Coat dress and dress coat are almost synonymous this season. Their duo personality in many cases make the coat acceptable as a dress and the dress suitable as a coat, says Betty Ann.

Knitted bathing suits, which attempted a comeback last summer, seem to be headed for popularity this year.

If you're a long stemmed woman whose slips never are quite long enough, you can lengthen them in minutes.

STRAWBERRY JAM

3-3 1/2 cups berry pulp; 1/4 cup lemon juice (2 lemons); 7 cups sugar; 1/2 bottle liquid fruit pectin. Then make the jam. Measure three and three-fourths cups pulp into a very large saucepan.

MASHED AVOCADO

Whenever a recipe calls for both mashed avocado and lemon juice it's a good idea to add the lemon juice to the avocado as you mash it.

CREOLE STEAK

1 large flank steak; salt; pepper; fat; 1 cup tomato sauce; 1/2 cup water; 1/4 cup finely cut green sweet pepper; 1 cup finely cut celery; 1 cup minced onion; 1 cup ripe olives.

A topping of chopped nuts varies the serving of canned green beans. Melt two tablespoons butter in a small skillet, add two tablespoons chopped brazil nuts and an equal amount of bread crumbs are browned and sprinkle over heated vegetable.

Cut raw carrots and celery in pieces about the same size; cook together in a small amount of boiling salted water just until tender.

You can keep a thick skin from forming on the top of cooked packaged puddings by sprinkling a thin layer of sugar over the top while the pudding is still hot.

Ever dice avocado and mix it with cut up fruit for a dessert? Dress it with a combination of orange or pineapple juice, honey and lemon juice.

When preparing lemon, lime or orange rind, use the grater lightly so you include only the outer-most colored part of the rind; then the grated rind won't be bitter.

About Your Home

By FRANCES DELL

Good design for flower arrangements can't be memorized from a book. Reading books can teach you the fundamental skills and techniques. Never try to copy illustrations, flower by flower.

In the first place, most of the arrangements you will make will be for your own home. Remember your home is not a flower-show auditorium and you are not competing for any blue ribbons.

No two arrangements made with garden flowers are the same. No two garden-grown flowers are the same. For this reason imitations are not successful.

Long lists of flower arrangement rules intimidate most of us. Never struggle for hours to copy an elaborate design that follows the strictest judges' rules.

Keep your arrangements simple. Over-fussy "quaint" arrangements usually look out of place in most homes.

Green foliage used alone and arranged in an artful and natural-looking manner is lovely. Try giving the leaves a right-to-left curve to carry the eye through the design.

Warns Towns To Care For Trees

Trees often make the difference between an attractive, livable community and one that is undesirable says the National Arborist Association, and these valuable assets should receive adequate care.

Shade trees require periodical pruning to preserve their form and beauty. Dead or dying limbs which may be a hazard to life should be removed, according to the association, which also advises street planting of tree species which are tough and resilient.

Community trees are a valuable asset and cities and towns annually should appropriate funds for their maintenance just as they do for other municipal properties, the association says, if they wish to conserve them. Often moderate sums expended for proper care will save considerable amounts both in tree renewal and removal, in the case of trees which perish for lack of attention.

Whenever a recipe calls for both mashed avocado and lemon juice it's a good idea to add the lemon juice to the avocado as you mash it. This keeps the avocado from darkening.

Paint Your Home With Fragrance

BY EDNA MILES

BRINGING a garden indoors during the summer isn't always possible in the literal sense. Maybe you haven't a garden or, perhaps, you're the kind of woman who'd rather leave the blooms adorning the yard.

In that case, try painting either one scent or the fragrance of an entire bouquet into your house. It's easily done with scented lacquer, which can be used on any unpainted or unvarnished wooden surface.

A little goes a long way. You may use the lacquer inside bureau drawers, underneath closet shelves or beneath tables and window sills. These strips can be washed off and a new scent substituted whenever you like.

But meantime, the perfume will last for weeks, depending on the size of the area you've covered.

