

92nd Annual County Fair Opens Thursday

The 92nd annual Washington county 4-H club fair, which will open Thursday, July 23, and extend through Sunday, July 31, is expected to have a larger number of entries in all departments than in any previous year.

Skalsky said there have been many more requests for space this year than in any previous year for the four day event. Agricultural, home economic and 4-H entries will all be increased.

About 200 livestock projects, 200 home economic projects, and nearly 300 other exhibits are being planned by 4-H club members.

More than 20 tents will be needed to house the various commercial displays. A new tent, 50 by 100 feet, will be the "Electric Living" tent, which will house about 20 dealers in electrical appliances, power tools, freighting, lighting, and other merchandise.

During recent years, the fair has gained state recognition as one of the state's largest and most popularly attended and has been commended for its administrative organization.

The following Washington county merchants will have individual displays at the fair, Skalsky said: O'Meara Sales Co., West Bend; Ross Engineering, West Bend; Leach & Christianson, Hartford; Malsack Electric, Slinger; Weiss Hardware, Allenton; Wayne Electric Co., Slinger; Ritter Furniture, Allenton; Fure Electric, West Bend; Culligan Soft Water Service, West Bend; Miller Furniture, Kewaskum; H. W. Kuester & Sons garage, West Bend; Gumm's garage, Jackson; Konrad Motors, West Bend; Christianson Insulation, West Bend.

West Bend Ford Motor Co., Terlanen Roofing, Richfield; Strupp Implement Co., Slinger; Berg Implement Co., Slinger; Butzke Implement Co., Jackson; Nail Implement Co., Hartford; Carl Freehold Implement Co., Hartford; Milton Reik Implement Co., Hartford.

In addition to the above county dealers and agencies, a score or more of out of county exhibitors will have concession space at the fair, Skalsky said.

The band and stage program for each evening follows: Thursday, July 23—Hartford American Legion band; stage—minstrel show.

Friday, July 23—Collins-Mayer post all-girl band, Milwaukee; stage—free acts; Ruth Eichstedt, drum majorette act; brother-sister tap dancing act, J. E. Ennis children; Joe Gigante's Music Center accordioners.

New York Yankee Baseball Tryout Camp at West Bend

The West Bend Athletic Commission is sponsoring a New York Yankee baseball tryout camp at the city park field in West Bend on July 25 and 26.

All boys 16 to 21 years of age who are interested in a career in professional baseball are invited to attend. No applications or written invitations are necessary. They need only to report at 10 a. m. to the city park field with their gloves and shoes and uniforms, if they have them.

Boys attending will work under the experienced eyes of veteran New York Yankee scouts, Burleigh Grimes, one of the all time pitching greats of baseball; Dutch Zwilling, former star outfielder and manager of the Kansas City Blues, and Lou Maguolo, scout of the Wisconsin area.

Players will be judged on their arms, running, fielding and also hitting ability in infield workouts and under actual game conditions.

Any boys whose ability impresses these scouts, will be signed to a contract with some club in the Yankee organization or sent to a later all-expense paid Yankee baseball school.

LAST BAND CONCERT

The last concert by the Kewaskum school band of the summer will be given next Tuesday, July 26, at the Legion clubhouse grounds. Refreshments will be served by the Legion Auxiliary. Benches have been placed on the grounds for the audience's convenience. Let's have a good crowd for the last concert.

TAVERN LEAGUE OFFICERS

Officers for the coming year were installed at the regular monthly meeting of the Washington County Tavern league held last week at West Bend. Roman Miller, Kewaskum, was re-elected secretary-treasurer, and John Wink, also of here, was named a director for three years.

The future chances for women in politics were given a boost at the Kiwanis club meeting of Monday evening, as Diane Schaefer gave an interesting talk on her attendance at Girls State at Madison. She described to the club the election procedure which they were taught, incidentally while there Diane was chosen county supervisor.

The 200 girls who were in attendance were addressed by several outstanding speakers. The girls also were given a tour through the capitol. An impressive feature of the program was the lack of racial discrimination displayed. Diane thanked the club which co-sponsored her to this program with the Legion Auxiliary in Kewaskum.

A major share of Monday's program was devoted to a discussion about the gigantic agricultural fair to be sponsored by the Kiwanis club Aug. 17. County Agent Earl Skalsky met with the club members to formulate plans for this farm program.

Grains and livestock will be judged on Friday at about 4:30 p. m. The dairy contest will be held Saturday at about 4:30 p. m.

In addition to the above, there will be several open class exhibits of Washington county women at the fair.

Both the admission and the parking at the fair is free, Skalsky revealed. Parking space will be available east of the exhibit barns and on land rented for this purpose from the Roecker farm, located south and west of the highway overhead.

Three members of the Washington county board of supervisors, Otto Koller, Barton; Emil Gauger, West Bend; and Rudolph Lofy, Hubertus, and also Everett Olson, county club leader, and Marial Kolb, home demonstration agent, are co-operating with Skalsky, the executive secretary of the fair, in planning the event.

All are invited to attend the fair.

