

Municipal Building Bond Referendum Vote Carries by Overwhelming Margin

Passes by 3 to 1 Margin, 261 Votes for and 88 Against; Gehl and Watson Win in State Races

In the state of Wisconsin's first runoff election in history Tuesday, Circuit Judge Edward J. Gehl of West Bend defeated Municipal Judge Elmer D. Goodland of Racine in the race for state supreme court justice.

Chief interest in the election locally was in the special referendum providing for the issuance of general obligation coupon bonds for the erection and construction of a new village municipal building.

A total of 366 votes were cast in the village, a larger number than anticipated. The referendum issue is mainly responsible for bringing out a large vote.

Judge Gehl swept Kewaskum and Washington county by a very one sided margin and was given a tremendous sendoff here. He received 338 votes in the village as compared to a mere 26 for Goodland.

In the school superintendent race Watson led Doudna locally by a margin of better than 2 to 1, receiving 214 votes to 91 for Doudna.

A total of 125 ballots were cast in the town of Kewaskum. Judge Gehl received more votes in the runoff, on Tuesday than he did in the regular April election.

The town of Wayne held a referendum to determine whether or not to spend $10,000 for the purchase of fire protection equipment.

Baseball Openers Called Due to Rain

With 50 teams scheduled to open play in the Land o' Lakes and Rivers leagues last Sunday, including teams in each league from Kewaskum, rainy weather and wet grounds forced cancellation of the games, which will be made up in doubleheaders later.

The Kewaskum Utensils were scheduled to open Lakes play at Lannon but a heavy rain around the noon hour caused the home team to postpone the contest. The game held true in the J. J. Slinger loop, where the Honeck Chevrolts were to open up at home with Slinger as the opposition. The rain, also dampened the opening day festivities arranged by the Rivers entry, Village President Charles Miller was to throw the first ball and the Kewaskum High school band would have furnished music and entertainment.

This Sunday, weather permitting, the situation will be reversed with the Lakes nine opening at home against Granville and the Rivers team playing at West Bend. President Miller still has his arm in shape and will pitch the first ball for the Lakes home opener. The game will start at 2 p. m.

Pennant Hopes Spring Eternal

By GRANTLAND RICE

IT HAS been said that hope springs eternal in the baseball player's breast until around June. Then it begins to wither and fade. But hope sprang with greater alacrity in April than it has in some years. At least it was springing in more places.

For example, after a rabid discussion as to whether the Dodgers, Braves or Cardinals were to be the selected sons of swat this season, we ran into Art Rooney of Pittsburgh. Art Rooney owns the Pittsburgh football franchise. He also has a few horses and he is also interested in baseball as a fan.

Grantland Rice baseball as a fan. "Braves, Dodgers or Cardinals?" he said. "Listen, the entire population of Pittsburgh has picked the Pirates to win. I agree with them. Pittsburgh is much stronger than it was a year ago.

"Murry Dickson will make a difference of 10 games. Bob Chesno will be even better. Kiner is due to hit better. You can also make a note that Pittsburgh will outdraw every team in the National League as it did a year ago. I mean the Giants, Dodgers, Braves and Cubs.

"And I'm not being comical or funny when I pick Billy Meyer's bunch on top. I don't believe everybody in Pittsburgh can be wrong."

In the course of the next hour or so, wandering here and there, we ran into seven experts who had been in Florida. Here are their selections: two for the Dodgers, two for the Braves, two for the Cardinals and one for Pittsburgh.

The Giants? Since this crop of selectors had come up from Florida, they knew nothing about the New Yorkers. But Horace Stoneham and Leo Durocher are being quoted to the general effect that Giant pitching will be quite sufficient, coupled with the power that Giant bats have carried. This means that at least five teams have the "hope eternal" torch blazing these April days.

And you can be certain that the Cubs, Phillies and Reds will supply more trouble than usual, especially if the Reds can shove Ewell Blackwell into the picture. Even without the human pine tree, the Reds are an improved collection of ballplayers. With Blackwell

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Truman Signs Bill for Extension Of European Aid Another 15 Months; U. S. Launches Bond Sale Drive

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Men Who Found Kathy Remembered by Mail

The men who dug for little Kathy Fiscus, 3-year old who died in a California well shaft, were being remembered all over the nation. More than 2,200 letters had been received by the Kathy Fiscus rescue fund from virtually every state in the union. Mayor Clark E. Bell, San Marino, chairman of the fund committee, said the first envelope opened contained $1,020—an average contribution of $5.10. Donations ranged from 10 cents to $50. It was pointed out that if the average continued, it would mean a total of more than $11,000 for the men who worked for 52 hours to reach the child who fell to her death 92 feet down the well pipe.

