

Woman Severely Hurt in Fall or Leap From Fast Train on Monday

Miss Dorothy Marie Crowley, 30, of Milwaukee was in critical condition in St. Agnes hospital, Fond du Lac, with injuries sustained when she leaped or fell from a fast moving Chicago & North Western streamliner Monday evening near Campbellsport.

She was found lying unconscious beside the railroad tracks about 8:15 p. m. by a section crew from Campbellsport. Physicians reported that she suffered a possible multiple head injury, fractures of her right leg, cuts and bruises, possible internal injuries and was suffering from severe shock and exposure.

The incident was discovered shortly after 6:30 p. m. after the speeding train had departed from West Bend for Fond du Lac. A brakeman came across a woman's hat and shoe in one of the vestibules and notified the conductor, R. I. Mann, Milwaukee.

When the train reached Fond du Lac Mann notified depot employees and they contacted the Chicago main office, then notified the section crew at Eden and road employees at West Bend. The latter office called crews at Campbellsport and Kewaskum to go out and search for the woman.

Fond du Lac county police were notified when the crew came upon the unconscious woman. Police instructed the crew to place her on the handcar and meet the county ambulance at the next crossing. From there she was taken to the hospital.

Indians Defeated in Lomira Tourney

Kewaskum's Land o' Lakes team, competing in the Lions club sponsored gold medal tournament at Lomira, lost their opening round game Tuesday night to Random Lake by a close 39-27 score. The Indians defeated Random twice during the regular season but played a poor brand of ball in dropping the journey event. Random placed 7th and Kewaskum 3rd in the Lakes.

In the other game Tuesday Kewaskum's team of Fond du Lac lost to Rosendale, 37-35. The tourney opened Sunday with Lomira scalping a very weak Brandon unit, 115-18 and the Campbellsport Belles trimming the Mayville Aces, 49-50. Lomira and the Belles ended up in the last two places in the Lakes circuit. Kewaskum is defending champion from last year in the Lomira meet.

The semi-finals were played Thursday and Friday nights. Brandon and Mayville met Thursday in the consolation series and Lomira and Campbellsport tangled to reach the championship final, Friday Kewaskum and Kitchhausers squared off in the consolation bracket and Random Lake and Rosendale met in the title series. Winners will play Sunday night for consolation and championship honors.

Kewaskum's 39-27 setback at the hands of Random Lake was a heart-breaker but the locals set up the defeat themselves. Augie Bilgo and "Zeke" Stoenaler tied for offensive honors with 11 points apiece in the mostly defensive tilt. Only 16 fouls were called in the entire fracas.

The memorial concert will be played in the Memorial Union, the building which was erected and dedicated to the 25,780 men and women of the university who have served the country in war. It includes the names of 31 men who lost their lives in the Civil war; two in the Spanish-American war; 196 in World War I, and 612 during World War II. Many of these Gold Star Badgers were decorated for bravery in action.

Red Cross Fund Goal is Exceeded at Close of Campaign Tuesday

Passing its quota within the allotted time, the fund campaign of the West Bend chapter, American Red Cross, was reported over the goal of $5,219 on the last day of the campaign, Tuesday, according to drive chairman Robert E. Engleke.

A roundup of reports from township, village and city chairmen Tuesday showed the drive had exceeded its goal on the official last day of the two week campaign. Engleke said he believed the total would go still higher after all reports are in from the various precincts.

"The reports given us Tuesday show that precinct quotas have been exceeded in nearly every case," he said. The chairman praised highly the efforts of the campaign workers and thanked the people of the chapter area for their generosity.

"The cooperation of our volunteer campaign workers and the generous spirit of the people cannot be praised high enough," Engleke said. A complete and final report on the results of the drive should be available, the chairman reported in about two weeks. Many solicitors are still busy canvassing their areas and he urged all workers to make final reports to their individual chairmen as soon as possible in order that a complete campaign report may be compiled. It is important that these reports be made at once, Engleke indicated, since no final analysis of the drive can be made until all workers have made their reports.

Notified that the quota had been exceeded, West Bend chapter Chairman Stephen O'Meara expressed appreciation to all who helped put the drive across and to all who contributed.

"Once again the business people, the farmers, the men in the factories, our industries, the civic and fraternal organizations and the people in general, have exemplified their interest in the services of Red Cross by assuring a continuation of those services through generous support of the fund campaign," O'Meara said.

Although the drive officially closed Tuesday, many solicitors were still busy this week making calls in their areas and it was expected the final total would go still higher, possibly exceeding the quota by more than 10%.

