President Asks Billion Dollars For National Defense Program; Nazis Smash at Maginot Line

(EDITOR'S NOTE-When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) Released by Western Newspaper Union _

The above map graphically reveals how close German bombing wings are to England's coast should the Nazi war machine continue to hold The Hague, capital of the Netherlands. As indicated, it is only 125 airline miles from this point to Harwich, England, and London is only 100 miles southwest of Harwich. Lower arrow points to Sedan, where Germans launched their first attack on France's famed Maginot line.

THE WAR: On Schedule

Since the outbreak of war last year, the prediction that with the coming of spring fighting would "open up," has been on the lips of observers everywhere. As Adolf Hitler's military machine thrust itself across The Netherlands, into Belgium and France, these predictions were at last coming true. For the world was witnessing what was hailed as "the greatest battle in his-army was ordered to cease firing, thus ending resistance to Germany's swarms of bombing planes and motorized troops.

Scope

This intensive fighting along the 200-mile front from the North sea to Saarbruecken was of utmost importance to the allies and Germany alike. This was indicated by the staggering amount of force each side whipped into the fray. Some experts claimed that this first great battle might be the most decisive of the war. It appeared that Adolf Hitler, firmly believing that "the Hour" had come, or forced through Germany's internal situation, had decided to stake all in one gigantic gamble.

As thousands of Nazi planes rained bombs upon military objectives and communication lines, England's royal air force flung back the challenge by loosing ton after ton of high explosives in areas near important munitions plants along the Rhine and upon large German troop concentrations.

Objectives

What the aims of the German high command in the great land offensive actually are, of course remain a closely guarded military secret. But in general it appeared that with The Netherlands at their mercy and with key airports in that country avail- the army was at the greatest peaceable to the Nazi air force, intensive bombing of the British Isles was an ever-present threat.

POLITICS: Inside Track

For a long time New Dealers have been claiming that their champion, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, could have the Democratic nomination for the presidency for the third time if he wanted it. Fact now is that with 499 delegates solidly pledged for him and with New York's 94, practically his for the asking, he will have enough votes to be nominated on the first ballot come convention time.

And the third term tide was rising with the war. Many Washington politicians have felt for months that the President's decision to become a candidate hinged largely upon the development of Europe's conflict. With the outbreak of the "big battle" it appeared to them that he would decide to make the race. Other observers felt he would withhold accepting or rejecting the nomination until it has actually been tendered.

Cordell Hull, secretary of state, appears to have the inside track for the nomination if President Roosevelt refuses it. Montana's Sen. Burton K. Wheeler seems to be running second only to Mr. Hull in the Democratic "if-HE-doesn't-want-it" club.

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE

William Bruckart explains in his current dispatch that big-time politicians realize that intelligent opposition makes for good government. Democratic Mr. Farley voiced this idea at the beginning of the present administration. Now the Republicans, who believe they will be in the saddle come next January, are reorganizing their forces along more intelligent lines.

JO. 6780 leaned against his hay rake to mop the sweat from his wrinkled face. To the left, four fields away, the stone towers of the farm prison glinted in the rays of a setting sun. over the lee rail. He might get clear across the adjoining field before the gray-haired Irishman turned around. He'd be almost out of range then, and maybe he'd reach the highway.

Morag wasn't really considering these things seriously. He was only toying with thoughts, as a bank clerk surrounded with stacks of money might toy with the thought of grabbing them up and making for the street. The convict, many times in the past, could have overpowered the guard and escaped. Morag tried to resume his raking,

His next act seemed charged with haste, as if his muscles had responded to some other command than an impulse of the will. For, with a suddenness that seemed to spring from no volition of the mind, he thrust the rifle's muzzle to his own head . . . and his thumb pushed back the trigger.

Memorial Day

Our honored dead, Americans and patriots all. They sleep under a flag they rendered stainless, beneath the solemn pines, the sad hemlocks, the tearful willows, the embracing vines.

They sleep beneath the shadow of the clouds, careless alike of sunshine or storm, each in the windowless palace of rest. They are at peace.

I have read your offer of a million smackers for the capture of Adolf Hitler and in reply I would state that the proposition interests me. But I do not like the way you emphasize the part about his being caught "alive, unwounded and unhurt." What about me? However, it is a novel idea and

THAT MILLION-FOR-HITLER

OFFER

Mr. Samuel Harden Church,

The Carnegie Institute,

Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Samuel:

the most original business proposal of a decade. I know of no cash offer like it since the depression and it is good to know there is a man in this country who knows where to get a million dollars these days. For that much money there are people who would do anything. The big drawback is that Hitler has got such a big start, and I don't think it sporting to limit the offer to May. This is pretty short notice for grabbing a guy who has been on the loose so long, and besides, May is a hard month for the capturing business on account of the birds and bees and little green things furnishing so much distraction from any pursuit. Could you extend the time through June?

