

Kewaskum Village First Over Top Again in Red Cross Drive

In the first week of the campaign, volunteer solicitors in the annual Red Cross fund drive made enough calls in their precincts during the opening seven days to put the drive at 25% of its $5,219 quota as of noon Tuesday.

General Chairman Robert E. Engelke reported a check with precinct chairmen indicated that about $1,500 had been received by volunteer solicitors during the seven days since the drive opened. He said this total compared almost identically with the status of the 1948 drive at the end of the first week.

Engelke also announced that Chairman Edw. "Pat" Miller of Kewaskum reported his precinct over the top within three days after the drive opened last week. Kewaskum and the town of Barton finished neck-and-neck in a race to determine who would be first to top the quota last year.

With only a few days of campaigning time remaining, Engelke expressed a hope that the solicitors would intensify their efforts to make certain that the $5,219 quota of the chapter would be attained before the drive closes on March 15.

"We have an outstanding record in the state," he said, "and it is up to all of us to see to it that our record remains good. The West Bend chapter has always been one of the first in Wisconsin to meet its goal. If all of us do our share we will continue that splendid record."

Chapter Chairman Stephen O'Meara emphasized that the $5,219 sought in the drive is the minimum amount needed to continue the wide variety of services offered by Red Cross in this community.

Engelke said he has received inquiries as to where solicitors should turn in their receipts and asked that all funds collected by the volunteers be turned over to their respective precinct chairman or be taken to the Red Cross office in the public library building, West Bend.

Fifteen members of the Kewaskum Kiwanis club attended an inter-club meeting at Sheboygan on Monday evening, and they came back to Kewaskum with a wider knowledge of what is expected of them as Kiwanians.

These fifteen Kiwanians were given information on committee, presidential and secretarial duties in a huge but well conducted meeting at the Foote Hotel, a meeting also attended by other clubs in the Eastern division.

Dr. John Nichols, governor of the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan district of Kiwanis, was the guest speaker. In addition to giving a hard-hitting, puno-punches address on Communism, the governor directed the general conduct of this educational program.

Harry Rahn, 48, Woman Killed in Collision

A head-on collision on a three-lane stretch of Highway 41, about one mile south of Oshkosh, Sunday resulted in the deaths of Harry W. Rahn, 48, of Milwaukee, until recently a resident of Kewaskum, and Mrs. Frank Spiegelberg, 60, of Marinette. Rahn, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rahn, lived on a farm east of this village with his parents until last fall when they moved to Milwaukee.

Sheriff Harry E. Zarling of Winnebago county said that Rahn, driving alone, apparently dived at the wheel of his car. The machine gradually curved across the highway and into the path of the car carrying Mrs. Spiegelberg and five others. Rahn died several hours after the crash.

The others, all injured, were removed to Mercy hospital at Oshkosh. They were Frank Spiegelberg, 63, husband of the victim, head and body injuries; Mrs. Clifford Werner, 26, Oshkosh, internal injuries and bruises; her husband, Clifford, an Oshkosh fireman, fractured right leg; his brother, Edward A. Werner, Eau Claire, bruised scalp, and the Clifford Werner's nine-month-old son, Douglas, slightly shaken but otherwise unharmed.

Coroner G. A. Steele said there would be no inquest.

Born Dec. 4, 1868, at Elmore, a daughter of Jacob and Magdalena Boeckinger Flater, Mrs. Stanz was married in 1913 in Menomonee Falls. The couple lived in Milwaukee for a while, and after a number of years in California came to Fond du Lac 20 years ago. Mr. Stanz was in the wholesale cheese business in California. Kewaskum gained sweet revenge for a previous beating from Menomonee Falls by walloping Falls in the final game of the season here last Thursday night, 65-36. The victory clinched third place for the Lakers, behind Plymouth and Fond du Lac, which tied for first place and played off for the title Friday night of this week. The winner plays Mukwonago, southern champs, at East Troy Sunday in the first game of the grand championship series. Kewaskum will receive awards for third place.

The Indians were exceptionally hot against Falls. Everything they touched turned into baskets. They were ahead all the way, at the quarter, 17-7, at the half, 36-13, and at the third quarter, 50-22 in the walkaway.

The winners' scoring again was very evenly divided. Krueger, with his left handed flips, scored the most, netting 14 points. Next was Schiefel with 10. High man for the opponents was forward Druceke, who garnered 8.

The Rivers five was downed again in the preliminary, 49-31, by Mequon to give them a final record of 6 games won and 11 lost. They placed eighth in the loop, composed of 10 teams, Slinger, which lost by a narrow margin to the Milwaukee Bright Spots the past week, topped first with 17 victories in a row and no defeats. Rubicon placed second and Hartford third.

Miss Comtort Bride of Carrol W. Haug

Brief mention was made last week of the wedding of Miss Rosemary Patricia Comtort and Carrol William Haug, since then the young couple has handed in a more complete account of their marriage to the Statesman.

Haug, a son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Haug, Kewaskum, and his bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Comtort, 564 Milton Dr., San Gabriel, Calif., are at home in this village after a wedding trip to Long Beach, Calif. and back to Wisconsin, from which they returned last week. They were married on Feb. 11 at 10 o'clock in St. Felicitas & Perpetua church at San Marino, Calif. by the Rev. William Fox.

The church was decorated with pot ferns and lilies for the impressive service, during which Paul J. Breting, soloist, rendered two vocal selections, "Pans Angelicus" and "Ave Maria." The bride was attended by Mrs. George Goetz, Park Ridge, Ill., sister of the groom, as matron of honor; Annamay Byrne, Chicago, was the bridesmaid.

