

Pete Tavern Near Here Burglarized; Tree Trimmer Held

First suspicion of a Route 3, Kewaskum, tavernkeeper as to the identity of the man who allegedly burglarized his place Tuesday night resulted in the apprehension of a Milwaukeean at a West Bend hotel early Wednesday.

Traffic Officer George J. Lemieux of the Fond du Lac county police took into custody Jerome Shimeck, 45, who has been residing at West Bend in recent months. He was picked up by police at Lemieux request.

According to the officer, Shimeck allegedly admitted that he had broken into Spenny Pete's tavern on Highway 55, about 1 1/2 miles north of Kewaskum earlier in the night. Lemieux reported that $30 in change and five cartons of cigarettes, a case of beer and a case of whisky were stolen from the tavern during the absence of Pete between 4:45 and 11 p. m. The owner had gone to Oshkosh to attend stock car races, and when he returned he discovered the loss.

Pete notified the Fond du Lac jail of the burglary at 11:10 p. m. and Lemieux was assigned to the case. The burglar had broken a rear window, entering the living quarters and made his way to the tavern. His car was parked nearby.

Lemieux asked the owner whether he could name any person or persons who could have burglarized the place and Pete listed Shimeck, who was working in this area as a tree trimmer. Learning that Shimeck "hung around" Kewaskum and West Bend, Lemieux contacted Chief Ed. Haack of Kewaskum and requested a lookout for the man. Chief Haack told the officer after the latter came to Kewaskum that Shimeck could not be found but that he was known to have stayed at a West Bend hotel. Police there were notified and took Shimeck into custody.

According to the West Bend authorities, as they were taking Shimeck to jail, they heard what they thought were washers being thrown against the side of the car. Stopping to investigate, they discovered that Shimeck had been disposing of small change through a window. They claimed a roll of nickels from the man. More money was found on West Bend's Main street. When Lemieux questioned Shimeck on the break-in, he denied any part of it.

The officer ordered Shimeck to empty his pockets and said he was going to remove him to Fond du Lac county's jail. Lemieux took Shimeck's car keys and found a bottle of bonded whiskey in the vehicle and more money. He returned to the man, saying, "You might as well know, fella, this is it."

Shimeck then said that he had committed the burglary, adding, "I don't know why," according to the officer. He reportedly entered the place at 7:45 p. m.

The man will be questioned about other burglaries in the area in recent months before he is arraigned in municipal court. He is being held on an open charge at the jail.

Shimeck has been experiencing trouble in making alimony payments to his former wife, Lemieux said. He has been jailed at Waukesha for six months under provisions of the Huber act for alimony arrearages.

STATE DERBY CHAMPIONSHIP FOR BEAGLES HERE SUNDAY

The beagle hound derby championship of Wisconsin was held at Kewaskum Sunday. Eberle's Sue, owned by Joe Eberle, Kewaskum, took third place in the 15-inch derby. Other winners were Lincoln Hill Stubby, first; T. K. Hero, second; Casper's Snooper, fourth, and Zallhanff Lumber Jack, reserve. A male owned by John L. Schaefer, Milwaukee, formerly of here, took first in the 13-inch derby.

SOFTBALL TEAM PLAYS 2 1/2 INNINGS; GAME POSTPONED

Softball games in the Cross Country league were again postponed by rain Sunday. Kewaskum got in 2 1/2 innings of play against the West Bend Merchants before the rain halted it. This Sunday Allenton is at Kewaskum.

Rain Again Washes Out All Lakes Tilts Sunday

For the third Sunday in four weeks all northern division teams in the Lakes league were made idle by rain again last Sabbath. Rain fell most of the afternoon. Out of four games scheduled to date the teams have been able to play only one of them.

Kewaskum's game at Mequon and the Germantown and Belgium tilt were called off before they were slated to start. Saukville and Grafton got four innings in before they were forced to quit. Cedarburg led Newburg 2-1 after two innings.

This Sunday Kewaskum will try to get back into action at Grafton. Grafton swamped Germantown in their first game.

Dr. Edwards Lists Facts On Gamma Globulin, Polio

Very recently the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis sent out to all health officers the last minute information on gamma globulin as related to its use in prevention of paralysis from polio. I have excerpted a few of the facts which everyone wishes to know about this new medical protective weapon.

What is gamma globulin, how is it made, etc.?

G. G. is the disease-fighting part of human blood which contains substances called antibodies. These antibodies entrap the polio virus as it enters the blood stream and prevent it from attacking the nerve cells, thus preventing paralysis. This passive immunity will last about five weeks; does not work in every case; is not a cure for polio, and is obtained only from human blood. It requires five weeks to make enough G. G. from one pint of blood to protect one 50 lb. child, the unused part of the blood is made into plasma and used on the battle fronts to prevent shock. There is now about 1,000,000 doses of G. G. on hand and it is estimated there are 46,000,000 susceptible persons in America.

Who is to get the G. G. when needed? Your family doctor will apply to the State Health Officer under whose jurisdiction the supply is allocated and distributed. Pregnant women, family contacts and close juvenile contacts will be favored as the supply permits. None can be purchased at this time.

In addition I might add this warning note about children needing tonsillectomies—please arrange at once with your family doctor so that this operation can be done now, or surely as soon as schools are dismissed. Usually by July there is some polio disease present in our community, thus preventing further throat surgery.

Your Health Officer,
R. G. Edwards, M. D.

POPPY SALE HERE SUCCESSFUL, CLOSE TO THOUSAND SOLD

The annual buddy poppy sale conducted by the American Legion Auxiliary Saturday was the most successful ever held here. Nearly 1,000 poppies were sold. Auxiliary members will sell poppies again this Saturday, Memorial day, for those who were not approached last Saturday.

Field fires that get out of hand are leading to more and more destruction of farm property. Before you start any outdoor fire, make sure you can stop it.

Jac. Muckerheide, Infant Ebert Die

Jacob Muckerheide, 93, a lifelong resident of the town of Kewaskum, passed away Sunday, May 24, at St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend, following an illness of six days with a cerebral hemorrhage.

A retired farmer, Mr. Muckerheide was born June 4, 1860 in the town of Kewaskum. He married Caroline Kohn in Holy Trinity church, Kewaskum, in 1890 and she predeceased him in April of 1932. Five children were born to the couple, two of whom died in infancy.

Surviving are two daughters and one son, Cora, who has been confined to St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend, for the past seven years; Miles of the town of Kewaskum, and Isabel (Mrs. John Gorin) of Chicago. He also leaves a daughter-in-law, a son-in-law, three grandchildren, Leroy, Lois and Marion; two great-grandchildren, one sister, Mrs. Mary Fellenz of Marshfield, and two brothers, Ben and William Muckerheide of Milwaukee.

