Well Known People of Village Community are Called in Death

BASSIL, BELOVED
The death of a well known personage of the village community was called in death by the passing of Mrs. Mary Do-mann, nee Herring, 77, who passed away at her home in Kewaskum at 8:30 a. m. on Thursday, June 15, following a long illness.

Funeral services were held on Monday, June 13, from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Herman Klug in the town of Scott, and at 2 p. m. at the Immanuel Lutheran church in that township. The Rev. Gustave Kantess, pastor, conducted the last sad rites. Burial took place in the adjoining cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS
To all who assisted us in our recent bereavement, the illness and death of our beloved mother, Mrs. Mary Do-mann; to the pallbearers, the choir, Rev. Gustave Kantess, for the beautiful flowers, the use of automobiles, Millers, the funeral directors, and to all who showed their respects for the departed one by attending the funeral.

FRANK HOERIG, TOWN WAYNE
NATIVE, DIES IN MILWAUKEE
Frank Hoerig, 70, who was born and spent the earlier years of his life in the town of Wayne and later resided at St. Michaels, passed away at his home at 2760 North 47th street, Milwaukee, at 5 a. m. Tuesday, June 14th, after an illness of two weeks, caused by a heart attack.

He was born on Nov. 26, 1867, in the town of Wayne, Mr. Hoerig lived there until his marriage to Miss Regina Sommers, which took place at the Holy Trinity church in this village on Feb. 16, 1897.

Following their marriage, the couple moved to Lomira, where they remained until 1901. From that place they moved onto a farm at St. Michaels in the town of Farmington. In 1920 Mr. Hoerig retired and the family went to Milwaukee to reside, living there since.

A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank X. Hoerig, deceased is survived by his wife and two sons, Arthur of the town of Farmington, and Clarence of Milwaukee. A daughter, Esther (Mrs. Geo. Carson) preceded her father in death in 1925. Mr. Hoerig also leaves to mourn his loss three brothers, John and Christ, of Milwaukee, and Simon of Port Washington; three sisters, Mrs. Kathryn Graf of St. Lawrence, Tina (Mrs. Sebastian Yogerst) and Dora (Mrs. Nick Hess) of Hortonville; six grandchildren, Werner, Eugene, Gerald and Audrey Hoerig of the town of Farmington, and Marilyn and Marvin Hoerig of Milwaukee.

The funeral was held on Thursday, June 16, at 8:30 a. m. from the funeral home of Frank Zwaska & Son and at 9 a. m. at St. Ann's church, Milwaukee. The Rev. Msgr. Traudt conducted the regular high mass, following which he delivered a special address to the congregation in respect to the deceased. Interment followed in Holy Cross cemetery, Milwaukee.

Our sincere condolences are extended to the bereaved survivors.

WIFE OF LATE HARRY HENRY
FORMER BANKER HERE, DIES
Friends here were informed of the death of Mrs. Benita B. Henry, wife of the late Harry E. Henry, which occurred at her home in East Troy on Saturday, June 11, following a lingering illness. The Henry family were Kewaskum residents for a number of years. Mr. Henry had charge of the Citizens State Bank here at that time, located in the present John Marx IGA store building. During their residence in the village the Henry family made many friends who will regret hearing of her death.

Benita Bostwick was born in Port Washington, a daughter of the late John M. Bostwick, proprietor of the Wisconsin Chair Co. Her husband, vice-president and treasurer of the State Bank of East Troy, died five years ago. Mrs. Henry was active in the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Kewaskum Twins Married to Twins With Twin Maids of Honor Attending

A beautiful double wedding ceremony, one of the rarest and most unusual ever performed in this vicinity, in which six of the principals are twins, took place in the Peace Evangelical church parsonage in Kewaskum at 4 p. m. last Saturday, June 11. At that time the pastor, Rev. Richard M. A. Gadow, united in marriage Miss Beulah Buddenhagen and Leslie F. Kurtz and Miss Bernice Buddenhagen and Benjamin H. Kurtz.

The bridesmaids were twin sisters of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Buddenhagen of the town of Barton, Route 2, Kewaskum. Before their marriage they were employed as clerks in West Bend and both are graduates of the Kewaskum High school.

The groomsmen are twin sons of Mrs. Mary Kurtz-Frank of Richfield and are employed as machinists at the Allis-Chalmers company plant in West Allis.

