Curt Romaine Joins U. S. Army Air Corps

Curtis Romaine, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Romaine of this village, last Friday, Aug. 16, enlisted in the United States Army Air corps. Curt took his examination at recruiting headquarters in the federal building at Milwaukee, which he passed and left the same night for Scott Field, near Belleville, Ill., recruit training station, where he arrived the next morning. Scott Field, where the young man will be stationed, is only about 12 miles from St. Louis, Mo.

The young recruit graduated from the Kewaskum High school with this year's class. At the school he won letters as a member of the school's Tri-County conference championship football and basketball teams. Curtis, now Private Romaine, enlisted in the air corps for a period of three years. He is the second Kewaskum boy to enlist in the air corps the past year. The other is Clarence Werner, who joined last November and is now stationed in Ha-

A ROMANTIC WESTERN LOVE STORY

FRANK H. SPEARMAN

Author of

"Whispering Smith" and "Gunlock Ranch"

In the early days of California, roving bands of Indians and lawless "squatters" made peace and quiet a thing only to be dreamed of by the Spaniards who owned large cattle ranches along the Pacific coast. Carmen, daughter of one of these wealthy Spanish Dons, is captured and carried off by Indians and it is Henry Bowie, Texas scout, just arrived in California, who saves her and returns her to the safety of a near-by mission.

Being in search of further adventure he immediately forgets the incident. Years later it is brought to his attention when Carmen, having once spurned his love, now sends for him. How she learned that Bowie was the hero of her life's greatest adventure is but a part of this thrilling love story of the West, that makes Carmen of the Rancho "must" reading.

Washington County 83rd Annual Fair is Highly Successful

NUMBER 47

The 1940 Washington County fair held at the county highway grounds at years, particularly as far as the number and quality of exhibits is concerned. The number of exhibits in all of the major departments of the fair exceeded those of former years. The livestock, floral, vegetable and clothing departments were among those that had the largest increase in the number of exhibits. In fact it can be safely said that every department of the fair enjoyed a good increase in the number of exhi-

The attendance was slightly below: that of last year. The heavy rains falling Saturday evening and continuing until late Sunday afternoon kept many people from attending the fair. However, in spite of the unfavorable weather, it was conservatively estimated that more than ten thousand people were in attendance during the three days. This large attendance is a splendid tribute to the interest that Washington county people have in their county-wide 4-HL

WHEN YOU PLAN A PICNIC FOR A CROWD (Recipes Below.)

Community picnics are fun! They offer an opportunity for a carefree day under the open sky-carefree for even the chairman in charge of affairs, if she's planned her program well and chosen her helpers wisely. If the crowd to be served is a really large one, it's a good idea to have one committee member responsible for each main dish such as meat, potatoes, salad, dessert, and beverage, and one responsible for extras such as buns, butter, relishes, etc. There'll be a serving committee and a clean-up committee, as well.

Picnics for four or five families are usually co-operative affairs. the first mixture; blend well. Beat Each family may supply its own lunch, but more often each one pro- batter. Add flour, and mix until vides one item in large enough quantities to serve the crowd. One family might provide the salad, one the meat, and still another family the dessert, which might be watermelon, a luscious chocolate cake, or a freezer full of old fashioned ice cream. With a little planning, the cost can be fairly equally distributed.

When an outing is in the offing and it's up to you to plan the menu for a crowd, you'll find these picnic pointers helpful.

1. If lunch is being prepared at home, choose foods that permit beforehand preparation, and that are 1 teaspoon dry mustard not too difficult to carry or to serve. 11/2 tablespoons salt 2. Provide a fairly simple meal, with plenty of everything but not so much variety that it will cause confusion and lots of extra work. 3. Unless you are sure of a good water supply, it's better to carry the water from home.

4. Carry fruit juices, tomato juice or milk in thermos bottles.

5. The main dish for the picnicwhich might be chili, baked beans, or escalloped potatoes, can be cooked the day before, then in the morning brought to the boiling point, and the dutch oven or casserole wrapped in several thicknesses of newspaper to retain the heat.

6. Don't overlook the possibilities | round buns. in frozen foods for picnic use. Quickfrozen meats can be carried, without ice, even on a warm day. They thaw out on the way to the picnic ground and will be ready to use.

You'll find other picnic pointers in my cook book, "Easy Entertaining." There are menus and tested recipes for beach parties, hikes and a "Colorado beefsteak fry."

