SAFETY COUNCIL'S MONTHLY MEETING

Indications that the present driver's icense law in Wisconsin will be strictly enforced this year were unfolded at a meeting of the Washington County Safety council in the city auditorium at Hartford at 8 p. m. on Monday, March 7.

Chairman Harold Riley of West Bend pointed out that traffic officers and other law enforcing officials throughout the state had received a manual of instructions concerning driver's licensa regulations from the state highway department. Although no new driver's license law has been enacted for Wisconsin, the state is issuing orders tending to make the present law more stringent and effective, he said.

These orders include a more thorough examination of applicants for driver's license and list offenses for which licenses may be revoked. All otficials will be supplied with lists of names of those drivers whose licenses nave been revoked, together with the easons for revocation.

After a previous meeting of the ouncil, the Chicago & North Western railroad was asked to install a warning bell signal at a crossing on County Trunk F, known as the Freistadt road, because the council considers this a particularly dangerous crossing. The North Western road replied at the meeting Monday night that its financial condition is such "that it is without sufficient funds to make such an installation."

The railroad suggested that the counil contact the state highway commision in regard to the matter, and this the council decided to do. The council has not as yet received an answer from the Soo line on its request for a similar warning signal at a crossing on County Trunk P.

It was recommended that the divison office of the state highway commission be requested to place reflector warning signs on all curves on Highway 60 from the intersection with Highway 41 to the west county line. It was also decided to find out what the state highway commission has done about a resolution for uniform highway marking which was passed at a meeting of the council about a year ago. FG FT Secretary Arthur E. Kuehlthau mada an-announcement concerning the appearance of West A. Predick of the safety division of the state highway department at a safety meeting sponsored by the West Bend Chamber of Commerce in West Bend on Mar. 17 and invited all those at the meeting Mon-8 8 day night to attend. FG FT Several other matters pertaining to traffic safety were discussed, and an interested listener was George Sell of Hartford, chairman of the county highway commission. Other visitors includ. ed Raymond Loos, Raymond Jeffords. Ed. Kludt, and Mrs. Schaff of Hartford. Members of the council present were Chairman Riley, Secretary Kuehlthau, Officer Johnson, Frank Bingham Sr., KEWASKUM 30; NORRIS SCHOOL 22 Orville Kissel, Henry B. WPA Rolls Increased

CONGRESS having sent the quar-ter billion dollar emergency relief appropriation to the White House, the WPA officials immediately authorized the state administrations to hire 500,000 more relief workers this month.

Aubrey Williams, acting WPA administrator during the convalescence of Harry Hopkins, estimated that the March increases would pull up local enrollments from 15 to 25 per cent, depending on state needs. Williams said he expected large industrial centers to furnish heaviest demands for a slice of the new relief money, but added: ""There is no part of the country that is not affected in some real degree."

THE British government announced the greatest air force estimates in the nation's history and disclosed that a corps of scientists had been mobilized to aid in secret air defense plans. For the fiscal year beginning April 1 the air force estimates total $367,500,000. Next was announced a 23 per cent increase in army appropriations for ments, is 94,000,000 to 97,000,000 the coming year.

woodsmen, Art Charpin and Walter Latsch, had found in a hollow tree a petrified body which was identified, by the clothing and a piece of paper in one of the pockets, as Pierre D'Artagnan, lost member of the Marquette-Joliet expedition of 1675.

The story, first published in the Rusk County Journal at Ladysmith. was reprinted in many Wisconsin papers, then spread to other parts of the Middle West and finally to all sections of the country. But after two months it was exposed as a hoax.

A bulletin of the Wisconsin Historical society pointed out the many absurdities in the tale-the claim that mineral matter in the sap of the tree had acted as an embalming fluid, that the clothing of the explorer should have been preserved and the piece of paper in his pocket should have been readable after 250 years.

After this expose, M. D. Hinshaw and Edward Richardson, publisher of the Ladysmith paper, who turned out to be the "woodsmen" of the tale, admitted that the yarn had been concocted as a promotion for the newspaper. But they also pointed out what had been obvious to anyone who had read the first story carefully-that, although it was printed in the Rusk County Journal, Chicago, General Motors in New it was credited to the Rusk County Lyre!

