

News Review of Current Events the World Over

General Johnson Resigns and Richberg Rules the NRA—Textile Industry Board Named—The America's Cup Is Successfully Defended.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

© by Western Newspaper Union.

Donald Richberg

GEN. HUGH S. JOHNSON steps out of the picture and the NRA is turned over to Donald R. Richberg and other "left wing" members of the New Deal management.

The judicial branch of the NRA was still under consideration. Mr. Roosevelt indicated that its duties might be assigned to a special department of the Department of Justice.

The recommendations of the new policy making board are subject to the will of the President, but under the terms of the executive order these recommendations must be submitted to the President by the director.

The board was further empowered to "promulgate administrative policies, to appoint, to employ, discharge, fix the compensation, define the duties, and direct the conduct of the personnel necessary for its administration, and to exercise all those powers heretofore conferred by executive orders upon the administrator for industrial recovery."

RESIGNATION of General Johnson, as accepted by the President, is not effective until October 15. Until then he will be busy compiling his final report and also, it is said, writing the story of his life.

This is not the time or place to estimate General Johnson's achievements as administrator of the NRA which was largely his own creation. He certainly worked hard and accomplished much, whether for good or evil.

ORGANIZED business and the President are not at all satisfied with each other. Business leaders are nervous, and Mr. Roosevelt feels that they are not doing what they should to aid recovery.

It was revealed in Washington that the President also received not long ago a set of resolutions adopted at a secret meeting of 120 leading industrialists and financiers.

Still another hard rap at the New Deal came in the form of a statement by the federal advisory council, composed of leading bankers.

THE federal advisory council is a statutory body created by the federal reserve act to advise the federal reserve board concerning technical banking matters and general business conditions.

SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR ICKES, as head of the federal public works administration, announced an ambitious family housing project for Chicago which, at a cost of $12,500,000, will abolish a "slum area" of 37 city blocks on the southwest side and replace demolished buildings with small apartment houses for 3,000 families.

Mr. Ickes said if the property owners are reasonable in their demands the project will go through speedily. The area to be rehabilitated is inhabited now almost entirely by persons of Italian descent and, far from being a typical "slum," contains numerous neat, well-kept homes and several large apartment houses.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S request that the great textile strike be called off and that the workers be taken back without discrimination, was received and approved after the report of the special mediation board headed by Gov. John G. Winant of New Hampshire brought to an end the bitter struggle that had cost 14 lives and millions of dollars.

The next step was the appointment by the President of a board to adjust disputes between the workers and the employers in the industry.

The executive order stipulated that the board is "authorized and directed" to investigate wages, hours and other conditions in the industry to determine whether code provisions are being violated.

The national labor relations board is made the court of appeal from any decision of the textile board. The board's findings are not subject to review by the executive branch of the government.

To start with, the board had the job of investigating numerous charges that some mill owners were discriminating against strikers.

Meanwhile the leaders of the United Textile Workers went ahead with their plans to unionize the entire industry.

MISS GRACE ABBOTT, for years one of the government's most faithful and useful servants, has resigned her position as director of the children's bureau, to the grief of her associates in Washington and the regret of every one who knows about her fine work there.

AMERICA'S Cup remains in the United States and T. O. M. Sopwith, latest British challenger, goes home defeated and disgruntled.

BECAUSE of bad treatment of Jews by the German Nazis there was loud objection to American participation in the 1936 Olympic Games in Berlin.

WHEN President Roosevelt's plan for a $75,000,000 "tree belt" from Canada to Texas, previously discussed in this column, was submitted to Controller General McCarl, that gentleman turned it down as an improper use of funds from the $225,000,000 emergency drought appropriation.

WHEN President Roosevelt's plan for a $75,000,000 "tree belt" from Canada to Texas, previously discussed in this column, was submitted to Controller General McCarl, that gentleman turned it down as an improper use of funds from the $225,000,000 emergency drought appropriation.

DESPITE powerful federal influence, the Colorado river authority bill, under which the government was to undertake a great power and irrigation project in the lower part of the Colorado river valley in Texas, died in the Texas legislature.

QUEEN MARY OF ENGLAND, accompanied by King George and the prince of Wales, went to Clydebank, Scotland, and there launched the largest steamship in the world, the 73,000-ton Cunard-White Star liner that was started four years ago.

EIGHT per cent boost in wages amounting to more than $10,000,000 a year, has been granted their employees by the four big packing concerns of Chicago, Swift, Armour, Wilson and Cudahy, and their example is followed by packing companies in other cities.

The wage increases were granted as a result of negotiations between the companies and their plant labor conference boards. Whether the increases were the full demands of the workers or were compromises was not stated.

MILWAUKEE—The county civil service commission discharged Gust Lierck, 45, a guard at the House of Correction. Lierck was accused of taking the wife of a prisoner on a tour of inspection of the institution while he was off duty.

MADISON—A conservation warden's power to arrest without a warrant is limited to persons detected in actual violations and in all other cases a warrant must be obtained first, according to an attorney general's opinion to the conservation department.

TWO RIVERS—Acting on a petition with 531 signatures, asking abolition of the present city manager form of government and return to the mayor-alderman form, the city council voted to put the matter before the people in a special referendum election on Nov. 6.

BELOIT—Beaver Dam was selected for the 1935 fellowship conference for the Milwaukee diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church at the tenth annual conference here.

GREEN BAY—John R. McQuillan, state manager of the Home Owners' Loan corporation, told 250 delegates to the annual convention of the Wisconsin Building & Loan league that the state corporation had paid out to Wisconsin mortgage holders about $61,700,000 in bonds and $300,000 in cash up to Sept. 19, 1934, a period of slightly more than a year.

MADISON—Lieut. Harold G. Kotvis, 25, Hillsboro, and his secretly wedded wife, formerly Adele Celeste Burton, 24, Fond du Lac, are dead after a double shooting in the University of Wisconsin student district.

MADISON—Beaver Dam was chosen for the 1937 convention and all officers of the Catholic Knights of Wisconsin were re-elected at the twenty-second triennial meeting of the order.

MILWAUKEE—Wage increases totaling about $225,000 a year have been granted to 2,200 Milwaukee packing plant employees in a nation-wide decision to raise packing house wages approximately 8 per cent, effective Oct. 1.

SHEBOYGAN—The Kohler Workers' association—a so-called company union—in a special election supervised by the national labor relations board won over Federal Labor Union No. 18,545, affiliate of the American Federation of Labor.

WATERLOO—The local fire department, already thinking about the attractions for the Fourth of July celebrations in 1935, has had representatives during the last few weeks watching attractions in other communities.

ASHLAND—A referendum scheduled for Nov. 6 on the purchase of the Ashland water plant was postponed until next spring by the city council.

BLACK RIVER FALLS—Injuries received in an automobile accident resulted in the death of Fred Horswell, 33, former sheriff of Jackson county, in a hospital here.

RACINE—Only $100,000 of a $375,000 F. W. A. allocation approved by the federal government for addition of four filter units, a service building and main extensions required by the water department will be accepted if the city council grants the water commission permission to take it.

COLUMBUS—Study the stars to keep busy and healthy advises Julius Hendrickson, Columbus tailor, who has been going on long walks in the early morning hours for 31 years to study the stars.

Wisconsin News Briefly Told

MADISON—Single persons working on federal emergency relief projects were exempted from garnishee actions in an executive order signed by Gov. Schmiedeman.

JEFFERSON—Aleck Hauser, 65, widely known tavern keeper of this city, died after an illness of several months. He had been in the same business 43 years, 37 of them being at the same location on Main street here.

MILWAUKEE—Charged with driving while intoxicated, Rev. E. Gerald Williams, former rector of fashionable St. Mark's Episcopal church, paid a $100 fine through his attorney when his case was called in District court here.

SUPERIOR—Albert W. "Pat" Reilly pleaded guilty in federal court here to two indictments charging him with harboring John Dillinger and was sentenced by Judge Patrick Stone to serve 14 months in the El Reno, Okla., penitentiary.

MADISON—Cases of infantile paralysis in Wisconsin during August, although greater than during that month in 1932 and 1933, are scattered and show no indication of the epidemic conditions present during 1931, the state board of health announced.

WABENO—Glen H. Braun, Wabeno, was lodged in the county jail at Cranston after he knifed his wife here following a quarrel. The woman is in a critical condition with a knife wound in her left arm and at the base of the left rib. She is expected to recover.

APPLETON—John Hollenbach, grocer, was fined $4 and costs by Judge T. H. Ryan in the municipal court here when he pleaded guilty to selling milk at less than the retail price set up for Appleton under order of the state department of agriculture and markets.

MADISON—An appeal from an order of the state public service commission, requiring the village of Eagle River, Vilas county, to restore funds which the commission found were illegally diverted from the village water utility, was filed in Dane county circuit court. The order involves $8,639.

JUNEAU—An attempt to steal several cattle and horses from the William Kaul farm, south of here, was frustrated when a farm boy, Harvey Westenberg, notified Mr. Kaul after he drove by the farm and noticed two men on the premises. When Mr. Kaul went to investigate two men jumped into a car and sped away.

MADISON—Pat O'Dea, himself one of the greatest traditions of the University of Wisconsin, is expected to return for homecoming, Nov. 17. O'Dea, who for years has sought refuge in the name of Charles Mitchell at Westwood, Calif., to escape the fame of a football hero and attend to business, has accepted an invitation to return here on that date.

MADISON—During August the state public service commission reduced utility rates $109,197 to benefit 29,215 customers and cut down by 45 the cases pending before it, the commission announced. Of the reductions, $74,783 benefited 11,528 electric customers, $13,784 affected 9,212 telephone customers, $10,890 added 8,021 gas users, and $700 helped 454 water consumers.

MILWAUKEE—Motion for a new trial in the $50,000 case of the Philip A. Koehring estate against the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, brought by attorneys for the plaintiff with the discovery of new evidence, was dismissed by Circuit Judge Otto H. Brodenbach. The judge ruled that evidence submitted in an earlier trial upon which a jury based a verdict of suicide, was conclusive.

MADISON—A campaign to stimulate $1,000,000 worth of home remodeling and renovating was started by Madison business men, with the national housing act as the instrument for prodding home owners into action. A committee of local real estate men, bank representatives and building trades men will drive to encourage the use of the housing act. An F. E. R. A. grant will be sought for financing the campaign.

WATERLOO—The local fire department, already thinking about the attractions for the Fourth of July celebrations in 1935, has had representatives during the last few weeks watching attractions in other communities. Recently a committee visited the Beaver Dam fair and a short time ago saw the attractions at the homecoming celebration at Mt. Moreh. A group also visited the Jefferson county fair. In 1935 the fire department hopes to give another outstanding celebration.

MONROE—Green county cheesemakers are considering plans to foster increased cheese consumption as outlined here by H. P. Mulloy of New Holstein. Mulloy said that if the consumption could be increased by one pound per capita the national surplus would be eliminated and a shortage created.

MILWAUKEE—Officials of Marquette university reported that registration of freshmen was the largest in several years. With the usual number of late entries, the class probably will exceed 1,000. Last year's class numbered 702.

WISCONSIN RAPIDS—John Mann, 52, an Indian cranberry picker, drowned when the car in which he was riding with three other Indians tipped over into a water filled cranberry ditch near Rezin's marsh, 15 miles southwest of here. The other occupants of the car escaped.

JUNEAU—A slight increase in the enrollment of the local high school over last year has been reported. Approximately 140 students are enrolled in the high school, the largest number in the history of the school.

MILWAUKEE—The question of consolidation of city and county offices will be submitted to Milwaukee county voters at the general election Nov. 6, the county board voted. The referendum will be merely advisory.

RHINECLANDER—The WERA meat packing plant being conditioned here at a cost of $90,000, is expected to be operating by Oct. 15, converting about 200 head of cattle each day into fresh or canned meat for relief distribution.

MADISON—Savings totaling nearly $40,000 for 63 Wisconsin municipally-owned utilities will result from the U. S. internal revenue bureau's recent ruling exempting them from the federal three per cent tax on electricity.

MILWAUKEE—Charged with driving while intoxicated, Rev. E. Gerald Williams, former rector of fashionable St. Mark's Episcopal church, paid a $100 fine through his attorney when his case was called in District court here.

SUPERIOR—Albert W. "Pat" Reilly pleaded guilty in federal court here to two indictments charging him with harboring John Dillinger and was sentenced by Judge Patrick Stone to serve 14 months in the El Reno, Okla., penitentiary.

MADISON—Cases of infantile paralysis in Wisconsin during August, although greater than during that month in 1932 and 1933, are scattered and show no indication of the epidemic conditions present during 1931, the state board of health announced.

WABENO—Glen H. Braun, Wabeno, was lodged in the county jail at Cranston after he knifed his wife here following a quarrel. The woman is in a critical condition with a knife wound in her left arm and at the base of the left rib. She is expected to recover.

APPLETON—John Hollenbach, grocer, was fined $4 and costs by Judge T. H. Ryan in the municipal court here when he pleaded guilty to selling milk at less than the retail price set up for Appleton under order of the state department of agriculture and markets.

