Other limbs and branches were blown from trees about town. The awning on the Statesman office was torn and flags up in observation of Armistice day were torn to shreds. Garbage cans, pails, boxes and other small articles rode the gale and were strewn at various places in the village.

A number of "hot" electric wires fell in the village, illuminating the sky with bluish flashes. Because of this danger electric power was shut off in the evening, however, the village was without light and power already in the afternoon and this service was not restored until Tuesday morning. Luckily fallen wires caused no fires and struck no people. No electric poles were blown down in the village, although some of the topheavy ones came mighty close to it. Lack of light and power made it very uncomfortable for residents with electric stoves and heaters, who were unable to cook or heat their homes from Monday afternoon until Tuesday morning in the bitter cold. The power being off necessitated the shutting down of Kewaskum schools and the Kewaskum Aluminum factory Tuesday. The street lights were still out Thursday night.

SEVERAL TREES UPROOTED
Several large trees uprooted and broken off also caused damage. A big box elder on the Mrs. Catherine Kling property was torn out by the roots and fell on the rear portion of the home occupied by the Arnold Martin family, wrecking the northwest corner of the building and knocking the brick chimney to the ground below. Another large box elder tree located in the back yard of the home in which the Jac. Schlosser family resides was uprooted and fell onto the house next door, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. William Harbeck and daughter, causing slight damage to the roof and wiring. Trees were also blown over in front of the Rev. Richard M. A. Gadow and Mrs. Lulu Davies homes and in back of the Holy Trinity church parsonage.

The outdoor movie screen on the vacant lot next to the Bank of Kewaskum was blown over and damaged. A chimney and radio aerial atop the Mrs. Mike Skupniwicz home were also blown down. The long roof over the series of coal sheds on the Ziegler property used by A. G. Koch, Inc. as storage bins was lifted off and battered against the ground. Garages were busy as cars froze up in the sudden cold weather. A lumber pile on the K. A. Honeck farm was also tipped over. A series of telegraph poles north of the village were flattened and wires rested on the earth.

FIREMEN ARE KEPT BUSY
Shingles were torn off of many homes in the vicinity and barn and storm doors were ripped loose. A small roof to the rear of the P. J. Haug residence was blown loose. Martin Schmidt, residing west of the village, also reports a chimney having toppled over and much other damage was suffered at other places outside of Kewaskum. Two of our good citizens lost good hats "Gone With the Wind" and they probably are blowing yet. One man even reported his glasses were blown off his face and lost. Business in taverns and other establishments Monday night was at a "standstill" as candles and lamps were used for light.

The Kewaskum fire department answered three alarms. Monday afternoon at about 2:30, they answered a false alarm when wires leading to the siren crossed in the wind and caused the siren to sound. The firemen were summoned again early in the evening to a chimney fire at the Etta farm north of the village. However, the blaze was extinguished before they arrived with little or no damage done. About 11 p. m. the firemen were called to Campbellsport in the hazardous weather, where damage estimated at $7,500 was done by fire to property of St. Joseph's convent, owned by the Sisters of St. Francis.

FIRE AT CAMPBELLSPORT BAD
About 1,000 chickens, 30 hogs and considerable feed and hay were destroyed in the blaze, which is thought to have started in a chicken coop, spread to a hay barn and threatened a nearby dairy barn and the main convent building. The cattle in the large barn were led to safety shortly after the fire started. More than 300 hens left the convent and stayed at nearby homes while the fire threatened. The fire started at 9:30 p. m. The Campbellsport firemen fought the blaze until the Kewaskum department arrived and helped extinguish the fire. The local firemen had to be called together by phone as the siren could not be sounded because the power was off. About one-third of the local firemen were sent to Campbellsport while others remained here for local protection in case of fire. An article in the Milwaukee Sentinel Tuesday sent in by the Campbellsport correspondent, falsely stated that no outside help could be obtained at the fire because of fallen trees and poles. School to Defend Cage Title; 31 Boys Report

Kewaskum High school's defending champions of the Tri-County conference started basketball practice for the coming season this week with 31 boys reporting to Coach Gibson for the team. Of this group there are five seniors, four juniors, 11 sophomores and 11 freshmen. There are only two lettermen, Harold Bunkelmann and Bob Brauchle, guards, returning. Bunkelmann is the only regular back from last year's team.

The prospects appear very slim for Kewaskum because a whole new team must be built after the loss of seven lettermen of last year who graduated. Roger Bilgo, a guard last year, will be switched to center and Bunkelmann may be used as a forward after the first few games. Other boys with promise are Wayland Tessor, Jim Strupp and Lloyd Petermann, all forwards.

Graduation really cut heavily into the ranks of the powerful Kewaskum team which won 30 straight games before losing in the Class B tournament at Waupun last year. The school won the Class C district tournament at Campbellsport before going to Waupun. Paul Kral, brilliant Kewaskum star and the league leading scorer, was among those lost.

The first game will be played next Tuesday, Nov. 19, when K. H. S. travels to Random Lake to take on their school team in both A and B squad games. The first home game is scheduled for Nov. 26, when Brandon comes here. Four of the league teams start their season this week.

Sylvestra Harter Rents McLaughlin Meat Market

Sylvestra Harter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jac. Harter of the town of Auburn, has rented the McLaughlin Meat Market from Mrs. Mary McLaughlin, who, with her son, Philip, conducted the business since Mr. McLaughlin's death a few years ago. The new proprietor recently completed a six weeks' meat cutting course at Toledo, Ohio.

The market is closed at present to allow the young man to paint and redecorate the interior of the shop. He will hold an opening of his place of business the last week in this month, either Nov. 27 or 30. Watch this paper for definite announcement of the opening next week. Sylvestra will carry a complete stock of meats and other foods.

THANKSGIVING DAY NOV. 21; BUSINESS PLACES TO CLOSE
President Roosevelt has proclaimed Thursday, Nov. 21, as Thanksgiving day. It was the second time he had set Thanksgiving a day earlier than the customary last Thursday in November. Two-thirds of the states, including Wisconsin, have signified they will observe the Nov. 21 date this year.

The business places of Kewaskum, except for taverns, will be closed all day on Thanksgiving to observe the holiday. The post office will be closed at 9 a. m. There will be no window service, no money orders issued and no rural delivery. The lobby will remain open all day to accommodate those who have lock boxes. Mail will be dispatched as usual.

FIRE DOES DAMAGE TO HY.
KIRCHNER HOUSE AND SHED
A fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kirchner, Jr. in the town of Wayne last Friday, which started in the wood shed, completely destroyed the shed and spread to the house, partly destroying its roof. The Kohlschütter fire dept. responded to a call and with the help of neighbors was able to save the house from burning down. Part of the winter's supply of fuel and some tools were housed in the shed. The damage is entirely covered by insurance.

MOVE TO WEST BEND
Mrs. Albert Koehler and son Marlin over the week end moved from their farm in the town of Kewaskum, located a mile south of the village, to West Bend, where they will reside in the future. The Koehlers operated the farm many years but because of the death of Mr. Koehler they sold their farm possessions at auction sale recently and moved to West Bend, where Mrs. Koehler's other three sons live.

men, called by the Sisters, got there and their work was very much in evidence as they remained at the scene of the blaze until early morning.

Two other fires were reported northwest of Kewaskum. Chimney fires were extinguished by the Campbellsport firemen at the John M. Flasch farm at St. Killian and George Schultz home near Elmore earlier in the evening.

This was the second severe wind-storm to strike this community in the past four months. Much damage was done by a similar storm in July, only it brought rain instead of snow.

Florence Gonnering Bride of Lloyd Hron

In one of the prettiest weddings of the autumn season, Miss Florence C. Gonnering, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nic. F. Gonnering of Route 2, Kewaskum, became the bride of Lloyd R. Hron, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hron of this village last Saturday morning, Nov. 9, at 10 o'clock. The solemn nuptial high mass was read by the Rev. Edward Stehling at Holy Angels church in West Bend. During the wedding service for the popular young couple Charles Morauski sang the "Ave Maria." Mums and other flowers decorated the altars of the church for the impressive ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was a beautiful picture in a Victorian picture gown of paper tulle taffeta styled with long train. Her tulle veil was caught with an imported French headpiece of traditional orange blossoms. Her attire was in keeping with the custom of "Something old, something new," etc. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses.