Columbus' Diary

IN 1924 Angel Delmote, a Mexican lawyer, announced that he had obtained from some Jews in Havana, Cuba, an almost priceless historical document. It was the original diary of Christopher Columbus which, enclosed in a wax casing, had been thrown overboard when it appeared certain that his ship was about to be shipwrecked in a storm near the Azores in 1493.

Thereupon, the experts on historical documents laughed long and loud. "So the original log of Columbus has bobbed up again" they said. "Well, it's about time-it comes to light about every two years." They Let us take just one or two exknow it's a fake for the very good amples of what I mean. One of reason that the diary is written in the Biblical proverbs of the New German and, so far as is known, Columbus could neither speak nor write German. "In my opinion, a 'friendly' agreement, in the face of what seemed to me to be an obvious intent to exploit was not a good public policy, and lacked several degrees of being 'sacred,' " said the chairman.

Doctor Morgan intimated that the Berry deal was only a part of the issue of honesty and decency which he had to face and that there was a lot more he would like to tell a congressional committee.

Slaps Little Business

SECRETARY OF COMMERCE ROPER told President Roosevelt that the "little" business man appears to be forsaking the policy of self help and is looking more and more to the government to solve his problems.

Mr. Roper based his conclusion on an analysis of 1,900 letters from among 4,000 communications that grew out of the "little business" conference recently held in Washington.

The secretary said he was impressed by the fact that the recommendations in the letters showed little understanding of the broad aspects of the problems of government, and he implied that small business men were largely self-seekers.

Nothing was said of the 100 resoiutions, adopted at the little business conference, which demanded that the government cease regulation and interference with business, give tax relief to business, and halt experimentation where it affected business.

Tax Bill Battle Starts

R OBERT L. DOUGHTON of North Carolina, chairman of the ways and means committee, submitted to the house the revenue bill formulated by a majority of the committee, and the struggle over at once. The administration leaders claim the act will stimulate trade and remove hardships on both big and little business without lowering the aggre-. . gate federal income. R. L. Doughton Mr. Doughton knew he had a fight on his hands, but predicted the speedy passage of the measure substantially as reported. The most vulnerable provision admittedly was a proposed penalty tax on closely held corporations. McCormack of Massachusetts and Lamneck of Ohio filed a separate report attacking this feature. Republican members of the committee united in a report which blamed New Deal taxes for the 'Franklin D. Roosevelt depression' and which charged that the tax on closely held corporations is a political weapon to be used to purge the nation's business structure of corporations controlled by New Deal' foes. Chairman Pat Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, of the senate finance committee, said his group would begin hearings soon on the measure. A majority of his committee is reported to be opposed to several provisions of the house bill, including the retention of the principles of the undistributed profits tax.

this measure began | Three Taken as Spies

G OVERNMENT agents and New York police broke up a ring of spies engaged in selling secrets of the American army and navy to a European nation described as a world power but otherwise not named. Three alleged members of the ring were under arrest and held in heavy bail. Two of them, a former sergeant in the United States army and a private in the army, were said to have confessed. The third was a German girl, hairdresser on the German liner Europa. The G-men were diligently searching for other members of the band.

Guenther Gustav Rumrich, the ex-sergeant, who is a deserter, said he was engaged in obtaining secrets and information concerning military operations of the United States army and was forwarding it through confidential channels to various addresses in Europe.

Erich Glaser, the private, had been stationed at Mitchel Field, New York, the largest army air base on the East coast and key to the air fortifications of the metropolitan area. He supplied certain air corps codes to Rumrich.

Johanna Hofman, the woman arrested, admitted she was the "liason officer and paymaster" between the ring and its employers. Secret code keys and considerable quantities of money were found on her person.

Senate to Probe Reds

SENATOR COPELAND of New York successfully put through his resolution for a special investigation of subversive activities of Communists in the merchant marine. It will be conducted by a committee named by Garner. About the same time Harry Bridges, C. I. O. leader on the west coast, arrived in Washington to resist being deported as an undesirable alien. Bridges also demanded a hearing before the senate committees on commerce and labor.

human nature had changed overnight and that a nation could be managed or directed or ordered as an individual. It has taken several years to re-establish natural facts and natural laws, but they seem now to be approaching that re-establishment through the processes that normally must be followed in a nation, as distinguished from an individual.

