Statesman Announces a Goodwill Gift Subscription Campaign

With this issue the Statesman launches a great Goodwill Gift Campaign. Complete details of which may be found in our large ad on page eight. The Statesman's campaign is not going to be a "contest" in which a "campaign manager" will be paid our subscribers' hard earned dollars, and some contestant win a coveted prize because our subscribers were good enough to buy it for them with subscriptions. Instead the Statesman proposes to use the money that would be paid out to a "contest manager" and for prizes for contestants, to buy gifts for its readers. We believe you would rather receive a reward for paying your own subscription, than to help pay for a prize to be won by some contestant.

Of course such a campaign depends somewhat on our readers for its success. We have to depend on them to come into our office and pay their subscription and get their gift award. We will not send "contestants" out after them, as is done in some newspaper campaigns. The Gift reward we have secured for our readers is the famous Kwik Lite two-way all purpose electric lantern. So popular has this lantern become that more than two hundred thousand of them have been given away by newspapers. In Wisconsin alone more than twenty thousand have gone to newspaper readers under offers similar to this one. Come in and see the lantern.

The Statesman's offer is very simple. It is just this: Come in and pay for a new subscription for yourself or someone else at the regular rate and you will receive the $1.00 Gift Lantern FREE with our compliments. If you already are a subscriber you can also take advantage of the offer but you will be required to pay 40c to cover the cost of the bulbs and batteries. You still save 60c on each lantern. Either the lantern or subscription will make an ideal gift for someone.

It is not our intention to try to rush our readers, and we do not intend to close our campaign until each and every one of our readers has had ample time to get his lantern, if we can help it, but we do not know how long we can obtain them under the extremely favorable advertising agreement we hold with the manufacturer. We urge all of you to act without delay; we don't want to have to tell anyone we can no longer get them a lantern.—The Publishers.

Rev. Mohme, Former Pastor Here, Called

It is sad news that we bring to the community this week. It is the death of a highly esteemed man, Rev. Friedrich W. Mohme of Sheboygan, aged 77, former pastor of the Peace Evangelical church in Kewaskum, who became dearly beloved during his pastorate here. Rev. Mohme passed to his eternal reward at noon on Saturday, Nov. 16, at the Lutheran Home for the Aged in Fond du Lac, after ailing for several years.

Rev. Mohme was called to the Peace church in Kewaskum in 1910, where he served until 1920. During the 10 years of his work here he increased the membership of his congregation from about 80 to 140 members. Then, in 1920, Rev. Mohme's resignation came as a surprise and a great loss not only to the members of his parish but to the citizens of the village as well. The Reverend's true and sterling worth was most keenly felt when he left the local church. He tendered his resignation in February, 1920, and preached his farewell sermon on May 9, 1920 before a packed church, leaving the village the following day. He was succeeded at the Peace church by Rev. H. J. Barth.

Rev. Mohme, whose name appeared on our list of subscribers many years, even after leaving Kewaskum, was born Oct. 8, 1863, in Rinteln an der Weser, Germany. He studied theology at the University of Marburg, Germany. He was ordained in 1888, and for a year was assistant pastor in the Lutheran church in Schmalhalden, Thuringia, from 1890 to 1900. In 1896 he was married to Miss Marie Zallmann. From 1900 to 1906 he was at the Marengueine in Dortmund, Westphalia.

Couple Observes 55th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. August Miller, respected and widely known residents of the town of Kewaskum, had the occasion to celebrate their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Bassil, at Milwaukee Sunday, Nov. 17. The occasion, featured by a turkey dinner, was a very pleasant one, as the children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren of the venerable couple gathered to observe the event. The day was spent socially and in reminiscence of days gone by.

Mr. Miller, at the age of 84 years, and Mrs. Miller, aged 77 years, are enjoying the best of health. Mr. Miller is especially spry for his age and he led the entertaining at the happy event with his witty remarks, singing and relating some of the past experiences of his life.

Mrs. Miller, nee Ullricha Backhaus, was born on June 28, 1863, on the farm home of her parents just a mile from her present home. Mr. Miller was born on Nov. 1, 1856, in the same farm home he is still occupying, located two and one-half miles northeast of this village. They were married by Rev. Moldenhauer 55 years ago in the little Lutheran church about a mile west of their home, which since has been torn down.

First Two County Men Inducted Into Service

Harold Wilson Warnkey and Charles Edward Mueller, both of West Bend, have been selected by the Washington County Selective Service Board No. 1 for induction into military training under the federal selective service and military training act as part of the national defense program.

These two young men volunteered to go into training, therefore it was not necessary for the board to call on them according to their order numbers. Warnkey's order number was V-3265 and Mueller's V-978. Suggestion was made by the board to various civic organizations that these two men be given a sort of patriotic farewell but no plans had been arranged at the time this news was received.

Warnkey and Mueller reported at the county selective service board headquarters, Room 209, Central building, West Bend, at 8:30 this (Friday) morning, Nov. 22. They were sent to an induction station of the U. S. army at an army at 4108 N. Richards st., Milwaukee, to report there at 10:30 a. m. today.

The local board at their meeting on Tuesday evening passed on the eligibility of these two men, the first to be inducted into service. Both of them have passed the physical exam. Because one or both of the two may not be inducted at the induction station by the armed forces, the local board has taken care of a replacement in the person of Christopher Herbert Michael, who has also volunteered for service. Michael's order number is V-1382. Another man will be selected as a replacement. Any man required to report as a replacement shall be duly notified at least five days before he is required to report. This regulation applies to all replacements.

Contrary to previous instructions, corps area headquarters advise there will be no requisition upon the local board for selections during the month of December, for the reason that enlistments in the regular army and national guard have exceeded all expectations and to enable as many selectees as possible to spend the holidays with their relatives and friends. It is expected the next selection will be made on or about Jan. 3, 1941. Washington county has four more volunteers and these will be selected before those with order numbers are called.

Since the inauguration of the service the local board has been making its headquarters in the offices of Simester & Schowalter and Baltus Rolfs. On account of the increased amount of work required, it was found necessary and advisable to have their own and larger quarters, so arrangements have been made to lease rooms in the same building, namely, the Central building, 124 N. Main st., West Bend, Room 202. Arrangements are being made to install a telephone, the number of which will be 2. In the meantime the telephone number of the board is 42.

To further assist the registrants in filling out their questionnaires, Judge F. W. Bucklin of West Bend, chairman of the advisory board on registration, has appointed the following associate members to the board: Atty. F. H. Ackerman, Jackson; Richard Hackbart, Richfield; Monroe F. Schwalbach, Germantown; Atty. Otto H. Wadewitz, Slinger, and Ray Umls, Alton.

The official advisory board, besides Judge Bucklin, is composed of Atty. John Cannon, West Bend; Atty. Harry M. Schuck, Slinger, and State Senator Jesse M. Peters, Hartford, also an attorney.

Young Lady Hurt When Auto Runs Into Ditch

Mrs. Edward Wiskirchen of the town of Barton, the former Miss Marie Kofala of New Fane, was badly injured at about 9:15 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 12, when the automobile she was driving ran into the ditch about three miles east of Kewaskum, while she was enroute to this village on her way home from New Fane, where she had visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Kofala. The young lady was married to Eddie Wiskirchen only a few months ago. Together they operate a tavern on Highway 55, about 3 1/2 miles south of Kewaskum. Mrs. Wiskirchen did not know exactly how the car happened to run into the ditch.

After the accident she was unable to enter the car doors and get out. She smashed the windshield open and crawled out over the motor. As there was no one around to offer aid she walked back one-half mile to the home of her parents in New Fane. There a doctor was called and the young lady was rushed to St. Joseph's Community hospital, West Bend, for treatment. An examination and X-rays showed that she suffered a fractured upper jaw and nose, besides bruises and scratches and a possible concussion.

62 Cars of Sugar Beets Shipped Out of Village

The hauling and shipping of the annual crop of sugar beets in this community was completed last week after being loaded in freight cars on the local conveyor for the past month. A total of 62 carloads of beets were shipped out of Kewaskum each car containing an average of 40 tons of beets, making total of 2,480 tons. This number easily sets a record for beet shipping here.

More farmers than ever around Kewaskum grew beets the past summer. They have found it profitable to grow beets and more are turning to this source of income each year. The growing and shipping is under the supervision of Ervin Schmitt, fieldman for the Menominee Beet company of Michigan, to which company the beets were shipped. This section is one of the leading sugar beet districts in the state AAA sugar beet program.

State farmers harvested approximately 23,300 acres of beets this year, an increase of nearly 6,000 over the 1939 acreage. Total farm value of the 1940 crop is estimated at $1,500,000 including AAA payments, as compared with $564,000 in 1937. The first year the sugar act was in effect.