AID BILL: Has Truman Okay

A bill to give 5.58 billion dollars to the European recovery program over the next 15 months—with one billion available at once—was signed by President Truman. MR. TRUMAN, as is a quaint custom in such matters, signed the bill with several pens—eight, in fact. Even Mr. Truman, himself, was moved to observe jestingly that "this will probably look like a forgery, but it really isn't." The bill which Mr. Truman signed allots more than one-eighth of the entire budget of the United States to foreign aid. Mr. Truman, ever a meticulous man, carefully wiped the points of the pens, handed one each to seven witnesses to the signing, and kept one for Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, who was unable to attend. THERE WAS a check and balance in the bill, however. With the billion dollars to be made available at once, aid could be kept flowing to the Marshall plan countries of western Europe until congress votes the rest of the cash later.

CHURCHMEN: UN Asks Facts

The United Nations wasn't heeding protests of Hungary and Bulgaria against its consideration of the trials of Cardinal Mindszenty and Protestant churchmen. Instead, the UN invited the two Soviet satellite countries to tell their stories of the imprisonment of the Cardinal and other clergymen. THE RUSSIAN delegation indicated the two nations would disregard the invitation, since both Hungary and Bulgaria have contended the trials were internal matters and no business of the UN. The world organization, however, voted 30 to 7 to put the church cases on its agenda and to go on with a full discussion of them. U. S. delegate Benjamin V. Cohen argued the committee should delay inviting any nations or churches to send spokesmen until it decides how it wants to deal with the question. Russia's Jacob A. Malik indicated the two Russian satellites would reject such an invitation and accused Bolivia of violating the UN charter by seeking to invite religious organizations. To the casual observer, the entire matter was even less than a tempest in a tea pot. Whatever the UN might find as a result of rehearsing the convictions of the churchmen—what could UN do about it? The force of UN in world peace retention efforts has been so meager as to cause critics to begin comparing it already with the old League of Nations which died of impotency.

COMPARATIVE BENEFITS . . . Under present provision of the social security law it is assumed the worker has 10 years of coverage. Under proposed provisions, however, monthly benefits would not be affected by length of time spent in covered employment. Chart, prepared by Research Council for Economic Security, offers comparison of present benefit scales with those proposed in the administration program.

ACCIDENTS: Fewer Noted

Hope was indicated that the appalling toll of death and injury on U. S. streets and highways might be Russian who sank and brought in cil reported that 92 cities of more than 10,000 population went through all of 1948 without a traffic death. The council reported that Medford, Mass., with a population of 67,477, was the largest no-death city last year.

Carrier Keel Laid

Without fanfare or any advance notice, the keel for the longest ship in the world, the aircraft supercarrier "United States" has been laid. Even as congress wrangled over the advisability of sinking 189 million dollars in a warship, workmen quietly began to build. As late as a day before work began, the navy had refused to say whether the keel would be laid the following day.

Lady Sheriff

Mrs. Barkley Graham, weighing only 95 pounds, has become the first woman sheriff of McCracken county, Kentucky, birth place of Vice-President Alben W. Barkley. She succeeded her husband who resigned to become Paducah's chief of police.

FARM SURPLUS: May Hasten Subsidy

The administration's farm experts weren't being too subtle in a movement to hasten payment of direct subsidies to farmers. They were pointing out in the capital that an over-supply of pork and milk expected within the next two months, may require President Truman to ask immediate authority for such action.

SECRETARY of Agriculture Brannan said he already had discussed such a proposal with the President. At the present time the government is committed to support prices of those commodities by buying any surplus and taking it off the market. This is supposed to keep the retail price up.

Farm legislation passed by the 80th congress authorized direct payments to farmers for pork and milk, but this law does not go into effect until January 1, 1950.

Meanwhile, the agriculture secretary said consumer prices on pork and milk probably would fall if the administration was allowed to make direct subsidy payments to producers.

DESPITE much sentiment to the contrary, Brannan said his department has had a "quite favorable" reaction to the proposed farm program which, briefly, would let farm products find their own price level through supply and demand, with the government paying the farmer the difference in this and the support price in cash.

