Rev. A. A. Graf Family

Rev. A. A. Graf, who on Jan. 2nd reigned as pastor of the Salem Evanelical Reformed church at Wayne, and his family are safely settled in Oregon at present according to a letter from hev. Graf received here this week. Rev. Graf and family left March 3 for Tillanook, Oregon, where he has accepted the pastorate of St. John's church. In his most welcome letter Rev. Graf writes that the family like their new ome very much. He invites the friends of his family in this community to sisit the pastorate if ever such an opportunity allows. Because we know Rev. Graf's numerous friends in this vicinity will be interested in hearing from him we repeat the letter in part "At last we are in Tillamook. This

Local Holstein Breeder

Charles Backhaus of Kewaskum, procattle for many years, will be honored at a special Silver Anniversary banquet to be held in the Oconomowoc Armory the evening of Wednesday, March 29. This event will celebrate twenty-five years of public sales of purebred Holstein cattle in Waukesha county. First sale of the series was neld in 1914, according to William L. Baird, member of the Baird and Darcey sales organization. Mr. Baird as secretary of the Waukesha County Holstein Breeders' association and director of the Holstein-Friesian Asso. ciation of America, thought it would be fitting to honor the Wisconsin Holstein breeders who have been actively n the business for a quarter of a century or longer. According to the national association records there are more than 250 Wisconsin breeders who have passed the twenty-five year mark in the Holstein business. All have been invited to attend the banquet to be honored for their splendid part in ma-Batavia. king Wisconsin the leading dairy state. A. C. They boarded the 12:45 train to return the prisoner to Denver Colo. for first degree murder charges While here one of the Colorado sheriffs motored to Mauthe lake to see the state park, which he claimed he had heard so much about in his home state.

Medberry did not confess to the mur der charge although admitting having had an' argument with Gray, claiming he struck him over the head with his pistol butt and threw the body in sagerush along the road. The body of Gray, with a bullet in his head, was found in a rural school garage and his automobile was found in Denver shortly after Medberry was arrested and then released there on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

The youth was identified from photos taken when he was arrested in Denver for investigation.

Medberry hitchhiked back to Fond du Lac and was arrested at the home of his father-in-law, Charles Waschnick Friday night. His wife Violet was stay. ing there. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Medberry. Fond du Lac, and was a former choir singer.

attending Kewaskum to Enter Kettle Moraine Baseball League

At a baseball meeting held at Eber ie's place last Friday evening, which was attended by about a dozen players, it was decided to enter a Kewaskum team in the Kettle Moraine league this summer. The Kettle Moraine league is an amateur circuit and all home players will be used. At a previous meeting a committee was appointed to attend the recent league meeting at Random Lake at which time officials announced that Kewaskum could get a franchise

The Badger State league, of which Kewaskum has been a member the pass several years, will hold a meeting toright, Friday, at West Bend, to decide whether there will be a league this season. Last season there were only four teams in the league and if enough teams are interested in joining, the circuit will be continued. In that case it is possible that Kewaskum will also enter a team in that loop, which plays semi-pro ball, as the fans prefer to see a faster brand of baseball here.

With the joining of Kewaskum, and Greenbush re-entering the Kettle M aine league, the loop is now composed of eight teams. Besides Kewaskum and Greenbush, others are Campbellsport, Random Lake, Adell, Sheboygan Falls, Waldo and Cascade.

The following men have been hired as umpires in the circuit: Frank Jacob. sen, Art. Mueller and Ben Gottnacker of Sheboygan, Art. Anderson of Random Lake and Joe Schramm of For du Lac. The Goldsmith raised-seam hall was adopted as the official ball.

DON'T put an added burden on your flowers by asking them to grow in conditions to which they are not suited. Flowers are like races of humans. Some thrive in warm, moist climates. Others, through the centuries, have become accustomed to intensive Certain flowers, for instance, may be grown successfully in comparatively cool, semi-shaded locations. If you have such spots in your yard, don't plant your zinnias or petunias there.

Any of the following will prove more satisfactory, according to Harry A. Joy, flower expert: Annuals - balsam, clarkia, coleus, nasturtium, pansy, calendula and vinca; perennials-English daisy, campanula, columbine, myosotis, sweet William and viola.

If you live in drouthy sections or if your flower beds are on well-drained soil in full sun, try the following: Annuals-abronia, ageratum, alyssum procumbens, arctotis, calliopsis, candytuft, cosmos, four o'clock, lupin texensis, petunia, portulaca, sunflower, verbena, and zinnia; perennialscoreopsis and hollyhock

How Women in Their 40's Can Attract Men

Here's good advice for a woman during her change (usually from 38 to 52), who fears she'll lose her appeal to men, who worries about hot flashes, loss of pep, dizzy spells, upset nerves and moody spells.