Don't Miss Famous Movie of Passion Play Monday

Be sure to attend the spectacular motion picture of the Passion Play, "Golgotha," at the Kewaskum Opera House Monday, Nov. 25, showing before your very eyes the Crucifixion of Christ. "Golgotha" is a gigantic spectacle, greater than any Hollywood epic. It contains a cast of thousands with hundreds of awe-inspiring scenes filled with stark realism—one hour and 40 minutes of sensational entertainment. This picture, now shown for the first time as a movie, should be seen by every man, woman and child. It has been praised by everyone who saw it and has been universally endorsed. The Passion play, heard of for years, as given in Oberammergau and Freiburg, now is on a special tour of America as a movie.

The picture renders an outstanding moral, religious and educational service to every community. The average Hollywood feature picture costs $200,000 but it took $500,000 to film "Golgotha," one of the most costly pictures ever made. This will give you some idea of the size and magnitude of the picture, which was made in the old country, but all speaking parts are in English. The Film Daily, official publication of the movie industry, says that no mob scenes such as these have ever before been recorded on film. No film has received the enthusiastic endorsement of religious, civic and educational leaders that "Golgotha" has gotten.

There will be a special matinee at 2 P. m., at which children under 13 will be admitted for 5c. The admission for children in the evening will be 10c. There will be two evening shows starting at 7 and 9 o'clock. The regular admission charge for adults is 35c, but tickets can be obtained at a saving of 25c from the following business people who have cooperated with the local Post of the American Legion to sponsor the picture: L. Rosenheimer, Millers, Inc., A. G. Koch, Inc., John Marx, Bank of Kewaskum, Joe Eberle, Rembrandt Mfg. Co., Yoost Meat Market, Lay Lumber Co., Felix Gamble Store, Creamery Co., Schaefer Bros., Aluminum Co., Mutual Fire Ins. Co. and the Statesman. Stop in at any of the above places for free tickets, which will admit any adult for a dime. Posters in the windows announce that the tickets are being given free.

The entire United States is now practically free from bovine tuberculosis, according to a recent report from the United States Department of Agriculture.

Wings of Freedom for America!

At Mitchell field, located on Long Island, New York, are roosted some of the most powerful fighting airplanes in the world, ready to give a warm welcome to any invader. Mitchell field is one of the key military air centers of the eastern seaboard. Once the casual visitor was welcome to stroll about, but not today! No chances are being taken with saboteurs or other weevils. This series of photographs gives you a peek at this eagle's nest, and will be good for your morale.

Above: "Flying Fortresses," technically Boeing B-17 bombers. Below: Observation traffic control tower. The officer in charge instructs pilots by radio telephone.

A bombardier connected with the first bombardier squadron holds a 100-pound bomb as tenderly as if it were his first-born child. The plane is an A-17 light bombing.

Sometimes a flier's life hangs by threads—the shroud lines of his parachute. In this department parachutes are periodically examined, very minutely.

Dwarfed by the striped rudder of a big bomber, the crew is in a huddle over a map on which the route of a practice flight is laid out. These boys "know their stuff."

Inset: Lieut. John Doerr, one of Mitchell field's bright young men. No maestro ever listened as intently for a false note as the lieutenant was listening to the roar of the motor when the camera caught him. Right: An impressive view of a formation of Curtiss pursuit ships roaring through the clouds over Long Island.

Earth Gaining Weight
The earth, according to Dr. Kirtley F. Mather of Harvard, is gaining weight at the rate of 50,000 tons a day, or 20,000,000 tons a year—owing to falling meteors and meteoric dust. Assuming our planet to be 2,000,000,000 years old, says Mather, its total increase in weight since the beginning has been 40,000,000,000,000 tons. Stated another way this means that in the last 2,000,000,000 years enough cosmic scraps have fallen to cover the earth with a layer of matter 100 feet deep.

Danger of Overweight
People who allow themselves to take on excessive weight and continue to over-indulge in the consumption of food should be warned of the danger of diabetes. Heredity is a basic factor in this disease. With diabetes in the family obesity brings out the hereditary tendency. It is possible for diabetic individuals to maintain good health under present-day methods of medical supervision, provided the disease is discovered before serious damage is done.

PSYCHOLOGY TEST FOR SOLDIERS
Tests in psychology for all men in the army are proposed by officers at Fort Dix, where such tests are now being applied to determine the fitness of soldiers in special situations. And just when it seemed that enlisting in the army might be the only way to escape those things!

One of the questions is: "You are driving an auto at night. While driving you meet another auto which will not dim its lights, regardless of your signals. What would you do?" The question becomes particularly important if the gent in the other car happens to be a general.

Another reads: "You are walking along a muddy road carrying a stone in one hand when an auto passes and splashes mud over you. Would you throw the stone? Answer yes or no." There's only one answer for a soldier to that one: "No. But don't depend on it."

Professor Elmer Twitchell, this department's eminent psychologist, has prepared the following tests for volunteers and draft prospects:
1.—You are driving a limousine to the front. There are four young ladies with you. On the way you encounter two majors going to the front on foot. They both give you the thumb in the orthodox hitchhiker manner. You explain that, as you have four girls with you, there is no sense taking them aboard unless they can dig up another major. Go on with the story from there.

2.—You have answered the draft summons and presented yourself for physical examination. You are found to be a perfect specimen, but the examiner is called to the phone, and in stumbling over a chair drops his papers and gets them mixed up. He returns to you and says: "Let's see; you're the one with defective eyesight and deafness in both ears, aren't you?" Which of the three answers would you make:
(a)—Right, you are.
(b)—No, sir.
(c)—Yes, and my arches are all gone, too.

3.—You are assigned to guard duty at night on a desolate post. Vigilance bores you so you sit down and use a portable radio. While you are listening to the Pot of Gold program a superior officer comes along. Which would you think the best remark to make under the circumstances:
(a)—How do you suppose this radio ever got here?
(b)—Sorry, captain. I forgot where I was.
(c)—Let's both go home so we can win this dough in case our phones ring.

CHAPTER XIII—Continued

"How are things going out there?" asked the doctor. "Not very well. But for that matter, where are they going well in California? Everything is upset. Politics boiling, lawless, lawless growing, gringos and these damned Mexicans squabbling; and then, to cap everything else for me, smallpox all over the coast. Bowie, I need an assistant. You'd better join up with me."

Don Ramon was serious. "What's wrong at Guadalupe?" he asked as casually as possible.

"Don Ramon is down with smallpox," they say. An Indian brought word from Dona Maria asking me to come right away and vaccinate everybody; and virus here is scarce. They're in a panic."

"Naturally," said Bowie.

"That's only part of it," growled the surgeon. "Fremont steals their horses; bushwackers steal their cattle; the damned gringo squatters are stealing their land; and that's the way things are going at all the ranchos. Bowie, I'm riding out to Guadalupe right after dinner; take your gun with me and ride out, too."

"Sorry, I've made an appointment with Nathan Spear—he was here yesterday—to meet him in San Francisco tomorrow morning."

"That will keep."

Bowie shook his head. "He's going down to Santa Barbara tomorrow."

Dr. Doane did not give up the fight to make Bowie ride out with him, but he failed in it. The Texan was stubborn.

"I shall tell them you were mean about it."

Bowie raised his hand in quick protest. "Tell them nothing about me—not even that I am in California," said Bowie. "I'm not joking, Doctor," he added bluntly.

"Have it your own way," sputtered the surgeon.

But on reaching the rancho Dr. Doane was sorry he had assented to the Texan's injunction. The whole atmosphere of the rancho was morbid. Two almost helpless women—Carmen was the only one with any courage left, and she had more courage than the experience needed in managing and directing vagabonds.

But the doctor brought one great ray of sunshine to the gloom. Don Ramon, he announced definitely, did not have the smallpox; he pronounced his illness chicken pox. Dona Maria and Carmen drew deep breaths of relief.

That evening at supper the two women asked so many questions of the doctor, and these were so pathetic in tenor, that he was hard put to it to give them consolation.

Dona Maria sighed deeply when the doctor tried to offer cheer.

"If only Senor Bowie were with us," she said. "Nothing has seemed to go right since he left."

"Why did he leave?" asked the doctor casually, though he knew the answer.

"He thought he could better himself up the river."

"Why, Mother," exclaimed Carmen, crimsoning, "you know that's not the reason. Mother doesn't want to blame me, Doctor—that's all."

"Ah!" smiled Doane. "A heart affair?"

"But surely that would not send him away back to Texas," countered Dona Maria gently. "Sanchez tells us he went."

The surgeon had his ears open. "You can never tell, Dona Maria," he said. "As to how far these heart affairs will carry a man. Some men would think halfway around the world not far enough. Much would depend, I should think, on how deep the wound."

"I think all this is very silly talk," exclaimed Carmen almost explosively. Up to this point she had maintained a reserve so even that her medical busyness could hardly formulate much of an inference as to her feelings. But he had now worked his probe deep enough to arouse resentment. She rose impatiently from her feet. "Senor Bowie," she went on, "is a gentleman of sense and intelligence."

