WOMAN'S CLUB CELEBRATES 25th ANNIVERSARY

On the evening, January 15, 1938, the members of the Women's club, affiliated with the W. F. W. C. and their guests, gathered at the home of Mrs. F. W. C. to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the club.

Officers of the club are still the same, with Mrs. M. R. ... The fact that it was able to maintain its organization as a club for 25 years is a credit to the work of the club.

The club was organized on Jan. 15, 1913, under the leadership of Mrs. M. R. ... The club has been successful in many of its projects and has been a source of pleasure to its members.

KEWASKUM TEAMS BOTH WIN AGAIN

Kewaskum's Ladd o' Lakes basketball team gained another notch in the standings last Sunday evening with a convincing victory over the Menomonee Falls Greys. The score was 55 to 28, and gave the locals revenge over a previous setback by that team.

The strength of the Falls team can be discovered by its place in the league standings. Falls has been up near the top all season but Kewaskum helped cut them down a bit.

PETER RABBIT FINDS BUMBLE BEE

If you look for Bumble Bee Never, never, needless be Or, like Peter Rabbit, you May have cause your search to rue.

IT SEEMED to Peter Rabbit that never had he known Bumble Bee to keep out of sight so long when there were plenty of bright-faced flowers. In fact it seemed to Peter as he inhaled it over that Bumble who had been one of those people who are forever poking in where they are not wanted. Now when he was wanted he couldn't be found. Peter had run his legs almost off among the brightest flowers on the Green Meadows or even hearing his everlasting hum, though two or three times Bumble had but just left a group of flowers when Peter arrived.

Quite discouraged he sat down to rest and get his breath. By and by along came the Merry Little Breezes of Old Mother West Wind. They were dancing and skipping in the happy way which is always theirs and when they saw Peter they rushed over to him and rumbled his hair and ruffled his whiskers. "What's the matter with our happy-go-lucky Peter?" they cried. "Nothing very much, only I want to find Bumble Bee and can't," re-

Redtail the Hawk was not in sight. It was very exciting, but after a little it grew tiresome and Peter was almost tempted to give up hunting for Bumble Bee. But he didn't.

At last as he drew near a little group of flowers he heard something that made him sit up and listen. It was a humming sound. Peter kicked up his heels for joy, for he knew that only one could hum like that and that one was Bumble Bee. Pell-mell he scampered right in among the flowers. Bumble wasn't to be seen. Peter knew that he was deep in the heart of one of the flowers and eagerly he began to look into them and I am afraid he was a little rough with them. Now, of course, what Peter should have done was to sit up and wait for Bumble to come out. That would have been the polite thing to do, and it always pays to be polite. But Peter was in too much of a hurry, and so he rushed from flower to flower and at last—well, sir, he found him, and then he wished he hadn't.

You see Bumble is very quick tempered, and when Peter quickly thrust his wobbly little nose into the flower where Bumble was hard at work extracting honey, Bumble felt that no one else had any business there and promptly thrust a little lance into Peter's nose. My, how Peter squealed and danced.

"Buz-z-z! Serves you right for poking your nose in where it doesn't belong," grumbled Bumble as he prepared to fly away.

KNOW THYSELF

by Dr. George D. Greer

WHAT IS MEANT BY THE TERMS "EXTRAVERT" AND "INTROVERT"?

AN INTROVERT is a person who lives chiefly within himself. He is quiet, withdrawing from social life, prefers to work alone, is imaginative, sensitive, careful about details, and likely to worry over small matters. He day-dreams and lives much in his inner imaginative life which he does not express to other people. An extravert is just the opposite: he lives externally, is a good mixer, careless about details but excellent as a promoter and organizer, is a leader, is often "happy-go-lucky," and does not tend to worry. His feelings are not easily hurt, and he prefers activity to seclusion. Most people are a mixture of these traits, and are called ambiverts.

MANNERS OF THE MOMENT

By JEAN

© The Associated Newspapers

THE modern young mother has her troubles, we know. But one of the worst, it seems to us, is how to retain her dignity while in the park with the little darling. Little darlings have a habit of diving head first into ash cans, leaping thoughtlessly over fences, or suddenly taking to the open road. An alert mother, no matter how new her suit is, or how unstable her hat, has to be prepared to do the life saving act at almost any moment.

But to cut the actual physical pursuit of stray young ones down to the minimum, we would suggest that every mother carry a whistle tied on a ribbon around her neck. Two shorts and a long for Betsy. Two longs and a short for Betsy. If you would train the children to respond automatically to the right whistle, it would be easier. Probably with a pocketful of lump sugar this could be done.