Get more fresh air, 8 hrs. sleep and if you need a good general system tonic take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women. It helps Nature build up physical resistance, thus helps give more vivacity to enjoy life and assist calming jittery nerves and disturbing symptoms that often accompany change of life. WELL WORTH TRYING!

Worthy Esteem Ability wins us the esteem of the true men; luck that of the people.-La Rochefoucauld.

You'll like the way it snaps you back, overnight, to the feeling of "rarin' to go" fitness and inside clean-liness! Helps eliminate the left-over westes that hold you back, cause headaches, indigestion, etc. Garfield Tea is not a miracle worker, but if CONSTIPATION bothers you, it will certainly "do wonders!" 10f and 25½ of drugstores—or WRITE FOR FREE SAMPLES of Garfield Tea and Garfield Headache Powders to GARFIELD TEA CO., Dept. 40, Brooklyn, N.Y.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Use Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to get rid of excess poisonous body waste. They are antiseptic to the urinary tract and tend to relieve irritation and the pain it causes. Many grateful people recommend Doan's. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Ask your neighbor!

MANO' WAR BECOMES 22

The greatest horse in American turf history was born 22 years ago March 31 and now lives in happy retirement at Faraway Farms, the stud farm his owner— Samuel D. Riddle—built for him in Kentucky's blue grass region north of Lexington. Man O' War has brought his owner $1,000,000 in prize money, stud fees and sale of foals, though he cost only $5,-000 in 1918. Man O' War's 277 registered children (to January, 1937) have won more than $2,500,000. Despite his age, the wonder horse is still sleek and sound, alert and full of energy. About the farm the powerful chestnut, heavier than ever, is known as "Big Red," and attracts thousands of admiring visitors each year.

"Into the Whirling Knives"

HELLO, EVERYBODY: Here's a tale of the wheat fields of Canada, an exciting account of how a man, trying to yank loose a sheaf of wheat that was plugging the blades of a threshing rig, suddenly found himself being carried along toward them by the machinery he had succeeded in freeing.

It was a frightful experience, and Howard C. Flanders of Rutland, Vermont, won't forget it till the day he dies. Incidentally, I'm flattered-and a bit curious-to learn that my column in the New York Journal is read way up in Rutland,

Howard's story begins back in 1924, when he was a youth of 16 living in the town of Sherbrooke, Quebec. In those days, during the fall of the year they would import men from the East and even from Great Britain to work in the harvest fields of western Canada.

As Howard puts it succinctly: "The dough was good, the hours long, etc., so I decided I would try it."

A week later Howard left Sherbrooke on the Harvesters' Special. week later he arrived in Calgary, Alberta. A train that ran only three times a week took him on to Granger, Alberta, and thence he went by bus to Carbon. Here he got a job in the wheat fields and worked three weeks.

"So far, so good," Howard says. "I then went to work for a threshing outfit where I came near losing my neck-or feet would be more explains, it took them to the mouth of the machine where a series of knives work up and down so fast the eye could not follow them. These knives, as Howard puts it, "do a job on the wheat," and also cuts the cord that holds the bundle together. "We would work like mules," Howard goes on, "unloading so as to get through and catch up a few minutes on the other fellow and take it easy. Sometimes we would plug the rig and the carrier would stop, This certain day-September 29, 1924, to be exact-the rig plugged on them, and not thinking, Howard jumped on the carrier and grabbed a sheaf that was plugging the knives and started to pull and yank. 'All of a sudden," Howard says, "it let go and there I wasriding along to those knives and destruction."

Picture the scene for yourself-the carrier, with Howard on board, moving slowly but inevitably toward the flashing knives that, freed now of their obstruction, were slashing at a speed that made them invisible

To make matters worse, Howard, because he had been obliged to go close to the knives in order to free them, was now practically on top of them, being carried closer every second by the speeding carrier, as it picked up momentum it had lost when the sheaf had blocked it.

Howard heard a yell. It may have been that yell that broke the spell that his startled senses were under. At any rate, he was galvanized into action. Just as the greedy knives were reaching for his clothes to drag him in and shred him to death, he swung, jumped on to the bundle rack of his wagon!

Breathless, his heart pounding, his limbs so weak he could hardly hold himself together, Howard climbed down to the ground. And then, suddenly, he remembered the yell, and the strange quality that made it somehow more than just a cry of warning. He looked about.

