Kral scored 30 points.

However the team has done very well and can be proud of its outstandng record, as the school and townspeople are. Their record, which gives future teams a goal to shoot at, has inter was done by four players, statisnever been equalled and may stand for ties show. The team scoring follows: a long time. Kewaskum won all 12 Tri-County conference games and four ron-conference affairs, making 16 and the three in the Campbellsport tourney made it 19 straight before losing No. 20 in the regional Victories in the last two regional games gave the team 21 JM, WIS. with out of 22 contests. Coach Lyle Gibson knows of no other school in the state which equalled Kewaskum's record, with the possible exception of New Glarus, which lost out in the finals of its regional meet to Beloit. This year's team was the first ever to finish its league season undefeated, the first to win a district tourney and the first to compete in a regional tourney. Adding to last year's record, when the team also won the Tri-County crown, Kewaskum won 20 straight games before losing to Beaver Dam. The team has not lost a game on its home floor since Feb. 11,1928. Now the senson is over but the glory lingers on as the team is being heaped with honers. On Wednesday Coach Gibson entertained the entire squad to a trip to Madison to witness the state tournament games as a reward for their hard work and success. Thursday evening the squad was treated to a goose dinner by Mayor A. L. Rosenheimer, Jr. ETTER FARMING for finishing the league season undefested, And they still have another dinner coming later from Henry Lay of West Bend for winning the district tournament. The team was awarded

> TROUBLED observers of world aisaster, seeing no light or hope, might do well to compare Dorothy Canfield Fisher's children's crusade with the two

Popular Author children's Stages Crusade crusades of the Thirteenth To Aid Children century. In the latter about 50,000 children went from France and Germany to fight the Saracens. Many thousands died and many others were captured and sold into slavery at Alexandria Something seems to have happened in the centuries between. Miss Fisher, the novelist, finds eager co-operation throughout the country as she launches a campaign to gather a penny a year from each of the 30,000,000 American school children for child refugees in all countries of the world, of all races and beliefs. The pledge will cover the entire life of the child. The fund, totaling $300,000 a year, will ell go to the children, with private pledges covering the cost of administration

Miss Fisher, author of about 25 books, including novels, educational and social studies, has been engaged in such humane enterprises all her adult life. During and after the World war, she spent three years in France in relief work. In 1934, she became chairman of the Advisory Conference of Jews and Christians to Oppose Race Prejudice and Religious Intolerance. Her unceasing battle has been against a standardized and materislized society.

A native of Lawrence, Kan., she could call herself Dr. Fisher, but never does. Her doctorate in philosophy came from Columbia univer-Eity in 1904, after her graduation from Ohio State university. She probably wears more academic garlands than any other American woman, with honorary degrees from Middlebury college, Dartmouth, the University of Vermont, Ohio State, Northwestern and Williams.

Her home is in Arlington, Vt Noting that her crusade is much more humane and sensible than that of Etienne, the shepherd boy of Cloyes, who led the ragged, hungry children to crush the Saracens, one might also note the upsurge of "bnow White" and "Pinocchio" as revealing a new adult entents with the child world. Miss Fisher might do well to make Walt Disney one of the generals of her new crusade.

WHEN this writer was in Paris a lew years ago, style bootleggers were moving through plots and stratagems as melodramatic as any spy business. It was an old story then. Currently, Lucien Lelong, the Judge Landis of the Paris dressmakers, pegs a new outbreak of the old established custom of sneaking a camera shot of a gownperhaps bribing a delivery boy-and making the model a dime a dozen all over Europe before the buyer can wear it. That's just one device. There are dozens.

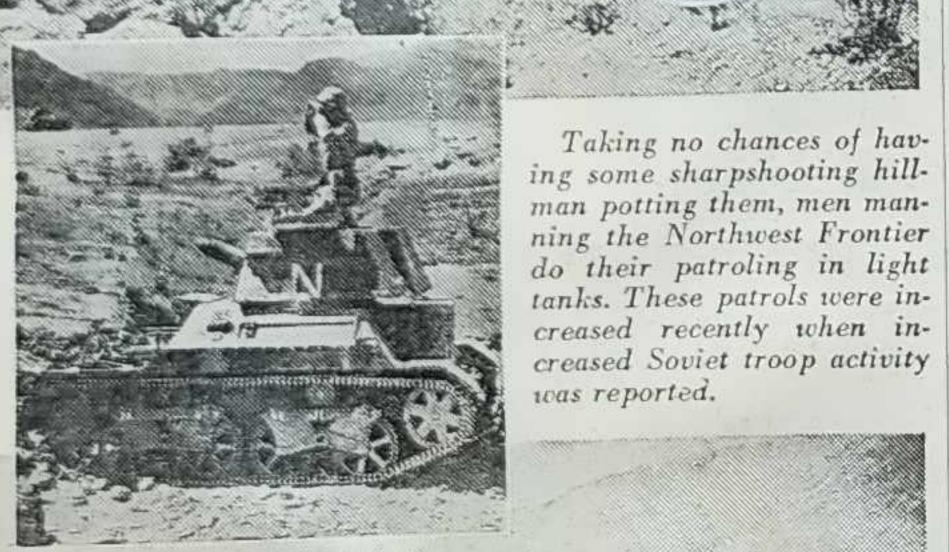

Lucien Lelong fought with Allenby at Palestine, got a croix de guerre, and headed into this war the moment it started, but the government made him drop his sword and pick up his shears. The French ascendancy in style helps redress trade balances and they aren't missing a stitch. In the World war a shell blew M. Lelong out of a trench into a dress shop. Convalescing, he borrowed $2,500 and began the design and manufacture of dresses. His establishment became one of the most famous style-centers in the fashian world.

