The Kewaskum fire department's newly purchased pumper was called into service for the first time at 10:45 a. m. Wednesday to extinguish a grass fire in a marsh area in the town of Kewaskum, located near the southwest village limits.

The blaze had a good start and from two to four acres of grass and marshland burned over before the fire was snuffed out. Fanned by a strong southwest wind, smoke poured over the village from the blaze. The land, immediately south of the Herbert Justman home, is owned by Jim Heisdorf.

L. Rosenheimer Charter Member Of Forage Alliance

L. Rosenheimer, Kewaskum, has been accepted as a charter member of the American Forage Alliance, an organization dedicated to the improvement of forage crop production on American farms. The announcement was made in Milwaukee this week by L. Wm. Teweles, president of the group.

The purpose of the American Forage Alliance, according to Teweles, is to provide farmers with the information and technical service that will be required to increase beef and dairy production by almost 50% within the next ten years to meet the food requirements of an expanding population.

At the same time, Teweles said, the A.F.A. will provide the farm supply dealer with a program of employee training and education that will enable him to increase the services that he now gives the farmers of the community. Regular sessions of an American Forage Alliance school will be conducted at the Milwaukee headquarters.

Teweles described the organization of the alliance as a "grass roots" movement brought about by continued demands of farm supply dealers in an 8-state area for a means of providing more rapid communication of research and product development progress to the farmers of their communities. Seed breeders, agronomists and specialists in other fields of agriculture are associate members of the American Forage Alliance and plans are now under way to establish individual farmer memberships.

Truck Driven By Local Man Kills County Worker

A Washington county highway worker was struck and fatally injured Tuesday afternoon by a truck on Hwy. 41 just north of Hwy. 144 near Slinger. It was the third traffic fatality on county highways in less than a week.

The accident victim was Ruben J. Eichstaedt, 48, of R. 1, Slinger, who was struck while working with a crew tarring cracks in the pavement of the super-highway. Eichstaedt was pronounced dead of a skull fracture and broken neck at St. Joseph's Community hospital, West Bend, shortly after the mishap which occurred at 3:50 p. m.

A Cedarburg Dairy truck, driven by Raymond A. Kirchner, 26, of R. 2, Kewaskum, was reported to have struck the highway worker in the southbound lane of traffic. A flagman, it was said, was directing southbound traffic into the left lane of the highway at the point where repairs were being made. The truck, the accident report indicated, failed to move into the left lane, but continued south in the right lane, striking Eichstaedt.

Eichstaedt, a patrolman's helper, had been employed with the county highway department since May 8, 1961. The fatality raised the death toll on highways in the county this year to 16.

Kirchner has been charged with negligent homicide. Dist. Atty. Richard T. Becker said Thursday.

Following the supper there will be a dance for high school youngsters. The Galaxies will provide the music. Admission for the dance will be 50 cents per student. Students having chili supper tickets will be admitted for 25 cents.

The proceeds will be used by the local AFS chapter to sponsor its activities.

New Mobile Feed Mill Purchased By Ray Schmidts

FEEDMOBILE TO PROVIDE GRINDING, PROCESSING SERVICE AT THE FARMS

Raymond W. Schmidts (owner) and his wife Karen Jo are returning this week from Lancaster, Pa., where they attended a factory training school on the operation of their new mobile feed processing plant.

They are driving their Feedmobile to Kewaskum where it will soon be placed into operation by Ray's Mobile Feed Service of 1261 Meadow Lane.

The Schmidts flew to Daffin Manufacturing in Lancaster this past week end for three days of intensive instruction in bringing a complete feed processing service to local farmers and feeders. Their new mobile mill will now enable them to take the feed plant to the farm instead of asking farmers to bring their grains to the mill.

Schmidts says that Ray's Mobile Feed Service expects to provide better and faster service to farmers and to extend the range of their operation.

"With our new Feedmobile," he said, "we can now drive right up to the farmer's bin-door, grind anything he grows for feed, mix the ground material with high-protein commercial concentrates and other additives, and blend in warm liquid molasses. There's a roughage-izer that makes it possible for us to grind baled hay at the rate of four bales a minute. Furthermore, a pneumatic unloader on the Feedmobile's mixer-blender quickly pipes the finished formula feed to wherever the farmer wants it."