When you use it inside your bureau drawers, apply it in strips on the bottom or at the back of the door with the brush made especially for the purpose. To clean off the brush, wash it off with warm water.

It scents your lingerie and linens, of course, as well as perfuming the air in the immediate vicinity.

Brush long-lasting scented lacquer in bureau drawers to perfume linens, lingerie and the room itself.

BEAUTY COMES IN PAIRS

The linen closet has four fascinating pairs when pillow slips are embroidered or painted with these designs. At the top is a picture treatment, unusual and interesting.

Watch That Sunburn; Modern Medicine Aids Epileptic Seizures

Watch that sunburn—it may be more dangerous than you think. Just because our bright sunny days have been a long time coming, don't try to make up for lost time all in a few short hours.

Yes, sunlight may be very beneficial—or it may be quite harmful. It all depends on how you use it. A moderate amount stimulates the skin in all its functions and enhances its color.

On the other hand if a large area of the skin is badly sunburned one is likely to suffer dizziness, headaches, fever and vomiting besides doing damage to the skin itself.

Epilepsy is still one of the most misunderstood disorders afflicting people today. This is probably due to the dramatic nature of this illness and because the condition has often been erroneously associated with insanity, feeble-mindedness and even "witchcraft."

Research workers in this highly specialized field of medicine have long since proved that this is not true. Most persons with epilepsy are about like anyone else.

Epileptic seizures may vary in form from a simple brief loss of consciousness, blinking of the eyelids, or staring into space to convulsions in any part of the body accompanied by biting of the tongue or falling to the ground.

The outlook for the epileptic is excellent. It remains only for society to accept them as normal human beings who have a condition which can be satisfactorily treated and restored to society as wholesome, healthy, and normal individuals.

Help Your Child Overcome Shyness

Does your child withdraw from the group and stand by while others play? His shyness may be only temporary strangeness, but if it persists, there may be deeper reasons, says child expert Irma Simonton Black.

"Four-year-old Timmy sat alone in a little corner of the play yard. No one paid much attention to him, because he didn't do anything that made trouble. He didn't hit or tease his playmates. He just had no contact with them at all."

"Why does a child retreat from human contact at such an early age? Perhaps it is simply a lack of social experience. If this is the case, your child may sit in a corner for his first week in a new group, but he will probably be in the thick of things as soon as the strangeness wears off."

"But if he persists in his voluntary loneliness, there may be deeper reasons. Is he an older child who feels that the baby has taken too much of your love and attention? Do you expect too much of him? Overly strict discipline, or too many threats, may also create a climate of fear which makes your child withdraw into himself to avoid trouble."

"What can you do to bring such a child back to the spontaneous friendliness of the happy youngster? Here are some suggestions:

- 1. Bring him together with other children often.
2. Give him time. Don't urge him repeatedly to 'play with Peter.'
3. Give your child plenty of chance for independence at home—for example, choosing clothes for the day, pouring the milk at luncheon or helping you dry the silver.

"4. Don't ever force him to 'stand up for his rights' if it seems easier for him at the moment to give in to an aggressive child.

"5. Give him playthings that may be used freely and expressively, such as blocks, paints or clay. Let him express negative as well as positive feelings."

It is harder to be poor without complaining than to be rich without boasting.

Bible Comment:

Jesus Appears To Humanity In Two Aspects

JESUS in the Gospel narrative appears in two characters, or aspects, that to the undiscerning eye might seem different.

Nevertheless, both express His teaching concerning honesty and justice, sincerity and love.

We see Him as the compassionate Savior and friend—dealing gently with sinful men and women, commending a good Samaritan, weeping with those who weep, blessing little children—a Savior looking upon the multitude as sheep without a shepherd.

Then, in another aspect, we see Him as the irreplicable, indignant Christ, driving the money-changers from the Temple.

And when we turn to Matthew, we read in His words the most terrible indictment of evil men ever spoken; spoken even against those who considered themselves the officially religious of their day.

Surely sterner words have never been spoken than in that succession of "Woes!"