So, what do we have? I think the answer is that we have an administration headed by a man who is the victim of the advisers he selected. I believe it can be said that politically President Roosevelt is just as uncertain about where he is going as is the rank and file of citizens about where the nation is going. But he selected those advisers and, for the most part, continues to give them his confidence. They are still on the job. And in no better way has it been shown that they are utterly incapable of meeting national problems than is shown in the business of relief. Relief is more than just the care of those who must have help. Relief is a condition reflecting other conditions. The President and his theorists, therefore, must be charged directly with having failed. We have almost as many unemployed or under government aid as we had when Mr. Roosevelt took office.

The business of the country has

. . . It sounded workable to many persons. It was a thing for the future and there was not Practical too much worry Problem about the problem of where those who were to pay the tax would get the money. The time has arrived, however, where the beautiful theory is a perfectly enormous practical problem.

The first year's "take" by the government amounts to something over a billion dollars. Some of it, almost half, comes out of the pay envelopes of the workers; the remainder comes out of the pockets of the employers. It is turned over to "Washington" and when money gets into government hands it becomes unproductive. The result has been that in the last year there has been taken away from its owners more than a billion dollars that would have added at least a billion dollars to the buying power of the country if it had been left with the proper owners. That is one of the big reasons for the Roosevelt depression, as distinguished from the Hoover depression obtaining when the present administration took over the reins of government. It was a dose of 50 drops when the country was able to stand only a few drops.

To get back to relief: I have argued in these columns many times that relief should be handled by the states and, equally, I think the old age pension and unemployment benefits, if they are to be used, should be handled by the states. My point is that Professional Reliever Hopkins, here in Washington, can not know through any organization he may build what the facts are surrounding any of the thousands receiving help.

Something that can be done is to eliminate about one third of this general money spending that is going on here in Washington or out in the various states under direction from Washington. I wish Mr. Roosevelt had stuck to his campaign promise of 1932 to cut federal expenses by 25 per cent. The tragedy of this spending is that it saddles debt on the younger folks and those yet unborn for several generations. It has to end somewhere. © Western Newspaper Union

Lieut. Reflipe W. Thenuz

DURING the Spanish-American war Joseph Pulitzer's New York World had reason to believe that Hearst's Journal was stealing its news by rewriting stories which had appeared on its bulletin board or in early editions of the World. So the World laid a trap for the "pirates."

One day it carried a list of Span-Hautes - Pyrenees, ish officers reported to have been killed in battle. This list was a long one and the World had paid expensive cable tolls to get it. Included in it was the name of Lieut. Reflipe W. Thenuz. Immediately the Journal came out with the same list of names, including as Student that of Lieut. Thenuz. Then the World printed a story featuring this mythical officer, whose name spelled backward reads "We pilfer the news," and the Journal was caught red-handed.

Similarly, the Jacksonville (Fla.) Star was caught during the Balkan troubles of 1912 when it appeared with a front page story about an airplane battle near a Greek town named Temehtmorfnelots which it had "borrowed" from the Jacksonville Metropolis. The next day the Metropolis announced that the name of this Greek town when spelled backward, was "Stolen from the Met.'

Ways to Stop a Fire This is the season for farm fires. Once started, a fire in a farm building is pretty hopeless to stop. But there are simple precautions worth taking, Country Home Magazine observes. A bucket of sand is useful to have in case fire starts around a car, tractor or oil stove. Every home should have a fire extinguisher or two. Even a portable pressure sprayer kept full of water is useful. We read recently of a man who makes fire grenades of old bottles filled with salt brine. He wires two bottles together which break when thrown on the fire, creating a vapor which smothers the flames.

To Prevent Egg-Eating

It is not good practice to feed chickens broken eggs. They acquire the habit of egg-eating very readily and some birds can puncture the shell of sound eggs. In preventing the flock from getting started at egg eating, says a writer in the Boston Globe, it is best to screen the roosts so that broken eggs will be out of their way and that they are not getting a taste of them. Adequate litter should be kept in the nest to prevent breakage. The dark front nest also prevents egg eating from getting started, and a close watch can be kept over the flock for birds that show evidence of egg eating as indicated by yolk material on the beak.

