Trucker Involved In Mishap, Later Found Dead in Car

Donald Kiesner, 53, of Dundee was found dead in his car on the William Koch farm near New Prospect Sunday. Coroner Frank Decker of Fond du Lac county, who investigated, pronounced the death due to carbon monoxide gas poisoning following an autopsy.

At approximately 11:30 p. m. Friday night Kiesner had been involved in an accident on Hwy. 45 about a mile and three quarters south of Kewaskum.

Kiesner said he apparently got a little too far onto the soft shoulder of the highway and the large semi-trailer truck he was driving went off the road and broke off several guard rail posts. Damage to the cab of the truck was estimated at less than $100.

Haack Farm Home Damaged By Fire

The Kewaskum fire department was called out about 12:30 p. m. Wednesday to help extinguish a fire at the Herbert Haack farm home about 1 1/2 miles east of New Fane in the town of Scott, Sheboygan county. The Kewaskum firemen were summoned to aid the Beechwood and Batavia departments when their water supplies became exhausted in fighting the blaze.

The attic and other upstairs rooms in the residence were burned out and the roof damaged. The rooms on the first floor suffered much water damage. Most of the furniture was removed by neighbors and firemen. The local firemen remained at the scene nearly an hour until the fire was out and then returned home leaving Batavia and Beechwood firemen on guard. Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

The firemen were also called out at an early hour, 3:30 a. m., last Friday during a rainstorm when electric wires atop a utility pole on Second st. near the Rosenheimer mill shorted and caused the top of the pole to catch fire. Electric company crewmen were called to shut off the power so that firemen could douse the flames and the linemen could repair the damage. The power was off almost an hour.

High School Principal to Be Honored Sunday at 'Cliff Rose Day' Celebration in Kewaskum

Twenty-five Years In School System Here to Be Noted

Sunday, May 19, will be "Cliff Rose Day" in Kewaskum as residents of the community honor the supervising principal of Kewaskum Community high school and public schools in recognition of his 25 years of service in the village school system.

All alumni, former teachers and friends have been invited to attend the program and reception which will begin at 2 p. m. and will be held in the beautiful new high school now being completed. A large crowd is expected to attend the celebration and view the new school.

Rose first accepted a teaching position in 1932 in the Kewaskum school system. He succeeded E. E. Skaliskey as supervising principal in 1936 when the latter became Washington county agricultural agent. Rose has been active in church and community affairs, and being a talented singer, his tenor voice is well known to people in the area.

Rose was born at Lancaster in Grant county and is 56 years of age. He moved to Platteville with his family as a boy and attended schools there, graduating from the college in 1921. The principal launched his teaching career the following year as a secondary education instructor in the Iowa county school system. He later went to Montfort and taught school there for about eight years.

A science and mathematics instructor, Rose subsequently taught school at Darlington and then came to Kewaskum in the fall of 1932 as a teacher. At that time there were 85 students as compared with the present enrollment of 285 in high school. The new high school to be put into use in September will accommodate 500 pupils.

Rose was married to the former

Maude Guertier, a teacher from Galesville in 1927 and the couple has two children, Betty Ann (Mrs. John Heyde) of Dallas, Tex., who attended both Ripon and Platteville colleges, and Robert Rose, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, currently teaching at Shiocton.

Rose is an ardent sports follower and enjoys hunting and fishing. Eut, because of the press of school business, he has not done too much with his hobbies in the last few years. He is acquainted with all phases of an educational system and at one time did athletic coaching. He has had an advanced education, receiving his master's degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1945.

The school district was consolidated in 1954 and plans made for the construction of the new, modern high school on which workmen are presently putting the "finishing touches." The project has represented a lot of work for Principal Rose, members of the faculty, and school board members, and they are proud of their beautiful new building. It will be occupied for the first time by students at the start of the next fall term. The spacious gymnasium will seat from 1,200 to 1,400 persons.

The program for Sunday's celebration, which will be followed by a reception, is as follows:

Local Civil Defense Organization Issues Tornado Safety Rules

READERS ADVISED TO CLIP OUT INSTRUCTIONS AND KEEP THEM HANDY

The importance of timely warning and knowledge of basic survival precautions in saving lives in natural disasters is being emphasized by the Emergency Information Division of Federal Civil Defense Administration Public Affairs, coincident with the advent of the tornado season, reports Marvin A. Martin, Kewaskum Civil Defense director.

