young BODIES DEMAND it!

Young bodies of all growing children require certain essential vitamins. Important among these are Vitamins A and D, both of which are found abundantly in Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil. "A" helps youngsters—and their parents, as well—resist common colds-in-the-head. "D" aids children's growth and in the development of bones and teeth. In this emulsified form, cod liver oil is easy and pleasant for young and old to take. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J. Sales Representative, Harold F. Ritchie & Co., Inc., New York.

Scene of the Kidnapping of the Lindbergh Baby

Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., 20 months old, was stolen from the new home of his parents at Hopewell, N. J. A rough ladder was placed at the window of the baby's sleeping room, marked "A" in the picture, and the infant taken from his crib. The ladder was later found at "B" while footprints were discovered at the point "C."

BRIGHTENING SKIES

A hundred and fifty million hoarded dollars have already been put back into banks, bonds and other places where they are useful. Col. Frank Knox's committee on hoarding reports. The procession of falling banks has about come to an end. Railroads and other large industries have saved themselves from receiverships by loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Business credit is already easier because of the Glass-Steagall bill amending the Federal Reserve Act. Thousands of factories which have been shut down are starting up. Thousands more have gone back to almost full-time production. There is still an enormous unsatisfied demand for every kind of manufactured commodity, wise men tell us. As fast as money and credit begin to circulate freely again people will be able to buy. We are not all going to get rich in a hurry, but the pessimism of a few months ago has given place to optimism almost everywhere, and we believe it is safe to say that the economic skies are getting brighter.

COUNTY GETS GASOLINE TAX

A check of $96,000 was received by County Treasurer Paul Justman Tuesday, being part of the highway funds that were expended for concrete highways in Washington county. $100,000 worth of highway bonds are due on April 1st, leaving the county to raise only $4,000.00 to meet this obligation. The $96,000 comes from the gasoline tax collected during the past year. There still remains $750,000.00 in highway bonds to be paid during the next six years. $150,000 in each 1933, 1936 and 1938, and $100,000 each in 1934, 1935 and 1937.

The blister rust found on white pine is one of a group of microscopic plants known as rusts which live on other plants. This disease cannot spread from pine to pine. It first lives on the pine, then spreads to currant or rose-holly leaves, where it passes part of its life, and from there returns to the pine, forming cankers on the branches and trunks. On currant bushes the disease causes the underside of the leaves to appear as if spotted with iron rust.

MURDERED MAN LEAVES $15,500

Gregor M. Neis, late of Fond du Lac, who, it is thought, was killed by liquor gangsters near Fond du Lac a month ago, left an estate of $15,500.00 according to a petition filed in probate court at Fond du Lac last Tuesday, by his sister, Bertha Neis. Authorities who believe he was suspected of being a tip-off man for the federal prohibition department, have failed to obtain any clues to connect with the murder, and the case has practically been dropped.

MEETING OF TOWN BOARD OF AUDIT

Notice is hereby given that the Town Board of Audit, for the Town of Kewaskum, Washington county, Wis., will meet at the regular meeting place on the 29th day of March, 1932, A. D., from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., for the purpose of auditing all claims and camasses against said town and to make the final settlement with the town treasurer.

Dated the 16th day of March, 1932. Adolph J. Habeck, Town Clerk

Beef and hog liver are much richer in iron, the blood-building mineral, than in calves liver. The strong flavor of these cheaper cuts can be overcome by covering them for five minutes with boiling water to which a little vinegar has been added, it has been found in the home economics laboratories at the University of Wisconsin.

WISCONSIN FARMERS WILL SEED MORE CLOVER

Wisconsin farmers will probably purchase more than average amounts of red and alsike clover seed this year and about normal quantities of alfalfa, timothy, and sweet clover seed, estimates the Crop Reporting Service of the Wisconsin and United States Departments of Agriculture. Reports from a large number of the state's seed dealers indicate that the demand for red and alsike clover seed is expected to be ten per cent larger than last spring, while the demand for timothy, sweet clover, and alfalfa seed will be about the same as a year ago.

