Henry W. Quade, Business Leader Here Buried

Funeral services were held on Monday, July 1, at 2:00 p. m. from Miller's Funeral Home for Henry William Quade, 61, one of Kewaskum's most prominent businessmen and eminent citizens, who passed away at 8:45 a. m. Friday, June 28, following an illness of two years with a heart ailment.

Mr. Quade was president and manager of the Kewaskum Creamery company, which concern he faithfully and successfully served for many years. He was a member of the Odd Fellows and Modern Woodmen lodges and also belonged to the Masonic order.

Honorary pallbearers were Dr. N. E. Hausmann, L. G. Keller, J. P. Rosenheimer, and George Hanson. The active pallbearers were Don Harbeck, John Marx, Hubert Wittman, Peter Haug, John Stelplung and A. P. Schaeffer.

Henry W. Quade was born on a farm near Watertown, Wis., on February 7, 1879. As a young man he completed a law course at the University of Wisconsin. He was married to Miss Emma Schwarz of Watertown, Wis., on April 19, 1904. At Merrill, Wis., on Oct. Dr. R. H. Quade of Toledo, Ohio, and a daughter, Elizabeth, (Mrs. Elwyn Hamlyn) of West Bend, were born. In the following years residence was made in Wyoming and Missouri. In April, 1916, Mr. Quade, and his family came to Kewaskum where he was employed as cheesemaker for the Kewaskum Creamery, then operated by Grell & Wollensack.

Besides the above mentioned son and daughter Mr. Quade is survived by one sister, Mrs. S. C. Wollensack of this village, three brothers, Albert and John Quade of Waterloo, Wis., and Charles Quade of Waterloo, Wis., and two grandchildren, Faith and Henry Quade of Toledo, Ohio.

The major part of Mr. Quade's life was intertwined with the development of the Kewaskum creamery. When W. B. Wells of Chicago purchased the Kewaskum creamery from S. C. Wollensack, Mr. Quade was retained as manager. Upon the death of Mr. Wells a corporation known as the Kewaskum Creamery company was formed on March 8, 1933. Arthur T. Barless of Chicago was president of the corporation and Mr. Quade secretary and treasurer. Mr. Quade also continued in the capacity of manager. On September 23, 1936, Mr. Quade became president of the corporation, which position he held to the time of his death. The 1940 board of directors consists of the following officers: President, Henry W. Quade; vice president, Leslie G. Keller; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth Hamlyn, and members, Mrs. Henry W. Quade and Dr. R. H. Quade. The manager of the Kewaskum Creamery company is Leslie G. Keller. Mr. Keller has been associated with the company since 1935, and has been a member of the board of directors since March, 1936.

In the early years the Kewaskum creamery limited itself to the manufacture of American cheese and butter. Following this it was limited entirely to the shipping of fluid milk. Since the corporation was formed Mr. Quade has developed a program of expansion whereby the Kewaskum creamery has become a manufacturer of varied dairy products.

The achievements of the butter department have been particularly noteworthy. This department headed by Mr. George Hansen, under the direction of Mr. Quade, has produced butter which has won numerous prizes. Prominent among these are:

- 1—First prize in the Wisconsin state contest, 1937.
2—High ranking honors with score of 95 at the National Buttermakers convention at Des Moines, Iowa, 1937.
3—The honors at Des Moines, Iowa, permitted participation in the International Dairy Congress at Berlin, Germany, in August, 1937, where the second highest award of any creamery in the U. S. A. was won.
4—Winning of the National Sweepstakes cup at the National Creamery Buttermakers Association convention at St. Paul, Minn. in 1938.

Plans are now in progress to continue manufacturing 100% sweet cream butter, under the brand name "Pride of Wisconsin" which brand name this creamery has deservedly earned.

The equipment and working conditions at the plant now are such as to enable the butter department to produce 4500 pounds of butter a day. (CONTINUED ON LAST PAGE)

Local Sportsmen's Club Receives 300 Pheasants

The Kewaskum Sportsmen's club has received 300 more day-old pheasant chicks from the Wisconsin conservation commission, which were hatched at the state game farm at Poyntette. The chicks were asked for by the club some time ago and another order of four-week old chicks is expected to be received by the club from Poyntette within the next couple of months.

The chicks are being housed on the Kewaskum Sportsmen's pheasant farm located on the Dr. R. G. Edwards property near the south village limits. The local club has erected an addition on to the feed room of the brooder house at their farm and now have the facilities to care for all the birds very satisfactorily. The chicks are to be housed until they reach the age of about eight weeks when they will be released by members of the club, under the supervision of Conservation Warden R. J. Lake of Washington county. They will be set free at various spots in the community surrounding Kewaskum.