Creosote Not Dangerous The dark and sticky deposits that collect in flues and chimneys, and which are commonly called "creosote," are mostly condensed moisture mixed with smoke and soot. They usually contain just enough of the creosotic or tarry material to make them sticky and give them the distinctive creosotic smell. These deposits, while troublesome, says Wallaces' Farmer, do not in themselves present any dangers of as phyxiation or explosion.

To Disinfect Incubator

A formaldehyde solution is best to use to disinfect a force-draft incubator. For every 100 cubic feet of incubation space use eight teaspoonfuls of formalin and a heaping teaspoonful of potassium permanganate. Place the permanganate in a deep enamel pan on the floor in the central compartment or at the air intake and pour the formalin over the permanganate. After ten minutes, air out the machine and incubator rooms.

In the first place, he may feel quite rightly, that you should have talked over the situation with him reasonably, before flouncing out of the house in a temper. Your sudden exit may have hurt him so that his pride prevents his following you. Did you honestly give him a chance to understand how strongly you felt on the subject?

Now the man of the house may argue that you knew before you married that you were scheduled to live with Mother-in-law-and that since you married on that understanding, you're not playing fair now in walking out on the job. Isn't it true that you knew what you were in for, when you married a man who perhaps had to support his mother?

And if your husband is his mother's only standby, he can hardly be blamed for refusing to desert his big responsibility-without a good deal of considera-tion and planning. Wouldn't it be selfish of him to throw over his mother, and fly after you, regardless of her feelings? If you'd been wise you wouldn't have created a situation in which your husband was left in such an awkward position with both contestants.

The romantic lover of fiction might have dropped everything, and torn after his departing wife, pleading with her to return. But the sensible everyday man who feels his duty toward his mother keenly. who believes in fair play and reasonable treatment-is slow to forgive the tempestuous darling who has thrown his life into chaos with her abrupt departure. He may love her deeply and tenderly yet feel that her own action has made it impossible for him to help her immediately.

If you honestly feel, S. T., that the right is on your side, and that your leave taking was warranted from every point of view, have no fear-since in that case your husband will assuredly come after you to make peace. Life alone with mother will not prove a satisfactory substitute for the devotion of a loving wife. And the man left to endure such a dismal substitute will have a chance to figure out the rights and wrongs of the case. @ Bell Syndicate .- WNU Service

Miscellaneous Tips

BEFORE planting, work soil deeply, making the top three or four inches as fine and loose as possible.

For better germination, pour water into the drill or furrow just before sowing. Use enough water to moisten the soil, but not enough to cause caking.

If you have had little experience and wish to try the vegetables easiest to grow, select radishes, carrots, beets, Swiss chard, and turnips. With a good-sized garden you might add spinach, peas, beans and corn.

If your garden is small and you wish to increase the total yield, try the following quick-growing vegetables:

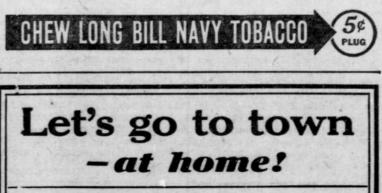

Radish, leaf lettuce, beets, carrots, peas and beans. You can replant most of these after space has been made for them by early harvest.

Do not plant seeds deeper than directed. After planting cover seeds immediately, pressing the soil down firmly.

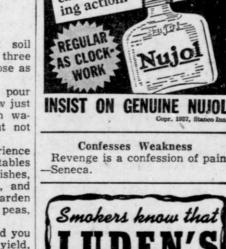

N^O TELLING what tomorrow's weather may be. It fools the best fore-N caster. But we do want chintz for the windows. We do need a car-pet aweeper, a new percolator, and a new end-table in the living-room. And we don't want to slosh around rainy streets to hunt them. Problem: How to thwart the weather man. Simple enough! Let's sit down by the fireplace and read the advertisements. Here it's comfortable and snug. We'll take the newspaper page by page, compare prices, qualities, brand-names. Tomorrow, rain or shine, we'll head for the store that bas what we want, and be home again in a jiffy.

Do People Save?

