Sleet, Wind Cause Blackout, Damage

A sleet and wind storm Tuesday night did extensive damage to utilities again, causing most of Kewaskum to be blacked out on three different occasions. County crews had trucks out sanding streets and highways.

Some telephone lines were down but the Wisconsin Gas & Electric Co. suffered the worst with 10 men out all night repairing wire breaks. Kewaskum was blacked out about 1 1/2 hours due to feeder lines burning out. An estimated inch of ice coated the wires in Kewaskum. This amount of ice and the wind blowing the wires caused them to snap. Light and power was also off in the village for periods early Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

This win put Lomira in first place and moved Kewaskum into second. Even under a handicap the team played one of its hardest and best games this season. ## Letters Go Out in Final Plea for Hospital Fund

All letters have gone out in the final attempt by the special policy committee to conclude the drive to raise $100,000 to help the sisters of St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend, meet expenses they incurred in building a new wing to the institution, a spokesman for the committee disclosed this week.

A campaign conducted over a period of more than a year fell approximately $15,000 short of the established goal of $100,000, it was pointed out, and the hope was expressed that the current appeal will exceed the $15,000 desired by some $10,000 or more to put the drive really "over the top."

With the approach of Christmas and its attendant spirit of charity and goodwill in the hearts of the people, the policy committee, which spearheaded the community drive for funds, is expectantly hoping that the people of the area served by the hospital will be permeated by that spirit to the extent that the goal will be exceeded.

In this connection, it was pointed out, the hospital is particularly worthy of any charity that can be extended to it, since it is a purely local charitable institution which is ready at all times, day and night, to serve the people of the community.

A final rejoinder from the committee spokesman was that contributions made in behalf of the hospital are deductible from income tax returns.

Grassy grouped confidence men in three classifications: the impersonator, the amateur and the professional "con man." He cited examples and illustrations of each type and urged his audience to be on the look out constantly for sharpers and "con men."

Chairman Lester Francke described plans for the Christmas party and dance which will be held in the club rooms Monday night, Dec. 27.

3rd Straight Won by Lakes 5 at Grafton

The Kewaskum Indians took over the lead in the northern Land of Lakes by virtue of their third straight victory at Grafton Sunday night. In a nip and tuck battle the Indians defeated strong, previously unbeaten Grafton, 47-41. In the preliminary the Kewaskum Papooses lost their second game in 3 starts to the Grafton Rivers five, 44-35, in an equally thrilling overtime contest. The locals were checked but with one measly point in the overtime while Grafton piled up 10.

The Lakes game was mighty close all the way. Honeck pulled the win out of the fire with a red hot last quarter. "Killy" dumped in 10 points in the final period to save the day. Added to the 7 markers he had in the second and third quarters, this gave him 17. Still he had to relinquish scoring honors to Grafton's ace scorer, Pape, who hit for 18. Augie Bilgo was on the ball again and got 10.

The Indians trailed at the quarter, 13-8, but worked into a lead and held it the rest of the way by a small margin. The halftime score stood at 24-22, Kewaskum, and it was 32-29 at the third period's end. Forty-three persons were called and 27 of these were on the Grafton. This won the battle for the "Kums, who sank 17 free tosses to Grafton's 16.

In the Rivers tilt Kewaskum was behind, 19-11, at the intermission. They fought back to gain a 26-24 tie at the third quarter's close and at the end of the game it was 24-34. But the gang went to pieces in the overtime. Sudbrink was high scorer for Grafton with 13, while Doc Smith's 10 were tops for the Papooses.

Landscape and points scored—Kewaskum: Smith, 10; Schmidt, 9; Perkins, 3; Stahl, 6; Hafemann, 7; Dull, 0; Goidel, 0; Backhaus, 6; Dreher, 3; Mantel, 0; Grafton: Haupt, 6; Wollring, 6; Maronde, 3; Sudbrink, 13; H. Erdmann, 3; Eernisse, 2; Krueger, 10; H. Erdmann, 4; Edgenberger, 2.

