Nearly 500 People Honor Cliff Rose On His Day Sunday

PRESENTED WITH MANY GIFTS FLOWERS FOR 25 YEARS IN SCHOOL SYSTEM

Close to 500 friends, alumni and former teachers from this community, all parts of the state and many cities outside of the state came to honor Clifford Rose, supervising principal of Kewaskum Community high school and public schools, on his day Sunday afternoon, May 19, in recognition of his 25 years of service in the village school system.

The program and reception were held in the new high school gymnasium beginning at 2 p. m. Nothing but words of praise were heard from the many outsiders who viewed the beautiful new high school and spacious gym for the first time. Principal Rose was showered with gifts, flowers and congratulations. The day was formally set aside as "Cliff Rose Day" in Kewaskum.

The close to 500 persons in attendance filled only a part of the huge gym. Wherever one looked he

THANKS EXPRESSED BY CLIFFORD ROSE

I wish to express my sincere thanks and deep appreciation to the people of the Kewaskum community for the fine tribute paid me on "Cliff Rose Day."

I wish to extend my thanks to the planning committee, the alumni, the student body, those who participated in the program, the boards of education, the faculty and to all who in any way helped to make the occasion a memorable one for me.

It was a most rewarding experience for me and I shall always cherish the memory of it. Thank you much.

Sincerely,
Clifford M. Rose

saw former students and teachers, some of the last few years and more of them from quite a few years back. Many of them came long distances to be present on this memorable day. The sizable stage, artistically decorated with flowers and shrubs, contained about 25 people, including members of the Rose family and those who had a part in the program.

Acting as master of ceremonies was Lester Timm, superintendent of schools of Fond du Lac county, a long, close friend and former university classmate of Rose. Timm served as excellent master of ceremonies and related many of his past experiences with Rose while the two attended University and later when Timm was principal of the Campbellsport high school.

To start the program the invocation was given by Rev. F. L. Rodenbeck, followed by an address of welcome by Melvin Riley, president of the high school board. Then Timm took over for the remainder of the program. He called on James Reigle, village president, who spoke for the community. Speaking for the alumni were Dr. Robert Brauchle '43, Harold Bunkelman '41, Diane Schaefer '50, Donald Wierman '47 and Curtis Romaine '40. Mrs. Betty Ann Heyde of Texas, daughter of Rose, rendered two vocal selections,

Hearing Date for Burglary Attempt At Store Here Set

A preliminary hearing date for three Milwaukee burglars charged with attempted burglary at the L. Rosenheimer department store in Kewaskum was set for 9 a. m. on Friday, June 7, when the three appeared before Justice of the Peace Herbert Matenaer of Barton Monday night.

The trio, Nick P. Tarantino, 27, Frank P. Allota, 25, and Salvatore (Sam) DiMaggio, 40, all of Milwaukee, are free on bond on charges of attempted burglary of the Rosenheimer store. All have police records in Milwaukee.

Tarantino was apprehended on Sunday night, Feb. 17, hiding behind a home in the village following the attempted burglary. The other two subsequently surrendered to police and were later freed on bond in connection with the case.

Mrs. Robert Kroneke and Armand Mertz, both alumni, sang duet numbers. Speaking for the Washington county schools was Harry Sheski, county superintendent of schools and the main address was given by R. F. Lewis, first assistant superintendent of the State Department of Public Instruction. Then came the presentation of gifts from the teachers' association (Walter Bode); school boards (Paul Landmann); high and grade school students (students), and alumni (Clifford Stautz). Father F. C. La Buwi closed the program with benediction. The guest of honor was also called upon for a few words.

The program was followed by the reception with cake and refreshments being served. This provided those present with the opportunity to offer congratulations to Rose and friends, alumni, teachers and parents had a chance to meet with one another again.