"I thought him a cowboy," purred the doctor.

"A cowboy who has attended Georgetown University?" She spoke with heat. "Senor Bowie is a caballero, not a vaquero! If you had ever talked with him you'd know he is a gentleman of sense, not likely to be seriously upset because an insignificant girl declined his hand." With the words she walked indignantly from the room.

"Senorita!" called the doctor after her. "I see she did not hear. Please, Dona Maria," he continued, "tell her not to go riding for a day or two with that arm . . ."

Senorita Carmen has spirit, Dona Maria added the surgeon, putting away his implements.

"I am glad she has," said Dona Maria. "My own is pretty well cured. What with Don Ramon's illness and all our other troubles, I seem unable to face things as I used to. I hope Carmelita will soon make up her mind to marry. She seems interested—at least I sometimes think so—in Don Sebastian of Santa Barbara, who is crazy about her. But the child is sickle. She seems to blow hot and cold with him. And even should she accept him—she is keeping him waiting now—that would not help me. These dons have their own estates to look after. No, Senor Bowie was my only hope for our protection."

"I wonder," mused the doctor, "whether he will ever come back."

"He will never come back," prophesied Dona Maria.

"Who can tell? And if the Senorita married and left the nest, he might even come back here."

"Dr. Doane," exclaimed Dona Maria, "what makes you say that?"

"Just surmising on possibilities," said the surgeon with an air of casualness. But Dona Maria's suspicions had been awakened.

"I believe you know something you are keeping back, Doctor," she said flatly. "What is it? Out with it."

"Can you keep a secret?" continued the doctor.

"Women are not supposed to, are they? But," she added, as Doane seemed about to close his confidence with his lancet case, "try me. I will do my best."

"Bowie is back."

"Dr. Doane! What do you mean?"

"He is in Monterey. And heaven help me! He forbade me tell. On your life, Dona Maria, don't tell Carmen."

downstreet. He did not reappear till supper time at the restaurant where the two took their meals.

"Well," asked Doane when they had reached their coffee, speaking as if he thought he had a right to know, "what's it all about?"

"Since you've let the cat out of the bag, anyway, and Don Ramon is down sick, I thought I ought to send a few little things out to Guadalupe to show I hadn't forgotten their past kindnesses, and," he added haltingly, "things like that. What do you think?"

"I think it's fine," replied the doctor.

In San Francisco a few days later Bowie met Captain Sutter, and at Vieget's the two discussed plans for managing the fur business up the river. Sutter took the boat early next morning for New Helvetia. Bowie was ready to go with him, but a knock on his door at daybreak changed his plans. He opened to find the vaquero Pedro standing before him. Greetings exchanged, Pedro explained he had been told by Dr. Doane where to look for Senor Bowie and had ridden up the peninsula during the night. "I have a note for you, senor, and I was told to deliver it as quickly as possible." He drew the note from a breast pocket of his leathern jacket. It was from Carmen.

"I didn't see you."

"My mother has asked you to come out for a visit to Guadalupe before you leave for Sutter's Fort. We should all be equally happy to welcome you to your old home, as you well know. But even if you haven't time for a good visit, Mother wants to ask a very special favor. Strawberries are ripe. Don Francisco Guerrero is giving a strawberry merienda, Saturday. There will be a neighborhood gathering from all the ranchos—you remember what a famous host Don Francisco is. We are going from Guadalupe. Won't you join us? Come out Friday night."

"Carmen."

Bowie did not stop to read the formal Spanish greetings that closed the note. He saw on the white sheet of paper only the magic word, "Carmen."

He slapped Pedro on the shoulder and bade him go down and feed the horses and get his breakfast. It was already merienda day—Saturday.

Bowie made up his mind to ride straight to Don Francisco's. It was the only chance to catch the party. He scribbled a hasty note for Captain Sutter, saying that he had been unavoidably detained and would follow on the next boat. Thirty minutes later he and Pedro were riding rapidly for Don Francisco Guerrero's.

At Don Francisco's a disappointment met him. The merienda party had already left. However, it was easy to follow. He sent Pedro to Guadalupe and took the trail to the valley of the strawberries himself.

A pretty scene greeted Bowie's eyes when he reached the brow of the hill. Below him a valley opened like a huge inverted bowl rimmed by surrounding hills. Each rancho had set up its own pavilion, bright with Spanish colors, and the pavilions were spread in a crescent, opening out on the valley. The various ranchos had their complements of servants; and the horses, tethered among the trees, were as happy as horses could be, close to a running brook, but pestered by flies.

Bowie rode rapidly down the long hill and around to the camp near the pines.

Dona Maria saw him first. She called to Carmen where she stood at a little distance, talking to Don Vicente, a cousin of Don Francisco's from Santa Barbara.

Carmen greeted Bowie with cordial enthusiasm, and he explained in turn the mishap that had prevented him from joining the party at Guadalupe the night before. Don Vicente, Carmen's escort, scrupulously well-mannered and somewhat senior in years to the rest of the group, eyed the newcomer with polite interest.

While dinner was on, Don Ramon rode in with Aunt Ysabel from Monterey and more servants. Bowie was greeted by Don Ramon like a long lost friend.

"Well," exclaimed Tia Ysabel to Carmen after the dinner, "I see your peevish Texan is back! What does he want?"

Carmen shrugged her shoulders. "I understand he is to be some kind of a partner of Captain Sutter's, that energetic Swiss, up the river."

"What's he doing here?" snapped her questioner.

"He heard of Father's illness and sent out a couple of baskets of champagne and a lot of delicacies. So Mother asked me to invite him for the strawberry picnic."

"You say Dona Maria asked you to invite him out. She says you asked her to invite him," observed Tia Ysabel bluntly.

"Either way, he was entitled to the courtesy of an invitation, wasn't he?" asked Carmen crisply. "The wine he sent was rare—so Father said. Don Vicente and I are going after some ferns to press—he has my book."

The tables were being cleared and the guests were scattered in groups among the pines and redwoods. Men were smoking and talking horses, the women were chatting in little groups, and the younger girls, with some animation, were hulling strawberries and talking fast. Carmen, swinging her sunbonnet by the strings, sought Don Vicente. She wandered to the end of the camp without finding him.

But she did almost stumble, without seeing them, over the long legs of Bowie, who sat with his back against a tall redwood, looking out at the distant bay.

"Oh!" she exclaimed, coloring with a little confusion. "I didn't see you. Excuse me for disturbing you."

"Don't ask me to excuse you for anything so pleasant."

"Oh, you haven't left your gallantry in Texas. Sometime I should like to hear more about that republic of yours and its fighting men."

He shook his head. "My poor republic. It is no more. The United States has swallowed it."

"And didn't you like that?"

"Not a bit. But what's the difference? It's only another dream gone," he added evenly.

They were strolling back toward camp. "And so there you were, sitting all by your lonesome. If you can't find anybody else to talk to, why not try me?" asked Carmen.

"I thought you said you didn't see me," he objected.

"Don't believe all you hear," she retorted casually.

"I've seen times when I've wished I couldn't."

As they loitered along she was still swinging her bonnet. Passing a big tree on the long slope, Carmen put up her hand.

"Isn't that a lovely breeze? Let's sit down a moment."

"I'm glad to see your father is out," ventured Bowie. "He's improving."

But Carmen did not care to discuss formalities. She wanted to hear about Texas and what he saw and did there while away. And she wanted to know what was going to happen to poor California, with its bandits, its insurrections and its new crop of detestable gringos.

Bowie shrugged his shoulders at the mention of gringos. "They're mean, I know—but no worse than these Mexican rats. And California at present is getting the very scum of the gringos—the crop will improve with time."

"Tell me about this Senor Sutter and what you are going to do up there. And why you like it so much better than Guadalupe."

He launched into a eulogy of the Swiss.

"But you haven't said why you like it better than Guadalupe," persisted Carmen.

"I haven't said I do like it better," he contended. "It does have one advantage: I don't have time up there to think. Coming over here just now," he continued hastily, cutting off any attempt on Carmen's part to speak, "I stumbled on a bed of wild roses. Do you like brier roses?"

"I love them. Where are they?"

"I'll show you." He got up. She held out her hand, and he helped her to rise. The pressure of her warm fingers stirred his blood. The sea breeze lifted the loose hair about her temples.

"Is it very far?" she asked, looking up innocently at him.

"Not so very far," he answered steadily.

She tried to talk about Guadalupe; he, about New Helvetia. But they got something out of their cross fire, despite the fact that each felt conscious the other was holding a great deal back.

"I thought you said it wasn't very far," objected Carmen after some distance.

"It hasn't seemed so yet to me. It's just over the brow of the next hill. But you're tired—stay here a moment. I'll bring an armful to you."

"Oh, no. I want to find the bed."

She seated herself presently close to the roses and spoke from where she sat, while Bowie, with his hunting knife, cut stems from the plants and slowly trimmed away the thorns before handing them to her.

