

Petri Store at Wayne Totally Destroyed by Fire Wednesday

95 Year Old General Store Was Landmark; Two Fire Depts. Summoned to Early Morning Blaze

The general merchandise store owned and operated by Mrs. Alma Petri at Wayne Center, a 95 year old landmark, was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday in an early morning fire which broke out between 4:15 and 4:30 a. m. The Kewaskum and Allenton fire departments responded to calls but were unable to save any portion of the structure, which was leveled to the foundation and destroyed with it were all of a large stock of contents, records and files.

County Cancer Drive for Funds Next Week

Beginning next week, the Washington county army of the American Cancer Society, Inc., will conduct a voluntary campaign for funds to help combat the scourge of cancer. It was announced this week by D. J. Kenny, West Bend, county cancer campaign chairman.

Elect Louis N. Bath Legion Commander

At the regular monthly meeting of Kewaskum Post No. 384, American Legion, held in the Legion Memorial building Monday evening, new officers were elected for the ensuing year.

Other officers elected were: first vice commander, Raymond Zemet; second vice commander, Byron Bankmann; chaplain, Clayton Stautz; sergeant-at-arms, Roger Reindl; historian, Albert Hron Jr. All of the new officials are World War II veterans.

Elected to the executive committee for three-year terms were Carl P. Schaefer, Arnold Feltenz and Wilbur Meister. The adjutant, finance officer and service officer will be appointed by the new commander.

The new officers will be installed in conjunction with the Washington county installation of officers to be held at the Schwartz ballroom, Hartford, on Thursday, Sept. 2. A parade at 7:30 p. m. will precede the county installation. The county commander is a member of the Kewaskum post and the Kewaskum Legion drum and bugle corps will headline the parade at Hartford.

"Fish Story" Takes Kiwanis Club on Northern Vacation

The Kiwanis club was taken for a brief vacation into the woods and waters of northern Wisconsin Monday evening by way of a color sound movie, "Fish Story," starring John Carradine.

The film showed a trio of fishermen in northern Wisconsin catching some dandies and frequently tossing back some beauties, emphasizing sportsmanship and conservation. The movie was furnished by Lem Rosenheimer through the courtesy of the Ball Band company.

Ted Schmidt reported on the Kiwanis district convention held Aug. 1, 2 and 3 in Wausau, attended by Ted and Morrie Hammar, as club delegates. A very detailed and interesting report was submitted to the club concerning what sounded like an outstanding convention.

Next week's meeting will be held at the Port Washington Country club, where Kewaskum and other clubs will be guests of the Port Kiwanis organization in an inter-club picnic to be held Monday afternoon and evening.

Rainbow Nine Shut Out by Newburg Sunday, 4-0

The Kewaskum Indians were handed their second straight whitewash by Newburg here Sunday, 4-0. The week before Waubesa did it, 2-0. Johnny Tessar, high school pitcher, was on the hill for Kewaskum. Although wild in his hurled a pretty fair game but his mates were unable to solve the slants of Newburg's twirler, Belgium also last Sunday to remain in a fourth place tie with the locals.

COUNTY GETS BIGGER HIGHWAY AID CHECKS

Checks for supplementary state highway aid to local units of government in Washington county totalling $1,822,377 have been mailed during the past week, Governor Rennebohm announced this week. The checks represent an increased allotment from the state for county trunk highways and town, village and city roads, made possible by a bill passed by the 1947 legislature and signed by the governor.

At the same time Governor Rennebohm revealed that the state let contracts for $25,000,000 worth of highway construction during the first six months of 1948, more than has been let in any full year in the state's history. Wisconsin ranks fourth this year in highway construction, with only California, Pennsylvania and Texas building more roads.

Utensils Win 10-5 Game at Granville

With the score tied at 3-3 in the ninth inning, the West Bend Luthians rallied for 3 runs in the final inning to break the deadlock and defeat the Kewaskum Utensils, 6-3, in a Land O' Lakes league contest at West Bend City park under the lights Thursday night. The victory was West Bend's third over the Utensils but all were close. Details next week.

LAND O' LAKES STANDINGS (Northern Division)

Table showing standings for various teams like Lannon, West Bend, Mequon, etc.

SCORE LAST THURSDAY—Granville 5, West Bend 2 (night game).

SCORES LAST SUNDAY—Kewaskum 10, Granville 5; Lannon 9, Mequon 2; Menomonee Falls 8, Grafton 7; Germantown 9, West Bend 2.

GAMES THIS SUNDAY—Grafton at Kewaskum, Lannon at Germantown, Granville at Mequon.

GAME NEXT THURSDAY—Menomonee Falls at West Bend (night).

"Mix" Marx, with the aid of some sound hitting by his teammates, won another Lakes contest for the Kewaskum Utensils at Granville Sunday.

The score was 10-5 in a free hitting game. Lannon replaced the West Bend Luthians as league leaders again. Lannon won Sunday while the Luthians were knocked off twice the past week, once by Granville.

Granville outbit the Utensils 14 hits to 13, Sunday but Kewaskum bunched their bingles more when they counted and pushed runs across the plate. The locals again did all their scoring in three big frames. Kewaskum exploded like a big firecracker right off the bat in the first inning, when they tallied five big markers on three hits, a walk and three very accommodating errors by Granville. Barney Frost's far home run was the payoff blow in the inning. A walk, error and three hits gave the winners three more in the fifth. Four more singles for two runs in the last frame added a little security. Granville scored single runs in the second, fifth and eighth, and two in the ninth.

The pitching was pretty even. Marx gave up 14 hits, Schmit 13; Marx struck out 6, Schmit 5; Marx walked 4, Schmit 3. Nine errors were committed. Held and Romney paced the twines in hitting with four each. Gitzlaff added three for the losers. N. Diederich and Johnson also piled homers for Granville.

On Thursday night the Utensils played a game postponed earlier in the season at West Bend. The game was rained out here. This Sunday last place Grafton makes an appearance here. Kewaskum and Grafton split even in two meetings thus far but the Utensils should take the cellar dweller on the home field.

RELEASE PHEASANTS SUNDAY

The pheasants raised by the Kettle Moraine Sportsmen's association of Kewaskum in the club's pens beneath the water tower will be released in the surrounding area Sunday morning. Members are asked to be at the pens at 10 a. m. to call for their birds to be released.

VISITOR FROM PERU

Diek Torrence of Lima, Peru, a captain on Pan American Airlines, was a guest of Miss Elsie and Werner Bruhn here last Wednesday and Thursday. He left again on Friday.

Ray Pfenning, 29, Richard Thull, 12, Die

Raymond John Pfenning, aged 29, at Mt. Clemens, Mich., son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pfenning of the town of Barton, and a graduate of the Kewaskum High school, died very suddenly early Wednesday morning, Aug. 6, at Mt. Clemens.

Pfenning was a superintendent for the John Wagner Construction Co. of Flint, Mich. With his wife and family, he had visited his parents in the town of Barton and relatives at West Bend and Kewaskum the day before he died. They returned to Mt. Clemens that day and Pfenning reported to work extra early the next morning to attend to some payroll work before the other employees arrived. He was found dead later slumped over the wheel of his auto, which had run up against the side of the building under construction by the Wagner Co. He apparently died suddenly just as he drove onto the site. Cause of death is unknown.

The young man was born Oct. 21, 1918, at West Bend and lived in this vicinity until he left for 1 1/2 years of service with the U. S. Air Force prior to World War II. He was married to Bethel Brusseau on Oct. 22, 1938, and they moved to Mt. Clemens in 1941.