Tornado disasters will reach their highest frequency in May and June. Warning of the approach of a severe storm is a public safety and welfare measure of the greatest importance. It can mean the difference between life and death, if people know what actions to take. According to the weather bureau, no place is more favorable for tornado formation than the central part of the United States. The national average is around 200 a year.

These are the tornado safety rules:

IF YOU ARE IN OPEN COUNTRY:

1. Move at right angles to the tornado's path. Tornadoes usually move ahead at about 25 to 40 miles per hour.

2. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.

IF IN A CITY OR TOWN:

1. Seek inside shelter, preferably in a steel reinforced building. STAY AWAY FROM WINDOWS!

2. In homes: The southwest corner of the lowest floor or in the basement offers greatest safety. People living in brick or stone houses should seek other shelter, preferably in a storm cellar or in the basement of a frame house. If time permits, electricity and fuel lines should be shut off. Windows on the north and east sides of the house may also be opened to help reduce damage to the building.

3. Standing against the inside walls on the lower floors of an office building offers some protection.

IF IN SCHOOLS:

1. In city areas: Especially if school building is of good steel reinforced construction, stay inside, away from windows, remain near an inside wall on the lower floors when possible. AVOID AUDITORIUMS AND GYMNASIUMS with large, poorly-supported roofs.

2. In rural schools that do not have reinforced constructions—remove children and teachers to a ravine or ditch if storm shelter is not available.

IF IN FACTORIES AND INDUS-

TRIAL PLANTS:

1. On receiving a tornado warning, a lookout should be posted to keep safety officials advised of the tornado's approach. Advance preparation should be made for shutting off electrical circuits and fuel lines if the tornado approaches the plant. Workers should be moved to sections of the plant offering the greatest protection.

Keep calm! It will not help to get excited. People have been killed by running out into streets and by turning back into the path of a tornado. Keep tuned to your radio station for latest tornado advisory information.

Next week this newspaper will carry the revised air raid instructions. Please clip this week's instructions, as well as those next week, and keep them someplace where you can refer to them in a hurry. All members of the family, including children, should be made familiar with these safety rules.

About 119 thousand acres of peas are expected to be planted in Wisconsin this year.

Wages paid to hired farm workers in Wisconsin this spring are averaging the highest on record. On April 1 farm workers were averaging 178 dollars a month with a house and 132 dollars with board and room.

Tips on the Vegetable Garden

BY O. E. BEHNKE

Vocational Agriculture Instructor
Kewaskum Community High School

Preparing the garden soil is probably the biggest factor in getting good garden results.

Most of our gardens in Kewaskum are located on heavy soils. This type of soil is usually hard to handle. Many of the heavier soils have too much water due to poor drainage, and wetter soils warm up more slowly in the spring and pack easily, making weed control a much tougher job.

Adding decaying organic matter helps improve heavier soils. In fact, it will help sandy soils too, because decaying organic matter increases water and fertility holding. In heavier soils it improves the physical make up, makes more space between the soil particles; makes them drain better and handle more easily. Sand, peat, hardwood sawdust and coal ashes can be used to loosen heavy soils.

Barnyard manure is the best, cheapest, and most convenient organic matter. Other good organic matter materials are compost, lawn clippings, leaves, peat, and properly treated sewage disposal sludge.

To keep heavy soils in best condition, they should be worked only when a bit dry. Working them when they are too wet causes packing and forms clods. Fall plowing will also help loosen and improve heavy soils. Fall plowing helps to keep the soil in good condition and permits it to dry out and warm up earlier in spring. It also saves time during the spring rush and helps get rid of certain insects and diseases which live over winter in or on the soil.

Barnyard manure and compost, the organic materials used most often for soil improvement, will also furnish considerable plant food. An annual application of 500 to 1,000 pounds to each 1,000 square feet will go far toward keeping up lasting fertility. However, an application of 25 to 35 pounds to 1,000 square feet of a complete commercial fertilizer such as a 4-16-16 mixture will be needed for best results in the average garden. When organic materials are not available, a fertilizer which has more nitrogen (6-6-18 or 10-10-10) should be used at about the same rate.