Farmers will need to seed larger acreages to hay crops this spring than usual in order to build up the hay acreage of the state. Last year only 3,180,000 acres of land were used for tame hay production. This was the smallest hay acreage since 1922, while the hay crop was the smallest in thirteen years. A large proportion of last year's new seedings did not withstand the summer's drought, and new acreages must be seeded to compensate for this loss.

Production of Wisconsin grown seeds was below normal last year. Only about 99,600 bushels of clover seed were harvested as compared with 123,900 bushels in 1930. Last year's timothy seed production placed at 66,500 bushels was slightly below the 68,400 bushel crop of 1930. Wisconsin's production of sweet clover and alfalfa seed was also reduced. While Wisconsin dealers expect an increase in the demand for seeds this spring, seed tradesmen the nation over are not so optimistic, looking forward to a 15 per cent smaller demand for these commodities than a year ago. Lack of farm purchasing power and adequate supplies of locally grown seeds will reduce purchases in many sections.

Seed prices have been declining after a slight advance last fall and have gone down to pre-war levels. The Wisconsin farm price of clover seed averaged $7.70 per bushel on February 15 as compared to $7.90 in mid-January, the lowest prices for these months since 1915. Timothy seed prices averaged $1.60 per bushel on February 15, while the price the month before was $1.70. Wholesale prices at Chicago have shown a similar trend. Red clover seed which on January 2 was quoted at $17 per hundred pounds had declined to $16.50 by February 27. Alsike seed declined from $15.60 to $15 during the interval. Alfalfa seed dropped from $17.40 near the first of January to $16.10 per hundred the last of February, while timothy declined from $4.70 to $4.25.

KETTNER

WHEN you see that signature on a cartoon in these columns look carefully at the cartoon. It will have been drawn by M. G. Kettner, one of the leading cartoonists of America. We are proud of the fact that he is numbered among the contributors to our columns, and know that his work appeals to all of our readers. In a kindly way he pictures our kind of "folk" and his cartoons are never of the offensive type. Call them to the attention of your friends.

Up-to-the-Minute and Practical

Every woman wishes to be as well-dressed as possible without spending too much time or money on her clothes. That is why so many women in this community turn first to the page in this newspaper which contains the illustrated fashion articles by Miss Cherie Nicholas. For Miss Nicholas is an authority on fashions—not the freak models and the extreme styles, but the fashions in dress which the modern woman demands, those which are up-to-the-minute and at the same time economical and practical. Be sure to look for these articles in each issue of this newspaper and then tell your women friends about them. They will be glad to know how they, too, can wear clothes which carry the message of the well-dressed woman.

APPOINTS RELIEF COMMITTEE

County Chairman N. W. Rosenbmer in compliance with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act, has appointed the following to act on a committee for Washington county, namely: Elmo Rosenheimer, cashier of the Bank of Jackson, and chairman of the agricultural committee of Washington county bankers; Mike Powell, chairman of the town of Erin; and Guido Schroeder, chairman of the town of West Bend, both members of the agricultural committee of the Washington county Board of Supervisors. This committee will pass on all applications of farmers who find themselves short of cash or credit with which to finance their 1932 crops. The loans will be made on an acreage basis and not more than $400.00 may be borrowed by any one farmer. This money must be used for the purchase of seed and the cultivation and harvesting of crops, and loans are to be secured by liens upon growing crops. Application blanks can be secured from the county agent.

STATE TO FURNISH MONEY

Instead of bonding the city of Plymouth to raise sufficient money to build a new high school, the commissioners of public lands have granted the request of the city of Plymouth for a loan of $160,000.00 for the purpose of erecting the new building. The money will be available immediately and will be paid back in equal yearly payments of $8,000.00 each plus four per cent interest, and the loan will be repaid at the end of twenty years.