SUNDAY ACCORDION CONCERT PROVES VERY INTERESTING

The accordianists were: Grace Kissinger, the blind girl of West Bend, Joseph Staehler, 9, Kewaskum, R. R., Donald Dickman, 13, and Lyte Hader, 15, and Ralph Wenzloff, 17, who accompanied the players on his electric guitar. Alumni Team Beats High School, 52-40

Kewaskum High school's Tri-County conference and W.I.A.A. district tournament champs stepped into company a little too strong Saturday evening when they took on a team of alumni players in a post-season tilt in the school gym. The alumni quint, composed of Kewaskum's entire Land of Lakes team except Allen Tessar, who was out of town playing with his college team that night, downed Coach Mitsenell's charges, 52-40. A gym full of spectators witnessed the match.

It was mainly a battle of the Tessar brothers offensively. The younger of the basketball playing Tessar family, Johnny, the Tri-County's and district tourney's leading scorer and record

KOHLER ELIMINATED

Kohler, which defeated Kewaskum in the regional playoffs at North Fond du Lac, lost its first game in the sectional tournament at West Allis Nathan Hale gym last Friday. Kohler was beaten by Racine Horlick, third highest rated team in the state, 74-42. Wauwatosa, last year's champs, and rated No. 1 again this year, won the sectional title by tipping Horlick, 65-56, in the finals. Kohler beat Lake Mills to take consolation honors.

setter, bested his brother Wayland in a personal scoring duel. Although held scoreless in the first quarter and to 8 points in the second period by Center Backhaus of the alumni, Johnny went on a spree in the second half, netting 18 points to make his total 26. Brother Wayland gave him a good run with 15 markers but the scoring was more evenly divided on his side.

It was too bad the third brother, Allen Tessar, couldn't be in the lineup to make it a torrid battle of the Tessars. Allen, a fine guard and rebound artist, and the potent scorer, Johnny, probably would have done some first rate tangling. Augie Bilgo, one of the Lakes' top point getters, contributed 15 points. Besides, he and Honeck, the other guard, held the high school forwards, Dreher and Kougel, to two points apiece.

The two teams played on reasonably even terms the first half, with the alumni ahead by a few points. The score was 10-6 at the quarter and 22-18 at half-time. However, the alumni's more experienced, heavier squad, so slowly pulled away in the second half.

In a preliminary game the school's up and coming B team, the varsity if next year, surprised a hapless band of alumni players representing the Land of Rivers team by defeating them in a thrilling, double overtime.

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.

BIG BUSINESS HEARD ON T-H LAW... Charles E. Wilson (right) president of General Electric, testifies at senate labor committee hearing on Taft-Hartley bill.

LABOR LAW: 'Trouble, Trouble' In the field of liberal—or, as some would term it, even "left wing"—Republicanism, the GOP's Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon was conceding nothing to no man.

MEANWHILE, sentiment was a growing among congressional observers that with every day of delay on legislative consideration of Taft-Hartley law repeal, there increased the probability of labor's falling to get as many of the law provisions outlawed as they might hope to do.

JOBLESS: 3 Million Out At present count the number of jobless in the United States stood at three million.

However, according to the experts, there was no cause for immediate concern. Commissioner Evan Clague of the federal bureau of labor said the time to become alarmed would be when the unemployed total reached five million and stayed there.

THAT WAS A POINT on which the experts disagreed. Those who were loudest in pointing to the possibility of a depression pointed out that in just three months the jobless total had jumped from 1.5 million to the present three million.

WAR DEALS: Glass Naked

A defendant in a federal income tax evasion case blamed "pay offs" to the late United States Sen. Carter Glass for war contracts as the reason for concealing more than $15,000 of his income, an agent said.

Agent Arthur K. Claxton said that was the story given him by W. Clay Counts, commission salesman for a Roanoke equipment firm in 1943. Defendant Counts asked the court to appoint counsel.

DEATH SPRAY: Nazis Had It

Out of Mountain View, Calif., came one of the most chilling, awesome post-war tales of what might have been in World War II.

THE SPRAY was described as being potent enough to knock out whole divisions of men in exposed positions.

A dime-sized spot, unless wiped off quickly, would kill a man in two minutes. It would penetrate ordinary clothing and some types of gas masks.

Authorities for these statements were U. S. army engineers who destroyed 125,000 tons of the spray where it was stored in carefully hidden caves in Bavaria.

Maj. James M. Graham of the engineer corps said the Germans called the chemical "tabun," a combination of the scientists who invented it. According to Major Graham, who had charge of the disposal of the chemical, "tabun" was a military secret until about six months ago when some information concerning it leaked out to the American public.

Then the Major said something that would add no comfort to those who fear a war with Russia. He said that the scientists who developed "tabun" were in Berlin when the Russians took over and probably became subject to Soviet control.

Speculation was that it was not used by the Germans because of a reluctance to engage in chemical warfare for a lack of knowledge of what weapons in this field might be possessed by the Allies.

OLIVER TWIST: Fagin Is Issue

Intelligent Jews would draw little consolation from the violent acts of their fellow men in multi-torn Berlin.

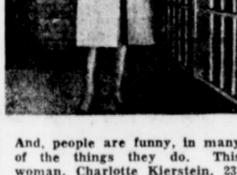

With the world on tenterhooks over the possibility of a third world war and with the issue of Palestine not yet completely settled as it affects the Jews, a mob of Berlin Jews saw fit to demonstrate over the showing of a British-made film.

THE FILM was "Oliver Twist," a story familiar to almost every English-speaking schoolboy and, apparently, familiar to a great many Jews as well.

The Berlin Jews, it seemed, couldn't stomach the Dickens creation, Fagin, one of the major characters in the story, depicted as a Jew, is an unlovely character who teaches children to steal for him and accords them brutal treatment.

The charge that the film was "anti-Semitic" was hurled by the Jewish demonstrators. Their demonstration was effective. It resulted in temporary withdrawal of the film.

People Are Funny

And, people are funny. In many of the things they do, this woman, Charlotte Kierstein, 23, on probation for a check swindle verdict, couldn't keep a job.