The gift presentations to Rose included a Hamilton 22 jewel wrist watch engraved with "In Appreciation—Clifford M. Rose—1932-1957" from the alumni, an Eclipse power lawn mower from the teachers' association, several fishing lures in a

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, Louis Bunkelman, who passed away one year ago, May 27, 1956:

He bid no one a last farewell,
He said goodbye to none;
His loving heart had ceased to beat,
Before we knew he was gone.
He did not fail to do his best,
His heart was true and tender,
He worked hard for those he left,
And ever will be remembered.
Deeply missed by his wife, children and grandchildren.

Lucille Marian and Donald Carlson Wed

Bouquets of white gladioli and snapdragons decorated the altar of St. Killian's Catholic church, St. Killian, for the marriage of Miss Lucille A. Marian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Marian, R. 3, Campbellsport, and Donald W. Carlson, son of the Wm. Carlsons, 2927 N. Richards st., Milwaukee. The Rev. John B. Reichel officiated at the 9 o'clock ceremony on Saturday, May 18.

The bride chose a gown of fitted tulle basque featuring a shirer yoke trimmed with sequin bedecked shadow lace, high round neckline, cap sleeves with taffeta mitts. The bouffant floor length skirt was lavishly trimmed with sequin studded shadow lace motifs. A queen's crown of lace, pearls and sequins secured her fingertip veil of imported illusion. Her flowers were a colonial style bouquet of pink miniature tea roses.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Carole Marian. She wore a gown of light blue lace designed with a molded bodice, bouffant floor length skirt of lace with net ruffles. A cap sleeve lace shrug covered her shoulders and she wore a matching crown of horsehair braid and pearls. She carried a colonial style bouquet of matching carnations and contrasting Esther Reed daisies.

The bridesmaids, Misses Janet Joepner and Alice Kuehl, wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor in pink and yellow and also carried similar bouquets. The junior bridesmaids, Misses Joan Marian and Betty Marian, wore lace and net frocks designed with lace bodices, cowl necklines, cap sleeves, and bouffant floor length skirts of net and lace. They wore tiaras of white horsehair braid and pearls and carried bouquets like those of the other attendants.

Charles Schallinske served as best man for the bridegroom, while Alfred Schmitt and Frederick Nieskes acted as groomsmen. Guests were seated by Allen Reindl and Robert Melzer.

Dinner was served to 100 guests in St. Killian's parish hall, followed by supper and a reception there for 200 guests. A wedding dance was held at the American Legion hall, Theresa.

Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and New York, the couple will be at home in Milwaukee. The bridegroom, a graduate of Riverside high school, Milwaukee, is employed at Milprint, Inc. in that city. His bride, a Campbellsport high school graduate, was employed at the Kewaskum Mutual Insurance Co. before her marriage.

GNACINSKI-LAUTERS

Married during a 9 a. m. nuptial mass in St. Mary's church, Barton, on Saturday, May 11, were Miss Irene Lauters, R. 2, Kewaskum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Lauters, and Leroy Gnacinski, R. 2, West Bend, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gnacinski. The Rev. O. F. Ullrich officiated.

The bride wore a gown of "I Do" taffeta and lace with a scoop neckline, long fitted sleeves and a huge taffeta bow at the back of the bouffant skirt, which ended in a chapel train. Her veil was gathered to a sequin crown and an orchid was centered in her bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Miss Sharon Schroeter, Lombard, Ill., served as maid of honor for her cousin, wearing a gown of pale yellow crystallette. The gown was floor length and had a softly draped neckline with a bow at the back for added detail. A headpiece of braid, rhinestones and flowers completed her attire.

The bridesmaid, Miss Gloria Kantowski, Milwaukee, cousin of the bridegroom, and the junior bridesmaids, Christine and Linda Gnacinski, nieces of the bridegroom, wore pastel blue gowns styled like that of the honor attendant. All of the attendants carried baskets of blue and yellow daisies. Little Miss Julie Ebert was the flower girl for her uncle's bride. Her white lace dress was floor length and trimmed with a yellow bow at the back. Carnations and lilies of the valley covered her tiny hat.