Utensils Lose Night Contest at Mayville

Games last Sunday—No games scheduled (all-star doings at Lannon). Games this Sunday—Kewaskum at Germantown, Granville at Grafton, Menomonee Falls at Mequon, Lannon bye.

Because of the all-star game between the north and central divisions of the Lakes circuit last Sunday no league games were played. However, to keep in trim, the Kewaskum Utensils went to Mayville Wednesday night to play a practice tilt under the lights. Mayville is league leader in the Rock River loop. Kewaskum was shut out by Mayville, 4-0, but read the rest of the story.

Last Sunday the northern Lakes stars beat those of the central division and so they were matched against the southern stars in a game at Oconomowoc played Wednesday night, the same night the Utensils played at Mayville. So Kewaskum had five of their regular players missing. Both John and Wayland Tessar, Norm Held and Clayton Stautz were in the all-star game that evening and Paul Kral, catcher, was in Milwaukee. Caught short, the Utensils were helped out by three players from the Kewaskum Rivers club (Honeck, Krueger and Edwards) and all filled in with a good performance even though some players were out of their regular position.

The score was 4-0 but the difference between the teams was not that much. Veteran "Mix" Marx took the rubber for the first time in quite a while for the Utensils and did a great job, allowing only 5 hits, striking out 8 and walking but 2. Dick Edwards of the Rivers team caught Marx, Kewaskum outfielder Mayville, gathering 6, but very oddly Mayville tallied 4 runs on only 5 safeties and the Utensils couldn't shove over one on 6. Wuecherer and Pilsner shared the mound chores for the victors, Wuecherer working three frames. He fanned 4 and walked 2, while Pilsner whiffed 5. Sorgent was the only man on either team to connect for 2 safeties. Kewaskum's 6 miscues aided the winners.

TALK ON GIRLS' STATE GIVEN KIWANIS BY DIANE SCHAEFER

The future chances for women in politics were given a boost at the Kiwanis club meeting of Monday evening, as Diane Schaefer gave an interesting talk on her attendance at Girls State at Madison. She described to the club the election procedure which they were taught, incidentally while there Diane was chosen county supervisor.

PUDDLES NINE DOWNED

The Kewaskum Land of Puddles entry took another one on the chin Wednesday afternoon when Campbellsport beat them, 5 to 1, on the home field. The home team's weakness with the bat prevented any chance of winning. Kewaskum's game next Wednesday will be at Slinger.

Children's Pictures Will Be Taken Free, Published in Paper

Statesman to Feature Series of Photographic Studies of Local Youngsters

"The best investment is in children," says Wm. J. Cameron. That is a bit of philosophy in which the publishers of this newspaper firmly believe. And because we think our readers should "catch some glimmer of the dawn," we intend to help them do it. That is, of course, with the cooperation of the mothers and fathers of the children of this and surrounding communities.

The only way we can give all our readers a good look at these future "world builders" is by publishing pictures of them in a feature series titled "Citizens of Tomorrow."

To assure the latest and best reproduction picture—they must all be of a uniform size and quality—we have made arrangements with the Woltz Studios, nationally known children's photographers, to take these special pictures for us.

Expert children's photographers for the studios, with all the necessary equipment for this specialized work, will be here Thursday, Aug. 4. The special studio will be set up at the Modern Woodman hall and will be open from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

There is no charge to the parents! There are absolutely no strings to this invitation. There is no age limit. It is bonafide in every sense of the word. Parents do not have to be subscribers, nor even readers of this newspaper to take advantage of this feature. Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want some additional prints may obtain a limited number by arrangement with the studio representative when they select the pose they want printed in the paper. It is entirely up to them!

The Statesman simply wants pictures of all the youngsters and the more the better. So mothers and fathers of the community in which this paper circulates should remember the day and date—Thursday, Aug. 4, at the Modern Woodman hall and not fall to bring their children to the photographer.

You will be mighty glad, afterwards, if you did, and very, very sorry if you fail to allow your children to participate in this event. The kiddies will have much fun and both Mother and Dad—and the youngsters, too—will be very proud to see their pictures in 2 print later. Many will clip them out and preserve them until Junior grows up.

RICE NAMED MARCH OF DIMES CHAIRMAN 7TH YEAR IN ROW

For the seventh consecutive year, R. D. Rice, director of the West Bend vocational school, has been appointed chairman of Washington county's annual infantile paralysis fund raising campaign. Rice's appointment as the "March of Dimes" campaign chairman came in a letter from Palmer F. Daugs, state representative of the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation.

William J. Steiner, managing editor of the West Bend News, will succeed Arthur E. Kuehlthian, who now resides in Tucson, Ariz., as publicity chairman of the drive in Washington county.

PARADE IN MILWAUKEE PAPERS

A picture of the parade at the Kewaskum firemen-Legion picnic held Sunday, July 10, appeared in the Milwaukee Journal Monday. The picture, taken at the intersection of Main st. and Hwy. 55, featured the giant Indian chief in full headdress float advertising the village of Waubesa. A picture of the local parade also was printed in the Milwaukee Sentinel last week.