Kiwanian Father La Buwi Talks to Fellow Members

An interesting and thought-provoking speech was given the Kiwanis club on Monday evening by one of its members, Rev. F. C. La Buwi.

Father La Buwi's speech touched on several subjects, included in which was modern education and the necessity of advisability for changes to it. He spoke of youth programs and the real need for family life, laying particular emphasis on the desirability of parents setting aside certain evenings to be spent with the entire family. This message carried much weight and caused a great deal of thoughtful consideration.

Tom Schmidt reported on the Kiwanis division new officers organization meeting which he and Charley Reile attended at Plymouth. The Kewaskum club was given an excellent compliment on its record, Tom reported.

Farm Record Association Meeting Attended by 450

More than 450 turned out at Watertown recently for the third annual meeting of the Southeast Wisconsin Cooperative Farm Management association. That included the 140 members, veteran trainees, and friends and families.

Three new directors were elected, Elwyn Hamlin of Washington county, son-in-law of Mrs. Henry Quade of Kewaskum; Jack Abbot, Jefferson county; and Erwin Boette, Columbia county. The board of directors includes one man from each of the eight counties in the association.

Main speaker was Frank Peck of the farm foundation. Eight counties are included in the association. They are Dane, Dodge, Columbia, Washington, Waushara, Walworth, Jefferson and Rock.

Ain't It So

Convictions are what an employee has after he knows what the boss thinks.

Refreshments, a thin sandwich and two olives, had just been served at the town dance in the hill country.

"Is your program filled?" asked a local Romeo of a hillbilly belle when the dancing was resumed.

"Filled!" glared the girl. "Look here, young feller, it takes more than a skinny sandwich and two green plums to fill my program."

Tricks of the Trade The night was dark and the hour was late as a solitary wayfarer passed along the deserted street.

A policeman hurried up and surveyed the wreckage. "Fine work!" he said, addressing the hero, who was calmly lighting a cigarette.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. S. Cooling to Chiang Kai-shek; Russians Agree to Blockade Talks; Truman Wary on Deflation Prospect

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

SOLE CARD: China's Missing?

With stakes terrifically high and the Communists having him beat showing, China's Chiang Kai-shek fingered the pasteboards for a look at his hole card.

That's the way poker players might have described the tense situation which faced beleaguered China and her generalissimo.

PUTTING IT BLUNTLY, Senator Connally had said, in effect, that China generally, and Chiang Kai-shek especially, should have done more to help themselves in the battle against Chinese Communist forces.

Why was Connally giving the back of his hand to the generalissimo? Hear the senator: "Chiang is a generalissimo except that he doesn't go out and generalize."

The Texan was but voicing publicly what other administration officials have been saying privately—that they are not too keen about Madame Chiang's all-out propaganda drive to divert more money and materials to China.

MEANWHILE, CHIANG'S Su-chow garrison was under orders to rally forth in an effort to save Nanking and rescue an entire army group trapped by the rampaging Communists.

While the garrison was deliberating its next move, latest battlefront dispatches said the government's 12th army group, totaling about 140,000 men, was encircled by Communists 67 miles south of Su-chow and 145 miles northwest of Nanking.

BERLIN: Blockade Talks Set

Hope for an early end to the Berlin blockade flared upward. Russia had accepted a new formula by the neutral nations of the U. N. Security Council for mediating the Big Four deadlock on the German capital issue.

Juan A. Bramuglia, Argentine foreign minister, announced that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei V. Vishinsky had agreed to the plan at a meeting with him.

Senator Connally told a news conference that "there is bound to be a way out" of the deadlock over Berlin. He said the argument over the circulation of Russian currency in Berlin does not justify the cost.

The Cross Triumphant

Church Operates Underground in Russia Millions of Christians are worshipping God in Russia despite Soviet opposition.

They are active, he said, in the western part of the Soviet union, particularly along the Don and the Dnieper rivers. He said the underground church has millions of followers, but he does not believe the time ripe to reveal details concerning the movement.

