Mary Amanda Hennings was born Feb. 23, 1857, in Berlin, Germany, and when but six weeks old, immigrate to this country with her parents, sett. ling at Nazuska, Sheboygan county where she lived until her marriage to Walter J. Roma ne on April 17, 1881, at Dundee. She came to her present nome in 1889.

Mrs. Romaine was the mother of six hildren, one of whom, Ruby, died July 2, 1891. Those surviving are: Mrs Richard Trapp, New Prospect; Lloyd W. Romaine, Fond du Lac; Mrs. Clarence Hill, Fond du Lac, and Mrs. Ph Koch, West Bend. She also leaves seven grandchildren to mourn her demise; also her aged husband, Walter J. Ronaine, who will greatly feel her loss. Only a few week's ago Mr. and Mrs Romaine suffered the loss by fire of their store and dwelling at New Prospect, which in itself was a great calam'ty to the aged couple.

Mrs. Romaine was a lovely woman who was greatly attached to her husbard and family, and her passing will be keenly felt by her surviving relatives and many staunch friends and neighbors.

Funeral services will be held Saturlay afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Richard Trapp at New Prospect. Rev. Mielen: of the Campbellsport M. E. church will officiate. Bur al will be in the New Prospect cemetery.

The pallbearers will be Burr and Roland Romaine, Roy Hennings, Art. Schultz, Arnold Garrity and Vincent Calvey.

IS SCENE OF WED-DING CEREMONY

The Dundee Lutheran church was the scene of a very pretty wedding Saturday, July 10, at 1:30 p. m. when Miss Irene Ramthun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ramthun of Dundee and Alvin Brandenburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brandenburg of Beechwood, were united in marriage by the Rev. Walter Strohschein, Mrs. Strohchein rendered the wedding march. The bride wore an attractive white satin gown trimmed with lace, with a ong train and long sleeves. She had a long net yeil trimmed with lace and arried an arm bouquet of cream colored roses and babysbreat.h

The bride's attendants were Miss Erma Ramthun, her cousin, as maid of honor and M ss Veila Staege as bridesmaid. Miss Ramthun wore a blue silk gown with accessories to match. She carried a bouquet of gladiolas and mixed flowers. Miss Staege wore a p nk silk gown with accessories to match and her bouquet was also of gladiolas and mixed flowers.

The bridegroom's attendants were Melvin Ramthun, brother of the bride, as best man, and Reuben Vetter, his cousin.

Attending the couple as flower girls were the little Misses Marilyn Kutz, niece of the bride, who wore a blue silk ruffled dress, and Rosalie Brandenburg, n ece of the bridegroom, wearing a pink ruffled dress. Each carried a basket or roses and mixed flowers. The church was decorated for the ccasion with baskets and vases of garden flowers. The decorations at the home of the bride's parents were of blue, white and pink. Here a wedding dinner at 5 o'clock was served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stern and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Charles Dineen, secretary of the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture, in a recent statement congratulated the Statesman and the Wisconsin Press Association for their splendid cooperation with Wisconsin's great dairy industry in again conducting a Dairy Menu Contest.

Mr. Dineen points out that a contest of this kind will greatly increase the use of dairy products in Wisconsin and other states. The fact that in a single day more than 7,500 people requested copies of last year's winning dairy menus clearly indicates the trehighway committees, and to shermendous interest created by the coniffs."

Strike Riot Kills Two

O NE striker and one policeman were killed and twenty men were injured at an aluminum plant in Alcoa, Tenn., when rioting broke out as 3,000 strikers started a backto-work movement. The plant, belonging to the Aluminum Company of America, had been closed since May 18, when the strike was called by the Aluminum Workers of America, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor. Difference in wages paid at Alcoa and at the company's plant in New Kensington, Pa., was the issue in the strike. State troops were on hand, but Adjt.-Gen. R. O. Smith, in charge, said that they were there merely to protect rights, and no martial law had been declared.