MADISON—An appeal from an order of the state public service commission, requiring the village of Eagle River, Vilas county, to restore funds which the commission found were illegally diverted from the village water utility, was filed in Dane county circuit court. The order involves $8,639.

JUNEAU—An attempt to steal several cattle and horses from the William Kaul farm, south of here, was frustrated when a farm boy, Harvey Westenberg, notified Mr. Kaul after he drove by the farm and noticed two men on the premises. When Mr. Kaul went to investigate two men jumped into a car and sped away.

MADISON—Pat O'Dea, himself one of the greatest traditions of the University of Wisconsin, is expected to return for homecoming, Nov. 17. O'Dea, who for years has sought refuge in the name of Charles Mitchell at Westwood, Calif., to escape the fame of a football hero and attend to business, has accepted an invitation to return here on that date.

MADISON—During August the state public service commission reduced utility rates $109,197 to benefit 29,215 customers and cut down by 45 the cases pending before it, the commission announced. Of the reductions, $74,783 benefited 11,528 electric customers, $13,784 affected 9,212 telephone customers, $10,890 added 8,021 gas users, and $700 helped 454 water consumers.

MILWAUKEE—Motion for a new trial in the $50,000 case of the Philip A. Koehring estate against the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, brought by attorneys for the plaintiff with the discovery of new evidence, was dismissed by Circuit Judge Otto H. Brodenbach. The judge ruled that evidence submitted in an earlier trial upon which a jury based a verdict of suicide, was conclusive.

MADISON—A campaign to stimulate $1,000,000 worth of home remodeling and renovating was started by Madison business men, with the national housing act as the instrument for prodding home owners into action. A committee of local real estate men, bank representatives and building trades men will drive to encourage the use of the housing act. An F. E. R. A. grant will be sought for financing the campaign.

WATERLOO—The local fire department, already thinking about the attractions for the Fourth of July celebrations in 1935, has had representatives during the last few weeks watching attractions in other communities. Recently a committee visited the Beaver Dam fair and a short time ago saw the attractions at the homecoming celebration at Mt. Moreh. A group also visited the Jefferson county fair. In 1935 the fire department hopes to give another outstanding celebration.

MONROE—Green county cheesemakers are considering plans to foster increased cheese consumption as outlined here by H. P. Mulloy of New Holstein. Mulloy said that if the consumption could be increased by one pound per capita the national surplus would be eliminated and a shortage created.

MILWAUKEE—Officials of Marquette university reported that registration of freshmen was the largest in several years. With the usual number of late entries, the class probably will exceed 1,000. Last year's class numbered 702.

WISCONSIN RAPIDS—John Mann, 52, an Indian cranberry picker, drowned when the car in which he was riding with three other Indians tipped over into a water filled cranberry ditch near Rezin's marsh, 15 miles southwest of here. The other occupants of the car escaped.

JUNEAU—A slight increase in the enrollment of the local high school over last year has been reported. Approximately 140 students are enrolled in the high school, the largest number in the history of the school.

Washington Digest National Topics Interpreted by William Bruckart

Washington.—Major party strategy in the present congressional-senatorial campaign resolves G. O. P. Has itself effort by the Democrats to hold the two-thirds majority they have in the house of representatives and an equally determined drive by the Republicans to break the "strangle hold" there of the New Deal party.

The holding of this majority is of vital importance to the Democrats because, with a two-thirds vote they will be able in the next congress to continue "tag" rule which was invoked in the last congress and under which it was possible to pass administration measures with a minimum of debate and effort.

In the light of the outcome in the Maine elections and in the face of the size of Democratic votes in the primaries in a number of states regarded as rather safe Republican before 1932, the G. O. P. leadership apparently has a hard task ahead. In the last congress the Democrats had 312 members, or 22 more than a two-thirds majority and generally were able to command most of the five votes of the farmer-labor membership as well as the votes of several Republicans from Wisconsin and from one or two other of the northwestern states.

The Democrats are certain to make substantial gains in the senate, and they are by no means overlooking a single senatorial contest. Democratic leaders in headquarters here have been mentally kicking themselves ever since the Maine election that they did not put on a vigorous drive against Senator Frederick Hale in that state.

Juneau—An attempt to steal several cattle and horses from the William Kaul farm, south of here, was frustrated when a farm boy, Harvey Westenberg, notified Mr. Kaul after he drove by the farm and noticed two men on the premises. When Mr. Kaul went to investigate two men jumped into a car and sped away.

MADISON—Pat O'Dea, himself one of the greatest traditions of the University of Wisconsin, is expected to return for homecoming, Nov. 17. O'Dea, who for years has sought refuge in the name of Charles Mitchell at Westwood, Calif., to escape the fame of a football hero and attend to business, has accepted an invitation to return here on that date.

MADISON—During August the state public service commission reduced utility rates $109,197 to benefit 29,215 customers and cut down by 45 the cases pending before it, the commission announced. Of the reductions, $74,783 benefited 11,528 electric customers, $13,784 affected 9,212 telephone customers, $10,890 added 8,021 gas users, and $700 helped 454 water consumers.

MILWAUKEE—Motion for a new trial in the $50,000 case of the Philip A. Koehring estate against the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, brought by attorneys for the plaintiff with the discovery of new evidence, was dismissed by Circuit Judge Otto H. Brodenbach. The judge ruled that evidence submitted in an earlier trial upon which a jury based a verdict of suicide, was conclusive.

MADISON—A campaign to stimulate $1,000,000 worth of home remodeling and renovating was started by Madison business men, with the national housing act as the instrument for prodding home owners into action. A committee of local real estate men, bank representatives and building trades men will drive to encourage the use of the housing act. An F. E. R. A. grant will be sought for financing the campaign.

WATERLOO—The local fire department, already thinking about the attractions for the Fourth of July celebrations in 1935, has had representatives during the last few weeks watching attractions in other communities. Recently a committee visited the Beaver Dam fair and a short time ago saw the attractions at the homecoming celebration at Mt. Moreh. A group also visited the Jefferson county fair. In 1935 the fire department hopes to give another outstanding celebration.

MONROE—Green county cheesemakers are considering plans to foster increased cheese consumption as outlined here by H. P. Mulloy of New Holstein. Mulloy said that if the consumption could be increased by one pound per capita the national surplus would be eliminated and a shortage created.

MILWAUKEE—Officials of Marquette university reported that registration of freshmen was the largest in several years. With the usual number of late entries, the class probably will exceed 1,000. Last year's class numbered 702.

WISCONSIN RAPIDS—John Mann, 52, an Indian cranberry picker, drowned when the car in which he was riding with three other Indians tipped over into a water filled cranberry ditch near Rezin's marsh, 15 miles southwest of here. The other occupants of the car escaped.

JUNEAU—A slight increase in the enrollment of the local high school over last year has been reported. Approximately 140 students are enrolled in the high school, the largest number in the history of the school.

Follette made a major political error when he came out openly for President Roosevelt in 1932. This made certain that the Democrats would carry the birthplace of the Republican party, and it was equally certain that the late James A. Farley, as chairman of the Democratic national committee, would lose no time in building up a formidable Democratic organization through the power of patronage at his disposal as postmaster general. The vote in the recent Democratic primary indicated that he had done a rather thorough job, but whether the La Follette hold on the Wisconsin electorate can be broken remains to be seen.

With some four or five tickets in the field, including the Democratic, Republican, Progressive and Socialist, the outcome is bound to be doubtful. There were some rumors of a "deal" in Wisconsin, whereby the Democrats would support Senator La Follette if he in turn would throw his support to the Democratic candidate for governor. Such a "deal" would, of course, mean the ditching of his brother-in-law a gubernatorial candidate and naturally young Bob declined to become a party to any such arrangement. One of Al Smith's most ardent followers was nominated as the Democratic senatorial candidate, it perhaps is surprising that rumors are going around in Washington that the administration may quietly throw its support to La Follette who has gone along with the New Deal with the single criticism that its relief and recovery plans do not go far enough.

Whatever the Democratic majority may be in the next senate, the "Would Outdo" Dealers are certain to have two dice in "Kingfish" heretofore they had only one. Mississippi is sending to the senate its former governor, Theodore G. Bilbo, to join Louisiana's irrepressible Huey P. (Kingfish) Long. Mr. Bilbo, who became a newspaper clipper in Washington under the New Deal, has promised his constituents that if they would send him to Washington he would "raise more money than Huey Long." He has set for himself a very sizeable job because, according to Mr. Long has raised more money than he has been in the senate than any other senator in the history of the United States. He has raised $1 million in Alabama, and Tom Heflin of Alabama. They constituted a real team from the South during their stay in the "world's greatest deliberative body," but unquestionably Long of Bilbo will put their record to shame if they team up together. Senator Long has demonstrated his brief stay in the senate that he is to hold the center of the stage. He will take kindly to another "raiser" within his own party and remains to be seen.

Democratic leaders do not overlook the possibility that if these two teams together they might create a schism within the party ranks. Senator Long has far outstripped any of the other Dealers in some of the proposals which he has made, and Mr. Bilbo apparently is determined to keep pace with him if not surpass him. There are several Democratic senators who might conceivably go along with them, as they are not wholly satisfied with what they regard as the "conservative radicalism" of the administration.

Two pieces of legislation enacted by the last congress with a view to aiding the farmer were: the farmer seed act and the crop insurance act. The farmer seed act was intended for the crop insurance act. The crop insurance act was intended for the farmer seed act. The farmer seed act was intended for the crop insurance act. The crop insurance act was intended for the farmer seed act.

Due for Scrap Heap The Frazier cotton control law and the Frazier-Frazier farm mortgage law. The Frazier cotton control law was intended for the Frazier-Frazier farm mortgage law. The Frazier-Frazier farm mortgage law was intended for the Frazier cotton control law.

It is no secret in political circles here in Washington that the campaign strategy of those at present in command of the G. O. P. does not meet with the full approval of some Republicans who are offering for re-election. I have had several of them tell me that their prospects for victory would be materially enhanced if the Republican high command stayed out of their states or districts. These are men who heretofore have been regarded as of the "regular" wing of the party but who have the feeling which apparently is becoming more and more widespread among the younger leaders that there must be a reorganization of the party.

Meantime reports trickle into Washington about a movement having its inception on the western prairies for the formation of a third party. Several conferences of progressive leaders already have been held and some of those who have participated tell me that the movement is gaining steadily, although it has had no publicity as yet. Those participating desire no fanfare, as they do not believe the time is ripe for any announcement, and that certainly the movement should not be brought into the open until after the November elections.

The fate of the progressive party in Wisconsin as organized by Robert M. La Follette, Jr., and his brother Phil, can be expected to have a considerable bearing on the plans of those who are viewing the field to determine whether a sizeable public sentiment can be marshaled behind the third party movement. Many political strategists both in the National Capital and elsewhere believed, and gave expression to their views at the time, that Senator La

It will be recalled that this was one of the measures which was passed by the senate in the hectic closing hours of the last session, and it is no secret that many Democrats voted for it. It is the belief that Mr. Roosevelt would veto it and that when he did so it would be invalid. This was merely one of the "buck" which are to be found in the annals of the congress. Mr. Roosevelt declined to take the "buck" in the hands of the congress. He left only recourse to the courts. He undoubtedly the present case or some of the others now pending in other district courts will be appealed to the federal circuit courts and the whole question eventually will find its way to the United States Supreme court, the decision of which, of course, will be final.

It will be recalled that this was one of the measures which was passed by the senate in the hectic closing hours of the last session, and it is no secret that many Democrats voted for it. It is the belief that Mr. Roosevelt would veto it and that when he did so it would be invalid. This was merely one of the "buck" which are to be found in the annals of the congress. Mr. Roosevelt declined to take the "buck" in the hands of the congress. He left only recourse to the courts. He undoubtedly the present case or some of the others now pending in other district courts will be appealed to the federal circuit courts and the whole question eventually will find its way to the United States Supreme court, the decision of which, of course, will be final.

It will be recalled that this was one of the measures which was passed by the senate in the hectic closing hours of the last session, and it is no secret that many Democrats voted for it. It is the belief that Mr. Roosevelt would veto it and that when he did so it would be invalid. This was merely one of the "buck" which are to be found in the annals of the congress. Mr. Roosevelt declined to take the "buck" in the hands of the congress. He left only recourse to the courts. He undoubtedly the present case or some of the others now pending in other district courts will be appealed to the federal circuit courts and the whole question eventually will find its way to the United States Supreme court, the decision of which, of course, will be final.

It will be recalled that this was one of the measures which was passed by the senate in the hectic closing hours of the last session, and it is no secret that many Democrats voted for it. It is the belief that Mr. Roosevelt would veto it and that when he did so it would be invalid. This was merely one of the "buck" which are to be found in the annals of the congress. Mr. Roosevelt declined to take the "buck" in the hands of the congress. He left only recourse to the courts. He undoubtedly the present case or some of the others now pending in other district courts will be appealed to the federal circuit courts and the whole question eventually will find its way to the United States Supreme court, the decision of which, of course, will be final.