It is easy to reconcile these words with the gentleness and compassion that the Master showed toward other sinners, for these Temple sinners sinned against the humanity and compassion of the Master's gospel of love. They sinned against their fellow men, as well as against God.

It might be said that Jesus was compassionate toward sins of the flesh, but completely denunciatory of willful sins of the spirit.

But in His compassion there was no soft sentimentalism, no excuse or blurring of values. To sinners, whom His very love drew to repentance, He said: "Your sins are forgiven; go, and sin no more."

Emergency Crops Provide Pasture in Hot Weather

Fifty cows graze on this 25-acre sudangrass pasture during the day and are turned into permanent pasture in the evening. They have no worry about feed during the hot summer months.

It's good business for a dairyman to have all the nutritious, palatable pasture his livestock can eat every day that weather is fit for grazing. Abundant, luxurious pasture boosts milk production and keeps down feed cost.

Good planning can provide adequate pasture during hot summer months when ordinary permanent stands are usually unproductive. It is always better to plan for a margin of safety than to run short at a critical time and run the risk of a break in a continuous milk supply.

There are several ways that a summer pasture shortage can be avoided.

1. Provide liberally for early spring pasture which with usual spring rainfall will leave some to be cut and put in the silo for a midsummer shortage or if not needed then will be available for later use. This is always good business.

2. Early harvest of heavy growth of such crops as alfalfa or orchardgrass which have outstanding ability to recover rapidly after early cutting to produce abundantly in July and August. Heavy fertilization encourages early growth of such crops.

3. Irrigation where water supply and equipment are available for use in summer months. This method is coming into use more each year even though in some cases the expense in dollars and cents seems to outweigh the apparent advantages. The making possible a continuous milk supply to meet a consuming milk market is often a deciding factor.

4. Perhaps the safest and most practical way where acreage is available, even when one of the other methods is used, is to sow a warm season crop such as sudangrass, sorghum or millet which can be used wholly or in part for pasture or silage during July and August.

Sudangrass is one of the most satisfactory crops for this purpose and has come into very general use over a large part of the United States in recent years. Sown in late spring or early summer when both weather and soil are warm, it will be ready for grazing in 4 or 5 weeks. Recovery after grazing is rapid and surplus growth not needed for pasture can be cut for silage. Piper, Tift, Greenleaf and Lahoma in their respective adapted areas are highly palatable outstanding varieties. High quality seed of the first two is readily obtained and the last two newer varieties are rapidly becoming available. With the above four possibilities of warding off any summer shortage of pasture, there is hardly any excuse for a dairyman to endanger his supply of dairy products during the summer months.

SUNFLOWERS DO NOT TURN WITH THE SUN

This is a very popular fallacy, arising perhaps from mythology. According to the myth, Clytie, daughter of Oceanus, became enamoured of Sol, the Sun. Later when he despised her, she pined away in sorrow, and was finally changed into a sunflower. 1. Chambers Encyclopedia. 2. Encyclopedia Britannica — 11th Edition. 3. "Four sunflowers may be seen on the same stalk and facing the four cardinal points." — "Popular Fallacies" — A. S. E. Ackermann.

AVALANCHE LILY

AVALANCHE LILY ©1953 National Wildlife Federation

To most of us the names "Trout Lily," "Adder's Tongue," "Dog-tooth Violet," "Fawn Lily," or "Chamise Lily" have some meaning. We know these plants because one or the other or many may be found growing attractively and reasonably abundantly wide-spread over America. All belong to the genus Erythronium. Most of them bloom early in the spring and most are relatively hardy, surviving picking rather well in part because of the underground reproductive parts.