Lewis Scans the Sea

 $J_{\rm the}^{\rm OHN}$ L. LEWIS sought to expand the scope of his Committee for Industrial Organization by invading the maritime industry. With Harry Bridges, west coast longshoremen's leader, he sought to unify scattered maritime unions in one big industrial organization dominated by the C. I. O. The American Federation of Labor already has two strong unions in the maritime field, so this action brings Lewis into another point of friction with William Green's organization. The nation has 250,000 marine and coastal workers.

Meanwhile, the fall of Bilbao was expected to add 150,000 refugees to the constant stream pouring into loyalist Valencia. Although some of the refugees remained in France, where they were first taken, the vast majority preferred to go to Catalonia, where the government takes care of them at its own expense. Nearly 1,500,000 have arrived in Valencia since the start of the war and 300,000 have remained there.

Bingham's 4th of July

R OBERT WORTH BINGHAM, United States ambassador to London, became the third prominent American to bring down the fury of Nazi Germany's officialdom and press when, in an Independence day speech before the American society in that city, he declared Uncle Sam had been forced by the dictator countries to join Britain in an armament race. Mayor LaGuardia of New York and Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago had been other recent Nazi targets. The ambassador was quoted as saying: "There must be some (of the dictatorships) who realize that they have imposed upon the British commonwealth and the United States an armaments race.

"We did everything in our power to avert it, but it is a race, and the British and ourselves must inevitably win. I admit the strongest arguments that can be made for dictatorships-they offer a better method of preparing for war. But I am sure that democracies provide a better way to finish a war.' The Nazis charged that the ambassador had insulted Germany and

Uncle Sam Checks Up

[]NCLE SAM wound up the 1937 fiscal year with a net deficit of $2,707,347,110, or about $150,000,000 more than President Roosevelt estimated last April, according to the report of the United States Treasury. The gross national public debt climbed to a total of $36,424,613,732 as of June 30, it was shown.

Receipts for the period just closed were the largest in 16 years, amounting to $5,293,840,236, compared with $4,115,956,615 for the 1936-37 year and about $70,000,000 in excess of estimates. Expenditures were $8,105,158,547, including $103,-933,250 for debt retirement originally planned for that period but carried over into the current year.

Completion of the debt retirement program as previously contemplated would have called for the expenditure of $404,525,000, which would have placed the gross deficit above the $3,000,000,000 mark.

In the 1936-37 period, recovery and relief costs were more than $400.-000,000 below the total for the year before, amounting to $2,846,462,932 against $3,290,927,869. Reliable authorities around the capitol said that as soon as all appropriation bills for the 1938 fiscal year were cleared, the President would direct the heads of all government departments to impound 10 per cent of their appropriations, exclusive of fixed charges, in an attempt to balance the budget. Experts said that a maximum of $400,-000,000 could be saved in that way. The prospective net deficit for 1938 was estimated at $400,000,000. -*-

Ford Tests Labor Board

THE national labor relations board is receiving its most exacting test in the hearings at Detroit on the United Automobile Workers' union complaint that the Ford Motor company is guilty of unfair labor practices. The U. A. W. U. is a C. I. O. affiliate; Ford is opposed to the unions.

It was expected that the hearings might take a long time and may eventually reach the United States Supreme court. After the hearings in Detroit a board examiner will draw up "intermediate findings" and send them to the NLRB in Washington, accompanied by a transcript of the evidence and briefs of both sides. The board will then either order the Ford Motor company to "cease and desist" its unfair practices or dismiss the union's charges. Appeal may be taken to the United States circuit court of appeals, which has the power of enforcement which NLRB lacks.