Rivers 9 Tips Barton in 12 Innings, 9-8

LAND O' RIVERS STANDINGS (Northern Division) WON LOST Allenton 7 5 Barton 7 6 Kewaskum 6 5 West Bend 6 7 Slinger 5 6 Jackson 5 7

Scores last Sunday—Kewaskum 9, Barton 3. (No other scores reported). Games this Sunday—Kewaskum at Jackson, West Bend at Barton, Slinger at Allenton.

In a long ball game here Sunday that had plenty of everything—hits, runs, good play, errors—the Honck Chevrolts finally outlasted Barton, battling to a 12-inning victory, 9-8. The score was tied, 6-6, at the end of the ninth. Behind, 6-5, going into the ninth, Barton tied it up in the last frame on singles by R. Dricken and Haebler, J. Dricken's walk, and A. Duenkel's no bagger.

Barton scored again in the tenth on C. Duenkel's leadoff double, an infield out and outfield fly, but so did Kewaskum and matters were the same with the score 7-7. Honeck led off with a walk and romped home on Krueger's triple.

There were no hits or runs in the 11th but pesky Barton broke the ice again in the 12th with an unearned marker scored on errors by Krueger and Dreher. This didn't mean a thing to never say die Kewaskum and they came right back with two in their half of the 12th to take the tilt. Honeck reached base on an error and then successive singles by Edwards, Krueger and Kral broke up the ball game. The lead changed hands 6 times during the contest.

C. Duenkel led both clubs in hitting with 4 singles, while Krueger paced the winners with 2 K. Dricken and Augie Bilgo socked homers. R. Duenkel opened the game on the mound for Barton and was relieved by A. Duenkel in the 5th. Backhaus went 8 and one-third innings for the Chevrolts but when Barton got to him in the 9th Honeck came in to pitch a fine relief game and win the tussle. Backhaus fanned 9 and walked 6. R. Duenkel struck out 2 and walked 4. A. Duenkel whiffed 5. Each team got 13 hits.

North Lakes Stars Beat Centrals, Lose to South

The northern Land o' Lakes all-stars came from behind to down the Central division stars, 7-5, in the annual all-star event played before a large crowd at Lannon Sunday. Four Kewaskum Utensil players were on the north squad. The winners earned the right to meet the southern division stars in the grand championship game at Oconomowoc Wednesday evening. In this tilt the southern stars barely edged those of the north, 4-2.

In Sunday's star game the Centrals scored three runs in the first inning, but the north had the better of it the rest of the way. Kewaskum players who got into the game were Wayland Tessar, first base, who failed to get a hit in two times up but scored a run; Norm Held, left field, who batted once without a hit, and Clayton Stautz, who batted twice and went hitless, but batted in a run. The other local player on the team, John Tessar, didn't get into the contest.

In Wednesday night's title game, with the score knotted at 3-3, Jim Garrity's triple followed by Joe Spicuzza's double scored the winning run in the seventh for the southern stars. The tilt was played in one hour and 42 minutes. In this game young John Tessar of Kewaskum pitched the first three innings and didn't allow a hit or run. He also collected one hit for himself. Wayland Tessar again failed to hit in two times at bat, Stautz got one for two, and Held got none in two trips, although he made a great catch in left field and doubled a runner off first base with a double throw.

Special doings were held as part of the event at Lannon Sunday. The managers of the Lakes circuit defeated the umpires of both Lakes and Rivers, 3 to 2, in a morning game. "Mix" Marx, Kewaskum's manager, pitched the entire five inning game for the winners. In a 12 o'clock game Bill Johnston's old timers defeated John Shinn's old timers, 7 to 6. Many old time popular veterans showed themselves still capable of good baseball. At 2 o'clock, preceding the North-Central star tilt, special field events were held, such as base circling, fangio hitting, distance hitting, accurate throwing, relay throwing. Prizes were awarded to the winners.

PUBLIC OPINION

What price do teen-agers have to pay for being young? Is it worth the price of ruined reputations, due to people with slanderous, misinformed minds? Every intelligent adult will know it is not worth it, but yet, that is the price many youths today have to pay for being young, and loving fun.

It is a known fact that in this progressive town of Kewaskum, there is almost no entertainment for the generation that craves it—the teen-agers. With the exception of the drug store and the new restaurant, we have nowhere else to go. If we want to go swimming, to a show, bowling, roller skating, or any other form of amusement, other than school activities, we have to go out of town. But yet, when we do hold a local, chaperoned house-party, the rumors begin to fly the very next day—false rumors, to be sure, and of such a preposterous nature that they are not even worth repeating, but just the kind of talk that some people in town are anxious to gobble up and believe. When parents are willing to open their home to twenty carefree and fun-loving teen-agers, act as chaperone, and provide good, wholesome, clean fun, should they be rewarded in such a way as to make all their hard work and efforts seem futile? Regardless of the talk that is spreading around the community as to our behavior at this certain party, we want any believers of this talk to know that our actions at this chaperoned affair were entirely above-board at all times.

As long as anyone is acting in a way that is entirely wholesome, it is their business and no one else's. What our parents and the adult populace of this village do is their affair, and we would like to be treated in the same manner. We have, until very recently, thought that any parties and get-togethers that we have had were conducted along such lines so as not to require the investigation of the local police officers, on complaint from other people. We are very positive that these complaints have little or no solid base origination, other than mere suppositions of our perfectly innocent actions, on the part of people peering through their windows during the course of the party.