Miss Joan C. Gonnering, attending her sister as maid of honor, was attired in a semi-colonial gown of rumbalosa shaded tulle taffeta with headpiece of matching color plumes. She carried a bouquet of tallisun roses. The bridesmaids, the Misses Lavene, Nora and Virginia Gonnering, and Mrs. Harold Marx, wore gowns of moon blue and were plumes in their hair to match their gowns. Their bouquets consisted of blue and white baby mums. Miss Joyce Mae Ahlberg of Lake Bluff, Ill. was the junior bridesmaid. The flower girls were Kay Petersen of Chicago and Donna Lee Gonnering of Milwaukee. They carried baskets of blue and white mums and wore flowers in their hair. The altar attendants were also attired in moon blue tulle taffeta.

Acting as best man for his brother was Albert Hron, Jr. Roy Gonnering, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. The ushers were Harold Marx, Francis Roden and Jerry Gonnering.

At one o'clock a dinner was served to 100 guests at the home of the bride's parents, which was gaily decorated with white crepe paper and wedding bells. In the evening a reception was held at Jac. J. Gonnering's resort, Big Cedar lake, which was attended by about 250 relatives and friends of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Hron left on a wedding trip through the southern states, planning also to travel into Mexico. They expect to be gone about two weeks and upon their return will reside in West Bend. They will be at home to their many friends after Dec. 1 at 225 N. Main st. in that city.

The groom, a graduate of the Kewaskum High school, holds a position as accountant at the Kewaskum Aluminum company. The bride, who graduated from the West Bend High school, was employed as chief clerk of the Washington County Soil Conservation association.

STAEHLER-SUESS
The marriage of Miss Rose Suess of Route 3, West Bend, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Suess of Sturgeon Bay, and Sylvester M. Staehler, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Staehler of Route 2, Kewaskum, was solemnized at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, Nov. 9, in Holy Angels church at West Bend. The nuptial mass was read by the Rev. John Goebel. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Henry Suess.

The bride was prettily attired in a gown of white velvet tulle taffeta with a long train. Her long tulle veil trimmed with silk chantilly lace fell from a crown of rhinestones, pearls and sequins. She carried a colonial bouquet of chrysanthemums and pompons.

The maid of honor, Miss Kathleen Suess of Sturgeon Bay, was attired in a red silk slipper gown and wore a headband of ostrich plumes and rhinestones and gold slippers. Her colonial bouquet consisted of Korean chrysanthemums and pompons, which matched her gown. The bridesmaid, Miss Elizabeth Mueller of Campbellsport, wore a gown of portrait green slipper satin, a headband of ostrich plumes and rhinestones and gold slippers. She also carried a colonial bouquet of chrysanthemums matching her gown. Little Miss Kathleen Staehler of Kewaskum, the flower girl, wore a yellow tulle frock trimmed with white velvet bows and streamers. Her headband was of sequins and ostrich tip plumes.

Edward Suess of Detroit, Mich., served the bridegroom as best man and Roman Starler of Route 2, Kewaskum, brother of the groom, was groomsmen.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Matenaar. In the evening a wedding dance was held at the Lighthouse ballroom, owned and operated by the bride's brother, Henry, which was attended by a very large crowd of relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Staehler are now at home at 2217 S. Eighth avenue in West Bend.

Mrs. Elizabeth Braun Is Summoned in Death

Mrs. Elizabeth Braun, 77, a native of the town of Auburn and sister of Mrs. Frank Himes of the town of Kewaskum, was called in death at her home in Campbellsport at 10 a. m. Tuesday, Nov. 5, following an extended illness of 10 weeks. Mrs. Braun had made her home in Campbellsport for the past 28 years.

The former Elizabeth Gremminger was born in the town of Auburn on March 27, 1863, and her marriage to Jacob Braun took place on Oct. 4, 1893. Mr. and Mrs. Braun resided in the towns of Auburn and Empire before moving to Campbellsport in 1912. Mr. Braun and a son, George, a World war veteran, died in 1938.

Mrs. Braun is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Oscar Treiber of the town of Auburn, Mrs. Frank Becker of Campbellsport and Mary at home; four grandchildren; a brother, Frank Gremminger of Campbellsport, and two sisters, Mrs. Julia Wyse of Campbellsport and Mrs. Frank Himes.

The body lay in state at the Berge funeral home in Campbellsport from 10 a. m. Wednesday until 9 a. m. Friday, Nov. 8, when funeral services were held at St. Matthew's Catholic church in that village. The Rev. A. C. Bivier officiated and interment was made in the parish cemetery.

FOR TEACHERS' CONVENTION
Teachers of the Kewaskum Public school and other schools in the vicinity spent on Wednesday evening through Saturday at Milwaukee attending the annual three-day Wisconsin Education association convention, while the pupils laid aside their books for a two day recess. About 13,000 educational system representatives attended the convention, including the general sessions, sectional meetings and special luncheon and dinner gatherings. Outstanding speakers at the sessions included Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., Edgar Guest, Hubert Wilkens, Judge Camille Kelley and Felix Morley, in addition to prominent educators from this and surrounding states.

Teachers from Kewaskum and vicinity attending were: Prin. C. M. Rose, Harry Furlong, Lyle Gibson, Misses Margaret Browne, Florence Dachenbach, Virginia Lorenz, Fay Yerke, Lavene Bratz and Viola Daley of the public school, and Mrs. Minerva Martin, Mrs. Ella Martin, and Misses Louise Techtman, Amanda Melahn, Marcella and Elaine Schief, Frances Bunkelmann, Florence Westerman and Rebecca Schaub.

OPERATIONS
Mrs. John Kleineschay of this village underwent a major operation at St. Agnes hospital, Fond du Lac, Thursday morning, Nov. 7. She is confined at the hospital at present where she is getting along nicely.

Miss Audrey Koch of this village had her tonsils removed at St. Mary's hospital, Milwaukee, on Tuesday morning, Nov. 12. She accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Koch, and Harry Koch to Milwaukee Monday evening. Her mother remained in Milwaukee with her.

Mrs. Otto Faber of Kewaskum has been receiving medical treatment at St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend, since Saturday.

MONA MERTES PLAYS ON COLLEGE HOCKEY TEAM
As a member of the Women's Recreation association of the La Crosse State Teachers college, which she attends, Miss Mona Mertes of Kewaskum, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Mertes, is playing this year on the junior hockey team of the college. Six full hockey teams are playing in tournament this fall. Besides active sport participation, emphasis is placed upon officiating and selection and care of equipment. This word comes from the college news bureau.

MOVE TO MILWAUKEE
Mr. and Mrs. John Klessig, residents of the village many years, just week end moved to Milwaukee where they are making their home with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilhelm. An auction sale of household items was held at their place Saturday afternoon. Their home has been rented to Mr. and Mrs. John T. Bryant and son, who moved here from West Bend this week. Mr. Bryant is department manager and buyer at the L. Rosenheimer store.

Bend, the groom being employed at the West Bend Aluminum company. Before her marriage the bride was employed at the Amity Leather Products company in West Bend.

Guests from away who attended the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sues, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sues and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Mat. Sues and children and Sidney Sues of Sturgeon Bay, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Unke and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peters of West Allis.

Questionnaires Mailed to 150 Draft Registrants of County

Local Draft Board Mails Out First of Forms to Determine Eligible Men for Selective Service; Must Be Returned in 5 Days

The local selective service board No. 1 for Washington county on Tuesday mailed questionnaires to a list of 150 registrants who on Oct. 16 were among 3,349 county young men between the ages of 21 and 26 who registered for possible military training under the federal selective service act. It is believed that not more than two from this county will be called for service in the first call. This information comes from Baltus Roifs, West Bend, chairman of the local board. The forms must be answered and returned five days after receiving them.

Mailing a questionnaire by the local board to the registrant is notice that the process of "classification and selection" with regard to that registrant has begun. Each day this local board will post at its office a notice of the order numbers of the registrants to whom questionnaires have been mailed that day.

This local board keeps in its office a classification record. On this record will be entered the date each action is taken by this board or the board of appeal concerning each registrant. The entry of this date in the classification record is notice of the action taken. Other notice will be mailed to each registrant at his address last known by the board, and to any other person who files a claim for him.

Either the mailing of a notice or the entry in the classification record of the date the notice was mailed shall constitute notice to the registrant and all concerned. This is true whether or not the mailed notice is actually received by the person to whom it is addressed.

