Lightning Strikes Home, Car Seats Burn In Two Local Fires

The Kewaskum fire department answered two calls this week, one at about 10 p. m. Monday when lightning struck the William Seefeldt home at 631 Highland ave. and the second at 10:40 a. m. Tuesday when the cushions of a car caught fire on the parking lot at the Marx Foodliner.

Lightning hit the Seefeldt home during the severe electrical storm Monday evening. There was one very sharp bolt of lightning and immediate crack of thunder at about 8:30 p. m. which is believed to be the one which struck the home, although the fire was not discovered until almost 1½ hours later. Seefeldt went outside to make a check of the home and saw a piece of roofing on the front sidewalk. Looking up he discovered smoke escaping from under the roof and called the firemen.

Apparently the lightning struck a television antenna and glanced off onto the metal siding on the house, causing a blaze just under the roof. Firemen cut a small hole in the fire and put out the fire without the use of water by removing burning strips of wood and smoldering insulation at the source. The bolt reportedly blew out a water heater meter and dryer switch in the home.

On Tuesday morning the rear seat and back cushions of a car owned by Ralph Herriges and driven by Mrs. Frank Herriges of rural Kewaskum caught fire on the Marx parking lot. Firemen removed the cushions and doused the flames. The only damage resulting was to the cushions which had holes burned in them. Cause of the blaze was not determined although it could have resulted from a cigarette or burning ashes.

Autos Inspected Here in Safety Vehicle Checkup

Two officers and two inspectors of the Wisconsin State Traffic Patrol, assisted by one village police officer, conducted a vehicle safety check one day recently in Kewaskum.

Four hours were spent at the check point, from 8 a. m. to 12 noon, with a total of 20 man hours worked at the location by the four state and one local officers.

Results of the check showed 191 vehicles checked were not equipped with seat belts, 21 had seat belts and 11 had seat belts which were not being used.

Five day tickets were issued for the following infractions: No driver's or chauffeur's license, 4; no registration card, 2; improper plates, 2, no windshield wiper, 2; no horn, 6; defective hand brake, 10; muffler violation, 2. Lights: head, 5; tail, 9; license plate, 17; stop, 9; directional, 15; clearance (rear), 1; vehicle marking, 2.

Three inspection reports were written, one warning issued and 53 equipment violation notices issued.

4 Local Students Are Candidates For Degrees at UW

Four students from Kewaskum are among the approximately 2,700 students who are candidates for degrees at the University of Wisconsin's annual commencement this year, being held in the Wisconsin Stadium Monday, June 10, at the university in Madison.

They and the degrees for which they are candidates are:

Bachelor degrees are scheduled for about 1,900 students, while some 700 are scheduled for higher degrees and about 165 for law or medical degrees. About two-thirds of them come from Wisconsin homes, while the other third come from nearly all of the other states, the District of Columbia, and from some 50 foreign lands scattered throughout the world.

The graduation ceremony highlights a weekend of intensive commencement and reunion activity on Wisconsin's campus Friday through Monday, June 7-10. A reception by President and Mrs. Fred Harvey Harrington in honor of the graduates, their parents, and alumni is being held Sunday evening, June 9, and that Sunday afternoon the All-University Honors Convocation cites some 500 students for their fine academic achievements during their UW careers. Members of at least eight classes graduating from the UW over the years from 1903 to 1938, holding reunions this year, are among the thousands who attend Wisconsin's colorful commencement.

Miss Isabelle Miller, Hugo Straub, Jr. Wed

United in marriage in Holy Trinity church, Kewaskum, on Saturday morning, May 25, at 10:30 o'clock were Miss Isabelle Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. "Pat" Miller, 1306 Roseland dr., Kewaskum, and Hugo Straub, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Straub, Sr., R. 3, Campbellsport. Officiating at the solemn nuptial mass were the Rev. Carroll Straub, brother of the bridegroom, as celebrant; Chaplain Rev. Wm. Mayer, a friend of the Miller family, as deacon, and the Rev. John Bude, pastor, as sub-deacon. Ted Miller, brother of the bride, was master of ceremonies.

The bride chose a gown of white faille taffeta designed along princess lines with a beautiful yoke neckline and short sleeves of re-embroidered alencon lace. The enchantingly full skirt fell to a bustle train. A matching clip hat of taffeta, alencon lace and seed pearls secured her fingertip veil of sheer imported English illusion. Her flowers consisted of a cascade bouquet of white butterfly roses and ivy.

Mrs. Paul Dean attended her sister as matron of honor and Mrs. John McElhatton, also a sister, and Mrs. Stan Hall, West Bend, a friend of the bride, were the bridesmaids. They were identically gowned in maize dacron organza over taffeta. The gowns were styled with princess fitted bodices, short sleeves, scoop necklines and ballerina dome skirts with back butterfly bows. Their head pieces were of stephanotis and ivy with maize velvet streamers. They carried crescent shaped bouquets of stephanotis centered with gardenias and ivy.