A-BOMBBS: Whom To Tell?

Government officials were being frank, but futile. They said they hadn't figured out how to tell Americans ways in which to protect themselves from A-bombs without letting the whole world in on the "know how."

POSTAGE: Hike Asked

A boost in some postal rates has been asked of congress by Postmaster General Jesse Donaldson. He expects to have a 1949 deficit of 526 million dollars and would like to be able to trim it a bit.

The only increase he proposed for first-class mail was for post cards. But, he pointed out, the second and third-class rates are "wholly inadequate." He suggested a varying scale of increases to even that up.

Washington Digest North, South Fought Hard Over President Buchanan

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON—Democratic harmony, so far as the Dixiecrat revolt is concerned, remains an uncertain quantity. Democrats, basically, are still Democrats, but there will always be certain fundamental differences between North and South which existed even before slavery and secession became issues.

Beyond that, however, recent clashes with the Dixiecrats are largely only a leveling off process and probably nothing a sensible compromise cannot cure.

People outside of Washington are often surprised that differences still arise between North and South over ancient matters which most of the country has forgotten. The country has also forgotten that it was here that the earliest outbreaks of sectional feeling took place.

As early as 1848, there was a riot following an "underground" slave-running incident in which 76 household servants were spirited off to freedom.

The tide continued to rise and no President, from Tyler to Buchanan, could or would do anything about it. It was an open secret that Buchanan's sympathies were largely south of the Mason-Dixon line.

Historians agree that he learned in advance the decision in the famous Dred Scott slavery case which was one of the last of the explosions which started the Civil War.

It developed that he had never seen it either. It was there—in an inconspicuous spot, a huge bronze statue, of good workmanship, backed by a wide exedra which is defined as "a seat with a high back"—but this would seat several squads of infantry.

It is a huge piece of stonework flanked by two symbolic figures in classic style, one representing diplomacy, in which Buchanan was skilled (he had served well as minister to Great Britain) and one representing the law in which, if we may judge by his breach of ethics in connection with the supreme court decision, he was not of equal stature.

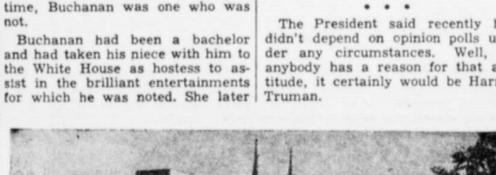

There is a certain ironic touch in the fact that Buchanan's memory had to be perpetuated in stone by family subsidy, for from 1820 to 1830 he was one of the few members of congress who pursued the futile attempt to get congress to approve a suitable memorial in the capitol to George Washington.

Efforts in this direction either were circumvented or ignored until 1831, the centenary of Washington's birth. At that time, the public was so aroused over the indifference of congress that George Watterson, then librarian of congress, formed an association which raised the money for the Washington monument which was—eventually—completed on the spot originally chosen for a statue of Washington by Major L'Enfant who drew the plans for the city.

The President said recently he didn't depend on opinion polls under any circumstances. Well, if anybody has a reason for that attitude, it certainly would be Harry Truman.

Buchanan had been a bachelor and had taken his niece with him to the White House as hostess to assist in the brilliant entertainments for which he was noted. She later

SHORT STORY
Susan's Suspicion

By EMMIE BELL PORTER

SUSAN shut the French door and held her hand over her eyes. She had distinctly heard her best friend, Phoebe, say: "Roy dear, we really should confess to Susan... even if she is your wife, you must realize that she is no child!"

Roy's darkly handsome face was bent over the chair where Phoebe reclined gracefully, one arm thrown carelessly over the cloud of dark hair which framed her delicate, heart-shaped face.

Her blue eyes were fixed on Roy's troubled brow and one slim white hand rested fleetingly on his brown one.

She knew by the uncomfortable look on both faces as she entered that the conversation had not been finished.

Susan tried to make her voice casual. "Too bad Roy has to go away so quickly on this business trip. He does hate to travel anyway... and having to leave on such short notice has really upset him."

Phoebe's eyes, usually so frank and confiding were lowered, "It is a shame, isn't it?"

AFTER bidding her good-by, Susan hurriedly joined her husband in the bedroom. Roy's usually calm face was flushed. Hastily he crammed pajamas into an open bag, as he anxiously asked, "Susan, are you sure you will be all right, staying here alone?"

"Of course," answered Susan flinging herself into a chair. Roy's dark eyes were suddenly shadowed with pain. "Dear" he murmured, laying his arm lightly around her shoulders. "Dear, I want you to always remember... I've always tried to be a good husband to you."

"Why Roy," laughed Susan as she blinked back sudden tears. "Darling! You sound as if you were going away forever, instead of just several days." She laid her hand caressingly on the broad dependable shoulders. "We have had a pretty swell life together in the two years we've been married haven't we?"

Roy tipped her head back and passed his hand over her features. "Yes, dear a most wonderful two years!" He pressed his mouth briefly against her cool lips and was gone... down the steps into the waiting car.

SUSAN slept fitfully and at eight o'clock was debating with herself whether it was worth the trouble to go down and make coffee, when suddenly and terrifyingly the doorbell rang. Susan fled down the steps with terror tugging at her heart and threw the door open to a weary looking Phoebe who stood on the steps smiling through her tears. "Phoebe," gasped Susan. "Phoebe, what—why—is anything wrong?"

"No darling," soothed Phoebe. "Everything is very much all right... very much so!" she repeated mysteriously. "I have something for you." She held out a folded piece of paper to Susan. "Here, take this. I'm spending the day with you... read the letter, then come on up and I'll answer all your questions then."