The remains were in state at Miller's Funeral home after 2 p. m. on Tuesday. Funeral services were held at 2:30 a. m. Wednesday in Holy Trinity church, the Rev. F. C. La Buwi presiding. Interment was in the parish cemetery.

BARBARA JEAN EBERT

Barbara Jean Ebert, 15-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ebert, Kewaskum, died quite suddenly last Friday, May 22, at the home of her parents. The infant had been suffering from a heart ailment since birth.

Barbara Jean was born Feb. 10, 1952 at West Bend. Her parents formerly resided in the town of Osceola before coming to Kewaskum. Mrs. Ebert is the former Virginia Gnacinski.

Surviving along with her father, who is employed at Regal Ware, Inc., and mother are the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ebert of the town of Osceola and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gnacinski, R. 2, West Bend.

The body was in state at Miller's Funeral home after 1 p. m. Sunday. Funeral rites were conducted at 3 p. m. Monday at Trinity Lutheran church, Dundee, the Rev. H. A. Kahrs officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery.

In the Service

CPL. MANTHEI RETURNS TO STATES FROM KOREA

Cpl. Lyle Manthei, whose wife, Beatrice, lives in Kewaskum, has been rotated to the U. S. from Korea, where he had been serving with the 25th Infantry Division. He arrived home on May 9 after serving in Korea since June of 1952. Cpl. Manthei entered the army on Dec. 3, 1941. He is now spending a 30-day leave at home following which he will report at Camp Carson, Colo. on June 7 to receive his discharge.

The 25th landed in July, 1950, shortly after the Communists attacked the Republic of So. Korea.

Cpl. Manthei served as a communications man in Co. G of the division's 14th Regiment and was awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge and Korean Service Ribbon with three campaign stars.

Before entering the army he attended Kewaskum High school and was employed by Regal Ware, Inc. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Manthei, Kewaskum.

SGT. GRUBER IN GERMANY

Sgt. Ernest "Bob" Gruber, who with his wife and family spent a month's leave with his parents, the John Grubers, Kewaskum, left recently by plane for duty in Germany. His wife and children plan to join him in Germany later. Sgt. Gruber was formerly stationed at Fort Campbell, Ky.

CO. BOARD APPROPRIATES $2,500 FOR BRIDGE NEAR HERE

A morning session of less than two hours duration was all that the Washington county board of supervisors needed last week to transact its business for the month of May.

The business included an appropriation for $2,500 to cover half the cost of erecting a bridge on a town road between Barton and Kewaskum, which was passed without opposition.

Two other matters concerning zoning changes in the county were referred to the park planning commission. One of these was a petition to change a portion of land south of Kewaskum on Highway 55 from an agricultural to an industrial area.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR BANQUET HELD TUESDAY

The senior banquet of Kewaskum High school was held Tuesday evening, May 24, at the Republican hotel. Attending the banquet with members of the senior class were the teachers with their husbands or wives.

Jay Van Barcom served as the toastmaster. Marlene Zuehlke read the class history, Naomi Klumb the class poem, and James Oibry the class prophecy. Principal Clifford M. Rose addressed the graduates and Floyd Dreher read the class will.

At the close of the banquet the class song, "Till We Meet Again" was sung by the seniors.

Cancer Fund Drive Begins in County; Chairmen Named

With the mailing of nearly ten thousand letters early this week, the Washington county cancer fund campaign is underway, according to Chairman Thomas J. Kenny of West Bend. A letter and postage-free return envelope were sent to residents of Washington county, Kenny said, inviting support of the vital research and education activities carried on by the American Cancer society.

"If we receive the same generous support that has been given in previous cancer campaigns, we can be sure that our mailing will bring in the funds necessary to our usual quota. A portion of this goal is already in, having been contributed during the Community Chest campaigns within the cities of West Bend and Hartford and the village of Barton, but we must still have the generous co-operation of many people throughout the entire county to reach our goal for 1953," Kenny said.

Pointing out that there were 39 cancer deaths in Washington county last year, and that present statistics indicate one out of seven people will die of cancer unless a cure is found, Kenny asked for the wholehearted support of everyone in the county in the interest of this vital cause. He noted that the American Cancer society is leading the way in both the research and education phases of the fight against cancer, aided by the contributions large and small from every section of the land. Washington county, he said, has an outstanding record in its support of cancer research and education work.

Assisting in the campaign are vice chairman H. E. Pelzer, Hartford, and the following precinct chairmen: Edwin Kratz, town of Poik; Lawrence Blazel, town of Trenton; Albert Ehling, town of Richfield; Victor Bauer, town of Wayne; A. John Cleary, town of Trenton; Hugo Dhein, town of Germantown; Guido Schroeder, town of West Bend; Clarence Gumm, town of Jackson; Al Seefeldt, town of Kewaskum; Edwin Hausmann, town of Barton; Mrs. William H. Dieterich, town of Hartford; Merion Murray, town of Farmington; G. A. Eickman, town of Addison; William Kratz, village of Slinger; O. P. Butzke, village of Jackson; Lavern Schaezel, village of Germantown; Lehman Rosenheimer, Jr., village of Kewaskum; Herb Matenaer, village of Barton; Walter Oberberger, city of Hartford, and Mayor Michael Gehl, city of West Bend.

SURPRISE CORINNE WAHLEN AT MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Gardening Benefits Health Various Ways

Replacing the sulphur and molasses spring tonic of grandfather's day, modern man might do well to take the following prescription each spring: "Take 500 square feet of ground, work daily before breakfast." And the "patient" would get this prescription filled, not at the corner drug store but right in his own back yard.

The nutritional benefits derived from gardens are well known. Specialists estimate that the average adult requires 25 servings of vegetables plus 15 servings of fruit each week. Many households cannot afford to buy this amount of protective food, fresh or canned. Thus the economic value of a home garden looms large in these days of soaring prices. Under good cultivation a square foot of ground will produce a pound or more of vegetables or fruit.

But gardens provide far more than wealth of wholesome food, especially for our factory and office people. Gardeners are rewarded with the virtues of sunlight and fresh air in the out-of-doors, the benefits of physical exercise, the satisfaction of creative achievement, and the health and happiness of the home.

As a man works in his garden his tension ceases. It affords him stimulation of the mind by the mere process of watching things grow, and the sense of useful production which is his.

Gardening need not be a monotonous, time-consuming task. One hour a day of systematic care will be enough to produce an excellent harvest from an average size garden. New chemical weed-killers, modern insecticides, and new-fashioned gadgets have taken much of the back-breaking labor out of gardening.