The new service, according to Schmidts, will greatly reduce the amount of labor and time normally needed to get feed prepared. It will also enable farmers, he said, to maintain an uninterrupted supply of fresh, productive rations since the mobile mill will serve farms on a regular route schedule—even during planting, haying, or harvest time.

MAN SUFFERS KNEE INJURY IN MISHAP

Harry Kuchnowsky, 62, R. 2, Campbellsport, suffered knee injuries at 6:55 p. m. Friday when his car, traveling south on Hwy. 45, collided with the rear of an auto driven by Betty Jean Clark, 36, R. 1, Kewaskum as the latter was stopped to permit northbound traffic to pass to turn into a trailer camp about 300 feet south of CTH H just south of Kewaskum.

Cooperate in the FFA Safe Corn Harvest Program

SPONSORED BY THE FARM EQUIPMENT INSTITUTE AND THE NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL-FARM DIVISION

The proper operation of a mechanical corn picker increases the farmer's yield per acre. And proper operation is safe operation, say members of the Kewaskum Chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

The organization is participating in a nationwide program to reduce accidents due to carelessness during the corn harvest. The Safe Corn Harvest program is sponsored by the Farm Equipment Institute and the National Safety Council.

A safe corn picker operator has only about one chance in a million of being hurt on a picker in the next five years, while the average operator stands one in 25, according to the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. A careless operator has a 50-50 chance of being seriously injured in the next five years.

The U. of I. study showed the average corn picker loses about 10 percent of the yield, but one operator in five loses only half this much, while another almost doubles the average loss.

The corn picker is the most dangerous farm machine to operate and on most farms it is leaving too much corn in the field. But the danger is to the careless operator. Proper and safe operation puts money in the family's bank account.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kleinhans of St. Kilian left on a motor trip to New York and Providence, Rhode Island. They accompanied their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Librizzi, and children of Milwaukee, who will make their home in Providence. Mr. Librizzi, who was sales manager and publicity director for Gimbel Bros. in Milwaukee many years, has accepted a similar position with The Outlet company of Providence, largest department store in Rhode Island.

In an amateur night performance staged by the Riverside Theatre at Milwaukee, Miss Charlotte Romaine of this village won second prize on the program and first award in the vocal part of it.

Louis R. Schmidt and family of Milwaukee have taken possession of the Kleinhans apartment at Elmore, where he will conduct a mercantile business.

Over 600 persons attended the formal opening of the new, completely modern Schaefer Bros. service station on Fond du Lac ave. over the week end. A feature of the opening was the showing of a cutaway chassis of the new Ford car and a Lincoln Zephyr. Free moving pictures were shown and more than 50 merchandise prizes given.

The fire department was called Saturday evening to extinguish a blaze at the Fred Klein farm home in the town of Kewaskum. The blaze resulted when gas fumes escaping from the motor of a Delco plant in the basement were ignited. The only damage was to the rafters on the basement ceiling, which were slightly burned.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kleinhans of St. Kilian left on a motor trip to New York and Providence, Rhode Island. They accompanied their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. In an amateur night performance staged by the Riverside Theatre at Milwaukee, Miss Charlotte Romaine of this village won second prize on the program and first award in the vocal part of it.

There were 11 contestants. First prize went to a Chicago lady.

50 YEARS AGO

Oct. 26, 1913

Philip Zimmermann of the town of Wayne reports that he found three goose eggs in his goose stable. This is a very rare case as it never has been heard of in this vicinity that geese lay eggs in the fall of the year. They usually lay their eggs in spring and early summer.

Births in the past two months included: A bright little baby girl made her appearance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schlosser. Oscar Koerble is wearing a broad smiles these days. No wonder for he is the happy father of an 8½ pound baby boy. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Runte at the home of the latter's parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. Driessel, a baby girl. A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. John S. Schaeffer of the town of Auburn.

Mike Gruber of the town of Kewaskum lost a valuable horse valued at $200.

The nation's fall potato harvest was about one per cent below last year's. This drop will help potato prices since it will tend to bring production in line with consumer demands.

The future that we study and plan for begins today.

COUNTRY COUSINS

On Oct. 22 we met at the home of Mrs. Helen Oelhafen. Mrs. Vern Dahlman, president, appointed our Christmas party committee; Mmes. Ione Schmidt, chairman; Dolores Prost and Iona Schmidt.

The health officer, Mrs. Gladys Ramel, gave a report on "Shots." She stressed the importance of early immunization for our children and also booster shots for the grownups in the family, especially tetanus and the polio shots. She passed out cards to record dates of immunizations for members of the family. This is a most important record to have.