Only a soil test will tell the actual fertilizer or lime needs of a soil. Most vegetables grow best in a slightly acid soil, so lime should not be added unless a soil test indicates it is really needed; especially in our area, since the general run of our soil is neutral or slightly alkaline.

Manures and other organic materials should be spread and plowed into the soil in late fall. When this is done, any commercial fertilizer used should be spread evenly over the garden in the spring and disced or raked into the soil. If spring plowing is done, the manure and about two-thirds of the commercial fertilizer may be spread evenly and plowed into the soil together. Only well rotted manure should be applied in the spring. The remainder of the commercial fertilizer should be spread and disced or raked in after plowing.

If commercial fertilizers are applied at planting time they may be placed in bands beside the row or around plants or hills, or they may be dissolved in water and added as a liquid. Dry fertilizer should never touch seeds or plant roots; burning will result if that is done.

Liquid fertilizers are sometimes used as "starter solutions" at planting time and for "side dressing" later in the season. You can purchase liquid fertilizers or you may make your own mixture by dissolving about one pound of a complete fertilizer such as 10-10-10 in five gallons of water. For tomatoes and peppers you can use about one quart to each plant for late "side dressing."

Be sure that the fertilizer is dissolved and the solution is kept well mixed while used.

Check the Statesman for the last article on garden tips, concerning the latest methods of controlling insects and diseases that affect vegetables, next week.

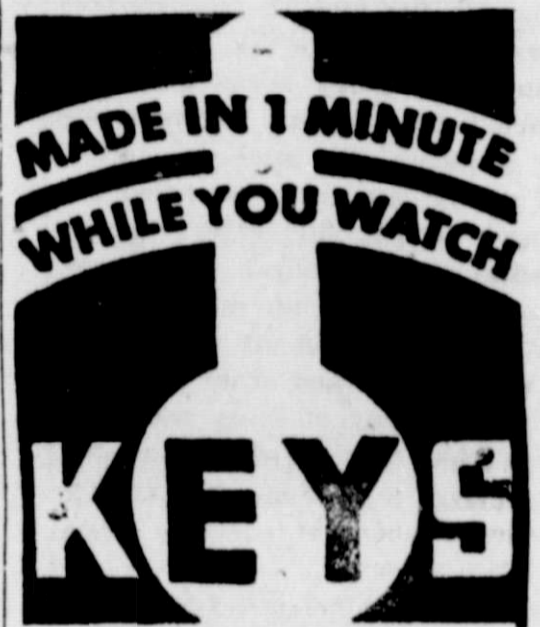

42 PRESENT AT WOMAN'S CLUB SPRING LUNCHEON

Purple and yellow pansies decorated the tables. Bridge and Canasta filled the remainder of the afternoon and scores were kept on hand made tallies in the same colors.

In Bridge high scores were held by Mmes. L. N. Peterson, L. T. Opgenorth, Wayland Tassar, Roland Heberer, Carl F. Schaefer, Earl Buswell, Ralph Marx, Marvin Martin and Mabel Koch. Consolation prize went to Mrs. Roland Pledl. Mrs. Edw. E. Miller was the winner at Canasta.

The club will close the season with a meeting in the library on Saturday, May 25.

We finally found out what sunshine is like again. Until Thursday we hadn't seen the sun since last week Thursday except for brief moments when it peeked through the clouds. The clouds brought with them much rain, wind and cool weather, too, during the week.

Speaking of storms, many folks sat with one eye on their work and the other peeled out of the window to watch the sky Tuesday afternoon when tornado warnings for the state were sent out by the weather department. The clouds looked very threatening all day and at one time late in the afternoon the sky really got black and looked bad.

The power shortage resulting from the fire atop the electric pole near Rosenheimer's mill during the rain early Friday morning created much confusion and inconvenience for residents. The juice was turned off nearly an hour, stopping the church clock, all other electric clocks and electrical appliances. Those who woke up not knowing the electricity was off were going to work, school and other places at all times, many of them late. Few knew what time it was except for the firemen and others who got up for the fire.

Should think "Marianne's" sand-box would be full by now after "sifting sand all day, all night" for the past few months. I know we're filled up with the song.