When you write to me, won't you tell me something about the "community meals" your group has served? Do you serve dinners for the church, for business men's organizations or for the farm bureau, perhaps? How many people do you serve at meals like this, until the batter is smooth. Pour son's leather handbag has a flag on and what are your favorite menus? I'll be waiting to hear from you! Grandmother's Ginger Cookies. (Makes about 6 dozen)

The old ideas that pured performance must now yield to | find me some trouble!" dearly show that crossbred hogs are more efficient producers of pork than purebreds. Likewise the Maine Experiment station has proved that there is very little relation between the so-called type dandards and production of dairy cattle. Beef cattle similar in type often differ greatly in their ability to make efficient gains.

Future live stock breeding work all be directed at increasing effciency rather than improving appearance of farm animals. Proved sires, cow and sow testing, inbreeding, crossbreeding and artificial insemination are valuable tools that will be used widely in the future to develop more profitable live stock.

Fly-Trap for Live Stock

Aids Pestered Animals Farm animals soon learn to make frequent use of a device for brushing off and trapping horn flies that are such a pest to live stock in summer. It is a cagelike structure that fly-pestered animals pass through, leaving their tormentors behind in traps to be destroyed.

The framework of the cage is a structure 7 feet wide, 6 feet high, and 10 feet long with a fly-tight tool. Canvas flaps hang from the ceiling and brush off flies on the backs and side of animals walking through. Other canvas flaps on frames attached to the floor brush the legs and bellies. Simple wire fly traps are arranged at the sides of the passage to catch the flies brushed off by the canvas flaps.

The device is usually set up at some strategic spot through which the animals must pass several umes a day-in a lane to the pasture, in the entry to a dairy barn, or on the way to the water tank or pond. Live stock soon learn to make for the "brusher-offer" when hies torment them.

Roughage Fed Cow Affects Milk Color

Recent studies have shown that the type of roughage fed to dairy cows greatly affects the amount of yellow color in milk. Green pasture grasses and legwnes head the list of feeds which Moduce high color. Closely following pasture on the list is grass and legume silage of good quallty. Good field cured hay, when new, and corn silage are only lair, while hay of poor quality and beet pulp produce milk which is very low in color.

The yellow color of milk is due to a pigment called carotene. when carotene is taken into the body, it is converted into vitamin An increase in the yellow color of the milk of a cow means, herefore, an increase in vitamin A potency.

A French soldier and sailor are pictured here reading the poster written by General De Gaulle, head of the French military forces in England. It reads: "To all Frenchmen: France has lost a battle-but France has not lost the war."

THE WAR:

'Greatest in History'

From Wales to Scotland, German bombers attacked the island of Great Britain in what was being called the "greatest mass air attack in history." Always before as the Nazi planes attacked, their numbers could be reported in fives and tens but this time dispatches from both Berlin and London indicated that there were hundreds of planes in the air.

One official British source estimated that in a single day a Nazi air armada of more than 1,000 planes had rained bombs on all of England - from Scotland's border right through the midlands to Wales. Even London itself was bombed for Spanish and Yiddish. the first time during the war as the German pilots dropped tons of high explosives up and down the river | On the Downbeat Thames, concentrating on a terrific attack upon famed Croydon airport, one of Europe's largest and best equipped landing fields.

As usual both Germany and England claimed that the enemy came out second best. England said that her famous fighter planes had driven off the Nazis in time to prevent "great damage." But Berlin, while Its anticipated 1941 revenue is had been bombed, did claim that "the entire Thames valley witnessed methodical, irresistible German air attacks which threaten all military establishments with destruction."

Mussolini has chosen to attempt the Italian version of a blitzkrieg in Africa. He sent 250,000 soldiers streaking across British Somaliland with control of the Suez canal and the British lifeline to India as stakes in the gamble.

Congressional Expenditures Pass Twenty-One Billion Dollar Mark

This money Could Buy Entire Railway System of U. S. Or House One-Fourth of Families in Nation, According to Survey by A. F. I.

the year.

William Bruckart, for many years Washington correspondent whose letters appeared in this newspaper, died suddenly Sunday, August 4. Temporarily the Washington letter will be written by Carter Field and others.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

By G. F. WASHINGTON. - For the first time in American history one session of congress has authorized federal expenditures in excess of $20,-

The nation was astonished and indignant in 1913 when two sessions of | man. They directly affect every emcongress appropriated $1,000,000,000. It was our first "billion dollar con-

In 1934, we had our first $10,000,- [000,000 session.