For very small youngsters at the crawling stage, a ribbon tied around his wrist and Mom's, with plenty of length, isn't a bad idea. A mother can read a book in comfort, then, knowing that when baby gets too far away a jerk at the wrist will call attention to that fact. Of course, sometimes you get tangled up in the shrubbery that way. And there are children who seem to be able to get into trouble, no matter how little rope you give them. But if you are like that, you probably gave up reading books long ago, anyhow.

FARM TOPICS

GOOD OUTLOOK FOR THE DAIRY BRANCH

Agricultural Bureau Sees Better Prospects.

Supplied by the United States Department of Agriculture—WNU Service.

Conditions in the dairy industry are likely to average better in the next three or four years than during the last four or five, it was stated by the bureau of agricultural economics in its annual dairy outlook report.

The bureau looks for rising prices of milk cows in 1935 and 1936. It was further stated that "during the next two years, at least, the cost of production and other costs of production are likely to be rather favorable for dairymen."

This winter prices of dairy feeds will be lower and milk production per cow will be higher. Increases in consumption of fluid milk and cream in cities and villages will tend to offset in part the effect of increased production of milk on the production of manufactured dairy products, the bureau said.

Principal increases in commercial dairy production during the next few years are expected in specialized dairy sections and in some of the newer areas where there has been a marked upward trend in production. Increased consumption of fluid milk and cream during the next five years also was forecast.

The long-time uptrend in per capita consumption of manufactured dairy products during the last four years was attributed mainly to increased consumption of ice cream, concentrated milks and cheese. Since the 1890's there has been no consistent tendency for the per capita consumption of butter to increase or decrease.

Improvements in processing methods and in refrigeration and transportation facilities, together with advertising and educational programs have tended to widen and expand the outlets for dairy products.

Daily Record of Hens

Is Advice of Expert

The poultry flock, like a football team, needs a record of days or eggs, of the number of first downs made, and the number of players taken out of the game or the number of hens removed from the laying house. The man who sells eggs finds it pays to count his chickens both before and after they are hatched, if he wants to know how well his flock is producing, says Prof. L. M. Hurd of the poultry department at Cornell university.

A daily record of eggs laid by pullets and by hens, together with a record of all culling and deaths in the flock helps the poultryman to find the source of his profit or loss. A calendar to jot down this daily information may be fastened to the wall of the egg room.

Keep Layers Confined

Keep the layers in close confinement within the winter laying quarters during the winter months, where they will be induced to a maximum food consumption, where they will be subjected to fewer agencies which might lower health levels, and where their environment may be controlled and held more advantageous and dry. With cold-liver oil in their dry mash exposure of hens to direct sun's rays in winter days is not so essential.

Grit for Birds on Range

It depends entirely upon the type of soil as to whether or not grit should be supplied to birds on the range. If the soil is sandy or gravelly there is no use of supplying it. If it is a heavy type of soil a supply of gravel or commercial poultry grit probably is a good thing. There is some question as to whether or not it is necessary to supply grit to poultry but most of the experiments have indicated some advantage to using it.

Protect the Buzz Saws

Buzz saws, when idle, should be protected from damage, and also prevented from being a source of injury to people or animals. An excellent cover for a buzz saw is a guard made from an old discarded automobile tire. This will not only keep the blade dry, and prevent anything from hitting and dulling the points, but it will greatly reduce chance of injury to children. The size of the tire required will depend upon the size of the saw.

Cure for Scaly Legs

To cure scaly legs in hens make a salve of equal parts of lard and powdered sulphur; mix this together and put it in the form of a paste; apply this, applying it from the hock right down to the toes. Apply treatment twice weekly until the legs clean up. Do not use kerosene oil on the legs of the birds, as it is too harsh and will cause them to become raw. About five or six treatments should effect a complete cure.

Retaining Cider Flavor

Cider kept at zero, Fahrenheit, or lower retains its flavor practically unchanged for a period of at least five months, says Wallace's Farmer. Cider to be frozen is placed in glass jars or waxed paper cartons, and a head space equal to one-tenth the volume of the liquid is left for expansion of the liquid while freezing. Filtered or unfiltered cider can be preserved equally well. Cider from storage should be consumed as soon as it thaws.