The first junior prom held in Kewaskum's huge new gym Friday night was a fine success and was attended by one of the largest crowds in years. Many were inquisitive to get their first look at the gymnasium. It seems more alumni and older persons attended this year's event than usual. And for the first time spectators were invited. Everyone had a good time. The school is really a beautiful structure. If you haven't seen it yet be there for "Cliff Rose Day" this

Sunday afternoon when it will be open to the public.

The state-wide campaign to "Keep Wisconsin Clean and Beautiful" officially opens on Friday, May 17. The purpose of the drive is to keep streets and highways clear of litter. Each family car should contain a litter bag in which to drop the refuse and the bags should be disposed of in the thousands of waste containers at filling stations and roadside areas. The slogan of the drive is "nothing out of the car window, all into the paper bag." The anti-litter committee has arranged for free distribution of 300,000 bags at filling stations.

There are four phases in a man's life: Rompers, romance, rent and rheumatism.

Tuesday night almost seemed like Kewaskum night at the Braves game with the Dodgers. We counted at least 15 local fans there, to say nothing of those we didn't run across. It's dead in our home town when the Braves are in their home town. Wednesday afternoon ladies of the local knitting club, among others, froze at the game.

Cost of Ornamental St. Lighting System Presented to Board

PLAN FOR HOUSE NUMBERING SYSTEM ALSO PRESENTED TO BOARD MEMBERS

Regular Meeting
May 6, 1957

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin met in regular monthly session with President Reigle presiding and all Board members present.

The minutes of the previous meetings were approved as presented upon motion by J. Stellpflug, seconded by M. Schaefer and duly carried.

Pat Cline, Fishery Biologist of the Wis. Conservation Dept. explained to the board what could be done to provide more fish life in the river within our village. He strongly advocated keeping the river drained for the entire summer season so as to dry out the existing silt thereby bringing back the river vegetation which is a natural habitat receptive to fish life.

T. C. McManus of McMahon Engineering Co. presented to the board an estimate of cost for an ornamental street lighting system on Fond du Lac Ave. Upon motion by W. Tessar, seconded by J. Eberle and duly carried the engineering firm was instructed to draw plans and specifications for (1) A series system provided the present power cable is adequate and (2) A multiple system. These plans and specifications are to be based upon the McMahon estimate dated May 6, 1957.

McManus also presented a tentative plan for a house numbering system.

The commissioner was instructed to obtain bids for the landscaping of the Sewage Treatment Plant grounds.

All claims, as recommended and approved by the Finance Committee were approved for payment upon motion by W. Tessar, seconded by J. Eberle and duly carried.

High School Students Present Program for Vets at Wood Hospital

On Sunday, May 12, a group of Kewaskum Community High school students presented a program for the veterans at Wood, Wis.

The cast for this program consisted of students who participated in the recent Variety Show. The Master of Ceremonies was Norman Hirsig. Vocal numbers were performed by Gloria Schaefer, Gwen Edwards, Georgia Chanchuck, Connie Rossow, Sharon Harbeck, Maurice Gahlman, and the triple trio. Carol Miller played two piano solos. A TV skit and a school skit were also presented.

The students were very happy to present this program for these men who have given so much for their country.

The conservation department receives as many as 50 letters a day asking for information about Wisconsin and to meet that demand within budget limitations it has just issued a leaflet carrying some of the highlight facts about the state. Conservation Director L. P. Voigt hopes that the leaflet will serve a useful purpose. It is available on request.

Village to Observe Poppy Day May 24

Bright red flowers of memory will be worn here May 24 in salute to the nation's war dead as the village observes annual Poppy Day.

The flowers, artificial poppies made by disabled war veterans, will be distributed on the streets throughout the day by volunteer workers of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Contributions will be received by the Auxiliary for support of its rehabilitation work for disabled veterans and its child welfare activities for needy children of veterans.

"We hope everyone in the village will wear a poppy" said Mrs. J. Tessar, president of Robert G. Romaine post Auxiliary unit, as preparations for the Poppy Day observance were being completed. "A poppy on every lapel will show that this is a village which remembers with honoring gratitude those who gave their lives defending our free country. Wearing a poppy is a personal salute to the memory of those who died for America."

"Coins which are dropped into the contribution boxes of the Poppy Day workers will go into the Auxiliary's rehabilitation and child welfare funds to help support the work we are doing constantly for disabled veterans and children of veterans. We hope that while honoring the war dead May 24, the people of our village will give generously to help war victims still within the reach of human aid."