Surviving are his wife, three children, Raymond Jr., 7; Rochelle, 5, and Robert Jean, 2; his parents, a sister, Luella (Mrs. Sylvester Muckerhelder), Route 1, Kewaskum; his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Brusseau of Michigan; seven brothers-in-law and one sister-in-law.

Funeral rites were conducted at Mt. Clemens at 10 a. m. Monday, Aug. 8, at the Miller Funeral home, Kewaskum, at 2 p. m. Tuesday, The Rev. R. W. Grotz of West Bend officiated at the local services and at the burial in St. Lucas St. Lutheran Memorial park, Kewaskum.

RICHARD F. THULL

Richard F. Thull, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Thull of the town of Kewaskum, near St. Michaels, passed away in St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend, on Saturday, Aug. 7. He was taken to the hospital two days before his death. Richard had been ailing for the past three years.

The boy was born on July 7, 1936, at the present Thull farm residence, and was a pupil at St. Michael's parochial school, St. Michaels. He is survived by his parents, two sisters, Theresa and Patricia, and one brother, Robert, all at home; uncles, aunts and many other relatives.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 8:45 a. m. from the Kapfer-Gehl Funeral home, Barton, and at 9:30 at St. Michael's church, St. Michaels. The Rev. Eschweiler, pastor, officiating. Burial was in the parish cemetery.

CROP Campaign Nets $2218.79 in County

Reports to date of the Christian Rural Overseas program (CROP) show that Washington county contributed $2,218.79 according to Raymond Lepien and E. E. Skalsky, co-chairman of the Washington county CROP drive. This amount has been forwarded to Robert G. Lewis, state CROP director, Madison.

Final tabulation revealed that the contributions for the CROP drive came from both rural and urban contributors with the major portion coming from the farm folks, whose gifts of cans of milk represented the larger portion of rural donations.

In those areas in the county where the local church identified itself with and supported the campaign the contributions were more generous. The county committee which fostered this program wishes to extend thanks to all who contributed and to all who helped make the CROP program a success.

BATON TWIRLING-TALENT SHOW AT THE OPERA HOUSE

A two hour baton twirling-talent show will be presented at the Kewaskum Opera House on Thursday and Friday evenings, Aug. 19 and 20, at 7:45 p. m. by Ruth Eickstedt and her majorette corps of Kewaskum.

Vocal selections will be sung by Betty Ann Rose and Cinderella Hecker. Miss Hecker will also play Hawaiian guitar selections. Accordion numbers will be rendered by Mary Ellen Jaeger. Baton twirling, acrobatics and dancing will also be presented by 17 of Miss Eickstedt's majorettes.

Admission will be 40c for adults and 20c for children. Advance tickets are being sold by Miss Eickstedt and her corps members. Tickets can also be purchased at the door.

Boy Scout Auction Sale Friday Night

The Kewaskum Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts are holding an auction sale next Friday evening, Aug. 20, at 8 p. m. on the vacant lot between the Corner Drug Store and Bank of Kewaskum. Art. Quade, noted Washington county auctioneer, will conduct the sale. All proceeds will be used to provide equipment and working material for the scouts for the coming year.

If anyone has any item they wish to give to the scouts for this sale they should call 102, Kewaskum. The scouts need your help and will sincerely appreciate your co-operation. No item you can donate to the scouts to be auctioned off is too large or small. Even if the item brings only 25c, every bit helps, and it is for a very worthy and worthwhile cause. Look around your house for any discarded articles you no longer have much use for and donate them for the scouts' auction.

The scouts will be only too glad to pick up the articles you can give to them. Don't wait! Call now! Phone 102, Kewaskum.

19 Men File Nomination Papers for County Posts

Nineteen men have filed nomination papers for county elective posts in the fall primary election, according to Anthony P. Staral, county clerk.

Of those who filed, 12 were on the Republican ticket and seven on the Democratic. The Democrats failed to put up a candidate for the posts of surveyor and district attorney, but county Democratic chairman Atty. Tom O'Meara says they will do so at the time of the primaries. The Republicans filed for all nine county offices. The candidates are:

For assemblyman—Theodore Holtebeck, West Bend (R); Harold Laubenstein, R. 3, West Bend (D); Clinton Laubenthal, Richfield (D).

For county clerk—Anthony P. Staral, Barton (R); Jerome Gomerling, town of West Bend (D).

Good Weather, Large Turnout Make Legion Picnic Success Sunday

Parade One of Finest Held; Excellent Acts, Music by "Droopy" Prove Hits

The Kewaskum American Legion post's annual picnic and celebration in the village park Sunday afternoon and evening was largely attended and successful for the Legionnaires although the crowds were not as big as those at some of the picnics in past years. The reason can be attributed to the many other doings in surrounding communities Sunday and the lateness of the season. The weather was ideal throughout the afternoon but was cool in the evening. Because of the cool weather and early start of the evening's entertainment, the event broke up earlier than usual.

Outstanding feature of the day was the long, very colorful parade to start off the festivities. The parade, one of the finest ever held by the Legion, was watched by a very large crowd of people who lined the streets. Main attractions in the parade were the Hartford VFW state champion drum and bugle corps, Kewaskum drum and bugle corps, Campbellsport village band, Kewaskum school band, Sheboygan county 40 ft streamlined engine, Jackson drill team (second place winners at the state Legion convention in Milwaukee a week ago Sunday), Legion firing squads, color guards and marching units from Random Lake, Campbellsport, Barton, Grafton and others, Ruth Eickstedt's majorette corps, numerous floats, firemen, civic organizations, kiddies' prize parade and other units.

LEGION EXTENDS THANKS

Kewaskum Post No. 384, American Legion, wishes to extend its appreciation and thanks to all who helped in the park or any other way to make the annual picnic a success; also all who assisted at the dance Saturday night. To all those who attended the affair, the Legion says "thanks."

Cash prizes were awarded for the best floats and children's specialties. Float prize winners were: 1. Marx IGA Store. 2. Miller's Furniture. 3. A. G. Koch, Inc.

Group prizes in the children's parade were won by the following: 1. Man and Wife—Eileen and Linda Volm. 2. Haug Children—Patricia and Merrill "Butch" Haug.

Individual children's prize winners were: 1. Miss Wisconsin—Dorothy Weinberg. 2. Wisconsin's Centennial—Judy Wedding.

Another fine feature of the picnic was the high class entertainment. Louis Topp's animal circus, featuring Mickey, the performing monkey, Rusty, the acting dog, Rosko, the talking crow, and Bobbie, the performing rooster, in a show different from the usual, went over big. The roller skating and tumbling performances were also of an outstanding calibre. All of the acts drew great applause and many laughs both afternoon and evening.

The music, antics and comedy of "Droopy" Stark and his orchestra also made a big hit, especially the hilarious novelty numbers put on by the band, "Droopy," one of Kewaskum's native sons, formerly was featured comedian with Heinie's Grenadiers of WTMJ. "Droopy's" orchestra also played for the pre-picnic dance at the Kewaskum Opera House Saturday night. The dance was not too largely attended but enough were there for everyone to have a good time and make a success of it.

With the variety of games and amusements, delicious bratwurst and hamburgers and refreshments, everyone was satisfied and had a fine time.

TOM BOUCHARD HOME IS PURCHASED BY MILLERS

At an auction held Saturday afternoon the new home and property of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bouchard, located on Park st. at the rear of Holy Trinity church, was sold to Mr. and Mrs. Roman "Jimmy" Miller, local tavern-keepers, who submitted the highest bid. There were several other bids for the home.

An adjoining lot owned by the Bouchards, located east of their home, was also sold at the auction. The lot was purchased by Carl Meilahn Sr., village. The Bouchard family is moving to Balok, where Mr. Bouchard has a position.