Weren't you young once? Didn't you like to have fun with your friends? If you were at all normal, I am sure that you must have had parties similar to ours. We are normal, too, and since we have no other form of amusement provided for us in town, we simply have to go out and make ours, in the form of occasional chaperoned house-parties.

We are sure that we, as a typical group of teen-agers, have been well thought of in town, and we don't want anything in the form of idle or malicious gossip to ruin our reputations. Our only wish is that we be judged on factual happenings, and not on the false claims and suppositions that seem to be spreading around the community, how about giving us a fair chance?

JUST OFF THE

When he was informed of the untimely death of one of the boys he had baptized the aged minister shook his head sadly.

"Yes, how well I remember him," he said, "and I always connect his ambition with his pal's shiftlessness. He died young but I imagine he made quite a bit of money."

"Yes, he did," agreed his informant, "and he left a very beautiful widow."

"Well, that just goes to show the moral in hard work. The other fellow probably hasn't even got a wife."

"Oh, yes he has," the other corrected him, "he married the hard worker's widow."

"Why, when I was your age," Uncle Pete sounded off. "I got me a job in a grocery store, worked at four dollars a week for six years until I had enough money to buy the store. That goes to show you what hard work and ambition will do for a man. Why can't you go out and duplicate that?"

"Well," said Julius, shaking his head as if frustrated, "these modern cash registers are pretty hard to beat."

The sky was made bright by the glare of the blast furnaces as they roared to make steel for America's war effort. One of the workmen, begrimed and tired, was preparing to wash up. As he walked toward the showers an old friend, who was being shown around the plant, stopped him. After the usual warm greetings the workman asked the visitor how he was making out.

"Fine, just fine," replied the visitor, "I've been promoted vice in the last eight months. How are you making out?"

"Oh, I'm forging ahead, too," quipped the workman.

Tobacco Important in Marshall Plan

Is Present Prop Of Tobacco Farmer Tobacco, from the time of the Virginia colony, has marched along as an intimate part of the American story to the present day. In the wake of World War II, as the United States emerged the strongest economic power, the American cigarette became temporarily a universal swamp-ump—the chief currency in both Berlin and Burma.

"You have a cigarette economy from Paris to Peking," a member told the house of commons in 1946. John Rolfe, husband of Pocahontas, would be astonished if he could see what he started when he brought in the seed of modern tobacco. In 1948, the United States made about 387 billion cigarettes, and the tobacco industry directly paid in excise and import taxes nearly two billion dollars.

From Virginia and Maryland the tobacco fields, growing over 25 types, have spread into North and South Carolina, south Georgia and northern Florida, Connecticut and Massachusetts, and the great burley area of Tennessee, Kentucky and the north bank of the Ohio.

America and the world have smoked the tobacco in pipes, cigars and cigarettes, and snuffed it in powdered form and chewed it.

The "chaw" is the most American of tobacco habits. European visitors have looked upon this habit with disgust. In 1947, addicts chewed 100 million pounds of tobacco.

The cigarette is the prime favorite. The modern cigarette, as we know it, was created almost on the eve of World War I. The formula for the popular brands sounds appetizing and nutritious. They mix with the bright leaf some Turkish tobaccos, much sweetened Burley and some Maryland. A quantity of glycerine or its equivalent preserves moisture. The whole is made tasty with such flavors as sugar, rum, licorice, chocolate, and vanilla-like products or chemicals.

The cigarette has even wooed many of the ladies away from their pipes or snuff sticks. Tobacco is of considerable importance in the Marshall plan—and the Marshall plan is the present prop of the tobacco farmer.

Considerable Care Urged in Tree Moving

Considerable care should be exercised when young fruit trees are moved from the nursery to an orchard or yard where soil fertility and other conditions may be less favorable.

Dr. A. Lee Schrader of the horticulture department, University of Maryland, points out that when trees are dug for shipment, part of the root system inevitably is lost. After the trees have arrived, new roots — sufficient to supply water and minerals to the entire tree — must be grown in order to insure normal development. Lack of adequate root growth, Dr. Schrader warns, often results in death of the tree or, at best, a poor growth of new shoots, particularly where the soil is low in certain minerals.

European Corn Borer Reduced Crop in 1948

The European corn borer reduced the 1948 crop of field corn by 85 million bushels, the U.S. department of agriculture announced in Washington, D. C. Surveys recently completed by the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, with cooperating agencies, indicate this loss in corn production is more than double that of 1947.

Mechanical Cleaner Suggested for Barns

If you're building a new barn, or remodeling an old one, it would be a good idea to include plans for installing a mechanical barn cleaner. That's the advice of M. W. Forth, an engineer with the University of Illinois college of agriculture. Forth says it would pay to make provisions for a barn cleaner even though plans might not call for one right away.

Poultrymen Are Warned About too Much Culling

Because Newcastle disease before the development of vaccines made the raising of pullet replacements hazardous, many poultry keepers have held over flocks of yearling hens for the first time in their careers. These poultrymen have had the problem of selecting the birds which hold the greatest promise of paying their way in the nest. Culling normally is the answer.