As one in a dream Susan sat down weakly and read: Dearest Dearest Susan: When you get this letter the operation will be over and everything will be perfectly all right. I found out only today that I would have to have an emergency operation and conspired with Phoebe to keep it a secret from you... knowing how much you love me and worry about me at the slightest excuse, I wanted to spare you the suspense and the worry. This was one decision I had to make alone... as I was only given a fifty-fifty chance to pull through... and I felt it was unfair to ask you to help make a decision of that kind. Phoebe has her instructions to give you this letter when and if the operation is a complete success.

Remember, I love you, Roy.

KATHLEEN NORRIS
Block That Divorce

SAVE YOUR MARRIAGE if you can. Partly because marriage is the very root and basis of our civilization, but partly, too, because there is no companionship or happiness in the world like that of a man and woman who have achieved a successful marriage.

Don't think of your relationship with your husband as a fact accomplished, finished, settled, never to change. Think of it as being constantly in a state of development, up or down, for better or worse. Either your marriage is a more perfect thing today than it was a year ago or it is a less perfect one. Which is it?

Don't let it get into an unimaginative rut, a daily pounding along at distasteful drudgery. And don't let its only bright moment be escape—the radio, the movies, parties, murder stories. Make it in itself the core of your happiness, the center from which all these amusements and activities spring. Easier said than done? Of course. But marriage, like anything else worth while, is a slow, hard, demanding job. And its success or failure is far more in the hands of the woman than the man.

Money Is The Root Finances are of first importance and most wives fail in one of two particulars there and some fail in both. First, the wife won't keep expenses down to budget lines. And second, she takes no interest in how the money is made.

This last, and it is the most common failing, is peculiar to American women. European wives share every moment of a man's care, anxiety, doubt. They know who the customers are, what taxes and rents are, what the man's hopes and plans are. But some of our women retain all their wedded lives in a state of supreme indifference and ignorance on those points. What they want is the money and nothing else. And some of them urge a man into actual dishonesties in their eagerness for money.

Once the money point is settled satisfactorily, the marriage is halfway to success. Girls before marriage ought to be encouraged to work out budgets, to consider expenditures.

The Cutter marriage was on the rocks 11 years ago this year. Everything was wrong with it. The four expensive apartment-house rooms, the two exacting babies who started coughing in November and didn't stop until April. The surveillance of Jim's mother. The money shortage. And all the details that dust, didies, dishes, disgust and disillusionment could supply.

The Cutters talked of divorce. But how? If Jim couldn't support his family in one unit, how could he support it in two?

Quarreling Stops Then the older baby got polio and Jim and Nancy were awakened. The carping, scolding, quarreling stopped like magic. Mother and father turned to the task of saving little Beverley.

Beverley needed sunshine. So they drove out into the least fashionable of Toledo's suburbs and bought two acres and a shanty for $1,300. The house had electricity, but no bathroom, no furnace, no luxuries.

"Freedom—don't we all love it—and I was free!" she writes me. "No telephone, no outside interests at all. Just Boppy, who was two when we went out there, and Bev getting well visibly, and Jim coming home a new man. He put our floor-heaters in, he got the garden into shape, he brought in the first two of my handsome brood of chickens in his pocket—tiny peepers to amuse Bev. In 1940 we mortgaged ourselves to the tune of $19,000 and built two five-room cottages on the front of our place. They are completely separate from us, and they bring in $200 a month. Jim says nothing on earth can keep us from being snug and secure."

"Well, we aren't worried about that. We're happy. I look back at our life a few years ago," the letter ends, "and I don't seem to be the same woman. That other woman always was trying to push her life aside and live in some dream. It took terror, poverty, change to awaken her. Ours isn't one of the sensational American stories. It wouldn't have mattered to anyone if our marriage had ended in divorce and our family been scattered to try all sorts of miserable makeshifts. But it does matter to us and how good it is to be busy and secure and happy!"

MIRROR of your MIND
Wrong Way to Wedded Bliss

By Lawrence Gould

Can you really "marry the wrong person"?

Answer: You can marry someone with whom you are sure to be unhappy without knowing consciously what you are doing. But the psychologists insist that this is never "accidental"—what attracts you to a person who will make you miserable is the secret feeling that he (or she) represents a way of answering the "unsolved problem" around which your whole life revolves, but which you will never solve because you do not understand it. Finding a way to regain the adoration that your mother gave you as a baby might be such a problem.

but when this is shattered by the realization that there's nothing we can do to save ourselves from immediate and deadly danger, our egos are shattered and our instincts and emotions become like an army with no one to lead it. Under such conditions we quite literally "go to pieces."

Answer: Not always in money or immediate success, perhaps, but in the peace of mind that comes from feeling we have nothing to hide from our neighbors—and still more important, ourselves. Some unusually "tough-minded" people appear able to ignore knowing there are things about them which no one must ever find out, but most of us would eventually "crack" under the strain of such a situation, even though our secrets were securely buried. The fact that so many criminals "confess" shows how true this is.

Does honesty really "pay off"? Answer: Yes, say two psychiatrists in the Journal of Nervous and Mental Diseases. The "illusion of strength"—that is, the belief that we are old and strong enough to take care of ourselves—keeps us going under normal circumstances,

Was loss of self-confidence a cause of "battle fatigue"? Answer: Yes, says a psychologist in the Journal of Nervous and Mental Diseases. The "illusion of strength"—that is, the belief that we are old and strong enough to take care of ourselves—keeps us going under normal circumstances,

LOOKING AT RELIGION By DON MOORE

KEEPING HEALTHY
Lame Back

IN FORMER days when a patient complained of a lame back, he was either advised to rest until the pain disappeared or to try to "work the pain out" by exercise. Both these methods of treatment often resulted in a permanently stiff or poker back.

According to Dr. Frank Ober, "the acutely lame back requires bed rest and quieting drugs. The bed must be firm and the mattress flat. If the mattress sags, a board 20 inches shorter than the spring should be placed under the mattress. A board under the mattress may cause more pain, and in such cases it should not be used." Sometimes putting one or more pillows under the abdomen and lying face downward keeps the back flat or straight and takes pressure off the nerves. Hot packs 15 to 20 minutes twice a day are helpful. Baking with a heat lamp the same length of time provides relief.