The Mystery of the Machine Owner. On the opposite side of the machine he found one of the owners of the outfit with his right hand all mangled and bleeding at his side! "In his hurry," Howard explains, "he said he had been pulling a chain on the outside of the carrier, trying to help the bundles through, and when she started he looked up, and there I was riding merrily along. His story was that the only thing to do was to plug those gears some way and slow up that carrier or stop it and give me a chance to get off, and not having anything to use he slaps his hand between the gears and it slowed it up and gave me the chance to save myself." To this day, Howard says, he can't remember whether that platform slacked up in its speed or not. He does know he got himself clear. "I have often wondered," Howard goes on to say, "if the man in his hurry to get the thing going, had taken hold of one of the crosspieces of the gear and yanked on it, and when she started, slipped and went into the gear himself-or whether he was the means of saving my life or limbs. I don't know. The least I could do was thank him, which

"A week later he gave me the gate and I have been wondering ever since just what did happen." Howard finally got home broke but happy. I hope he stays happy, but just in case he ever goes broke again, here's ten bucks he can put merable perfumes. However, the bases-the fixatives -were a few natural products, the most famous of which is musk. Several animals produce musk, but the best comes from the male musk deer of the Himalayas, according to an authority in the Philadelphia

Record. The musk deer is only 20 inches high, has no antlers and its teeth project like tusks in the male. This tiny deer carries beneath the skin of his stomach a sack about the size of an orange, in which is found a dark brown substance, somewhat like wet gingerbread (found only in the male).

This "musk" is about the strongest smelling substance known, rather aromatic and pleasant. The deer is killed, the musk sack extracted and dried, then packed by camel caravan across the immense plains

Lavender Favorite Perfume Lavender is one of the favorite perfumes the world over and enormous quantities of the dried flowers are used annually to make the perfume and other lavender products. The yield of oil varies from year to year depending on the weather and the age of the bushes. The matured for use in the perfumery and other trades.

Long before the Christian era men were killing musk deer and dealing in the musk they obtained from them.

Musk is mixed with many other ingredients, whose odors it seems to blend into a whole. In color it is dark purplish, in texture dry, smooth and unctuous to the touch, in taste bitter.

So pervading is it that the scent remains for centuries. In 1558 "Bloody" Mary of England ordered Lady Cecily Cholmondoley imprisoned in the Tower of London. The governor of the tower, who sympathized with his fair prisoner, had her cell perfumed with musk. The characteristic perfume is still discernible after nearly 400 years.

Chemically musk contains ammonia, cholesterin, fatty matter, a bitter resinous substance and other animal principles.

Just now, the Civil Aeronautics authority certifies Mr. Fairchild's new 500-horsepower "in-line" engine, which, he says, has more power for its weight than any other. For several years, Mr. Fairchild has been pioneering the "in-line" engines as against the radial type of foreign nations. In 1936, he sold 20 of them to the Greek government, which, it was later reported, found them highly satisfactory. His engine is about one-third the size of a radial engine.

His father, the late George W. Fairchild, began his business career on $8 a week, invented the dial telephone, the computing scale, and the adding machine. He wanted his son to become a junior executive of International Business Machines corporation. The young man, however, was interested mainly in cameras. At 17, he had in vented a revolutionary flashlight camera, and, at 21, a radial aerial camera.

C. Houston Goudiss Shows How the Right Foods Can Help to Guard Against Springtime Debility

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS

THE gap between winter and spring has always been recognized as a trying period. Work seems a burden, tempers are short, appetites are poor, and little enjoyment is derived from meals.

Just as the daily tide of human vitality is at a low ebb during the hours before dawn, so does the annual tide of health reach a low ebb in the weeks that mark the end of winter and the official be-e ginning of spring. find themselves on the borderline

How lucky we are today! For science has taught us what we should eat to help increase pep and vitality, and build rich red blood. And modern methods of transportation, refrigeration, food preservation and packaging, have made the necessary foods easily available. It merely remains for the homemaker to acquaint herself with the nutritional needs of

Enriching the Blood

The blood is frequently impoverished by the time spring puts in an appearance. Inasmuch as 3 per cent of the blood cells are destroyed daily, it is obvious that unless adequate amounts of iron-rich foods are available to replace them, the number will soon become subnormal. Moreover, it has been found that many minor disturbances of the body cause a loss of crum, meaning gain. iron, and that mild infections are a common cause of iron loss.

Iron-Rich Foods

Every homemaker, therefore, should make a determined effort in her menus. These foods include liver, eggs, whole grain cereals, dried fruits, lean meats and green leafy vegetables.

Green vegetables cannot be emphasized too strongly, for they tend somewhat to be crowded out of the winter diet by the starchy and fatty foods which provide more heat and energy. And investigations with children have demonstrated that when vegetables and fruits are limited, there is a certain sluggishness of blood formation. Green vegetables not only supply iron in significant amounts, but their iron has been found to be especially well absorbed from the digestive tract.