Might Have Been Highest

If Aconagua hadn't "blown its top," its name might be far more famous than it is today. This Argentine mountain might have been renowned as the world's highest peak. According to World Book encyclopedia, Aconagua, highest mountain in the western hemisphere, erupted many centuries ago with such force that it totally destroyed its summit and all signs of its volcanic crater.

DON'T SHOOT FIRST BASEMAN UNLESS . . .

Childhood Memories Drive Batter Berserk

. . . YOU WISH TO BE SWITCHED TO THE MINORS

By H. I. PHILLIPS

A PSYCHIATRIC EXAM

(Wherein Elmer Twitchell, having shot a first baseman, is questioned for reasons.)

Elmer.—What position did you play? Doctor.—I was a southpaw pitcher in my college days.

You shot a ballplayer and can go to prison. Elmer.—Do they put people in prison for shooting ballplayers?

Elmer.—Goody! Goody! Can I have my gun back? Doctor.—Probably, but we may have to switch you to some other league!

MIRACLES Grace Noll Crowell. THEY sought the Master's healing touch, They followed Him down lane and field, And every ailing, seeking one Who came to Him was healed.

Doctor.—Did your father ever read the baseball summaries aloud? Did you ever live in Brooklyn back in the days of those eccentric infielders?

Doctor.—Good. I'll make a note of that. In your infancy were you ever chased with a ball bat for not doing your homework?

Doctor.—That would explain it if you shot a pitcher. In school did you ever have a teacher who wore a mask and chest protector?

Doctor.—In your immature years did you ever play softball? Elmer.—Yes. I was such a poor hitter I never got to first except when hit by the pitcher.

Doctor.—Now it's all clear. If you ever were to get to second base you knew you would have to shoot the first baseman . . . The idea took possession of you . . . It became an urge! . . . You couldn't resist it! . . . We can explain everything to the court. You are as good as free.

"How do you know that? You can't prove it." "I won't have to. What I can prove is that no one came up the ladder. It rained last night. There was mud. There's mud on your shoes. The shoes fit the footprints at the foot of the ladder. Yet there is no mud at all on the rungs of the ladder. If there had been I would have probably been fooled and not been sure that some one inside committed the theft. Besides you had the best alibi. I checked with the man with whom you said you attended the movie. He broke down and confessed everything."

MacDougal was amazed. Afterwards he said to Beatty: "I didn't know you checked with Furbush's friend. When did that happen?" "It didn't," said Beatty.

The Fiction  BEST ALIBI  By Richard H. Wilkinson

MAX SANDERS' home had been robbed of jewels valued at $50,000. The jewels were kept in a wall safe behind a picture in Max's study, which was located on the second floor of his Beverly Hills home.

Inspector Ray Beatty was assigned to the case. Leo MacDougal, a police officer, who had been summoned from his best, showed Inspector Beatty the evidence that had thus far been discovered.

First there was a ladder placed against a window that opened into a second floor hall. This window had been discovered open.

Inspector Beatty told MacDougal to summon all the servants. Then he questioned them. They all had good excuses. Sid Furbush, a secretary, had spent the night at the movies with a friend, Edwards, the butler, had read in his room until Mr. and Mrs. Sanders returned from a party, when he admitted them.

It was right after that, that Mrs. Sanders went to the safe to replace the jewels she had worn, and found the others gone.

Martha Greene, the housekeeper, had been in her room all evening. Her room was located on the second floor. She had gone down to the kitchen about 10 o'clock for a bite to eat and found Viola Matson, the maid, there with her boy friend. Returning, Martha had passed Edward's room and seen Edwards sitting by his table, reading.

INSPECTOR BEATTY dismissed the servants and went back to the study. He examined every inch of it. Then he went into the hall and examined that. He also examined the window and the ladder and the ground below the window. It had rained a little the night before and he found some footprints beside the ladder. They looked like men's footprints.

Inspector Beatty sought out Sid Furbush. He asked the secretary if Max Sanders held business conferences in his study. Furbush said that he did.

"The chances are, then, that he's had occasion to open the safe when others were present?" "It's quite likely."

"I want as complete a list as you can make me of all the people you've known to be in the study during the past month."

Inspector Beatty left Sid Furbush making out the list, summoned MacDougal and went down the hall. He entered one door after the next, first knocking to make sure the room was empty. Presently he returned to the hall, bearing a pair of shoes.

Carrying the shoes he returned to the study and asked Furbush if they were his shoes. "Why, yes," said Furbush. "Why where did you get them?" "Out of your closet. I searched the closets of all the servants till I found a pair of shoes with some mud on the soles. It was you who committed the robbery."

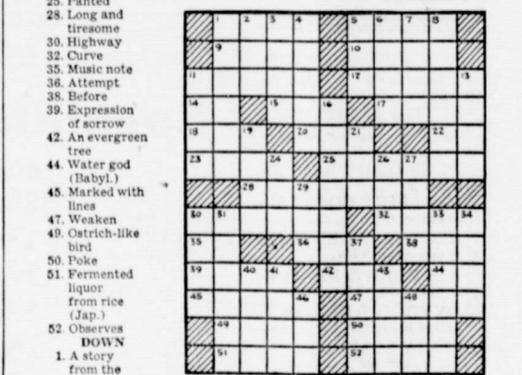

"You're crazy. That's a cock-eyed theory. The robber came up the ladder."