Any person required by law to register, or any registrant, who fails to perform a duty required by the selective training and service act of 1940, within the time prescribed by the law (generally 5 days), has violated the law. A person violating the law is subject to trial in the U. S. district court, which may impose a fine or imprisonment, or both.

At registrants should examine from time to time the notices posted by the board and the classification record. The classification record is open to inspection by the public.

Out of the list of 150 in the county to whom questionnaires were mailed Tuesday are the following from Kewaskum, listing the order number first, then the serial number, name and address:

8 2914 Henry Wilson Lemke, village
17 3011 Fred Edward Klein, Route 1
25 2524 Raymond Jacob Schladweller
Route 1
26 3001 Willard Lincoln Klein, R. 1
30 3200 Carl Robert Johnson, Route 2
66 2484 Michal Wilhelm Krueger, R. 2
72 1300 Joseph John Kudek, Route 3
74 2510 Alex John Klein, Route 2
76 3016 Earl William Bremser, R. 1
85 2572 Gerald Edward Riley, Route 1
100 3195 Nelson Frank Rodenkirch,
Route 2
106 3183 Jos. Hamilton Walters, R. 2
113 3173 Elroy Albert Uelman, Route 1
128 3132 Martin Klein, Route 2
147 2455 Alfred Carl Johnson, village

Others from this community who received questionnaires included Wilmer John Hawig, Order No. 45, of Wayne, Leroy F. Belike, Order No. 121, West Bend, son of Henry Belike, Kewaskum, Route, Wilber A. Backhaus, Order No. 131, R. 3, Campbellsport, and Otto Stenscheke, Order No. 137, West Bend, son of Traugott Stenscheke, Kewaskum.

WEDDING BABY CHRISTENED
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weddig of West Bend had their infant daughter christened Sunday by the Rev. G. Roth at the English Lutheran church in that city. The little girl received the name Nancy Ann Lillian. Sponsors were Miss Lillian Weddig of this village and Mrs. Milton Luedtke of Byron. The baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Weddig, and daughter Lillian of this village were among the guests entertained to honor the occasion.

CROWD AT BINGO PARTY
The bingo party sponsored by the St. Theresa's sodality of Holy Trinity church in the parish hall Tuesday evening was well attended and proved to be a fine success despite the cold weather. Most prizes were gone at an early hour. Besides bingo, candy, popcorn and refreshments were sold, and a fish pond and dice counter were enjoyed. The young ladies realized a tidy profit. The door prize, a bun warmer, donated by the Kewaskum Aluminum Co. was won by Mrs. Theo. R. Schmidt.

MARRIAGE LICENSE
A marriage license has been issued the past week by County Clerk Kuhnaupt to Lester Borchert of Route 3, Kewaskum, and Ruth Janssen of Route 2, Kewaskum. They will be married on Saturday, Nov. 16.

Ninety-first Birthday of August Becker Celebrated
The seven children of August Becker and other guests gathered to celebrate his ninety-first birthday Sunday at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Brinkman, at Lomira. The birthday of Mr. Brinkman, which was on Monday, was also observed. The five sons and two daughters of Mr. Becker and their wives or husbands present for the occasion included Mr. and Mrs. Jac. Becker of this village, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Becker, Mr. and Mrs. John Becker and Mr. and Mrs. William Becker of Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Becker of Kohlsville, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Loehrke of Mayville and Mr. and Mrs. Brinkman. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Brinkman, Mr. and Mrs. William Hausinger and family and Harvey Brinkman of Milwaukee.

Mr. Becker, who makes his home with his children, spent some time last year with his son Jac. here. The venerable man is in excellent health and is up and about daily. He can read as well as most younger folks and has a remarkably clear memory. All present extended congratulations and wished Mr. Becker many more years of good health.

MRS. CHRIST SCHAEFER, Sr.
Observes 86th Birthday
The members of the Ladies' Aid of the Peace Evangelical church and the pastor, Rev. R. M. A. Gadow, and family gathered at the home of Mrs. Amelie Butzlaff last Wednesday afternoon to help celebrate the birthday of her mother, Mrs. Christ Schaefer, Sr., beloved village resident. A social time was enjoyed and refreshments were served. All had a good time and wished Mrs. Schaefer best wishes.

On Thursday evening, the date of Mrs. Schaefer's birthday, her children, grandchildren and several friends surprised her at the home of Mrs. Butzlaff. Cards were played and refreshments served. All wished her many more happy birthdays.

RETURNS TO BEAUTY SHOP
Mrs. Lydia Bruessel wishes to announce that she is again back in Kewaskum managing her beauty shop after managing a shop in the northern part of the state during the summer months. She is being assisted by Mrs. Marcella Harbeck, operator. She hopes to see her old customers again and will appreciate your patronage.

REPAIRS TO BE MADE
The local postoffice, Joe Schaefer's repair shop and Holy Trinity school, were closed on Monday, Nov. 12, for repairs to be made. A crane was bent on top of the Holy Trinity school, where a number of limbs from the trees on the roof were also blown off. Many of the windows were blown out. The damage in the village and vicinity was estimated at between $50,000 and $75,000. The direction of the West Bend gale was from the west, and the wind speed reached a velocity of 60 miles per hour. The mercury dropped from 52 to 24 degrees between 2 and 4 p. m. The temperature continued to drop throughout the night and early morning to 11 degrees above zero. This made it feel much colder. The drop in temperature and high winds increased the danger of fire.

Kindergarten for Gobs

Strange to relate, the metamorphosis that transforms the civilian into a sailor takes place on dry land. The United States naval training station at Newport, R. I., is one of the four such institutions maintained by the navy for turning civilians into sailors. When a recruit is accepted into the U. S. navy he undergoes intensive training, lasting eight weeks, during which time he crosses the bridge between civilian and naval life. After eight weeks he is ready to take his station aboard ship. Currently there are 2,037 recruits taking the eight weeks' course as the start of a six-year enlistment. These photos take you to the U. S. naval training station at Newport, R. I.

MARKSMANSHIP . . . The landlubber does not usually associate the sailor with a rifle, but naval recruits must learn to shoot straight. Here is a class on the rifle range at the U. S. naval training station, Newport, R. I., during target practice.

ON PARADE . . . Apprentice seamen who have learned to march in step and to carry their rifles at the correct angle as part of their infantry drills are shown here as color guard during a parade.

MODEL HOME . . . This class of naval recruits is being initiated into the mysteries of the model battleship, on which many of them will soon make their homes. This is a model of the U. S. S. Utah.

ANCHORS AWEIGH . . . Like peas in a pod are these now well-trained navy recruits as they man the oars for a boat drill in Narragansett bay. In the background is the old U. S. S. Constellation.

REVIEW . . . A distant shot of the parade ground during review. Apprentice seamen are lined before the administration building.

Franklin's Lost Poem Found?
"The Lighthouse Tragedy," the first literary work of Benjamin Franklin, was recently found by a Boston man. Maurice Babcock Jr., son of a Boston lightkeeper, claims he found the yellow sheet, printed in old English characters, in a vacant house near Boston harbor. Said to have been written by Franklin 175 years ago, students and collectors have been searching in vain for it. The story relates the drowning of the first keeper of Boston light.

Snakes as Pets
Snakes as a household pet may be an innovation for most homes but James Dennaldson, director of the Western Herpetological association of Los Angeles, can't understand why there is not a greater demand for the reptiles as household pets. According to the director, a snake is man's best friend, if he would only realize it. He claims that they are much better than goldfish as pets, and like a kitten, they like to be petted and rubbed.

Rip Van Jones
Jones had made a good job of his bedroom black-out, and awoke with the feeling that he had overslept. After switching on the light, he found it was 9 a. m., the hour at which he should start work. Dressing hastily, he dashed off without any breakfast, and, arriving at the office, said breathlessly to his boss: "So sorry I'm half an hour late, sir!" "That's all right," replied his boss, blandly, "but what about Monday and Tuesday?"

Excitable
Visitor—And who is that red-faced man over there?
Yokel—That be the squire. A powerful excitable man, 'e be, too. They say as 'ow 'e once burst a blood-vessel watching a chess match.

Isn't Worth It
Mary—Do you eat onions, May?
May—What's health if you've got to stay home!

And Those Who Do Not
He—Men understand women pretty well.
She—Yes; all except two kinds of men.
He—And what are they?
She—The married men and the bachelors.