The case may reach the Supreme court if the Constitution is involved. One of the allegedly unfair practices to which the U. A. W. A. objects is distribution of anti-union literature by the Ford company to its employees. The company charges that a denial of this would violate constitutional guaranties of free speech and a free press.

anything serious in the way of cutting down government expenses. There is nothing that can be done now toward carrying out the expressions made by President Roosevelt in his message last January when he told congress that he wanted to cut federal expenses and take important steps toward balancing the federal budget. The reason that federal spending is due to go on for another year at the extraordinary rate of the last four or five years is because a majority in congress, under the lash of the White House, refused to require states and local governments to bear a percentage of the relief costs. In other words, federal spending will go on because congress and the President have lacked the courage to start taking the federal government out of the relief work and gradually restore it to the care of those folks in the various communities who know where relief is need-

There had been a very determined movement in congress to compel the states to share in the gigantic relief burden. It took on various forms and had various sponsors. But the end and aim of all of them was to divide the cost in equitable fash-

He offered an amendment to the relief bill which would have required the states to contribute one-fourth of the amount expended in each state, with the federal Treasury supplying the remainder. When that amount was offered. it was something in the nature of a compromise between proposals that the states should bear 40 per cent and that they should bear none of the cost. With the White House operating through the President's lobbyist, Charles West, and Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the administration was able to force defeat of the Robinson amendment. Now, Senator Barkley is assistant Democratic leader of the senate and so we had the spectacle of one Jacob Baker was resigning his one of Mr. Roosevelt's spokesmen job as assistant relief administrator being on one side and a second one on the other side. court each year for Sen.Robinson every justice remaining on the court after reaching the age of seventyfive years. Under its provisions the President would be permitted to name one new justice this year (besides filling the vacancy left by the retirement of Justice Willis Van Devanter) and assure him of at least one new appointment to the court in each remaining year of his present term of office. All of the appointments would hinge on the decision of justices seventy-five or older on retirement.

The opposition immediately charged that the new bill was as offensive as the old one. Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, said: "The compromise is not going to get through. The new bill is just as objectionable as the old, because it seeks to pack the Supreme court just like the original bill did." Sen. Edward R. Burke, Democrat, Nebraska, said the 43 senators would vote against any kind of measure that would increase the Supreme court.

Some of the other provisions of the new bill were:

Authority for 20 additional appointments to lower courts in the event that judges over seventy fail to retire. The old bill would have permitted 50 new appointments altogether.

Speedy intervention by the government in cases involving constitutionality of federal laws, and speedy appeal to the Supreme court. -*-

Triple Split for Palestine

PALESTINE would be split into three parts and British mandate over the whole country ended, according to suggestions made by the royal commission on Palestine and delivered to the British government. The commission was formed a year ago to find some way of putting an end to Arab-Jewish riots. Under the new plan, about twothirds of Palestine would be converted into an Arab state and about one-third into a Jewish state. A small territory, including the holy cities of Jerusalem, Bethlehem and Nazareth, and a corridor to the sea, would be given to Great Britain as a permanent mandate. It is claimed that the plan would remove the Arabs from Jewish domination, give the Jews a home and protect Christian shrines.

Answer: How you behave indicates much more the depth of your mourning than what you wear or where you go. This does not mean to let yourself cry, or sit wrapped in your own sadness, but merely that you should behave with quiet inconspicuousness. No one expects you not to go to the houses of your friends, either when they are alone or when they are having a very few others who are also your friends. Naturally you would not go to dances or to big parties. You can, however, go to the movies with a member of your family or a friend alone. And of course you need not give up sports that can be considered exercise and are therefore necessary to your health.

SOMEONE'S PICKING YOUR POCKET!

It's the Hidden Tax Collector-He Respects Not Even the Real Necessities of Life, and How He Wallops Your Budget!

By WILLIAM C. UTLEY D^O YOU make $150 a month? If you do, you'll be interested-and perhaps a little surprised-to learn that the tax collector picks your pocket to the tune of one-eighth of your income. He sneaks enough from the family wallet in two years to buy a new car.