SOCIAL AT ST. BRIDGET'S

The public is invited to attend a social at the St. Bridget's parish grounds on Sunday afternoon and evening, Aug. 22. Have a good time meeting old friends and new. Fun for everybody, young and old.

BIRTHS

STRACHOTA—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Orville Strachota of St. Kilian Tuesday, Aug. 10, at St. Agnes hospital, Fond du Lac. Mrs. Strachota is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Welis, West Bend.

KIPPENHAN—Mr. and Mrs. Glen Kippenhan, Campbellsport, announce the birth of a daughter, Diane Laura, born at St. Agnes hospital, Fond du Lac, Friday, July 29. Glen is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. George Kippenhan, village.

IN APPRECIATION

Mrs. Alma Petri wishes to extend her thanks to the Allenton and Kewaskum fire departments and neighbors for their services and excellent work at the Petri store which was destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning. She hopes to resume her store in one of the other buildings by the beginning of the week.

These Foods Make a Picnic
(See recipes below)

Picnic Foods

WE ALL AGREE that picnics are fun, but how's the food holding out, now that you've already had some picnics during the summer? Is the variety still there to tempt jaded appetites or are you ready for some quick and easy ideas full of inspiration?

You'll want to keep anything edible simple and easy to prepare as well as easy to carry because it's no fun to get worn out in the process of packing, and there is also nothing worse than arriving with soggy sandwiches as well as bruised fruit or muddled cake.

Everyone will feel better at picnics if you plan well balanced meals, so have your share of starches, vitamins and minerals.

Sandwiches are a standby, but they can have infinite variety. Add some crisp vegetables to the filling when you can, thus making the picnic interesting and more delicious.

Plan to use fruit in season, carefully washed and wrapped, of course, so you can enjoy eating it. Cakes should be simple, and are best made in square or oblong pans, tucked in a box and cut when served. No chance for messing when it's done this way!

HERE ARE SOME delightful fillings for sandwiches which I know will be a hit with the folks. Chill the fillings, and they won't soak through the bread.

Savory Ham-Vegetable Filling
(Makes 8 sandwiches)
16 slices bread
1/2 cup softened butter
1 cup deviled ham
1 cup grated raw carrot
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup mayonnaise

Spread sliced bread and butter. On eight slices spread deviled ham. Combine green pepper, carrot, salt and mayonnaise. Spread carrot mixture on ham and place buttered slices of bread on top. Cut as desired and wrap well.

Egg Salad Sandwiches
(Makes 8)
4 chopped hard-cooked eggs
1 cup minced celery
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup minced stuffed olives
1/2 cup mayonnaise

Mix all ingredients together in order given. Spread filling on cracked wheat bread which has been buttered.

Shrimp Sandwiches
(Makes 8)
1/2 cup canned and cleaned shrimp, crabmeat or lobster
4 tablespoons butter or substitute
1/2 teaspoon minced onion
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon mustard
2 tablespoons minced stuffed olives

White or whole wheat bread. Mince the shrimp and mix with the remaining ingredients. Chill thoroughly before spreading on bread.

Chicken-Ham Sandwiches
(Makes 6)
1/2 cup ground, cooked chicken
1/2 cup ground, cooked ham
3 chopped, stuffed olives
1 1/2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1/2 teaspoon lemon juice

White or whole wheat bread. Mince the chicken and ham and mix with the remaining ingredients. Chill thoroughly before spreading on bread.

LYNN SAYS:
Do Something Special With Your Salads

Scoop out fresh and nicely firm cucumbers. Flake a can of salmon, season it with lemon juice and mayonnaise and fill the hollowed cucumbers. With this pass some crackers and cheese and luncheon is served.

Chicken salad takes on an elegant air when it's served in canned peach halves. Sprinkle with toasted, slivered almonds.

Pineapple goes well into salads whether it's fresh or canned. Try it with orange sections and dark, seeded cherries and seedless white grapes. A thick, sweet French dressing is indicated.

Fresh or canned apricots stuffed with cream cheese and nut mixture do well when served with melon and pineapple. This makes a good enough salad to substitute for a dessert.

Chopped dark red cherries with pineapple chunks, nuts and celery are especially good when molded in a lime or lemon gelatin.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- *Ham and Vegetable Sandwiches
- *Egg Salad Sandwiches
- *Chicken-Ham Sandwiches
- *Deviled Eggs
- *Whole Tomatoes
- *Potato Chips
- *Grapes or Watermelon
- *Mincedmeat Goodies
- *Lemonade or Milk

*Recipes Given.

Combine and spread on white bread.

DEVILED EGGS are handy to have on a picnic to eat either with the sandwiches, by themselves or with tomatoes or other relishes.

Here's a tasty way in which you may prepare them without too much work:

- *Deviled Eggs.
- 8 hard-cooked eggs
- 4 tablespoons softened butter
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- Dash of pepper
- 1 teaspoon vinegar
- Mayonnaise

Cut eggs in half lengthwise and remove yolks. Mash yolks and combine with butter, salt, mustard, pepper and vinegar. Add mayonnaise to make a creamy consistency.

Refill egg whites and sprinkle with paprika. Chill.

HERE ARE SEASONAL fruits suitable to take on a picnic: Apricots, plums, nectarines, peaches, berries, cantaloupes and watermelon. Oranges, apples and bananas are also good standbys. Grapes and cherries are delightful.

Berries and peaches may be washed, sugared and placed in mason jars with tight covers. If you are taking melon, it's best to chill it thoroughly, wrap in waxed paper, and cut and scoop out the seeds just before you serve it.

IF YOU LIKE easy-to-carry cookies to take along with you, serve them with the fruit or as snacks between meals if you are making the picnic a whole day affair.

Mincedmeat Goodies
(Makes 4 dozen)

- 1 cup shortening
- 2 cups sugar
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 3 cups sifted flour
- 1 cup minced meat
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon ginger
- 1 teaspoon cloves
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts

Cream shortening and sugar together until fluffy. Add eggs and flour enough to prevent mixture from curdling. Add mincedmeat and dry ingredients, sifted together, and the nuts. The amount of flour varies with the amount of liquid in the mincedmeat. The mixture should be stiff enough to drop from spoon onto a greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate (375 degree) oven about 10 minutes.

Have you ever served a shrimp salad in cucumber cups? Or try the salad in green pepper rings, garnished with wedges of red, ripe, well chilled tomatoes and deviled eggs.

Melons have an affinity for lime seasoning. Marinate wedges or balls of melon in the juice before serving them on crisp lettuce leaves.

Pimiento cups are a nice innovation for salads. Try filling them with an egg and celery salad.

Have you ever served pear halves jelled in a pineapple flavored gelatin? Try it for choice variety.

Chopped green pepper added to French dressing for a simple lettuce and cucumber salad does wonders.

Drop a few canned peas into your potato salad with some chopped hard-cooked eggs if you want color and variety.

Well chilled asparagus tips placed on a bed of greens will look glamorous when topped with riceed hard cooked egg yolk. Pass well seasoned French dressing.

The popularity of "Portia Faces Life" is a strong argument for the intelligence of American women. Mona Kent, who writes the NBC daytime serial, starring Lucille Wall, knows that housewives' interests reach beyond their homes. If "Portia," a lawyer, tries a case in court, the procedure is shown. When her husband wrote for a movie company, we got an insight into the trials and tribulations of a scenario writer. This is in sharp and welcome contrast to the belief of another top-notch writer of daytime serials, who claims that the women who listen to such programs don't care about anything outside their own experience.