Heat Always Good Remedy For Backache

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

WHENEVER I see a man on the street walking as if his back were hurting him I want to stop and tell him about the backaches I have had in my time. My first backache, due to injury (braking my car) required a supporting brace (Goldthwait) for four years; the second attack, due to infected tonsils, disappeared when tonsils were removed; and the third and fourth attacks, due to infected teeth, disappeared when these teeth were removed.

With the backache due to injury I found that by assuming a certain position in bed I could be free of pain. With the backaches due to infection (tonsils and teeth), I found that the pain was worst when I was at rest and was less painful when I was up and walking about.

What many physicians, including myself, fail to remember, however, is that the backache due to injury may come on slowly because the injury is not due to some sudden strain but to some slow steady strain on the back. Many cases are due to men and women allowing themselves to become overweight, particularly over the abdomen. The increased weight of the abdomen causes a pulling on the joint between the spinal column and the hip bones. This causes not only backache but often severe pain down the upper leg—sciatica. In these cases, reducing the weight and the wearing of an "uplifting" abdominal belt takes the strain off these joints and gives great relief.

Dr. Barton

Abdominal Belt Also for Underweights.

However, those who are underweight may also have this pain if they are physically weak and do not stand correctly. Here also an abdominal belt is of help. Also, as men and women grow older and weaker there is an extra strain on the joints and muscles of the lower back.

The thought then in all cases of backache is to try to find the cause. While trying to find the cause—injury, infection, poor posture—heat in any form is good treatment. Heat not only soothes the nerves but relaxes the muscles, thus taking much of the "pull" or tension off the muscles and ligaments surrounding the affected part.

There have been dozens of letters saying, "I would like to hook the flower designs for which you give directions in Book 5. Will you please tell me if I can use old silk stockings for these?"

Silk stockings may be used for hooked rugs but they do not wear as well as woolen materials. They are perfect for hooked chair pads, foot stool tops and wall hangings. All the popular stocking colors may be dyed soft green, red and

Henry's Trip to See Thermometer Was Urgent

He slid his tired feet into a pair of slippers, lit his pipe, sat down in the easy-chair with a sigh of relief, and declared 20,000 wild horses couldn't make him go out.

"Henry," said his wife, "you posted that letter I gave you?"

"I did, my love," he answered.

"I asked mother to postpone her visit for a while," his wife continued. "You see—"

Henry did so. The tired man jumped from his chair, kicked off his slippers, put on his boots, and slipped out into the murky street. Five minutes later, Henry came back with the tale that he had been to see how the thermometer outside the post office stood. She smiled.

Tooth Disorders and Trifacial Neuralgia

ONE of the drug companies has distributed to the medical and dental profession an accurate and complete illustration of the distribution of the "fifth" nerve. The illustration shows how branches, large and small, go to every part of the face, jaws, cheeks, throat and to each individual tooth. I had it framed and it hangs on the wall of my office as I can so easily point out how one tiny nerve ending in a tooth can start pain in the large group of nerve fibers under the ear and cause that agonizing pain called tic douloureux, or trifacial neuralgia.

That other conditions of the teeth aside from impacted wisdom teeth may be causing this severe trifacial neuralgia is stated by Dr. M. Melchior in the Journal of Psychiatry and Neurology, Copenhagen.

Dangers of Extracting Teeth.

Dr. Melchior is very emphatic in pointing out the danger following extraction of the teeth. Pieces of the root or splinters of bone from the bony socket often remain which may heal into the jaw without causing any symptoms but which, after many years, may be the concealed cause of severe neuralgia.

Extraction of the teeth may develop little nerve tumors, thin ridges of bone, and fractures of the sides of the bony sockets in the jaw bone. Some of the pieces of bone stick out as bony edges and cut into the lining membrane of the mouth. These sharp edges are of course struck by food or other substances in the mouth, causing continuous injuries or soreness with resulting infections. The treatment for such cases is the removal of these jagged pieces of bone.

QUESTION BOX

Q.—What is sebium? What does it do?

A.—Sebium is the name of the natural oil that is made in little oil sacs or sacks in lower part of skin. It comes up to surface of skin and keeps skin soft and pliable.

Q.—Does the five-meal-a-day plan mean to eat more food in the 24 hours?

A.—No. Part of lunch and evening dinner is eaten at 11 a. m. and 4 p. m.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

By Edward C. Wayne

Greeks Take Second Inning of War; 2,000 Killed in Rumanian Earthquake; Rumors of Changes in Next Cabinet; British Bombers Raid Italian Fleet

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

WOODBRIDGE, N. J.—This scene of desolation met the eye after a terrifying blast leveled the United Railway and Signal Co. here, killing nine persons and injuring 33. Though the plant made torpedo signals for railroads, it was said to be working on a device of "great importance" to the army and navy. (For news of other powder plant blasts see "DEFENSE: Supplies.")

FOUR HORSEMEN:

WAR Greece is connected to Fascist-held Albania by three highways running through deep mountain passes. Down these three highways marched Mussolini's blackshirt legions in the first week of his war with Greece. Back up the highways hurried what was left of the divisions in the second week. The Greeks, outnumbered two to one, reported they had pushed the invaders back on the northern and central front. On the southern front they also claimed victory, said a complete Italian division was surrounded and wiped out. England, still pounded by German warplanes, saw the Tower of London, ancient prison where famous prisoners were confined in the Elizabethan era, smashed by a bomb. One night the raiding planes had an unaccustomed hum. The English guessed they were Italians, a guess confirmed when one was shot down. The Italian onslaught brought demands in London for a raid on Rome, treasured architectural city until now protected by agreement. Said George Bernard Shaw, "There is no reason why Rome should not have it. If only people were not killed and we could select the places to be bombed, I would welcome an attack on London. They are knocking down a good many things we should have knocked down ourselves long ago." Germany was being torn by tons of explosives also. When Adolf Hitler visited the Munich beerhall, Nazi shrine, R.A.F. fliers sought out the place and dropped explosives. Hitler cancelled the broadcast of his annual speech. The raiders found the spot just an hour after the address and sent high German officials scurrying to shelters. Likewise when Soviet Premier Molotov and 32 trade and commercial advisers came to Berlin, the route over which their private train passed was bombed. The visiting diplomats escaped injury. The following day Molotov and Hitler held a three-hour conference during which it is believed the course of the two nations in relation to the Balkan countries was decided.

Death

The Pale Horseman rode over Europe in more than war. An earthquake shook Rumania killing an estimated 2,000 and causing millions of dollars of property damage. Destroyed also were some of the prolific Rumanian oil wells which have been supplying Adolf Hitler with the gasoline needed for his war machine.

Famine

Unable to ship food through the British blockade, the American Red Cross prepared to close all its stations in occupied and unoccupied France. All Europe was under strict rationing.

Pestilence

How long England holds out may depend indirectly more than directly on Nazi bombs. Millions of people were crowded into air raid shelters night after night, in foul air and weakened by lack of sleep. It is feared this may bring epidemics as soon as spring arrives. On the continent, other millions, enfeebled by lack of proper nutrition, also are susceptible to disease.

NIBLETS . . . of the week's news

Spy—Tyler Kent, 29-year-old clerk in the American embassy in London, was convicted of an offense against the Official Secrets Act. Kent, a graduate of Princeton and George Washington university, previously served in the U. S. embassy in Moscow. Sentence was reserved pending trial of Anna Wolkoff, daughter of a Czarist Russian admiral, who testified in the Kent trial. Return—Jeanette Rankin, first woman member of congress who made her first speech when she voted against war in 1917, has been elected to the house for her second term from Montana. Her platform was: "Prepare to the limit for defense; keep our men out of Europe." She will be one of eight women in the next session. Romance—The engagement of Miss Marguerite Johnson, Rock Island, Ill., high school teacher, to Sen. Gerald P. Nye (R., N. D.) was announced. Senator Nye was divorced by his first wife in March.

Death—Neville Chamberlain, appeasement prime minister of Great Britain, found the peace he so long sought. Amid the roar of German bombs around his Hampshire home, the ill and aged statesman died at the age of 71. Earlier it had been reported he would seek health in California, but his illness had proceeded too far for that trip to be undertaken. Trial—While a federal court heard testimony in charges of fraud and conspiracy involving millions of dollars, Howard Hopson, once head of the huge Associated Gas and Electric utility system, snored in the court. The trial had been delayed nine months while Hopson's attorneys sought to show he was mentally incompetent. Overwork—Key Pittman, senator from Nevada, died in Reno a few days after being elected for his sixth term. As chairman of the senate foreign relations committee he had been a supporter of FDR.

Refugee

NEW YORK.—Mme. Annette Clemenceau, daughter-in-law of Georges Clemenceau, "The Tiger" of France in World War days, is photographed on her arrival in New York aboard the S. S. Exeter. The Exeter brought many American and European refugees from the war zone and the ship's officers told of two shots fired across her stern by a British patrol boat while the vessel was one hour out of Lisbon, Portugal.