Charles Straub attended his brother as best man, while another brother, Neal Straub, and Lester Weis, a friend, served as groomsmen. Guests were placed by Edward Miller, Jr., brother of the bride, and Claude Straub, brother of the bridegroom.

Dinner was served to 66 guests at the Hon-E-Kor Country club, followed by a reception for 300 guests at the Edw. E. Miller residence.

The couple is now at home in Kewaskum. The bride, a graduate of Kewaskum High school, is a decorator at Miller's Furniture. Her husband, a graduate of St. Norbert's De Pere, is employed at Regal Ware, Inc.

Balance Your Budget

The house is small, but the vegetable garden is large in this picture. However, even a small home garden will give your family many delectable, full-flavored meals of vegetables.

The recent freeze in the southern states has upped vegetable prices as well as those of citrus fruits. You can, however, recoup the extra dollars spent for the all-important, vitamin-laden greenstuffs you feed your family this winter. Simply and easily the money can not only be regained but supplemented by planting a home vegetable garden as soon as the weather permits.

Even a tiny space will yield many meals of vegetables. Consider that area behind the garage. If it's in sun almost all day, it can be converted to a vegetable garden this year. Or a long strip on one side of the back yard or a border surrounding the patio will serve as well.

A simple plan for an area only 4 feet wide and 10 feet long would provide for 4 rows, each the length of the area.

One of these might be planted half to carrots and half to beets, with radish seeds sown between beet and carrot seeds; radishes to be pulled and eaten before the other crops grow large.

A second row might be devoted to broccoli or cabbage if your family likes these vegetables. Otherwise, how about bush type squash?

A third row could be used for half a dozen tomato plants staked and trained to a single stem each. Between the tomatoes lettuce might be grown, planting only 3 feet of row at a time so as to have fresh, young lettuce for a long period.

Swiss chard, the green that yields most over a long harvest period, would be a good choice for that fourth row. But, if your family prefers spinach, then plant spinach very early and, when it has been eaten, plant turnips for a later crop.

Plant early so as to get the most yield from the area used. Don't grow any vegetables that your family doesn't like.

Cover over the ground between rows with layers of newspaper or something equally inexpensive just as soon as the vegetable seedlings are well above ground. This makes weeding a minor chore.

Above all, pick the vegetables when they're young and tender — don't let them get old and tough. And have fun!

Homes Abound with Potential Poisons, AMA Official Warns

Children, supposedly "safe at home," are poisoning themselves at the rate of nearly 1,500 a day.

"When you consider that more than a quarter million home-used products on the market contain toxins, it is not difficult to understand why more than 500 children die each year from self-administered poisons," said F. J. L. Blasingame, M.D., executive vice-president of the American Medical Association.

Children are naturally curious, especially the very young ones. They are prone to stick into their mouths anything they can get in their hands. It doesn't even have to taste good or look pretty."

Most accidental poisonings occur in children under five. Two-year-olds are the most poison prone, with one-year-olds close behind. At this stage in life their curiosity is at its height and their sense of fear not yet developed, Dr. Blasingame explained.

Medicine, especially aspirin, heads the list of items children seem to like to sample, accounting for nearly half of all accidental poisonings. In fact, too much of virtually any medicine can produce serious consequences.

Among the supposed non-edibles that frequently find their way into children's stomachs are cleaning and polishing agents, detergents, shoe polish, cosmetics, waxes, insecticides, paint, turpentine, chalk, bleaches, plant foods, plaster, perfume and decorations.

Medicines account for nearly half of all accidental poisoning in United States each year. Discard unused medicine and keep rest out of children's reach.

A primary cause of such accidents, says Dr. Blasingame, is storing poisonous substances in food containers or soft drink bottles. A toddler just naturally assumes that a soft drink bottle contains a treat. He'll drink whatever he finds in it. "The facts are clear," he warned. "Between 65 and 70 per cent of all poisonings take place because an item was accessible to a child."

"If we're going to live in modern homes with modern conveniences and modern medicines, we have to develop some up-to-date standards that will make home safe for our children."

Among suggestions for lessening the poisoning hazards in the home, Dr. Blasingame suggested:

- Keep potential poisons out of reach and tightly sealed.
 - Never transfer toxic materials into household utensils.
 - Don't leave your child alone in a room in which you're working with poisons.
 - Give medicines only in a lighted room.
- If your child might have taken a poisonous substance, call your doctor for instructions at once. Don't wait to see what happens.

GOLF ODDITIES
... by JOE BLACK,
PGA Tournament Supervisor

THERE is a saying that lightning never strikes the same place twice. Don't believe it! In the 1963 PALM SPRINGS GOLF CLASSIC, Don January made a hole-in-one on the 15th hole at Indian Wells Country Club. Exactly two years prior in the same golf tournament, on the same hole, with the same club—a No. 8 Iron—Don made a hole-in-one.

EVEN THOUGH Gary Player, the current national PGA champion, has one of the greatest records in professional golf for the past five years, there is one record Gary wants to break. Ten times Gary has tied for a golf championship and been forced into a playoff. Each time, Player has lost the playoff.