Paul Stewart, back in the cast of CBS' "Crime Photographer," after working in RKO's "Weep No More" with Joseph Cotton, says he's through with "stubble acting." Stewart, who needs a shave throughout the picture, says, "with a close shave or a full beard you can play practically any part, but if the script calls for you to have a stubble, you're a gangster."

The long-awaited Marx Brothers picture, "Blondes Up," is before the cameras at last, for United Artists release. Betty Hutton's sister, Marion, makes her debut as one of the blondes. The other two are Hona Massey and Vera Ellen.

John Agar, since making his film debut in "Fort Apache," spends at least two evenings a week reading and rehearsing scenes from Broadway plays. They're mostly love scenes, as wife Shirley Temple rehearses with him.

George Montgomery, who has been winding up his starring role in Edward Small's "Indian Scout" for United Artists, plans to take off for Europe soon, with Dinah Shore Montgomery. It will be his first European visit.

Irene Rich, who returned to the screen in "Fort Apache" and "Joan of Arc," had fun in New York recently, seeing herself as she was in the old silent films. The picture she viewed was "Lucretia Lombard," made 26 years ago, starring her and featuring Norma Shearer and Monte Blue. Even now, with graying hair, Miss Rich is as beautiful as when she was a young and popular star.

Frank Sinatra and Romo Vincent have taken options on the old Fatty Arbuckle comedies and will re-film them independently with the 280-pound Vincent in the Arbuckle roles. They planned the venture when both were working on the MGM lot. Vincent's latest picture is "Luxury Liner," in which he is featured with George Brent, Jane Powell and Lauritz Melchior.

The little girl who won notice from the critics 14 years ago as "Asia" in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" may win it again now that she is a grown-up, glamorous blonde in "My Dream Is Yours." She is Carmen Johnson.

Larry Robinson, "Brad" of "The Second Mrs. Burton," now has a head of flaming red hair—the result of a successful pre-Broadway road tour with "Life With Mother." He dyed his hair for the role of the eldest son.

Nicknames of states is the subject heading the list in questions submitted to the CBS "Everybody Wins" quiz show. State flowers and mottos come next, with music questions third in popularity.

He has been working as a cement mixer these last months to get in trim.

Co-starring with Jane Wyman in "A Kiss in the Dark," David Niven had to stumble into an animal trap. He'd spent many months learning to avoid such things when in training as a commando in World War II.

Plans for Rita Hayworth call for her to play a part-Cherokee girl in "Tulsa" in the days when oil was first discovered in Oklahoma, and then to star in "Anne of the Indies" as a fiery, red-haired pirate.

After the fire was out, Mitkus rewarded the firemen by handing out some of the still solid cargo.

Injured Driver Saves Self
With a Cigarette Lighter

BUFFALO, N. Y.—A cigarette lighter brought aid to a bus driver as he lay in a boulevard after being struck by a car.

Donald Hammer, 32, was hit as he walked back to his bus after reporting motor trouble. He watched helplessly as other automobiles passed.

Intermittently he used the lighter. A motorist stopped and called the police.

Scientists Trace Vitamins' Course Through the Body

AMES, IOWA.—Scientists are beginning to lift the curtain on exactly what happens to the vitamins you eat and what they do.

The new knowledge is important to health and in understanding such diseases as rheumatic fever and high blood pressure. It shows that some diseases, and even changes in food habits, can increase your need for certain vitamins.

The facts are hard to get because human chemistry is so involved. But clues and discoveries from many laboratories are helping to map the vitamin trails through this jungle of human chemistry.

One important clue, said Dr. Robert R. Seakock, Iowa state college biochemist, came from Europe in studies of Addison's disease. This is a chronic weakening disease, usually fatal, and in it the skin turns a coppery bronze in color.

The European investigators found that doses of vitamin C cleared up this discoloration. It didn't improve the other symptoms of the disease. The copper color was due to melanin, a skin pigment, which, when present in smaller quantities, is the sun tan pigment. The disease victims had too much melanin.

Dr. Seakock finds Reason
Dr. Seakock, then at the University of Rochester, and co-workers found the reason why. The melanin was formed because one important chemical wasn't being used properly. This chemical was an amino acid, tyrosine. It's one of more than 20 amino acids from which all proteins are made.

Lack of vitamin C, they showed, broke the chain of steps in the body's proper use of the tyrosine. One of the broken links formed a substance that produced the melanin.

A practical use for this finding was discovered by Dr. S. Z. Levine of Cornell university medical center. Premature babies, fed on cows' milk, developed symptoms of scurvy. The cows' milk has more of the tyrosine than mother's milk.

The larger amounts of the tyrosine meant more vitamin C was needed than the babies received in their diet. Dr. Levine gave the premature babies more vitamin C, and they then could take the cows' milk without fear of scurvy.

Other discoveries followed quickly. At New York university, Miss Ella Fishberg found that in a certain, fairly rare disease, something is in the blood which decreases the normal oxygen-carrying capacity of the blood. This something proved to be one of the broken links again from insufficiently-used tyrosine. When victims of the disease received more vitamin C, the condition was remedied.

Some children with rheumatic fever were also found to excrete this same substance from tyrosine because of a lack of vitamin C. The disease may increase the need for vitamin C. Dr. Seakock said. This discovery may supply a clue to one of the factors in rheumatic fever.

The tyrosine-vitamin C relationship also is suspected of some possible influence in high blood pressure. There is evidence that other products from the tyrosine have some tendency to boost blood pressure.

Poor Loan' Author Clicks for $50,000

BOSTON.—A 33-year-old Suffolk university instructor who tried to borrow $500 at a Boston bank—and was refused as a poor risk—has sold the movie rights to a novel for $50,000.

Thomas Savage said he received the check from Columbia for rights to his "Lona Hanson."

"I intend to go on living the same as before," he said. "The money will go into a trust fund for my wife and two children."

Savage's philosophy: "I hope to teach my students that the more education a man has, the less money he needs. Only inadequate men need money."

The teacher explained he went to the bank for a loan to pay household expenses.

"We had just moved here," he said. "I wanted to buy some furniture. We had been living in rented places."

The bank, he said, hemmed and hawed—and politely turned him down.

"I told them I had written a novel but they told me they just couldn't see how I could possibly pay the money back," he smiled.

Savage, who has had a varied career as welder, dude ranch hand, plumber's assistant and railroad brakeman, said he "dislikes banks anyway."

But he did hear again from the one that refused him a loan.

It was one of the first to telephone congratulations on his good fortune.

"They wanted me to put the money as a trust in their bank," he explained.

"I turned them down—politely."

Driver Finds That Beer Is No Chaser for Aspirin

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH—The defendant didn't tell the judge it was "only a couple of beers" that got him in trouble. It was half a glass of beer.

Brought before City Judge Frank E. Moss on a drunken driving count, the defendant explained he wouldn't have taken even that much but "I wanted to take a couple of aspirins and there was no water around to wash them down."

Moss found the explanation ingenious but insufficient.

Doctor Recommends Juleps To Prevent Heart Disease

ATLANTA.—Now comes Dr. George R. Herrman with a good word for mint juleps.

They "dilate the arteries of the heart," the doctor explained.

For that reason, he went on to say, it might be a good idea for people to start sipping them more—and taking things easier—to help ward off an alarming increase in heart disease.

Dr. Herrman is medical professor at Texas university. He told a meeting of Georgia physicians that as the hectic mental strain of the modern age has increased, so has coronary artery heart disease—the most common and serious type.

"We have become too hurried," he warned, "and our hearts are overtaxed."