A Lift Toward Spring

GOOD frocks and true are these favorite designers, Sew-Your-Own. There's an ultra-polished model for informal evenings (dancing and that sort of thing), called the "Good-night frock." Then there's the more home-loving "Good-morning" number, and to complete the trio, a swell little afternoon frock for tea-time goings-on. Why not spend happy days ahead in these very frocks? All you need do, you know, is to Sew, Sew, Sew-Your-Own!

And for a charming "Good-afternoon," choose a frock with plenty on the personality side. Such is the new young model at the right. Buttons in a line down the front will you in so many darts and dusters that here you have "go-gitty" style for Spring, 1935. Princess lines cared for fastidiously by a belt, and a collar with much of what it takes—these are things that prompt Sew-Your-Own to put this frock in its Fashion-First Review for the Spring season.

HOUSEWIFE HAS FAVORED DISHES

Cherished Recipes That Appeal to the Family.

By EDITH M. BARBER

ALMOST every housekeeper has some precious recipes which provide dishes that the family especially likes and that her guests appreciate because of some individual touch.

Because I can add a recipe of this sort to my collection, I feel that I am indeed fortunate, and I feel sure that you will like to have me share some of these with you. Sometimes, when I am given a cherished recipe, it is with the stipulation that I do not share it with anyone else. Again I am allowed to publish it in my column, perhaps with the hope that no friend or relative will send it back to the town of its origin. I did hear of one which returned to a southern city by India, Paris and New York.

Recipes of this sort are not always novel to everyone, but when they have been a specialty and are extremely good, they attain a sort of glamor. In any case, they are always delicious.

Here are two which have been presented to me by their owners within the last few months.

Yorkshire Tarts.
1/2 cup butter
1 pound powdered sugar
6 eggs
4 lemons
Tart shells

Cream the butter and herk in the sugar. Add the beaten eggs and juice and grated rind of the lemon. Place in a double boiler and stir over hot water until smooth and thick. Cool and use as a filling for tart shells or to put between layers of cake. This filling may be kept in the refrigerator and used as needed.

Orange Bread Pudding
1 cup bread crumbs
2 tablespoons butter
2 cups scalded milk
2 egg yolks
1/2 cup sugar
Juice of 2 oranges
Grated rind of 2 oranges

Add bread crumbs and butter to scalded milk and soak thirty minutes. Then add egg yolks beaten with sugar and orange juice and rind. Pour into buttered pudding dish, place dish in shallow pan of water and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until firm. Cool and cover with meringue.

WORTH TRYING

Fried Clams.
1 pint clams
2 eggs
1/2 cup milk
1 1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
Salt

Clean clams. Drain and milk. Beat eggs until light, stir in milk alternately with the flour which has been mixed and sifted with the baking powder. Stir in clams and seasonings. Drop by spoonfuls into deep hot fat, (360 degrees Fahrenheit.)

and cook until golden brown. Drain on soft paper and serve at once.

Fruit Souffle.

5 egg whites
Salt
1 cup finely crushed sweetened fruit
Beat egg whites until very stiff. Fold in salt and crushed sweetened fruit. Pour mixture into well-butted double boiler, cover and cook over hot water one hour, without removing cover. Turn out of boiler onto serving platter and serve with whipped cream or custard sauce.

French Fried Potatoes.

Peel and slice potatoes in rather long thin pieces. Put into cold water a few minutes. Drain and dry well. Fry in deep fat, hot enough to brown a piece of bread in twenty seconds (395 degrees Fahrenheit). Potatoes will take about twenty minutes to cook unless cut in very thin pieces. Drain on soft paper and salt before serving.

Steamed Soft Clams.

Wash and scrub clams thoroughly, changing water several times. Put into large kettle, allow one-half cup water to four quarts clams; cover closely and steam until shells partly open. Serve with dishes of melted butter. Serve the liquor right in kettles in glasses or cups.

Custard Sauce.
3 egg yolks
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups scalded milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Beat eggs slightly, stir in sugar and salt. Stir in scalded milk slowly. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until thickened, or the spoon is coated. Chill and flavor.

Honey Toast.

1 egg
1/2 cup milk
Bread
Butter
Honey
Cinnamon

Beat the egg and add the milk to it. Slice the bread about one-fourth inch thick. Dip the slices in the egg mixture and saute in butter until slightly brown, turning once. Spread with honey to which a little cinnamon has been added.

Taylor Syndicated He Was Not Fit to Be President

James H. Beard, the Ohio-bred artist who devoted more than 60 years to wielding the palette and brush, once while painting a portrait of Gen. Zachary Taylor told the militarist that he was very much opposed to his nomination to the presidency. Although born in Buffalo in 1814, Beard spent his boyhood in Painesville and a number of years in his studio in Cincinnati.