Kewaskum to Have 1949 County Barley Contest

For the past three years the local county barley committee has cooperated with the Wisconsin Growers' association in sponsoring a barley growing contest. The rules for the contest are very simple. They are:

- (1) Fill out, sign, and return an entry blank to the extension office before May 15.
(2) That you grow a reasonable acreage of barley, say 5 acres or more.
(3) That you exhibit one-bushel sample of your threshed barley at a county barley show to be held at Kewaskum during the month of August in connection with their farm festival program.

These samples will be judged and all prizes will be awarded on the basis of this judging. This bushel sample will be purchased by the county barley committee for two ($2.00) dollars.

All who compete in the contest and exhibit a bushel sample will receive a case of beer free as a compliment of the Washington County Barley committee.

The Kiwanis club of Kewaskum will furnish free luncheon during the noon-hour to all who exhibit bushel samples of barley.

Prizes will be as follows: 1st and 2nd—$25.00. 3rd, 4th, 5th—$20.00. 6th to 8th—$10.00. 9th to 12th—$5.00. 13th to 18th—$4.00. 19th to 23rd place—$3.00. 24th to 34th place—$2.00. 35th to 50th places—$1.00.

If you do not receive an entry blank before April 1, please write or phone the agricultural extension office, post office building, West Bend, for your entry form.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Truman Threatens to Take Battle On Legislative Program to People; MacArthur Sees No Russian Attack

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

TRUMAN:

All Aboard!
President Truman, who obviously regards himself as the "man with a mandate," was tossing some not too subtle threats toward congressmen inhospitable to his legislative proposals.
Keep fooling with me, he said, in effect, and I'll hit the old stump again—and you know what that means.
The President meant that if congress didn't set about soon enacting into law the pledges he made to the people during the November campaign, he'd hit the trail again and take the issue to the people—the way Franklin D. Roosevelt used to do.

MR. TRUMAN apparently felt that by so doing he could whip public sentiment up to such a pitch that congress would be forced to go along with his program, or else face possible defeat in the 1950 elections.
Not having the vocal equipment of his predecessor, who could get desired results with his "fireside chats," Mr. Truman would have to climb aboard a train if he wanted to influence the masses.

Strangely enough, congress didn't seem unduly perturbed at the President's three things he went along in congressional procedure about as usual, with Republicans charging that the 81st congress is also a "do nothing" congress, while Democratic members were inviting comparison with the "do nothing" 80th congress.
IT WAS READILY evident that Mr. Truman was needed by lack of congressional action on his program. Reiterating his campaign pledges of last fall, in which he declared the central issue was the "welfare of all the people," Mr. Truman asserted that lobbyists, pressure groups, and controlled editorial pages, columnists and commentators were offering determined opposition to his legislative program.
"All we have on our side," he said, "is the people."
Pointing out that he found on his campaign tour that the people of the nation are concerned about their government, Mr. Truman termed that concern a "fine thing."
"I propose to do all I can to help it along," he added. Then he hurled the threat: "In fact, I may even get on the train again and make another tour around the country to tell the people how their government is getting on."

INFLATION:
Has Two Faces
Observers purportedly on the "inside" of things in Washington regard approval of the congressional committee on the economic report—Mr. Truman's proposal for controls to ward off inflation—as lip service only and argue that none of the committee expect the proposal to win congressional favor.
It was said the favorable committee report was made only to "save face" for the President as he seeks to implement the pledges he made in his election campaign.

THE COMMITTEE vote, which will send the measure to the floor of congress, was 7 to 4 for approval, and that came only after the proposals of the President had been toned down.
Critics of the Truman plan say it poses the unique theory that the country is in the midst of an inflation and deflation period at the same time—a condition admittedly difficult of comprehension.
They assert, too, that it would give dangerous controls to the President at a time when they actually are not needed.
One commentator observed that if any members of the committee considering the proposal had had any idea it would be enacted by congress, it would have been killed completely before it ever got to the floor of the house or senate.

JAPAN:

Reds Answered
The Russians had an answer to what would happen if they ever moved on Japan.
Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in a special interview, declared that he did not expect any attack upon Japan by the Russians, but if that occurred, "we," meaning the United States, "should certainly defend her."
THE ENTIRE IDEA of a Russian attack on Japan held a bizarre aspect. With the U.S. as chief occupation force, how could the Soviets launch an attack of the Japanese without, in effect, making war on the United States?
But, General MacArthur evidently held the subject serious enough to comment about it.
"In case of another war, we do not want Japan to fight," MacArthur said. "Japan's role is to be the Switzerland of the Pacific," he explained.
THEN HE MADE a telling point in speculation of a Russian attack on Japan:
"Even if the Soviet government had aggressive intentions toward Japan, Russia would be incapable of carrying them out unless she could secure mastery of the air and either had a far Eastern fleet of her own or possessed the means of neutralizing any action by our fleet.
"Russia could not obtain air pre-eminence," he went on. "On Okinawa I had constructed at the end of the war 25 airfields with the capacity to dispatch B-29's, then our largest bombers, on 3,500 missions a day. The whole of eastern Asia from Singapore to Vladivostok would lie within range of those machines."
HE DID NOT point out that with development of the bombing arm of the air force since the war, even farther distances for bombing purposes could be covered by present-day missile carriers.
Of the function of Japan in the American strategy of defense, MacArthur said:
"We never intended to use Japan as an ally. All we want her to do is remain neutral."