WHO MAKES the holes-in-one? Although forty of the nation's top men and women pro golfers team up each year to play the HAIG & HAIG SCOTCH MIXED FOUR-SOME, only two aces have ever been shot in the tourney's history... and these by gal golfers.

A MYTHICAL player who could have shot even par in each round of each golf tournament on the PGA tour in 1962 would have won $53,477.25 and been 5th money winner. But he would have won only one golf tournament—THE COLONIAL NATIONAL INVITATIONAL

BY BOB LAKE
Conservation Warden

Nice northerns are being taken at Big Cedar and Pike lakes. Best fishing is before the motorboats arrive. Little Cedar producing walleyes and a few bluegills.

Three deer were killed in the past week. A doe was hit on Highway 33 east of West Bend, a buck on Hwy. 175 just north of Highway 83. The car had to be towed to a garage. Another buck was killed by an Illinois motorist early Monday morning on Highway 41 just north of the Waukesha county line.

Many individuals operating motorboats are becoming careless or they have not read the Wisconsin boating regulations, a copy of which has been received by each licensee. It is publication 716-62. The most common violations are: Failure to have life preservers on board, failure to carry certificate of registration on the boat (some have even neglected to re-register, after having received such notice from the conservation department), failure to have the numbers on the boat properly spaced.

COUNTRY COUSINS

Our May 28 meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Jeanne Otten. The president, Mrs. Doris Prost, and others who attended reported on the Achievement Night program. They were very enthusiastic and urged more members to attend next year.

Copies of our constitution were distributed and an amendment was voted upon. We changed our elections from vice-president this year to president and treasurer. Mrs. Vern Dahlman is our new president to take office at our September meeting. Mrs. Therese Oelhafen is treasurer. Our new health officer is Mrs. Gladys Ramel.

We discussed picnic plans but decided against any picnic this year. When we counted children of our members we came up with over 50. We decided our treasury would have to be much bigger before we could handle a picnic. We will concentrate on a Christmas outing.

The health officer, Mrs. Iona

Schmidt, reported on allergy in childhood and bee stings can be dangerous.

After our meeting adjourned the project leaders, Mrs. Margaret Becker and Mrs. Ione Schmidt reported on window fabrics. The many blends available were discussed as to what their best qualities were, if they were washable, if they were sunfast, etc. They had samples to display of the new fabrics. How draperies affected room size was explained to us, also how the texture of materials fitted in with furniture.

Lunch was served by the hostess and the group said goodbyes until September.

KEWASKUM KITCHENETTES

The May meeting of the Kewaskum Kitchenettes was held at the home of Mrs. Charles L. Wilke.

Election of a president, secretary and health officer was held. Mrs. Leland Schaub relinquished her office of president to Mrs. Theodore Schoofs. Mrs. Gerald Stoffel handed the secretary's books over to Corrine Mlodzik. Mrs. Allen Schoofs turned the duties of health officer over to Mrs. Harold Krueger.

Our next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Arnold Amerling on Sept. 17.

The annual summer picnic will be on Aug. 11 at 7:30 p. m. at the Kewaskum park.

The ladies who attended the Achievement Night told us about the wonderful program.

We ended the year with pie and ice cream and all look forward to next fall and another interesting and educational year.

Lakes Team Splits; Loses at Plymouth, Beats Grafton Here

In Land o' Lakes league action the past week Kewaskum broke even and maintained its .500 rating in the standings. In a night game at Plymouth on Memorial Day the team came out on the short end of a 7-3 score but the result was reversed here Sunday when Grafton was nosed out, 7-6.

In the game at Plymouth the statistics show that the contest was closer than the score indicates. Plymouth collected six hits and Kewaskum five. Plymouth committed four errors and Kewaskum three. Dave Mertzig, Kewaskum pitcher, and Rogers of Plymouth both struck out seven and walked four batters. Only Mertzig hit three batters. But Plymouth had the advantage where it counted, in runs scored.

Kons Sadownikow led the hitting for the losers with a single and double. He had a perfect day walking the other two times at bat. Pitcher Rogers also paced his team in hitting, lashing out a home run and single. Becker also had two hits for the winners.

Kewaskum built up a comfortable 7-1 lead after seven innings in the Grafton game here Sunday and then almost blew it. The visitors came to life and pushed over three runs in the eighth inning and two more in the ninth to almost pull a victory out of the fire as Kewaskum hung on for a close 7-6 win. Fred Bruhn pitched the first eight innings and did a good job until that frame when he ran into trouble. Two hits, four errors and a wild pitch gave Grafton three runs. Don Meisenheimer hurled the ninth and was nicked for two more buttons on one hit, two walks, and two errors. Mertzig, regular twirler, had a sore arm.

Bruhn gave up six hits, fanned four and walked two. Meisenheimer allowed one hit, whiffed one and passed two in the one inning he worked. Stencil and Zahn shared the mound duties for the losers, being touched for 10 hits, striking out 12 and walking none.

Sadownikow again was the top hitter with three singles in four trips. Zahn and Goldberg paced Grafton with two hits apiece.

This Sunday Kewaskum entertains Saukville, which has a 3-2 record to date.