Thumbs Down

President Truman has said "no" to plans for an elaborate inauguration. Instead, he has urged that the ceremonies be kept as simple and inexpensive as possible.

"He wants it to be a real democratic inaugural," said Inauguration Chairman Melvin D. Hildreth.

German Communists named Fritz Ebert, son of the late President Friedrich Ebert of the Weimar republic, as mayor of Berlin at a frenetic outdoor rally before Berlin university.

of the air lift supplying the city, and does not "relieve us of any threats of conflict."

The United States, France and Britain gave approval in principle to the Bramuglia proposal.

THE NEW FORMULA of the "neutrals"—China, Colombia, Syria, Canada, Argentina and Belgium—was aimed at meeting western objections to talks on the currency issue under the threat of the Soviet blockade of Berlin.

The four powers agreed on the use of the Soviet mark August 30, but became entangled in a dispute over when the measure should take effect and what kind of currency controls should be established.

DEFLATION: Truman on Lookout

Like the horseman who galloped off in all directions, President Truman is sprinting both to and fro in the vexatious price control and rise.

Just as the administration was getting to battle the mounting living costs, prices sagged and now its economic experts are debating the need to don armor against deflation.

ONE TOP-LEVEL fiscal official declared, "inflationary pressures still outweigh the deflationary forces. But they aren't as great as they were a few months ago."

Embattled China

Map shows how U. S. marine reinforcements from Guam (lower right) were moved to Tsingtao (1), American evacuation center.

Safe conduct for evacuating Americans was considered imperative at the desperate battle for Su-chow between Chinese Reds and Chinese Nationalists went into its final phase.

WARNING: Doctors Must Offer It's up to the nation's doctors themselves whether they'll be drafted.

HUNGRY FED: U. S. Great Sharer

America's millions shared the hungry of the world in record amount during the past crop year, and yet managed to feed themselves better than in all their previous history.

Exports during the crop year ended July 1 totaled 19,347,000 long tons. This is the largest quantity of food ever shipped by any country in a single year.

TROOP OUSTER: Favored in Korea

The United States was reported to be supporting a proposal in the United Nations general assembly for the withdrawal of occupation troops from the Korea area as soon as practicable.

The proposal was said to be a part of a joint resolution slated to come before the political committee of the U. N. assembly when that body brings to completion its debate on the Palestine question.

HOUSING: Realtors Critical

State socialism was the goal seen by the National Association of Real Estate Boards for the promoters of public housing.

A pamphlet published by the board's legislative committee charged a "clever propaganda campaign" about housing has been developed by a coalition of planners, socialists and radicals.

THE PAMPHLET, entitled "The world owes me a living," appeared to be an attack on public housing features of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill.

THE REAL ESTATE group pointed out that many people think meat costs too much. Yet few of them, the pamphlet added, would propose that the government go into the meat business.

NO MONEY: No Draftee

Army draft calls for January and February were reduced more than two-thirds when military officials realized this was necessary if limits on defense spending fixed by Mr. Truman were to be observed.

THE JANUARY QUOTA was cut from 20,000 to 10,000 and the February call, which had been set to take 25,000 to 30,000 men, was lowered to 5,000.

OF THIS TOTAL, 600 million dollars must be spent on stockpiling strategic raw material. The balance of $14,400,000,000 will be split among the armed forces, with the army expected to get about 5 billion dollars.

BECAUSE OF THAT, the army figures it will have to limit its strength to 677,000 officers and men. This is 223,000 (24.3 per cent) under the 900,000 authorized by congress last summer.

ARMY OFFICIALS saw in the budget difficulty probability of sharp reductions in later draft calls, too. Instead of some 225,000 or 250,000 men marching off to the colors this fiscal year ending June 30, prospects were that the total would be but a fraction of either of those two figures.

THE DAY started not with the creak of shoes over the frozen snow or a wind which "checked mid-vein, the circling race of life-blood to the sharpening face," but with the soft patter of water against the prow of our little boat which lulled me to lazy reminiscence.