And are you serious about the "undamaged, unwounded and unhurt' clause in your spring offer? Are you willing to stretch a point? I mean would it be okay if Adolf is brought in with a little mouse over one eye or with a lock of his hair missing? It would be a helluva note if I catch him and you rule the capture illegal just because he says that his back hurts him or something.

Who is going to judge whether he is hurt or not? I want a good referee as I have a hunch that Adolf will do a lot of squawking when he finds himself in Pittsburgh in a "Million Dollar Thirty Days Only Contest," and he may insist that he is in terrible condition instead of being undamaged and as good as new. In fact I think you should stretch a point and say that if he is warped a little in transit the cash offer will still stand.

And about the idea of trying him. I do not want any part of that. If I deliver him it is up to you and Pittsburgh to run the trial. I am taking no chances on trials. All he would have to do would be to get a good lawyer to say that he wasn't quite clear mentally. Then there would be the old business of getting the psychiatrists to ask him a lot of questions and then report he was clearly a victim of the fact his folks made him eat lettuce without sugar in his boyhood or something. He would get put on probation and in no time would be on the loose again. So I want the cash on delivery, Sam.

Let me hear further details from you soon.

Yours, Elmer Twitchell. P. S.-What are you offering this

Boycott

THE word "boycott" is a common one and is known to almost every modern language. Originally it was the name of a man and that was only 60 years ago.

In 1880 Capt. Charles Cunningham Boycott, who lived at Lough Mask in County Mayo, Ireland, and who was land agent for a British lord, was so severe and unreasonable with his tenants that they banded or work for him, Their economic strike reached a climax at harvest time when no one would help him with his crops. A gang of Orangemen were sent down from Ulster to aid in the har-and elsewhere. Captain Boycott's troubles attracted wide attention and the Irish Land league successfully used the same tactics to force their demands in other localities, repeating the "Boycott incident." By the time of his death in 1897 a boycott had come to mean the same thing throughout the world. The French word is "boycotter"; the Dutch, "boycotten"; the German, "boycottiren," and the Russian, "boikottirovat." (Released by Western Newspaper Union)

'A Dog's Tale' Mark Twain's "A Dog's Tale" was first published in Harper's magazine in December, 1903. Subsequently it was privately printed by the National Anti-Vivisection society. In 1904 Harper's brought out the story in book form.

Thousands Attend County's First Annual Citizenship Day Program

The new voters and those from out. alde the city who attended the program were appropriately welcomed to West Bend by Mayor Clyde J. Schloemer. NEW VOTERS TAKE OATH

In administering to the new voters the oath of allegiance to the ideals and principles of this great democracy, Justice Oscar Fritz of the state supreme court declared there is a greater need today than ever before to realize that the liberties we enjoy under our American form of government are in danger. # THE FORD WAY OF DOING BUSINESS

Henry Ford and Edsel

Ford keep daily personal touch with all phases of Ford manufacture. In a conference with his staff, Henry

Ford often says: "Go ahead-I'll sit here and represent the public."

The Ford Motor Company was founded by a working-man for working-men. Its present officers began as employees of the Company. It was the first company to pay a minimum wage, beginning in 1914, at the then astounding figure of $5 a day. That was double the prevailing wage of the time. The Ford minimum is now $6 a day for all employees engaged in production work. And from that, the wages rise to $10.80 a day, with the average wage $7.25, exclusive of salaried employees.

The Ford Motor Company was the first large company to establish the 8-hour day-also in 1914. And the 40-hour week was inaugurated by the Ford Motor Company in 1926, years before any such laws existed.

GREASES

SERVICE

The Ford Motor Company employs men without regard to race, creed or color. It is common knowledge that working conditions in the Ford shops are the best that science and constant care can make them. A square deal, a just wage and stabilized employment for a large proportion of our employees - and as fully stabilized for all as conditions will permit enable our men to retain their personal independence.

In consequence of these policies the Ford Motor Company has one of the finest bodies of employees in the world. The larger proportion are mature men of long service with the Company-sober, decent family men. Hundreds of them have been with the Company for more than 25 years — thousands for more than 15 years. Their health record, home ownership and citizenship records are good.

All this is reflected in Ford products, whether cars, trucks or tractors. The work is honestly done. Materials are the best that can be made or procured. Less profit to the Company and more value to the customer is known throughout the motoring world as "Ford's way of doing business."

Ford Motor Company was the first to make a motor car within the means of the average family-quitting the manufacture of what was then the largest selling model in the world to do so. Its chosen field in all the 30 years since that time has been the average American family - for which it has consistently provided car facilities which formerly only the wealthy could buy.

at is the policy of the Ford Motor Company to share the benefits of advanced methods and management with workers and public alike. Increased wages and employment over a period of many years have resulted in

A 300 per cent increase in the built-in value of the Ford car and a 75 per cent reduction in its price.