The minute a garden becomes a bore, it becomes work; and work is not what the doctor ordered. The garden should not be expected to reward you in cash unless it has been your vocation. It should reward you with pleasure, beauty and peace of mind; with long hours of sleep following its gentle exercise; and a good appetite for the things you have grown. Rightly handled a garden can give you these returns—and more.

895 Deaths In 1952 Traffic Accidents

Madison—Wisconsin's traffic accidents in 1952 resulted in death for 895 persons and injuries for 20,782, according to summaries just released by the safety division of the state motor vehicle department.

In the later group 1,242 persons were listed as suffering severe injuries. Property damage mishaps numbered 26,162, counting only accidents in which the total damage exceeded $100.

Timely Tips

With the first budding of the trees, life seems to take on new energy. And a good thing, too, for this is when we need it...for Spring housecleaning. Here are a few tips to help make your job easier. Always wash walls from the bottom up. Washing solution dripping down on a soiled surface leaves stains.

Bulges and bubbles can be removed in wallpaper. Make a small slit in the paper, then insert a large needle to which paste has been applied. Flatten the spot, using a white blotter to prevent finger marks.

Always wipe chromium plated things with a dry cloth after they have been thoroughly cleaned and rinsed. They will shine better.

Quite Clear

British Captain — Well, Private Smith, what did you have for dinner?

Private — "Taters," sir. Captain (to sergeant) — What does he mean by "taters," sergeant?

Sergeant — It's only his ignorance, sir. He means "spuds."

B. M.: My friend has a skin trouble in which color disappears from his skin in patches and the patches will not tan. Is the trouble hereditary and is there a cure?

ANSWER: The exact cause of this disorder, called vitiligo, is not known and, for that reason, no satisfactory treatment has been developed. In most instances masking cosmetics will help to make the skin look natural.

"Say, buddy, can you spare two bits to a former sailor who's down on his luck?"

Heart disease is one of the diseases that is seldom, if ever, inherited.

NON-STOP REFUEL—Seen here, high above the clouds, is a refueling operation which is common practice in the United States Air Force. Extending down from the top of the picture is the fuel transfer line through which the stuff that keeps jet engines going is falling to a B-47 strato-jet from a KC-97 strato-freighter tanker.

ANTIQUE BEAUTIES—Fifteen hundred little ladies of another era make up the rare-doll collection of Mrs. Ruth Schron of Cleveland, Ohio. Unlike dolls of today, these carefully made toys from the past are dressed and coiffured in a way that would make modern misses jealous of their silks, curls and satins.

Embassy property belonging to foreign governments is not subject to taxation. If it were, taxes would amount to over $200,000 annually.

STRICTLY FRESH

ROBBED of her hens, an Illinois farm woman advertised for the thief to "come and get" the lonesome rooster left behind. Seems he's been crowing in a minor key ever since.

A Windsor, Ontario, civil defense "raid" victim, realistically painted with "gruesome" wounds, was rushed to the operating room.

by an unknowing ambulance crew. Realism stopped when doctors brought out scalpels. He'd give his time but a pound of flesh was too much.

After 11 years a thief returned a stolen wallet and $27 to a Washington man. Mailed all the way from Texas, it arrived in time to pay a medical bill. Money from a bad man for a good cause, eh!

A Wyoming man consoled the loser of a five dollar bill, saying, "Everything blows into my yard." When he got home the bill lay on the grass. How the fun got there sounds fishy, to say the least.

A SUMP PUMP FOR A DRAINLESS BASEMENT

Surface water becomes a serious problem in communities where there is no sewer, or where there is no outlet for a basement drain. In some cases, it is not possible to have basements, and special provisions have to be made to prevent surface water from standing under the house.

Many of these difficulties may be solved with an electric sump pump. The sump pump is installed inside a pit or large tile.

The tile should be sunk into the ground or basement floor, low enough that water will drain into it. Sometimes, tile is installed around the foundation or low spots, and drain into the pit.

When the water in the pit gets above the float level, the pump starts working and the water is pumped away a safe distance from the house.

If the outside grade slopes away from the house, the water can usually be released just outside the basement wall.

The outside grade should slope away from the house enough that surface water will not collect around the foundation.

So Goes The Mind

By Orin R. Yost, M. D.
Medical Director, Edgewood Sanitarium

(Editor's Note: Dr. Yost is a graduate of the Medical College of Virginia at Richmond, studied psychiatry at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Washington, D. C., taught psychiatry at Columbia University, New York, was division psychiatrist of the 79th division in World War II, and is presently Medical Director of Edgewood Sanitarium Foundation.)

CURE SEEN FOR 85 PER CENT OF MENTAL CASES

Let a man be taken to a hospital because he has broken a leg, crying out with pain when he tries to walk, and he will be surrounded by nurses, physicians and technicians within a few hours, his suffering eased and his leg so held that it can begin to mend.

But let a man's mind begin to wander or his memory to fail, his perceptions to become confused or his fears to overwhelm him, and he is likely to be conveyed in a dilatory fashion through the county jail to the courtroom and thence to the wards of what was once called the "asylum." What happens after, few know, few care and fewer do anything about.

The worst part of this is that most of these unhappy patients could be cured—as many as 85 per cent of them, if they could be given the proper treatment early enough, according to Karl Menninger, M.D., Chief Consultant and Chairman of the Dean's Committee, Winter Veterans Administration Hospital, and Director, Department of Education, the Menninger Foundation.

Of all the serious diseases that confront mankind, mental illness is one of the most hopeful of recovery.

And yet there is a sad anomaly. While medical and surgical patients are being promptly and successfully treated all over the country, psychiatric patients stand waiting at the door. To be more exact, they wait in sleepless agitation in their homes; they drink themselves into insensibility in bars or they walk the floors of cells in county jails. If any one of you should develop pneumonia today, he could be receiving the best medical treatment before nightfall. But if you should develop a mental illness, the chances are you could not get treatment for a considerable time.

Even patients who go to private clinics with money in their hands, so to speak, and no favors asked except one—that they get treatment—must wait weeks and months before they can even be seen, and many of these patients are just like cancer or heart or TB patients; if they have to wait too long, as many of them do, the condition is beyond repair.

Why is all this? Because there are vastly too few trained psychiatrists, less than a fourth the number needed to take care of only the most serious cases of mental illness. If we are to do something about the frightening statistics that "one in every 12 babies born today will spend part of his adult life in a mental hospital," then we had better take steps soon to make possible the radical enlargement of present programs for producing new psychiatrists.

At the present rate of training, we will never catch up with the demands for psychiatric treatment. How then can psychiatry do an effective job of preventing mental illness? The support of programs for just one of the important objectives of Mental Health, and the state and local mental health organizations associated with it. Support of these associations should pay enormous dividends in human betterment.