It will be recalled that this was one of the measures which was passed by the senate in the hectic closing hours of the last session, and it is no secret that many Democrats voted for it. It is the belief that Mr. Roosevelt would veto it and that when he did so it would be invalid. This was merely one of the "buck" which are to be found in the annals of the congress. Mr. Roosevelt declined to take the "buck" in the hands of the congress. He left only recourse to the courts. He undoubtedly the present case or some of the others now pending in other district courts will be appealed to the federal circuit courts and the whole question eventually will find its way to the United States Supreme court, the decision of which, of course, will be final.

MISS ALADDIN

By Christine Whiting Parmenter

Copyright by Christine Whiting Parmenter WNU Service.

SYNOPSIS

Broken financially, James Nelson, business merchant, breaks the news to his daughter, Miss Aladdin, that she is to be married to a young man of the name of Nelson, who is on the verge of her inheritance. She is shocked and indignant, and she suggests that her father should sell the business and offer to go to the States with her. Her father, however, is not so easily won over, and she is left to her own devices. She goes to the States and finds a young man, Mark Adams, who is a cousin of her father's. She falls in love with him, and they are married. Her father, however, is not so easily won over, and she is left to her own devices. She goes to the States and finds a young man, Mark Adams, who is a cousin of her father's. She falls in love with him, and they are married. Her father, however, is not so easily won over, and she is left to her own devices.

CHAPTER IV—Continued

The old lady hesitated, and then said: "Here's my second confession: When I sent that telegram I had a job for you on the McKenzie ranch over in Idaho; but the next day Mrs. McKeen telephoned that her nephew wanted the place after her father's death. I don't know how long it will take to get the deed, but there are some boys in the family they seldom hire outside help."

Jack was frowning a little. He said: "I must get something as soon as possible, Cousin Columbine. I don't want to sponge on you for board."

"Fiddsticks!" she retorted. "This is the first time I've had company in fifty years. But I've asked Mark Adams to be on the lookout, and he'll find something if anybody can. He's smart as a whip, and a good boy into the bargain. All the Adam boys are good. I've always said that if Eve Adam isn't worth a cook, she's a great success as a mother. Four sons, and every one a credit to the name."

"Eve!" laughed Nancy. "How did she ever dare to marry a man named Adam?"

"Because," replied the old lady with a twinkle, "she'd set her heart on doing just that thing—always said that when she found an Adam she was going to rope him. What she wanted was to find one with Adam for his first name; but when John Adam came along she snubbed him up—at least, that's the way she puts it. Eve was a Denver girl. Her father made considerable of a fortune in gold in 1878, and lost it in many other ways. Just after years of hardships, so much money went to their heads. Eve's father bought stock in fraudulent companies, and when the boom collapsed, he was collapsed with it, you might say."

"Were they left with nothing at all?"

"Practically; but Eve's uncle in the East had money, and gave the girl an education. She was in Boston for three years; and on her way home she met John Adam on the train. He was going to California for his health; but his health wouldn't be much use to him in California, if she was in Colorado. It was just like that—love at first sight. And when she found his name was Adam, that settled it."

"Did he get well?" asked Nancy.

"Very well! As for the boys—you've seen two of 'em. They don't look like anything."

"And there are two more?"

"Cousin Columbine nodded.

"John's eighteen, and John will be—"

"You don't mean," gasped Nancy, "that there's really named like that—Mark Adams, Mark Adams and John?"

Jack looked with mirth, and Cousin Columbine's eyes lighted.

away somewhere. Cousin Columbine says we ought to be seeing some of the points of interest around here. I'm going to climb that hill off to the north. Do you want to come?"

Jack glanced at the wood pile. "Can't just now. You run along alone, Sis. Look here!" (as she started off, "haven't you got anything but those silk stockings?"

"That's exactly what I asked her this morning," Aurora's voice came through the open window. "Like as not that handsome pair of hose will be full of runs when you get back, Nancy Nelson. Why not borrow a pair of Miss Columbine's black cottons?"

Jack was obliged to hide a grin at a vision of his fastidious sister in cotton stockings; and Nancy replied, almost impatiently: "Oh, see here, Aurora, didn't Juanita have on silk stockings at the post office this morning?"

"If she did, I'll paddle that girl when I get home," asserted the good woman. "Juanita Tubbs wearin' silk stockin' in the mornin'! What's the world comin' to?"

"Mercy!" gasped Nancy. "Have I got Juanita into trouble? I hope not. Next time we go down to the Springs, Aurora, I'll buy some woolen sport hose. I thought I packed a pair, but can't find them. Now don't worry any more on that subject. How do I reach the hill—the one with the pine trees on it?"

"Walk straight up the road till you pass my house and see a path leadin' into the woods. It's terrible steep and I ain't attempted it for years, though Tubbs and I got engaged to be married up there under the old pine. You'll find our initials cut in the bark with a heart around 'em. Victor Tubbs is a real good carver. If you run into anybody from the Adam ranch, Nancy, tell 'em we'll want extra milk tomorrow. And would you mind peekin' in my bedroom window and see if Tubbs is sleepin'? He's got a delicate stomach, and his supper didn't set good last night."

Suppressing a smile at this unique request, Nancy promised, and started on her way. The afternoon was all her own, and it was impossible not to feel a thrill at this unbelievable December day. The sun was warm; yet the paper reported a blizzard raging in New England! It seemed incredible; and next week, Nancy mused regretfully, the Country club would be gay with winter sports.

"I wouldn't be there anyway," she consoled herself, as the homesickness she had supposed vanquished, raised its head again. "I'd be at Edgemere wiping dishes for Mother, or mopping up puddles of snow brought in by Phil. Here's the Tubbs abode already. I must see if Victor is asleep."

This brought a smile, and homesickness retired to that place where such things go when we forget ourselves. Aurora's house which set back a space from the road, was a one-story affair covered with tree-bark, and almost hidden in a grove of stunted pines. Nancy went softly up the path and peered in at a window. By pressing her face against the glass she made out an ornate iron bedstead on which the recumbent Tubbs was snoring peacefully; while one of his wife's rich layer cakes and an open jack-knife stood on a nearby chair.

Thinking of Victor's "delicate stomach," the girl chuckled as she turned away. No wonder his suppers failed to digest! Should she tell on him? Nancy decided against this; but vowed that Cousin Columbine should hear the story. It was too good to keep.

She still smiled as she resumed her walk; but that path into the woods seemed to elude her. Concluding that she had missed it, Nancy stepped aside to escape the dust from an approaching truck, and recognizing the hatless figure of Matthew Adam, halted him as he was about to pass.

Although on one pretext or another, Mark had dropped in almost every day of the past two weeks, Nancy had not seen Matthew since his blushing exit from the house.

"I'd better show you the way, hadn't I? That is—unless—unless you'd rather go alone. I—I don't want to butt in!"

"Oh, come on," laughed Nancy. "I wasn't keen on solitude, if that's what you mean. And if you've got time to play around for an hour, nothing would please me more. Jack was vanquishing a wood pile; Cousin Columbine was napping; and Aurora was too much inclined to give advice, so I ran away."

Matthew laughed softly. It was a pleasant laugh, and his voice was pleasant, too, though Nancy, when he forgot himself and spoke naturally.

"Aurora Tubbs strikes me completely dumb," he told her; "and advice is one of her strong points. She's never recovered from my going to college—thinks it was the last word in foolishness. What's she found to pick at about you?"

"Stockings!" said Nancy, and wondered if Matt, following close behind in the narrow path, was blushing again. "My sport hose got left at home, and she implored me to borrow a pair of Cousin Columbine's black cottons." Honestly, I didn't know till I saw Cousin Columbine the day we came, that cotton stockings were manufactured any more."

"You should have turned off just after you passed Aurora's," he told her, "but it's no wonder you missed the trail, so few go up that way. It's an easier climb from the other side. If—if you don't mind riding on the truck I'll take you 'round."

He was blushing again. Nancy caught the idea that he had forced himself to make the offer out of politeness, and thus responded: "Aren't you too busy?"

"Not busy at all; but this truck is second cousin to Methusalem, and—"

Nancy laughed. "You needn't apologize for the truck! I'm tickled to go for a ride in anything at all. My feet have had plenty of use since I struck Pine Ridge; but that hill tempted me, and the day, too. Isn't it glorious?"

With Matt's assistance she had reached the seat, and said, as they backed around: "Is it far to the other side of the hill?"

"A couple o' miles, maybe."

"Miles! Why I thought it was only a step!"

"To the top of that hill? Well, it's not much more, from here; but it's pretty steep, and we can ride half way up from the other side. My mother used to take us there on picnics when we were kids."

Seeing that the young man's embarrassment had dropped away when he spoke of his mother, Nancy grasped the cue.

"Cousin Columbine tells us that Mrs. Adam is—well, what she said was: 'Eve Adam is a grand success as a mother!'"

"I'll say she is!" Matt faced her, smiling, and Nancy saw that he had completely forgotten himself at last. Then the color dyed his face again, and he stammered awkwardly: "I—I don't mean that we boys have turned out anything above the average; but—but that—"

"I know what you mean," smiled Nancy, coming to his rescue, "though I think Cousin Columbine meant just what you're denying. It must be nice to have such enviable reputations! How did your mother manage it with all four of you?"

She couldn't resist teasing him a little, but it was kindly tact which made her bring the conversation back to his mother; and Matthew answered: "By being herself, I guess. She was always on hand, you know, so perhaps we didn't get into as many scrapes as some kids. Mother's a wonder; and Dad is too. I'm rather crazy about my people, but—but I've said enough. Don't know what got me going or—"

"I got you going!" admitted Nancy, with a twinkle lighting her blue eyes. And then: "Oh, look! Is that a snow-capped mountain range on the horizon?"

Matthew nodded. "Here's where we turn. Do you mind a little cross-country riding in this old wreck? You're likely to get some jolts, but—Look out there!"

This warning was too late, and only a quick snatch of Matthew's arm which brought her tight against his khaki coat for just a minute, kept Nancy from losing her balance as they dipped into a rain-work gully. When he released her and the girl looked up, she saw that all his previous confusions were as nothing compared to the embarrassment that engulfed him now. This amused sophisticated Nancy, and she said demurely:

"Thanks for saving my life! Is that another of those pleasant little thank-you-mat's looming up ahead? If you'll tell me when one's approaching; I'll hang on tight and save you the trouble of rescuing me a second time."

"It wasn't a bit of trouble," stammered Matthew. "I mean—I didn't in the least mind—I—"

"I—I suppose, All This Sounds Sort of Foolish."

eral miles. Are you afraid of thunder showers? If so, you'd better pack your trunk before the middle of May!"

"Are the showers so bad?"

"Sometimes they're fierce. Mother insists it's because we're so near the sky! Those storms are the only thing in the world, I believe, that she's afraid of. Her father was killed by lightning before I was born."

Nancy shivered. "No wonder she's frightened! It's a miracle this tree has escaped being demolished. Does anybody know how old it is?"

Matt shook his head. "It's a great deal older than any one in these parts surely. Miss Columbine remembers it just like this when she was only a little girl. It must have been struck by lightning many times. I often think—that is—"

Matthew was all of a sudden, self-conscious again; but Nancy was merciless.

"Go on," she begged.

"I only mean," he hesitated, "that—that this tree must have seen a lot of interesting things: Pioneers, you know, in their covered wagons; the first settlers struggling to build homes; Indian massacres or war dances; and later, prospectors trudging along with burros. Why, even the old Spanish expeditions may have passed this way more than two hundred years ago! I—I often wonder how many of those sights this pine looked down on."

Nancy was silent, partly because no boy had ever talked this way to her before, and partly because what Matt said had stirred her imagination. She was silent so long that the young man moved uneasily.

"I—I suppose, all this sounds sort of foolish to—a girl like you, but—"

"Why should it?" Nancy looked at him so disconcertingly that Matthew lowered his eyes for just a moment.

"I guess you thought I was being dumb; but really, I was trying to see things—the things you say this old tree must have seen. And by the way" (Nancy glanced up, smiling, at which Matt became pleasantly aware of a dimple in her left cheek). "There is something else I saw that you didn't mention. It witnessed the betrothal of Victor and Aurora Tubbs! She said I'd find their initials cut in the bark."

Matthew laughed. "Mother remembers those initials; but lightning ripped that bark off years ago. Aurora hasn't been up here since she put on flesh, and that's almost as far back as I remember. I hate to hurry you, Miss—er—well," (desperately, as the girl grinned at him). "Nancy, but it's getting along toward sundown and I'll soon be cold. Shall we move on?"

A half hour later they drew up at Miss Columbine's side door to find Mark Adam scanning the road impatiently, and Jack seated on a suitcase.

"Have you got a job?" gasped Nancy, spying the luggage as she took Mark's upstretched hand and jumped down.

Jack nodded, while the other boy exclaimed: "Where the dickens have you been, Matt? We've telephoned everywhere to find you."

"Blame me," said Nancy, while Matthew, flushing again, retorted: "Isn't a feller got a right to take an hour off? What's up?"

BEFORE THEIR TIME

"How do you like these two poems I submitted?" asked the young poet. "Excellent!" replied the critic. "They are poems that Milton or Keats could not have written."

HAR! HAR! HAR!

"Daughter, you are entirely too haughty. No man will ever sue for your hand."

Souvenirs

"Have you told the world anything important in that personal argument?"