He said, among other things, that it would be a good idea

JEST JESTIN'

Grammar Fascinates Him

WHEN a certain demagogic senator, now happily retired, was holding forth in Washington, he was constantly engaged in feuds with his fellow-legislators, and, in consequence, spent most of his time on the floor of the senate, denouncing various and sundry enemies in potentially picturesque terms.

Whenever this gentleman arose to speak, most of his colleagues fled the chamber; but one, a former college professor, always remained in his seat, listening with profound attention.

"Why," a fellow-member demanded, "do you always stay here to listen to that insufferable wind-bag?"

The professor laughed. "He fascinates me. I have yet to hear him make a grammatical error!"

MANY BOSSES

"Tell me, sir, who is the real boss at your home?"

"Well, my wife bosses the children, and the children boss the dog and cat, but I can say anything I want to the petunias."

Slight Handicap

"Now we know that the earth is round," said the schoolmaster. "Tell me, Thomas, would it be possible for you to walk around the earth?"

"No, sir," replied Thomas.

"And why not?"

"Because," was the unexpected reply, "I twisted my ankle playing football."

STATION IDENTIFICATION
Little Boy: "Mama, what was the name of the last station the train stopped at?"
Mother: "Don't bother me, I don't know. Don't you see I'm reading? Why do you ask?"
Little Boy: "Because little brother got off there."

New Technique

"How the deuce," asked the officer on the rifle range, "did you get those four straight bulls? Your range is 600 yards, but your sight is set at 300."

Said the recruit: "See that little rock halfway along? Well, I'm bouncing 'em off that."

Poor Memory

A suburbanite whose clock had run down was sending his boy to town to get the correct time.

"But Pa, I can't bring the correct time. I have no watch."

"What do you want a watch for? If you can't remember, write it down on a piece of paper."

ROBERT TEE LEE

Son: "Dad, was Tee Lee, the robber they sing about, a Chinaman?"

Dad (puzzled): "Tee Lee? What song is about him?"

Son: "Oh, Dad, you know that song, 'Waiting for the robber Tee Lee!'"

Work Saver

First Bride: "I've got my husband where he eats right out of my hand."

Second bride: "I wish I could do that. It certainly would save a lot of dishwashing, wouldn't it?"

Problem in Finance

The absent-minded customer started out of the restaurant without paying his check and the sweet young thing at the cashier desk said: "Hey, Doc. Just how do you want to finance this?"

Dust Me Off!

Little Dickie's mother, trying to talk him into a bath, urged, "Surely you want to be a clean little boy, don't you?"

"Yes," tearfully agreed Dick, "but couldn't you just dust me?"

Instinct

Losing her temper, the elderly teacher of a rural school spanked a disobedient pupil; and, in doing so, accidentally inflicted a scratch upon his freckled face. That evening she telephoned the boy's father, a farmer, to apologize for her action.

"Oh, that's all right," said the father, good-naturedly. "Jimmy won't hold any grudge. He's lived on a farm long enough to know that old hens just can't help scratching."

"DO WOMEN GET ANY MORE LOGICAL AS THEY GROW OLDER?"

"THEY SAY THERE'S A REASON FOR EVERYTHING BUT I'M SURE THAT DOESN'T INCLUDE DOROTHY!"

Sisters Meet For First Time

A London airport was the scene of the meeting of two sisters who had never seen each other before, although both were over thirty years old. When Miss June Morgan, 31, stepped down from the plane arriving from the United States she was greeted by her sister Violet, 34, now Mrs. Clifford Evans of Reading, England, who had been left in Great Britain as a child when her parents went to America, where June was born three years later. Each sister had photographs of the other and they had no difficulty in recognizing each other at the crowded airport.

740 DRESS your Toddler, boy or girl, in this sunsuit! Adorable, with bear or dog to embroider in easy stitches or to applique. Easy sewing!

AROUND THE HOUSE

Be sure the cloth or portholder you use to handle hot pots and pans is dry. If it's wet, the moisture will form steam and burn your hand.

To scrape the bottom of a pot, use a wooden spoon or the sharp end of a wooden clothespin. This minimizes noise as well as damage to the pot.

When raisins get stale and hard, they can be freshened and used if you put them in a strainer and set the strainer with a cover on it over a pot of boiling water for about 15 minutes.

Most common types of shoe polish can be removed with cleaning fluid. Or, on washable whites, let the polish dry and then brush most of it off. After that, wet it and let it dry again so you can brush it again.

In an emergency, when you haven't time to change from your best shoes to your house ones for some last-minute cooking or dish washing, protect the shoes by slipping paper bags over your feet and secure them at the ankles with rubber bands.

Washington Digest Small Woodlots Hold Key To Future Timber Supply

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—I have just had an interesting conversation with R. E. McArdle of the forest service of the department of agriculture, and I have discovered that I'm one of the people that the United States of America has to look to for its future lumber supply.

My father took up some of the last of the government forest land that was available in the Southwest. That little plot, along with the other privately-owned timberland straggling over the map of the U. S., makes up three-quarters of all the timber there is in the country. Only one-fourth of our forests are public property.

And three-fourths of this three-fourths is composed of small woodlots which average 60 to 70 acres.

Further, more much of it is not part of a farm being worked by an experienced farmer. A great deal is owned by people who don't live on the wood lot or near it (like me), and many of whom (also like me) wouldn't be able to tell a toothpick from a telephone pole if it weren't for their size.

Worse still, many farmers owning woodlots with valuable stands of timber on them don't know how to get their money's worth from that land or how to keep the wooded acres contributing to their livelihood as the rest of their farmland does.

In other words, growing timber in this country has become to a large extent a side issue.

I am glad to report, after telling you all this bad news, that both the government and the lumber industry are trying to do something about this situation for the general, as well as for the individual, good.

For example, in 1937, the Crossett Lumber company gave the government 1,680 acres of typical second growth stands in southeastern Arkansas. I can't go into the program of experimental work that has been done there, but there is one item that affects our story.

R. R. Reynolds of the forestry service went to work on 40 acres of this area. He did the things any farmer can learn to do to a similar woodlot.

Last year Reynolds reported eight annual cuts which averaged a marketable value of more than $580 a year, and he had as much volume as when he started!

Of course, everybody hasn't Reynolds' know-how, but the government is helping to spread that know-how through its representatives or through state organizations. So is private enterprise.

Florida Teaches Youth Forestry Fundamentals

Thirteen years ago, Florida for example, began a forestry training camp for her Future Farmers of America members. On August 1 of this year, some 200 members of the FFA attended a two week camp at Camp O'Leno, about 60 miles west of Jacksonville, where they were taught, in the forest, the fundamentals of good forest practices.

The first week was for beginners who had had no previous forestry background; the second week was for those who had attended a previous camp.

During the first period they were taught fundamentals of gum farming—how to secure naval stores such as turpentine and rosin from slash and long-leaf pines; how to identify the commercially valuable trees and their use; how to farm forests as they farm cotton and other crops; how to protect their woodlots from fire; how to thin their stands of trees by cutting out the crooked, diseased, and other Florida teaches the fundamentals of good forestry to FFA youth at annual summer camps. Trammel Green, nurseryman for the Florida forest service, is shown here instructing two boys in preparation of a seed bed. Here they are spreading pine straw over the freshly planted seed as a protective measure.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS Congress Fights Truman Proposals; High Crop Goals Set, Wheat Cut; Atomic Tests Assure New Power

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

CONGRESS: Feudin' and Fightin'

Bitter recriminations rounded as the fight between President Truman and the GOP-controlled congress moved into a new round with convening of the extra session of the 80th congress.