"... Can Spring Be Far Behind?"

If there are strawberries on your table, spring is here! For there is no surer sign of spring—nor any more welcome—than fresh, plump, red strawberries. Whether, like one of Mother Goose's heroines, you sit on a cushion and sew a fine seam as you munch your strawberries, sugar and cream; or whether you leave your cushion for the kitchen and concentrate on this beautiful Strawberry Bouquet Pie, you are on your way to a treat! And although you'll probably think this coconut beauty is almost too lovely to eat, you'll be sorry if you don't—cause under the noseage of luscious berries and the topping of snowy, tender coconut is a smooth creamy filling with still more berries!

Strawberry Bouquet Pie

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup sifted flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3 cups milk
- 1 cup shredded coconut, cut if desired
- 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 baked 9-inch pie shell
- 2 cups strawberries
- 1/2 cup cream, whipped
- 1/2 cup shredded coconut
- Mint leaves

Combine 1/2 cup sugar, flour, and salt in top of double boiler; add milk gradually, stirring until smooth. Add 1 cup coconut. Cook over rapidly boiling water 15 minutes, stirring constantly. Mix small amount of mixture with egg yolks, return to double boiler, and cook 2 minutes longer. Remove from heat. Add vanilla and butter. Cool. Cut 1 1/4 cups strawberries in halves and place in pie shell; then add filling. Chill. Before serving, spread pie with whipped cream, sprinkle with 1/2 cup coconut. Garnish with remaining whole berries and mint leaves forming bouquet design in center of pie.

When buying strawberries one of the most important things to observe is the color; they are at their best when they are bright red all over. Those showing green are decidedly immature and tasteless. Keep the strawberries in a cool place and handle as little as possible until ready to serve.

Strawberry Salad

- 1 pint strawberries washed and hulled
- 1/4 cup confectioners sugar
- 1 tablespoon gelatin
- 1/4 cup cold water
- 1/4 cup boiling water
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup crushed pineapple
- 2/3 cup cottage cheese
- 1/2 cup cream whipped

Slice and cover the strawberries with sugar. Soak the gelatin in the cold water and dissolve in hot water. Add lemon juice, salt, pineapple and strawberries. Cool and when mixture begins to thicken, add cottage cheese. Beat well with a spoon. Fold in whipped cream. Pour into greased individual molds. Chill. When ready to serve, unmold on lettuce and serve with cream mayonnaise.

Old Time Strawberry Shortcake

- 2 cups flour
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/3 cup shortening
- 3/4 cup milk
- Butter

Mix and sift the dry ingredients. Work in the shortening with pastry blender or a knife. Gradually add enough milk to make a soft dough. Toss the dough on a floured board and roll to 1/2 inch thickness. Bake in pie plates or cut with biscuit cutter and bake in an oven 450 degrees for 12 to 15 minutes. When done, split into 2 parts. Butter and put sweetened strawberries between the layers and on top. Serve with whipped cream.

Strawberry Sherbert

- 1 cup crushed strawberries
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 tablespoon orange juice
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon gelatin
- 2 cups milk
- Salt

Combine the cup of the strawberries with sugar, orange juice and lemon juice. Let stand 30 minutes. Press through a sieve. Sprinkle gelatin over 1 cup of the milk. Dissolve and combine with rest of the milk and salt. Pour into freezing tray. Chill. Beat egg white stiff, fold into strawberry mixture. Combine the chilled milk mixture with the strawberry mixture. Pour in freezing tray and freeze, stirring several times during freezing.

Glazed Strawberry Tarts

- 6 individual tart shells
- 3 cups strawberries
- 1/3 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon cornstarch
- Red coloring
- Thick boiled custard
- Sweeten strawberries. Let stand 30 minutes. Strain and reserve

Strawberry Cup

- 2 cups strawberries
- 4 tablespoons powdered sugar
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 2 teaspoons grated orange rind
- Wash, hull strawberries and sprinkle with sugar. Add orange juice and rind. Chill. Serve in sherbert glasses, garnish with a sprig of mint.

To the juice add the sugar which has been mixed with the cornstarch. Add red vegetable coloring as desired. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thick and transparent. Cool. Arrange in tart shell a layer of thick boiled custard. Pile with fresh strawberries and pour over the glaze. Chill thoroughly and serve.

Mrs. T. U.: Our doctor says my daughter has a cervical rib and it should be removed by operation. Is any other treatment available? ANSWER: The term cervical rib refers to an unnatural riblike projection from the body of the last cervical (neck) vertebra. It sometimes causes serious difficulties and surgical operation is the only treatment.

Furniture Fashions

The recipe for comfortable "al fresco" dining during the summer months should include a grouping such as the one shown. Light and cheerful, the table's plastic top and tubular metal frame will take a lot of abuse. The woven fibre of the seats and backs of the chairs are not harmed by driving rain or blistering sun.

Tables and chairs have self-leveling glides on the legs to compensate for the type of flooring found in terraces and patios.

Bright colors and smart designing give the right touch to modern outdoor living at moderate prices. You can furnish your outdoor living area as tastefully as the indoors.

This group includes occasional tables and lounge chairs. In good taste and extremely flexible, this furniture was designed to be used outdoors in the summer, and if you wish, in the recreation room during the winter months.

by Betty Ann

EDITOR
THE MILWAUKEE JOURNAL
WOMAN'S PAGES

Dark circles need not be a permanent fixture beneath your eyes, says Betty Ann. If you have always had dark circles, and think they are just part of your complexion, you might talk to your doctor about them. But until healthier living habits, or medical treatment, or more sleep eliminates dark circles, you'll find that make-up skillfully applied can camouflage them.

Use a shade of make-up base lighter than you use for the rest of your face and work some of it gently into the under eye area. If you have wrinkles there, be particularly careful. Hold the wrinkles gently apart and blend in the base or foundation lotion. Then pat powder over the area. Your dark circles, if not entirely eliminated, will be lightened or camouflaged.

That much accomplished, why not use a bit of eye shadow on the upper lid? A very little blue or green shadow above the eye will draw attention away from the shadow beneath the eye. Try these two easy ways to banish the haggard look dark circles give; you'll be happy with the younger, fresher look that results.

Do you have a woebegone walk or do you seem to face up to life?

A shuffling, spiritless walk, with your head drooping and your knees like water, can make worthless the time and money you've invested in clothes because the figure you bought them for isn't there any more. All your best beauty points are wasted when you don't move gracefully. To get yourself into line, concentrate on your rib cage. Stand with feet together and take several deep, slow breaths, until you feel your waistline pulled up out of your stomach.