"No," said Inspector Beatty, "that's only what you expected us to believe. That's why you put the ladder there and left the window open. The robbery was committed before you placed the ladder there."

MacDougal was amazed. Afterwards he said to Beatty: "I didn't know you checked with Furbush's friend. When did that happen?" "It didn't," said Beatty.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS By DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Psalms 32; 51; 86:5; 137:1-5. DEVOTIONAL READING: I John 1:5-2:2.

Right With God Lesson for July 24, 1949

"GET RIGHT with God" is an expression which has been sometimes used by people. It is not a coarse or cheap idea. It is the most important thing you can do. Think what it means to be wrong with God! That means to be out of harmony with his will, going "across the grain of reality," as the old Greeks used to say. To be wrong with God means to be a rebel against reality, to have the power of the universe working against you, and so to be headed for sure destruction. Wrong with God, you cannot win. Right with God, you cannot lose. To be right with God means to be in line with the purpose that runs through all things; it means in the simple language of the Bible, to live as a child of God.

Mule or Man?

THERE are two ways in which a man can come into line, so to speak, with God. One is by being whipped into it, and the other is by a free act of will. The poet of the 32nd Psalm begs his readers not to be like mules or colts (Ps. 32:9). These animals can be broken and controlled by their masters. But they do not understand what is going on, and if left to themselves they would never serve.

They have to be caught, harnessed and driven. But God does not want to treat human beings like that. Getting right with God is not a business of getting into harness, being beaten into walking on the right road.

That is not God's way. He pleads with us through his inspired poet: Be not as mules—be men!

Facing Up to Yourself

THE short good Bible word for being wrong with God is Sin. The very first step toward being right with God is to see yourself as you are. No one ever went to a doctor till he at least suspected he was sick. No one ever went to school of his own accord who thought he knew everything. And no one will come to God who thinks he is as good as he needs to be. When life goes hard with us, when everything about our life seems twisted and rotten, we make all sorts of excuses for ourselves, we lay the blame on our parents or our friends of the social and economic system in which we live (doubtless all these have a share in creating our troubles), but we hate to look at ourselves in the mirror of truth.

This comes first: recognizing our own wrongness, not just weakness but wrongness. When we reach the point where we can say with the Psalmist, "Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me," then we are on the right road.

"Hide Thy Face"

THERE are two things we never hear about in the Bible. One is that God never forgave anyone who did not repent, and the other is that he refused to forgive any one who did repent. But repentance is not merely regretting that a wrong was done; still less regretting being caught. Repentance, the kind the Bible describes (as in these Psalms for example), means a complete change of attitude, it means coming over on God's side and seeing sin the way he sees it, seeing life the way he sees it.

God's forgiveness is not of the grudging, remembering, reminding kind. But condoning and forgiving are still a world apart. Condoning means saying in effect, "It is all right, it makes no difference, you can go on sinning for all I care."

Some human "forgiveness" may be like that, but not God's. His forgiveness is based on real repentance, and the aim of it is to save the sinner from his sin.

Pleatons in Mercy

THE Psalmists saw clearly what kind of God we have. He is not like the holder of a mortgage waiting till the first time some payment is deferred gives him a chance to pounce down and evict his tenant. We are not criminals against whom God is a prosecuting attorney, trying to pile up evidence against us. "If thou shouldst mark iniquities, who shall stand?" We are children, lost and wandering children, rebellious and disobedient children, but still children; and God holds open the door of mercy.

Meditations

Too many churches today are so thoroughly dedicated to the past that their traditions, sacraments, and ceremonials have become like the shrouds of a corpse.—Rev. Karl M. Chworowsky.

One big difference between a fool and a wise man is in their way of thinking; the fool thinks publicly, the wise man privately.

Nice for Special. PRETTY and demure, yet nice enough for special dates is this junior frock with its crisp white collar and tiny puffed sleeves. Try a gay flower printed fabric and add narrow ribbon bows for accent.

Pattern No. 8415 comes in sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 8, 2 1/2 yards of 39-inch, 1/4 yard contrast.

HOUSEHOLD TINTS. Somebody spilled the beans! When food boils over in the oven, sprinkle salt over the spilled food. This will put an end to unpleasant odor and smoke. Then clean the oven when baking is over.

Fish today, but not tomorrow. To remove the odor of fish from a dish cloth, boil the cloth for five minutes in a one quart of water. Rinse in warm water, then cold.

Glory to Betsy! Have you looked at the market basket lately? Better treat it to a good scrubbing with hot soap suds.

Chicken for four becomes chicken for eight. Dumplings are an inexpensive stretcher for stewed chicken. Sprinkle well with chopped fresh parsley.

Dentist no hoozie man. If mother will take the young child with her to the dentist long before he needs to have anything done to his teeth and just let the dentist look at the youngster's teeth each time, there will be no fear of the dentist when work must really be done.