Adding to the unusualness of the occasion were the attendants of the twin brides at the ceremony, who are also twins, namely the Misses Elaine and Eleanor Schleit, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schleit of this village and are cousins of the twin brides. They attended as maids of honor. Besides the three sets of twins participating in the ceremony, the brides also have younger twin brothers, both at home.

Roland Rate, a cousin of the twin brides, and Harry Wittenberger, a cousin of the twin grooms, attended the bridegrooms respectively, as best men.

The twin brides were very prettily attired at the ceremony in white net gowns and veils in cap effect. They had colonial bouquets of white roses, swansonias and ferns (maiden hair). The twin maids of honor were attired in chiffon gowns of contrasting colors.

The bridegrooms were twin sons of Mrs. Mary Kurtz-Frank of Richfield and are employed as machinists at the Allis-Chalmers company plant in West Allis.

Local Young Ladies Among Couples Wed

MARTIN-JOHNSON
In a charming wedding ceremony performed by the Rev. Gerhard Kantess in the St. Lucas Evangelical Lutheran church at 4:30 p. m. Wednesday, June 15, Miss Elizabeth G. Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Martin of the village of Kewaskum, became the bride of Carl R. Johnson of Slinger, son of Mrs. Kathryn Johnson of the town of Farmington.

The bride appeared lovely in a princess style lace over satin gown with train and wore a long veil with a beaded coronet and an over the face veil. She carried an arm bouquet of Johanna Hill roses, swansonias and white sweet peas.

Attending the bride was her friend, Mrs. Robert Poot of Waterloo, as matron of honor. Carol Ann Polster, niece of the groom, and Valeria Koerbie, niece of the bride, were the junior bridesmaids. The bridegroom was attended by his friend, Leo Fiecker, as best man. Marvin Martin, brother of the bride, and William Johnson, brother of the groom, were the ushers.

The matron of honor wore an aqua blue gown and net with halo to match. Her arm bouquet was of Johanna Hill roses and sweet peas. The junior bridesmaids wore dresses of yellow organza and lace headbands to match. They carried colonial bouquets of roses and sweet peas.

The bride is a graduate of the Kewaskum High school and the Milwaukee State Teachers college and before her marriage was engaged as teacher at the Boltonville Graded school. The groom is a graduate of the West Bend High school and at present operates the Highway Service garage, one mile south of Slinger.

Following the ceremony about 50 guests were entertained at a wedding dinner and reception at the home of the bride's parents. The home was attractively decorated with cut flowers in baskets. Cut flowers also decorated the church at the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left on a honeymoon trip into northern Wisconsin and will be at home to their host of friends at Slinger after July 1.

Funeral of O. M. Johnson, Accident Victim Held

The funeral of Ollie M. Johnson, prominent farmer living near Campbellsport, in the town of Eden, who was killed in an automobile accident Sunday, June 5, was held at 12:30 p. m. last week Wednesday, June 8, from the residence and at 1:15 p. m. from the Lutheran church at Campbellsport. The Rev. C. J. Gutekunst of New Fane officiated and burial was made in Catawagous cemetery, Waupun.

Mr. Johnson was killed instantly and his wife sustained several broken ribs and severe bruises and cuts in the accident when a car in which they were riding was struck by another vehicle at the intersection of County Highways W and F near Waucousta. It was the fifth traffic fatality in Fond du Lac county this year.

Walter Pieckura, 3470 North Fifth street, Milwaukee, was driver of the other vehicle. Undersheriff Ray W. Breister of Fond du Lac county, who investigated, said it appeared that Pieckura was travelling at a high rate of speed on County Trunk F. The Johnson car, which was headed south on Highway W was hurled nearly 60 feet by the impact of the collision. Tire marks indicated that the Pieckura car skidded 60 feet on the gravel. It came to a stop facing east, the officer said.

Ewald Feuerhammer, a boy riding in the Johnson car, sustained slight bruises on the head and Miss Marion Etzel, Milwaukee, who was riding with Pieckura, sustained minor cuts on the head. The injured persons were taken to St. Agnes hospital, Fond du Lac, by Dr. Hardegrave, Eden.

Pieckura told Undersheriff Breister and Traffic Officer Anton Raffenstein, that he had driven from Milwaukee to visit with friends at Round Lake but failed to make the correct turn to the right on Highway F at Waucousta. Instead he turned to the left near the village.