Congressional critics of the farm program declare its cost will run into billions of dollars and that it will benefit neither the farmer nor the taxpayer, because, in the end, the farmer and the taxpayer will be paying additional taxes to finance the program.

CANCER: Progress Seen

The men in white who wage an unceasing battle against cancer caught a glimmer of hope—they felt sure they had discovered, as they put it, "what is for all practical purposes a simple, cheap and reasonably sure blood test for cancer."

THE ANNOUNCEMENT was made with the customary caution and restraint of the men who work with test tubes—"reasonably sure" was how they described the test.

But if they had made such a discovery, it was a great stride forward toward victory over the terrible disease.

According to the announcement, comparative studies at the University of Chicago of the blood serum of cancer patients and normal and other non-cancerous individuals had revealed significant differences that led to the statement of the new cancer blood test.

Report of the university findings was made by Professor Charles B. Huggins, who 10 years ago originated a new treatment for prostatic cancer which has kept more than 25 per cent of the victims alive and well for more than eight years.

DISCUSSING the new test, he said that tests on almost 300 individuals—equally divided into cancer patients, apparently healthy persons, and patients with non-cancerous diseases—proved positive for all cancer cases, negative for all normal persons and negative for all other tested, except these with lung tuberculosis and massive acute infections.

Inasmuch as tuberculosis and inflammatory processes can be readily diagnosed, it was explained, the test was not expected to confound cancer with other conditions.

KIWI: Rare Chick

Nature lovers in New Zealand rejoiced. A sturdy male kiwi chick was hatched at the Hawke's Bay game farm, bringing to six the only known existing family of this nocturnal, flightless bird which was thought to be extinct until a few years ago.

The male bird spent 81 days on the latest egg before the newcomer burst through the thick shell.

Record Approved

Bill Odom's non-stop 4,957.24 mile flight from Honolulu to Teterboro, N. J., in March has been approved as an international record.

Beech aircraft corporation, flight sponsor and builder of the plane Odom flew—the Wakiki Beach Bonanza—said it had been informed of the approval, which was by the Federation Aeronautique Internationale in Paris.

These photographs, some of the great pictures of 1949, were selected among the best of show in the sixth annual "News Pictures of the Year" competition, jointly sponsored by the Encyclopaedia Britannica Book of the Year and the University of Missouri school of journalism. At the top is "Ice" by Ira Spring. It was taken shortly after sunrise at about 12,000 feet on Emmons glacier on Mt. Rainier.

"A Kiss for Snippet" (above, left) was shot by Chris Ware at an English farm where a West Highland terrier was a pal of the cows. "Me, a Criminal?" (above) by Larry Miller of the Los Angeles Examiner shows a 71-year-old woman denying her criminal past to a reporter—though her record showed 31 arrests and five prison terms since 1910.

"Fallen Star" (above) by Herbert Scharfman of International News Photos was made at Madison Square Garden and shows Browning Ross of Villanova in a bad spill. The classic "Farewell to No. 3" by Harry Harris of AP speaks for itself with overwhelming poignancy. It was taken two months before Babe Ruth's death.

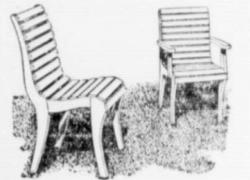

"Bath Time" (above, left), taken by George Konig, shows Britain's two youngest photographic models, Margaret Harding, 3, and her sister Elizabeth, 4 months. The setting of "Prayer for Peace" (right) by William Smith of AP is the cathedral at Bogota, Colombia, where former Secretary of State George Marshall attended services before the opening of the ninth inter-American conference.

In "Petrillo Trumpets" by Marty Lederhandler of AP, the head of the American Federation of Musicians sounds a few notes on a trumpet given him by an NBC vice-president.

COLONEL WINN'S NEW 'BEDSIDE MANNER'... Derby Better's Loss Will Be Medicine's Gain ... MAY SOOTHE MANY A TROUBLED CONSCIENCE

MEDICINE AND THE DERBY

Churchill Downs, one of the oldest race tracks in the land, is announced, is to be run for the benefit of the Louisville medical college.

The track is run by the famous Colonel Matt Winn, always a man in green, seldom a man in the red and now for the first time appearing as something of a Man in White.

with a little black bag in hand you were under no illusion it held pills, capsules or ointments.