"Nothing of practical significance, I admit," answered Senator Sorghum. "But our remarks may have historic value in letting posterity know precisely what my cantankerous colleague and I think of each other."

Too Limited

"Sam, do you solemnly swear to tell the truth and nothing but the truth?"

Quite a Career

The Judge—You have no money and you won't work. What good are you to your family?"

Even All

"My wife has intelligence enough for two."

'Nough Said

She—When a man bores me terribly and he asks me where I live, I always tell him I live in the suburbs.

Mama Loves Junior

Visitor—Your son is rather small for his age, isn't he?"

Universal Shortage

"Short stories seem to be very popular now."

THE LIMIT

"Speaking of mean people, there's no one can beat old Stint."

It Won't

"What makes you so late, Miss Smith?" her employer asked.

Machinery

"Do you think machinery is making it harder to live?"

M-M-I Yes and No

"There is a direct and indirect taxation. Give me an example of indirect taxation."

Oracle Okay

Jags—Doctor, my wife has insomnia very badly. She very often remains awake until two o'clock in the morning. What shall I do for her?"

Different Now

Flintrazor (the barber)—Just trim the ends, I s'pose? I remember you said your bride liked to toy with your crisp curls.

POULTRY

COMMON MISTAKES CHECK EGG YIELD

Pullets Neglected When Care Is Most Needed.

By H. H. Alp, Poultry Extension Specialist, University of Illinois.—WNU Service.

Eight common errors are largely responsible for the wormy, nonlaying pullets found among millions of farm chickens along in the fall of each year. During the summer months the ground around it will soon become badly contaminated with poultry manure, and the chances of chickens picking up disease and parasites are increased greatly.

Like the feed, the water should be protected from contamination. Cleanliness around the drinking trough is extremely important. A good plan is to place the trough on a low, wire platform so that the birds can not scratch in the mud caused by spilled water. Furthermore, the troughs should be filled often and regularly so that there is always plenty of water at all times.

Supplement Forage Feed to Pep Up Laying Hens

When hens are forced to forage for their feed they get less to eat. Since eggs are dependent upon feed, and less feed is eaten, naturally fewer eggs are produced. Furthermore, the hens are not able to keep in such good condition of flesh and a molt is likely to result. As the sun is hot, the birds will stick pretty close to the shade and will not look very far for food—they will get only enough to keep themselves going.

It is just as essential to keep an egg-laying mash before them now as it was in the winter if eggs are to be expected. A grain ration, of course, is fed in addition—about six to seven pounds per 100 birds per day. If hens are not in good condition of flesh, a pound or two more per 100 should be fed.

Poultry Squibs

Blackhead is an infectious disease which annually kills a great many young turkeys.

Under ordinary circumstances a young turkey hen should lay from 40 to 50 eggs during the normal breeding season.

Reculent green feeds are greatly relished by poultry. They stimulate appetite, keep the digestive systems in good order and add bulk to the ration.

It is a good plan to make a feeding crate into which larger or more developed birds cannot enter; this allows the weaker ones protection while feeding.

To fatten turkeys increase the amount of feed gradually, thus discouraging the tendency to roam.

The old poultry stock on the farm constitute by far the most serious source of disease contaminations for the young stock.

Ralph Merritt's henhouses at Pembroke, Mass., are two and three stories high. He discovered that the hens living in the upper stories lay larger and better eggs than those on the ground floor.

Hawaii has a species of goose that never goes near the water except to drink, yet has webbed feet.

Gapes is a disease which attacks domestic poultry and many species of wild birds. In fowls it is more frequently observed in young chicks.

Roots for poultry houses are generally made of 2 by 2 inch material with the upper corners rounded. All roots in the house should be on the same level so as to prevent the fowls from crowding.

Breeding only from two or three-year-old hens tends to maintain vigor in the flock.

Birds that are slow feathering, light in weight, have shallow bodies, pale faces and shanks, and show a lack of vigor should be culled.

The average hen's eggs are composed of about 11 per cent shell, 32 per cent yolk and 57 per cent white. A dozen duck eggs weigh 30 to 42 ounces; a dozen goose eggs weigh about 80 ounces.

Housewife's Idea Box

Coffee Instead of Milk in Cake Baking

Did you know that you can use coffee instead of milk in making cakes? This is the best recipe the ground around it will soon become badly contaminated with poultry manure, and the chances of chickens picking up disease and parasites are increased greatly.

Like the feed, the water should be protected from contamination. Cleanliness around the drinking trough is extremely important. A good plan is to place the trough on a low, wire platform so that the birds can not scratch in the mud caused by spilled water. Furthermore, the troughs should be filled often and regularly so that there is always plenty of water at all times.

Supplement Forage Feed to Pep Up Laying Hens

When hens are forced to forage for their feed they get less to eat. Since eggs are dependent upon feed, and less feed is eaten, naturally fewer eggs are produced. Furthermore, the hens are not able to keep in such good condition of flesh and a molt is likely to result. As the sun is hot, the birds will stick pretty close to the shade and will not look very far for food—they will get only enough to keep themselves going.

It is just as essential to keep an egg-laying mash before them now as it was in the winter if eggs are to be expected. A grain ration, of course, is fed in addition—about six to seven pounds per 100 birds per day. If hens are not in good condition of flesh, a pound or two more per 100 should be fed.

Poultry Squibs

Blackhead is an infectious disease which annually kills a great many young turkeys.

Under ordinary circumstances a young turkey hen should lay from 40 to 50 eggs during the normal breeding season.

Reculent green feeds are greatly relished by poultry. They stimulate appetite, keep the digestive systems in good order and add bulk to the ration.

It is a good plan to make a feeding crate into which larger or more developed birds cannot enter; this allows the weaker ones protection while feeding.

To fatten turkeys increase the amount of feed gradually, thus discouraging the tendency to roam.

The old poultry stock on the farm constitute by far the most serious source of disease contaminations for the young stock.

Ralph Merritt's henhouses at Pembroke, Mass., are two and three stories high. He discovered that the hens living in the upper stories lay larger and better eggs than those on the ground floor.

Hawaii has a species of goose that never goes near the water except to drink, yet has webbed feet.

Gapes is a disease which attacks domestic poultry and many species of wild birds. In fowls it is more frequently observed in young chicks.

Roots for poultry houses are generally made of 2 by 2 inch material with the upper corners rounded. All roots in the house should be on the same level so as to prevent the fowls from crowding.

Breeding only from two or three-year-old hens tends to maintain vigor in the flock.

Birds that are slow feathering, light in weight, have shallow bodies, pale faces and shanks, and show a lack of vigor should be culled.

The average hen's eggs are composed of about 11 per cent shell, 32 per cent yolk and 57 per cent white. A dozen duck eggs weigh 30 to 42 ounces; a dozen goose eggs weigh about 80 ounces.

Why Liquid Laxatives are Back in Favor

The public is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that the right dose of a properly prepared liquid laxative will bring a more natural movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied to suit the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. A child is easily given the right dose. And mild liquid laxatives do not irritate the kidneys.

Doctors are generally agreed that senna is a natural laxative. It does not drain the system like the cathartics that leave you so thirsty. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a liquid laxative which relies on senna for its laxative action. It gently helps the average person's constipated bowels until nature restores their regularity.

You can always get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store, read for use.

SORES

AND LUMPS—By Specialty Write for Free 144 Page Book Dr. Boyd Wilkins, Hudson, Wis.

Rheumatic Pain Stopped by Lemon Juice Recipe

Try this if it doesn't relieve you, make you feel better and younger and happier, your druggist will refund your money. Get a package of the REV PRESCRIPTION. Mix it with a quart of water, add the juice of 4 lemons and take a tablespoonful two times a day. In 48 hours, usually, the pain is gone, joints limber up, wonderful glorious relief is felt. Equally good for rheumatism, or neuritis pain. Costs only a few cents a day. For sale, recommended and guaranteed by all leading druggists. Any druggist will get the REV PRESCRIPTION if you ask him to do so.

STOMACH?

For 30 years thousands have used SENOJE POWDER for real relief from STOMACH AILMENTS. Money-back guarantee. Enough for 100 treatments $2.50 postpaid.

SENOJE COMPANY P. O. Box 1888, Dept. 10, Milwaukee, Wis. REFERENCE: First Wisconsin National Bank, Commerce Branch, Milwaukee

This Coupon Must Be Presented to Get These Two Drug Features In Our Special
2 DAY DRUG SALE
FRIDAY-OCTOBER 7, and SATURDAY-OCTOBER 8

This COUPON and ONLY
Will Buy a Pint of MILK of MAGNESIA 19c

This COUPON and ONLY
Will Buy a Pint of
Purest Norwegian
COD LIVER OIL 49c

Dana and Worm Drug Co.
114 So. MAIN, FOND DU LAC, WIS. (D)

Economic Highlights

Happenings that affect the dinner pails, dividend checks and tax bills of every individual, National and International problems inseparable from local welfare.

A great sea disaster is drama in the grand manner. Nothing presented on the stage or through the printed word, can approach it in tragedy, vividness, power. Good newsmen, reporting one of these rare events, seldom use flowery or over-dramatized writing—they present the simple facts, and that is enough.

In time the general public forgets a disaster. But the law doesn't. Many important regulations covering construction and operation of modern ships stem from disasters which taught lessons that could not be learned in any other way. According to the New York Times, which recently traced the influence of marine tragedies on marine law, every great maritime disaster of recent times has resulted in new protective legislation.

The first of the wrecks that started this trend was that of La Bourgogne, on July 4, 1898. Bound from New York to France with 725 passengers and crew, she collided with a sailing ship in a fog and sank in forty minutes. Only 163 were saved—and of these but one was a woman, though 200 were aboard. It was proven that the crew had failed its responsibility—had saved themselves at the expense of the passengers. The result was a tightening up of ship discipline throughout the world.

Then, in 1909, the Republic, carrying 361 passengers, was rammed off Nantucket. Though both holes filled, she kept afloat long enough to bring a rescue ship in response to an S. O. S. Every passenger was saved, and the necessity of radio was instantly realized—comparatively few ships were so equipped at the time. The result was laws making radio equipment mandatory, first on liners, then on freighters as well.

The next great disaster, April 14, 1912—one of the worst in marine history—was the Titanic, "marvel of the seas." Her bottom almost sliced off by a submerged iceberg, she went down in three hours, and 1,517 of the 2,340 persons aboard were lost. Out of that tragedy came the North Atlantic Ice Patrol, which checks on the movement of ice and warns all ships when danger appears. There has not been a sinking due to ice since.

The sinking of the Lusitania by a U-boat resulted in an agreement between the five great naval powers not to attack merchantmen in time of war.

In 1929 came the Vestris disaster. Sank with storm, the ship listed until it sank with loss of 110 people. The inquiry developed that it had been overloaded, that its life-boats were in poor condition, and that there were innumerable other faults. It was said that the S. O. S. had been purposely delayed, because the Captain did not wish to force his company to pay salvage costs, and preferred to take a chance on making port. Consequences were a revised salvage law, and more stringent rules for inspecting ships.

The Morro Castle, latest of major disasters, will undoubtedly be of similar influence in strengthening maritime law. The inquiry on her sinking has not yet been completed, but already there are dark rumors of inflexibility, cowardice on the part of officers, callous disregard for dying passengers on the part of the crew, sabotage. However, the main points so far developed have to do with the liner's fire hazards—apparently she offered little resistance once a blaze was well started. Legislation will be offered to the next Congress to lessen the fire risk on all ships. Other nations will unquestionably follow—effective marine law must be international in scope. It is safe to say that on the ships of the future, less wood and cloth will be used, and more metal and glass.

Thousands of lives have been lost needlessly in sea disasters—but it can be said that they have not been lost entirely in vain. Every catastrophe makes the operation of ships safer; every one lessens the chance of another disaster.

Recent reports indicate that the long anticipated NRA reorganization will be effected in the near future. According to the Washington Post, which has a high batting average in announcing pending developments before official announcements, a policy-making board will be set up. Bernard Baruch and Raymond Moley will be among its members. General Johnson will be out. It is believed that the final straw came when General Johnson made his strike speech, which almost ruined the President's more tactful settlement plans, and implied that on legal matters he had the advice of Supreme Court Justice Brandeis. This was tantamount to saying that a judge of the highest reputation in the land, who will eventually help decide the constitutionality of the new legislation, had a hand in its making. It is said that the Justice hit the roof, as it did the President.

Another development of interest comes from the United States Chamber of Commerce, foremost representative of industry. It is seeking an overhaul of New Deal laws. One of its committees has made a report holding that existing emergency agencies with stupendous spending power are operating without proper financial supervision, and recommends that measures be taken to give the President adequate power to directly control the spending.

VILLAGE BOARD PROCEEDINGS

should be changed to the customary voltage, therefore

BEIT RESOLVED, that the Wisconsin Gas & Electric Co., be and is hereby requested to make the necessary installation of a transformer to change the lighting voltage from 220 to 110 volts.

Signed, John F. Schaefer.

Upon roll call, all members voting "aye," the resolution was adopted and so declared by the President.

Motion by Trustee Honeck, seconded by Trustee Stellpflug, that the Clerk be authorized to purchase a tester to test water meters; motion carried.