Pieckura insisted that he was traveling at a moderate rate of speed. The undersheriff said he found a spare tire which had been stored in the rear part of the car approximately 57 feet away from the site of the impact.

Johnson, a native of Chicago, had lived on Highway 55 south of Eden for the last two and one-half years. Prior to that he lived at New Prospect.

FARMER CRUSHED TO DEATH
Milton Mellus, 42, a farmer residing near Kohlsville in the town of Wayne, was killed Wednesday, June 15, when a team of horses bolted and pinned him between a hayrack and the barn on his farm. Little could be learned of the fatal mishap at the time of this writing but according to unconfirmed reports, Mr. Mellus was opening a gate to allow the team of horses pulling a hayrack to pass when the animals bolted and he was crushed to death between them and the stone foundation wall of the barn. Mr. Mellus, who married a Gerhardt girl, was the father of five children, all of whom survive.

Schaefers Bros. Building New Super Station

Schaefers Bros., who operate the Ford garage in Kewaskum, are now going ahead rapidly with the building of a new super service station on the site of the present structure. All but the office part of the old garage has been razed in the past two weeks and the new one is taking shape.

A large crew is employed at the scene in order to cause as little delay as possible in going ahead with the building. Tearing down the old structure was completed last week and on Tuesday of the current week digging for the foundation was completed. On Tuesday evening concrete was poured for the base of the foundation and on Thursday masons went to work placing the blocks of the foundation.

The new super service station, with garage in connection, is expected to be completed and ready for business by Aug. 1. It will be of fireproof construction in very modern design, and will be another outstanding improvement on Fond du Lac avenue, the west side of which already has several beautiful new buildings, erected in the past few years.

During the construction period, the proprietors are doing garage service on automobiles in the former John P. Schaefer garage on West Water street.

Local Firemen Going To Saukville Sunday

Several thousand firemen and guests from this section of Wisconsin, including the members of the Kewaskum department and their families will attend the 45th annual Badger Firemen's association tournament to be held at Saukville this Saturday and Sunday, June 18 and 19. The Kewaskum Community band of 42 pieces will participate in the huge parade of the tournament on Sunday afternoon.

The festivities will open Saturday night with a carnival parade at 7:30 o'clock. Liberal prizes for the best floats. This will be followed by free attractions, concert by the Saukville band and free dancing at the Vanda Boom hall and Schanen Gardens.

The Sunday program will start at 8:30 a. m. with reception of firemen; 9 a. m. start of contests; 11:30 a. m. dinner served at clubhouse—all firemen and visitors welcome; 1 p. m. parade from fire house; 2 p. m. address of welcome. Free attractions, concessions, amusements, concert by Saukville band, Max and Bill, Uncle Ezra (impersonator) by Al Peiffer throughout the afternoon; 7:30 p. m. WHBL German band of Sheboygan. Mammoth dance at Wee-Go-Inn, music by Ke-Wayne orchestra. Admission 25 cents.

On Sunday the Kewaskum firemen will again participate in the contests. Last year they topped several prizes.

TWIN BOYS ARRIVED AT SCHACHT HOME MONDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schacht are the proud parents of strapping twin sons which arrived at their home at Orchard Grove on Monday evening, June 13. The boys received the names of Lloyd and Lytle Lloyd, the heaviest of the pair, weighed eight pounds at birth while his brother tipped the scales at seven pounds. Mother and sons are doing well.

A baby boy also arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gerner in the town of Wayne last Thursday, June 9. The little fellow received the name of Kenneth Don and weighed 10 1/2 pounds at birth.

ATTENDS GRADUATION OF DAUGHTER FROM CHICAGO U.

Mrs. D. M. Rosenheimer and son Henry were to Chicago on Friday evening to attend the convocation exercises at the University of Chicago, where their daughter and sister, Mrs. Robert Mason, received her degree following her graduation from that institution. The convocation was held in the university chapel with about 1,000 graduates participating.

Mrs. Mason will be remembered here as Miss Retha Jane Rosenheimer, valedictorian of the graduating class of 1932 of the Kewaskum High school.