It has never been recorded that he was coupled in the betting with "Dr. Kildare." Observing him as he watched the crowds pour into the Downs for the Derby, we never got the impression he was thinking about what to do for the medical profession rather than what to do for Churchill Downs.

However, it will be strictly O. K. to see horse racing advancing the cause of humanity. It will be a great conscience soother for Derby addicts. Their alibi for the long trip and the Derby hysteria can now be, "Can I help it if I want to see ambitious medical students get a chance?"

We can picture the wide influence of the school of medicine on the Derby, and vice versa. Churchill Downs will probably be redecorated in white enamel, with a nurse at every mutuels window and an intern in the hot dog stands. Fans will have their temperatures taken before and after photo finishes, stethoscopes will be used to detect suppressed tips.

There will be special windows where fans may get a sedative. And if his inside information proves cold, there will be heat treatments on the mezzanine.

"Ladies and gentlemen," we can hear the track announcer say, "the horses are on their way to the post to advance the cause of medicine and correct diagnosis. You have only five minutes in which to help a student get through college.

Similarly, Louisville medical college professors will be allotted official colors or "silks," classes will be opened with "Boots and Saddles" and on the day of exams there will be a morning line and late scratches.

Life can be wonderful! But we hope no student will be flunked for bad behavior at the gate and "quitting when challenged." And let's have no dean of the medical school thrown out of training for a "popped osselet."

Please Do Not Disturb I live in a disgraceful rut. A thing to be deplored. By fierce, ambitious people, but I'm not the least bit bored. Margaret Fishback

"Corn Found 4,000 Years Old in New Mexico"—Headline . . . So they have video there, too!

Shudda Haddim had a perfect set of hunches the other day. Noting it was the day of the signing of the Atlantic pact he selected "Dawn of Peace" which won at Gulfstream at 11 to 1, and "Silk Topper" and "Ocean Brief," winners at Jamaica, the former at $60.00. Never were hunches more perfect. (P. S.: Yes, but at the last minute Shudda Haddim got switched on all three.)

In Iowa a cow with a wooden leg is a record milk producer. Why not? She is hardly in the best possible shape to oppose the idea.

Gold Miners Don't Know Precious Ore When They See It

Lead, S. D.—A gold miner is about as likely to see an elephant underground as he is gold. And if he did see it he probably wouldn't recognize it.

This is one of the oddities of digging out the yellow metal that diggers at Fort Knox something to guard and provide the nation's dentists something with which to fill a tooth.

"It is very rare to find free specks of gold," said Harlan Walker, assistant general manager of the Homestake mine, largest in the Americas. "A miner can work years here and never see any."

Many miners cannot even determine ore-bearing rock from waste or "country rock." Sites worth working are outlined by skilled mining engineers.

Gold mining is an intricate industry comparable in many ways to an automobile factory. It takes many skills to glean from one ton of ore its final product—barely enough gold to make a man's wedding ring. And it may cost $200,000 or more to blast through country rock to reach an ore body worth working.

Waste Is Returned Practically everything taken out of the mine is put back in with one noteworthy exception, the gold. After the ore has been crushed and passed through meshes of a screen finer than the sifting cloth used in flour mills, the waste sand is pumped back into the mine as "fill" to prevent wall collapses.

Gold miners are a hardy, snuff-chewing crew who hold a work-a-seven-hour, six-day week and the top workers earn $12 to $15 a day. They live a mile above sea level here and work a mile from their homes—straight down. Their chief task is drilling seven-foot holes in the tunnel face and stuffing them with dynamite which they set off at the end of their shift. Laborers then do the mucking—loading the blasted ore with power shovels.

At present the gold mining industry in the United States is in a slump. The Homestake mine is operating at only about 60 per cent capacity.

Production Declines "Before the war the United States produced 14 per cent of the world's gold each year," Walker said. "Now it produces only about 5 per cent."

"The reasons? The present ceiling price on gold, shortage of labor, higher costs and high taxes." It takes 20 days and incredible labor to harvest from 35 tons of underground ore in the mine the one pound or less of gold bullion that emerges from the refinery. But Walker is weary of people who say, "Why go to all that trouble? It is just taken out of one hole here and put back into another hole at Fort Knox."

His reply: "If the gold wasn't mined the country would soon find out how important it is. It has many industrial uses—and there never was a nation that felt it had enough for money." One indication of its value: they can burn the suit of coveralls worn by a refinery worker here and recover enough gold dust to buy three new suits.