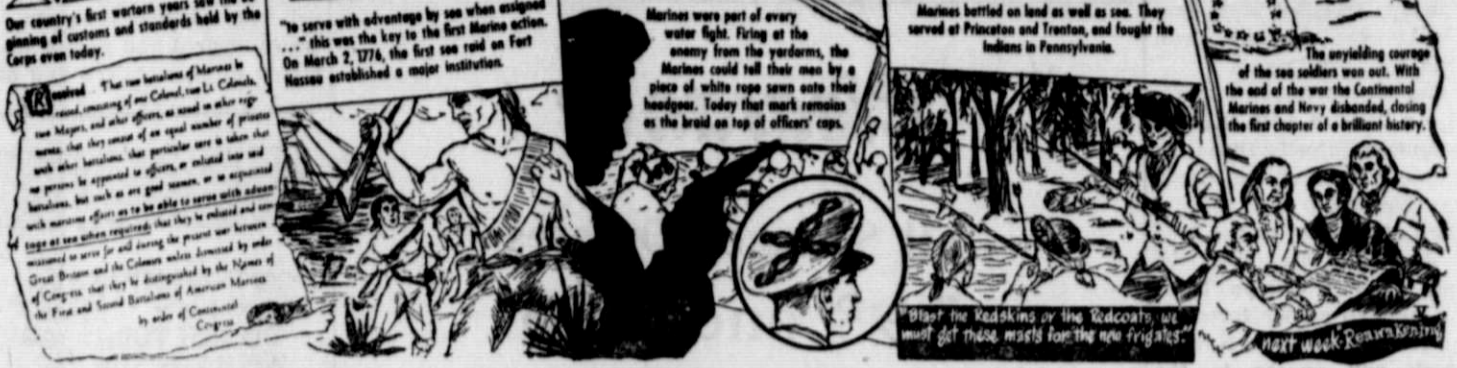

The Avalanche Lily is not so well known. Even in some of the standard botany books dealing with kinds of plants it may appear under the name Alpine Fawn Lily rather than as Avalanche Lily. Botanists speak of it as Erythronium montanum and it is found in alpine meadows in the states of Washington and Oregon. It was first recognized as a separate species by botanists who had a plant collected on Mount Hood in Oregon. It rather closely resembles the California Fawn Lily but has leaves that are not mottled. It of course has other differences but these are not obvious at all times to the casual naturalist. The California Fawn Lily is sometimes called the Easter Lily but this name of course applies to many other plants.

The flowers of the Avalanche Lily are white with the parts that are most showy orange at the base. The flowers may turn pinkish with age or when collected for use as herbarium specimens. There are 6 of the showy "petals" that bend backward at the tips much as do the parts of the adder's-tongue of the East. There may be more than one flower to a pair of leaves. The stamens are to 1/2 inch long, with the pollen-bearing portion being white and to 1/6 inch long. The pistil thrusts its 3-parted tip beyond the length of the stamens. The leaves are to 5 inches long and an inch wide with unbroken margins and with parallel veins. As stated earlier they are not mottled. Plants bearing flowers usually show two leaves supporting the flower while younger shoots may have a single leaf. The underground parts arise from a horizontal structure that is covered with coarse, thickened scales. This underground portion is edible but the plant is too beautiful for it to be sacrificed for food except in the greatest imaginable emergency. It is only natural that a flower so attractive as the Avalanche Lily should be protected from those who through thoughtlessness frequently destroy what they most admire. It is highly appropriate that the National Wildlife Federation should lend its service to the protection of this plant that so well demonstrates the philosophy of the conservationist dedicated to making this world a better place in which to live. —E. CARE-FREE, NOT CARE-LESS VACATIONS

IN THE NEXT THREE MONTHS, MILLIONS OF AMERICAN FAMILIES WILL BE TAKING VACATIONS. EARNED THROUGH THE YEAR, THESE RESPITES FROM ROUTINE CAN MEAN RECREATION—RE-CREATION.

WHETHER THE PURPOSE BE DIVERSION OR REST, VACATIONISTS CAN BE CAREFREE IF THEY HAVE BEHIND THEM A BACKLOG OF SAVINGS AND LIFE INSURANCE. THEY CAN BE CAREFREE WITHOUT BEING CARELESS—THEY CAN DRIVE SAFELY, GUARD AGAINST FIRE, RESPECT THE SUN'S RAYS, AVOID DESTRUCTION OR LITTERING OF PUBLIC PARKS. AND, BY TAKING THINGS EASY, BOTH IN BODY AND SPIRIT, THE FAMILY WILL RETURN REFRESHED FOR THE MONTHS AHEAD. THAT'S A VACATION.