The flowers to be worn here have been made by veterans at hospitals, and are crepe paper replicas of the wild European poppies which bloomed "between the crosses, row on row," in the World War battle cemeteries in France and Belgium.

Flies and mosquitoes can take a big bite out of the milk check. They can cause as much as 20 per cent production loss.

Lakes Team Outlasts Sheboygan to Win, 9-7

A three-run homer by catcher "Fuzzy" Dreher in the 7th inning provided the runs that gave Kewaskum a 9-7 victory over the Sheboygan Kingsburys in a Land o' Lakes contest played at Sheboygan Sunday. The win was the Chevs' first of the season after losing to Plymouth in the opener.

Sheboygan, which was referred to as a team of former pros and semi-pros by Random Lake after they lost to them 17-6 the week before, was not so professional Sunday. They played loose ball and their pitching was no problem for Kewaskum.

Sheboygan rallied in the late innings to almost overcome Kewaskum's 9-4 advantage but they fell short by two runs. The Chevs pushed over 2 runs in the 4th frame, 3 in the 5th, 1 in the 6th and 3 more in the 7th for their 9 runs. The Kingsburys made 1 in the 5th and 3 in the 6th. Behind by 5 buttons they came back with 1 in the 8th and 2 more in the 9th to almost close the gap.

John Tessar and Killy Honeck, who relieved him, gave up 9 hits, walked 6 and struck out 4 batters. The Sheboygan twirlers, Schmall and Berier, who came in in the 6th inning, were nicked for 8 safeties, passed 6 and fanned 8 batters. The Chevs' hits were divided among 8 players with the only extra base hits being a double by Augie Bilgo and Dreher's three-run homer blast. First baseman Lindich, center fielder Kober and pitcher Schmall each collected 2 hits for the losers.

This Sunday Kewaskum plays another game away from home at Belgium. The highly touted Belgium nine, after winning their opener, was upset by West Bend last Sunday.

Village to Provide For Better Fishing

"If the village of Kewaskum wishes to provide better fishing in the Milwaukee river, at no expense to the taxpayer, it will be necessary to open the dam gates and allow the river to remain at a low water level for an entire summer season so as to allow the existing river silt a chance to dry out."

This is what Pat Cline, fishery biologist of the Wisconsin Conservation Department, told the village board recently when he appeared at their meeting at the request of the local sportsmen's club.

Cline explained that the water in the river is good, that the source of the water is excellent and that there is no reason why fishing in the river, if the above plan is followed, could not be as good as any in the state.

The river at the present time contains a great amount of silt which is preventing the natural river vegetation from growing. This vegetation provides food and a natural habitat for fish life, Cline explained.

By dropping the river level, the silt would have a chance to dry out and decompose, giving the vegetation a chance to grow back in, providing the proper fish environment for the next ten to twenty years.

In return, Cline said, the conservation department would, next spring, restock the river with pan fish of catchable size so as to provide immediate fishing.

Board members and sportsmen's club members, alike, have agreed that the benefits to be derived in future years would more than compensate for the unsightly appearance of the river this one summer.

Kewaskum State Traffic Officer Hurt in Crash

Samuel Young of Kewaskum, a member of the state traffic patrol, sustained a cut on his left arm, scratches on his left leg and was shaken up Monday morning when his car struck a tree on Hwy. 141 south of Hwy. M in the town of Mequon in Ozaukee county.

The mishap occurred when a driver, pursued by Young, suddenly applied his brakes. Young also braked sharply and the right front brake of his car apparently locked, throwing his auto to the right. The squad car struck a tree. The driver of the vehicle being chased by Young did not stop.

A car driven by Ralph C. Stern, 17, R. 1, Kewaskum, struck the rear of an auto driven by Henry M. Justman, 17, R. 2, Kewaskum, on Hwy. 28 at St. Michaels Friday. The accident took place as Justman slowed down to make a right turn. Both cars were traveling east on Hwy. 28.

Lawrence Gross, 19, R. 1, Kewaskum, suffered cuts and bruises at 12:05 a. m. Tuesday when he lost control of his auto while passing a car on Hwy. 144 about a mile north of County Trunk A. The mishap occurred when Gross lost control of his car on the slippery pavement and it skidded off the road on the left side and rolled over.