UNIVERSE:

No Limits?
Since the first man lifted his head and gazed in puzzled awe at a star-studded sky, mankind has been trying to discover the secrets of the universe.
To that end, the huge, 200-inch Palomar mountain telescope was built and put into operation.
But the telescope's first contribution to the sum of man's knowledge of the universe served only to deepen the mystery.
Astronomers using it found that there is no outer edge to the universe of stars, and the look they took was twice as far as man has ever looked before.
The astronomers got some pictures of nebulae a billion light-years distant and spaced about a million light-years apart. Each one is a world of stars, like the Milky Way. The star worlds are about uniformly spread up to the previous limits of sight, about a half-billion light-years.
THE NEXT STUDY will be to find whether there is any thinning of the celestial families as sight is extended outward.
On a stunning fact the discovery brought home was that there is more than one star for every human being who ever lived. Nearly every star family, or nebulae, contains more than a hundred million individual stars.
Now it is science concurring in the psalm: "The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament showeth His handiwork."

DENTURES:

Save Life
In Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, George Hatfield put the barrel of a .22 calibre rifle in his mouth and pulled the trigger.
The bullet ran around the inside of his false teeth, came out his mouth.
Dr. J. E. Grimby, who treated Hatfield for a cut tongue, said the man was alive because:
The bullet was 10 years old.
The false teeth were in its way.

MORE CARS:

Makers Trying
The nation's automobile industry was making every effort to produce new cars. Already the production total was nearing the million mark, and the goal was 115,000 each week. Despite many interruptions, factories reported they were running ahead of last year. At this time last year, output stood at 810,000.
The car makers were convinced that this year's output would go well above the 1948 figure.

ian attack on Japan held a bizarre aspect. With the U.S. as chief occupation force, how could the Soviets launch an attack of the Japanese without, in effect, making war on the United States?
But, General MacArthur evidently held the subject serious enough to comment about it.
"In case of another war, we do not want Japan to fight," MacArthur said. "Japan's role is to be the Switzerland of the Pacific," he explained.
THEN HE MADE a telling point in speculation of a Russian attack on Japan:
"Even if the Soviet government had aggressive intentions toward Japan, Russia would be incapable of carrying them out unless she could secure mastery of the air and either had a far Eastern fleet of her own or possessed the means of neutralizing any action by our fleet.
"Russia could not obtain air pre-eminence," he went on. "On Okinawa I had constructed at the end of the war 25 airfields with the capacity to dispatch B-29's, then our largest bombers, on 3,500 missions a day. The whole of eastern Asia from Singapore to Vladivostok would lie within range of those machines."
HE DID NOT point out that with development of the bombing arm of the air force since the war, even farther distances for bombing purposes could be covered by present-day missile carriers.
Of the function of Japan in the American strategy of defense, MacArthur said:
"We never intended to use Japan as an ally. All we want her to do is remain neutral."

Answers Critics

Former Gov. Mon C. Wallgren, Washington, nominated by President Truman to head the national security resources board, denies critics' charges at committee hearing. He was accused of being "soft toward communism." He branded the charges "ridiculous and silly."

Since the first man lifted his head and gazed in puzzled awe at a star-studded sky, mankind has been trying to discover the secrets of the universe.
To that end, the huge, 200-inch Palomar mountain telescope was built and put into operation.
But the telescope's first contribution to the sum of man's knowledge of the universe served only to deepen the mystery.
Astronomers using it found that there is no outer edge to the universe of stars, and the look they took was twice as far as man has ever looked before.
The astronomers got some pictures of nebulae a billion light-years distant and spaced about a million light-years apart. Each one is a world of stars, like the Milky Way. The star worlds are about uniformly spread up to the previous limits of sight, about a half-billion light-years.
THE NEXT STUDY will be to find whether there is any thinning of the celestial families as sight is extended outward.
On a stunning fact the discovery brought home was that there is more than one star for every human being who ever lived. Nearly every star family, or nebulae, contains more than a hundred million individual stars.
Now it is science concurring in the psalm: "The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament showeth His handiwork."

