

On the Auction Block

The world's strangest marts is the ivory market at the London docks, center of the world's ivory trade.

The floor is divided into spaces containing numbered lots. Dealers bid on the lots, not on separate tusks.

Elephants' feet... sometimes used for paperweights.

Ivory arch... The original owner of this pair of tusks must have been a whopper!

Fishes Without Hook... A northern Indiana angler, J. W. Souder by name, reports he catches catch without using a hook.

Liver Extract For Treating Anemia Cases

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

WHEN Drs. Minot and Murphy discovered that eating calf's liver daily would prevent death from pernicious anemia, the demand for calf's liver was so great that provision merchants were unable to supply the demand.

However, while it is comforting to the patient to know that liver will keep him alive, he may grow tired of liver as it means eating about a half pound of liver six days a week, or a third of a pound a day.

Daily Injections for a Month. For those who cannot, or do not wish to visit the physician for the intramuscular injections, injecting the liver extract daily into the veins directly once a month has been found effective.

It will be gratifying to pernicious anemia patients and their families to know that while there may be 57 different ways of preparing liver for the table, these other methods—liver extract, liver and stomach mixtures, liver and vitamin mixtures and yeast—can all be taken by mouth; also that liver extract need be injected but once a week into the muscles and once a month into the veins to keep the number of the red blood cells up to normal.

Aid in Overcoming Asthmatic Attacks

IT HAS been found that in a great many cases attacks of asthma are due to inhaling substances to which the individual is sensitive or allergic—fur, feathers, house dust. Accordingly, scratch tests—scratching the surface of the skin and applying some of the suspected substances or substance to the scratch—are made.

A Method Worthy of Trial. Dr. Jonathan Forman, Columbus, in Ohio State Medical Journal, states that a room can be made free of substances that could possibly cause the attacks by removing every object from the room and thoroughly cleaning the walls and woodwork with a brush and clean warm water to which has been added some water softener such as trisbiphosphate.

Furniture such as an upholstered rocking chair, a hard straight chair, and an army cot, is also washed carefully and returned to the room. Pillows are to be filled with feathers properly enclosed in a material such as oil cloth, which will not allow any feather dust to come out.

The windows and heat registers must be carefully washed and tightly closed to prevent air, smoke or dust from entering. The adjacent hall and bathroom should also be cleaned and kept free from cosmetics, perfumes and dusts.

QUESTION BOX

Q.—What foods are richest in the riboflavin vitamin? A.—The riboflavin vitamin, vitamin B2, is contained in peanuts, Brewer's yeast has a large quantity. Dairy products, fruits and vegetables all carry vitamin B2, but the amount available is not always in proportion to amount body can use.

Grebe—Diving Bird. A grebe—a diving bird that is also known as the hell-diver—has such perfect sinking technique that when it senses the presence of enemies it can lower its body gradually without making a ripple in the water, until only its neck and head protrude.

Coal Gas. QUESTION: I have a hot air furnace. For the past five years, we have frequently had coal gas in the house, which comes from the registers. Strange Facts

Republic Moved Restoring Paintings Greedy Albatross

When Panama seceded from Colombia in 1903 and became an independent republic, it "moved" from one continent to another. Subsequent maps showed the boundary between North and South America at the eastern end of Panama instead of the western, which put Panama in Central America, or the extreme southern part of the North American continent.

Expert restorers of oil paintings sometimes transfer a famous picture from its rotting canvas or boards to a new canvas. In this delicate operation, a strong paper or muslin adhesive, pasted over the front, holds the paint while the old backing is removed and the new one put in place.

If the present production rate of copper is continued, more of this metal will be mined and smelted in the next six years than was produced in the entire history of the world before 1900.

The albatross, largest of the sea birds, sometimes attains a wingspread of 17 feet and is so powerfully built that it often flies for days without alighting. At other times, the bird so gorges itself with food and becomes so "overloaded" that it cannot lift its weight into the air.—Collier's.

Effect of Music

The meaning of song goes deep. Who is there that in logical words can express the effect that music has on us? A kind of inarticulate unformable speech, which leads us to the edge of the Infinite and let us for a moment gaze into that.—Thomas Carlyle.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

We Can All Be EXPERT BUYERS

In bringing us buying information, as to prices that are being asked for what we intend to buy, and as to the quality we can expect, the advertising columns of this newspaper perform a worth while service which saves us many dollars a year.