CONGRESS: No Business

Congress continues the fiction of being in session, although virtually all but a few members left the city. Every other day officials of both houses appear, open the session, hear the official prayer, permit speeches to be inserted in the Record and then recess within a few minutes. There is no embarrassing roll call. Agitation for an official adjournment is opposed by Republican leaders as well as many Democrats. They hold congress should be in the position of instant action, due to the troublesome foreign situation. One bill being worked out in the meantime is the Ramspeck measure for extension of the merit system to cover some 150,000 more government workers. The bill has been passed by both houses and is being delayed because the house won't accept changes made in conference. Final acceptance would make the Roosevelt administration the record-breaker for civil service extension.

Debt

Meanwhile Treasury Secretary Morgenthau warned the ceiling on the federal debt must be raised soon, due to heavy defense spending. A formal treasury request for new taxes and a higher debt limit—probably $60,000,000,000—is not expected until next January however. The present congress has voted almost $17,000,000,000 for defense. Morgenthau said the treasury has no idea of asking congress to pass a retroactive tax on government securities.

NEW STATE: Hawaii Votes

By a vote of two to one Hawaiian citizens expressed a desire for statehood. The vote was merely a plebiscite, an indication of how the people of the 40 islands feel toward the question. Agitation in the islands to become the forty-ninth state goes back beyond the time when the area was annexed to the United States. An element in the island then sought to make the annexation dependent on statehood. But congress merely granted the new land territorial rights. The territorial legislature now is expected to petition congress again. If the petition is granted, the legislature must draft a proposed constitution which also must be approved by congress. A congressional resolution is the final step in the admission procedure.

DEFENSE: Supplies

To equip the men who will operate U. S. tanks, trucks and planes, the army quartermaster depot at Philadelphia is working overtime. In one week the depot accepted bids on 900,000 bath towels, 15,000 pairs of gauntlets, 200,000 field hats, 10,000 pounds of tinned food, 20,000 yards of khaki cloth, 550,000 roll-collar wool overcoats, 2,000,000 pairs of leggings, 9,000,000 pairs of socks, 2,347,000 pairs of shoes and 750 bugles. Engines by Ford The Ford Motor company has been awarded its first defense contract, a $123,000,000 order for airplane engines. Last June, Henry Ford declared he would accept orders for the United States but not for Britain. The number of engines in the order was not announced.

Share for Britain

Great Britain will receive approximately 26,375 American-made airplanes before June 30, 1942. This was made possible by arrangement approved by President Roosevelt, who agreed to allow London 50 per cent of the planes which will be produced in the United States by that date. The extent of the British order was set at $2,000,000,000. The 50-50 sharing will extend to other munition needs, the Priorities board announced. Deliveries will be staggered. Otherwise on the defense front: Uruguay announced it had reached an agreement with the United States to establish air and naval bases on the Uruguayan coast. The defense commission revealed 2,000 Garand rifles now are being produced each week, and delivery is expected on 25,000 trucks by the end of the year. So many volunteers were being received by the army that indications were few men, if any, would be called under the selective service act for the proposed December quota.

Farmers Face New Problems As Use of Machines Increases

Technological Advances Change Life on U. S. Farms; Greek Nation Completely Unified in Crisis; Government Buys More Land.

By BAUKHAHE (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

What's next? With the frost on the pumpkin fodder in the shock, the world settling down to a hard winter and a long war, those of us who aren't in the first draft or just elected to office have a chance to look two ways from Christmas. The industrial tail is about to wag the agricultural dog again the experts tell us, surplus labor is about to be syphoned off the farm which is fine for the man who has too many mouths to feed and too few acres to divide up, but not so good for the farmer who needs a few extra hands. However, if you do turn around and look back 35 years just to take your mind off present troubles you can see some interesting sights which have just been set up in sharp perspective by the inter-bureau committee of the department of agriculture. In that short span for a man or a mule, 35 years, 10,000,000 mules and horses and thousands of men have been pushed off the farm by the machine. And, according to the prognosticators in Washington, a million and a half more mules and horses will be replaced by tractors in the next 10 years, and more than 8,000,000 acres of land now used to raise feed for work stock will be put to other uses.

Farmers Has Long Utilized Machines

We've been hearing a lot about man versus the machine, especially since the smash of 1929 that made unemployment the big issue, and again since the smash of 1940 when the Nazis with their tanks and motorized equipment went through France like a plow through loam. But the farmer had been getting machine conscious long before that. Especially since the little jack-of-all trades tractor appeared on the field, replacing the cumbersome earlier models. Along with the tractor came a lot of "technological developments" including the combine and the corn-picker but other scientific advances such as testing and breeding and feeding of animals and plants, soil conservation, disease prevention and other things. This technology has hurt as well as helped. Besides the thousands of men who have lost their jobs on farms as well as in factories, prices have been affected and the whole social life on the farm has changed. "It is not that these scientific advances are to be blamed" for the difficulties which have arisen, the Washington experts say, but "the troubles, if any, arise from the inequality of adjustments and responses in agriculture and industry to such advances."

Increased Investment Reduces Security

First, it reduces security. If you raise your own food you need never starve in a panic. Then there is health: A family with a low income and plenty of food growing right on the place is more likely to get a continuously healthful diet than one which has to buy what it eats. Raising one's own food helps divide responsibility for the family welfare because young children and old folks can tend a garden or feed the chickens. If the eggs and vegetables and milk are purchased, the children's interests are removed from the interests of their parents and older brothers and sisters. Furthermore, a child who helps raise its own food also gets what a city child doesn't get—a chance to learn through doing. Another disadvantage of farming for money only, with the greater use of machinery, is that it makes it harder to own a farm. The money goes into perishable things instead of into the solid title to land. The

FARM MACHINERY

Life on American farms is being changed by technological advances, Baukhage reports. He is that the trend toward growing products primarily for sale instead of home consumption reduces many new problems. The Greek ambassador in Washington told Baukhage that his people are now more united than ever. As a part of the defense program, the war department is purchasing great tracts of land, he reveals. From now on you'll be able to SEE American history. In the National Archives in Washington there is the greatest collection of moving pictures of American events that exists. In a series, "See America First," you can see history (some re-made, of course) relating to Colonial days down to 1934. The later ones are news reels and among them is the only official picture in existence showing the celebration of the transfer of the Virgin Islands.

Eight States Retain Winner-Picking Record in Election

WASHINGTON.—Eight of the ten states which have ridden the bandwagon of the winning candidate in every election in which they have participated in this century kept that record clear by supporting President Roosevelt. Two of the ten, however, fell off the wagon. Kansas, which had gone to the winning candidate in every election since 1896, gave Wendell L. Willkie the biggest majority of any of the states he carried. And North Dakota, which had hit every winner since 1892, missed giving the electoral vote to Willkie. But New York, Maryland, Ohio, Wyoming, Idaho, Missouri, New Mexico and Arizona were following their tradition of riding with the winner. New York has missed just three times since the Civil war. Maryland has not missed since 1833, Ohio since 1892, Wyoming since the first election in which they participated in 1912.

Badger State

Happenings

Increase WPA Quota—An immediate increase of 3,430 in Wisconsin's WPA employment quota was announced by Mark Muth, state WPA administrator. The increase boosted the state's quota to 43,430 workers.

Unemployed Get $218,100

Payment of $218,100 under Wisconsin's unemployment compensation law during October, a decrease of $102,800 from September was announced by the state industrial commission.

Last Number Holders Single

Four Milwaukee holders of serial number 1835, last number affecting Wisconsin men to be drawn in the national military conscription lottery, are single men with no dependents.

Catholic Aid Goal $250,000

A goal of $250,000 for the seventh annual Catholic charities appeal in the Milwaukee archdiocese, scheduled for Mar. 23 to Apr. 6, 1941, has been announced by Archbishop Moses E. Kiley.

Seeking Hospital Service

Delegates attending the Wisconsin Farm Bureau federation convention at Monroe authorized their directors to study plans for group hospitalization for farm families "at a price which agriculture can afford to pay."

Cranberry Crop Sets Record

A record 119,000 barrel crop of cranberries ranks Wisconsin as the second cranberry producing state in the nation. The entire United States production, smaller this year than usual, is estimated at 575,000 barrels.

Birth Records in Demand

National defense and social security requirements have created a brisk demand for copies of birth certificates, according to Francis E. Kester, Madison, chief statistician of the state health board's bureau of vital statistics.

Funds for Super Highway

Final approval to a $390,000 bond issue for streamlined highway 30 between Madison and Milwaukee was voted by the Dane county board. Dane county's share of the super highway, 17 miles, will cost approximately $1,000,000.

Gasoline Wrecks Clubhouse

Explosion of a tank of gasoline caused more than $3,000 damage to the Shalagoc clubhouse on Shawano lake, seven miles east of Shawano, and seriously burned George Leonard, 39, of Shawano. The explosion occurred shortly after Leonard installed a new fuel tank on a gasoline stove in the clubhouse.