Then walk off with feet pointed straight ahead, moving your legs from the hips and your chin at a right angle to your body. Pick up your foot very definitely before you set it down again to avoid any tendency to drag. Let your feet strike the ground very lightly, heels first.

As you walk, feel your head is touching the sky or that you are displaying a badge of honor on your chest or balancing a pail of water on your head.

Disguising a drab piece of furniture or door panel by pasting fabric is a quick decorating trick. Textiles can be applied to the headboard of a bed, lamp shades, picture frames, the top of an old card table, the drawers of a commode and unsightly wastebaskets to perk them up for spring.

In covering any square object, the fabric corners should be mitered to eliminate bulk. A bushel basket covered with material, the wire handles bound with sturdy and decorative clothline, makes a practical container for kindling, magazines or toys.

Fabric motifs—a leaf, a figure, a flower—can be cut out and pasted on a wall, door or piece of furniture in geometric or scattered patterns.

Smithsonian Asks For Modernization Funds

America's beloved Smithsonian Institution, custodian of priceless national treasures and one of the world's great repositories of human knowledge, is at long last forced to ask Congress for a modernization fund.

So skillfully has the Institution always stayed within limited budget that it was page one news when its Secretary, Dr. Leonard Carmichael, went up on Capitol Hill to make his appeal, reports the National Geographic Society, which often has been associated over the years with the Smithsonian in the ceaseless quest for facts and truth.

Dr. Carmichael said that the Institution buildings on the Washington Mall must be repaired and given modern facilities to preserve and protect the invaluable things the country has entrusted to Smithsonian care. An overworked staff is embarrassingly in arrears on the vital activity of exchanging scientific knowledge with the rest of the world.

A Private Institution
Many well informed Americans have no clear idea of what the Smithsonian is. Some believe it is a government institution. Actually it is a private one, owned by every citizen of the country. At the same time, it is both a financially nurtured ward and a trusted servant of the Government.

The unique Smithsonian had an unusual beginning. James Smithson, an Englishman who never in his lifetime visited the United States, at his death in 1829 left this country the then respectable fortune of $550,000 to found a "Smithsonian Institution, an establishment for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men."

Rarely does a bequest so little limit the scope of activities it makes possible. Fortunately for the country and the world, the men who organized the Smithsonian and charted its future had imagination as unlimited as the bequest, and there is now hardly a byway of knowledge which the Smithsonian has not explored with scientific objectivity.

Runs the Zoo
Today it operates the National Capital's fine zoological park, the National Herbarium with 2,000,000 plants, the Astrophysical Laboratory and the Bureau of American Ethnology, which saved the lore of the American Indian for posterity. It has responsibility for the National Gallery of Art, sometimes called the Mellon Gallery. It operates the National Collection of Fine Arts and the Freer Art Gallery.

It is a pioneer in the study of radiation and organisms. It will administer the National Air Museum when the museum is built. It founded, and turned over to the Government, the nation's first weather bureau and its first commission on fish. It has taken part in at least 1,500 scientific expeditions "per orbem," as its motto says—"throughout the world."

Millions have been awed, amazed and edified by the public exhibits in its National Museum. The original Star Spangled Banner from Fort Mifflin, Dr. Alexander Graham Bell's first telephone, the pioneer Wright airplane, gowns of every First Lady from Martha Washington on down, the world's most perfect crystal ball, huge whale and dinosaur skeletons, Theodore

Berries, Cottage Cheese, and Cold Cuts

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

IT'S spring in the kitchen! An attractive platter of cold cuts not only perks up appetites but makes kitchen labor easy and pleasant these first balmy days.

A good buying guide is to select at least one meat from each of the three "classes" of table-ready meats. Meat loaves are somewhat mild in flavor, often have other ingredients added, such as pickle and pimiento loaf.

Sausages include favorites, such as Bologna and Braunschweiger. Dry sausages such as salami are zesty and highly seasoned and the sure choice of most men. For utmost flavor and freshness, buy these meats from refrigerated cases.

If the meats are pre-packaged, store them in the refrigerator in their original cello-wrapping. Otherwise, wrap them loosely in waxed paper or foil for refrigerator storage and plan to use them at least within a week of purchase for best flavor and goodness.

Although these meats are used more frequently as cold cuts, they are delicious in many cooked dishes, too. Try the following two recipes in your spring luncheon menus.

THURINGER STRIPS AND NOODLES

(Yield: 6 servings)

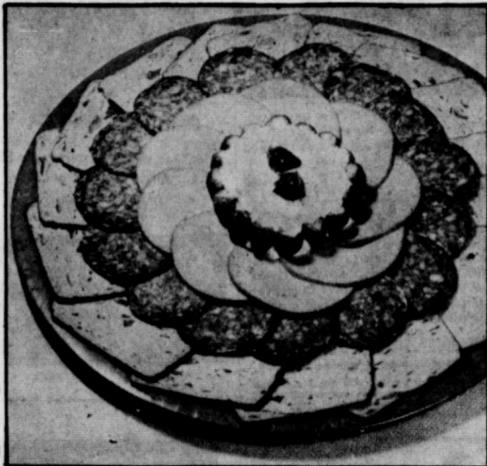

One-half pound Thuringer, 1 cup diced onion, ¼ cup minced green pepper, ¼ cup shortening, ½ pound noodles, 2 teaspoons salt, 4 cups water.

Cut Thuringer into thin strips. Brown Thuringer, onion and green pepper in hot fat. Add noodles. Fry to a golden brown. Add salt and water. Cover. Simmer 25 minutes or until noodles are tender.

HAWAIIAN BAKED BEANS

(Yield: 8 servings)

One pound cooked salami, two No. 2 cans baked beans (4 cups), 1 cup drained, canned pineapple cubes, 1 grated clove of garlic, ¼ cup honey. Cut salami into ½-inch cubes. Combine salami, baked beans, pineapple and garlic. Pour into 2-quart casserole. Drizzle honey over mixture. Heat in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 min.

This assorted cold cut tray, garnished with strawberries and cottage cheese, is a spring treat.

Big Breakfast, Balanced Food Intake Are Basis of Healthful Reducing Diet

A good, big breakfast is the basis for a perfect diet, according to nutrition experts. Your body works more efficiently when your food intake is balanced throughout the day, says Helen McCully, Food Editor of McCall's Magazine, and you are less likely to snack between meals. Writing in the May issue, which features an overall program for improving milady's appearance and dress, she gives complete menus for a ten-day diet. This safe and slow-reducing method takes off about two pounds a week:

"Dr. Frederick Stare, Chairman of the Department of Nutrition, Harvard University, points out that starting the day with a black coffee, fruit-juice breakfast is equivalent to attempting to drive a car twelve hours on an empty gas tank. Since food is fuel for the body and the body goes right on functioning whether you are awake or asleep, it should be obvious that you work better and your body works better when the daily food intake is balanced throughout the day.