Eat More Greens Right now it is most important o provide large amounts of dangreens, spinach, kale, watercress, lettuce and In those days, the science of green cabbage. Serve a cooked nutrition was in its infancy. Vita- green vegetable at one meal each mins were still undiscovered, and day and a generous green salad at another.

Top the salad with fruit, if you want to add more minerals and and celery.

These fruits also supply important minerals and vitamins, and like the green vegetables, they leave an alkaline ash following digestion, and therefore help to maintain the acid-base balance of the body.

Plenty of Bulk Required

hy green vegetables and fruits should be consumed in liberal quantities. These foods, along with whole grain cereals, provide an abundance of bulk or cellulose which is necessary to help promote regularity. They tend to offset the effects of a too highly concentrated winter diet. Very often that feeling of lassitude, mistakenly called spring fever, can be overcome by adding to the diet a larger proportion of these naturally laxative foods. It's also desirable to take an adequate supply of fluids to help flush the system of waste. In addition to a generous amount of water, there should be a pint of milk daily for every adult, a quart for every child, and fruit juices in abundance. Orange juice, grapefruit juice, pineapple juice and tomato juice all supply vitamins A, B and C, and their refreshing fruit acids have a beneficial effect upon the appetite.

Exercise and Fresh Air

Two more splendid antidotes for the let-down feeling that comes at this season are moderate exercise and fresh air. The proper use of the muscular system is important to health and vitality, yet many people go through the winter taking far too little exercise.

In general, you will eat better, sleep better, feel more alert and at the same time more relaxed, if you make a point of getting out into the open every day.

Sleep, sunshine, fresh air and the right food-these are Nature's tonics! ©-WNU-C. Houston Goudiss-1939-55

HE smartest kind of dress for runabout, as becoming as it is practical, is yours if you use No. 1717 to make it. The button-downthe-front style is extremely popular. This dress, too, has lines that make your figure look slim and youthful. The skirt is slim over the hips, high at the waist, and full at the hem. The shirred bodice and wide-shouldered sleeves give you a softly rounded look. Make this dress of flat crepe, silk print or sheer fabrics.

Three-in-One Frock.

Here's a clever design that gives you three different fashions in one! First of all, No. 1685 is charming little kimono-sleeved frock with a flattering, tiny waist. And with it comes a little bolero (that you can wear with other apron-skirt, fastened with a bow do you do for a living?" he de a the front. Wear it any one of manded. hree ways-alone, with the bo-

The Man Was Waiting And Did Just That

The magistrate was not exactly clear as to what the case was all about, so he tried to find out by questioning the prisoner. "What were you doing when you were arrested?" he asked. "Waiting, sir." 'What for?"

"Money, sir." "Who was to give you the noney?" "The man I was waiting for."

"What did he owe it to you for?" "Waiting, sir." The magistrate made a last effrocks, too) and a tie-around fort to get a definite idea. "What

Adolf Hitler might place that inscription on the national tombstone of a nation he snuffed out. Partially he would be right. But Czechoslovakia's "unnatural unity" might have become natural had not the flames of discontent been fanned by Berlin and Vienna. Immediate cause of death was a Slovakian independence movement, but good international physicians look behind the immediate cause to make their post mortem decision, finding that Czechoslovakia's death agony conforms with diagnoses made throughcut its short life:

Birth: On May 30, 1918, Czechoslovakia was born at Pittsburgh, Pa. Attending physician was Thomas G. Masaryk, a modern George Washington who pooled the causes of two depressed peoples. Until the war Czechs were dominated by Austria, and Slovaks by Hungary. What could be more natural than a joint independence declaration? Though Czechs dominated the negotiations, shrewd Doctor Masaryk foresaw trouble if Slovaks were mistreated. Said the Pittsburgh pact: 'Slovakia shall have its own admin-. parliament .

Illness. Pride may keep the patient from admitting his ill health, but sometimes the body builds physical resistance to a point where the ailment becomes unimportant. Slovakia's autonomy cry has been the Czech nation's headache for 20 years, but meanwhile both Slovaks and Czechs found enough mutual delight in their newly won democracy to keep the autonomy movement well under cover. Even this novelty can wear off, however, and by 1938 Czechs, Slovaks, Sudeten Germans, Ruthenians, Hungarians, Poles, Ukrainians and Rumanians each found cause to complain of racial discrimination. This was the era of national unity, when Adolf Hitler was "rescuing" all good Germans from foreign flags, and when Poland, Hungary and Rumania followed the Throughout last summer Berlin fomented dissension among Sudeten Germans in the Czech borderlands. At Munich a defeated Prague government-deserted by London and Paris-ceded Sudetenland. A month later Poland and Hungary each took their share, but debilitated Czechoslovakia soon regained its feet. One successful medicine was autonomy for both Slovakia and Ruthenia, which gave the patient rest if not recovery. An-

Both Slovakia and Carpatho-Ukraine (Ruthenia) held the father of their autonomy in high regard, willing that he should build toward the day when German troops could use Czechoslovakia as a corridor to the Ukraine. But one weak state is easier to handle than three young upstart nations, hence Hitler preferred autonomy to independence. He also hoped Hungary would dare not grab Ruthenia to get its common border with Poland, since this might block the Ukraine drive.