BRITAIN'S JILL TARS

Stickler for tradition, the British, nevertheless, are willing to lay it aside in matters of expediency. For that reason, and because of the fact that the day may come when the "tight little isle" may need its women to help man its ships, the nation has inaugurated a program designed to give its daughters a hand in ruling the waves. Photos here picture activities of the naval reserve all-woman crew of the "English Rose, III." The lady sailors are called Jill Tars. Aboard their trim craft at anchor in Bournemouth Bay, Commander Wellard (above) has assistants, but they are on the distaff side. One, First Officer Brenda Long, gives individual instruction to a pair of cadets interested in navigation. She is showing one how to use the sextant. At left, a Jill Tar has the task of hauling water overside in a canvas bucket.

Assigned to a job on the job, this girl (right) wears the regulation lifebelt that must be worn when certain jobs are undertaken; and they have no complaints as they dangle over fathoms of salt water.

A little pan-cake for the "English Rose" applied by Jill Tars (left) who are expert at this sort of thing. Scraping and painting the hull of the ship is all a part of the life of a sailor.

This is a part of naval routine that never appears on the recruiting poster. By dawn's early light, just as her male counterpart on His Majesty's ship must do, the Jill Tar is awakened and the shipboard day begins. This lady with the whistle has won the title, "The girl aboard we'd like best to have shoes at." But all that's wishful thinking, as the whistler is adamant and reveille must be obeyed. Just the same, it's like to sour these females forever on whistlers, be they from handsome wolves or female boatswain's mates.

What would the British be without tea—man or woman, Jill Tar or Jack Tar? The answer, of course, is unthinkable. Milady of the British naval reserve, ashore or afloat, must have her tea. So these lassies take time out for tea in their own mess room, apart from officers; but tea is tea and it tastes top-hole with crumpets.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS by Lynn Chambers

Flatter Summer Meals With Properly Cooked, Attractive Vegetables

WHEN the thermometer speeds into the nineties, every homemaker worries about meals and family appetites. Even though appetites appear robust on picnics, they are apt to seem on the slim side for a meal in the family dining room.

Is there a certain remedy for the waning appetite amidst the wilting heat of hot summer days? Yes, certainly, there are several sure-fire ways of coaxing the family into eating what they should. One of the best ways is to serve attractive vegetables which are so plentiful for they add zip, in the form of vitamins and minerals, into a scanty diet.

Vegetables add color, and consequent interest, too, to the family dinner table with their glorious greens, reds and orange yellows. Who could ask for a better artist's palette with which to decorate the mealtime scene? Serve vegetables fresh, whenever possible since this saves food value. When they are cooked, however, use only a small amount of water, season carefully, but not heavily, and cook until tender. Vegetables are best if they have some of their natural crisp texture, even though cooked.

Seasonings should be mild so that you don't mask the delicious natural flavors and thus jade the appetite further. You may add some of the nice sauces for variety, however, and thus create interest that might not otherwise be present.

YOU CAN'T BEAT a salad bowl of summer vegetables, especially when there's a tasty dressing to go along with it. Here's a suggestion with a delightful dressing seasoned with blue cheese and anchovies:

*Summer Salad Bowl (Serves 6-8)
2 cups fresh spinach leaves
1 small head lettuce
2 cups shredded green cabbage
1 bunch watercress
Fresh dill
Tarragon

1 cup diced celery and tops
½ cup green pepper rings
1 cup crumbled blue cheese
¾ cup French dressing
1 2-ounce can anchovy fillets

Rub salad bowl with cut clove of garlic. Break spinach and lettuce into bite-sized pieces in the salad bowl. Add cabbage and watercress; sprinkle with the herbs, fresh dill and tarragon. Add celery and green pepper. Sprinkle with cheese. Chill. Just before serving add French dressing and anchovy fillets. Toss lightly.

Chinese Salad (Serves 4-6)
2 cups canned bean sprouts, drained
½ cup diced celery
1 medium cucumber, sliced thin
1 green pepper, minced
2 tomatoes, cut in small cubes
French dressing
Minced chives
Combine all vegetables and toss

Treat fresh vegetables kindly and you'll be well rewarded for their acceptance at meals. New potatoes, quick cooked in their skins, are tender and delicious when teamed with cheese-crusted tomatoes and plump, green asparagus spears with a nippy sauce.

LYNN SAYS:
Keep Meals Cool
When Thermometer Soars
Refreshing fruit platters come in for a big bid during summer. Place cherries and grapes in the center of your largest, coolest platter. Surround with a mound of each of the following: peach halves with a cluster of blueberries in the center; cantaloupe edges, pineapple chunks mixed with halved strawberries, honeydew melon wedges and watermelon triangles.

Toasted open-faced sandwiches satisfy your hunger pangs but don't heat the kitchen since cooking time is short. Toast bread on one side, top with a slice of luncheon meat, spread with chili sauce and top with a slice of cheese. Broil until cheese melts.

In place of a heavy dessert, serve beverage in tall glasses, topped with a scoop of ice cream and pass with cookies. Easy, too!