While on a journey down the Mississippi to New Orleans, relates a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, he stopped at Baton Rouge, La., to paint a large, almost life-size portrait of General Taylor, who was at the time foremost among the Whig possibilities for nomination to the presidency.

While at work on the portrait one day, Beard said to the man who had distinguished himself in the Black Hawk war, the Seminole campaign, and the Mexican war: "General, I will vote for you, but under protest. I never knew you as a statesman, and I am not certain that a military man is qualified for the office."

Without wincing, General Taylor smiled and replied: "You are right. I am no more fit to be President than you are. Don't vote for me."

JURISDICTION OVER LAKES

Shared by U. S., Canada

The boundary between the United States and Canada runs through the center of the four border lakes and their connecting channels (Lake Michigan, of course, being entirely within the United States); and jurisdiction over the lakes is shared by the two countries, observes a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Both countries have an interest in maintaining the natural level of the lakes in order to keep the water power at Sault Ste. Marie and at Niagara undiminished, and in order that the depths of harbors and the channels connecting the lakes may not be lessened.

There is a permanent International Waterways commission, consisting of three Americans and three Canadians, that has control of the waters of the lakes for power and other purposes.

Within the territory of the United States, shipping and navigation are subject to the same laws and regulations as prevail on the other nat-

"Nothing doing with this mad rush stuff. You're forgetting about my mother. I couldn't be married without her, I couldn't, Curt."

"Oh, he's named Oliver Land and I met him at the Steeles' and he told me about Vinco's and took me there. Even now while she was so happy, there was a little sharp spot when she remembered Oliver, not of regret but of anger."

"No, I don't believe she will. Darling Anne, she's the most wonderful, the grandest—she didn't want me to marry Bob Eddis, Curt."

"I might do that. I wonder—what's your mother going to say?" "That woman's been abusing me something shameful for being so slow. She said that you sounded exactly like the kind of girl she always wanted me to marry and if I didn't propose to you pretty soon she'd come and do it for me."

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK... By Lemuel F. Parton

NEW YORK.—There was a tiger in an open door in China, the door of a cave, and not John Hay's open door. Young Joseph Clark Grew crawled in and killed it.

That was in 1904. In Tokyo, Ambassador Grew relays notes and apologies back and forth, as an ambassador would at a time like this, but his job is a lot more important than that and his qualifications much greater.

He is a singularly shrewd, tactful and seasoned career diplomat. In the State department, it is apparent that, as Governor Landon said, "Politics stops at the water's edge," and Mr. Grew, a Hoover appointee, has in his experienced hands the furtherance of the President's policy in the Far East at a time of possibly critical tension.

Knock Down Jungle Rows His Delight

He hunted big game in southern Asia and then wrote a book about it, "Sport and Travel in the Far East." He had vague ideas then about what he wanted to do when he finished his jungle engagement, but was inclined toward writing. The bear story, a red-hot pulp magazine splash, caught T. R.'s eye when he was browsing through young Grew's book.

Without a single foot-slip he moved on up, through 33 years in posts at Mexico City, Petrograd, Berlin, Vienna, Copenhagen and Bern. He was secretary of the American delegation at the Versailles peace conference, and a member of many governmental missions and conferences.

He is fifty-seven years old, tall, weathered, graying, with a heavy, gray moustache. Mrs. Grew is a granddaughter of Commodore Perry, who, for good or ill, opened Japan to the West, and vice-versa, in 1853.

Americans versed in the ways and the personalities of international diplomacy aver that Italy's loss is the gain of the United States in the appointment of Count Rene Doyne de St. Quentin as French ambassador to this country.

It will perhaps be recalled that the count had previously been named as ambassador to Italy and that, when Mussolini insisted that the new envoy's credentials be addressed to "the king of Italy and emperor of Ethiopia," the Quai d'Orsay proved recalcitrant.

Unwilling to recognize the conquest of Haile Selassie's kingdom, the French insisted that the address be merely to "the king of Italy." So arose an impasse which endures to this day.

During the attempt of France and Great Britain to ease the Italo-Ethiopian situation by negotiation in the period before the imposition of sanctions, Count St. Quentin had served his country as technical expert in the delicate issue, and previously, in 1932, he had served in similar capacity as French representative on the international committee that investigated conditions in Liberia.