Only One Desire
Smith and Brown were making their first trip across the ocean. Smith soon found his sea-legs, but Brown was less fortunate. After a while Smith burst in upon him. "Come on," he shouted, "there's something I want to show you." Brown groaned. "What—is-it?" "It's a most wonderful sailing ship," said Smith. "I don't want to see a ship," Brown returned. "Call me when you see a tree!"

Strong, We'll Say
Wife—Mercy, John, but some of these highwaymen must be mighty strong!
Hubby—How so?
Wife—The paper tells of one that held up an automobile with four men in it.

THE DICTATOR AT HOME

Dictator (getting out of bed). Draw me my tub!
Wife—Don't be funny. You're big enough to turn faucets.
Dictator—I'm not accustomed to having my orders disobeyed in that way.
Wife—Well, that's just too bad. Quiet, please. I want to sleep a little longer.
Dictator (from the bathroom)—Ella, where's my shaving cream?
Wife—How should I know where your shaving cream is? And don't yell so!
Dictator—I put it on the second shelf and it ain't here. I've looked everywhere.
Wife (getting up and finding it right on the second shelf)—Right under your nose, yet you couldn't find it. And you're the fellow who is always finding new outlets to the sea!
Dictator (dressing)—I think I'll wear my blue uniform of an aviation general today.
Wife—That funny getup!
Dictator (hurt)—I don't think it's funny.
Wife—Of course not. If you did you wouldn't wear it in all those news reel pictures. Put on your tan uniform of a cavalry colonel. That ain't so hot, either, but it fits.
Dictator—I'm wearing my blue uniform!

Wife—Okay. If you want to look like a monkey, it's your own business.
Dictator—The trouble with you is you don't know a good uniform when you see one. I know style, I do. I know class. I know distinction. (But he puts on the tan uniform.)

Wife (at breakfast)—You've got egg on your chin, honeykins.
Dictator—Don't call me honeykins. These eggs are too soft, anyhow.
Wife—They're four-minute eggs.
Dictator—They couldn't have been boiled over three minutes.
Wife—Four minutes!
Dictator—Three minutes!
Wife—Four!
Dictator—Three! And what are you laughing at?
Wife—I'm laughing at your inadequacy in debate. If you can't even win an argument over eggs, how do you get away with all those arguments over the destiny of nations?
Dictator—Enough of this! I'm going down to the office where I can find some respect.
Wife—On your way home tonight, stop at the butcher's and bring me some liver for the cat.
Dictator—I don't know that I will be coming that way.
Wife—You heard me. Liver for the cat.
Dictator—Oh, all right. But, listen, have dinner early. I've got a big conference on about affairs in the Mediterranean.
Wife—Not tonight. We've a dinner and bridge engagement at the Spurgeons.
Dictator—You'll have to call it off.
Wife—That's what you think. We made this date a month ago and we can't break it. Now run along like a nice boy.
Dictator (hopelessly)—Gee, Ella, can't I ever have my own way in anything?

CAN YOU BEAT IT?
The ultimate in dog love is reported by a woman who was trying to get another woman on the telephone the other day. The wire seemed constantly busy. A protest to the complaint operator brought the information that the phone was evidently out of order. The woman making the call finally motored over to her friend's house and told about the trouble. "Oh, yes," replied her friend, "I've had the receiver off the hook for the last hour so Fido can get her nap. She's awfully nervous lately."

We Can All Be EXPERT BUYERS
In bringing us buying information as to prices that are being asked for what we intend to buy, and as to the quality we can expect, the advertising columns of this newspaper perform a worth while service which saves us many dollars a year.
It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy it. It gives us the most practical feeling in the world; the feeling of being adequately prepared.
When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer, filled with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have the feeling of adequacy, and of being prepared in the world, and of being adequately prepared.

County Agent Notes

ORDER FREE TREES NOW

The Wisconsin Conservation Department will give free to any farmer not more than 1,000 free hardwood or evergreen transplants for forest planting uses. The transplants are about 8 to 10 inches tall and may be used for either the planting of new land to trees or for thinning out in a present woodlot which has become thinned out by selective cutting. Land planted to young trees cannot be grazed. All orders must be in the county extension office by December 31. Woodlot owners who in past years have received an allotment of 1,000 free transplants are not eligible for a second allotment.

SOIL EROSION CONTROL FARMS

Eight soil erosion control demonstration farms have already been selected for Washington county. These farms will be studied by specialists in the fields of erosion control methods. Plans will later be drawn up for contour cropping. Cropping is meant the planting and the growing of crops on level slopes and the growing of crops on level slopes. Long and uniform hill-sides lend themselves nicely to contour cropping. Any farmer having such sloping fields and wishing to have help in the planning of soil conserving rotations for his farm may secure this help free from the county extension office. Applications from only a limited number of additional farms can be accepted.

BARN AND FIELD AGRICULTURAL LIME AVAILABLE

Farmers who desire to purchase lime for barn or field use should place their orders for it now rather than toward the spring of the year. Lime rock at this time of the year is dry and can be ground into a white powder which will pass Milwaukee and Chicago dairy inspection. Toward the closing months of winter, the limestone absorbs moisture from the soil and at best is a moist discolorated and unsatisfactory product. The county lime program is in daily operation and is prepared to make prompt deliveries. The price this year is $1.75 per ton delivered to residents of Washington county.

How One Woman Lost 20 Pounds of FAT

Lost Her Prominent Hips
Lost Her Double Chin
Lost Her Sluggishness

Gained a More Shapely Figure and the Increase in Physical Vigor and Vivaciousness Which So Often Comes With Excess Fat Reduction.

Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their appeal just because they do not know what to do. Why not be smart — do what thousands of women have done — get out of pounds of unwanted fat. Take a half teaspoonful of Krascion in a glass of hot water first thing every morning to gently activate liver, bowels and kidneys — cut down your caloric intake — eat wisely and satisfyingly — there need never be a "hungry moment!"

Keep this plan up for 30 days. Then weigh yourself and see if you haven't lost pounds of ugly fat. Just see if this doesn't prove to be the surprise of your life and the news you feel like shouting to the world as you to other fat people. And best of all a jar of Krascion that will last you for 4 weeks costs but little. If not joyfully satisfied — money back.

International Problems Face Roosevelt Before Beginning of His Third Term; Determined Greeks Hold Off Italians As England Rushes 'All Possible Aid'

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

All over the country soldiers are at work putting U. S. army camps in shape to receive the new draftees and the regulars and recruits pictured above at Camp Edwards, Mass., are shown charging the camera during military drills being held at this army post on Cape Cod. More than 12,000 men are at work at this particular camp, getting it ready for part of America's new peacetime army.

AFTER-ELECTION: Decisions in Making

With President Roosevelt capturing an unprecedented third term by almost 4,000,000 plurality and continuing his party control of both houses of congress, the period ahead is expected to be one of fast moving decisions on both foreign and domestic issues. Many of these may come before the inauguration January 20. Many have been delayed during anxious weeks and months while the nation indulged itself in a political campaign.

In the foreign field continued sale of oil, copper and machine tools to Japan, that later may be used against a U. S. army, must be resolved. Likewise the issue of sale of food to territory conquered by Germany is due to be settled. Other problems are the sovereignty of Martinique, which may be used as a supply base for German submarine raiders in the Caribbean; the activities of foreign agents in this country; loans to Latin American nations; and greater priority for Britain in the production of planes.

In the domestic field almost everyone in Washington expects a reorganization of the national defense commission with appointment of a co-ordinator of activities. There must also be action where labor is pressing for higher wages in defense industries, and resistance to price increases. Tax studies already have begun and banks are urging an attractive long-term loan at rates above the present market. The unwillingness of industry to expand in the steel and machine tool industries must be met with decision to give them government financing or for the government to enter that field itself.

State Machines

Another problem Washington expects to be given speedy attention is the political machines of both parties controlling certain graft-ridden cities and states. The justice department is said to have some indictments ready even before election. They were withheld because the administration did not want to be accused of playing politics.

Michigan is said to be in this category. Here charges are expected in connection with operation of a liquor ring, diversion of funds from state liquor stores. This might seem at first glance to be a local problem, but "hot" money is alleged to have passed through the United States mail, and that is a federal offense.