Last Saturday members of the Sportsmen's club released 30 full grown birds in the vicinity which were raised at the local pheasant farm. These pheasants also came from the state game farm. If these birds stay in this community the hunting should be good when the fall season rolls around.

A tour consists of a visit by the members of a club to view and discuss the project of each individual member. Such visits stimulate interest and increase competition among the various members. SPRAY THE FLIES

The excessive damp and wet weather of the past few weeks has produced a big crop of early summer flies. Commercial fly sprays can be used effectively in reducing the fly infestation. The following home made fly spray will be found effective and economical in killing off flies: Use a light oil such as a good quality kerosene and a 5% solution of pyrethrum. This spray may be effectively used either indoors or outdoors to lessen the fly menace. Its application will leave no stain on walls or household furnishings. A more heavy oil is desirable for stable use.

Are You This Man?

A composite picture of the typical traffic accident victim in 1939 is given in "Smash Hits of the Year," tenth annual booklet published by The Travelers Insurance Company in the interests of street and highway safety.

He was a pedestrian over 40 years of age, with eyesight and hearing somewhat past their peak of efficiency. He was frequently preoccupied; occasionally downright absent-minded. In a large number of cases he had had a drink or two.

He had never learned to drive a car, and his walking habits had been formed when automobiles were both fewer and slower than they are now.

He did not know, or at any rate did not stop to realize, that while a man on foot takes one step and advances a scant yard, an automobile driven at a mere 30 miles an hour advances nine yards.

He was wearing dark clothing, and while the headlights of the oncoming car seemed blinding to him, his outline was scarcely discernible to the driver against the dark background of the pavement.

It was between six and seven o'clock on a late autumn evening, and he was struck just as he stepped out from between two parked cars preparatory to crossing between intersections on an unlighted street in a fairly large city.

Mr. and Mrs. Edw. E. Miller and Fred Miller of Miller's Furniture stores here spent from Tuesday morning until Thursday evening of this week attending the national home furnishings show at the American Furniture Mart in Chicago. The show is being held from July 1 to 13. Merchants from retail furniture, department and specialty stores in all sections of the United States are in attendance. Millers were accompanied to Chicago by James Ryan of St. Bridgets, who visited relatives there.

While at the market, which is the largest of its kind in the world, they studied the new styles in home furnishings introduced by more than 550 of the country's leading manufacturers. New ideas in home decoration were obtained and the most popular were selected for display in Kewaskum. "A feature of the market proved to be the revival of modern or which is known as contemporary furniture," Mr. Miller said today. "Designs will be subdued as compared to the grotesque modernistic furniture of several years ago, but they will be new and interesting, in keeping with today's decorative trends." This new furniture purchased by Mr. Miller will be on display in the local stores soon.

Role of Women and Children Behind the Lines of Battle

Women all over the world step out of character to meet the demands of war. For not all phases of the Great War are fought in the front battle lines. The vast organization that feeds, clothes and supplies the fighting armies with the sinews of war plays a vital part in the general scheme of things. To meet this need the nations involved in the great struggle overseas have mobilized the women and boys to do their bit behind the lines, as well as the men who are unable to serve at the front.

Somewhere in England... The corner of a shell-shed, showing women marking shell cases before the projectiles are filled with explosive. England has already issued a call for 1,000,000 women to work on munitions. Some three million British women did this during the World War.

Mona Friedlander, beautiful 25-year-old British woman flyer, who was selected among the eight women pilots who will ferry new army planes from factories to military airbases, thus relieving male pilots for combat duty.

In this factory caps are made for the rapidly growing British army. Wires are put in the brim for stiffening. Daughters of Britannia are here shown in a military clothing factory in London sewing on new uniforms for the warriors.

Germany's women are now mobilized to work in the factories and fields while the fighting is going on far from home. After work the girls form in classes and study German history, all of which is tempered by the Nazi conception and interpretation of these subjects. German women are also playing an important part in keeping Germany ahead in the vital race for air supremacy.

Important work is being done by the women of the warring countries in the fields these days. Above is a scene in an asparagus field in a Berlin suburb. (Right) This girl driller is employed in one of the aircraft factories where Britain turns out her bombing planes.

Strange Is the Okapi
The okapi's coloration is truly remarkable. The forehead is red, the cheeks are yellowish white, while the neck, shoulders and body range from jet-black to purplish and wine red. The hind quarters and the hind and fore legs are either snowy white or light cream color, touched with orange and transversely barred with purplish black stripes and blotches. These colors serve as an effective camouflage and partly explain why so large an animal remained so long unknown to the scientific world.