Motion by Trustee Schaefer, seconded by Trustee Honeck, that the amount of $86.60 representing non-collectable accounts receivable of the Water Dept. be charged off the books; motion carried.

Bills allowed on recommendation of the Finance Committee, on motion of Trustee Belzer, seconded by Trustee Stellpflug and carried on roll call, were as follows:

GENERAL FUND

Wis. Gas & Electric Co.—Street lights $113.60
Village Hall Sewer pump.....50.00
Frank Quandt, Assessor.....6.00
Paul C. Backhaus, Inspector at election.....6.00
Frank Kudeck, Ins. at election.....6.00
Theo. R. Schmidt, Ins. at election.....6.00
Val. Peters, Clerk at election.....6.00
Edw. C. Miller, Clerk at election.....6.00
Fred Schleif, Ballot clerk.....4.00
H. W. Rantun, Ballot clerk.....4.00
Kewaskum Water Dept. Copper pipe & fittings for park.....70.10
Scheper Bros. Gas for fire truck.....2.76
L. Rosenheimer, Gr. seed for park.....3.20
H. Niedecken Co. Ab. voter blanks.....2.00
Walter Belzer, Labor & teaming at park.....28.71
K. A. Honeck, Labor at park.....4.50
Quenthin Peters, Labor at park.....9.25

STREET FUND

Walter Belzer, Labor & teaming.....15.70
Quenthin Peters, Labor.....15.30

WATERWORKS FUND

Wis. Gas & Elec. Co., power & light.....$98.03
Service work.....2.40
Four bulbs......80 101.23
S. N. Casper, W.W. attendant.....30.00
Tapping main.....3.00
6 months' salary W. D. 50.00 83.00
Carl F. Schaefer, Freight, telephone & supplies.....2.92
Louis Bath, Repairing......85
The Foxboro Co., Charis for recording gauge.....9.20
Badger Meter Mfg. Co., Water meters.....123.00
Milw. Lead Works, Copper pipe & fittings.....74.29
H. Niedecken Co., Office supplies.....26.06

After discussion of matters pertaining to the Water Department, a motion was made by Trustee Belzer, seconded by Trustee Haug, that the meeting adjourn to Tuesday evening, Oct. 2nd, 1934.

Carl F. Schaefer,
Village Clerk

Hill Brothers

in Fond du Lac

Harvest Sale

Be sure to see the display of prize-winning Farm Produce.

$150 in Prizes

Here are a few of the Bargains you can expect:

80 Square Percal 19c yd.

Good quality, fast color, in a fine assortment of new fall patterns.

New Fall Silks 68c yd.

Prints and plain shades—fine for dresses, blouses, etc!

Part Wool Blankets $2.97 pr.

Extra large 72x84 plaid blankets; double, sateen kind.

Buy a New Fur Trimmed WINTER COAT $27

Sport and dress types in this wonderful group of coats

When in Fond du Lac Shop at Hill Brothers

Dependable and Reasonable Service

Miller Funeral Home

Phones 10F7 and 30F7 Kewaskum, Wis.

We Carry National Caskets

FEED PRICES ARE REDUCED

Wheat Bran, per ton.....$22.00
Wheat Flour Middlings, per ton.....$26.00
Rye Middlings, per ton.....$21.00

This offering is in Bulk. While Supply Lasts.

"SNOW QUEEN"

Hard Spring Wheat Patent Flour at $7.80 per Barrel in Sacks. Every sack guaranteed

Gadow Milling Co.

Phone 86 Barton, Wis.

WEST BEND THEATRE

Admission: Sunday Mat. 10c and 25c, and 11c 6 p. m. After 6 o'clock. Tue. and Wed. Sunday continuous from 1:30 to 11 p. m. Students Prices 25c any time.

Friday and Saturday, Oct. 5 and 6
W. C. FIELDS in
"You're Telling Me"

A laugh from beginning to end. Added 3-reel FOOT BALL story with great cast of football stars.
Also 2-reel Comedy

Sunday, Oct. 7
Matinee starts 1:30 and runs till 11 p. m.
MIRIAM HOPKINS in
"The Richest Girl in the World"

This is the feature that Warner Theater, Milwaukee, last week guaranteed a perfect show or your money back program.
Added Comedy, Newsreel, Cartoon

Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 8 and 9
Ricardo Cortez, Barbara Robbins and John Beal in
"Hat, Coat and Glove"

Murder mystery.
Also 3-reel feature "Bride of Samoa" and Comedy

Wednesday & Thursday, Oct. 10 and 11
Roger Pryor, Esther Raiston, Victor Moore in
"Romance in the Rain"

Also Comedy and Newsreel

WATERWORKS FUND

Wis. Gas & Elec. Co., power & light.....$98.03
Service work.....2.40
Four bulbs......80 101.23
S. N. Casper, W.W. attendant.....30.00
Tapping main.....3.00
6 months' salary W. D. 50.00 83.00
Carl F. Schaefer, Freight, telephone & supplies.....2.92
Louis Bath, Repairing......85
The Foxboro Co., Charis for recording gauge.....9.20
Badger Meter Mfg. Co., Water meters.....123.00
Milw. Lead Works, Copper pipe & fittings.....74.29
H. Niedecken Co., Office supplies.....26.06

After discussion of matters pertaining to the Water Department, a motion was made by Trustee Belzer, seconded by Trustee Haug, that the meeting adjourn to Tuesday evening, Oct. 2nd, 1934.

Carl F. Schaefer,
Village Clerk

CASH LOANS

If you need cash at once, write us for prompt finance service. Funds from $100 to $1000 available at all times.

Total cost of a $100 loan, payable in 12 monthly payments, is $10.

Car Loans, Household Loans, Farm Loans at low interest rates. Write us and our representative will call.

Over 3000 satisfied patrons.

UNITED FINANCE CORPORATION

Hartford, Wis.

MERMAC

Friday and Saturday, Oct. 5 and 6
WESTERN with KEN MAYNARD in
"Smoking Guns"

Added Comedy, Cartoon, Super added Chapter 4 of "Burn 'Em Up Barns"

Notice of Hearing of Final Settlement of WISCONSIN. County Court, Washington County, in the matter of the estate of Anton Kudeck, deceased.

Notice is hereby given that a third day of court to be held on Tuesday, the 23rd day of October, 1934, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of said day, at the Court House in the city of West Bend, in said county, there will be heard and considered:

The application of Jacob Kudeck, administrator of the estate of Anton Kudeck, deceased, of the Town of Wayne, in said county, for the examination and allowance of his final account, which account is now on file in said county, and for the allowance of debts or claims paid in good faith without filing or allowance as provided by law, and for the assignment of the residue of the estate of said deceased to such persons as are by law entitled thereto; and for the determination and adjudication of the inheritance tax, if any, payable in said estate.

Dated September 19th, 1934.

By Order of the Court, F. W. BUCKLIN, Administrator's Attorney; County Judge

During the past eight state veterinary Madison, has tested 1120 piles for Bang's disease and 1120 state shipment.

Last year, but if the buying program is continued there will be a reduction in numbers of dairy ages before next year.

TELL US YOUR PRINTING PROBLEMS

YOUR printing problem may be a source of worry to you but it is "duck soup" for us. . . . We have the equipment, the type faces and the experience to render prompt, efficient and inexpensive printing service. . . . Letters, blotters, circulars, booklets and catalogs printed in just the manner you will like. Let us submit samples and quote prices.

Statesman Print Shop

Phone 28F1 Kewaskum, Wis.

WAUCOUSTA

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rantun of Mud Lake visited relatives here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wachs, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wachs and Miss Schroeder of Fond du Lac spent Sunday at the August Wachs, Sr., home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Roberts of Milwaukee spent a few days of last week here enroute to their farm at Kewaskum.

Edmond Buslaff and wife of Kenosha spent Monday at the F. W. Buslaff home here.

Walter Bartok and wife of Hartford spent the week-end with relatives and friends here.

Harley Loomis and wife of Milwaukee spent the week-end with relatives and friends here.

Quite a number from here attended the chicken dinner and bazaar at Ed. Bauer's hall Sunday, sponsored by the ladies of St. Matthew's church at Campbelsport.

John Ford and wife of Osceola were callers here Monday.

R. Hornburg and wife spent the week-end in Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Weid and son, Joe Nelson and wife and Eldon Burnett of Fond du Lac visited at the F. S. Burnett home here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Engels and children, Mrs. J. A. Allen and daughter Evelyn called on Mrs. Margaret Hanners at South Byron Sunday.

Verne Hause and wife of North Fond du Lac were recent callers here.

William Schultz and wife entertained relatives Saturday evening at a supper in honor of Mrs. Schultz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Muench's golden wedding anniversary.

FOUR CORNERS

Mrs. William Odekirk spent a few days last week with relatives at Barton.

Mrs. M. Weasler was a caller at the home of Mrs. William Goebel last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Klabuhn, Sr., spent Friday at Hustisford with friends.

Mrs. Margaret Albright returned to Chicago Sunday after spending a few days with friends here.

Mrs. Louis Furlong was a Kewaskum caller one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Austin and family and Mrs. Bert Tuttle of West Allis called on friends here last Sunday.

Robert Buettner and wife were Fond du Lac callers Tuesday.

William Odekirk and wife, Henry Odekirk and wife and Miss Alma Koch attended the funeral of a relative Saturday at Barton.

Robert Buettner and wife spent Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. William Klabuhn, Sr.

Tony Miller and wife, John Flitter and wife and children spent Sunday at the M. Weasler home.

Several Wisconsin cities maintain city green markets where nearby farmers and gardeners sell direct to grocers, hucksters, and city consumers. Kenosha, La Crosse, Milwaukee, Racine, Stevens Point, and West Allis are among the cities maintaining such markets.

LAX THE BLADDER

Use Juniper, Oil, Buchu Leaves, Etc.

If you are bothered getting up nights, burning, leg pains, backache, make this 25c test. Flush out the excess acids and waste matter that cause irritation. Get juniper oil, extract buchu leaves, etc. In green tablets called BUKETS, the bladder laxative. After four days if not satisfied any druggist will return your 25c. Otto B. Graf, Druggist.

FOUR CORNERS

Mrs. Reuben Backhaus spent Tuesday at Bononville.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Koepsel and family spent Sunday at Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Prost and son Albert spent Monday at Fond du Lac.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howend of Milwaukee visited with Wayne Marchant and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schleif and Geo. Schleif called on Henry Miller and family at Barton Friday.

George Schleif of Orville, Wash., arrived here Sunday for an extended visit with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Leo Ward and children and Mrs. Leo Uelmen and children called on Mrs. Fred Schleif on Monday.

George Schleif and Wm. Ferber left Wednesday for Chicago to spend a few days at the "Century of Progress" exposition.

George, Wm. and Fred Schleif, Wm. Ferber and Oscar Glass spent Sunday with Herman Giese and family at Coleman, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ferber, George Schleif, Mrs. Ed. Terlinden and Mrs. Wayne Marchant spent Wednesday at Milwaukee.

A number of relatives and friends from here surprised Mrs. Robt. Hackbarth at West Bend Monday evening on her birthday anniversary.

PROMPT SERVICE

Do your plans for Fall activities include need of well printed matter, business or social? . . . If so we are in position to render most excellent service, promptly, inexpensively and correctly done. . . . No matter what your printing job may be we can handle the job in the manner that you want it done. . . . No obligation on your part to ask us to make an estimate.

The Kewaskum Statesman

Telephone 28F1

Let us put your name on our mailing list

AUCTION

Monday, October 8, at 12 noon
Rain date Tuesday, October 9

On the old John Diefenbach farm, located 1/2 mile east of Diefenbach Corners, 2 miles northeast of Clinger.

LIVESTOCK—13 High Grade Holstein Milch cows, some fresh, others to freshen soon; 2 Heavy Bay Mares, 9 and 10 years old; 3 bred Purebred Chester White Sows; Purebred Chester White Boar; 100 Spring Chickens; 25 Old Hens; 2 pair Bantams.

Build Sides; Fordson Tractor with Plow; Gehl Cutter, and complete line of Farm Machinery; Seed Oats; Some Household Goods.

RAY SCHICKERT, Owner
Art. Quade, West Bend, Auctioneer

Subscribe for The Statesman NOW

Several Wisconsin cities maintain city green markets where nearby farmers and gardeners sell direct to grocers, hucksters, and city consumers. Kenosha, La Crosse, Milwaukee, Racine, Stevens Point, and West Allis are among the cities maintaining such markets.

Several Wisconsin cities maintain city green markets where nearby farmers and gardeners sell direct to grocers, hucksters, and city consumers. Kenosha, La Crosse, Milwaukee, Racine, Stevens Point, and West Allis are among the cities maintaining such markets.