New Jersey also may draw a crack-down rather early. Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City suffered a severe moral defeat in the election. Not only did the state fail to turn in its usual Democratic majority, but Republicans were elected governor and senator. This is attributed to a public revision of machine tactics which already has Refugee—Ignace Paderewski, celebrated pianist and first president of the Polish republic, arrived in New York, a refugee from his homeland. President Roosevelt appointed and instructed Anthony Drexel Biddle, ambassador to Poland, to greet the 80-year-old evacuee.

Tourist—Neville Chamberlain, former British Prime Minister, was reported en route to the United States for his health. The umbrella statesman had decided to go, of all places, to California.

Prediction—Democracy is dead all over the world, says Pierre Laval, vice premier of France. The man who negotiated the pre-armistice terms with Germany and later linked the Vichy government with Nazi Germany, indicated in an interview he desires the defeat of Britain.

Soldier—Maj. Gen. Henry H. Arnold was appointed deputy chief of staff, second top job in the army. Significant is that General Arnold is an air corps officer, the first one ever to receive such a high assignment.

Fire—Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the U. S. army, set aside rumors of sabotage as a cause of a fire which damaged a new wing of the war department building now being erected. The fire was on the fourth floor in an annex used by the army as a code room for the intelligence section.

Paying Up

NEW YORK.—One of the first election bets to be paid off was the one pictured above, in which Ina Ray Hutton, leader of an all-woman orchestra is shown being given a ride around the Astor hotel. Actors Jimmie Dunn and Preston Foster chose the losing candidate but Miss Hutton bet on Mr. Roosevelt.

IN THE ARMY: Simple Routine

For trainees now going off to answer the call of the draft, the first five days will be devoted to fitting them into the groove which they will occupy during the next year. During these five days the trainee will go through the operation known as "processing." This includes inoculation, vaccination and blood test. He will be issued a uniform, shoes and blankets; an identification tag will be made out and he will be assigned a serial number.

Also he will be interviewed extensively, and be given an intelligence record. His schooling, athletic ability, hobbies and civilian occupation will be recorded, and he will be offered a special form of life insurance. When these records are complete his time at the reception center will have been served. The records will be sent to a group of officers who have been specially trained in organizing new battalions and regiments. From perforated cards prepared during the interviews these officers will be able to assemble perfect companies with the proper number of cooks and clerks, send mechanics in civilian life to proper branches of the army and select men with previous experience in organizations like the C. M. T. C. for non-commissioned officers.

Then the trainees will move off to the unit where they are needed and best suited. That unit probably will not be in the same camp as the reception center, but will be the trainee's home for the next year.

NAVY PREPARES: Ship Buying

Since July 1, the navy has purchased 113 merchant ships, yachts, tugs, tankers, and other auxiliary vessels. It is the greatest ship buying program since the World war. Some yachts have been purchased for $1, including teakwood decks and tile bathrooms. For one commercial freighter, $7,000,000 was paid.

The navy needs many of these small ships to accompany fighting craft for fueling and servicing, as well as submarine chasers in narrow waters and off dangerous coasts. Nine of the most modern tankers in the world were purchased from the Standard Oil company.

In addition the maritime commission has placed contracts for the construction of 124 ocean-going steamships with a gross tonnage of about 1,900,000. Of these 47 already are completed, and 95 per cent of the others could be commissioned immediately on an emergency.

Exercises

Meanwhile it was revealed that units of the fleet are on "schedule exercises" near the French West Indian island of Martinique. Both Secretary of State Hull and the navy department insist there is no connection between the naval activity and the status of the island which has been a matter of concern in Washington since the Vichy government and Germany made arrangements for a joint war effort.

€ Paul B. West, elected president of the Association of National Advertisers, announced that in a recent survey only one member expected less business during the coming year than in this.

€ Firm steps to prevent dissension in India will be taken by Great Britain, it was indicated. Jawaharlal Nehru, Indian Nationalist leader and a close friend of Mahatma Gandhi's, was arrested when he returned from a passive resistance meeting.

€ The department of agriculture reports that the 1940 Thanksgiving turkey crop will be the largest in history and prices greatly reduced from last year. The estimate was that 30,000,000 birds will be ready for the market.

Washington Digest

Rising Farm Prices to Follow Defense Program Expenditures

Agricultural Department Predicts Record Farm Increase; Government Faces Grave Responsibilities as First Draftees Are Called.

By BAUKHAGE

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.) WASHINGTON, D. C.— Boom!

That sound you hear is not a bomb going off under the Capitol, or even the military music of the big bass drum. It's a cheerful sound heard along the city streets all over the country and its echo will soon be reverberating in the rural districts, too.

It's the business boom, already in evidence as a result of the defense program which has started the wheels of industry turning. That it is really on its way is agreed upon even by the economists who usually manage to disagree successfully about almost everything else. In fact the majority of the men whose job it is to look through the long-distance telescope at the country's economic future are beginning to worry a little for fear the upswing will go too far and they've already figured out ways to check the rise before it becomes a runaway.

However, the farmers don't need to worry about that phase of the question yet. Prosperity, like most good things, including a rural delivery package in a blizzard, usually arrives at the farm a little late. But it's coming.

Already fatter pay envelopes in the communities where armament factories are warming up are spilling a little into the farmer's hat. The dairy farmer gets it first. Figures which the department of agriculture has compiled only go through September but you can see the trend in this category:

September 1940—$218,000,000.

September 1940—$222,000,000.

The meat and animal products show a drop over this same period in the late figures, but the estimators here make confidential predictions. This is what they say:

"The rise in prices of farm products is likely to be most pronounced for commodities which are normally consumed almost entirely in the United States. This applies especially to some fruits and vegetables, and most live stock and live-stock products."

Milk, eggs and cheese seem to be the things the city people want "seconds" on, first. Then come the meat products and vegetables of course. September figures on vegetables still don't show the increase predicted partly, experts say, because the income from these products was cut down by the earlier drop in potato prices.

Experts Predict Outlook Appears Promising

Of course we have to look at wheat and cotton and the many other export products in a different light because long payrolls at home don't stop short rations abroad and American export trade today is still flourishing like a school of fishes in the middle of the Sahara, but they always benefit from a good home market, too. England right now isn't hungry for anything but war supplies and they are willing to throw a ton of wheat overboard any day for a ton of airplanes. It's the same story with cotton and we already have a reserve of that big enough to provide dresses for most of the world and have enough left over to make a Ziegfeld chorus respectable.

As for tobacco, there is a hopeful sign in the sky even if the British did drop out of the market and leave us flat when she bought up the Turkish crop as a good-will move and called on such flue-cured as she could use from her own dominions. But the Surplus Commodities Corporation is now buying up and storing tobacco equivalent to the usual British orders which we expect will come in again when the battle smoke gets out of the eyes and the Englishmen come back to the kind of smoke that Sir Walter Raleigh taught them to enjoy back in the time of Good Queen Bess. They will probably have had just enough Turkish by that time.

As to the general outlook, the people down in the department of agriculture, without going too far out on the limb, are pretty optimistic. Here is what they say:

"Nineteen forty-one outlook is for improved domestic demand for farm products, smaller exports, higher general average of prices, larger total gross income from marketings. Farm income—including government payments—the total exceeding $9,000,000,000—may be the largest since 1929."

Then comes a warning. "But increased costs of commodities and

PROSPERITY

The national defense program will cause a period of great prosperity which will be reflected in rising prices for farm products, according to Baukhage. But he warns that prices which farmers have to pay will also rise. He points out that the nation assumes grave responsibilities as the first draftees are inducted into military service, but adds that there need be no fear for their health or safety.

Do you recall how good a guess Washington newspaper correspondents made on the election? Well, a poll of 50 of them went 27 Roosevelt. Twenty-two Willie. That was six days before election.

The 501st Parachute battalion has been swamped with volunteers but it isn't so easy to get into this outfit even if you have the required "democratic soldiery qualities" plus "agility, athletic ability, more than average intelligence, and daring."

During Spanish Civil War Early in the autumn of 1936, Mola, who returned to Spain to participate in the revolt against the Popular Front government which came into power in 1936, made a famous radio broadcast.

Mola announced that he soon would capture Madrid because, he said, he had four columns marching against it, and a fifth column would rise up at the opportune moment.

services used in farm production will cancel part of the gain in farm income—1941 over 1940." The net of the situation seems to be that the farmer, like most everybody else, is going to have more money next year—if he can hang on to it.