WE SLEPPED along the river and into the inlet. High above coursed a flock of graceful, never-lighting, man-of-war "frigate" birds.

Out sweeps a fish-hawk. In close pursuit, an eagle, who prefers a pilfered meal to one he must work for. The fish-hawk darts ahead, holding his dinner in his bill.

THIS GUEST on until finally the eagle, disgusted, gives up the chase and the kingfisher fades, fat meal in mouth, to a tiny spot in the sky.

Washington Digest Christmas This Year Finds World Still Without Peace

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON. — I've been looking over old Christmas cards, 1945!

The message I sent you that Christmas came from amidst the rubble and the ruin of shattered Nuernberg where I experienced the saddest Holy Day season of my memory.

are gone and my eyes drop to the rushes. A tranquil water turkey!

We slow down and pull it toward the shore, close to an island swamp, its edges laced thick with mangroves, those mysterious plants whose grim brown fingers clutch deep into the water as if they sought some invisible and ghoulish enemy in the depth of the water.

Trout begin to bite. And the snook! We are very busy for a while. Then the fish begin to elude me so I take up the camera.

People Await Peace on Earth My thoughts weren't on the news that Christmas a year ago, but as I look back over what David Wills (who was broadcasting in my place) said, I read this line:

"The collapse of the London conference of foreign ministers is a tangible result of the mistrust pervading the world," broadcast Wills, "for the conference adjourned without having taken those essential and decisive steps along the road to peace for which the people of the earth are waiting in anguish."

The aftermath of that collapse is still with us and the path which the nations have trod since has led us to an "uncertain" peace at best.

On Christmas eve a year ago the pope, delivering his annual message from the Vatican, spoke of a Europe "shivering and feverish from economic difficulties and social chaos."

It has given us some satisfaction to know that one idealistic concept has materialized. We have successfully prevented the spread of the powers against which the Christian world has been struggling.

Between last Christmas and this we saw Russia's cold war offensive stopped. Stopped at the Adriatic, stopped along the Seine, stopped in the low countries.

That was a not-too-happy Christmas for all the world (despite my selfish pleasures and perhaps yours, too) but, if the past year has not greatly changed that picture, it has changed it a little for the better.

BAUKHAGE

Christmas, 1945, I wrote: "I was as homesick as any young soldier in a lonely outpost with the threat of battle about him. I pictured my own hearth side, my wife and the others about the happy tree, my own tinselled packages unopened and my empty hands reaching out for them vainly over the oceans too wide to span."

Everywhere I looked that cold, damp day I saw, not war, but something more tragically eloquent—stunned, cramped souls in pinched bodies, hurrying amidst the wreckage of a city which had seen the blossoming of art and handicraft in stone and canvas and parchment which had enriched the world for centuries.

Now—1945—what is Nuernberg? Seat of the trial of Nazi war criminals.

That was my Christmas, 1945! Christmas, 1946!

"The second one in seven years when one could really talk about 'peace on earth' without shamed and downcast eyes." That's what I wrote in this column then and I went on:

"While armies struggled who could think of the message to the shepherds from the angel's chorus promising peace on earth for all men of good will."

There was, indeed, much to be thankful for and much to be hopeful about on Christmas, 1946!

I was far away from fields whitened with snow. No bright red of the holly berry. Instead, the burning hibiscus and beyond it the feathery tops of the Royal palms.

The day started not with the creak of shoes over the frozen snow or a wind which "checked mid-vein, the circling race of life-blood to the sharpening face," but with the soft patter of water against the prow of our little boat which lulled me to lazy reminiscence.

JOHNNY WAS WRONG

By DONALD HUNTER

He had placed his teacher up on a pedestal because she was "different" than all her predecessors. All his dreams for the future were crushed however, when she proved that she was just run-of-the-mill.