Six years later, between January 3 and August 15, 1940, the third session of the Seventy-sixth congress authorized spending to the extent of $21,439,678,000.

How much is $21,000,000,000. It would buy outright the entire railroad system of the United Statesevery mile of track, every bridge, terminal and yard, every piece of rolling stock and locomotive equipment, every mile of telephone and telegraph equipment, plus every station and siding.

The official reports of the Interstate Commerce commission place the current value of American railroads at roundly $20,000,000,000. The nation built up this railroad system over a period of 115 years.

It is difficult for the mind to grasp such spending. But we may reduce the authorizations of the present session to familiar terms. Let us assume that the whole amount authorized since January had been devoted to building houses at $3,000 each. That would be a substantial house - better than the average American home today. Federal appropriations for these eight months would build 7,000,000 such houses, or one for every fourth family in the United States.

at current market prices, the expenditures approved for the program since January this year tell a more impressive story. Assuming a farm price of 70 cents a bushel and an average yield of 30 bushels per acre, we arrive at a gross production of $21 per acre. This means that it will take a billion acres of wheat to pay for the federal spending authorized in eight months—assuming the government took every ounce of the national farm production.

Translated into bushels of wheat

But, of course, we could not raise a billion acres of anything in a single year. The combined harvested area of all American farms and all crops is only 300,000,000 acres. This means it would take the full crop of three successive harvests, plus onethird of the fourth harvest, to pay the federal spending bill as approved in the year 1940 to date. Stated another way, every American farm would have to produce its normal crop and turn everything over to the government for more than three years to pay for this first $20,000,000,000 congress.

This would mean nothing left on the farms for feed, seed, or family food supplies. It would leave nothing for routine operating expenses.

Our federal government is the fastest growing "industry" in the United States.

Recent official figures show public employment in 1939 as 125.3 per cent of 1929-despite a small decrease in the combined state and local payrolls over the decade.

Only one major sector of American industry employed more persons last year, as compared with 1929—the electric utilities, with employment at 102.4 per cent.

But total factory employment for Employment in retail trade was 75.6 per cent; and railroad employment, 64.7 per cent.

The U. S. civil service commission's July report shows a few more March 4, 1933.

RECORD EXPENDITURE

For the first time in history, the United States congress appropriated a sum exceeding $21, 000,000,000. Congressional expenditure passed the $1,000,000,000 mark for the first time in 1913, according to a recent study released by the American Federation of Investors. The study reveals that this sum equals the entire gross income from American farms for more than three years.

WASHINGTON. - Aid to Britain has slipped into second place, with our own preparedness now first. This is not because President Roosevelt wants it that way. The President believes that aid to Britain is the best possible policy for the United States-that every day Britain holds off the Nazis gives the U.S. that additional day to prepare, that every weakening of Germany under the British defensive blows will make the eventual task of the United States that much easier. Put a little stronger, he believes that when we give the British soldiers and sailors something to fight with, we later on.

There is a very strong following for this theory throughout the country, entirely distinct from the group which sentimentally favors Britain either as a country or as a form of government, in contrast with the dictatorship. Actually it is believed here that the Republican high command feels the same way, with the exception of the vice presidential nominee, Charles L. McNary.

Yet it is politics which has caused the President to turn cagy on new steps to aid Britain. He has to be SURE that he is not endangering his own re-election. Not because the high command of the Republicans would attack such an action, but because the isolationists are making such a determined effort to convince the public that Roosevelt is leading us down the path to war.

these 50 destroyers. Ambassador Lord Lothian said in a radio interview a few weeks back that the greatest aid this country could give Britain IMMEDIATELY would be 50 of those World war destroyers. These are the destroyers which up until the present war broke out everyone thought would eventually be broken up for scrap. They had been packed in grease, with no thought of their ever being put in commission until last fall, when President Roosevelt ordered them put in shape for use. At that time there was much talk about the "neutrality patrol."

But later there came the torpedoboat episode. It developed that the United States had built some of these little ships with 18-inch torpedo tubes, the size used by the British. We have no 18-inch torpedoes; our navy does not like them, preferring the 21-inch type.

Congress discovered by accident that these torpedo boats were to be turned over to the British and there was a terrific outcry from the isolationists. They protested despite the obvious absurdity of our keeping a type of boat which fires a different size torpedo from the one we use when the British were eager to pay for them, and we could use that The season will be one day longer

MR, FARLEY MAKES A SHIFT Jim Farley has retired as National Democratic chairman to head the New York Yankees. Eight years of football have been enough.

