MINUTES OF SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

Kewaskum Community High School, Jt. Dist. No. 2
February 12, 1962

A special meeting of the Board of Education of Joint District No. 2 was held Monday evening, February 12, 1962, with Paula Petri, Fred Spoerl, L. N. Peterson, Leo Bingen and Melvin Riley in attendance.

Members of the Board of Education of the Parnell District, Mr. John Mugan, Clerk, and Mr. Raynor Theusch, as well as an interested citizen, Mr. Alvin Schmidt, appeared before the Kewaskum Board of Education to discuss the possibility of attaching a part or all of their elementary school district in the Town of Mitchell to the Kewaskum Community High School district. After a general discussion, the Kewaskum Board of Education decided on the following:

1. We have an obligation to serve the area in their district from which our students are presently coming.
2. We did not want to extend our transportation routes to cover their entire district.
3. We felt that the elementary Parnell district should remain intact, rather than divided between possible two or three parts, each of which would be attached to an operating high school district.

A group of citizens from the Village of Kewaskum were in attendance at the meeting and their primary interest seemed to be in the salary schedule which was in effect in the high school; and there seemed to be considerable interest in the use of a merit factor in determining salaries paid to teachers. Their questions were answered regarding the site improvement.

Salvation Army Drive In Full Progress Here

The Salvation Army campaign for funds is in full progress in Kewaskum and vicinity, with volunteer workers making calls house to house for the next week. The workers will turn in the money to the treasurer, Burns R. Nelthorpe, at the Bank of Kewaskum.

For over 75 years The Salvation Army has served the people of Wisconsin. In thousands of areas throughout the United States, where there is not a Salvation Army officer, the Army has been able to extend its services through volunteer civilian supervision. These committees consisting of prominent civic-minded citizens give year round service without pay. They represent The Salvation Army throughout the year by answering the local social service and welfare needs, and using the funds retained in the community from the annual appeal to pay for these services. This assistance is given regardless of race or creed.

Last year the Army was able to aid many people in different ways. 123,760 men and women were paroled to the army. Many of these people were given their first employment and an opportunity at rehabilitation with the aid of The Salvation Army. There were 20,000 patients cared for in their general hospitals and 2,756,522 patients visited in hospitals by the Army's League of Mercy Women volunteers. 8,958 young women found new hope through the Army's 34 homes and hospitals for unwed mothers. 400 of these young women were from the state of Wisconsin. 96,146 men and women found permanent employment through the Army's employment service, 3,454 men and women found temporary jobs. The Salvation Army endeavors to meet the need of humanity at the time of need, at the place of need.

All of these services and more you have a part in when you contribute to the Army's annual appeal for funds. Won't you help make the burdens of others lighter by giving to The Salvation Army's annual appeal for funds now?

If you are not contacted for your donation you may send or give your contribution to the treasurer Burns R. Nelthorpe, at the Bank of Kewaskum in Kewaskum.

Checks should be made payable to The Salvation Army.

The local Salvation Army committee extends its appreciation to all who helped in any way.

A Garden Of Zinnias

These zinnias are called Peppermint Stick for their unusual flowers, striped in unusual combinations of two different colors.

Zinnias are one of the few flowers that have so many types and forms that an entire garden can be made using only these variations. Since this annual is so easily grown, a garden full of zinnias should appeal particularly to the owner of a new, bare lot.

Colorful yet inexpensive, a zinnia garden must start with planning heights of plants and choosing kinds and varieties of this versatile flower.

In the background of the garden, where 3 foot plants would look best, types like Giant Hybrid, Giant Dahlia-flowered, Giant Cactus-flowered or Giants of California zinnias could be used. Two new varieties, named Cherry Time and Lilac Time for their flower colors, are of special interest. Both belong to the Giant Cactus-flowered type.

In the foreground of the garden, where plants growing about a foot are needed in front of taller ones, Mexicana zinnias, like the 1962 All-America Selections winner, Old Mexico, or the older Persian Carpet, would be a happy choice.

Old Mexico has larger flowers than Persian Carpet, to about 2½ inches across, with petals of deep mahogany-red, tips and edges overlaid with gold. Persian Carpet comes in mixed colors, petals always tipped or edged with a lighter shade.