Today a patient with a lame back is questioned as to how and when the pain first came on—whether at rest, working or exercising, whether pain increases with exercise or increases when the patient is at rest. Generally, in the great majority of cases, if pain increases when at rest, infection is present from the teeth, tonsils, gums, sinuses, gall bladder or large intestine. If pain is increased by exercise or standing on the feet, it is caused by the injury or faulty standing or sitting, which causes pressure on the nerves of the spine.

Light, not deep massage, helps promote relaxation of the muscle spasm and aids the circulation. When the patient gets back on his feet, a well-fitted corset or other support should be put on before getting out of bed.

While the salicylate drugs are used to allay pain and relax muscles, whether the pain is due to infection (rheumatism, arthritis) or to injury, physical

HEALTH NOTES

It may come as a surprise to learn that, although vitamins are important—and their discovery ranks in importance with insulin for diabetes and liver and liver extracts for pernicious anemia—the foods themselves are important, aside from the vitamins, as there are other substances present necessary to health. The same condition applies in the case of proteins.

In every case of heart disease, the first method of treatment should be rest. Lying completely relaxed uses one unit of strength, sitting up two units, standing three units, walking five to 10 units. As complete rest may slow up circulation, and thus cause congestion of blood in the heart, the patient while in bed should move his arms and legs or undergo light massage.

The knowledge that meat is often a needed food for infants, that it is easily digested in strained form, that it makes a child more satisfied with food, sleep and feel better, should be worth much to parents.

It was Charles Mayor who stated that the physician who did not take his patient completely into his confidence was not up to date; he was very much behind the times.

Loss of appetite—and even a loss of desire for tobacco—is often the first sign of cancer of the stomach. Loss of desire for meat was recently pointed out by a noted medical authority to be an early sign of the disease.

Roger J. Williams once told the American Association for the Advancement of Science: "If we were all the same and had the same likes and dislikes, there would be no need for freedom. We would all fall readily into the same pattern of life, and difficulties would never arise."

Star Dust
STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

BETTE DAVIS, according to latest reports, was the movies' highest paid woman star of 1948. Yet, when she first tackled Hollywood practically no one, except Bette herself, would have thought she had the ghost of a chance to get anywhere near the top. She was not pretty; her figure was not especially good. Hollywood swarmed with very beautiful girls, many of them with influence that counted in their favor. But she had what counted—belief in her own talent, determination to get ahead, willingness to take roles the pretty girls wouldn't touch with a ten-foot pole. She deserves every penny of her salary.

A quartet of gay comedies worth remembering if you like to laugh—"A Foreign Affair," (Dietrich, Jean Arthur, Lund) "June Bride," (Davis, Robert Montgomery) "A Letter to Three Wives" and "Family Honeymoon."

Pity Penny Morgan, who conducts more than 300 auditions a week to weed out the talent for Arthur Godfrey's "Talent Scouts." Everywhere she goes entertainers appear and try to impress her with their talent. Even when she stays home there is no respite. "I even have a singing maim and a tap dancing grocery boy," she complained the other day.

When "My Friend Irma" reaches the screen, via Paramount, Marie Wilson will have the role she plays on the air. Diana Lynn will be "Jane," John Lund will be Marie's friend, Don DeFore will be the millionaire who falls in love with Diana. Martin and Lewis, the comedy team, will appear—not too often, let's hope—as a pair of ambitious actors.

Seeing Jane Greer smile at Dick Powell in RKO's "Station West" it's hard to believe that nine years ago she thought she would never be able to smile again. She woke one morning to find the left side of her face paralyzed. Two months of treatments did no good. But she looked so funny when she tried to smile that she took heart, exercised till she got well.

It is rumored that a newcomer to Hollywood, Brad Evans, may replace Sinatra on "Hit Parade." A former disc jockey, Evans is also an ex-FBI agent, under his own name, Joe Dosh. But he makes records under his own name.

Warner Bros. lost no time in scheduling "The Trial of Cardinal Mindszenty." Top priority has been given to the film, so that it may be produced as quickly as possible. Anthony Veiller has been assigned to produce and write it.

"I Am With You" is the first film made under religious auspices considered good enough to be distributed commercially as well as in 16 mm. form for churches, schools, etc. Portraying the experiences of Swedish missionaries on South Africa, with professional actors in important roles, it is highly dramatic and deeply moving. The Religious Film Association distributes it.

If you ask for tickets to "The Adventures of Sam Spade" you won't get them, and producer-director William Spier once more will feel like the meanest man in radio. But there cannot be an audience for this mystery show; the action must be kept taut and tense, and a gasp or an "Oh" or "Ah" might spoil it. So hundreds of would-be spectators are turned down each week.

ODDS AND ENDS... Wayne Morris has nice plans for next summer's vacation—wants to fly his wife to Alaska in his own plane... Leon Errol will star in another RKO series of two-reel comedies, which extends his association with the studio to a record—16 consecutive years... Bob Hope did 39 shows in 34 cities, grossed $650,000 during his recent personal appearance tour and gave many free shows at GI camps and for charities as well.

Max Baer, one time heavyweight champion, has a nice assignment in RKO's "Love Is Big Business." He will portray a professional wrestler who gets tossed into Claudette Colbert's lap, then is engaged as her bodyguard.

Wanda Hendrix is back at work at Paramount, making tests for her co-starring role with Alan Ladd.

White Coal White coal is the figurative name for falling water that is capable of being used for power purposes. The term originated in France; it is the literal translation of houille blanche and was probably suggested because much of the falling water in France originated in snow-covered mountains, or because falling water when filled with air bubbles appears white when compared with the blackness of coal. Tide water, usable for power, is sometimes called "blue coal."