Taps
The bugle calls used today are from many foreign armies. France gave us "Reveille"; Germany, the "First Sergeant's Call"; "Tattoo," or "Taps-to," to notify the camp that it was time to turn the tap "to" and cease the night's beer-drinking, dates from the Thirty Years war; "Retreat," many authorities believe, can be traced back to the Crusades. The words to "Taps," written during the Civil War, seem to spring from a sentimental need within the soldier.

HOW IT HAPPENED

First B. B.—You say your brother was drowned. How was that?
Second B. B.—He fell in the bed spring.

Sherlock!
The major was questioning the ranks.
Major—And what would you think if you saw a flag fluttering in the field like this?
Private—That the wind was blowing, sir.

Guess Again
Country Magistrate (to old offender)—Well, Jones, what are you here for now?
Jones—Well, sir, if you don't know, I hain't a-goin' to tell yer.

Very Convenient
A socially prominent woman came to the bank and announced that she wished to open an account. The bank was delighted and much time was spent in signing cards, selecting check books and finally she was asked about the initial deposit.
"Oh, I do not wish to bother to make deposits," she said, "just charge the checks and send me a bill each month as the department stores do."

No Support
Little Mary had just had her first dip in the sea.
"Did you like it, dear?" asked her mother as she finished dressing the six-year-old.
"I didn't like it at all, mother," she replied, coldly, "I sat on a wave and went through!"

Shut Down
Mrs. Nagger—John, is everything shut up for the night?
John—That depends on you; everything else is.

A CINCH
Bug—Gee, that fellow has no trouble making both ends meet.

Identified
The old man couldn't find his cabin.
"What was your number?" asked the steward.
"I can't remember," the old man replied, "but there was a lighthouse outside the window."

Best Weapon
Irate Mother (at table)—Jackie, I wish you would stop reaching for my things. Haven't you a tongue?
Jackie—Yes, mother; but my arm's longer.

EDSEL AND HENRY DISCUSS THE PLANE IDEA

Edsel—Well, Pop, what do you think of it?
Henry—I never imagined I'd ever be in this business. How did it happen anyhow?
Edsel—We just got up one morning and found ourselves in it.
Henry—Do you think we can turn out 1,000 a day?
Edsel—If it can be done you can do it, Pop.

Henry—All I'm afraid of is that the government will keep changing the model.
Edsel—If they do that we can't turn out one a month.
Henry—You know how the government generally does things, but I've got a promise it will stick to one set of plans.

Edsel—She's a slick looker, ain't she?
Henry—Not to me, son. I hate that kind of machine. Man's place is on the ground. He don't belong up in the air.
Edsel—Your early models kept him up in the air, Dad.

Henry—It wasn't the car's fault; it was the rough roads.

Edsel—I don't think there's much more work on this plane than on a de luxe sedan.

Henry—Not as much. There'll be no women passengers in it; that'll save us a lot of gadgets and fancy stuff. We won't have to worry where to put the vanity case and ash tray.

Edsel—We can save a lot of time there.
Henry—You're telling me!

Edsel—The upholstery won't be optional, either.

Henry—But it won't be easy sailing. We have to be careful turning out planes for war. We can't make any little mistakes. A loose nut may be okay in a fivver but it's bad stuff in an airplane. A driver who gets up a mile in the air and discovers something was left off his plane is in a tough spot.

Edsel—What colors are we going to make these war planes?
Henry—Now don't bring up that matter. One color is all I'll stand for. It's going to be hard enough satisfying everybody on this job without getting into any arguments over colors.

Edsel—Are you sure Washington won't insist on reds, pinks and greens?
Henry—Nobody can be sure of Washington on anything, but I've got a promise, and if some bureaucrat comes rushing in and demands that the air force works better in a light blue plane than a gray one I'm going to raise the devil.

Edsel—Have you ever thought what may be the outcome of this job, Dad? Maybe after we get into production the public will want planes instead of autos.

Henry—I'm afraid of that.
Edsel—Maybe the general public will always prefer to stay on the ground.

Henry—If you watched the average Sunday driver you wouldn't think so.

Edsel—Well, anyhow, we'll get busy and do our best.

Henry (reflectively)—Gosh, but this seems funny. And to think that in the last war my contribution was A PEACE SHIP!

PLEA

Be as brutal as you may—Bitter, scornful, mean or clever; But treat me like a neutral!... Say, Positively, mister, never!

Hit me till the harpists play, Kick me in the middle section, Scalp me, but, please never say "This is done for your protection!"

Elmer Twitchell is so disturbed by fifth columns that he never reads beyond the first and second.

Nobody gets more frightened by war than a holder of stocks 3,000 miles away.

Elmer Twitchell was out on the lawn with his new gasoline-driven lawn mower last night. Causing a neighbor to sneer: "A mechanical attack again!"