Strikes in State Decrease

A sharp decline in strikes between July 1, 1939, and June 30, 1940, under the Wisconsin Employment Relations act was reported by the three-member board entrusted with its administration. The board reported there were only 39 strikes involving 11,291 workers during that period against 60 strikes affecting 22,703 employees in the comparable period of 1938 and 1939.

Exams for Legislative Jobs

Open competitive examinations for approximately 107 jobs during the 1941 legislative session were announced by the state board of personnel at Madison. Deadline for filing applications for them is Nov. 27. The jobs and the probable number of employees to be hired under such classification include legislative clerks, 30; stenographers, 26; messengers, 43; typists, 7 and one voting machine operator.

Vocational Shop Assured

The Kaukauna city council has accepted an offer of the federal government through its NYA organization to erect a shop building in Kaukauna at a cost of $80,000. J. N. Yost, assistant NYA state director, told the aldermen Kaukauna had been selected as the site for the first of from 50 to 300 such buildings to go up in the nation. The shop will provide room for 200 youths. The city's share of the cost is $8,564.

Social Security Taxes Up

A Wisconsin pay roll increase of more than $6,000,000 for the summer months is reflected in the quarterly collections of social security taxes. The government collected $3,221,459 from 54,000 employers for July, August and September, indicating a pay roll for that period of $161,072,950, as compared with collections of $3,101,413 for the same period of 1939 and a pay roll of $155,070,650. Employees and employers each contribute one per cent of pay rolls.

Seven Killed in Storm

Seven persons were killed and property damage will run into the thousands of dollars as the result of the hurricane-like winds, hail, sleet, rain and blizzards which hit Wisconsin Nov. 4-5. Scores of others were injured, victims of exposure, falling debris, shattered glass, fires and other mishaps directly attributed to the lash. Storms which crumpled small buildings, snapped telegraph and telephone lines, and flattened trees.

State Collects More Taxes

Wisconsin taxpayers paid $204,677,479 in various forms of levies in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1941, Elmer Barlow, state tax commissioner, announced. The total for the preceding year was $201,368,105 or $3,309,374 less. In the annual report of the tax commission, prepared for the county boards, Barlow stated that general property taxes amounting to $110,834,995, which comprised 53 per cent of the total, dropped $1,115,718, while income tax receipts increased by $2,929,257.

Postpone Second Draft Call

Postponement of Wisconsin's second draft call of 485 men from Dec. 3 to Jan. 3, 1941, was announced by Walter J. Wilde, state director of selective service. Recent heavy enlistments in various branches of the army was given as the reason for the postponement.

Wind Factor in Death

Julius Krause, 63, fell dead in his farm yard near Sheboygan Falls. Over-exertion in herding cattle in a strong wind caused him to collapse, Coroner Van Zanten reported.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

Household News By Eleanor Howe

FIRST-AID to the AILING HOUSE by Roger B. Whitman

Cooling a House in Summer. QUESTION: Our attic floor is insulated. There is four feet from the floor to the peak of the roof. We are told that a ventilator would let out heat built up by the sun on the roof. This sounds logical, but I should think that a ventilator at each end would be better. What do you think?

Answer: Air confined in an attic is over heated by the sun heating on the roof. On a 90-degree day I have known attic temperature to be as high as 150 degrees. Heat from air confined in an attic under a peaked roof goes through the ceilings and heats the rooms below. It will take many ours after sundown for the attic air to cool off, and during that time rooms below will still be heated. The surest way to keep a house cool in summertime is to have plenty of attic ventilation so that air can escape as fast as it becomes heated. One excellent arrangement is a trap-door high in the roof with another trap door through the attic floor below. Air in the attic and in the house will then pass out as fast as it is heated, and be replaced by air coming in through open windows downstairs. The scuttle over the roof trap can be worked by cords going downstairs through the attic floor trap. If the attic has a stair, its door should be left open for the movement of air.

With this arrangement a house will cool off at sundown almost as rapidly as the air outdoors. If a roof trap cannot be provided there should be attic windows large enough to give cross ventilation. A large slo-sped fan made for the job, placed to blow outward through an opening through the roof or attic wall, is a great advantage in speeding up circulation.

With house air permitted to escape as fast as it becomes heated, the temperature in the house will be little if any higher than the temperature of the air outdoors.

Clogged Cesspools. Question: What can I do to have my cesspool cleaned from water. I have two cesspools, one leading into the other. Can I use yeast to any advantage? Should I have them cleaned out? This would cost money.

Answer: Yeast will be of no use in a cesspool. A badly clogged cesspool is best left alone and a new one built alongside of it. If you wish to save yourself money and further trouble, by all means install a grease-trap. These traps are made of clay and are not very expensive.

Silver Plate. Question: When silver plate is put away, is it better to clean it occasionally, whether it is used or not? If the silver plate were allowed to get as black as it will, would the heavy tarnish injure the plate?

Answer: An occasional cleaning is advisable. Do not permit the silver to get very black; if it will be difficult to clean when the silver is black, and it may become pitted. Old silver is best cleaned by a silversmith.

Stained Cistern Water. Question: We have just put on a cedar shingle roof, and find that it discolors the cistern water. Can anything be put in the cistern to overcome this condition?

Answer: The staining comes from the oils and coloring matter in the shingles, and nothing that can be added to the water will overcome it. Staining will continue until rains have washed the shingles clean. The length of time that this will take will, of course, depend on the dampness of the season.

House of Logs. Question: Would like your advice on which is a warmer house; one made of solid logs, seven inches thick; or a house with ship-lap outside and finished walls inside? Which is cheaper to keep in repair?

Answer: The seven-inch thick wall of logs will be warmer. The upkeep cost on the log cabin may be a trifle lower than the frame house.

White Paint. Question: Is there a pure white flat paint that will not turn yellow when used on a bathroom radiator?

Answer: All white paints when subjected to heat for long periods of time will turn yellow. Some heat resisting enamels will last longer than the flat paints, but they also will change color eventually.

Cloudy Piano Finish. Question: What can be done to remove a cloudy appearance, which has come upon the finish of our piano?

Answer: Wipe the surface with a soft cloth dampened in a mixture of one tablespoonful of cider vinegar to the quart of tepid water. Then wipe dry.

Oil Burner Chimney. Question: Is it necessary to connect an oil furnace with the chimney? Can an oil furnace (converted from coal) be moved, and exhaust pipe run out on side of cellar? Would this cause trouble for neighbors?

Answer: It will not only cause trouble for the neighbors, but in your own heating plant. An oil fired furnace must be connected to a chimney of the proper size. Insufficient draft will cut down the efficiency of the burner.

Sweaters Gain New Popularity As Formal, Informal Garment

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

IN LEAPS and bounds the sweater vogue continues to gain momentum. It does not matter whether you are going mountain climbing, skiing, skating, trailer traveling, flying to your destination, motoring, or whether you stay at home or accept a bid to a formal dinner dance. You can't mention a time, place or event, but what a sweater will help you fit into the "picture" triumphantly.

It was not always thus, for there was a time when a sweater was just a sweater, a thing of utility and that's about all. But the story of the sweater of winter 1940 bespeaks service, glamour, romance, chic, charm and versatility. In current collections sweaters are in such varied tempo they tune to every occasion, be it ever so humble or ever so ostentatious.

The collection of models illustrated herewith convey some idea of the wide range of fashion phases which the present sweater vogue encompasses. The "college seal" cardigan shown above to the left flashes big news to co-eds wherever they may be enrolled. The buttons of this classic Shetland cardigan are reproductions of the college seal, so a girl going to Smith, Vassar, University of California, Wellesley, or wherever will be properly identified by her own college seal buttons. The college seal buttons on this blue sweater pictured look like Wedgewood with their blue backgrounds and white seals.

A long-torso jerkin pictured above to the right in the group is a smart casual fashion just introduced this season. It is a woolknit simulating handknitting so perfectly that none but an expert can detect the difference. The jerkin is fashioned in flash red and the skirt in black which, worn as they are with a white silk blouse, this makes a most effective tri-color ensemble. You can also get a long torso red jacket with long sleeves which is woolknit to simulate hand knitting and may be worn interchangeably with the jerkin or over it.

Fashioned after a man's dinner jacket, the beautifully draped and tailored evening jacket portrayed below to the left is high fashion news. It is made of flame colored cricord, a woolknit fabric and trimmed with gleaming jet. Worn with a black pencil silhouette skirt, it is definitely winter 1940, brought up to last-minute style standard by its long sleeves which stress the "covered up" look featured in evening costumes of latest vintage.

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

Apples peeled, cored and baked in pineapple juice make a new and tempting dish.

Mud stains leather and therefore should be removed from shoes as promptly as possible.