The bridegroom was attended by a cousin, Donald Gnacinski, Milwaukee, as best man, while James Lauters, brother of the bride, attended as groomsmen. Ushers were Eugene Gnacinski, Kewaskum, and Ronald Lauters, brothers of the couple. Michael Parlow, Port Washington, a cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

A breakfast, luncheon and supper at the home of the bride's parents preceded a dance in the evening at the Kewaskum Opera House.

The newlyweds will reside at R. 2, Kewaskum. The bridegroom is an employee of Gehl Bros. Mfg. Co., West Bend. His bride, a West Bend high school graduate, is employed at the West Bend Aluminum Co.

Buy a Poppy Friday to Aid Disabled Veterans

Memorial poppies which will be worn here on Poppy Day, Friday, May 24, have been made by disabled veterans of three wars Mrs. Ralph Marx, Poppy Chairman of the Robert G. Romaine unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, announced as the Auxiliary completed arrangements for the annual observance of Poppy Day here.

Making poppies to be worn in honor of their fallen comrades has given the hospitalized veterans interesting and beneficial employment during the winter and spring. The little red flowers of remembrance have been made for the Auxiliary in veterans hospitals throughout the country, and in poppy workrooms maintained by the Auxiliary to give employment to disabled veterans outside the hospitals.

Poppy making helps brighten the dreary hospital hours and for many veterans contributes to recovery by providing an interesting occupation. The veterans are paid by the Auxiliary for the poppies they make and this gives them the encouraging experience of earning money once more — of being able to send money home to their families. More poppies worn on Poppy Day means more employment for disabled veterans during the coming year.

Wisconsin bees produced almost 11 million pounds of honey in 1954.

An unusually tender conscience netted the conservation department $3. The department received a signed letter from a northern Wisconsin man who recalled that in the long-ago when he was about 13 years old he damaged a conservation department telephone line. The $3 enclosed was to pay for the damage. Conservation director L. P. Voigt sent him a letter of appreciation. Nearly 23 per cent of U. S. drivers involved in fatalities in 1956 were under 25 years of age.

Around the Town

Flash! The sun shone two days this week. That is news! The sun has been hidden so much all during May that when it came out brightly Wednesday people were partially blinded and got sore eyes from lack of being used to it.

Doggone old beans just won't come up in this wet and cold weather. One thing it is producing is a good lawn crop. By the time you finish cutting one end of the lawn it's time to start cutting the grass on the other end again.

Noticed by the package markings in one local garden that someone has planted a watermelon patch this spring. For further information you kids can contact this office.

The annual liquor license applications for the village are published in this issue and will be acted upon by the village board on June 3. All ten of the present tavern operators have applied for renewals of their licenses except one, the Republican Hotel, where two ladies from Milwaukee and Jefferson are applying for the license to run the establishment the next year. Anyway Kewaskum won't be short of taverns for another year.

A prowler picked up Monday night by our police chief following a complaint had something new in an explanation. He claimed he was hypnotized in one of the taverns and was looking for someone to "un-hypnotize" him. The hypnotic spell left him quite suddenly when he appeared before the judge the next morning and was given a stiff fine.

The conservation department delivered 700 day-old pheasant chicks to the Kewaskum Sportsmen's club on Monday, to be raised in their pens just north of the village. When the birds are matured enough they will be released in late summer or early fall. The club needs funds for feed for their pheasant raising program and this is a good time for the commercial. The sportsmen are sponsoring a public dance at the opera house this Saturday night, May 25, so get your ticket now and support them. Admission is only $1.00 per couple.

The stops were removed from the dam in the Milwaukee river here Monday, lowering the water level several feet. This is the start of a sportsmen's club, village board and conservation department program to improve fishing in the river. The water will be kept at a low level all summer to allow the silt to dry out and natural vegetation to grow out again. Then the water level will be raised again and next spring the conservation department will restock the river with panfish of catchable size to provide immediate good fishing. The shallow water really caused confusion among the fish at first. The carp were swimming about like mad, rolling around and jumping out of the water. The fish also jumped the old stone dam north of the new one to get into deeper water. Even muskrats were swimming around looking for their homes.

