How New Year Speeds Around the World

When 1940 reaches New York City in a blare of noise at 12:01 a. m. Monday, it will already be early Monday evening just east of Australia in the Chatham islands. Meanwhile, at Honolulu the clock will register 6:30 p. Sunday. The new year is born on the lonely Chatham islands, 414 miles southeast of New Zealand and races westward at 1,000 miles an hour. About 200 shepherds and fishermen in the Chatham group celebrate the New Year by ringing the church bell on Hanson island. The international date line, near these isles, was set by the British admiralty and runs near the 180th meridian of longitude.

JEW YORK.—Old Senator Joseph Caillaux of France, who knows a lot about money and trade, says Germany will be licked by her poverty in natur-Caillaux Still al resources, chiefly oil. At Guides French 76, bearing Monetary Policy the scars of long and bitter conflict, more bitterly assailed in the past than perhaps any other man in France, he commands respect as he keeps on croaking, "Victory in war is often destroyed by finance," and he is still a powerful guiding force in French

He has known glory, riches, jail, exile, calumny, foolish adulation, scandal, exultation, bitterness and disillusionment, and with bloodshot eyes and outthrust jaw, he's still on his feet when the gong ends the round. His fortune was sunk in the defense of his wife for killing Gaston Calmette in 1914. He returned from banishment to full vindication in the espionage case against him, to become premier and later finance minister of France.

He has shaded down his green trousers and yellow shoes and green vest to more somber hues, but his is still the toughest political hide anywhere extant.

INTHEN this writer began newspaper work in Chicago, people in Halsted and West Madison streets seemed to be about as badly off as European Meliorists Have war victims of today. I Not Yet Found knew Hobart The Golden Key Chatfield Taylor and was interested in his work with Jane Addams at Hull House, the pioneer social settlement. They were devoted and unselfish, but, when I looked around the Hull House neighborhood several years ago, nothing seemed to have changed much.

Mr. Taylor's son, Wayne C. Taylor, grew up in this shadow of misery, and now moves into a sort of pantograph enlargement of the same. He is en route to Finland, to study and organize relief there. The social settlement theory, as bravely expounded and lived by the elder Mr. Taylor and Jane Addams, was that "all men are brothers," and, if fortunate citizens will live in neighborly intercourse with the unfortunate, "a little leaven will leaven the whole lump."

The younger Mr. Taylor, catching step with his times, was a realist who believed that the way ahead lay in understanding of basic economic forces and in the application of progressive and enlightened techniques of government. He became special adviser to President Roosevelt on foreign trade; assistant administrator of the AAA; vice president of the Export-Import bank of Washington; assistant secretary of the treasury. He withdrew from the last-named office last February, dissenting from what he considered the treasury department's policy of shaping money procedure to foreign policy.

Like the Hull House meliorists, it would seem that the economist innovators and renovators have not yet found the golden key. A comparison of notes by father and son as to what's wrong with West Madison street, Europe and in-between points, and what to do about it, would, I am sure, be interesting.

Mr. Taylor was graduated from Yale in 1916, served in the World them in all sorts of unusual places war, and was engaged in the bankso that chimes and gongs will sound ing and brokerage business in Chicago before going to Washington in

Nobody expected Britain and Germany to pay much attention; indeed, a London paper pointedly remarked that American nations had no right of sovereignty over extraterritorial waters. But Washington at least hoped the restrictions would prevent fighting in American territorial waters.

Already interned by Argentina are the 1,039 crewmen of Graf Spee who found themselves scattered hastily to provinces far from the ocean.