JOHNNY was as quiet as an empty cloakroom in Mrs. Morner's class, but he wasn't listening to the talk about Vasco da Gama and Hernando De Soto. They were only a launching point for his dreams out the classroom window. If he could discover a country, or explore—or capture kidnapers like he read about in the paper—or bandits!

Suppose a hand should walk into the school room, he dreamed, just suppose! With his mask and gun and rough voice and sharp orders, and he, Johnny, should rise—and—maybe get shot, but save her? He ended the scene each time with Mrs. Morner's grateful tears as she bent over his hospital bed.

That would be it. That would be something. It wouldn't be making a fool of himself like some of the other kids did, by bringing her an apple in the morning, or a flower from his mother's garden or offering to clean the boards. It would have to be something bigger than that, something no one else could do!

If he could risk his life for her—and not die—then she'd know love ties to his mother had been broken off one by one by her absent-minded attention to her flower garden, and by his own speech impediment. They'd hung dangling and loose about him, waiting for some other object to come along and attract them. And Mrs. Morner had drawn Johnny's loose ends, like steel cables to an electro-magnet! He had to know how she felt. But he couldn't ask. He could feel that lump in his throat, and the steady pressure in his stomach. He heard the rattle of departing children die lower in the outer hall, and he thought that pressure had burst in him when three laughing girls ran into the room.

She laid her papers aside to smile at their giggling, excited chatter. Maybe he had been wrong, he hoped. Maybe she didn't think he was bad. But he felt the depression of the distance separating him from them. He was not one of them—until he heard their talk. About flowers.

He knew about flowers, too! His mother's flower beds—her constant talk about them. Sure he did. And that was the price of admission up are. You're here for punishment—not reward!

"Punishment, not reward!—Punishment, not reward!" The words settled from bright lightning flashes to a dull rumbling like thunder rolling about his ears. He knew even before their meaning came clear to him through the shock. He had failed!

Even the girls felt it, and excused themselves quietly, leaving the room so he didn't hear. He could feel himself preparing to stare at her in stoney silence. But he was bad. And he was wrong. He didn't need any defense now. Those love ties were broken all at once now; but they weren't hanging loose and dangling, waiting for some other object to come along and attract them. A bitter acid was loose in him, burning them off at the roots. The only thing tight in him now was a new fear-some thing.

There was a faint stir of his old, dying feelings. How could he tell her how he felt about her? He wondered how she'd feel if he could let her know—really know—how he really felt about her now? He almost smiled, but he caught himself. He was wrong!

"That's all, Johnny," she said at three-thirty. "You may go now. And don't let it happen again!"

"Don't worry!" he said. He did smile at her soft tones. He wondered if the pleasant smile was a part of her punishment and reward—sort of reward for punishment, maybe!

"But you're wrong, Johnny!" he told himself as he closed the school room door behind him and gazed down the empty hall. "You're wrong, Johnny!" His heels punched sharp, ominous sounds in the empty vastness as he walked down the hall.

"You're wrong, Johnny!" he told himself again. And all the rest of his life he kept telling himself he was wrong, as he kept walking in emptiness. And all his life he was wrong. As wrong as two left shoes—as everybody knew, when they called him Public Enemy Number One!

But when she finally spoke his name, it was so softly that he turned around to see who else was named Johnny.

what he thought of her. She was the kind of lady the knights of King Arthur used to risk their lives for—she was the greatest lady of them all! She made him feel good and warm inside. Of course, he couldn't tell her in words—not with his halting speech. But that way she'd know!

Mrs. Morner was big, strong, and firm, and Johnny had been afraid of her at first—dreading the time when she would call on him, and he'd reveal his stuttering. Then in turn she'd appear surprised, patient, urgent, and finally—harsh! He'd have to stare at her in stoney silence then his only defense against an adult world.

Then of course, she would decide, as all the others had, that he was bad. She probably had some very solid ideas about discipline, about punishment and reward, and about boys she thought were bad.