"All the daily menus in McCall's ten-day diet are based on a count of 1,200 calories, the safe number for health and slow reducing. You will lose only, and rightly, about two pounds a week. But if you stick with this diet you can definitely whittle yourself down to your desirable weight, which, according to the insurance people is the average weight for your height at the age of 25.

"Here are sample menus for two whole days:

- Breakfast
½ small grapefruit
½ cup ready-to-eat cereal
1 teaspoon brown sugar
1 egg, boiled or poached
1 thin slice toast
1 cup whole milk
1 cup black coffee
- Lunch
Sandwich: 1 medium tomato, 1 serving (1 oz.) Cheddar cheese,
1 slice whole-wheat toast
½ cup flavored gelatin
1 cup black coffee
- Dinner
¾ average slices beef tongue
¾ cup carrots, 1 teaspoon butter
1 lettuce wedge, 1 tablespoon dieter's dressing
1 cup whole milk
1 small orange (2½" diam.)

- Breakfast
½ cup orange juice

- ½ cup cooked cereal
1 egg, boiled or poached
1 thin slice toast
½ cup whole milk
1 cup black coffee
- Lunch
2/3 cup beef-vegetable soup
Salad: ½ cup cabbage, ½ apple,
1 small cube Cheddar cheese,
1 lettuce leaf,
1 tablespoon dieter's dressing
1 cup black coffee
- Dinner
1 broiled hamburger (5 patties per pound)
½ cup snap beans
½ cup yellow squash
3 heaping tablespoons fruit salad: fresh orange, grapefruit, green grapes, 2 lettuce leaves
1 cup whole milk

Bible Comment: Covetousness Can Only Lead to Pain and Misery

WHAT is the definition of the word "Covetousness"? Probably, we could define it as an inordinate desire to possess those things which rightfully belong to others.

Covetousness has played a large part in the social and economic life of the world. This has been on a vast scale and has contributed far more to the injury of the human race than many of us realize.

But first let us look at the Ten Commandments and examine them carefully. It is apparent that they are carefully designed to establish sound ideals as a basis of community life. Based on a firm foundation of absolute faith in one spiritual God, they also established mutually safe, entirely fair restraints on the population living in a community.

But it is important to note two things. One is the way that Israel fell into decay and ruin through the failure to keep those commandments. The second is the way that weaknesses, evils and failures in our modern and complex societies are largely due to the failure to establish and practice these commandments.

The measure of our social disruption is largely the extent to which we have failed to recognize the principles which Moses saw were at the foundation of the common welfare.

The parable of the successful farmer is one which might offer a good example. He was typical of so many men who are materially successful and yet are so apt to be forgetful of their obligations to God and their fellowmen.

How much better our lives would be if we tried to be "rich toward God" and if we could only discover the wealth of living that God intends for all of us.

World production of electricity in 1951 reached the staggering total of one trillion 19 billion kilowatt hours—1,019,000,000,000.

Earth's speed around the sun is estimated at 66,600 miles per hour.

HORSE OF ANOTHER COLOR—Champion, horse belonging to TV-cowboy Gene Autry, takes on a TV-type hue as he is made up by actress Joan Caulfield before going on the video airwaves. Autry, his costume covered by a sheet, also received cosmetic touchups from Miss Caulfield before appearing on the TV screen.

GOOD HEALTH

1. WERE WE HEALTHY IN 1950?
Sofa pillows and ways of using them have undergone a change. For a long time, as a reaction to the tasseled, fringed and ribboned pillows of the popular "Turkish cozy corner," there was a period when pillows were considered as not in keeping with the simple, functional modern style.

Now that a softened and more elegant look is in favor for interiors, pillows are back with us. Treated with discrimination as important decorative accessories, they often supply the only touch of sparkling color in monochromatic room schemes.

Crushed Pineapple Carrot Mold
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple; 1 package lemon flavored gelatin; ½ cup sugar; ¼ teaspoon salt; 2 tablespoons lemon juice; 1 cup finely grated carrots; ½ pint whipping cream.

Drain pineapple. Add enough water to pineapple syrup to make one and one-half cups. Heat to a boil. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add sugar, salt and lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Add drained pineapple and grated carrots. Whip cream stiff and fold into gelatin mixture. Pour into an eight inch ring mold (one and one-half quarts) and chill until firm. If desired, mold in individual molds. It's best to make this salad a day ahead of serving so that it will be thoroughly set before unmolding. Unmold and garnish with watercress. Serve with cheese straws. Yield: Eight servings.

2. CAN CEREBRAL PALSY BE PREVENTED?
ment of special clinics throughout the country a new day of hope is dawning for rehabilitation of cerebral palsy victims.

Answer to Question No. 3:
3. While death certificates often have listed suffocation by bedclothes as a cause of death (one-half the infant deaths between 1945 and 1949 were so listed) recent investigation has shown that most such deaths actually were caused by acute infection in throat or lungs. Mothers should continue to guard against suffocation but also should be particularly alert for signs of colds in young babies and should call the family doctor early when there are such signs.

About The Home

By FRANCES DELL

About this time of year homemakers all over America begin to think about spring house-cleaning. The latest theory about this custom is that if you are a good housekeeper spring cleaning will not be necessary. However, even if you are the kind of homemaker who makes it unnecessary, you may benefit by looking over your house with a critical eye.

We often become so accustomed to the surroundings, we don't notice the chair we had done over two years ago, or the living-room walls that need looking after.

This is also the time when most of us begin to feel a strong desire to do something about our yards. Every year many of us get out the seed catalogues and indulge in planning that beautiful "day-dream" garden. This year, why not try to do better than that—and really plant it and care for it? Its beauty greatly enhances the home.

There was an interesting story in the newspapers a few weeks ago about a town that was planning a spring drive to make yards, houses, churches and office buildings more beautiful. The old court house was to be painted by a group of volunteer painters. New planting was to be done around the post office and public library. The housewives were to spruce-up their yards.

There is something very American about this combined effort of a whole town. It might be well for your town to adopt such a self-improvement plan. The town, like the home, could stand beautifully each spring!

United States electric output multiplied by almost exactly 6 during the quarter century 1928-1951.

LANDING HER—"Her" refers to the girl, movie actress Debra Paget, being carried ashore by a husky Marine during amphibious landing operations at Little Creek, Va. The event was part of a joint project celebrating the world premiere of the movie "Titanic" and was sponsored by the Navy and a Hollywood movie studio.