QUADE-HAMLIN

Another wedding of much interest to residents of this village and West Bend took place at 2:00 p. m. Wednesday, June 15, when the Rev. Ernest Brittain officiated at a ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Elizabeth Quade, popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Quade of the village of Kewaskum, and Elwyn W. Hamlyn, well known son of Mr. and Mrs. Winsor W. Hamlyn, Route 1, West Bend. The ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents. Following the ceremony the immediate families were entertained at a formal tea. Later Mr. and Mrs. Hamlyn left on a wedding journey which will take them through the Black Hills of Dakota and Yellowstone National Park, Wyoming, and to other places of interest.

The bride is a graduate of the Kewaskum High school and of the University of Wisconsin. She has been engaged in the office of the Kewaskum Creamery company plant, which is managed by her father. The bridegroom graduated from the West Bend High school and the University of Wisconsin. The couple will reside on Route 1, West Bend, on the farm operated by the groom.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the relatives and friends for the kindness and sympathy shown us during our trying time of sorrow, and the loss of our beloved husband and father, Ollie Johnson; especially for the many beautiful flowers, the pallbearers, those who loaned cars, the Rev. C. J. Gutekunst, for his words of comfort, Mr. Berge, who had charge of the funeral, and many others who helped in any way.

Mrs. Ollie Johnson and Family.

Here's a New Red Cross Function: Solving the Soldier's Personal Problems, Paying Mortgages and Caring for Friend Wife!

By ALWYN W. KNIGHT

THE doughboy told his hard-luck story to the Red Cross field director stationed at Governor's island. The yarn had a Nick Carter ring, but the man in uniform was so in earnest you had to believe him. He said his father lived in Fayetteville, N. C. He said his father was out of work and was about to be put on the street. In fact the sheriff, so the story went, was as good as on the doorstep with the foreclosure papers in his hand.

Listening, you almost expected to hear a bugle call and the thunder of hoofs as the proverbial cavalry troop galloped to the rescue.

But this was melodrama plus. The skein of plausibility was there because the thing was so imminent. Actually there was but a day or so left before the foreclosure; and watching the boy's worried eyes helped visualize a dusty street in a sleepy southern town, and on it an elderly man surrounded by hand-me-down furniture with nothing left but the threadbare remnants of a tattered dignity.

The name of the Red Cross field director was J. F. O'Brien. Sitting behind his desk in the Red Cross house—a few steps from the ferry slip servicing Governor's island and Fort Jay—he heard the boy through without a word. Now he asked questions, then picked up a phone. Subsequently it all turned out right; that figurative cavalry troop, underwritten by the Red Cross, did gallop to the rescue. O'Brien contacted the Red Cross chapter in the town where the boy's father lived, instructing the chapter to verify the boy's story (routine) and advance money at once.

Melodramatic Finale.

So the old homestead was saved. And the doughboy repaid O'Brien out of his pay, and O'Brien repaid the chapter. It was the sort of job other Red Cross field directors in other military posts were doing all over the country that same morning for enlisted men of the army, navy, marine corps and coast guard.

This Red Cross help for the enlisted man and his family is an ambitious undertaking. It began when the country entered the World war. Now more than 60 men like O'Brien are stationed throughout the nation. These trained workers and their assistants "cover" 206 army posts and 8 army general hospitals. They cover 408 coast guard stations; 127 navy and marine corps stations; 10 navy general hospitals and St. Elizabeth's hospital in Washington, D. C.

O'Brien leaned back, frowning. "Just what do we do?" he echoed my question thoughtfully. "Well, we act as link between the enlisted man and his superior officer. And we also act as link between the enlisted man and his family. When the boys get in trouble, they come to us. They know that their confidences will never be violated!"

"Sort of an anti-A. W. O. L. agency," I suggested. "Not exactly. Although there would undoubtedly be a lot more absent-with-leaves if it were not for the work we do."

"What," I asked, "are some of the contributing factors which cause a man to pick up and walk out—without the formality of asking permission?"

"Trouble at home, for one thing." "Trouble at home?"

O'Brien thumbed through the papers on his desk. "Here's a job we did yesterday. A boy whose sister was critically ill. We arranged a furlough so he could go home and give a blood transfusion. Now if we had not arranged the furlough, I dare say he would have made the trip anyway—with unfortunate results."

Romance Is Rescued.