WAR TALK:

Little Ease-up
There was little ease-up in the talk of possible war.
War rumors were still flying, the latest reporting that the Russians had strengthened their garrisons along the Soviet-Norwegian border. A "well-informed" Finnish source was credited with the report.
The informant said the Russian troops had come from the Murmansk area. When not estimating the number involved, he said the troop movements had been observed and apparently were in connection with the stand taken by Norway on the north Atlantic defense treaty.
THE INFORMANT said there were no indications of similar troop movements along the Finnish border.
Norway and Russia now have a short common frontier in the far north. The frontier was established when the Petsamo region of Finland was ceded to the Soviet union under terms of the Russo-Finnish peace treaty.
The Soviet union recently proposed to Norway that both nations sign a non-aggression pact. Norway has made it clear she will not enter into such a treaty. Instead, Norway appeared disposed to cast its fortunes with countries in the proposed north Atlantic treaty—The United States, Canada, Britain, France, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and Belgium.

SLOWDOWN:

Banned By Court
The supreme court has upheld a Wisconsin ban on the slowdown as a union tactic in a dispute with management.
By a 5-4 vote, it sustained a state law which prohibits any concerted efforts by workers to interfere with production except by going on strike.
The specific action involved was a series of unannounced work stoppages.

CORNERSTONE:

Truman for U. N.
President Truman will lay the cornerstone for the permanent headquarters of the United Nations on April 10.
The President will head a list of speakers that will include Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian foreign minister and president of the general assembly. The ceremony, in New York, will be attended by representatives of all 58 member nations and thousands of visitors.

Phone Aid Advances

A house subcommittee has approved a bill to let the government make loans for a vast expansion of telephone service to farm areas. The unanimous action came after the committee had adopted amendments aimed at protecting existing telephone companies and encouraging the development of rural telephones by private industry.
The bill authorizes REA to make 35-year loans at 2 per cent interest.

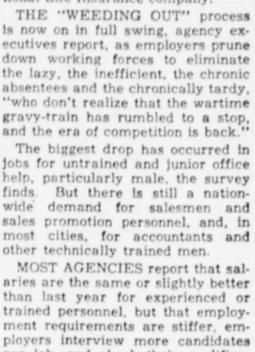

MacArthur to Stay

General of the Army Douglas MacArthur preferred to stay in Japan.
As a result of his expression of that desire, the colorful army leader would not be called as a witness before the senate armed services committee to testify on conditions in the Far East.
The general, noting in the press a report that he would be requested said he couldn't appear.

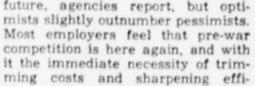

FEWER JOBS:

For White Collars
There are many fewer "white collar" job openings than a year ago in most U. S. cities, but high grade personnel is still in demand. The volume of job-seekers, particularly men, is up all the way from ten per cent to as much as 300 per cent, but a heavy majority of the applicants are below-standard material and there is little market for them.
This is the tenor of reports from 106 private employment agencies in 42 principal cities from coast to coast, surveyed by the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance company.
THE "WEEDING OUT" process is now on in full swing, agency executives report, as employers prune down working forces to eliminate the lazy, the inefficient, the chronic absentees and the chronically tardy, "who don't realize that the wartime gray-train has rumbled to a stop, and the era of competition is back."
The biggest drop has occurred in jobs for untrained and junior office help, particularly male, the survey finds. But there is still a nationwide demand for salesmen and sales promotion personnel, and, in most cities, for accountants and other technically trained men.
MOST AGENCIES report that salaries are the same or slightly better than last year for experienced or trained personnel, but that employment requirements are stiffer, employers interview more candidates per job, and check their qualifications much more thoroughly.
The great majority of employers dealt with are uncertain as to the future, agencies report, but optimists slightly outnumber pessimists. Most employers feel that pre-war competition is here again, and with it the immediate necessity of trimming costs and sharpening efficiency at every possible corner. The prevailing attitude is that good business can be had by means of increased efforts, if pending legislation does not turn out too unfavorably; many concerns are reported as marking time on their future programs until they can see how the new tax program and labor law shape up.

WEEKLY PICTURE STORY

Mush No More...
Up in northern Manitoba, Canada, they have a new kind of snow-mobile called the "Bombardier," the proponents of which claim it will go anywhere on snow or ice at a mile-a-minute clip, regardless of snowdrifts.
And the word around the frozen wastes of the North is that this snow-travelling contraption soon will supersede the dog teams and sleds which for generations have been the only practicable means of transportation in the aurora borealis country.
(Incidentally, the fresh-cheeked young thing sitting on the ice man's lap is Shirley Cane of Alberta. She's a skier and really doesn't belong with the rest of these pictures; but it's all right, isn't it?)