Memorial Day falls on a church holiday this year, Ascension Day, Thursday, May 30. So the local parade will get underway 15 minutes earlier, at 9:15 a. m. instead of 9:30, to fall in between church services. The holiday falling on a Thursday also means that your paper will be printed on Friday next week and will come to you later. And if you're planning a trip on this first holiday week end of the summer season, take it easy and drive carefully.

A new one we saw on the rear of a truck read: "This driver stops for all railroad crossings and goes for all girls."

Control of Garden Insects and Diseases

BY O. E. BEHNKE

Vocational Agriculture Instructor
Kewaskum Community High School

Much of the damage commonly caused by insects and diseases can be prevented. A thorough clean-up of the garden at the close of the season and fall plowing will destroy many common insects and diseases. Clean seed and healthy transplants will also help. All garden refuse which is not turned under or made into compost should be burned.

Insects that affect beans are the Mexican bean beetle and bean leaf beetle. These can be controlled by using Rotenone, malathion, parathion or methoxychlor; spray or dust when foliage feeding is noted. The leaf-hopper can be controlled by using DDT or methoxychlor or parathion. Aphids can be controlled with nicotine sulfate and red spiders with a sulphur dust. Spray or dust these when the insect first appears or foliage damage is noted.

Insects affecting cabbage are the imported cabbage worms, the diamond back cabbage worms, and the cabbage loopers. These can be controlled by DDT or endrin before heading and dusting with rotenone after heading. Spray or dust these insecticides when foliage damage is noted. Be careful with DDT; make sure to follow the directions. Notice that rotenone is used after the cabbage has headed since DDT should not be placed on any parts of the plant which will be used for human food. Another cabbage damager is the cabbage aphid which can be controlled with parathion or malathion.

Onions are affected by the onion thrips which are effectively controlled with DDT, dieldrin, heptachlor, toxaphene, malathion or parathion. Spray or dust these when the plant is six to ten inches high.

Peas are affected by the pea aphid and the pea weevil. Control for these insects is DDT and parathion. Methoxychlor and rotenone can also be used for the pea weevil. Dust for the weevil before the pods have formed.

Potato insects, the Colorado potato beetle, potato flea beetle, blister beetle, leafhoppers and aphids, can all be controlled with DDT. Spray or dust as soon as insect is noticed.

Insects affecting tomatoes are the tomato fruit worms, tomato horn worms, flea beetles and aphids. Spray to control these insects with DDT or TDE as soon as damage is noted.

The European corn borer and the corn-ear worm can be controlled with DDT.

Other possible garden trouble makers are the wire worms, root worms, Japanese beetle grubs and grasshoppers. All of these can be controlled with aldrin. The first three should be treated with aldrin as a soil application at planting time. Grasshoppers can be controlled with heptachlor, toxaphene, or chlordane also.

If you are unlucky enough to have an ant problem, spray or dust the nests or runs with chlordane or dieldrin.

The most important diseases to watch for are leaf spot, downy mildew, blight, and anthracnose. These can be controlled on all plants that they may affect with zineb or nabam as the fungicide spray or dust.

Many home gardeners prefer to use an all-purpose spray and dust mixture that contains both fungicides and insecticides. An all-purpose vegetable dust formula that can be used effectively is a zineb for disease control, methoxychlor for insect control, and it is best to use an additional insect control with malathion. An all-purpose vegetable spray may be prepared by adding to one gallon of water, two tablespoonfuls of zineb 65% powder, two tablespoonfuls of 50% methoxychlor, and one tablespoonful of 50% malathion liquid emulsion.

If you're having trouble with flowers and ornamentals, stop in or call me, and I'll recommend a few all-purpose sprays.

I hope that you gardeners who have read these articles will be able to make use of the suggestions made in them. Feel free to call on me for any additional information you may need.

County Hires Full Time Child Welfare Worker

Robert G. Hintz, director, Washington County Public Welfare Department, announced the employment of Miss Margaret Ann Solum as a full time child welfare worker on May 6.