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Serve Home-Made Rolls Often! (See Recipes Below)

Bake at Home

HOMEMAKERS who want to keep up their morale will find satisfaction in a praise of the family. Such remarks as "Oh, boy, mom is making those rolls for dinner tonight," or "The house smells wonderful with that bread baking," bring a lift and a lift to the heart of many of us beset with the routine of endless cleaning, dusting, laundry and preparing meals.

No longer need there be an excuse for not making yeast-raised breads and rolls at home, for methods have become exceedingly simplified recently. You don't even have to knead these delightful concoctions any more, and in many cases, one rising is sufficient.

No-knead rolls and bread are light and delicious. They do not have quite as fine a texture as breads which have been kneaded, but this is a small matter, especially when you can have fragrant yeast rolls so quickly.

The recipes for quick rolls of this type are quite different from others you've used. Less flour is used and the dough is soft. The directions given in this column have been carefully tested, so be sure to follow them closely, and you'll have amazing success.

FOR THIS SEASON of the year one recipe which you'll want to use often, is that for hot cross buns.

Hot Cross Buns
(Makes 18)

1 cup scalded milk
1/2 cup shortening
1 tablespoon sugar
2 teaspoons salt
1 package yeast, compressed or dry granular
1 egg
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

Combine milk, shortening, sugar and salt. When lukewarm, add yeast and mix thoroughly. Blend in egg, then add gradually the flour with raisins and cinnamon and mix until well-blended and soft. Place in a greased bowl and cover. Place dough in refrigerator until needed, or allow to rest for 10 minutes before shaping. Form dough into buns and place on greased baking sheet. Let rise in a warm place (80° to 85°) until light, about 45 minutes. In the meantime, combine one well-beaten egg white with two tablespoons of cold water and brush the tops of the buns with the mixture just before baking. Slash a deep cross on top of each bun with a sharp knife, after they have risen. Bake in a hot (425°) oven for 20 minutes.

Combine four teaspoons of milk with one cup sifted confectioner's sugar and one-fourth teaspoon vanilla. Drip this mixture over the buns filling the crosses, while the rolls are still hot.

Omit the raisins and cinnamon from the above recipe and use it for caramel rolls, as follows:

LYNN SAYS:
Serve Hot Sandwiches For a Savory Lunch

Scrambled eggs placed between two slices of buttered toast which have been spread with anchovy paste make a delectable sandwich. Spread deviled ham on white bread, top with another slice of bread and dip in an egg-milk mixture. Fry as for French toast.

Hot sliced tongue makes an excellent sandwich when teamed with fried apples on a toasted English muffin.

Grilled tomato and hot roast veal is a combination that will call for seconds or thirds when served on rye bread.

Sliced hard-cooked eggs are delicious on Boston Brown bread when topped with hot anchovy sauce.

Finely shredded carrots may be added to hamburger mixture before frying or broiling. This makes a fine hot sandwich.

Broiled pineapple slices give added zest to hot chicken or turkey sandwiches or broiled ham or roast lamb.

Caramel Rolls
Spread the dough with one and one-half tablespoons butter, melted, one-fourth cup brown sugar and one teaspoon cinnamon. Roll and cut into one-inch pieces. Combine one-half cup brown sugar, three tablespoons honey-flavored corn syrup and one tablespoon butter. Spread about one tablespoon of this mixture in greased muffin tins and place in cut pieces of dough. Let rise until light, then bake in a moderately hot (375°) oven for 15 to 20 minutes or until golden brown.

There's an old-fashioned hot bread which grandmother used to make, potato rolls, a recipe which has now been brought up-to-date with streamlined technique to speed the process.

Potato Rolls
(Makes 2 dozen)

1 cup scalded milk
3 tablespoons shortening
1 tablespoon sugar
2 teaspoons salt
1 package yeast, compressed or dry granular
2 eggs
3/4 cup hot, mashed potatoes (unseasoned)
4 cups sifted all-purpose flour

Combine the milk, shortening, sugar and salt. Add yeast and mix well. Blend in beaten eggs and mashed potatoes. Add gradually the flour and mix until well-blended and dough is soft. Store dough in refrigerator or cold place for at least two hours or until needed. The top of the dough should be greased.

When ready to use, roll chilled, dough to one-half inch thickness on a floured board. Cut with a two and one-half inch cutter. Place on a greased baking sheet. (Or, shape rolls into any shape desired, like parkerhouse, cloverleaf, twists, braids, bowknots, etc.) Let rise in a warm place until doubled in bulk, about one and one-half hours. Bake in a moderately hot (400°) oven for 15-20 minutes.

Orange Bread
(Makes 1 loaf)

1 cake yeast, compressed or dry granular
1 cup lukewarm water
1 beaten egg
2 tablespoons melted shortening
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
Grated rind of 2 oranges
3/4 cup orange juice
4 cups flour

Dissolve the yeast in water. Add the beaten egg, shortening, sugar, orange rind and juice. Stir in flour, mixing until smooth. Add more flour, if necessary, to make dough easy to handle. Let rise in bowl until doubled in bulk. Place in a greased loaf pan and let rise again until doubled in bulk. Bake in a hot (400°) oven for 10 minutes, then reduce heat to moderate (350°) and bake for 45 minutes longer.

Bulk sausage meat, fried in patties, and placed between hot pancakes, made the same size as the sausage patty, are hearty as well as good.

Place baked or boiled ham on a slice of bread and spread thinly with mustard. Top with a slice of American cheese and place in the oven until cheese melts slightly.

Sprinkle thick slices of tomato with salt, pepper and bits of bacon. Serve on slices of buttered toast which has been spread with ham salad or deviled ham.