I asked O'Brien to give me another example of a Red Cross field director's routine and he told me about the doughboy, newly married, who was to be transferred from Bilboa, the Canal zone, to Fort Devons. The army paid his expenses, naturally, but what about the young wife who must remain behind because there was not money enough? Yes, the Red Cross again.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

CZECHOSLOVAKIA and all that may hang on its destiny is just an added starter in the up-and-coming cosmos of A. W. Robertson, chairman of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company.

It is the always assured and hopeful Mr. Robertson who announces his company will spend $12,000,000 on additions and betterments this year, and, from where Mr. Robertson sits, that's just a couple of white chips compared to spendings to come.

Mr. Robertson is the H. G. Wells of industry. His "shape of things to come," which he has been outlining for the last year or two, includes the following specifications:

Migratory humans, shifting north and south like the birds. "Just whether the children will be born in the North or the South," he said, "is not quite clear to me, but I expect we will follow the policy of the birds and have the children in the North."

Windowless houses, pasteurized air, and artificial sunlight. One-man planes, with folding wings, kept in the hall rack, with the umbrellas.

Pocket radios for two-way talk with anybody, anywhere. Noiseless cities with double-deck streets.

Flat houses, with a push-button crane which will park the auto on the roof.

He was a farm and village boy at Panama, New York, chore boy and rustler in his youth and hence not through grammar school until he was seventeen. Then he studied law in a country office, entered practice, got corporations for clients and then began owning and operating them.

At forty-six he was president of the Philadelphia company and now heads a $200,000,000 company. He pays liberal wage bonuses and urges friendly, co-operative relationship between capital and labor.

IT WAS only a year ago that Robert R. Young, thirty-nine-year-old Texan, quite unknown to Wall Street, rode herd on the straying Van Sweringen Young Texan Rode Herd on Rail System complicated, but, finally sifted down, it appeared that Mr. Young had picked up a $3,000,000,000 rail "empire" with an original investment of $25,000.

He is a quiet, inconspicuous, unassuming man, and now the feature writers are just getting around to calling him a "Titan."

He won a rock-and-sock proxy battle for the control of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway. Within the last few years, he has infiltrated gently into high finance, which is just now becoming acutely conscious of his presence.

His family was in and around Canadian, Texas, before the battle of the Alamo. They started the First National Bank of Canadian, which is now in the hands of the fourth generation.

At Culver Military academy, Robert R. Young was graduated at the head of his class, its youngest graduate, and later he attended the University of Virginia.

With the Du Ponts in 1916, he got his preliminary work-out in finance and joined General Motors in 1922.

In 1923, he founded his own Wall Street firm, with Frank F. Rolbe, his later associate in the Van Sweringen putsch.

Mrs. Young is the former Anita Ten Eyck O'Keefe, of Williamsburg, Va., sister of Georgia O'Keefe, the painter. In 1935, they leased Beechwood, the Astor estate, in Newport.

Mr. Young, a Democrat, like his father, paid $15,000 for a commitment of those famous Democratic convention books, which congressmen, badgering him at a senate hearing, insisted wasn't nearly so much of a bargain as the Van Sweringen deal. "You are a bigger sucker than I thought you were," said Senator Wheeler.

Secrets of Ancients Survive Attacks of Modern Science

With television soon to become a serious rival to the movies, and giant airplanes and "press-the-button" warships things which raise little comment from the average man, it is surprising that there are many secrets known to the ancients which have survived the attacks of modern science.

The Greeks could not weave linen, or wool on anything like the scale we weave them today. But they wove them into the piletum, a form of cuirass which could not be penetrated by the sharpest dart or arrow. The secret is lost.

The Romans sank wells for water to great depths. Exactly how they did the boring is unknown. This would be extremely useful today.

The beautiful purple dye, known of old, has eluded the dye-makers of today. And modern builders can make nothing of the strong and durable cement used by the Greeks and the Romans in their walls. This cement was stronger and harder than the stone itself.

The knowledge possessed by the ancient Egyptians was very extensive. They had a method of dressing stone to withstand the ravages of time and weather. They also perfected the art of embalming. Probes, forceps, and other surgical instruments have been found in Egypt. For what purpose they were used we will never know.

That secret, along with many others, passed away with the destruction of the famous library at Alexandria in the Fifth century. The loss of the knowledge contained in that library was a blow to civilization.

Reading and Thinking Reading furnishes the mind only with materials of knowledge; it is thinking makes what we read ours. So far as we apprehend and see the connection of ideas, so far it is ours; without that it is so much loose matter floating in our brain.—Locke.