In Memoriam. Only a few days earlier London and Paris were boasting that dictator appeasement was ended, that democracy's star was rising and totalitarianism's fall-Prime Minister Chamberlain and Home Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare even proposed a disarmament parley, showing their blissful ignorance of the situation. National Union Endangered by Trade Barriers Between States

Bootlegging of Milk and Cream Calls Attention to Condition That Has Become Flagrant; Proper Government Functions Used to Accomplish Unscrupulous Ends.

> By WILLIAM BRUCKART WNU Service, National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON .- City officials and | keted with a variance of laws on have worked themselves into a terrible dither lately over a new kind of bootlegger—a bootlegger of milk and cream. This city, like every other city, has tight regulations concerning milk and cream that enters the national capital. They are regulations designed to protect the health of those who reside here. Moreover, maintenance of such regulations are an entirely proper function of government, because there can be nothing more important than

According to the charges filed and upon which arrests were made, a dairy four or five hundred miles from Washington, inspected and licensed by the state of its location, brought in a truck load of refrigerated cream without first having obtained a permit to do so. The city officials, prodded perhaps by local dairies and nearby milk producers, threw a couple of men into jail and barked and squawked all around the place because of this bootlegger. The local press reports indicated the city officials had made asses of themselves over the whole matter, but that is of no particular concern

The incident is very important as illustrative of a condition that is rapidly endangering the national union of states, and is, therefore, a matter for analysis here. Frequently, great national issues lie around, or are kicked around, for months before somebody inadvertently sets a match to the powder; and it happened to be local officials who struck

Barriers to Trade Between States Has Become Flagrant

The thing called to national attention by the cream bootlegger is the existence through the nation of barriers or obstacles to trade between the states. It has become flagrant. Selfish interests have been operating, first, in one state; then, in another. Laws have been passed utilizing proper government functions to accomplish unscrupulous These have bred retaliatory measures. Other states have passed laws to "get even" with those acting ahead. State officials, state trade and civic organizations have threatened, and have been threatened back, until now we have throughout the United States thousands of people sticking out their tongues in the most childish fashion at other thousands of people. Each group saying in sign language or otherwise: "you're another."

no doubt in my mind but what the condition bodes ill for national unity. It takes no expanded imagination to think of the time when we might have 48 little nations, snarling and frothing at the mouth as crudely, and quite as unintelligently, as they do throughout Europe.

Now, it is one thing, and a very the preservation of health, for the protection of property, for the support of government, or governmental policy. It is quite another, and dastardly, thing to make use of those regulations to prevent the flow of commerce and the products of farm and factory. It is such things as that from which monopoly is made. If the now rather ill-famed monopoly investigation is worth its salt (which it has not demonstrated thus far), it could demonstrate its value by examining into trade barriers between states. Proper Legal Power Used, But It Is Used Selfishly

Representative Halleck of Indiana has been engaged for weeks in digging up facts about these trade barriers. He told me the other day that he intends to try to break them down, either by constitutional amendment or by national statute. There are plenty of difficulties confronting him, he admits, because all of these things have been done by using entirely proper legal power, but by using it selfishly.

To illustrate, Mr. Halleck referred to that oft-repeated assertion that "the power to tax is the power to destroy." Indeed, it is! The power to tax for government revenue is, and always has been, used. But there are many instances of record where that taxing power was employed to levy such high rates of tax that the tax collector took everything produced. The business was destroyed. And it is the same thinly disguised use of proper power that is getting the nation into an awful mess, now. This choking of trade is going on despite the constitutional provision which says emphatically that no state may levy tariffs against importations from other states. The bright law makers, and their henchmen, have got around that in the manner mentioned above

Mr. Halleck supplied some facts to show how widespread the condition has become. He mentioned, moreover, that the nation is so blannewspapers of Washington, D. C., most subjects that it seems almost a hopeless job to untangle them.