At the right is a man whose storied occupation apparently is destined for extinction. He is a dog team driver—a figure right out of the gripping history of the North—and he stands bundled against the minus-50-degree temperature in layers of leather, fur and wool, protected from mishap by the polished trophy foot hanging around his neck.

Had Harry kept his mouth shut, let the building deteriorate and bravely crashed through the floor in his tub, it might have been far from a calamity so far as his fortunes are concerned.

The accident would have given the people a new appreciation of what a president has to go through.

This is an era of rumor, gossip and suspicion; the story would have spread that the Republicans had undermined the timbers, and this would have increased pity for the President.

There has seldom been a time in major league history where so many ball clubs in both leagues could be rated with a healthy chance to win.

The best ball club in the two leagues looks to be Cleveland.

If Billy Southworth could win a flag over two months and Warren Spahn affixed with an off year for Spahn, there is no particular reason why he should not win again with a few slight improvements and more help from these two standbys.

Also, I have a fair idea that Billy Southworth's Braves will come north in April the best-conditioned team in the older circuit.

Golden Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Krueger

Golden memories now are those in connection held in honor of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Krueger at their home at Cascade Sunday, March 6.

The honors were golden flowers. Mr. Krueger wore a boutonniere and Mrs. Krueger a corsage presented to them by the mission circle of St. Paul's Lutheran church, of which Mrs. Krueger is a member.

During the afternoon relatives and friends of the couple called at their home and again when they extended the hospitality of open house during the evening.

At 12 o'clock noon dinner was served and at 7 p. m. there was a supper for the members of the family and close relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Krueger's home was decorated with golden colored jonquils, carnations and snapdragons. They were remembered with a large wedding cake decorated with golden leaves and a 50th anniversary statue. They also received many beautiful gifts and money from their children and relatives.

The couple was married on March 6, 1899, at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Cascade, by Rev. Haezel. After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Krueger resided on farms in Mitchell and Lyndon for 20 years; since then they have resided in Cascade where Mr. Krueger has been and still is a carpenter contractor.

To them were born four children. One son, Alvin, passed away in infancy. Their children are August, Cascade; Lorena (Mrs. Monroe Stahl), Beechwood, and Anita (Mrs. Frederick Julge), Plymouth. They have seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

IF I COULD LEARN TO SAY THAT FASTER, MANY BE IT WOULD DO SOME GOOD AROUND HERE.

U. S. Senator Cain's wife is here "to study television." She has given him a year to Decide Things... Mary Damon (last year's big deb) and Herbie Klotz are walking backwards... Eleanor Milliken and her sister Emily inherit more than a million from their mother, who passed on a week ago... The Aubrey Williams (she's Robin Russell, the radio actress) are producing... "The shotgun wedding" due soon among the Zoocial Set is Topic "A" in the Palm Beach ginnills... The Easter Parade will see Lucius Beebe garbed in Gay 90s apparel... Italian police are hushing the suicide of a Philly matron, who made Capri her home. Pat of Countess Di Frasso... Dr. T. F. Tsiang, chief Chinese delegate to the UN (in the recent headlines via a weird divorce suit), gave a speech at the World-wide Club 2 days later on "The Virtues of Home Life in China."

80-year-old Bernarr Macfadden is sending cards to all men who are over 40, asking them if they are losing their "Adam Power"... He calls attention to the fact that after marrying a widow of 44, he is re-asserting his belief that virility should improve with age. He wants to share his secret. He claims Adam's last name was Macfadden.

The Washington Ticker: Although Cong. Wood of Georgia is Chairman of the Un-American Activities Committee, the real boss is Francis Walter, a Democrat of Penn... If Dewey doesn't run for the Top Slot in '52, he'll control enough delegates (they say) to have a strong hand in the selection of the candidate... Two days after Dean Acheson became Mr. State Dept.—the Manhattan Art Galleries raised the prices of his wife's paintings as high as 300%... Mrs. Vandenberg (wife of the Senator) is very ill... Gen. Walter (Beedle) Smith was due out of Walter Reed Hosp yesterday... Ass't Sec'y of State J. Peurifoy is at Bethesda Hospital. He supervised the film, "State Dept. File No. 649," a thriller, which started at the Globe on B'way Sat-dee.