First Draftees Called to Service

In a very few days now the boys who held the first numbers in the draft drawing will be on their way to the army camps. And today, as a gloomy rain fell over the capital I took out from my desk drawer a handful of little blue objects. As I looked at them I wondered how Aladdin felt when he rubbed his magic lamp and out of it sprang the powerful genie to do his bidding for good or ill.

I am not wondering so much about the good or ill which the genie of these little blue capsules will do. For they will be the boys who, in a few days, will be going off to serve their country as Aladdin's spirit served his lamp. I have faith that America will see that the mission its servants perform will be an honorable one. They won't be sent off on any of the bizarre adventures the slave of the lamp undertook.

What I am concerned about is what will happen to those boys themselves—the boys whose numbers were in the little blue capsules. I'm not worried about their health or wealth or happiness but I feel sort of responsible for them. You see I drew 25 of those capsules from the big bowl myself. At the time it was more of a lark—I was one of many legionnaires who, later on that historic day of October 29 was permitted for a few minutes to play the part of blind destiny.

Draft Lottery Was Solemn Ceremony

You have read a good deal about the historic drawing of the draft numbers in Washington. Perhaps you listened to the ceremony over the air. But there was one thing you couldn't know. And that is that you people back home were represented there—your fathers and mothers of the boys whose numbers were chosen and the rest of the folks who will depend on those boys to bulwark their liberties if war should ever come to America.

Most of us who were there, I mean the newsmen, the photographers, the broadcasters and the officials who took part, including President Roosevelt, were just workmen. We were building something for you. We knew that all that was happening was going past us out over the nation.

But there were two people present who, by their spontaneous acts, represented you. One was a man and one was a woman. The man was Clarence Dykstra, director of the selective service system. His face told a story to me as expressive as any word spoken or anything done in the whole impressive ceremony. He stood there just back of Mr. Roosevelt and when the President addressed the boys over the country whose numbers were about to be drawn I watched Dykstra's face—the bronzed cheeks, unlined except for two furrows that drop from the kindly brown eyes to the strong and kindly mouth. Those eyes were filled with tears.

I knew he was thinking of the people over the country and the sacrifice it would mean to them when in a few days from now home ties are broken.

And those people of whom Dr. Dykstra must have been thinking were suddenly personalized by a woman's voice in that solemn gathering. The woman who probably read about who uttered that exclamation, clearly audible to everyone present and to the listeners to the radio, when the first number, her own son's number, was read out by the President.

It wasn't a scream she uttered. It was just the vocalization of an emotion that any mother would feel, that many mothers did feel, when that number and the others were drawn. When she came to the microphone later on she was calm and quiet, said she was glad. Like everything else that happened that day there was nothing theatrical about her conduct. Just an average under-middle-aged mother talking about her boy. But the moment she spoke, to me she became the most important person in the room because she represented all the mothers.

State Labor Law Upheld—The state supreme court in a unanimous decision upheld the constitutionality of the Wisconsin employment relations law which limits strikes and picketing. The court held that there is no violation of freedom of speech in the labor law which was passed by the 1939 legislature. The decision is the result of an appeal to the supreme court by the AFL Hotel and Restaurant Employees' union of Milwaukee in a case growing out of strikes at the Plankinton and Kilbourn hotels in Milwaukee.

Sinclair Lewis Leaves U.—Sinclair Lewis, prize-winning author who recently has been a volunteer lecturer on the University of Wisconsin staff, left for New York to participate in production of one of his plays. He may return to Madison later in the semester, but no definite plans were announced.

Many Enlisting in Army—Selective service officials estimated that Wisconsin registrants volunteering to enter the army in advance of their call number would fill 90 per cent of the first four or five calls for men.

Badger State Happenings

Ban Political Discussions—The Oshkosh board of education has passed a resolution forbidding school employes from discussing politics within the confines of school property.

Candidates Get Equal Vote—It was a dead heat in Marinette county. Complete unofficial returns gave President Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie 7,694 votes each in the Nov. 5 election.

Paralysis Cases Decline—A sharp decline in new cases of infantile paralysis was reported by the state board of health. As of Nov. 2 infantile paralysis cases in Wisconsin this year totaled 432.

State Fair Aug. 16-24—The 1941 Wisconsin state fair will be held Aug. 16 to 24 inclusive, it was announced by fair officials at Madison. This year the fair was held Aug. 17 to 25 and battled cold and rain.

Six Cars, Tractor in Crash—A wagon, loaded with cabbage and without light, was the hub of an accident that wrecked six cars and a tractor and injured four persons on highway 20 four miles west of Racine.

Sheboygan to License Bikes—Sheboygan city officials are preparing to put into effect Jan. 1 a bicycle licensing ordinance passed by the city council. The ordinance provides for a bicycle safety bureau and a yearly license fee of 25 cents.

Defense Orders 54 Millions—National defense orders to Wisconsin firms totaled $54,492,417 through Oct. 15, the Milwaukee Association of Commerce reported. Navy orders totaled $32,938,870 and army orders aggregated $21,553,547.

Woman Voter Is 102—The oldest voter at the polls in Fort Atkinson was Mrs. J. Hill who is 102 years old. Mrs. Hill enjoys good health and does considerable sewing and some reading. She is said to be the oldest person in Jefferson county.

Accidents Claim 17 Lives—Traffic accidents accounted for ten of 17 violent deaths reported in Wisconsin during the week ending Nov. 4. Asphyxiation claimed five lives. A boy was killed at target-shooting and a farmer was gored to death by a bull.

Republicans Get Control—The election Nov. 5 gave Wisconsin Republicans control of 24 of the 33 seats in the state senate and 62 of 100 places in the assembly, freeing the party from the necessity of coalition with Democrats to hold mastery of state legislation.

Workers to Get Xmas Bonus—Approximately 3,130 employees of the Aluminum Goods Manufacturing Co. in Manitowoc and Two Rivers will receive a Christmas bonus totaling nearly $100,000. The bonus will be 2 1/2 per cent of the yearly earnings of each employee and will be paid Dec. 12.

Canning Corn Output High—With 1,748,568 cases of corn canned this year, Wisconsin placed third among the states producing corn for canning. The pack, which represented a harvest of 77,000 tons of sweet corn, was 700,000 cases ahead of last year and compared with an output of 44,000 tons last year and a 10-year average of 30,000 tons.

Skilled Craftsmen Wanted—Enlistment in the United States naval reserve now is open to skilled craftsmen between 31 and 50 years old whose qualifications fit them for special duty in time of war or national emergency. It was announced by Lieut. Comm. G. A. Parkinson, Milwaukee. He said the applications should be made to the naval reserve recruiting office at Milwaukee.

Butternut First to Report—Butternut in Ashland county, scoring a comeback to regain its traditional title, was the first point in Wisconsin to report official and complete Nov. 5 election totals. The village had held the honor of reporting its tally earliest for seven consecutive elections before 1936, when Prentiss, in Ozaukee county, was the first Wisconsin village to report.

Hair Buying Stopped—Barber M. J. Williams' thriving trade on basis of cutting hair at the established state code price of 50 cents and then buying back the customer's shorn hair for 25 cents was stopped by a court decision. Circuit Judge Daniel W. Sullivan, Milwaukee, ordered him to stop buying hair on this basis, ruling that it was merely a subterfuge to get around the barber's code.

Awarded $6,999 for Fall—Miss Dorothy Johnson of Sheboygan was awarded $6,999 in her personal injury suit against the Prange-Gusenheimer Co., in circuit court at Sheboygan. A jury found her entitled to $6,000 for injuries received when she fell on an icy sidewalk adjoining the company's hardware store. The court, by consent of counsel, added $999 for medical and hospital expenses.

State Labor Law Upheld—The state supreme court in a unanimous decision upheld the constitutionality of the Wisconsin employment relations law which limits strikes and picketing. The court held that there is no violation of freedom of speech in the labor law which was passed by the 1939 legislature. The decision is the result of an appeal to the supreme court by the AFL Hotel and Restaurant Employees' union of Milwaukee in a case growing out of strikes at the Plankinton and Kilbourn hotels in Milwaukee.

Sinclair Lewis Leaves U.—Sinclair Lewis, prize-winning author who recently has been a volunteer lecturer on the University of Wisconsin staff, left for New York to participate in production of one of his plays. He may return to Madison later in the semester, but no definite plans were announced.

Many Enlisting in Army—Selective service officials estimated that Wisconsin registrants volunteering to enter the army in advance of their call number would fill 90 per cent of the first four or five calls for men.