FARM AND HOME LINES
The total supply of canned vegetables for the coming year is expected to be from 15 to 20 per cent larger than last year.
The Wisconsin fall pig crop is estimated at 87,000 head, a decline of 57,000 head from a year ago, or between 6 and 7 per cent.
The civilized governments of the world are probably spending 20 million dollars a year trying to fight locusts, said to be the most formidable rival of man on earth.
Many Wisconsin farmers and their wives are planning a week's vacation from home to attend the 1938 Farm and Home Week at the College of Agriculture, Madison, January 31 to February 4.

ORCHARD SCHOOL
The farm orchard school which met on Monday, January 10th, at Dickel's hall, Richfield, and at Luepke's hall, Kohlsville, in the morning and afternoon respectively will meet for the second lesson on Monday, January 24th. This lesson will deal with the management of bearing fruit trees. Such topics as windbreaks, thinning, grafting, fertilization and soil management will receive special attention. These lessons are presented by Mr. C. L. Kuehner, farm orchard specialist of the college of agriculture. Anyone interested in orchard work is invited to attend. The meetings begin at 10:00 o'clock in the morning and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

CORN STYLES SHIFT TO HYBRID CORN
And now, it's styles in corn that are changing. The experience of the past few years indicates that corn growing throughout all upper Mississippi Valley states is considered one of the most unique transitions in the history of American farming. Farmers in this area are making an almost complete shift from open pollinated corn to hybrid corn. How complete this shift will be no one can tell, but it appears, in the corn belt proper, that the shift will be almost a complete one. Commenting upon the Wisconsin situation in a recent radio address over state stations WHA and WLBL, A. H. Wright, agronomist at the college of agriculture, predicts that in a few years about 70 per cent of Wisconsin's corn acreage will be hybrid seed.

During the last three years, Wright has found that Wisconsin farmers are increasingly interested in hybrid corn and that in spite of some disappointments, the advantages of hybrid corn are generally recognized. The progress, he states, will depend largely upon the ability of farmers to obtain dependable seed of adapted hybrid strains. Commenting upon the supply and price situation for this spring's planting, Wright reports that there is enough high quality adapted hybrid seed at present to take care of Wisconsin's demands. The 1937 crop is reported to be around 45,000 bushels of graded flats, which is more than twice as much as was marketed last year. Although much of this is obtained by Wisconsin farmers, there is a good market for Wisconsin hybrids in Minnesota, northeastern Iowa, northeastern Illinois, and Michigan.

AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION
Plans are now being made for holding educational meetings in Washington county on the Agricultural Conservation program. Several meetings will be held in each township and farm reporters and others will take part in them. An organization meeting of farm reporters and community committee-men will be held at the court house in West Bend on Wednesday afternoon, January 26th, at 1:50 p. m. Professor Edwin K. of the University of Wisconsin will be present to explain the nature of how the soils program work is to be presented at the local meetings.

FARM AND HOME WEEK
The dates of the annual farm and home week at the college of agriculture are January 31 to February 4, inclusive. Any Washington county resident may obtain a copy of the program by writing the county agent's office.

WISCONSIN GOOD WILL TRAIN
Several Washington county residents have signified their intention of enjoying a vacation and a trip through the sunny south on the Wisconsin Good Will train which will leave Madison on February 24th and will return on March 9th. Anyone wishing information as to cost, etc., should write George H. Dobbins, Weyauwega, who is general chairman of the tour.

WORK OF 1937 WISCONSIN LEGISLATURE
By Henry O. Schowalter, Assemblyman, Washington County

XII. GENERAL LEGISLATION
Civil service in state government was extended and strengthened. After a prolonged controversy all employees, including the present personnel, of the beverage tax division were made subject to civil service by the enactment of Chapter 254. The same was done with the employees of the Home and Farm Credit Administration.

The Wisconsin Legislature had its own fight over bills providing for retirement of Supreme Court Justices. Bill 319A proposed to retire Supreme and Circuit Court Justices between the ages of 65 and 71 at half pay. It failed to pass. Two resolutions, 268 and 42A, asking Congress to enact the federal judicial reorganization bill met with defeat. Also defeated was joint resolution 158 asking Congress to defeat the President's court reorganization plan.

In the field of elections several interesting bills passed. Chapter 50 provides a penalty for any election official failing to properly write his name or initials upon a ballot. Chapter 267 makes the basis of per centage in the primary election law the party vote for governor instead of the largest vote for presidential elector of the party.