For example, there are 170 different state laws dealing with the labelling and grading of farm prod-ucts. A good ear of corn in one state won't be recognized as a good ear of corn in another. My friend, the ordinary irish potato may be accepted as No. 1 in one state, and find himself as No. 3 in another. A bottle of beer in Missouri, tax paid and respectable there, becomes virtually a bottle of slop in an adjoining state. Wines from grapes grown in California cannot possibly be as good as wines grown from grapes in Oregon, because the Oregon law says so and lays a burdensome tax to prevent Oregon citizens from having their stomachs corroded or some thing. Cement entering Florida, for a time, was not as good as cement produced in Florida and Florida was prepared to tax it-until the case got to the Supreme court of the United

States Differ as to What Constitutes a Truck Load

Take another and less known condition-less known because fewer people come in contact with it, but it enters into the cost of the things you buy, just the same. I refer to state laws about load limits of trucks. I don't have any love for trucks; they are so doggoned big these days that I want to take to the timber when I see one of them coming head-on along the highway. But they have rights. Yet, there are no two states as far as I can learn that have the same regulation about the size of a truck's load. The trucks can be regulated because they use the highways, and yet one state says 120,000 pounds is a load and another state says 18,000 pounds is a load. The others have laws specifying a load at varying sizes in between, and there you are! Just what is a load, anyway?

The truth of the matter is that local interests are to blame in most cases. They are taking advantage of situations to further their own selfish ends. And where are they leading to with this polyglot of leg-

The whole thing seems a bit incongruous to me. Here, on the one hand, Mr. Cordell Hull, the very able and valuable secretary of state, has been moving heaven and earth to get rid of trade barriers between nations. Reciprocal trade treaties, he calls his method. Some of them seem to work badly, and some others appear to be producing results, but no one knows yet whether the It is serious business, and there is whole system should be kept or thrown out. That question does not belong here. It is the national policy of breaking down obstacles, jarring loose log jams, so that our products may move into other nations that is important to be considered when within our own boundaries every known means is being used to block shipments and sales proper thing, to use regulations for between states. I cannot figure it out unless some folks are strict followers of the Biblical injunction not to let the left hand know what the right hand doeth.

National Government Policy To Blame for Conditions

I have been wondering, therefore, what had actuated the selfish interests of the country to start on this spree of battling among themselves. There must have been some reason behind that. At least, I have come to believe there is. I believe that the condition fundamentally springs from national government policy which for years now has been in the direction of destroying the rights of individual states. Little by little, the federal government has torn away the rights of the states-and the states, with pain reduced by federal money, have permitted it.

Suddenly, however, the states and their citizens have discovered their whole jurisdiction is enveloped in creeping paralysis. We have all noted resentment in the last few years at the encroachment of federal regulation upon individual rights and freedom. When these things were realized by the rank and file of the people, there developed a new disease as a counter irritant, the disease of knocking the other fellow off. It will take more than socialized medicine to correct it. The national government's policies, having started it, will have to assume the blame and will have to find a way to remedy the condition. I hope Mr. Halleck, and those he has enlisted to help him, can find the proper prescription for the cure.

ADVENTUROUS AMERICANS

Elmo Scott Watson

A River Is Their Memorial A WAY back in 1739 Pierre and Paul Mallet, Canadian traders, heard of the wealth of far-away Santa Fe where, it was said, the Spanish senors wore silver buttons on their clothes and the senoritas had silver heels on their slippers. So they enlisted six other venturesome Canadians and after a long journey by boat and pack train, arrived in the New Mexican capital. The Spanish governor was friendly but there was a law against free trading. So the Mallets started north, crossed the headwaters of the Canadian (called the Colorado by the Spaniards because of its red waters) and followed up the Purgatoire to its junction with the Arkansas. There the party split up. Three of the men, who were homesick, started overland for Canada and eventually reached Montreal safely

The Mallets, accompanied by two others, went down the Arkansas and the Mississippi to New Orleans, where they reported their explorations to Bienville, the governor, whose efforts to find a route to Santa Fe had been unsuccessful. He engaged them to guide another expedition led by Andre de la Bruyere, a royal officer, who was to ascend the Mississippi and Arkansas to the mouth of the Canadian, which the Mallets correctly guessed arose "less than 40 leagues from Santa

When the Canadian dwindled away to a mere brook in central Oklahoma, Bruyere sat down to wait for it to rise, instead of buying horses from the Osages to transport his goods, as the Mallets advised him to do. But it was a dry year and, after waiting six months, Bruyere went back to New Orleans. The Mallets returned to Canada, where they disappeared from history, but today the Canadian river is a 760mile-long memorial to the two brothers "whose wanderings rank them on a par with La Salle."

Klondike Kate

HER neighbors in Bend, Ore. know her as Mrs. John Matson, or "Aunt Kate" Matson, but to old sourdoughs who mushed over Alaskan trails during the gold rush days of '98, she always has been and still is "Klondike Kate." The daughter of a Seattle judge, Kate Betts spent most of her early life in a convent. Then a reverse in the Betts family fortune took her from behind its walls and started her on her career of adventure.