Yes, he picks your pocket. For this "take"-which amounts to 12.7 cents out of every dollar-represents indirect, or "hidden," taxes. They're not like your income tax or personal property tax or a state retail sales tax, for you rarely know when you have to "shell out" for them. They're concealed in the price of the goods and services you buy, even the bare necessities of life such as bread and shoes. "Death and taxes are inevitable"-and all too often invisible.

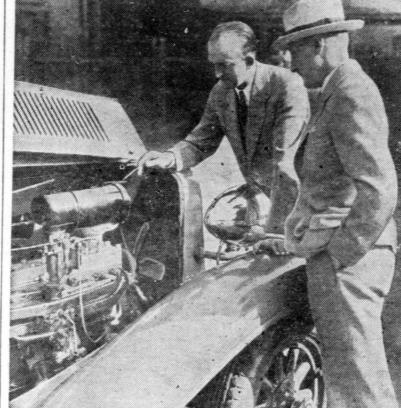

These are only a few of many illuminating revelations to come out of a survey just completed by the Family Economics bureau of the Northwestern National Life Insurance company, of Minneapolis. The study was started in November, 1935. Records of 206 concerns -public utilities, insurance companies, manufacturers, jobbers and retailers-were investigated "in an effort to measure as accurately as possible the proportion of prices paid by the consumer for which taxes-federal, state and local -are responsible."

All levies which would not normally be included in the cost of goods and services sold were omitted in the calculations which followed from the original producer to the retailer. The principal taxes entering into the picture then were: Farm and urban realty taxes, personal property and general property taxes of business concerns, exchise taxes, licenses, fees and franchises, moneys and credits taxes, gasoline and oil taxes on motor truck deliveries, import duties and the tax element in freight costs involved in the various steps of distribution

Taxes Are Passed On.

To understand the figures it is necessary to understand how some of these indirect taxes work. "In the case of a retailer who owns the building which houses his store," says the report, "real estate taxes are shown on his books as an item of overhead, and their participa-tion in the 'makeup' which he must add to his cost prices can be measured with considerable certainty.

"However, if he rents his store building, the taxes on the building are necessarily contained in the rental paid, and are just as surely on of his ove a port even though concealed in the entry "rent. "In the wholesale price which the retailer pays for his merchandise is necessarily contained an overhead element consisting of the real estate taxes on the building occupied by the wholesaler, and just as necessarily, taxes on the factory which produced the goods contribute a portion of the price charged the jobber by the manufacturer. "This study," the report continued, "has undertaken to include in the figures finally attained the principal elements affecting ultimate prices charged, whether actually listed as 'taxes' on the books of the business, or contained as a portion of some other entry." Social security taxes were not considered, "because they are in a sense deposits for future withdrawal." Gasoline taxes were computed, because gasoline and oil are subject to local taxes in all 48 states and the District of Columbia, in addition to the federal levy.

What the salesman doesn't always tell you: The cost of a used car and its operation include hidden taxes amounting to 20.1 per cent. If it were a new car, the figure would be 21.4 per cent.

Here's the way the tax collector | were it not for the inevitable taxes. fares with that one: The great proportion of indirect

And I see the man who feverishly is striving after riches so that when he breaks down he may afford the most expensive nerve specialist. And the spoiled woman who was born with a silver spoon in her mouth, but judging by her expression the spoon must have been full of castor oiland the flavor lasts. And the poor little rich children who have everything now and so will have nothing -except maybe dollars-when they grow up.

Curious, isn't it, that so little buys such a lot for some people and such a lot buys so little for the others?

The Return of Prosperity.