Time mag (the other weekend) had a Communist on its front cover. Finally keeping them where they can be seen, eh? That weekly is clogging the mails with subscription blanks. Wha-hopper?... They say Gable returned a married woman's gifts in a garbage can... We hear the Maharajah of Indore and his U.S.-born wife will have a Renovation... The Little Palm at Miami is gay again since "Danita," a lovely Latin, opened there... The Joe E. Lewis-Tony Martin marriage at the Beachcomber is swlegant... The big dinner in memory of Colonel David Marcus (the Israeli pioneer who was slain there) is set for the Waldorf on the 23rd... The star Carol Lynne's latest uh-huhney is Angus MacPherson. He flies to London every fortn... The Criterion Theatre is plastered with huge, sexy cutouts of starlet Felice Ingersoll. She's in the film, "He Walked by Night," for exactly 30 seconds.

Lucille Johnson once stopped shows at the old Paradise on Broadway until a rave here got her a screen test from L. B. Mayer in person. She spurned them all to marry and raise tots. Collabbing with her husband (Ray Carter), they've been writing recorded stories for tots—all clicks.

Mrs. Tony Galento says she's often felt like conking Tony, but it never happened as itemed. "The publicity is good for his exhibition tour, however"... The gaming places in Florida have cut down the chemin-de-fer stakes to lure players... If Chicago censors are nervous about "The Respectful Prostitute," what'll they do about M. Valency's "The Reluctant Virgin"?... June Sitarr and her Greensboro, N. C., groom have another son. June's a former showgirl.

MIRROR of your MIND

Loving Helps Understanding

By Lawrence Gould

Does loving a person help you understand him?

Answer: Being "in love" is more apt to have the opposite effect, for it makes you so desperately to believe the person whom you love is your "ideal" that you're likely to endow him with whatever qualities that implies, whether he shows any actual traces of them or not. But with someone you have loved a long time and are sure of, you may well see virtues or abilities which no one else has noticed and which might never have been developed but for the encouragement you gave them. Such love makes your ideal come true.

Can epilepsy mask emotional disturbance?

Answer: This may be true with the mild form called "petit mal," in which there is no conclusive seizure but only a temporary blotting out of consciousness and memory. In Psychosomatic Medicine, Dr. Wayne Barker of Cornell Medical college tells of a young woman patient whose associations under psychoanalysis showed that at the time of such attacks her superficial calmness hid intense emotion. The attacks came on in situations where her deeper and unconscious feeling conflicted unbearably with those she felt she should have.

Are phobias and nightmares alike?

Answer: They have many points in common in both cases, what the person really is afraid of is something in his own mind (generally a forbidden impulse) which he does not dare to admit except under the disguise of a comparatively harmless "symbol." Also in both cases the danger is made to seem to come from the outside world because this is not as frightening as to accept it as part of himself. A neurotic fear of dogs, or nightmares about tigers might equally represent the person's dread of his own hostile and aggressive feelings.

LOOKING AT RELIGION

By DON MOORE

NEW YORK CITY ACCORDING TO A LATE "PEDEST" HAS A 650,000 OF ITS POPULATION NOT ACCOUNTED FOR IN ORGANIZED RELIGIOUS LIFE.

KEEPING HEALTHY

Hearing Aids

By Dr. James W. Barton

IT IS gratifying to meet friends and acquaintances, formerly hard of hearing, who now meet you with a normal, not a questioning, expression on their faces because they are wearing properly-fitted and suitable hearing aids.

Oculists and optometrists not only make sure of prescribing the proper lenses for the patient, but they also insist upon fitting the frames so that the patient obtains the angle necessary to give him the exact or proper vision through the lenses.

Similarly, the otologist or hearing specialist, after making a complete examination of the patient's loss of hearing and the pitch necessary, prescribes the hearing aid best suited to the patient's needs. And just as the oculist or optometrist is most careful in adjusting the frames of glasses, so the otologist wants to make sure that the apparatus attached to the ear must fit the ear perfectly; if possible, a cast is made from which the plastic hearing attachment is manufactured. If the ear piece does not fit properly, it can interfere with the clearness of sound.

In cases where the little bones of the middle ear drum are damaged and the sound is not transmitted properly to the little hairs or hearing nerve endings, then what is called a bone-conduction hearing aid is necessary to transmit the sound. In these cases the earpiece, called an oscillator, is attached to the mastoid bone, the large bony lump at the back of the ear.

As most hearing aids are made with amplifiers with three or four vacuum tubes, there is little to choose among them; but the fitting of the hearing aid is most important.

The patient should not hesitate to return for adjustments just as he does for adjustment of glasses.

HEALTH NOTES

Vertigo (dizziness) occasionally is a symptom of high blood pressure and the prospect for relief is favorable through cutting certain nerves coming from the spinal cord. When dizziness occurs, consult your family physician first; he may locate the cause. If not, he likely will refer you to an ear specialist, as ear disturbances are the commonest cause of dizziness.