Most people keep that to themselves. Even bankers do not know. What we do know is that when people decide in earnest to save money, they usually have some definite purpose in mind. That we know by the clocklike regularity with which they add to their accounts. Such people seem to have learned that the way to get the things they want is to save for them. THIS THING CALLED SWING Keeping Up

America Goes Primitive to Rhythmic Tunes of the 'Cats'

By JOSEPH W. LaBINE

A bunch of the cats were lickin' their chops and friskin' their whiskers, just aching for a jam session. Up on the stage a long underwear gang was handing out sweet and sticky schmaltz while a monkey waved his baton. The alligators didn't like it either.

No, Genevieve, this is not a description of open house at the zoo—it's just a picturesque way of saying that an audience of dissatisfied patrons in a New York night spot are hungry for that indefinable, primitive and captivating type of alleged music called "swing."

The "cats" are swing musicians, rhythm-mad boys who. by "lickin' their chops" and "friskin' their whiskers," indicate a desire for an impromptu gathering of their ilk to play for the fun of it, otherwise known as a "jam session." The "long underwear gang" they despise might be Guy Lombardo's orchestra, famous for its smooth and restful tunes (otherwise, 'schmaltz"). Lombardo himself, the director, might be the "monkey.

The "alligators" are several million Americans-mostly younger generation-who play no instrument but have been bitten by the swing bug. And what a bug it is, stinging white man and black man alike, invading Chicago's beer-scented joints and New York's swankiest supper clubs!

A BIT FAMILIAR

To youth it is a new delight but to middle-aged Americans it has a strangely familiar beat, reminiscent of something they heard 15 or 20 years ago, before what is known as "jazz" attained respectability. Those were the days when jazz was "hot," when polite society frowned on it as prinitive and uncivilized. It was be re George Gershwin wrote "Rhapsody in Blue," before jazz symphonized itself and fell under such artistic control that it was no longer free and natural. When that day arrived it ceased to be jazz, ranking as something unreal and unprecedented, something that had no reason to exist and therefore soon expired.

Swing took its place. And swing is nothing more than the original

Goodman played for years with other bands, unhappy because he was forced to restrain himself and produce "commercial" music, sweet and restrained tunes that were popular with the customers but sickening to musicians. In 1931 he tried his own band but it flopped because of the Gershwin-Grofe-Whiteman influence. In 1934, nauseated, he organized another outfit that was fired from Billy Rose's Music Hall in New York. In the nick of time a large commercial radio show picked him up. Next came a Manhattan hotel engagement which closed because the customers weren't prepared for hot music. The skies were again dark until Fate intervened one night at the Palomar ballroom in Los Angeles and swing began an overnight stampede to popularity!

SWING DEFINED

We'll guess with you-what is the mystic element of swing that makes some people stamp their feet and shout, that makes other people sit tensely listening for every note as if life itself depended on it?

Role of Glands in Mental Disease Is Unsolved Problem

By MARJORIE VAN DE WATER New York .- One of the most puzzling problems faced by the scientist exploring man's mind is the role played by the powerful glands of the human body. A matter of demonstrated fact is the knowledge that these glands serve as chemical factories, pouring out potent substances capable of changing the whole behavior of the individual. Presence or lack of a glandular chemical may make a person energetic or lazy, submissive or rebellious, mentally alert or stupid That the endocrine glands occupy a place of power in determining the mental soundness or illness of the individual has long been suspected by physicians and psychologists. Glandular disorders have to some this has meant that the glands could be blamed for the menal illness. Others, reversing the relationship, see the emotional strains of mental disease as effective in throwing the endocrine system out of balance.

Actual Proof Lacking.

Actually, medical science today has no crucial evidence of any cause and effect relationship between the powerful glands of internal secretion and mental disease or mental deficiency, Dr. Hugh T. Carmichael, psychiatrist of the University of Chicago medical school, told his colleagues at the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Most of Us "Queer" According to the Ink Blot Test

Indianapolis .- There is scientific confirmation of the widespread idea that most of us are a bit queer-except me and thee, of course.

It has popped up in the queerest of places, in ink blots that are made with a scientific purpose. It is quite a psychological game, much like trying to see what you can make of the flickering flames of an open fire on a cold winter's evening, or what creatures are hiding in the clouds of a summer's day. Your imagination seems to bring to the surface things you unconsciously subdued. And it seems that trying to see pictures in smears of ink or floating clouds or flames may be quite as dangerous as telling your dreams to a Freudian.