HOW TO BEAT BASEMENT DAMPNESS

Dampness can do a lot of damage in your basement recreation room or storage room, particularly, if you have books or clothing stored.

The damp condition in your recreation room is most likely caused by the condensation of moisture from the warm summer air on the cold basement walls.

Warm air will hold more moisture than cold air. When the warm air is suddenly cooled, it gives up some of its moisture. This collects on your basement walls and causes the entire room and everything in it to become damp.

These damp areas may be dried out with forced ventilation. This is no permanent cure, and must be continued as long as the condition exists.

Keep basement windows open, particularly at night when the weather is clear and dry.

Force the circulation of air on the dry spots. Most basements are built with the windows so high that the circulation of air is very poor along the floor and in the corners.

This may be done with electric fans. Direct the fan so that the breeze blows directly on the damp spots.

Use calcium chloride in drip containers to absorb the moisture. See illustration.

Empty the drip pan down the basement drain and flush with clear water. Do not empty the pan on grass or shrubbery. It will kill them.

If the damp condition is general and not in one particular place, the fans may be set in the middle of the basement, or in the basement windows.

There are some very efficient laundry ventilation fans on the market, to be installed in basement windows. One of these should be installed if you use either a gas or an electric clothes drier.

Electric de-humidifiers are very efficient for drying out the air in the basement, or in any other room in the house. See your appliance dealer if you are bothered with dampness.

The cure for condensation on basement walls and floors lies partly in lowering the temperature of the surfaces. This will be discussed in a later article.

A Novel Baseball Suggestion Proposed

Baseball fans are currently engaged in a hot dispute because of the suggestion by Cleveland's general manager, Hank Greenberg, that teams in each league play teams in the other league in regularly scheduled games. Greenberg proposes that each club in each league play every other club in the opposite league four games a year.

He would have these games count in the regular league standings, and lists these advantages of the proposal:

1. The games would add interest to the schedule.
2. They would benefit second-division clubs, after they had lost all hopes of figuring in the pennant race, by increasing attendance.
3. Fans in each league would get a chance to see the famous stars of the other league.

Greenberg would keep the schedule of major league baseball teams the same, as to the number of games, at 154. He would reduce the number of games each team played its league competitors from eleven at home and eleven away to nine at home and nine away.

The Greenberg proposal represents a new twist, and a novel idea. It is true that such a practice would probably increase gate receipts.

Guacamole Delivers Magic Life To Any Party Table

"Guacamole" is a magic word in Mexico that signals a real taste treat.

An avocado mixture that is once a sauce, a dressing, a salad and a unique "dip" to be served at your next party, guacamole goes far back in Mexican history. There are records that Cortez ate its avocado base the first time he was feted as a guest of Mexico in 1519.

Today Guacamole plays just as big a part in the Mexican diet, and is rapidly being discovered by American homemakers who are looking for something new and exciting to serve when entertaining.

In Mexico, Guacamole is prepared in a number of different ways, but invariably at Mexican cocktail parties it is served with corn chips as a "dip."

Guacamole dip with corn chips is wonderful for parties, an excellent adjunct to meals, and fits perfectly on the table in front of the TV set.

GUACAMOLE DIP
1 medium onion, peeled
2 medium tomatoes, peeled
1 small hot pepper
1 clove garlic, crushed
2 teaspoons salt
2 avocados
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Corn chips

Grind onion, tomatoes and pepper together using fine knife of grinder. Blend in garlic and salt. This mixture may be refrigerated several hours before serving. When ready to serve, pare avocados and remove seeds. Mash avocados and blend with lemon juice. Combine tomato mixture with avocado mixture and serve as a dip with corn chips. Yield: 3 cups dip.

If a slightly more spicy dip is desired, add one teaspoon of hot sauce to the mixture.