After the close of our regular meeting the project leaders, Mmes. Doris Prost and Lucille Nigh, presented the project. They said, "Your appearance speaks for you before you can speak for yourself." You can create a pleasing picture at home as well as away from home. They gave us many hints for keeping our daily image pleasant. Good grooming can bring self-confidence. Cleanliness, they stated, is the first step to a good appearance.

The president called a special meeting that night for the purpose of moving our meetings ahead in the month to avoid too much time between time of project meetings and regular meetings. Our next meeting will be on Nov. 13 at the home of Mrs. Lucille Nigh. Our hostess served wonderful ham sandwiches, pickles and coffee, and we left for our homes.

Around the Town

It has been called to our attention that some of our local trappers who went trapping for mink the other day returned to find blackbirds in their traps. What are blackbird pelts bringing these days, boys?

Hallowe'en passed by very quietly except for the usual hordes of "trick or treat" youngsters making the rounds and some jokers who touched up nearly all of the business place and car windows on Main st. with soap. Hallowe'en used to be a big thing for the kids but now it seems the adults are having more fun. Two groups of masked and costumed adult "trick or treaters" made the rounds of the taverns Wednesday night and on Thursday night a group of costumed gals from out of town visited the pubs. At one local place it turned into quite a "hootenany." New Year's Eve already?

Lawrence "Smoky" Bohn called Monday to report the first noticeable snowfall in the nearby area. He was returning from a trip by truck to Minnesota. When he reached a point between Portage and Fox Lake, about nine miles west of Fox Lake, he was surprised to find the ground and roofs covered with a white blanket of snow at about 3 p. m. The snow covered a strip only about one mile wide. Everyone is disappointed to see it turn cooler after our hot, unseasonable, 70 to 85 degree weather all through the month of October. Up to now the grass has still been growing, flowers blooming, there has been much golfing and summer weather activity, and warm weather clothing worn. But it can't last forever at this time of year.

Pure Milk Co-op Has 34th Annual Meeting Tuesday

The resolutions and by-laws committee of Pure Milk Products Co-operative convened Monday, Oct. 28, at the Hotel Retlaw, Fond du Lac.

During a busy all-day session they studied thoroughly the large number of ideas to improve dairy farmers' income, and services and programs of their cooperative, submitted by many of the co-op's 75 Locals.

Delegates to the 34th annual meeting of PMPC on Tuesday, Oct. 29, took official action upon these ideas as they were presented in the form of resolutions before the convention assembly.

PMPC, on the eve of its annual meeting, extended honors to members of its "6000 Club" and several agricultural leaders who have made distinguished records during long and meritorious service to the industry, including several former State Board directors and officers of PMPC. Citations were presented during a special meeting.

PMPC members who have been exceptionally active in membership work were awarded certificates of achievement, signifying membership in the Co-op's honorary "6000 Club."

Dean R. K. Froker, director of the University of Wisconsin College of Agriculture, though unable to be present, headed a list of men who were given honorary recognition for outstanding contributions to agriculture. Similarly recognized were H. J. Weavers, retiring chief of the dairy and foods division, State Dept. of Agriculture; W. L. Witte, who retired in 1954 from the post of chief of the co-operative marketing division,

State Dept. Agriculture; Warren Clark, retired, Univ. of Wis. associate director, College of Agriculture, Extension Dept.; George F. Massey, retiring Nov. 1, after many years as a county agent, the past 25 years in Fond du Lac county; and C. J. McAleavy, former Marathon Co. agent who retired at the end of 1961 after 40 years of service to agriculture.

Those receiving citations in recognition of their loyalty and service as former PMPC state directors included Tom O'Connor, Clintonville, who served as the organization's first president from 1930-1936 and for many years as a director; Ronald Casey, New Richmond, a director for 15 years and treasurer for eight; and William Bauman, Middleton, who retires this year after serving as a state director since 1935 and as a vice president for the past 12 years.

New County Mental Health Committee Has First Meeting

The newly-established Washington County Mental Health committee held its first meeting last week in an effort to assess existing mental health facilities and plan for the needs of the future. Led by chairman William Diebels, staff development supervisor, Division of Public Assistance, Wis., the group was composed of area experts of cooperating agencies, both public and private.