In treating congestive heart failure, some physicians often use an 1,800-calorie diet and less than half a teaspoonful of salt daily in and on food. In addition, they prescribe rest, digitalis to strengthen and regulate the heart and drugs to drive water out of the tissues.

If a child at the end of the first year has a good nutritional start, is protected against infection and immunized against communicable diseases, his chances of continued good health are bright.

One way of reducing weight is to reduce the amount of all liquids—water, tea, coffee, milk, soft and hard drinks—by one half. This is because fat tissue holds water with it—about three pounds of water to every pound of fat. Thus, while water is "good for everybody," it is not good for those who are overweight because they already are water-logged.

While having high blood pressure is considered serious because it often is the forerunner of heart stroke (coronary thrombosis) and brain stroke (apoplexy), it is gratifying to know that high blood pressure appears not to be dangerous in many cases.

Food allergy can cause a rise in temperature and is one cause of unexplained fever. This fact will be helpful to physicians in seeking the cause of unexplained high blood pressure symptoms.

Observing Rules Is 'Must' When Home Cooks Make Dishes of Cheese, Eggs

IF YOU'RE BUSY juggling menus for Lent or simply trying to add variety to your meals, then there's concrete help in today's column of recipes. Cheese, eggs and fish are favorite foods right now, and it's a wise idea to know how to bring out the best in each food.

All these foods, cheese, eggs and fish are economical, which may be an incentive for you to give them more than a passing thought. However, they're also foods which are highly nourishing. All three contain high quality protein which you need for building and repairing tissue.

Aside from other vitamins, cheese furnishes calcium and riboflavin. Eggs supply vitamin A and riboflavin, as well as iron. For these reasons, both foods should be included in the daily diet.

THERE ARE MANY schools of thought on how omelets should be made, but the main thing is to have them light.

A light touch is necessary in putting together an omelet and it should be cooked until just done, then served at once. The omelet recipe given here uses one of the season's most delicious green vegetables and is made even more appealing with cheese sauce. Serve it with a vegetable juice cocktail, hot rolls and relishes and a simple fruit dessert, and you have a meal you'll be proud to serve anyone.

Broccoli Omelet (Serves 6)
6 eggs
6 tablespoons milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter
1 cup hot, chopped steamed broccoli
1/2 pound American cheddar cheese
1/2 cup milk
Whole heads of cooked broccoli.

Beat the egg yolks until light. Add the milk and salt, then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a skillet in which butter has been melted. Cook slowly until puffed and lightly browned on the under side. Place in a slow (300°) oven for a few minutes to dry the top. Spread half of the omelet with hot, chopped broccoli, fold the other half over it and turn onto a platter.

Melt cheese in top of double boiler. Add the milk, stirring constantly until sauce is smooth. Garnish the omelet with whole heads of hot, cooked broccoli and serve with hot cheese sauce.

YOU'LL FIND THESE supper rolls quick to fix, and an excellent, nourishing way to solve a meal problem:

Lenten Supper Rolls (Serves 6-8)
1 pound grated American cheese
Small bottle of stuffed olives
1/2 cup butter or substitute
1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper
1/2 cup minced onion
1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce
8 hard rolls

Mix cheese, sliced olives, butter, green pepper and onion. Blend in canned tomato sauce. Cut off ends of rolls and hollow them out. Butter insides of crust and stuff with cheese filling. Replace ends of rolls and wrap each roll in waxed paper, twisting ends to hold paper tight.

LYNN SAYS: Here are Facts About Yeast Breads
It's important to use all-purpose flour in making bread and rolls with yeast because this contains gluten. Cake flours are short on gluten and do not make good bread with yeast.

When the temperature goes higher than 88°, the heat may easily kill the action of the yeast.
Mix finely chopped, hard-cooked eggs with cream cheese and spread on toast. Broil until slightly bubbly and serve with bacon strips.

Butter slices of bread, top with a slice of tomato over which is sprinkled grated cheese. Place a strip of bacon on top of the cheese and broil until bacon is crisp.

Cool milk or water before adding yeast or you will kill the action of the yeast. Slightly warmer water may be used on the dry granular yeast, but the temperature should not exceed 115°.

To permit dough to rise best, place it near a radiator or in a pan of warm, not hot water. Cover closely.