In a dynamite-laden atmosphere, the President appeared before a joint session of the congress which he had labeled "one of the worst in history" to demand a sweeping anti-inflation economic program.

Proposed legislation must be emergency in character. It must contain a problem of national importance. It must be a program which can be processed properly within the time available to an emergency session.

The available time for processing would be no longer than a period of congress which would not "interfere with the proper conduct" of the autumn campaigns.

No appropriation bills were to be considered, nor would any consideration be given to confirmation of nominations which might be sent to the senate by the President.

Over all hung the threat of a Dixie Democrats' filibuster against the anti-poll tax bill, which would widen the rift between Mr. Truman and the southern wing of his party.

There were no surprises in the President's recommended legislative package. He proposed a re-imposition of the excess profits tax, limited restoration of price controls, even more limited wage control, and enactment of the Taft-Elliender-Wagner housing bill.

WHEAT: Goal Cut

As clogged elevators and enforced embargoes once again mark the nation's harvest of another bumper wheat crop, the department of agriculture recommends a cut of 8 per cent in wheat acreage in its preliminary recommendations for the 1949 crop year.

Although continued high production of other major grain commodities is recommended, a slight decrease is suggested for wheat acreage, which has increased sharply in recent years in response to war and relief needs.

Looking forward in a move to conserve the country's soil resources, the department points out that "a better balance between soil-conserving and soil-depleting crops will actually assure higher productivity over a longer period of years."

Farmers also are urged to provide for sufficient summer fallow and, in marginal areas, to plant grass seed on land which is not suitable for sustained production of crops.

Also considered in arriving at the wheat goal were this year's increased carry-over, prospects that the 1948 crop will be second largest in history, and possibility of smaller demand because of improved crops in importing countries.

The department recommended wheat plantings for 1949 of 71.5 million acres which, with an average yield of 15 bushels an acre, would mean production of nearly 11 billion bushels. July estimate of 1948 wheat production was 1,241,751,000 bushels.

In setting another farm goal, the department recommended a beef cattle breeding herd of 15.5 million cows next January 1, a decrease of about 500,000 head. Better management, improved feeding practices and thorough culling, it was suggested, will "put the cattle industry in better position to supply the requirements of the increased population."

The recommendations were submitted to state agricultural councils for consideration. State goals and final national goals are determined on the basis of state review and recommendations.

PRECARIOUS PERCH Americans Seek Economic Security

Increasingly aware of the need for economic security for themselves and their families, Americans will expend approximately 15 billion dollars for that purpose in 1948, the Research Council for Economic Security estimates.

The estimate covers payments made under private or government organized plans to meet insurance arising from death, old age, accident, sickness, disability, unemployment and other conditions.

North eastern, middlewestern, and Pacific coast states have the largest measure of protection, both in total amounts and in per capita payments, the study discloses.

Payments under voluntary plans ranked higher than those under government plans. Estimated expenditure of 15 billion dollars this year marks a continuation of an upward trend which has been noticeable for several years, the council points out.

The figure compares with a total outlay of 12 billion dollars for economic security in 1945.

Of the 1945 total approximately half was earmarked for voluntary savings plans. Since that year savings plans have increased both their scope and coverage.

DRAFTEES: Old Pals

In an endeavor to make the upcoming draftee as happy as a khaki-colored lark, the army is removing its "petty annoyances" as it completes plans to process men inducted under the first peacetime draft in history.

On orders of Gen. Omar Bradley, chief of staff, to remove "the petty annoyances that sent many World War II veterans away hating the army," training officers prepared to greet the recruit like an old friend of the family.

Only the finest officers and non-coms will handle the draftee, training officers promised. The recruit will even be given a $5 advance on his $75 a month pay the first day in camp so he won't be broke. He won't even have to wait to "tell it to the chaplain," as he'll be taken to the chaplain during his orientation days and urged "to let his hair down."

All of this will take place at eight major training centers which have been set up to receive the draftees and give them their basic training. They are Fort Knox and Camp Breckenridge, Ky.; Fort Riley, Kans.; Camp Chaffee, Ark.; Camp Pickett, Va.; Fort Ord, Calif.; Fort Jackson, S. C., and Fort Dix, N. J.

The standard 13-week army training course has been condensed into eight "tough" weeks. Later draftees will be selected for specialist training or sent directly to duty. About half of the draftees will see overseas duty, probably in Korea, Japan, Germany, Alaska, the Canal Zone, Hawaii or Caribbean defense area.

It Might Have Been

Had there been no World War II, no abdication of the late King Victor Emmanuel and no dissolution of the House of Savoy by vote (taking the crown away from ex-King Humbert), then Victor Emmanuel, pictured here, third of the line, might have been fated one day to sit on the throne of Italy.

Seemingly the least unhappy about the turn of affairs is handsome, blond Victor Emmanuel, now at Geneva, Switzerland.

The commission's report, the fourth semi-annual summary to congress as provided by law, indicated there were three bombs used at Eniwetok in the spring project known as "Operation Sandstone."

Principal study was "on the generation of nuclear explosion itself" rather than "on the effects of the nuclear explosion," as was the case in the earlier Bikini tests.

The report stressed developments of atomic energy research in medicine, agriculture, metallurgy, other sciences and industry. Radioactive materials have been given 229 institutions and commercial agencies for experimentation.

The index, which represents retail prices of goods and services bought by moderate income families in large cities, registered 171.7 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

Further increases are inevitable, too, for wholesale prices hit an all-time high during the week ended July 17 and it takes about a month for their impact to be recorded in retail prices.

The new consumers price index is 9.3 per cent higher than a year ago; 28.8 per cent above June, 1946, when price controls generally were abandoned, and 74.1 per cent above the August, 1939, level. On V-J Day in 1945 the same index was 129.3 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

LIVING COSTS: Hit Peak

They changed the name—from cost of living index to consumers price index—but they still can't change the trend—upward and ever upward, the bureau of labor statistics reports.

In fact, the index struck an all-time high on June 15, with food prices reaching record-shattered levels, the bureau of labor statistics reports.

The index, which represents retail prices of goods and services bought by moderate income families in large cities, registered 171.7 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: Our gas refrigerator has taken on a yellowish color. How can I restore it to its former whiteness?

ANSWER: Try washing the surface with mild soap and warm water. Rinse with a solution of javelle water, using about three teaspoonful in a quart of water, and wipe dry.

QUESTION: What should I do about curled shingles on my house?

ANSWER: Sometimes a curled shingle can be split in two of three pieces and then well nailed. If only a few of your shingles are curled, replace them with shingles of a better quality.

Farm families are getting smaller, everyone admits, but H. C. Filley, chairman of the University of Nebraska rural economics department, advances a new reason for the trend.

Automobiles enter the picture, the economist says, explaining that "a father may limit the size of his family to the number that will fit into his car." He admits that economic factors also play a major role.

THE FICTION CORNER

AND AN ELEPHANT

By WILLIAM CUTHBERT

"UH, UH, Daddy could see it coming again! He had just settled down to read the evening paper when Barbara climbed on one knee, and George Henry took possession of the other."

He let the newspaper drop to the floor. He couldn't read with a pair of heads in front of his eyes.

"How old am I, Daddy?" Barbara asked.

"This was better than Daddy had hoped for. He was expecting something else. 'You'll be three next month,' he told her.

He thought that if he used a little child psychology he could keep the children's thoughts on their ages and birthday parties, instead of having them think of that other thing. 'You're five, George Henry,' he said, 'you'll soon be going to school.'

George Henry said bluntly, 'tell us a story.'