To brighten aluminum utensils that have been darkened by water, fill with water containing one or two teaspoons of cream of tartar for each quart of water used, and boil until pan is brightened.

Baking soda is one of the best known agents for cleaning glassware.

To clean a soapstone sink wash with ammonia and let stand for 12 hours. Then rub over with linseed oil and your sink will be lovely and bright. If grease accumulates again, rub over with a strong ammonia solution.

Use a clean sheet of wrapping paper to roll pies and pastry on. It saves a lot of cleaning up later.

By galling old mason jar lids in a boiling water to which has been added a cup of vinegar you can remove that ancient appearance.

Protect the mattress from tearing and from dust by a muslin mattress cover, and by placing a mattress pad between the spring and the mattress.

INDIGESTION

may affect the Heart. Gas trapped in the stomach or gut may act like a hair trigger on the heart. At the first sign of distress smart men and women should call for Creomulsion.

Haunts of Happiness. The haunts of happiness are varied, but I have more often found her among little children, home firesides, and country homes than anywhere else.—Sydney Smith.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you it to have your money back.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste. Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Picked Up in Studios of Style Designers

Simple frocks call for lavish and dramatic jewelry. Bowknots of jet or pastel bead pendent one at the one-sided shoulder drape, the other posed pocket fashion on the skirt is new trim this season.

Jewel studded or sequin embroidered blouses in long-torso sleek-trimmed jerkin fashion are worn with all-round street-length pleated skirts for afternoon dress-up occasions.

Twin Coats, Hats

These two young moderns are wearing identical "he and she" hats. She bought hers when he bought his. Quite a fad this season to do just that. Furthermore, if you compare his coat with her tailored jacket you will discover they are almost perfect counterparts. She may have ordered it from his tailor as many women are now doing or most likely she purchased it in her usual suit department, for suits whose jackets duplicate those worn by men are really important style news. A word to the fashion-wise is sufficient!

Costume Jewelry Sparkles Brightly

Have you seen the new jeweled sleeve clips? You will yield to their lure the moment you glimpse them. They are as fetching an innovation as has yet been devised. This glittering jewelry piece is nothing more or less than a huge clip that fastens to the wrist of your long, close-fitting sleeve. You can get matching clips to wear at your neck or on your lapel. Earrings too! Dazzling, dangling types that are ever so flattering and important looking.

Many necklaces are many-stranded. Not only are gold and silver necklaces showing this idea, but pearls festooned in several ropes are the newest.

Lots of coral, topaz and amber are being worn as their colorings tune so beautifully with the autumn browns, golden yellows and red tile woollens so fashionable this season.

Fur Capes Rival Jackets for Favor

The ever-popular little fur jacket has a rival in the fur cape which only this season made its appearance on the fashion stage. There is nothing newer or smarter in the way of a fur wrap than the cape. It can be either hip-length or shoulder deep, and for evening, the full length ermine seal or persian lamb cape are popular.

For casual wear the capes of spotted fur are in high favor with the young set. There is a matching muff, of course.

The fur capes for winter sports wear are knee-length, and are made of sporty fur that flashes a wealth of color in plaided and monotone wool linings.

FOR THAT EXTRA SPECIAL LUNCHEON See Recipes Below.

When your children are in school, and your husband is at work, you find little pleasure in eating a solitary meal. And when you are rushed with household duties, you are apt to grab a quick sandwich, or a steaming bowl of soup, and then continue with the tasks that are still before you.

But, you can take advantage of the days when the family is away, and the work all finished, to entertain your friends at a one-o'clock luncheon, a dessert luncheon for the bridge club, or for just a friendly get-together. A good menu and an attractive table will give you the poise and enthusiasm necessary to serve your guests easily and graciously.

Often times the most easily prepared food may be the most attractively served. A fluted orange cup makes a colorful container for many fruits, which may be varied with the season. The fruit must be cut into pieces of convenient size, free from seeds and skin, except for grapes. It should be thoroughly chilled and combined so that it is a neat arrangement. If a few pieces are crushed or wilted, the whole concoction will look careless and unappetizing. Remember, an appetizer should not be too sweet, for as the name implies, the first course is intended to sharpen the appetite.

For the rest of the menu you might like to serve mock chicken legs, baked potatoes, crisp green salad, crescent rolls, and as an unusual dessert, chocolate mint roll is very good.

Fluted Orange Cup. (Serves 6) 3 oranges 1 banana 1 cup grapes 3 tablespoons sugar

With a sharp knife pierce to center of orange. Cut the orange in half, using a zig-zag strokes that meet to make the points of the scallops. Separate the 2 orange halves, and remove meat from shells. Cut orange meat into pieces. Peel, and cut banana into pieces. Combine orange meat, banana and grapes. Sprinkle with sugar shells, garnished with a sprig of mint, if desired.

Chocolate Mint Roll. (Makes 11 1/2 inch roll) 6 tablespoons cake flour (sifted) 1/2 teaspoon baking powder 1/2 teaspoon salt 3/4 cup sugar (sifted) 4 egg whites (stiffly beaten) 4 egg yolks (beaten) 1 teaspoon vanilla 2 squares unsweetened chocolate (melted)

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together 3 times. Fold sugar gradually into egg whites. Fold in flour yolks and vanilla. Then fold in egg gradually. Add chocolate, and beat gently but thoroughly. Turn into a 16 by 11-inch pan which has been greased again. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 15 minutes. Cut off crisp edges and turn onto a cloth covered with powdered sugar. Remove paper, roll, and cool. Unroll and spread half of mint frosting over cake and roll again. Wrap in cloth and cool for about 5 minutes.

Good Care Lengthens Life of Rugs

By ELIZABETH MacRAE BOYKIN Better look down on the rug question pretty seriously—that is, if you want good service from your floor covering investment. For simply buying a rug doesn't settle the matter. You must get the care you need for it. Probably a good hairer at the service you'll get out of your rugs will depend upon the care you give them. Here are hints we hope will be helpful.

The vacuum cleaner is invaluable for keeping the rug deeply clean and free from moths. But supplement it with a carpet sweeper for quick frequent brushing up. The sweeper, however, should be adjusted to the depth of your rug pile. From time to time, clean the under side of the rug and regularly unpad thoroughly. Clean regular under furniture that stands on rug. Run the vacuum and the sweeper with the wool, or across rather than lengthwise only.

If you must shake scatter rugs, hold them by the side, not by the end.

Mock Chicken Legs. (Serves 6 to 8) 1 1/2 pounds veal steak 1 1/2 pounds pork steak 1 1/2 teaspoons salt 1/2 teaspoon pepper 1/4 cup flour 1 egg (beaten) Cracker crumbs

Pound meats, after seasoning with salt, pepper and flour. Cut into 1 1/2 inch squares, and place 6 pieces, 3 of each kind of meat, alternately on a skewer. Press together. Chill for 1 hour. Dip in beaten egg and roll in cracker crumbs. Brown on all sides in hot fat in a skillet. Pour 1 cup water over the "legs," and cover. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 1 hour. (The liquid will all cook away.)

Mint Frosting. 2 egg whites (unbeaten) 1 1/2 cups sugar 5 tablespoons water 1 1/2 teaspoons light corn syrup Green vegetable coloring 1/4 teaspoon peppermint extract

Combine egg whites, sugar, water and corn syrup in top of double boiler. Beat with a rotary egg beater until thoroughly mixed. Place over rapidly boiling water, and cook for 7 minutes, beating constantly, until frosting stands in peaks. Add coloring gradually to hot frosting to give a delicate tint. Remove from boiling water, add flavoring and beat until thick enough to spread.

Rice Butterscotch. (Serves 5 to 6) 2 cups milk 1/2 cup rice 2 cups brown sugar 2 tablespoons butter 1 teaspoon salt

Scald the milk in a double boiler. Add the washed rice and cook until nearly tender (about 30 minutes). Meanwhile, melt the brown sugar, butter and salt, and cook for 10 minutes over low fire, until a syrup is formed, stirring constantly. Gradually turn this mixture into the rice and continue cooking until the rice is tender. Turn into wet molds and chill. Serve with cream and sugar, if desired.

Easy Entertaining. Everybody loves a party, from the toddling youngster to the sophisticated adult. A hostess who can entertain her guests with something new in the way of party ideas is indeed popular. You do not have to wait for a birthday to warrant a celebration, for soon there will be many holiday events to bring a group together.

Miss Howe, in her book, "Easy Entertaining," gives you many new party ideas and suitable menus with tested recipes. You may secure your copy of her book by writing to "Easy Entertaining," care of Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and enclosing 10 cents in coin.

LEMUEL F. PARTON

Being deaf, and naturally shrewd and alert, little pleasure in eating a solitary meal. And when you are rushed with household duties, you are apt to grab a quick sandwich, or a steaming bowl of soup, and then continue with the tasks that are still before you.

Perhaps, making his frank admission before the national assembly that he has a hole card which his juggernaut powers hadn't seen. At any rate, he is explicit about Turkey's determination to stick to her alliance with Great Britain, and maintains that "it is to her advantage which unbreakable."