MRS. ERNST HOEFT

Funeral services were held Friday, May 10, for Mrs. Ernst Hoelt of Crooked Lake, Cascade rural route, who died Monday, May 6, at the age of 79. The rites were held at the Leifer and Yoho funeral home, Batavia, at 3 p. m., the Rev. Lowell Messerschmidt presiding. Burial was in the Beechwood cemetery.

She leaves her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Edward Burns of New Orleans, and five other step-children.

Farmers report that the condition of the state's new seedings of alfalfa, clover and timothy are mostly in good condition. Very little hay acreage in the state was lost from winterkilling, according to the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service for Wisconsin.

Al Theusch Dies Of Heart Attack

Albert A. Theusch, 42, widely known Barton tavern keeper, and former St. Michaels resident, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at his home on Saturday, May 11. He had been suffering with a heart condition for some time prior to his death.

Al was born in the town of Scott on Sept. 5, 1914 and grew up there. After being employed as a bartender at two West Bend taverns, he took over the operation of a tavern at St. Michaels. He remained in business there until entering military service. After his discharge from the service in 1946, he again resumed the operation of the St. Michaels tavern. He entered the tavern business in Barton about seven years ago and operated it since that time.

His marriage to the former Lydia Lischka at West Bend took place on July 4, 1945. She survives him, together with four children, Cheryl 10, Mary 9, Gwynn 8, and Randall 2. He also leaves his father, Jacob Theusch of St. Michaels, and the following sisters and brothers: Pauline (Mrs. Leo Lubiejewski), Milwaukee, Lorraine (Mrs. Frank Herriges), Kewaskum, Gertrude (Mrs. Jos. Marx), Kewaskum, Rose (Mrs. Leroy Hausman), West Bend, Rayner of Cascade, Lawrence, Gregory and Leonard, all of Kewaskum.