Coconut Bavarian Cream with Raspberries
1 1/2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup sugar
Pinch of salt
1/2 teaspoon almond flavoring
1 cup grated fresh or frozen coconut
1 cup heavy cream whipped
Fresh or frozen raspberries

Soften gelatin in cold water. Heat milk, dissolve gelatin in it. Add salt, almond flavoring and coconut. Cool until it begins to thicken but not set. Fold in whipped cream. Pour into mold and chill overnight. When ready to serve, turn out mold, sprinkle with coconut and make a border of raspberries.

Red Raspberry Ice Cream
1 quart fresh raspberries or 1 12-oz. box frozen raspberries
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
Juice of 1/2 lemon
3 tablespoons light corn syrup
1 cup whipping cream

Crush the raspberries, stir in the sugar, lemon juice, milk and corn syrup. Beat the cream thick, do not let it get lumpy. Mix the cream into raspberry mixture. Pour into one deep or two shallow refrigerator trays and freeze. If you use frozen raspberries, eliminate sugar entirely.

Raspberry Chiffon Tarts
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 lb. marshmallows
1 cup cream whipped
1 cup crushed raspberries

Heat orange juice in top of double boiler. Add marshmallows, stir until melted. Cool mixture. Chill in refrigerator until partially set. Fold in whipped cream, then raspberries. Pour into baked pastry tart shells. Garnish top of filling with whole raspberries. Fills 6 to 8 tart shells.

Raspberry Angel Pie
1 package raspberry flavored gelatin
2/3 cup hot water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 pint vanilla ice cream
Fresh raspberries or frozen

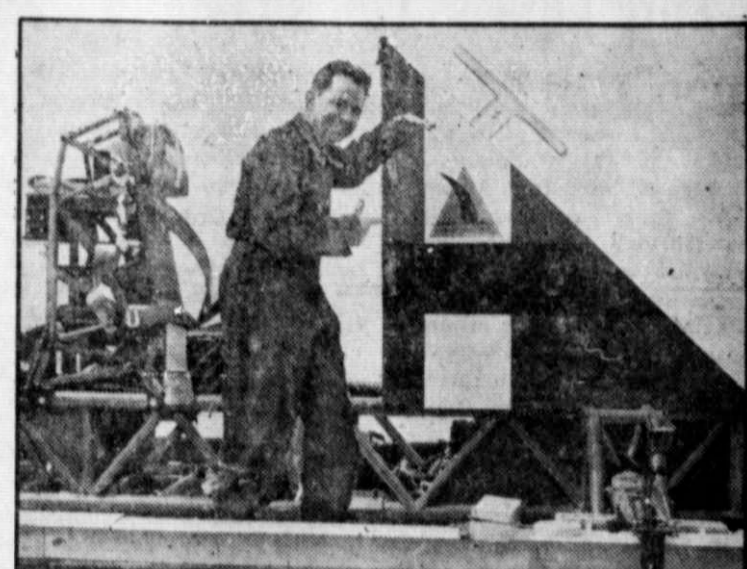

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add lemon juice. Chill until partially set. Beat in ice cream with an electric or rotary beater. Turn into meringue shell. Chill in refrigerator until firm. Garnish with whole raspberries.

Meringue Shell
2 egg whites
1/8 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon vinegar
2/3 cup sugar

Combine egg whites, salt, vanilla and vinegar. Beat to a stiff foam. Add sugar gradually. Continue beating until very stiff. Spread in a well greased 9 inch piepan. Bake in an oven 300 for 45 minutes.