Our Influence Every man, however humble his station or feeble his powers, exercises some influence on those who are about him for good or for evil.—A. Sedgwick.

An Error in Identity In a Hospital Ward Nurse Helen came into the hospital ward one day to take a blood count, carrying her little yellow box containing glass slides, etc. She took her patient's blood count, joshed him a bit, then packed up her yellow box to depart.

"I'll have mine now," said the little lady at the other end of the ward.

"I'm sorry," said Nurse Helen, "but I can't do that without an order from the doctor."

"Order from the doctor!" snorted the lady. "Since when must I have permission from the doctor to have my nails manicured?"—New York Sun.

WHEN LIFE DEPENDS ON TIRE SAFETY

IT'S ALWAYS Firestone

FOR 19 CONSECUTIVE YEARS THE WINNERS OF THE INDIANAPOLIS 500-MILE RACE HAVE PROTECTED THEIR LIVES WITH FIRESTONE GUM-DIPPED TIRES

On May 31, Floyd Roberts shattered track records for the 500-mile Indianapolis Race, averaging 110 miles an hour on a Firestone Gum-Dipped Tire.

THEY said it couldn't be done—that could not withstand the torture of the new speeds. Yet Floyd Roberts set a new record this year's Indianapolis Race, averaging 110 miles an hour for the 500 miles on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires.

With the sun-baked brick of the straight-away and the granite-hardness of the turns pulling and grinding at the tires, 33 daring drivers, every one of them, waged a thrilling battle for gold and glory. None before have tires been called upon to take such punishment. None in all the history of the motor car tire safety been put to such a grueling test. Yet not one tire failed—not a single cord loosened—because Firestone Dipping, that famous Firestone patented process saturates and coats every cotton fiber in every cord with every ply with liquid rubber, countering the tire-destroying internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

Why risk your life and the lives of others on unsafe tires? Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign today by equipping your car with Firestone Triple-Safe Tires—the tires made that are safety-protected the speedways for your protection on the highways.

That's the Verdict When You Use a McCORMICK-DEERING SIDE RAKE and TEDDER

The best features in a side delivery rake and a tedder are combined to make this two-in-one hay tool indispensable for getting hay quickly and thoroughly. It forms a windrow in which the leaves are turned inward to prevent shattering and loss from blowing off. The stems are turned over to get the quickest and most thorough action from the sun.

The shift of a lever converts the rake from a side rake to a tedder. Another lever sets the rake at the right slant for either direction.

EDITORIAL

JUNE IS WISCONSIN'S HIGHWAY SAFETY MONTH

This is Wisconsin's highway safety month, as designated by Gov. Philip La Follette, and every county in the state has been asked to cooperate with the State Highway Commission in an intensive campaign to reduce traffic accidents and fatalities.

As one of the month's activities, every clergyman in Washington county will be asked to devote a part of a sermon on Sunday, June 26, to street and highway safety. No single thing brings as many sudden and unprepared deaths as does the automobile—no machine violates more the commandment to "thou shalt not kill."

Throughout the state, county safety councils will stage from one to 17 special activities during June to draw public attention to highway safety month. In many of the counties, automobile dealers are staging free mechanical inspections of cars this week (June 12-18), as a safety contribution cooperating with the State Highway Commission.

Next Tuesday, June 21, officially marks the first day of summer.

Washington Digest National Topics Interpreted By WILLIAM BRUCKART NATIONAL PRESS BLDG. WASHINGTON, D. C.

Washington.—New Deal political efforts have now reached an apparent nationwide scope in the strategy for control of the Democratic party machinery. It is no longer a secret—if it ever were concealed—that the White House board of strategy is determined to lick Democratic representatives and senators who have failed to respond to New Deal orders.

The New Dealers have persuaded Governor Johnston of South Carolina to run against Sen. "Cotton Ed" Smith. At least, it is the assumption that the governor was persuaded to enter the race.

Months ago, of course, Sen. Fred Van Nuys was marked for "liquidation" in Indiana because of his activity against the President's court bill. The state machine in Indiana is completely under the domination of former Gov. Paul McNutt, who aspires to the White House, himself, in 1940, and McNutt is sticking with the New Dealers.