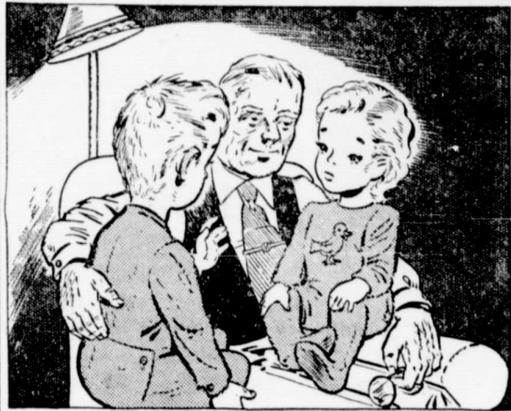

The children hugged against Daddy. He thought they might go to sleep.

Their mother talked for several minutes. Daddy gathered from the things she said that she was giving Mrs. Piper, a neighbor who lived up the street, a recipe for cheese pie.

When his wife went back to the kitchen, Daddy looked at the children. Their eyes were closed. Ah, how their story telling tonight, he thought.

George Henry opened sleepy eyes. "So the three bears had to keep a fire at night—"

Daddy began to talk softly, soothingly. This would put the children

George Henry said bluntly, "tell us a story."

Here it was, that other thing that he could see coming. "Not now," Daddy groaned, "I don't feel like telling a story."

"The three bears, heh, George Henry?" Barbara chimed in.

They settled back expectantly in Daddy's arms. Their flannel pajamas were soft and warm as his arms embraced them.

"Once upon a time there was three bears," Barbara prompted.

What could Daddy do? He shrugged his shoulders helplessly. "The three bears lived in a cabin at the edge of a woods."

"No Goldilocks," George Henry said, "tell us about the three bears and an elephant."

"An elephant?" Daddy didn't feel like plotting a new story. "It will have to be Goldilocks," he said.

Barbara clapped her little chubby hands. "Goody," she cried, "what does the elephant do in the story, Daddy?"

"But I don't know any elephant story."

"Remember the one you read out of the book that you wrote?" This was George Henry trying to refresh his Daddy's memory.

Daddy tried to think over the juvenile stories that he had written and had published. He couldn't place an elephant story that had anything to do with three bears.

"No Daddy, it wasn't in the book," George Henry suddenly remembered, "you just told it to us."

The easiest thing to do, Daddy decided, was to make up a story, then rush the children off to bed.

"During the day," he continued, "the sun shone bright on the cabin and kept the three bears warm."

"What was the bears' names?" Barbara wanted to know.

There could be no question about the names. Whether it was bears, pigs, ducks or rabbits, the names had to be the same.

"One bear's name was Barbara, another George Henry, and the third, Sally."

Sally was the children's eight-year-old sister. She had just started to take violin lessons, and Daddy could hear her in her bedroom trying to squeak some notes out of the G string.

"As I was saying, the bears were kept warm in the daytime by the hot sun. But at night when the sun went to sleep, it got very cold, and the bears had to keep a fire in the hearth of the open fire place."

The telephone bell rang, and as the children's mother came from the kitchen to answer it, Daddy remained silent. This was a rule in the home. No one talked while some one else was speaking on the telephone.

"The poor bears," Barbara mumbled. She looked like she might cry.

"The next day," Daddy said hurriedly. "The bears decided that they just had to have wood, so they went back among the trees. After they made sure that no other animal was in sight, Sally bear picked up the axe and began to chop—chop—chop."

"Please Daddy, tell us about the elephant!" George Henry held his hand against his mouth to hold back a yawn.

"But before long, the thumping noise again rang out in the woods. Thump—thump—thump. The bears were too frightened to run this time, and suddenly a big animal stuck its head and long trunk between two trees and glanced bewildered at the three shivering bears."

"Let it be a good elephant, heh Daddy?" George Henry said.

"All right, it was a good elephant, and it asked the bears why they were frightened? None of the bears dared to speak, so the elephant looked around and saw that they had been chopping at the tree."

"So the elephant chopped the tree down for them," George Henry volunteered.

"Daddy smiled. This would be better than bringing in a lot of complications and would get the children to bed in a hurry."

"Yes, the elephant took the axe in his trunk and chopped the tree into small pieces. The bears then saw that the elephant was a friend, so each gathered an arm load of wood, while the elephant took a big load in his trunk, and they all went back to the cabin."

"Is that all, Daddy?" Barbara wanted to know.

"Not quite. The elephant was so big that it couldn't go through the door of the cabin, and when night came, it had to stay out in the cold, while the bears kept warm near the fire."

GEORGE HENRY could hardly keep his eyes open but he said, "Let the good elephant go inside near the fire, Daddy."

Daddy thought for a moment. How could he get the elephant inside? Suddenly he knew how. "The following morning the bears were so sorry for the elephant that they got out all their carpenter tools and busily went to work."

"Did they build another cabin?" Barbara asked this although Daddy thought she was asleep.

"No, they just made a bigger doorway—and the three bears and the elephant lived happily together ever after."

Barbara and George Henry slept peacefully as Daddy carried them upstairs and put them in their beds.

Then Daddy went downstairs, picked up the newspaper and settled back in his chair. But he didn't read the newspaper. It dropped to the floor as he closed his eyes and went to sleep.

sound to sleep. "The bears had to have wood for their fire, so every day they went into the woods to chop a tree."

"Louder, Daddy," Barbara told him, "I can hardly hear you."

George Henry giggled a bit and asked, "Where's the elephant?"

"The elephant?" Daddy had forgotten there was supposed to be an elephant. "The elephant, uh, we'll get to him . . . the bears had to go to the woods for fire wood. One day Sally bear was chopping down a tree. It was a big tree, for most of the small trees had already been burned, and she became tired. George Henry bear took the axe and began to chop—chop—chop."

"What about the elephant, Daddy?" it was Barbara this time.

"Suddenly the bears heard another sound in the woods. George Henry bear stopped chopping to listen. Thump—thump—thump! All three bears were startled. . . . They never heard this noise before."

Barbara smiled, "Here comes the elephant."

Daddy ignored the interruption. "George Henry bear dropped the axe and the three bears ran as fast as they could back to their cabin, and they locked themselves in."

George Henry sat up straight, all sleep disappearing from his bright blue eyes. "Did the elephant chase them, Daddy?" he asked.

Daddy sighed deeply and said sternly, "Will you two settle down and allow me to tell the story?"

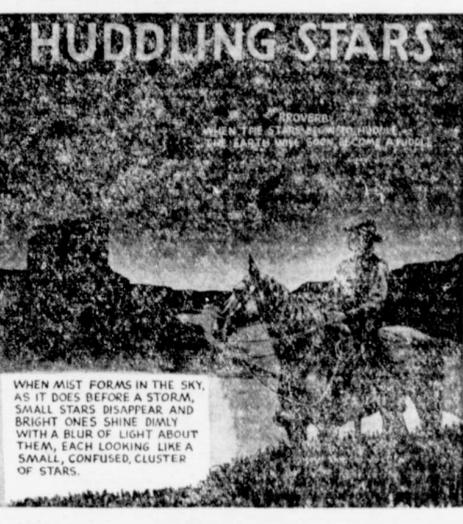

Meekly, George Henry settled back in Daddy's arm.

"That night it was very cold and the bears had no wood to burn. They huddled near the damp fire place and almost froze."

HOW IT STARTED

CHRISTENING SHIPS

CHRISTENING SHIPS: Christening ships with the ceremony of drinking a toast from a silver cup, then throwing the cup into the sea, was the immediate forerunner of our present-day custom of christening new ships. Near the end of the 17th century the practice of breaking a bottle of spirits across the bow of a new ship was substituted for drinking the toast, possibly because of the cost of the silver cup.