Dr. James Vaughn of the University of Cincinnati gave the Rorschach ink blot test (that's what it is called, after the psychologist who devised it) to 43 patients in mental disease hospitals, all of whom had paranoid tendencies and thought people were persecuting them when they were not. He also gave it to 52 college students.

Difference in Degree. Imagine his surprise when he found that many of the apparently normal students showed unusual character in the forms they saw, been noted in the mentally ill and for seeing such forms has been taken as an indication of mental derangement.

"One can hardly escape the conclusion that insanity is a difference in degree and not in kind," Dr. Vaughn told the American Association for the Advancement of Science meeting. "The degree seems impor-

Riding the crest of this wave has been a bespectacled young man to whom swing is a semi-sacred Cause, an orchestra leader who tossed it right in the laps of New York's social elect by staging a concert at sophisticated Carnegie hall a few weeks ago!

His name is Benny Goodman, and although the Carnegie hall concert prompted one critic to change the name from Manhattan to "Madhattan," he will continue to play hot music until the Cause is won or the battle lost.

SUCCESS STORY

He got his start in Chicago with the late Leon Bismarck (Bix) Beiderbecke. great trumpet and piano man of the early days who played with such outfits as Frankie Trumbauer and Jean Goldkette. Ship's Officer Sees Two Moons in the Tropics

Washington .- Ordinarily, if a seafaring man in the tropics sees two moons he discreetly says nothing about the matter, lest a cynical world raise an eyebrow and murmur something about too many swizzles. But Third Officer R. T. Lewin of the American steamer Yorkmar saw a double image of the moon recently for which an abnormal refractive condition of the earth's atmosphere was responsible.

Mr. Lewin observed the strange phenomenon during a run from Balboa, C. Z., to San Pedro, Calif. while his ship was off the tip of Lower California. The crescent moon was going down through a thin haze, when it appeared double, the lower crescent scarcely touching the upper. Twenty minutes after he first noticed it, the moon set, still appearing double.

Not that the whole house will be wrapped in the transparent sheets. That isn't necessary. But windows. outside cellar doors, and other warmth-wasting openings, Professor Wallace has found, can be effectually insulated against the cold with cellulose film.

Food Provides the Key to Mental and Physical Power

You Can Be Strong, Beautiful, Wise, Rear Healthy Children Only If You Know How to Combine the Right Food Materials in the Diet

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS

SINCE the world began, food has been man's first con-sideration. For it he has fought and died. To find it he has traveled over great continents and braved unknown dangers. His quest for food has changed the map of the world and colored the history of nations. But in all of these historic struggles, he has been motivated solely by the desire to get enough food to satisfy hunger.

Today, actual hunger is rare. But hundreds of thousands of people starve in the midst of plenty because they do not realize the lecturer, author of "What to Eat tremendous power of food for good or for evil.

It can be truly said that your food is your fate. It has the power to shape your body -to make it strong and beautiful, or weak and ugly. It has the power to influence your language, your gait, your tone of voice, in short-your life. With the right food, life becomes a glorious adventure, for it increases your leadership, intensifies your magnetic qualities, strengthens your morale, and increases your physical defenses and resistance. Without it, one drags through miserable days-never realizing even half of his potential mental and physical powers.

But plainly Mr. Smith had been displeased by his failure to obtain an interview with the leading actor in the story: for, beginning with a statement by Silas Gleason that "the poor old dog had merely been sick and frightened," the reporter had finished by kidding the "modest hero who had taken to his bed from the after-effects of the terrible shock his system had sustained." All visitors, the report alleged, were being kept away from his bedside by a trained nurse. It was pretty crude stuff.

Even Hodge, whom Smith had talked with in the village, had given his version of the affair. According to him, he had made haste to get seven of the girls out of the dog's way, leaving Merriwell and Mulloy to take care of Miss Burrage only. The dog, Bart had said, had apparently been fleeing in terror from the screaming boy who was pursuing him.

The door swung open again to admit a fellow who came in briskly. "Walter Burrage!" exclaimed Hodge in dismay.

CHAPTER V

Walter Burrage was somebody at Fardale. Not only did he stand high as a student, he was captain of the baseball team, wore a modestly hidden society pin, commanded the respect of the faculty and was classed as an ace in the run of the pack.