But when she finally spoke his name, it was so softly that he turned around to see who else was named Johnny. He couldn't believe that easy, gentle tone was meant for him, until he looked up and saw her eyes, smiling directly at him. It was just like she knew him; like he was a real person.

She didn't try to hurry his speech, didn't excite him—and he could answer her almost without a halt. But just thinking of her sometimes was enough to bring that choking lump to his throat which broke up all his words into jumbled, meaningless sounds. When she caught him like that, she didn't raise a fuss. She simply nodded—and passed on to the next boy.

Of all his teachers, she was the one who didn't decide he was bad—the one he would do anything at all for—the one he loved.

He came out of his dream, with a sharp voice in his ear. "Johnny!" It was her voice. He felt his stomach jerk up in a tight knot beneath his chest—pressing—pressing—so he could hardly breathe. Somewhere, there was a question with it—vaguely—he hadn't heard!

"You'll stay after school tonight, young man!" she said. She hadn't even called him Johnny!

The empty room that night gave his mind space to wonder. He tried to force his eyes and attention to his history book, but only his eyes were there. He sneaked a glance at her desk where she was busy with her own papers. Was it such a bad thing he'd done? Were Vasco da Gama and Hernando De Soto so important?

Did she really think he was bad? Not that, please, his mind almost cried in his book. Not her—the only one!

Johnny's father was dead, and the there. They were all talking about flowers.

He plunged desperately toward his answer, without thinking. He knew thought brought fear. If he didn't do it right away, he'd be tightened up beyond any possible sound from his throat. He was on his feet.

"Da—Dah—Dahlia," he began, "and—zinnias—"

HIS voice was cracked, sharp. It scared him in the sudden silence of the room. Four pairs of eyes were on him, questioning, waiting—then glancing at each other. One girl's smile faded to sympathy.

"My—my mother says they—"

He stopped. His throat was closed. There was not a pin-point of welcome. Not even a hopeful frown there. There was only surprise in several degrees, and not a hint of help. And there was her blank stare!

"That will do for you, young man!" Her voice was hard, but no longer strange. He'd heard it in that way before. "You're not in this. These girls are not here as you

How many queens have you crowned in your high school this season? In Oklahoma high schools every society and organization and every important social event has its individual queen elected by an elaborate system of nominations and voting. This year's Oklahoma high school queens competed for the Queen of Queens title in a mammoth statewide contest conducted by an Oklahoma city disc jockey.

Contest Announced—A popular Oklahoma city disc jockey conceived the idea of choosing the state Queen of Queens by high school student vote. Any girl who had been queen of something or other in her high school this season was eligible. He announced the contest over his radio program and the race was on!

When Henry III spent Christmas of 1241 at Gloucester, he ordered the sheriff to buy 20 large salmon to put into pies for the Christmas dinner. Richard II feasted 10,000 people at a banquet in 1399. He kept more than 1,000 cooks, each of whom specialized in one kind of food.

Hang Stockings For Santa Claus

Why have stockings come to be a traditional receptacle for Christmas gifts?

Although historians can give no authentic answer, they point out that children's stockings are usually hung by the chimney to keep warm or dry out, so it was natural that Santa Claus should pick them as the place in which to deposit gifts.

In certain regions of France it is the shoe that is put out on Christmas Eve. Some authorities say that shoes and stockings were put near the fireplace for the same reason that an old boot was associated with a wedding—in order to bring good luck and drive away evil spirits.

Probably the most famous American story is Kate Douglas Wiggin's "The Birds' Christmas Carol." Development of Atom Bomb

Acute irradiation injury, such as accompanied the bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, will affect old and young alike and will know no economic barriers, says Dr. J. Garrett Allen, of the University of Chicago.

Speaking on "Care of Persons Exposed to Radiation," Dr. Allen stated that the wounded may become prey to all types of disease and epidemics as the result of the development of the atomic bomb, and the practical development of atomic materials. Nutrition becomes a severe problem beginning a few days after exposure, as inflammation and swelling of the intestinal tract prevent food absorption. The loss of body protein, through increased tissue breakdown, may seriously deplete the body's protein reserves. Blood and plasma transfusions at the present seem to offer the best solution to this problem.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS

by Lynn Chambers

Let Ham Grace the Yuletide Table
(See Recipes Below.)