Among those detailing the beginnings of the Washington-Ozaukee guidance center, (originally named child guidance) were members of the Dekorra Foundation who had sponsored the project. It was noted by the group that the clinic serves both Washington and Ozaukee counties which are listed as the 2nd and 3rd fastest growing in the state.

Dr. Dick Vodegel, present director of the center, detailed the progress and problems encountered by the staff since its beginnings in 1955. A useful exchange of information followed, during which Darrell Langman, social worker for the guidance center urged that all mental health agencies keep in touch with each other by meeting regularly, particularly the welfare department and the city and county nurses to aid in establishing area needs.

County Judge Lester A. Buckley noted that "the center has just now arrived." He stated that what had been a new community venture had achieved broad acceptance and was now ready to render service. Most of the committee was in agreement that communication was the main lack in the past.

All members of the committee will meet again in the county board room of the Washington county courthouse in West Bend on Monday, Nov. 11, at 1 p. m. Each will present a report. The public is invited to attend.

MINIMUM WAGE POSTERS AVAILABLE AT WSES

New state minimum wage rates for adult women and minors became effective Nov. 1. All employers of women and minors must post the new rates in a conspicuous place on their premises.

As a convenience, the Waukesha district office of the Wisconsin State Employment Service has a supply of the new posters available which may be picked up by employers at the city library, West Bend.

Those employers not able to come in to the WSES office can write to the wage-hour, woman and child labor division of the Industrial Commission, Madison, and the poster will be mailed to them free of charge.

Unemployment is the highest among youth in the labor force who are under 21, says the Wisconsin State Employment Service (WSES). Of these, more than half are high school dropouts without enough training to get them a good job, or to hold a job for very long. WSES urges dropouts to return to school or to get additional training somewhere, at vocational school, night school, or through an apprenticeship.

Indians Lose to Pewaukee in Last Game, Finish 7th

NORTH FONDY CONQUERS GERMANTOWN TO CLINCH SCENIC CHAMPIONSHIP

Following the same pattern that has prevailed all season, the Kewaskum Indians came close again here Friday night in their final game of the season but lost to second place Pewaukee, 25-18. However, Kewaskum gave the strong Pewaukee "11" a scare and might have won except for a couple of tough breaks.

The season was a dismal one for the Indians, who wound up with a record of one win, five losses and one tie to finish in seventh place in the 8-man conference. Fortunately winless Campbellport was in the same conference. Four of the team's five defeats were by a very narrow margin, including a 21-20 heartbreaker to champion North Fondy, and they battled to one 0-0 tie with Slinger.

North Fondy copped the conference title with a record of 6 wins, no losses and 1 tie, beating Germantown in the finale. Pewaukee and Grafton tied for second with 5-1-1 records. Oddly, every team in the loop tied at least one game and Slinger played in three tie contests. Another oddity is the fact that Kewaskum outscored its opponents during the season, 102 to 98, and yet won but one game.

The Indians scored on Mike Coulter's three-yard run and two pass plays, Jerry Miller passed 30 yards to Terry Melius and then Dan Survis scored on a 15-yard pass from Bob Miller. Tony Larscheidt scored three touchdowns for the speedy, hard running Pewaukee Pirates. He scored on a 20-yard run, 85-yard kickoff return at the start of the second half (which beat the Indians), and a 10-yard pass from Chad Schaefer. Charles Paige scored the other Pirate TD on a 20-yard run. Although all of them were blocked, Kewaskum tried place kicks for all of their points after touchdown. They took too much time in getting the ball placed to make good on them.

2 Indians on All Conference Team

MIKE COULTER ON BOTH OFFENSIVE, DEFENSIVE TEAMS, BOB MILLER NAMED

At a Scenic Moraine conference meeting for administrators and athletic coaches held at Pewaukee Tuesday night, the all-conference football team for the 1963 season was selected.

Champion North Fondy placed four men on the offensive team and three on the defensive squad and Grafton also placed seven men in the same ratio as North Fondy. Pewaukee placed four players, Kewaskum three and Germantown and Random Lake each had two representatives. Slinger and Campbellport failed to place a man.

Mike Coulter of Kewaskum was placed on the offensive team as fullback and also made the defensive unit as a linebacker. Hard running Coulter is a 6-0, 180 lb. senior. Bob Miller, Indian quarterback, was placed on the defensive team as a defensive halfback. Bob is 5-11, 150 lb. junior.

Only two were repeaters from the 1962 team, Don Lamb, North Fondy halfback, and Mike Reblin,