Several Wisconsin cities maintain city green markets where nearby farmers and gardeners sell direct to grocers, hucksters, and city consumers. Kenosha, La Crosse, Milwaukee, Racine, Stevens Point, and West Allis are among the cities maintaining such markets.

sonable
Home
Kewaskum, Wis.
Caskets
MERY
ATEST
Patricia Dow
in Sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52, 54, 56, 58, 60, 62, 64, 66, 68, 70, 72, 74, 76, 78, 80, 82, 84, 86, 88, 90, 92, 94, 96, 98, 100, 102, 104, 106, 108, 110, 112, 114, 116, 118, 120, 122, 124, 126, 128, 130, 132, 134, 136, 138, 140, 142, 144, 146, 148, 150, 152, 154, 156, 158, 160, 162, 164, 166, 168, 170, 172, 174, 176, 178, 180, 182, 184, 186, 188, 190, 192, 194, 196, 198, 200, 202, 204, 206, 208, 210, 212, 214, 216, 218, 220, 222, 224, 226, 228, 230, 232, 234, 236, 238, 240, 242, 244, 246, 248, 250, 252, 254, 256, 258, 260, 262, 264, 266, 268, 270, 272, 274, 276, 278, 280, 282, 284, 286, 288, 290, 292, 294, 296, 298, 300, 302, 304, 306, 308, 310, 312, 314, 316, 318, 320, 322, 324, 326, 328, 330, 332, 334, 336, 338, 340, 342, 344, 346, 348, 350, 352, 354, 356, 358, 360, 362, 364, 366, 368, 370, 372, 374, 376, 378, 380, 382, 384, 386, 388, 390, 392, 394, 396, 398, 400, 402, 404, 406, 408, 410, 412, 414, 416, 418, 420, 422, 424, 426, 428, 430, 432, 434, 436, 438, 440, 442, 444, 446, 448, 450, 452, 454, 456, 458, 460, 462, 464, 466, 468, 470, 472, 474, 476, 478, 480, 482, 484, 486, 488, 490, 492, 494, 496, 498, 500, 502, 504, 506, 508, 510, 512, 514, 516, 518, 520, 522, 524, 526, 528, 530, 532, 534, 536, 538, 540, 542, 544, 546, 548, 550, 552, 554, 556, 558, 560, 562, 564, 566, 568, 570, 572, 574, 576, 578, 580, 582, 584, 586, 588, 590, 592, 594, 596, 598, 600, 602, 604, 606, 608, 610, 612, 614, 616, 618, 620, 622, 624, 626, 628, 630, 632, 634, 636, 638, 640, 642, 644, 646, 648, 650, 652, 654, 656, 658, 660, 662, 664, 666, 668, 670, 672, 674, 676, 678, 680, 682, 684, 686, 688, 690, 692, 694, 696, 698, 700, 702, 704, 706, 708, 710, 712, 714, 716, 718, 720, 722, 724, 726, 728, 730, 732, 734, 736, 738, 740, 742, 744, 746, 748, 750, 752, 754, 756, 758, 760, 762, 764, 766, 768, 770, 772, 774, 776, 778, 780, 782, 784, 786, 788, 790, 792, 794, 796, 798, 800, 802, 804, 806, 808, 810, 812, 814, 816, 818, 820, 822, 824, 826, 828, 830, 832, 834, 836, 838, 840, 842, 844, 846, 848, 850, 852, 854, 856, 858, 860, 862, 864, 866, 868, 870, 872, 874, 876, 878, 880, 882, 884, 886, 888, 890, 892, 894, 896, 898, 900, 902, 904, 906, 908, 910, 912, 914, 916, 918, 920, 922, 924, 926, 928, 930, 932, 934, 936, 938, 940, 942, 944, 946, 948, 950, 952, 954, 956, 958, 960, 962, 964, 966, 968, 970, 972, 974, 976, 978, 980, 982, 984, 986, 988, 990, 992, 994, 996, 998, 1000

Profits From Potatoes

McCormick-Deering
Duty Potato Diggers

Reduce your digging costs. The new McCormick-Deering Potato Diggers leave the potato neat, easily-gathered rows, effecting saving in time and labor. Moreover, potatoes are unbruised. They bring you top prices and extra profits. See the sturdy McCormick-Deering Potato Diggers at our store, now. Barbed and rod-link types for horse or tractor use.

If you have not tried Koch's Ideal Egg Mash, Starter Mash or Growing Mash, do so at once

A. G. Koch, Inc.
Kewaskum, Wis.

IGA SPECIALS

TOASTIES or I. G. A. CORN FLAKES	10c
WHEAT CEREAL	21c
PASTA or MACARONI	33c
CAKE FLOUR	25c
COFFEE	21c
COFFEE	31c
BAKING POWDER	10c
MAN CHERRIES	20c
LYE	25c
SALAD DRESSING	25c
N JERSEY GLOVES	15c
DWAY SYRUP	28c
R BUCKLE TOMATO JUICE	19c

JOHN MARX

LITHIA BEER

Choice Wisconsin Barley Malt and Home Aromatic Hops are Brewed in this Healthful Drink Lithia Beer is made according to an old formula, long used to make Wisconsin's Fine Beer

A Most Excellent Drink for the Whole Family

pasteurized beer in quart bottles. Comes in six bottles and twelve bottles to a case.

West Bend Lithia Co.
West Bend, Wis.

SCHLAEFER OPTOMETRIST
Glasses Fitted
Wisconsin

MEISTER ATTORNEY
Kewaskum
Thursdays 1-4:30 p.m.
Kewaskum, Wis.

STAR VALUE WEEK
SALE
ENDS SATURDAY
Exceptionally Low Prices on Quality Meats
Buehler Bros. Market
46 So. MAIN, Fond du Lac, Wis.

KEWASKUM STATESMAN

D. J. HARBECK, Publisher
Entered as second-class mail matter at the post office, Kewaskum, Wis.
SINGLE COPIES 5 CENTS

TERMS—$1.50 per year; 75c for six months. Advertising rates on application.

AROUND THE TOWN

Friday Oct. 5, 1934

—Harold Casper spent Sunday at Milwaukee.
—Roman Gruber was a West Bend caller Monday.
—Charles Miller spent the week-end at Wild Rose, Wis.
—N. W. Rosenheimer was a Milwaukee visitor Monday.
—Mrs. Aug. Buss was a West Bend visitor last Thursday.
—Philip McLaughlin, Jr. and family spent Sunday at Plymouth.
—Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Rosenheimer were Slinger visitors Wednesday.
—Baked ham will be served at Jos. Eberle's tavern Saturday evening.
—Mrs. S. N. Casper and son Harold spent last Wednesday at Milwaukee.
—Edwin Miller of Milwaukee called at the Otto Backhaus home Saturday.
—Miss Edna Schmidt spent the week-end with Miss Kathryn Marx at Milwaukee.
—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schreiber and daughter Jacqueline spent Sunday at Campbellsport.
—Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kruse of Milwaukee spent Sunday with Mrs. Gust. Klug and family.
—Mr. and Mrs. John Kiessig attended the funeral of Mrs. Julius Gekkel at Fillmore Sunday.
—John Marx attended the meeting of the I. G. A. men at Random Lake Tuesday evening.
—Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Hartwig of Chicago visited with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Quade several days.
—Miss Susan Altenhofen and Mrs. Rose Steaman of Milwaukee were village callers Thursday.
—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schaefer of Juneau spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Schultz.
—A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Anton Herriges of Kewaskum, R. R. 1, last Thursday.
—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vollmar of Milwaukee visited with Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Buss last Thursday.
—Mrs. Ray Casper and lady friend of Milwaukee spent Monday afternoon at the S. N. Casper home.
—Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Strachota and family of Milwaukee visited with the Val Peters family Sunday.
—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Becker spent Sunday at Dundee where they visited with the Albert Koepke family.
—Mr. and Mrs. Milton Eisentraut of Fredonia spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Otto Backhaus and family.
—Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Houck and son Russell of Fond du Lac spent Sunday with the Jos. Mayer family.
—Miss Anna McLaughlin of West Bend spent Sunday with Mrs. Elizabeth McLaughlin and daughter Rose.
—Fred Sacer of West Bend and Dr. E. Nolting spent the week-end hunting in the northern part of the state.
—Fred Weddig of West Bend spent Saturday night and Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Weddig.
—Wm. Warner, Jr. of Cascade is spending this week at the home of Philip McLaughlin, Jr. and family.
—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Boerner of Cedarburg visited with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Rosenheimer here Wednesday.
—Teachers, Miss Browne, Miss Deley, Miss Stevens and Miss McCutchin visited at Appleton Sunday afternoon.
—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buddenhausen and family of Milwaukee visited with the Philip McLaughlin family Sunday.
—Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Morgenroth attended the funeral of Mrs. Geidel and the chicken supper at Fillmore Sunday.
—Charles E. Krahn, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stark and Mrs. Ph. Melnhardt of Milwaukee were visitors here Thursday.
—Mr. Walter Schneider of Milwaukee spent the week-end with the Tillie Zeimet and the Mrs. S. E. Witzig families.
—Mrs. Elizabeth Schaefer spent Sunday and Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kniekel and family at Campbellsport.
—Mrs. Fred Lewis of Beaver Dam, Mrs. August Dheim and daughter of Tigerton visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. C. Miller.
—Mr. John Miller, Mr. Ed. Miller and son of Milwaukee spent Sunday with the Mrs. S. E. Witzig and the Tillie Zeimet families.
—Always the latest in furniture and home furnishings at MILLER'S FURNITURE STORE. Buy now while prices are very reasonable.
—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Phillips of Brothertown visited with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Schultz last Thursday.
—Howard Manhardt and family and Mrs. Siebuenhuener and family of Milwaukee visited with the Frank Quandt family Friday and Saturday.
—Mr. and Mrs. John Deltgen and daughter Manilla of Milwaukee called on Mrs. Elizabeth McLaughlin and Miss Rose McLaughlin Sunday.
—Mr. and Mrs. Willard Dreyer, Miss Marcella Casper and Miss Florence Williams of Milwaukee spent the week-end with the S. N. Casper family.
—Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ockenfels accompanied Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Haug and son Carroll to Adeli Sunday where they visited with the Ed. Guth family.
—Allen Miller, who spent the summer with his parents here, returned to Chicago Monday where he is taking a course at Northwestern Medical school.

—Miss Viola Daley and Miss Margaret Browne, teachers at the local public school, attended the card party given by the Royal Neighbors at West Bend Sunday night.

Attention Farmers! Now you can get a real radio for your home; a Philco low drain battery set, See and hear the new 1935 Philcos at MILLER'S FURNITURE STORE.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hauerwas and daughter Lillian and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kemla and son Delbert of Milwaukee spent Sunday with Mrs. Margaret Mayer and family.

—A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Vilter of 2959 N. Downer St., Milwaukee, last Monday, Oct. 1, Mrs. Vilter was formerly Miss Florence Rosenheimer of this village.

Special—Friday and Saturday; Philco radio tubes at 49c for types 61A, 26, 71A, 80 and 27, at MILLER'S FURNITURE STORE. Bring in your old tubes for free testing on our modern tube tester.

—K. A. Honeck, our Chevrolet dealer, made the following deliveries this week: A Master Chevrolet sedan to Walter Brener and a 131 inch Chevrolet truck to Emil Blaskovitz of Milwaukee.

—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wegner and daughter Audrey Mae, Hubert Winkelmann and Otto Schlaechten of Milwaukee spent Saturday and Sunday with the J. H. Martin and Norton Koerble families.

—Henry Guenther and family and Mr. Duffin of Wayne, Mrs. Louise Widder and family, Mrs. Barbara Hosp and Miss Lulu Widder of Milwaukee visited with the Wm. Eberle family Sunday.

—Mrs. Newton Rosenheimer motored to Milwaukee Friday. She was accompanied home by her daughter, Linda, and Miss Charlotte Lay, students at Milwaukee-Doxner college, who spent the week-end here.

—A number of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barlett on Tuesday evening in honor of their son Robert's 10th birthday anniversary. All present reported a very enjoyable time.

—Billy Schaefer and Leander Honeck left Saturday for Horn Lake, near Townsend, where they joined the former's brother, John Louis Schaefer, and some friends from Casanova, Wis., on a hunting trip. They returned home on Monday evening.

—Miss Violet Eberle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Eberle, was taken to St. Agnes hospital at Fond du Lac Monday afternoon where she was operated for appendicitis by Dr. Guenther of Campbellsport at 6 o'clock Monday evening. At present she is doing quite well.

—The following spent Sunday with the Joe T. Schoofs family: Mr. and Mrs. Christ, Becker of Fredonia, Mrs. John Gravelindner of Campbellsport, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ritzer and family of Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lauser and sons of Saukville, Joe Schoofs, Jr., of St. Michaels and Lona Schoofs of West Bend.

—The following spent Saturday and Sunday with Paul Geier and family: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Geier of Kewaskum, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zacher, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dummer and daughter Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Nebka and daughter Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Endlea and son Bobby, Herbie Geier, Raymond Geier and lady friend, Emil Geier and son Karl, Freddie Witte, Mr. and Mrs. Sotter and daughter Dorothy, all from Milwaukee; and Wm. G. Peter Schneider from here.

—The following returned to Milwaukee on Monday:
Mrs. Rose Dieringer spent Sunday with friends at Campbellsport.
Joseph Strobel and sister of Hustford spent Sunday with friends here.
Mrs. W. Seidel motored to Fond du Lac Wednesday where she visited friends.

Miss Florence Mrgan of Parnell called on old-time acquaintances here last Sunday.