CAN'T help gloating over what appeared in this space when I predicted that the temperamental and fickle bird of passage known as prosperity was winging its way back. Because the Better Business bureau reports that sellers of nogood stocks are showing increased activity. Moreover, I hear that for the first time in years practically all the veteran bunco-steers are off relief. The lean times when the locusts of depression gnawed away our substance must indeed be over if the customers begin to nibble more freely at the same dependable old baits. So, as he thumbs his copy of the sucker list against the morrow's campaign, I seem to hear Mr. Henry J. Slickguy (late of Leavenworth but now opening offices in the Wall street district) murmuring to himself:

"Happy days are here again! Drouth may kill the corn, Rust rots The automobile today has passed the stage where it may be classified the wheat. Boll weevils destroy the cotton. But, thanks be, there's one crop in America which never fails!' Have you a little gold brick in your home, dear reader? Well, don't worry, nobody's going to be slighted. Ere long you'll get your chance to invest in one.

Tax-Grabber Is Killjoy.

The researchers estimated that the average worker's family with an income of $150 a month spends $43.50 for food; of this 7.1 per cent, or $3.00, goes to the hidden tax collector. Of the $30 spent for shelter, hidden taxes take more than a quarter, $7.59. They account for 8 per cent of the $16 clothing bill, or $1.28. Fuel and light cost $11, but 9.5 per cent of this, or $1.05, represents indirect taxes.

The tax-grabber really cuts into the family's enjoyment of life. The cost of an average used car, including license, and gas and oil sales tax, is $14.50 a month; hidden taxes $3.00 the $150-a-month family can set aside for recreation includes 30 cents for the tax-grabber, who seldom shows his face.

Insurance bears a lighter tax load. Of the $5.00 spent monthly direct taxes amounting to 8.14 per for that protection, only 2.6 per cent, or 13 cents, falls into the hidden tax barrel. Sundries and miscellaneous items-toothpaste, jewelry, tobacco, etc.-which cost $27 a month are burdened with taxes amounting to 10.2 per cent, or $2.75.

The hidden taxes which eat away at an $80 monthly income are slightly less in proportion, since it is the tax collector. If the lady spends assumed that such an income does not ordinarily permit the owner- never be happy to learn that she

Gasoline and oil taxes, totaling $884,000,000, make up the bulk of motorists' current tax contribution. Combined federal and state taxes on gasoline average slightly over five cents per gallon, for the country as a whole.

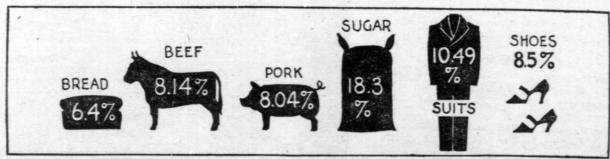

The purchaser of a new low-priced car pays $101 in taxes, direct and indirect, during his first year of ownership, according to the study. He pays approximately $64 in taxes as a part of the original purchase price, the study shows. This figure includes $3.30 estimated tax content in the freight costs, $14.41 in excise taxes, and numerous direct and indirect taxes which accumulate in material and production costs to an estimated amount of $46.10.

Computations Conservative.

If the motorist operates his can 7,200 miles a season, his gasoline and oil sales taxes will total approximately $23; with an average cost for his new car license of $14.50, a motorist thus contributes some $101.50 in taxes during his first year of ownership.

If, however, the $64 of taxes contained in the original purchase price is averaged down to an annual depreciation basis of $10.42, assuming resale or trade-in at the end of the third year for $350, the motorist's average tax cost becomes $48.14 annually for the three years, the study shows. This figure is computed on the very conservative operating basis of 7,200 miles per season, the report points out.

The owner of a used car in its fourth to seventh year of service contributes an average of $35 annually in taxes, the study shows, if he operates his car a modest 6,000 miles per season. © Western Newspaper Union.

Making Mental Slips.

THE most incredible thing has come to pass. Here I go along, year after year, building up a reputation for invariably being right, the same as George Bernard Shaw and Mme. Secretary Perkins. Then -bango!-I make one little slip and the trusting reader is shocked from pit to dome.