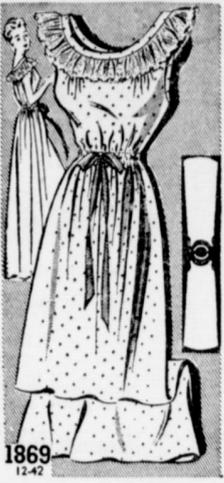

Mix sardine paste with a generous amount of cream cheese and season with onion juice and Worcestershire sauce. Spread on thin slices of white bread from which crust has been removed. Roll tightly, brush with butter and toast until golden brown.

Hot corned beef with grilled sweet potatoes are a combination certain to please hearty appetites. Serve this on crusty rolls.

Poached eggs placed on toasted English muffins and covered with cheese sauce make a filling sandwich.

Paint your hoe handle with 1-, 1 1/2-, 2-, and 3-foot markings for a handy measuring guide when you plant your garden.

Treat linoleum around the sink with an application of automobile wax to prevent spotting and water-soaking.

Use long, sweeping strokes when ironing cottons and linens—for easier and more satisfactory results.

Long Time No See

A HOUSE agent had a farm on his books which was supposed to be haunted, and to prove rumor wrong he decided to engage a man to stay there for one night. The following day he was up early and went round to see how the man had fared. But the man was not to be found. On the lawn he discovered the remains of a window, sash and shutters completely wrecked, but of the watchman there was no sign. Four days later the house agent came across him tramping along a country lane three miles away. "Hallo, George!" he cried, "Where have you been all this time?" The man puffed the perspiration from his brow. "Boss," he replied "I've been coming back."

GETTING EVEN

A school teacher was stopped by the police for driving through a red light and was immediately brought before the judge. "Sooo," said the judge, "you're a school teacher. That's fine. Madame, your presence here fulfills a long-standing desire. For years I've hoped to have a school teacher standing there." "Now," he thundered, "sit down at the table and write, 'I went through a red light' 500 times."

Ouch!

Ben—Glady's a wonder. She actually talks with her eyes. Jim—Yes, and I suppose that when she feels like using cursory language she just gives a cursory glance.

HER MISTAKE

Jimmy, who had been climbing trees, came in for the second time with his trousers torn. "Go upstairs and mend them yourself," ordered his harassed mother. Some time later she went to see how he was getting on. The trousers were there, but no Jimmy. Puzzled, she came downstairs, noticing as she returned that the cellar door, usually shut, was open. She went to the door and called down loudly and angrily: "Are you running around down there without your trousers on?" The reply came sternly in a man's deep voice: "No, madam I'm reading the gas meter."

ANY TIME'LL DO

An old man had made friends on the golf course with a young fellow whose enthusiasm for the game equalled his own. Together they played several most enjoyable games, but at last it grew too dark to continue, and they left the club together. As they went out the old chap turned to his new friend: "I've never had a better game," he said. "Nor have I!" cried the young enthusiast. "Can you meet me tomorrow?" asked the older. The young man did not hesitate. "Certainly," he said. "I was to have been married, but I can put that off."

Progress

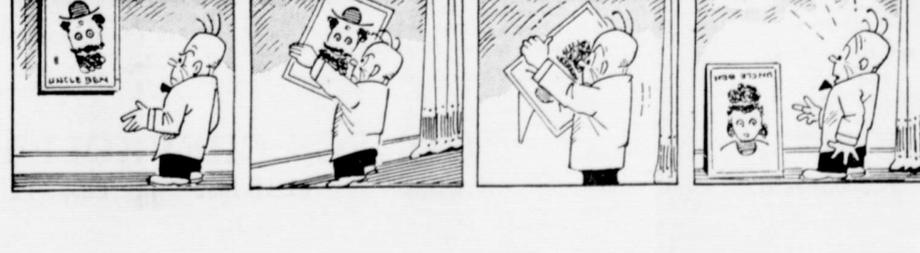

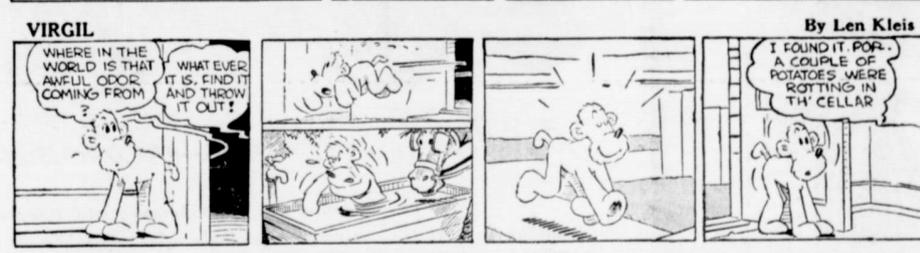

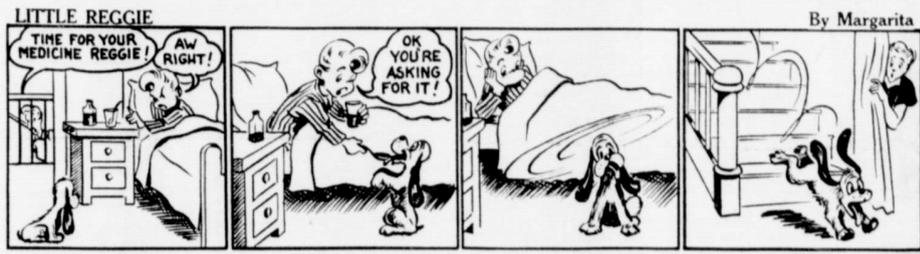

The landscape architect was showing a woman over a formal garden. "What's that?" she asked. The architect told her it was a sundial. "What's a sundial?" Whereupon her companion patiently explained how the sun, moving through the heavens, casts a shadow which is recorded on the dial, indicating the time of the day. The woman beamed with interest. "My! What will they be thinking of next?" she exclaimed.

IT'S YOUR OWN FAULT YOU WEREN'T INVITED TO EDITH'S BIRTHDAY PARTY. THAT MOUSE YOU TOOK TO HER LAST PARTY SCARED HER CAT AWAY!