Making Your Own Hook Rug Design

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS ANTIQUE hooked rug designs and special charm because their designs show so much individuality. The women who made them marked out their own designs on burlap, planned their own color schemes and dyed the rug. To draw a floral design, first make a circle and then a spiral line. A side which becomes a rose.

MARK WITH A PENCIL GO OVER WITH WAX CRAYON THEN WITH A HOT IRON TO SET THEM

ovals with a triangle at the base become morning glories. Leaves from plants and trees become tracing patterns for leaf designs. An oval cut from paper makes a pattern for a center medallion.

When making your own hook rug designs, always leave a hem allowance at least two inches wide to be turned under after the rug is hooked, and be sure to overlap the edge of the burlap when you pin flowers and leaves cut out of paper onto the burlap, this way and that, then you get an arrangement that pleases, trace to make your pattern.

NOTE: Mrs. SPEARS' SEWING Book gives more rug hooking designs and her suggestions about how to draw your own flower designs. Also directions for hook rug in the old-fashioned treadle loom. No. 5 contains descriptions of the numbers in the series. To get your copy address:

Speed of Torpedoes

Most modern type torpedoes can be adjusted before they are launched making their speed vary according to the distance they are to travel. For instance, the most powerful types—about 21 inches in diameter and more than 30 feet long—can travel through water for approximately six miles at maximum speed of 30 miles an hour before their power is spent. It is adjusted for a shorter distance, however, the same torpedoes travel for one, two or three miles at a speed of 40 miles or better an hour.—Pathfinder.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the source of trouble—to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial tubes. Creomulsion, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must use the way quickly listed on the cough or you see to get your money back.

Soul Bath Take a music bath once or twice a week for a few seasons. You will find it is to the soul what a water bath is to the body.—Holmes.

Correct Constipation Before—Not After!

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of emergency relief. Why? If you suffer from constipation, you are sure to suffer from it. It is a common condition, due to a lack of "bulk" in the diet. It is a pleasant, nutritious, ready-to-use straight to the cause by supplying the "bulk" you need. Get this remedy regularly, drink plenty of water, and see if you don't forget all about constipation. It is made by Kelllogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

Facts of ADVERTISING

represents the leadership of a nation. It points the way. We merely follow—follow to new heights of comfort, convenience, of happiness. As time goes on advertising is used more and more and as it is used more we all profit more. It's the way advertising has—of bringing a profit to everybody concerned, the consumer included.

How Much Food You Should Eat During the Day

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

MOST calorie charts give the amount of food that equals 100 calories so that if the overweight (or the underweight) wishes to know how much food equals 2,000, 3,000, or 4,000 calories, he tries to estimate it from this 100 calorie chart.

TODAY'S HEALTH COLUMN

The following shows how much of, or the size of, some common foods which equal 100 calories:

One slice of bread; four soda crackers; three-fourths cup oatmeal, cracked wheat, corn meal; lean meat— one piece three inches long, two inches wide, one-half inch thick; the meat part of one thick lamb chop; one egg is 75 calories; five-eighths cup milk; cheese— one piece one inch square and one inch thick; butter— one level tablespoonful; four dates; two figs; one banana; one orange; one-half grapefruit; two apples; two pears; one potato; one-third cup cooked corn or beans; one cup beets, carrots, onions, parsnips, turnips, squash; two raw tomatoes; two cups canned tomatoes; five cups shredded raw cabbage; one small head cauliflower; four cups bouillon; one cup vegetable soup; one-half cup cream soup.

It will be noticed that only two meat items are mentioned on the list of foods containing 100 calories— one broiled lamb chop (the meat part) and one slice of lean meat three inches by two inches by one-half inch.

Calories of Meat. With meats, the average serving of round steak is 150 calories; one slice of lean roast beef is 150 calories, one thick slice of juicy roast beef is 300 calories; one lean mutton chop is 150 calories; whereas one slice roast lamb leg is 230 calories.

Dairy products: one cup butter one inch by one inch by one inch is 100 calories; one glass of whole milk is 158 calories; one glass skim milk is 80 calories, or just about half.

With calorie charts at hand you can figure out how many calories you should eat daily. This depends upon your height and the kind of work you do. You simply multiply your ideal weight by 15 if you have an easy job indoors or by 20 if work is hard.

Overweights Tend Towards Diabetes. I MET a friend recently whom I had not seen for about two years. I had to look at him twice as he had lost considerable weight which greatly improved his appearance.

Household Hints. With the holiday seasons approaching, you are going to have more to do; new household tasks, more social obligations, and larger meals to plan and to prepare. You may often wonder where you will find the extra time to do these extra tasks.

QUESTION BOX. Q.—Does a germ cause scarlet fever? A.—Yes. A streptococcus. Q.—What is a green stick fracture? A.—A green stick fracture occurs in a young person up to 15 years of age but may occur later.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON (Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK—This reporter was in Washington in June, 1931, when Pierre Laval made his visit to President Hoover in the interest of a debt adjustment. M. Laval's only short trip to Hollywood innocently handed us a nice little nosegay of a story.

There had been a mix-up in the chauffeur's orders and he had arrived far ahead of schedule. "How much time have we before we are due at the White House?" asked M. Laval.

"A little over two hours," replied the chauffeur. That is time enough for a drive. Is there anything that you would particularly like to see?

M. Laval pondered this a moment and then said: "Well, if we have all that time, I certainly would like to see Hollywood."

M. Laval's ideas of geography may be more important now than they were then. As vice premier of France, he throws his weight with the Axis powers, which he frequently has done, in a general European hegemony under Germany.

It will be noted that M. Laval's name is reversible in spelling. So is his career. His transgressions from left to right and back again have been easy and frequent, but mainly from left to right.

OTHER STATE RESULTS. Public interest centered around the race for posts other than that of governor and the table below shows the results in some of the major state offices.

Election Sidelights. Special broadcasts of the U. S. election returns were heard in Great Britain through arrangements made by the British Broadcasting corporation.

Greek Minister at Washington. The Greek minister at Washington, takes calmly the news of Italy's assault on Greece. This is perhaps understandable.

Silicianos is an optimist. Repeatedly in interviews he has set forth the unity and fellowship of the Balkans. Rumania, Jugoslavia, Turkey and Greece have been to him a solid front of brotherly interests "which not even Adolf Hitler will ever be able to break."

Beyond Shadow of Doubt It WAS the END! A certain actor was fond of telling his friends what he would accomplish when he had a speaking part. He would show them some real acting.

Eventually he was booked for a coming production. He was to appear in a scene and say: "It is." For three weeks he rehearsed nightly before his mirror, trying all sorts of gestures, expressions, tones, until he felt perfect.

The eventual night arrived. The actor impatiently waited his cue. It came. "And so this is the end?" With his best tragedian air he stalked to the center of the stage, and in a voice of thunder cried: "Is it?"

ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM

In commemoration of Armistice on Nov. 11, a program was given by the sophomores of the world history class.
Poems were read by the members of the class. A tableau depicting the Armistice and a tableau was given by the entire group.

World war songs were sung by the entire student body. The program was closed by pledging allegiance to the flag.

—KHS— ROUND-TABLE DISCUSSION

Monday afternoon the American history class, under the advisement of Miss Dachenbach, conducted a roundtable discussion on the coming election.
Pros and cons on the present administration and the Republican platform were discussed. The topics included the farm program, government expenditures, the third term, backgrounds of both men and both parties, and the defense measures, including the draft.
Following the regular planned discussion an open forum was held for the participation of the entire school.

—KHS— OPERETTA

If you did not see the operetta, "Bits O' Blarney," given in the high school auditorium Friday night, plan to attend Saturday night for a grand evening of entertainment. Tickets can be obtained from Miller's Electric store or from any member of the operetta cast or chorus.

—KHS— GRADE NEWS

The seventh graders memorized the "Star Spangled Banner" and "America" this week in reading.

The sixth graders completed the "Thought-Study Readers" and are now reading "Stories of Outdoor Science."
The eighth graders are reading the "Vision of Sir Launfal."

The social science classes held a mock election last Tuesday.

The fifth graders made posters for American Education Week and each child in our room is looking to try and read at least one book this week.

INTERMEDIATE ROOM

Dick Edwards won an honorable mention for his drawing "The March of the Dwarfs" under the Let's Draw program.