It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy. It gives us the most priceless feeling in the world; the feeling of being adequately prepared.

When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer, filled with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the unhappiness in the world can be traced to a lack of this feeling. Thus advertising shows another of its manifold facets—shows itself as an aid toward making all our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON
(Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK—After 20 years they still tell, in Moscow, how bold Semyon Konstantovich Timoshenko, then a cavalry chief, led a Red regiment of horse up to Warsaw's very gates. After another 20 years, no doubt, the same Semyon, then commander of defense, led more than a regiment of his followers back to the payrolls from which they had been briefly booted.

When Russia blundered to victory over fallen Finland her armies obeyed a double-barreled leadership. Alongside the orthodox military commanders marched as many political commissars, all with the power of veto. Thousands of dead Russians proved the weakness of this command system, and this week Moscow announced that the commissars were out on their various cars.

Overnight, however, they got back in the army, still. Now they are assistant commanders for political affairs. The old power of veto is gone, but the pay check will be the same. Timoshenko fixed it all up as briskly as any war boss ever drummed up jobs for the faithful.

Timoshenko has been fixing things up ever since Lenin got a stranglehold on imperial Russia, for himself as well as his party. He is rough and tough, and on the record he has what it takes to get ahead under Communism. His jaw is wide and hard. His eyes have a "Sez you!" glint. His thin hair grows close to a hard pool, offering no purchase for an enemy's hand.

He got his first real boost in 1937 when he was made commander of the North Caucasian Corps area. His last and best, however, came in May of this year. Then he reached his current job. He is pretty high up now. And in Russia, under Stalin, the higher they go the harder they fall. So those fellows may not be permanently on the payroll after all.

Consumer Adviser Assigned to Watch For Profiteering

As consumer adviser for the national defense advisory commission, Miss Harriet Elliott calls a national conference of retailers to lay the foundation of co-operation in the maintenance of living standards as a bulwark of defense.

She has long maintained that health, housing, recreation, child welfare and general public well-being are bedrock essentials of any defense program. With the above appointment she became the first woman to be "drafted" in the current mobilization of human and material resources.

Miss Elliott is a Quaker and college professor—dean of the woman's college of the University of North Carolina. For 21 years she has been professor of political science at this college and has achieved unique distinction in her daily classroom take-off from the morning newspaper, rather than a text book.

Her theory of education is to proceed from the particular to the general; she thinks Mill and Adam Smith should be left on the shelf until the student can generalize from every-day facts as they come to him in the news. She is wary about theories.

One of her main jobs as consumer adviser is to watch prices. While she has fought profiteers, she is no alarmist about gouging, and believes that all elements in producing and marketing processes will be co-operative if they are sensibly and fairly mobilized. However, she has at hand a portfolio of pretty stiff laws, with the department of justice standing by, if she finds it necessary to invoke them.

Miss Elliott is a native of Carbondale, Ill., where her mother and sister still live. She is an alumna of Park college, Parkville, Mo., and Hanover college, Hanover, Ind., and holds a master's degree from Columbia university. In the first World war, she was a member of the women's council of national defense. It was her work in this post which projected her into her long-continued studies of public well-being as basic requirement for defense.

TEN CENTS AN 'ARTICLE'
A half dozen railroads have announced that porters will now charge 10 cents per "bag or article" at railroad terminals, turning over this money to the railroads and being placed on regular wages. Well, the rate is screwy and unfair to everybody. On the New Haven road, where it is being tried, we saw a woman give a brief case, a cape and a demi-tasse being porter. She thought she was being generous when she handed him 20 cents. And you should have heard her when the porter demanded 30¢ (P. S. — During the argument a man who had given a porter a bass viol to tote handed him a dime, which was strictly regulation.)

The 10 cents per article rate is just going to make travelers hesitate to hand to a porter anything smaller than a concert grand, an iron stove or a parlor rug.

YOU ARE AN INFLUENTIAL PERSON

The merchant who advertises must treat you better than the merchant who does not. He must treat you as though you were the most influential person in town.

As a matter of cold fact you are. You hold the destiny of his business in your hands. He knows it. He shows it. And you benefit by good service, by courteous treatment, by good value—and by lower prices.