Who has played poker with him, ingratiating little fighter diplomatist say that when he bets he has "em—all kibitzers gloom-stricken their heads, however, figure the Axis hand.

As Ismet Pasha that he has a career, changing his name with Kemal Ataturk's modern program. A colonel in Turkish army, he made a perilous passage through hostile lines in 1918, and joined Kemal Ataturk. In less than two years, they were the Greeks out of Anatolia and in the following year modern Turkey. He was benched during Kemal's last year, but appeared again, with power and prestige at the latter's death.

For the last two years, Germany's clever and resourceful Foreign Minister has been attending political and diplomatic saboteurs in Turkey. The word has been that the astute President has always been a jump five ahead of him and that they haven't been ready for other powers. The president has been carefully the Turkish economy over the Moslem bloc, whenever the Axis powers are in the face, his peculiar about it. His alliance with England a valuable liaison with Islam, which may become more and more important in the war years on.

For the next war won't be just one-two, one-two and so right or left. As Maj. Gen. H. Haskell, commander of the New York's Twenty-seventh Infantry division at Fort McClellan, Ala., has his mobilization program, he has been known that recruits will be trained in all the new tactics of modern soldiering. War today requires more and more specialists and tighter organization which the war department is "military discipline, strength and endurance, initiative and adaptability, teamwork, technical proficiency and tactical proficiency."

Bluff, ruddy, iron-jawed General Haskell, appointed to command of the New York National Guard by Gov. Alfred E. Smith in 1926, is a West Pointer who has preached stiff discipline and long drilled for more and better fighting tools for the army. Out of West Point in 1901, he was graduated from the infantry school in 1904 and served in the Philippine Islands, the Mexican border, and the Near East and Russia, directing American relief in Russia from 1921 to 1923. He has been an alert student of the requirements of mechanized warfare—no traditionalist or snoback and by all accounts will be far in bringing the boys up to the above ambitious war department standard.

For the more fruitful cultural relations with South America, Nelson A. Rockefeller has to have made a shrewd move in adding to his committee Francisco, president of the Rockefeller and Thomas Advertising Agency. For 23 years, Mr. Rockefeller contributed to the successful cultural and commercial relations between Los Angeles by booming oranges on the orange industry. Good-looking and personable, he "makes" and influences people.

As one of the main sparkplugs in the advertising business, and has been away a lot on the link between intelligent, high-voltage advertising and democracy. He will be all the ideological undertones of Mr. Rockefeller's cultural graduation from Michigan State college in 1914, he became a fruit inspector for the California Fruit Growers' association in 1916. That led to his six years as advertising manager for the association in California. He came to New York and Thomas in 1921.

Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their appeal just be-

Why not be smart—do what thousands of women have done to get off pounds of unwanted fat?
Take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water first thing every morning to gently activate liver, bowels and kidneys—cut down your caloric intake—eat wisely and satisfyingly—there need never be a

Keep this plan up for 30 days.
Then weigh yourself and see if you

13. That the red-letter days are giving out for the seniors? Funny the boys were all born in the summer time.
14. That "Kraut" has a generosity streak?
15. That a new dance step was "floating around" Saturday night?
16. That Buddy Naumann is always looking for letters from Ardith of Stevens Point?
17. That Roger Bilgo has romantic pictures in his books?
18. That some seniors park their gum

CLASS NEWS
SOPHOMORES
The sophomores were the victims of a "test in algebra on Monday."
We have finished three exercises in our new English grammar books.
The sophomore world history class has been studying Greece and current events.
The biology class is studying reptiles, but we plan to go back to the study of frogs long enough to dissect them.
The sophomore typing class has finished 26 exercises and has found typing isn't as hard as it seemed when we first started.
SENIORS
The senior English class has started a speech clinic.
The bookkeeping class is writing on check stubs and sales tickets and journals.

The social problems class is studying the Negro problem in the south.
The chemistry class is studying atoms and they are still wondering what it is all about.

21. When the band is on parade and a halt is called, sit down on the curb;
this will show that you are a concert performer and that it makes you tired to walk.
22. Never polish your instrument.
This is an amateur's trick and you want to appear as a professional.

23. Blatweasels (altos) should never be taken from the bandroom except for jobs. Practice is not needed on this instrument.

24. The step played by the drummer is always wrong. Every man in the band should voice his opinion in this matter.

25. Allow your tuning slide to get stuck so you cannot move it; then the band will have to tune to you.

26. Always play middle C at the end of a strain an octave higher; this will be a strain on both you and the audience.

27. If you are asked to play a second or third part, pack up and go home;
let your slogan be "solo or nothing."

28. When the leader raps for order, begin to improvise; if all do this the ensemble will be beautiful, and it makes the leader good natured.

29. While marching, if a street car comes along, jump on the running board and ride a little way; the band will catch up with you and you will be noticed by all onlookers.

Ruth Janssen Bride of Lester Borchert

zel.
The bride was attired in a gown of ivory moire taffeta trimmed with Alencon lace. The gown was fashioned with a full skirt and sweeping train. Her long ivory veil was caught by a Juliet halo of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and sweet peas.

Miss Olive Rinzel attended her sister as maid of honor. She was attired in an arcadia blue moire gown, the neck and bodice of which were outlined with pessimenterie trim. Mrs.
Matt. Rinzel, sister-in-law of the bride as bridesmaid, wore a gown of dubon-net moire. She carried a bouquet of white pompons.

Acting as best man for the bridegroom was his brother, Marcel Matenaer. Matt. Rinzel, brother of the bride, served as groomsman.
Following the marriage ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. In the evening about 125 guests were entertained at a reception at Koert's Forest lake resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Matenaer left on a wedding trip to an unknown destination and will be home after Dec. 15 in Barton, where the bridegroom owns and operates the Barton Soda Grille.

PIEPER-HAUSER
Marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Dolores J. Hauser of Fond du Lac, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hauser of Tigerton, Wis., and Herbert Pieper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pieper of near Waucousta, in a service read at 2 p. m. Saturday, Nov. 16, in the Trinity Ev. Lutheran church at Dundee by the Rev. Walter Strohschein.
Music for the nuptial event was played by the organist.

The bride wore a white satin gown with a lace yoke and a long net veil with satin binding, caught with a coronet of gardenias. She wore a cameo necklace, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a shower bouquet of American Beauty roses and white pompons.

Miss Margaret Hauser, attending her sister as maid of honor, and Miss Adela Pieper, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid, were attired in identical floor length gowns of aqua and dusty rose satin with wine colored accessories. Their corsage bouquets were of red roses and white pompons. Donna Jean Pieper, niece of the bridegroom, served as flower girl. She wore a floor length white satin frock trimmed with lace.
Her short veil was caught with a coronet of lilies of the valley.

Acting as best man for his brother was Henry Pieper, Jr. and Clarence Hauser, brother of the bride, was groomsman. Little Myron Pieper, nephew of the groom, was ringbearer. He wore a long tux suit and carried the rings in a calla lily.

The mothers of the bride and groom both wore wine crepe dresses with wine tinted accessories. They wore a corsage of roses.

Dinner was served to 50 invited guests at the home of the bridegroom's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs.
Walner Pieper, at Waucousta at 5 p.
m. Mr. and Mrs. Pieper left on a wedding trip to the northern part of the state and will be at home after Dec. 1 at the farm home of the groom's parents near Waucousta. Before her marriage the bride was employed at the Infants Socks, Inc., Fond du Lac.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Victor Pieper of Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Joel and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hauser of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Vollmer and Mr. and Mrs.
Frank Suttner of Hilbert, Mr. and Mrs.
Edward Mie Rau, Mr. and Mrs. Erhardt
Pieper and Arnold Pieper of Fond du Lac, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hauser and family of Tigerton, Rev. and Mrs. Carl Gutekunst and children, Carl, Jr. and Miriam, of Neeshah.

YOU HAVE HEARD OF KWIK LITE TWO-WAY
LANTERNS

Perhaps you already know about the famous Kwik Lite Lantern which has proven to be such a sensation wherever it has been introduced by newspapers to their readers. But if you have not, here's a brief description—

KWIK LITE has two lights—an unbreakable trouble light on top and a long distance, focusing type headlight in front.
This searchlight is capable of throwing a beam of light a distance of 300 feet. Suitable for all general purposes, and may even be used as an emergency headlight for your car.
The light on top is surrounded by a red rhyolite dome that shows a red light for a long distance—an excellent danger signal for times such as when you have to change a tire on the road at night. Through an opening in the top of the dome you get a strong beam of light that may be directed at any trouble spot.

The body of the lantern is of light weight steel, done in an attractive silver finish. Switch and focusing button conveniently located on back of lantern.

EXCELLENT GIFT

This Lantern or a Subscription, or both, will make an ideal gift for any member of your family, relative or friend.