An attempt was made to allow voters at the primary to split their vote and vote irregardless of party affiliation. This would have given every voting citizen the right to help nominate as well as elect individuals in all parties. The bill was defeated in the Assembly by a close vote.

The more important enactments affecting public health throughout the state are: Chapter 112 requiring permits for tourist rooming houses which must be conducted pursuant to state health regulations; Chapter 311 requiring the Wassermann test for marriage licenses, and Chapter 361 strengthening the law on venereal diseases so as to provide for compulsory treatment of suspected cases.

Some of the more important legislation relating to motor vehicles limits the use of dealers' license plates; repeals the former ton-mile tax and provides for a flat tax on motor carriers; and joint resolution 44 which provides for a conference of representatives from Wisconsin and surrounding states to consider uniform truck and license laws.

Some of the defeated measures were: a proposal providing for a five dollar flat auto license fee, a bill proposing to cut the present rates in half; bill 101 S limiting the hours for drivers of commercial trucks, and 509 A proposing a 60 mile maximum speed limit.

Of interest during these times of continued extension of federal governmental control, is Chapter 273 creating a Wisconsin Commission on Interstate Cooperation which provides representation in the Council of State Governments.

Thirty-five other states have similar commissions. When a problem comes up interstate in nature, the council (of which each commission is a member) arranges meetings of the states involved. In these meetings will be discussed the solution of the problem. If a satisfactory bill can be drafted, it is then introduced in the legislatures of the participating states. Passage of bills of this nature will prevent many of the conflicts which now exist.

If the states are able to settle many of their problems in this manner the encroachment of federal authority will be lessened.

These commissions have been working satisfactorily in some of the eastern states. It is expected that many of our problems such as interstate crime, interstate trucking, fishing on Lake Michigan, marriage, and conflicting state social security legislation will be studied, solutions found, and better interstate cooperation promoted.

McCormick-Deering 15-30

The owner of a McCormick-Deering 15-30 Tractor controls big-capacity power and he farms and profits in proportion. In these days of big machines, broad-scale operations, high labor costs, and changing needs, he has wisely gone all the way in his power investment.

The extra power of the 15-30 produces extra advantages on a score of jobs the year around. It puts more power and more accomplishment under one man's control. It is built for many years of economical operation. It is ready for your peak loads, for new machines you will buy in the future, and for the greater acreage you may want to farm.

See this modern, powerful tractor on display in our store and ask for a demonstration. We also sell the McCormick-Deering 10-20 and all-purpose Farmall.

County Birthday Parties Planned

With three more community celebrations being arranged in connection with President Roosevelt's birthday anniversary Jan. 23. Atty. Lloyd H. Lobel, West Bend, chairman of the executive committee overseeing the respective community celebrations in Washington county, announces that only three communities out of the 12 designated to stage birthday parties remain to complete their plans.

These communities, Richfield, Allenton, and Boltonville, are now working on plans which are expected to take definite shape within the next few days. There is a possibility that Allenton's observance will be in the form of a card party. All celebrations are being held to raise funds for the benefit of a new national foundation for the scientific study, treatment, and cure of infantile paralysis, to which the president has dedicated his annual birthday celebration.

Communities which announced plans for parties during the past week include Jackson, Slinger, and Barton. Melvin Gump, chairman at Jackson, reveals that people in his community will gather at the Jackson village hall to listen to a special nation-wide broadcast from 8 to 8:30 p. m. on Jan. 23, as a part of the nation-wide observance of the president's birthday.

The Jackson group will then have a card party following the broadcast. A free dance will be held in the village hall at the conclusion of the card playing.

Slinger has decided to join with Hartford in a joint celebration at the Schwartz ballroom, where a big dance is scheduled.

Herbert Matenaer succeeded Gregory Matenaer as chairman of the Barton party due to the fact that Gregory is out of the village more of the time for business reasons. Barton is planning a benefit movie, the date and title of which will be made public shortly.

Thousands last Saturday night listened to a special broadcast in connection with the event, featuring such radio stars as Phil Baker, Edgar Bergen and Charley McCarthy, Lanny Ross, Rudy Vallee, and 20 other celebrities. This broadcast was heard over a national hookup and was for the benefit of the foundation.

Bergen's dummy, Charley McCarthy, sounded the keynote of the fight against the scourge of infantile paralysis when he uttered the words, "We'll clip 'em, so help me, we'll mow 'em down." No better phrase could have been stated because this fight against this dread disease has developed into a veritable war. It behooves every person to unite in the common cause by attending his respective community celebration. The funds raised thereby will be sent to the national foundation and will prove to be the ammunition needed to carry the war to a successful conclusion.