Jim will find it a relief to be in a field where the pitcher doesn't want to bat, field and coach at one and the same time.

For nearly a decade he has been head over heels in national politics, where use of the "bean ball" is strictly ethical, and that's been long enough to convince him that life is more satisfactory in a business where its use is at least officially discouraged. . . .

Jim is an old baseball man himself. He was a first baseman on

And it has probably been a terrific strain for an old player to be in a position where he can't find out whether his star pitcher intends to keep pitching or to take a job as coach at third.

There is a rumor that one of his last acts as postmaster-general will be to design a DiMaggio postage stamp and a Babe Ruth memorial post card.

We wish Jim lots of luck in the baseball world. And we hope he doesn't find the change so confusing that he will signal for a caucus instead of the hit and run play.

Efficient Linen Closet That's a Step-Saver

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

L VERY Homemaker knows how many steps could be saved if table linens could have a special closet in the kitchen or pantry. In one home that we know of space for such a closet was going to waste all because cupboard doors or drawers would conflict with the door shown here in the small sketch. At the right you see how that space became an efficient linen closet after all-complete even to a smart laundry bag for soiled napkins and table covers.

The high compartment has a door of plywood. Below this are shelves with a curtain on a shade roller. The curtain runs up and down between the shelves and the scalloped board that frames the closet, as shown at the left. This board is 1/2 inch thick and four inches wide. The scallops were marked by drawing around a teacup and were cut out with a jig

Watch for announcement of the Campbellsport Aces

This Sunday, Aug. 25, a real treat is Waucousta in store for the fans in the form of a Theresa doubleheader on the local diamond be- Fillmore tween Kewaskum and Cascade. Two games for the price of one-only 25c for men and 10c for ladies and children. One of the contests will be a make-up game from the first half. The game is the one of June 28 when the locals were scheduled to play at Cascade but | KETTLE MORAINE LEADERS were rained out. The game was transferred here as part of a doubleheader because Cascade doesn't draw at home and also to avoid extending the season. The other game will be the regular scheduled one for that date. The first game will start at 1:15 p. m. and the Milwaukee, held last week, was defeatother will follow immediately. KEWASKUM LOSES SEVEN INNING GAME SATURDAY

In the ball game played on the local their league, Harold Marx and Kilian dlamond Saturday afternoon a pick-up Kewaskum nine was defeated by the United Auto Workers' Union No. 232 team of the Briggs & Stratton company, Milwaukee, the score being 5 to 2. The contest was called at the end of the seventh inning to allow the visitors to be at West Bend for a softball doubleheader at 5:30 p. m. The wive; and lady friends of the Milwaukee team accompanied them here and played a West Bend girls' team in one of the two softball games there.

The game was the first of a best two out of three series between the teams. Kewaskum will play a return game in Milw. Saturday. Kewaskum had trouble getting nine men together who could play in the same and as a result had to use two young boys and an outfield of three men who otherwise never play ball. Kewaskum hopes to get a stronger team together for the second game this Saturday. Willard Bartelt did the pitching for the locals with Louis Bath catching. The veteran Art. Raasch did the twirling for the visiting nine and showed he was still in his old form. The remainder of the local lineup was composed of Wayland Tes-Uelmen, short; "Mix" Marx, third; Bob 2:00 o'clock. Romaine, left field; "Smoky" Keller, center, and Bill Schnefer, right. MANY OPEN CLASS EXHIBITS

The larger proportion of all of the exhibits entered were the product of 4-H club activities and projects. This is especially true of the livestock departments. Yet, a goodly number of exhibits were brought in by the general public, particularly in the grains, vegetables, floral, baking, canning and clothing departments.

CARNIVAL PLEASES PUBLIC

The Ellman Carnival company and the local and other concessions pleased those in attendance at the fair. The midway, while not as crowded with shows, rides, and concessions as last year, nevertheless provided emple entertainment for old and young. The midway was brightly lighted and presented a pleasing view to the eye. 4-H HOME TALENT SHOW

In addition to the music by the three bands, namely, the Kewaskum Community band, the West Bend Moose band, and the Hartford Concert band, the 4-H organization presented highly interesting home talent entertainment. pionship by beating the Allen-Bradleys Their program was viewed by capacity audiences during the three performances presented.