California Sees Boom As Car Assembly Point

LOS ANGELES.—Los Angeles county clinched its position as the country's second largest automobile assembly center with the second opening of a car plant in less than three months.

The addition, close on the heels of General Motors' elaborate new Chevrolet plant in suburban Van Nuys, is the Ford Motor company's first Lincoln-Mercury assembly plant to be established outside of Detroit.

The factory, embodying more than five miles of conveyor lines, will turn out, in full operation, more than 1,000 automobiles a week. With General Motors, Chrysler, Studebaker and Willys plants already established, and Nash and Kaiser-Frazer plants scheduled to go into operation, the Los Angeles area soon will be producing cars at a rate of 2,000 a day for the country's largest automobile market.

California in 1946 had a total registration of 2,301,000 passenger cars leading New York by nearly a million.

The prospective total output of 650,000 cars a year in the Los Angeles area is four times the pre-war peak of 154,000.

It embraces 14 different "makes"—Buick, Chevrolet, Dodge, Ford, Frazer, Kaiser, Lincoln, Mercury, Nash, Oldsmobile, Plymouth, Pontiac, Studebaker and Willys. In addition it is understood the Chrysler company plans to add Chrysler and De Soto assembly to its Los Angeles operation, while moving its Dodge work to a plant under construction in Oakland in northern California.

Before the war, the automobile companies obtained 11 per cent of their parts in California. Since the war, both Ford and General Motors have started additional procurement programs worth 60 million dollars in the state which would increase this ratio of local supply manifold.

Racing Pigeon Comes Home To Roost After Nine Years

CLEVELAND, OHIO.—After nine years, one of Frank S. Wellman's pigeons has returned from the 100 mile race it started back in 1939.

Appearing well fed, the bird landed on the loft and promptly slipped inside to take its accustomed perch.

Wellman said the pigeon started the race 100 miles from Cleveland, but he was unable to remember the exact point. "Not many birds come back after nine years," he commented, but they do have remarkable memories. This bird either became lost or has been penned up.

Pigeons live to be about 15 years old.

Expert Claims Americans Need Lessons in Bathing

NEW YORK—This country may lead the world in the number of bathtubs but many Americans don't know how to take a bath properly, according to Harold J. Reilly, for 30 years head of a health service here.

"A lot of people actually do damage to themselves by lack of proper bathing knowledge," Reilly said. "They seem to think that sitting in a hot tub, using a lot of perfumed soap, shivering under a cold shower and drying by the brisk rubbing of a rough towel are essential parts of being clean and healthy. Actually, some of these things can hurt their health."

Sitting in a hot tub is all right as far as it goes, but that doesn't mean you're getting clean, he explained. The dirt that has come off is still with you when you get out because you have been sitting in dirty water. Tub bathers should finish off with a cooling—not cold—shower and pat—not rub—themselves dry with a towel.

"Cold showers are never advisable except as a treatment by a physiotherapist for poor circulation," Reilly added.

Alabama Chief Says Prisons Manufacture Criminals Daily

MONTGOMERY, ALA.—"We are manufacturing criminals every day. Rehabilitation seems to have been forgotten in our penal institutions."

That indictment of Alabama's prison system was made by the man who runs it—plain-spoken Frank A. Boswell.

He told his story in a report to Gov. James E. Folsom on completion of his first year as head of the convict department and its 4,500 inmates. Then he proposed some drastic remedies.

First, "the stir-hardened convicts who have passed the stage of rehabilitation should be isolated in a separate institution with no hope of parole until they learn to behave."

The "tough guys"—homosexuals, habitual dope addicts and "mental inmates"—should be locked in cells to themselves.

Boswell doesn't expect miracles in his rehabilitation program. In fact, he says it'll take at least two years to get started. "Money is our main drawback. It'll take lots of it, and we haven't got it now."

Star Dust STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By INEZ GERHARD WHEN Eagle-Lion films decided to hold the premiere of "Tulsa" in Tulsa, Okla., they had no idea that Oklahomaans would cooperate so magnificently.

Susan Hayward

Chill Wills and Jess Barker, to town; 50 mayors from all over the state were on hand to join in the festivities, which lasted for a day and a half. As for the picture, it is fine entertainment with an oil-well fire that sets an all-time high for similar screen spectacles.