Star Attraction

FROM YEAR to year we look forward to Christmas dinner as one of the most notable meals of the year. I've planned this year's menu with special care, with an eye to the delightful red and green color scheme, and particular consideration for the most taste-tempting recipes. You're certain to receive plenty of compliments on it!

Since the foods for the menu are star attractions, have the table setting as simple as possible.

START OFF the menu with a mouth-watering soup, so delicious from beginning to end, you'll want to serve it often. It doesn't take long to make, and the cooking time is short.

*Tomato Richard (Serves 6)

- 6 cups tomato juice
- 1 medium onion, coarsely chopped
- 1/2 cup coarsely shredded carrot
- 1/4 cup thin sliced celery
- 1 cup shredded green pepper
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- 2 bay leaves
- 6 tablespoons real mayonnaise

Simmer tomato juice, vegetables and seasonings for 10 minutes. Remove bay leaves. Stir a little of the hot mixture into the mayonnaise. Then blend all together. Top with the following: Whip one-half cup of heavy cream and add to it one-quarter cup of real mayonnaise and sprinkle with chopped chives.

A HOLIDAY HAM is a wise investment in this season where there are plenty of sizable inroads on your budget; the ham will not only fill the bill for Christmas dinner but will also pad out other menus during the holiday weekend. The leftovers can be the base for a main dish gelatin mold to grace the buffet table; for a main dish salad; and the "final finale" can go into sandwich spreads for lunches during the Yuletide vacation.

Serve your ham, resplendent on your best platter, with a garnish of orange slices topped with cranberry Christmas trees. To make these, cut canned cranberry sauce, chilled to make sure it's firm, in one and one-third inch slices. Cut out a paper tree pattern and place on slice of sauce; carefully cut around pattern with point of knife. Place the tree on orange slices. Cream a small amount of milk with cream cheese; put through pastry tube on to trees in scallop pattern to resemble Christmas tree garlands.

*Baked Ham

Place ham, fat side up, in an open roasting pan. Do not add water and do not cover. Do not baste. Bake in a slow (325° F.) oven, according to the time given below. If you have a meat thermometer, insert it through outside fat into center of thickest part of ham so that the bulb does not rest on bone or fat.

LYNN SAYS: Use These Last Minute Tips for Christmas

If your plans include mince-meat tarts, use a small star-shaped cookie cutter on the top crust after rolling. Youngsters will enjoy this novel touch especially if you insert a small red candle in the cut-out when serving.

Sweet potatoes, mashed and seasoned with butter, brown sugar and chopped nuts are flavorful. Bake in a casserole with a topping of marshmallows, if desired.

Have to glaze the fruit cake? Combine a cup of sugar with one-half cup corn syrup and one-half cup water. Cook until thick. Cool and spread on cake.

Peaches filled with cream or cottage cheese over which rides a star cut out of jellied cranberry sauce make a lovely garnish for any meat platter.

Leftover vegetables from holiday dinners can be molded in a tomato aspic with cottage cheese for a colorful salad. Add chopped celery and green pepper for crunch.

Weather Vane by Carl Starr

BIRD SIGNS

WHEN BIRDS FLY HIGH, DARTING AND PLAYING ABOUT, IT'S USUALLY A SIGN OF CONTINUED GOOD WEATHER. THE THINNED-OUT ATMOSPHERE OF A LOW PRESSURE AREA REQUIRES MORE WING BEATS FOR BIRDS TO KEEP ALOFT, THEREFORE WHEN YOU SEE A GREAT MANY BIRDS ROOSTING ON TREES, WATCH OUT FOR RAIN AND HIGH WINDS.