The fifth grade social studies class has completed colonial life and are now beginning the study of the westward movement.

The fourth grade science class tested foods for starch, fat and sugar this week. It was fun to deal the vegetables with a great deal of starch in them turn blue when a drop of iodine was put on them.

—KHS— THANKSGIVING VACATION

One good vacation leads to another, meaning that on Nov. 21st, Thanksgiving starts. School will be resumed the following Monday.

—KHS— DID YOU KNOW?

1. That K. H. S. students are looking forward for another vacation?
2. That Buddy N. receives letters from Lomira?
3. That all the teachers enjoyed the convention at Milwaukee?
4. That Miss Browne enjoys short taxi cab rides?
5. That Alfred H. is sporting a new sweater?
6. That Roger R. had an enjoyable
Sunday evening?
7. That some K. H. S. students are wearing rings which they received at the show?
8. That the juniors are excited about their class rings?
9. That Dorothy H. has been casting shy glances at a certain senior boy?
10. That Evangeline S. blushes at the mentioning of Marvin's name?
11. That Arleen K. has been given the title, "King of the Washboard" 12. That Arleen K. has been officially named "Judge queen" by the Sophomore Super Speaking Club?
13. That Robert B. visits a country school? (Could it be an eighth grader?) 14. That Mildred enjoys walking home with a certain junior boy?
15. That Lyle B. moved to the front seat in history class?
16. That Robert Smith likes blond dates?
17. That everyone enjoyed vacation?

—KHS— NOVEMBER 11

Today, the armistice is the foundation of freedom and independence of the American people. To us it is an agreement to be neutral from any foreign war, the last great World war being our lesson.

The great value of the armistice is that it reminds us of the World war and the lives and millions it cost them.
It is also the greatest reminder of the many American boys who now lie in Flanders Field, buried where they fell, for freedom and peace and that we are still free and happy today, while Europe is in another great conflict which we are fighting today to keep out of.

—KHS— STRAW VOTE IN K. H. S.

On Tuesday morning at nine o'clock the polls opened in K. H. S. and remained open until noon. The straw vote was conducted by the freshman citizenship class in a very original and orderly manner.

The returns were 102 Republican and 28 Democratic for the presidential candidates. This election was a follow-up of the round-table discussion conducted on Monday.

—KHS— BAND

The band bingo party was not held last Tuesday evening due to the fact that it is necessary to have a permit from the federal tax commission. This was not known until it was too late to obtain a permit, so rather than run into difficulties the bingo party was postponed until a later date.

BAND RULES AND REGULATIONS

11. Start to grumble about playing as soon as the parade starts, and inform those around you that if it wasn't for the federal tax commission, it would be a band you'd go home.

12. If you see a lady friend of one of the band members, yell out "Say, Jack, there's Jenny." Jack will feel grateful for this.

13. If you are playing at a banquet let your first question be, "When do we eat?"

14. If you go along quietly in a parade the people will think you are only a good musician; to avoid this keep up a conversation with members on the opposite side of the band.

15. When anyone asks you "Oh, I picked it up." Never give the director any credit.

16. Wear yellow shoes for parade jobs, but don't holler if the leader gives you a kick with a black shoe.

17. Don't bring your music stand; the other fellow will have one (maybe) and you can use part of his.

18. Develop the artistic temperament; criticize the leader, and you know.

19. Save all your funny stories for a funeral job; it cheers the mourners to hear the bandmen laugh.

20. Don't attend rehearsals if you can find anything else to do; the other fellows are the only ones who need to rehearse. If you do attend, be sure to come late.

—KHS— CLASS NEWS

SENIORS

The seniors are studying housing in social problems. The English students have completed their two thousand word themes. The senior girls in manand-woman are learning how to sharpen knives, re-glue furniture and how to use different manual training tools.

JUNIORS

Join to the junior class—the juniors are joy to come. Even though the rings are excited about their super-colossal rings they have time to accomplish wonders in their studies. We are still laboring over our short stories in English, but all great authors must have a beginning. The junior economics department planned the football banquet.
Lucky, lucky boys!

AMERICAN HISTORY

The juniors are studying Jacksonian Democracy.

In home economics girls are working on their interior decorating problems, which includes making drapes, curtains, pillow cases, and shoes.

SOPHOMORES

In world history the sophomores are studying the "Rise and Fall of Greece."
Algebra doesn't seem to be getting any easier, but with the kind help of Mr.
Rose, the sophomores are managing to struggle through it. After a long delay, the biology class will begin dissecting frogs. In English, the students have begun their grammar unit.

In general science the freshmen are studying "Providing a Good Food Supply." The citizenship class has finished the study on "Political Parties and Elections." In English they have been studying the different parts of speech.
The manual training boys are finishing their foot stools and end tables. The home economics girls are studying cheese.

4-H Members Receive Achievement Awards

Friday evening, Nov. 15, climaxed the 4-H club year for Washington county club members. Achievement awards being made at appropriate exercises in the recreational room of the new West Bend graded school beginning at 8 p.
m. Special recognition awards go to club members whose work during the year was outstanding and also to club leaders for meritorious services rendered during past years.

Immediately preceding the 4-H program a short patriotic exercise is being presented, consisting of songs by club members and a brief talk by County Judge F. W. Bucklin.

T. L. Bewick, state director of 4-H club work, delivered the principal address. The presentation of the achievement pins and club leaders' awards follow his talk, being presented by Guido Schroeder, chairman of the Washington County Board of Supervisors and by Miss Helena Muehimeier, Washington county home agent.

For entertainment, arrangements were made with a "Professor" Oakes to present his "goofy gadget genius" lecture. Prof. Oakes has a national reputation as an entertainer. For two years he has appeared in the comic features of Paramount's famous series of films—popular science on the screen.
He has appeared twice on Hobby Lobb-by over coast to coast radio hook-ups.
His inventions largely of a humorous nature have entertained thousands of audiences in America. His appearance on the 4-H achievement program provides entertainment new to a Washington county audience and adds pleasure and mirth to the program.

SKILLS AGRICULTURAL AGENT, E. E.

Twenty-five Years Ago

(1915)

An 11 pound son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Kennedy. Mrs.
Kennedy is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
John Andrae.

A man giving his name as Philip Schmidt of Random Lake, who was caught after burglarizing a jewelry store at that place, also admitted robbing the L. Rosenheimer store here after being questioned. The local store was robbed July 25. L. P. Rosenheimer and Marshall Geo. F. Brandt went to Random Lake and got back some of the stolen merchandise taken here, which the man had in his possession. The thief will be tried here after serving his sentence at Random Lake.

Notice was received of the death of Mrs. Henry Schaefer, nee Miller, at Kaukauna. She and her husband were married at New Fane in 1865, and formerly resided on the Aug. Palk farm, one mile south of Kewaskum.

Dr. Wm. Klumb returned from a six weeks' trip through the western states.
He also attended the two big fairs, the Los Angeles and Pan-American fairs.

Judge Martin L. Lueck in circuit court at Juneau confirmed the sale of the Tiger Drill company's assets, the same having been offered at receiver's sale in Beaver Dam. The bid of James B. Day of Hartford, of $16,550 was received by the court, and the property is now owned by Mr. Day. It is understood that A. L. Rosenheimer of Kewaskum is associated with Mr. Day in the purchase. Both Mr. Day and Mr.
Rosenheimer were in the city recently and discussed their purchase details.
Mr. Day did not make known the details of his plans for the plant other than it would be put into operation soon.—Beaver Dam Argus.

The worst hail storm of which there is record in Fond du Lac county struck Waukauca and vicinity recently. Farm house windows were broke-and much other damage was suffered.
The storm blew up from the direction of Eden and traveled east through Osceola township. The hail stones were almost as big as pigeon eggs.

FOR SAFER NIGHT DRIVING, the lighting equipment on all cars and trucks should be checked by experts, the safety division of the Motor Vehicle department advises.

Every motor vehicle operated on public highways at night is required by state law to have two headlights and a taillight in good working order. Trucks, in addition, must have clearance lights and should be equipped with flares and fuses for use in emergencies.

Motorists, here is a traffic warning from the safety division of the Motor Vehicle department: When passing a parked car, watch for occupants of the car to emerge and also for pedestrians to step out from behind or in front of the car.

Earlier industries, such as lumbering and wheat raising, were productive of limited wealth—secured, however, at a sacrifice of natural resources.