When making chiffon pies, don't beat the oven just to bake a pie crust. Use a graham cracker, trumb or corn flake crust.

Vegetables, cooked or fresh, chilled and seasoned, arranged attractively on a salad platter add appetite appeal to the main course. Arrange mounds of the small vegetables like corn kernels, green lima beans or peas with strips of carrots, asparagus or celery on lettuce and pass with a tangy dressing.

with French dressing, to which may have been added one teaspoon of soy sauce, if desired. Refrigerate the salad ingredients for one hour. Drain off extra dressing and serve with mayonnaise. Sprinkle top with minced chives before serving.

HERE'S an excellent way to prepare and serve asparagus:

Asparagus with Sour Cream Sauce (Serves 6)
2 pounds asparagus spears
½ cup thick sour cream
½ cup drained horseradish
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika

Cook asparagus in a small amount of boiling, salted water until tender, about 25 minutes; drain. Meanwhile, make sauce by beating the sour cream slightly, add remaining ingredients and blend thoroughly. Serve with cooked asparagus spears.

Broiled Tomatoes (Serves 6)
3 medium tomatoes, cut in halves
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ cup buttered bread crumbs
½ cup grated American cheese

Season each tomato half with salt and pepper. Blend crumbs and cheese and sprinkle on each tomato half. Arrange in a baking pan and bake in a moderate (375°) oven for 15 minutes, or broil 8-10 minutes under low heat.

A GOOD main dish to serve at home or to tote to a picnic uses corn and tomatoes, seasoned beautifully with bacon, green pepper and a cheese topping.

Corn-Tomato Casserole (Serves 6)
4 strips bacon, diced
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup minced green pepper
2½ cups chopped tomatoes
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2½ cups corn, cut from cob, or canned corn
½ cups dry bread crumbs
½ cup grated cheese

Fry bacon in a skillet until crisp. Place in 1½ quart casserole. Add onion and green pepper to bacon fat and cook until tender. Add tomatoes, sugar and seasonings. Simmer for 15 minutes. Stir in corn. Cook for eight minutes, if using uncooked corn. Place all mixture from skillet into the casserole. Top with bread crumbs, then with cheese, and bake, uncovered, in a moderate (350°) oven for 30 minutes.

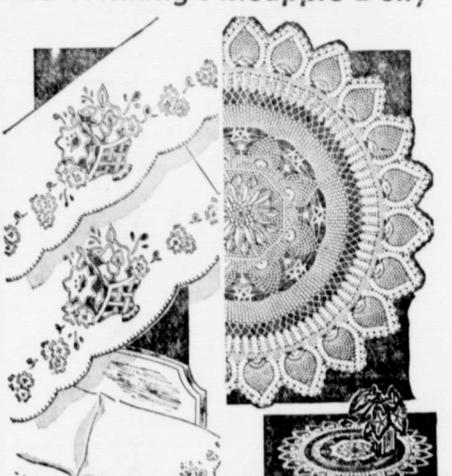

Don't discard cold, fried trout. Serve it on a bed of watercress or lettuce and pass with sour cream in which are floating thin slices of cucumber. Serve with a lemon wedge.

Lamb chops take well to barbecue sauce and broil quickly to keep your kitchen cool. Serve with a fruit garnish of pineapple, banana half and grapefruit segments. Chilled soups are ideal for starting off the meal with proper spirit. You might try jellied consommé or icy cold cream vichyssoise.

Looking for something to go with potato salad? Take thin rounds of salami and spread with a mixture of grated carrots mixed with mayonnaise. Roll as a cornucopia and serve around the salad. Kabobs make light but savory eating for summer. Marinate pieces of meat in French dressing. Then place meat alternately on wooden skewers with chunks of onion and mushrooms. Broil and serve. Cooked lima beans mixed with chopped mint or parsley, then laced with French dressing make as cool a salad as you like.

How It Started . . .
"THE GHOST WALKS" . . . The expression stems from theatrical slang and in general usage is a slang term for pay day. But why or how the term came into being is not known.
SABOTAGE . . . From the French and carried over into the language without change. It has an unusual derivation from "saboter", meaning to work carelessly, or originally, to tread with wooden shoes (from "sabot"—shoe). Sabotage is malicious waste or destruction or obstructing in all ways the regular processes of production.
HONEYMOON . . . A thousand years ago in Norway, newly-wedded couples drank wine made from honey for one month after the ceremony. "Honeymoon" was derived from "honey mouth."

TO BEGIN AREA CONTROL OF BANG'S DISEASE SOON HERE

Area control of Brucellosis (Bang's disease) will get under way in the very near future in five Washington county townships as a result of an order issued this week by Milton H. Button, director of the State Department of Agriculture.

Button's order grants petitions filed with the department by more than 75% of the cattle owners residing in the towns of Barton, Kewaskum, Polk, Slinger and the village of Kewaskum. Brucellosis control work in Washington county is part of the state-wide campaign against this disease which was authorized by the 1947 legislature. The control program will include free vaccination of all heifer calves between the ages of 4 and 8 months and free herd testing at the owner's option.

Rugs should be cleaned with a vacuum cleaner at least once a week.

Brooms should be hung up so that bristles are off the floor.