Raspberry Tapioca
1 1/2 cups frozen raspberries or fresh
2 cups berry juice and water
3 tablespoons quick cooking tapioca
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup cream whipped

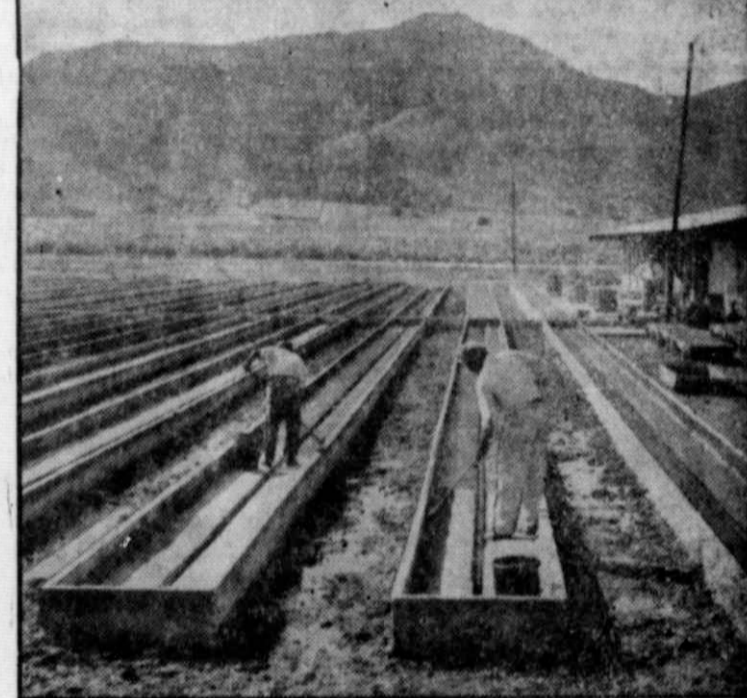

Drain raspberries. Combine tapioca, sugar, salt, and raspberry liquid in saucepan. Mix well. Place over medium heat and cook until it comes to a full boil, stirring constantly. Cool, stirring occasionally. Add berries and lemon juice. Pour 2/3 mixture into parfait glasses. Chill. Fold whipped cream into rest of mixture. Pile on top of first mixture.

97th Annual Washington County Fair Opens Thursday, July 29

One of Washington county's biggest attractions of the year, the 97th annual county fair, will be held at the Slinger county fairgrounds next week from Thursday, July 29, through Sunday, August 1. The four-day attendance, as in past years, is expected to run well over 20,000.

Having gained fame as one of the best county fairs in Wisconsin, the Washington county program will feature outstanding livestock exhibits, commercial and food exhibits in addition to 4-H, FFA and FHA displays and activities. An excellent program of entertainment will also be provided and a variety of rides and shows on the midway are again to be offered by "Snapp Greater Shows."

Judging by the advanced entries, the usual amount of livestock will be exhibited at the 1954 fair, according to E. E. Skalsky, county agent. The week-long job of building shelves and preparing the grounds and buildings for the fair is now underway. Something new this year will be the erection of a 28 by 48 foot poultry house.

Free parking will be provided all four days and special free entertainment programs will be provided each evening on the outdoor stage erected for this purpose. A resume on the highlights of the four-day program follows:

Next Thursday will be entry day at the fair with the entering and placing of exhibits scheduled to be completed before 8 p. m. The Thursday evening program will include a performance by the Hartford American Legion band, an appearance by A Mark and Three Misses, a quartet from Kewaskum; the Tapping Belles and Sailor dance, and a short program by the Young Adult club.

Judging in all departments except dairy cattle will be held on Friday, July 30, with special judging contests and demonstrations during the day. The evening program will include the Slinger high school band and the Army Polsen stage show.

On Saturday, a continuation of judging, including dairy cattle, will be held. Saturday afternoon has again been designated as Children's Day with all rides to be available to youngsters at 9 cents. The Tapping Belles and Sailor dance will be featured in the afternoon too.

The evening festivities Saturday will include a variety of entertainment. The 4-H Girls Dress Revue, under the direction of Miss Myra Fierek, county home agent, opens the program. It will also include the West Bend high school band, the Bender Blenders quartet and the Army Polsen Stage show.

Dairy cattle judging will be continued on Sunday. The afternoon and evening entertainment program consists of a concert by the Jefferson American Legion band, the Holiday Singers of Wisconsin State college in Milwaukee, a special stage show and another performance by the Young Adult club. The stage show features Happy Banks, a comedy juggler; Judy Ryan, baton champion, and Binks Circus dogs.