In the same height range, the little Cupid zinnias with their neat, inch-round, double blooms on compact plants might be what you'd prefer. A bit taller are the Lilliput zinnias, also called Pompon because that's what they look like. Both come in separate colors as named varieties, or in mixture.

Larger-flowered still, but on plants only a foot and a half high are the popular Cut and Come Again zinnias, especially good for house ornamentation as the blooms are borne on long stems.

When it comes to selecting zinnias that grow 2 to 2½ feet high, to set between the giants and the low growing sorts, the choice is a wide, wide one.

If you like stripes, Peppermint Stick zinnias might be your choice. These have blooms striped in unusual combinations of two colors.

Interested in unusual flower form? Fantasy zinnias which have shaggy, double flowers rather like cactus type dahillias, with petals twisted and curled, might be just what you want.

Lovers of brilliant colors and huge blooms will cherish Red Man, also one of this year's All-America Selections winners. Flowers are quilled, brilliant scarlet, grow to 6 inches across and 2 inches deep.

After reading these descriptions, can't you visualize zinnias of all sizes and shapes, heights and colors, making your backyard a striking picture when summertime rolls around?

CHEVS WIN --- BUT LOSE PLAYOFF

Beaver Dam Shades Kewaskum in Overtime, 84-83, But Scorebook Check Shows Chevs Won

WIN GIVES BEAVERS FIRST HALF TITLE; CHEVS MEET M. FALLS FOR SECOND HALF CROWN

As was anticipated, the playoff for the first half championship of the Land o' Lakes league between Beaver Dam and Kewaskum here Sunday night was a rough, hard played battle that ended up in a real "barn burner." The game ended up in a state of confusion to say the least and the winner was not actually known until Tuesday night when a meeting was called by League Director Carl Kuss at West Bend.

What happened was that Beaver Dam came from far behind in the final quarter to tie the score at 76-76 at the final horn and force the game into overtime. In the three minute overtime period the Beavers made 8 points to the Chevs' 7 and supposedly won the contest. But after the teams left the floor a final check of both the home and visiting scorebooks showed that Kewaskum had scored one more free throw than they had been credited with which had not been added to the total score during the game. Discovery of this extra point should have given the Chevs a 77-76 victory in the regulation time without necessitating the overtime. But League Director Kuss, after checking the rules with the WIAA, Tuesday ruled that the win should be given to Beaver Dam because the error was not detected before the overtime started and the Beavers legally won the game in the overtime period. A check of the scorebook right after the regulation time would have given the Chevs the first half championship.

However, the Chevs still have a chance to be grand champions. They tied Menomonee Falls for the second half crown and next will enter into a playoff with Falls to determine the winner in this half. The winner of the Falls-Chev contest will then take on Beaver Dam in a best two out of three series for the grand championship. The playoff with Menomonee Falls could not be scheduled for this Saturday because the latter team had previously entered a tournament for the week end. It cannot be played on the following Saturday due to the Dairy Day event being held in Kewaskum. The Chevs won the flip of the coin for the playoff tilt and it will take place on the local floor with the date tentatively set for a week from Sunday, April 1.

A smooth-working Kewaskum team, determined to win the playoff, went right to work on Beaver Dam here Sunday. It appeared like it might be a runaway as the Chevs took complete command and built up a big 23-7 lead in the first quarter. The Beavers started to click in the second period to out-score the local five, 24-16, and cut their 16-point lead to 8 at half-time, 39-31. In the third stanza Kewaskum again had the better of it, 20-16, to take another comfortable 12-point, 59-47 advantage.

Then came the nightmarish final quarter which still has players and fans alike wondering how Beaver Dam pulled out the victory. The Chevs still had a 10-point lead with slightly less than three minutes to play. In a wild and wooly finish the speedy Beavers then opened up with a tight five-man pressing game which confused the Chevs, forced them to lose the ball and pass badly. Beaver Dam intercepted several passes and raced down the floor to score quick baskets, come within two points, and finally tying the score at the game's end.

In the overtime period the lead see-sawed back and forth with Kewaskum taking a one-point advantage with just four seconds left. The Beavers immediately called for a time out. When play resumed they threw a long pass from out of bounds which one of their players picked off from between three Kewaskum defenders. He flipped it to an open teammate, who dropped it in just before the time ran out for a one-point win. The wild, thrilling last few minutes of the game and overtime had the spectators howling and in a fit of excitement. It was a heartbreaker for the Chevs to lose, especially so since by rights they should have won in regulation time.