The death of an individual whom one does not know, however important he may be, creates either of two conditions. First, the individual is forgotten.

WHAT TO EAT and WHY C. Houston Goudiss Warns of Dangers of Overweight

Nationally Known Food Authority Discovers the Right and Wrong Methods of Reducing

THERE was a time when overweight was indulged and even respected. It was believed that and wisdom went together and that fat people had dispositions. Surplus poundage was regarded as a sign of wealth for it implied that one had plenty to do not have to work.

The modern point of view, backed by medical science, is that overweight destroys beauty, multiplies the chances of disease and subtracts years from your life. Most of the degenerative diseases of middle life occur more frequently in those who are overweight than in those whose weight is normal.

Overweight Burdens the Heart Fatty deposits increase the work of the heart, because each extra pound demands the pumping of additional blood. It has been estimated that every pound of fat requires six-tenths of a mile of blood vessels to nourish it!

Life May Be Shortened Furthermore, life insurance companies estimate that the more overweight the body becomes, the shorter the chances for longevity.

What Should You Weigh? Few women need to be told when they are overweight. A glance in the mirror all too plainly reveals when the slim graceful contours of the youthful figure have begun to disappear.

Reducing Methods to Avoid If you have allowed yourself to become overweight, you should and can reduce. But you must go about it in a scientific manner.

Men of the Mounted

by Captain G. Elliott-Nightingale Copyright, WNU

FIRST BRUSH WITH THE DUKHOBORS

STARK naked, singing psalms, and shouting biblical texts and warnings, hundreds of men, women, and children were seen strolling across the vast Saskatchewan prairies one chilly October morning.

"We are looking for Jesus," came the almost unanimous reply. "Well, He's here, all right," replied a settler, "but you don't have to run around like this in order to find Him."

They took biblical commands literally, and fixing their minds on certain texts, completely ignored other texts that contradicted their beliefs in thought and deed, and they even placed their horses and cattle in the same spiritual category as themselves.

Back-trailing this crazy mob, that October morning, the Men of the Mounted picked up every bit of clothing and footwear the Dukhobors had cast off during their stroll.

Of course, they could have used force, or they could have started slipping bare buttocks and backs, as the writer saw one lone Redcoat do a year or so later, but that was not the way of the Mounted.

PRODUCE STAND IS STREAMLINE STYLE

Rickety Stations Are Not Business-Getters.

By W. C. Harrington, Farm Engineering Specialist, Massachusetts State College.—WNU Service.

Streamlining has hit the farm produce stand. Instead of the haphazard heap of vegetables under a sprawling sign, the farmer is now putting up well-designed buildings, landscaping the grounds, and going after business in a businesslike way.

The day of the rickety farm produce stand is done. Roads are smoother, cars are faster, and the farmer who wants to keep his share of the city driver's business is changing his old stand to meet the new conditions.

The following are listed as the most important points for consideration in laying out the farm produce stand for this summer's business:

The station should be visible for several hundred feet so that prospective purchasers may recognize it and make necessary decisions in time to drive in.

There should be an ample supply of pure water. Suitable drainage should be provided, not only for the parking surface but for sewage and other waste water.

Until about 1921 the large American bakers and makers of noodles, macaroni, ice cream, candy, and salad dressing depended largely on dried eggs from China to meet requirements.

About half of the output of this product consists of whole eggs, and the rest of whites and yolks canned separately.

Lespedeza in Shade Lespedeza is not a pasture possibility in dense woods, but the crop promises to stand more shade in wood lots than will bluegrass.

Should Fence Woodland Woodland should be fenced to keep out live stock, especially if it is subject to erosion, says Wallace's Farmer.

Prize Winning Recipes To Be Announced Soon C. Houston Goudiss, who writes our "WHAT TO EAT AND WHY" series, reports that the Cake Recipe Contest which he recently conducted through the columns of this newspaper was a gratifying success.

A tremendous number of recipes were submitted and the home economists on the staff of the Experimental Kitchen Laboratory in New York city have been busy for days testing and tasting almost every imaginable kind of cake.

Because of the volume of recipes submitted, they will require a little while longer to complete their tests and to arrive at their decision as to the winners.

Prize winners will be reported in these columns in the near future, and as announced at the beginning of the contest, prize winning recipes, together with those receiving honorable mention from the judges, will be printed in a booklet to be distributed nationally.