Two top Warners stars began their careers similarly, by dying. Errol Flynn did it in "The Case of the Curious Bride," which has been killing other people in films ever since. Zachary Scott died in his first film, "The Mask of Dimitrios," which has been the victim in eight out of 11 pictures since then, gets driven to suicide in his latest, "Flamingo Road."

Reminding Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers for their 10th picture in M-G-M's "The Barkleys of Broadway" proved so successful that they will co-star in another musical, as yet untitled, which is now being written for them.

Bill Conrad, the "voice" of CBS' "Escape" series, is a fine actor, but looks like something out of a grab bag; usually wears a sack-like pair of slacks, a T-shirt, sneakers and an old leather jacket. He wears that array on "Suspense," also when reporting to the picture studios; he was in "The Killers," "Body and Soul," "To the Victors" and "Sorry, Wrong Number."

Robert Sterling says he got more bumps on a horse, during filming of RKO's "Roughneck," in which he co-stars with Gloria Grahame and Claude Jarman, Jr., than he did in planes during three years as an army air force pilot.

M-G-M slated three Westerns, to be shot at about the same time, then was faced with a shortage of male stars. Eleven leading actors were needed, for "Ambush," "Devil's Doorway" and "Outriders," and just any leading actor wouldn't do.

The Fiction STRICTLY ANALYTICAL

THE TROUBLE with you," Barry said, "is that you're too analytical. Why don't you throw caution to the wind for once and marry the girl?"

Hugh sighed. His face took on that look of faintly aloof indulgence that he always conjured when Barry became critical. "You wouldn't understand," he said. "I'm too impulsive to see what I'm driving at. Let me tell you, it pays to be careful."

"How does she feel? How do you think she feels? When a girl's in love she knows enough to be careful herself."

Barry let a fortnight elapse before he again broached the subject of Val. It rankled him, and he felt better to get it off his chest. "Hate to mention it again, Hugh, but Val seems to think you've been neglecting her lately. Can't blame her much, either."

Hunter, 94, Shows Skill In Shooting Mad Dog MARIETTA, OHIO.—In his younger days George Smith was known as an expert hunter.

On his 94th birthday he showed he hadn't lost any of his skill. With one shot from a .12 gauge shotgun he killed a mad dog. The animal had been terrorizing the Newport neighborhood. It had been biting dogs and livestock.

British Mother, 101, Summons Son, 73, With Bugle Calls

LONDON.—Although it was her birthday, Mrs. Ellen Walker, who keeps house for her bachelor son at their cottage in the Yorkshire village of Bretton, was busy as usual wringing out newly washed curtains.

"I think it is time I had some help," she said. For Mrs. Walker is 101 years old. Her son is 73.

Every day she stands at the cottage door and summons her son from his vegetable garden to his midday meal. She uses a miniature bugle.

"At one time," Mrs. Walker said, "I could blow a full-sized army bugle but I haven't enough puff these days."

Since she took an automobile trip to London two years ago, Mrs. Walker has had a hankering for an airplane flight. She has eight children, 16 grandchildren, 40 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Cat Retrieves Mice to Earn His Daily Crackers and Milk

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—A big black cat named "Eight-Ball" is guardian and retriever in a mousery at nearby Avon, where white mice are bred for use in medical research.

In his duties, Eight-Ball has a thousand strains put on his innate desire to kill mice. One lapse, however, would mean his permanent exile and loss of the softest touch a cat might ever have in his nine lives.

He aids his master, J. Louis Cleaver, a former Rochester school teacher, by corralling mice that escape from any of the several thousand breeding cages. He gathers errant ones into his mouth and returns them to Cleaver.

His reward for bringing them back alive is a dish of mashed crackers and cream.

Taunted Thieves Make Second Visit to Avenge Themselves

BALTIMORE, MD.—A band of thieves apparently took it pretty hard when their victim twitted them for running off with a mere $100 while missing a $1,000 payroll.

Walter Weeks, president of the robbed nut shop, wrote a humorous poem about it.

The thieves then broke into his car and stole the manuscript of the poem which chided them about the robbery.

Boy Discovers Farmer's Cache of $4,200 in Oat Bin

ARGO, IOWA.—An Argo farmer will think twice before leaving savings of $4,200 in an oat bin again.

Sheriff Walter H. Bluse said his deputies had returned that sum to its owner after a 13-year-old neighbor lad, playing near the bin, discovered the cache in an old jar.

The boy had taken the money home and that's where deputies recovered it.