But of course there were fellows who secretly disliked him; for success and popularity arouses envy and petty malice in schools, jus as it does in other fields of life Still prudence and self-interest caused those who privately hated him to sugar their tongues when they spoke of him publicly.

Merriwell had never seen him before he walked into the room where the kidders collected by Hodge and Bascomb had been kidded to a full stop. But of course Frank had been curious as to what sort of person the brother of Inza Burrage might be.

He saw a good-looking chap with dark eyes and hair, and a mouth and chin expressive of decency and character. There was confidence without arrogance in his bearing. He did not belong to the stocky athletic type, but one could see at a glance that he would strip down friend Bascomb brought in to give well. Six Groups of Food Substances. way through a series of passages What food substances are neces-He had already made this same sary to build and maintain top health-to develop the greatest physical and mental power? There are six groups of food substances which must be included in the balanced diet which promises increased health, happiness and longevity: 1. PROTEINS which build and repair body tissues. These are found in such foods as milk, eggs, meats, fish, cheese and nuts.

2. FATS which yield heat and energy. The fats are represented by butter, cream, oils and the fat of meats.

3. CARBOHYDRATES -the starches and sugars. These also supply heat and energy. and are found chiefly in such foods as bread, potatoes, cereals and sweets.

4. MINERALS which build. repair, protect and regulate. Among the minerals which are

Famous Food Expert

To Conduct Feature BEGINNING with this issue this paper is pleased to announce a new series of articles which we believe to be the most original and up to date food department in the country.

We wanted to offer a food department that was live-interesting-different. We wanted to get away from the usual "recipe column." We believe the women of this community are primarily interested in food in its relation to health, in its effect on growing children. Information of this sort has usually been too scientific to be understood by the average person, but in this series it is presented in clear, understandable language and applied so that it will fit the average household.

C. Houston Goudiss, famous author, lecturer, and radio personality, will conduct this department each week. Many housewives will want to make scrapbooks of these articles. Don't miss a single issue.

test on the same type of animals born of properly fed mothers. He knew that it never took them more than 25 trials to learn their way out of the maze. Most of them had gotten out after 15 to 18 attempts.

But what lack of skill was shown by the animals whose mother had been deprived of these pathetic little creatures was unbelievable. Some of them never learned to thread the maze and reach their goal, even after as many as 250 trials. They were being given-at the time-everything that was necessary to their diet. But they had entered life with minds totally unequipped to cope with the world-because their mother had not been properly fed before they were born.

Food Can Make or Mar. This is a striking example of the nower of food to make or mar existence. I could cite hundreds of other laboratory experiments. many of which have been confirmed by clinical experience. Nor is this power of food to affect mental activity confined to prenatal life. Even if a child enters this world with a strong body and a clear mind-the wrong food during childhood has the power to wreck health.

Investigation after investiga tion, by leading specialists throughout the country, has proven that a surprising percentage of retarded children-those who cannot keep up with their school grades-do not really have inferior minds. They only seem stupid because the action of their minds is clogged and slowed down by sluggish, under-fed bodies. Their brains are like machines which cannot attempt the speed of which they are capable-because the proper fuel had not been provided.

Physical fitness is a far greater asse than material possessions. For in times of stress and trouble, those who can stand up under the physical strain win the battle. For those who collapse, all is lost.

How Often Should Your Furniture Be Polished?

Housewives differ on the question of "when to polish their furniture." Some have no set time for it-polishing when they think of it -or when, casting a glance about, they decide that the furniture can "stand it." Others, polish every proper food! The stupidity of cleaning day-which ordinarily occurs once a week. Others dedicate but one day a year to this important procedure. And still others, polish the furniture in their home regularly, once a month. This last group is the largest-but their schedule is not sufficiently frequent. Furniture can not be polished too often! True, the outward benefit of the best oil polish-the luster-will last through a single week-and more-but this same polish, with its light oil base, preserves and "feeds" the furniture, revives it, prolongs its life! So that every application is highly beneficial to woodwork and the various pieces of fine wood in the home. Our advice, therefore, for the sake of endurance, as well as appearance, of your furniture, is "polish up" with a good oil polish at least twice a month!