Misses Marcella and Marie Pauch of Campbellsport spent Sunday at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Backhaus and children visited relatives at Kewaskum on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Michaels and sons spent Sunday with friends at Campbellsport.

Mrs. Lydia Vriesen and family of Sheboygan Falls visited the C. Hauser family on Sunday.

Mrs. Neitcheke of Van Dyne accompanied her mother, Mrs. Gantenbein, to her home here on Sunday.

Ulrich Guntly and sister Dora of near Campbellsport spent Sunday with the Adam Schmitt family.

Mrs. Minnie Guggesberg and daughter Mary visited Mrs. Dorothy Guggesberg at Kewaskum Tuesday.

Mrs. Terry Nelson and Mrs. Barnsteln of Newton were Sunday evening callers at the C. Hauser home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown and daughter Shirley of Fond du Lac spent Sunday at the A. Scheuerman home.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Welles left Saturday for Chicago where they expect to enjoy the sights for a number of days.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Michaels and son Richard left Tuesday morning for Fremont where they will spend a few days with the former's brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Abel and children of Fond du Lac moved into the Regina Kleinhaus residence on Monday. Mr. Abel rented the store property also, where he will engage in a general store business.

GROCERY SPECIALS

Raisins 4 pound package	33c	SOAP Crystal White, giant bar, 10 for 39c
2 pound package	17c	Bath & Face Soap, 3 bars for	14c
SWEET CORN, Per can	12c	PEANUT BUTTER, 2 lb. jar	25c
PEAS, Per can	14c	EVAPORATED MILK, tall can, 2 for	13c
		Tropical Olives, Mammoth Size, 16 oz. jar	22c
		Sturgeon Bay CHERRIES, 2 cans for	23c
		Kellogg's CORN FLAKES, 2 packages	21c
		ENZO-JEL, 2 packages	9c
		APPLES, Eating and Baking, 8 pounds for	25c
		WAX PAPER 40 foot roll	8c
		125 foot roll	16c
BRICK CHEESE, 2 pounds for	29c
CRACKER JACK, 2 packages	9c
Coffee Hill's 1 lb. can	32c
2 lb. can	62c
Winner Coffee	21c
CANNING PEARS, Per bushel	89c

Don't Forget!
Our big John Deere Tractor and Field Cultivator Demonstration on Saturday Afternoon
At the rear of our Store. Come and see them in action

L. ROSENHEIMER
DEPARTMENT STORE KEWASKUM, WIS.

CLASSIFIED ADS

Our rates for this class of advertising are 1 cent a word per issue, no charge less than 25 cents accepted. Memorial Notices $1.00. Card of Thanks 50 cents. Cash or unused government postage stamps must accompany all orders.

For Sale.
HORSES FOR SALE AT ALL TIMES—Also fresh milch cows and service bulls. Inquire of K. A. Honeck, Kewaskum, Wis. 1-26-34.

WOOD FOR SALE—Solid body maple wood for sale, 16 inches long, $4.00 per cord; 16 inches long soft wood, $2.50 per cord; and some for $2.00 per cord.—K. A. Honeck.

FOR SALE—Radiant Stewart hard coal heater, cheap, economical, new fire pot; excellent condition throughout; front and sides inlaid glass; iron ornament; self feed. Inquire at this office.

FOR RENT
FOR RENT—Six room house on lower Main St. Inquire of K. A. Honeck or Chevrolet Garage.

The total supply of grain and mill feeds available for feeding is about three-fourths of the amount fed last year and two-thirds of the average amount fed during the last 5 years.

Local Markets

Wheat	96-90c
Barley	$1.00-1.05
Rye No. 1	75c
Oats	50c
Unwashed wool	23-25c
Beans in trade	21-4c
Hides (calf skin)	4c
Cow hides	3c
Horse hides	$1.50
Eggs	25-16c
New Potatoes	40-50c

LIVE POULTRY

Heavy broilers	12-13c
Leghorn hens	9c
Leghorn broilers	11c
Heavy hens, over 5 lbs.	13c
Light hens	10c
Anconas	10c
Ducks, young	13c

Markets subject to change without notice.

WISCONSIN CHEESE EXCHANGE
Plymouth, Wis., Sept. 28.—On the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange 275 boxes of cheese were offered for sale and sold as follows: 150 boxes of twins at 11 3-4c, 50 Colby twins at 11c, 75 Colby daisies at 11 1/2c. One-half cent less was suggested for Standard Brands.

The sales a year ago today were 150 twins at 10 1/2c and 150 daisies at 11c.

FARMERS' CALL BOARD
Plymouth, Wis., Sept. 28.—On the Farmers' Call Board today 905 boxes of cheese were offered for sale and all sold as follows: 640 boxes of longhorns at 11 3-4c, 55 boxes of young Americas at 11 3-4c and 210 boxes of daisies at 11 3-4c. One-half cent less was suggested for Standard Brands.

The sales a year ago today were 1,040 longhorns at 11c, 60 young Americas at 11c and 200 daisies at 11c.

Deposits INSURED by Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

The OFFICERS and DIRECTORS of this bank are well known for their business integrity, ability, and sound judgment. Being local men, they are fully acquainted with local conditions and local needs. They are directly interested in YOUR affairs and in the affairs of the community. This sound, conscientious management is a constant safeguard and protection for the bank, its customers, and the community. Think of this bank as YOUR bank—at YOUR service!

Bank of Kewaskum
Kewaskum, Wisconsin

Maximum Insurance for each Depositor $5,000.

VIRGIN DIAMONDS

are Genuine Diamonds, never before owned or worn. For your protection each Virgin Diamond may be identified by the words Virgin Diamond, and each is backed by a Certificate of Title guaranteeing it to have never before been owned or worn.

WEDDING RINGS
All our wedding rings are made by dependable manufacturers, and at reasonable prices.

Mrs. K. Endlich
JEWELER—OPTOMETRIST
Established 1906
KEWASKUM, WIS.

Let Us Put Your Name on Our List

Tailored Ensemble Is Ultra Chic

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

SUITS are the foremost message for fall. The keynote to the suit mode is sounded in two words, variety and fabric.

The new suit and tailored ensembles are that varied they include styles in every mood and tempo featuring coats and jackets all the way from seven-eighths to waistlength.

Speaking of materials, the tailored ensembles in the picture tell a story of high-style, quality-kind fabrics most eloquently.

Each of these models is fashioned of a soft-textured lightweight rabbit, woolen fabric, which while it looks the part of luxury is in reality quite moderately priced.

At the right, in the picture, one of the new monotone shadow plaids in carlon red is used on the diagonal for the skirt of the one-piece frock and on vertical lines for the three-quarter coat.

At the left, a coat cut with mannish lapels is made of a broken-checked rabbit woolen in old gold and brown, the same topping a gown of the identical material.

One of the interesting highlights in the street and sports realm is what is referred to as the "purpose" suit. The idea is to assemble all of the same material, a jacket suit plus a full-length topcoat sometimes adding a fourth piece, perhaps one of the new jacket blouses or a shirtwaist effect with buttons down the front.

A vogue which is much in evidence this fall is the gray novelty-plaided or checked skirt which is worn with a dark solid colored top.

WIDE BELTS

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Belts are growing wider and wider. The broad suede belt fastening with a composition arrow which graces this good-looking dress is typical of the new trend toward wide, wider, widest belted effects.

Frogskin Shoes Shoes of frogskin are the latest craze in Paris, and the feminine followers of fashion are taking to them.

MODISTES TAKE TO SCHOOLGIRL STYLES

"That simple little shirtwaist dress" may appear this season in anything from satin to sequins.

The knowing designers have discovered that it's highly amusing to present innocent, schoolgirlish styles in the most sophisticated and luxurious fabrics.

And women have discovered that their vampire voltage goes up at least 100 per cent when they wear seemingly innocuous frocks in wicked materials.

It's the old principle of the excessively feminine girl who knows that her dimpled charms are heightened to the masculine eye by severely tailored lines. She is completely aware that her attempt at mannish clothes merely makes the obtuse male chuckle.

Satin With Feather Capes Will Be Worn This Autumn

Satin with feather capes will again be worn this autumn by the very smartest women, for they consider this fashion both chic and flattering, as well as allowing for lovely color contrasts.

Thus a frock of deep purplish-blue satin appears under a cape of soft green feathers and a pink satin frock allies itself with a cape of cornflower blue feathers.

A black satin dress, cut on sheath lines is worn with a collar-like capelet of matching black satin edged with black heron feathers.

Flexible Handbags

Bags for fall are soft, flexible things, many of them made without rigid frames. They are all shapes and sizes, from Schiaparelli's novel five-sided bag with inverted plaits to Molyneux's oblong, underarm model.

What Women Want to Know About Fashions

Black-heeled stockings are being tested out for fall wear.

Street clothes are lengthened to average nine inches from the floor.

The velvet dress is to be popular again this autumn for both day and evening wear.

It's a glittering mode just now, and fabrics made of "cellophane" slit cellophane film are the latest news in this mode.

Fur-trimmed jacket ensembles are important.

Braid is being used for trimming on smart dresses this fall.

The old-fashioned changeable silk which grandmother loved is back in the new winter mode.

Woolen dresses, knitted and woven, featuring stripes and dots, and metal and embroideries, are shown extensively.

OUR COMIC SECTION

Events in the Lives of Little Men

THE FEATHERHEADS

Cagey Caddy

FINNEY OF THE FORCE

After the Battle

Making It Clear

Daughter—Father is worse than usual tonight.

Mother—No, you mean, as usual, father is at his worst.

Detained "What's the time, waiter?" "It's quarter past midnight, sir."

Growing Pineapples Pineapples will not grow where the frost bites.

FEW HOME RUNS

"Quite so. Some of us make hits, most of us make errors."

Adaptable "What kind of money do you prefer?" asked the plain citizen.

Should Try Elephants Sportsman (at reception)—I should like to try my hand at big game.

A Few Little Smiles

ENGLISH MISSPOKEN

"There is a growing indifference to the dignity of language."

Suitable Sidelight "I want my photograph taken, please," said the man.

Just So Jones—What has become of the old cult for plain living and high thinking?

Those Dear Girls The chorus girl came into the dressing room to announce joyfully that she was leaving at the end of the week to be married.

Was On the Air "Do you ever hear of the money you lent your neighbor?"

Shooting It Humidorcas—I'm taking up archery.

THOSE BRIDGE FIENDS "So you think you'll go to the mountains next year."

Royal Repose "I'm sorry to keep grumbling, Mrs. Higgin," said the boarder, "but really I cannot sleep in that bed another night."

Smart Guy The naval board was examining young applicants for appointment to a naval college.

Queens at Play Cousin Emily—Mrs. Spriggs went to Eleanor's the other night and found a famous airman there.

Saving Time Poet—I wish to submit a poem of mine.

That Little "But" Sick Man—How are my chances, doctor?

Reducing "My doctor says I'll have to reduce," said Mr. Dustin Stax.

Something to Laugh At? Mrs. Brown (concluding argument with neighbor)—Every time I look at you, Mrs. Smith, I feel I'm doing the government out of entertainment tax.

HERE IS PATTERN FOR THAT FROCK

PATTERN 9929 If you know you must have a new frock but are undecided as to just what it should be, this pattern will make up your mind for you.

slims at the same time it gives smartness—and the V front and back just below the beltless waistline is another flattering detail.

HOLLYWOOD STYLE He (on their honeymoon) shall never change. Ours live on forever.

This Marriage Business To the consternation of the vicar was very late for the honeymoon.

PRETTY SURE SIGN "I guess their honeymoon is over."

Like Socrates "If I had asked as many stupid questions at your age as you do, what would have become of me?"

Dad's Idea Teacher—Bobbie, tell me what your definition of a lawyer is.

Girl Friends "This necklace is supposed to be unlucky. The last three women who owned it committed suicide."

Natural Thought Sambo—If yo' had five dollars in yo' pocket, what would yo' do?

PRINTING

EFFICIENT,
PROMPT,
INEXPENSIVE

Telephone 28F1

GOOD printing service consists of more than delivering a certain amount of ink and paper in the form ordered. Good printing consists of careful consideration as to the form in which the idea is to be presented, thoughtful selection of type faces, the right grade, weight and color of the paper, accurate composition and skillful printing—That is the kind of printing service you may expect from our shop—and it costs no more than inferior printing.

No matter what your printing job may be or in what quantities, we are confident you will find our estimate of cost most interesting, workmanship most efficient and promptness in delivery most gratifying. If you find it inconvenient to visit our office, phone and we will call—You are under no obligation in asking us for an estimate.

Kewaskum Statesman Print

LET YOUR WANTS
BE KNOWN

RINGING a bell, out on the corner, is an obsolete method of making wants known—The modern way, the 1934 way in Kewaskum, is to read the Classified Ads in The Statesman—or if your want cannot be filled there—to use the Statesman Classified Ads. To place an ad simply call 28F1 and ask for ADTAKER. The rates are low.