"AGE BRINGS SUCH RESPONSIBILITIES! REMEMBER WHEN WE HAD SO FEW CARES?"

National Secretary Group Asks Certification Degree

KANSAS CITY, MO. — Certified professional secretaries are a possibility within the next two or three years, if the aim of the National Secretaries association is fulfilled. The 10,000-member group contends that a woman can do the boss' job in his absence rates a C. P. S. However, the association makes it clear that standards for a C. P. S. will be set high.

Al Robbs Virtually Owns A Town All by Himself

ROBBS, ILL. — When Albert Robbs speaks of his own home town, he knows what he's talking about. Robbs owns every house, industry and store in this town of 150. He owns a flour mill, lumber yard, restaurant, general store and automobile agency. About the only things he doesn't own are the school and postoffice.

Men Demand Both Beauty, Brains in Their Brides

NEW YORK — You are strictly behind the times if you think men want wives who are beautiful but dumb, says Dr. Frances Scott, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women (140,000 members). "I see silly girls," she says, "who still think they have to do the 'Oh, you great big strong man!' act. It doesn't work."

Tenant Farming Shown As Being on Decline

WASHINGTON — A smaller number and percentage of the nation's farms were operated by tenants in 1945 than at any time since 1890, the census and agricultural economics bureau recently reported. Tenant operated farms numbered 1,858,421 and made up 31.7 per cent of the 5,859,169 total farms in 1945, the bureau said. The average size of farms, 194.9 acres, is up a third since 1920.

Railroad Conductors in Argentine Must Be Tough

BUENOS AIRES, ARGENTINA. — The cold war between passengers and conductors of Argentine railroads has developed into a shooting war. The trouble began when the government railroad administration decreed that passengers no longer could buy tickets aboard the trains. These hostilities have resulted:
1. One passenger threw a conductor off a moving train.
2. A conductor fired a pistol at a passenger. The bullet missed, but the passenger fell off the steps of the moving train, breaking his ankle.
3. Another passenger tried, unsuccessfully, to throw a conductor off a train.
4. Passengers continually jeer the conductors as they pass through the coaches; delay in showing their tickets and generally make things unpleasant for rail employees.

Speechless 5 Years, Vet Regains Voice on Coaster

NEW YORK — The mile-a-minute roller coaster at Coney Island scared Emilio Franco into screaming, just like anyone else. But Franco's shouts were the first sounds he has uttered in five years — since he mysteriously lost his voice while serving as an army private in 1943. Doctors had told the 35-year-old machinist and coal miner from Fairmont, W. Va., that he had "hysteriaphonia," an ailment where speech is lost without organic reason. During his first ride on the roller coaster at a relative's suggestion — Franco suddenly began to scream and shout. When the roller coaster stopped, Franco spoke his first words since 1943: "I feel sick."

To Avenge Parrot's Death Owner Tries to Shoot Cat

MIDDLETOWN, CONN. — The cat came back, minus bullet holes and with all of its nine lives intact. And Charles Nixon, who already has paid a fine for supposedly killing the feline, says he won't shoot at it again. The cat, called Rufus, killed Nixon's 30-year-old parrot, Texas. To avenge his pet, Nixon shot at the cat and saw it drop. Nixon was taken into court, paid a $5 fine and asserted, "It was well worth it." However, Rufus returned home. Numerous scars on his body told of his fracas with the late Texas. But there was nary a bullet hole. "He must have been playing possum," commented the examining veterinarian.

Lumberjack Claims Eating Championship of U. S. Army

FT. MONMOUTH, N. J. — Ft. Monmouth claimed the eating championship of the U. S. army — it said it had a private who "thinks nothing of a breakfast of three dozen eggs, four to five grapefruit, a pound of bacon, a pitcher of coffee or a half gallon of milk." The post public information office identified the man as Pvt. George Newhall, 22-year-old ex-lumberjack from Marquette, Mich. The announcement said Newhall had gained 30 pounds since he joined the army in 1944. Newhall, 6 feet tall and weighing 223 pounds, takes his place regularly at the end of the mess line, the PIO announced, and cleans up anything remaining in the kitchen "after all his buddies have been served." His dinner diet at one recent sitting, the announcement said, consisted of "a five-pound meat loaf, a head of lettuce, creamed chicken and rice on the side, two ears of corn and a whole pie." Newhall was described in the announcement as the wholesome, outdoors type.

Homeless Veteran Complains Of Too Much Human Kindness

ST. LOUIS — Roy Webb's joy of living has been killed by other people's kindness. Webb, a war veteran out of the quartermaster corps, lost his home and his belongings in a fire. His troubles began when neighbors collected $72 to help him. "Everyone is careful to mention how much he contributed. I've added it all up and it comes to about $5,000." "They all think I'm a millionaire because one group said it was going to try to raise $7,000 for me." "The neighbors expected me to build a new house overnight. I've had to spend so much time at it I lost my job as a sign erector." "Carpenters, electricians, plasterers and others volunteered to help but none ever showed up." "People wouldn't let me build the kind of house I wanted. I wanted something fabricated but they all insist I build something more expensive." Webb said he is selling the half-completed house so he can return the contributions.

NOTICE

Before you buy a piano accordion check for the following thing: the lower priced Italian accordions have usually only two sets of reeds or two reed blocks on the right side. This can be told by pulling the bellows pins and looking inside. Don't be misled by the fact that an accordion has buckskin bellows corners. This is found even in the lowest priced instruments if manufactured by reliable companies. Ask for a name brand instrument in order to have security on repairs, etc. However, some companies use names of small towns in Italy as a trade name. This is usually found in the lower price class. If you're in doubt check a map of Italy so you can distinguish between the name of a town and a reliable trade name. For accurate appraisal see Survis Music Store, 419 N. Main St., West Bend, Phone 515W—adv.