HOW TO FIX IT

By TOM GREGORY

WHEN A SLEEPING DOG WANTS YOU ONLY TO LET HIM LIE IN PEACE, IT'S A PRETTY GOOD SIGN THAT HE IS COMFORTABLE—BOTH INSIDE AND OUT. CHANCES ARE THAT HE'S HAD A GOOD MEAL AND IS COMPLETELY CONTENT. IF YOUR DOG EATS PREPARED FOOD FOR FAST FOR HIS OWN GOOD, HERE IS ONE THING YOU CAN DO TO HELP HIM OUT AND MAKE HIM A MORE CONTENTED CANINE:

PUT HIS FOOD IN A FAIRLY DEEP PAN AND PLACE A SMOOTH ROCK ON TOP OF IT AS SHOWN IN THE ILLUSTRATION ON THE RIGHT. THIS MAKES IT NECESSARY FOR THE DOG TO TAKE HIS FOOD IN SMALL AMOUNTS AND AT THE SAME TIME PREVENTS THE PAN FROM BEING UPSET.

TICK...TICK...TICK...TICK...THERE IS SOMETHING ALMOST HYPNOTIC ABOUT THE STEADY TICKING OF A CLOCK. IF YOU HAVE A YOUNG PUPPY OR KITTEN THAT IS RESTLESS AND WHINES AND CRIES THE FIRST FEW NIGHTS YOU HAVE HIM AT HOME, PUT A SMALL CLOCK IN HIS BOX. THE TICKING WILL SOOTHE HIM AND MAKE HIM FEEL HE IS NOT ALONE.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: Is there any remedy for crumbly brick?

ANSWER: A partial remedy is to give the bricks two coats of a cement base paint, to be bought from a dealer in mason supplies. This is a powder to mix with water. This will protect the surface of the brick only; it will not harden them throughout. Very poor bricks should be replaced with a harder burned variety.

QUESTION: I intend to put in a new cement walk in the gangway, and need to know the amount of sand, gravel and cement that I will need.

ANSWER: There is much more to be said about laying a sidewalk than the proper mixture of cement, etc. For complete information on laying concrete walks as well as proportions and amount of necessary material, ask the Portland Cement association, 33 West Grand avenue, Chicago, to send you a copy of their booklet on this subject.

QUESTION: We had planned to use a creosote stain on a white cedar rustic fence, but understand that this would be injurious to the adjacent shrubbery. What type of paint would you recommend?

ANSWER: As the cedar is resistant to deterioration, it will hardly be necessary to apply any kind of finish unless you have a special reason for doing so. A liquid wood preservative that can be brushed on could be used instead of the creosote, or else a good spar varnish.

For Joyful Cough Relief, Try This Home Mixture

This splendid recipe is used by millions every year, because it makes such a dependable, effective medicine for coughs due to colds. It is so easy to mix—a child could do it.

From any druggist, get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its soothing effect on throat and bronchial irritations.

Then make a syrup by stirring two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle and fill up with your syrup. This gives you a full pint of cough medicine, very effective and quick-acting, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and is very pleasant—children love it.

You'll be surprised by the way it takes hold of coughs, giving quick relief. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way. Pinex Saves You Money!

Swaps Cathartics For Real Relief

"I loathed taking cathartics. Now I don't use them any more, for KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every morning keeps me well regulated."—John Vargas, Detroit, Mich.

If your diet lacks bulk for normal elimination, this delicious cereal will supply it. Eat an ounce every day in milk—and drink plenty of water. If not satisfied after 10 days, send the empty carton to the Kellogg Co., Battle Creek, Mich., and get DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK.

IF PETER PAIN SHOOTS YOU FULL OF HEAD COLD

G A S

Gas in the stomach is a common disorder causing much discomfort.

Gas inflates the stomach, forcing it to crowd the heart and makes it beat irregularly. The lungs are crowded and because they cannot properly expand, the patient often takes a deep breath to get enough oxygen. These and other distressing symptoms are warnings that digestion is impaired and needs attention. Remember for every effect there is a cause. Let us explain how