She was in Seattle when the stampede to Alaska started. She joined the gold rush and finally found herin rip-roaring Dawson City. There she became the belle of the bars and a favorite of the bearded prospectors who came to town eager to spend money after their struggles to gain a fortune from the frozen soil. They showered their nuggets upon "Klondike Kate"-she often made as much as $150 a night by singing and dancing for them. Once a miner gave her $750 in "dust" simply for the privilege of sitting and talking to her.

But like many others, she brought little of her money back to the States with her when the boom days were over. Finally in 1933 she received a letter from 70-year-old John Matson, who had known her in the Dawson City days and who wanted to marry her. The marriage took place in Vancouver, B. C. Then she settled down in the little Oregon city, no longer the famous "Klondike Kate," the toast of Alaskan gold camps, but "Aunt Kate" to the home-folks.

First Into Antarctic

HEY tell tall tales of explorations in the Antarctic. None of them can compare, though, with the trip of Nathanial B. Palmer if sheer adventure is the standard. Away back in 1820 he was the first voyager to reach the northern fringe of the Antarctic continent.

A tall, blonde, Connecticut Yankee, Nat Palmer was still only in his teens when he made the voyage as skipper of the sloop Hero. The ship which penetrated farther south than any other up until that time was only 50 feet long-half the size of the sailboat "America," original winner of the first America's Cup race in 1851.

The voyage is more remarkable, too, when you consider that it was made almost 100 years before the poles were finally reached.

Palmer himself has said, "I pointed the bow of the little craft to the south'ard and, with her wings spread, mainsail abeam, jib abreast the opposite bow, she speeded on her way to new sealing ground like a thing of light . . . With her flowing sheet she seemed to enter into the spirit which possessed my ambition, flew along the wave and over billow until she brought in sight of land not laid down on my chart . . ."

Thus this lad discovered Palmer and, archipelago of the Antarctic continent, and proved by his description that he was as literary as ne was adventurous.

New Colors and Styling Say Silk Prints for Spring DEPARTMENT

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

IF YOU have not already been seized with a mania for a new frock of gay silk print, call a physician. Your case is serious and needs immediate attention, for it is as natural for womankind to seek the inspiration of bright colorful prints in the springtime of the year (any time of the year for that matter) as it is for flowers to turn their pretty selves toward the warm rays of the sun.

It is positively exhilarating to look over the new prints this spring. The colors are so out of the ordinary and the patternings so versa-

Colors that lead? Answering the question, fuchsia shades perhaps come first in favor although a flair for prints that pattern navy or black backgrounds with chartreuse or spring green motif is definitely evidenced in the ensembled costumes featured at various prevue showings. These green and black or green and navy prints are wonderfully attractive.

Major trends in prints from a styling viewpoint? Well, for one thing, there are the very chic jacket costume suits. And when we say 'jacket'' we do not mean the usual casual jacket types we are accustomed to seeing season after season. The new jackets are done in a man-tailored way with lapels and stitched pocket flaps, are frequently lined with a monotone silk and the niftiest are double breasted buttoning (large pearl buttons) with real honest-to-goodness worked but-

There's nothing smarter "going" than these extremely practical and attractive print silk jacket suits. The better shops are showing them but if you aspire to "make your own," a few yards of swank print silk, a reliable pattern that has "it" in point of high style and there is no reason why, if you are handy at sewing, you cannot turn out a costume that will give you "class" wherever you go.

The pleated vogue continues a big factor in print-dress styling. The latest call is for pleated bodice as well as pleated skirt. The model centered in the group gives the idea. This short-sleeved daytime dress is made of pure dye printed silk crepon with white medallions centered with green and magenta on an orange yellow ground. These sun-gold print silks are the "last word" for spring.

To the right a slim jacket dress is shown of a silk print featuring violene tones in a closely spaced wool violet pattern. Quilting bor-ders the wide-shouldered jacket and a nosegay of violets makes an appropriate flower accent. The belt And If He Knows How is of violet colored leather—a cos- One generally does w tume that sounds a refreshing note of spring.

New looking and stunning in effect is the combination of print with plain silk fabrics as carried out in the mode to left in foreground. The skirt section and the lapels on the bodice are of monotone silk weave, worn over a dress of whitepatterned-on-blue print. Often the monotone skirt is removable thus affording two-dresses-in-one, a very practical idea to say the least.