The President has decorated George Cohan for composing two great war songs. They are given as "Over There" and "You're a Grand Old Flag." But if Irving Berlin doesn't get a little federal recognition, it won't seem quite fair. "Oh How I Hate to Get up in the Morning" was a favorite war song, too.

Add smiles: As futile as a fellow who finds he hasn't the house keys at three in the morning.
Martin R. Ragaway.

David Rockefeller, son of John D. Rockefeller Jr., a 24-year-old college lad, has taken a job as one of Mayor LaGuardia's secretaries. He is doomed to failure there. Anybody 24 years of age is too old to keep up with the New York mayor.

The Monarch of Bermuda, now a British armed cruiser, well, thousands of honeymooners who cruised on it are at war now, too.

KETTLE MORAINÉ STANDINGS

Table with columns: Team, Won, Lost, Pct. Lists teams like Kewaskum, Adell, Campbellsport, Sheboygan Falls, Boltonville, Waldo, Cascade, Greenbush, Elkhart Lake.

Kewaskum regained second place in the Kettle Moraine loop on the home field Sunday as Honeck bested Voskull in a 4-3 pitchers' battle. Adell, still unbeaten with one game to play in the first half, has first place clinched but Kewaskum, with two postponed games yet to play, will be sure of second by copying both.

WA-FON-DO STANDINGS Table with columns: Team, Won, Lost. Lists teams like West Bend, Campbellsport, Barton, Alenton, Theresa, St. Kilian, Wancousta, Fillmore.

Waldo broke the ice in the initial inning. Holbrook opened the game with a clean single and Sprangers followed with a double. Walsh's fly ball to right allowed Holbrook to tally after the catch.

The locals put Sunday's game on ice in the third inning with a three-run attack. Except for a more than unusual amount of errors by both teams the battle was a very interesting one to watch.

Waldo broke the ice in the initial inning. Holbrook opened the game with a clean single and Sprangers followed with a double.

Kudek was the only man in the frame to collect two hits, one of them being a two bagger. An odd feature of the game was that Wals had 17 of Waldo's 24 putouts on first base.

BOX SCORE Table with columns: Player, AB, R, H, PO. Lists players like Waldo, Holbrook, Sprangers, Walsh, Richards, Wals, Wirth, Gutchow, Voskull, Patterson.

SHEBOYGAN FALLS NEXT

Kewaskum will open the second half away from home Sunday when the team travels to Sheboygan Falls. The team bled out Falls 1 to 0 in their first game here and this encounter shapes up to be just as close and interesting.

Estimates indicate that the production of winter wheat and rye will be above the 10-year average for Wisconsin. Recent purchases of lard and pork products for domestic retail distribution in the United States total over 72 million pounds.

ENTHUSIASTIC SUPPORT

Information received in West Bend from Harry E. Carthow, Lancaster attorney and prominent in state Republican circles for 40 years, is that the Grant county Republicans were highly enthusiastic in their support of Mr. Kenny when adopting their resolution last Saturday.

teaching profession and taught in the West Bend high school for three years, from 1914 to 1917.

When the United States entered the World war, Mr. Kenny joined the army as a private in the ranks. At the close of the war he was honorably discharged from the army as a second lieutenant.

Mr. Kenny was honored and his natural ability for leadership was recognized by the state department of the American Legion, when he was elected to serve the department as its state commander. Mr. Kenny served in this capacity in 1926-27.

On Monday, July 1, Mr. Kenny officially assumed an office of high honor, that of governor of the 144th district of Rotary International, which includes all Rotary clubs in the southern half of Wisconsin.

With sincere gratitude and appreciation we extend this word of thanks for the kind acts of sympathy and assistance expressed by neighbors and friends in our bereavement.

For 20 years, as a legionnaire, Mr. Kenny has been preaching the doctrine of a strong national defense and the fact that this country must stay clear of foreign entanglements which may involve us in another war.

Henry W. Quade, Business Leader Here Buried

The cheese department has also been carefully developed. About three years ago Mr. Quade installed four new stainless steel vats for the manufacture of cottage cheese. The capacity at present is 5000 pounds of cottage cheese per day.

In addition the plant is daily producing large quantities of bottled whole milk, chocolate milk, fluid milk and cream, buttermilk, ice cream mix, and bakers cheese.

It is hard to believe that our good friend Henry has passed away. His cheerful disposition and pleasant personality made him one of the most likeable men that anyone could have the pleasure of knowing.

Those from afar who attended the funeral of Mr. Quade were: Albert and John Quade, Mr. and Mrs. Reiny and John Quade, Waterloo, Wis.

On Monday, July 1, Mr. Kenny officially assumed an office of high honor, that of governor of the 144th district of Rotary International, which includes all Rotary clubs in the southern half of Wisconsin.