By Ted Kesting

Spring is the time to paint boats. But don't set yourself a timetable to paint each spring, every other spring or every third one. The rule is: never paint unless it is needed. Willard Crandall, boats and motors expert, says there are only two objects in any repainting—to improve appearance and to protect the boat.

Preparing the surface, the first step, is probably the most important. Paint removers have been improved and are the amateur's standby. Experts burn off old paint but the novice may find this quite difficult; electric hot-scraper devices are better. Electric sanders can be a real solution; avoid the disk-type—they scar up the wood too much and can do real damage to a plywood surface. The vibrating type is most often best.

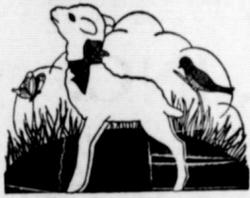

Don't just pick out a dry day to paint but wait until it has been dry for a couple of days or more, and then not early in the morning and not later than early afternoon. Give the paint a chance to start drying before the evening dew can get on it to dull the wet finish. Warmer spring days are best—cold paint is slow drying.

Experts disagree on just how cold is too cold; but none advises painting at under 40 degrees, or varnishing under about 50 degrees and all agree that the ideal temperatures are somewhat higher. Too hot isn't good either: varnish won't flow right, act right or look right. Paint tends to blister when it gets too hot.

If you're outdoors, don't paint and certainly never varnish on windy days since there's sure to be sand and dirt flying to mess up the job.

Sand thoroughly and carefully, of course, before and between

Pruning Damaged Trees

STORMY weather, ice and snow may have damaged the trees on your property. The time to make repairs is as soon as the weather permits.

If a large branch has ripped off, it probably tore out a long strip of wood and some bark. Trim off this area, smoothing off the wound, and then paint it with an antiseptic tic paint. For small wounds, you can use shellac and grafting wax. Work this mixture in so that no cracks remain. For breaks more than two inches in diameter, buy a ready-mixed, medicated paint.

The illustration, from Family Handyman, shows the proper procedure for removing large branches which have been damaged. Make the cuts in the order of the numbers. Cut 2 joins cut 1, preventing a tearing wound. Later, remove the stump at cut 3. This system prevents the weight of the branch from causing more damage when it falls.

Finally, treat the stub with an antiseptic paint.

coats. Don't use a coarser grade than is needed—you'd only mar the surface unnecessarily. And really let a coat dry before applying the next one by waiting a day or so after all signs of tackiness have disappeared. Don't ever let it slip out of your mind that violation of temperature and humidity rules have ruined more paint jobs than poor material ever did, and that a poor job not only has to be done over—it has to be got off before the doing over can even start.

Use only marine paint. Other types simply aren't formulated to take the natural hazards of life on a boat. Brush the paint out well—don't put on a thick coat. Varnish, or a final gloss coat, should be "flowed on." Stir paint completely, varnish not at all—you don't want bubbles. Paint from top down; otherwise you'll have drooping paint on your just-finished edges. Keep a turpentine-soaked rag handy to take off paint in the wrong places. Fill all nail holes and so forth with marine wood putty after a primer coat—it won't adhere as well to bare wood. Use masking tape around metal fittings.

"MIGHTY MO" MOWS 'EM DOWN—A booming blast from the United States Navy's battleship Missouri thunders across the water to wreak ruin on Communist installations near Wonsan harbor. North Korean hills can be seen in the background. The "Mighty Mo" has taken part in many battles since the start of the Korean war.

The United States produces 42 1/2% of the world's electricity, Russia 10%, Canada, United Kingdom, Germany, Japan rank next at 6.3, 5.9, 5, and 4 percent.

RED-THROATED LOON

Red-throated Loon
©1952 National Wildlife Federation

The fact that a bird has a wide range for its species does not mean necessarily that it is correspondingly well known. The red-throated loon ranges during the year from the Aleutians to Greenland and south to Florida and Lower California and yet most people go through their lives without ever seeing or hearing one of these birds.

The red-throated loon, with a length of 27 inches overall, is some 5 inches shorter than a full grown common loon. It lacks the conspicuous black head and neck band of the common loon though it is white beneath and has the breast striped with black and white. The throat of the red-throated loon has a conspicuous chestnut triangle at its lower edge. In winter the bird is dusky above. The sexes are colored alike.

Breeding of the red-throated loon takes place from northern Alaska and the western Aleutians south to northern British Columbia and east to Greenland, Newfoundland and Quebec. It also breeds in Europe and Asia. Our winter range of the species extends south to Florida and the region of Lower California nearest to the United States, for the most part.

The red-throated loon has been suspected of feeding on fish eggs and it is known to make a large part of its diet of fish which it catches by diving and pursuit underwater. Because of these habits it has been considered as undesirable, but what would a summer be in the wilds of Canada or northern United States without the opportunity of listening to some loons "talk things over" on the other side of the lake in the middle of the night?

During migration the birds have a remarkably strong direct flight. If through accident or otherwise they happen to come to earth in migration, they probably will end their days where they come down since they cannot "take off" except from water. In New England the southern migration is about at its height in October. A poet has concisely described the overground migration of the bird as "the sure, swift flight of loons." Words would hardly improve this description.

The nest is nothing but a mere depression hidden on the bank of a lake or stream. Sometimes it is lined with finer grasses. It must be close to the shore because the birds are almost helpless on land. In the water they more than make up for this land handicap. There are usually 2 eggs, each about 3 inches long, highly variable in color and either spotted with drab brown or plain.

Both sexes take part in the 4-week incubation period and the downy chicks are dark gray above and drab. The young take to the water soon after they are hatched but they are guarded jealously by the parents who become greatly excited when any sign of danger is to be found. In spite of the noisy behavior of loons at some times, they may vanish from sight quickly when they wish to do so.

The National Wildlife Federation and similar conservation organizations are greatly interested in careful observations of all forms of wildlife about whose genuine value there may be any question. The red-throated loon would come under this heading unquestionably.

Hay Drying Wagon Now Proposed

Here's a new way to solve that perennial hay drying problem on Wisconsin dairy farms.

Some farmers in the state are now using portable wagon racks equipped to dry hay.

H. D. Bruhn, farm engineer at the University of Wisconsin, says the drying wagon may well be the answer to those rainy day blues in haying season.

Here's how the process works. The crop is cut with a regular mower or combination mower with hay crusher. The hay wilts to about 35 per cent moisture—leaves will not shatter. The crop is picked up, chopped and loaded into a special wagon rack where the drying is finished.

Bruhn says alfalfa and clover in average haying weather will drop to 35 per cent moisture pretty fast. At 30 per cent moisture some leaves will shatter.