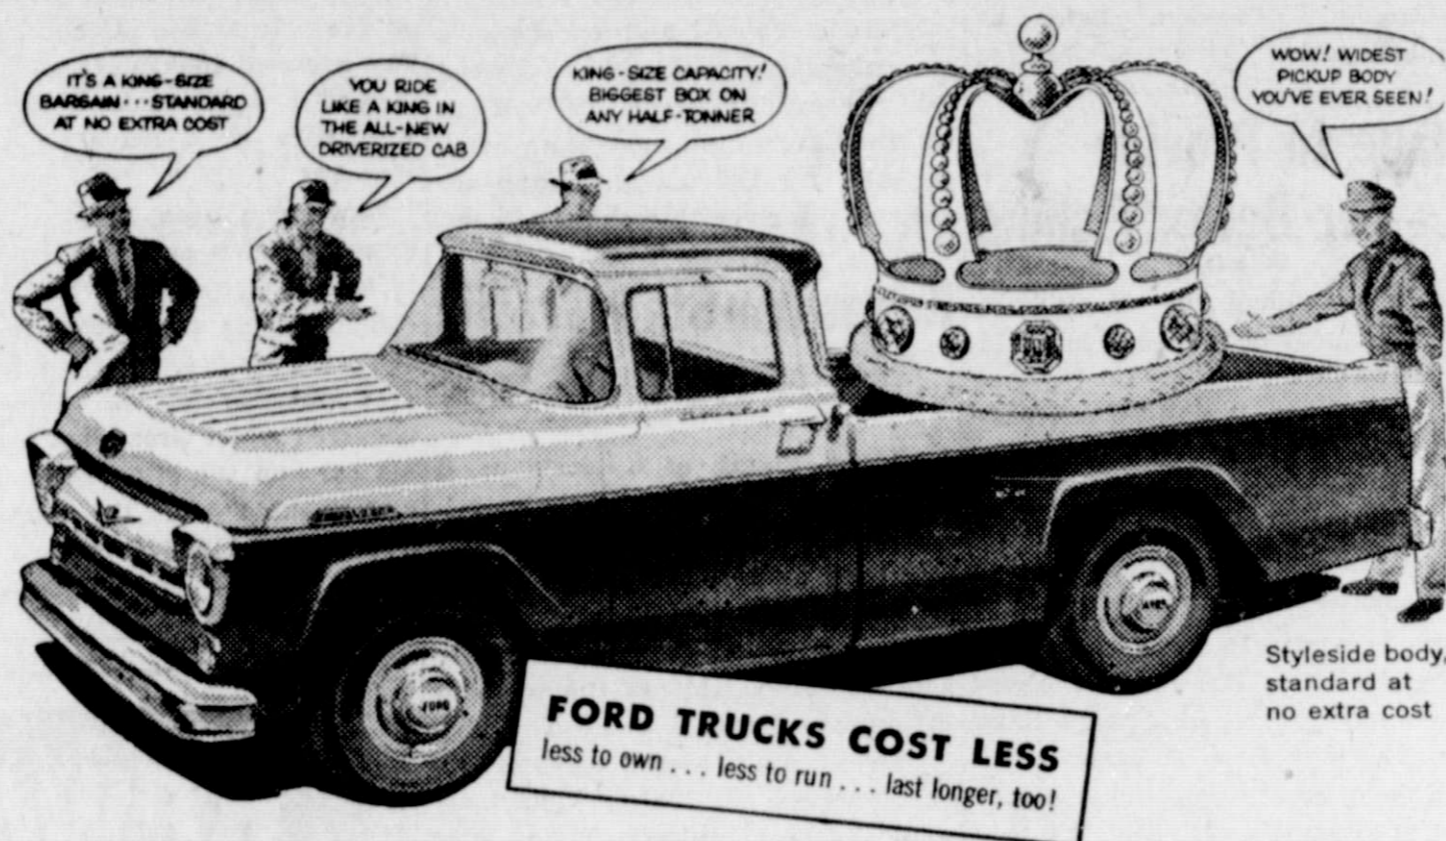

Mr. Theusch was a member of the Knights of Columbus, St. Michael's Aid society, St. Joseph's society, Barton, the Barton Holy Name society, the Kewaskum American Legion post and West Bend Lodge No. 1398, L.O.O.M.

Funeral services were held from the Ohlrogge funeral home at 9 a. m. Wednesday and at St. Mary's church, Barton, at 9:30. The Rev. O. F. Ullrich officiated and burial was in St. Michael's cemetery, St. Michaels. Military services were in charge of the Kewaskum American Legion post.

THE DESSERT CHEESE TRAY

A favorite of men and women alike, the Dessert Cheese Tray offers to the most discriminating hostess a dessert not only sure to please but one that will serve as a conversation piece in itself.

It should be planned with an eye to beauty, an intriguing variety and a taste trick or two to make it remembered. Such planning has its rewards, for there's no last minute flurry in preparing—never a lag in the conversation that goes on around such a cheese tray.

By having a variety of cheeses, some sharp, some mild, some soft, some semi-hard and some unusual, each guest has a chance to choose his favorite or to become acquainted with a cheese new to him. Most cheese, by the way, is better served at room temperature. Others, such as Camembert, are at their luscious best when they've had a chance to soften and mellow for several hours (as many as eight) on the pantry shelf.

Fingers or cubes of nippy Cheddar, thin slices of Swiss, a wedge of tangy Blue cheese; triangles of Camembert, snowy cream cheese simply cut in squares, scarlet-coated half-moons made by slicing down through a Gouda—it's as simple as that to prepare a cheese tray for dessert. Apples and pears are perhaps the favorite fruits to serve with these cheeses. These may be sliced, unpared, dipped in lemon or pineapple juice and used to give color and interest to the tray, as well as to make serving easy. But don't stop there, for most all fruits and cheeses go well together. Grapes—red, green or purple—and kumquats are two of the most lovely to look at as well as to eat.

To dress up the cheese tray a bit, add pitted dates filled with cream cheese. Or try a mixture of blue and cream cheeses made into small balls and flattened out, with two pecan or walnut halves pressed in, one on either side of each ball. And don't overlook the beauty and goodness of the preserved and candied fruits.

Accompaniments may be split, buttered and toasted crackers designed for such cheese enjoyment, served piping hot; one of the crispies bearing their own butter or the ever-good "soda cracker." Some people enjoy making their own spreads, so have butter and Worcestershire sauce at hand, and butter spreaders of course. Nuts, usually the salted variety (though a bowl of unshelled walnuts, almonds and filberts won't go amiss) fit well into this picture. Yes, for dessert, do pass the Cheese!