Bus service for the convenience of persons who do not have transportation or who do not wish to drive will be available Friday evening and on Saturday and Sunday. Passengers can board the bus in West Bend at the intersection of Highways 32 and 45, across from Bohm's filling station, and at the corner of Hickory and Main sts.

The bus will leave West Bend on Friday evening at 7 p. m. and return at 11 p. m. On both Saturday and Sunday, buses will depart from there at 1 p. m. and 7 p. m. and return at 5 and 11 p. m.

Daily broadcasts direct from the fairgrounds will be carried daily on radio station WBKV, County Agent E. E. Skalsky and the fair committee extend a cordial invitation to everyone to attend the fair.

Last year the large, new highway shed on the fairgrounds was used the first time for additional display and cattle space. The new building will again be used this year, providing about 6,000 feet of additional floor space.

There will be no entry fees charged this year in either the open class departments or the junior departments, it was pointed out. All other information on 1954 regulations and instructions to exhibitors is printed in the premium list book, A total of 117 classes of competition will be judged.

Agricultural judges include: Harvey Swartz, dairy cattle; E. H. Hauser, fat stock, swine, sheep, horses and dual purpose cattle; Wm. Hallbach, poultry; S. S. Mathisen, vegetables and grains; George Massey, handicraft and other 4-H exhibits; Burdean Struckmeyer, flowers and educational booths; Richard J. Hauser, 4-H demonstrations.

The home economics judges will be Margaret Stone, foods; Doris Staidl, clothing; Beverly Johnson, demonstrations and food preservation, and Barbara Kimball, dress revue.

Romaine, Supervisors Attend Area Conference

Supervisors of the Washington County Soil Conservation district attended an area conference of district supervisors held in Jefferson county at Fort Atkinson, Thursday, July 15.

The Wisconsin State Plow contest to be held at Manawa in Waupaca county on Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 was thoroughly discussed. District and/or area plowing contests will be held to select contestants for the state plowing matches. Selections of plowmen will be made for each of the following fields of competition: Junior contour, junior level, senior contour, and senior level.

Conservation needs for the Washington County district were reviewed and discussed by supervisors and agency representatives present. Plans were drafted to encourage more farmers to realize the importance of conservation and to do something about their erosion problems.

Future conservation needs cited for the Washington County Soil Conservation district were the following: Soil surveys, 205,542 acres; contour strip cropping, 49,802 acres; pasture seeding, 18,856 acres; woodland improvement, 22,215 acres; tree planting, 2,203 acres; woodland protection, 15,198 acres; wildlife area improvement,

1,205 acres; open drains, 179 miles; closed drains, 548,715 L. F.; terraces, 161 miles; diversions, 55 miles and waterway development, 600 acres.

Representatives of the Washington County District attending this conference were: E. M. Romaine, Kewaskum, chairman; Harvey Dettman, R. I. Random Lake; Frank Zuern, R. I. Hartford, county supervisors, and E. E. Skalsky, county agent.

and Mrs. Frank Kadinger and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fick of West Bend visited Sunday afternoon with Ernst Ramthun and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Albright of Milwaukee visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Kolafa and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schultz.

Mrs. John Kempf was a caller at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Deibert Petermann and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Heberer and Mrs. Roland Heberer and children visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Seifert.

Mrs. A. Gessner attended a shower in honor of her granddaughter at West Bend last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Heberer visited Sunday evening with Ernst Ramthun and daughter.

MILK TO GROW ON!

GOODNESS IN A GLASS—THAT'S MILK! It's the perfect answer when youngsters are looking for "something good" and "something refreshing." That "something good" should be "something good for them", too. MILK is nature's most perfect food... rich in vitamins, minerals and proteins... and just naturally delicious.

Remember, MILK with meals, too... for with every meal children need those extras that MILK gives them to go on... to grow on! To maintain good health... to replace used up energy, be sure your children get their quota of MILK every day.