WHY Do People Save?

Most people keep that to themselves. Even bankers do not know. What we do know is that when people decide in earnest to save money, they usually have some definite purpose in mind. That we know by the clock-like regularity with which they add to their accounts. Such people seem to have learned that the way to get the things they want is to save for them. We invite you to save here for the things you want.

EDITORIAL

KINDNESS, A GREAT FACTOR—

Kindness in the broadest sense, is the most important factor in producing a desirable reputation in school and in the social world. We may be very good in our studies, but without a feeling of kindness and respect toward our fellow students we cannot boast complete success.

By kindness I mean being polite and friendly to our classmates, fellow students and teachers. We can encourage under-classes by helping them to adjust themselves to high school life. We can be courteous to the teachers by doing our best in our work and conducting ourselves properly during the recess period. Courtesy can be shown to the grade children by refraining from running into them when going down the steps while going to or returning from our classes. We can aid the janitor by the proper disposal of waste paper and other refuse. The town people will appreciate it if we show a respect for property, and carry on properly on the street.

I think it is as important to build the character as it is to build the mind.
—Florence McKee

ATHLETICS

The sixth grade has started the study of France and its possessions. The sixth grade will study Hygiene and Health Habits in place of America's Heritage from Long Ago, in social science.

The seventh grade has completed Rip Van Winkle, and will now take up The Violin-maker of Cremona.

Don't miss that game with Campbellsport Friday night!

HIGH SCHOOL—
The Latin class has been translating stories of Rome and reviewing the syntax for the exams given by Miss Lea on Thursday.

The members of the freshmen manual training class are now working on their last project, woodworking. Next semester they will have mechanical drawing.

The general science class has completed "Keeping in Good Physical Condition." Experiments have been carried on. The students were all very ambitious reviewing their work in preparation for the first semester test, which they took Thursday.

One of the greatest problems in the United States is the labor problem. In order to have a high standard of living every worker must earn a wage or salary that is sufficient to support himself and family. Before the Industrial Revolution all work had to be done by hand, therefore only small quantities of goods were produced. The standard of living was much lower then, than it is at the present. In this day of machines many workers find it difficult to find a job. The social problems class has been discussing labor problems, salaries and wages, labor unions, and working conditions in our factories for the past week. The class finds labor a very interesting topic for discussion.

The senior bookkeeping class has started the Potter practice set. The members of the advanced shorthand class are working on the assignments of their secretarial practice books, and reviewing the two functional books on shorthand.

The freshman English class has been enjoying the story of Ivanhoe, by Sir Walter Scott. The story pictures for us the historical struggle of Richard to regain his throne from his wily brother, John, and attached to it is the imaginary story of Ivanhoe and his love for Rowena. The story takes place at the time of the Crusades, beginning with the eleventh century in England.

The Kewaskum High school basketball team won its second consecutive and third league game by defeating Brandon on their home floor last Friday, January 14, by a score of 24-14.

SOCIAL NEWS

The Dramatic club certainly is an active organization. Eight students are going to be selected from the club to participate in a speaking and reading contest at West Bend. This will be good experience for those who are in extemporaneous work as they will be appearing before a strange audience.

A series of one-act plays are going to be given by the members of the club in front of the assembly. The plays will be coached by the junior and senior members. These one-act plays will be both interesting and helpful to the students.

A party was given by the sophomore class on Wednesday evening, January 12, in the school gymnasium. Those present, the sophomores and the faculty, enjoyed games of bunco, wink and relay races. A lunch of Jello, cake, sandwiches, pickles, olives and soda water was served.

Hay baler Bill Konigs has been busy in this vicinity pressing hay and straw the last few days.

Ice cutting was done Tuesday and a big supply put up for the coming season. The ice is 18 inches thick on the lake here and clear as a crystal.

Samples of the state's finest corn and grain will be exhibited by growers from all sections of the state at the state grain show, Madison, January 31 to February 4.

KEWASKUM TEAMS BOTH WIN AGAIN

KEWASKUM BEES WIN OVER WEST BEND TEAM

In the preliminary game Sunday the Kewaskum Bees maintained their season's undefeated record by noosing out the West Bend Aluminum Co. five by a score of 28 to 27, in a thrilling, zig-zag battle that kept the crowd on edge at all times. West Bend pulled away to a lead at the start of the game and led, 7 to 2 at the quarter but in the second period Kewaskum rallied and took the lead, 14 to 12, at the half. The third and fourth quarters saw the lead change several times. However, Kewaskum's seven point advantage in the closing minutes was just enough to top a final rally by the opponents.