The original custom apparently was to throw the bottle at the bow of the new ship, but, so a story goes, once the sponsor missed the bow completely and the bottle struck a spectator, who sued the British Admiralty for damages. After that the bottle was always secured by a lanyard.

Yale Canvasses Country For Col. Trumbull Canvases

A nation-wide hunt for the paintings of John Trumbull, visual recorder of the American Revolution, has been instituted by a Yale professor.

Theodore Sizer, professor of the history of art at Yale, issued the call for information about the Trumbull paintings in the "Yale University Library Gazette". The first such request for assistance was made by Professor Benjamin Siliman, 2d, in 1882 in the "American Art Review".

Sizer, working under a Guggenheim fellowship, is a noted authority on the "patriot-artist". He has compiled the first thorough checklist of Trumbull's works, and the recent acquisition by the Yale library of Trumbull's notebook, containing a list of the artist's earlier works, has encouraged Sizer to seek elsewhere for further information.

Col. Trumbull was responsible for the design of the original Yale Gallery, the first such art museum in the United States connected with an educational institution. The purpose of the search is to complete a check list of his works and discover their location.

Col. Trumbull's paintings are richly steeped in the tradition of Yale, New Haven and Connecticut, as well as the revolutionary period. According to Prof. John Marshall Phillips, director of the Yale art gallery, the artist seemed to have a faculty for appearing on the scene of action just as history was being made. He, therefore, gave the U. S. many pictorial records, otherwise unobtainable, of this country's early background.

Neptune's Toll
About 4,500 persons drown every year in the United States. Many of these tragic accidents occur to people who have gone in the water for the first time in a season. Lack of vigorous outdoor exercise during winter and spring has left their muscles soft and susceptible to quick fatigue. Yet they carelessly swim too far from shore or do other hazardous things for which they are not physically fit—and pay for their folly with their lives.

HANDLE them carefully, gardeners these brown husks
Have banked their fires, but any moment may Burst into flame. They hold the dawns and dusks
And the gold noons of every gorgeous day.
They are heavy with age, yet youth will rend them
apart,
And color will tear its bright way through their heart.

A breathless interim they now are killed,
But, gardeners, you are dealing with mystery.
These globes enclose magic and are filled
With the wonder of things that were and that are to be.

Slip them quickly under the broken sod,
Let her, too soon, come face to face with God.

Enamel Made From Milk Seen as Coating for Cans

In place of using milk cans coated with tin, dairymen eventually may be using containers coated with an enamel made from milk itself.

Dairymen commonly have used as milk containers cans with a protective coating of tin that covers the sheet steel of the cans, prevents rusting and makes it easy to clean and sterilize them.

With tin in scant supply during the war, scientists sought a substitute coating which would conserve

New Insecticides to Save Considerable Grain Damage

A new and safe insecticide material, which itself can save more grain from damage by insects than that needed for the relief of Europe, now is in production, and insecticides made from it are being made available to the consumer in quantity, says Glenn Haskell, president of U. S. Industrial Chemicals.

The new insecticide, which can be used with complete freedom where food is handled, is known as pyrene. After three years of exhaustive tests, it has been found effective against a broad range of insect life.

The new insecticide is versatile in its application, and can be used in oil sprays, aerosols, emulsions, dusts or wettable powders. Its non-toxic nature makes it safe for use under any circumstances, Haskell says.

It can be sprayed on the interiors of grain bins, where insects have been taking an annual toll of 300 million bushels of grain in the United States alone, or three times the 100 million bushels needed for the relief of Europe. It can be used safely on growing foods, feeds of animals or anywhere that food is processed or prepared for human consumption. It has complete safety in household or garden use, and can be used directly on animals, without damaging effect to animals or to meat and dairy products.

This resinous lactic acid, combined with oils, metals or various substances, gives products that, when coated on metals and baked, are highly resistant to water, steam and acids, and they are sufficiently resistant to alkalis that the coated surfaces may be washed with hot solutions of soap or other common detergents. The enamels containing an oil and the lactic acid have proved the most durable. Four patents have been issued and others are pending on these processes.

Brooklyn Dodgers Tryout Camp, West Bend, Aug. 17-20

Tryouts for the Brooklyn Dodgers-Argosy magazine nationwide baseball rookie hunt will be held in West Bend from Aug. 17 through Aug. 20 at West Bend City park field. The camp will be run by Duce Balford, Harry McCurdy, Charles Smith, Ken Johnson and Clark Swisher, of the Dodger scouting organization. They will screen local applicants who have already entered this contest and any other young baseball players who are prospects for professional baseball. The Argosy-Dodger Rookie Hunt which has already attracted over 1,000 applicants from 47 states and 6 foreign countries, offers an opportunity for young talented baseball players to scout themselves for a berth in the Brooklyn Dodger organization. First prize is a Dodger organization player contract and a ten day road trip (expenses paid) with the Dodgers. The high school coach and/or sandlot manager of the winning player will also be invited to make the road trip. In addition, the winner will be named the "Argosy recruit-of-the-year" and be invited along with his high school coach and/or sandlot manager, to attend the 1948 World Series as guests of the Dodgers. Awards for runners-up include invitations to the next 29 best qualified contestants to attend a special Dodger baseball school for instruction under a staff of experts. The following 30 players selected will receive sets of professional spaulding baseball shoes and gloves. The tryout camp is open to all boys who are graduated from high school and are too old to play junior Legion baseball. All boys are requested to bring their glove, baseball shoes and a uniform to the camp with them. Each boy must pay an of his own expenses but in the event a boy is signed to a contract he will be refunded all of his expense money. The camp will begin each morning at 10:00. Contest applications may be secured when the boys report to camp. Entry into the contest is not required to participate in the tryout camp. At least one hour instruction will be given daily.

MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR

COMPARE the values; compare the prices; and you'll choose Chevrolet! For to compare the values is to know that only Chevrolet brings you the Big-Car riding-smoothness of the original and outstanding Unitized Knee-Action Ride... the Big-Car performance and dependability of a world's champion Valve-in-Head engine... the Big-Car beauty and luxury of the enviable Body by Fisher... the Big-Car safety of Fisher Unisteel Body-Construction and Positive-Action Hydraulic Brakes... plus many another major quality advantage still not available in any other motor car in its field. And to compare the prices is to know that Chevrolet prices are the lowest in the field... and that Chevrolet value continues to be the highest in its field! That's why Chevrolet is America's No. 1 car; that's why it's the car for you!

FIRST in Riding-Smoothness! You just can't beat the genuine Unitized Knee-Action Gliding Ride for real riding-smoothness—real travel luxury—over any and all kinds of roads; and, remember, this famous "Knee-Action" ride is exclusive to Chevrolet and more expensive cars.
FIRST in Thrills with Thrift! There's nothing like Chevrolet's world's champion Valve-in-Head engine for thrills and thrift. It holds all records for miles served and owners satisfied. It embodies that extra-sound, extra-dependable Valve-in-Head design, found elsewhere only in costlier cars.
FIRST in Tasteful Beauty! You will be perfectly sure of your car's beauty-leadership when you own a car with the world-famous Body by Fisher; and this most desirable of all car bodies—beautiful from every angle, inside and out—is available only on Chevrolet and higher-priced cars.
FIRST in All-Round Safety! You and your family will enjoy the triple safety protection of Fisher Unisteel Body-Construction, the Unitized Knee-Action Ride and Positive-Action Hydraulic Brakes—another combination of features found only in Chevrolet and higher-priced cars.