Here's another quickie for a meatless luncheon or supper dish:

- Lenten Broils (Serves 3-4)
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 cup canned tomato sauce
Salt and pepper
1/2 cup grated American cheese
1 cup flaked tuna fish
1/2 teaspoon tabasco sauce

Melt butter, remove from range, stir in flour to make a paste. Add canned tomato sauce gradually, stirring until smooth. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add remaining ingredients and blend. Spread on slices of bread and place under broiler until golden brown and bubbly. Garnish with a sprig of watercress.

CHEESE AND POTATOES are two foods that combine naturally to make a pleasing flavorsome dish. This soufflé may be baked in individual dishes or in one large casserole. For a meatless meal, serve it with asparagus tips in drawn butter sauce, minter carrots and creamed onions. It may also be served very nicely with a roast leg of lamb in place of au gratin potatoes.

Potato and Cheese Soufflé (Serves 6)
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 cup milk
1 cup grated or shredded cheese
1 tablespoon grated onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
2 cups sliced potatoes
3 egg yolks
3 egg whites

Melt butter, add flour and blend. Add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Add cheese and seasonings and cook over very low heat until cheese is melted. Add potatoes and well beaten egg yolks. Fold in stiffly beaten whites. Turn into a large or into individual casseroles which have been buttered and bake in a moderately (325°) slow oven for 40 to 60 minutes.

BAKED BEANS, prepared as they are in the following recipe, are tasty and filling, guaranteed to take the edge off sharp appetites.

- *Lenten Baked Beans (Serves 4-6)
1/2 cup minced onion
1 1/2 cups minced green pepper
4 tablespoons fat or salad oil
4 cups cooked or canned baked beans
1/2 cup chili sauce
1/2 cup grated American cheese
1/2 cup buttered bread crumbs

Saute onion and green pepper in fat until tender. Add beans and arrange in a greased casserole, alternating layers of the beans with cheese. Top with crumbs. Bake in a hot (400°) oven for 30 minutes.

When you ready the dough for rising, grease the top of it lightly with butter, fat or salad oil, and cover with a clean towel.

Light greasing helps prevent a crust from forming on the dough. The towel prevents dust from coming in contact with the bread.

Bread and rolls should be removed from their pans immediately after baking so they will not steam and become soggy.

If you like a soft crust on rolls, brush them with melted butter as soon as you finish baking.

If your rolls and bread do not rise rapidly enough, the temperature of the dough is probably not high enough. The ideal temperature is from 80° to 85°.

To prevent "ropey" bread, always use scrupulously clean utensils for mixing and baking. Scrub them with soap and water and rinse in hot, clear water.

K EWASKUM HIGHLIGHTS

OUR FUTURE BASKETBALL TEAM

This year our 48-49 basketball team succeeded in taking the Tri-County and also the W. L. A. district championship. Next year's team is now in practice but will have to overcome some stiff competition to repeat this year's performance. Where our team will be greatly weakened by the loss of five seniors other schools are not so heavily hit. Campbellsport has had a good team this year and is losing only one player. They provided good competition this year and undoubtedly will have a better team next year since all boys will be experienced. Lomira is losing some of its good players but is expected to have a good team again. One thing that seems sure is that our boys will have to play some good hard games to bring home another championship. Next year's team will be drawn from these players: H. Justman, W. Cudnoske, P. Krueger and F. Jenko, guards; K. Koth, W. Edwards, F. Koepke, R. Wierman, E. Ramthun, forwards; J. Callen, D. Falk, R. Schultz, centers. The rest of the squad will play the B team games. The A team will be made up primarily of seniors. The only one of these boys that has had much experience on the floor in A team games is Frank Krueger, a junior, who played on this year's A team. The greatest loss this year is star center John Teasar who won high scoring honors in the Tri-County league this year. Other boys that are leaving are John Kugel and Robert Dreher, forwards; Jim Wink and Lloyd Keller, guards; Lee Kempf, center. These boys working together have wound up their basketball careers by winning two more trophies for their school.

SOMETHING NEW
Something new has been added: Both chocolate and home milks being sold during the noon hour in school. The milk has to be ordered a week ahead. Chocolate milk seems to be the favorite flavor since more chocolate milk than plain milk has been sold. This week 64 high school students and 25 grade school students are ordering milk. The cost of chocolate milk is 22 cents per week and the cost of plain milk is 20 cents per week. This is a non-profit project sponsored by the sophomore class.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM
At eleven o'clock Thursday morning the chorus of K.H.S. presented an assembly program for the students. The opening song was an Irish song "Kerry Dance" in honor of St. Patrick. Each member of the chorus wore a green carnation also in his honor. Other selections were "Night and Day," "I Love a Parade," "Just a Memory," "Wooden Shoes," "Kiss in the Dark," ending with an "Old Fashioned Garden." During the program a triple duet sang "Prayer from Hansel and Gretel."