Harbeck was high scorer with 13 points while Dorn netted 10. The West Bend team substituted for Barton, which could not play that evening. The game was kept close due to Kewaskum's missing 14 out of 18 free shots.

MAYVILLE GAME POSTPONED
The Kewaskum team's next Land o' Lakes game was scheduled to be played to-night, Friday, at Mayville, but has been postponed to a later date. The team was unable to be at full strength for to-night due to other activities of the players. For this reason League Director Martin C. Weber of Merton accommodated the team by extending the date of the contest.

TEAM PLAYS AT PORT SUNDAY
On Sunday evening, Jan. 23, Kewaskum will travel to Port Washington for the second and final meeting of the season with the Maroon team of that city. The local quintet beat the Maroons in the first game played here and will be out to repeat this act and ascend in the league standings. The Maroons have been up near the top in the league all season, trailing their city rivals in first place, the Port State Banks, and will furnish plenty of opposition.

ALLENTON GONRINGS PLAY HERE NEXT WEEK
Either next Wednesday evening, Jan. 26, or Friday, Jan. 28, the Allenton Gonrings, new team in the Lakes circuit, will come to Kewaskum for their first game against the locals. The game is scheduled for Friday but the local manager has asked League Director Weber to change the date to Wednesday because of the high school game's interference the latter night. Up to this writing no reply was received from Mr. Weber so watch for the posters stating the date of the game. Allenton has such stars at Ritger, Baehring, Hess and Stan. Hepe in the lineup, all of whom are well known here from former battles. This game will be one of much interest and rivalry—don't miss it. It is Allenton's only appearance here, and the first of four home games in succession for Kewaskum. Following Allenton, teams coming here include Grafton Jan. 30, Mayville Feb. 2, and the first place Port Washington State Banks Feb. 6.

To Meet the Needs of More People

THAT'S WHY FORD HAS TWO NEW CARS FOR 1938—AT ATTRACTIVELY LOW PRICES

Each year you expect more and more in a low-price automobile.

And each year the Ford Motor Company gives it to you.

More 1937 Ford V-8s were bought than any other 1937 make. To meet the needs of more people there are two new Ford cars for 1938.

They are both Ford cars, with the V-8 engine and all the other fundamental Ford advantages. But they give you a choice in price, appearance, appointments, power and economy.

The De Luxe Ford V-8 lifts low-price motoring to new levels of luxury. Closed sedans are longer, with more room and greater luggage space. 85 horsepower.

The Standard Ford V-8 is even lower priced than the De Luxe Ford. Built on the same 112-inch wheelbase—it offers a choice of V-8 engine sizes—85 or 60 horsepower. More than 300,000 "Thrifty Sixties" were bought during this car's first year of production. Many owners have reported 22 to 27 miles a gallon—some even more.

See the nearest Ford dealer for a value-revealing demonstration.

Ford advertised prices are low and include this equipment

STANDARD CARS
Standard Ford V-8 prices include:
Bumpers
Spare Tire and Lock
Cigar Lighter
Twin Horns
Headlight Beam Indicator on instrument panel.

DE LUXE CARS
De Luxe prices include same equipment as Standard, plus:
Extra Tail Light
Extra Sun Visor
Extra Windshield Wiper
Clock
De Luxe Steering Wheel
Rustless steel wheel bands

Be sure to consider this added equipment on both the 1938 Ford V-8s when you compare delivered prices.

The Babcock house, the cooperative men's student house at the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, has 37 men who take their meals there. By doing a small amount of work each week, these men are able to secure their board and room for less than $200 a school year.

Many of the questions which Wisconsin farmers have about the probable effects of the Ever-normal Granary and Reciprocal Trade Agreements, will be considered at the 1938 Wisconsin Farm and Home Week, Madison, January 31 to February 4.

Speed on the roads is the big factor in accidents. All the safety councils in the country will not be able to stop the fatal accidents on the highways as long as cars are made with greater speed than safety permits, and drivers delight in driving them at their maximum.—Sturgeon Bay Advocate.

Safety at railroad crossings is some- thing to stress. To do this now is best—not after the accident happens.—Stevens Point Herald.

Undoubtedly the Safety Council is doing a lot of good, for we have no means of knowing how many automobile accidents would actually occur if these warnings were not given.—Sturgeon Bay Advocate.