Phone
28F1

Read and Use Classified Ads

SMART MONEY

WANT ADS

SMART Money doesn't waste its time racing around into the highways and byways. It sits itself down to a perusal of The Statesman Classified Ads, and if it fails to find what is wanted there, it then places a Statesman Classified, and gets results. No matter what you want to buy or sell you will find The Statesman Classified Ads very inexpensive & most effective

When you want to place an ad simply call 28F1

FARM AUCTION!!

Due to illness I am compelled to sell my farm and personal property Saturday, October 20th, at 9 o'clock a. m.
Rain date Monday, October 22nd
Location—3½ miles east of the Catholic Cemetery, West Bend, on the Myra road; 3½ miles southwest of Newburg.
Farm—75 acres in Sec. 16, Town of Trenton, Washington County.
Livestock—8 High Grade Holstein Milch Cows, 3 Holstein Heifers, 3 Horses, 2 Spring Pigs, 2 Hogs, 50 Hens, 40 Pallets, Dog, Bees, Honey.
Complete Line of Farm Machinery, 10 ton Baled Hay, 8 ton of Straw, Silage, 350 bushel Feed Oats, Mangels, Corn, Household Furniture. Free Warm Lunch at Noon.
FRANK SLESAR, Owner
Art. Quade, West Bend, Auctioneer

ST. MICHAELS

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Anton Herriges a baby boy. Congratulations!
Miss Rosella Rinzel spent the week-end with friends at Campbellsport.
Mr. Snyder, the supervising teacher, visited Riverside school on Tuesday morning.
The Kirmes party given at St. Michaels on Wednesday evening was largely attended.
Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Ulrichson and family of Milwaukee spent Sunday with the Louis Habeck family.

The approaching marriage of Clarence Weimer of St. Bridgets to Miss Gladys Bendle of here has been announced.
Mr. and Mrs. Leo Brunner have moved into the Mrs. A. Roden residence which was recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Zimmerman.
A number from here attended the shower at the Opera House at Kewaskum Saturday evening, given in honor of Raymond Schaeffer and Miss Agnes Melahn.

With Our Neighbors

Items of Interest Taken From Our Exchanges. Which May Prove of Value to Our Readers

Lomira Review—By special action, the Conservation commission at its meeting Saturday in Madison, declared an emergency closed season on the entire Horicon marsh and its boundary line, closing this area entirely to the hunting of any variety of migratory birds which include wild ducks, wild geese, brant, coot, jacksnipe, or Wilson's snipe, woodcock, calls, and gallinules.
The hunting of small upland game such as pheasants and rabbits in season is permitted to the edge of the marsh proper. The definition of the difference between the highlands and the marsh proper is the line of demarcation between the marsh itself and the uplands.

Cedarburg News—Justice Adams of Port Washington is taking under advisement the case of George Wiedmann vs. Walter Lueders, both of Town Cedarburg, and will announce his decision next week Tuesday.

The case involves the alleged shooting of Wiedmann's dog on Lueders' farm. At the trial held Tuesday morning it developed that Lueders did not shoot the dog, but the shooting was done by his hired man who testified that the dog was attacking the pigs on the farm.

There is a question of agency, and also a question involving alleged torture of the pigs, which the justice will consider in making his decision.
Weldman is suing Lueders for $100 damages.

Cedarburg News—A bolt of lightning struck and electrocuted Oscar Dana, 34-year-old Cedar Grove farmer, while he was opening a gate on his farm to let his cows into his barn at 6:15 p. m., Thursday.

Mr. Dana had been employed during the day at the farm of Albert Dropers whom he was helping fill a silo, and returned to his own farm directly across the road to put his team of horses in the barn at about 6 p. m. After attending to this chore, he was opening the gate to let the cows in when lightning struck a post and the electricity followed the wet wooden gate to his hand and into his body.

Plymouth Review—The Plymouth fire department was called out at about 5 o'clock Tuesday morning by a fire on a transport truck of the federal government, which was passing through the city. The fire was caused by a short circuit, and the damage was confined to burning the wiring about the engine. The truck was enroute to camp.

Plymouth Review—Having seen a demonstration by County Agent S. S. Mathisen, we are firmly convinced that it will be but a matter of time until you can go into your garden and pick an entire vegetable dinner off one plant.
Last spring, the county agent grafted a tomato slip onto a growing potato vine. Now the vine is bearing a large number of the small yellow tomatoes. The potatoes on the vine did not do so well, but this was probably because of the dry weather.

West Bend News—Theodore Geiger of Kirchbain has lost two valuable dogs since July, both coming home to die after they had been riddled with gunshot. In an effort to apprehend the persons guilty of shooting them Mr. Geiger is offering a reward for information. His police dog was shot during the middle of July. On Thursday of last week his valuable hunting dog dragged himself home after having been shot. Both animals were apparently shot not far from Kirchbain, for they could not have gone very far in their serious condition. Neither of the dogs was vicious, and both were licensed.

ROUND LAKE

Mrs. M. Calvey and son Vincent were business callers at Kewaskum Friday.

Mrs. George Buchner and son Kenneth visited the home folks Friday evening.

Mrs. Norman Seifert was a pleasant afternoon visitor at the M. Calvey home Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. M. Calvey was pleasantly entertained Sunday at the homes of Mrs. A. Dengel and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sullivan.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Meyer and family of Sheboygan visited with Mr. and Mrs. Anton Seifert and family over the week-end.

Farmers are very busy ploughing. As the frost killed the potato vines Sunday night farmers will also start digging their potatoes soon.

Mr. Firme bought a load of stock in this neighborhood the past week. Vincent Calvey disposed of a cow and he will truck them to Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Strochein of Minnesota are visiting the Rev. and Mrs. Walter Strochein and family. Mrs. Walter Strochein was taken very sick the last week and suffered hemorrhages.

George Benson, who died at St. Agnes hospital was removed to his home at Long Lake on Thursday afternoon and the funeral was held Sunday afternoon; Rev. Strochein officiated. Burial was made in the Lutheran cemetery.

Lime grinding and marl digging operations are in full swing in many Wisconsin counties this fall. Dane county already has 13 lime grinding projects in operation that are producing nearly 600 tons of agricultural limestone a day.

Twenty-five Years Ago

October 9, 1909

A. A. Penschbacher is now in possession of a fine driving horse.

Kilian Hoerig sold his hunting dog to a Milwaukee party Sunday for $15.

Miss Theresa Raether left for Batavia last Sunday to work in the Jacob Held household.

Miss Elsie Sommers started to teach school in the Swamp district near St. Michaels Monday.

Miss Lenora Backhaus commenced teaching school in the Ramthun district Monday.

Chas. Raether, Carl Meinecke and Hubert Keller spent Sunday fishing at Schrauth's Pond.

G. F. Brandt conducted an auction for William Ohrmund in the town of Wayne last Tuesday.

Miss Agatha Tiss began teaching school in the Straub district in the town of Ashford last Monday.

Rev. Ph. J. Voet attended the dedication of the St. Mary's Springs academy at Fond du Lac Thursday.

Alvin Backhaus left for Milwaukee Monday where he will attend the Milwaukee Dental school.

Adolph Rosenheimer is having an automobile garage built on his property on Fond du Lac avenue this week.

H. W. Schnurr sold his residence property near the railroad track to John Penschbacher this week.

Carl Ohrmund of Wayne moved here last Wednesday into the residence he bought of L. P. Rosenheimer.

Miss Ella Wunderle commenced teaching school in the Schaefer district, town of Kewaskum, last Monday.

Miss Agnes Clark commenced teaching school in the Wiskirchen district in the town of Farmington last Monday.

A. A. Penschbacher had a well dug on his residence property near the brick yard this week. Chas. Buse did the work.

Otto Ramthun lost his driving horse last Sunday evening, the animal was strangled to death while tied to a post near the depot.

Jos. Eberle and Math. Beisbier went to Milwaukee last Tuesday with a lot of spanferkel which they delivered to different restaurants.

August Buss, the local section foreman, left for Jackson to take charge of an extra crew of men. August Falk now has charge of the Kewaskum section.

Operator Jos. Ogenorth took a few days' vacation the forepart of the week. J. H. Martin took care of the second trick of the depot during his absence.

Wilmer Frost, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Frost, has been quite seriously ill the past week, but at the present writing is reported as being on the way to recovery.

Dennis McCollough and Wm. Meinecke left for Michigan, Sunday evening to spend the winter in the pines. Dennis will run a camp for the Isaac Stevenson Lumber Company at that place.

Chas. Urban, who has been employed as section foreman for the C. & N. W. R'y, at Rockford, for the past two years, spent Sunday evening here visiting his parents. Charles was promoted to gang foreman last Monday, and is now in charge of a crew at Granville where they are raising and graveling the tracks.

Again the angel of death visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Geidel, when on Sept. 30th, at 1 p. m., their dear son Wilton Archie, aged 2½ years, was suddenly taken with convulsions to which brain fever set in. He was released from suffering at 10 p. m., being ill only ten hours.—Elmore Correspondent.

Tuesday, Oct. 5, 1909, a pretty wedding was solemnized at the St. Michaels church, when Miss Josephine Laubach and Theodore Dworschak were united in the holy bonds of matrimony.—New Fane Correspondent.

The Lutheran Aid Society held their quarterly meeting last Sunday at the home of Louis Klumb, where the regular routine business was transacted. After the meeting the following guests were royally entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Klumb: Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Kummerow and son Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Hermin Melahn, J. P. Klein and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Raether and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jac. Remmel, William Endlich, Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Backhaus of West Bend and Mr. and Mrs. Roecker and daughter of Barton.

Last Saturday, Pat Darmody, a farmer of the town of Wayne, brought to this village an immense ear of corn which is very interesting to look at, as the size of it is very seldom. If ever seen, in this community. The ear measures 12 inches in length, weighs 11-3 pounds, has 18 rows 7 kernels, 44 kernels in each row, making a total of 812 kernels. The ear is now on exhibition at the L. Rosenheimer store.

WHAT KIND OF PRINTING DO YOU MAIL?

The personality of a business is quite often established by the character of its printed matter, such as letter heads, folders, circular letters, billheads, mail enclosures, sales bills, etc., etc. Building business personality through printed matter has been our job for forty years. Our quality printing costs no more than inferior work. Let us assist you in the creation of business stationery and other printed matter. There is no extra charge for such service—Simply phone, 28F1.

- | | |
|---------------------|---------------------|
| BUSINESS STATIONERY | BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS |
| SOCIAL STATIONERY | MAIL ENCLOSURES |
| CATALOGUES | PERSONAL CARDS |
| FOLDERS | SALE BILLS |
| BOOKLETS | CIRCULAR LETTERS |
| LETTER HEADS | BLOTTERS: MENUS |
| ENVELOPES | PLACARDS: POSTERS |

Phone 28F1, and a Representative will call

STATESMAN PRINT

Kewaskum, Wisconsin

BUSINESS MAKES BUSINESS

MR. MERCHANT, MR. BUSINESS MAN—a new and promising business season is just ahead—It is time to give thought to merchandising and promotional plans which will insure that you will get your full share of the season's business—You have gone out into the market and made extensive investments in the purchase of new stock and— you have dressed your establishment in the new merchandise. But your selling task is still ahead of you—In mapping your selling plans do not fail to take into account the importance of newspaper advertising—It is one of the most vital cogs in every successful selling campaign—and right there you feel that we are qualified to serve you—First is local market coverage—The guarantee; second is the production of eye-catching promotions and newspaper displays which will catch the buyer's eye and cause him to pause and to read—We are fully equipped through experience and with new and personal advertising material, to render the most valuable service—There is no cost for our special advertising service— assistance. Let us help you plan your merchandising program for Fall business

Kewaskum Statesman

Phone 28F1 Ask for Ad Service

COUNTY LINE

Mrs. Martha Staeger had a corn husking bee Friday evening.
Otto Hinn and son were Beechwood callers Tuesday evening.
The chicken supper given at St. John's, New Fane, Sunday was largely attended.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Butzke and family visited with Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hinn and family Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Klein of St. Bridgets and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klein of Milwaukee spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Steve Klein and family.

SOUTH ELMORE

Mrs. Math. Thill spent Sunday with friends at Campbellsport.
Mrs. Minnie Fleischman and son Frank spent Wednesday at Fond du Lac.
Miss Junerose Wilke spent the week-end at New Fane with the Anton Weisner family.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wilke spent Sunday with Miss Mary Rothenberger at Golden Corners.
Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Hilbert and family visited with Mr. and Mrs. Will Rauch and family Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Haferman of West Bend spent Saturday and Sunday with the Chas. Koepke family.
Mr. and Mrs. Joe. Strobel of Waterford and Dolores Strobel of Hartford spent Sunday with the C. Mathieu family.

ST. KILIAN

Gregor Straub of Milwaukee relatives Monday.
Ray Strobel made a business trip to Madison Tuesday.
Quite a few people attended a dinner at Campbellsport Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Roedel and family of Hartford visited Sunday with Adolph Batzler.
Mr. and Mrs. Art Schmalzer and family visited Sunday with Schukart at Milwaukee.
Mr. and Mrs. Peter Strobel and grandchild, Audrey Roman, visited with the Ray Strobel family.

The corn crop in the United States is the smallest in 47 years, the oat crop the smallest in 52 years, the hay crop the shortest in 39 years, and the wheat crop the shortest in 44 years.