The Chevs' chances suffered a serious blow in the last quarter when they lost three regular starters and some of their top players on personal fouls. Tom Larson, Frank Krueger and Otto Ramthun all fouled out. This really hurt the team and enabled Beaver Dam to pull out the victory. The Beavers also lost three players on fouls but they play with two platoons and this did not handicap them as much as it did the Chevs.

High point man for Kewaskum and top scorer in the game was guard Al "Tiger" Tennes, who also played a rugged defensive game. Next in line were Don Meisenheimer with 19 points, Augie Elgo 15, Ramthun 12 and Larson 10. Best scorers for the winners were Peterson with 18 points and Lowe with 13.

CONSERVATION HEARING APR. 23; GEESE ARRIVE

The first Canada geese of the season arrived this past Sunday. A southwest wind and temperatures in the forties brought many flocks to the Horicon area. The first killdeer of the season was also noted on that date in the town of West Bend.

The following is a new section of the statutes passed by the 1961 legislature that affects the boat owner. Chapter 30.54 reads as follows: Whenever the owner of a motorboat or sailboat covered by a valid or expired certificate of number issued by this state transfers all or any part of his interest in such motorboat or sailboat, other than by the creation of a security interest, he shall notify the commission of such transfer and shall at the same time return the certificate of registration to the commission.

Your county Conservation Congress hearing will be held on Monday, April 23, at 8:00 p. m. at the old court house, West Bend.

At this meeting you will have an opportunity to vote on and discuss hunting regulations for the coming year, fishing regulations for the coming year, and elect a regular member and an alternate to your county congress committee. The regular member will be elected for three years and the alternate for two years.

In Washington county the regular member whose term expires this year and must either be re-elected or replaced is G. E. Otten, 119 S. 6th ave. West Bend. The incumbent alternate is Anthony R. Theisen, R. 1. Hubertus.

The game and fish questionnaires will cover any proposed regulation changes for 1962. You may also propose and discuss any other change in the regulations you think would be advisable. Just because they are not on the questionnaire, does not mean they cannot be made a part of the recommendations of the group. In most cases, the proper time during the hearing to do this is under county suggestions. There will be a place on both the fish and the game questionnaires to propose, discuss and vote on any of these items which are not specifically stated on the questionnaire. If you have some good logical changes you believe to be necessary, you should by all means bring them up for discussion, at your Conservation Congress Hearing and be prepared to give as much background, facts and figures as possible to sell your idea to the group.

We want and need your ideas and suggestions for better and simplified regulations which are both workable and enforceable. The proper time and place to make your suggestions is at your Conservation Congress Hearing, on April 23, 8:00 p. m. at West Bend. Let's all plan now to be there and take part in the discussions. Your attendance will be greatly appreciated.

A bad risk is a driver shunned by insurance companies, other motorists, and probably by his own dog. According to the Institute of Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, a succession of mishaps or accidents labels a person as a bad risk. Such a record can be avoided by driving soberly, skillfully, and with consideration toward pedestrians and other drivers at all times.

Nearly 3,500 handicapped children and adults in Wisconsin were helped through Easter Seals last year.

Week after week carefully tabulated figures published in "Automotive Market Reports" show that Chevrolet trucks are worth more in resale value.

why?

If you were a professional used truck buyer, why would you pay more for one make than another?

There may be several reasons, but among them would be:

1. A greater demand for the product

2. A more desirable product for resale

So if used Chevrolet trucks consistently bring higher prices at auctions all over the country, it means that their quality features pay off for you not only as long as you own them but also when you are ready to trade them—double-wall cabs, doors and side panels, roof insulation, select wood floors, reliable and economical engines, real rugged tailgates, a suspension system that helps prolong truck life.

See your Chevrolet dealer for a quality '62 Chevrolet Jobmaster truck.

"Automotive Market Reports" is a weekly authoritative wholesale publication which reports the average prices paid for used trucks and cars by professional buyers at auctions all over the U.S.

See your Chevrolet dealer for trucks that keep working and working and working and working!