Darrel Langman, previous child welfare worker, is still employed by the agency on a part time basis while he completes his studies for a master's degree in social work at the University of Wisconsin in Milwaukee.

Miss Solum is a former resident of Racine, where she has had casework experience at the Racine County Social Service Department for the past four years. She graduated from the University of Wisconsin in Madison in June, 1953 with a major in sociology and social work and has taken additional work in social work in the graduate school.

Hintz states "the employment of Miss Solum brings the department staff to its full authorized strength and will enable more intensive work to be done with each case." The department's child welfare program includes casework services to children in their own homes, foster home placement, probation services for the juvenile court, and investigations for schools and other agencies.

While the main goal of the department is to effect rehabilitation with children in their own homes, it is necessary in certain cases to use foster home care. The department maintains a continuous foster home recruitment program so that a sufficient supply of homes are available to assure a home that can meet the varied needs of the children needing placement.

Anyone interested in the foster home program should contact the welfare department in person or telephone FE 4-3496.

The Skyliner, miracle car of this generation, is two cars in one! The motoring public had dreamed of this car for years, which many automotive experts said would never be mass-produced. Now, Ford has made this "miracle" a reality. It represents the beginning of a new era in automotive design.

Lovely to look at, the Skyliner is a full three inches longer than other Fairlane 500 models. This additional length is evident in the longer, low-line silhouette of the rear deck area. There's space galore to let you and your guests ride in comfort and luxury. And you'll find such refinements as special visors, curved to fit windshield and header, special Airweave vinyl interiors, and unique two-tone instrument panel.

Just touch a button—in less than a minute the all-steel hardtop vanishes smoothly into the rear deck and you're sitting in the most exciting convertible under the sun—a masterpiece of craftsmanship and distinction. Designed to function with precision accuracy the top operation is simplicity itself and completely automatic.

Promotions of cheese as a supper-time food, as a between-meal snack and as an easy-to-prepare week-end food provide the best opportunities for expanding the cheese

Four contract and one state crew made a record catch of 600,000 pounds of sheepshead from Lake Winnebago in one week, the conservation department reports. The fish were taken in trap nets. The removals mean utilization of that much of the rough fish crop and important is the creation of room for desirable game fish.

ICE CREAM IN A BASKET

Ice cream served alone is without a doubt the easiest dessert known to anyone anywhere, and significantly, one of the most welcome. But an amazing feature about ice cream is that it can be dressed up so easily to make an even more luscious dessert.

Chocolate cereal baskets are an easy and fitting background for vanilla or other delectable flavored ice creams such as mint and butter pecan. Chocolate sauce spooned over the top completes a perfect picture.

It is indeed fortunate that the important calcium mineral is retained in the milk solids of ice cream during freezing, for calcium is important for good health throughout life. According to one authority, all the calcium in the human body is replaced every few years. If the body is not supplied with calcium, it simply robs the bones and teeth of this mineral. Over a long period a calcium deficiency can be disastrous as it is likely to result in some form of serious ill health.

Increasingly, ice cream is being served at various times of the day instead of just at the conclusion of a meal. For a between-meal snack, ice cream is refreshing and satisfying in a soda, sundae, milk shake, or just served by itself. Mothers find that Junior eats cereal with more gusto when it's topped with a mound of ice cream. Thus, America's favorite increases in popularity every day!

CHOCOLATE CEREAL BASKETS
8 baskets

- 1 8-oz. package semi-sweet chocolate bits
- 2 cups crisp rice cereal
- 1/4 cup chopped pecans

Melt the chocolate in the top of a double boiler, over hot water. Remove from the heat and add the cereal and nuts. Mix well. Line well buttered cup cake pans with the cereal mixture, using the back of a teaspoon to shape it against the sides. Chill in the refrigerator for several hours or overnight. Remove from the pan with a small spatula and let stand at room temperature for 5-10 minutes. Fill with vanilla, mint, or butter pecan ice cream and serve with chocolate sauce if desired.