The other day I suggested taxing salaries of governmental em-ployees. Now from all sides I'm told federal employees are subject to income taxes; only the vast majority of them, and probably the hardest-worked ones, draw such small wages that they owe Uncle Sam nothing when March 15 rolls, around.

So far as I recall, this is the second time in my life I've been wrong. I can't cite what the other instance was-some very trifling matter, no doubt-but it must have occurred because I remember the nation-wide excitement which ensued, with people going around in a daze muttering: "Can it be possible?"

I now admit that early error and the recent one, too, and humbly beg pardon of my devoted public-all eight of them. It'll never happen again. . . .

Conquered Champions.

T HAS been brought to the attention of Mr. James J. Braddock that something happened to him a while back. Probably, by now, he has quit wondering whether many others were caught in the earthquake, but is reported to be still saying "Ouch!" at intervals.

And now, as is customary, his backers will insist he demand a return engagement-or disaster-with the Brown Bomber. But if I were Mr. Braddock-game though he be -I think I'd pattern my reply on the example of the gentleman who was knocked galley-west by a hitand-run motorist.

As the dazed pedestrian was trying feebly to ascertain whether he was all in one piece, a kind-hearted citizen hurried up.

"Have an accident?" he inquired, brightly.

"No, thank you," said the victim; "just had one." IRVIN S. COBB.

Satsuma Ware, Japanese Pottery Satsuma ware is a famous variety of Japanese pottery. It is pale yellow and has minute crackles in the glaze. It is richly painted and lavishly gilt. It was widely manufactured in the last century at Awata, near Kioto. The cracked appearance is partly due to the process of firing.

His words were the spark that exploded the men. His last sentence was drowned in a roar that shook the building. As he leaped from the table and made for the entrance-way, all 80 of the prospectors surged after him, crowding and jamming into the narrow passage. A little knot of them, on the outer fringe, seized a chair, smashed out a window and scrambled through to the outside.

Craig shouted an order at the men, to stop them, but his voice was lost in the uproar. Northup snatched out his belt-gun and shot into the floor, to draw their attention and halt the mob rush; but even the bark of his .44 was drowned out.

Craig seized him by the arm. 'Dennis! We've got to stop 'em! They're blind mad, crazy mad. They'll wreck the whole works over there. They might kill Kessler. We've got to head 'em off. Herethis way-let's get out this way." He yanked at the office window, flung it up. Northup vaulted through. Craig turned for an instant.

It is not too early to begin to select cockerels for next year's breeding pens. A common error among poultrymen is to sell the largest and quickest maturing cockerels on the broiler market and keep the later maturing birds for breeders. Such a practice may mean a few extra dollars now, but in reality it is a very short-sighted policy.

Poultrymen who do not pedigree should keep a large number of the early hatched cockerels. Remember it is essential to retain a relatively large number to insure a good selection later in the year. Selection should be based on large body size and early sexual maturity. The poultryman who practices pedigree breeding should retain three or four of the best cockerels from each female breeder. It will be impossible to determine the best families until the sisters of these prospective breeders have been laying at least three months. For those who want to reduce the number of cockerels to be held over the summer, the only sensible basis of culling at this date would be hatchability of the dam and livability to date of brothers and sisters on Ways to Kill Weeds A recent report by the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture describes methods used by state highway departments in eradicating weeds along roadsides.

Machine mowing, most generally used, often must be supplemented by hand cutting or by use of chemicals to kill weeds not reached by the mower. Highways of modern design, with slopes that can be reached easily by mowers and side ditches that can be mowed over, make machine mowing more effec-

Burning is used mostly to dispose of cut or killed weeds. Various chemicals are particularly adaptable for use along guardrails, around culvert headwalls, and in other places not readily accessible for cutting.

Improvements undoubtedly will be made in present methods of weed control and new methods will be discovered, say highway engineers, but effective control is possible with the methods now used. Regardless of methods used, they say it is important that eradication be thorough, for small patches of undamaged weeds may reseed large areas