Parade

Above is the Khyber pass itself, showing the trouble confronting an invader aiming to penetrate it. A remarkable serpenting road winds through the narrow defile for 33 miles. There is also a railroad, completed in 1925. It is a marvel of engineering, 26 miles long with 34 tunnels and 92 bridges and culverts. Each station is a miniature fort.

Proxy Bride and Widow

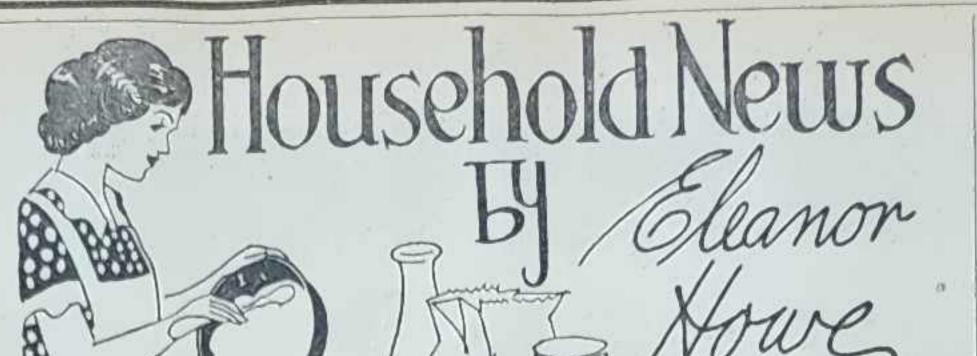

The 23-year-old proxy bride of Wong Chin, 52 years old, traveled 9,000 miles from Hongkong to Liverpool to learn she was a widow before she had seen or spoken to her husband. Lonely, Wong had asked friends back home to find him bride, marry them by proxy and send her to him. This they did, but until she walked down the gangplank the girl did not learn of his illness and death.

ter move than to invest in a stunning suit tailored of the perfectly gorgeous wools that are bringing glory to the fabric realm this season. Not that the word suit limits in any way, no indeed, not with the notwo-alike look that designers have contrived to achieve in the multiplicity of types that run the gamut all the way from the simple jacketskirt and interchangeable jacket of vivid wool stripes or plaids.

Whipcords, twills or wool crepe in navy blue is outstanding suit news for spring. Navies with white lingerie accents are having a stupendous success. Latest word is white hats with the navy outfits, some of which are trimmed with navy or the order may be reversed-navy hat with white trim. Chic, too, to wear with your navies are the hats carried out in red, white and blue color schemes.

Centered in the picture is one of those simple classy suits that women of discriminating taste dote on. Tailored of fashionable navy twill (it is also available in black) its sophisticated simplicity bespeaks style personified. Of course it takes on the inevitable white touches that fashion insists upon this season, which in this instance are expressed in terms of white pique cuffs and collar. To tune to dressier mood lace or befrilled organdy will take the place of the pique. Then, too, for a pretty feminine gesture most likely a dainty lingerie blouse with a frothy jabot will grace this suit. Her white flower toque is not rushing the season for flower hats are coming out in endless parade, in answer to fashion's call.

in vivid color contrast and for the long cape (cape suit is a last word fashion) or the topcoat that ensembles with the suit you are given your choice of a monotone luxurious wool or that which is strikingly new a wool in big, bold plaid that picks up the colors in blouse and skirt.

Illustrative of the new vogue for check used with plain, note the fetching suit to the left in the group. Here you see a bright checked button-up tweed bolero topping a black circular skirt with insets of the check introduced to give it the desired flare. This typically spring 1940 model comes in several color combinations. The hat of matching wool fabric is a smart item this season.

What country is this? Who are But the answer was a falsetto gibberish in which Jebb, who was something of a linguist, could find no kinship to any language of his acquaintance. Jebb noticed now that he was clothed neither in his street-suit, nor in his pyjamas, but in a garment he could not recognize. His hands, remembering a habit he had acquired and lost, went convulsively to his waist. His money belt was gone, his ten thousand dollars had evaporated-and the belt with it.

Precious darling, she has left us, Left us yes, forever more, But we hope to meet our loved one, On that bright and happy shore. Lonely the house and sad the hours, vicon, whose term would have expired Since our dear one has gone, But, oh, a brighter home than ours, In Heaven is now her own. Sadly missed by her husband, Frank Louis Kuhaupt, County Clerk Schultz, and children.