The special wagon rack is then hauled to a crop dryer. Heated air is forced through the load to finish drying.

The wagon rack worked out by Bruhn is about 16 feet long, slightly less than eight feet wide. He loads hay six or seven feet deep.

The rack has AIR TIGHT floor, sides, and ends. It also has an open, false floor about one foot above the air tight floor. Bruhn likes this false floor because he can rig an automatic unloader in the wagon.

Hot air enters under the false floor through the front of the wagon. A canvas tunnel carries air from the dryer into the wagon.

The dryer is usually made up of a special oil burning furnace, a large fan driven by either an electric motor or engine, plus control equipment.

How fast can I dry the hay? You can dry one ton of chopped hay in one hour with a 7 1/2 HP electric motor or engine. This unit burns eight to 10 gallons of fuel per hour and moves 15,000 to 20,000 cubic feet of air per minute against static pressure of about one inch of water.

Better not try to cut corners by drying in the field until leaves shatter. On the other hand you can run up expenses by throwing in hay that's too wet, he says.

Bruhn doesn't feel it's a good idea to run wagon-dried hay through a blower. Shattering is too heavy. He recommends an elevator.

Wagon drying is not continued until all hay in the wagon is dry. You can stop when hay on top is still rather damp. Overdrying on the bottom compensates for wet hay on top when the load is mixed. Experience is the best guide for telling when a load is finished.

Hay is cooled before storage by shutting off the heating unit and blowing unheated air through the load. Don't put warm hay in storage or let wagon loads of warm hay stand around says Bruhn.

Commercial portable crop dryers are now on the market. Bruhn does not recommend that the average farmer try to build his own crop dryer. But he does feel that excellent wagon racks for drying can be built in farm shops or small local shops.

The operation can definitely be economical if carefully planned.

A Gift To Please—Wisconsin Cheese

What's your favorite cheese—bleu, cheddar, Swiss, Romano, Muenster, or brick? Whatever type, flavor or textured cheese you prefer, there's a gift box of Wisconsin cheese to fill your needs. Your favorite cheese mart will fill your order to suit your particular preferences. These gift boxes of Wisconsin cheese are wrapped for mailing, the cost of which is included in the price.

Wisconsin cheese is a gift to please because everyone likes it in one form or another. Some like to eat sliced cheese on crackers or bread as a between-meal or late evening snack, while others like cheese in casserole dishes, fancy sandwiches, in salads or in desserts. Many like cheese in spreads, canapes or appetizers served on a buffet tray. Cheese in appetizers is a palate-teaser that stimulates guest's appetites for the first course of the meal. Whatever the occasion, cheese has a place, a very important place, in some course of the meal.

A vitamin, mineral and protein-rich food, cheese is nutritious as well as delicious. It contains Vitamin A, B2 (Riboflavin), Calcium and phosphorus. Most varieties of cheese contain 20-25% high quality milk protein to build strong muscles and body tissues. Six ounces of American cheddar cheese supply the body with as much calcium and phosphorus as a full quart of milk. As an energy food, cheese is tops because 25-35% of the total weight of most cheeses is milk fat. So energy-wise, nutrition-wise and flavor-wise cheese is a star.

For gifts to please, send Wisconsin cheese to your friends.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By Reynolds Knight

NEW YORK—Annual meetings of corporations occur in great numbers every April. In the month just ended, these meetings gave an encouraging glimpse of plans for pressing onward with expansion of facilities to serve civilian consumer demand.

Both large and small companies expressed this optimism. Favored fields for growth included chemicals, oil refining, motor, rubber, household appliances, and gas and electric utilities.

Textile companies have little hope of expanding, although they will spend some money shifting to use the new synthetic fibers. The railroads are ordering fewer cars, but they have a vast amount of plant improvement behind them.

Cutbacks in government housing, if they actually occur, will be accompanied by higher interest rates which should move more private money into this field. All in all, the economic skies are still bright.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY — This month marks the fiftieth year since an occurrence which has had more influence on this nation's level of musical taste and knowledge than any event heralded with more fanfare then and now. Away back in 1903 the young Victor Talking Machine Company engaged Ada Crossley, Australian soprano, to make the first "Red Seal" classical recording.

The record had only one side, sold for several dollars, and would be considered hopelessly scratchy, judged by today's standards. Yet in the ensuing generation its "descendants" provided many Americans' whole acquaintance with classical music, and the Red Seal catalog was a Who's Who of the world's finest musicians.

Today RCA-Victor, which grew out of that early venture, provides an extended-play record that holds four times as much music as those early discs, at only a fraction of the price. The low-cost and high quality of records today have given a big boost to "serious" music: today the Red Seal label accounts for 35 per cent of Victor sales whereas 10 years ago it was a scant 20 per cent.

THINGS TO COME — "Hi-Seat," a juvenile chair, has suction cups on its legs which enable a dining chair to support a "Hi-Seat" safely for a young diner. . . . A pallet stacker which reaches 115 inches into the air may solve space problems for small jobbers and large retailers who have many light articles to stack. . . . This summer you may trim those unhandy edges of your lawn with a midget mower which pulls the hard-to-get-at grass into its reach by air suction. . . . Doors, tracks, guides and hardware for a sliding-door unit for a closet come in one carton. . . . Next gift season may see the old pros in wrapping departments eclipsed by a new machine which turns out decorative bows at the turn of a crank.

NEW KITCHENS NOW!—It's much better to remodel one's kitchen all at once than step by step, magazine and newspaper appliance editors agreed at the fourth annual Automatic Gas Range Conference in New York. Most American families of the $5,000-and-up income groups are in a position to finance kitchen fixing-upping by use of an open-end mortgage.

The conference, sponsored annually by the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, drew a record number of editors to the latest session. The editors were pleased to find the kitchen-building profession growing up to their most advanced ideas.

Appliance makers use the conference to preview their new models for the periodicals' experts, who in turn pass on their readers' ideas about gas range design. This year the ranges ran to larger broilers, deodorizing lights, cutlery racks and ovens built into the walls.

ROAD TO DEFENSE—Defense industry will settle down on a base somewhere between the Truman administration's ideal of broad industrial mobilization and the implied preference of Defense Secretary Wilson for a few plants working full speed to produce arms.

Whether the first Wilson idea was misunderstood or whether the Republicans have backed away from it isn't clear. But Roger M. Kyes, deputy secretary of defense, now declares that only high-cost producers will be cut off the list of arms suppliers.

In some cases, even when a secondary source is the lower-cost operator on goods now being made, a primary supplier will be spared because of his knowledge of how to improve current models.

BITS O' BUSINESS—Interest on top-grade loans was increased in New York, sending government bond prices to new lows.