World Fair Print

Just out! It's an official print showing all the New York World's fair buildings in their natural colorings. Of course this print is destined to cause talk and create excitement. See here pictured pretty Elaine Mulligan selected as "Miss Chicago" at the fair, posing in a charming housecoat made of this ings and will make you demure and unique washable print. Spreading quaint. skirts and corded flounces illustrate the new romantic influence, in striking contrast to the geometrically formal symbols of the fair-the obelisk and sphere. This World's fair housecoat is one among thousands of new styles that were displayed show held recently in Chicago.

| Fashions Stress

'Little Girl Look

If you follow fashion's lead you will be wearing clothes with the "little girl look," such as designers are turning out with such enthusiasm this season. The magic of these new ingenue fashions is that not only do they subtract years from your appearance, but you will be seen at your prettiest.

Notable among the young looking dresses that now center the fashion stage are the types that have short, full swing skirts pleated, or if not pleated, then gored in as many as 16 sections. It adds to their cunning that these skirts reveal tantalizing bits of frou-frou frill, which accounts for the term "petticoat dresses," as registered on fashion's program.

We could go on and on telling of this youth trend but "nuff said" for your shopping tours will convince you of the claim that the new clothes look as if they had been dipped in the fountain of youth.

Lovely Things in Latest Neckwear

Dainty white organdie fichus with the val edging your grandmother wore are charmingly feminine and so flattering on a black dinner or daytime dress. Another variation of the fichu is the camellian fichu which may be worn five different ways: as a fichu, as an ascot, tucked under the neckline of your dress as a piping, as a plastron tucked under your belt, or as a vestie.

Berthas are fashionable once again in georgettes, embroidered organdie with val insertions and edg-

SAFETY TALKS

How About Your Safety?

F YOU know all the rules about wearing rubbers when it rains, red flannel undies in the winter, and if you don't sleep in a draft, you probably take pretty good care of your health. But how about your safety?

The National Safety council reports that from the age of three years to 21, accidents kill more persons (both sexes) than any disease; from the age of three years to 40, accidents kill more males than any disease. Among males of all ages only heart disease claims more victims than accidents-301.6 of every 100,000 males die of heart disease each year while accidents kill 119.6. Among the ladies, six diseases rank above accidents as a cause of fatalities. They are heart disease, cancer, cerebral hemorrhage, pneumonia and chronic nephritis.

MUSCULAR

It takes more than "just a salve" to bring speedy relief. It takes a "counter-irritant" like good old soothing, warming Musterole to penetrate the surface skin and help to quickly relieve the painful local congestion and aches due to colds.

Muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness generally yield promptly.

Better than the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Musterole has been used by millions for 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. In three strengths: Regular, Children's (mild) and Extra Strong, 404. All druggists.

Weekly Letter

From Washington County Assemblyman Jos. A. Schmitz

Wisconsin Legislature, Madison

Due to primary elections in some arts of the state the Legislature did ot convene last week until Wednes. lay morning and the lack of spectacuer legislation made it a rather dull For Judge of the Supreme Court three day session.

The only blind member ever to sit in our Legislature is Assemblyman John Kostuck, a Progressive of Steens Point, who lost his eyesight at the ge of 14 while assisting in blasting perations. He is 45 years old and is erving his fifth term. He worked his way through the Wisconsin State School for the Blind, graduating from the high school department in 1918 after ten years of study. He then attend d the University of Wisconsin, specializing in political science and econo He choses his same seat in the Assembly chamber at every session, and with the aid of a young man, who acts as his guide, and secretary, Mr. Kosuck is very able and efficient in the enformance of the duties of his office. A page call system has been installed in the Assembly chamber, by means of which every assemblyman can call page when he needs one, by merely pressing a button (on his desk) which lights a light in the rear of the room showing the number of his seat. This was done to do away with the former practice of motioning and calling, which was very disturbing to the mem-There are sixty-two employees in the Assembly, all of whom must be males assigned to the following work: 12 elerks who keep up the records, 19 stenographers and typists, 1 voting machine operator, 1 assistant chief clerk, 25 messengers who run errands, sweep, dust, clean, direct visitors, guard the chambers at night, act as gallery and cloakroom attendants, and clerks in document rooms and post office. All these employes are appointed by members of the Assembly.

Your assemblyman appointed CHES TER NIELSON, JR. OF WEST BEND who was given the night watchman's ob, in accordance with his wishes. It is his duty to see that all doors are properly locked and all lights turned out after the last member leaves at night. He then spends the balance of the night on duty as watchman over the chambers. Some criticism has been leveled at the 1939 Legislature for the lack of speed it has shown in enacting legislation during this session. Even the most critical observers must admit that democracy now reigns supreme, for at no time has any person who wished to be ard been denied the right to voice himself at any public hearing, and ne-Mr. and Mrs. John Herriges and son ver has a member been stopped from Carl were callers at Elkhart Lake on debate or discussion on the floor.
